First Reports Indicate 600 To Graduate

The registrar's office already has begun to tabulate the number of students who will receive sheepskins June 1.

Primary reports of June 1 graduates list six hundred.

Reports are not final and will undergo many changes before June 1.

"There will be additions and deletions, but the size of the graduating class will be more than six hundred," announced Registrar Calvin Cumbie.

The graduating class of 1960 will be the largest in the history of the University, and will represent a sharp increase over the spring graduating class of 1959 when 421 students received degrees.

The largest graduating class previously was in 1950 when 510 degrees were given. In 1949, 463 graduated. Those two classes included the peak of World War II veterans.

Of the six hundred candidates for graduation, 144 completed all requirements for their degrees at mid-year, Jan. 28.

There will be 458 receiving bachelors degrees, exclusive of Bachelor of Divinity, which number 16, and 36 candidates will receive master's degrees.

Reports thus far show that in the AddRan College of Arts and Sciences 209 will receive degrees, 139 in the School of Business, 125 in the School of Education, 39 in the Harris College of Nursing, 36 in the School of Fine Arts, 31 in the Graduate School and 21 in Brite College of the Bible.

World Premiere

'Krasinska' Cast By Little Theatre

Cast members have been selected for the final theatre production of the Spring—"The Legend of Madame Krasinska." The drama's world premiere will be held in the Little Theatre at 8 p.m., April 29.

The play was written by Joel Turner and Roland von Weber, American writers living and working in Europe. Several years ago their modern version of "Phaedra" also was presented on campus. The new play is based on a short story by Vernon Lee.

Von Weber is expected to be in the audience for the opening night performance, according to Dr. Walther R. Volbach, chairman of the department of theatre arts and director of the play. Other performances are scheduled on the evenings of April 30 and May 4-7.

Leading roles will be taken by Gayle Meyer, Fort Worth graduate student, as Madame Krasinska; Pauline Pearce, Fort Worth senior, Baroness Fosca and Jean

Smiling prettily from a convertible is Miss June Pence, Shreveport, La. senior, and the new "Miss Wonder" for the Fort Worth-

Dallas area. June recently was selected by the makers of Wonderbread and tours the area making appearances and visiting stores.

On Middle East Problems

Foreign Educator Will Speak

Dr. M. F. El Khatib, educator and lecturer will be presented by the forums committee to speak on problems of the Middle East at 7:30 p.m. tonight in the SC Ballroom.

Dr. El Khatib was born in Al-

Santa Gharbiyah, Egypt. He studied at Cairo University, where he received his Bachelor of Commerce degree in political science in 1948. In 1954 he obtained his Ph.D., also in political science, from Edinburg University.

From 1954 to 1958 he served as lecturer in political science on the faculty of Commerce at Cairo University. During this time, he served as a senior research scientist for the American University at Cairo and also lectured at the UN Egyptian Institute of Public Administration in Cairo.

Dr. El Khatib is the author of several articles which have appeared in the "Review of Economic, Political and Business Studies" of Cairo University.

From 1952 to the present, he has participated in a number of international conferences and missions in the Hague, Jerusalem, Kuwait, Saudi Arabia, Warsaw, the USSR and Amman.

Dr. El Khatib, who speaks English, has lectured extensively before American audiences since his arrival in the US early in 1958.

Tonight's meeting is open to all students and is considered of particular interest to history, government and economics students.

Consultant Makes Study Of Plans for Ph.D. Work

Dr. O. C. Carmichael, a guest consultant on graduate education, ends his three-day stay on campus today.

His visit is sponsored by the Fund for the Advancement of Education, which is related to the Ford Foundation.

Dr. Carmichael has consulted with faculty and administration members on plans for the University's new Ph.D. programs in physics and psychology.

Meetings were scheduled with the Graduate School faculty, the Graduate School Council, the University deans and department heads, according to Dr. James M. Moudy, dean of the Graduate School.

Dr. Carmichael is a former president of Alabama College and of the University of Alabama, and was chancellor of Vanderbilt University.

For many years, he has been active in organizations and conferences relating to educational welfare, and is the author of the book, "The Changing Role of Higher Education."

He has been president of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teacher Training and a member of the Board of Trustees since 1938. He has been chairman of the Board of the State University of New York since 1948.

Dr. Carmichael holds B.A. and M.A. degrees from the University of Alabama, and a D.Sc. from Oxford University, England, where he was a Rhodes Scholar. He also holds several honorary degrees.

SC Honors 5th Birthday On April 7

Further plans for the Student Center's 5th Birthday Party have recently been announced by Wally Webb, Pittsburg, Kans. junior.

The plans include a bingo party, April 5, with prizes of three men's watches and forty cakes.

April 6 is the date scheduled for the College Bowl, a panel of students and professors vying for the fastest and most correct answers.

Cake-cutting, with music by a swing band, not chosen yet, will be after the College Bowl.

"The Left-Handed Gun", starring Paul Newman will be shown free at 7:00 p.m. in the Ballroom, April 7.

Afterward the dance committee of the Activities Council will wind up the celebration with a sock hop.

The birthday party is under the supervision of the special events committee of the Activities Council.

Senior Given Fellowship To Harvard

Warner Bailey, Orange senior, has been awarded a teaching fellowship in the chemistry department at Harvard University.

He will receive a grant of $2,900 for one year.

Bailey, a chemistry major, will receive his B.A. degree this June. He will begin work on his Ph. D. in organic chemistry at Harvard in September.

Here on campus, Bailey has been elected to membership in Alpha Chi, national honorary scholastic society, and Pi Mu Epsilon, mathematics fraternity. He is listed in the 1959-60 edition of Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities and is a member of the American Chemical Society.

An active in the Presbyterian Student Association, Bailey plays with the Horned Frog Band and is a member of the Army ROTC. He holds the Association of the US Army Award in recognition of outstanding military and scholastic achievement. He was presented this award at the annual ROTC Awards Day Program last spring.

Students Discuss University Life

Misses Beverly Bennett, Dallas junior, and Nancy Sheppard, Terrell sophomore, will speak at Burleson High School on March 25.

Miss Bennett will speak on the social aspects of campus life and Miss Sheppard on the University's academic program.

They will also show the film "This is TCU."

Both are members of the public relations committee of the Activities Council.

Summer Student Congress officers donate dictionaries to Frogland dormitories. Receiving the dictionaries is assistant dean of women, Miss Jo Ann James. Officers during the summer session were Richard Walsh, Miss Anna Jean King and Charlie Cooper, all seniors.

Summer SC Donates Two Dictionaries

Summer Student Congress officers presented the men's and women's dormitories with two copies of Webster's Unabridged Dictionary.

"They did a marvelous job last summer," said Ben Proctor, professor of history and sponsor of the organization.

"They donated $100 to the M. E. Sadler Scholarship Fund, sold tickets to the Casa Manana's production of the "The Student Prince" held two watermelon parties and two picnics for the summer students, donated money to the Activities Council and set up a fund for two annual scholarships in summer school.

According to Richard Walsh, president of the Summer Student Congress. "We tried to provide some recreation for the students last summer. As for the dictionaries, we hope to give even more next year."

The dictionaries will be kept in Clark and Colby D. Hall dormitories.

The officers who served last summer are Charlie Cooper, Galveston senior, vice president; Anna Jean King, Cleburne senior, secretary and John Kollman, Taylor senior, treasurer.

★HISTORICAL NOTE

During World War II five different government training programs were carried on here on campus. TCU received money from the government to carry these on.

Sunday-Afternoon Movie Will Be 'Julius Caesar'

By J'NELL ROGERS
Julius Caesar

Shakespeare's great historical drama, "Julius Caesar" will hold a one-run stand in the Student Center Ballroom Sunday. Charlton Heston, David Bradford and Harold Tasken star.

The show will start at 2:30 p.m. according to the forums committee of the Activities Council which sponsors the Sunday afternoon movies. Cost is 50 cents per person.

Toby Tyler

Walt Disney has done it again (produced another bright, happy picture for all the family, that is).

"Toby Tyler" or "Ten Weeks With a Circus" starts tomorrow at the Worth. Kevin Corcoran of "Shaggy Dog" fame plays the title role of a little boy who ran away from home and joined a circus to make his fortune.

The technicolor movie features a chimpanzee named Mr. Stubbs to whom Toby becomes attached.

Our Man in Havana

The Hollywood Theatre is opening a "murderously funny" story about spy rings in Latin America today called "Our Man in Havana".

The cast of top stars includes Alec Guinness, Maureen O'Hara, Ernie Kovacs, Jo Morrow and Burl Ives.

The movie is made from a best-seller of the same name.

Story on Page One

Courtroom suspense dramas seem to be quite popular with the movie-going public lately. Jerry Wald of Twentieth Century Fox decided to continue the trend with his tense production of "The Story on Page One", which starts tomorrow at the Palace Theatre downtown.

This adult drama stars Rita Hayworth as a wife accused of killing her policeman husband. Gig Young is a lonely widower who loves her and who also is accused.

Anthony Franciosa has the difficult job of defending the two.

Short Shots

The Bowie still is holding forth with "The Big Fisherman", now in its sixth week. "The Mouse That Roared" is making his rounds to the second run houses and will appear Thursday at the TCU Theatre across from the campus. "Happy Anniversary" is the second feature.

Tips from CCUS

What to Tip?

The question of whom and how much to tip is one that worries most of us. We are a democratic nation, and the idea of tipping is really repugnant to us. We would rather have the bill include everything, or so we say. The airlines, of course, have banned tipping and done wonderfully well thereby. The service is far above any we have ever encountered in any place that allows tips.

But on the other hand, many restaurants have tried no tipping rules, and found that the patrons went on tipping anyway.

For what it is worth, our own practice is to tip when in doubt. Generally speaking the larger the establishments, the larger the city and the more elaborate and more frequent the tip.

In large and elegant restaurants, where the service is good, the tip should be about 20% of the bill. In smaller restaurants, between 10 and 15% will suffice, although a flat 10% with no extra dime thrown in is rapidly going out of style.

If you are going to tip at all, it must be at least a dime. A nickel is an insult, and New York taxi drivers are coming to expect a quarter, except on very short rides.

Miss Fort Worth Finalists Include Five TCU Coeds

Five TCU women are among the 12 finalists who will compete for the Miss Fort Worth title in Casa Manana at 8 p.m. April 9.

According to Gene Fulgham, chairman of the Junior Chamber of Commerce Miss Fort Worth auditions, talent will play a large part in the selection of the winner.

Representing the University are Misses Maynette Loftus, Pampa sophomore, whose talent is ballet; Sally Ann Coates, Fort Worth junior, whose talent is singing; Sue Sanders, Houston sophomore, who will present a dramatic selection.

Also Donna Clary, Fort Worth freshman, dramatics; and Sally Ransone, Fort Worth sophomore, dancing.

"Talent," said Fulgham, "will count 50 per cent in the judging, opposed to only 25 per cent last year. The contestant's appearance in an evening gown will count 25 per cent. Swim suit appearance, charm and personality will count for the final 25 per cent."

Truitt Gellentine, chief judge in the finals, will be assisted by four other judges.

Miss Fort Worth will compete in the Miss Texas contest in Beaumont in July, and Miss Texas will go to Atlantic City for the Miss America contest to be held in September.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

You Too, Can Help

Two candy bars, a couple of cokes, one hamburger and an order of french fries make a dollar you've spent on in-between meal snacks today. While you are gaining weight, others are starving and may never live long enough to enjoy the goodness of such snacks.

Your one dollar for just one day would make the difference between life and death, a college education or illiteracy for some youngster in the world.

By giving the the Campus Chest this week, you may assure a much better life for some youngster who has hopes to attend college someday.

The Campus Chest serves as an agency through which homeless children are fed, clothed and educated throughout the world. This week, sororities, fraternities and college groups of all kinds are getting together with a common goal to help those who need help.

The money given will reach not only people around the world, but also here on our campus. The Speech and Hearing Clinic will receive a large share of the donations to carry on work in speech therapy.

Eat a good meal today, but skip the snack so that someone else may have an opportunity to eat and learn tomorrow.

No Love for Love Field?

Dallas' Love Field has suffered two severe blows in the past two weeks, one from the Federal Aviation Agency and the other from the Airline Pilots Association.

The FAA denied Love Field federal aid for airport improvements, while granting Fort Worth's Carter Field almost a million dollars for the same purposes.

A letter from the ALPA to the Love Field Airport Management, the Dallas City Council and the Dallas Chamber of Commerce Aviation Subcommittee accused the airport of being behind the times in its runway approach lighting system, among other things.

Much has been made of these developments by the Fort Worth newspapers.

Love Field ranks fourth in the nation in the number of aircraft movements. Substantially more passengers embark from Love Field than from Carter Field as recently published figures prove.

Dallas has tried to meet the increased air traffic demands by investing millions of dollars in a new terminal building and other airport improvements. Yet these improvements cannot change the facts that Love Field is surrounded by bustling business and residential districts, and additional land for runway extensions and improved approach lighting is now priced out of reach.

Dallas civic spirit in this matter is admirable, but the inherent pride which accompanies this spirit has mislead the thinking of Dallas' civic leaders.

Instead of letting Carter Field go ahead and carry the air passenger load for both cities, Dallas has tried to compete and now finds itself outclassed.

From a safety standpoint, Carter Field is a much better airport and will prove to be a better investment for Fort Worth than its competitor to the east.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"DON'T KICK ME OFF TH' TEAM COACH— DO YOU WANT ME TA FLUNK OUTTA COLLEGE?"

THE LEDGER

A Christian Nation?

By BETH MORRIS

Making an entry in The Ledger this week is Miss J'Nell Rogers:

Since Lincoln's Emancipation Proclamation of nearly 100 years ago which freed Negro slaves in this country, the colored race has been struggling for equal status.

The deep South, as the longtime homeland of the American Negro, has been a perennial trouble spot for racial squabbles. Then in September, 1957, trouble broke in Little Rock, Ark., which was heated enough to make "Central High School" a discussion topic all over the nation. The racial crisis began its move out of the South to border states.

Few citizens, however, actually believed that the problem would become a real one here in Texas.

These optimistic individuals were shocked out of their complacency when violence broke out as close to home as Houston and San Antonio in the form of sit-down lunch counter strikes.

Students of both high school and college level have been agitators in several of the previous instances as well as many prejudiced adults.

The younger generation, those who will be the leaders of this country in a few years, now have an opportunity to start making the country in which they will be living and working a more tolerant one. If they don't want racial strife and violence to continue throughout their adulthood, they can start correcting the situation now by proper actions both in and out of classrooms.

A show of tolerance and fair play on the part of students might enlighten prejudiced adults who grew up in a different era and who won't admit that times change.

Bible verses are read each morning in nearly all Fort Worth public schools. Three institutions of higher learning here in Fort Worth are affiliated with a religious group.

Surely, when integration makes its appearance in this city, students won't throw all these religious influences out the window. Rather, they should realize that the time has come to put their Christian principles into use.

This University already has made a start in the right direction. Four Negro students are enrolled in Brite College of the Bible at the present. "They have been very well received," according to Dr. John W. Stewart, assistant professor of Old Testament.

Fort Worth could avoid the racial problems of other cities if its citizens would follow their Christian upbringings and realize that all men are equal in the sight of God.

An American history teacher in one of Fort Worth's high school remarked to her students recently: "The Jews are discriminated against in the East; the Japanese and Chinese are mistreated on the West Coast; the Mexicans are downtrodden in South Texas, and in the deep South it's the Negroes.

"And we call ourselves a Christian nation!"

A&M—
 There's skullduggery afoot, according to the Battalion, and the cause of it seems to be a group of crazy, mixed-up architects:

"A Playboy Pillow Party, sponsored by fourth-year students in the Division of Architecture, will offer late evening entertainment for architecture students and their guests Saturday night.

"Those attending the party should bring pillows with them, according to Gordon Barker, senior architecture major and master of ceremonies, since couples will be required to sit on the floor."

Girls, if you believe in togetherness, here's your chance!

TEXAS—

The Daily Texan ran a spring fashions section recently, which carried all sorts of information on what the well-dressed teesipper should wear:

"Where the head goes, so can go the hat . . . and what a choice of zany fun hats are in store for both sexes this spring!

"Regardless of what is in that old noggin, one thing is for sure . . . there is no limit to the chapeaus to put on it. For the mad hatter has whisked into Austin on the first breath of spring with every imaginable (and some unimaginable) shape, style and color play hat for young Texans on the go."

Yea. Well, you humor him. I'll get the handcuffs.

BAYLOR—

Don't jack around with those Baylor students! This advice came from the Lariat in a front-page crime story:

"Baylor students and alert police are responsible for two arrests made Wednesday, W. C. Perry, dean of men, has announced.

"Dean Perry stated that about 2 p.m. Wednesday three Baylor women got the car license number of an 'undesirable character' near the campus. Police were able to trace the man and have him jailed."

We wondered about Baylor's characters.

According to a columnist for the Lariat, there is a similarity between three schools in the Southwest Conference:

"A unique situation exists between Baylor, A&M and Texas U.—A&M gets the women (bless their little antlers) and Texas gets the transfers who want to know how the other half lives. One of the big boys referred to A&M as 'Sing-Sing-on-the-Brazos,' Texas as 'Sin-Sin-on-the-Colorado' and Baylor as 'Jerusalem-on-the-Brazos.'"

Of course, the columnist forgot to include TCU, which would be known as "Trifling-on-the-Trinity."

Continuing, the columnist makes a comment or two on sportsmanship:

"We wonder why Baylor never won the Sportsmanship Trophy. But we win the post-game activities . . . 'There we were: Three against a thousand. Boy, how those three could fight!' Or, 'It was really close: there were two of them and only seventeen of us . . ."

"Slug, stomp, kick, claw, 'Got an Aggie, haw, haw . . ."

The columnist forgot to mention that the Aggies have a cheer of their own, similar to this:

"Rooty-foot-foot,
 "Rooty-foot-foot,
 "I'm a boy from the Institute.
 "I don't fight 'cause I've got class.
 "Yet, the guys still call me an Aggie."

Les Chanteurs Return

Series to Present Varel and Bailly

French songsters Varel and Bailly and their group of seven male singers, Les Chanteurs de Paris, will make a return engagement on the Select Series March 29.

Their performance is scheduled at 8 p.m. in Ed Landreth Auditorium. Individual tickets at $2 each will be sold on a space-available basis that evening. Parisian songwriters Andre Varel and Charly Bailly will present a number of their own compositions on the program as well as other French songs ranging from the 13th century to the present day.

The group made their American debut in 1956, and presented a second successful tour in this country in 1958, when they first appeared on the Select Series. They have been guests on such television programs as the Gary Moore and Ed Sullivan shows.

The pair met in North Africa during World War II. Varel was a practicing dentist who preferred to write poetry, and Bailly was a promising young composer and pianist. They entertained for the Free French and after the war struck out on their new songwriting career. When not busy preparing material for themselves, they have created songs for such stars as Edith Piaf, Patachou, Lena Horne and Jacqueline Francois.

Four Ballets To Be Shown On TV Tape

The 1960 production of four original ballets here will be presented on video tape in four Texas cities during March and April. It was shown in Wichita Falls March 20 and will be shown in Amarillo, March 27.

Scheduled in April are shows in Houston and San Antonio.

The video tape was made by the television department, headed by James G. Saunders.

The ballet department's production includes "Ballet Vignettes," a classical ballet; "Burmese Festival Dance," set to music of former student Lewis Gillis; "Till Eulenspiegel's Merry Pranks," to the music of Richard Strauss and an oriental fantasy, "La Peri," with music by Dukas.

The dances were choreographed by ballet master David Preston and Harvey Hysell, graduate student from New Orleans.

NOW MORE THAN EVER

He Is a Versatile Sideman

Duke, Jazz Musician, Is Man of Many Professions

Osborn Duke, professor of English, is the unique combination of author, lecturer, jazz lover, musician and family man.

A product of Fort Worth, he has spent much of his 35 years writing, teaching, playing the slide trombone, working on three degrees and, more recently, being a father.

Duke, the son of Mrs. O. B. Duke 2113 Kenley, attended Arlington Heights High School in Fort Worth, where he began his musical career.

During World War II, he played with the Sammy Kaye orchestra and the United States Army Band, as well as playing for the USO shows of Archie Gardner, Bob Burns and Jinx Falkenberg. Duke spent a year and a half overseas, mostly in Italy.

After the War, he returned to Fort Worth and entered TCU, receiving his B.A. degree in 1950. Going on to Columbia University in New York, he was awarded an M.A. in English Drama in 1952. Later he received his Ph.D. degree in American Literature.

While in New York, he worked as a TV writer and publishing house editor, and taught for three years at Columbia.

"Sideman", Duke's first novel, has been described as an important sociological document of jazz by critic Max Lerner. "Duke is to be congratulated on the success with which he has transformed so indigenous an American product to the written page," wrote Lerner.

The novel deals with a young

Texas musician and his adventures in the world of jazz.

Maxwell Geisman of the Nation magazine wrote: "... This is real, the way things are, and one can compare it with Dylan Thomas' literary version of the same emotions."

His other literary achievements include "Struttin' With Some Barbecue," which appeared in Best American Short Stories of 1953 and a novelette, "Oh, Jazz," published in Eddie Condon's Treasure of Jazz Stories.

Mrs. Duke is also a native of Fort Worth. The former Myra Lee McNeil, she met Duke while they were both in the University. They were married in 1950 in New York.

An accomplished singer, Mrs. Duke studied at the Julliard School of Music in New York. She has sung with the Ray Charles Singers and did background singing for Cinerama. Also she represented Texas twice in the nationwide voice recitals in Carnegie Hall.

Symphonic Band Finishes Its Tour of West Texas

The 64-member University Symphonic Band winds up its West Texas tour today by presenting concerts in Electra, Seymour and Graham.

The group, conducted by Director James A. Jacobsen, performed in Phillips, Pampa and Amarillo on Monday and in Wichita Falls yesterday.

Master of ceremonies for the concerts is Jim Grey, Butler, Pa. senior. Featured performers include soprano soloist Mary Alice Dammann of Sweetwater; Lawrence Wheelless, El Campo, baritone horn; and John Giordano, Fort Worth senior, saxophone. Giordano also is student director of the band.

This spring marks the 55th year that the Horned Frog Band has been in existence, having been formed originally in 1905.

Jacobsen has been band director here since 1955, coming from Midwestern University in Wichita Falls.

There are now four distinct band units in the University. The 120-member Marching and Concert Bands, the Symphonic Band, and the Stage Band, which is made up of some 18 students.

Women Ask For Repeat Of Seminar

"A repeat of the Investment Seminar for Women will be held March 28," according to the Dr. James Whitsett of the finance department.

Whitsett added, "There have been many requests that the seminar be repeated."

Requests for another seminar came from mothers of small children and career women who couldn't attend the session held Feb. 27.

The March 28 session will include the same material, but arrangements have been made to complete the program by 3:15 p.m. in the interest of mothers of school children.

Speakers for the seminar include Jack Hagood of Uhlmann and Benjamin, George Jones Jr. of Bach and Co., Edward E. Stoker from the Continental National Bank, Edgar E. Shults of Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith and Robert Ward, president of Fort Worth Securities Dealers.

Moderator will be G. R. Key of Frances I DuPont and Co.

Reservations may be obtained for $5 from G. R. Key at 265 W. 10th street or from the School of Business.

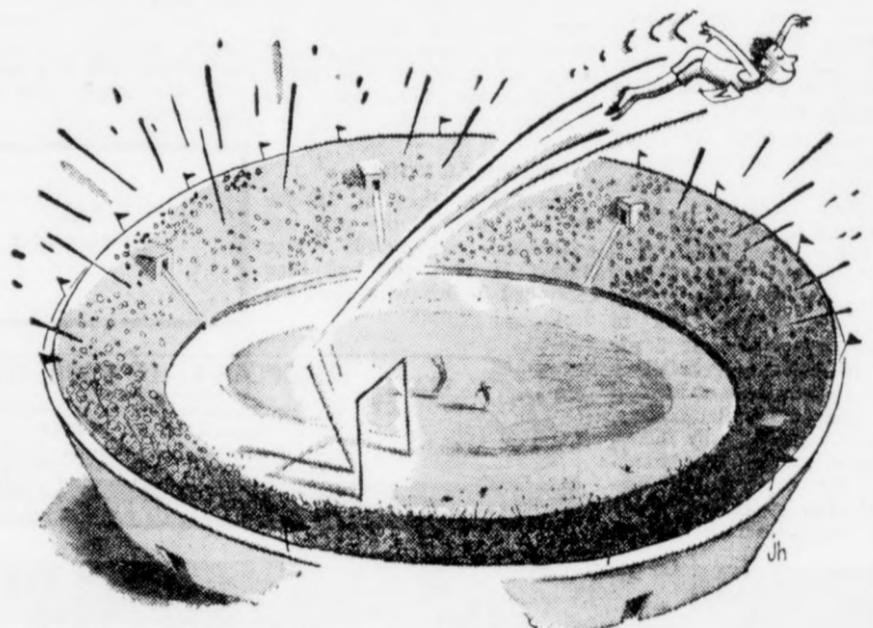

'Martin Luther' Shows Thursday

The film, "Martin Luther", featuring an All-European cast, will be shown in the Student Center Ballroom Thursday at 6:45 p.m.

Admission will be twenty-five cents with all proceeds to go to the Community Chest.

Do You Think for Yourself?

(DIG THIS QUIZ AND SEE WHERE YOU RATE*)

The statement "It's the exception that proves the rule" is (A) a lame excuse for dumb rules; (B) an argument for doing what you please; (C) evidence of a healthy disrespect for absolutes.

A B C

You've just met a girl whose beauty impresses you enormously. Do you (A) ask for a date at once? (B) say, "Aren't you lucky you found me?" (C) find out what she likes to do?

A B C

A rich uncle offers to give you his big, expensive vintage-type limousine. Do you (A) say, "How about a sports car, Unk?" (B) decline the offer, knowing the big old boat would keep you broke maintaining it? (C) take the car and rent it for big occasions?

A B C

A manufacturer asks you to pick the kind of filter cigarette he should make to win the most smokers. Would you recommend (A) a cigarette whose weak taste makes smokers think it has a strong filter? (B) a cigarette with a strong taste and a filter put on just for effect? (C) a cigarette with a filter so good it allows use of richer tobaccos?

A B C

Smokers who think for themselves depend on their own judgment — not fad or opinion.

That's why they usually choose Viceroy. They've found the filter's so good Viceroy can use richer tobaccos for better taste.

Is this why they say, "Viceroy has a thinking man's filter... a smoking man's taste"? Answer to that one is: Change to Viceroy and see for yourself!

*If you checked (C) in three out of four questions, you're swift on the pickup, and you really think for yourself!

Owls Slide Past Frogs, 10-9, In SW Conference Opener

By SANDY McSPADEN
The favored Frogs came close to starting off the SWC baseball race on the right foot Saturday, but a two-run uprising in the bottom of the ninth inning gave the Rice Owls a thin, 10-9 victory in Houston.

The Purple nine had just taken a 9-8 lead earlier in the ninth, via a 360-foot blast over the center field fence by George Banda to score Ted Crenwelge ahead of him.

But Rice, with SWC batting champ Richard Kristinik homering over the left field fence, came back to tie the count. Alvin Hartman, 6-4 slugger, followed Kristinik with a shot between shortstop Banda and third baseman Leon Baze for a single.

Jim Fox followed Hartman with a screaming double to score Hartman and end the ball game.

Earlier, Rice took a three-run lead in the first inning, through the courtesy of the Frog defense. All runs were unearned.

Jimmy Walker kept the Frogs alive with a home run in the second inning to cut the lead to 3-1. The Christians then pulled out in front with a five-run uprising in the fourth to lead, 7-4. Banda led off the big frame with a walk. Charles Franklin singled to left and Leon Baze drew a free pass to load the bases.

Then Marshall Harris scored a pair of runs with a single to right and Buddy Iles singled in Baze. A sacrifice fly by Walker to left scored Harris and Doug Moore chased Iles home with a single to left.

Paul Timme, an all-SWC southpaw last year, threw only one pitch, but it was enough to give him his first victory in conference play this season.

Phil Reynolds, who relieved Darrel Read and failed to get a man out in the ninth, was the loser.

Rice got their ten runs on 14 hits and three Frog errors while the Purples gathered in nine runs on nine hits and two Owl miscues.

TRACKSTERS MISS

Best performance of the day went to Jimmy Weaver, former North Texas sprinter, who beat Bobby Morrow, hailed as "the world's fastest human," twice during the day.

Weaver took the 100 meter race in 10.5 seconds and had a 21.0 c-w-cking in the 200 meter run, to overshadow Morrow, Bill Woodhouse and Eddie Southern in two of the special races.

Next in sight for the tracksters is the Texas Relays, April 1-2 at Austin. Whether the Frogs can break out of their cellar spot or not, may be a good question.

Bothered by bad weather all year, the Purples finally have a chance to get down to serious practice and try to follow the example of Linne, who is the only member of the team that has been a consistent point getter.

THE SEARCH FOR BRIDEY SIGAFOOS

It was a dullish evening at the Theta house. The pledges were down in the catacombs; the actives were sacked out upstairs, not doing much of anything. Mary Ellen Krumbald was sticking pins in an effigy of the housemother; Evelyn Zinsmaster was welding a manhole cover to her charm bracelet; Algelica McKeesport was writing a letter to Fabian in blood. Like I say, it was a dullish evening.

Suddenly Dolores Vladnay stood up and stamped her foot. "Chaps," she said to her sorors, "this is too yawn-making! Let's do something gay and mad and gasp-making. Anybody got an idea?"

"No," said the sorors, shaking their little sausage curls.

"Think, chaps, think!" said Dolores and passed Marlboro cigarettes to everybody, for if there ever was a smoke to start you thinking, it is mild and flavorful Marlboro! Things come clear when you puff that good, clean smoke through that fine filter—knots untie, dilemmas dissolve, problems evaporate, cobwebs vanish, fog disperses, and the benevolent sun pours radiance on a new and dewy world. Oh, happy world! Oh, Marlboro! Oh, soft pack! Oh, flip-top box! Oh, get some already!

"I have brown eyes and I weigh 3200 pounds!"

Now Geraldine Quidnunc, her drooping brain cells revived by a good Marlboro, leapt up and cried, "Oh, I have a perfect gasser of an idea! Let's hypnotize somebody!"

"Oh, capital!" cried the sorors. "Oh, tingle-making!"

At this point, in walked a young pledge named Alice Blue-gown. "Excuse me, mistresses," said she, tugging her forelock, "I have finished making your beds, doing your homework, and ironing your pleats. Will there be anything else?"

"Yes," snapped Dolores Vladnay. "When I count to three, you will be hypnotized."

"Yes, excellency," said Alice, bobbing a curtsy.

"One, two, three," said Dolores.

Alice promptly went into a trance.

"Go back," said Dolores, "back into your childhood. Go back to your fifth birthday, back to your birth, to before your birth, to your last incarnation... Now, who are you?"

"My name is Bridey Sigafos," said Alice. "The year is 1818, and I am in County Cork."

"Coo!" said the sorors.

"How old are you?" asked Dolores.

"I am seven," said Alice.

"Where is your mother?" asked Dolores.

"I don't know," said Alice. "She got sold at the fair last year."

"Coo!" said the sorors.

"Tell us about yourself," said Dolores.

"I am five feet tall," said Alice. "I have brown eyes, and I weigh 3200 pounds."

"Coo!" said the sorors.

"Isn't that rather heavy for a girl?" said Dolores.

"Who's a girl?" said Alice. "I'm a black and white guernsey."

"Coo!" said the sorors.

"Moo!" said Bridey Sigafos.

We, the makers of Marlboro, have our doubts about this story. About cigarettes, however, we hold these truths to be self-evident: Marlboro for filter smokers, Phillip Morris for non-filter smokers. Try some.

This is the B-52. Advanced as it may be, this airplane has one thing in common with the first war-galleys of ancient Egypt...and with the air and space vehicles of the future. Someone must chart its course. Someone must navigate it.

For certain young men this presents a career of real executive opportunity. Here, perhaps you will have the chance to master a profession full of meaning, excitement and rewards... as a Navigator in the U. S. Air Force.

To qualify for Navigator training as an Aviation Cadet you must be an American citizen between 19 and 26½—single, healthy and intelligent. A high school diploma is required, but some college is highly desirable. Successful completion of the training program leads to a commission as a Second Lieutenant...and your Navigator wings.

If you think you have what it takes to measure up to the Aviation Cadet Program for Navigator training, see your local Air Force Recruiter. Or clip and mail this coupon.

City Police to 'Aid' Sigs For Benefit Game Today

Even the Fort Worth police department will take part in the second annual Sigma Chi-Alpha Delta Phi basketball game, scheduled for the practice gym at 4 p.m. today.

Six local officers have agreed to lend their handcuffs to the Sig team, to be used as a handicap against their "less aggressive" opponents.

Earlier, the Sigs had planned to buy "kid's cuffs," but found that they didn't fit too well. That's when the police department stepped in and said they would lend a hand—or limit the hand, as the case may be.

The Sigs are eager for the game to begin, but the ADPhis are taking things calmly. The girls won last year and figure they can do it again.

Last year, the Sigs found themselves handicapped by boxing gloves, which allowed the ADPhis to waltz to an easy victory. Now, the Sigs claim the handcuffs will give them an opportunity for sweet revenge.

The game will be played according to girls' rules with one exception, unlimited dribble will be allowed. Under the regular rules, the ball can only be dribbled twice before a shot is made. Also, under the rules, six players will emerge on the court from each team and the ball will be tossed in from mid-court following each basket.

Rev. James Farrar, director of campus youth religious activities, and Ben Proctor, history professor, have agreed to referee the contest which is being staged for Campus Chest.

Tickets for the game are still on sale for 25 cents and may be purchased from any Sig or ADPhi. Tickets also may be purchased at the door. All proceeds will go to Campus Chest.

TCU Gains Two Football Recruits From Port Arthur

Football recruiting continues in high gear as Vernon Hallbeck, Frog coach, announced the signing of two more prize linemen for the Wogs.

Inking their names on letters of intent, were Clifford Taft and Chester LaPoint of Port Arthur High School, both named to all-district squads for the past two seasons.

Taft is a 210-pound, 6-1 guard, vice president of his class and is a member of the National Honor Society.

LaPoint, a 198-pound 6-0 guard, has been cited by many as one of the outstanding linemen in the state, having turned in an excellent performance in the quarterfinal game, pitting Port Arthur against Corpus Christi Ray.

"We're really fortunate to get these two boys," claimed Hallbeck. "Not only are they well coached on fundamentals, but they're the first players we've landed from that area since getting Hal Lambert in 1949."

Frog Tracksters Miss Again

By DANA CAMPBELL

TCU has its best mile relay team of all time, but the Frogs just can't pry open the door to points.

At the San Angelo Relays, a foursome of Sam Ketcham, Alfred Heizer, Kelley Weslake and Reagan Gassaway turned in a 3:14.1, the fastest time ever recorded by a Frog cinder squad. Even with anchor man Gassaway clocking a 48.4, the Frogs just couldn't annex any points.

However many strange things happened last weekend at San Angelo. Mike Howell, hailed as the finest pole vaulter here since Olympic champion Earl Meadows, failed to carry 13 feet—and failed to grab any points.

Bobby Bernard, sophomore hurdler, turned in a 14.7 in the highs, .2 of second letter than he did in the Southwestern Recreation Meet where he finished fourth. But Bobby finished last, as Texas' Ray Cunningham breezed to a 14.1, eclipsing the old record of 14.6.

Bernard almost beat Cunningham in the preliminaries. "I was ahead after the first eight hurdles," he relates, "but he passed me and won." Bernard's time in the prelims was 14.9.

A slight surprise came when Jerry Spearman picked up a point in the broad jump. He leap-

Thursday League Tightens As Geologists Meet DSF

By JACK HARKRIDER

Abe's Aces clowned their way past the Pete Wright Knights, 52-35, Monday night to cinch a tie for the Monday Intramural Basketball League crown.

Putting on their usual Globetrotter-style show for the sideline spectators, the Aces toyed with the Knights before shutting them out in the second half, behind the shooting of "Sonny" Gibbs and Larry Dawson.

Recording the sixth win of their fifth undefeated season, the Aces were paced by Gibbs with 16 points, while Gabe Cunningham recorded 14 tallies for the Knights.

In what was to be the big game of the night, the Thumpers pounded the Mavericks, 65-42, to take undisputed second place in the league standings.

Dana Campbell led the Thumpers' scoring with 24 points while team mate George Kirkpatrick dumped in 18. Sixteen of Campbell's points came in the first half, while all but two of Kirkpatrick's were recorded in the last half.

Earlier, Tom Brown stunned the Hosses (B) with a 42-38 upset, to knock the Hosses out of a third place tie.

Freddie Floyd scorched the backboards with 22 buckets, to take scoring honors for Tom Brown, and Rex Allen led the Hosses' scoring with 16 points.

Percy's Pumpers maintained their third-place berth Monday by downing the Motormouths, 44-18.

Jerry Percifield, captain of the team, Craig Mason and John Paine tied for scoring honors with 11 points each for the Pumpers. Marvin Black led the Motormouths with seven tallies.

Monday night, Abe's Aces will close out their season with the Mavericks at 6 p.m., while the Thumpers take on the Pete

Wright Knights at 7 p.m. At 8 p.m. Percy's Pumpers will meet Tom Brown. The final game will pit the Hosses against the Motormouths at 9 p.m.

Thursday League action got off to a good start with the DSF Crusaders squeezing past the AFROTC Falcons, 35-34, in the first game of the night.

John McKenzie led the Falcons' scoring with 11 points and Jim Rudd gathered in ten buckets for the Crusaders.

The Newman Club Cardinals snapped a three-game losing streak by downing the Vigilantes, 30-23, in the second game of the night.

George Banda, also an All-SWC shortstop for the Frog team, led the Cardinals' scoring with 10 points, while Jim Lynch of the Vigilantes also had ten points.

In other action, the Hosses (A) coasted to an easy 38-15 decision over the Army ROTC.

Tom Barton, intramural basketball director, and Ronnie Moore led the scoring for the Hosses with 12 points each, and Dan Ives paced the Army with ten tallies.

Tomorrow night the war between the services takes place, with the AFROTC meeting the Army ROTC at 6 p.m., while the Hosses are slated to vie with the Vigilantes at 7 p.m.
