Musicians Find Coliseum Home

BY DONNA JO HUFF

Daniel-Meyer Coliseum may have been built for basketball, but musicians have found a home there too.

Recently the Limelites proved the Coliseum could be arranged for musical entertainment. Sunday TCU sororities and fraternities will try it out in their annual Greek Song Fest at 1:30 p.m.

The event is sponsored on alternate years by sorority Panhellenic and Inter-fraternity Council. This year IFC is in charge.

Scott Major, publicity director, explained that risers will be placed on one side of the court. A microphone will be lowered from the ceiling. Groups will walk onto the risers in almost complete darkness, as no curtains can be provided.

Five judges from the Fort Worth-Dallas area will choose the 1962 winners. Jim Zetsche, Olney Ill. junior, will serve as master of ceremonies and present first, second and third place trophies to the winners.

Last year's winners were Zeta Tau Alpha and Sigma Chi. Zeta originated Song Fest in 1956. In 1959 Panhellenic and IFC began sponsoring it.

At the Song Fest, "Delta Shelter" and "A Medley of Old Fashions" will be sung by Delta Tau Delta, "Blue Moon" and "A Pledge" by Lambda Chi Alpha, "Across the Wide Missouri" and "Phi Kappa Sigma Girl" by Phi Kappa Sigma.

Other songs by fraternities are "The Sweetheart of Sigma Chi" and "She Wore a Yellow Ribbon" by Sigma Chi, "Let Us Break Bread Together" and "Wonderful Sig Ep Girl" by Sigma Phi Epsilon and "Battle Hymn of the Republic" and "Violets" by Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Sorority songs will be "Moon River" and "Pretty Freshman Dreamer" by Alpha Delta Pi, "Medley" and "Alpha Gam Rock" by Alpha Gamma Delta, "I've Got Shoes" and "With the Shades" by Chi Omega, Delta Gamma will sing "The Trolley Song" and "When You Go Away to College." Delta Delta Delta will present "He's Going Away" and "Tri Delt Hymn."

Also to be sung by sororities are "Now Goodbye" and "I'm only 19" by Kappa Alpha Theta, "The Words AOT" and "Irish Medley" by Kappa Delta.

"Dreams" and "Balm in Gilead" will be sung by Kappa Kappa Gamma, "Picture a Girl" and "A Medley of Gus Edwards' Songs" by Pi Beta Phi and "Coming Through the Rye" and "The Creed" by Zeta Tau Alpha.

Tickets are $1 and may be purchased from sorority and fraternity members or at the door Sunday. Proceeds from Song Fest go to the Tarrant County Day Care Association.

Ticket Sales Start Today

Tickets are on sale at the information desk in the Student Center for the Spring Semi-formal from 8 to midnight March 29 in the ballroom.

Tickets are $1.50 a couple and may also be purchased at the dance.

Theme for the dance is "The Old South." Decorations will be based around a colonial-style home and garden.

Ralph Marterie and his orchestra will play in the ballroom. Ray Sharpe will furnish informal music in the old cafeteria. Alternating with Marterie in the ballroom will be the TCU Stage Band.

The dance is being planned by the dance committee with Mary Jane Ware, Fort Worth sophomore, chairman.

Choir To Present Concert Monday

The University a cappella choir will present its tour program at 8:15 Monday in Ed Landreth Auditorium with Bev. R. Henson, assistant professor of music, conducting.

The program includes numbers by 12 composers: J. C. Bach's "I Wrestle and Pray," Schutz's "Selig sind die Toten," Gluck's "De Profundis," Thompson's "The Peaceable Kingdom," Kodaly's "Jesus and the Traders."

Also to be sung are Shaw-Parker's "Three Spanish Carols," Scott's "The Creation," and two spirituals: "That Man" and "Poor Wayfaring Stranger."

64 Entrants 'Ready To Ride' At School Rodeo Tomorrow

BY BARBARA COX

Bucking broncs, flying heels, and rough-riding cowboys will battle it out for first places Saturday at the all-school rodeo. The time is 2 p.m. and the place is the Fort Worth Horseshoe Club arena on West Vickery.

Entries close today. A total of 64 entries to date include 15 in bareback riding, 15 in bull riding, 5 in saddle bronc riding, 10 in calf roping, 6 in bull dogging, 3 in women's barrel race, 4 in women's goat tying, 3 in fraternity wildhorse race, and 2 in sorority goat sacking.

Under special events, Tim James of Phi Kappa Sigma, George Brint of Delta Tau Delta, and Lynn Lasswell of Lambda Chi Alpha will vie for the fraternity wildhorse race trophy.

Kate Burch and Sharon Schiefer of Kappa Delta will compete with Susanne Whitney and Melissa Shepherd of Alpha Delta Pi for the sorority goat sacking trophy.

Awards Given

Trophies come from Fort Worth Trophy Co. Nelson buckles will be given to winners of bareback riding, bull riding, calf roping, and bull dogging.

Stock for the rodeo will be furnished by McHood & Smith, "M Bar S" stock producers.

This year the Texas Barrel Racers Association, with top women barrel racers, will give an exhibition as announced by Bob Dailey, rodeo club publicity chairman. The featured barrel racers participated in the Fort Worth Stock Show and Rodeo last February.

Dailey said that two professional rodeo clowns will be there Saturday to help the cowboys and entertain the crowd. "Clowns are primarily on hand to aid the bull riders should they become entangled with a bull," said Dailey.

Dailey encourages the student body to participate — "The rodeo is an all-school event," he reminds.

Admission Charged

General admission for adults will be $1 and 50 cents for children with advance tickets which are on sale in the Student Center. This money is used to send the University traveling rodeo team to intercollegiate rodeos throughout the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association (NIRA) southern region.

TCU Grenadiers Win Top Honors In Austin Meet

TCU Grenadiers, Air Force ROTC drill team, won top honors recently in competition in Austin with AFROTC detachments from Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana.

The Grenadiers won first place in overall points and first in regulation drill. The squadron received an invitation to march in Washington D.C. at the Cherry Blossom Festival April 5.

The University squadron also took second place as best Arnold Air Society squadron present. TCU Angel Flight placed third in drill competition.

Arnold Air Society, sponsor of the contest, is a national society of AFROTC cadets.

Schools in this area include Arlington State, Sam Houston State Teachers College at Huntsville, Texas A&M, Texas A&I at Kingsville, University of Texas, and Mc Neese State College in Lake Charles, La.

Each year local merchants buy tickets for orphans who are taken to the rodeo by a sorority and fraternity. This year Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority and Kappa Sigma fraternity will act as chaperones for the orphans.

★ Pre-school Chef

The Speech Clinic's pre-school language development group recently was discussing how to prepare breakfast.

Mrs. Ruby Parmele, principle of the clinic's pre-school group, asked one little boy, "William, do you know how to cook?"

He answered, "Yes, I can cook peanut butter sandwiches!"

Forensic League To Speak Here Over Weekend

The National High School Forensic League, an honorary debate organization, will hold contests on the campus Friday and Saturday.

Representatives from 22 high schools in the district will participate in debates, extemporaneous speaking, oratory, and dramatic reading.

Topic of the debates is "Federal Aid to Education." The extemporaneous speakers will discuss other current events.

TCU will provide 425 judges for the contests. Ministers, attorneys, faculty members, members of civic clubs, and senior students will judge. The first place winners in each division will represent the district in the national contest.

A student legislature, passing mock bills, will meet at the same time as the Forensic League.

David Matheny, instructor in the speech department, said that any students interested in being time keepers for the debate contests should contact him.

Entitled "The Metamorphosis of the Plant," the exhibit is made up of abstract paintings showing the growth process of a plant.

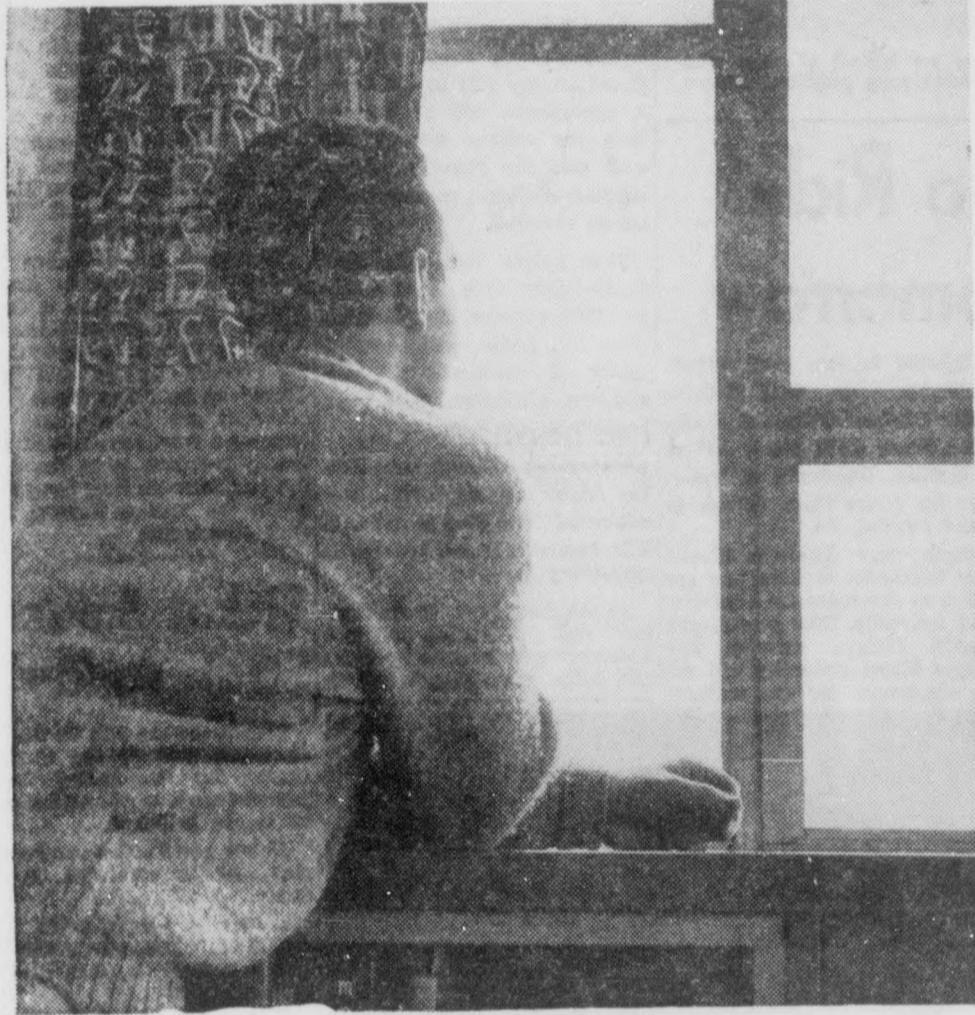

The display is being shown by the exhibits committee. Chairman Nancy Briedel, Houston junior, says the exhibit will be up through April 2 except for March 29 when it will be taken down for the spring formal.

Elect Film Censors

We are living in an adult age. Adults today, many observers believe, are more mature than in previous years. As a result, the motion picture industry has produced films aimed at this level.

Protests from clergymen, congressmen and womens' clubs are that some of these films are objectionable because they are "too immoral for the children of the United States." Actually, these films are aimed at adults, not children.

Nevertheless, censorship boards are set up to curtail such films. Chicago's board is dominated by policemen's widows. Boston's censor is the mayor's press secretary. In Atlanta, a housewife does the censoring and in Evansville, Ill., a policewoman inspects the films.

Are these persons qualified to be judge and jury over what the public should or should not see? Why do some objectionable films pass their inspection while others do not?

If we must have these censor boards, they should be composed of reasonable and qualified persons.

Perhaps one way to insure responsible decisions on which films should and should not be shown, would be an elected board of about 12 censors. The local board could be organized on a county or state level, with representatives elected by popular vote. The board could include clergymen, congressmen and members of men's and women's civic organizations. Elections could be held during the county or state elections.

The Cynic

Happy Birthday!

BY DON BUCKMAN

The Student Center Birthday is over for another year (so how often do YOU have birthdays?).

Time was we thought the idea was a bit childish. Who ever heard of a building having a birthday, we demanded—especially a week-long birthday?

But we have matured and grown wiser since those days of youthful cynicism. And now submit a new idea: let's observe the birthday of every building on campus! Here's how it would go:

Sadler Hall Birthday: The Business Office would double the face amount of all checks cashed. (Mom sends you $5, the school tosses in another $5.) And the registrar adds half a point to everybody's grade average.

Reed Hall Birthday: All classes would be suspended for the week. The Faculty Lounge would be open for student parties.

Rogers Hall Birthday: The Computer Center would be available to anyone hitting a snag in math homework. The Skiff would run off counterfeit diplomas for those unable to earn the real McCoy.

Religion Center Birthday: Brite College would have an open house so undergrads could see what's in the place. The chapel carillon would play "Happy Birthday" hourly.

Landreth Hall Birthday: (Forget it — that place is wild enough.)

Old Gym Birthday: Everybody pitches in to tear the place down.

Bailey Building Birthday: The School of Education would sponsor rope-jumping contests, with elementary education majors disqualified because they have too much practice.

Women's Dorms Birthday: Dorm Mothers would take the week off.

Men's Dormitories Birthday: Open house.

Library Birthday: Librarians would write term themes and book reports for students.

Coliseum Birthday: The basketball team would win a game.

Stadium Birthday: Student section would be on the 50-yard line; tickets would be free for everybody.

Splinter Village Birthday: A bonfire.

Science Building Birthday: The chemistry department would have its distillation apparatus set up for students to try experiments. Professors would present lectures on building do-it-yourself stink bombs.

Observatory Birthday: Halley's Comet would appear, by special arrangement.

Rivals To Cooperate

The Board of Trustees has given the green light to a program of cooperation between TCU and our closest Southwest Conference neighbor, Southern Methodist University in Dallas. The Skiff thinks the idea is a good one.

As we understand the planned program, the two universities will work together, especially on the graduate level, so that students of each school might attend classes at the other.

Both TCU and SMU are noted for excellence in certain fields. SMU has an excellent law school, for example; TCU's School of Fine Arts enjoys an excellent reputation in this area. Each school has some outstanding faculty members in certain areas.

The proposed plan of cooperation should make it possible for both universities to concentrate on improving even further the quality of their specialties, rather than trying to add new departments — in other words, to expand in depth rather than in width.

Can Okies Tussle Like Texas Bugs?

Once a Bug Tussleite, always a Bug Tussleite.

This emotion must have moved Mayor Richard Green of Bug Tussle, Texas, when he donated a plot in his town to U.S. Rep. Carl Albert of Oklahoma.

Albert, House majority leader, was born in Bug Tussle, Okla., now renamed Flowery Mound.

The mayor's explanation for the move? "Bug Tussle natives are hard to come by." Since Bug Tussle didn't make the Texas Almanac or Rand-McNally's Road Atlas, it's obvious one more citizen won't hurt.

Some gerrymandering had to be done to provide the land for the honorary citizen. His claim is the white stripe down the center of the highway through the town.

Benevolence of this sort could get out of hand. After all, there is a Paris, Texas, where De Gaulle might find a patch of peace and quiet.

Letters

Replies to LaBoon

For a person who accuses others (Don Buckman) of making unjust statements, it seems to me that R. Bruce LaBoon should look into his own pantry before criticizing another person.

I thought I had heard everything until I read LaBoon's letter which stated that Greeks were doing a much better job of accepting citizenship responsibilities than the independents. Just what are the Greeks doing that makes them so much better than the independents? It couldn't be stuffing ballot boxes at school elections, could it?

Speaking of ballot boxes, let us evaluate LaBoon's remark about the greater number of campus leaders among the ranks of the Greeks. True, this is a fact. However, the independents who do run for office do not have an organization backing them.

LaBoon also seems to be of the opinion that the Greeks are superior to independents intellectually. May I bring to his attention that all the members of the University's "College Bowl" team which appeared on nation-wide television were independents.

This is not intended as a criticism of fraternities or sororities. I have many friends in the ranks of the Greeks. But it irritates my soul when one student thinks he is better than another and bases this opinion on the fact that he belongs to an organization on campus.

Sam Broadie.

Editorially Speaking

Uninformed Shouldn't Talk

BY LYNN SWANN

People who don't know what they're talking about shouldn't talk.

Last week letters came to The Skiff accusing Dr. Sadler of discriminating against Harry Belafonte on the basis of his race.

They didn't know what they were talking about.

Students in their enthusiasm often go off on half-cooked theories. Their energy is admirable but their research often is inadequate.

Some say The Skiff is an organ of the administration. They don't know what they're talking about, either.

Skiff Not Censored

The administration doesn't practice censorship on Skiff editorial material, either prior to or after publication.

Yet since TCU is a private school, the administration has full right of say-so about what goes in The Skiff. Administrators here, however, feel that students cannot learn to work with a free press when their every comment is censored.

TCU is fortunate in having such understanding administrators. Last week journalists from 15 colleges and universities in the Southwest attended a convention here.

Their representatives were amazed at TCU's freedom of publication.

Different at A&M

At A&M, for instance, all information comes through the university information service. A Battalion reporter told of the time the Air Force gave Bryan Air Field to A&M. A wire came to the journalism department from Washington three days before the city newspaper had the dope. However, the Battalion had to sit on the information until it could be processed by the campus information service. By this time, the information was no longer news since the town paper had carried the story.

At the University of Arkansas, where there is no PRIOR censorship, there were six editors in one year because student editors wouldn't conform to administrative wishes.

Censors Self

As a result, Arkansas journalists practice self censorship where administration is concerned.

An East Texas State reporter said, "We just try to stay out of anything that has to do with administration."

If The Skiff is "Mickey Mouse," it is not the fault of the administration, for, though they have the authority, they do not determine editorial policy.

The Skiff staff tries sincerely to cover vital campus issues, objectively and completely. However, we, as individuals, cannot be aware of every campus happening.

The Skiff is YOUR newspaper. Make it so by contributing your criticisms and suggestions, not behind our backs, but face to face, thus utilizing the freedom of expression we have been granted.

SWC Humor Magazine Receives Mixed Emotions

BY JAMES MARTIN

The consensus of students on campus concerning Bacchanal, the new Southwest Conference humor magazine, seems to be that "It's a good magazine, but

Penny Smith Barbara Reese

I wouldn't want to subscribe to it."

"This is a good magazine, but should have been censored in some ways. It should have more humor and not just dirty stuff." BARBARA REESE: HOUSTON FRESHMAN.

"I think its great! I am disappointed in TCU's attitude toward it because students need more voice in the SWC. It does need more stories on politics and news from schools in the conference." F. DOUGLAS KEMP: FORT WORTH JUNIOR.

"Terrific! It has wonderful ideas and I admire the staff's initiative, but then I'm a Mad Magazine fan." SUE COX: RIVER FOREST, ILL. JUNIOR.

"I enjoyed it very much and really liked the school drinking songs, but I wouldn't subscribe to it." DON ROSSEK: MIDLAND JUNIOR.

Russian Club Members To Hold Coffee, See Film

The Russian Club will meet at 8:15 p.m. Wednesday in room 204 of the Student Center. A Russian movie will be shown and coffee will be served.

All students taking courses in Russian are invited, according to Gustavs Jurevics, instructor in Russian.

"I liked parts of it, but the drinking theme throughout tends to grow monotonous. It should have better stories and less emphasis on the drinking." DON HOLT: DENTON FRESHMAN.

"It's got good points and some very bad points, but generally it is a good magazine and has good spice to it." BOB SMITH: ABILENE JUNIOR.

"I compared it with Mad Maga-

Sue Cox Don Holt

zine, being on about the same intellectual level and type of humor. I would subscribe." PAT RILEY: FORT WORTH SENIOR.

"It struck me like all other sarcastic humor magazines. It was kind of funny, but I wouldn't subscribe." PENNY SMITH: NOCONA FRESHMAN.

"Parts of it were too risqué, and some of it was well written, having good cartoons, and I especially liked the information on schools in the conference. I wouldn't subscribe to it though." SUSAN MCKAY: DALLAS JUNIOR.

"I enjoyed the articles very much, especially the story, 'A Child's Garden of Neurosis,' but 'Wonder Wart Hog' was ridiculous. No, I don't think I would subscribe to it." DIANE MCCORMICK: HOUSTON FRESHMAN.

"I liked it very much and didn't find one article with which

Susan McKay Diane McCormick

I disagreed. TCU needs something like that." DAVID SPENCER: STANHOPE, N. J. JUNIOR.

Dennis Anyone?

by dennis schick

If someone came up to you and said you could make over $4,429.86 this summer, probably you would tell him to go take a flying flop in the Trinity River. But it CAN be done (with a little luck and talent) and here is the rundown: (or do they say COUNTDOWN these days?)

College students now are in demand for the "Six Flags Over Texas" College Revue this summer. Other students will be used as guides, ticket-takers, ushers, baby-sitters, actors and most every other job imaginable.

"Six Flags" is Texas' answer to Disneyland, located just north of Arlington on the Dallas-Fort Worth Turnpike.

Basic salary for the revue will be $75 a week for 14 weeks and two weeks of rehearsals at half salary, or a total of $1,125.00.

Add to this all the fringe benefits and the average hustler could really haul in the loot.

Figuring an average of $5.37 a day (the going rate) for 70 days, tips could run up to $375.90, or more.

People in a hurry are going to drop money and "finders keepers" could add another $53.20, or an average of 76 cents a day.

Then there is the $2.75 admission fee which will be saved for each of some 80 days, or $220.00.

Fellow students will be operating snack bars so food can be scrounged from them, another savings.

Of course there's the strong possibility of meeting "her" or "him" — the one-and-only who will share your car payments from then on.

If the student plays his cards right, this person will be of wealthy parentage, which could mean lifetime security.

Using $20,000 a year as a good, round figure, if the mate can be hooked before July 1, this would mean 46 days at $55.56 a day, or $2,555.76 more to be added to the kitty.

There IS the problem of how to recognize a person with mucho pesos. Appearance is not always the best way since the sloppiest may be the wealthiest.

However, it would be pretty safe to bet on the gal with a "Vassar" sweatshirt or the pal with a "Yale" T-shirt.

Then there are all the educational benefits from the summer's work . . . helping lost kids, changing diapers, catching fainting females and possibly even delivering premature babies.

Just the attraction of vacation with pay . . . for the ENTIRE summer, is enough incentive for many college students to apply.

Whether you get the job and reap all the benefits therein . . . including all that loot (though the fringe benefits are not guaranteed) at least you could try-out for the Campus Revue tomorrow morning in the Student Center.

Visiting Editor Comments On His First Look at TCU

EDITOR'S NOTE:

Migrating South for his spring holidays this week was Dean Larson, editor of the Denver Independent, student newspaper at the University of Denver.

He visited for a short while at North Texas State and is on his way to the University of Texas.

No sooner had Larson met the Skiff staff, than he was put to work.

Here are the results.

BY DEAN LARSON

I WAS AMONG the crowd that assembled at The Skiff office Tuesday to edit the latest issue of TCU's fourth estate.

LYNN SWANN RUNS The Skiff like the good old days of William R. Herst. She and her staff went against all odds last week to grab two awards at the Southwestern Journalism Congress. Up Colorado way we also hold many distinctions e.g. banning from community newstands, burning in effigy and general illiteracy.

MARK TWAIN ONCE said, "Get the facts first and then distort 'em." At Denver the writer distorts 'em. At TCU the reader distorts 'em. And up at North Texas the administration distorts 'em.

THIS NEWSPAPER business is a funny one. It must be done in the white heat of mutually illogical admiration. (Kind of like pledging.)

AND SPEAKING of pledging, I understand that the Greek system here at TCU is brand new. A short walk around campus turned up many a KD, Sig Alph (that's Colorado for SAE), Pi Phi and Alpha Gam pin.

Back in Denver my fraternity (Phi Kappa Sigma) has adopted the slogan, "Pledge early and avoid the rush." The TCU Phi Kaps have gone us one better. They rush all the time.

I AM ALSO distressed to see the alarming number of girls here at Texas Christian reduced to the sophomoric level of bubble gum chewing. I am told that this is the only way they can relieve their tensions. I have doubts.

Candidates To Sign Up For Election Wednesday

It's election time again. Prospective candidates must file for office at 5 p.m. Wednesday in the Student Center Ballroom.

Students must pick up filing forms and the election code at least two days before the meeting.

"The code will be explained Wednesday," said election committee chairman Jim Wright, "but we want the candidates to be familiar with the rules beforehand."

Every candidate or his representative must be at the meeting with the $10 refundable filing fee. If the candidate does not comply with election rules, however, he will be disqualified, losing his filing fee.

Poster stamping is scheduled for April 8 in the Student Center Ballroom from 3-5 p.m.

"And this is the ONLY time posters will be stamped," warned Wright.

The election rally follows on April 10. Primary elections are scheduled for Wednesday. Run-offs will be April 13 (that's a Friday.)

Wright says precautions will be taken to prevent stuffing of ballot boxes. He suggests that one person man each poll during elections.

Wright's plan will be discussed at Congress meeting Tuesday.

Student body officers; president, vice president, secretary and treasurer will be elected. Results of the election will determine Activities Council director.

Representatives from the various schools also will run.

The number of representatives is based on enrollment. There is one representative for every 400 students. However, each school must have at least one representative, according to the election code.

A representative will be elected for the School of Fine Arts, Harris College of Nursing, Brite

College of the Bible and the Graduate School. Enrollment in AddRan College of Arts and Sciences merits five representatives, while the School of Education and the School of Business each has two.

Two senior, two junior and four sophomore class representatives also will be chosen.

A TCU Sweetheart, who does not campaign but must be nominated at the filing meeting, will be selected by popular vote in the spring election.

This year students will select six cheerleaders. "Eight are too many to work together in leading a large crowd," Wright explained. Wright said Arkansas and Texas Tech are the only schools in the Southwest Conference with more than six cheerleaders. They have eight.

TV Debate Series Pits TCU vs. NTSU

The University debate team will meet North Texas State University in the quarterfinal round of the North Texas intercollegiate debate tournament, "Young America Speaks," at 3:30 p.m. Sunday on WFAA-TV channel 8.

The TCU debaters are Bill English, Freeport senior, and Ron Johnson, Wichita Falls sophomore.

They will take the negative side of the topic, "Resolved: that the U.S. should extend diplomatic recognition to the government of Communist China."

The team advanced to the quarterfinals by defeating ACC in the first round of the tournament. The $1,000 prize was given to the TCU scholarship fund.

The winner of this week's debate will win another $1,000 and will advance to the semi-final round. The loser will receive $500 in scholarship funds from Sinclair Refining Co., sponsor of the series.

Founder of University Business School Dies

John Ballard, founder of the TCU School of Business in 1922, died recently in Kansas City, Kan. At the time of his death he was president of Kansas City Savings & Loan Co.

During the 1920's, professor Ballard taught accounting in the former Brite Hall which is now the Bailey Building.

Ballard resigned in 1934 to take a government position.

LUCKY STRIKE presents:

LUCKY PUFFERS

"SPRING MADNESS"

GO NEAR THE WATER. Spring is the time when students start thinking about water fun. We say: Splash up a storm. Have a lark. But please be careful. Each year, a few careless students get water on their Luckies. Imagine their remorse! Imagine yours if you were to spoil a Lucky—that great cigarette that college students smoke more of than any other regular. So have a swell time at your favorite watering hole this spring. And keep your Luckies dry.

Trackmen To Compete In Austin

After what he termed a "disappointing showing" in the West Texas Relays last weekend, track Coach J. Eddie Weems is looking forward to a triangular meet in Austin Saturday.

The eight-man track team grew to 12 with the addition of John McKinsey and footballers Jim Fox, Ken Henson and Jerry Jack Terrell. Still it is probably the smallest aggregation in the Southwest Conference.

The tracksters will enter all except two events, the pole vault and low hurdles.

To Run 440

Running the 440 relay will be Bobby Bernard, Jerry Jack Terrell, Saul Pullman and Glenn McCroskey. Alfred Heizer and Reagan Gasaway will replace Terrell and Pullman for the mile relay.

Heizer and Gasaway will also run the 440-yard dash with McCroskey and Pullman entering the 220. Nolan Brawley will run the 880.

Marvin Silliman will represent the University in the mile run and maybe join John McKinsey in the two-mile. Terrell and McCroskey will try the 100-yard dash.

In the feature race of the day, the 120-yard high hurdles, Bobby Bernard is pitted against Texas' Ray Cunningham. Cunningham beat Bernard at Odessa last week with a record time of 13.7 although Bernard led through seven hurdles.

Seniors Feud

The two seniors have been opponents through four years of college. Last year, Bernard won in the nationally-televized Drake Relays and again at the NCAA meet in Philadelphia. This year he edged past Cunningham in the Houston Indoor Meet.

Representatives in the jumping events are Jackie Upton in the high jump and Pullman in the broad jump. Fox and Henson will compete in the shot put and discus.

Frogs and Farmers Vie; Schmidt Takes Mound

The Frog baseball players will host Texas A&M Saturday at 2:30 p.m., in their second Southwest Conference outing of the season.

The first contest against Rice in Houston, ended in a 7-6 Owl victory.

A&M downed SMU, 7-2, Saturday on the pitching of sophomore Chuck McGuire. McGuire, who was used mainly in relief, may start against the Purples Saturday. Aggie Coach Shelby Metcalf also can call on sophomore Richard Beller.

Beller Could Start

Beller, a southpaw, has a 3-0 record this season and a 1.63 earned-run average.

Should Beller pitch, Gary Lee, Frog sophomore, will give way to Sam Reynolds in left field, since Lee, who is batting .269 has had trouble with left-handed hurlers.

Don Schmidt will start on the mound for TCU. Schmidt, Lockhart senior, was one of the leading pitchers in the SWC last season. He has posted a 1-0 record this year.

In pitching nine innings, southpaw Schmidt has given up 9 hits and only 4 runs. He has walked 4 and fanned 2.

Relief pitcher will be John Serben, St. Louis junior. He has a 1-1 record, beating Baylor and taking credit for the 6-7 loss to Rice.

The big stickman for the Frogs is Jay Walrath, who has hit 17 out of 32, including three home runs for a .531 average.

Hits Grand Slam

One of Walrath's homers was against SMU, with the bases loaded, and won the game for TCU. Walrath is one of the team's faster runners. He plays right field.

Shortstop, Billy McAdams, Fort Worth junior, is the Frog nine's fastest runner, says Jim Brock, sports publicity director. "He can be counted on to 'steal 'em blind' in base-running," Brock said.

Sophomore Bob Bigley of Fort Worth, will be playing center-field. Bigley is batting .346.

Large Crowd Seen

Saturday's game will be played on the new diamond adjacent to Daniel-Meyer Coliseum.

Brock said he expected a "standing room only" crowd.

"Nearly everyone I've talked to is going to the game," he said Wednesday, "and I don't know where we're going to put them."

Netmen Top ACC, 5-1, Head For Rice Tourney

With their first victory of the season tucked under their belts, Frog netmen head for Houston this weekend to compete in the annual Rice Collegiate Tournament.

TCU won its first match this year, 5-1, Tuesday over Abilene Christian College at the Ridglea Country Club. The Frogs now stand 1-3-1.

The Rice tourney has attracted entries from all eight Southwest Conference schools and such independents as Trinity, Corpus Christi and Pan American.

Monday the Frogs launch their SWC season against SMU in Dallas. Coach Ken Crawford says this is the match his squad is out to win.

"I think we can take them," Crawford related. "The two teams are about even but we should win."

Although Crawford is taking a full squad of four varsity players and two freshman to Houston, he feels that first-year man Kenny Uselton has the best chance of winning in the Rice tourney.

"Kenny has the game to win and I believe he is as good as any freshman in the conference," Crawford said.

In the recently released Texas Tennis Association ratings Uselton is the No. 6 ranked junior player in the state.

Since the Rice tournament is the only opportunity for all SWC freshman tennis players to compete against each other, the winner is generally considered to be the SWC freshman tennis champion.

Varsity Volleyball Team Off to Hardin Simmons

The women's volleyball team journeys to Abilene Saturday for their first tournament of the season.

This will be the third year the team has competed in the event sponsored by Hardin-Simmons University.

Last year they won the consolation.

The team has placed second in two previous tournaments. One at Texas Women's University in Denton and the other here.

McLean, Zetas In First-Place Tie

The race for first place has narrowed down between a sorority and independent team in the women's intramural basketball tournament.

Zeta Tau Alpha and McLean have 5-0 records and lead by three games. The contest determining the winner of the tourney will be played at 3 p.m. Thursday in the Little Gym.

INTRAMURAL STANDINGS

McLean	5	0
Zeta Tau Alpha	5	0
Alpha Gamma Delta	2	2
Kappa Alpha Theta	2	2
WSA	2	2
Kappa Delta	2	3
Chi Omega	1	3
Burdine	1	4
DSF	0	4

Brock said students and faculty will be admitted to the game free, but adults will be charged $1 and children, 50 cents.

The Wogs ran over Paschal, 11-6, here Tuesday in their first win of the season. The freshmen lost to Arlington Heights, 7-8, last Saturday.

Winning pitcher, Pat Peebles, accounted for a pair of doubles and a single in the Wogs second outing.

The Frosh play a doubleheader with the SMU Colts in Dallas March 31. This will be the team's first brush with Southwest Conference competition.

The score by innings:

Paschal	011	031	0-6
TCU Frosh	001	460	x-11

Golfers Snap H-SU Streak

TCU's golf team defeated Hardin-Simmons University, 4-2, Wednesday to end a year-long winning streak the Abilene school had on its home course.

Last year the golfers performed a similar feat by breaking a five-year hold H-SU had had over opponents. Frog coach Tom Prouse said the team hadn't lost a match since then until Wednesday.

Prouse said that H-SU's Larry Fryer burned up the course with an eight-under-par 63. He defeated Jack Montgomery, 5-4.

In other pairings, Gabe Cunningham beat Don Seamster, 5-4; Fryer-Seamster beat Montgomery-Cunningham, 2-up.

Mike Walling handled Tom Cheek, 8-7, while Frog golfer Leland Phillips took care of Pat DeBusk, 4-3. Walling and Phillips then teamed to defeat Cheek and Debusk, 5-3.

Conference action begins for the golfers today at Waco when they meet Baylor.

Vigies, DSF Lead Murals; Five Way Tie a Possibility

The Vigilantes edged Tom Brown, 31-30, Monday night to tie for first in the Independent intramural basketball league with Disciples' Student Fellowship.

Both teams went into Monday's game with 3-1 records, but the outstanding playing of Vigies Jerry Ludwig and Jay Walrath was the difference. Ludwig sunk 15 points and Walrath made 12 for a total of 27 of the Vigilantes' 31 points.

Tom Brown's high point men were Darrell Mott, with 12 and Richard Nelson with eight. Tom Brown is tied with Army for second place.

Monday games pit the Vigilantes against Army, Tom Brown plays the Baptist Student Union, Air Force takes on Pete Wright and DSF has a bye. DSF and Air Force have a make-up game scheduled for later in the week.

Monday games are important, and no matter who wins, there are going to be two or more ties which will be played off later. Jim Gary, intramural director, said the play-offs "should be played on March 28-29," and he listed a minor change in the remaining schedule. The games which were to be played Wednesday, March 28, will be moved up to Tuesday.

Gary said that should the Vigilantes beat Army Monday, the Vigies would wind up with a 5-1 record, with Army sporting a 3-3. If the Vigies lose, they would have a 4-2, as would Army.

Tom Brown, with a victory over BSU would stand 4-2, and BSU would drop to 1-5. If Tom Brown loses, it would finish with a 3-3 record.

Air Force would finish 4-2 by topping Pete Wright. Wright, winless, would have a 0-6 for the season.

DSF, with a bye for Monday, has a 4-1 record. It plays Air Force later in the week in a make-up game, and could end with a 5-1.

The way it stands now, according to Gary, the independents could wind up with a five-way tie for first place between DSF, Vigilantes, Tom Brown, Army and Air Force. The league could also end with a two-way tie for first between DSF and Vigilantes, and a two way tie for second between Tom Brown and Army.

The top two teams from both divisions of the independents will play the top four teams from the Greeks in an All-Campus Tournament March 30-31.

The Vigies, DSF, et al., will fight it out Monday night to see who represents the Monday night division. Tuesday night Clark Hall plays Newman Club. Both are undefeated.

Ken Henson warms up with the discus for the three-way track meet between Texas, Baylor and TCU in Austin Saturday. Henson placed fourth in the West Texas Relays last week.
