Johnson Against Jones For Congress President

By JOHN FARR

One hundred five candidates filed for 43 campus offices, and 11 nominations were submitted for TCU Sweetheart at a formal filing session Wednesday in the Ballroom.

Heading the spring election ballot for Student Congress President will be Max Jones, Ruidoso, N.M., junior, and Jerry Johnson, Decatur, Ga., junior. Johnson now is vice president of Congress, and Jones is a junior class representative. Jones was 1958 Homecoming chairman.

JC's Cup For Best G-Project

Beginning this year, the Fort Worth Junior Chamber of Commerce will present a trophy to the fraternity or sorority on campus which has participated the most in service projects.

The organizations will be graded on the basis of the number of service projects entered into and the percentage of members participating.

The awarding of the trophy will become an annual event with the presentation being made at the end of each school year.

It is the hope of the Jaycees that the prospect of winning a trophy will inspire the TCU Greeks to sponsor the Texas Boys Choir Music Festival which will be held in Fort Worth Thursday and Friday.

If the Boys Choir Festival here is a financial success, they will be able to go to Ireland to compete in the Irish Music Festival. Music organizations from all over Europe go to the Irish festival by invitation only, and the Texas group has been honored by an invitation to compete.

David Freeman, Tony Hale and Bob Williams will seek the vice president's post. Freeman is a Congress member, and Hale is a former representative.

Miss Patsy Rayburne will contest Miss Anne Kelley for secretary of Student Congress.

Vying for treasurer of Congress are John Kollman and Roger Ramsey. Kollman held the post in the spring of 1958.

This is the first time the secretary and treasurer posts, paying $225 a year, will be filled by campus-wide election. Formerly, only members of Congress elected the two officers, which were nominated by the president.

Miss Anne Matlock is running unopposed to succeed Joe Dulle as Activities Council director.

Candidates for the four Add-Ran College seats are Bennett Jensen and Robert Norris and Misses Ann Stubbs, Barbara Zeigler, Julie Tipton, Carolyn Ricketts, Pat Moore, Cita Marie Wright, Cynthia Lynch and Ruth Ann Kindiger.

Before the election code referendum last week, Add-Ran elected only two representatives to Congress.

The two School of Business seats drew eight candidates. They are John McCraw and Bob Patton and Misses Gerry Webb, Janis Kirby, Mary C. Lemons, Delores Moore, Linda Hildreth and Amelia Ann Kerby. Patton is an incumbent lower class representative.

Candidates for two Fine Arts representatives posts are Charlie Robinson and Misses Georgia Ehly, June Pence, Lauranna Rice, Betsy Kay and Mary Littlejohn. Robinson, as junior class president, holds a Congress seat.

Vying for two School of Education seats are Pete Bartosh and Misses Marion Wiley, Pat

RE Week Discussed by URC

Plans for the 1960 RE Week have been started and David Marshall, Longview junior, has been made chairman of the planning committee.

The remainder of the committee will be appointed next month and work will continue through the summer.

In a recent meeting of the United Religious Council, the 1959 Religious Emphasis Week was evaluated and suggestions for improvements were made.

Although it was suggested RE Week would be more successful if extended to five days, the final decision was to leave it as a 3-day event; but religious programs could be scheduled where classes and campus organizations were concerned.

Dorm participation was termed "fair" and the discussions were called necessary in order to reach more people.

Dr. Gustave A. Ferre, the main speaker for RE Week, suggested an attempt be made to get the speakers together so they could discuss the progress of the week's events.

Publicity presented a problem to URC members when trying to promote interest among the town students.

On the lighter side of the evaluation, vespers proved to be the most popular part of the program.

A need for more faculty participation also was determined.

HOW DO YOU RATION TIME?

The personnel staff is conducting a survey to gain a better picture of the activities of TCU students.

Miss Elizabeth Youngblood, social director, requests that all students fill in the questionnaire at the information desk in the Student Center lobby, and leave it for compilation.

Skiff Photo Contest Won By Bullock

When the first Skiff Photo Contest ended this week, Bob Bullock, Fort Worth senior, had carried off most of the loot.

Bullock took first and second place, the third-place award went to Harry Cabluck Jr., Fort Worth sophomore.

Photographs were judged on the basis of general interest, originality, composition and photographic technique.

A $10 gift certificate from the Westcliff Camera Shop was the first prize. Other awards include a record album from Westcliff Record Shop, second, and a $5 gift certificate from Fair Westcliff, third.

There will be one more contest, after which the two first-place winners automatically will be entered in the grand prize competition.

Glenn C. Routt, assistant professor of theology, is the Chapel speaker for Tuesday.

Student Center Celebration Will Feature 'College Bowl'

Campusites will find a variety of entertainment when they attend the Student Center's fourth annual birthday party Monday through Thursday.

A special meal in the Cafeteria has been planned for Monday, and Tuesday has been designated as game night.

On Wednesday, plans indicate something different for students. TCU's own "College Bowl" will make its initial appearance at 7 p.m. in Room 203. It will be a battle of the wits between a faculty team and a student team. Refreshments will be served during the "half-time" of the program; Jim Koch will emcee.

Thursday night's "Grand Slam" will treat students to a free movie, "Seven Brides for Seven Brothers," and a western dance follows.

Co-chairmen for this event are Misses Jo Rita Johnson, Tia Juana, Venezuela, sophomore, and Jan Jones, Greenville freshman.

AF Cadet Mooty Is Up in the Air

Air Force ROTC Cadet 1st Lt. Don Mooty is the first cadet to successfully complete the new Flying Indoctrination Program this year.

He has completed 36 hours of flying in J-3 Cubs and the Cessna 140 and has completed the FAA written and flight checks that will certify him as a qualified private pilot.

The IFP program was instituted in 1957 at TCU and other universities to give future AF pilot trainees flying experience to help determine whether or not they enjoy their proposed field. Eight cadets are in the program.

Methodists Send Five To Wesley Work Camp

The TCU Wesley Foundation sent five members to join members of other Methodist student groups at Camp Sierra Linda in Monterrey, Mexico, during the Easter holidays.

The University of Texas Wesley Foundation sponsored the work-camp, attended by approximately 75 students. Those from TCU were Dorothy Cory, Sandra Kimmons, John Cookerley, Shig Kanda and Barbara Jacobson.

Lynette Johnson Elected Prexy Of B&PW Club

Miss Lynette Johnson, Stamford sophomore, has been elected president of the Business and Professional Women's Club at TCU. The election of officers for the spring semester was held recently.

LIKE SCOUTING?

The Boy Scouts of America will be interviewing today for seniors who might like to make a career of working with the Scouts.

Keith Benner will be here to talk to graduating seniors in all major fields.

Concert Tuesday By University Orchestra

The University Orchestra will present a concert at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday in Ed Landreth Auditorium.

Joe Bratcher, of the music faculty, will play as soloist with the orchestra.

German music will be performed as a continuation of the Fine Arts Festival's German theme.

Newman Club Schedules Activities

The TCU Newman Club has scheduled a full day of activities for Sunday, including religious services and a free movie.

Starting at 9:30 a.m. all members and their guests will attend Mass and Corporate Communion, followed by breakfast.

Later, they will help in the spring cleaning of the clubhouse.

At 7:30 p.m., club members will be guests of one of the members at the Bowie Theatre. They will view "My Uncle."

GUEST REVIEW

Ole! Ole!

The Select Series audience in Ed Landreth Auditorium Wednesday night heard Andres Segovia demonstrate the validity of the guitar as a solo concert instrument in a large hall.

As they listened, spellbound, he fingered his way through the music of four centuries that has been written or transcribed for the conventional Spanish guitar.

The formal programming, and its adherence to chronological order, left no room for the flamenco, the one great Andalusian contribution to the literature of music. Those who expected an example or two might have come away disappointed.

Small matter. Segovia in concert is a musical experience that's difficult to forget, and many in the capacity audience of the night before last will long remember that beautiful hour and a half.—M. S.

Zamorano's Guitar Music, Baritone Voice Popular

By ANN ENGLISH

Almost anyone who has walked through the Student Center has heard the strains of Hector Zamorano's guitar and the sound of his baritone voice.

This TCU instructor and post graduate student has played his guitar at many campus events such as the Howdy Week Review and the Club 300 dance. He also plays for his classes.

Around Fort Worth Hector has played at the Colonial Country Club, the Black Beret (where he is also on the managerial staff) and others.

Hector teaches Spanish, his major subject. This semester he teaches only one class, a second-year course.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Zest for Song Fest

Choral music lovers—Greek and non-Greek alike—will have an opportunity to hear 18 a capella groups as the Greek Song Fest makes its fourth appearance on campus at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in Ed Landreth Auditorium.

Originally held in the Ballroom, attendance at the Song Fest warranted moving the event to Ed Landreth two years ago. Many members of the audience have been parents of the singers.

Preparations for the competition, sponsored annually by Zeta Tau Alpha sorority, and won last year by Delta Delta sorority and Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity, have required early morning, mid-day and late evening practices for members and pledges of the participating groups.

The competition for a trophy to the winning sorority and fraternity—and for recognition in a cultural field—is intense, and this year's panel of four judges will include two professionals, members of the Dallas Symphony Orchestra.

Eighteen groups of about 60 well-rehearsed voices each should be able to provide a good evening's entertainment for their listeners.

To Get a Job

The time has come when you either have to be the president of your own company, or a career man in the military before you can get a job after graduating from college—without experience.

Of course, this isn't true in every case. But, how many people do you know of, if not yourself, who were turned down for employment because he or she did not have at least one to two years' experience? There are many reasons for wanting to "get to work," and it seems that one of the important ones is to start regaining some of that $7,000 investment it took to prepare yourself for the "cold, cruel world."

It has been said that the purpose of an education is to give you the tools to work with. How are you expected to use these tools if you can't get a job? A lot of large, well-established firms have set up excellent training programs with a good salary to go along with it.

They realize that you have to eat sometimes, and it is rather nice to have a roof over your head and clothes on your back.

It is quite apparent that many organizations will not take the time to train new personnel, and as a direct result, they fill slots with only those who are qualified to do the work. This falls into the category of experience.

Face the Music

Responsible student voters will pay little heed to the somewhat warped appeal of a jazz combo when they cast their spring election ballot April 29.

The voter who marks his ballot to the beat of a candidate's drum is frequently duped—the swingin'est band doesn't necessarily represent the best qualified aspirant.

If a candidate can't raise a substantial issue or state a logical reason for his election over a supposedly qualified opponent, his shaky claim to an office might well be ignored.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

—YES, ED, I WISH I HAD BEEN ABLE TO GET A COLLEGE EDUCATION. IT GIVES A MAN THAT CERTAIN SOMETHING THAT SETS HIM ABOVE AND APART FROM THE AVERAGE---

SW Campus Confidential

By JACK HARKRIDER

BAYLOR—

Return with us to the days of yesteryear when the knights flourished and chivalry prevailed. The Lariat carried the following invitation:

"The Royal Court of King Arthur hereby invites all freshmen and sophomores of Baylor University to attend the annual Freshman - Sophomore Banquet, May 2, heralding the beginning of May activities."

Formal armor is in order and horses will not be allowed in the banquet hall.

SMU—

The "good old days" kick seems to have hit other campuses also. The Campus tells of the featured event of their "Manada" festival. "Highlighting Manada weekend will be a chariot race up and down Bishop Boulevard April 17, Lee McClennahan, Interfraternity Council president, announced Monday.

"Dressed in Roman attire, chariot riders from 12 fraternities will be pulled by teams of fraternity brothers."

After awarding an olive wreath to the winner, the losers will be fed to the lions.

LSU—

It seems the Reveille made a mistake in one of their stories.

"A Reveille news story identifying Robert M. Daniels as the driver of the car which struck the child near the hutments was in error. Daniels owns the car but was not driving at the time."

Of course not. He was in the back seat singing.

NTSC—

The Campus Chat printed proof that "a young man's fancy turns to love," recently.

"A frustrated male came into the office recently, extremely shaken about the love situation.

"It seems he and his fiance were sweet-talking before leaving the car for classes. She reached over and gave him a light kiss—and his nose is still red from the seatcover shock."

Then there was the case of the girl who kissed the boy and he kissed her back. He was very near-sighted.

TECH—

Students may have been in for a slight disappointment, according to an article in the Toreador.

"'Battleground,' starring Van Johnson, has been scheduled to replace 'Moby Dick' Sunday at 2:30 p.m. in the Tech Ballroom."

Too bad, group. You're missing a whale of a show.

TWU—

The latest hit songs in Red China were announced in the Daily Lass-o recently.

"Radio Peiping today presented new songs by Red Chinese composers to applaud the people's communes. The titles:

"'I Feel So Happy,' 'Our Club,' 'Chairman Mao Comes to Our Village.'"

Others not listed included: "Wake The Town and Kill The People," "It's Just a Matter of Crime," "I'll Be With You In Salt-Mining Time," and "Where Were You On Our Beheading Day?"

Honor Code Part of 1923 Constitution

Editor's Note: This is the second in a series of stories on the proposed honor system for the campus.

By J'NELL ROGERS

In determining either the success or failure of an honor system if instituted here at the University, past accomplishments in the school's history possibly provide a good criteria for judgment.

In the September 18, 1923, issue of The Skiff, an article is printed with the purpose of acquainting new students "with the Honor System under which the school works."

Article III of the Student Association Constitution of the year 1923 was devoted entirely to the honor system.

So that many, who do not know just what is involved in an honor system, may know how one operates, a portion of Section III is quoted below.

"Section 1. The Honor System shall apply to all work for which credit is given by the University. Violations of the Honor System shall consist of:

"(1) any endeavor by any student to secure credit for any work in the University which is not the direct result of his own individual effort;

"(2) any attempt to assist another in securing credit for any work in the University which is the direct result of his own individual effort; and

"(3) any failure to report to the proper authority any breach of the Honor System that may be observed.

"Section 2. The following pledge signed in full shall be affixed to every written examination or quiz, and, in the discretion of each instructor, to any other written work of whatever kind:

"Upon my honor, I have neither given nor received, nor have I seen anyone else give or receive any aid on this examination."

"Section 3. The Honor System shall be enforced by the Students' Council, which shall have jurisdiction, both original and final, over all violations thereof, as provided for in Section 1 of this article, except in case of appeal, as hereinafter provided . . .

"Section 7. All proceedings of the Council during the trial of any person for the violation of the Honor System shall be secret. All findings of the Council shall be published in The Skiff but the names of all persons involved shall be withheld."

In accordance with the provisions of the code, the first case of the year 1923 was duly tried and the results published in the school publication in the Nov. 13 issue. Two students had been charged because one allowed another to copy an English notebook from him. The one doing the work was given a grade of "D" with opportunity to make it up at the end of the term. The one who copied was given an "F" with no opportunity to make up the work.

These rules followed 36 years ago are not necessarily the ones which the school would re-enact should the system again be begun here. They simply provide an example of what once was enforced here on campus.

R-I-N-N-G!

There are times which try men's tempers.

These are the hours the campus switchboard is closed.

Except for a few pay phones in the various dormitories, there is no contact with the outside world during the off hours.

All emergency calls, when students are needed, must come through the few pay phones in the dorms. And they are not listed as TCU numbers by the outside operators.

CANDIDATES FILE FOR POSTS

Brown, Toni Fairley, Carol Haima and Diane Mority. Miss Wiley is running for re-election.

Uncontested for the Brite College seat is Bill Sikes.

Betsy McGrew is unopposed for the Harris College of Nursing post. No candidate filed for the Graduate School seat.

Seeking two senior class representative seats are Curtis Jones and Misses Judy Gilbert, Julia Ann Hedges, Gay Walker, Sallie Raines and Carolyn Stoker.

Candidates for the two junior class representative posts are Ken Hubbell and Misses Linda Smith, Becky Beckering, Maxine Showalter, Margaret Gorman, Ginny Swartz and Lou Ann Ramsey. Miss Ramsey is a Congress member.

The 13 candidates running for four sophomore representative seats are Lewis Monday, Jeff Stevens and Tommy Ryan and Misses Wilma Gay Fowler, Kay Reese, Marilyn Turner, Sandra Greenfield, Jackie Gregory, Judy Parker, Harriette H. Massey, Emily Tipton, Linda Coleman and Marajane Gill.

Miss Beth Morris is unopposed for Skiff editor, and Miss Judy Galloway is the only candidate for Horned Frog editor.

Seeking four men's cheerleader positions are Bill Moore, Larry Montgomery, John Bell, Ken Cole, Dale Netherland, Bill Smith, Jimmy Davis, Charlie Robinson, Jim Koch and Bill Koberg. Davis is running for his third term as cheerleader.

Twenty women entered the race for four cheerleader spots. They are Misses Kay Reese, Sandy Stokes, Sharon Hoffa, Lynn Swann, Sandra Stone, Margie Week, Barbara Betty, Candy Byrd, Janie Murrell, Paula Hottle, Pat Hazlerigg, Pat Kay Powell, Allie Beth McMurtry, Sandra Terry, Barbara Britain, Becky McCormack, Cloe Ann Rountree, Susan Vernor, Peggy Whatley and Rita Kay Stewart.

Misses Stokes and Rountree are seeking re-election to their cheerleader posts.

TCU Sweetheart nominees are Misses Lou Ann Ramey, Julia Hedges, Toni Fairley, Bettie B. Porzelius, Janeen Cunningham, Sandy Stokes, Josie Lu Bird, Linda Frye, Rita Kay Stewart, Carol Haima and Peggy Whatley.

Formal campaigning for the April 29 primary election will start at 5 p.m. Sunday, April 26, when candidates can begin erecting their posters on campus.

Candidates are limited to eight posters measuring no larger than 18 square feet. Posters must be registered with the election committee. Signs larger than 8 by 10 inches are considered to be posters.

April 29 issue of The Skiff will carry campaign advertising at one-half its usual rates to enable candidates to take advantage of the newspaper's circulation without exceeding their allotments.

DSF Will Present Drama on Sunday

A reading performance of Archibald MacLeish's play in verse, "J. B.", will be presented by the Disciples Student Fellowship drama group on Sunday in Fellowship Hall of University Christian Church. Admission is free.

An earlier story misquoted the date as being tomorrow.

The play, which currently is running on Broadway, is about a modern Job. The Saturday Review states that "J. B." may well become one of the lasting achievements of art and mind in our time.

Campaign expenses in the primary for Congress president, vice president, secretary and treasurer, Activities Council director and cheerleaders is limited to $17.00. Candidates for other offices may spend $12.00. Candidates in the May 1 runoff election are allotted an additional $5.00 expenditure.

Spring election voting is by activity card.

Archivist Gives Course In Busy 3-Day Session

Dr. T. R. Schellenburg, assistant archivist of the United States, concluded a 3-day short course Wednesday on "Archival Management and Aids" with a film, "Your National Archives."

More than 80 archivists and librarians from colleges, businesses and government agencies of four states attended the meeting, held in Dan D. Rogers Hall.

The workshop was devoted to problems of proper arrangement and management of public and personal archives and libraries.

THE CARE AND FEEDING OF ROOM-MATES

Room-mates are not only heaps of fun, but they are also very educational, for the proper study of mankind is man, and there is no better way to learn the dreams and drives of another man than to share a room with him.

This being the case, it is wise not to keep the same room-mate too long, because the more room-mates you have, the more you will know about the dreams and drives of your fellow man. So try to change room-mates as often as you can. A recent study made by Sigafos of Princeton shows that the best interval for changing room-mates is every four hours.

How do you choose a room-mate? Most counselors agree that the most important thing to look for in room-mates is that they be people of regular habits. This, I say, is arrant nonsense. What if one of their regular habits happens to be beating a Chinese gong from midnight to dawn? Or growing cultures in your tooth glass? Or reciting the Articles of War?

Regular habits, my foot! The most important quality in a room-mate is that he should be exactly your size. Otherwise you will have to have his clothes altered to fit you, which can be a considerable nuisance. In fact, it is sometimes flatly impossible. I recollect one time I roomed with a man named Osage Tremblatt who was just under seven feet tall and weighed nearly four hundred pounds. There wasn't a blessed thing I could use in his entire wardrobe—until one night when I was invited to a masquerade party. I cut one leg off a pair of Tremblatt's trousers, jumped into it, sewed up both ends, and went to the party as a bolster. I took second prize. First prize went to a girl named Antenna Radnitz who poured molasses over her head and went as a candied apple.

But I digress. Let us turn back to the qualities that make desirable room-mates. Not the least of these is the cigarettes they smoke. When we bum cigarettes, do we want them to be shoddy and nondescript? Certainly not! We want them to be distinguished, gently reared, zestful and zingy. And what cigarette is distinguished, gently reared, zestful and zingy? Why, Philip Morris, of corris! Any further questions?

To go on. In selecting a room-mate, find someone who will wear well, whom you'd like to keep as a permanent friend. Many of history's great friendships first started in college. Are you aware, for example, of the remarkable fact that Johnson and Boswell were room-mates at Oxford in 1712? What makes this fact so remarkable is that in 1712 Johnson was only three years old and Boswell had not yet been born. But, of course, children matured earlier in those days. Take Mozart, who wrote his first symphony at four. Or Titian, who painted his first masterpiece at five. Or Hanso Felbgung, who was in many ways the most remarkable of all; he was appointed chief of the Copenhagen police department at the age of six!

It must be admitted, however, that he did badly. Criminals roamed the city, robbing and looting at will. They knew little Hanso would never pursue them—he was not allowed to cross the street.

If you are allowed to cross the street, hie yourself to a tobaccoist and stock up on Philip Morris, outstanding among non-filter cigarettes, or Marlboro, the filter cigarette with better "makin's." Pick your pleasure.

Field House Definite!

MUDDLED THINKING STRAIGHTENED OUT

A downtown newspaper has quoted a high-ranking TCU official as saying, "We need a field house like we need a hole in the head."

The quotation appeared in Dick Moore's "Purely Personal" in the afternoon Star-Telegram. The name of the official wasn't mentioned.

Business Manager L. C. White indicates that such a statement, if made, probably referred to the money-making ability of a field house. He pointed out that the plans of the University include the building of a new structure.

Proposals and plans have been laid out by President M. E. Sadler to the Board of Trustees for a 12,000-seat field house that will cost about $2,250,000.

In elaborating on the proposed field house, the article revealed that a group of Fort Worth businessmen, headed by Burdette Brants, attempted to start a fund-raising drive for a field house. The column further alleged that President M. E. Sadler vetoed the idea.

The field house is a much-talked-about subject round TCU and Fort Worth. Since the old barn, former campus home of the basketball team, was destroyed, officials have been promising a field house.

In view of the confusion of some people off campus who do not know all the facts in the picture, the best solution seems to be to rehash the plans for a field house and report it to the press.

It could save the University a lot of further embarrassment.

Woods and Waters

By GEORGE GOULD

The good word for today and for a few days to come is that the big bass are finally biting. This is the scoop heard around fishing camps and from amateur weekend fishermen.

Possum Kingdom Lake seems to be heading the list as the best place to throw a plug, morning, evening or any time of the day, for that matter. One lure that appears to be driving bass crazy is a little flat job called a Super Sonic—and this one they seem to like better if it's shad color.

The big ones are moving in from the middle out at Benbrook and are being taken along the shore with good-sized minnows. Plugging produces good-sized fish now and then, but no great numbers to speak of. Plastic worms, pulled along the bottom very slowly, are taking 1½ to 2 pounders. This artificial lure is available with a weedless hook, so losses are kept down to a minimum.

When you clean your fish, you will see that the majority of bass are full of roe. This all goes to prove that males ARE smarter than females. When blacks are spawning, they feed carelessly, which means larger stringers if you fish them right. As soon as they begin to nest, which will be in another two or three weeks, the reckless plug-hitting will come to an end, so take an hour or two and hit 'em while the getting is good.

More Beef in Abe's Freezer

Recruiting continues to pick up speed for TCU as the football situation was bolstered earlier this week with the signing of two beefy tackles.

Carl Steubing, a huge 6-2, 235-pounder from San Benito and 200-pound Ken Upchurch of Itasca were the latest to ink their names to letters of intent to join Frog grid forces next fall.

To date, Freshman Coach Fred Taylor has 10 top-notch gridmen in the fold and hopes to add more in the next several weeks.

The big haul in recruiting is due to come with the end of the high school track and baseball seasons. Most gridmen busy themselves with the spring sports and aren't allowed to sign letters until their high school eligibility is completed.

Winning Wogs Wind Way Westward

By GORDON PYNES

No use quitting while you're ahead, think Track Coaches J. Eddie Weems and Elmer Brown, as they plan on taking the talented Wog cinder squad to Abilene Saturday for a quadrangular meet.

Shy on quantity but loaded with quality, the first-year Purples hope to continue their winning ways that started last weekend when they won the North Texas Relays frosh division. In Abilene they'll face familiar foes in North Texas, ACC, and Texas Tech in the 4-way affair.

Bobby Barrett, hampered by the flu recently, returns to his favorite race, the mile run. In this one he must again meet rival John Cooper of North Texas. Barrett left Cooper far behind in the Rec meet in his last race at that distance. Since then he has turned in some sparkling 880 legs on sprint medley relays.

Another feud also will be renewed when High Hurdler Bob Bernard clashes with his nemesis, Bob Swafford of Tech. Bernard lost by inches in their last hurdle tour at the Texas Relays.

Wog strength is also due to show in the sprints with Bert Coan and Glen McCorsky entered in the 100 and 220. They'll also do a leg on the 440 relay, along with Bernard and Reagan Gassaway. This foursome, running together for the first time last week, took second with a respectable 43-flat clocking.

Gassaway also will return to his specialty, the half mile, and is slated for more duty teaming with Coan, Barrett and Al Hizer on the mile relay.

Hizer and Mickey Alcorn are to try for a spot in the open quarter, too.

Booby Prize Up For Grabs

By JACK HARKRIDER

Weather permitting, TCU will tackle the Baylor Bears today and tomorrow for a 2-game cellar battle.

With luck, the Frogs could wind up the season with a 4-11 conference record, provided the Bears play their usual brand of baseball.

The saga of the Purple nine seems to be the age-old story of doing the right things at the wrong time. For example, the conference's leading pitcher last year, Darrel Read, now has a 9.0 earned-run average which wouldn't earn him a starting berth on any city grade school team. Or, take the case of Marshall Harris, the Frogs' slugging left-fielder. With a .375 hitting average, he can usually be found stranded on the pad.

On the other hand, the Frogs could click at any game with a winning combination that would carry them on to a conference championship and the coveted triple crown.

With the Longhorns leading the race, sporting a 4-1 record, the winning trail will be a mountainous climb for Coach "Rabbit" McDowell's chosen nine. But, with the team's potential, backed by the able coaching staff, the Frogs still stand a chance of going all the way.

Baylor, TCU's roommate in the cellar, is also missing a winning combination. With a 2-4 record, the Bears seem to be predestined to a permanent cellar ranking.

The Baptist starters will include Shortstop Bob Turner and Don Riddle, third sacker, who have helped boost the Bears to second place in team hitting. Also on the asset list is Rudy Raughton, a slinging left-hander who is one of the possible starters against the Frogs. Other than that, the Bears don't have much to brag about.

KEYSTONE KOP

Baylor's second baseman, Jerry Funk, goes high in the air during recent Bear-TCU game. Scrambling past him is Frog second-sacker Charles Franklin. It was to no avail, however, as Funk already made put-out and rifled the ball towards first for a double play. The two teams open a 2-game series here Friday.
