

TB visitation suspended

The continuing battle over visitation at Tom Brown Hall reached a significant stage last Friday.

According to Bill Reeves, Tom Brown resident, the dorm received a letter stating the administration's position on visitation violations Friday, the first day the dorm was in violation of University policy. The letter officially withdrew the visitation program at Tom Brown.

At the dorm council meeting on Monday night, the council voted to accept the administration's suspension of visitation at Tom Brown.

However, the council also decided to determine any future visitation actions on a week-by-week basis.

Residents who violated University visitation policy Friday have not been notified of any official action against them.

About 70 of the 110 residents at Tom Brown took part in Friday visitation.

Dorm president Roger Fowler has maintained that Tom Brown's continuing battle with administrators is not over the "morality" of visitation. Instead, he said, it concerns whether students can have the right to decide their social policies for themselves.

The dorm has attempted to implement its beliefs by having the hall council decide the days and hours for visitation.

These decisions have placed the dormitory in violation of University policy before, notably when the council acted to give the residents seven-day-a-week visitation in early October.

Other actions have included three days of visitation per week plus four "open house" days. Administrators have complained in the past that dorms have abused the open house policy by attempting to circumvent the maximum day requirement on visitation.

However, Fowler has taken exception to this view and has said last year's open house program was successful, with few violations, when there were no restrictions placed on the policy.

ALL SMILES—One of these lovely lasses, (back to front) K-Lou Paullin, Helen Dayton, Jennie Young, Suzanne Avirett, Cathy McLain and Linda Brown, will reign as the Homecoming Queen for 1972. The announcement of the winner and the two runners-up will be made at Friday's pep rally.

News digest

—from the Associated Press

WASHINGTON—The tentative, nine-point agreement to end the war in Vietnam remained unsigned Tuesday but plans went forward for having a 1,000-man force in place to supervise the ceasefire when it comes.

Canada, Indonesia, Hungary and Poland have agreed to provide 250 officers each for what is expected to be the complex and difficult job of seeing that terms of the peace accord are carried out in the field, informed diplomatic sources said Tuesday.

SAIGON—U.S. B52 bombers made their heaviest raids in nearly three months in the southern part of North Vietnam in an attempt to halt a Hanoi effort to beat a ceasefire with a big supply push into Laos and South Vietnam, field reports said Tuesday.

Trash blight strikes P.O.

A problem which often plagues the post office blossomed forth last Monday: direct mail blight.

The unsolicited mail so dutifully deposited in individual boxes was soon so scattered that by mid-day the post office floor was a carpet of yellow and green Homecoming and calendar circulars.

The post office estimates there are 1,800 individual mailboxes most of which accommodate the correspondence of two people.

On that basis, every mailbox received four circulars, about 7,200. Most were thrown on the floor even though trash cans were nearby.

Individual people and organizations, according to the idea of free speech, have the right to circulate such information. Conversely, receivers of that information have the right to ignore and dispose of it if it is of no interest.

The problem on campus does not lie in the right of distribution, rather with what happens after distribution.

Simply pushing the circulars back into the post office or throwing them on the floor rids the student of the problem of disposal, but creates more problems that others must solve.

Disposing unwanted material in a trash can takes no great effort and it appears that the situation will not be resolved unless students take that initiative.

nounces TCU ex-students are eligible to participate in THE GREAT BICYCLE RIP-OFF.

A Frank Statement From Betty Andujar about MARIJUANA:

The penalty for possession of marijuana in Texas is far TOO HARSH. Many basically good young people are now serving long prison sentences for possession of small amounts of marijuana.

Two years ago, when I ran for State Representative, I advocated a REDUCTION OF THIS PENALTY FROM A FELONY TO A MISDEMEANOR. In my present campaign for the State Senate, I am AGAIN ADVOCATING THE REDUCTION OF THIS UNFAIR PENALTY.

But this IS NOT ENOUGH. I am also proposing RETROACTIVE LEGISLATION THAT WOULD PROVIDE FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE of all those now in prison who were convicted of possession of small amounts of marijuana.

It would be GROSSLY UNFAIR to reduce the penalty for possession of marijuana from a felony to a misdemeanor AND THEN NOT EXTEND JUSTICE TO THOSE ALREADY IMPRISONED OR CONVICTED. This legislation would RESTORE FULL RIGHTS to these young people—rights they lost when convicted of a felony.

It is my firm belief that they ARE NOT HARD CRIMINALS AND SHOULD NOT BE TREATED AS SUCH. I deem it unfortunate that we have damaged the lives of so many fine young people through A LAW NOT IN KEEPING WITH OUR ENLIGHTENED TIMES.

I have great faith in the young people of America. They are not radical misfits as some say. The great majority are no different from any other generation of Americans. They SIMPLY DEMAND WE PUT INTO PRACTICE THE GREAT IDEALS WE HAVE SO LONG TALKED ABOUT.

I hope that I may have the OPPORTUNITY TO SERVE THEM, and all other citizens of District 12, AS THEIR STATE SENATOR in working for a better world for us all.

Thanksgiving

Insert

The Daily Skiff

Nov. 1, 1972

All have heard the traditional Thanksgiving story: The Pilgrims landed at Plymouth Rock and built a small village. A total of 98 people walked on shore in 1620—about one-half of these died during the first winter.

When Spring came they planted crops with the help of the native Indians. So thankful were they for the bountiful harvest they reaped that they held a three day feast with the Indians as honored guests.

How, one may ask, did Thanksgiving evolve from a tradition to a legality? Pres. George Washington in 1789 issued the first presidential thanksgiving proclamation in honor of the new constitution. During the 19th century many states observed the day annually, each appointing its own day.

Pres. Abraham Lincoln appointed the last Thursday of November as Thanksgiving Day due to the unremitting efforts of Mrs. Sarah J. Hale, editor of "Godey's Lady's Book." Each succeeding president made similar proclamations.

Pres. Franklin D. Roosevelt appointed the third Thursday of November; however, in 1941, congress by joint resolution approved the fourth Thursday of November as Thanksgiving Day, a national public holiday.

Finance reform promised

State Rep. Maurice Angly Jr. is running for state treasurer on the Republican ticket.

Angly told the Fort Worth Downtown Optimist Club, "The principal issue in the treasurer's race is whether state deposits and bank charters are going to be handed out as political favors as has been the case under James' administration or whether this office is going to be run as a public trust for the taxpayers."

Angly has served three terms in the state House of Representatives and feels that it is time to modernize the treasurer's office which incumbent Jesse James has held since 1941.

Referring to the Sharpstown State Bank stock fraud scandal, Angly said he was one of the original small group who spoke out for reform and a full investigation of the scandal.

"The state auditor's report

shows that James deposited $10,034,875 in the Sharpstown Bank for two-and-one-half years at a substandard rate of interest of 2.93 per cent," Angly said.

Incumbent treasurer points to experience

On Oct. 25, 1941, Jesse James was elected state treasurer and has held that position for 31 years.

One of the chief complaints of James' Republican opponent, Maurice Angly Jr., is that James is "too old (68) and so are his ways."

The incumbent Democrat claims to have "many years of experience in the banking and finance business," including his years as state treasurer, as qualifications for the post.

A report from the state auditor claims "Jesse James has proven he knows how to handle the state finances efficiently by earning more than $16 million in interest on state deposits during the past year."

"It is my intention to continue as we have in the past in the operation of the state treasurer's office," James said.

"I expect to continue to operate the office in an honest, efficient, economical and courteous manner, if elected," he promised.

Muniz hears minority voice

La Raza Unida gubernatorial candidate Ramsey Muniz, who will barely make the age limit of 30 by election day, sees his youth as a help—not a handicap—to his race.

Muniz said he feels minorities have a need to be heard; they need an identity. He said he is against discrimination of minorities in all fields; especially in the Texas Rangers, who, according to Muniz, take unjust action against minorities. Muniz said the Rangers should be reviewed by a board of blacks, Mexican-Americans, Indians and Anglos.

Muniz said more money should be put into the school systems, especially in slum areas. Putting minorities on the University of Texas Board of Regents, as well as on boards of other colleges, will be a big step, he contends.

On tax reform, Muniz said he is opposed to increased sales tax, but is very much in favor of corporate taxation to reduce the burden on the poor, rural people. Muniz said he also favors legislation against conglomerates in agriculture.

Muniz would like to revamp the insurance system to break the stronghold of insurance lobbyists and see the creation of a consumer-oriented board with a broader scope.

Muniz said he strongly favors Constitutional revision, but is opposed to allowing members of the state legislature to rewrite it.

Some feel that La Raza Unida is a militant group. Right now Muniz is involved in a lawsuit against the San Antonio Express and News, and Charlie Kilpatrick, for referring to the party as militant group in the Sunday, Aug. 20, issue of the paper to stress that he is a serious man—serious about his party, his beliefs, and his candidacy for governor of Texas.

BROKEN UP—Frog defensive back Lyle Blackwood uncoils into Notre Dame fullback John Cieszekowski to break up a pass play in the second quarter of Saturday's game. Open-mouthed onlookers watched as the contact jarred the ball harmlessly incomplete.

2 gridgers dismissed from squad

Two split receivers, senior Freddie Pouncy and junior Phil McNeel, have been dismissed from the TCU football squad.

McNeel saw limited action last season, while Pouncy set a school record for touchdown kickoff returns.

Head coach Billy Tohill said the two were dismissed because of disciplinary reasons concerning class attendance.

Meanwhile, the Frogs have elevated another freshman to the varsity ranks. Garland quarterback Bill Walters is now alternating with Ronnie Littleton as the Frogs' number two signal-caller.

Wogs eyeing Texas match

By BUD KENNEDY

With an 18-0 win over Baylor Thursday in Waco, the oft-frustrated TCU frosh found a new high. Unfortunately, though, some folks from down Austin way are messing up the good karma.

To be exact, the Texas Yearlings are taking a long-range bead on the TCU underclassmen, and the Wogs' dream world of beanie-burnings and victory parties turn to ashes rather quickly.

The Yearlings, it seems, have this winning streak. Fourteen straight games without a loss, it is, dating back to Halloween of 1968 when some SMU hobgoblins overturned the Texas apple cart. Since then, the junior 'Horns have left fourteen clubs dead by the side of the road, and they meet the same Southern Methodists again Friday before hosting TCU Nov. 10.

The Wogs' smiling headmaster, Earl Leggett, discounts the Ponies' chances of stopping the Yearlings. "I imagine after Friday the streak'll be 15," he says, meaning the job of short-circuiting the high-voltage Texas attack will be up to the Wogs.

Yearlings Slaughter Two

Texas has already finished off a pair of appetizers, mauling the Cubs 42-7 and Rice's Owlets 45-14 before their Dallas date this week. The Yearlings netted 783 yards total offense in the two games, a total which Leggett hopes the Wog defense can cut back somewhat.

The Wogs surrendered only 51 yards total offense to the Cubs, never letting Baylor escape the shadow of their own goalposts. The greenies never even punched the ball into Wog territory, with their deepest drive dying at their own 42.

The Yearlings, on the other hand, gave up 237 yards to the Cubs, who netted 15 first downs in their September meeting. Baylor made only two—that's two (2)—first downs against TCU.

"There will be some changes," Leggett says, although he declines to give the particulars. "But I think we've definitely improved in all departments."

Wogs 'Cook' with Lee

The do-it-all-man, versatile back Lee Cook, spearheaded the Wog win with 130 yards on 31 trips across the soggy Waco turf. Cook tallied the Wogs' first touchdown, spinning off a pair of Cub linemen and hotfooting 22 yards to the end zone on a keeper, and set up a one-yard Dennis McGehee plunge which settled matters late in the game.

Sandwiched between these two scores was a six-pointer for the defense, as Baylor's Ken Quesenberry tried to punt from his own goal line.

The troubled Baylor kicker dropped the snap, then picked it up and tried to punt again, missing the ball with his foot. He could only watch helplessly as Wog linebacker Edward Owens cuddled it to his chest for six.

The win upped the Wogs' mark to 1-2, leaving Baylor 0-4.
