

Cheerleader, Sweetheart Only 2 Posts in Run-Offs

By SHEILA ESTES

True to election weather tradition, the wind howled Wednesday for the campus primary.

Only two races, for women cheerleaders and TCU Sweetheart, required run-offs today; 116 candidates appeared on the spring slate.

Denny Megarity, Waco junior, is the new student body president. Megarity was among five candidates who were unopposed.

The vice presidency went to Stan Reed, Dallas sophomore, with 888 votes. He opposed Leo Watkins, Fort Worth junior. Miss Beverly Musick, Rusk sophomore, with 799, edged out Miss Susan Ellis, Houston sophomore, for student body secretary.

Treasurer Unopposed

Jim W. Krueger, Fort Worth junior, was unopposed for student body treasurer, as was Galen Hull, Ponca City, Okla., junior, for Activities Council director.

Business College representatives are: Jan Borders, Fort Worth sophomore; Luther King, Amarillo junior; and Carolyn Thaxton, Fort Worth junior.

Kenneth Nunnally, Fort Worth graduate student, was unopposed for Brite College representative. George Hakanssen, Houston, and David Freeman, Fort Worth, were also unopposed for Graduate School representatives.

Miss Carol Wilson, Miami, Fla., junior, with 151 votes, was chosen Harris College of Nursing representative over Miss Joan Gregerson, Dallas junior.

Two young women are representatives for the School of Education: Miss Joan Bennett, Fort Worth sophomore, 186 votes; and Miss Ann Terry, Richardson junior, 179.

Miss Marcia Pelton, Riverside, Ill. sophomore with 71 votes, is the new Fine Arts representative.

Jim Wright Wins

Miss Brenda Boyd, Corsicana, with 114 votes, and Jim Wright, Tyler, 257, are next year's senior representatives.

Junior class representatives will be Miss Barbara Byrd, Beaumont, 132 votes, and Miss Mary Harrison, Dallas, 146.

The sophomore class will have four delegates including a set of twins. Elected Wednesday were: Miss Bonnie Kingston, Chattanooga, Tenn.; Miss Jackie Marshall, Angleton; and Misses Jane and Jean Wiggin, Fort Worth.

Cheerleaders chosen were: Barry Acker, Perryton sophomore; Bill Barnes, Fort Worth junior; Joe Holt, Corpus Christi sophomore; and Bill Rhode, Fort Worth sophomore.

Four women cheerleaders will be chosen today in the run-offs from Miss Wilma Fowler, Wichita

A fisherman has netted the office of student body president.

Denny Megarity, Waco junior, is the angler who will preside over Student Congress next year. He proves his fondness for fishing by carrying a fly rod in the trunk of his car.

The new president has played intramural sports and is pledge trainer for Phi Delta Theta.

Megarity said he will use the rest of this school year to make up committees and as a general preparatory period.

Ten Vie in Runoff

The second run-off race will be for TCU Sweetheart. The field of 15 candidates was narrowed to 10 Wednesday. Still vying for the title are: Misses Fowler, Handley, Beverly Jamison, Nancy King and Miss McMurtry.

Also in the race will be Misses Tahita Niemeyer, O'Malley, Carolyn Thaxton and Anne Woodson.

Mad Evening Planned For Holiday's End

A mad, mad evening is set for the last event of the Student Center Birthday Party tonight in the SC Ballroom.

The closing activities of the weeklong "Hawaiian Holiday" will be a flick and a sockhop.

"Operation Madball", featuring Jack Lemmon, will be shown at 7 p.m.

A Madball Sock Hop will follow the movie at 8:30 p.m.

The informal dance will present the Skinny Carmichael Combo. Carmichael, whose real name is Robert, is a junior from Brady. He is a versatile musician who plays five instruments, including the miramba, saxophone and piano.

Admission is free to both events.

A luau, beach party, bingo contest, talent show and an evening of musical entertainment have been the week's attractions.

The holiday is in celebration of the sixth birthday of the Student Center and is an annual affair sponsored by the Activities Council under the direction of the special events committee.

Newly elected student body president, Denny Megarity, prepares for his duties. Although he doesn't take office officially until next year, the Waco junior has already begun to set up committees and plan programs for his term of office.

AC Sponsors Prof Contest

Know a professor who is kind, interesting, sympathetic, and congenial?

Enter him in the "Professor of the Year" contest. Nominations begin today, April 14, and may be made through Thursday noon, April 24.

The contest is held by the personnel and evaluations committee of the Activities Council and will be judged by them.

Qualifications are: personal interest in student activities; classroom ability; sponsorship of student organizations; and chaperoning of campus events.

Entries are to be submitted at the information booth of the Student Center and must contain, in outline form, the following:

- 1.) The name, position and department of the nominee
- 2.) The name, address and phone of the person making the nomination
- 3.) The reasons for making the nomination
- 4.) The specific qualifications of the nominee
- 5.) Additional comments.

Any student, faculty member, university administrator or organization is eligible to make a nomination.

The winner will be announced at the Awards Banquet for the Activities Council and Student Congress Thursday, May 11, and will be presented with a plaque.

Bargaining and Arbitration Conclave Begins Monday

By JACK GLADDEN

A two-day conference on Collective Bargaining and Arbitration will begin here Monday, April 17.

Dr. Murray M. Rohman, professor of personnel administration, is conference director. For the first time this year the Bureau of National Affairs, Inc., and the American Arbitration Association, sponsors of the conference, have scheduled several regional conferences instead of a single national conference.

TCU, through the efforts of Dr. Rohman, is the only university to be chosen as the site for one of these conferences.

Problems Aired

Purpose of the conferences is to enable representatives of management, labor, and arbitration groups to meet and discuss their common problems.

One of the unusual features of this conference, according to Dr. Rohman, will be the presentation of a panel of nationally known arbitrators, who will answer questions from the audience throughout the program.

First Day Schedule

The programs for the first day will be conducted by the Bureau of National Affairs and will be made up of briefing sessions on collective bargaining.

Dean I. H. Harrison of the School of Business will deliver the introductory address at 8:30 a.m. Monday. President D. Ray Lindley will welcome the delegates to the University.

The Tuesday meetings will be concerned with the topic "New Approaches to Arbitration by Management and Unions." Discussions on "Contribution of Arbitration to Labor-Management Relations," "What the Parties Desire from Arbitration," and "How to Lose an Arbitration Case," will make up the morning program.

On Tuesday afternoon a panel of lawyers representing both management and labor will discuss "Legal Aspects of Arbitration."

Panel Program Set

The final program will be a question and answer period with a panel of arbitrators answering questions from the audience.

Several distinguished speakers will take part in the discussions. Delegates from all over the country are being registered for attendance.

State Churchmen Lunching Here

A complimentary anniversary luncheon heads the activities of the 74th annual assembly of the Texas Convention of Christian Churches today at 12:15 in the Student Center Ballroom.

Ministers and other full-time specialists, including TCU and Brite College students who are serving Christian churches in the state, are invited to attend.

Representatives from almost every Christian Church in the state are expected to attend. Dr. Tilford T. Swearingen, executive director of the Texas Board of Christian Churches, will deliver the principle address.

Seven thousand ministers and lay persons registered for the annual convention. "Fulfilling Responsible Decisions" is the theme of the assembly.

In the Wednesday evening meeting Dr. M. E. Sadler, chancellor, awarded an honorary Doctor of Divinity degree to the Rev. Karl M. Parker, president of the 1961 convention and executive director of the Association of Churches of Greater Houston.

The new president checks his fly rod during an informal moment. A fishing enthusiast, he carries a rod and reel in the trunk of his car.

Woman's Section Is Part Of Paper Says Editor

By GWEN LAWTON
 "Women's news is not a separate part of the paper," said Miss Latryl Layton, woman's editor of The Fort Worth Press, at a recent journalism assembly.

Speaking on the topic, "Journalism and the 'Weaker' Sex," she said, "there shouldn't be any difference in writing a news story for the woman's page. Just the subject matter is different."

"The woman's section is part of the paper. Stories can be pulled to be put on another page."

Plans Own Section

The woman's department of The Press does its own planning and writing, and is responsible to the managing editor and editor.

"Previously this would be the society page," she explained. "Now it is women's news, covering food, home-making, child care, fashions, clubs, weddings, gardening, travel and Fine Arts."

"If the average woman has 30 minutes to read, she won't spend the time reading who went to what parties," she said concerning the change.

"Walter Humphrey (Press editor) was interested in making more of the woman's department than just a stereotyped society page."

Miss Layton described Fort Worth as "a very clubby town." Three thousand women belong to 100 garden clubs, she said.

"Newspaper work can be as interesting as you make it. You meet many interesting people and it gives you a chance to be a

Dawson Still Improving

Harold Dawson, Stinnett freshman, continues to improve, Harris Hospital authorities reported Wednesday morning.

His brother, Larry, told the Skiff that the doctors are "well satisfied" with the progress Harold has made thus far, but that he will remain on the critical list for several days.

FA Banquet Scheduled

The Fine Arts Festival Banquet will be held Tuesday, April 11, at Petta's Italian Inn.

The banquet will launch the Festival, which will be held through May 16. The theme of the Festival is "The arts of Italy."

Several performances will be given by students and faculty members of the music and theater-arts departments during the Festival.

little more bold than you would be ordinarily."

News Must be Right

Accuracy is very important in newspaper work, Miss Layton thinks. "We should strive for getting news right and exactly right."

Journalists should master the tools of the trade so that they can use them unconsciously, she said. Welcoming criticism is another part of the newspaperman's job.

Miss Layton has been with The Press for nine years. She became woman's editor six months after she began.

Miss Layton is Mrs. John L. Ohendalski "after five o'clock," as she expresses it.

She met her husband at The Press.

Petty Awarded Fulbright Grant

Fred Petty, Fort Worth senior, has been awarded a Fulbright grant for study during the coming year at the Academy of Music in Vienna.

He will receive his Bachelor of Music—with a major in musicology and a minor in French—in May. Since entering the University in 1957, he has held a Theodore Presser Foundation grant.

Petty plays the French horn with the University Symphony Orchestra and the Fort Worth Symphony and Fort Worth Opera orchestras.

He is a member of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, national music fraternity, and Alpha Chi, honorary scholarship society, and is on the dean's list.

Man of Many Titles Takes Teaching Job

Investment broker.
 Presbyterian layman.
 Auto tool manufacturer.
 Student.

These are but a few titles available to describe Dallasite Arthur Lloyd Barnett, who "commutes" to classes daily.

In addition to the above designations, he recently was named senior graduate assistant in the religion department for the spring semester.

His appointment, which will include teaching and other departmental duties, was announced by Graduate School Dean James M. Moudy and Religion Department Chairman Noel Keith.

A 1959 honor student of SMU, Barnett had majors in religion, Greek and social science. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

He is doing research here on his thesis for the M.A. in religion, on religious curriculums offered in Texas junior colleges. Following the thesis' completion, he plans to begin work on his Ph.D. in preparation for later work with Presbyterian educational institutions, particularly on the junior or senior college level.

Prior to his return to college, Barnett was in the automotive tool manufacturing business more than 20 years, serving as president and general manager of a company in Dallas. He combines his studies with a personal investment business.

Parabola Club To Hold Banquet

The spring banquet of Parabola club will be held at 6:30 p.m. Friday, April 21, at Vance Godbey's Restaurant on the Jacksboro highway. The $2 cost will include a buffet supper.

Earle Barnes, member of the Board of Trustees, and a former member of Parabola, will be the speaker. He is the director of research at Dow Chemical in Shreveport.

Tickets may be purchased through April 19, at the office of Charles Sherrer, math department chairman, in the Winton-Scott Building.

Parabola is planning a doughnut sale in the dorms April 18, to raise money for a scholarship fund.

Arts Festival Scheduled Next Sunday

The University Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Dr. Ralph Guenther, will present the first musical program of the Fine Arts Festival at 3 p.m. Sunday in Ed Landreth Auditorium.

The concert will keep the theme of the Festival, "The Arts of Italy," with selections by Italian composers.

Selections are "Overture, Il Matrimonio Segreto," by Cimarosa; "Concerti delle Stagioni (The Seasons)," by Vivaldi, featuring Kenneth Schanewerk, assistant professor of theory and violin as violin soloist; and "Settima Sinfonia (della Canzoni)," by Malipiero.

Several other musical and dramatical performances will be given during the three-week Festival, which will conclude May 7.

Senior Women To Be Given Tea

Senior women will be honorees at a tea given by the Faculty Women's Club Tuesday, April 18, at the home of Chancellor and Mrs. M. E. Sadler, 3888 South Hills Cir.

Calling hours are from 3-5 p.m. Invitations have been mailed to 275 senior women students.

Mrs. Charles Sherer is hostess for the tea, and Mrs. George Fowler is co-hostess.

The serving table will be centered with an arrangement of pastel spring flowers, with silver appointments. Pouring will be Mmes. Gayle Scott, Arch Wallace, Colby D. Hall and Miss Bonne Enlow.

Guests will be welcomed at the door by Miss Jo Ann James and Mrs. Fowler. The receiving line will include Mmes. Sherer, Sadler, D. Ray Lindley, L. C. White and Miss Elizabeth Shelburne, Mrs. White is president of the Faculty Women's Club.

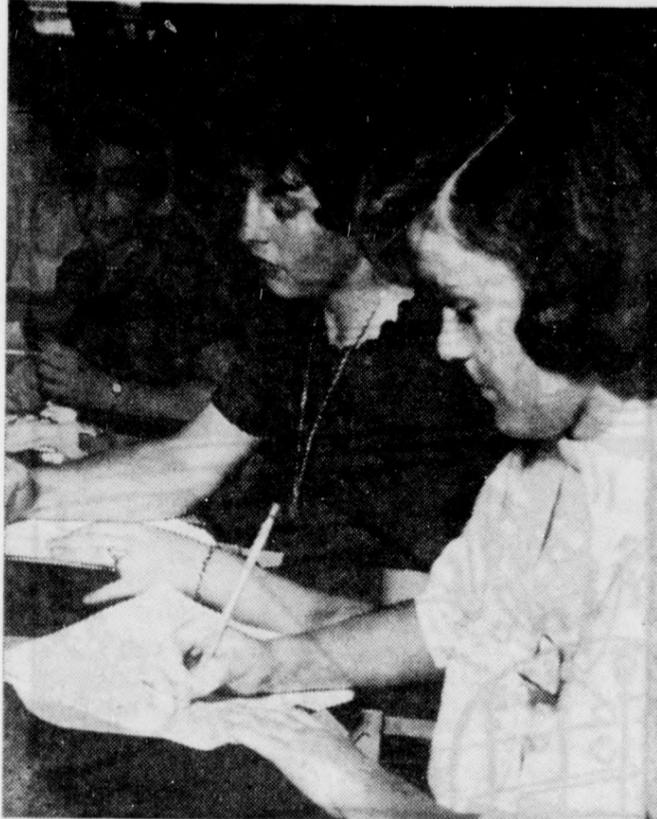

Decorations and refreshments committee chairmen include Mmes. Fowler, Juanita Owens, Mack Clark and Miss Ina Mae Bramblett.

Spelling Bee Draws Top Championship Contenders

"E-u-d-a-e-m-o-n-i-c, eudaemonic," said the little blonde solemnly.

She was one of the 25 top spellers who met Tuesday in the Little Theatre to determine the Tarrant County champion. The winner will go to the National Spelling Bee Week competition in Washington, D.C. May 29-June 3.

The elimination to 25 was made Tuesday in Dan D. Rogers Hall.

The Fort Worth Press is sponsor of the bee with Caroline Hamilton, Press school editor and Teen Times column writer, directing the program.

Miss Hamilton said some 30,000 Tarrant County grade and junior high school students had been spelled down to reach last Tuesday's competition. She said the students had been studying for the bee since early January.

Miss Hamilton took the completed papers to TWC soon after the bee, where they were graded by senior education students.

In addition to a week of sight-seeing in Washington, the champion will receive a set of Encyclopedia Britannica and a Paper Mate Gold Capri pen. The first place winner's teacher will receive a Britannica World Language Dictionary.

Altogether, 13 students will receive prizes from transistor radios to dictionaries.

In the national competition, $5,000 in prizes and a New York trip for the grand champion are awarded.

Actives Defeat Pledges in Mud

"We—" began the challenge that ended in an exciting baseball game Saturday. The challenge was made by the pledges of Tau Beta Sigma, national band sorority, and was directed to the actives of the organization.

A nip and tuck battle in the mud and wind almost proved to be an upset of tradition as the pledges almost won, but the actives came through with a score of 16-15 over the pledges. In the annual event the pledges have never won, but this year they gave the actives a run for their money.

There is a rumor that the actives may challenge the former pledges to another baseball game before the year is finished. In this game there will be no burden of tradition, for the pledges were made actives in an initiation ceremony Sunday.

Opinions on Intellectuals

Editor's note: In the second of a series of three articles on President Kennedy's new cabinet, The Skiff interviews TCU government professors. They present their opinions here on JFK's "government by intellectuals."

Dr. August O. Spain, chairman of the government department is, generally speaking, "in favor of more intellectuals in the President's cabinet and other high posts. FDR had his brain trust."

Dr. Spain feels that "a lot of people referred to as intellectuals are very competent. Some have other kinds of experience and are well known whether in business or in the professions."

Professor Spain "had rather thought any previous disposition to disdain advances of recent years to recruit (provide) a climate more favorable to intellectuals in high advisory roles."

He thinks this "is a good thing. Secretaries of state and other officials of the state department for a long time have been highly educated. Their experience in business or law made them intellectuals. Dulles, for example, or Acheson. Many secretaries of state and policy planners had the quality of the kind referred to make them intellectuals. This was not so in the other departments."

Dr. Spain notes that there is a "greater number of Harvard professors brought in. This is not new. There were a good many in Eisenhower, Truman and Roosevelt's administrations. Not brand new, it just seems so. There was a wider use in the Eisenhower administration. Colleges provided very high officials for Eisenhower."

Dr. Comer Clay, professor of government, believes "intellectuals are only a small percentage of the people in government."

He does feel that it is a good idea to bring in persons who are well educated.

Dr. Clay sees a "need to mix practice and experience. One should learn practice as well as academic knowledge. Good grades do not necessarily produce good ministers."

Good grades in college are no assurance of good government, but I feel the chances of being satisfied are better than with those men who have no good grades."

Charles W. Proctor, associate professor of government, notes that, "most officials are educated—if not, something is wrong."

He remarked that there has been "some criticism by people of the Harvard choices."

Professor Proctor defends this: "A new president must appoint those he knows. There is no opposition ready to take over here as there is in England. A President must build a new team responsible to the country. People he knows have his goals. Kennedy considered people he was sure were qualified and capable. I see nothing wrong in this. It is natural and sincere. The man is determined to serve his country the best he knows how."

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

OK, OK, I'M COMING!—BUT WHY CAN'T YOU JUST BLOW YER HORN LIKE TH' OTHER FELLOWS?!"

BACK TALK

From Boxing to Ballet

By LYNN SWANN

She is a "daddy's girl." Since he is an avid boxing fan and she loves the ballet, their interests seem to vary greatly. But do they?

The little girl would crawl into her father's lap, scornful at first of "those bad ole men who hit each other."

The father explained, however, that boxing, like ballet, is an art. He would point to the grace of a fighter as he would feint a blow and then snap back, never losing his balance. What could be more akin to ballet?

Yet many college students fail to recognize the concept that the child learned to appreciate. They, instead, mock or ignore things which they know nothing about.

Perhaps the athlete who knows nothing more intellectual than play number 946, should take heed if he plans to set the world on fire in business.

What is a better way to "escape" from tomorrow's history test than by listening to some soothing music during a study break? This isn't considered "square" by collegiate standards although an opera is "way out."

The beauty that a work of art portrays is not evident to those who know nothing of the work.

It is sad to realize how many things of beauty we overlook each day by failing to be aware of their existence. Keats would shudder at the joy we are forever missing.

Becoming aware of this beauty comes about only by association with it . . . and then it takes time. The captain of the Frog football team knew nothing of the ballet until he became engaged to a former ballet major, quite an accomplished dancer.

Opportunities for fulfilling the basic need for beauty are open to TCU students perhaps more than to any other group in the city.

The Fine Arts Festival, coming next week, will emphasize various forms of art—and at a low cost to students.

Editor Writes Students

Dear Students,

This is not a letter TO the editor, but FROM her.

I'm filling the editor's slot for this issue and Don Buckman will take it for next Friday's paper. Don and I are applicants for Skiff editor, to be selected by a joint student-faculty committee May 2.

If you have suggestions for improvement of the paper, please let us know. It's easy to recognize us—we're the boy and girl who are gray-haired, stooped and muttering endlessly, "The paper's out, the paper's out, the paper's . . ."

Seriously, being Skiff editor—if for only one issue—is fun. But, more important, heading the publication that reflects the thoughts and ideals of you, the students, is most challenging.

Sincerely, Lynn Swann

the Soothsayer

By JACK HARKRIDER

One of the most effective "gimmicks" used in a newspaper is the "Advice" column. Many people like to tell their problems to an "expert" and have them solved. Therefore, being such an "expert" on these matters, I will answer some of the questions that have been sent to me.

"Dear Soothsayer:

I can't find a boy! I know a lot of girls have this same problem, but I'm different. I'm 20 years old, five feet-five inches tall, blonde, blue eyes, 36-21-34 measurements, am a good dancer, have won several beauty and personality contests, have a '61 Corvette, and a two-million dollar inheritance when I become 21. Believe me—I'm really desperate! Can you help me?—Marilyn."

Dear Marilyn:

I'll be in front of the dorm at seven. We'll be in Ardmore in three hours.—Soothy.

Dear Soothsayer:

Why don't schools do something about these stupid idiots that consider themselves teachers? I kid you not! I'm getting pretty sick and tired of having to put up with their nonsense!

Just to give you an example, I've got one prof that talks about himself and nothing else. He gives double cuts if you miss his class, regardless of the reason, and will fail any student who misses two classes. Not only that, but he gives a test every two weeks over material that has never been covered in class and is not contained in the text. To top this—he's head of the department! What can I do?—Name Withheld."

Dear N. H.:

I've had the same prof myself and I know what you mean. He drives a '59 green and black Chevrolet, and there's some dynamite in the Maintenance Building. Need I say more?—Soothy.

"Dear Soothsayer:

Every time I sneeze, my dorm mother makes me go to the infirmary. This isn't too bad, but when I get to the infirmary, they fill me full of shots and pills, strap me in a bed for two weeks, then send my parents a bill for $200. How can I keep from going to the infirmary —Stella."

Dear Stella:

The dynamite is in the Maintenance Building.—Soothy.

"Dear Soothsayer:

I've ben trying to graguate for six yeers new and I ain't ben abil to make it. I've tried changen my majer but it seams like I'll be hear for another six mor yeers. I dont mind that a hole lot but I need somethin to keep miself okupied. You kno, somethin extra-corericuler. Hav you got eny sugges-teons? P. S. I wuz all-amerecun for too yeers on the foibal team.—Huruld."

Dear Harold:

There's no need to worry any more. You would make an excellent Student Council president. And when this becomes boring, you can quit school and go into politics. Best of luck.—Soothy.

Faculty Art On Display

Faculty art is on display in Room 201, the Fine Arts Gallery, in the Ed Landreth Building until April 26.

"This is the first faculty exhibition in several years and is one of the finest we have ever had," said McKie Trotter, exhibition director.

The six participants in the exhibition are all full time members of the faculty. They are Miss Rose Arnold, instructor in art; Robert Fowler, instructor in art; and Trotter, associate professor of art.

Also displaying art works are Dr. Karl Richards, chairman of the art department; Miss Maud F. Gatewood, instructor in art; and James L. Wozniak, assistant professor of art.

"Most of the 50 pieces have been completed within the last year and a half, and are now over four years old," said Trotter.

The exhibition includes mostly oils, with examples of semi-abstracts, figure studies, landscapes and commercial art included.

"The purpose of the exhibition is to show the students that they have a working faculty, and also to show them what the faculty members like in the way of art," said Trotter.

The next exhibit will be the annual all-students exhibition.

Gallery hours are 9 a.m.-5 p.m. Monday through Friday, and 9 a.m.-12 noon Saturday.

Guenther Family To Perform Friday At Arts Luncheon

Dr. Ralph Guenther, professor of music and director of the University Symphony Orchestra, and his family, will be featured in an instrumental quartet at 10:30 a.m., Friday, at Ridglea Country Club.

The occasion is a Fine Arts showcase and champagne luncheon, which will feature a combined presentation by four leading Fort Worth Civic groups.

Dr. Guenther will play the flute, Mrs. Guenther will accompany at the piano and their two daughters, Randie and Sally, will play the violin and cello. Randie is a freshman at TCU.

The program will be held in conjunction with the Fort Worth Opera Guild's regular monthly meeting.

Participating in the program with the Opera Guild will be the Art Center Guild, the Community Theatre Guild and the Symphony League.

Senate Studies Flick Ban; 'Cadillac' Comes to Casa

A State Senate committee, organized to ban pornographic movies is attempting to pass a bill to impose fines and imprisonment terms on theatre owners who persist in showing "sexy" movies.

Senator Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo was joined by Sheriff Jim Line of Potter County in his desire to "stamp out" the lewd movies.

Hazlewood and Line believe that this "lewdness" is creeping into TV.

If the bill is passed, Texas lawmakers are assuming that some of the top Hollywood movies as well as the European "art" movies will be banned from Texas theatrical screens.

But until the senate puts its plan into action, the All-American Texas male can continue to watch the curvaceous gals, B.B. and M.M., without their conscience bothering them.

Casa Season Opens

"The Solid Gold Cadillac," starring Martha Raye, will open April 19 at Casa Manana.

A New York model and TV actress, Judy Carrol will be characterized as the ingenue in the play.

The following week, Sal Mineo will be coming to the Casa stage in "Operation Madball."

Now Playing

Dean Martin and Shirley MacLaine hit the scene at the Hollywood in a naughty but nice flick, "All in a Night's Work."

"Gone with the Wind" continues at the Worth for its second week, and a couple of blocks down the street Cantinflas thrives to the applause given him in "Pepe."

"Never on Sunday" stays at the Seventh Street again this week. It's about a woman who closes business on Sunday because her conscience bothers her... maybe she's up on the Texas blue laws.

At the Flick

"Operation Madball" will be shown at 7 p.m. today.

It is the final event of the Student Center Birthday Celebration.

In "Operation Madball" Jack Lemmon outsmarts a stuffy, regulations-obsessed officer, played by Ernie Kovacs, in a revolt of the enlisted men at a hospital base in France.

Kathryn Grant, Mickey Rooney, and James Darren also star with Lemmon and Kovacs.

A color short feature "State 50", a tour of our newest state, Hawaii, and a color cartoon will be shown.

Yes, RECORD TOWN has it. But then they always do.

Books Change Worlds

Library Week Observed

Mary Coats Burnett Library is currently displaying "16 Books That Changed The World" in observance of Library Week.

Based upon the appraisal by Robert B. Downs, University of Illinois librarian, the principle criterion is that each book chosen must have had a profound effect on human thought and action in a large segment of the world.

A display poster tells the reader: "A popular misconception holds that books are futile objects, with limited power and influence."

"The idea prevails widely that books are harmless, innocent and ineffective, full of theory, and of little significance for the practical man of affairs."

"In actuality there is overwhelming evidence throughout history that books have not been inanimate peaceful objects."

On the contrary, books may be dynamic and vital, capable of changing the whole direction of events, sometimes for good, sometimes for evil. Whenever tyrants have wanted to suppress opposition and to kill ideas, their thought invariably has been to destroy the books, and sometimes their authors. They were shrewd enough to realize the explosive forces pent up in books."

The books date from 1523 to 1927. Their relative importance is not considered. Some of the books from the list include: "Origin of the Species," by Charles Darwin; "Relativity, The Special and General Theory," Albert Einstein.

Evening College Tests Scheduled

Again this year, Evening College students will be able to take a battery of tests to show interests and adaptability for jobs.

The tests will be given every Thursday evening at 6:30 and may be taken in sections. Anyone interested should call or stop by the Evening College office.

Results will be discussed privately after all tests have been completed.

Dean Cortell Holsapple of the Evening College said that, "all applicants will not be able to take the tests; therefore, appointments will be made in order of application."

Need for New 'Doxology' Stressed by Rev. Hardin

The Rev. H. Grady Hardin, professor of Worship and Preaching at SMU, spoke on "A New Doxology" at Chapel Tuesday.

A native South Carolinian, the Rev. Hardin proclaimed: "I have no new doxology, lyrics or music, but if a new one is sung perhaps you will sing it and write the lyrics or music."

He mentioned America's contribution of the "blues" to serious music, then he made the analogy that today "many aspects of contemporary art and literature also show the tune of the blues."

The Rev. Hardin said "No one can say the blues aren't true. We have a shallow isolationism and live in it and say everything is fine when it is not."

The new doxology must be inspired and not contrived, according to the Reverend, and the new doxology, whether it comes in 1961 or 1962 will be in harmony with God and not necessarily ourselves. The speaker said one thing is positive: "The new doxology must come from somewhere."

Next week Dr. Floyd Leggett, Associate Professor of Religion, will be chapel speaker. Dr. Leggett received his B.A. and M.A. from the University, and in 1956 received the honorary D.D. degree.

Music Award Contest Open

"Scholarships in Music," a national contest sponsored by F. E. Olds and Sons, manufacturers of musical instruments and publishers of music, will be open for entries from April 15 to June 15.

The first scholarship award is $500, the second is $350 and third is $200. These amounts will be paid on tuition or if a graduate is a winner, the award will be made in cash.

The contest is open to all juniors, seniors and graduate students in the music department. Scholarships are awarded for theses, term papers or articles completed during the current academic year judged to show the greatest evidence of original thinking, sound research and intelligent objectives.

They may be written on any subject related to instrumental music.

Before coming here in 1957, Dr. Leggett served in the First Christian Church in Norfolk, Va.

He was a Chaplain (Captain) in the U.S. Air Force.

What is all this noise about Basketball Coach Buster Brannon retiring from coaching because of a recent operation?

It all started when a Dallas sportswriter said that Brannon was going into private business rather than return to the rigors of coaching.

For all those concerned, a team of wild horses couldn't keep Buster away. Why next year he has too much going for him.

WITH A BRAND NEW coliseum and a home on campus for his basketball team after waiting these many years for one, why should Buster leave?

Also Brannon has one of the best groups of returning players he has had in some time. The entire starting five were slated to return. But guard Tommy Pennick has eye trouble from an injury suffered in a game with Baylor last season, and whether he can play next year remains a big question mark.

IF PENNICK does not play, there is freshman Bobby McKinley, the wizard ball handler from Bowie who can shoot accurately with either hand. Freshman coaches around the league last winter said that McKinley could have made a few of the Southwest Conference teams.

Also, there is giant Pete Houck, 6-9, who was red-shirted last year. Houck will give the Frogs added height under the basket with 6-10 Alton Adams and 6-7 Don Rosick.

Brannon was on campus Tuesday looking around and doing a little recruiting. It is believed that Frog recruiting has been hurt because of the rumor that Brannon would retire.

WHY SHOULD Brannon leave what he loves doing most; especially when a winning season could welcome in his first season in the new field house?

Some people can remember when TCU was the patsy in basketball.

Since those days, however, Brannon has brought TCU to the front in SWC basketball, and as long as Buster is here, the Frogs are likely to be one of the conference's top teams.

Buster Brannon is not going to retire, don't kid yourself.

WHILE WE'RE talking about the new coliseum, might as well add that it should make the annual Delt basketball tournament bigger and better than ever next year.

Linksmen Face Texas

Frog linksmen, led by hard-hitting Mike Walling invade Austin today to do battle with the strong Texas Longhorns.

The winner of the dual match will emerge with second place in the conference race firmly in their grasp. At present, TCU is tied for second with Texas Tech but the onrushing Longhorns are in the third spot only one match behind.

Jack Montgomery, Walling, Bill Jones and Gabe Cunningham will carry the Purple colors. They will be opposed by Charles Bridwell, Terry Dill, last year's SWC champ, Stuart Chancellor and Jimmy Bratten.

Walling, the Frog's lone returning letterman, has been the mainstay of the team this season. If he continues his fine play today, TCU should return home securely lodged in second place.

Frog '9' Meets Baylor Friday

If ever a move toward the top is to be made by the Frog baseballers, it must be this weekend.

Phi Delt, Bwanas Top Bowlers

Student bowling leagues are halfway through their first season and are considering entering the Intercollegiate Bowling Tournament at A&M, April 22-23.

The league program was set up by the Activities Council at the beginning of the spring semester. Two leagues, the White and Purple, were formed and bowl weekly.

Players with the highest averages on the White League to date are: Pat Karr, Fort Worth sophomore, 166; Art Hanna, Abilene sophomore, 151; and Wayne Arrowood, Fort Worth freshman, 150.

Last week's high series in that league went to Herb Hightower, Fort Worth senior, with 565, Pat Karr, 538, and Dean Lee, 523.

Highest averages in the Purple League belong to: Leonard Meador, Dallas sophomore, 171; Dan Norman, Burleson senior, 165; and Harry Austin, Fort Worth sophomore, 165.

High series for the Purple's were rolled by: Harry Austin, 530; Leonard Meador, 520; and Dan Norman, 507.

The leagues are still open to students. To join, contact Miss Myra Alexander, ext. 414, or Gary Ashmore, WA 1-1621.

Top teams for the White League are:

Team	Average
Bwanas	.900
Untouchables	.800
Classcutters	.600
OTL's	.600
Discards	.350

For the Purple League:

Team	Average
Phi Delta Theta	.700
Should 'A Beens	.650
The Boys	.650
The Deltis	.650
The Strikeouts	.650

Baylor comes to town for a two-game series Friday and Saturday at Rockwood Park. The last time these two teams tried to make a go of it at Baylor, the weather man prevailed and the game was called because of rain.

TCU owns a 2-1 record for a tie for second place in the conference with the Aggies. A sweep of the two-game series with Baylor would put the Purples in a good position to try and overtake league-leading Texas.

Probable starting pitchers for McDowell will be Phil Reynolds and Bob Shelton. Reynolds is the basketballer who is trying his shooting eye at a catcher's mit.

Reynolds has seen little action this year after getting a late start from basketball season. Shelton was fairly effective during the pre-season games but has seen only limited action in conference play.

Last week when Leon Baze hit three home runs in one game, everyone was saying, "Who can remember when a TCU player hit three homers in one game, much less in one season?"

Well, Baze did it again!

The Frog third sacker slugged a two-run homer in the first inning Tuesday to give the impetus for the Frogs' 7-1 victory over SMU.

Baze now has four home runs for the season. The leader in the conference home-run parade last year, Wayne McDonald, hit only five. As a team last year, the Frogs only hit 12 homers.

Frog lefthander Don Schmidt brought his conference record to 2-0 while scattering nine hits in making his third-straight conference start Tuesday.

Four Frogs—Jim Balch, Don Reynolds, Buddy Iles and Doug Moore—collected two hits each to lead the 11-hit assault on three Mustang pitchers.

Once again the revamped infield of TCU was outstanding. They played errorless ball and turned in three double plays to keep the tireless Schmidt out of trouble.

The only injured player for McDowell is outfielder Cliff Justice. Justice has an injured ankle but hopes to be able to play in the Aggie series next week end.

SMU dropped further into the conference cellar, following Tuesday's loss, now having lost four games in succession.

Because rain forced the cancellation of one game each with Baylor and A&M earlier, a doubleheader may be expected one day this weekend and one the next, when A&M comes to town.

Seven games in 12 days will keep the Frog pitching staff more than busy. McDowell has been fortunate in being able to start Schmidt in every conference affair so far because of the light schedule.

SAE Defeats Phi Deltis

Defending fraternity intramural softball champions SAE, opened defense of their title by defeating the Phi Deltis, 6-2, at Forest Park Tuesday.

Pitcher Willard Reynolds chalked up the victory for his team.

SAE breezed through a seven-game schedule without a defeat last year to capture the championship.

Rabbit McDowell with "home run kid" Leon Baze and probable starter Phil Reynolds, in the center.

Track Squad Heads For Denton Relays

Time for a break, although not for long.

While most of the other Southwest Conference schools are participating in the Dallas Invitation Track and Field Meet Friday and Saturday, TCU journeys to Denton to compete in the North Texas State Relays.

This is a break in the usual competition. Baylor, Texas, ACC, the Purples' chief opponents this year, will be in Dallas for the weekend.

Coach Eddie Weems plans to take every one who wants to go to Denton for the Relays.

Of course there will be the "big 8" that represents TCU in every meet; high jumper Jackie Upton, hurdler Bobby Bernard, broad jumper Jerry Spearman, dash man Glen McCroskey and the mile relay team of Reagan Gasaway, Al Heiser, Sam Ketcham and Ray Reed.

Nolan Brawley and Marvin Silliman get a chance to improve on their distance running in Denton. Brawley is the freshman miler, while Silliman will compete in the open mile. Silliman is an ineligible transfer student.

Other freshmen making the trip will be Lynn Brantley in the 100 and 220 and Will Wertz in the high jump. Weems also indicated that weight men Ken Henson and Jim Fox may make the trip.

Volley Ball Team Wins

The Women's Sports Association Volley Ball Team took third place consolation at the recent Third Annual Women's Invitational Volley Ball Tournament at Hardin-Simmons recently.

The team lost to the Hardin-Simmons team in the first round of a single elimination consolation tournament, 8-13, 5-12. In the Consolation series, TCU beat Odessa Junior College and Cisco Junior College.

Miss Dow McGregor, Waxahachie sophomore, was chosen for the all-tournament team. The co-captains were Misses Martha Chilton, Commanche junior, and Glenda Craddock, Winnsboro sophomore.

Netmen Meet Texas Tech

TCU's net men, following their humiliating 6-0 defeat at the hands of SMU, will play host to Texas Tech today at 1:30 p.m. in an attempt to get back in the SWC net race. The match will be played at Ridglea Country Club courts.

The experienced Mustangs proved to be too much for Coach Ken Crawford's young Frogs. Although the coach was disappointed at the final score, he did voice some praise for his squad.

"We put up a pretty good fight," he said. "Paul Lozuk along with both doubles teams tried real hard. We played better tennis than the score indicates."

Earl Van Zandt lost to Willie Wolff, 0-6, 2-6; Paul Lozuk was defeated by Tommy Howorth, 2-6, 2-6; Paul Christian was beaten by Bill Ingram, 1-6, 3-6; and Roy Persons succumbed to Mike Amis, 6-1, 1-6, 2-6.

In the doubles Van Zandt-Christian lost to Wolff-Howorth, 11-9, 3-6, 1-6 and Lozuk-Persons were defeated by Ingram-Lee Como, 8-10, 2-6.

Coach Crawford calls the match with Texas Tech a "must." Despite their poor start, the Frogs' chances for a good conference season are still bright if they can beat the Red Raiders.

TCU will take a breather from SWC action when the net men travel to Abilene to challenge Hardin-Simmons Monday and to take on Abilene Christian College in a return match Tuesday.

Mike Walling blasts out of sand.
