Howdy Week Begins Big Doin's

Miss Helen Craft's pretty little head soon may wonder if graduation time ever will come. Miss Sandra Walker looks on as Larry Montgomery, Fort Worth senior, places the traditional beanie on her friend's locks. Both pretties are from Fort Worth.

Record Frosh Enrollment Well May Surpass 1600

By RUTH ANN KINDIGER

The 1959 version of Howdy Week—"America's Greatest Collegiate Welcome"—got under way Sunday morning with cap sales and registration of new students in the Student Center.

A record number of new students are expected on campus this semester. Class registration of these new students will begin Thursday and continue through Friday.

Director at WTSC

Jim Jacobsen, TCU band director, taught a graduate course for band directors at West Texas State College Aug. 2-15.

He also gave lectures at the convention of the Texas Bandmasters Association in San Antonio Aug. 17-19, the first time an in-state director had been invited to do so.

Larry Montgomery, Fort Worth senior and chairman of the fun-filled week of activities announced that the purple beanies which freshmen purchased and the transfer badges are tickets to all the week's activities for the new students. Upperclassmen attending Howdy Week functions will pay a slight charge for some events.

On Monday morning students were introduced to University officials, student leaders and had an opportunity to hear the Horned Frog Band in Ed Landreth Auditorium. The remainder of the day was spent in orientation and testing sessions. The Mixer at 7:00 p.m. featured games and dancing.

The movie, "A Man Called Peter" and a street dance on the quadrangle were the highlights of Tuesday's activities.

Campus religious groups will be introduced at First Call on Wednesday night, and the taking of the Freshman Pledge will follow a devotional period. The football teams and coaches will be introduced at the first big pep rally.

The headline event Thursday is a Variety Show featuring top-notch campus talent. The show will be followed by an open house in all girls' dormitories.

The selection of the 1959 Howdy Week Queen and music by Danny Burk will be featured at the Howdy Week dance Friday night in the Student Center.

Activities begin Saturday morning at 11:00 with a barbecue lunch, pep rally and square dance at Forest Park. A fitting climax for the week's round of activities is the football game at 8:00 p.m.

Construction of New Ad Building To Begin Nov. 1

Plans for the new administration building for TCU have been completed and construction is scheduled to start about Nov. 1, Chancellor M. E. Sadler announced recently.

The building is scheduled to be completed in September 1960.

First drawings of the new structure, to cost approximately $1,200,000, have been made by Architect Preston M. Geren.

It will be located on the site of old Clark Hall, 49-year-old men's dormitory which was demolished this summer, and will have three stories and a full basement.

It will be constructed of the traditional "TCU yellow brick" with red roof, and will be fully air conditioned.

The basement will house the campus post office, printing and mailing room, Army and Air Force ROTC units, security office, campus switchboard and the IBM operation of the registrar's office.

Located on the first floor will be the business office and the business manager, Evening College and Graduate School offices, the deans of student life and the registrar's office.

The second floor will be devoted, at least temporarily, to classrooms. The executive offices—for Chancellor and President—divisions of Information Services, Development and Ex-Students Activities will be located on the third floor.

An elevator in the center of the structure will serve all floors.

As soon as the new building is completed, work is scheduled to start on the $800,000 renovation of the old administration building. It will be completely redone and air conditioned for classrooms and faculty offices, mostly in the AddRan College of Arts and Sciences.

The new administration building is the twenty-second major structure to be built, completely remodeled, or purchased by the university since 1941 when Dr. Sadler became president. Total cost has been some $22,000,000.

Class Registration Card Required To Obtain TCU-KU Game Tickets

Activity cards with photograph will not be issued until Sept. 28, so if you want to see the Kansas opener here Saturday night, hold on to those pink class cards received during registration.

Tickets may be obtained by taking the pink cards to the main ticket office on the southwest side of the stadium. The deadline is noon Saturday.

All latecomers who fail to get their ticket before noon Saturday must bring their pink cards to the student gate on the east side before game time where a ticket stub will be handed to the student for admission.

The student activity card, which is issued to those taking nine or more semester hours should be kept on the student's person at all times, as it cannot be replaced. It entitles you to attend all TCU athletic events free of charge held at home. Out-of-town tickets may be purchased with this card for $1.00.

Pictures for the cards are made during registration so be sure to have this taken care of in Room 201 of the Science Building before leaving. Cards may be picked up in the Student Center beginning Sept. 28.

The regular procedure for obtaining tickets is:

1) Bring card to ticket office before Wednesday noon preceding each game to get your reserved seat ticket.

2) Present card at the gate the day of each game, along with the ticket.

This card is not transferrable and if illegally used, will be taken up and all admission privileges cancelled.

A sparkling, new $1,200,000 administration building will begin to take shape on campus this fall. The artist's conception shows the "TCU yellow brick" which will add to some $22,000,000 in construction here since 1941. The building is expected to be ready for occupancy by September 1960.

Tickets for the contest with LSU on Sept. 26 will be issued on pink class cards Monday, Sept. 21 through Wednesday noon, Sept. 23. The game will be in Baton Rouge and also is the official student body trip. Reserved seat tickets will cost $1.00 and may be picked up at the Stadium ticket office.

Ticket officials stated that due to earlier demands, students will not be allowed to purchase extra tickets for this game, except those in the end zone. Also, all faculty members must pay full price for LSU game tickets, which is $4.00 for reserved seats, and $2.50 for end zone.

The ticket office is open 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday and until noon on Saturday.

D. Wayne Rowland, formerly of Southern Illinois University assumed duties as associate professor and chairman of the department of journalism September 1.

Pack Your Bags, Let's Go to LSU

Dean of Students Lawrence Smith has announced tentative details of the student trip to Baton Rouge for the LSU football game.

The train will leave Fort Worth at 5:30 Saturday morning and arrive in the suburbs of Baton Rouge at approximately 4:30 p.m.

Students will go directly to the LSU campus. The game is scheduled for 8:00 p.m., therefore there will be an opportunity for sight-seeing on campus.

The returning train is expected to leave Baton Rouge at approximately 11:45 p.m. and arrive in Fort Worth noon Sunday.

Transportation cost has been estimated at $16.75, but the exact cost of the trip is not known at this time.

Senior Class Gift Completed

Through the joint efforts of the 1959 graduating class and the Student Association last year, TCU has become the recipient of the new Austin stone marker. The structure is located near the northeast corner of the Fine Arts Building and is pictured above with Miss Betty Sherrod, Midland freshman. The marker was completed recently at a cost of $1200 by Taylor and Sons of Fort Worth. It was designed by one of the members of the senior class, Bill Boyle, of Wichita, Kan.

Now You Can Play the Tapes

"Technical Analysis of the Stock Market," a course designed to help the individual investor understand the stock market better, is one of three short courses scheduled for the fall at TCU.

The course, instructed by Frank Kelley, member of a Fort Worth brokerage firm, will study the science of recording in graphic form from the actual history of trading—such as price changes, volume of transactions—in a certain stock and then deducting from that pictured history the probable future trends. By observing how stocks really act rather than how theoretical economists think they "should" act, the investor and trader acquire a new grasp on market strategy.

Also to be offered by the Short Course Committee at the University are a Calculus Refresher Course, which will present an intensive review of all phases of calculus in preparation for advanced courses; and a Certified Public Accountant Review of Theory class.

Texas Beauty—Marilyn Kay Turner poses for her portrait

'Miss Texas' Chosen Best Of Dancers

The most talented dancer in the "Miss America" contest last week in Atlantic City, Miss Marilyn Kay Turner, Houston sophomore, will return to studies, classes and campus activities this week after winning a $1000 scholarship for her talents displayed during the contest.

Marilyn, chosen "Miss Fort Worth" while attending TCU last spring, was elected "Miss Texas" during a contest in Beaumont in August, near the end of the second summer school session.

A ballet major here, she practiced her routines for the contest appearances in the Fine Arts Building. Her choreography combined her own ideas with those of David Preston, professor of ballet, and her dancing teacher in Houston for whom she has served as a student instructor.

The brunette beauty's interests also extend to taking an active part in sorority, church and committee work on campus.

ON THIS END OF THE LOG AT TCU:

ACCENT ON EXCELLENCE

401 "Mark Hopkinses" with 807 Degrees earned in 4,424 Years of Advanced Study in 136 of the leading Universities of the World and with 5,000 Years of Teaching Experience

In 1871, Pres. James A. Garfield gave his classic definition of a university as "a student on one end of the log and Mark Hopkins on the other."

Physically, there have been many changes in the 88 years since. At Texas Christian University, founded two years after the remark, the "student" has become some 8,600 for a single year and the "log" has grown into a 143-acre campus with 27 major buildings valued at more than $20,000,000.

But President Garfield's pungent emphasis on "Mark Hopkins"—the teacher—is as valid today as ever. As T.C.U. opens its 87th session, there are 401 "Mark Hopkinses" on the teacher's end of the "log." They have prepared themselves for their great task by more than 40 centuries of advanced study and 500 decades of classroom experience.

There are 213 fulltime members of the regular staff and no less than 101, or a remarkable 47%, hold the doctorate degree. There are 40 part-time teachers, 38 graduate assistants and 110 highly qualified persons from professional and industrial circles who conduct classes in Evening College.

It has been well said that a university is as strong as its faculty. At the start of its 87th year, T.C.U. is vigorous and healthy indeed!

EDITORIAL COMMENT

If They Want Flairs; Why Not?

The last four years have witnessed a discouraging policy development by the Activities Council dance committee in prohibiting corsages at Ballroom formals.

Reason for the flower ban was confidentially understood to encourage a few hard-pressed and reluctant young men to frequent the Ballroom more often on dance nights rather than spending an evening stag in a local lounge.

Ostensibly, conformity would permit the wholesale blossom elimination without embarrassment.

At first, flowers were made optional at formal functions, but as committee succeeded committee, the habit grew to the point where the considerate beau is sorely frowned on for showing up corsage-in-hand.

Committee pundits have unwittingly through the years deposed the traditional way for a man to express appreciation, if not affection, for his date.

Conformity, we believe, is not a trait to be rigorously dictated. Besides, there are not so many occasions that properly require corsages that the young man socialite would drain his pocketbook supplying his girl with the ever welcome flower.

Ads Are Always An Aid

Chances are you'll soon be looking for dependable places to do your back-to-college shopping—perhaps a record store, a clothing shop, a restaurant for relaxing, off-campus dining, a barber, or a beauty shop.

In this and following editions, you'll find the names of a mighty important group of people to us, Skiff advertisers. They're important people to you too—for they offer the goods and services you'll need most during your college years.

We've found these firms to represent the traditional spirit of friendly Fort Worth—always courteous, cordial, pleasant and ever happy to help you.

They're dependable, sincere folks who have established a reputation for fine quality merchandise and services, people you can really count on.

What's more they've vigorously demonstrated their interest in you by advertising in your paper, The Skiff.

And The Skiff is proud to recommend them to you.

The Skiff

THE LEDGER

4-3-2-1...

By BETH MORRIS

... blast off ... into the orbit of higher education! Commander Lindley is about to set TCU on its 87th course. You are now signing on for passage with Calvin Cumbie and that man you now owe your life's saving to is L. C. White.

Yes, this is it freshmen, Howdy Week, the time to get acquainted with people you'll be studying with for the next four years. Put on the bright Ipana smile and strain your lungs with a "howowodeeee!"

The football season is about to get underway with an exciting opener here Saturday night. There will be many golden moments on the gridiron and watching the Martindens. However, you won't easily forget the parties, the bull sessions, the dances and the big Presentation Ball, which are a few of the big highlights of the fall semester.

And among all of this?—your goal in college—an education. Dig into the rhetoric, the social science, that survey of the Bible and the biology, they're good instruments of learning.

The Student Center is a fine place to keep up good friendships, meet the gang and see a fascinating hand of bridge, but let's not overrate the cards during Dead Week and finals. The SC is equipped with some mighty nice study rooms and that's not a bad library across the street.

Those professors some of you might think "have it in for you" aren't really so bad. In fact, they'd like a chance to meet and talk with you at times other than class lectures. You'll get this chance at Coffee Time.

Put high school behind you, you'll have an even better time in college and perhaps meet many permanent friends. Some gals may have come for a MRS. degree or maybe the guy sitting next to you wants to discover the secret of getting Dad to buy him a new car, but the majority will learn to think and act for themselves.

Finally the day will come when you will put away the textbook and walk up to get the long-awaited degree. That's four years in the future though, you're far from being in the merry ranks of the unemployed.

Right now, welcome to TCU, freshman! And to the returning students who are sitting on the sidelines for these few days—it's nice to have you back.

Riff-Ram.

Segregate! Parking, That Is

A long-needed and oft-discussed parking innovation was introduced this fall to provide reserved parking areas for faculty members and visitors.

The eight areas which have been designated off-limits to students are located in front of Bldg. 1, north of Dan D. Rogers Hall, behind the Library, ceramics lab and Religion Center respectively, north of the Religion Center, and the two lots west of the Student Center.

Warning tickets will be issued to violators through the week of registration ending Sept. 25.

Students who encroach on the restricted areas can expect a $3.00 parking ticket for each offense.

The cynic who views the action as an oppressive dictate from the Vatican might well investigate the far more overcrowded parking conditions of other Texas colleges, notably the University of Texas, where a $5.00 fee is charged for student campus parking privileges.

This is a courtesy the faculty long has deserved, and one which is enjoyed at nearly every major university. It's a gesture of respect the student body here should willingly observe.

Select Series Features French Group

A return engagement of Varel and Bailly with the Chanteurs de Paris will highlight the 1959-60 Select Series program. This group of French singers have been brought back by popular demand. Their appearance in Ed Landreth Auditorium on March 29 will be the first time an attraction has ever been repeated on the series.

Tickets for the eight event series may be purchased by students and faculty members at $5 each. These tickets may be purchased during registration. Individual tickets for each event, at an advanced price, will be on sale at the door on the night of each event if the capacity of the auditorium has not been sold.

The series season opens October 8 with the appearance of Dr. William H. Werkmeister, Director of the School of Philosophy at the University of Southern California.

Music fanciers are in for a treat since the next three events will be largely musical. The team of Whittemore and Lowe, billed as "America's Greatest Duo-Pianists" will appear October 21, and Michael Rabin, famed violinist will perform November 12.

The Festival Company of Norway, a group of gifted singers, dancers and instrumentalists will present a program of music, dance and folklore February 4. This group of young people is under the royal patronage of King Olav V.

"The Future of Democratic Government" will be discussed by Clement Attlee, former Prime Minister of England. His appearance here February 22 will be his first visit to the United States since 1952.

International concert comedienne Anna Russell will appear March 16. Miss Russell has been called "the funniest woman in the world."

The closing program of the season promises to be one of the most interesting, according to Dr. Marguerite Potter. On May 11 Louis Untermeyer, one of the great names in contemporary literature will speak. He is a noted poet, editor, critic and anthologist.

The Select Series program is arranged by a student-faculty committee. Dr. Potter is the faculty co-chairman and Robert Carr is the student co-chairman this season.

Coming Events

In the following months, there will be special articles to look for in The Skiff. If you want to keep up with the engagements, pinnings, etc., watch for Campus Carousel by Miss Sandy Stokes. The fraternity and sorority people will want to keep an eye peeled for With The Greeks by Miss Dollye Jo Luton.

Eight Social Fraternities Pledge 131 Men

The eight national Greek fraternities on the TCU campus ended their formal fall rush Sunday, Sept. 13.

"Despite the small number of men completing rush, I feel the quality was the best I have seen," reported Danie Fitzgerald, Interfraternity Council president.

Out of the 131 men who were extended bids, Delta Tau Delta pledged 15; Kappa Sigma, 21; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 18; Lambda Chi Alpha, 13; Phi Delta Theta, 16; Phi Kappa Sigma, 21; Sigma Chi, 20, and Sigma Phi Epsilon, 7.

It was stated by Fitzgerald that although it has not been officially decided by IFC, open rush is expected to begin soon due to the overall low returning memberships of the fraternities.

For the first time since fraternities have been on the TCU campus IFC handled rush alone with the extending of the bids under the supervision of the administrative staff.

It was reported by Fitzgerald

Four Represent TCU

Misses Vineta Gafford, Carol Haima, Mary Alice Dammann and Dollye Jo Luton attended the National Alpha Delta Pi convention held in Quebec, Canada. They also spent some time in New York.

that rush was handled well this year and no formal protest was filed. The rush system is being considered for revision and IFC has already made a step in this direction.

Nielsen in New York

Miss Betty Nielsen, ex '59 won a scholarship to attend New York University for the 1959-60 school year. She is a member of Chi Omega.

tion would put SMU ahead of TCU but like the man said, "SMU has the Ponies but TCU's got the hosses." Don Meredith is fantastic, but I'm convinced some football strategist will find a defense for his air raids.

For once, mighty Texas is due for better things under Darrell Royal, but I can still see them only in a third-place finish. One of the best sophomore crops in history, led by speedsters David Russell and John Saxton is on hand to join the Galloping Gaucho, Rene Ramirez, for a big year.

Porkers May Romp

Up in the Ozarks, the Arkansas Razorbacks are preparing to surprise their foes with plenty of speed. They really got hot in the latter half of last season and also are overflowing in fine sophomores. Jim Mooty, an All-SWC halfback in 1958 returns to supply the offensive spark. We think the Hogs will pull off some upsets and tie Texas for third place.

Those Aggies come next on our list. They can always be tough and more experience coupled with Charlie Milstead's passing, is bound to make them a threat.

Baylor isn't expected to improve much over the last campaign, but we can't help feeling they'll be meaner. Especially with new coach John Bridgers, who may install some of the Baltimore Colts' savvy in the Bears.

make for a better ball club, defensively. However, the big names, Buddy Dial and Gene Jones, are missing, giving Rice a slow, green team, weak on passing and receiving.

SMU. Predicted to be the conference champs, SMU's hopes are pinned to the jersey of All-America Don Meredith, which is fine if he can make it through the season.

And, to quote Bob Osius of the Beaumont Journal:

"If Don Meredith gets hurt, SMU can fold its team like the Arabs and steal silently away."

The Mustangs are strong in all other respects save one. The Frogs have another unimpressive ball club this year.

TEXAS. About the only weaknesses in the Longhorn team is a lack of qualifiers at the guard slots and the season's schedule. The Steers may have a stronger team than most forecasters realize and could end up on the conference throne.

Too many names with too much experience gives Texas a team that will spell trouble for all opponents.

TEXAS A&M. Strong points are tackles, ends, a left halfback by the name of Charles Milstead and a fullback named Gordon LeBoef. Elsewhere the Aggies show glaring signs of weakness.

Meyers could best use Baylor's advice and concentrate on rebuilding and recruiting.

TCU. The loss of quarterback Sonny Gibbs, Guard Sherrill Headrick and Halfback Bert Coan hasn't hurt the team as much as Abe Martin would like you to think.

The addition of Larry Dawson as starting quarterback will make the Frogs primarily a power team, spending most of their time on the ground.

Dawson may not be another Meredith, but he manages to get the ball to a pair of exceptional ends, Bubba Meyer and Jim Gilmore. Add the fact TCU has two units, approximately equal in ability, and you come up with the team to beat for SWC honors.

RESULTS. The usual SWC brand of wild, upset-ridden action.

Even the Swamis go nuts every fall when it comes to gazing into their crystal balls and then producing a prediction about Southwest Conference football. It's hopeless, senseless, even beyond reason to risk a prediction on the final outcome, but I'm going to do it. I'm going to gaze and then predict what this gridiron season will bring in the topsiest, turviest, pigskin league there is.

Frogs Face Jinx

The "you can't repeat as champs" jinx is on our Froggies but I picked a winner with them last year so the same goes in 1959. With three All-SWC choices returning in the likes of Spikes, Lasater and Floyd, the goose hangs high with Coach Martin. A big, rugged line, anchored by tremendous tackles, Floyd and Man Mountain Robert Lily, plus the most daring of quarterbacks, Larry Dawson, can't help but get this vote for a repeat championship.

are due to change in this encounter.

The much-improved boys from the Ozarks are solid favorites to win their first one. Their best frosh team in history and plenty of speedy veterans make the Razorbacks a perfect pick for the SWC darkhorse rule.

While other conference members are taking their licks, Baylor and SMU plan to practice another week before entering the melee. The Bears, with new Coach John Bridgers, lately of the professional Baltimore Colts coaching staff, will wait a week before journeying to the Rockies to meet Colorado.

SMU, picked by scribes as most likely to succeed the Frogs as conference champs, won't unveil Don Meredith until next week when they head for the Peach State and a date with that Rumbling Wreck, Georgia Tech.

ANOTHER YEAR, ANOTHER DOLLAR

Today I begin my sixth year of writing this column for the makers of Philip Morris and Marlboro Cigarettes. For this I get money.

Not, let me hasten to state, that payment is necessary. "Sirs," I said a few days ago to the makers of Philip Morris and Marlboro, "if I can introduce America's college men and women to Philip Morris and Marlboro, and thus enhance their happiness, heighten their zest, upgrade their gusto, magnify their cheer, and broaden their bliss, there is no need to pay me because I am more than amply rewarded."

We wept then. I'm not ashamed to say it. WE WEPT! I wish the wisecracks who say big business is cold and heartless could have been there that day. I wish they could have seen the great, shimmering tears that splashed on the board room table. We wept, every man jack of us. The makers wept—the secretaries wept—I wept—my agent, Clyde Greedy, wept. We wept all.

"No, no!" cried the makers. "We insist on paying you."

"There's no need to pay me...!"

"Oh, very well," I said, and the gloom passed like a summer shower. We laughed and we lit Philip Morris and Marlboros—and some of us lit Alpines—which is a brand-new cigarette from the makers of Philip Morris and Marlboro—a fine new cigarette with a light touch of menthol and the rich taste of choice tobaccos and the longest filter yet devised. And if you are one who likes a fine new cigarette with a light touch of menthol and the rich taste of choice tobaccos and the longest filter yet devised, you would do well to ask for new king-size Alpines. If, on the other hand, you do not like menthol but do like better makin's and a filter that does what it's built for, ask for Marlboro. Or, if you don't like filters at all, but only mildness, ask for Philip Morris. Any way you play it, you're a winner.

But I digress. "Will you," said the makers of Philip Morris, Marlboro and Alpine, "write about the important issues that occupy the supple young minds of college America this year in your column?"

"But of course," I replied, with a kindly chuckle.

"And will you," asked the makers, "from time to time say a pleasant word about Philip Morris, Marlboro and Alpine?"

"Crazy kids!" I said with a wry grin, pushing my fist gently against their jaws. "You know I will."

And we all shook hands—silently, firmly, manfully. And I left, dabbing my eyes with my agent, and hurried to the nearest typewriter.

NCAA Changes Gridiron Rules

The NCAA rules committee made no drastic changes in gridiron rules for 1959, but did come up with two minor changes that may affect the game.

One rule liberalizes the substitution clause, but doesn't bring back the "two-platoon system" of a few years ago. However, it allows coaches to use their specialists, such as field-goal kickers, more often.

The rule allows one eligible player to enter the field while the clock is stopped, with no limit on his number of appearances.

The other change is a five-foot widening of goal posts, which will bring about more field goal tries. Extended from 18' 6" to 23' 4", the new uprights make the target easier for field goal and point-after experts.

Both rule changes increase the odds on coaches' gambles, so the game should prove a more colorful attraction for sports fans.

Frogs Choose Captains

A trio of captains will lead TCU in the defense of the Southwest Conference gridiron championship.

All-America Tackle Don Floyd, the 215-pound senior from Midlothian, will serve as the head captain. His mates are Halfback Marvin Lasater, 185-pound San Angelo senior, who was an all-conference selection last fall and Henry (Bubba) Meyer, 185-pound senior end from Sweetwater.

Selected last spring by their teammates, the three succeed er. All three have earned two Dale Walker, the 1958 team lead- varsity letters.

Five Conference Members Open Grid Season Saturday

By GORDON PYNES

While Abe Martin and his defending SWC champion Horned Frogs are busy Saturday night with the Kansas Jayhawks, five other conference members will be involved in their first grid battles.

The big one on opening day pits Jess Neely and his Rice Owls against last year's National champs, the LSU Bengal Tigers. Named the NCAA game of the week, this match in Baton Rouge will be played before a national TV audience.

With all-America Billy Cannon, plus some 30 lettermen returning, the Tigers figure to be even better than last fall. This could mean disaster for the Owls, who took a 26-6 walloping from the Sugar Bowl winners a year ago.

Look for the Chinese Bandits to rob a victory in this one.

Texas takes a long trek to Nebraska for its opener and the odds have it that the Horns will return as the winners. Cornhusker fans are expecting their best season in years, but the Longhorns have a host of good returnees, reinforced by an outstanding crop of newcomers up from their great freshman team of last fall.

Also on tap is a family feud between Texas A&M and the Red Raiders from Texas Tech. Of course this one won't count on the conference ledger, since the Lubbock school isn't eligible to compete for the league crown until 1960.

In a thriller last year, the Raiders upset the Aggies with a 15-14 win and things could be as even this time. Quarterback

Charles Milstead may be the difference that will give the Farmers their revenge.

Arkansas stays in the hills to host Tulsa's Hurricanes. Fans were shocked in 1958 when Tulsa routed the Hogs 27-14, but things

TCU 14-Point Favorites Over Big Eight Team

By GORDON PYNES

Mr. Football returns Saturday night to a familiar haunt, TCU's Amon Carter Stadium, to open the 1959 grid season.

Texas Christian's Horned Frogs host their perennial first-team foe, the Kansas Jayhawks, in the 8 p.m. pigskin opener. This meeting, between the 1958 Southwest Conference champs and last fall's fourth-place finisher in the Big Eight, will be the 16th for the two teams.

The series so far, shows the Purples way out in front with 11 wins against two losses and three ties. A year ago, the Froggies ran wild in the Wheat State with a 42-0 victory, but Kansas was much tougher on its last trip to Cowtown.

Battling in the mud and rain in 1957, they rallied from behind a 13-0 halftime deficit, to earn tie on a long pass, just as the gun sounded.

Coach Jack Mitchell's club is expected to be stronger than in the past several years, but Abe Martin's Frogs have plenty of strength also, with 29 lettermen returning, including seven starters from the championship team.

Ready to lead a potent rushing offense, is Fullback Jack Spikes, who blasted his way for 580 yards last fall in 124 carries, for an average of 4.7 yards a trip. Marvin Lasater, an All-SWC choice, and Marshall Harris, the leading scorer last fall, will man the half-back posts.

The only newcomer among the backs is junior quarterback, Larry Dawson. A powerful runner and daring play caller, Dawson holds the key to an all-round attack with his passing arm, which has yet to be proven.

TCU'S All-America tackle, Don

Floyd, spearheads a big, rugged Purple line which last year, was the SWC's toughest, defensively. Robert Lily is the other tackle while Bubba Meyer and Jimmy Gilmore handle the ends. Ramon Armstrong and Roy Lee Rambo are at the guard slots, with Arvie Martin at center.

Martin's men have looked good in preparation for the opener and should show a more souped-up offense than last season. The revamped offense features more flankers, slot men, and a man in motion off their T-attack.

The Jayhawks, who haven't whipped TCU since 1952, also use the T-formation and have plenty of power to go with it, but are lacking in an adequate aerial game. They'll be led by All-America candidate John Peppercorn, who operated last year at tackle but may go at fullback this season.

Following this home opener, the Christians hit the road for games with LSU, Arkansas and Texas Tech before returning home to host Texas A&M on October 17.

Sports Fact

The famous Christy Mathewson, one of the greatest pitchers of all time, in 1913 pitched 68 consecutive innings without giving up a single walk.

Purples Stop Whites

Harry "The Hare" Moreland gathered an impressive 44½-yard rushing average in two carries as the Purples routed the Whites, 36-0, Saturday, in the annual Frog Club pre-season scrimmage.

With no score in the first quarter, the Purples set up the first tally on a 14-yard bootleg play by Quarterback Larry Dawson and a fourth-down pass interference ruling, for a first down on the Whites' 16.

Five plays later, climaxing a 59-yard drive, Halfback Marshall Harris cut three yards through tackle for the score.

The Purples went 60 yards in nine plays to score on their next possession, with Donald George's second unit pulling the stops.

Moreland scooted 27 yards around right end before being run out of bounds on the Whites' 27. George's pass from the 17 to Halfback Larry Terrell in the end zone, brought another pass interference call and a first down on the one. Fullback Merlin Priddy then bulldozed over for the score.

The Purples marched 71 yards on five plays for their first score of the third period. Dawson connected with End Jimmy Gilmore for 13 yards, in spite of the defensive work of Ted Hartness. Then Harris slashed through the right side, cut to the sideline and, as two defenders grabbed him, pitched out to Dawson who went for the last 32 yards to score.

The fourth touchdown was a one-play wonder, under the direction of Moreland. George pitched out to Moreland, who was running right. The Hare raised his arm briefly, then cut behind Jack Spike's block, swerved out as Guard Roy Lee Rambo cut down the last defender and raced 62 yards for the score.

The final tally came on a 32-yard pass to End Justin Rowland, a bruising 35-yard ramble by Priddy and three short punches, with Terrell going two yards for the touchdown.

Off and Running

Harry "The Hare" Moreland (22), starts around the right side of the line on a 27-yard run that helped set up a Purple touchdown in the second quarter of the annual Frog Club pre-season game. Attempting to make the tackle is Max Hibbits. (59).

● BALLIN' THE JACK ●

By JACK HARKRIDER

With the World Series just around the corner, football is making a strong bid for the sports fans' eye, especially in the Southwest Conference.

Well-noted for its helter-skelter brand of play, SWC upsets are a dime a dozen, with the conference champs usually determined in the final round of action.

Of course, the big question before each season is who has how much of what. So, let's take a look at each team and find out.

ARKANSAS. Donnie "Rollin" Stone is no more, but the Porkers have Jim Mooty, probably one of the conference's outstanding halfbacks, Jim Monroe and Leslie Letsinger, giving them a team that's capable of taking any conference member to the cleaners.

Always the dark horse, the Razorbacks have a hard-hitting, speedy team that is lacking in weight, depth and experience.

BAYLOR. The Bears' modest goal will be escaping the cellar spot and concentrate on rebuilding.

With no weight, experience or defensive savvy, it seems the Bruins again have inherited the SWC dungeon. Look for narrow scrapes or mild upsets, since Baylor has speed, exceptional receiving and promising passing. All this, and nothing more.

RICE. Jon Schnable, ace quarterback, and Billy Bucek, triple-threat back, have an improved line in front of them, that will
