Student Center Celebrates Birthday

Party Features Concert Big Cake, College Quiz

By ANN ENGLISH

Celebrating the fifth birthday of the Student Center, tonight's festivities will be highlighted by the College Bowl Quiz, cake cutting ceremony and a pop concert by the Stage Band.

The College Bowl Quiz, a contest between a student team and a professor team, will begin in the Ballroom at 7 p.m.

The "quiz kids" on the panel will include R. B. (Butch) Reeves, Brownwood junior; Mike Reed, Midland junior; Miss Dorothy Kemper, Phoenix, Ariz. junior and Roger Ramsey, Crosby senior.

The professor team stars Dr. James Vardaman, professor of history; Dr. Murray Rohman, professor of personnel administration in the School of Business; Dr. Allan MacLaine, English professor and Dr. George Fowler, professor of religion.

Moderating the quiz will be Chuck Downing, Kansas City, Mo. junior. Miss Barbara Civitts, Monterrey, Mex. freshman will keep time and Miss Peggy Keenan, Clovis, N. M. freshman, will be the scorekeeper.

The College Bowl will be a series of questions with the student and professor panels trying for the fastest and most nearly accurate answers.

Miss Pat Powell, Groves junior, commented "This quiz is not fixed and the winning side will be chosen fairly."

After the College Bowl, Dr. D. Ray Lindley will cut the Student Center's fifth birthday cake. The first two pieces will be served to Miss Anne Matlock, Ft. Smith, Ark. senior, and Jerry Johnson, Arlington Heights, Ill. senior. Miss Matlock is Activities Council director and Johnson is the president of Student Congress.

Baked by Kleinschmidts bakery, the cake is an exact replica of the Student Center.

Music for the cake cutting ceremony will be furnished by the Stage Band. The hospitality committee of AC will serve the cake with punch.

April 7 will conclude the affair, with a free flick and sock hop.

"The Left-Handed Gun" starring Paul Newman will be shown, plus extra comedies in the Ballroom at 7 p.m.

The Straight Jackets will play for the sock hop. The combo recently won the Talentsville, USA contest in Ft. Worth, sponsored by KFJZ.

A general Electric clock radio, dinners for two at the Chicken Shack, El Chico's, Golden Fin, Colonial and the House of Mole', three men's and three women's watches, a thermos outing kit and various other gifts were given as door prizes at the bingo party Tuesday. Forty cakes were given to the winners of the games.

April 4 featured a special meal in the Cafeteria and free coffee in the Snack Bar.

Clowns and balloons have been used throughout the week to add to the circus theme.

The party was planned and directed by the Activities Council. Miss Powell, and the special events committee correlated the festivities.

Another clown seen in the Cafeteria Monday evening was Louis Cummings, Rosenberg junior. Skiff Photos by George Rains.

1960-61 Total Is 16

Who's Who Lists Six New Names

With the addition of six new names to the rolls, the University's representation in "Marquis-Who's Who in America for 1960-61" is brought up to 16.

The new names added are Ike H. Harrison, dean of the School of Business; Elmer Henson, dean of Brite College of the Bible; James Moudy, dean of the Graduate School; Librarian Claud Glenn Sparks; D. Wayne Rowland, chairman of the journalism department; and Granville Walker, minister of the University Christian Church and member of the University's executive committee.

According to the geographical index of "Marquis-Who's Who in America for 1958-59," ten University professors and administrative officials already are listed in the world famous book.

These include Colby D. Hall, dean emeritus of Brite College; President D. Ray Lindley; A. T. DeGroot, professor of church history; Lucy Harris, dean of Harris College of Nursing; Cortell K. Holsapple, dean of the Evening College; Jerome A. Moore, dean of Add-Ran College of Arts and Sciences; Joseph Morgan, chairman of the physics department; and Austin L. Porterfield chairman of the sociology department.

"Marquis-Who's Who" is a biennial publication giving biographical information about prominent people on the American scene.

The first volume was the 1899-1900 edition published by the A. N. Marquis Company of Chicago.

As stated in its introduction, the purpose of the book "is to include the names, not necessarily of the best, but rather of the best known men and women in all lines of useful and reputable achievement—names much in public eye, not locally, but generally."

Two categories are given as the basis for selection. The first is for people who have achieved special prominence "in creditable lines of effort," while the second is for people arbitrarily chosen on account of the position they hold.

More than 40,000 copies of the latest Marquis-Who's Who have been printed. These copies will be sent around the world to libraries and other institutions where they will be used as reference books.

Names are dropped from the listings when the persons either die or lose their present high reputations.

Work Camp in Scotland Heads Mondy's Summer

Lewis Mondy, Dallas sophomore, has been selected to attend an ecumenical work camp at Dublane, Scotland, this summer.

Selection was made by the National Christian Federation, which chooses applicants on the basis of past experience, language skills, and recommendations.

At the camp, Mondy will have the opportunity to promote Christian fellowship among people from throughout the world.

He will spend the entire summer in Europe. Landing at Le Harve, France, he plans to travel by foot or bicycle through France, Austria, Switzerland, Germany, Belgium and Holland.

Mondy will stay at youth hostels located throughout Europe. These well supervised establishments encourage travel by young people by maintaining clean dormitories and by serving wholesome meals.

He will stay at the work camp from July 22 to August 21, devoting his time to some type of labor, such as the construction of a community center or playground.

In the off hours during the month, special tours will be arranged for the travelers to meet with educators and government officials of the area.

Mondy will receive no salary, however, he will be orientated in New York, and will get a reduced rate on the round trip ship fare. At the camp he will have free room, board and insurance for the month. He figures his summer will cost about $1,000.

Mondy will be glad when one phase of his trip preparation is over—the shots, six in all, which he must have before leaving the country.

M. E. Sadler Will Speak At Gathering

Chancellor M. E. Sadler will be main speaker at the Charter Day dinner April 11 in the Student Center Ballroom.

Pre-dinner refreshments will be served at 6:30 p.m. in the second floor lobby with the dinner set for 7 p.m.

Tickets are $2 each and may be obtained at the ex-students office.

Committee's Final Meeting To Be Held

The final meeting this semester of the Committee for Greater TCU will be held at 2:45 p.m. tomorrow in Rogers Hall Auditorium.

Student Body President Jerry Johnson, Arlington Heights, Ill. senior, has announced that the program of this meeting will consist of a report on the duties and time requirements of Student Body officers. This meeting is of special importance to students planning to run for office in the spring elections.

Johnson will also report on this year's Congress activities and accomplishments, as well as his ideas for the coming year and his thoughts on the future of the committee.

Choir Will Present Faure's 'Requiem'

The chancel choir and student chorale of University Christian Church will present "Requiem" by Gabriel Faure at 7:30 p.m. Sunday.

Three short anthems also will be included in the music service.

The groups will be accompanied by an ensemble of stringed instruments played by University orchestra members and harpist Miss Katherine Branfield of the Fort Worth Symphony and Emmet Smith, instructor in organ.

Band Concert, 'Hamlet' Scheduled on Campus

By J'NELL ROGERS
On Campus This Week

Professors and students will match wits at 7 p.m. today in the Ballroom in the annual College Bowl tilt.

The forums committee of the Activities Council will present a free flick at 7 p.m. tomorrow night in the Ballroom. Paul Newman and Lita Milan will star in "The Left-Handed Gun." The western movie is the story of Billy the Kid.

A dance will follow the show. "Hamlet," a motion picture which has received five academy awards, is scheduled for a 2:30 p.m. appearance in the SC Ballroom Sunday. Sir Lawrence Olivier and Jean Simmons star in this classic film.

Band Concert

Music lovers will be interested in the Symphonic Band Spring Concert which will be held in Ed Landreth Auditorium at 3 p.m. Sunday.

The Oscar Hammerstein production "Showboat" will be the flick at 6:45 p.m. Tuesday night in the SC Ballroom.

Andrew Carnegie

Also Sunday will be the last show of a TV series produced by the editors of American Heritage magazine.

"Andrew Carnegie" will appear on NBC-TV Sunday evening. It is a historical drama based on true incidents in the life of this prominent American.

Ice Capades

"Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" will come to town Tuesday when the annual Ice Capades show begins its visit to Fort Worth. Will Rogers Auditorium will be the scene of the fairy tale recreation (on ice, mind you).

The fabulous ice show will be in town until April 17.

Home From the Hill

Starting its second week tomorrow at the Worth is an adult drama about a prominent Texas family with a few skeletons in its closet.

Robert Mitchum and Eleanor Parker are good as father and mother of 17-year-old George Hamilton. Hamilton is a promising young star and Laura Pat-

The real star of the show and the one with the most sympathetic role is another newcomer, handsome George Peppard.

Cast as the unwanted illegitimate son of Mitchum, Peppard does an excellent job of portraying an awfully nice guy.

Black Orpheus

Opening today at the Bowie is a foreign film called one of the year's 10 best by NY newspaper reviewers. "Black Orpheus" is a Portuguese film which was nominated for an Academy Award as the best foreign film of the year.

In Eastman color, the show is about a young Brazilian girl named Eurydice who arrives from the country to stay with her city cousin during carnival time in Rio de Janeiro.

She falls for handsome trolley car conductor, Orpheus.

The film is in Portuguese and has English dubbed in.

Sink the Bismarck

Johnny Horton prepared the way for war picture "Sink the Bismarck," with his popular ballad of the same name.

Currently at the Palace, the movie stars Kenneth More and Dana Wynter.

The Stiff

Congratulations are due to the SDX fraternity on campus which spent spare hours putting together a hilarious little scandal sheet called the "Stiff".

"Yellow journalism" made its appearance on campus as an April fool project in the form of yellow, pink, green, blue, orange and white Stiffs.

Maybe they won't wait until next April 1 to do another issue.

Paint Stolen

Vandals Hit Shop, Paint Security Car

Sunday afternoon vandals broke into the maintenance department's warehouse and shop building located behind the firing range.

"Nothing of great value was taken," said L. W. Ramsey, director of buildings and grounds. "The only things stored in the building were old motors, heaters, and some old equipment. It would have taken a winch truck to remove anything from there," he added.

Only things missing were a couple of cans of paint from the shop," said M. A. Doss, grounds superintendent.

Security Police know where the paint is though. Sometime Sunday night or early Monday morning someone used the paint to write "Froggie Police" on the side of the campus police car.

Monday morning, the maintenance department removed the paint from the car with chemicals.

Security Police discovered the break-in Sunday afternoon. They say the building was entered sometime after noon Sunday because they had checked by the building at noon.

Authorities suspect only "vandals."

Staff Assistants

Students Do Library Chores

The full time staff cannot operate Mary Coutts Burnett Library alone.

The Library in addition to its staff carries as many as 25 student assistants to help them. Student assistants reshelve all the bound magazines left lying around. They put up all the books that are being checked in and out constantly.

Most assistants work 16 or 17 hours a week. Their hours must be enough so that help is available all hours which the Library is open.

Even holidays don't provide a rest because the Library stays open much of the time, although on a special schedule.

The students mend, reshelve, label and check out books to students. Some work in the reference department and others work with government documents.

Both graduate students and undergraduates work as assistants.

Many of the students begin working in the Library as freshmen and continue until graduation. Because of this, there isn't much turnover, according to C. G. Sparks, Librarian. There are only four or five new ones at each semester.

Often students like the work and decide to continue in the library business.

In fact, several of the present Library full time staff are graduates who worked in the Library when students here.

That must prove that the love of books and libraries seems to stay with one.

Miss Emily Garnett, reference librarian, worked in the Library as a student, as did Mrs. Nell Ornee, loan librarian and Miss Mary Charlotte Faris, assistant reference librarian.

Nor is the Mary Coutts Burnett Library the only one on campus to employ student assistants. The Fine Arts Library has six student helpers.

It's inevitable, but almost every book needs a little repair now and then and this means another job for student assistants in the Library. They are Misses Joyce Lumpkin, Houston sophomore and Nancy Howell, Fort Worth freshman.

Shelving the books every day is no problem actually, but it is time-consuming, which Jack Bailey, San Antonio freshman, will gladly admit.

Dr. Matheny to Speak

Dr. W. Guy Matheny, director of Human Factors Group of Bell Helicopter Corp. and adjunct professor here, will speak to the psychology colloquium April 11 in the Faculty Center.

A social hour at 7:30 p.m. will open the session.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

No Turnstiles in the Library

Most university libraries have some sort of checking out system in which persons leaving the library must show all books and materials for examination.

Turnstiles are often employed in this checking operation, preventing the student from passing through before his books are examined.

Fortunately turnstiles and super market tactics have not been necessary in Mary Coats Burnett Library.

Since the new Library opened in September, 1958, all those using its facilities have been very cooperative at the checking desk. Little if any resistance to checking has been shown by faculty members and students.

The Library staff is to be congratulated on the courtesy and efficiency they have shown at the checking desk.

Students also come in for praise. Their cooperation has made the open stacks system in the Library a success.

However, students might remember that it is up to the checker to examine all books and materials for library property and make sure it has been properly checked out. Typewriter cases and zipper notebooks in particular must be opened for a quick inspection.

This operation can be hurried along if the student sets all his books and other property on the desk and leaves the inspection to the checker. Some students have been reluctant to do this.

Obvious personal property such as women's purses and handbags are not examined.

With continued cooperation from all who use the Library, strict, and perhaps humiliating, inspection methods will never be necessary here.

Up and Over the Top

Campus Chest this year over-shot its goal by about $500. About $2,500 has been raised. The goal was $2,000.

Of this $2,500, 25 per cent will go to the TCU Speech and Hearing Clinic, 25 per cent to World University Services, 25 per cent to Jarvis Christian College, 15 per cent to aid foreign students here, and 10 per cent for adoption of a refugee child.

Thanks to the hard-working organizations and clubs on campus, this has been the largest amount Campus Chest has ever raised.

Free for All

Busted or broke financially, you still don't need to peep through the knothole to see Southwest Conference baseball at its best this spring.

Just as in the fall for football games, a student can use his activity card to gain admission to the Froggie baseball games played on the diamond just south of the Stadium.

The tiny card with your mug on it is good for any athletic event which is University sponsored and that includes the baseball clashes here on the campus.

So, if you are still just as broke, but seeking some relaxation between term papers, you might grab the activity card and take in the Frogs while they indulge in the national pastime with other conference foes.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"HOW CAN YOU GIVE ME AN 'F' ON THIS PAPER WHEN YOU ADMIT YOU COULDN'T EVEN READ IT!"

SW Campus Confidential

By JACK HARKRIDER

A&M—
The Battalion, suffering the space problem that plagues all newspapers, often resorts to little fillers that can be a source of amusement from time to time. For example, here's one entitled, "Fabulous Dressing:"

"You can concoct a fabulous Thousand Island dressing by adding chili sauce, drained pickle relish, sieved hard-cooked egg and diced canned pimiento (drained) to plain mayonnaise."

And if you put it between two hunks of bread, you'll have a typical Student Center hamburger.

TECH—
Situating in a dry county, Texas Tech students usually have a small problem in obtaining "liquid refreshment." Sometimes, the problem can become bigger than expected, as reported by the Toreador:

"Four high-flying Texas Tech students were apprehended Friday near Dimmitt as they prepared to load a plane with liquor, but another plane got away with the same stunt Saturday."

Which goes to show that there's more than one way to get high.

SMU—
The Campus reports that their school is suffering from a rash of crimes. The latest caper involved the beating and robbing of an engineering student by two assailants, who took the student's car and $18.

The story went on to tell of an earlier disturbance, concerning an obviously deranged man:

Earlier in the year, an SMU coed was approached, in what seemed to be a rape attempt, by a man police call the 'Nude Dude.' The 'Dude,' is called such because he is wanted by University Park police on several charges of indecent exposure."

While he isn't quite so drastic in his actions, we have a similar character on our campus who is referred to as the "Bare Square."

BAYLOR—
The Lariat reports of a novel way to raise funds for a class banquet:

"The sophomore class is seeking rummage items to sell Saturday. Proceeds will go toward the freshman-sophomore banquet."

Due to an overabundance of the commodity, no more ex-boy or girl friends can be accepted for the sale.

It seems there's a big push for education on the Baylor campus, with both the governor of Texas and the mayor of Waco joining in the drive:

"Gov. Price Daniel has designated this week as Adult Education Week in Texas and Mayor Madison Clement of Waco has proclaimed 'Waco Literacy Week' in deference to the second annual Texas Literacy Conference which meets at Baylor today and Saturday."

They couldn't have picked a better place to have it unless they held it at Aggieville.

The article continues: "In his proclamation, Governor Daniel says: 'We still face the fact that more than one half of the people on earth are adult functional illiterates. (Whatever that means). At least 10 million of those individuals are American citizens.'"

Which roughly corresponds to the number of faculty members in the United States.

THE LEDGER

Communist or Not?

By BETH MORRIS

Making an entry in The Ledger this week is Miss J'Nell Rogers:

Recent Air Force attacks against the National Council of Churches have angered several officials here.

The national church group is composed of 38 million Protestants from 33 denominations. The Air Force accused them of having communists within these groups.

"The charges are almost without foundation," says Lewis Saunders of the Council of Churches for the Fort Worth area.

He adds that the charges are made by irresponsible people outside the church. Ministers who have been dismissed were the agitators in some cases.

"Newspapers, in order to sell their papers, play on conflict. The charges are put on the front page but our answers to those charges are pushed to the back pages of the paper," he says.

This is questionable.

Saunders says that there are no Communists in the National Council. The technique used to attack the group is communistic, he adds.

"This is the same technique which communists have used first in the countries they have taken over. They discredit the established leaders and respected organizations."

Saunders has in his possession 25 to 30 editorials from all over the country saying that the attacks against the Council are ridiculous.

Chancellor M. E. Sadler is another official disturbed by the Air Force charge. Dr. Sadler was the first president of the Texas Council of Churches and has been a vice president of the National Council.

While speaking at a district convention of the Council recently, Dr. Sadler mentioned his concern over the charges.

After repeated requests from officials of the National Council, the Air Force withdrew the Bulletin which contained the offending statements. This is gratifying, but church leaders cannot get over the fact that they were so falsely charged in the first place.

Possibly the answer lies in a statement made by the current president of the National Council of Churches, Dr. Edwin T. Dahlberg, a Baptist minister in St. Louis, Mo.

"Jesus never hesitated to meet issues head on. If He had confined Himself to little Mickey Mouse morals, He would never have been heard of," he said.

The National Council does take firm and definite stands on controversial issues such as segregation and labor reform.

Perhaps the Council can get a little consolation from the statement of Christ, "Blessed are ye when men shall persecute you and may all manner of evil against you falsely for my sake."

Miss Helga Stahl, Fort Worth freshman, originally from Germany, is pictured performing a German dance routine for the Texas Association of German Students which was held here last weekend.

Theatre Arts to Stage 2 Productions

The department of theatre arts will present two plays during the summer. They are "Gigi" and "The Diary of Ann Frank," both of which were considered highly successful on the stage and in their film versions.

The productions will be staged by members of the theatre arts faculty—Henry Hammack directing "Gigi", and Miss Dolores

Tanner directing "The Diary of Anne Frank."

Try-outs will be held following the close of the current spring semester. Those interested in participating in the productions are invited to contact Dr. Walther R. Volbach, chairman of the department of theatre arts.

Haddick to be Speaker

Dr. Max R. Haddick, associate professor of journalism, has been asked to speak at the Texas Interscholastic League Press Conference in Austin during the first week in May.

This will be the fourth year that Dr. Haddick has spoken at the ILPC.

Professor Attends Meet

Miss Lorraine Sherley, professor of English, attended the South-Central Renaissance Conference at Mississippi State University recently.

Miss Sherley is Conference secretary.

Literary Journal

Descant Begins Fourth Year

Descant, TCU's literary journal, marks the beginning of its fourth year of publication with an issue including poems, fiction, and criticism by students and scholars from the United States, England, and Greece.

The journal, published three times during the academic year, is edited by Mrs. Betsy Colquitt and Miss Mabel Major of the English department. They are assisted by student editors Janet Fowler and Dave Hickey, both of Fort Worth.

Fiction in the current issue includes "My Captain" by June Welch, Dallas lawyer, and "Evening Comes in October" by Jon Barrett, creative writing student from Fort Worth.

Critical reviews in the issue are "The Limited View of 'Look Back in Anger,'" by Mrs. Colquitt, and "Moby Dick: A Riddle Propounded" by James Bratcher, a Danforth Fellow studying philosophy at Harvard University.

Descant poets include Jacques Burdick, teacher of English and American Literature at the University of Athens; Jim Corder and Ann Gossman of the English faculty; William Corrington of the Rice Institute English department; Arnold Fishman, New York poet.

Other poets are Warren Kliever, English professor at Bethany College in Lindsberg, Kansas; Peter Jones, London poet; Carl Selph, faculty member at Woman's College of the University of North Carolina; Robert Tyler, history professor at Ball State College, and TCU student Dave Hickey.

Subscription rates for Descant are $1.50 a year for the three issues. Subscriptions should be mailed to Descant, Box 801, TCU Station, Fort Worth.

Census Bureau to Count Resident College Students

The Census Bureau has announced for the first time, an effort to record information on students living on all college campuses.

Mrs. Artemisia Bryson, retired English professor in charge of University census recording, said "This is the first time any such program has been used on the campus."

Each dormitory student will be given the blanks furnished by the Federal organization, this week to fill out and return to the dorm office which, in turn, will send them in for government use.

Mrs. Bryson will begin work Tuesday afternoon in the girl's dorms and will answer questions students may have.

Every fourth student will be given an additional blank to fill out and mail directly to the Census Bureau.

Mrs. Bryson also said, "This system is more elaborate and thorough than any ever used by the Census Bureau."

The blanks that all are required to fill out will be confidential and will not be used for taxation purposes.

HISTORICAL NOTE

In 1928 a separate department of journalism was formed on campus with Prof. J. Willard Ridings as sole journalism teacher.

Doing a little spring house cleaning in the armory is smiling Cadet Corporal Charles "Chuck" Hornick, Fort Worth sophomore. Maybe he was cleaning those guns in preparation for the maneuvers at Camp Wolfers this weekend.

Who Said It?

SAL Reproduces Students' Voices

SAL has come to the campus, bringing dorm students a chance to win free prizes if they recognize their own voices.

SAL (standing for Stop, Answer, Listen) is a project of KTCU, the campus radio station. Mike Marshall, Fort Worth junior and program director of KTCU, explained the operation.

KTCU staff members have been on campus, stopping students and asking them for their name and address, plus their opinions on questions of campus and national interest.

These tape-recorded interviews are played on the air each day on KTCU—but the name and address are cut from the tape.

A person hearing his voice—or a voice he thinks is his—calls the KTCU announcer at extension 241 within 10 minutes and gives his name and address.

Because even the announcer doesn't know whose interview is being played, he turns in the name to Marshall or Russ Bloxom, Fort Worth junior. Both of them have the key to the identity of the interviewee.

If the right person called in, he gets a notice from KTCU telling him that he has won such things as free bowling games, a car wash, or a haircut.

One SAL interview is played each hour between 4 and 10 p.m. KTCU may be heard in any dorm on campus at 1025 on any standard AM radio.

Upton, Bernard Impressive At Annual Texas Relays

By DANA CAMPBELL

Two Frog trackmen left violent impressions in the Texas Relays, one with a first place finish and another with a sixth.

Jackie Upton turned on the juice in the junior college-freshman high jump, outdoing the entire high jump field. Bobby Bernard, sophomore from Graham, at least impressed Texas Tech Coach Don Sparks with his seemingly unheralded finish in the high hurdles.

"Bernard is a heck of a prospect," Sparks said. "He's a natural for the hurdles. If he really concentrated on them, there's no telling what he could do."

Sparks knows, of course, that Bernard doubles in basketball and always gets a late start in track.

Sparks has a pretty good hurdler himself at Tech in Bob Swafford, also a sophomore.

"If Bernard fully concentrated on track," Sparks continued, "and if my boy Swafford ever got in shape, this conference could have three of the nation's best hurdlers."

The third man Sparks is referring to is Texas sophomore Ray Cunningham, who whipped down the track and clocked a 13.9 in winning the highs. That time equaled the one Fred Walcott chalked up in 1948 while running at Rice.

Upton, though, was the man of the hour for the Frogs.

The paper-thin Wog from Vernon bounded over the high jump bar at 6-6, two inches better than Tech's Dub Thorton in varsity competition, and two inches shy of the Relay record set by SMU-ex Don Stewart.

Upton attempted to break Stewart's record, nearly clearing 6-8 1/4 on his first jump. But all three times he tipped the bar with his body.

The Relays were hurt badly by a cool front that blew in Saturday afternoon and by what many called bad judgment on the part of the officials of the university 100-yard dash and special 100-meters.

Texas' Ralph Alspaugh was awarded first in the University race although films clearly showed Kansas' Charley Tidwell ahead at the tape.

In the meters, officials said Bobby Morrow won.

But the verdict was an unpopular one to those who claimed Jimmy Weaver nipped the ACC-ex.

Bill Nieder thrilled the 10,000 fans that pushed their way into Memorial Stadium Saturday by flipping the shot put 65 feet, 7 inches, over a foot farther than anyone in history.

This weekend, the varsity and frosh thin-clads will travel to Denton and participate in the annual North Texas Relays. Always a drawing card for the top track teams in Texas, the Relays are expected to feature record-busting performers in many events.

Mustangs Pound Frogs, 15-7

By HARRY MORELAND

SMU's mighty Mustangs routed four Frog pitchers with a 19-hit barrage, en route to a 15-7 Southwest Conference baseball victory in Dallas Saturday afternoon.

The triumph gave the Mustangs a 2-2 record in conference play, while it was the third loss in four outings for the Purples.

SMU, with four players banging out three hits each, bombed starter Don Schmidt, Don Matthews, Bennett Shotwell and Charles Rutherford from the mound during the wild contest.

Left-hander Jerry Wolff went the distance for the winners, spacing seven hits, for his second victory in four SWC starts.

First baseman Nick Browndyke started the Ponies off on the right foot in the first inning by hitting the first pitch to left-center field for a triple. Two men later, outfielder Glynn Gregory, the Abilene flash, hit a long triple to score Browndyke.

The rest of SMU's scoring came on three runs in the second, two in the fourth, four in the fifth, two more in the sixth, and the final three in the eighth frame.

Right fielder Larry Tankersley had a big day for the Ponies, getting five RBIs on three hits, one of which was a 352-foot home run to left field in the fourth inning.

Marshall Harris was the lone Frog to pick up more than one hit, getting two singles and a pair of RBIs.

The Frogs were to meet Texas here yesterday, before hosting the Mustangs in a double duel Friday and Saturday.

"NO PARKING"

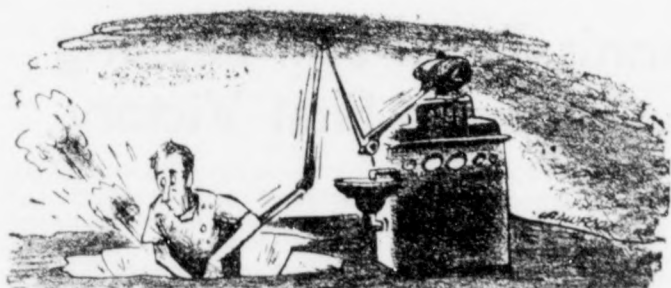

As everyone knows, the most serious problem facing American colleges today is the shortage of parking space for students' cars.

Many remedies have been offered to solve this vexing dilemma. For instance, it has been suggested that all students be required to drive small foreign sports cars which can be carried in the purse or pocket. This would, of course, solve the parking problem but it would make double dating impossible—unless, that is, the boys make the girls run along behind the car. But that is no solution either because by the time they get to the prom the girls will be panting so hard that they will wilt their corsages.

Another suggested cure for our parking woes is that all students smoke Marlboro cigarettes. At first glance this seems an excellent solution because we all know Marlboro is the cigarette which proved that flavor did not go out when filters came in—and when we sit around and smoke good Marlboros we are so possessed by sweet contentment that none of us wishes ever to leave, which means no gadding about which means no driving, which means no parking problem.

But the argument in favor of Marlboros overlooks one important fact: when you run out of Marlboros you must go get some more, which means driving, which means parking, which means you're right back where you started.

Probably the most practical suggestion to alleviate the campus parking situation is to tear down every school of dentistry in the country and turn it into a parking lot. This is not to say that dentistry is unimportant. Gracious, no! Dentistry is important and vital and a shining part of our American heritage. But the fact is there is no real need for separate schools of dentistry. Dentistry could easily be moved to the school of mining engineering. Surely anyone who can drill a thousand feet for oil can fill a simple little cavity.

Take the case of dental student Fred C. Sigafos...

This experiment—combining dentistry with mining engineering—has already been tried at several colleges—and with some very interesting results. Take, for instance, the case of a dental student named Fred C. Sigafos. One day recently Fred was out practicing with his drilling rig in a vacant lot just off campus. He sank a shaft two hundred feet deep and, to his surprise and delight, he struck a detergent mine. For a while Fred thought his fortune was made but he soon learned that he had drilled into the storage tank of the Eagle Laundry. Walter P. Eagle, president of the laundry, was mad as all get-out and things looked mighty black for Fred. But it all ended well. When Mr. Eagle called Fred into his office to chew him out, it so happened that Mr. Eagle's beautiful daughter, Patient Griselda, was present. For years Patient Griselda had been patiently waiting for the right man. "That's him!" she cried upon spying Fred—and today Fred is a full partner in the Eagle Laundry in charge of pleats and ruffles.

Speaking of laundries reminds us of cleanliness which in turn reminds us of filtered Marlboros and unfiltered Philip Morris—both clean and fresh to the taste—both available in soft pack and flip-top box

Tips from CCUS (one of a series)

The Summer Job

Earlier in this space we were talking about what to wear to a job interview. Naturally the same rules apply to making an application for a summer job.

Keep in mind that a prospective employer is not interested in you or your problems. He is interested in himself. Talk to him about himself. Tell him why you chose to apply for a job with him.

A summer job should be chosen to help add to your fund of knowledge and not just for an easy way to get spending money. A business man will be pleased to know you chose to ask him for a job because you thought his the best run business where you could learn more about a field that interests you.

Talk about your enthusiasm. You probably don't have much to tell in the way of experience, but if you do, bring it out.

Leave the matter of salary and working hours to him. He'll tell you what the pay is and what will be expected of you.

When you get this good job, you will be able to buy the kind of CCUS clothes that will help you to get an even better one.

★★★ Tech Golfers Down Frogs In SWC Tilt

By SANDY McSPADEN

Playing on a sprained ankle and fighting a stiff northerly wind, Texas Tech's Cris Blocker blasted out an eight-under-par 63, to lead his team to victory over the Purple linksters Monday.

Finishing the front nine with a six under par, Blocker added two more birdies on the back nine to finish one stroke above the Glen Garden course record of 62 and defeated his Frog opponent, Mike Walling, six up.

Tech's Vance Moxam was the only Raider to shoot par golf, as his team mates all recorded sub-par rounds. His opponent, Bill Jones, who defeated "Bubba" Meyer for a position on the varsity team, was the only Frog to score a win in the SWC match by beating Moxam, one up.

In other matches, Frank Mackey lost, three down, when the Raiders' Jimmy Johnson shot a three-under-par 68, and Tech's Ben Alexander defeated Jerry Johnson, two up, by also firing a 68.

In the team matches, Blocker-Alexander downed Jerry Johnson-Walling, seven up, and Jimmy Johnson-Moxam squeezed by Mackey-Jones, one up. Jerry Johnson carded a two-over-par 73, as did Mackey, and Jones turned in an even-par 71. Walling was the only Purple linkster to play a sub-par round, turning in a 70.

Tech's win gives them the Southwest Conference lead with a 2-0 record, while the Frogs have a 1-1 conference mark.

Tennis Team Still Looking For Season's First Victory

By DALE JOHNSON

A full slate of activity is scheduled for the Frog tennis team, beginning tomorrow with a match against Tarleton State College at Stephenville.

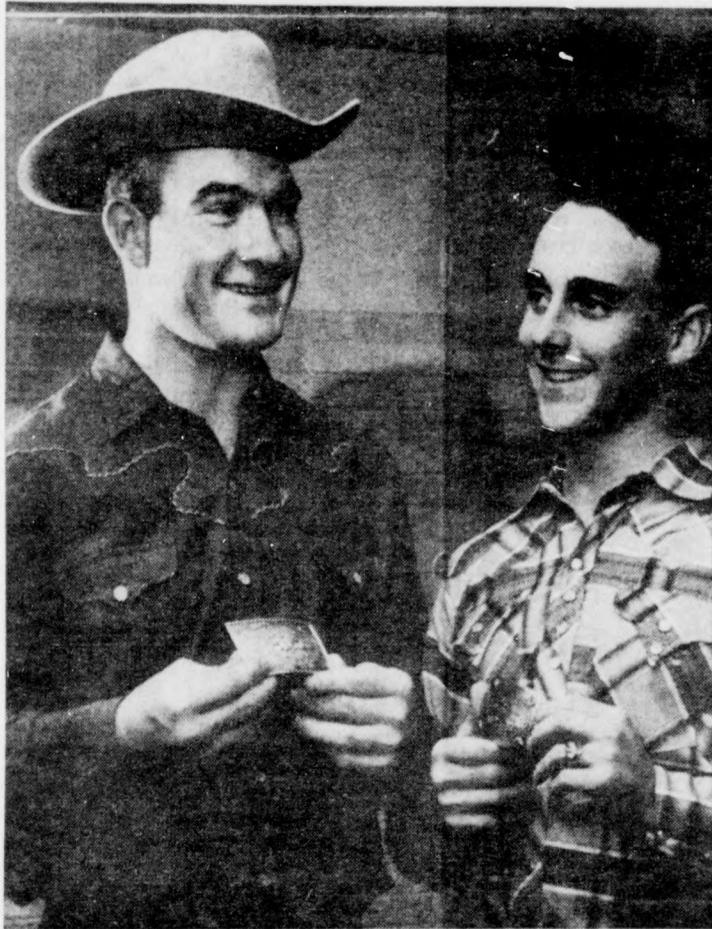

The local netmen have played four matches and lost them all, but are still working and determined to pick up their first win of the season.

In the first match of the year, Hardin-Simmons University took advantage of their hosts by downing the Purples, 5-1. Pan American College then moved into town and took the Frogs again, this time by a skunking score of 6-0.

In a Denton match, North Texas State defeated the Frogs, 4-2, and Southern Methodist gave the Purples their fourth loss Friday, 6-0.

TCU began this week's action against Baylor here Tuesday and after the Tarleton State match tomorrow, will travel to Abilene Friday and play Hardin-Simmons. Saturday the team will be in Lubbock, challenging the Texas Tech netmen.

While remaining noncommittal on this year's action, Coach Richard M. Lincoln, also an assistant professor of French, feels that the Frogs will be much stronger next season.

Playoff Game Postponed

The independent championship basketball game, pitting Abe's Aces against the Hosses (B) has been postponed and will be played at a later date. The game was to be played Monday night.

'Bomber' Baze Is Bright Spot In Purples' Baseball Hopes

By ERNEST WHITE

Leon Wesley Baze, 5-10, 165-pound third baseman for the Frogs, is one of the brightest prospects on coach "Rabbit" MacDowell's baseball team.

The Grapevine sophomore also was a spark plug on his high school baseball, football, basketball and track teams.

Baze was a four-year letterman in all four sports. He also was named to the all-district team for three years, and made honorable mention on the All-State football team for two years as a halfback.

A little light for college football, he is devoting his full time to baseball, with the hopes of playing pro-ball if the proper offer is made. He changed his major to religion and feels that this may have a bearing on his pro-ball plans.

With scholarship offers from SMU and the University of Houston, he picked TCU and explained it by stating, "It was just one of those things. I always liked TCU and decided to come over here."

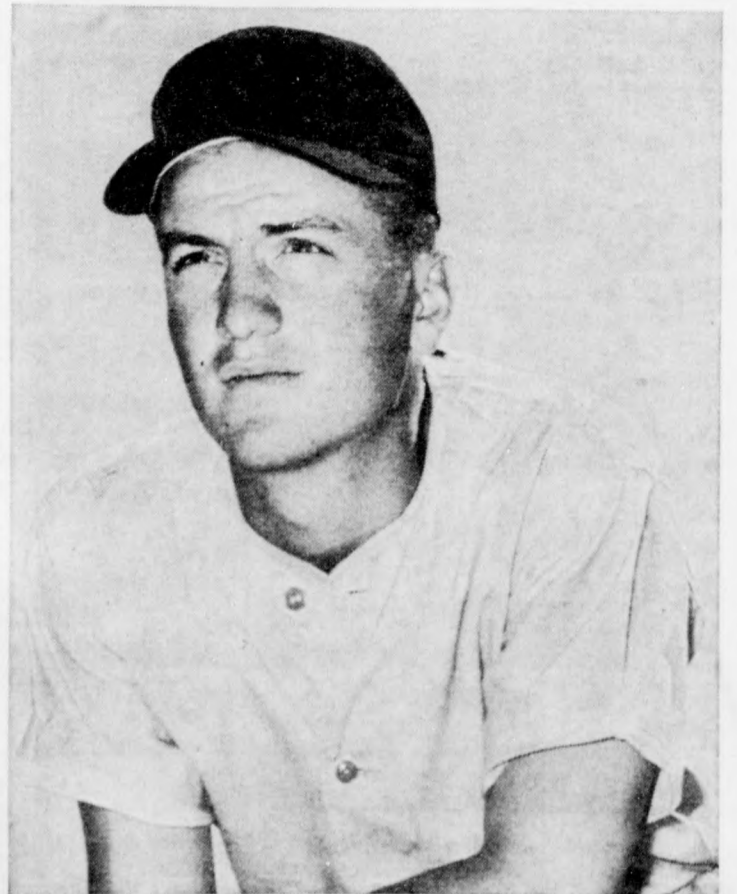

Baze won a freshman letter in baseball and, without any trouble, should pick up several on the varsity squad. Other than David Terry, he is the only sophomore on the varsity squad.

Batting a strong .360, Baze should be a real contender for any batting crowns that might be passed out at the close of the season. He leads the team in home runs and had one of the best batting averages on the freshman squad.

The quiet little slugger from

Grapevine is one of the best-liked men on the team and, without a doubt, will make a big impression on baseball fans for the next three seasons.

Contestants Give Viewers Good Show in Mansfield

By JERRY JOHNSON

Cowboys and cowgirls alike showed the ear marks of professionals Friday night as the Rodeo Association held their annual all-school rodeo at Mansfield.

The contestants showed some impressive results, as this marked the first time the school has used the big Kow Bell Arena.

Taking honors in the bare-back bronc riding contest were: first place, Butch Wojciechowski, South Amboy, N.J. freshman; second place, Louis James, Dallas junior, and third place went to Frank Powell, Big Spring sophomore.

Winners in the bull riding event were: first place, David Guynn, Fort Worth sophomore; and a tie for second place between Billy Mills, Dallas freshman, and Larry Dawson, Stinnett junior.

Hershel Upton, San Angelo freshman, turned in a fast 17.8 seconds in the calf roping event to take first place while Bud Penn, Fort Worth freshman, marked up a 24.8 time for second place.

Ribbon roper winners included Clark Wood, Slaton sophomore, tying down first place with a time of 19.7 and Upton taking second place with 23.3.

In the steer wrestling event, Dawson came through with a fast 7.8 time, followed by Wood and Bud Penn with 8.7 and 11.7 respectively.

The girls also turned in some fast times in their events. In the barrel race, Miss Pat McDaniel, Abilene senior, took first place when she turned in a time of 15.4. Misses Melissa Shephard, Beaumont freshman, and Lee Draper, Corpus Christi sophomore, had but one-tenth of a second between their times for second and third place honors. Miss Shephard had a 16.0 and Miss Draper a 16.1.

In the goat-tying division, there were no close marks. Miss Shephard was timed at 16.1, Miss Jerrie Jo Jennings showed 20.1 and Miss McDaniel marked 24.8 seconds.

The winner of the sorority goat sacking contest was Delta Gamma sorority. Misses Jo Ann Thomas, Marienville, Pa. sophomore and Pat Stillman, Saint Louis, Mo. sophomore, were on the DG winning team.

In the fraternity goat sacking contest, Sigma Alpha Epsilon received the trophy with Ray Read, Fort Worth sophomore, and Bob Gregory, Houston senior, taking the credit.

Individual winners will be awarded belt buckles while winning teams will receive trophies. Awards will be made tomorrow night at the regular meeting of the Rodeo Club.
