With top academic honors in her graduating class, Miss Margaret Gooch, Jackson, Miss.,

senior, is better able than most to take time out from studying to address graduation invitations.

Victim of 'B' in 1-Hour Course

Studying Senior To Finish With Near-Perfect Average

By PAT BECKHAM

Lots of folks at TCU are sweating making the 2.0 (C-) grade average necessary for graduation. Still others are justifiably proud of indexes in the 3.0 range.

Yet, Miss Margaret Gooch, Jackson, Miss., senior, looks like a cinch to graduate June 3, summa cum laude, and to exit from these ivy-less halls with a near-perfect slate.

Miss Gooch, a quiet-speaking young woman with dark hair, never has made as low as a B in her stay on The Hill.

But, in the summer between her freshman and sophomore years, she attended Monterrey Tec. At the finish of the 1-hour Mexican folk dance course in which she enrolled, she lacked .10 of a point needed for an A.

Her 4-year average is 3.9990, barring a last-minute disaster. But even though she is carrying an 18-hour load this semester, the major in English with a minor in Spanish looks like a good bet to finish strong. She studies.

Margaret belongs to the English, French and Spanish clubs. She is a member of Alpha Chi, honorary scholastic fraternity. She also sings in the choir of the Christian Church.

Her grandfather, former Prof. E. W. McDiarmid, and her mother, who also attended TCU, gave Margaret good reasons why she should come here.

Upon graduation, she hopes to go to the University of North Carolina to work on a master's degree. She already has a Southern Fellowship grant for graduate work. Plans after that are centered around a job as a college teacher.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Gooch of Jackson, who has spent one of her summers working in Yellowstone National Park and another attending Monterrey Tec (Mexico) while keeping up with her studies all the way, leaves a good example for students of coming years.

And her classmates are proud of her for a distinguished record for the graduating class of '59.

June Diplomas Due 482 In Third Largest Exodus

A total of 482 seniors, representing the third largest graduating class in the University's 86-year history, will receive degrees at 8 p.m. June 3 in Amon Carter Stadium.

The two larger classes, 571 in 1950 and 533 in 1949, came at the peak of the World War II veteran enrollment.

This year's class is a significant increase over the 455 degrees awarded last spring.

Twenty-seven states are represented by the graduates.

There are 432 candidates for bachelors' degrees and 38 for masters' degrees. Fifteen are seeking bachelor of divinity degrees and one a certificate in nursing.

Six students from countries in the Far East will receive degrees. Samuel Dayal of Jabalpur, India, is a candidate for a Master of Education degree. Ted Sei-Hee Huang of Hong Kong, China, seeks the Master of Business Administration degree and Sataru Numajiri of Mito, Japan, Bachelor of Arts. Three Korean students are Mrs. Joyce Paik of Tae-gu, seeking a B.F.A.; Yung Ki Kim of Seoul, B.A. in chemistry, and Choony Woo Nam, also of Seoul, a Bachelor of Arts.

Baccalaureate services will be held at 9:30 a.m. May 31 in Ed Landreth Auditorium when Dr. Gaston Foote of the First Methodist Church gives the sermon.

The University will host the members of the graduating class and their families at a Senior Tea from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. June 3 in the Student Center Ballroom. The annual tea has formerly been held on Baccalaureate Sunday.

At the graduation exercises June 3, there will be no formal commencement address. President M. E. Sadler will open the ceremonies. The east stand of Amon Carter Stadium will be used for the ceremonies. The full TCU band under Jim Jacobsen, band director, will furnish the music for the first time in a number of years.

In switching the exercises from the area just south of the Fine Arts Building to the Stadium, several things were taken into consideration. The interference of traffic on University Drive, lack of seats, better parking facilities.

SKIFF MIMICS SETTING SUN

Today's Skiff is the last of the semester. Staff members got to pass, too, you know! The annual Howdy Week edition of the semiweekly paper will appear in early September.

'Songs of '39' To Be Theme Homecoming

"Songs of '39" has been selected as the theme of the 1959 Homecoming, honoring the class of 1939. Plans have been started by the Homecoming Committee and approved by Student Congress.

The idea of stationary displays will be continued this year but participation will be on an individual basis. Trophies will be awarded for the outstanding displays.

There will be three categories of entry: Class A, up to $50; Class B, $50-75, and Class C, $75-100. This is to stimulate competition in the event and to make it easier on some budgets.

Letters have been sent to all groups on campus announcing these plans. A list of the top tunes of that year was included in the letter.

Wednesday, a representative of each group participating attended a meeting in the Student Center to draw for a plot and decide the theme of each display.

Groups and chairmen will have all summer to work out plans for the final event.

New Chancellor, President Same Administrative Faces

Dr. M. E. Sadler, president of TCU since 1941, has been named to the newly created post of chancellor, and Dr. D Ray Lindley, vice president since 1953, becomes the University's seventh president.

In making the announcement at a special meeting of the trustees Tuesday afternoon, Board Chairman Lorin A. Boswell emphasized that the development in no sense means any change in policy or administrative control.

Dr. Sadler, 62, whose term has been complimented with tremendous physical and cultural improvements, as well as an increase in over-all enrollment from 1,834 in 1941-1942 to an all-time record of 8,549 this year, will continue to be the chief executive officer and will devote his major attention to certain specific functions in the developing life of the University.

Dr. Lindley, 54, will be the first TCU graduate to hold the title of president. He has been closely associated with the University since 1929 when he took a Bachelor of Divinity degree from Brite College of the Bible. He was named executive vice president last year.

The new appointments are effective Sept. 1, 1959.

New Remote System

KTCU Keeps Up With the Latest

KTCU, 1025 on your radio dial, has been operating on campus for 11 years. Each year, something new has been added to increase the services of the station.

Within the next few weeks a remote system will be started in order that news from any spot in town can be given directly over the air.

Using the telephone lines, on-the-spot reports will be flashed back to the station and directly on the air.

KTCU, which can now be heard in all dorms, is an AM commercial station. Most college stations are not commercial but are classed as educational.

When broadcasting started in 1948, the cost for the first equipment was $150.

Dr. James O. Costy came to TCU in the fall of 1956. He is head of the radio-television department and sponsor of the radio station.

Miss Bebe Edmonson, Irving sophomore, is station manager; Jerry Parks, Dallas junior, is program director, and Larry Kuehn, Gainesville sophomore, handles public relations.

Mike Marshall, Fort Worth junior, is head of the staff of 18 announcers.

KTCU this year broke away from the rock 'n' roll set and switched to light classic, pop and jazz for its format.

With three 15-minute news shows daily, the station keeps students informed on local, national and international affairs.

Bob Lamey, Fort Worth junior, acts as news director in getting out the copy for the news programs.

Miss Suzy Lee, Amarillo sophomore, is traffic and sales manager for the advertising section of the station.

With a staff of over 30, KTCU turns out graduates that are capable of working in any radio station in the country.

Oyster Study Busies Dr. Hewatt

Dr. Willis G. Hewatt, chairman of the biology and geology departments, will return to Yorktown, Va., in June for the tenth summer to conduct oyster research at the Virginia Fisheries Laboratory.

The state-supported laboratory is operated in connection with William and Mary College. He will teach a course entitled "Marine Biology."

Miss Martha Mitchell, B.S. '58, will go to the laboratory also to work under Dr. Hewatt's direction. She has received a scholarship to support her work.

A student from the University usually goes to the laboratory each summer under Dr. Hewatt's direction. Dr. Neil C. Hulings, assistant professor of biology, previously did so while a student here.

Dr. Hewatt has published five scientific reports on the oyster studies.

Jeanne Spivey, Midland sophomore, models a light and dark blue-on-white backless print bathing suit by John Weitz. It has little boy legs and wide-set shoulder straps. The suit is from Cox's.

In Back, That Is

Bathing Fashions Take Summer Dip

By ANN ENGLISH

As summer vacation draws closer, all eyes have begun to vision long, lazy days on the beach. Swimming, water skiing, picnicking and boating will replace long days and nights of study.

With the onset of this joyous season, TCU females naturally begin to think about the latest beach fashions.

This year, bathing suits have taken a dip, in the back, that is. Many of the newest styles are cut to the waist. Whether scalloped or pointed, with or without bows, this style promises to reach the heights of popularity.

Wide shoulder straps, high necklines, with cut-out shoulders, and scoop necks with cap sleeves are replacing thin shoulder straps.

Two-piece suits seem to have regained their long-lost popularity this year. These come in a variety of new styles, as well as the short and halter stand-by. Some of the new ideas include tops which dip in the front and button onto the shorts and panels that button to the halter and to the shorts.

Swim suit color is brighter than ever. Dark royal blues, reds and bright greens dominate in water-world fashions.

In on-the-shore wear, manufacturers have displayed a remarkable sense of humor. Along with the conventional terry-cloth robes come slip-overs with shapely Miss Americas and Daisy Maes painted on both the front and back.

Beach hats, as is par for women's hats, are crazy. The biggest fad this year is the bucket hat with built-in sunglasses. Wide-brimmed straws are always popular, but the new twist this year replaces the conventional crown with fish net. Wide net ties add to the fishy effect. Crew hats are around again, jazzed up with everything from flowers to fish. This summer, wet hair worries are over. Hats with built-in "hair" are here. Some of the newest types have pony-tails, either on the top or on the back. Cotton mop cloches, with "hair" all the way round and a small crown may cover many wet heads this season.

Marine Research To Be Object at Summer's End

Dr. Neil C. Hulings, assistant professor of biology, will be engaged in a marine research program at Florida State University's Oceanographic Institute the last six weeks of the summer. The institute is located at Alligator Harbor, Fla.

Partial Plans Set for Next Select Series

Followers of the Select Series program will find a variety of entertainment in the lineup for 1959-60.

First on the tentative selection is Wittemore and Lowe, a dual piano team, which will appear on Oct. 21.

Michael Rabin, internationally famous violinist, will follow along the musical line on Nov. 12.

The Festival Company of Norway will make its appearance Feb. 4. They will present a program of music, drama and folklore. The company is subsidized by the Norwegian government and under the royal patronage of King Olaf V.

On Feb. 22, Clement Atlee, former prime minister of Great Britain, will visit on The Hill.

Anna Russell, international concert comedienne, is scheduled on March 16.

After an appearance of two years ago, Varel and Bailly, a group of French singers, will return on March 29.

Noted philosopher William Henry Werkmeister will be scheduled sometime during the fall.

Company Hires 25 TCU Students

This summer 25 male students will join with students from 70 American colleges and universities in selling Bibles for the Southwestern Company of Nashville, Tenn.

Each summer the company hires students to sell Bibles throughout the country. After a week's training in Nashville, the students divide into squads to cover the country.

Spencer Hays, Gainesville senior, will be spending his fourth summer as a Bible salesman. Paul Youngdale, Beaumont senior; Harry Aston, Fort Worth junior, and Jimmy Reynolds, Fort Worth junior, will be out for their second year. Twenty-one students will be selling for the first time this summer.

'New' Vigilantes Due in Fall

Beginning in the fall of 1959, the Vigilantes will appear in handsome new uniforms and will carry on a vigorous and active schedule at TCU.

The organization will start off the year by assisting Larry Montgomery and the Howdy Week committee in performing their duties at various functions. Later, support will be given to the band and cheerleaders at football games in building more school spirit at the University. As an added attraction to the siren at football games, there also will be a sounding-off of a cannon after every TCU score.

Throughout the year, help will be rendered to the Activities Council and Student Congress in the school's special activities.

Plans for social activities of the organization include parties with sororities each semester and parties in co-operation with various other groups.

Further plans, in the nature of both service and social, are in the process of completion.

Scientists Benefit

X-ray equipment costing more than $24,000 has been installed on the third floor of the Science Building.

It will be used under the direction of Dr. Arthur Ehlmann, asstant professor of geology, who is specially trained in the areas of mineralogy and geochemistry.

Dr. Ehlmann is working on several projects in which he uses the new equipment. He and Dr. Neil Hulings, assistant professor of biology, are working on a research project on shell composition. Since some organisms secrete a calcite shell, some an aragonite shell, they are doing a survey to note the composition of the shells of certain species of marine organisms.

Dr. Ehlmann also plans to work on the mineralogy of a clay deposit at Leakey, in Real County. The material to be studied is halloysite, a commercial clay mineral used for ceramics and as a catalyst in the petroleum industry.

The X-ray instruments also will be used by Dr. William H. Watson, assistant professor of chemistry, for his research in single crystal analysis.

The equipment, among the most modern in the state, will be an aid in the identification of the crystal structure of materials such as metals, minerals, and ceramic products. It gives a semi-quantitative chemical composition of the unknown.

Two new courses will be offered in the near future which will make use of the equipment—a theory course, "X-rays and X-ray Diffraction," to be taught by Dr. Joseph Morgan, chairman of the physics department, and an applied course, "Mineral Identification by X-ray Techniques," to be taught by Dr. Ehlmann.

John Tyson was hailed as the outstanding congressman, and Miss Paula Hottle was awarded the Student Congress scholarship for 1959-60.

AC committee chairmen received gold discs and the outstanding member of each committee received a silver disc, as follows:

Two graduate students, Lee Anderson Smith of Fort Worth, and E. A. Kennedy of Chillicothe, plan to accompany Dr. Willis G. Hewatt, chairman of the biology and geology departments, on a trip to the U.S. National Museum in Washington, D.C., early in June.

Brite Plans Workshop For Summer

The second Pastoral Care Institute for ministers and senior seminary students will be conducted at TCU this summer from July 20 through Aug. 7.

Sponsored by Brite College of the Bible, the 3-week course will provide training in such areas as ministering to the sick, counseling with students and youth and pastoral care of shut-ins and older people.

Dr. Charles F. Kemp, distinguished professor of pastoral care at TCU, is in charge of the summer program.

Featured lecturers will include Dr. Wayne Oates, national authority in the field of pastoral psychology and professor at the Southern Theological Seminary, Louisville, Ky. He will lecture on the theme, "The Loving Pastor."

"Pastoral Care in the Local Church" will be discussed by Dr. Forrest Richeson, minister of the First Christian Church, Minneapolis, Minn.

Other speakers are Larry Eason of the Tarrant County Association for Mental Health; Tommy Duncan, chaplain of the U.S. Public Health Service Hospital, Fort Worth; Air Force Chaplain Omer Powell, and Rev. James Ausler, chaplain of Harris Hospital in Fort Worth.

TCU faculty members on the institute program are Drs. Otto Nielsen, Paul Wassenich, Kemp and Rev. James Farrar.

Gustavs Jurevics, a native of Riga and graduate of the University of Latvia, has been named part-time instructor in German for the next school year.

Jurevics, now 57, took a master of philosophy degree from the University of Latvia in 1929. He had more than 20 years of teaching experience in his homeland and in Kassel, Germany, after World War II, and speaks German and Russian fluently.

After coming to the United States, he took his M.A. degree from SMU in 1958, and is working on his Ph.D. in German.

DON'T PROCRASTINATE

Counseling for the fall semester is in full swing and students are urged to see their counselors as soon as possible and schedule courses for the fall.

Precounseling makes it easier for everyone concerned to plan classes for the fall semester and avoid having to be counseled in the midst of registration in September when everything is in an uproar.

As far as appointments to be counseled are concerned, students must make arrangements themselves. Students who are returning in September should go through this procedure before the spring semester is terminated and before the last-minute rush starts.

Maintenance Man Says

Power Goofs To Be Fixed

By LYNN SWANN

The Library's May heat and the dormitories' lack of electricity are being remedied by TCU's maintenance department, headed by L. W. Ramsey.

Ramsey explains that some of the buildings on the eastern part of the campus—the Science Building, the Library and the three religion buildings—are at present without any air conditioning whatever.

The former unit, which was bought second hand and was too small to carry its heavy load, was continually in need of repair, often running out of freon, the refrigerant gas.

Since the upkeep of the unit was so expensive, the board decided in the fall to replace it with a newer system about twice the size of the original one.

The old unit has been sold as junk and the TCU student body warmly awaits the arrival of a new system which is to be completed this week. However, only part of the unit, which was mailed last week, has arrived. Ramsey estimates that the new air-conditioning system will cost roughly $100,000.

He also explained the lighting complications which have left the students of Colby, Sherley and Milton Daniel dormitories in the dark. These buildings are fed by underground cables which mysteriously burned, though they supposedly are capable of carrying a charge of 125 amplifiers. Only 75 has been its greatest load. The first burn-out occurrence was readily solved by connecting the line to a secondary duct nearby.

The second "blow-out," however, required the addition of a temporary cable. Placed between Waits and Foster dormitories, the substitute line serves both Colby and Sherley dorms as well.

The cables now are being replaced by a complete new line of premium quality materials which should remedy the lighting situation.

Aiding Ramsey are about 70 people who maintain efficient dormitory facilities and landscape the grounds.

A. E. Young, who is in charge of the janitorial division, sees that his 36 employees clean all buildings except the dormitories and the Student Center, which are handled separately. In addition, 10 people operate the heating and air-conditioning systems.

M. A. Doss heads the grounds division. In addition to his full-time staff of 13, are four student helpers who mow lawns, clip hedges, clean walks and see that the grounds are well landscaped.

Several people work directly with Ramsey in his "stick village" office. Other individuals are in charge of plumbing, locks and keys, and painting.

Class Plans Marathon in Marathon

Dr. Arthur Ehlmann, assistant professor of geology, and students who plan to enroll in Geology 633, "Summer Field Course in Geology," plan to spend six weeks in Marathon during the first part of the summer.

"Approximately 12 upperclassmen and a graduate student plan to go," says Professor Ehlmann.

They will study the structure, stratigraphy and mineralogy of the rocks of the area. They also will spend about four weeks mapping an area.

The purpose of the course is to give the students some out-of-classroom experience.

24th Annual Award

Skiff Staff Scribes Get Press Citation

Winners of the 24th annual Fort Worth Press Award for outstanding reporting are Miss J'Nell Rogers, Fort Worth junior, and John T. Farr, Fort Worth senior.

Miss Rogers was cited for her fine coverage of the science department, Library, the Campus Carousel column and interestingly well-written features. She will be associate editor of The Skiff next year.

Farr took top male honors for his factual and complete coverage of Student Congress in addition to being business manager of The Skiff.

Both students fulfill the requirement of returning to TCU in the fall, and $25 checks will be awarded by The Press to each of them at the fall banquet of the J. Willard Ridings Press Club.

Runners-up for the awards are Miss Beth Morris, Ansted, W.Va., junior, and John Shields, Fort Worth senior.

Last year's winners were Mr. and Mrs. Pat Beckham, this year's editor and associate editor, who graduate in June.

The Calm Before the Storm

Review Week, the ideal time for the man who sells vitamin pills, once again is on the doorstep. Review Week, formerly called Dead Week, officially began yesterday as the prelude to Finals Week.

All campus activities during this period will be cancelled in order to provide the student with time strictly for studying. The consensus of opinion is that everybody will need the free time, too.

Granted the week isn't a favorite of the masses and there doesn't seem to be enough time in one day to do everything that has to be done, but then there's doubt as to whether there ever is enough time to do everything.

Just remember that testing comes right after reviewing, and you know what they say—"Don't sit there for hours worrying about whether you'll pass the course or not—STUDY!!!"

Fine Finding Time

Do you want your grades released at the end of finals? Well, if you owe any fines in the Library, parking fines, or other fines, you may find that those fines may keep you from finding your grades unless they are paid.

Each year a number of students try to leave school without paying these fines beforehand, thinking that they will be covered by some deposit that they have made. But when the grades don't come in, they find that they must pay in order to get the grades.

If you have a possible fine of any kind that you know about, you had best check the Business Office and get it paid. In fact, best check to make sure anyway.

Some Wheels, Some Spokes

Just as the popular song goes, "Graduation Time Is Here Again," and just as no fingerprints are alike and no persons are identical, the 1959 graduating class is not the same as any other.

This class is a separate body. They may enter similar or opposite fields, but each member is a different individual.

You walk across the stage, the same as the person in front or behind you. You are handed a certificate, the same as all the class, but you walk across in a different pair of shoes.

Okay, so you're not like anyone else, and you don't want a sermon on being an individual and how all the little wheels make the world go around. Fine, you're going to get your own degree—congratulations!

Students Appreciate a Voice

The Skiff wishes to thank and commend an Administration which has acted always in the best interest of the University and has catered to the will of the student body.

Among the requests made and fulfilled were permission for women to study in the chapter rooms, unlocking of hindbersome doors on campus, extended Library hours, professors excusing classes on time, permission for women to wear less formal attire, action on the dorm lighting situation, lights for dark lots, superior handling of the problem of defunct Ranch Week and other favors too numerous to name.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"HEY SPONSOR—I HEAR YA FINALLY GAVE UP TRYING TO KEEP THE LIGHTS TURNED ON AT TH' FRESHMAN DANCE LAST NITE."

SW Campus Confidential

By JACK HARKRIDER

BAYLOR—

Carol Vincent, one of the many editors of the Lariat, questioned a few of her school friends and came up with a list of things they have learned this year.

"The freshman learned this year:

1. Charlemagne was born or died or did something with the Holy Roman Empire in 800.
2. A light coat of powder over the chin will suffice for a shave, if the room is not well lighted.
3. A measles rash can be faked by sharply striking the arm with a stiff whisk broom.
4. Girl friends back home cannot be trusted.
5. Aggies and disillusionment are synonymous.

The sophomore learned:

1. Short naps during a lecture class can be accomplished by resting your head on your hand, thus pretending to shade your eyes.
2. It is not necessarily effeminate to drink tea.
3. Trousers need not be pressed before wearing, if the night before they are hung by the cuffs from the top bureau drawer.

The junior learned:

1. There is a double 'l' in the middle of parallel.
2. Six hours of sleep a night are not necessary.
3. It is not necessary to attend class every day.

The senior learned:

1. It is safe to charge flowers, candy and clothes in May—it's a short month.
2. Being too particular in 'mate-hunting' is unwise.
3. Girls are more fun than laboratory experiments."

According to a recent survey, TCU also ranks high in the general education field. For example:

1. One "no trump" is not necessarily a demand bid.
2. It is easy to get copies of final examinations if you know the right people.
3. The Chapel really does have carpet down the center aisle.
4. The best way to keep liquor in the dorm is to hide it in an empty Old Spice bottle.
5. The Snack Bar does not use fly spray in their coffee.
6. You don't have to be an athlete or a BMOC to get a date with a campus beauty—but it helps.
7. The best way to insult someone is to call him an Aggie.
8. It is not necessary to attend class once a week.
9. "Como esta usted?" means either "How are you?" or "What is your name?"
10. Mae West had a higher average income than Herbert Hoover.
11. It's always easy to get a date with a TCU girl.
12. It is not necessary to shave for class.
13. A flushed, feverish appearance can be faked by holding your breath as long as possible.
14. All male fine arts majors are not necessarily effeminate.
15. Journalism is an easy major.
16. Not all senior coeds are "man-hungry."
17. Matthew Brady was a photographer during the Civil War.
18. A college career can be squeezed into six years.

THE SCORE

Summing 'er Up

By PAT BECKHAM

It really hasn't been a BAD year.

Even we predictors didn't believe everything which was said last spring when everyone was claiming TCU was a potential this and a probable that. But most of the crystal-ball gazers scored in the 80's or better.

To mention a few honors heaped this year on Purple shoulders:

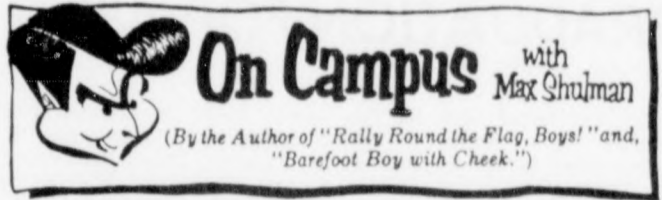

Abe Martin's junior-laden grid team walloped just about everyone in sight for the Southwest Conference crown and another trip to the Cotton Bowl . . . Buster Brannon's cagers weren't to be outdone, and advanced to a third-place regional finish after claiming the SWC bunting . . . Tackle Donald Floyd and H. E. Kirchner, the puny post man, captured some All-American honors for their respective teams . . . Legions of football and basketball players made the all-conference teams . . . The golfers grabbed off another second-place finish in the conference after being the title pick . . . The ROTC boys made their best over-all showing ever, beginning with the Army's acquisition of the Southwestern Rifle Association trophy in the fall . . . Then, just past mid-semester, it was announced that the Arnold Air Society had been chosen the best in the nation in stiff competition . . . The Skiff was happy to add its little bit by winning its 18th and 19th consecutive All-American citations . . . The entire student body could be justifiably proud to have won a share of the last SWC Sportsmanship Trophy to make TCU No. 1 in that department for keeps (the award was abolished last week at College Station) . . . Ancient White Collie Dawg scored high in the balloting for all campus posts . . . John Tyson, often a bridesmaid but never a bride, finally became a groom in winning both The Skiff and Outstanding Congressman awards (last spring John finished first in three run-off races for Congress prexy before being beaten in the fourth and final tally) . . . A usually potent campus debate team did well in forensic circles during the year . . . Congress conducted the cleanest, least-contested election in recent years, while the legislative body as a whole began to work out some of its difficulties . . . KTCU announced that there really is a campus radio . . . The Little Theatre and Fallis Player groups turned in some stellar performances for local enjoyment . . . And the Select Series programs offered such tremendous personalities and groups as Gen. Carlos P. Romulo, the Heidelberg Chorus, Andres Segovia and "The Diary of Anne Frank" . . . The United Fund drive amazed everyone by surpassing its goal and setting an all-time school record . . . Also, the University set records for enrollment in both semesters.

And so, with the third largest graduating class in TCU's 86-year history about to scurry down the ramp, and with more achievements on The Hill to tell about than there is space, The Skiff bids adieu for the Class of '59.

Others Worked, Too

To the Editor and Editorial Staff:
It is with humble and sincere gratitude that I express my appreciation for the honor that has been awarded me this past week. After receiving notification that I had been named the recipient of this award, I was almost at a loss for words trying to express my deepest appreciation for an award which could have been made to many other students here at TCU who have also contributed many long hours of service.

So, in the best manner I know, I say "thank you" for awarding me this compliment for my contributions.

Sincerely yours,
JOHN P. TYSON.

Accommodating Dean

Editor, The Skiff:

Believe it or not, this is my first letter to an editor! It is prompted by a note which appeared on the first page of your Wednesday, May 13, edition of The Skiff.

This note, indicating the postponement of a University Chorus rehearsal, was inserted at my request, for which I am grateful. Unfortunately, the last sentence of the notice, which reads, "This week's cancellation was forced because many of the chorus members are participating in an opera production," gives the impression that I cancelled the regular University Chorus rehearsals with reluctance. Such was not the case.

I cancelled the rehearsal because I did not feel it would be fair to ask the members of the opera chorus, which includes half of the regular University Chorus, to attend yet another rehearsal during the week when their main obligation was participation in the production of the opera, "Orfeo." In other words, I was not "forced" to cancel the rehearsal but merely cancelled it to accommodate the students.

May I add my thanks to those of many of your correspondents for the fine coverage which The Skiff has given to Fine Arts events during the year.

Cordially yours,
ROBERT HULL, Dean
School of Fine Arts.

From The Man

Dear Pat:

I have just returned to the office and learned of the distinguished recognition which The Skiff has received under your capable guidance, and I want you to know how sincerely we appreciate the quality of your leadership.

With kindest personal regards always, believe me,

Your friend,
M. E. SADLER,
President, TCU.

Editor's Note: Due to the source, this was the most gratifying of all the mail we've received this year.

3-D EXTENDS $$$ DEADLINE

The deadline for submitting applications for the $300 scholarship to be awarded to a TCU coed by the Fort Worth alumnae chapter of Delta Delta Delta sorority has been extended to Monday.

The applications may be obtained in Dean Shelburne's office and should be returned to her as soon as possible.

For further information, see Miss Mabel Major, Tri-Delt faculty sponsor, Ad 328.

All interested groups, organizations and clubs that wish to have their future events placed on the 1959-60 Frog Calendar are requested to turn in a tentative schedule of these events to Miss Elizabeth Youngblood, social director.

The calendar is being prepared now and no entry will be accepted after June 1.

School To Offer Summer Session At Monterrey Tec

Exams are fast approaching and the spring session will be over along with the ordeal of sleepless nights and shattered nerves.

That means that summer school is not far behind. TCU, besides having a regular summer school session, will have a 6-week session at Monterrey Institute of Technology at Monterrey, Mexico.

The session will begin on July 15 and terminate on August 25. Six semester hours' credit will be given to those who complete six weeks of work. The courses that may be taken range from Spanish language and literature to history and geography. The tuition is $260, and includes board, tuition, lodging, medical attention, linens and all local excursions.

For further information, contact Dr. J. H. Hammond.

TILL WE MEET AGAIN

This is the last column of my fifth year of writing for Philip Morris and Marlboro. I have made it a custom in the last column of each year not to be funny. I know I have also realized this aim in many other columns during the year, but that was not for lack of trying. Today I am not trying. I am not trying for two reasons: First, because you are getting ready for final exams and in your present state of shock, nothing in the world could possibly make you laugh. And second, this final column of the year is for many of us a leave-taking, and good-byes always make me too misty to be funny.

For me the year ends neither with a bang nor a whimper, but with a glow—a warm, pleasant, mellow glow—the kind of glow you will find, for example, at the end of a Philip Morris or Marlboro.

It has been in every way a gratifying experience, my five years with the makers of Philip Morris and Marlboro. and I would like to take this opportunity to extend my heartfelt appreciation to these good tobaccoists, to assure them that the memory of their kindness will remain ever green in my heart, and to remind them that they still owe me for the last three columns.

And in these waning days of the school year, let me address myself seriously to you, my readers. Have I trod on any toes this year? Ruffled any feelings? Jostled any sensibilities? If so, I am sorry.

Have I occasioned any laughs? Chuckles? Sniggers? Mona Lisa smiles? If so, I'm glad.

Have I persuaded any of you to try Philip Morris and Marlboro? To taste that fine flavor? To smoke that excellent tobacco? If so, you are glad.

And now the long, lazy summer lies ahead. But for me summer is never lazy. It is, in fact, the busiest time of year. Two summers ago, for instance, I was out ringing doorbells every single day, morning, noon, and night. There was a contest, you see, and the kid in my neighborhood who sold the most bluing won a pony. I am proud to report that I was the lucky winner.

Last summer I was also out ringing doorbells every single day, morning, noon, and night. I was trying to sell the pony.

This summer I am not going to be out ringing doorbells. I am going to saddle the pony and ride to Hollywood, California. What am I going to do in Hollywood, California? I am going to write a series of half-hour television comedies called THE MANY LOVES OF DOBIE GILLIS, and starting in October, 1959, your friends and mine, the makers of Philip Morris and Marlboro, are going to bring you this program over the Columbia Broadcasting System every Tuesday night at 8:30. Why don't you speak to your housemother and ask her if she'll let you stay up to see it?

And now good-bye. For me it's been kicks all the way, and I hope for you it hasn't been altogether unbearable. Have a good summer. Stay well. Stay cool. Stay loose.

© 1959, Max Shulman

For us, the makers of Philip Morris and Marlboro, it's been kicks too, and we would like to echo kindly old Max's parting words: Stay well. Stay cool. Stay loose.

In case of rain, the commencement exercises will be held in Ed Landreth Auditorium.

Three honorary degrees will be awarded. The D.Litt. will be conferred upon Darrell K. Wolfe of St. Louis, editor of the Bethany Press. Rev. John M. ## University Press Publishes Volume For National Reading Conference

"Starting and Improving College Reading Programs," the eighth annual yearbook of the National Reading Conference, has just been published by the Texas Christian University Press. The volume contains 20 papers presented at the 1958 Reading Conference at TCU by experts in the field. It is edited by Prof. Oscar S. Causey, professor of education at TCU, and Dr. William Eller of the State University of Iowa. The articles are divided into two areas. Part one includes papers relating to the problems involved in beginning a college reading program — administration, selection and motivation of students, objectives, selection of materials to be used, development of reading skills, and evaluation of instruments and testing.

NEW STARS

Brannon thinks the Frogs have netted one of the finest freshman squads he's ever seen. "We need a good freshman team, and this year we're going to have one," he said.

Presumably thinking along these lines, Brannon released his five "big names": Alton Adams, 6-9 all-state center from Milby High in Houston; Tommy Pennick, 6-1 all-state guard from Bellaire High in Houston; Don Rosick, 6-7 all-state center from Fort Worth Poly; John Fowler, 6-4 all-state forward, also from Poly, and Don Williams, 6-4 forward from Boone, Iowa.

The sixth hopeful is Kit Ruona, 6-1 all-state leading scorer from San Bruno, Calif.

Brannon said Ruona saw the Frogs play San Francisco this year and wanted to come to TCU immediately. "And we're ready for him also."

Pennick will have played in three all-star games when September rolls around, and Williams is now in the armed forces.

Drama Has Fall Return

Shakespeare and Shaw will be performed at TCU during the 1959-1960 theater season, according to Dr. Walther R. Volbach, chairman of the department of theater arts.

"Othello" will be one of four major plays to be staged during the next fall and spring. It will be the first Shakespeare production at TCU since 1950.

Also planned are George Bernard Shaw's "Arms and the Man" and Joseph Kesselring's "Arsenic and Old Lace."

New Map Aids Students In Locating Transportation

If it has become a season drudge to find a ride home after the finals, or for a long weekend at another school, your worries are over.

Thanks to Don Gore, Corpus Christi junior, and his special events committee of the Activities Council, the Student Center has been enhanced by a "Transportation Map."

The map is designed for use by students who wish to obtain a ride to a particular location and those who have a car and are able to take passengers to a certain point.

Red and green cards are available to be filled out with all pertinent information for making arrangements for a trip.

The red cards are for students seeking a ride and the green cards are for those with cars.

The map is divided into 22 zones, which have corresponding numbers at the bottom where the cards are placed.

Final arrangements for a trip are to be made by the driver and the passengers, who are generally expected to share expenses.

By LEE GRIMSLEY

What a fascinating year this has been. Or, as our cohort, Bob Schieffer, might have said: "A fascinating year has this been, what?"

For the past nine months we've tried to bring a little more cheer into our otherwise bleak lives. At times Mr. Ed Ferguson has deemed this unwise.

People have gotten mad—namely when the field house was mentioned. But the Administration took the criticism in a gentlemanly manner.

Sports is a lot of fun. You get to pick pretty girls on the campus, have them model for a picture and run it on the sports page as big as possible. And when Skiff Sports proudly bannered such charming young misses as Peggy Whatley, Fay Redwine, Catherine Urban and Linda Arnette, the readership reached new highs.

The past four years have been filled with memorable events. James Swink ran wild on the gridiron, then spurned an offer from the professional ranks to go to medical school.

Then there was Hugh Pitts, who joined Swink in the All-America parade of 1955. Pitts gave pro ball a whirl for one season, then entered private business.

You could go right down the list naming the grid greats the Frogs have turned out in the past four seasons—Norman Hamilton, Bryan Engram, O'Day and Joe Williams, Ken Wineburg, Jim Shofner, etc.

Then you turn to basketball and the first person who comes to mind is Richard O'Neal, a 6-7 lad who rewrote the Southwest Conference scoring records.

And then came the day when David O'Brien dropped by to pose for a picture in the Homecoming edition.

The tiny former All-America strolled out on the stadium lawn, picked up a football and cocked his arm.

For all practical purposes you could have turned the clock back 20 years and you would have had one of the most fearsome figures in football history.

These things are gone, but it's still good to recall them from time to time.

VINTAGE

game being the only black mark against the Frogs in regular season play, TCU rushed into conference action, brushing aside Baylor, Arkansas, Texas and Rice in that order. This gave the Frogs a tight 4-0 hold on the conference lead, with the nearest opponent two games behind.

Then, a man named Stewart put an oversized foot in front of the speeding courtmen and tripped them up but good.

It seems that Mr. Stewart, official scorer for the Texas Tech Red Raiders, gave Ronny Stevenson one too many fouls and caused him to be put out of the game. This enabled the Raiders to sneak by the Frogs, 72-68.

With the hopes of an unblemished conference record smashed, TCU shifted into high gear and raced through the conference, pausing only to drop a close one to SMU, 75-74. This gave the Frogs their second conference crown of the season and a chance to meet the University of Cincinnati, headed by the "Big O," Oscar Robertson, in the NCAA playoffs.

Several hundred TCU students were on hand as the Frogs stubbornly fought the Bearcats down to the wire and lost by a slim count, 77-73. Thus ended another king for another year.

In more recent action, baseball, track, golf and tennis slipped out almost as quietly as they came in.

Texas won the baseball title while TCU rested in the cellar. Rice won the tennis crown and TCU was still in the cellar.

Golf was a better sport for the Frogs as TCU was 3½ points out of first place, standing behind the Tech Red Raiders. In track, it was a so-so effort with the Wogs producing a strong team.

Mid-Week Report

By BOB SCHIEFFER

College sports columns, I reckon, are forgotten in about the same time it takes to hack one out, and if anybody remembers my name around here by the end of next year he'll have a mighty good memory. Still, us sports editors, being a conceited bunch, like to think that people really read and remember this stuff, and in the future will spend hours debating and reminiscing over what's been said in our particular corner of the sports page.

It's only fitting, we thing in our fertile brains, that we should close out the last column with some sort of glorious farewell and good health to you all, and it's been great, and boy, college was a ball and good luck to next year's crew.

The college bards have used several approaches to this final farewell.

Jim Hendricks said, "Sentimentality not being one of my great virtues, I'll try to give this something other than 'the good-bye, it's been great' approach."

Instead he reviewed the progress of the school.

Gary Cartwright said only, "May is a hot sticky end to a school year, a time when everyone walks around, dripping ink and sweat and great blobs of sentiment in other peoples' annuals . . . and sorority girls wonder if their mothers know they have caught the hot cigarette habit."

Dale Edmonds said, "You can be sweet and sentimental or jubilant or cynical, but you just can't wrap up four years in one column."

And Dave Brown said, "These are times I will never forget."

Lantz Ferris said, "I got to the typewriter after everybody else had finished their farewell columns and the typewriter keys were so slippery with tears that it was difficult to get any traction."

So, he passed up a farewell to the students and instead went down and told Duke good-bye.

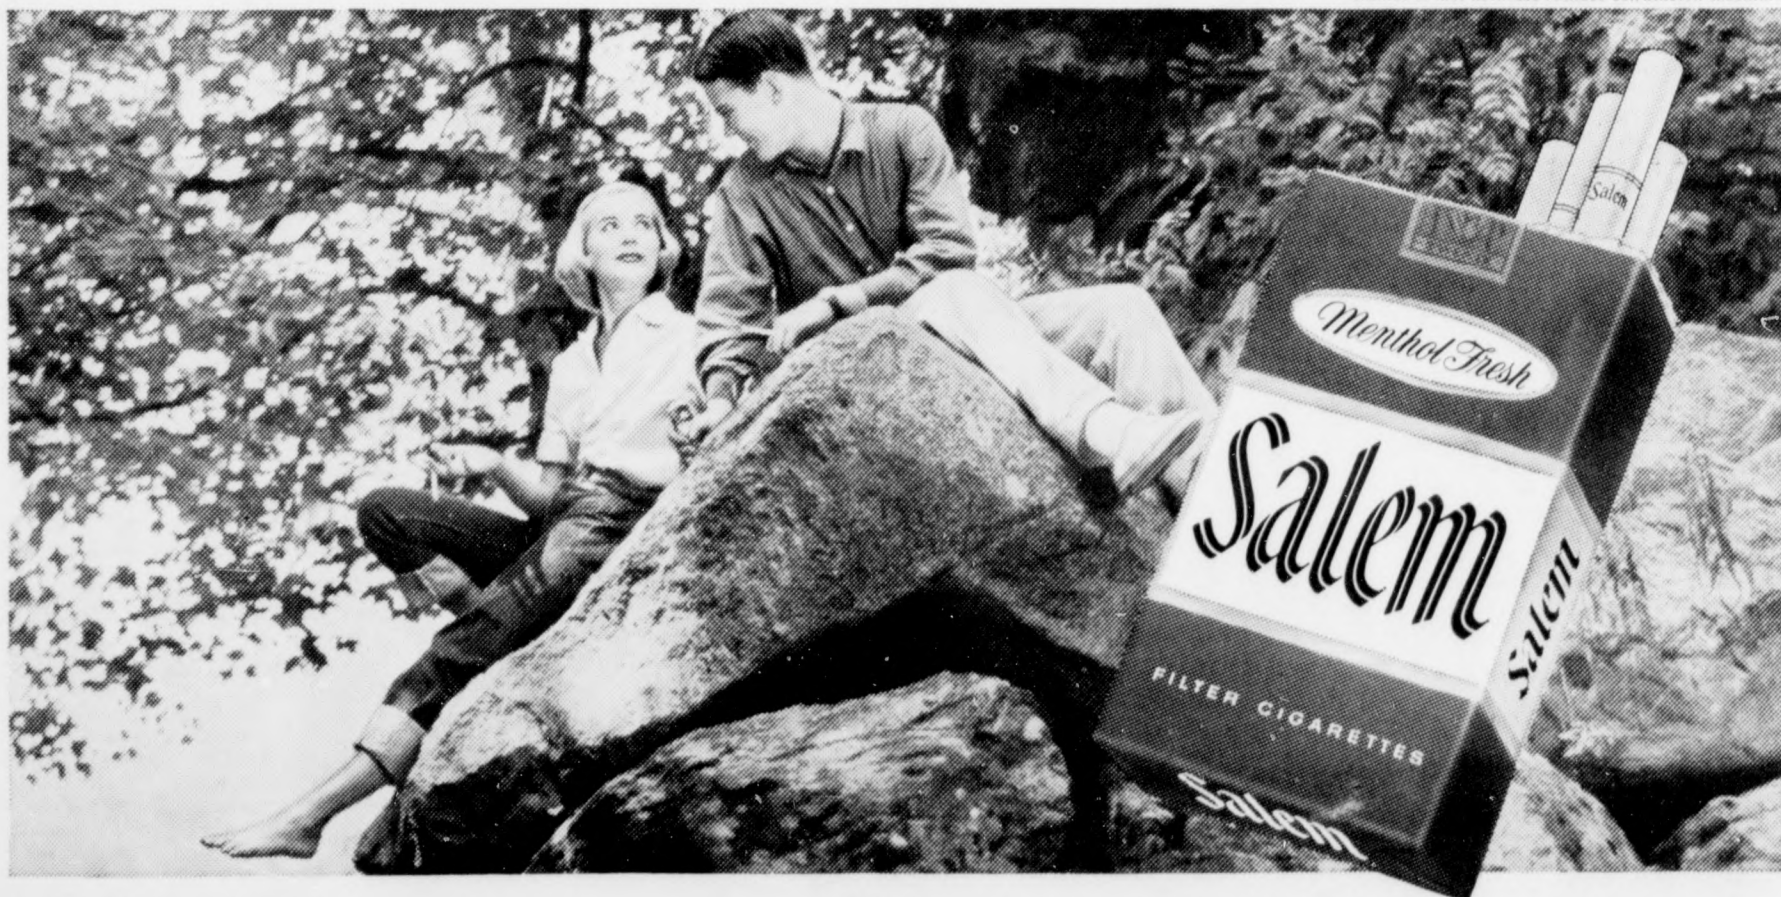

So, I guess it won't be out of place for me to sum up my feelings in a few words, too.

The whole business was something I wouldn't trade a million bucks for, but I'm glad it's over.

FROGS GET CHAMP SPRINTER

By JOHN SHIELDS

David Green, state champion sprinter from Richland Springs, a small community 10 miles west of San Saba, has indicated he will sign a letter of intent with TCU after graduation June 1.

The inking will bolster the Wog track ranks as Coach J. Eddie Weems continues to mold another top-notch freshman squad similar to this spring's star-studded group.

A 2-year all-stater, Green is 6 feet tall, weighs 158 pounds and has what is known as "dream sprinter's legs."

TCU Sports Publicity Director Jim Brock elaborated on the title by saying, "He's built perfectly for a sprinter. He's got strong legs that'll carry him down the stretch in fine style."

While en route to his all-state honors, Green ran away with the 100 and 220 dashes.

He pushed the clock for a 9.6 clocking in the century, and his best time is a 21.1 in the 220.

The champion sprinter lost only seven races in his high school career.

While performing in the state meet, Green has been beaten only by the state champion in his class, that coming in his sophomore year.

"David has yielded only to fellows like Mike McClellan, Bill Kemp and Billy Polk," Brock said, "and that's pretty darn good."

Wog Track Coach Elmer Brown says Green is a good student.

"He's got a scholastic grade average of 87, and, of course, we're glad to know that," he said.

His inherent scholastic standing is attributed to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Green.

David's father is band director and teacher for the high school and his mother is also a teacher.

The future Frog, in addition to running the cinders and running up a high grade average, plays the trumpet. He doesn't plan to be in the TCU band, however.

Kathleen Birkner, Bay City sophomore, got the vote of The Skiff sports staff to help celebrate its plunge into the land of color.

'58-'59 Considered Vintage Athletic Era

As another school year draws to a close, it's time to take that traditional look into the past.

On Saturday, Sept. 20, the Frogs opened their football campaign with an impressive 42-0 victory over the Kansas Jayhawks. Already the names of Priddy, Spikes, Enis and Dawson began to creep up on the record lists.

Ranked fifth in the nation, TCU was topped from their high horse, 0-17, by a mighty Iowa team, led by All-America Randy Duncan. This dropped the Frogs out of the national rankings completely.

Obviously insulted by this defeat, the Purple machine rolled on to rack up consecutive victories against Arkansas, 13-7; Texas Tech, 26-0; Texas A&M, 24-8; Baylor 22-0, and Marquette, 36-8.

Then came the crucial game. If the Frogs could whip the highly touted Rice eleven, TCU would be in the Cotton Bowl, defending the SWC victor's crown. Hundreds of students made the long trip to Rice Stadium in Houston and screamed their lungs out as the Frogs went on to win a nip-and-tuck battle, 20-10.

"Hey, hey, ho, ho, TCU's in the Cotton Bowl!"

Shortly after, it was announced that the Air Force Academy, those men in blue from Colorado Springs, had accepted the invitation to meet TCU in the Cotton Bowl, Jan. 1.

Perhaps it was a case of being too farsighted when the Frogs challenged the SMU Mustangs in the conference finale. The stubborn Ponies, led by another All-American, Don Meredith, forced the once mighty Purples into submission, 13-20.

All was not lost, however, for not only did the Frogs have the conference crown on their heads, but Tackle Don Floyd was named All-America, a title justly deserved.

On Jan. 1, the Air Force Falcons started the new year off right by putting on an impressive show before, during and after the Cotton Bowl game, and battled the Frogs to a 0-0 tie. So ended King Football for another year.

The fans were quick to rally behind the new monarch, however. Led by Ronny Stevenson and H. E. Kirchner, basketball was the latest fad.

TCU NIPPED BY THE 'BUD'

James Parker, 2-year all-state fullback from Sweetwater, who has signed a letter of intent with TCU, has decided to accept a scholarship with the University of Oklahoma.

Parker said he signed with the Sooners May 8, when Coach Bud Wilkinson visited him in Sweetwater.

"I think now I'll definitely go to Oklahoma," Parker told the Fort Worth Star-Telegram this week. "There's just something about that school that the ones down here don't have."

The letter of intent cannot be held binding, since the schools are not members of the same conference.

New Stars Added to Fold

Frog Coaches Abe Martin and Buster Brannon, sitting atop the Southwest Conference with championships in their respective sport, look toward the approaching year gleefully, and rightly so.

Since Abe's boys will take the sport-light first, let's take a look-see at the future Frogs already signed.

Approximately 28 high school athletes have committed themselves to the Purple and White cause.

"We don't want 'em if they don't want us and are willing to work and prove it," he said.

Martin's men thus far include: Pat Fraley, 170-pound end from Sweetwater, Martin says he is small but a "fine football player."

Rudy Matthews, 230-pound tackle from Orange.

Pete Winfrey, 220-pound tackle also from Orange.

Hal Stanislaw, 200-pound guard from Rockdale.

Kenneth Upchurch, 200-pound tackle from Itasca.

Joe Owens, 230-pound tackle from Mexia.

Lynn Morrison, 210-pound end from Cleburne.

Jerry Davis, 190-pound quarterback from White Oak.

Donny Smith, 175-pound halfback from Taylor.

Jerry Jack Terrell, 155-pound halfback from Fort Worth Carter-Riverside.

Roy Seymour, 195-pound back from Fort Worth Paschal.

Dumps Maynett, 215-pound fullback from Ennis.

Other future footballers, but with their weights unavailable are Jerry Robinson, Fairfield end; Mike Barr, Brownsfield tackle; Harold Bartel, Lampasas center; Ken Roberts, Marshall tackle; Carl Steubing, San Benito tackle; James Watson, Farmersville end; Freddy Floyd, Midlothian halfback; Bud Priddy, Kaufman halfback; Marvin Chipman, Mt. Pleasant halfback; Kerby Richter, Temple back, and Jerry Newell, Ogden, Utah, back.

Floyd is the brother of TCU's All-America Don Floyd, and Terrell is the brother of Frog back "Yank" Terrell.

The football cast assembled so far has several all-stars amidst the gathering.

Davis, Smith and Stanislaw are already tabbed as starters for the August classic.

Martin says he doesn't believe this year's Wog team is any better than the last few years, "but it's a fine team and I believe every one of those boys will work hard and make us a strong team again in a couple of years," he said.

BRANNON SPEAKS

Brannon has inked five will-be Frogs and says the probability of the sixth is certain.

A $25 gift certificate for the "grand slam" winner of two photo contests sponsored for TCU students by The Skiff, was won this week by George Rains Jr., of Fort Worth, for his black-and-white photo titled "Face in Benches."

Rains took both first and third place in the second contest. Second place was won by Joel Council. Both are Fort Worth students.

Winners in the first photo contest were Bob Bullock, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Redden, 4101 Premont, who took both first and second place; and Henry Cabluck Jr., son of Harry Cabluck Sr., 5100 Terrace, third place.
