

SAE stag party ends with bust

Though the party was by invitation only, members of the Fort Worth Police Department had little trouble getting into the Sigma Alpha Epsilon alumni stag party.

Once there, they were regular party poopers, arresting 41 SAE alumni and students as well as three women for individual prostitution.

The annual event, held at the Blackstone Hotel in downtown

Fort Worth, will not be held again, according to Gerry Goodman, secretary of the SAE alumni association.

Officer Lee Schilling, an undercover policeman at the scene, said he saw several young men with a fist of dollars gathered around green-velvet casino tables.

At this point officers left the party and called for assistance due to the large number of violators. Officers returned to the party at 3 a.m. assisted by officers from the vice, narcotics and special enforcement section.

"I stood in the middle of the floor," said Sgt. B.P. Whitfield, the officer in charge of the raid. "About 3 a.m., after we made sure they were violating the law, I gave the signal and the men flashed out their identification," he added.

Officers went to the fourth floor while their colleagues went to the gambling party. Once there, the report says, officers observed approximately 20-25 white males standing in lines. The officers got in line at each door and observed.

At 3 a.m. the officers entered the rooms. Three women were then placed under arrest and charged with individual prostitution. The report says, "The white males in the waiting lines did leave when officers identified ourselves."

"We couldn't arrest anyone other than those at the tables," Whitfield said, but some of those we gave tickets to came up and asked me to testify before their wives that they were downstairs playing poker and not up on the fourth floor."

Tuition increase 8%

Tuition rates will rise to $80 a semester hour next fall, the University Board of Trustees decided Friday.

Chancellor James Moudy said the increase was necessary to provide salary increases and meet other escalating operating costs.

The tuition and fees increase for next year will be under eight per cent, while the cost of living increased almost nine per cent during the most recent measuring period, Moudy said.

Student Center fees will increase from $15 to $20, while all other fees remain the same.

In other action, the board agreed to increase wages and salaries January 1, 1977, not waiting until the increases go into effect next fall. They also began tentative plans for a major financial campaign to follow through on the New Century Program campaign which preceded the University's centennial in 1973.

The annual audit showed the University ended its fiscal year with a balanced budget.

Steimel's in, but faces new trial

Walt Steimel is back in the race for student body president but faces retrial today at 3:30 p.m. after charges of election code violations were filed against him again yesterday afternoon.

Friday afternoon, the Election Appeals Board invalidated its Wednesday conviction of Steimel on charges of campaigning before the opening of filing for student body president.

The Wednesday trial was declared invalid because Steimel had not yet filed for the race and therefore could not be taken off the ballot because he wasn't on it yet.

Steimel filed for the race Friday afternoon. The new complaint filed against him by House member and vice presidential candidate John Cowles centers on the same issues as those discussed in last Wednesday's trial.

News Digest By the Associated Press

PLAINS, Ga.—President-elect Jimmy Carter said Monday he expects Arthur Burns to continue as chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, the key arbiter of the nation's money supply, and said, "My first inclination would be to work with him harmoniously."

Carter told his second news conference since winning election 13 days ago that "I would guess I could work well with Mr. Burns." Last week Burns warned of the dangers of stimulating the economy too much, pointing to possible renewed inflation.

The Democratic platform on which Carter was elected and some of Carter's advisers have called for stimulation of the economy to deal with unemployment and sluggish economic growth.

NEW DELHI, India—Retiring

U.S. Ambassador William B. Saxbe criticized World Bank President Robert McNamara, Soviet economic aid to India and the U.S. State Department on Monday. He defended his recommendation that India continue to be sold enriched uranium by the United States.

In an interview with The Associated Press, Saxbe also said U.S.-Indian relations have improved steadily since he arrived here in March, 1975.

Saxbe accused McNamara of trying to force American aid on India and other developing countries that may not want it.

BEIRUT, Lebanon—Syrian tanks and troops silenced the guns of Beirut on Monday in a massive occupation that handed Lebanon its first real chance for peace in 19 months of civil war.

Joyful Moslems slaughtered sheep in a traditional Arab gesture of welcome. Women sent up Arab cries of joy and doused Syrian soldiers with rose water and rice as columns of T62 and T54 tanks swept over the city from three directions.

"Allah is great," shouted bystanders as the camouflage painted tanks clanked by. "Arabs will be victorious."

TOKYO—A strong earthquake jolted Peking on Monday, swaying high-rise buildings and reviving grim memories of the killer quake four months ago, Japanese reports said.

Foreigners based in the Chinese capital, reached by telephone from Hong Kong, said there was "no visible damage" and there were no immediate reports of casualties.

Can't touch alums

Action uncertain

The University is unsure whether it will take disciplinary action against the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity which took part in an illegal gambling and stag party last Thursday evening.

"I can't really say at this point," said Dean of Students Elizabeth Proffer. "The significant question is whether the party was a fraternity function or an alumni function of that fraternity. We have no authority over alumni people."

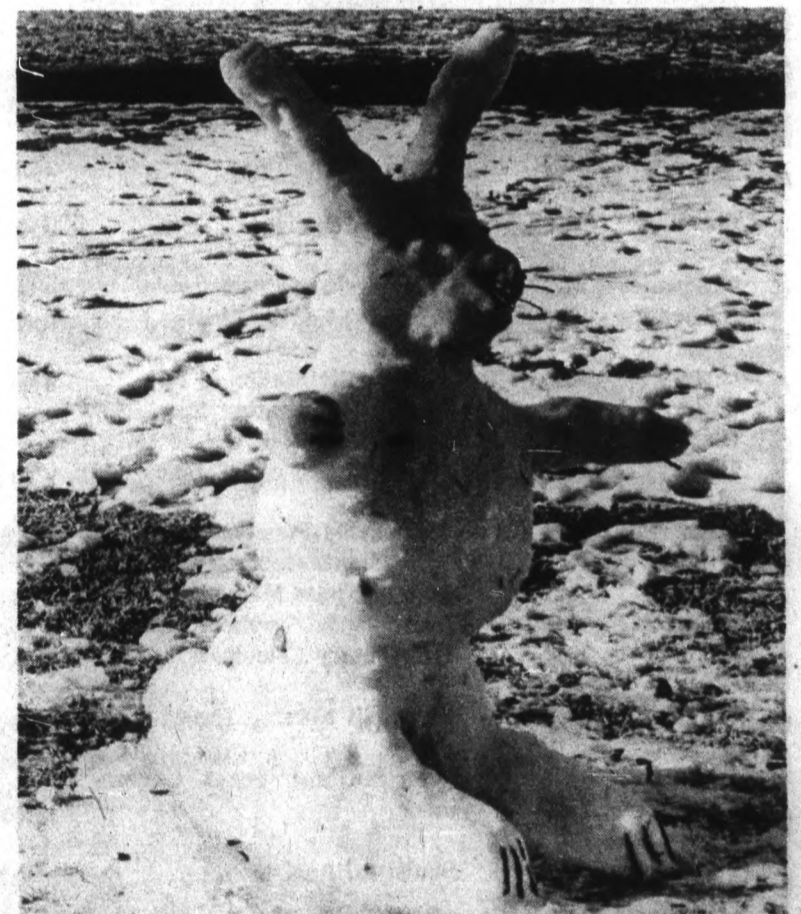

The secretary of the SAE alumni association, Gerry Goodman, has said the association sponsored the party.

If the University determines the active chapter was not the situation, "all we can do is to express our regret over the whole affair," Proffer said.

However, if the fraternity is found to be responsible for the party, the University would have jurisdiction over the organization and would take appropriate disciplinary action, she said.

The University will consider the matter carefully, Proffer said. "We don't want the publicity to push us into making a judgement before we know the facts."

Vote for issues, not for sympathy

"Sympathy" is really a poor reason to vote for a presidential candidate.

But the temptation is strong in this election. It might appear that several candidates are ganging up on an unfortunate one who didn't know he was breaking any rules by campaigning too early.

Our position last Thursday was that the election code had indeed been violated but that the code was wrong and all the candidates should be allowed to continue running.

But just because we think a candidate should be allowed to run does not mean we endorse him for president.

The willingness to fight does not necessarily mean he will make a good president. The candidate's platform may sound good, but communication and power are traditional campaign rhetoric in student races. Fire alarms, yearbooks and 24-hour study areas are hardly the candidate's own ideas.

The proposed reduction of fees for the new tennis center may betray a lack of research and understanding of how the facility is supposed to be run.

And do we really want all the dorms to have exactly the same visitation hours? This is what his standardization proposal really means.

We do not enjoy seeming to join the "gang up on Steimel" movement. But there are concrete issues to oppose him on, not just election code violations. A sympathy vote should not be used to elect him.

By the same token, a candidate's Greek affiliation is no reason Worth Hills should deliver a block vote in his or her favor.

The three other presidential candidates offer the student body a clear choice between continuance of Case policies (Mike Veitenheimer), a more liberal-activist alternative (Steve Green), and a candidate (Jim Yarmchuk) who says he runs on a record of legislation and accomplishment on issues of concern to students.

Party probe not for SOC

Don Mills, Director of Programs and Services and the administration adviser of the Student Organizations Committee said that he does not think the SOC will consider the matter.

"I don't see it as a SOC problem because the chapter was not directly involved," he said. "From what I understand, the party was planned by SAE alums and was open to anyone. If you walked into the Blackstone with seven dollars in hand, you could get in."

Mills said he was doing the best he could to find out what happened, but that he did not know any more than what was published in local newspapers.

University Interfraternity Council and Panhellenic adviser Susan Batchelor said the incident gives the fraternities on this campus "bad PR" and expressed regret that the active chapter of the fraternity is being linked to the party.

"This party is a tradition with the SAE alums. I knew they were going to have a party that night. I guess I didn't associate it with being a stag party, but I knew that this annual party was planned," she said.

Batchelor said that "as things stand now" she doubts that disciplinary action will be taken against individual students involved in the raid.

The Texas Longhorns are alive and well after lashing the Horned Frogs 34-7 Saturday on a wet, cold Amon Carter gridiron.

The Longhorn wishbone came back strong from the previous week's 30-0 wipeout at the hands of the Houston Cougars. The Horns amassed 292 yards on the ground without the services of Earl Campbell. Johnny "Lam" Jones played only the first half.

"Texas wasn't dead," said Frog coach Jim Shofner. "Texas played a good football game. And we've been playing pretty good defense, so they earned what they got."

Things looked good for the Frogs at the beginning when they lost their first coin toss of the season. They got the ball, ran four plays and Texas took over on the Frog 46-yard-line.

The Purple defense let the Longhorns work their way down to the 24 before it stiffened. Russel Erxleben kicked a 41-yard field goal to put the Texans on top 3-0.

Texas did the same thing the next time it got the ball. Erxleben knocked a 43-yard field goal through the uprights to give the Horns a 6-0 lead.

Johnny "Gold Medal" Jones broke the game open in the second quarter when he scooted around right end for a 59-yard touchdown jump.

The Frogs could not even muster a first down while the Longhorns chalked up another touchdown on a 28-yard Mark McBath pass to Gil Harris.

Steve Bayuk got the starting nod from Shofner at quarterback but was replaced by Jimmy Dan Elzner with two minutes to go in the second quarter.

Elzner engineered the Frogs' only touchdown of the day, hitting Mike Renfro for 36-yards and after an interference call, passing to Vernon Wells in the end zone for a 28-yard touchdown pass.

The Frogs spent the rest of the game floundering offensively while the Horns added 14 points to their final score.
