Trustees Plan Five New Buildings; OK Budget, Grant Honor Degrees

Miss Elizabeth Shelburne, left, who has been dean of women since 1937 and with the University since 1929, discusses future policies with Dr. Jo Ann James, who will officially become dean June 1. (Skiff staff photo).

Dean James To Replace Miss Shelburne June 1

Miss Elizabeth Shelburne, dean of women since 1937, retires from that post at her own request June 1, but will remain on the staff as a dormitory hostess, Chancellor M. E. Sadler announced Wednesday.

Dr. Jo Ann James, who has served as assistant dean and professor of education since 1958, has been named dean of women.

The Board of Trustees, on hearing the announcement, passed a resolution commending Miss Shelburne "for her long, thoughtful and effective service and for her contribution to the on-going life of TCU."

Father was College President

The daughter of a college president, Miss Shelburne has spent most of her life on this and other campuses. She missed being born on one in Virginia only because the institution of which her father was president burned shortly before her arrival.

After graduation from a Dallas high school, she took her B.A. and M.A. from TCU. She also studied at Columbia, and the Universities of Virginia and Chicago.

From 1920 to 1929 she was registrar and instructor in math at Carr-Burdette College. She returned to The Hill as hostess in Jarvis Hall (which at that time was the only girl's dorm) and instructor in math, in 1929.

Became Dean in 1937

In 1935 she was made assistant dean of women and two years later replaced the late Sadie

Beckham as dean. Miss Shelburne is a member of the Women's Club of Fort Worth, the Texas Association of Women Deans and Counselors, American Association of University Women and other national and local organizations.

She has been invited to be a guest and to receive a citation at the meeting of the National Association of Women Deans this spring in Denver.

Dr. James, the new dean, is an Austin native. She attended Sullins College in Bristol, Va., and TCU. She took her B.A. and M. Ed. at the University of Texas and her Ph.D. at Syracuse. She returned here in 1958.

Student Congress Gives Encyclopedias to Dorms

Student Congress has purchased and installed two sets of encyclopedia in Clark and Sherley Halls, President Joe Short, Ponca City, Okla. senior, has announced.

"The encyclopedia have been provided to help students study in the dorms on problems that would ordinarily make a trip to the library necessary," Short said.

The encyclopedia are not to be removed from the waiting rooms. Care of the books will be left to the students and this will determine whether Student Congress will install encyclopedia in the other dorms later.

Frog Baseball on Air

Varsity baseball broadcasts begin on KTCU radio March 16. The sound of the campus will carry each home game by remote broadcast from Rockwood Park beginning at 2 p.m.

Sports Director Leonard Herring, Hillsboro junior, and his staff will describe the games. KTCU is heard on 1025 kilocycles.

Construction of Dorms Stressed, 'Most Urgent'

By CLAUDE BROWN

Plans for five new buildings and additions to two others were outlined by Chancellor M. E. Sadler before the Board of Trustees Wednesday.

Three of the proposed structures would be dormitories and one, for women, was called "urgent". All of the projects would be planned for the earliest possible date and as soon as adequate land can be found for them, Dr. Sadler said.

In other action, the trustees: Granted four honorary degrees; Approved a record-breaking operating budget of $7,200,898 for the 1961-1962 school year;

Approved promotions and permanent tenure status for 20 members of the faculty and staff;

Heard annual reports by Chancellor Sadler, President D. Ray Lindley and Business Manager L. C. White.

Favor Tax Credit

And, after a discussion of governmental aid to education, went on record as favoring an income tax credit annually on tuition paid by a student at any recognized college or university.

On the recommendation of President Lindley, these faculty promotions were approved: To full professor, Dr. Alliene Harder in education; J. Katherine Bratton in nursing; to associate professor, Dr. Winton H. Manning, psychology; Floyd M. Lisle, chemistry; Dr. Egidio Romanenghi, Spanish; Dr. Dorothy Bell, speech therapy; Boonie Ford, nursing.

The following were promoted to assistant professor: Mrs. Lola Huff, biology; Delores Tanner, theatre arts; John Stevenson, business administration; and Mildred Hogstel, nursing.

Get Permanent Tenure

Approved for permanent tenure status were: Dr. Jim W. Corder, English; Dr. Romanenghi, Spanish; Drs. Ernest W. Barratt and Saul B. Sells, psychology; Dr. Kenneth Herrick, insurance; Dean Lucy Harris, Harris College of Nursing; Dr. Karl Richards, art; Emmet G. Smith, organ; Emily Garnett and Nell Van Zandt Ornes, library staff.

The retirement of Arch Wallace, assistant professor of engineering, was announced. Honorary degrees to be conferred were recommended by the University Council. The honorary Doctor of Divinity will be awarded to the Rev. Albert

AC Fun Day On Its Way

"With an oink-oink here and a moo-moo there . . ."

A little bit of Old MacDonald's Farm will come to the quadrangle on campus Friday, March 10, with the Activities Council country-style Fun Day.

Cow milking, hog calling and tug-of-war contests are among the activities scheduled from 3-5 p.m. A Country Hoedown at 8 p.m. in the Student Center will climax the calico and straw hat event.

Purpose is to acquaint students with the committees of the AC and to encourage their participation in the group's activities. Tables will be set up during the afternoon where students may register for a committee.

A country band from San Antonio will play for the hoedown.

Coliseum Named For L. R. Meyer, Milton Daniel

Daniel-Meyer Coliseum will be the name of the new athletic facility going up on campus in honor of L. R. (Dutch) Meyer and the late Milton Daniel.

Daniel was captain of the Frog football team in 1909, served as head coach in 1916-1917 and was chairman of the Board of Trustees at the time of his death in 1958.

As a star athlete and coach Athletic Director Meyer has been a leader of the athletic program here since 1916. He is a member of the National Football Hall of Fame and of the Texas Sports Hall of Fame.

The name was recommended to the board of Trustees by L. C. (Pete) Wright, chairman of a special board committee.

Board Approves Federal Aid Plan

The Board of Trustees Wednesday approved a federal aid to education recommendation that "would tend to equalize the options before parents in deciding where their children should go to school."

The recommendation asks the U. S. Congress for legislation enabling taxpayers to secure a credit for tuition paid on each student attending a recognized college or university.

Chancellor M. E. Sadler brought the matter before the board. He pointed out the ever-growing imbalance in the number of tax-

Veteran Musician Avid Sportsman

Saxophone is his speciality. The tall, slender young man who entered TCU three years ago is a veteran of ten years on the reed instrument.

Robert Carmichael, a junior who hails from Brady, Texas, admits that he has not outgrown his boyhood love of music. Today he is interested from a professional's viewpoint.

Background

Carmichael began his saxophone career while still in high school. Upon entering TCU in 1958, he enrolled in the Horned Frog Band. Fellow band members who played professionally in dance bands in Fort Worth and Dallas encouraged him to audition with a dance band. Taking their advice, he auditioned for local band leader Sandy Sandifer and was offered a job with his band as a saxophonist.

"Since that first job with Sandy Sandifer's band I've played with several other bands, including several small combos that we sort of throw together," Carmichael said.

Currently, he is playing third saxophone in the "Fletcher Herford Band". "We play dances on the average of once every two weeks, and have played in some of the major cities in Texas including Fort Worth, Dallas and San Antonio," he volunteered.

Always striving to improve his technique as a musician, he attended band camps for two summers. He played in jazz bands under the direction of Stan Kenton at a camp at the University of Indiana two summers ago. That same summer he attended music camp at Gunnison, Colo. on the campus of Western State College. Here he has played in both a jazz and a symphonic band.

Versatile Musician

The versatile musician claims the saxophone as his favorite instrument, but also plays the flute, clarinet, piano and vibraphone. "I want to learn to play the guitar," he said wistfully, "but I haven't had time to take any lessons."

This statement is indicative of his busy schedule. He is an English major and a biology minor. He is arts and sciences representative to Student Congress, a member of Bryson Club, the Biology Club and serves as song leader for his fraternity, Phi Delta Theta. With all these activities, he remains an avid sportsman, and to prove it, bagged two deer near his home at Brady while he was home for the Christmas holidays. He is an enthusiastic fisherman as well.

Sadler To Speak At Century Club

Chancellor M. E. Sadler will be the main speaker at the Panhandle Area Century Club in Amarillo, March 14, it was announced Monday.

The meeting, to begin at 7 p.m., is expected to be attended by 228 University exes.

Hartwell Ramsey, director of the Ex-Students Association, is to present framed certificates to those who have recently gained membership in the Century Club through contributions of at least $100 to the Ex-Students Association.

N. Jones of Alexandria, La., executive secretary of the Louisiana Association of Christian Churches, and the Rev. George Stuart, minister of the Central-Woodward Christian Church in Detroit.

Honorary Degree Okayed

The honorary Doctor of Science degree was approved for Dr. Halford Horlan, retired West Virginia physician and Christian Church leader. The honorary LL. D. was approved for Dr. Paul Sharp, president of Hiram College in Hiram, Ohio.

In discussing the building program, Dr. Sadler pointed out that additional housing is the most pressing need. First priority will be given to a girls' dormitory.

Another dormitory for men will be "rather desperately needed in the next two to five years," Dr. Sadler said. "As the University's program grows, the need for an apartment dormitory for married students will grow."

Other Building Needs

Other building needs are an infirmary; additional space for the science departments; a building to house the "communications sections" such as journalism, radio-TV, speech and advertising; the rebuilding or replacement of the "old gymnasium."

"As outlined in previous reports, we are over the hump in our major building program aside from residence halls," the Chancellor said. "We do need a few smaller buildings."

He estimated the proposed infirmary could be built for about $250,000 and the "communications building" for about $400,000. Additional room for the sciences could be provided by adding wings to the Winton-Scott Hall of Science.

Plans for Old Gym

The old gym, completed in 1921, would be rebuilt or replaced for physical education, Sadler said. It is now the only building on campus that has not been rected, replaced or renovated in the past 20 years.

Lorin Boswell of Fort Worth, chairman of the board, presided at Wednesday's meeting.

Judge A. D. Green of Vernon and Bryant Collins of Austin attended the meeting, the first held since their election to the board last fall.

Cadets Leaving For Air Academy

Twenty Air Force ROTC cadets are leaving March 4 for a two-day visit to the Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs, Colo.

Arrangements with the Academy include official tours, accommodations and visits with Academy cadets.

The trip is sponsored by Arnold Air Society.

There were an estimated 169,405 cases of robbery, burglary and theft committed in Texas in 1960, not including auto theft. There were over 15,000 cases of auto theft alone.

Miss Len Bailie displays an Indian costume called a "sari." "There's 12 yards of silk in this," she said. Miss Bailie, freshman elementary education major, plans to receive a teacher's certificate to teach in India. (Skiff staff photo).

India Missionary Plans To Teach in Kalimpong

Miss Len Bailie, freshman elementary education major, is working for her teacher's certificate so she can teach in a boarding school that feeds its teachers "rice and vegetable or beef curry."

"The beef," she says, "is usually very tough because the cow must be at least 16 years old before it's killed. The cow is sacred in India, you see."

The school is in Kalimpong, India where Len has already served 13 years as a missionary.

"There were never enough teachers where I worked. I thought, 'why couldn't I be a teacher?' So you see, here I am," she recounted.

From Scot to Cussie

Miss Bailie was born in Troon, Scotland, five miles from Culzean Castle. Her father, a sea captain, moved his wife and six children to Australia when Len was nine years old.

In Sidney, Len grew up and received her education. She went to India under the Australian Baptist Mission. The school in which she taught was started in 1900. It is called "Dr. Graham's Homes" and takes students from kindergarten age through senior high school.

There were 650 in the English school where Len was house-mother for 30 girls. Seventy-five missionaries of different countries and denominations are connected with the school.

Student of Hindustani

Len spent two years studying Hindustani. The students come to Dr. Graham's Homes from India, Tibet and the small buffer states of Nepal, Bhutan and Sikkim.

She came to this country to complete her education because she has a sister here. Len is living with her sister, the wife of Dr. John W. Drakefield, professor of psychology and counseling at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary.

Len said she enjoys Fort Worth and TCU, but is anxious to get back to her work in India.

Armed Service Series

Marines Offer Two Programs

Editor's Note: This is the fourth in a series of stories on how college men may fulfill their military obligation. The next story will be on the Coast Guard.

By DEAN ANGEL

"In the air, on land and sea..." No matter where college students may be interested in serving, the Marine Corps has a program for them.

Seniors and graduates are offered two officer candidate programs for flight training, while freshmen, sophomores and some juniors are advised to take the platoon leaders class.

Senior Officer Candidates

Of the two candidate programs one is designed to prepare the candidate to be a Marine ground officer. The other will prepare him for assignment as a Marine aviator.

Both programs stress the teaching of leadership.

The first is the Marine Officer Candidate course in which the senior will attend a leadership training course at Quantico, Va., for 10 weeks after college graduation.

In addition to receiving pay as an officer candidate, he will receive medical and dental care, meals, quarters, uniforms and transportation to Quantico.

Instruction is designed to provide candidates with leadership development for appointment to commissioned rank. Graduates will be commissioned a 2nd lieutenant in the Marine Corps Reserve.

After receiving a commission, candidates will attend the officer's basic school at Quantico to begin their active duty.

Aviation Course

The air program is the Aviation Officer Candidate Course. Seniors take part in the regular 10-week course at Quantico.

Graduates then will go to the Naval Air Station at Pensacola, Fla., for 15-18 months pre-flight and flight training. The candidate will receive aviator's pay.

After flight training, aviators will receive their wings and will be assigned to one of the air components of the corps for duty.

Trained at Pensacola

Those with two years of college under the Marine Aviation Cadet Program (MARCAD) are sent directly to the Naval Air Station at Pensacola.

They receive 18 months of training including pre-flight, basic flight and advanced flight.

During these training periods cadets are paid $160 per month, including flight pay, plus lodging, board and uniforms.

Graduates of MARCAD may earn an annual salary of $4400, 30 days annual leave, opportunity for a regular commission and other benefits.

Platoon Leaders

The other basic program is the platoon leader's class for freshmen, sophomores and juniors. The class trains students to become Marine Corps officers.

Ferre Writing Christian Book

Dr. Gustave Ferre, professor of philosophy, is writing a book to be published by Bethany Press of St. Louis.

According to Ferre, purpose of the book is "to guide laymen in their everyday living on what it means to be a Christian, to bring Christian insight into the fundamental problems of life, and to give some account of the growth and development within the Christian life."

The book is to have two major divisions, intellectual and practical. The intellectual is to include such topics as Biblical understanding of Biblical life, and such concepts as church freedom, sin, forgiveness, destiny, heaven and hell.

Among the practical portion is included sex and marriage, family life, community responsibility and international affairs.

There were an estimated 1,080 murders and homicides in Texas in 1960, an average of 11.7 per 100,000 population.

Candidates who qualify for this program will take part in a six-week training session during two of their summer vacations. At Quantico they will receive instruction in leadership, marksmanship, military history, customs and tactics.

Plan for Freshmen

Freshmen who enroll in the platoon leader's class as a ground officer will average $35 a month more in pay and allowances while on active duty than those who wait until the junior year to enroll. Those who enroll as pilots will receive $36 more.

Upon completion of this program and receipt of a college degree, the student will receive a 2nd lieutenant's commission.

Now Hear This...

Vital Spark Missing at TCU

Enthusiasm is the vital spark of the American ideal.

Edwin M. Clark, president of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, emphasized this point in a recent speech before the Eighth Annual American Ideals Conference at Baylor.

This spark of enthusiasm is absent when students ignore opportunities for spiritual enrichment. Such opportunities as are afforded by the weekly chapel services and more in particular, such an opportunity as the programs presented during Religious Emphasis Week.

Was lack of enthusiasm or just plain indifference the reason for the small attendance at the convocation this week?

These convocations represent many long hours of diligent planning and work by the members of the United Religious Council. They represent the endeavor of a noted author and minister, Dr. Carlyle Marney, who brought to the campus ideas to stimulate thought, discussion and perhaps a re-examination of beliefs.

The reason for this lack of enthusiasm is difficult to determine.

Do we consider such feelings "high-schoolish"? Are we afraid to be "gung ho" over anything?

If such is the case, then now is the time for some serious examination of our values and of the values of the society which fosters such feelings.

Too Many Litterbugs

What makes people discard paper, cigaret butts, empty beer bottles, used Kleenex and mouth-worn gum in every conceivable place except the trash can?

What makes them walk on grass, flower beds and streets when there are sidewalks everywhere?

Answers are easy. It's better to dump trash in the parking lot than to have it mess up the car. Let guys who are paid to pick up paper do it.

As for the grass, basic geometry teaches the shortest distance between two points is a straight line. Let the groundskeepers plant new grass. That's what they're paid for.

These aren't answers. They're not even excuses.

Keep a man busy picking up paper and broken glass and he will not have time for other jobs. Additional men must be hired, adding to the reasons for a rise in tuition.

Such carelessness not only detracts from the beauty of the campus and flattens pocketbooks, but it may cost a life.

Safety authorities are convinced that many highway deaths are caused by small pieces of glass which cause tire blow-outs at high speed.

The Texas State Legislature felt so strongly about the litter problem that they made it illegal to discard trash on the highway. They use force to prove people don't have to be immature.

Leave litter in the trash can, bottles at the grocery store and follow the straight and narrow sidewalks. Help the department of campus and grounds keep 137 acres and 47 miles of sidewalk and curb clean.

BACK TALK

Calling Your Attention to . . .

By JERRY JOHNSON

Back Talk will now take time out and devote a few words here and there on some recent issues which have arisen.

There must be something wrong with The Skiff's reading public, or, there must be something wrong with The Skiff.

It appears so because this small semi-weekly paper hasn't been receiving its share of gripes, growls, groans . . . or more commonly known, "letters to the editor."

Oh, we've received a few. Take Tuesday afternoon, for instance. Addressed to The Skiff was a short note from one of the University's government professors. It read:

Editor, The Skiff:
Correction please!

Now I know how Bernard Shaw must have felt when he wired the source of report of his death that the reports of his demise were greatly exaggerated, for he was in very good health.

To the best of my information, I am the chairman of the government department and have been since 1949. Dr. Clay once served as acting chairman during my leave of absence for a seven month period when by benefit of a state department grant I visited Bolivia to give university and public lectures, as part of the cultural exchange program.

We all appreciate the good work of Dr. Clay, but after all . . .

Very truly yours,
August O. Spain

Chairman, Government Department

(Dr. Spain is referring to The Skiff's error in the Feb. 28 issue which stated that Dr. Comer Clay, also of the government department, was chairman.)

Editor's note: I'm sorry Dr. Clay, but it seems our little scheme didn't work, did it?

And then there was the one from the man out west which cynically stated:

This world does not have an unlimited amount of space for an unlimited amount of people. We do not even have an unlimited amount of fresh water. There are those who seem to think the answer lies in ignoring it.—William R. Sullivan, 1116 S. Flower, Los Angeles 15, Calif.

Editor's note: The land presents a problem, but as for the water, personally, I never touch the nasty stuff!

Real secret of the Khrushchev-Castro conference in New York: Khrushchev wanted Castro to teach him how to grow hair.

If we all carry fly swatters to the cafeteria maybe whoever is in charge of fly control will take the hint. If they don't, maybe the flies will.

the Soothsayer

By JACK HARKRIDER

Since many students are from out-of-state, it's time they learned the truth about Texas. For example, Alaska isn't the largest state in the union. To quote Governor Price Daniel, "Wait'll all that snow and ice melts and you'll find we're still the biggest state."

Governor Daniel refuses to admit that Texas jokes are jokes. "They're not exaggerated stories about our wealth, size, or point of view—they merely reflect the truth."

As everyone knows, all Texans are rich, but one (who shall remain anonymous) is the richest of all. He started out to be quite a problem child. Every time he went out into the yard to play in the mud he struck oil. In fact, when he was in college, he used to write home and ask his parents if THEY needed money.

When he was graduated, he bought a small ranch called New Mexico and decided to raise cattle. However, he made so much money in oil that he stopped branding his animals—he had them engraved. He finally gave up cattle and stocked his ranch with about 400 head of Cadillac. He then joined a sheriff's posse for awhile, but quit when they chased an outlaw so far into the hills that they had to change Cadillacs three times.

This same Texan retired at an early age and hired a clipping service just for his bonds. He was so rich that whenever he felt like a home-cooked meal, he went out and bought a home. Not only that, but when he played chess he used real people for pawns. He later bought a house in Oklahoma because he preferred living in the suburbs. His house had seven dining rooms—one for each course. Of course, he didn't spend all his money on himself—he used to send CARE packages to Beverly Hills, Calif.

Yearning for something to do, the Texan decided to travel. He went to New York City, and while checking into a hotel with his eight trunks, the desk clerk remarked, "You sure have a lot of clothes." The Texan shrugged, "This early stuff is just mah money." When asked how he liked New York, the Texan replied, "Mighty fine—this is the first time I've been in this part of Texas."

He toured all the night clubs and was quite popular with the doormen. When he'd drive up in his Cadillac, he'd tip them with Chevrolets. Once, he tipped a waiter $1,000. "Do you realize, sir, how much you gave me?" the waiter gasped. "Stop complainin', son," growled the Texan. "Ah didn't leave mah usual tip because I wasn't too happy with your service."

About a year later, he had a son who was born with a silver derrick in his mouth. When junior was about five years old, his dad bought him a cowboy outfit—a 50,000-acre ranch, complete with cattle and horses. A few years after that, the Texan bought his son a chemistry outfit—Du Pont. Shortly after that, however, he got very strict and cut his son's allowance down to $1,000 a week. He wanted to teach him the value of money.

Then it happened! A thief broke into the Texan's house and stole more than $3,000,000. Junior was immediately disowned for leaving his piggy bank out. However, everything turned out alright, and Junior is now living on his 100-acre spread in south Texas—he calls it Houston.

★ Look Mom, No Chicks

Youngblood's chickens have been stolen.

But not from Youngblood's Restaurants—from Miss Elizabeth Youngblood, campus social director.

It happened like this: KTCU gave two baby chicks to Miss Youngblood last week to announce its affiliation with the Texas State Network.

Culprits stole the chicks, but at last word KTCU was planning to replace them.

Dr. Walther Volbach also received a chick. Stumped by the problem of how to take care of it, the professor finally gave it to the zoo.

And someone in Phi Kappa Sigma took a paternal attitude toward that fraternity's chick. For a while, the chick was bedded down in the student's room.

One recipient of a chick called KTCU and demanded, "What do these things eat, anyway?"

"Chicken feed, I guess," was the helpful answer.

Congress Students Attend Convention

Four students from Student Congress are attending the Texas Intercollegiate Student Association convention in Abilene, March 2-4.

Representing the University at the convention are Mike Walsh, Portland, Oregon; Miss Linda Alexander, Fort Worth; Lewis Monday, Dallas; and Joe Short, Ponca City, Okla.

All student government representatives in Texas attend the annual convention.

"This is an off-shoot of the National Student Association (N.S.A.) which Student Congress is considering to join," reported Joe Short, Congress president.

A representative of N.S.A. was on campus recently and told Student Congress members some of the advantages and disadvantages of the Association.

supported to privately controlled schools.

Prior to the Civil War, 186 of the nation's 207 institutions of higher learning were church-related or privately controlled, Dr. Sadler said.

Since that time, the number of state-supported schools has increased steadily. At one period, the two types were about equal in number. But in recent years, "every trend in higher education has been in the direction of seriously upsetting this most constructive balance, the Chancellor reported.

"In Texas, the situation has been exactly reversed in recent years. Not too long ago, the ratio of students attending private schools was 63 to 37 per cent. Today, 63 per cent attend tax-supported, state controlled schools. If present proposals before the legislature are approved, the ratio will be something like 72-28 in the next five years.

"If these trends continue," Dr. Sadler said, "the division will be at least 80-20 in favor of state-controlled institutions in the next 10 to 15 years.

"We need both systems of education to serve as a check-and-balance on each other. But the tempering influence of the privately-controlled schools will be seriously diminished if they are so completely overshadowed by an enormous system of tax-supported, government-controlled institutions."

Plans were made to notify proper persons in Washington and the trustees of other schools across the country of the action.

There was an average of one major crime committed in Texas every three minutes of every day during 1960.

The total number of major crimes committed in Texas during 1960 was 57 per cent greater than the 1955 total.

Physicist Talks On Chosen Field

Dr. James Childress, Convair physicist, spoke on "Weak Interactions" at a recent meeting on campus, of the Tri-Cities Physical Society.

"Weak Interactions" refers to binding forces between particles making up atoms.

"This is a field of disjointed conjectures, in which real insight is missing," he said, "and it is greatly in need of theory.

"It's a great field for faith, because so much has to be assumed," he said.

Childress received his Ph.D. at Brandeis University in Waltham, Mass. His thesis was on "Weak Interactions". He also worked for RCA and in the Lincoln Laboratories at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Kappa Deltas Hold 'White Rose Week'

Kappa Delta is observing "White Rose Week" preceding their initiation Saturday.

"This week will be spent in close association between members and pledges to prepare them for the significance of initiation," explained pledge trainer Caroline Penn, Tyler senior.

Pledges received their second degree pins at a ceremony Sunday in the KD chapter room.

Monday was "Emerald Day," named in honor of the sorority jewel. It began with breakfast in the chapter room, prepared by members. The pledges had a party Monday evening at the home of an alumna.

Members and pledges changed roles on "Reversal Day" Tuesday. Pledges required members to wear high heels and act like model Kappa Delta's. A party for pledges and members was held Tuesday evening.

Wednesday was "Green and White Day," referring to the sorority colors. The KD's again served breakfast in their chapter room and wore green and white.

Thursday was "Big and Little Sister Day." Big Sisters took pledges, who are to be initiated, out to dinner or gave them presents in token of their pledge periods.

Tonight the Kappa Delta's will have their "White Rose Ceremony," a meditation and devotional period.

Initiation will be held at 1 p.m. Saturday, followed by the Initiation Banquet at the Fort Worth Club.

Earn $135 weekly during summer traveling overseas. MUST BE U.S. CITIZEN. Complete details furnished. Send $1.00 Lansing Information Service. Dept. G-8, Box 74, New York 61, N.Y.

Series Tickets Are Available

Tickets have been placed on sale for the three remaining Select Series programs.

Approximately 200 tickets at $1.50 each, will be available to non-season ticket holders, for each performance.

The concerts are: The Don Cossack Chorus, Russian singers and dancers, March 8; Marais and Miranda, folk singers, March 16; and Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, who will speak March 22 on "How Can the United States Best Influence the World Against Communism?"

The programs will be given in Ed Landreth Auditorium. Mail orders are being accepted, addressed to Select Series at the University.

School Situations Inspire Titles for Motion Pictures

The man who names movies must be a TCU ex.

Playing this week at the Belknap Theatre, for instance, is "But Not For Me". This, obviously, is a picture about eight o'clock classes.

"The Sound and the Fury" at the Meadowbrook Drive-In refers to dorm mothers at 12:01 a.m. Saturdays.

Playing at the Twin Drive-In is "The Unforgiven." That's coeds at 12:01 a.m. Saturdays.

The Southside Theatre is running "The House of Wax." This title stems from the old proverb, "People who live in wax houses shouldn't burn midnight oil."

Pays to Date Young

"Can Can," the musical starring Frank Sinatra, Shirley MacLaine, Maurice Chevalier and Louis Jourdan is playing at the Palace Theatre at popular prices—$1 for adults and 50 cents for children. Men, it pays to date younger girls. Evening features are scheduled for 7 and 9:20 p.m.

Garson Returns

From Auntie Mame to Eleanor Roosevelt.

Greer Garson returns to the screen from the Broadway production of "Auntie Mame" to play the former first lady in "Sunrise at Campobello," now at the TCU Theatre.

Ralph Bellamy plays FDR, the role that won him top acting honors on the stage.

Mrs. Roosevelt will appear on campus this month in a Select Series program.

Jazz Trio Is Scheduled

An afternoon of jazz is scheduled for Sunday, March 5.

The Dallas Jazz Society will be the guests of the entertainment committee of the Activities Council from 3-5 p.m. in the Student Center ballroom.

Entertainment for the event will be a jazz trio from the United States Public Health Service Hospital in Fort Worth. This is the second year the group has appeared on campus.

The program is free and is open to all students.

Debate Team Will Enter Quarter Finals in Tourney

By KAY GLOVER

Bill English, Lake Jackson junior, and Lon W. Taylor, Fort Worth senior, will debate Lamar State College of Beaumont in the quarter-final round of the televised collegiate debate tournament in Dallas Sunday.

The series, entitled "Young America Speaks," is sponsored by the Sinclair Refining Company.

TCU has the negative on the question, Resolved: That federal price supports for agriculture should be abolished.

Scholarships Given

Winners will receive $1,000 for their school's scholarship fund. Losers receive $500. University debaters won in the first round against Stephen F. Austin Jan. 15.

Faculty and students are urged to attend the debate. Tickets are free and may be picked up in Coach Dave Matheny's office in the Landreth Building. The audience must be in Dallas by 2 p.m. Sunday at the downtown studios of WFAA-TV, at the corner of Young and Record streets.

Identical Records

Identical 3-3 records were brought back by the debate squad from the tournament held at Bethany Nazarene College, Bethany, Okla. Feb. 24-25.

Ron Johnson, Wichita Falls freshman, and Bill English, Lake Jackson junior, entered the senior men's division of the cross-examination tournament. Also entered were Jim Bennett, Arlington sophomore, and Tim James, Denton sophomore.

A cross-examination tournament differs from the ordinary debate tournament. The constructive speeches are followed by a 14-minute cross-examination period. Each team may question the other for seven minutes before one rebuttal speech is given by each team.

Leave for Durant

The debate squad leaves today for the Savage Forensic Tournament to be held in Durant, Okla. today and tomorrow.

City Will Host Piano Contest Next September

Plans for the $10,000 international piano competition to be held here in September 1962 was announced before the National Association of Music Teachers in Philadelphia, Feb. 28.

Mrs. Grace Ward Lankford, president and co-founder of the Fort Worth Piano Teachers Forum, made the official announcement. The Forum, the National Guild of Piano Teachers and TCU are joint sponsors of the competition.

From Philadelphia, Mrs. Lankford went to New York to consult with critics, artists and music editors on several aspects including judges and contestants.

The March 27 appearance of pianist Van Cliburn in Will Rogers Auditorium has been arranged to help raise funds for the event. Ticket orders for Cliburn's concert will be received by mail until March 6, according to Mrs. Lankford. After that date, they will go on sale downtown.

Miss Lynn Smith, Alexandria, Va. freshman, and Dennis Kalfas, Glendale, Ariz. freshman, are entered in the junior division. Also entered in this division are Miss Dorothy Hankins, Roswell, N. M. sophomore, and Chuck Eypers, Bethel, Maine freshman.

Entered in the women's division are Misses Virginia Brooks, Bay Village, Ohio sophomore, and Jany Jones, Little Rock, Ark. sophomore.

Friendship Club To Meet Tonight

Impressions foreign students have of the United States will be the International Friendship Club program March 3, at 7:30 p.m. in room 205 of Brown-Lupton Student Center.

International students will discuss such questions as what foreign students think of the American dating system. Another question will be concerned with customs the students had to change on coming to the United States.

Other questions will pertain to foreign affairs, the general attitude of other countries toward the United States and how well-informed American students are about the world in general.

Conference Corral

By TIM TALBERT

March is a tough month for sports enthusiasts. There are too many sporting events going on during March for them to follow any one closely.

Basketball is on its way out. The conference champions are decided and eventually the national champion will be decided during March.

Track and baseball are just getting started. But neither of these sports really get going until April after most of the bad weather is over.

Last but not for from least, there is old man football. Seemingly never to die and always getting his share of the headlines, football is at full force in March as spring training continues.

Last week in this space we indicated that spring drills for some Southwest Conference schools were in progress. Now that one week of training is over, scores and the top players of the first intrasquad games are rolling in.

We realize that it may be a little redundant once again to talk about football spring training, but it is football that the SWC is noted for. The results of these spring drills may, perhaps, give some indication of what to expect next fall.

In the Green and White game in Waco, the first-team Greens spanked the Whites, 54-0. All this was done with only one Ronnie, quarterback Ronnie Stanley. The other two Ronnies—Goodwin and Bull—are participating in baseball and track respectively. Just think what the score could have been if these two would have been playing.

* * *

Texas Coach Darrell Royal was pleased with the way the boys were going after one another during the Orange-White tangle at Austin. The second and fourth team whites nosed out the first and third team Oranges, 14-13.

Royal did a little shuffling in his lineup in as much as Mike Cotten was the second-team quarterback. Johnny Genung was the first-team quarterback.

Allan Baum and Jim Saxton scored the White TD's on one-yard plunges. Fullback John Allen Cook put the Orange on the scoreboard with a two-yard dive. Genung scored the other Orange touchdown on a 13-yard scamper.

Although visibly pleased with the game, Royal lamented about the lack of hustle and listlessness of the players between plays.

* * *

The second, third and sixth teams collaborated as the Whites to defeat the first, fourth and fifth team Blues 24-18 during SMU's first intrasquad game.

Both teams scored three touchdowns, but the Whites were more proficient in scoring the extra points. (And we had a good joke about SMU not even being able to beat themselves, too bad.)

The promising soph-to-be quarterback Jerry Rhome passed for one of the Blue scores. Possible first team T-man next fall, Harold Morgan, passed for one White TD.

The only White team to be defeated was at A&M, where the Whites took it on the chin from the Maroons, 30-28.

Composed of the first and third units, the Maroons took a 12-0 lead on passes from Quarterback Ronnie Brice for 39 and 37 yards. The whites tied the game at 12-12 but the Maroons put the game away on a four-yard run by halfback George Hargett.

Jim Linnstaedter, another top soph-to-be quarterback, scored the final White touchdown.

Of course, these games and scores will mean nothing next fall, but they do give some indication of which teams will be strong.

Jackie Upton . . . may be to win his first meet

Bowling Leagues Set For Student Action

True to the University's colors, two student bowling leagues that formed last week chose the titles of the Purple League and the White League.

The leagues are sponsored by the special events committee of the Activities Council. They bowl once a week and are open to all students. Registration for the leagues ends this weekend.

President of the Purple League, which bowls at 2 p.m. on Tuesdays, is Jack Wengert, Fort Worth graduate student. Harry Austin, Fort Worth sophomore, is the vice president. Also elected last week was the secretary, Gary Ashmore, Fort Worth freshman.

The Purple League consists of eight teams. The White is composed of 12 teams. They will bowl for 12 weeks and will compete for trophies to be awarded at the end of the semester.

Jim Fitzgerald, Denison freshman, is president of the White League. Vice president is Bill Mossman, Marlin sophomore, and the secretary is Miss Myra Alexander, Wagoner, Okla. junior.

The White League bowls at 2 p.m. on Wednesdays.

Basketball Season Bows From Scene

Basketball season is over.

And in a sense it has been a good season. Next year the young Frogs should not make mistakes they made this year. A year's experience will spell the difference.

Last night the Frogs ended the season against Rice and before that on Monday lost to Texas, 77-79.

Nothing to be ashamed of, the Frogs went down fighting to Texas. Nothing to play for except to play out the schedule, some of the Purple squad played their best game of the year against Texas.

Billy Jim Simmons played by far his best game since coming to TCU. The junior squadman scored 19 points and grabbed six rebounds for the Frog cause.

Little Phil Reynolds, hustling guard who maintained the same fighting pace all season long, added 19 points to the score. John Fowler put in 12 points and the big man Alton Adams added 12 to the cause.

All in all, it was a good team performance. TCU was never completely out of the game, leading once, 59-58. The Frogs stayed close and the game was not decided until the last eight seconds.

The Frogs outshot Texas 47.8 to 45.5, but the ball game was won on rebounds where Texas had a 48-44 edge. Buster Brannon's young men finished seventh in the conference race ahead of Baylor.

Mirror Bowling

It has been said that the best way to improve your bowling game is to see yourself bowl. Wedgwood Bowling Lanes have incorporated a new method to do this.

A mirror placed across the lane where a ball will roll under and yet the bowler can still see his approach and release of the ball, is the new method.

Wedgwood Bowl is starting a special Bowling Clinic with the use of this mirror for all TCU students on Thursdays at 3 p.m.

Trackmen Poise For Top Cinder Meet of Season

A side show barker shouts, "Come one, come all, see the greatest show on earth."

Just add the word track to his phrase and it quickly sums up the Southwest Recreation Track and Field Meet set this weekend in Fort Worth.

"The greatest track show in the southwest."

Three Not Entered

All Southwest Conference schools are entered with the exception of Texas, A&M and Rice.

There are a number of Frog cindermen who have a chance to win their first varsity event.

The best of these appears to be high jumper Jackie Upton. Upton was second best to Don Deaver in last month's indoor games at Will Rogers Coliseum. In that meet, Deaver jumped 6-5 $\frac{3}{4}$ ; Upton went over 6-4, and no one else was that close to Deaver.

Golf Team To Compete On Saturday

Blessed by pretty weather, the golf team continued to qualify for the Southwest Recreation Meet to be held tomorrow. Through three rounds Bill Jones is leading the golfers with a 218. Mike Walling is second with 229. They are followed by Nick Encke, 234; Gabe Cunningham, 236; and Karl Koch, 237.

Possibly the best golfer on the team, Jack Montgomery, has not completed three rounds of qualifying. He led through two rounds with a 145.

The low four players will comprise the team that will represent the University Saturday at Meadowbrook Country Club in the REC Meet. Competition is to be held in conjunction with the REC track and field meet at Farrington Field.

Coach Tom Prouse is hurting for a strong fourth man. Montgomery, Jones and Walling are expected to shoot their usual low 70's. But for the Purple golf team to win, one of the other players will have to card some birdies.

High Hurdler Bobby Bernard promises another top duel with Bob Swafford of Texas Tech. Swafford won the hurdles in the indoor games with a time of 7.4. According to Frog Track Coach Eddie Weems, Bernard went over the 60-yard hurdles last week in a 7.2 clip four time in a row! That's moving on.

Sam Ketchum, in the 100 and 220 yard dashes, may have a chance to place since defending champ Ralph Alspaugh of Texas is not entered. But look out for Olympic performer Earl Young of ACC in these dashes.

Don't feel disheartened on the poor showing of the mile relay team during the indoor games. Ray Reed got off to a bad start, which will probably never happen again, and the lost ground was just too much to make up. In the words of Weems, "These boys will come through." Believe him. The mile foursome is training hard.

Three in 440

Three of the mile relay team is entered in the 440. They are Reagan Gassaway, Al Heizer and Ray Reed. Jerry Spearman will again try his hand in the broad jump and Glen McCrosky will attempt the low hurdles to round out the Frog squad.

Eddie Weems commented that this is the hardest working group of boys he has had and some day they are going to come through. Although they were hampered by rain and mud last week in training, look for a strong showing from the Frog trackmen.

When asked which team had the best chance of winning the REC Meet, Weems without hesitating said, "ACC".

And this appears to be true. Paced by Olympian Earl Young and hurdler Calvin Cooley, plus their mile relay team, the Wildcats are going to be hard to beat.

But with their two weight men, John Fry and Buddy Tyner along with sprinter Bill Kemp and distance man Bob Mellgren, defending champion Baylor will offer the strongest competition to ACC.

With a break from the weather man, this track carnival with its many rings will be one of the best ever produced. And this could be the meet where the Frogs will "come through".

Baseballers To Meet Baylor; Pitching Frogs' Main Problem

"Just a little more pitching and we would have a good baseball team," commented baseball coach Clyde (Rabbit) McDowell.

And this is evident, for in the SMU game Tuesday the pitchers walked in two runs which eventually helped beat the Frogs, 6-5. TCU also lost the first game of the series, 3-4 with SMU in Dallas on Monday.

A two game series with Baylor is scheduled for this weekend. The first game will be played on Friday in Fort Worth and the second in Waco on Saturday.

Starting pitchers on Friday will be either Bob Shelton or Donny Schmidt. On Saturday, the probable chunkers will be Don Matthews, Mac Coalson or Jim Boyd.

Already hurting for lack of manpower, McDowell lost third baseman Buddy Iles to football spring training and centerfielder Jerry Harris because of a leg injury.

This leaves McDowell with one catcher, Kenny Anderson, for pinch hitting purposes. Jim Balch has moved to third base in place of Iles. Balch contributed one hit and drove-in one run against SMU Tuesday.

Baylor had a good team last year and lost none of their top players through graduation.

McDowell has a good defensive team and a strong hitting attack, but the Frogs must tighten their pitching.

The team will be hurting from lack of practice. They have worked out only one week and three days of that week it rained.
