ELECTION CODE CONTESTED

Student Court To Decide On Adoption of Rules

By JOHN FARR

A sweeping new election code was adopted by Student Congress Tuesday, but Parliamentarian Hershel Payne, Fort Worth junior, immediately contended it violated the Student Association Constitution.

The code was to be submitted to Student Court at 3 p.m. Thursday to determine its validity. The Court has the power under the Constitution to judge the legality of all acts of Student Congress.

Payne declared the code contravened the Constitution because it provided for the election of the secretary and treasurer of Student Congress, created two additional College of Arts and Sciences seats, abolished six lower class representative seats and added two sophomore and two freshman representative positions.

Payne said the proposed changes require a referendum of the Student Association to become legal, according to his interpretation of the Constitution.

The 9-section code was proposed by the election committee, headed by John Tyson, Coleman senior. The committee worked on the code for nearly five months. Three sections of the code had been passed a week ago by Congress. Tyson said the code was prepared so it would apply to the upcoming elections.

If Student Court were to validate the code, it will govern spring elections. But if it is held unconstitutional, old election rules will apply. The election committee might also adopt constitutional sections of the new code in the event other parts of the code were invalidated, since the committee has the power to supervise elections.

Payne's action came as a complete surprise to most Congress members, although he had advised Tyson of his plans.

Members of Student Court who were to hear the case are Chief Justice Perry Wooten, Hartland, Wis., senior; Tyson; Payne; Miss Jan Sherley, Anna senior; and Miss Linda Frye, Shreveport, La., junior.

Speculation ranged on how spring elections will be conducted if the code is held invalid. A referendum might be held immediately and if the code passes, it could be put into effect for spring elections. Another suggestion proposes the referendum be held next fall. Then the code, if it is approved, would

Filing Meet Will Be Held Wednesday

A formal filing meeting of candidates for the 42 offices tentatively scheduled to be filled in the spring election will be held at 5 p.m. Wednesday.

Attendance is compulsory; forms must be submitted to the election committee chairman.

The forms and copies of election rules may be obtained beginning Monday in the Student Center and at the meeting.

Tentatively scheduled to be elected are Student Congress president, vice president, secretary and treasurer, Activities Council director, one representative each from the School of Fine Arts, Harris College of Nursing, Brite College and Graduate School, two each from the schools of Business and Education and four from AddRan College.

Also two representatives each from the junior and senior classes and four from the sophomore class, six cheerleaders, Skiff and Horned Frog editors, TCU Sweetheart and eight Summer College members-at-large.

The primary has been set for April 22 and the runoff for April 24. A rally will be conducted April 21 by the committee, where candidates for major offices will make 2-minute speeches and cheerleader aspirants will lead practice yells.

Fisheries to Offer Five Summer Jobs

The application deadline is April 30 for students who are interested in summer employment with the Marine Fisheries Division of the Game and Fish Commission.

They have openings for five senior or graduate students in biology or a related field who have an interest in a future as a marine biologist.

Winners Net $900 In Song Competition

TCU will have several new songs for use along with its Alma Mater and Fight Song next year.

The new songs come as a result of a recent special song-writing contest sponsored by the University held to secure additional school songs.

The three winners received $300 each for their entries. First prize went to Miss Jeanette Tillett for her song, "Alma Mater." "Old TCU," composed by William J. Marsh, took second prize and "We Love You TCU" got third prize for Mrs. Adrienne Moran Reisner.

Dr. Laurence C. Smith, dean of students, received honorable mention for his entry, "TCU Golden Song."

The new songs will be recorded on a special TCU long playing record to be released later this year.

Miss Tillett is a teacher of piano on the TCU music faculty and principal of the Fort Worth Conservatory of Music.

Marsh, who was director of the TCU chorus for many years, is now choir director and organist at Fort Worth's St. Patrick's Cathedral and music critic of the evening Star Telegram. He is the composer of Texas' official state song.

Arts Festival Will Feature Top Pianist

Theodore Ullmann who has played piano recitals throughout the world, will appear on campus at 3 p.m. Sunday in Ed Landreth Auditorium.

He is appearing as part of the 18th Annual Fine Arts Festival at TCU.

Ullmann has studied at the University of Wyoming, New York University, Columbia University, the Conservatoire de Paris and several other institutions of learning.

He is a former faculty member of Biarritz American University in France, and now is teaching at Juillard School of Music.

During World War II, Ullmann was decorated 11 times. He twice was wounded in action.

The program, "A Beethoven Sonata Recital," will include "Sonata, Opus 14," "Sonata, Opus 7," and "Sonata, Opus 81."

SORORITIES DIG GRADES

The official grade point averages of the women's Greek organizations for the 1958 fall semester are the first compiled on the 4-point system.

The all-sorority average was 2.7971.

Spring Formal Set for Thursday

In an effort to outdo last year's Spring Formal decorations, Miss Janice Michener, Midland senior, and her decorations committee have almost completed work on the 1959 Formal.

The Dance is scheduled to begin at 8 p.m. Thursday with Les Brown's "Band of Renown" playing in the Ballroom, the dance will close at midnight.

A French theme will highlight art of the decor, with a southern garden being depicted in the Ballroom.

The Lobby will be transformed into a French sidewalk cafe with awnings and tables. The theme will be carried into the cafeteria where the four posts will represent the base of the Eiffel Tower.

For the first time all tables and permanent seating in the center of the cafeteria will be removed to provide a larger dancing area.

Les Brown, next to John Foster Dulles and Bob Hope, is said to have logged more flying hours than any other private citizen while completing engagements. He also is considered to have America's number one dance band by Billboard and Downbeat magazines.

The Ambassadors, with Jim Eberly, will be featured in the cafeteria. During intermissions on the second floor, organ music will be provided.

Tickets for the dance are still on sale in the SC Lobby at $1.50 per person.

Refreshments will be served on the first and third floors.

1958-59 Horned Frog Will Be Ready May 20

All 450 pages of the Horned Frog, student yearbook, have gone to the publisher, Editor John Cantwell says.

The book is expected to be ready about May 20.

475 Eying Commencement

Veteran Enrollment in '50 Set All-Time High with 571

By PAT BECKHAM

The graduating Class of '59 is anticipated to be the third largest in the University's 85-year history, the Registrar's office reveals.

Only in 1949 and 1950, when the peak of the WW II veteran enrollment completed requirements, was the number of degree candidates larger. Registrar Calvin Cumbie says that approximately 475 will comprise this year's graduating class. Comparably the 1949 class boasted 533, while 1950 graduates numbered 571.

There were 455 graduated last year.

Educational Tour Planned by Club

Thirty members of the Chemistry Club will start an educational tour April 29.

The club plans to go to Baton Rouge, where they will visit the Dial and Ethyl Chemical Companies, Esso Refinery, Wyanokotte and Louisiana State University.

From Baton Rouge they will go to New Orleans to see the University of Tulane's Medical School and the Charity General Hospital.

The group will return late Sunday. Dr. Joe Hodgkins and Dr. William Watson, of the chemistry department, will accompany the club.

This makes a total of 40 masters degrees.

Fifteen are petitioning for Bachelor of Divinity degrees, while one name is listed for a Certificate in Nursing.

The list is tentative and will undergo many deletions, additions and changes prior to June 3, says Cumbie. The list does not include the candidates who fulfilled all requirements for degrees at the close of the fall semester, but who will receive their degrees in the formal exercises.

Freedoms Foundation Prexy To Deliver Sadler Lecture

Dr. Kenneth D. Wells, president of the Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge, Pa., will be honored at a dinner on campus Tuesday evening before he delivers the annual "M. E. Sadler Freedom Lecture."

In addition to lecturing, Dr. Wells will receive an honorary L.L.D. degree from the University.

He also will present the Freedom Foundation Awards won by individuals and organizations of this area who will attend the dinner starting at 6:30 p.m. in the Faculty Center of the Administration Building. The official program will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Dr. Wells holds degrees from several universities and was co-founder, director and trustee of the Freedoms Foundation. He served the foundation as executive vice president in 1949 and president in 1951.

The Sadler Lecture was founded several years ago by the Fort Worth chapter of B'nai B'rith in honor of Dr. M. E. Sadler.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Hail to Campus Chest!

Seldom in recent years has a Campus Chest drive matched the success of this spring's, when an optimistic $1,600 goal was surpassed by $450.

Kudos for a skillfully organized and conscientiously managed campus collection were earned by Fort Worth sophomore Bill Koberg and his Campus Chest committee of Student Congress.

Keynote of the drive, and its success, was to urge campus-wide participation. It almost was realized as students and professors dipped generously into their pockets for silver to fill the collection cups.

The committee's 100 per cent participation plea wasn't only a slogan—it was a method intended to provide every individual a convenient opportunity to contribute.

Future Campus Chests will fare well to incorporate principles of this year's drive with adroit leadership comparable to this year's.

Honor System Advance

After months of brain twisting, the honor system committee has decided to attempt to institute a sort of honor code in men's dormitories next fall.

Specifics have not yet been determined, but Dean of Men Jewell Wallace has agreed to cooperate with the committee on any sound proposal.

The decision to inaugurate an honor code in the dormitory, rather than the classroom, was intended to prove its feasibility to the faculty and to convince an unenthusiastic student body an honor system isn't necessarily a classroom gestapo.

Apparently many students believe reporting a cribbing classmate is a more odious evil than allowing him to continue.

Soup Bowl Menagerie

Freshman! Do you think you're still in high school? Take that letter jacket off.

Once again the W's, B's, C's, and Y's and X's are beginning to make visitors wonder what campus they're on. The alphabet soup attire was outlawed years ago on college campuses.

If you have a purple T—wear it. If the jacket with the polka-dot Z is all you have, a razor blade is a great remedy.

The Slow Season

Once upon a time a person could send information between the different offices on campus with the speed of Pony Express via "Inter Office Letter."

We now live in a different era.

On several occasions it has taken the better part of a week for mail to reach the far corners of Dan D. Rogers Hall.

The consensus now is that if you plan sending mail by "Inter Office Letters" outside the Administration Building—don't. Take it yourself, or send it by US mule.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"ARE TH' BOYS TAKING US TO SEE THIS PICTURE IN A THEATRE OR A 'DRIVE-IN'?"

SW Campus Confidential

By JACK HARKRIDER

TEXAS TECH—

Tech has a first-rate dairy team, or so the Toreador relates. For example:

"Tech's dairy cattle judging team placed first at the Southwest Exposition and Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth, and the meat judging team took tenth.

"The dairy team scored 1,756 points, which was 65 points better than second-place Arkansas."

And that really took a lot of pull.

A more recent article in the Toreador told of a valuable, missing piece of merchandise.

"A very valuable antique parasol is reported missing by the speech department.

"Anyone having information as to the whereabouts of the parasol is asked to contact Mayme McDaniel at the speech department."

Never mind, fellows. It's already stopped raining.

SMU—

Recently, the Campus announced an interesting display to be presented in the student library.

"Nuclear energy and atoms for peace is the topic for the current exhibit at the library. The display includes illustrations of the parts of the atom and the uses of its isotopes in both medicine and industry.

"Near the reserve desk is a display of the destructive effects of the atom."

No, no! That's the librarian. The display is on the other table.

BAYLOR—

"Breakfast in Bed" should be the headline of this article from the Lariat.

"All the late sleepers in the women's dormitories will be treated to an unusual sight Saturday morning as boys representing the class of '60 will serve brunch at 10 a.m. downstairs."

Don't let them fool you, girls. It's just another excuse for a panty raid.

If that isn't enough, here's another caper from that wild Baylor group.

"To raise money for the freshman-sophomore banquet, a slave auction will be held at 4 p.m. in the Union Bowl. The slaves will be sophomore girls.

"The girls will begin their duties as slaves for their purchasers on Saturday afternoon and will be required to do their masters' bidding through Saturday night."

Well, everyone has his own little vices.

LSU—

The Daily Reveille ran a stirring editorial on the progress of a student government committee's meetings. The last sentence read:

"Here is an up-to-the-minute roundup of the accomplishments of the meetings."

This was followed by four column inches of pure, white space.

This sounds like a few of TCU's Student Congress meetings.

TWU—

The Daily Lass-O printed a wire service story concerning a fire in London, England.

"When a fire swept the Pembroke Dock fire station today, firemen were unable to save two fire engines and other equipment, but managed to carry a TV set and a billiard table to safety."

Oh, well. It's the important things in life that count.

THE SCORE

Can't Please 'Em All; One Man's Music, Another's Dirge

By PAT BECKHAM

"Take criticism for what it's worth," my mammy once told me, "and keep your flowers in a box."

This recent letter falls in the first category. Anyone care to comment, pro or con?

"Editor, The Skiff:

"Scanning through some recent issues of The Skiff, I could not escape the notion that cultural events on this campus do not receive the publicity nor review which one would normally expect from a university paper.

"Regarding space allocation, concerts, plays (Fallis Players and Little Theatre), and art exhibitions are often tucked away to an inconspicuous part of the paper, crammed between Pizza ads, Tarrytons, and other non-campus oddities.

"Of course I realize that such events as the 'Ugliest Man' contest, chic coeds, or the fizzling of the Ranch Week unfortunately occupy the minds of many on this campus.

"Therefore, I do not attempt to elevate forcefully the taste and appreciation of the majority by proposing headline allocation for cultural events.

"However, could you reserve a column, similar to 'With the Greeks,' et al, under the headline 'Cultural Events,' or—if this title sounds too learned, even repelling 'High Brow,' and summarize going-ons by indicating what will happen, when, where, and a review of the happenings?

"If The Skiff does not have a competent reporter, I am sure some of the professors on this campus would gladly assist the paper in this matter.

"As an afterthought, let us not be afraid to admit that we do have culture on the campus. Perhaps some might even learn to appreciate it.

Sincerely,
BRENT F. WINKEL."

Disregarding this patron of the arts "slam" at our reportorial staff (which possibly is more competent than many of the professors), I'd like to quote a couple of paragraphs from a text on newspaper law.

"The lack of a concrete definition of news is of more than academic or philosophical interest. Some of the conflicts between the press on the one hand, and society, either group opinion or law, on the other have arisen because these two have found no agreement in determining just what is, or is not, news.

"Some of the most vigorous critics of the press base their principal attack on what they call the failure of newspapers to print 'significant' news. So far, these critics have failed to agree among themselves as to what is either 'significant' or 'news.'"

Local Area Fast Adapting To Chem Biz

The Texas Chemical Council and the TCU journalism department recently played host to a panel discussion on the chemical industry in Dan D. Rogers Hall by a group of experts in their field.

Panel moderator Val Jean McCoy, Shell Oil Co., Houston, introduced the panel members, Elbert D. Helm of American Cyanamid Co., Fort Worth; K. A. Danskin, from the Houston plant of the Lubrizol Corp., and T. Lyman, United Rubber and Chemical Co., Baytown.

The panel agreed that the Texas area was fast becoming one of the country's chemical centers. Since 25 years ago, the Gulf coast has seen rapid growth in the industry.

The reasons given for the concentration of the chemical companies on the Gulf Coast are the convenience of deep water transportation and the ready availability of raw materials.

The question about future graduates obtaining jobs in the chemical industry brought a prediction of good prospects.

The panel had varying views on women in the industry but agreed that the woman with a degree of clerical knowledge would have good chances for advancement.

It was concluded that technical writers with a background of liberal arts were in great demand for the publications.

The overall view for employment looks good for the near-graduate, the men agreed.

ELECTION

Basic new features of the code provide the payment of a ten-dollar filing fee, refundable after election. Campus-wide elections are limited to two a year.

Or the election could be held simultaneously with a referendum on the code, which if passed, would validate election results.

The code reapportions representation from the various schools and colleges to one seat for each 400 students, with a minimum of one seat for each of the University's divisions except the Evening College.

All class officers will be elected in the fall election. Formerly, only class presidents were chosen in general elections, while other officers were selected in class meetings.

Secretary and treasurer of Student Congress were made elective positions. Previously they have been picked by Congress.

Six lower class representative seats were abolished in favor of adding two freshman and two sophomore representatives.

Voting boxes in the Student Center, Rogers Hall, Science Building, Fine Arts Building, Bailey Building and the Religion Center will be provided rather than a single box in the Student Center Lobby.

Tri-Delts Plan Campfest

Delta Delta Delta members will have their spring retreat at Camp Carter this weekend.

Landscape Art Exhibit Now On Display in SC

An art exhibit of 10 landscapes from the National Gallery of Art in Washington, D.C., will be on display in the Student Center mezzanine until April 15, according to exhibits committee chairman, Miss Norma Wemple, Fort Worth senior.

CLYDE CAMPBELL UNIVERSITY SHOP
(one of a series)

Let's Go Formal . . .

. . . has been an advertising slogan of the men's formal wear manufacturers, and we think it's a marvelous idea. When a man is dressed to kill, he just naturally enjoys the outing more.

Now that summer is here, you may be much more daring about your formal wear. From funereal black, men are blossoming out into the colors of the rainbow.

The suit: Usually white, but you may choose to wear one of the new colored dinner jackets, with black pants. We have both at $35.

Shoes: In recent years the rules on shoes have become much more free. A plain toe slip-on shoe of a fairly light weight will do as well as a regular tuxedo shoe. Patent is not allowable except with tails.

Formal shirt: Soft front and soft collar with pleated bosom. Ruffles are all right, but we really don't recommend them for any but the extremely daring.

Tie and cummerbund: Choose any fabric, color or design that suits your fancy.

Studs: Black or pearl or plain metal.

Wog Netters Clip Tarleton State Duo

By BOB BULLOCK

The freshman tennis team braved a 30-m.p.h. wind to take two singles games and win the doubles match Wednesday at Colonial Country Club.

Roy Persons, Garland freshman, took two sets from Milton Birk of Tarleton State 6-2, 9-7. Persons and Birk battled through five tie games in the last set before Persons won the match.

David Hauger, Amarillo freshman, lost the first set to Wayne Kaiser 8-6, and then came back to take the second set, 6-1. He lost the tie set, 6-4.

David Peebles, Killeen freshman, beat Bill Ferguson of Tarleton State, 6-1, in the first set and lost the second, 6-3. Peebles then came back to win the final set and break the tie by winning 6-4.

In doubles Persons and Hauger teamed up to boost their record to six victories against no losses or ties by beating Birk and Kaiser, 6-0, in the first set, while losing the second, 6-4. In the final set Hauger and Persons won a one-sided 6-3 count.

March 20 and 21 these same two men won the Rice Invitation tourney at the Gulf Crest Country Club. They were not picked by the experts to even get past the first round against Rice's No. 2 doubles team, John Wayne and Don Cain. The TCU freshmen won that match 6-0, 6-0 to advance to the semifinals against the University of Texas, the No. 1 seeded team in the tourney. Texas' team featured Mac White, the Texas state champion, and Neal Undersher, the No. 9 rated man in the United States, and Nebraska state champion. The final score was 1-6, 6-4, 6-4 in favor of Hauger and Persons.

The finals were played March 21, with the team of Hauger and Persons playing at the River Oaks Country Club against Neal Markus and Robert Munday. Hauger and Persons came out on the short end of the first few games of the set and trailed 5-2. Then the mighty Frog freshmen won the next five games to take the set 7-5. In the second set the score went to Markus and Munday 4-6. In the last set the frog men were leading 4-1 and Persons served and Markus and Munday took the lead 5-4. The two teams split games, first one team leading the other until the games stood 9-all. Then the Wogs won the next two games to take the set 11-9.

tiful but Cantrell could place with one of his better efforts.

Best bets for the trophies though are several talented Wog runners. Bobby Bernard, who won the schoolboy high hurdles last year in Austin, is a top favorite in the frosh division this time.

Bert Coan rates a good chance in the 100 as he has zipped to a couple of 9.7's this spring. Ray Knaub of Baylor with a 9.5 in the Rec Meet looms as the chief threat to the Frog sprinter.

Hopes will be highest Friday night when the freshmen compete under the lights in the sprint medley relay. Reagan Gasaway opens with a 440, then Coan and Glen McCrosky take over on stints of 220 yards each and Bobby Barrett anchors a half mile.

Barrett, already a sensational frosh miler, will also run a good half, claims Weems. He had an easy 1:57 recently in time trials.

Lookit What We Found, Jimbo

By LEE GRIMSLEY

There's something missing in TCU's athletic program—a freshman from Melissa, North Dakota, named George Kanstrup.

In high school Kanstrup compiled a fantastic record in four sports—football, baseball, basketball and track. In four years he earned 16 varsity letters. Kanstrup never got due publicity because Melissa's population was only 513.

Kanstrup was offered an athletic scholarship by only one college—North Dakota State. He declined the offer, however, to come to TCU.

"My uncle went here for a short time in 1933," Kanstrup said. "Although he never graduated he talked about the school and the friendly atmosphere. That, along with the fact that my family belongs to the Christian Church, helped me to decide on TCU."

No coaches outside of the immediate area of Melissa ever heard of Kanstrup. As a result he came to Fort Worth last September unheralded.

"I started to come out for football last fall," Kanstrup said. "But then I decided I couldn't make the freshman team. You know the papers all said TCU had the best freshman athletes in the state."

Had not Kanstrup been afraid to try out for the team the Frogs might now be blessed with one of the most promising athletes in the Southwest Conference. The 18-year-old freshman's record speaks for itself.

In four years he led Melissa High School to 40 straight gridiron victories. During that time he averaged gaining slightly more than 181 yards per game rushing from his left half-back post.

He was the star sprinter for Melissa's track team. His best clocking in the 100 came during his senior year when the Mustangs engaged Howardtown in a dual meet. He was timed at 9.4 in the century and added a 21.7 in the 220.

In basketball Kanstrup threw his 6-3, 205-pound frame all over the court in compiling a 4-year scoring average of 28.4 points per game.

Kanstrup's baseball record isn't quite so stratospheric. He pitched only 42 high school games and wound up with a 22-20 record. Seems as if Melissa was weak in hitting and fielding.

Kanstrup plans to return to TCU next fall. Maybe with more publicity he can be persuaded to lend Abe Martin, Buster Brannon, Rabbit McDowell and J. Eddie Weems some of his talent.

Wog Hitters Look Sharp

By JAMES HARPER

Averaging a little better than 10 runs per game, TCU's freshman baseball team has been getting a good strong hold on opposing pitching.

Rapping out 32 hits in their first three games, they have come up with 31 runs. A 4-run eighth inning by the Baylor freshmen March 21 nipped the Wogs 11-10 for their only defeat.

The Wogs showed they have come from behind equipment when they overcame a 6-run lead by Paschal March 24. The freshmen drove in 13 runs in the last two innings for the 16-11 victory.

TCU batters are getting down to business after a rough season opener. In that game, North Side High's hard-throwing Terry Barber struck out 17 men. Two North Side errors helped the Wogs win 5-2, though.

Saturday the freshman team will travel to Dallas to face the SMU Colts.

FROGS TEST CINDERMEN ON TOES FOR BIG TEXAS RELAYS

By JACK HARKRIDER

With a sad-looking 1-2 conference record, the "see-sawing" Frogs will take on the SMU Mustangs in a home game Saturday, and try to keep their conference hopes alive.

TCU, so far, has been an "up and down team," according to Coach Rabbit McDowell.

"I was really disappointed in the team Tuesday. Why, any high school team could have beaten us! Those boys just couldn't hit," he said.

Apparently, McDowell is also dissatisfied with his pitching staff.

"Charlie Rutherford is the only pitcher that has delivered for me. Darrel Read and Rode Gonzales just haven't come through. In fact, I'm going to work them harder this week, and hope that they will settle down."

Commenting on hitting power, he stated, "Our hitting is about the same as our pitching; it's inconsistent. Hunter Enis and I. B. Childs have been hitting steadily, but they've had bad luck at the plate. It seems that every time they hit, there's always someone there to catch it."

McDowell also hinted that a possible shake-up of the team is in the making.

"As far as I know, I'm going to start Rutherford in the pitcher's slot, James Rutledge at third base and maybe a few other changes. I tried Bennett Shotwell and Eddie Smith at third but they don't produce at the plate."

SMU, on the other hand, will field a team bolstered by the hitting and fielding powers of Glynn Gregory, a name well known to the Mustang football fans, and Jim Williams, third sacker, who has scratched the hitting columns regularly.

"They may have a 1-1 conference record, but those boys have a good hitting team," McDowell asserted. "Not only that, but they've got a couple of left-handed pitchers that could give us some trouble also."

The Frogs bowed to the Texas Longhorns Tuesday in a 4-1 scrap, by virtue of rallies in the third and eighth innings.

The Frogs' lone tally came when I. B. Childs beat out a slow roller to third and Catcher Doug Moore lined a single to left to score him.

By GORDON PYNES

The Frog varsity and freshman track squads will find themselves in the middle of the Southwest's biggest and best track and field carnival, the Texas Relays, at Austin, Friday.

"Competition is plenty stiff all ways," states Coach J. Eddie Weems, but he is confident his teams will come off with some places.

The scanty varsity team sets its hope on a 2-mile relay four-some led by Drake Relays veterans of last spring, James Livergood and Joe Douglas. Lafayette Heath and Kelly Westlake will fill the other two positions.

Weems, who has produced some top teams in this distance, thinks they'll be among the front runners. A clocking of 7:40 for the baton event will be most certain to place.

Other varsity entrants are Vaulters Mike Howell, High Jumper Aubrey Linne and Discus Man John Cantrell.

Howell is up against such notables as 1956 Olympic qualifier Jim Graham and Nebraska's Big Eight champ, Ken Pollard, who soared 14-6, three inches better than the meet mark.

Linne also meets stern foes in NCAA Champ Don Stewart of SMU and Dub Thornton of Texas Tech.

Good weight men will be plentiful. Turn to RELAYS on Page 7
