

Carnival Comes To SC Thursday

BY KAY LYNN GLOVER

"Come to the carnival!"
"What carnival?"
"Why, the Activities Carnival, of course! Just about everybody will be there!"

That's right, just about everybody will be at the Activities Carnival Thursday in the Student Center Ballroom from 7:30 until 9:30 p. m.

Some 55 campus clubs and organizations are working under the direction of Tom Cochran, Fort Worth senior, and Howard Walsh, chairman of the Howdy Week committee and a junior from Fort Worth, to prepare booths to advertise their organizations and recruit new members.

Miss Jany Jones, Little Rock junior, and chairman of the decorations committee of the Activities Council, has worked with her committee to plan and construct a carnival in the Ballroom.

Pledges Reminded

Pledges of sororities and fraternities are reminded by Cochran that their respective groups require membership and activity in a certain number of campus organizations.

Represented at the carnival will be the eleven committees of the Activities Council, the nucleus organization under the direction of Galen Hull, Ponca City, Okla., junior, which plans and directs most activities of the Student Center and many all-campus events. The AC booth will provide the central theme and will be located in the center of the Ballroom.

Sophomore and junior girls interested in Angel Flight and Corps-Dettes rush may register at the respective booths. These are the Air Force and Army ROTC auxiliaries on campus.

Live Broadcast

KTCU, the campus radio station, will broadcast live from the Ballroom floor. "Knick-knacks, candy, and all that jazz" will be given away by the station, according to Cochran. Records — 45 rpm, EP and LP albums will also be given away by the station.

Campus denominational groups will have their booths at the carnival where students may sign with the organization of their preference. Special interest groups and departmental clubs will be represented as will the political youth organizations. Some honor societies will also have booths.

Addy, the Frog mascot, in the person of Howard Walsh, will also be present at the carnival. There will be something of interest to nearly everyone on campus and refreshments will be served.

Meet Addy in person and the rest of your student leaders Thursday night. Come on out and have a barrel of fun with the Activities Council and the Activities Carnival.

See you there!

Tell Examples Of Kindness

Nice people do nice things every day. Perhaps someone on campus has been especially thoughtful of you recently. If so, let The Skiff know about it.

Often news becomes depressing with its emphasis on murders, wars and other sensational items. But The Skiff holds that pleasant happenings far outweigh the unpleasant.

If you know an example of human kindness that has taken place at TCU, call The Skiff at extension 289 or write up the account yourself. Just drop it by The Skiff office in room 117, Dan Rogers Hall.

Howdy Week Queen Joyce Sustala beams as she holds the bouquet she was presented Friday night. The Houston freshman was crowned at the Howdy Week Dance. Looking on are runners-up Terry Mike Johnston and Genevieve Haygood.

She Still Can't Believe It

Houston Coed Chosen Howdy Queen

Miss Joyce Sustala, Houston freshman, still is not convinced that she's the 1961 Howdy Week Queen. "I just can't believe it; it doesn't seem right. I was even shocked when I got on the first list of numbers."

She continued, "I called Mother Friday night and told her I had won. She asked, 'Won what?' I hadn't even said anything to her about it. My two little brothers were really excited, especially Dennis, the younger one. He couldn't understand why I hadn't invited him to see me."

Getting honors should be nothing new to this pretty brown-haired miss. While at Spring Branch High School, she was chosen "most beautiful" and "homecoming queen." Besides these honors, she was captain and secretary of her drill team, secretary of her senior class and secretary of the Tri-Hi-Y.

Joyce also placed third in the 1961 Splash Day Contest at Galveston and was chosen Miss Highlander for the Highlander Country Club in Houston.

Since graduating in 1960, the hazel-eyed coed has worked as a secretary at the Home Life Insurance Company in Houston.

Likes Outdoors

Being an outdoor girl, skiing and swimming are her favorite hobbies.

Joyce's goals for the future are entering into college life and joining some clubs and organizations, getting her degree in secretarial sciences and eventually becoming a private secretary.

Joyce says she wants to work at least two years after graduating before thinking of a family.

The little queen, who stands 5' 1½", holds a high opinion of the University. "It is the friendliest campus I have ever visited. That's what made me decide to come up here to school."

Hectic But Wonderful

Joyce claims that her first week at school was hectic, but wonderful. Ever since she got here she's been wondering, "where do I go next?" Howdy

Week was just great and then getting Howdy Week Queen and beating Kansas in football have just made my first week here perfect."

One of the things that Joyce treasures most from her queenship is a bouquet of flowers given to her by the girls in her wing of Waits hall.

According to Howard Walsh, Howdy Week Chairman, the queen was chosen on personality, poise and general appearance.

During registration for Howdy Week, each freshman girl was assigned a number which she wore all week. A group of students took down the numbers of outstanding girls for finalists. These girls were invited to one of two parties where the field was narrowed to 12.

Judges Talk

During the dance Friday night, the judges talked to each girl individually. From these, the queen and the two runners-up were chosen.

Runners-up were Miss Genevieve Haygood of Fort Worth and Terry Mike Johnston, Amarillo.

Kansas Not Only Victim; TCU Wins College Bowl

BY SHEILA ESTES

Kansas wasn't the only opponent that fell to the Purple and White over the weekend.

The University's team of scholars beat Chicago's DePaul University in the General Electric College Bowl Sunday afternoon. TCU's one woman and three men emerged with a score of 190 points to DePaul's 45 in the televised contest.

James Dunkly, Arlington junior, was the team's captain. Miss Randie Guenther, Fort Worth sophomore; Joe Lake, Gainesville senior; and Richard Bond, Denison sophomore; completed the panel.

The team, coached by Dr. Marguerite Potter of the history department, established a strong lead in the beginning of the fast-moving contest and at half-time was ahead of DePaul 115 to 10.

Bond Set Pace

Bond set the pace with a right answer to the first toss-up question: "If a hunter left his campsite, traveled 400 miles south, then 400 east, killed a bear, then traveled 400 miles and reached his camp, what color was the bear that he killed?" DePaul answered incorrectly and Bond took it for TCU when he answered "white." The only place a hunter could travel in such a manner would be from the North Pole.

Dunkly at one point hiked the Christians score when he identified a portion of the United States Constitution written in German. Dunkly is an English major.

Both teams missed a question which gave them the dimensions of an article. It turned out to be a goal post on a football field.

The team won a $1,500 scholarship for the University and the right to return next week for another try against the University of Buffalo from Buffalo, N. Y.

Team Trained

The team trained extensively for two weeks before the New York trip. A special panel board was set up in Dave Reed Hall to resemble the surroundings the team would face in the actual meet.

The Sept. 24 program was the first in this year's series. The Texas team can stay on as long as they continue to win.

DePaul took home a $500 scholarship.

A barrel full of fun and surprises is waiting for University students at the Activities Carnival Thursday from 7:30 'til 9:30 p.m. in the Student Center Ballroom. Pulling Miss Shirley Dawson, Dallas senior, from the barrel are Tom Cochran, Fort Worth senior, and Miss Kay Glover, Wichita Falls senior. Cochran is in charge of the carnival.

College Easy as High School?

Nineteen high school students carrying 37 "tough" University courses during the last summer session scored the fine total of 34 passing grades.

Enrolled in TCU's experimental "delayed credit program," the students came from 12 Texas high schools, six in Fort Worth. All had completed their junior high school years with top records.

According to a study just completed by Registrar Calvin Cumbie, all 19 attended the first six-weeks term and eight returned for the second. They were treated as any other college student.

They attempted 17 courses in biology, five in mathematics, five in chemistry, four on social science, three in French, two in religion and one in Spanish.

They scored seven A grades, twelve Bs, eight Cs and five Ds. There were only four F grades and one withdrew while passing.

The experimental program was conducted with the purpose of accelerating college work for capable high school students, give them an insight into university life, sustain acquired knowledge (especially in languages) and provide educational opportunities during the summer months.

Mind unemployed is mind unenjoyed.

"All evidence indicates the experiment was highly successful," Cumbie said. "A decision on whether it will be continued will be made later."

The students came from Arlington Heights, Carter-Riverside, Eastern Hills, North Side, Paschal and Polytechnic high schools of Fort Worth; Azle, Bay City, Cleburne, Fort Stockton, Galveston and Kountze.

With only one or two exceptions, both students and their instructors were enthusiastic over the experiment. Several teachers reported the high school students finished in the upper third of their classes.

One or two students expressed the feeling that the jump from junior status in high school to college was too abrupt and that they suffered from lack of background. However, even these did fairly well in the classes.

Under the plan, students who passed courses during the program will be given full college credit for them when and if they enroll at TCU at a future date.

Future plans for the program will be announced later.

Exes From Other Areas See TCU's Association

Ex-student clubs over the nation were viewing the program of the Ex-Students Association here Saturday. The meeting here was the seventh annual Club Representative Conference.

The conference is designed to acquaint club officers with the plans of the University and the Ex-Students Association, integrating the alumni club program with the work of the National Association.

The highlights of the conference included guest speakers, Chancellor M. E. Sadler; Dr. D. Ray Lindley; Coach Abe Martin and Student Congress President, Denny Megarity.

This year's Club Achievement Award went to the School of Business exes for supplying support to the progress of the University.

In honor of the late School of up an Ellis M. Sowell scholar-Business dean, the exes have set ship, presented this year to Carl Larkin, Fort Worth junior.

Revised Scholarship Plan In Effect This Semester

The scholarship program of the University has undergone a few changes this year.

Under the new program, scholarships will be awarded to those students who enroll for and complete a full academic load for the period covered by the scholarship. Students enrolling in freshman courses from accredited public and private schools and who ranked in the top five per cent of their graduating class are also eligible for scholarship competition.

Grants-in-aid will be awarded to those students who have special qualifications, but academic achievement is not necessarily a determining factor. Grants-in-aid awards include activities awards, grants for foreign students and Christian service awards.

Scholarships will be granted for one year and are renewable on the condition that the recipient maintain his rating in the top five per cent in his class.

Grants-in-aid are awarded for one year and may be renewed according to the merit of the student.

The purpose of the change in the scholarship program, according to Logan Ware, assistant business manager and head of the student financial aid at the University is to "reserve the term 'scholarship' for those rightly called scholars."

Two Staff Members Die During Summer Months

Summer saw the loss of two TCU staff members and the mother of a faculty member.

Mrs. M. B. Pringle, dormitory hostess at Colby; Charles Bascom Redwine, head of the maintenance shop and Mrs. Frans Ferre, mother of Dr. Gustave Ferre, died during the summer.

Known as Mrs. Pearl B. Pringle, the dormitory hostess died July 6 at the age of 72. She began work at TCU in September of 1953.

She was previously in schools in Nebraska and Iowa. Taking her place is Mrs. Leland A. Pintel.

Mr. Redwine, 72, 3120 Cockrell, worked in the maintenance shop for 40 years. A native of Comanche County, he died June 24 after two month's illness.

He is said to have saved the University much money during World War II by making such things as drafting tables and automatic grass trimmers. Taking his place is Adrean Furgeron, shop foreman.

Mrs. Maria Ferre, 81, mother of the chairman of the department of philosophy, died early in August. She was the principal subject of the book, "Papa's Wife," written by Mrs. Thyra Bjorn, one of Dr. Ferre's four sisters. Mrs. Bjorn is known also for the book, "Mama's Way."

Frans Ferre preceded his wife in death in 1938.

Choirmaster's Diploma Issued to Dr. Woldt

Dr. John Woldt, associate professor of music, has been issued the choirmaster's diploma of the American Guild of Organists.

Comprehensive examinations leading to the award were taken during two successive summers.

Woldt is the only AGO member in Fort Worth to hold this recognition. His choirmaster's position is at Trinity Episcopal Church.

Library Handbook Revised for Fall

A revised Library Handbook has been distributed to freshmen this fall. The handbook is intended to help students learn how to find any library material — books, periodicals or pamphlets — quickly and easily.

Section one of the revision deals with the building, showing the location of books, equipment and study areas.

Section two explains the card catalog, while the third section presents, alphabetically, other information helpful to library users.

Upperclassmen who would like a copy of the Library Handbook, punched for insertion in a notebook, can get one at the library desk.

THE GIRL I LEFT BEHIND ME

It happens every day. A young man goes off to college, leaving his home town sweetheart with vows of eternal love, and then he finds that he has outgrown her. What, in such cases, is the honorable thing to do?

Well sir, you can do what Rock Sigafos did.

When Rock left Cut and Shoot, Pa., he said to his sweetheart, a simple country lass named Tess d' Urbevilles, "My dear, though I am far away in college, I will love you always. I will never look at another girl. If I do, may my eyeballs parch and wither, may my viscera writhe like adders, may the moths get my new tweed jacket!"

Then he clutched Tess to his bosom and planted a final kiss upon her fragrant young skull and went away, meaning with all his heart to be faithful.

But on the very first day of college he met a coed named Fata Morgana, a girl of such sophistication, such poise, such savoir-faire as Rock had never beheld. She spoke knowingly of Franz Kafka, she hummed Mozart, she smoked Marlboros.

"You can hit me in the stomach, if you like."

Now, Rock didn't know Franz Kafka from Pancho Villa, or Mozart from James K. Polk, but Marlboros he knew full well. He knew that anyone who smoked Marlboros was modern and advanced and as studded with brains as a ham with cloves. Good sense tells you that you can't beat Marlboro's exclusive selectrate filter, and you never could beat Marlboro's fine flavor. This Rock knew.

So all day he followed Fata around campus and listened to her talk about Franz Kafka, and then in the evening he went back to the dormitory and found this letter from his home town sweetheart Tess:

Dear Rock,
Us kids had a keen time yesterday. We went down to the pond and caught some frogs. I caught the most of anybody. Then we hitched rides on trucks and did lots of nutty stuff like that. Well, I must close now because I got to whiterwash the fence.

Your friend,
Tess

P.S.—I can do my Hula Hoop 3,000 times.

Well sir, Rock thought about Tess and then he thought about Fata and then a great sadness fell upon him. Suddenly he knew he had outgrown young, innocent Tess; his heart now belonged to smart, sophisticated Fata.

Rock, being above all things honorable, returned forthwith to his home town and walked up to Tess and looked her in the eye and said manly, "I do not love you any more. I love a girl named Fata Morgana. You can hit me in the stomach with all your might if you like."

"That's okay, hey," said Tess amiably. "I don't love you neither. I found a new boy."

"What is his name?" asked Rock.

"Franz Kafka," said Tess.

"A splendid fellow," said Rock and shook Tess's hand, and they have remained good friends to this day. In fact, Rock and Fata often double-date with Franz and Tess and have bears of 'em. Franz can do the Hula Hoop 6,000 times.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

DO YOU WANT TO BE A STUDENT HERE OR SHALL I PLAN YOUR ACTIVITIES SO YOU'LL MANAGE TO GRADUATE IN FOUR YEARS?

Pay Hike Good News

The recently enacted pay raise for student employees of the University comes as welcome news, long overdue.

Sixty cents an hour, previously the beginning wage, has for some time been inadequate in view of the rising cost of living.

With tuition raised to $20 an hour this year, the increase of the minimum wage to 75 cents per hour was almost mandatory. In addition, as student workers become more proficient, supervisors may recommend to the business manager that the student's pay be increased to a maximum of $1 per hour.

This sum still may be sneered at by some students who have made much more during the summer, or those whose parents are wealthy enough that no work is required of the young members of the family. On the other hand, those students who rely on their part time jobs here to help pay for their education regard the increase as the significant move that it is.

The Cynic The Better Way

Registration, by an old campus tradition, is always a big pain in the pocketbook and other places. Even after three years, we aren't used to it. Instead of just griping like everybody else, though, we offer a better registration plan.

First, the school rents the biggest supermarket in town for three days. On the shelves, instead of beans, they put class cards, for each course and section, along with the textbook.

Students then wheel the little carts around, picking up cards and books for English, chemistry and whatever else they hunger for.

Now comes the efficient part. Just roll up to one of the 76 cash registers and get checked out, just like in a grocery store. English, $60; chemistry, $80; supervised, rest $20 . . .

Then, after having room, board and that darn tax added on, you get just one staggering bill, pay it and go back to the campus. The whole process would take only a fraction of the time you spent registering and buying books last week.

Like our plan? Write your counselor.

Is Religion Failing?

Christianity among college students seems to be dropping. The number of students who have no church affiliation has grown considerably of late, according to records of different colleges.

What is behind this climb in the number of students who claim they have nothing to do with church?

In the 1957 TCU General Information Catalog, there were two students with no church affiliation. The 1961 catalog lists 382.

Could this mean that college students are breaking away from religion, or is it only a tendency to show independence from the straight and narrow?

One senior expressed his views, "I don't have anything to do with church anymore, for it seems to have become a commercial venture."

Others simply sleep too late on Sunday mornings.

One coed says she does not have the clothes to compete in the church fashion show each week.

Studies and late parties on Saturday night could be taking their toll on the Sunday morning worshippers.

Some students give lack of transportation as their reason for skipping church.

This lack of interest in organized religion apparently is not totally dependent upon Christianity itself.

Although they may not go to church, most students profess a belief in God.

A religion professor explained, "Students who attend church regularly at home sometimes quit going when they come to college since there is no one to make them get up and go."

Could this be the answer to the question why students don't attend church? Or is the solution more serious—Is Christianity failing among a part of the educated?

Optometrists are in the world to show pessimists how happy they aren't.

Work--Then Play in College

There's no "Dear Abby" or other advice column in The Skiff, but perhaps starry-eyed freshmen will listen to a suggestion from an old not-quite silver-haired senior.

It's this: don't veer too far to either extreme when you decide whether you'll be a bookworm or the BMOG type.

It shouldn't be necessary to pore over the "quaint and curious volumes of forgotten lore" every night, if you're any kind of student at all.

Nor will you endanger your popularity if, on occasion, you decline an invitation for an evening's entertainment to stay close and start that book report that's due in a few days.

Moderation is the best approach to getting the most out of your college sojourn. Take advantage of the out-of-class activities — Chapel, Select Series, to name just two — but don't forget that there are grade reports in college, too. (And Mom and Pop are mailed a copy, remember.)

Grammar Takes Beating

A blow to grammarians has been delivered by the esteemed lexicographers at the G. & C. Merriam Co., publishers of the unabridged dictionary which is commonly accepted as the supreme authority on matters pertaining to the English language.

The gentlemen have agreed to include "ain't" and "goofy" in their next edition.

For some time now, it's been all right to occasionally split an infinitive, and few eyebrows go up when a preposition is used to end a sentence with.

Nonetheless, we feel that it will be a long while before "ain't" penetrates into the State of the Union message or the National Geographic magazine.

On the local level, we know quite well what will happen to any Skiff writer goofy enough to try to sneak "ain't" into this paper. He isn't going to believe his eyes when his work comes back, bearing a grade.

After all, this is a college community, and a reporter who don't know better than to use "ain't" just don't have no business here.

Letters Welcomed

The Skiff welcomes letters from its readers, whether students, faculty or staff members, or friends of the University.

We suggest a maximum length of 300 words, and reserve the right to edit any letter for space purposes if necessary, while retaining the writer's theme.

Editorially Speaking

Editor Writes Letter to Students

Dear Students:

The Skiff is your newspaper. In fact, you paid for a subscription in registration fees.

And since it is yours, it should reflect your thoughts and interests.

I hope that The Skiff 1961-62 will not be just a calendar of social events, but a true mirror of your activities—and your philosophy.

In order for a democracy to work, the public must be well informed on international happenings. So The Skiff will report them. We will write about world news, not as issues that occur thousands of miles away so therefore, do not concern us, but as events that have a direct bearing on our lives as college students. After all, with most of the men at TCU draft age, and the women here, wives and sweethearts of these men, international events DO concern us.

The Skiff 1961-62 will, I hope, have greater depth than ever before. We will cover vital issues, delving into the "why" behind them. When we report on personalities, we will tell you how the subject's thinking goes, not just what he eats for breakfast or calls his pet poodle.

The Skiff this year will not talk down to its readers, nor will it bore them with pseudo intellectual terms. I hope that The Skiff will illustrate the fact that intelligent depth reporting can make interesting reading.

As editor of your newspaper, I feel a great responsibility—a responsibility to give you, not only the latest campus goings-on, but some thought-provoking articles as well.

Ideas burst constantly within me and I can hardly wait to relate them to you.

But we on The Skiff staff cannot be aware of every thought and activity that takes place on campus. Because of this, we encourage you to write letters to the editor. Discuss issues with us; criticize us; compliment us.

If you see me on campus, smile and speak even though it isn't Howdy Week. In short, let The Skiff and its representatives know what you want in your school newspaper.

Then we will try to give you what you want—and more.

Starting his 28th year of taking portraits for the Horned Frog, Allen T. Orgain gets set to focus in on one of thousands of students he will photograph in the next few weeks. He and his wife have temporary studios on Building 2.

For 28th Year, Orgain Makes Students Smile

This is the 28th year that Allen T. Orgain is making TCU students smile.

He doesn't give them all "As" or offer to pay their tuition; he makes them smile for the Horned Frog class pictures that he takes.

In 1933, when Orgain first got the TCU bid, he snapped 485 faces. Last year, he took more than 3,500 — and in the same length of time.

Orgain owned a grocery business 31 years ago when his brother-in-law, manager of White Studio, first interested him in photography. White was taking the TCU pictures at the time. Soon, however, Orgain went into the photo business for himself and began making the Horned Frog class shots.

J. Willard Ridings, founder of the journalism department here, told Orgain of the TCU job. "And I've been doing it ever since," the gray-haired gentleman said.

Missed One Year

"I missed one year though. I think it was in 1938 that a man underbid me," Orgain recalled. This year only one other photographer bid for the job. And this year, as for the past 27, Orgain got it.

Why? Orgain explained that he works on a narrow profit. "And," he boasts, "if we have to, we work all night long to get the job done."

The Orgains have a son, Allen Jr., who was graduated from TCU in 1955.

Orgain Worried

Although Orgain has taken thousands of TCU pictures, he is worried about this year's schedule. He has the same amount of time to take pictures this year as he did in 1933, but there are more than seven times as many students.

Last year after all the prints had been processed, more than 100 seniors who had failed to be photographed wanted their pictures made.

This year seniors are scheduled for Sept. 20 — 30. "There will be more than 600 graduates this year. Each requires a double sitting, one with cap and gown and one in informal dress, so students will have to come in on time," Orgain said.

Pictures for the Horned Frog are being made in building two from 9 a. m. to noon and from 1 to 5 p. m. weekdays. On Saturdays, the time is from 9 a. m. to noon only.

Two Miss Texas Winners Married

On the same day — Sept. 2 — two former Miss Texas title holders assumed a new title, that of Mrs.. Corpsdettes, Angel Flight Rush Registration in SC

All sophomore and junior girls interested in joining either Corpsdettes or Angel Flight should sign up now in the Student Center.

Both of these groups were started on the campus as auxiliary groups to the Army and Air Force ROTC. In the past, both groups have represented TCU in the Mardi Gras parade in New Orleans.

Each group will hold two parties for the selection of their new members. All parties will be held in the Student Center on Oct. 3 and 6. After these parties, the women going through rush will sign preference slips. These slips will be matched with similar cards from Angel Flight and Corpsdettes and invitations will be sent by the groups to the women.

Fleisher To Play Oct. 3 In Dedication Ceremony

A gift to the University will bring a renowned pianist to the campus Oct. 3.

Leon Fleisher will present a concert to dedicate a concert grand Steinway piano which was presented to the school by Mrs. C. D. Reimers of Fort Worth. The piano is to be a regular fixture on the Ed Landreth stage and will be used only for major concerts.

The ceremony is scheduled for 8:15 p. m. in Ed Landreth Auditorium and is open to students and the public. There will be no admission charge.

Fleisher is a native Californian who gave his first public recital at the age of six. He was chosen to represent this country at the Brussels World's Fair in 1958.

He has two "firsts" to his credit. Fleisher was the first American to win the Queen Elisabeth of Belgium Concours, Europe's most difficult musical competition. He was one of the few artists to be invited to play at the White House and his performance there for the visiting King Baudouin of Belgium was the first of its kind.

At the Flick

"A Time to Love" is the flick scheduled for 7 p. m. Tuesday in the Student Center Ballroom.

This is the second movie of the year sponsored by the Flick Committee of the Activities Council. "Riffi" is the next, set for 2 p. m., Sunday, Oct. 1.

Admission is 25 cents.

Fleisher has performed with major symphony orchestras in the United States, Europe and South America and has recorded for two major record companies. His campus concert will be his first in this area.

Answering the appeal to help hurricane Carla's victims, members of the Disciples Student fellowship volunteered to pack sheets and clothes. Four who gathered in University

Carla Ups County Goal For United Fund Drive

Tarrant County has a $2,980,874 goal in this year's United Fund drive. This is five per cent higher than the original figure, thanks to Hurricane Carla.

The Red Cross, one of the 67 agencies which share the United Fund collections, designated a special relief fund for victims of Carla, with a Texas quota of one million dollars.

The six-week drive here continues for another five weeks, and University students are invited to contribute.

Most of the 67 beneficiaries of the fund are local charities, but the Red Cross and the cancer, heart and multiple sclerosis organizations also receive a share.

Eleven groups belong to the Texas United Fund, ranging from the Blinded Veterans' Association to the American Hearing Society.

Locally, money goes to the YWCA, Camp Fire Girls, Boy Scouts, the Children's Museum, three children's homes, Goodwill Industries and many other projects.

Despite Setbacks, 289 Girls Are Pledged

Although 17 girls got stuck on the elevator in Colby Hall Dorm — although it rained constantly during rush week, Sept. 11-16 — although sorority members had one less day than usual for rush preparations — 289 women pledged sororities here.

Greek members arrived on campus Sept. 7. However, plans were in the making before school let out in June.

During the first round of parties, the 464 women who registered for rush visited each of the 10 sororities. The second day they cut to six parties; the third day, four; and on the final day of parties, Sept. 15, rushees visited two sororities each.

Then Saturday they picked up bids to the sorority of their choice.

Those who did not choose a group during fall rush may join in open rush which began Monday. Informal parties will be given by sororities that did not pledge their quota.

Pledges and their sororities are:

The tension of rush reaches its climax as coeds race for the chapter room of their favorite sorority. Here an excited rushee greets the girls who will, in a few months, be her sisters.

Boys going through fraternity rush wait outside Sadler Hall to see what the coeds have bid. Baritone cheers go up as the girls call out the sorority of their choice. Women received their bids Saturday; the men were given theirs Sunday.

The Interfraternity Council has not yet set up rules and dates for open rush.

How To Study

Congress Stresses Learning

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first in a series of articles dealing with how to study. It is written by Lewis Mondy, chairman of the Committee for Higher Education of the Student Congress.

Once again this university is witness to a host of young men and women passing through its doors in pursuit of knowledge.

That we can come here to gain a liberal education, unrestricted in its content by the forces of state, church or any other group, is a precious privilege of the political system under which we live. In fact, that we are able to pursue a higher education at all is a privilege that we share with relatively few others upon this earth.

Education is the lifeblood of our democratic system. Without an educated populace to make responsible decisions, our system would surely fail. We would be under the yoke of an autocratic leader. Also, the opportunity to achieve success for a person with a higher education is much greater than for one without it. It seems clear, then, that this business of pursuing knowledge at an institution of higher learning is not something to be taken lightly — it is a matter of both personal and national importance.

College More than Study

How often is one told not to spend all his time with studies, that a college education comes not only from textbooks. While there is truth in this, the danger from "over studying" is rather remote. The greatest danger is that too little time will be spent contemplating the texts and the information put forth by the professors under which we have enrolled.

It is tragic when a student must be informed that he cannot continue his education due to his inferior work. It is even more tragic when one who has got by with a minimum of effort realizes that he has nothing to show for his time and money but a piece of paper testifying to the falsehood of his possessing an education. Both situations are the result of a failure to apply one's self to a course of disciplined study.

Spokesman Urges

As spokesman for a group concerned with your education, I say this to you: Do not spend your time foolishly, allowing your privileged opportunity to pass by. Education is a matter of disciplined study — so discipline yourself to concentrate upon the knowledge that is presented to you in the days and months ahead.

Safety Inspection Stickers Available

In preparation for winter driving, Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas Dept. of Public Safety, has suggested that the start of fall "is an excellent time to have motor vehicles safety inspected."

All vehicles coming under the provisions of the Vehicle Inspection Act must display the new sticker by April 16, 1962. The 1962 Texas vehicle inspection sticker is now available at 5,000 official inspection stations.

Garrison said that during the past three months mechanics at inspection stations over the state have undergone an intensive training program on the inspection of vehicles under the law.

Sadler to Talk For Chapel

Dr. M. E. Sadler, Chancellor of TCU, will be the speaker for the first University chapel service of the 1961-62 session Tuesday. His topic is "The Faith of America."

Coordinator of the services, Dr. A. W. Braden of Brite College, will preside. Professor B. R. Henson is the new choral director and Professor Emmet G. Smith, assistant professor of organ, is organist.

Dr. Braden says that all chapel services are non-sectarian. "During each academic year ministers of the many great religious denominations are asked to speak.

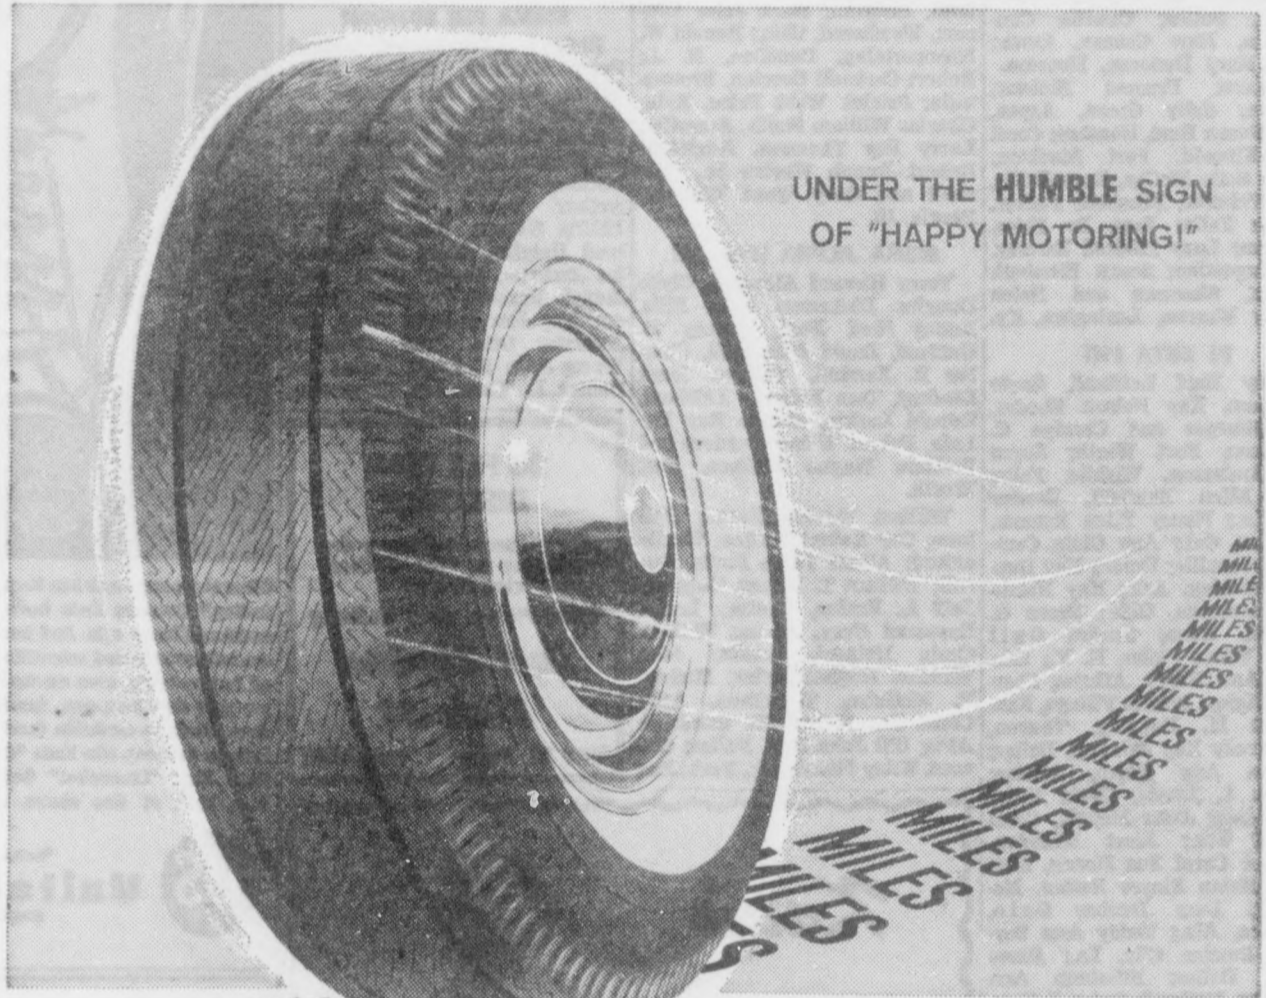

This year three professors have been selected for each semester as "Preachers to the University." This is a new plan for Chapel services.

Dr. A. W. Braden, Professor Glenn C. Routt, and Dr. Paul G. Wassenich have been assigned to the fall semester. The spring semester professors are Dr. Robert Clyde Yarbrough, Dr. M. Jack Suggs and Dr. Braden, who will serve as coordinator. Other men representing the major denominations will be invited to speak at various times.

In the absence of James Farrar, who is on leave of absence, Dr. James M. Moudy, dean of the Graduate School; Professor Howard G. Wible, School of Business; and Dr. Braden, Brite College of the Bible, have been designated by the Chancellor as the committee to oversee the Chapel services. Acting director of religious activities is Mrs. Louis A. Saunders.

Bowling Offers New Pastime

Once was a time — and not too long ago either — when college students considered things like swallowing gold fish, planting water bombs in the teachers' chairs and rolling hospital beds down the highway as outside activities.

But like "I Like Ike buttons," such performances are gone from the scene.

Because as the heavy throng of students files out of classes this fall, they will have something better to do. And one sport they may find to their liking is bowling.

TCU has a bowling credit program. It isn't considered for P. E. credit, at least not yet, but promises to rope in some 300 or more pupils this year.

Last year 100 men and women jogged down the road to a bowling plant and tried their skill at the game of tenpins.

They liked it. This year almost three times that number will roll an old black ball that everyone who doesn't bowl says is too heavy.

How can you join? It's quite simple. Every weekday afternoon except Monday, just drive down to Bowlanes at 2 p. m. Leagues are planned for every day. You don't have to bowl in all of them . . . one will be fine.

What does the game have to offer? In the first place it's relaxing and different, if you're a girl you can lose weight or meet a new boy friend and if you're a boy you can meet a girl friend or just visit.

The game costs little, just over $1 a week. There are instructors who can teach the novice.

The program is sponsored by the Student Center Activities Council. So that makes everything legal and about the only thing you can break is a 200 game.

Frog Club To Present New Football Award

A new annual award for a TCU football player will honor the late Rudy Copeland Jr., former Frog Club president, it was announced recently.

The award will be presented by the Frog Club to the TCU player, other than the captain or co-captains, who has furnished the most inspiration through a season. Squad members will select the player to be honored.

Copeland, who died last February in Los Angeles, was an enthusiastic supporter of the University and its football teams.

Testing the Wogs' new defensive machine in preparation for the season opener Oct. 5 against the A&M Fish are Coach Fred Taylor, Gary Cooper, Everman, and Richard Sullivan, Whitney. The Wog-Fish game is in College Station.

Wogs Begin Practice For Opener With Fish

Freshman football coach Fred Taylor greeted a 39-member squad Thursday as the Wogs began practicing for their Oct. 5 season opener against the Texas A&M Fish in College Station.

Five of the freshmen who reported for the first workout performed in the North-South All-Star game last month.

Taylor says the Wogs will have to "pour it on" because the other SWC schools got the jump on us. Under conference rules freshman football practice cannot begin until the first day of classes. The rest of the league began workouts last Monday.

Assisting Taylor are three former Frogs, Harry Moreland, Ted Harkness and Cliff Mayes.

The 1961 frosh squad is loaded with big, talented ends. Bob Sanders of Fort Worth and Taylor's Darrell Molt, two all-state selections, head the list of outstanding prospects.

Jan Mohel, who also hails from Taylor, is the fastest man on the team. He won the 2-A 100-yard dash last spring with a 9.7 time.

Bobby Smith, 230-pound tackle from San Antonio, was an all-state selection also. Center Eddie Hammett of Lone Grove, Okla., is the only non-Texan on the team. A 250-pound Dallas product, center Jackie Huffman, is the heaviest Wog.

For the third straight year the TCU frosh will meet the same opponents — A&M, North Texas, Baylor, Texas and SMU. Only two games will be played in Fort Worth — Oct. 25 against the Baylor Cubs and Nov. 10 against the Texas Longhorns.

Abe's 50th a Hum-Dinger

By upsetting the Kansas Jayhawks 17-16 Saturday night, the Frogs presented Abe Martin with his 50th victory as TCU's head coach and membership in an exclusive SWC coaching fraternity.

Records show that Martin became the ninth coach in conference history to win 50 or more games at one conference school.

Jess Neeley of Rice is the only other current coach in the select group. When the Owls whipped LSU 16-3 Saturday, Neeley chalked-up win number 123.

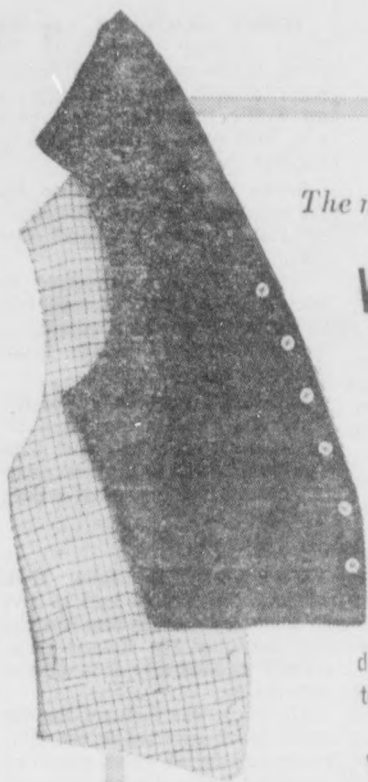

D. X. Bible, Homer Norton, Ray Morrison, Matty Bell, Morley Jennings, Fred Thompsen and

L. R. (Dutch) Meyer are the other coaches with 50 or more triumphs at one conference school.

Abe's 50th win was particularly enjoyable because it came in the time-tested Martin manner — an upset victory over a nationally ranked intersectional foe.

TCU has a reputation of being especially tough against major grid powers while playing the underdog role. Ohio State, the Frogs' opponent this Saturday in Columbus, Ohio, was ranked as the nation's top team in 1957 when an unheralded TCU squad upset the Buckeyes, 18-14.

Froggies Get Big Kick Out of Young Spearman

"We had a lot of fun," drawled Abe Martin after his team pulled off the season's first major football upset Saturday night. The young Frogs fought from behind and surprised everyone with their 17-16 victory over Kansas — a nine-point pre-game favorite.

'Mistakes Hurt Us'--Mitchell; Frogs Celebrate

The locker rooms following the TCU-Kansas game were a study in contrast.

Jack Mitchell, the Jayhawks' coach, showed his disappointment and said his boys made some "critical mistakes that cost the game." He complimented the Frogs, saying, "They were certainly a better team than us tonight."

The Kansas players also reflected the bitterness of the defeat. Each of the Jayhawks seemed to be playing the game over in his mind trying to figure out how it happened.

On the other side of the stadium the Frogs were having a great time. The center of attention was Jerry Spearman of course. The Amarillo junior had pulled the game out of the fire with a 36-yard field goal.

It was Spearman's first attempt at a field goal in college or in high school.

Abe Martin, who notched his 50th victory as the Frog coach, called it as "fine a win as I've had here at TCU. It was a team victory and one we can be real proud of."

Captain Bobby Plummer, a defensive standout, praised the work of the sophomores who played a fine defensive game. "This was a great team effort, we got stronger as the game went on."

"We got the feeling we could do it and we did."

Jerry Spearman, a junior from Amarillo, played the hero role with his 36-yard field goal with less than five minutes to play. Spearman is the son of a former TCU footballer, Blanford Spearman.

TOMMY CRUTCHER was the Frogs' leading rusher with 76 yards in 14 carries. The sophomore fullback from McKinney set up TCU's first touchdown with a 41 yard burst up the middle to the Kansas four.

Sonny Gibbs carried over for the score on a roll-out. The drive covered 67 yards and used five plays.

Jimmy McAteer converted to knot the score, 7-7. Kansas had tallied earlier in the opening period on a one-yard plunge. Elvin Basham's kick was good.

Basham's toe accounted for the Jayhawk's next points when he booted a 20-yard field goal with 34 seconds to go in the first quarter. Kansas had recovered a Frog fumble on the 17.

VERSATILE John Hadl widened the Kansas lead to 16-7 on a sneak from the two. On the previous play the Kansas quarterback scooted 40 yards off the option play.

The stage was then set for the break which resulted in the TCU victory. Basham's extra point try was good but a Kansas lineman was penalized for holding and the Jays had to try again—this time from the 25.

The kick was short and the score remained 16-7.

The never-say-die spirit of the Frogs showed itself early in the fourth quarter as TCU, paced by Gibbs' passing, marched 80 yards in 11 plays to score.

IN THE DRIVE Gibbs completed two passes to end Buddy Iles—one for 10 yards, the other for 15. The point-producing play was a 24-yard toss from Gibbs to Roy Dent in the end zone. McAteer kicked the point and the Frogs trailed, 16-14.

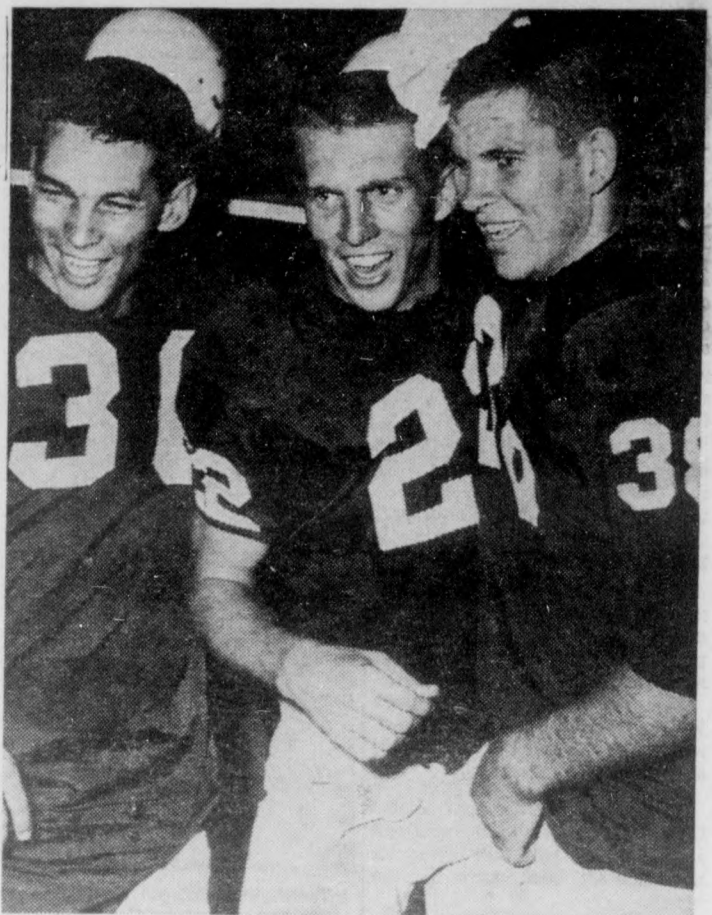

An aroused Purple defense held Kansas in check and the visitors were forced to punt. Taking over on its own 44 following a piling-on penalty, TCU began to move. Gibbs hit Crutcher with a 15-yard screen pass.

Two passes fell incomplete and with fourth down and six yards to go on the Kansas 18, Spearman came in for the field goal attempt.

AS THE BALL sailed through the uprights the Amarillo halfback was mobbed by jubilant teammates.

The Frog defense again smothered the vaunted Jayhawk offense and with 1:19 left on the clock, the Purples took over.

TCU ran out the remaining time and as the last second ticked off the clock the stadium erupted and the field was flooded with happy Frogs and happy fans.

Frogs Spark SWC Opening

While the big news in the Southwest Conference was made in Fort Worth where the Frogs knocked-off Kansas, 17-16, the rest of the league was in action winning three, losing three and tying one.

Two of the defeats were recorded in a "double-header" at Jackson, Miss. Powerful Ole Miss, led by quarterback Doug Elmore, humbled Arkansas, 16-0. The fast and rugged Mississippi forward wall opened gaping holes in the defending SWC champs line and hog-tied the Razorbacks' explosive offense.

Tech Humbled

Texas Tech fell victim to Mississippi State, 6-0, in the nightcap of the twin-bill. The Bulldogs methodically ground out short yardage to completely control the game. Tech seldom got inside State's 50, and the Raiders' deepest penetration was to the Bulldog 34.

Maryland had its hands full gaining a hard-earned 14-6 victory over stubborn Southern Methodist in Dallas. Terrapin backs Dick Novak and Dennis Condie played the starring roles on offense, while the stout Maryland defense kept the Mustangs bottled-up in their own territory.

Texas A&M had to fight from behind to salvage a 7-7 tie with the Houston Cougars. The Aggies failed to take advantage of two early scoring opportunities and did not hit the scoreboard until John Keller plunged over from the two with less than three minutes remaining in the game.

Steers Stomp

Texas stomped California, 28-3, in Berkeley. Halfbacks James Saxton and Jerry Cook spearheaded the Longhorns' running game which riddled Cal's defenses. Texas gained 304 yards rushing and 115 in the air while piling up 24 first downs. The Golden Bears made only five first downs and had a meager total offense of 80 yards.

Rice, behind the fine passing of Billy Cox, downed LSU, 16-3. An overflow crowd of 73,000 in Houston saw Cox flip two touchdown passes and complete 7 of 10 for 104 yards.

Baylor's Bears blasted their Baptist brothers from Wake Forest, 31-0. All-American candidate Ronnie Bull scampered for two of the Bears' tallies. The out-classed Deacons never posed a serious scoring threat as Baylor completely dominated the game at Waco.

Quarterback Sonny Gibbs, the Frogs' giant signal-caller from Graham, scores the Purples' first touchdown in the initial quarter of Saturday night's 17-16 victory over Kansas. On the ground is Ray Pinion, senior guard and co-captain from Celina, who furnished Gibbs a key block on his way to pay dirt. Gibbs' run started on Jays' six yard line.

Freshman Wins In Grid Contest

Robert J. Beasley, freshman from Selfridge AFB, Mich., won the first Skiff Football Contest by picking the correct number of points in the TCU-Kansas game.

Beasley, like several other entrants in the contest, missed on two predictions but won four free tickets to the Worth Theater with his guess of 33 points in the TCU game.

The freshman from Michigan missed on the LSU-Rice clash and the Aggie-University of Houston tie. He was one of the few entrants, however, who picked the Frogs over highly-rated Kansas.

This week's contest appears in today's issue of The Skiff, with four free passes to the Worth Theater going to the winner.
