

KTCU-FM to air Big Band music

Metroplex residents who enjoyed the "big band" sound of yesteryear can stay home now and relax with Glenn Miller and Tommy Dorsey—thanks to the efforts of a local dentist, an appliance merchandiser and KTCU-FM.

Dr. Jerry Stubblefield and Bill Roe have created what they say is the only regular radio program in Fort Worth featuring the big band music that dominated American music charts in the late '30's '40's, and early '50's.

In cooperation with TCU's stereo radio station (88.7 on the FM dial), the amateur disc jockeys are volunteering their time and their record collections to present a weekly program of Swing Era music from 8 to 10 p.m. on Saturdays.

Since beginning the program last March, Roe and Stubblefield have quickly accumulated a devoted and growing listening audience. The two big band buffs have logged nearly 50 calls for requests during a single two-hour program.

"We've kept a list of the people who have called, and it's quite amazing," said Roe, who first broached the radio show idea to Dr. R. C. Norris, TCU division of radio-TV-film chairman.

"The response to the program has been way beyond anything I personally thought we would have, and indicates there is a great amount of interest and quite a few listeners.

Added Stubblefield, a former TCU student, "It's been a landslide of people calling in from all over Fort Worth, as well as Arlington, Hurst and Euless. We didn't even know they were hearing the program that far away."

"There is one man who is crippled and blind, who calls us every Saturday night to tell us how much he appreciates the program," said Roe.

The DJ volunteers have a simple program philosophy: concentrate on playing popular songs that were big sellers during the Swing Era and, whenever possible, give the people what they want.

That often means a little digging to turn up unusual requests for such offbeat titles as "Huckleberry Duck" and "720 in the Books" in addition to standards like "Begin the Beguine."

"Sometimes we play as many as 35 songs a night, and when you're on every week it becomes a problem to come up with that many songs," said Stubblefield. "But I'd say we get 80 percent of the records requested."

The men not only draw upon Stubblefield's own albums and Roe's collection of some 1000 tunes, but borrow records from many program listeners who have volunteered their personal collections.

The program co-hosts have received neither formal broadcast training nor a salary for their radio work but consider the enjoyment of providing music for other big band fans sufficient payment.

Both men believe that interest in the big band sound is running high in the Fort Worth area and destined to rise even more. They plan to keep on spinning the platters as long as it does.

Office of Disaster Emergency Services. Harrison has conducted similar operations in 60 other cities, and in three cases the mock disasters preceded instances of real disasters. According to Harrison, the towns involved—Pecos, Coleman and Monahans—were better able to handle the situation after participating in the dress rehearsals.

Harrison stressed that the operation should be as real as possible without being so devastating as to seem ridiculous. He said that two goals must be attained in the drill. First would be the establishment of an on-scene command element, situated downwind from the disaster site, which would act in conjunction with the E.O.C. Second would be the development of real procedures which could be used in an actual emergency.

Some of the problems encountered in such an exercise include determining the explosion destruction radius, which varies with the type of material involved, and the evacuation of schools which fall in the radius.

Officials at Monday's meeting said they plan to meet again January 31 to work out further details.

McFaddin arraignment rescheduled for Feb. 16

Arraignment for Richard McFaddin Jr., 19, a TCU sophomore charged with obstructing correspondence, has been rescheduled for Feb. 16.

Assistant U.S. Attorney Gehard Kleinschmidt, who is prosecuting McFaddin, said last Wednesday that McFaddin was to be arraigned Friday. An arraignment is the process of taking an accused person before the court and formally acquainting him with a charge.

If the person pleads guilty, a sentencing date is set. If he pleads not guilty, a jury trial is ordered.

However, U.S. District Court records in Fort Worth show that McFaddin is to be arraigned Feb. 16. Kleinschmidt could not be reached yesterday for comment.

McFaddin was indicted Jan. 9 by a federal grand jury on charges that, while working at the TCU Post Office, he took letters addressed to five TCU students, and hid, opened and embezzled their contents.

'Hollywood' speaks out, but Bradshaw shows out

MIAMI (AP) — Thomas "Hollywood" Henderson flunked the final course Sunday in his self-taught Muhammad Ali School of Boasting. Hollywood couldn't back up his mouth.

The big-mouth of Super Bowl XIII, riding a heady tonic of correctly predicting a 28-0 demise of the Los Angeles Rams, was reduced to sobs, head bowed and even to moments of silence.

"I felt I gave all I could," Henderson said tearfully. "Right now, I'm on the verge of a heart attack."

Henderson was the next-to-last Dallas Cowboy to enter the dressing room after the Pittsburgh Steelers unseated the defending World Champions 35-31 in a classic.

Steeler fans crowded around a ramp near the Dallas dressing room, shouting insults. Some printable ones included, "Hollywood, what happened to your mouth?" and "Hollywood, any more predictions?"

Henderson slumped heavily over the bench and snipped away rolls of tape, two hands swollen from fending off Steelers' blockers. He tried to speak and then broke down and said, "I'm not ashamed ... I'm not ashamed."

What Henderson had said in one of many numerous interviews before kickoff was that Steelers quarterback Terry Bradshaw was dumb, that he, Henderson, would swarm all over tight end Randy Grossman, and that the Steelers would fold in the fourth period because of their lack of depth.

That made Henderson 0-for-3 since: (A) Bradshaw threw four touchdown passes.

(B) Grossman caught three passes for 29 yards.

(C) The Steelers at least tied 14-14 in the fourth quarter.

"I'm upset... I'm a competitor," said Henderson in a barely audible voice.

Bradshaw sets new air attack records

MIAMI (AP) — The noise Tom Henderson ultimately heard was not his own. It was the turbulence churned up by Terry Bradshaw's passes.

Hollywood Henderson had played his big scene too early in the drama. But Bradshaw saved his best for last — for the final curtain in a decade of Super Bowls. And, when the last cheers faded, the Pittsburgh Steelers were proclaimed unquestioned champions, 35-31, over the Dallas Cowboys.

No one had ever thrown more than two touchdowns in one of these National Football League extravaganzas. Bradshaw threw four of them.

No one had ever thrown for more than 250 yards in one of these games.

Bradshaw threw for 253 in the first half alone and wound up completing 17 of 30 passes for 318 yards, more than he'd ever thrown for in any pro game.

Henderson, the loudmouth Cowboy linebacker, was distraught — but unbowed — by the defeat.

"As you can see, I'm a little sad," he said, letting tears flow freely. But he vowed that his brashness would continue to flow just as freely.

And Noll, when asked in the postgame bedlam about Henderson's pregame bragging literally leared as he replied, "Thomas who?"

Texas leads conference

Longhorns rout Aggies 89-66

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Seventeenth-ranked Texas grabbed the lead in Southwest Conference basketball Monday, defeating No. 14 Texas A&M 89-66 as Tyrone Branan and Jim Krivacs combined for 57 points off dazzling passes from John Moore.

The senior veterans from Texas' 1978 National Invitation Tournament champion, outshined A&M freshman star Rudy Woods, who used his 6-foot-11 height to slam in 13 first-half points but was held to four points in the second half.

A key to the game was the rebounding of another Texas senior, Phillip Stroud, who went up against Woods, 6-7 Vernon Smith and 6-6 Rynn Wright. Smith led Aggie scorers with 18.

The victory pushed Texas' SWC record to 5-1. Texas A&M is 4-2. The score represented Texas' 23rd victory without a loss in its new Special Events Center.

The shooting of Branan and Krivacs so dominated the game that at one point in the first half, they had 23 of 25 points closing out the period. Texas led at halftime 43-31. Branan finished with 29 points and Krivacs with 28.

A&M never led, and the best it could do was a 12-12 tie.

Texas Coach Abe Lemons jerked his starters to the standing, deafening cheers of 14,503 in the final three minutes.

The crowd included National Basketball Association scoring leader George Gervin of the San Antonio Spurs.

Texas upped its season record to 12-4, while A&M is now 15-4.

Baylor 70, Arkansas 67

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Freshman Terry Teagle broke open a tight game with an 18-foot jumper and a pair of free throws Monday night to spark Baylor to a 70-67 Southwest Conference victory over 15th-ranked Arkansas.

Vinnie Johnson scored 22 points, including a pair of free throws with 11 seconds left, to clinch the victory. The victory improved Baylor's SWC mark to 4-2 and the Bears' season record to 10-6.

Sidney Moncrief scored 21 points and had 10 rebounds, and Steve Schall added 17 points for the Razorbacks, who fell to 3-3 in the league and 11-4 overall.

Moncrief, Schall and freshman Scott Hastings each scored nine points in the first half as the Razorbacks shot 63 percent from the field and grabbed a 41-33 halftime advantage.

But the Bears surprised Arkansas with a man-to-man defense in the second half, and the Razorbacks, used to playing against zones, suffered long, dry spells from the field.

The Razorbacks went over six minutes without a field goal in the last eight minutes as Baylor came from behind and took charge.

Teagle connected on a layup with 7:45 left, and Wendell Mays added a rebound basket to pull the Bears to within one, 60-59. After Keith Peterson hit one free throw for Arkansas, Pat Nunley made a pair of free throws to tie the game at 61-61 with 5:05 to play.

Both teams had three opportunities to score before Julio Gullardo hit a free throw and Mays added a tip-in with 3:28 to play to put Baylor ahead, 64-61.

After Moncrief and Schall missed inside shots, Teagle connected on an 18-foot jump shot. Seconds later, he hit a pair of free throws when Schall fouled out with 2:34 to play.

Moncrief brought the Razorbacks back with three consecutive baskets, but Johnson iced the game at the free throw line with 11 seconds left.

Houston 82, SMU 78

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston's Ken Williams hit a career-high 41 points to power the Cougars past Southern Methodist 82-78 in Southwest Conference basketball action Monday night at Hofheinz Pavilion.

The win raised Houston to 118 overall and 3-4 in the league, while SMU dropped to 7-8 on the season and 2-3 in the conference.

Houston blasted to a 10-point lead at 27-17 with 9:52 to go in the first half, but the Mustangs battled back behind the shooting of Brad Branson to take a 44-42 halftime lead. Branson finished the game with 23 points.

The second half was a seesaw affair in which neither team was able to take a decisive advantage.

With 2:04 left in the game, Williams hit a jumper to give Houston a 77-76 lead, and they never trailed after that.

But SMU gave the Cougars a scare with 11 seconds left when Gordon Welch took a short jumper that would have tied the game.

He missed, however, and Leonard Mitchell swept the rebound and heaved the ball down court to Victor Ewing who dunked it at the buzzer.

Houston seems to be getting over the problem it had in earlier games of failing to score in the second half, and Cougar Coach Guy Lewis is happy about that.

"Our shot selection has been a lot better," he said. "One thing important...we didn't fold. We got it up there when we had to."

He had high praise for Williams and was especially impressed by Mitchell's game-ending play.

"I sure was pleased with Mitchell's last rebound — that was a biggie," Williams said.

Mustang Coach Sonny Allen also was impressed by Williams' shooting.

"Williams was impossible to stop. He wasn't getting any cheap shots, either," Allen said. "He earned everything he got."

ATTENTION SCIENCE AND ENGINEERING MAJORS!

The Air Force has openings for young men and women majoring in selected science and engineering fields. Like Aeronautical, Aerospace, General and Electrical Engineering, Mathematics, Physics and Computer Technology.

To help prepare for one of these, Air Force ROTC offers two and four year programs of study which will defray some of your college costs.

After completion of the AFROTC requirement, and upon your graduation, you'll be commissioned an officer in the Air Force. Then comes responsibility, experience in your specialty with some of the best people and facilities in the world, and a mission with a purpose. You'll get excellent starting salary, medical and dental care, 30 days of paid vacation beginning your first year, and more.
