Greek Week Is Approved For April 3-10

The Interfraternity Council Greek Week program has been approved by the administration and will be held from April 3-10.

IFC President Danie Fitzgerald, Pampa junior, stated that he hopes to make this year's Greek Week a success after the attempted one last year proved unsuccessful.

The annual Greek Song Fest, sponsored by Zeta Tau Alpha, will serve as a kick off for this event on Monday, April 4. Song Fest, which is usually held on campus, will be held this year at Will Rogers Auditorium. There will be an admission charge to the public with the proceeds going to a charity.

On schedule for Tuesday of the week there will be a Student Center open house, with vespers on the quadrangle sponsored by the Greek Council of Chaplains to follow on Wednesday.

A dinner meeting will be held at the Cross Keys restaurant on Thursday. Friday is declared as "fun day" for the Greeks.

As a climax to Greek Week there will be a day of varied events at the Boat Club on Eagle Mountain-Lake which will climax with a dance.

Seminar Features 'Million' Men Today in Rogers

A Life Insurance Seminar, sponsored by the Fort Worth Association of Life Underwriters and TCU, will be held in Dan D. Rogers Hall at 2 p.m. today.

Bart Hodges, Walter B. Hailey Jr., and John V. Boeye, all of the Million Dollar Club, whose members have each sold over $1,000,000 of life insurance a year, will be the speakers.

About 200 life insurance agents from the Fort Worth area and the insurance classes of the school of Business will attend the meeting.

Senior Interviews Are Scheduled

R. B. "Bear" Wolf, director of Placement Bureau, reports the following company representatives will be on campus the week of Nov. 2 to interview seniors.

For accounting majors Peat, Marwick, Mitchell and Co. will interview seniors for job possibilities Monday, Nov. 2.

IBM representatives will interview School of Business and Liberal Arts majors Tuesday, Nov. 3.

Wednesday, Nov. 4, Dow Chemical Co. will have its representatives on campus to interview chemistry majors.

All math, chemistry and Physics majors are eligible for interviews with the United States Army Ordinance representatives, Wednesday, Nov. 4.

Thursday, Nov. 5 the United States Gypsum Co. will interview School of Business and Liberal Arts majors.

Breaking in the Halloween season with a big pumpkin and a pretty smile is Miss Carolyn Morris, Houston senior. Miss Morris took time out to carve the jack-o-lantern during the pleasant warm-weather break Wednesday afternoon.

Who's Who Will Include 36 from TCU

Quotas have been set for the number of nominees in each college for Who's Who among students in 1959.

The registrar's office determines the quota for each college on the basis of total number of students enrolled in the fall semester. No quotas were established for graduate or evening schools, but nominees from these programs were considered within the quota assigned to the school where they are doing their major field work.

With a total number of 36 nominees for the University, Ad-Ran will have 15 nominees, School of Business 8, School of Education 6, School of Fine Arts 3, Harris College of Nursing 2 and Brite College of the Bible 2.

Individual faculty members or students groups may nominate students, forwarding the nomination to the Dean of Students Office directly or through the respective academic deans. Nominations must be in no later than Nov. 11.

The Dean of Students Office will secure the official grade-point averages for each student nominated and an information sheet from each student stating his participation in departmental and other extracurricular activities. This information will be sent to the academic dean of each school so that the selection committees will be working with uniform information.

The dean of each college will be responsible for organizing his selection committee and choosing the persons to fill his school's quota. This deadline will be Nov. 23.

The Dean of Students Office will combine nominations from the individual colleges and submit the official list for publication.

Nominees must have a 3.00 grade average on all work taken. Final selection will be based on the combination of success as a student as indicated by the grade-point average and demonstrated interest in the departmental and other activities which support the University educational program.

Student Nurses Schedule Regional Meeting Nov. 7

The Texas Student Nurses Association will have a regional meeting Nov. 7, at St. Joseph's Hospital. Members of Harris College of Nursing will attend.

St. Joseph's, John Peter Smith, Harris and Wichita General in Wichita Falls, are the hospitals included in this region.

Math Fraternity Opens Meeting

Pi Mu Epsilon, national math fraternity, will have a called meeting at noon today.

It is open to upper classmen with a high grade average in math and a high point average. The fraternity is largely distributed over the northern states but TCU is the first school in Texas to have a chapter.

The meeting, to be held Friday, is to organize for the new year and to decide on meeting times and programs for the meetings.

Congress OK's 'Committee'

Student Congress President Jerry Johnson's proposal for a "Committee for Greater TCU" was approved by Student Congress Tuesday night. As the Arlington Heights, Ill. senior explained it, the committee is an extension of the now existing Student Faculty Forum.

Johnson explained, "The committee will not, by any means, replace the forum, but I feel that twelve students are not enough to express campus-wide opinion. Each meeting will serve a specific purpose, and I feel that both are needed."

Theoretically, the monthly meeting will be attended by an administrative representative, usually President D. Ray Lindley, one or more faculty members and representatives from the 121 campus clubs and organizations.

The meeting will be conducted in the same manner as a press conference. Administrative policies may be questioned. Student Congress activities will be discussed, and students will have an opportunity to air any of their "gripes".

"In order to make the committee a success", Dr. Lindley urged, "no student should hold back any of his opinions."

The committee will have no governing function. It will be immediately below Student Congress on the chain of command and will serve principally to strengthen communication between the administration and the student body.

Instead of taking problems and questions directly to Student Congress or the administration, students will relate them to their particular representative. After discussion in the committee meeting, the representative will inform the members of the decision reached.

Johnson expressed his belief that many questions can be answered and problems solved in the committee meetings instead of in Congress or by the administration.

The prime purposes of the committee as expressed by Johnson are: 1) to get support for Student Congress Activities through a united, centralized organization, 2) to provide an opportunity to discover ways to accept student responsibility and 3) to provide a medium through which to secure explanations and advice from the administration.

The first proposed meeting of the committee will be in November.

ROTC Team Fires Again

The Army ROTC Rifle Team will fire their second Southwest Conference rifle match of the season at Waco tomorrow.

The match against the Baylor team will take place 10 a.m. in order that it will not conflict with the football game.

Each match is fired in coordination with the football games at the host's range. The TCU team, after losing to A&M two weeks ago, is looking forward to evening their record with a win over Baylor, a very close rival in past years.

Members who will make the trip to Waco tomorrow are Ray Leuty, Joe Huddleston, Bill Oelfke, Gaylord Tate, Willis Murphey Jr. and George Royals Jr.

Monthly 'Firesides' Begin

Dr. W. F. Garrison, professor of philosophy at the University of Houston, was the guest speaker at the first in a series of informal "Firesides" to be sponsored during the year by Brite College.

The first program was held in the Faculty Lounge in Brite College. Students of Brite College and their wives attended and coffee was served.

The purpose of "Firesides" is to give students a chance to meet, hear and question in an informal setting, some of the outstanding figures in the field of religion.

The faculty in charge of the Fireside programs include Dr. Harold L. Lunger, Dr. M. Jack Suggs and Dr. Glenn C. Roult, all of Brite College.

Dr. Garrison is a distinguished historian of the Christian Churches, and co-author with Dr. A. T. DeGroot of a history of the Disciples of Christ; co-author with Paul Hutchinson of "Twenty Centuries of Christianity" and a long-time literary editor of the "Christian Century". He formerly was with the University of Chicago.

Dr. Lunger says that "the Firesides were on an experimental basis last year and only four were held. This year the College plans to have one each month."

Student Center Hosts Panhellenics

The Texas State Association of City Panhellenics held its meeting Thursday in the Student Center.

The general assembly, which began at 9 a.m., included sorority alumnae from all state and city groups. Its theme, "A Place for Every Girl", was reviewed.

Workshops were conducted for alumnae, campus delegates and all sorority women from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m. These included scholarship, public relations and membership selection discussions.

After a luncheon address by Mrs. Harry Power from Austin, the convention delegates were escorted to Colby Hall Dorm for a tour of all sorority chapter rooms. Tea was served in Colby Hall parlor.

Graduate Exams Are Rescheduled Foreign Films Play Sundays on Campus

The Graduate Record Examination for the fall semester will be given Jan. 16 instead of the Nov. 21 date previously set.

C. J. Firkins, testing bureau director, announced recently that there were not enough applications made to reach the proposed number of 25, therefore the test was postponed.

Students taking the Jan. test must turn in their applications and money orders not later than Nov. 20 or before the Thanksgiving Holidays. This is necessary because the applications are required to be in the hands of the Testing Bureau in time to send them to the Educational Testing Service in Princeton, N. J. before the test.

Any student in doubt on what test he must take may take an aptitude test and an advanced test in his prospective field, or look up the requirements in the catalog of the university desired, according to Firkins. These catalogs may be found in the Registrar's Office

Grad to Lecture

James Lawson, graduate chemistry student, will lecture on the Dichromatic Color Theory at 10 a.m. tomorrow in Room 204 of the Science Building.

This theory concerns the use of black and white negatives projected through a red and green filter to produce full color to the eye. The theory was developed by the inventor of the Poloroid Land Camera.

"Students interested in chemistry or photography are invited to attend," Dr. W. H. Watson, assistant professor of chemistry, said.

The forums committee of the Activities Council has scheduled a series of foreign films to be shown on campus. The showings are scheduled for 2:30 p.m. on Sundays in the Student Center Ballroom.

Forums chairman Chuck Downing, Kansas City, Mo. junior, stated, "The main purpose of this series is to broaden the films program on campus, thereby developing the cultural aspect of the program."

Many of the selected films have won one or more awards in foreign film festivals.

Films scheduled are: "Great Expectations", Nov. 8; "The Red Shoes", Nov. 22; "Battle of the Rails", Dec. 6; "The Cruel Sea", Dec. 13; "The Detective", Jan. 10 and "The Devil and Daniel Webster", Feb. 7.

Also "Henry V", Feb. 14; "Miracle in Milan", Mar. 6; "Oliver Twist", Mar. 13; "Julius Caesar", Mar. 27; "Death of a Salesman", April 3 and "Hamlet", April 10.

Admission will be 50 cents. A season ticket, good for any 8 films, will be sold for $3.

LANGUAGE MADE SIMPLE: NO. 1

In this day of swift international communications, like radio, television, and the raft, it becomes more and more important to be solidly grounded in foreign languages. Accordingly, I have asked the makers of Philip Morris whether I might not occasionally forego levity in this column and instead use it for a lesson in language.

"Of course, silly!" chuckled the makers of Philip Morris, tousling my yellow locks. Oh, grand men they are, just as full of natural goodness as the cigarettes they make, just as clean and fresh, just as friendly, just as agreeable to have along in all times and climes and places. "Of course, fond boy," laughed the makers and tossed me up and down in a blanket until, giddy with giggling, I bade them desist, and then we all had basins of farina and smoked Philip Morrises and sang songs until the campfire had turned to embers.

For our first lesson in language we will take up French. We will approach French in the modern manner—ignoring the tedious rules of grammar and concentrating instead on idiom. After all, when we go to France, what does it matter if we can parse and conjugate? What matters is that we should be able to speak idiomatic conversational French.

So, for the first exercise, translate the following real, true-to-life dialogue between two real, true-to-life Frenchmen named Claude (pronounced Clohd) and Pierre (also pronounced Clohd).

CLAUDE: Good morning, sir. Can you direct me to the nearest monk?

PIERRE: I have regret, but I am a stranger here myself.

CLAUDE: Is it that you come from the France?

PIERRE: You have right.

CLAUDE: I also. Come, let us mount the airplane and return ourselves to the France.

PIERRE: We must defend from smoking until the airplane elevates itself.

CLAUDE: Ah, now it has elevated itself. Will you have a Philippe Maurice?

PIERRE: Mercy.

CLAUDE: How many years has the small gray cat of the sick admiral?

PIERRE: She has four years, but the tall brown dog of the short blacksmith has only three.

CLAUDE: In the garden of my aunt it makes warm in the summer and cold in the winter.

PIERRE: What a coincidence! In the garden of my aunt too!

CLAUDE: Ah we are landing. Regard how the airplane depresses itself.

PIERRE: What shall you do in the France?

CLAUDE: I shall make a promenade and see various sights of cultural significance, like the Louvre, the Tomb of Napoleon, and the Eiffel Tower... What shall you do?

PIERRE: I shall try to pick up the stewardess.

CLAUDE: Long live the France!

EDITORIAL COMMENT

On Your Mark

It seems some professors think that their students are track stars, since they hold their classes overtime, causing the students to race across the campus to their next class.

Those less fleet-footed walk into class ten minutes late.

Professors should realize that when they keep a class five or ten extra minutes they are being inconsiderate of students and other professors.

The student often misses important announcements and information when he is late to class. The professor has his class interrupted by late-comers, thus losing some of his lecture time.

Ironically, these same professors who keep classes overtime are usually the ones who complain the most when students are late to their classes.

If they would watch the time more closely and finish their lectures on schedule, they would cut down greatly on the number of late-comers in other classes.

Time Stagers On

We are wondering why that it seems to be impossible for the maintenance department to synchronize the campus clocks so that they will read the same time, within a minute or two.

Incorrect clocks have become quite a joke on campus.

One clock in the lobby of the Student Center usually reads about four or five hours ahead of the actual time. It is reported that a clock on the second floor of the Sherley Hall is upside down.

For years the campus clocks have been about five to ten minutes behind radio time. This is confusing to people who do not live on campus.

What's so difficult about setting these clocks together and keeping them together? It would certainly aid in getting classes started and ended at the assigned times.

Rags or Riches

You may occasionally want to earn a little extra money—fine, but be sure all money-making projects are approved in advance by the student personnel staff. Submit your ideas in writing to the Social Director.

The project adopted should be in keeping with the tone of the University.

In selecting a project you should be careful not to get involved with "get-rich-quick" schemes sponsored by outside sharpies. You can be left holding the bag if you're not careful.

They're Planning Ahead

Organization and forethought are two very admirable traits.

Organization and forethought have been the key for the Homecoming Committee this year.

Homecoming, Nov. 20-23, will indeed present varied activity for all students, ex-students and visitors. Each event has been planned with insight and effort toward one objective: to make the entire Homecoming a pleasant and memorable time for those coming "Home".

The Skiff feels those involved with the project this year are doing a very admirable job in planning for the honored class of 1939.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

SW Campus Confidential

By JACK HARKRIDER

TWU—

Fillers are half the fun in reading a college newspaper. For example, the following appeared in the Daily Lass-O:

"There are some 6,000 known species and varieties of ants, according to the National Geographic Society."

I don't doubt it. I've counted at least 5,800 at every picnic I've attended.

Just to prove the point, here's another example:

"The 1911 New York Giants set the all-time major league record for thefts in one season by stealing 347 bases."

This is very timely, considering the team will get out of Sing Sing the first of next year.

A&M—

It seems the recent purge of Texas University's humor magazine, "The Ranger," has set off a flurry of activity on other campuses. The Battalion recently printed the following article:

"It has been declared unlawful for any person or organization who resides or has its principle office outside of the City of College Station to bring into the city for purpose of sale any of the following: obscene and indecent writing, paper, magazines or books, obscene drawings, and any writing, paper, magazine or book which contains a story, article, or dissertation concerning immoral intrigues between men and women, or immoral conduct or assignments designed to arouse lascivious thoughts and lustful desires."

Good grief! No wonder those halfbacks quit the Aggie team! What college boy could make it through the month without his copy of Playboy?

The Battalion devoted space to the following filler:

"Lloyd Glenn Schiltz is three years old. The only Sunday he missed going to Sunday School was the one following his birth.

"We thought he was too young to go the first week," said his mother, Mrs. Lloyd Schiltz."

Of course he was. Why, he could barely smoke a full pack of cigarettes then.

TEXAS TECH—

Copies of the Toreador have finally reached the TCU campus, and what should appear on the front page, but the following announcement:

"Tech's senior livestock judging team placed fourth in a field of 23 teams at the American Royal Livestock Exposition in Kansas City, Mo., last Saturday."

Aw, come on fellows. You know that's a lot of bull.

RICE—

Apparently The Thresher has gone for the personal touch. The following short notice appeared in a recent issue:

"A word of warning to all girls—David Thorman killed a moose in Alaska, this summer, framed the horns to hang in his dorm room, and has already invited Judy Ley up to see them.

"Be on guard for this dangerous approach."

That's right, girls. If you don't watch out, your horns may be hanging on the wall next to Judy's.

YOURS TRULY,

Editor

The Skiff

Dear Editor:

I feel like democracy guides our country. I feel that we owe this country of ours respect in her flag, her National Anthem, and her 194 years of dedication to us.

This message that I am presenting is what I think our country should mean to us. I will spell it out for you.

D—would stand for the desire to be happy.

E—is the evidence we have to prove our nation's worth.

M—is for the thousands of men that died in battle, so our generation would be able to see the sun rise and set in a free America.

O—stands for the opportunities we must be thankful for. Opportunities held only by the freedoms of the United States.

C—is the citizen. The little guy named Joe, who digs his fingers in the punch bowl of our turning society. Joe is America! He makes her what she is by being a part of her, or he breaks her down because he wants to be different—a part of something else. This guy wouldn't be happy anywhere.

R—naturally is for rights! The rights of the men and women of America. Rights to vote, voice opinion, speak freely, and "It's the only place where we can walk in and personally speak to the head man."

A—is for armed forces. Many have given their lives to protect the people of America.

C—means country. A country big enough for everyone, "with liberty and justice for all."

Y—youth, the all-important children who have the biggest responsibility of all—guiding our America tomorrow. That is if we do not fail them today.

These nine letters signify what we were, what we are, and what we will be. The challenge belongs to us. It is our individual responsibility to see that America lives, breathes and remains free.

We represent our country anywhere and everywhere. In our schools and colleges, in our club meetings, at a football game, and just walking down the street.

We cannot accomplish these benefits by talking during a flag-raising ceremony. We only belittle our standards with our negligent attitude. Our biggest problem seems to come from not paying attention or "not really giving a hoot during this great time of peace."

The great patriotic dancer, songwriter, actor, and Medal of Honor holder, George M. Cohan, described this crisis very well when he said, "Americans don't seem to worry about waving flags until the flag is about to fall, then they begin to check to make sure that the one above them is still waving."

So remember when you hear the Star-Spangled Banner, or set eyes of Old Glory rising on its silver pole, that these things are yours, they belong to us. We take part in them to prove their worth, for without us, they signify nothing.

On February 3, 1945, our boys landed on Iwo Jima. they fought gamely for two months before capturing the Japanese held stronghold.

For this barren piece of land, 5,563 Americans never set eyes on the United States again.

To us, who cannot remember the bad things, because we were too young, it signifies nothing. To those who fought and died on the little island it signifies our security. They didn't have to fight, they could have been conquered. They could have run and let us be run by the Japanese Empire.

But they didn't—and to these men, living and dead, we owe our humble gratitude. A gratitude that we must respect.

At Guam, Guadalcanal, Okinawa, Luzon and the Battle of the Bulge, the flag-raising ceremony wasn't as hilarious as it is at a football game. These soldiers weren't sure that they would ever see it again, and some of them didn't!

So to these valiant souls we owe straightforward eyes, closed mouths, and thankful hearts for the flag of the United States of America and to the glory for which it stands!

R. L. "Sandy" McSpadden

Editor's Note: Well, it's nice to know that someone on this campus appreciates the American flag.—Beth Morris.

Seminar Features Meany Dr. Jarman Chapel Speaker

Dr. R. K. Meany will speak at the Graduate Math Seminar today on "Differential Equations for Sequences."

The seminar is being held for graduates, upper classmen and faculty for the purpose of hearing different members present papers and talks on which they have done research.

The seminar will be held in Room 28 of the Science Building at 7 p.m.

Dr. Cecil Jarman, professor of religion, will speak in Chapel Tuesday, Nov. 3.

Dr. Jarman received his D. D. from Atlantic Christian College in Wilson, North Carolina and at one time was academic dean there. Before becoming a member of the religion department here he was minister of the First Christian Church in Birmingham, Ala.

The Chapel Choir special will be "Sanctus" by Gounod with a tenor solo by Edmond DeLatte.

 HISTORICAL NOTE

In 1902 the President of TCU, E. V. Zollars, received $3,000 a year. Top professors got a raise that year from $600 to $720 a year.

Delts, Sigma Chi-s Grab Fraternity League Lead

Delta Tau Delta and the Sigma Chi's moved to the top rung of the Fraternity Intramural Football League in this week's action. Both clubs have reached the season's halfway mark with identical four wins and no loss records.

In Tuesday's games the Delts ran wild in smashing Lambda Chi Alpha 50-0. Underdog Lambda Chi's made it close in the first half with the score 14-0. Then the bottom fell out with the Delts rolling up 36 points in the final two periods.

Sigma Chi and the Kappa Sigs hooked up in a rugged defensive battle before the Sigma Chi's won 14-8. Robert Joplin broke things wide open with an 80-yard jaunt for the Kappa Sigs to give them the lead. Then Billy Stites opened up a passing attack for Sigma Chi. Stites first hit Jack Kell for a tally and then directed his mates on a scoring drive, capped by Stites' pass to John R. Smith for the winning tally.

Play will resume Tuesday with two games matching Lambda Chi Alpha and Sigma Alpha Epsilon at 2:30 p.m. and Kappa Sigma vs. Phi Kappa Sigma at 4 p.m.

Sports Lines

By GORDON PYNES

Emptying the sports notebook this week with the emphasis on TCU gridders:

After his fine showing in the Pitt game, Marvin Lasater may be making a strong bid to repeat as an All-SWC halfback. The San Angelo senior is running better and there's a reason for it.

Most Frog gridders will tell you that Marvin's ankle has bothered him all year though there's been little said about it. They say it is just now getting strong enough after last spring's operation to allow him to go full blast.

Fullback Jack Spikes is running ahead of his 1958 rushing pace. The big senior line buster had 580 yards rushing last fall and is already around the 400 mark this season with four games to go. A total of 700 steps would put him among TCU's top five all-time ground gainers.

Former Froggie All-American, Norman Hamilton was a campus visitor last weekend. Hamilton now works for an oil company in West Texas.

Another Purple-ex, Joe Robb was recently married. The big tackle off last year's SWC champs is now employed by the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League.

Jimmy Shofner, an All-SWC halfback in 1957 is also making good in the pro ranks. Jim is a starting halfback for the Cleveland Browns. He's on TV every Sunday.

Major Arthur Lerch, an army ROTC instructor here, thinks Dave McSpedden's tremendous effort in overhauling Texas Tech's Mickey Barron was the perfect example of the old college try. Major Lerch even took time in his senior class to show a film sequence of McSpedden's sprint.

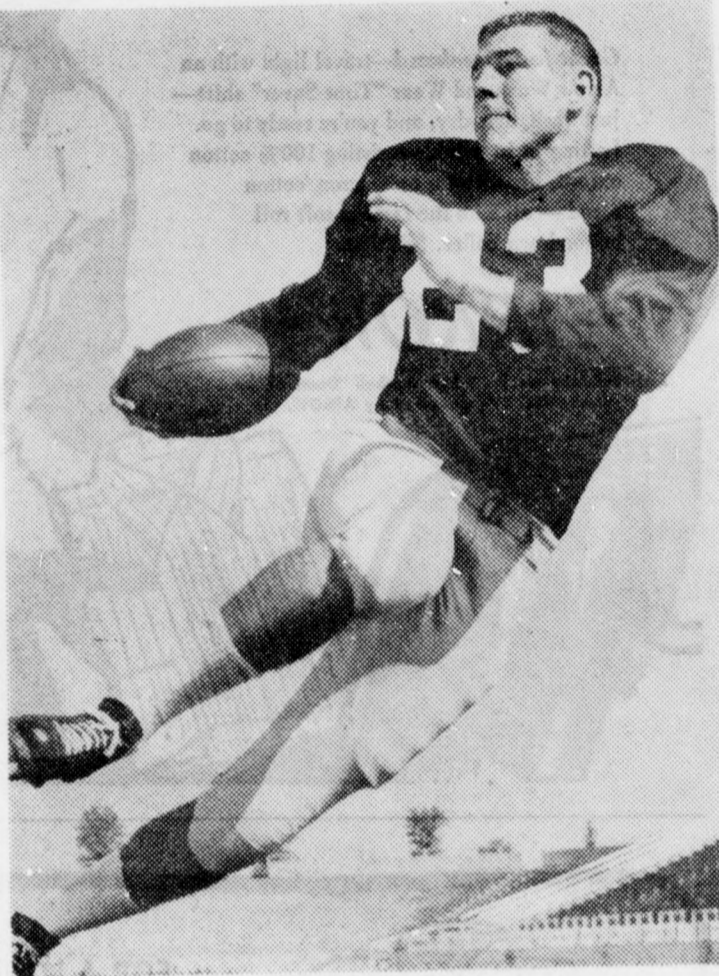

DAVE McSPEDDEN

We hope that quarterback Jackie Sledge can keep his perfect record for the rest of the season. The slender redhead has now started the last two games and both have been wins. Besides that the Frogs have scored 52 points in the two Sledge directed outings.

Frosh halfback, Donnie Smith is already being compared to Jim Swink. We hope he proves to be even better than the Rusk Rambler.

Did you notice the story last week about an Alabama high schooler who came off the bench to make a tackle? Seems the schoolboy got excited when an opposing halfback came running by the bench. Officials had to rule a touchdown on the bench tackle. Oddly enough the embarrassed boy's coach was Tommy Lewis. Lewis will be remembered Rice's Dickey Moegle in the 1954 as the Alabama captain who made the famous bench tackle of Cotton Bowl.

The notebook is empty.

MARVIN LASATER Bids For Repeat

Speedy Bruin Halfbacks Spark Pro-Type Offense

The fast improving Baylor Bears play host to the Horned Frogs tomorrow night in a crucial SWC contest. Both teams have a win and a loss on the conference ledger and the loser will be virtually knocked out of the league's title chase. It will be Homecoming for the Golden Bears in Waco with the kickoff set for 8 p.m. TCU has won four straight tilts with the Baptists since 1955 and will be favored to make it five in a row in their 66th meeting.

This series with the Baptists has been the longest and closest of any for the Christians. It all started back in 1899 when the two foes fought to a scoreless deadlock. Since then they have played as much as three times a year in compiling 65 games between them. The Purples hold an edge with 30 wins, 28 losses and seven ties.

Coach John Bridges has already been more successful in his first season as a SWC coach than most forecasters predicted. The scribes figured it would be a repeat of last fall when Baylor failed to win a league game. Last week they changed that with a 13-0 trouncing of the Texas Aggies. Their loss in conference warfare came at the hands of Arkansas.

Featuring a sophomore studded line-up, Bridger's Bruins have shown improvement with every game and have two straight wins to their credit.

Nothing has been spectacular about the Bear's pro-type offense but it has jelled to give them a 3-2 season record. Probably the thing that makes it go has been the presence of two speedy sophomores, Ronnie Bull and Tommy Minter. Both were schoolboy sprint champs and have been using their speed to full advantage for the Green and Gold. Bull is currently among the conference's top ground gainers.

Quarterbacking has also been surprisingly good. Two other sophs, Ron Stanley and Bobby Ply, have guided the team well and are dangerous short passers. Stanley is among passing completion leaders and last week Ply hit on 9 of 13 attempts against the Aggies.

That "good old Baylor line" has also been tough lately. They held Texas Tech's daring antics to seven points and then shut-out the Aggies.

Riding a three-game winning streak, the Froggies know that this affair is a must if they are to defend their title. Larry Dawson and tri-captain Bubba Meyer are expected back for this game after being out with injuries.

GREAT CATCH?

Monday afternoon was quite an embarrassing one for Froggie end, Buddy Iles. The team was preparing for the Baylor game in the customary Monday offensive drill without pads.

It was the third team's time to run a play. Quarterback Larry Dawson called for a long pass with Iles going deep.

The play clicked perfectly with Dawson throwing a beautiful 50-yarder. The ball was headed straight for Iles and with one final lunge he made the catch. Suddenly he found there was another catch to make. He had stretched just enough to break the string holding his warmups on. He made the catch, down around his ankles.

Marvo's Moving; Foor Heals

Lasater Turns on the Speed

By HARRY MORELAND

"The finest all-round football player to come out of West Texas in the past decade," tags Marvin Lasater aptly, according to many coaches, fans and sports-writers. That tag applied in high school and when the 6-1, 190-pound San Angelo star entered TCU in the fall of 1956. After four years of top-notch play for the Purples the tag still applies.

Marvin was named to the All-SWC team last season as a junior and is making a strong bid to repeat in this campaign.

Always a reliable defensive hand, the Froggie left halfback regained his offensive talents of two previous years by riddling the Pittsburgh Panthers for 102 yards in 14 carries. This total moved him behind Jack Spikes in Froggie rushing totals and also put him among the conference's top ground gainers.

The role of a top ball carrier is no new one for Lasater. In his first year at Frogland he led Coach Fred Taylor's Wog team in rushing and was named to the Frosh All-conference team.

As a sophomore he stepped into a starting role at right halfback and preceded to run for 488 yards that season, finishing behind the great Jim Shofner.

With Shofner's graduation, Marvin was again moved to the familiar left side. Just as he has this fall, Lasater got off to a slow start but came on strong to earn a berth on the All-SWC team. He won this honor mainly on his all-round ability. On defense he proved a great pass defender and constantly came up fast from his deep post to make the big tackles.

Probably his biggest play last year was the one that sent the Frogs on to the conference championship. In the Rice game the Owls led 7-0 in the second quarter when the alert Lasater intercepted a fumble in mid-air and fled 58 yards untouched for the tying score.

Besides the good things there has been tragedy for Marvin. Midway into last season he hurt his foot, though not to a great extent. Then in spring training he rehurt the foot and it developed into a painful injury.

Upon the advice of doctors, Marvin decided to have the injured foot operated on last summer. The injury was a success but still it proved slow to heal. Just now the foot is becoming really strong enough for him to go at all out speed. He proved this in last Saturday's Pitt game by constantly leaping and running over the Panthers.

It appears now that Lasater is ready to make an all out bid to repeat the honors of previous years. The tri-captain's main hope though is to be a big factor in guiding the Frogs to a repeat of their 1958 championship.

His coach, Abe Martin, best describes Marvin's play by calling him, "one of the finest all-around halfbacks to wear the Purple."
