Financial Aid To Be Given By Congress

Need financial aid? Student Congress is offering a $100 per semester scholarship for the school year 1961-62.

To be eligible for this award, one must have an overall average of 3.7 on all college work, be carrying the proper number of hours required on the degree plan, and not be the recipient of another scholarship.

Application blanks may be obtained at the information desk in the Student Center Friday, April 28. The applications must be returned by 1 p.m. Wednesday, May 3.

Student Congress will contact the applicants and arrange a time for an interview.

Air Force To Meet Army In Mock War

Alarm clocks will shatter the early morning stillness Saturday for scores of enthusiastic ROTC cadets who have signed up to attend a field problem at Camp Wolters, near Mineral Wells.

Besides 95 cadets here, 50 high school cadets will participate in the two-day exercise.

After forming up on campus at 6:45 a.m. Saturday, friendly forces (Army ROTC and high school) and aggressor squads (Air Force ROTC) will move to the wild terrain of Camp Wolters.

From then until Sunday noon, they will be busy nearly every minute.

There will be an attack to take over an aggressor position Saturday, a withdrawal from that position Saturday night and a dawn attack Sunday morning.

The problem might be easier in two respects: there will be no "C" rations this year, and the aggressors will not be armed with machineguns as they have been in the past.

The 185 weary warriors will return to the campus Sunday morning, clean weapons, and in all probability head for a bed.

Sigma Chi Sweetheart To Be Chosen Tonight

The Sweetheart of Sigma Chi will be picked tonight from three finalists at the annual Sweetheart Ball at the Ridglea Country Club.

Susan Handley, a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma from Fort Worth; Beverly Jamison, Pi Beta Phi from Gainesville; and Eleanor Burroughs, Delta Delta Delta from Longview will vie for the coveted Sweetheart honor.

All candidates were introduced at a tea Sunday and the finalists were selected Monday night by actives and pledges of Sigma Chi Fraternity.

Women from each sorority on campus, as well as five nominations from the floor, entered the contest.

Alpha Delta Pi was represented by Barbara Byrd, Beaumont; Chi Omega, Nelda Gribbsby,

Gary Hamrick, Dallas senior, at left, explains a course he will take during graduate study at Harvard to Mike Reed, Midland senior, center, and Fred Petty, Fort Worth senior. Hamrick will attend Harvard under a National Science Foundation Fellowship. Petty will study in Vienna under a Fulbright grant and Reed has been awarded a Woodrow Wilson and a Danforth Fellowship for study at Yale.

Harvard, Yale and Vienna Give Outstanding Awards

While most seniors are unpacking their bathing suits and putting away books, others are rolling up their sleeves for another round.

In the latter category are three University students. Two have been awarded fellowships and one a grant.

Fred Curtis Petty has been awarded a Fulbright grant to study in Vienna for the 1961-62 school year. Petty will receive his bachelor of music degree May 31. A member of Air Force ROTC, he will be commissioned a second lieutenant in the AF Reserve July 15.

Promotes Understanding
The Fulbright grant was established to promote better understanding among people of other countries and the United States. Petty will attend the Vienna's Academy of Music.

A member of the Select Series Committee, Petty is also a member of Phi Kappa Sigma and Phi Mu Alpha. A Fort Worth resident, he was graduated from Poly High School.

Mike Reed, Midland senior, will enter Yale to study for a Doctorate in Medieval History. He has been awarded a Woodrow Wilson and a Danforth Fellowship.

Plans To Teach
Reed is president of Phi Alpha Theta and a member of Alpha Chi. He plans to teach after completing his Ph.D.

Before entering Yale, Reed will spend a busy summer. In June he will marry Dorothy Edwards, Fort Worth senior. Miss Edwards will graduate May 31.

To Harvard will go Gary Hamrick, Dallas senior. He has been awarded a National Science Foundation Fellowship to study mathematics. He has also been awarded an honorary Woodrow Wilson Fellowship.

A graduate of North Dallas High School, Hamrick is a member of Alpha Chi and past president of Delta Tau Delta. He is also a member of the Parabola Club.

Hamrick's wife Jean, a history major, will also graduate in May. She plans to teach during their stay at Harvard.

Cadets To Enter Meet

Six ROTC cadets and Capt. Zane G. Brewer of Air Force ROTC will fly to Texas A&M this weekend to participate in the National Intercollegiate Flying Association Air Meet and Conference there.

Capt. Brewer is faculty advisor of the Flying Club here.

Skiff Grabs Top Rating In Own Class

The Skiff, for the 15th time, is an All-American newspaper.

The Associated Collegiate Press critical service compares college papers from all over the nation.

The Skiff was one of five to win the coveted All-American award in the semi-weekly class for last semester.

"The Skiff's news coverage was excellent for enterprise, superior for news sense and superior for judgement," said G. D. Hiibert, who judged the semi-weekly papers.

"The front page layouts were consistently attractive and the

'Italy Never This Lucky'

"Italy never had it so good." Such were the sentiments of Dean Frank Hughes of the School of Fine Arts, concerning the Annual Fine Arts Festival, now in progress.

"The Arts of Italy" is this year's festival theme, in commemoration of Italy's centennial. The separate states of Italy were unified in 1861.

"The festival is doing a great deal to link together the various aspects of the fine arts," Dean Hughes said.

"We are very pleased to see such good attendance for the programs, including faculty members, students and townspeople," he said.

The three-week festival will continue at 3 p.m. Sunday, April 30, with a recital of Italian chamber music.

The remaining events will be a student organ recital at 4 p.m., Tuesday, May 2; and a concert by the University Chorus and Orchestra at 3 p.m., Sunday, May 7.

These performances will be held in Ed Landreth Auditorium. "The Mistress of the Inn," an Italian comedy, will have its last two performances tonight and tomorrow night in the Little Theatre. Curtain time is 8 p.m.

First Senior Day Scheduled May 5

Attention seniors! The University will initiate its first annual Senior Day May 5 and all "fourth-yearers", whether graduating in June or August, are invited to attend.

And dates are urged . . . including wives!

The event will be held at the Fort Worth Elks Club from 12 noon until midnight.

Volleyball, swimming, horse-shoe-pitching and other sports head-up the recreation agenda, including a dance in the evening.

Tickets will go on sale Monday at the Student Center information booth and at a temporary booth to be set up in Dan D. Rogers Hall.

The event will be co-sponsored by the senior class and the Ex-Students Association.

Division Army Engineer To Join Faculty in Fall

Col. Stanley G. Reiff, Southwestern Division engineer of the U.S. Corps of Engineers in Dallas, has been named professor in the field, according to President D. Ray Lindley.

Col. Reiff, who retires from active service May 31, is a native of Omaha, Neb. and took his bachelor of science degree at the University of Nebraska. He received his master of science at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

He served with the American Bridge Company and the General Construction Company from 1928-1941. For a year he was a civil engineer with the Army and then in 1942 joined the Corps of Engineers.

While serving in many posts in Japan, Washington, D.C. and Tulsa, Col. Reiff rose from captain to colonel.

The new faculty member holds the Legion of Merit and Commendation Ribbon with Metal Pendant. He is a registered professional engineer in both Nebraska and Texas.

'Writing Day' Speaker Is Not Author Suspect

Dillon Anderson, the speaker for this year's creative writing day convention, is an unlikely suspect for an author.

Professionally, he is a Houston attorney. From 1942-45 he was a colonel in the Army, in 1955-56 he served as special assistant to the president for national security and in 1955 he was a member of the United States delegation to the Summit Conference at Geneva, Switzerland.

In addition to all of this, Anderson is an author. His articles and picaresque stories have appeared in Atlantic, Southwest Review and Saturday Review.

He is the author of two novels, "I and Claudie," "Claudie's Kinfolks," and a third novel, "The Billingsley Papers," to be published this fall.

Theta Sigma Phi Plans Discussed

Fourteen coeds met recently in Dan D. Rogers Hall to discuss the formation of a TCU chapter of Theta Sigma Phi, national honorary journalism fraternity for women.

Two members of the Fort Worth branch of the fraternity, Mrs. Jean Lister, a University graduate and English and journalism teacher at Lake Worth High School, and Mrs. Jean Gilliland, graduate of the University of Missouri, spoke to the group.

As the first step to becoming a national organization, the group voted to recognize the Ridings Press Club.

Newly-elected officers of the Ridings Press Club are Lynn Swann, Atlanta, Ga. junior, president; Sheila Estes, Fort Worth junior, vice president; Gwen Lawton, Fort Worth junior, secretary; and Sue Morton, Katy junior, treasurer.

Anderson will speak at 11 a.m. Tuesday, May 11, in Ed Landreth Auditorium. His topic will be "From Law to Literature."

After his talk, awards will be made for the creative writing contests and an anthology containing the prize winning entries will be distributed.

Recital Given As Pledge Event

Mu Phi Epsilon, national professional music sorority, recently presented its pledges in a recital. The recital is a national requirement for pledge classes before they are admitted to the sorority.

Participating were Misses Margie Schlickelman, flute; Margaret Ferguson, violin; Suzanne Andre, flute; Randie Guenther, violin; Sydney Payne, harp; Nancy Rose, oboe; Barbara Ecabert, clarinet; Freda Hughes, piano; and Mrs. Verna Kennelly, trumpet.

Harris To Attend Degree Meeting

Miss Lucy Harris, dean of Harris College of Nursing, will attend the April 29-May 6 meeting of the Board of Review for Accreditation of Baccalaureate Degree Programs in Nursing in New York.

A part of the National League for Nursing, the 12-member group periodically reviews and accredits collegiate schools of nursing.

"A school has to be re-approved every six years," explained Dean Harris. She has been a member of the group four and a half years. This meeting will conclude her term.

Junior English Majors Offered Award by Club

The Fort Worth Woman's Wednesday Club is offering an English Merit Award to be given each year to the most outstanding junior English major.

The award will be made on the basis of excellency in English and overall college academic work.

Announcement of the winner will be made on May 11 at a Creative Writing Day Convocation.

The award will be presented by Mrs. Will F. Collins, president of the Fort Worth Woman's Wednesday Club.

Award nominations will be made by members of the English faculty, and the winner will be selected by a committee of English faculty members appointed by Dr. Cecil B. Williams, chairman of the English department.

Invariably the contents of a will are a dead giveaway.

Geology Club Collects Fossils in Oklahoma

Various rocks, fossils and minerals were collected by the Geology Club on its recent field trip to the Arbuckle Mountains near Ardmore, Okla., April 22-23. The group found fossil sponges and trilobite, an extinct ancient organism. They also visited the granite outcrop at Tishimingo, Okla., where different types of dike rocks (rocks formed deep within the earth) were examined.

Stewart Stresses Christian Gospel

"The Christian gospel is something to get excited about," assistant professor, John W. Stewart, of Old Testament in Brite College, recently told the chapel audience.

"We can peddle insurance or sell nails with more zeal than we proclaim the gospel," he said.

"All of us have the qualities, abilities and enthusiasm to be great saints," he said, "but we need to get excited over our religion."

Stewart's topic was: "You Are Better Than You Think."

"We will sacrifice health or even life in our pursuit of money," he said.

Stewart, whose sharp wit kept his audience laughing much of the time, proved by example that religion is something to get enthusiastic about.

Two Get Honors At Sorority Fete

Miss Teresa Golleher, Mission sophomore, and Mrs. Verna Kennelly, Fort Worth senior, were honored recently at the annual luncheon of Tau Beta Sigma, national honorary band sorority.

Miss Golleher was named best pledge and Mrs. Kennelly was voted the best-active award.

The luncheon was held Saturday at Youngblood's Restaurant.

John Farr Wins Texas Fellowship

John T. Farr, former University student, has been awarded a fellowship by the University of Texas.

Farr was graduated in 1959 and he received his masters here in August, 1960. He was business manager of the Skiff in 1958 and 1959.

Farr plans to begin work on his Ph.D. next fall at the University of Texas.

Armstrong Speaks On Prayer Ideas

"Intercessory Prayer" was the subject of H. Parr Armstrong's talk at a meeting of the Student Volunteer Movement Tuesday.

He spoke on principles applied to prayer generally. He worked them out on the basis of Bible study. Some of the principles on which he spoke were the idea of praying for others and that God is love. "God is love, therefore, the only valid prayer for another is one which is for that person," Armstrong said. His main point was this: "Don't pray against someone."

SKIFF

This marks the first time since the fall semester of 1958 that The Skiff has received this rating, and the first time since it became semi-weekly.

The first award was received for the fall of 1950.

The publication was analyzed and rated in its own classification and was judged in comparison with those produced by other colleges of similar enrollment.

Gardner To Represent University in Chicago

Dr. E. W. Gardner, assistant professor of biology, will represent the cholera research project being conducted on campus at the Chicago national meeting of the Society of American Bacteriologists this weekend.

Religious Director Picks Duke

James A. Farrar, director of religious activities, will be on leave of absence next year to work on his Ph.D. at Duke University, Durham, N.C.

Farrar received the Danford Grant, based on scholarship, recommendations and the evaluation of three year's work in his position.

He is one of 20 faculty members and graduates here who have received grants.

"Duke has one of the best seminaries in the country," he said. Farrar will leave with his family in time to arrive for the September term.

The religion director received his B.A. here in 1944 and his B.D. in 1948. He also studied at Yale.

Farrar's duties include arranging chapel programs, counseling, teaching in the religion department, working with religious councils and acting as chairman of the public programs committee.

Other members of the religion staff will handle his duties next year. Farrar has been a faculty member for four years.

America was once the melting pot, now it's the pressure cooker.

Athletes--Do They Contribute?

Just what do athletes contribute to a university? Is the athletic scholarship justified, or is it part of an "educational swindle?"

Entertainment, of course, is the first contribution which comes to the minds of students, but this is not the only contribution.

Sports events build up the spirit and enthusiasm of the entire student body, and provide a constructive outlet for students' energy.

Students pursuing different courses of study find a common bond in activities outside the classroom. Foremost among these are sports. No one is more responsible for "esprit de corps" than the athlete, therefore, colleges have an obligation to assist him.

Athletics have become the orbit around which revolves the campus social life. A good athletic program unites the student body, alumni and the public. It arouses the entire campus community. People, who for the most part receive their only contact with the college through sports events, help to carry on traditions which give distinction and character to the school.

Dr. D. Ray Lindley, University president, sees athletics as an important contribution to a college's total image.

"We find ourselves amazingly successful in attracting top scholars and faculty members to the campus. One reason for our success is that before coming here, a favorable image has already been built up in their minds."

Dr. Lindley says, "Our athletic program has contributed to the image of our school. We have a healthy athletic situation here which reflects that we have a wholesome situation in the organization as a whole."

Dr. Law Sone, TWC president, feels the athlete has a responsibility as a public figure.

"On securing an education, he is able to cast reflection on his alma mater by showing the caliber of citizen it produces. He therefore should conduct himself on a high standard."

Athletic competition can develop pride in an institution in a way that few activities can. Interest in athletics can lead to active support of other college programs and projects.

Big sports events provide a rallying place for alumni to show continuing interest in their colleges. This interest often pays off in financial contributions to the college, which helps to build classrooms and dorms, and provide money for non-athletic activities.

Athletic competition between schools results in mutual respect, hospitality and friendship. A wholesome athletic relationship tends to sweep away jealousy and distrust.

Athletics are a great factor in the development of students morally and socially. They promote lessons of good sportsmanship—fairness and courtesy to the opponent. They impart traits of self control, loyalty and improve discipline.

Colleges are fully justified in offering athletic scholarships to keep their colors flying.

In the vacuum created by morbid fundamentalism springs a society one part Aristotelian and ten parts Epicurean.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

BACK TALK

Dope on the Dopes

By JERRY JOHNSON

The following conversation was held between two world leaders. If you pay attention, you might figure out who they are.

"Helllll-O?"

"Buenos dias, and all that jazz."

"Is that you, Whiskers?"

"Si. How 'ya doin Niki sweetie?"

"Oh, not so good man. The doc told me to lay off'n the booz for awhile."

"Yeah, that cotton pickin' vodka is pretty tough stuff."

"What do 'ya mean mean, vodka? It wasn't that; it was that $*&% cheap rum you've been sendin' me. Whadd'ya trying to, do, kill me?"

"Aw no, man. It's just . . . well, you know . . . since we run all the Yanks off the Island, we just ain't been able to put our best foot forward."

"I believe it. The stuff tastes like you've been putting both feet in it."

"Aw, Niki. Don't get sore. I'm kinda' in a bind now. Say, by the way. Have 'ya still got those stag movies I lent 'ya last month? Jack wants to borrow 'em for next Tuesday night and I promised 'em I'd let him have second's."

"No, I give 'em to Charley. He wanted to see if they was as good as the ones he was puttin' out on the Riviera. But I'll give 'em a buzz tonight and have him send 'em to 'ya. OK?"

"Say, man. Like, how are you and Ike gettin' along?"

"Aw, he bugs me. And, like, I was really lookin' forward to Disneyland, too."

"But, Niki. I thought 'ya sent him a present on his last birthday."

"I did. But his 'ole lady got sore cause it wasn't gin and made him send it back."

"Hey, man. Like, I'm gonna give the party a little party next week. Can 'ya make it?"

"Naw. I'd better not. Besides, I've gotta' study the script for the next show. Jack's supposed to send some fotogs to shoot some pictures for Life. He promised me front page too."

"Aw, common over. I've got a big show lined up and with your favorite hero."

"Not Dizzie Gillespie?"

"Like, who else, man? And I'll tell 'ya what, you don't hafta' shave, but please . . . take a bath and change them fatigues."

"Well . . . OK. Hey! 'Ya want me to bring Brother Dave's newest album?"

"Swingin', man. Play it cool til then."

"Like, you too."

How 'Bout That?

By LYNN SWANN

Has anybody ever walked up to you and said, "Be funny"?

All you can think of is Adolph Eichman or something equally as depressing.

Well, that's the case in "How 'Bout That?"

The editor wants 15 inches of humor turned out in five minutes. That's 660 words, 99 commas, 4 semicolons and 1,983 syllables. And they have to be funny!

The only 15-inch unit of humor that comes to mind is a Daschund. But that just won't run in the Skiff. (In fact most Daschunds are too low-slung to run anywhere.)

When It's Due

And when is this spirit-lifting bit of literature due?

When your sweetheart has just become engaged . . . to someone else; it's raining and your roommate has your umbrella; and a 50-page term paper is due tomorrow. The paper is on the "Sex Life of the African Gnat" about which little is known except by African Gnats, of course.

And the editor says, "Be funny."

What to Cover?

Then there's the problem of finding a topic to cover. It's hard to razz somebody new every week. The professors were good for laughs in a few columns . . . until I was put on scholastic probation.

Roommates were a good subject to slam . . . until mine moved out.

And, of course, I could write another column about the lack of men who date on the TCU campus. The last time I covered this topic, five guys asked for a Saturday night date. (Needless to say, I plan to use this subject again.)

But writing a humor column has its advantages. The family has saved money by papering the old homestead in "How 'Bout That?" articles. And it's the only house in the city with wall-to-wall Skiffs.

Dear Editor:

Resolution passed at state convention of young democrats club of Texas in Galveston, April 14-16, 1961:

Whereas, the Texas Legislature is now considering House Bill 997, which would make it possible for the Carling Brewing Co. to construct a plant in Fort Worth, and whereas several state representatives from Fort Worth have been unduly pressured, condemned, and ousted from their churches.

Be it resolved that the Young Democrats Club of Texas go on record as favoring the passage of the so-called Carling Brewery Bill, and be it further resolved that we go on record as condemning the action of these churches and be it further resolved that we go on record as praising the courageous stand of certain Fort Worth legislators, who voted as their conscience dictated against tremendous pressure.

ZETA TAU ALPHA . . . will have its formal Saturday night at Shady Oaks Country Club.

ALPHA GAMMA DELTA . . . will have a party with Lambda Chi Alpha Friday night at the Forest Park Shelter House.

DELTA GAMMA . . . will have a rush retreat Saturday at the home of an alumnae.

SIGMA CHI . . . will have its Sweetheart Formal Friday night at Ridglea Country Club. At that time the sweetheart will be announced.

KAPPA ALPHA THETA . . . recently held its initiation banquet at Colonial Country Club. Miss Mary Jane Ware, Fort Worth freshman, was chosen best pledge and Trish Hammond was named best active. Miss Susy Luton, Granbury senior, received the "Above and Beyond" Award. The winner of the sophomore scholarship trophy was Judith Roberts, Sherman sophomore, and the junior scholarship award went to Mrs. Barbara Williams, Pecos junior. The best pledge award went to Miss Edie Tomlinson, Fort Worth freshman, and Miss Barbara Johnston, Dallas freshman. The big and little sister award went to Miss Harriett Finch, Corsicana senior and Miss Johnson.

Kappa Alpha Theta held its District XII convention banquet at the Texas Hotel, April 14.

Dr. D. Ray Lindley, president of TCU, spoke to the group on the development and growth of the fraternity system. He stressed the positive and constructive contributions which the fraternities and sororities have made to the school to date in the area of student morale, student discipline, and to the upgrading of academic achievement.

He held that the degree of positive contributions made by the system was in large part determined by the philosophy of responsibility for student life to which the University adheres.

Others attending the banquet were Mrs. Lindley, Dean Elizabeth Shelburne, and Dean JoAnn James.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON . . . will have an informal party with Chi Omega Friday night at Forest Park.

The officers attended a District Leadership School on April 21 to 23 at Lamar State College in Beaumont. The workshop was attended by members of Sig Ep chapters in Texas and Louisiana. Those attending were Jack Crouch, Frank Eggleston, Ronnie Headrick, John Wrench, Claude Wilson, and Clyde Moore, Dallas alumna advisor.

PI BETA PHI . . . had its founder's day banquet Thursday night at Shady Oaks Country Club.

Pi Phi has three new officers. Historian is Miss Pam Small, Jacksonville junior; assistant historian is Miss Cecilia Cox, Fulton, Ark. freshman; Miss Carolyn Higginbotham, Wichita Falls freshman, assistant treasurer.

Language Society Holds Conclave

Phi Sigma Iota, romance language honor society, will hold its triennial national convention Friday and Saturday, April 28 and 29, on the University campus.

The local Delta Delta chapter will serve as host for the 14th national meeting of the group.

A panel discussion featuring Mrs. Alice Reynolds Pratt of Houston, regional director of the Institute of International Education, will be presented at the noon luncheon program Friday. Theme of the panel discussion will be "Foreign Study Programs for American Students."

University president D. Ray Lindley will greet the convention delegates at a dinner Friday evening at 6.

All sessions will be held in the Student Center with registration of delegates beginning at 8:30 a.m. today. The initial business meeting will begin at 9 o'clock.

Committee meetings are planned for 2 p.m. An open house and demonstration of the campus language laboratory will follow at 3 o'clock.

The second business session will be held at 9 a.m. Saturday. Convention adjournment is set for 2 Saturday afternoon.

LUCKY STRIKE PRESENTS: DEAR DR. FROOD:

DR. FROOD'S THOUGHT FOR THE DAY: A little learning can be a dangerous thing—especially in a multiple-choice exam.

DEAR DR. FROOD: I have been training our college mascot, a goat. He has learned how to open a pack of Luckies, take out a cigarette, light up and smoke. Do you think I can get him on a TV show?

Animal Husbandry Major

DEAR ANIMAL: I'm afraid not. To make TV nowadays, you've got to have an act that's really different. After all, there are millions of Lucky smokers.

DEAR DR. FROOD: I am a full professor—and yet I stay awake nights worrying about my ability to teach today's bright young college students. They ask questions I can't answer. They write essays I don't understand. They use complicated words that I've never heard before. How can I possibly hope to win the respect of students who are more learned than I am?

Professor

DEAR PROFESSOR: I always maintain that nothing impresses a troublesome student like the sharp slap of a ruler across his outstretched palm.

DEAR DR. FROOD: I have calculated that if the population explosion continues at its present rate, there will be a person for every square foot of earth by the year 2088. What do you think of that?

Statistics Major

DEAR STATISTICS: Well, one thing's sure, that will finish off the hula-hoopers—once and for all.

DEAR DR. FROOD: You can tell your readers for me that college is a waste of time. My friends who didn't go to college are making good money now. And me, with my new diploma? I'm making peanuts!

Angry Grad

DEAR ANGRY: Yes, but how many of your friends can do what you can do—instantly satisfy that overpowering craving for a peanut.

DEAR DR. FROOD: Could you give a word of advice to a poor girl who, after four years at college, has failed to get herself invited on a single date?

Miss Miserable

DEAR MISS: Mask?

THE RECRUITERS ARE COMING! THE RECRUITERS ARE COMING! And here's Frood to tell you just how to handle them: These representatives of big business are, on the whole, alert fellows. They may be aware that college students smoke more Luckies than any other regular. Let them know that you know what's up—offer them a Lucky, then tap your cranium knowingly. Remember—today's Lucky smoker could be tomorrow's Chairman of the Board.

Faculty Members Attend Conclave

A quartet of faculty members will journey to Waco today to hear a discussion on "The Economic Impact of the Kennedy Administration."

Dr. Paul Holman, professor of economics at SMU, will discuss the topic at the meeting of the North Texas Economic Association at Baylor. This is one of the three meetings a year the group has at various universities in the North Texas area.

Attending the conference are Dr. James Moudy, dean of the Graduate School; Dr. Herbert Mundhenke, chairman of the economics department; Dr. John Wortham, professor of economics; and Dr. James Whitsett, professor of finance.

Banquet To Honor Council Members

Outstanding workers on Student Congress and the Activities Council will be recognized at the annual Awards Banquet, Thursday, May 11.

The dinner, to be held at 6:30 p.m. in the Student Center Ballroom, will honor one member on each AC committee and the chairmen.

Students listed in campus "Who's Who" will be honored and the winner of the "Professor of the Year" title is to be announced. The recipient of the Student Congress scholarship also will be named.

Tea Party Goes Round the World

"Around the world in 80 minutes" describes the recent International Friendship Club tea party. Students of 14 lands sang, danced or spoke about their countries.

Songs by Nelson Arana, 1960 graduate from Peru, and Filipino dancing in and out of bamboo poles by visiting students, Miguel Mondiola and Felicitas Montoya, received the most comment from an audience of approximately 55 students, faculty and guests.

Physics Graduate Wins Fellowship

Richard W. Bolander of Parsons, Kan., has been awarded a fellowship to the University for graduate study in physics, beginning in the fall.

He is a senior physics major at the Missouri School of Mines and Metallurgy in Rolla, Mo., and will receive his B.S. there May 28.

The fellowship grant was made under the provisions of the National Defense Education Act of 1958.

Bolander received a National Science Foundation undergraduate research grant, the annual W. H. Martin Award for scholastic leadership in 1958. In 1957, he was awarded the Lucy Worthington James Scholarship.

Essay Contest Offers Prize

Students here and at TWC are eligible to enter an essay contest by submitting an essay concerning the book, "Masters of Deceit" by J. Edgar Hoover.

The title of the essay is to be "My Impressions of Masters of Deceit" and is to be the personal thoughts and reactions of the contestant to this book and should not be in the nature of a critical review.

The contest is being sponsored by a special committee of the City Panhellenic Association.

A first prize of $50.00 will be awarded to a winner at TWC and one here.

Registration for the contest will be May 24 during the hours of 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Student Center where a registration table will be set up.

The contest will close Aug. 15. The essays may be sent to "Essay Contest", TCU Box 29100-A, Fort Worth.

Pedestrians crossing the street didn't make it on more than 170,000 occasions during 1960. Dead after being struck down by a car were more than 5,000 persons while more than 165,000 were injured.

Dishpan Hands?

One familiar sound will be missing from the ROTC field problem this weekend. The aggressor forces will not be armed with machineguns as they have in the past.

Capt. John Shillingburg, assistant professor of military science, explained why. "The aggressors got tired of cleaning them after the problems."

Discount Prices Offered at Casa

Casa Manana has a special operation of its own for "Operation Madball" running this week.

Casa is offering TCU students a 25 per cent discount on $3 and $3.50 tickets for Friday night's performance. The cost cut will bring tickets to $2.25 and $2.62.

Tickets may be purchased at the information desk in the Student Center. Seats have been blocked off so students may sit together.

"Operation Madball" stars Sal Mineo with blonde starlet Judy Carroll who appeared on the Casa stage last week in the humorous "Solid Gold Cadillac." Show time is 8:15 p.m.

Holsapple's Son Makes Rare Find

Dr. Cortell Holsapple Jr., M.D., TCU graduate and son of Dean Holsapple of the Evening College, made a rare geology find near Joshua, April 22.

The rare fossil lobster, found in the Woodbine sand, has been loaned to the geology department for definite identification.

Part of its technical identification has been discerned, according to Dr. Willis Hewatt, chairman of the biology-geology department.

The genus name of the Crustacean is "Linuparus." The department is now trying to identify its specie.

'Music Series' Adult Program To Begin in Fall

Plans are underway in the department of fine arts and the Evening College to begin a "Great Music Series," a non-credit adult education program.

A meeting to discuss preliminary plans will be held May 3 in the Student Center, with representatives present from a number of Fort Worth area music clubs.

The meeting will include discussion topics such as the role of the School of Fine Arts and the Evening College in the cultural program of the community, the program and personnel of TCU's department of music and the purpose and nature of the Great Music Series. Dean Frank C. Hughes of the School of Fine Arts and Dean Cortell K. Holsapple of the Evening College will be the discussion leaders.

"The purpose of TCU's Great Music Series" is to assist in the musical and cultural development of the metropolitan area by offering the use of the University's faculty and facilities toward this aim," says Dr. Nevin Neal, coordinator of community service projects for the Evening College.

Outgoing president is Mrs. William Henderson.

Whitlock is a member of the University music faculty and is music critic for the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

AC Proposal To Buy Projectors Accepted By Student Congress

The vote was unanimous!

That is, the vote of Student Congress to purchase two arc lamp projectors, was unanimous. The projectors were recently demonstrated during the showing of "The Pride and the Passion" in the ballroom last Saturday.

Members of Student Congress who saw the demonstration were greatly impressed by the increase in picture brightness and sound quality over the present projection.

A proposal for the purchase of the equipment on behalf of the Activity Council Forums Committee was presented to Student Council by Brice Harbart, Lewis Stepp and Miss Brenda Towles.

Total cost of the two projectors will be approximately $3,500. The permanent improvement budget will provide $1,000, the other $2,500 will come out of the general fund.

The projectors will be in use by the close of the semester.

Dr. Hewatt To Speak on Oil, Oysters

"Oil and Oysters" will be the topic.

Dr. Willis Hewatt, professor of biology-geology, will speak to the Cleburne Rotarian Club May 4 at a luncheon in that city.

Recently, Louisiana oyster growers have had difficulty in raising their product.

The oyster farm owners felt that the nearby oil companies were causing unpleasant environmental conditions for the oysters. A $50 million law-suit ensued.

Dr. Hewatt, who took the oysters to Virginia to study them, found that the oil was not a factor in the abundance of oyster catastrophism.

The record of drivers between the ages of 18-25 improved during 1960 but they still were involved in nearly 28 per cent of all fatal accidents—twice what their numbers would warrant.

By TIM TALBERT

That wonderful year, away back in 1956, was the last time a TCU team won the Southwest Conference baseball championship.

This year's team is an exciting one. That was proved during the A&M series last weekend. There were 66 hits, 77 runs and 20 home runs during the three game series. The Frogs took the series, 2-1.

With a little bit of luck the Frogs could make it all the way to the top this year. League leading Texas and second place Baylor have an important two game series in Waco Friday and Saturday.

If Baylor could manage a sweep of the series, while the Purple is defeating Rice this weekend at Houston in a double header, the Frogs would be two games out of first place with undisputed possession of the runner-up spot.

Then the Purple nine must whip Texas in Austin May 4-5. The Longhorns were beaten for the first time this year Tuesday afternoon by Brooke Army Medical Center, 12-8 in San Antonio, thus proving the Steers can be beaten.

If all this takes place, Baylor would be in first place, and TCU in competition which brings us back to that rained out game between TCU and the Bears. It would have to be replayed with the conference championship riding on the outcome.

SAEs Defeat Profs, 35-33 In Basketball

See photo on page 7

Sigma Alpha Epsilon (SAE) successfully upheld the honor of the student body Tuesday when they defeated the teachers', 35-33, in the annual faculty-student basketball game.

What was to be merely a money-making project for Campus Chest, turned out to be an interesting contest.

After Dr. Gustave Ferre pumped in the game's first points with a "Swedish jump shot," the faculty hit a cold streak and at the end of the first half the SAEs led, 20-12.

With David Redford, Leland Phillips, and Bill Barnes leading the way, the fraternity intramural cage champs pulled to a 29-21 lead after three quarters to set the stage for the game's torrid finish.

As the final period began, faculty coach Ben Proctor unveiled his secret weapon—a fast break led by speedy Jim Brock. The strategy worked. With less than a minute remaining in the game the teachers, trailing 35-33, had the ball and a chance to send the game into overtime. They missed four shots before the SAEs gained control of the ball and put the game in the bag.

Coach Ben's "bountiful, bouncin' basketball boys" put up a good fight although they played without the services of high scoring John Swaim.

But Proctor had no excuses for his team's showing. "We were quite pleased with the outcome," he said. "We wanted to 'exhibit' Christian charity and to 'build' character—I think we did."

Proceeds from the affair will put the Campus Chest drive over its $2,500 goal Proctor estimated.

Golfers Face Crucial Test at Tech

By HAROLD McKINNEY
With Monday's 3½-2½ upset victory over the league-leading Texas Aggies neatly tucked away, Frog linksmen move into Lubbock Saturday to challenge Texas Tech's Red Raiders, who currently are lodged in the second spot in the SWC race.

TCU carries a 15-13 conference record into the match this weekend and Texas Tech has a 14½-8½ slate.

The win over A&M was the sweetest of the season for the Frogs. The league-leaders invaded Fort Worth expecting to find a push-over and when last seen they were heading South muttering something which sounded like, "How did it happen?"

An obviously elated Coach Tom

Prouse provided the answer to the Aggie question. "We got them down, put the pressure on and kept them down. All of the boys were great, they bowed their necks and made a great team effort to win."

Mike Walling was the big gun for the Frogs. He fashioned a one over par 72 at the Ridglea Country Club course to take medalist honors while beating A&M ace Dickey Buble 3 and 2.

Big Jack Montgomery combined booming tee shots and a deft putting touch to edge Billy Martindale, 2 and 1; TCU's Bill Jones lost to Ralph Johnston, 4 and 2; and the Frogs' Nick Encke was defeated by John Lively, 2 up.

The Purples' margin of victory came in the doubles matches. Montgomery-Jones halved the first best ball event with Martindale-Johnston and then Walling-Encke beat Buble-Lively, 2 and 1 to put the win on ice.

Coach Prouse feels the upset of the Aggies could be a big factor in lifting the morale of his team. "Nobody expected us to beat A&M. This is the incentive we need to make a real run for the conference championship," he pointed out.

The golfers, of course, were most happy with their performance. "We enjoy winning any match," one of the Frogs said, "but we especially like to whip A&M."

Yesterday, the Purples played North Texas State at Ridglea in preparation for Texas Tech.

Coach Prouse says his team will be ready for the Red Raiders Saturday. "After what they did Monday nothing would surprise me," he grinned.

In Drake Relays

Track Hopes Hinge On Six Athletes

Every young track aspirant in the United States has as one of his ambitions to participate in the Drake Relays in Des Moines, Iowa.

This afternoon and Saturday athletes from all over the country will be flooding into this mid-western town for the famed Drake Relays.

The Relays provides final competition for most of the schools before their conference meet takes place in May. So the stage is set for some records to fall using the Drake Relays as a warmup for the conference meets.

FOR THE FIRST time in three years, since the two-mile relay team placed third in Des Moines, TCU will have some representatives in the famed track carnival.

High hurdler Bobby Bernard, high jumper Jackie Upton and the mile relay team of Ray Reed, Al Heizer, Sam Ketcham and Reagan Gasaway left by train Wednesday with other SWC schools except Arkansas and Texas Tech.

IF ANY OF the six Frogs have a good chance to win, it must be the tall high hurdler, Bernard.

He will be meeting his nearest competitor for the SWC high hurdles crown in defending champ Ray Cunningham of Texas.

Cunningham has been out of action for almost four weeks due to a pulled muscle, but returned to action last week in the Kansas Relays taking second place behind Rex Stucker of Kansas State.

BERNARD'S BEST time this year is 14.1 turned in at the West Texas Relays in San Angelo. Cunningham has a 14.0 and won the conference last year in 13.8 which is the record.

Stucker won the hurdles in the Kansas Relays in 13.9 and he will be at the Drake Relays also.

Upton has a good chance, but there are two other high jumpers who must not be counted out. Eddie Curtis from Baylor, whom Upton has beaten before, and John Thomas of Boston University.

Thomas is a former Olympic performer and holder of the world record, 7-3¼.

UPTON'S BEST effort of the year was 6-6½ in the Texas Relays.

Almost every school sending cindermen to Des Moines has a good mile relay team. Among those entered are Texas, Baylor, TCU, Houston, Drake, Illinois, Missouri and Houston.

THE UNIVERSITY of Houston's team won the Kansas Relays last week in 3:10 flat. The Frogs best time is 3:14.1 in the Texas Relays.

The only other famous mile relay foursome, that of Abilene Christian College, is missing. The Wildcats will be participating in the Penn Relays in Philadelphia.

As far as ambition and determination goes, the Frog representatives rank among the best, but just how good they will do in the Drake Relays remains to be seen.

Frogs, Longhorns Set Tennis Match

The Texas Longhorns invade Cowtown this weekend to battle Frog netmen in an attempt to tighten their hold on the SWC lead.

The match will start at 9:30 a.m. Saturday at the Ridglea Country Club.

Frog Coach Ken Crawford is not too optimistic about his team's chances of defeating the league-leading Longhorns. "We are the underdogs," he said, "but I think we could win one or two matches from Texas if the boys play heads-up tennis."

TCU raised its season record to 6-7-1 Monday with a 4-2 victory over Hardin-Simmons on the Ridglea courts.

Paul Christian and Roy Persons, playing in the third and fourth spots, sparked the Frog victory. Christian whipped Wayne Downhour, 6-2, 6-1, and Persons beat Wayne Kiser, 9-7, 6-3.

Christian teamed with Earl Van Zandt to defeat Robert Evans—Glenn Schmittou, 6-2, 3-6, 6-2, in the first doubles match. Persons and Paul Lozuk combined to win over Downhour-Kiser, 6-3, 4-6, 6-4.

Lozuk lost the first singles match to Evans, 4-6, 4-6, and Van Zandt was defeated by Schmittou, 2-6, 6-3, 2-6.

Wog netters got their first

The Southwest Conference championship track meet will be held in Houston on May 12-13. There will also be championships played in Golf and Tennis.

taste of competition Wednesday when they were host to the freshmen from Tarleton State College at Ridglea.

Competing for TCU were Harold Wise, Charles Nemfakos, Jim Cory and Jim Shelton.

Baseballers Meet Rice In Houston

Action this weekend at Houston will make or break the baseball team. The Frogs must win two games from Rice in the Owl's back yard if they are to remain in contention for the title.

TCU is in third place with a 4-4 record. Rice is one-half game back with a 4-5 slate. And while TCU and Rice are getting together, Baylor and Texas are battling for the league lead in Waco.

For TCU to be in the race next week, Baylor and the Frogs must come through with a sweep of their series.

Coach Rabbit McDowell will have all hands in good shape for the contest.

The probable starting pitchers for TCU are Don Schmidt on Friday and Tommy Boyd on Saturday.

In the only other conference series this weekend winless SMU plays Texas A&M in College Station.

Yesterday, the Frogs played Sam Houston State in Huntsville.
