'Maverick' Dons City Duds

By J'NELL ROGERS

Cash McCall
James Garner—Maverick himself—takes off his western duds long enough to do an excellent job of portraying the lovable rogue McCall in "Cash McCall" currently showing at the Worth Theater.

Cash is supposed to be his mother's name but this shouldn't fool anyone because McCall has so much money that it's unbelievable.

Natalie Wood is the beautiful daughter of a company executive whom Garner has a hard time catching.

The show is a delightful one—serious in some places, funny in others.

Solomon and Sheba

The Hollywood plans to hold over its big Biblical spectacular "Solomon and Sheba" for another week starting tomorrow. The two and one-half hour movie produced by Edward Small Productions doesn't quite come up to the level of the late Cecile B. DeMille's religious epics.

The story isn't as good as one might expect. Big name stars Gina Lollobrigida and Yul Brynner are expected to carry the picture.

Miss Lollobrigida's wardrobe seems a little too full of scanty costumes at times.

Like most spectaculars, a lot of money was spent on this one and its excellent photography shots are the result.

Porgy and Bess

One of the big ones which was in some stage of preparation for 12 years opens tomorrow at the 7th Street. It's "Porgy and Bess", a musical with as many as 16 George Gershwin songs.

Running two and one-half hours, the show stars several of the more popular Negro performers of our day—Sidney Poitier, Dorothy Dandridge, Sammy Davis, Jr. and Pearl Bailey.

Poitier plays the part of Porgy, the Charleston beggar with the great heart and the crippled body. Miss Dandridge is Porgy's love, Bess, a fiercely independent but easily dominated woman.

Davis is Sporting Life, a rascally personification of temptation and Miss Bailey portrays warm-hearted Maria, proprietress of the Catfish Row cookshop.

The production crew of this picture includes a number of previous Academy Award winners including Andre Previn.

Among the songs are "Summertime", "A Woman is a Sometime Thing" and "Oh, Bess, Where Is My Bess?"

The Bramble Bush

An adult drama which Walter

Winchell says makes "Peyton Place" read like a nursery rhyme starts tomorrow at the Worth. It's not only recommended for adults only, but no tickets will be sold to those under age.

This technicolor picture was made from the novel of the same name written by Charles Mergendahl.

Starring in this shocker about another New England town are Richard Burton, Barbara Rush and Jack Carson. Angie Dickinson, who rose to fame with Wayne in "Rio Bravo", co-stars.

The Great Caruso

A movie first released in 1951 will return to town and to the screen at the Bowie Theater starting today. Fans of the late Mario Lanza will be pleased to note the reappearance of what many called his finest film. Ann Blythe co-stars in this technicolor production.

The Big Fisherman

Coming event to watch for is the first run attraction of "The Big Fisherman" which will come to the Bowie Theater Feb. 19.

Playing the title role of Simon Peter in this Biblical adaptation of Lloyd C. Douglas' great book will be Howard Keel. Other stars include Susan Kohner, John Saxton, Martha Hyer, Herbert Lom and Ray Strickland.

Sammy Davis, Jr., who plays Sporting Life, and Pearl Bailey as Maria co-star in "Porgy and Bess" which opens tomorrow at the 7th Street Theater. Sidney Poitier and Dorothy Dandridge star.

Dr. J. E. Hodgkins and Dr. W. H. Watson, professors of chemistry, have been awarded a Welch Foundation Grant totaling $40,000 to carry on basic research in chemistry.

In making the announcement, Dr. Henry B. Hardt, chairman of the chemistry department commented, "These grants were awarded on the scientific merit and achievements of Drs. Hodgkins and Watson."

Dr. Hodgkins, who is doing research in Divalent Carbons, said, "The grants, which will run through 1960, '61, and '62, will carry fellowships for graduate students and advanced undergraduate students."

Dr. Hodgkins stated that he had nominated Mike Hughes, graduate student for a one year fellowship beginning June 1.

Dr. Watson's research program is in Surface Properties of Semi-conductors.

"The funds will be used for sponsoring the fellowships and to buy the chemicals and equipment necessary to carry out the research programs," continued Dr. Watson.

FROOD TELLS HOW TO CLEAN UP ON YOUR LAUNDRY

Dear Dr. Frood: I told my girl I was in love, and she laughed. I told her I wanted to get married, and she laughed. How can I make her realize that I'm serious?

Serious

Dear Serious: Marry someone.

Dear Dr. Frood: I have been having trouble sleeping at night. Do you think it could be because I drink coffee?

Wide-Eyed

Dear Wide-Eyed: Possibly. It's very difficult to sleep while drinking coffee.

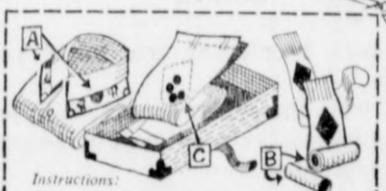

Dear Dr. Frood: A lot of the guys complain because their mothers don't pack their laundry boxes properly. Is there a certain way they should be packed?

Spokesman

Dear Spokesman: Indeed there is. Clip out the instructions below and mail them to your mother.

Clip and Mail

Instructions:

- 1. Place bills of varying denominations in shirt collars (A) to keep them stiff.
2. Wrap socks around rolls of dimes (B) to keep them from getting mismatched.
3. Place other change in pockets (C) of khaki pants. This way it won't roll around and rattle in the box.

Dear Dr. Frood: Do you believe in the old adage, "Choose a girl by ear rather than by eye"?

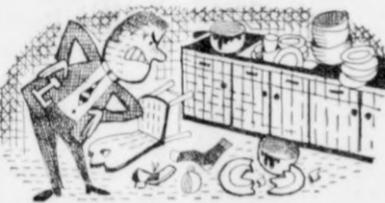

Shopping

Dear Shopping: This maxim is indeed a fine guide for any young man who is looking for a girl. But while choosing by "ear rather than by eye," he should also make sure she has two of each.

Dear Dr. Frood: Every night I come home tired and I find the house in a mess. There are dirty dishes and pans in the sink, and clothes are thrown all around. I'm fed up. What should I do?

Married Student

Dear Married Student: You should notify the police. Someone has obviously been there.

Dr. Frood, Ph.T.T.

Dear Dr. Frood: How far ahead should I call for a date?

Straight Arrow

Dear Straight Arrow: It depends. Some girls must be called at least a week in advance. With others, you just holler as you enter the dorm.

Dear Dr. Frood: My husband is an absent-minded college professor. He went out 7 years ago to buy a pack of Luckies and hasn't returned yet. I don't know what to do.

Patience

Dear Patience: Better buy another pack. He's probably smoked them all by now.

COLLEGE STUDENTS SMOKE MORE LUCKIES THAN ANY OTHER REGULAR!

When it comes to choosing their regular smoke, college students head right for fine tobacco. Result: Lucky Strike tops every other regular sold. Lucky's taste beats all the rest because L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Death Scene at Dawn

Dawn broke over the campus last Friday morning to reveal a lifeless figure hanging by the neck from a tree in front of the Library.

The cold body was suspended three feet off the ground by a white extension cord wrapped securely around both a tree limb and the neck.

Students on their way to eight a.m. classes paused to stare sleepily at the unfortunate man. A few dared to approach the death scene and read the cardboard sign attached to the victim's feet.

But what did they read? Only a simple slogan, like those bandied about on most campuses year by year, labeling an effigy of the Dean of Students and Dean of Men—and an historical figure named Adolph. No real man. No blood.

What an uninspiring and immature way to initiate the spring semester.

Many early risers were "jolted" by the sight of the dummy hanging from the tree in front of the Library Friday.

THE LEDGER

30 Minutes For Registration

By BETH MORRIS

Making an entry in The Ledger this week is Miss J'Nell Rogers:

It's becoming more and more difficult for a working student to go to college these days.

Although Registrar Calvin Cumbie stated the spring registration was the smoothest in years, several working students had a few complaints.

Often students work a night shift from 3:30 to 11:30 p.m. in order to have all mornings free to attend classes. With all those hours especially saved for school, it seems unfair to require them to take off work to register if their initial calls for a 3 p.m. registration.

Besides making their pay check short, it often angers a few bosses. Their only alternative has been to register late, pay a $5 late fee and get leftover classes.

The Registrar's Office has strictly enforced its alphabetical schedule so that registration will move as smoothly as possible.

Naturally it should be made almost impossible for a person without a legitimate excuse to register at a time other than the scheduled one. But persons with a legitimate reason—such as working, for example—should be allowed to register at a more convenient time.

A letter from a student's boss possibly could be required as proof that they actually have a job conflict.

Is a higher education only for young people whose families can afford to pay their way? Should we not use every effort to encourage industrious students who are making their own living and seeking a college degree as well?

When the University made so strict a rule that everyone must register according to the alphabetical schedule, they placed a hardship on some of their most promising students.

Political 'Beat'

Two Fort Worth beatniks, "Big Mike" Callaway and Peter Gill, "the Hero", have thrown their berets in the political ring. The two have filed for the post of Democratic precinct chairman, the only office that requires no scratch for filing fee.

Should either or both be elected, this might pose several serious problems.

First, the fugitives from the coffee houses might lose their status as dyed-in-the-wool-beats or dyed-in-the-army blankets-beats, whichever applies.

Second, the court house pad might become chaotic as the beats sneered from behind their beards at the non-beats.

It's certain that politics would become as blank verse with long lines of self-expression.

Like this might be a drag on politicsville, daddy-o.

Yours Truly

Unfair?

Editor,
The Skiff

Too often we find ourselves having to face the fact that we are not experts on everything and we are not capable to write a dissertation on what we know nothing about.

After reading the article in last week's Skiff, I see that another person who is ignorant of the subject matter, has attempted to write an article in effort to degrade another service of our school.

When a student enters the cafeteria to order a meal, I can assure him that he has no worry as to whether he will reach the end of the line with his head chewed off or not, because we have had no such accidents to date.

A most helpful suggestion to remember when eating in the snack bar is that about three cooks are preparing sandwiches and soups for about 600 students at one time. If we realize that it takes more than 3 minutes to prepare 600 sandwiches, I believe our blood pressure will not get quite as high. Another thing to remember when ordering is that the girls are not able to read minds, and if you want the order to go or the onions cut, you must tell them.

Politeness seems to go such a far way, and if we would use it sometimes I believe we might find everything more cheerful and easier to take. Instead of condemning, cursing, and degrading the cafeteria and snack bar, why don't we look at the entire situation and try to understand it, rather than trying to pour off steam when it isn't necessary. Let's all start off the new semester by being polite to the girls behind the counter and they in turn will be happy to be of service to us.

Mary Sue Webb

P. S. I felt it was extremely unnecessary for you to ridicule the speech of anyone.

Editor's Note: Here we go again—The Skiff gets this "ignorant" tag about as often as the Horned Frogs are dubbed "unimpressive" without getting a chance to prove themselves. However, this is one time when we definitely are not "ignorant of the subject matter."

For the last three years, editorials have appeared in The Skiff concerning the Snack Bar and Cafeteria, satirical or otherwise, none of which were heeded.

At least once a week since the fall semester began, some poor soul has accosted me with a complaint about the service given in the Student Center.

Until I reviewed the facts myself, I considered writing the editorial against the students or giving both sides. But I can't deny what I see with my own eyes. Possibly I'm not accurate, but I would estimate that from five to ten "accidents" occur in the Cafeteria and Snack Bar lines every day.

About indicating onions, I'll let one student's remark tell the story there—"Yes, you tell them to cut the onions, and they cut them real fine."

It certainly is not the policy of The Skiff to degrade something or someone unless fault is present. We feel a smile in the breakfast and lunch lines would send many students to classes with more optimistic attitudes.

Maybe the time will come, however, when we will ARISE together and march forth from the Cafeteria to take over the semester's scholastic work, singing our battle song "M-I-C-K-E-Y M-O-U . . ."

Typographic Institute Offers Design Training

An all day Typographic Design Institute will be held here Saturday, Feb. 20, under the sponsorship of the TCU department of journalism. The program will be conducted by Howard N. King, nationally known typographer and consultant to the Harris-Intertype Corp.

The Institute is designed primarily for editors, printers, public relations men, industrial editors, layout men, artists, advertisers and newspaper personnel, journalism students and others interested in printing.

The opening meeting from 9:30 to 11:45 a.m., will feature a discussion of type faces: what makes a type face popular, which types look good on coated papers and which on uncoated papers, etc.

A typographic design lecture illustrated by color slides will be presented at the second session, from 1:30 to 5:30 p.m. Photo-composition also will be discussed.

The night session, from 7 to 8:30 p.m., will include an analysis of publications—ads, brochures, folders, newspapers, magazines—submitted earlier to King by those attending the Institute. Persons interested in this service should mail copies of their work no later than Feb. 10 to Howard N. King, 7 South Keesey St., York, Pa.

Cooperating with the University in sponsoring the design institute are Fort Worth professional organizations including Sigma Delta Chi, The Advertising Club of Fort Worth, Printing Industry Association, Industrial Editors Association, the Typographical Union and the North Texas chapter of the Public Relations Society of America.

THREE WHO PASSED IN THE NIGHT

Last year, as everyone knows, 1,210,614 undergraduates dropped out of college. 256,080 flunked; 309,656 got married; 375,621 ran out of money; and 309,254 found jobs. As you have, of course, observed, this accounts for only 1,210,611 out of 1,210,614. What happened to the other three?

Well sir, to find the answer, I recently completed a tour of American campuses where I interviewed 40 million students and sold several subscriptions to The Open Road for Boys, and it pleases me to report that I can now account for those three elusive undergraduates.

The first was an LSU junior named Fred Gaugin. He was extremely popular, always ready with a smile, fond of folk dancing and pralines, and last semester his Chi Psi brothers unanimously elected him treasurer of the fraternity. This proved an error. Gaugin, alas, promptly absconded with the money and went to Tahiti to paint. The fraternity is bending every effort to extradite Gaugin, but Tahiti, alas, is currently observing the feast of Diphthong, the Sun-God, a five-year ceremony during which all the islanders wear masks, so nobody, alas, can say for certain which one is Gaugin.

The second missing undergraduate is William Cullen Sigafoos, Oregon State freshman, who went one day last fall to a disreputable vendor named A. M. Sashweight to buy a pack of Marlboros. Mr. Sashweight did not have any Marlboros because Marlboros are only sold by reputable vendors. However, he told Sigafoos that he had another brand which was just as good, and Sigafoos, being but an innocent freshman, believed him.

Well sir, you and I know there is no other brand as good as Marlboros. That fine filter, that flavorful flavor, that pleasure, that joy, that fulfillment—are Marlboro's and Marlboro's alone. All of this was quickly apparent to young Sigafoos and he flew into a terrible rage. "As good as Marlboros indeed!" he shrieked, kicking his roommate furiously. "I am going right back to that mendacious Mr. Sashweight and give him a thrashing he won't soon forget!" With that he seized his lacrosse bat and rushed out.

Mr. Sashweight heard him coming and started running. Now Mr. Sashweight, before he became a disreputable vendor, had taken numerous prizes as a cross-country runner, and he thought he would soon outdistance young Sigafoos. But he reckoned without Sigafoos's stick-to-itiveness. At last report the two of them had passed Cleveland. When they reach the Atlantic Seaboard, bad Mr. Sashweight will get his lumps from Sigafoos, you may be sure, and I, for one, am glad.

The third missing undergraduate, also named Sigafoos, is a Bennington sophomore named Celeste Sigafoos and, ironically, she never intended to leave college at all. She was merely going home for Christmas on the Natchez, Mobile, and Boise Railroad, and during the night, alas, her upper berth slammed shut on her. Being a Bennington girl, she naturally did not wish to make an unseemly outcry, so she just kept silent. The next morning, alas, the railroad went bankrupt, and Miss Sigafoos today is lying forgotten on a siding near Valparaiso, Indiana. Fortunately she has plenty of Marlboros with her.

© 1960 Max Shulman

And how about the rest of you? Do you have plenty of Marlboros? Or if you like mildness but you don't like filters, plenty of Philip Morris? Hmm? Do you?

"That's not hard at all," was the comment of Jerry Johnson, Houston junior and Skiff photographer, as he ran off plastic engravings on the new Scan-A-Graver in the J. Willard Ridings Print Shop.

The electronic engraving machine was installed by The Fairchild Corporation on a trial basis. The Skiff will use the machine for a month and study the results for quality and cost.

"The kickoff will be delayed for a few minutes, in order to get in our sponsor's commercial. Arrangements for this were made through the TCU Athletic Department and the district sales manager of the Humbug Oil and Refining Company of Texas." Commercial.

"The game will get underway in a few minutes, but first I'd like to explain that the football used in this game is made of horsehide, even though I may refer to it as 'pig-skin' later in the game. Also, it does not rest on its end normally, but is supported by a rubber 'tee' until after the kickoff.

"TCU will kick off and defend the north goal, while Syracuse will receive and defend the south goal. In all fairness, I must explain that the arrangements for this were made through the tossing of a coin by the referee, prior to the game.

"There's the kick and it sails down to the Syracuse two, where it's picked up by Left Half Milton Goober, Goober comes up the right sideline as he was instructed to do by his coach, in the dressing room, and is nailed in a bruising tackle by TCU's big tackle, Bob Lilly. Lilly's first name is Robert and Bob is a derivation thereof. We will check in the dressing room later and see if Goober actually received a bruise in that tackle." And so on, for four quarters.

"There goes the gun and that's the end of the game! The gun used in this game is a Smith & Wesson .32 caliber revolver and is loaded with blanks, rather than live shells. So Texas Christian takes a close victory from Syracuse, 34-12. I must remind you however, this game has not been officially played until it is registered in the Southwest Conference record book. And now, for a recap of the game, here's Linsley."

"Thank you, 'Red.' TCU kicked off, with the ball being supported on end by a rubber 'tee.' Milton Goober received the ball and was definitely bruised by Lilly's tackle. The bruise was located just above the lower rib on the right side. Lilly's first name is Robert and his nickname is Bob. Abe Martin's first name is Othol and Abe is his nickname. My real name is Abraham Ginch, Linsley is my stage name, and I'm getting pretty sick of this 'honesty' jazz."

So am I brother, so am I.

Spikes Named Most Valuable Frog

Award Winners

Robert Lilly, Ramon Armstrong, Merlin Priddy and Jack Spikes display their awards won at the annual TCU football banquet Monday night. Lilly won the G. L. Perkinson watch as the team's best downfield blocker, Armstrong won the J. W. "Grassy" Hinton award as the "most conscientious" player, and Priddy won an award from Dutch Meyer for his spirit and competitive play. Spikes won the Dan Rogers and Houston Post awards.

'Big Panther' Wins Award At Annual Football Fete

By JACK HARKRIDER

Jack Spikes, TCU's All-America fullback, received the coveted Dan Rogers award as the most valuable player on the Horned Frog squad at the annual football banquet Monday night.

The Rogers ring, the first individual award to originate in the Southwest Conference, was presented to Spikes by Bob Cullum, Dallas banker, who is the son-in-law of the late Rogers.

In receiving the award, Spikes told the audience, "I want to thank each and every one of these boys sitting around you for the honors that have been bestowed on me."

"Jack had truly a great season," reminded Head Coach Abe Martin. "His play was instrumental in the fine year TCU had this past fall. Not only an outstanding player, this youngster is one of the finest young men I've had in my coaching career. I don't believe there's a doubt that he is the greatest fullback in the history of the school."

Spikes led the Frogs in rushing last fall, with 660 yards gained and a 4.7-yards-per-carry average. He gained 1,550 yards during his three-year career, to make him the second longest ground gainer in TCU's history. Jim Swink, All-America halfback in 1955, holds the record with a total of 2,618 yards gained.

Earlier in the evening, Spikes was presented with the Houston Post Back-of-the-Year award by Sports Editor Clark Nealon.

Ramon Armstrong, right guard; Robert Lilly, right tackle; Merlin Priddy, fullback and guard Joe Cole also were named winners of other awards.

Armstrong, believed by many as the most consistent player on the squad last fall, won the J. W. (Grassy) Hinton award as the "most conscientious" player of the year, while Lilly, an all-SWC tackle shooting for All-America honors next year, was awarded the G. L. Perkinson watch as the team's best downfield blocker.

Priddy won a savings and loan account, and a football bank from Athletic Director Dutch Meyer for his "great spirit and competitive play throughout his football career," and Cole was chosen by his teammates for the Y. Q. McCammon award as the outstanding non-letterman.

More than 150 players and guests attended the banquet in which Martin announced 37 varsity lettermen. They included 17 seniors, 14 juniors and six sophomores, with only two regulars, center Arvie Martin and Lilly, being eligible for next fall.

Fred Taylor, freshman coach, also announced 31 Wog lettermen.

Don Floyd, twice an All-America tackle, then presented Martin with a set of luggage on behalf of the team.

Martin closed the banquet by stating he would always remember the seniors who were leaving because "they're leaving you an opportunity to do what no other school in the Conference has done... win the championship three years in a row."

The trials of TV.

Television, the baby of the electronics industry, is undergoing a series of dramatic changes, designed to keep our Federal Fathers in Washington happy.

As the more informed public knows by now, this shift in direction was brought about by the quiz show and "Payola" scandals... the investigations thereof, that is.

True, a revision of policy was necessary, but it seems these revisions are being carried a wee bit too far. For example, after many TV shows, the announcer will make a statement that runs something like this:

"In compliance with the wishes of the United States Government (a short dramatic pause for cheering or clapping, if you're inclined to do so), we wish to announce to our viewing audience that the laughter and special effects (including Chester's limp, if you're watching 'Gunsmoke') heard or seen on this program, have been mechanically reproduced. It is not the intention of this network, nor any of its affiliates, to purposely mislead the public."

Big deal. If such pure, unvarnished "honesty" and "high ideals" continue to run rampant throughout the industry, imagine what next year's football telecasts would sound like:

"Through the facilities of the National Honesty Network, we take you now to Amon Carter Stadium in Fort Worth, Texas, home of the TCU Horned Frogs, for today's game of the week. And here is your announcer, 'Red' Range."

"Thank you, Linsley, and hello out there, sports fans. First, I'd like to remind you that my real name is Jacob Farnsworth and 'Red' Range is merely my stage name.

"Today's game pits the mighty Horned Frogs of Texas Christian University against the undefeated Warriors from Syracuse. The Horned Frogs are termed 'mighty' because they have legally adopted that as part of their name, and Syracuse is undefeated because they have yet to play a game this season.

TCU to Host Arkansas '5' In SWC Tilt

The revenge-bent Arkansas Razorbacks move into Fort Worth's Public School's Gym Saturday night to battle the cellar dwelling Frogs.

Arkansas will be out for the scalp of the smaller Frogs, after taking it on the chin in an overtime loss to SMU last week 72-70. The loss dropped the Porkers to a 3-3 record, and left them two games behind the league leaders, SMU and Texas A&M.

The visitors will come onto the court with two of the Southwest Conference's leading scorers, in 6-3 Clyde Rhoden and 6-6 Ronnie Garner. Rhoden has racked up 263 points this season, while his teammate Garner, has 245 to his credit.

TCU was defeated by Texas, 98-77, last Saturday and kept their cellar rating with Rice. This was the worst defeat ever handed the Frogs by Texas, while the Longhorns came within five points of beating their all-time scoring record.

BURP!

provided a good laugh for those attending the football awards banquet Monday night.

When it was discovered several Robert "Tiger" Lilly, TCU's 6-4, 240-pound right tackle, eral steaks would go to waste, Lilly promptly made himself useful by eating two steak dinners with all the trimmings, several orders of strawberry shortcake and several cartons of milk.

When he was called upon to receive the G. L. Perkinson award, someone in the audience quipped, "You'd better give him something else. I don't think he can eat that."
