Sigma Nu fraternity will be the 10th of the 15 fraternities to receive a national charter at TCU in 1987. The fraternity received the charter on March 19, 1987.

The charter for Sigma Nu was presented by Mike Dilbeck, national vice president of Sigma Nu, to headquarter in March 1986.

The charter ceremony included inducting the present members of Sigma Nu fraternity, founded in 1867, in the University of Virginia, its national headquarters. Sigma Nu was founded in a non-denominational church, Dilbeck said.

It is rare for a charter to be given to an organization that has been in existence for so long, but at a installation ceremony will be presented to Fort Worth Lambda Epsilon chapter of SigmaNu, Mike Dilbeck, national vice president of Sigma Nu.

The installation ceremony will also include initiation of the present members of Sigma Nu fraternity, founded in 1867, in the University of Virginia, its national headquarters. Sigma Nu was founded in a non-denominational church, Dilbeck said.

Female referents not quite the rarity

I would like to address an article in the article "Ginger females could avoid reference" printed in the Feb. 18, 1987 issue of The Skiff.

Kathy Gagne was mistaken when she reported that the presence of female referents was not common. In fact, it would be easier to find an article in which female referents were not used than in which they were.

The very best thing of all about that pink bubble gum was its unique taste. I remember still remembering that taste. I used to save the wrappers, and something about that pink bubble gum was magical. I would take the wrappers and look through them in the dark, imagining what they might have been. Perhaps they were magical. Perhaps they were just wrappers. But that's what made them so special.

The weather may have really not had anything to do with it, but it was a very pretty day. I remember the sun shining through the trees, and the sky was a beautiful blue. I was happy.

Gagne should have known better than to make such a claim. Female referents are not only common, but they are often used to add a touch of realism to a story.

This is why I liked historia. It was so much better than carting away a bunch of students, to be in the middle of the action, demonstrating on public property.

That was all. I would wait until I got home to look at them. Then I'd throw them in the closet, I never even thought about them, and the money was gone pretty quickly, but I didn't have much money to spend on bubble gum. That's why I liked historia. It was a genuine showdown. The police officer warned the organizers of the demonstration that the next time this happened, there would be some consequences to their actions.

Study finds vegetarians are healthier than meat-eaters

By Cathy Sehapayak

If you're one to live off oily hamburgers and the like, there's food for thought.

Everyone's heard about the fat-free diet, the low-calorie, high-protein and low-fat dishes. But the downside: you're eating too much meat.

According to a recent survey, vegetarianism, she said, is a trend that is popular among Americans. The report says although the findings are speculative and subject to numerous interpretations, "it is interesting to note that diet does appear to have a bearing on health outcomes."

The report cites numerous studies on the topic, and one of the most recent is a study published in the Journal of the American Medical Association. The study found that vegetarians have a lower risk of heart disease, hypertension, diabetes, and certain types of cancer.

The report states that "vegetarians have a lower risk of heart disease, hypertension, diabetes, and certain types of cancer."

The report also states that "people who follow a vegetarian diet are less likely to develop osteoporosis, which makes them more vulnerable to fractures, and therefore likely to consume more calcium than omnivores."

The report concludes that "the data support the idea that a vegetarian diet can provide a health advantage in reducing the risk of certain diseases."

People who follow this diet should be aware of the potential risks. "If you're one to live off oily hamburgers and the like, there's food for thought.

Language Bill protested

AUSTIN (AP) - A state legislative committee dealing with ailing languages has not yet been formed, but time is running out for lawmakers to act on an amendment to the state's official language.

"We haven't had buffalo to see that now in the world, the first time," said Rep. Al Luna, D-Houston, chairman of the Mexican-American Legislative Caucus.

The caucus had introduced an official language bill that requires every ballot to be printed in English and at least one other language.

"In our English-speaking society, those who speak a language who are emigrants to English have the opportunity to participate and reap the benefits of our society," Luna said in a prepared statement.

The Texas Republican Party has endorsed the official language movement as the party's highest priority. The Texas Democratic Party has rejected a Gov. Bill Clements, a fellow Republican, who "I think we have dealt with more important things in the state.*

Under Patterson's proposal, the bill would be incorporated into the state's education code. Areas of the state would be dead from AIDS.

"It is a matter for Robert Gates to decide," Emmons said. "The president made the nomination and he thinks it's a good one, and I think any comment on that.""

"I have not heard a word from the Senate Select Committee on Iran Contra or the nation." He said that it would

"The president made the nomination, and it is the Senate Select Committee on Iran Contra's business to consider it."

Patterson and Gates are married and have two sons. Both were educated at Harvard University and have served in the military.

"We have dealt with more important things in the state, and this is not one of them," Patterson said in a prepared statement.

HOUSTON - It's not where you start but where you finish that counts. Texas Christian University will open its 1987 football season at Boston College with the Eagles scheduled to play TCU on Sept. 24, 1986.

SMU players can transfer without wait

DALLAS (AP)-SMU-Southern Methodist University will open its 1987 football season at Boston College and will have to wait one year under NCAA rules before playing in the Southwest Conference.

TCU defeated the Rice Owls at Austin's Rice-Owls stadium with a final score of 89-65. The Frogs are the Southwestern Conference's leading team for 1987-88.

Rice's Clenn Youngkin hit a shot at the buzzer to cut TCU's lead at halftime to 40-23. The Frogs started slowly in the first half, but their performance in the second half was spectacular.

The Horned Frogs hit 12 of its first 20 shots in the second half, and the game quickly turned into a rout. TCU exploded in the second half.

Rice was never in the game as it did not dominate the Owls as they did in the previous game. In the first half, Rice defeated TCU by 19 points. In the second half, the Frogs defeated Rice by 27 points.
