

Skiff

Inside

Where the presidential candidates stand on the issues.
See page 3

WEATHER FORECAST

High 70s
Low 50s
partly cloudy

TUESDAY
NOVEMBER 5, 1996

Texas Christian University
94th Year • Number 38

World

Zairian rebels declare cease-fire Monday

KIGALI, Rwanda (AP) — With the international community threatening to intervene, Zairian Tutsi rebels declared a cease-fire Monday in eastern Zaire and agreed to allow aid agencies to try to get Hutu refugees home to Burundi and Rwanda.

Fighting between Tutsi-led rebels and Zairian troops has forced hundreds of thousands of refugees to flee their U.N. camps, venturing deeper into Zaire and farther from the reach of aid workers. Diplomats and aid groups met Monday in two African capitals to discuss what to do next.

Mexican mothers protest smoggy skies

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mothers demanding more stringent measures to combat Mexico City's eye-stinging smog strapped oxygen masks on their children and wheeled them on hospital gurneys in the streets of a main plaza Monday.

The group of protests, while small, echoed the views of many as they raised banners of Mexico's Green Ecological Party: "We demand clean skies!"

Rubbernecking motorists slowed to watch one of Mexico's more unusual protests, which followed a record-breaking smog emergency last week, which saw 40 percent of the cars — twice the normal number — banned from city streets.

Nation

Most hate crimes motivated by race

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than three out of every five hate crimes in 1995 were motivated by race, and blacks were the targets in three out of five of the racial attacks, the FBI reported Monday.

There were 20 hate crime murders during the year. The FBI did not categorize the murders by motive.

Citing preliminary data, the FBI said 7,947 hate crimes were reported during 1995, but emphasized that its figures were incomplete. The bureau said the 1995 data could not be compared with previous year's totals because the number of police agencies reporting had grown substantially.

Veteran shoots self to death Monday

SAN MATEO, Calif. (AP) — A veteran who had argued with Rep. Tom Lantos' staff over disability benefits went into the congressman's offices Monday and shot himself to death. Lantos was not in the office.

The 40-year-old gunman, whose name was not immediately released, shot himself once in the chest and died at a hospital.

Police spokesman Terry Reidy said the man entered the offices around midday and talked briefly with a woman working in the lobby.

Mississippi abortion court fight dropped

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Mississippi is dropping its court fight to toughen its abortion regulations, already considered among the nation's most restrictive.

Attorney General Mike Moore said Monday the state stands little chance of reversing a federal judge's ruling against the restrictions, which include a ban on abortion clinics within 1,500 feet of a church or school.

Inside

• Skiff columnists examine election '96, page 4 and 5

• Avoid the Christmas credit crunch, page 7

• The Horned Frogs hold on to defeat UNLV, 42-34, page 8

Frog jailed for 'fight' with friend

By Kimberly Wilson
SKIFF STAFF

Jonathan Martin, a freshman pre-major, spent about 13 hours in the Tarrant County jail Saturday after an arrest his mother said was "ludicrous."

Martin was arrested and charged with assault with bodily injury after police found Martin and his roommate, Brian Daley, wrestling behind TCU's Tandy Hall. Daley, a freshman pre-major, was arrested for public intoxication and was issued a citation.

Martin said he and Daley, both residents of Milton Daniel Hall, were walking home Saturday evening from a friend's house when they began wrestling.

Martin says the two students are best friends and the entire situation is "ridiculous."

"I never ever punched him and he never punched me," Martin said. "He's my best friend and I'd never punch him."

Daley said, "We were just wrestling around. It was playful wrestling and there was no harmful intent. At no time did he ever strike me or punch me."

Martin said the two arrived at the jail at about 2 a.m. and were placed in separate cells. He said his cell was roughly the size of a dorm room and had 40 people in it.

He said during his 13-hour jail stay he was fed two bologna sandwiches. Martin said he could not sit down because there were no benches and there was urine on the floor.

Martin was released on a $2,000 bond at 3 p.m. Sunday.

According to police reports, officers saw that Daley had received a bloody nose from the "strikes" he had received from Martin.

Martin said Daley has a deviated septum. Martin said "anytime you lightly tap (Daley's nose), it bleeds."

Police reports stated that officers smelled a strong odor of alcohol coming from both Daley and Martin.

Daley said he was not given a breathalyzer test or a sobriety test.

Martin said that when the two were arrested, "we were the most polite kids ever. We couldn't have been any nicer to them."

Mike Russel, assistant dean of campus life, said he has not seen the police report yet.

"They assure me that it was just a misunderstanding," Russel said.

Daley said he thinks the whole thing is "absurd, and I think we were unlawfully arrested."

Martin said there was never any argument between himself and Daley at any point while they were wrestling.

"This 'fight' was not a fight," he said.

'Cop' spends night in jail

By Kimberly Wilson
SKIFF STAFF

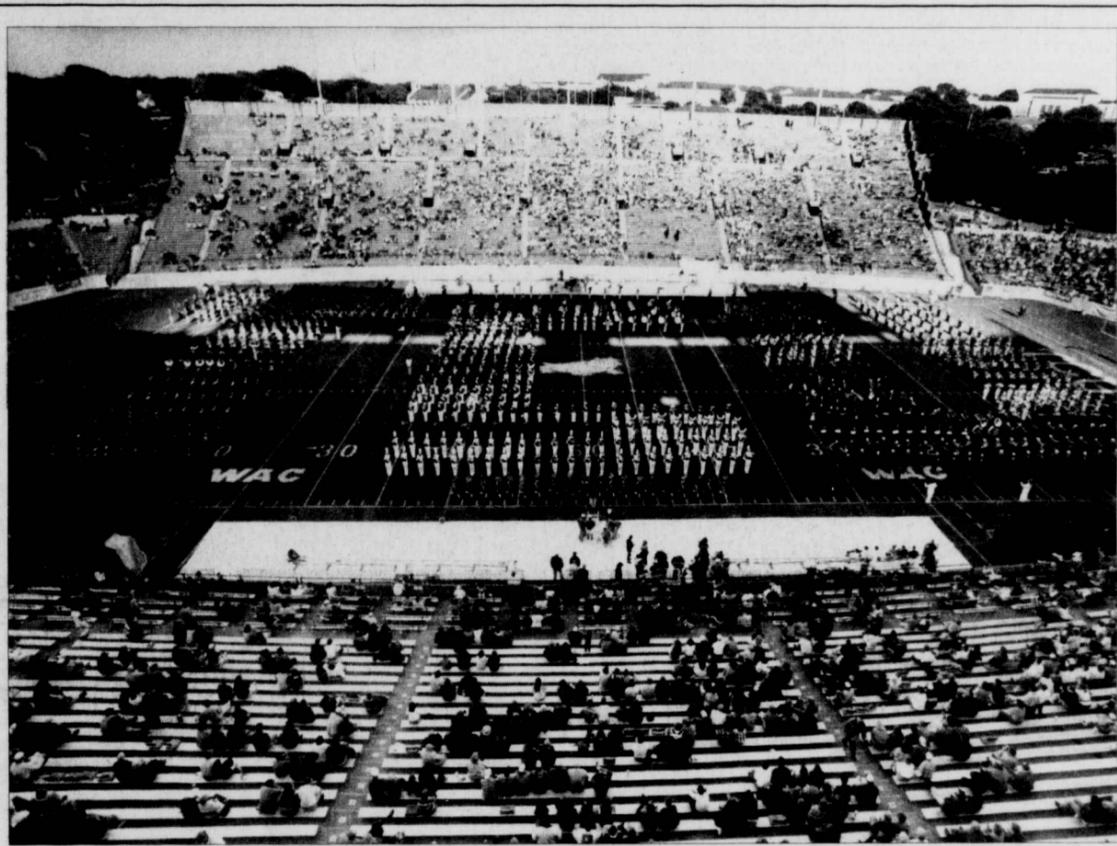

The people who shared a jail cell with a TCU student Halloween night may have thought it funny to be in jail with someone dressed as a cop.

Kory Nix's costume caused him some trouble at a Halloween party Thursday night. It was a little too believable.

Nix, a junior business major, spent the night in jail Thursday after being charged for falsely identifying himself as a police officer at a Halloween party on Lubbock Street.

Nix spent the night in the Tarrant County jail after he was arrested at the party by Fort Worth police who happened to be in the vicinity of the party.

Matt Welch, a local neighborhood police officer, said the weekend was a busy one for officers

The Horned Frog Marching Band performs with several high school bands at halftime of Saturday's football game. The event was part of "Band Day," in which high school bands from across the area perform with the TCU band.

Please see COP, Page 2

Historian details past campaigns

By Matt Pearce
SKIFF STAFF

Paul Boller, a professor emeritus of history and author of "Presidential Campaigns," said the traditions of campaigning have differed greatly over the last two centuries.

Boller delivered the speech, "Campaigning for President: The Great American Shindig," Friday to about 40 people in the Mary Courts Burnett Library.

"In most campaigns there has been a mixture of seriousness and silliness," he said. "The amount of venom was always impressive."

Boller said this year's presidential campaign

Paul Boller
Professor emeritus of history does not have the flair or excitement of past campaigns. He said the long primary process takes away from the overall interest in presidential campaigns.

"This presidential campaign has been interminable and a little dull," he said.

Boller said mudslinging was rampant in early presidential campaigns, particularly in the 1800 and 1828 elections.

Boller said supporters of President John Adams, in 1800, called Thomas Jefferson a "howling atheist" and claimed he would dissolve the institution of marriage if he were president. Boller said Jefferson's supporters fired back by saying Adams was old, toothless and perilous, and that Adams was arranging to have one of his sons marry a daughter of King George III of England.

Boller said Adams and Jefferson personally stayed out of the mud-slinging.

In 1828, when Andrew Jackson ran against John Quincy Adams, Adams' critics accused him of running gambling casinos in the White House, and said he had "procured a wife for the Czar of Russia," Boller said.

Critics of Jackson were even more ruthless in their mudslinging, Boller said. They called Jackson's mother a prostitute and criticized his

Please see BOLLER, Page 2

Name comes to life with Jubilee

By Kelly Melhart
SKIFF STAFF

Names on campus buildings are usually just that for students. Faceless names.

"People in the university sometimes only see names on buildings," said Don Mills, vice chancellor for student affairs. "They don't see the person. Behind every name there is a life."

Past and present residents of one hall got the chance to meet Etta Brachman, one of the lives behind Solomon and Etta Brachman Hall, when they attended Brachman Hall's 25th Anniversary Silver Jubilee Friday in the Worth Hills Cafeteria.

Chancellor William E. Tucker said Sol Brachman's life represented the American saga as he introduced Etta Brachman and other distinguished guests.

"He was a remarkable man," he said. "If you lived in the '60s, you either knew Mr. Brachman, or you heard about him."

Mills acted as master of ceremonies for the celebration which began in the cafeteria and ended in Brachman Hall's lobby.

"This residential hall has made its mark at TCU," he said. "It's been an important part of the TCU campus over the past 25 years."

Kelli Kirkland, a sophomore nursing major and a current resident of Brachman Hall, said she enjoyed celebrating the dorm's birthday.

"It made me feel like living in Brachman was a positive thing," she said.

Three former residents, Jim Moore, a resident during the 1970s; John Owhonda, a resident during the

William Thomas Burdette SKIFF STAFF
Jim Moore, a TCU alumnus, speaks at Brachman Hall's 25th Anniversary Silver Jubilee.

1980s; and Curtis Norwood, a current resident and head resident assistant, shared their Brachman Hall memories with the audience.

Kirkland said Owhonda was interesting because his experiences

Please see BRACHMAN, Page 2

House to vote on financing airport shuttle

By Rob Sherwin
SKIFF STAFF

A bill to fund a shuttle service to take TCU students to the Dallas-Fort Worth International Airport before the Thanksgiving holiday will be debated and voted on at tonight's meeting of the House of Student Representatives.

Bill 96-31, if passed, would allocate $2,245 from the House General Reserve Fund to provide the service. Buses would run from noon to 6 p.m. on Nov. 26 and from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Nov. 27.

The bill provides three buses that would leave hourly each day.

The bill makes no provisions,

House News

however, for a shuttle service back to campus after the holiday.

The House will also vote on a bill to help fund TCU Hunger Week.

The bill asks for $384.76 from the House Special Projects Fund to pay for supplies such as posters, fliers, wooden stakes and paint.

The bill originally requested $505.76, but was cut by the House

Please see HOUSE, Page 2

Pulse

CAMPUS LINES

TCU LECTURESHIP RESEARCH FUND will host Bob Williams of the University of Texas at Austin to give a lecture called "Chaos and Symbolic Dynamics" at 4 p.m. today in Winton Scott Hall Room 145 (the Einstein Room).

PORTRAITS for the 1997 Horned Frog Yearbook will be taken from 9 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. for students and 1:30 to 2 p.m. for faculty and staff today and Wednesday in the Student Center lounge.

LEADERSHIP LONDON will hold an informational meeting at 4:30 p.m. Wednesday in Student Center Room 218. For more information contact Chuck Williams at 921-7216.

STUDY SKILLS WORKSHOP will be held at 9 p.m. Wednesday in the Center for Academic Services, Rickel Room 106. The workshop will cover time management, study skills and test taking. For more information call 921-7486.

MULTICULTURAL COMMITTEE of the Programming Council will present its high school Gospel Extravaganza welcoming local high schools to campus at 7 p.m. Thursday in the Student Center ballroom. For more information call Nicole Edwards at 920-3805.

ROAD WORKERS will sponsor the Walking Dead Day all day Friday in honor of those who have died due to alcohol-related tragedies. For more information call the office of Alcohol and Drug Education at 921-7100.

TCU SHOWGIRLS will hold tryouts for basketball season from 5 to 7 p.m. Nov. 13 in Gym 3 of the Rickel Building. Dance experience is suggested. Dance attire is required. For more information call Danielle Veau or Cally Mills at 920-3622.

BOLLER

From Page 1

wife, Rachel, for marrying Jackson before her divorce from her first husband was finalized.

Boller said Jackson became so angry that he threatened violence on anyone who slandered his wife. Rachel's health began to deteriorate and she died shortly after Jackson was elected. He blamed the "enemies" for her death, Boller said.

Boller said the campaign of 1840 was the silliest campaign in history, with incumbent Martin Van Buren facing war hero William Henry Harrison.

Boller said Van Buren's supporters tried to portray Harrison as unintelligent and inexperienced. They claimed he lived in a log cabin, which he didn't, and that he drank hard cider.

Boller said Harrison turned these accusations around, using log cabins and hard cider as symbols of his own campaign, and proudly portrayed himself as a "man of the people."

A term that came to be in 1840 was "OK," Boller said. The initials stood for "Old Kinderhook," which was Van Buren's nickname. Kinderhook, N.Y., was Van Buren's hometown, and his supporters printed the initials on his campaign signs.

Boller said people had fun guessing what "OK" stood for. One theorist believed it reflected President Jackson's poor spelling. The theorist said when Jackson approved of a bill put on his desk, he would write "Oll Kurrec," meaning "All Correct."

Boller said the most serious campaigns were in 1912 and 1932. In 1912, President William Howard Taft faced two challengers, Democrat Woodrow Wilson and Theodore Roosevelt, who ran as a member of the Progressive Party.

Boller said many moderate Republicans who favored government power to regulate corporations were angry with Taft and formed the Progressive party to represent their interests.

Boller said the most dramatic campaign event happened in Milwaukee the same year, when Roosevelt was shot before he was scheduled to make a speech. Although doctors wanted to rush Roosevelt to a hospital, he insisted on making his speech first. Roosevelt spoke for over an hour and a half and when he finally made it to the hospital, doctors found the bullet narrowly missed his lung.

Boller said the term "gaffe" became the buzz word of choice for the media in 1976. He said both President Gerald Ford and Jimmy Carter made several gaffes during that campaign. Boller said Ford's most famous gaffe was, "If Lincoln were alive today, he'd roll over in his grave."

Boller said Carter, trying to shed his image of being too clean and out of touch with common people, agreed to do an interview with Playboy magazine. In the interview Carter said he had justed for women outside his marriage.

Boller said gaffes made a comeback in 1988. He said then-Vice President George Bush's most famous gaffe was on Sept. 7, when he began a speech by saying that day was the anniversary of the Pearl Harbor attack when the attack actually occurred Dec. 7. Bush later joked about the gaffe, saying he knew about the bombing three months before it happened.

In a 1988 debate, Michael Dukakis was asked if he'd reverse his position on the death penalty if his wife were raped and murdered. Dukakis simply said he would not change his mind and showed little emotion in his response. Boller said this turned out to be his worst campaign blunder.

Keith Odom, a professor of English, said Boller's speech was interesting and informative.

"Paul Boller is a person you can always depend on to give wonderful anecdotes," he said. "University librarian Bob Seal said it was a pleasure to hear Boller speak and share his vast knowledge."

"He's so knowledgeable and personable," he said. "We're lucky to have him as a professor."

Seal said he enjoyed learning about early presidential campaigns.

"Campaigns today are nothing new," he said. "History comes alive when Dr. Boller speaks."

BRACHMAN

From Page 1

in the dorm led to his current career.

Owhonda and other residents used to spend their weekends sitting in the dorm lobby, trading stories instead of going out, Kirkland said. Now, Owhonda makes a living as an African storyteller.

The program also included the dedication of flags and a pledge for the future given by John David Herring, Brachman Hall hall director.

The pledge called for Brachman to remain a culturally diverse community.

Every two weeks the dorm will rotate between the Brachman Hall flag, the TCU flag, the American flag and one of several national flags representing the home countries of many of the residents of the hall.

HOUSE

From Page 1

Finance Committee Wednesday.

Also to be voted on is a bill to fund a trip for three members of the Public Relations Student Society of America to their national convention.

If passed, the bill would provide $652.50 to the group, which will use the money to pay for transportation, lodging and registration fees.

The bill was originally introduced on Oct. 15, but was not voted out of the Finance Committee until Wednesday. House Treasurer Brian Spindor said at Tuesday's House meeting that his committee would not send the bill to the House until a PRSSA representative attended a committee meeting.

The committee decided Wednesday to slash the bill's original request of $2,055 to $652.50.

In other business, the House will introduce one bill and one resolution. The bill requests that the House help fund a trip for five representatives of the TCU Daily Skiff to the National College Media Convention.

The resolution will encourage the TCU Post Office to extend the hours of its retail window. The resolution requests that the window be open from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., rather than its current 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

COP

From Page 1

patrolling the TCU area.

Welch said several officers were in unmarked units in the TCU area looking for car burglars but ended up finding numerous parties that occurred in the area surrounding TCU.

Nix said his time in jail was not a big deal.

"It wasn't bad," he said about spending the night in jail.

The charges were dropped Friday morning in time for the TCU Letterman's Hall of Fame induction, where his father Kent was the master of ceremonies.

Nix's father is a member of the Committee of 100.

Nix said he borrowed the uniform from his uncle who is a police officer with the Watauga police department. Nix declined to comment on the nature of the incident.

TCU DAILY Skiff

Since 1902

The TCU Daily Skiff is produced by students of Texas Christian University, sponsored by the journalism department and published Tuesday through Friday during fall and spring semesters except finals week and holidays. The Skiff is distributed free on campus. The Skiff is a member of Associated Press.

CIRCULATION: 4,000

SUBSCRIPTIONS: Call 921-7000, extension 6274. Rates are $30 per semester.

EDITORIAL POLICY: Unsigned editorials represent the view of the Skiff editorial board, which is composed of the editor, managing editor, opinion editor, assistant managing editor, news editor, campus editor and sports editor. Signed letters and columns represent the opinion of the writers.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR: The Skiff welcomes letters to the editor for publication. Letters must be typed, double-spaced, signed and limited to 500 words. Letters should be submitted at least two days before publication to the Skiff, Moudy 2915, to TCU Box 298050, or to fax 921-7133. They must include the author's classification, major and phone number. The Skiff reserves the right to edit or reject letters for style and taste.

MAILING ADDRESS: P.O. Box 298050, Fort Worth, Texas 76129

PHONE DIRECTORY: Four-digit extension (6000 series) numbers can be reached by dialing 921-7722 followed by the extension.

Main number ..... 921-7428
 Fax ..... 921-7133
 Advertising/Classified ..... 921-7426
 Business Manager ..... 6274
 Student Publications Director ..... 6556

Nobody Does Spring Break Better!

SPRING BREAK '97

AS SEEN ON CBS NEWS "48 HOURS"

DRIVE YOURSELF & SAVE!

AFFORDABLE

16th Sellout Year!

$97

TRIP

SOUTH PADRE ISLAND
 PANAMA CITY BEACH
 DAYTONA BEACH
 STEAMBOAT
 KEY WEST
 HILTON HEAD ISLAND

1-800-SUNCHASE

TOLL FREE INFORMATION & RESERVATIONS

WE'VE GOT YOU AT: <http://www.sunchase.com>

Career Fair

November 13, 1996

OLDE, America's Full Service Discount Broker<sup>SM</sup>, is looking for motivated people to establish a career in the stock brokerage business.

OLDE offers:
 12-18 month paid training program
 Excellent benefits
 401(k) Program

If you possess excellent communication skills, general market knowledge and the desire to excel, see us at the Career Fair on 11/13/96

If you are unable to attend the Career Fair call:

1 800 937-0606

or send resume to:
 OLDE Discount Stockbrokers
 National Recruiting
 751 Griswold Street
 Detroit, MI 48226

An Equal Opportunity Employer

CLASSIFIED SKIFF FRIENDS

PLACE YOUR AD! 921-7426

EMPLOYMENT

Retail Sales experience necessary full and part time available. Kay's Hallmark. 4828 Camp Bowie.

The Ryan Family YMCA is now hiring desk staff, lifeguards for an indoor pool, child care staff, and a cheerleading/tumbling instructor. 346-8855.

Credit Manager trainee position. Junior with 3.0 GPA min. FINA or MARK. 20 hrs. week. Royal Oil Co. Contact: Claude Kelley 332-7001.

No Selling! $6 per hour. Bruskin Goldring telephone marketing research. Surveys and opinion polls. Day shift available Mon-Fri 10:30-3:30, Mon-Fri 4:30-10:00, or Sat-Sun 10:00-5:00. Will work around school schedule. Weekends only okay. University at 130. Call Blake at 336-4906. Excellent diction and reading skills required.

Comin' up--a gang intervention program is seeking a youth development specialist to work with Hispanic gang members in central Ft. Worth. Bilinguals a plus. Part-time evenings M-F. Serious inquiries only please. Call Mary at 923-3595.

Not a salaried job. This is a career business of your own in financial services, estate planning, investments. On the job training, start while in college. 817-355-0894.

EARN MONEY

SPRING BREAK--America's Premier Student Travel Co! Party in Cancun for as little as $399!! Find out how to go for FREE & earn EXTRA CASH! Call 800-798-1509.

FAST FUNDRAISER--Raise $500 in 5 days--Greeks, groups, clubs, motivated individuals. Fast, easy--NO financial obligation. (800) 862-1982 ext. 33.

FOR RENT

Efficiency garage apartment. $250 per month. 923-5362.

Room-house privileges. Woman. No alcohol-drugs. $300 per month. 2912 Merida. 923-6645.

TYPING

TERM PAPERS TYPED FAST. FAST AND ACCURATE! APA, MLA. Credit cards welcome. Between Jons Grill and Stage West. Accuracy Plus. 926-4969.

Term papers. Dependable. 738-4124. Need papers typed/edited? 560-7672.

We're looking for a few good people.

Have you got what it takes to work with an award-winning university newspaper? Spring '97 semester positions are now available for Editor-in-Chief and Advertising Manager.

Applications may be picked up and returned in the advertising office, Moudy South, Room 294.

For more information call Eva Rumpf, Director of Student Publications, ext. 6556.

Deadline for application is November 6.

Issues '96

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 5, 1996

Skiff

PAGE 3

The Issue	Bill Clinton 	Bob Dole 	Ross Perot
Abortion 	Supports abortion rights, believes the decision should be "between a woman, her doctor and her faith." Vetoed a bill that would have banned partial-birth abortions.	Supports a constitutional amendment to outlaw abortion, except in cases of rape, incest and when the life of the mother is in danger. Supports ban on partial-birth abortion.	Says abortion is a woman's choice. Believes adoption should be encouraged as an alternative to abortion.
Affirmative Action 	Says the policy should be "mend it, don't end it." Reduced preferences for women and minorities in government contracting. Opposes measures to ban children of undocumented immigrants from public schools.	Opposes it. Dole says, "We've reached a point where we need to move on." As a senator, introduced a bill that would end most federal race- or gender-based preferences.	Says it "basically served its purpose when it was invented, but we now need to move on and think of something else."
Campaign Finance 	Clinton says, "Our goal is to take the reins of our democracy away from big special interests, from big money, and to put them back into the hands of ordinary Americans where they belong. Our bottom-line test should be: Will our efforts make our government more representative, not less representative?"	Dole says, "We simply cannot allow the political influence of any American to be outweighed by foreign money. Donations from corporations or unions to federal candidates or parties should be prohibited. No American should be compelled against his will to give up a portion of his weekly paycheck to finance an organization's political agenda."	Perot would: ban PAC contributions, require House candidates to raise funds within their districts, require Senate candidates to raise funds in their states, shorten campaign seasons, require all candidates to return unspent funds and give the Federal Election Commission more power to enforce election laws.
Crime/Drugs 	Signed a $30 billion anti-crime package that increased funding for police and prisons. Supports juvenile curfews. Signed a bill to notify neighborhoods when convicted sex offenders are present. Supports a victim rights amendment to the Constitution.	Favors prosecuting youths as adults in murder cases and when the youth has committed a third felony. Supports neighborhood notification of sex offenders. Favors mandatory sentences for selling drugs near schools.	Wants to boost efforts to arrest and prosecute drug dealers and smugglers. Wants to increase spending on drug education and addiction programs.
Environment 	Opposes Republican plans to base environmental decisions on cost assessments, not health standards. Opposes restricting the reach of the Endangered Species Act.	Sponsored "takings" bill that would reduce wetlands acreage. Backs cost assessment. Favors curbing the Endangered Species Act.	Favors developing new consumer materials and environmentally safe disposal systems. Wants to improve recycling and environmental education.
Gay Discrimination 	Clinton says, "I do not believe that it is right for employers to discriminate based on sexual orientation. . . The Employment Non-Discrimination Act, for which I announced my support last fall, is designed to protect the rights of all Americans to participate in the job market without fear of unfair discrimination."	Dole says, "I oppose discrimination in any form. I do not, however, favor creating special rights for any one group. I believe that people should be hired based on their talents, knowledge and experience — not based on their race, religion, lifestyle or disability."	Perot says, "Every time we pass a law we give up a portion of our freedom. The American people must learn to work together and respect one another. No law will make us do this."
Health Care 	Failed in 1993-94 to make health care coverage guaranteed for all Americans. Supported a bill to guarantee insurance eligibility when workers change jobs and to prohibit denial of coverage based on pre-existing conditions. Opposes tax-free medical savings accounts.	Backed the bill to allow portability and pre-existing conditions. Favors medical savings accounts.	Proposes having government and health care officials select reform proposals. Advocates testing various systems to determine the best system for each part of the country. Supports banning denial of coverage because of pre-existing conditions.
Military 	Curbed military spending, says new national missile defense system unneeded.	Calls for $5 billion ballistic missile defense system.	In 1992, called for $90 billion in military cuts by 1997 — $10 billion less than Clinton wanted and $40 billion more than George Bush urged. Has financed studies of illnesses suffered by Gulf War veterans.
Minimum Wage 	Signed a 90-cent wage increase over two years to $5.15. "More and more Americans are working hard trying to live on the minimum wage, which has hit a 40-year low in purchasing power and is no longer enough to support a family," he said.	Says a higher minimum wage risks squeezing job opportunities for entry-level workers. "The recent increase of the minimum wage was a helpful, but small, step toward addressing the economic concerns of American workers," Dole says. "But we must do more. We must strive to increase economic opportunity for all Americans."	Says that because of "one-sided trade agreements," raising the minimum wage threatens to drive jobs overseas. "The best way to raise wages is to create more jobs," Perot says. "As the demand for workers increases, wages will rise."
Official English 	Clinton says, "Language other than English is used in official government business only to promote vital interests. . . Government business conducted only in English would exclude taxpaying Americans who are not proficient in English from education, employment, voting and equal participation in our society."	Dole says, "I believe that all of America's children should be taught English so they can quickly enter the mainstream of American life and have the opportunity to succeed. As president, I intend to have English declared the official language of the United States and to reform. . . programs to help students completely master English."	Perot says, "Priority should be given to teaching English because to be successful in the United States you must be able to speak English. Our schools should teach other languages, beginning in the elementary grades, so we can compete in the global economy."
Taxes/Budget 	Clinton says, "I have a plan that does balance the budget, with targeted, affordable tax cuts that help families: $1,500 a year for the first two years of college, a $10,000 deduction for college tuition costs, a $500 tax cut per child, expanded IRAs and a capital gains tax cut for homeowners. These tax cuts are fully paid for, line by line, dime by dime."	Dole says, "Cutting taxes and balancing the budget is a matter of presidential will. My economic proposal will let you keep more of your hard-earned money by giving the average American family a $1,600 tax cut. It also protects vital social programs." It also balances the budget, Dole says.	Perot says, "It does not make sense to be cutting taxes at a time when our national debt exceeds $5.2 trillion. . . Until our government is running efficiently and our budget is balanced, we should not be promising tax cuts to the voters as free candy before the election."
Term Limits 	Clinton says, "No. I share with supporters of congressional term limits their goal to reform our political system and renew our democracy. I do not, however, believe that term limits are the appropriate means to achieve this desirable end."	Dole says, "As president, I will push for an amendment to the Constitution that establishes a two-term limit for senators and a six-term limit for House members. I will continue to press for legislation that limits the power of special interest groups and makes representatives more accountable to their constituents."	Perot says, "Our elected leaders must realize that serving the American people is a privilege, not a career. Seventy-four percent of the American people support term limits. It is time we passed a constitutional amendment limiting congressional terms."
Trade 	Won passage of North American Free Trade Agreement and new world trade pact.	Supported trade pacts. Has voiced qualms about whether U.S. interests are served in arbitration system for world trade agreement.	Opposed agreements.
Welfare 	Clinton says, "We have a moral obligation to make sure the people who are being required to work have the opportunity to work. There should be one million new jobs for welfare recipients by the year 2000. States under this law can now take the money that was spent on the welfare check and use it to help businesses to provide paychecks."	Dole says, "This legislation provides states with strong financial incentives to help welfare recipients get jobs or get the training they need for a well-paying job. Additionally (it) contains a safety net that allows states to exempt 20 percent of their caseload — the hardship cases — from the time limits."	Perot says, "Our government must help welfare recipients receive the tools they need to become productive taxpayers."

Illustrations by Matt Truitt SKIFF STAFF

Sources: The Associated Press and The Dallas Morning News

TCU DAILY
Skiff
An All-American Newspaper

Moudy Building South Room 291
2805 S. University Drive Fort Worth, TX 76129
Main number: 817.921.7428 Fax: 817.921.7133
Sound Off: 817.921.7683 E-mail: skiffletters@tcu.edu

LETTERS POLICY: The Skiff welcomes letters from all members of the TCU community. Letters must be typed and must be original to the Skiff. Letters must include the writer's name, address and telephone numbers. The Skiff reserves the right to edit or reject all letters for length, style and taste.

Natalie Gardner Editor-in-Chief
Ryan J. Rusk Assistant Editor
Brandy Butler Advertising Manager
Neelima Atluru Campus Editor
Andrea Daum News Editor
Ryan J. Rusk Opinion Editor
Ernesto Moran Sports Editor
Rebecca Newitt Photo Editor
Anne Drabicky Co-Entertainment Editor
Rebecca Newitt Co-Entertainment Editor
Anne Drabicky Copy Desk Chief
Eva Rumpf Student Publications Director
Anantha Babbili Journalism Department Chairman
Jayne Akers Business Manager
Tom Urquhart Production Manager

THESE PEOPLE HELPED SHAPE AMERICAN HISTORY...

NOW IT'S YOUR TURN!

VOTE TODAY and make HISTORY!

J.P. Araujo SKIFF STAFF

EDITORIALS

PICKING A PRESIDENT

Clinton's record merits four more years

When voters go to the polls today to choose the president, voters must be aware of Bob Dole's and President Clinton's records. Dole may have a good record, but it pales in comparison to that of Clinton. Clinton thus merits re-election.

During the Clinton administration, American jobs have increased by 2.4 percent per year. Clinton promised job growth in 1992 and he delivered.

Clinton is also not offering a 15 percent across-the-board tax cut like Dole. This is a good thing. Supply-siders promise that the tax cuts will pay for themselves because it will boost the economy. Indeed it will — at first. History speaks for itself, and if supply-side economics did not work in the 1980s then it will not work now.

The deficit is as large as it is now because of the '80s and America does not need even more interest to pay off. Taxes are a necessary evil. If the public wants better transportation, cleaner water and air and more parks for their kids then the money has to come from somewhere. People at the treasury are not going to start handing out free samples any time soon.

As for character and ethical issues, neither the economy nor Saddam Hussein cares if the leader of the free world had a titillating affair or is a World War II veteran hero who is trying to ride his wounds and the Purple Poll results into the White House.

In times that are changing so fast no one can keep up, America needs a president that is willing to be flexible on policy. It is crucial to have a president that understands this flexibility and abides by it. Realistically, what is here today may be gone tomorrow. Today's decisions may not be right in five years, but they are right today.

Clinton understands this and that is why he should remain in office and be given the opportunity to continue his leadership.

POINT

Issues, integrity make Dole the best choice

Both the issues and the personal aspects of the candidates make Republican Bob Dole the best choice for president.

No matter what he says, President Clinton's record over the past four years is average at best. The economy is performing better now than at this time in 1992, but real wages have stagnated and families are paying almost half of their yearly incomes in taxes. No nation has ever taxed itself into prosperity.

The Dole economic plan would allow American families to keep more of what they earn, and, despite claims that it would "blow a hole in the deficit," Dole is exactly the candidate to cut taxes and balance the budget.

On ethical and character issues, Dole is clearly the best choice. His status as a tried and tested war hero, a man who spent 39 months recovering from a near-fatal World War II injury, should inspire all Americans. Dole was the Republican standard-bearer in the Senate for decades and steered through important legislation like the 1983 plan to save Social Security from bankruptcy and the 1992 Americans with Disabilities Act.

Dole's leadership abilities are unquestioned. As president, he would make sound foreign policy judgments, using the U.S. military only when U.S. interests are at stake. This would be a significant improvement over Clinton's "go anywhere, do anything" foreign policy.

Dole's congressional colleagues, government employees and members of the press all agree Dole is a man of unyielding integrity, honor, intelligence and wit. Unlike the current occupant of the White House, Dole would be a president Americans could admire, a man that would inspire respect among foreign adversaries and a leader who could return dignity to the White House, which has been missing under the "scandal-a-day" Clinton administration.

As Dole's campaign slogan goes, he is clearly "a better man for a better America." The American people should recognize that immediately.

COUNTERPOINT

Passion a must for effective teachers

This is a plea to all the education majors, teachers, teaching assistants, professors and anyone else involved in the educational process at any level. If you do not love to teach, then you have no business being in education.

Let's take a little pop quiz: You are in education because you:

(A) couldn't hack it in the real world.
(B) couldn't find anything that you are really passionate about and decided to settle for teaching.

(C) wanted summers off.
(D) needed an extra income to supplement your spouses'.
(E) have a passion for your field and a desire to share it.
(F) have a passion for young people and want to, in turn, instill in them a passion for something.

(G) two of the above.
The answer here is (G), and the two of the above should not be wanting summers off and not being able to hack it in the real world.

The point of the quiz is this: If you have no passion for what or who you are teaching, then you are in the wrong occupation. If you don't want to take the time and effort it takes to be a good educator, then get out of it. Go push papers around on a desk someplace, collect your paychecks and wait to retire to Fort Lauderdale, but please don't make me and the rest of the students in the world sit through your boring lectures.

How can you, as a professor or prospective teacher, expect your students to be at all interested in what you are talking about if you have, or appear to have, no passion?

Let me first differentiate between passion and interest. There are many people who think bugs are sort of interesting, but I don't think that there is a surplus of really good entomology professors. This is because the extent of most people's interest is, "Oh boy, isn't that a neat dung beetle." If you are thinking of becoming an entomology professor, then you should be so passionate about bugs that when you close your eyes at night you are counting Brazilian cockroaches instead of sheep.

Passion is inspiring students to learn. It is teaching them that there is more to education than "Sesame Street" and "Barney and Friends." Passion is making classroom knowledge relevant to students' lives. Passion is voice inflection. It is hand gestures. It is enthusiastically delivering lectures rather than standing behind a podium and spouting out useless information in a monotone drone.

Passion does not equal interest. For example, this thought is going through some nervous upperclassman's head right now:

"Well I sort of like to eat fish. I like to go fishing. I know that fish have gills and I know that the bones get caught in my teeth when I eat them. I can't really think of anything else that I want to be, so I am going to become an ichthyology professor."

If you have thought or are thinking anything that is even remotely close to the scenario above, let me speak on behalf of the National Association of Disenchanted Students: "Do not become a teacher."

Just having an interest in something does not qualify you to be a teacher, nor does being certified to teach. Imagine what the death toll would be like if there were a majority of doctors who were just doctors by default. How often do you run into a physician who says, "Yeah, I couldn't think of anything else to do, but I really like to use my brain so I thought I'd become a neurologist?"

This doesn't happen for a reason. People become doctors (after years of training and difficult schooling) because they have a passion for helping people or a passion for making money. Either way, at least they have a passion for what they are doing.

This is not to say that all teachers

COMMENTARY

ANDREA DAUM

The character of public figures should not be dependent on their sex life, whether they have smoked marijuana, if they are divorced or any other things in their past of which they may not be proud. Judgment should not be passed on a politician in a partisan manner. Just like voters, presidents are human, and everyone has done something of which he or she is not proud. Society should not individualize certain traits, but hold a candidate, as a whole, to the highest standards.

Most Republicans and some Democrats agree that Clinton may not be the most ethical person to serve in the White House. They have accused him of committing adultery, being unethical and lacking morals.

Dole claims there is no "outrage in America" and that the public should wake up to these issues. Dole should give the public more credit. The reason there is no outrage in America is that there is nothing to be outraged about. The Clintons have weathered a storm of scandalous accusations and even a novel about them and nothing has come of it.

If the character issue is to be taken seriously, then Clinton proponents are in need of some soul searching.

The pillar of the Republican party, Newt Gingrich, should not be leading this campaign against the president. Gingrich not only left his wife and children but also was hauled off to court to pay child support. That is not the epitome of family values and character. In California, Dole "hooked" up with well-known movie actress Bo Derek, who has spent most of her years half-naked in front of a camera for all to see.

Half of the things the Clintons are accused of being unethical about are things that all politicians do. For instance, at the heart of Travelgate was the spoils system, of which every politician has partaken. It's something that has been done since the beginning of government. All politicians buckle under pressure from special interest groups and people who contribute money to their campaign. That's the way Washington is run. If the Clintons are to be held to that standard, then society needs to hold others accountable as well.

Whitewater is a simple case of true partisan behavior. Ultra-conservative Kenneth Starr is not exactly the most objective lawyer the prosecution could use to build a valid case. Either there truly is nothing behind Whitewater, or Starr is incompetent. It only took Johnny Cochran a year to get O.J. Simpson declared innocent.

For the past couple of years, there have been promises of indictments against the Clintons. Not only have there not been any, but for all the years the investigation has been going on, millions of tax dollars have been used.

The character issue has just not taken with the American public. The past four years have shown that no matter what mudslinging has been going on, personal behavior has no bearing on how this country is run. The economy has not heeded the allegations thrown at Clinton.

When voters go to the polls, they need to look at the candidates and their records and not judge them simply on human error.

Skiff news editor Andrea Daum is a senior Spanish and advertising/public relations major from Tucson, Ariz.

Mike Luckovich

are lazy or apathetic about what they do. In fact, some of the most influential people in my life have been teachers. I have seen teachers that could have taught a class on birth control to a bunch of nuns.

The difference lies in the passion, or lack thereof, which a teacher brings into the classroom.

William Thomas Burdette is a sophomore news-editorial and political science major from Overland Park, Kan.

Summer 1997 Preliminary Schedule of Classes

Student Academic Load Policy

The amount of required classroom/laboratory time for students enrolled in summer session courses is no different from that required by the same courses scheduled for fall or spring term—the time frame in which this work must be accomplished is just sharply compressed. Even superior students can find academic pursuits under such conditions difficult. While as many as a total of 15-18 credit hours may be earned during the several summer terms a student may not be enrolled in (and actually pursuing) more than seven credit hours at any one time. Exception to this policy must have the written approval of the dean of the major.

THREE-WEEK MINI TERM (I) May 13-May 30, 1997

ADDRAN COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES (AS)

ASTRONOMY (PHYS)

2023 Introductory Astronomy	(PS) 001	9:00-12:00 M-F	Graham, W.R.M.
Students desiring Astronomy without laboratory credit may register for 2023 which meets with 2083 lectures only
2083 Introductory Astronomy Lab	(PS-L) 001	9:00-12:00 M-F	Graham, W.R.M.
	(PS-L) 115	Arrange M-F	Graham, W.R.M.

BIOLOGY (BIOL)

*4900/7950 Natural History of the Southwest	077	Arrange	Ferguson G./Kroh G.
---	-----	---------	---------------------

CHEMISTRY (CHEM)

4003/4013 Senior Honors Research Project	(W) 678	Arrange	Staff
4200 Undergraduate Research	078	Arrange	Staff
5230 Special Problems in Chemistry	078	Arrange	Staff
6240 Graduate Research in Inorganic Chemistry	078	Arrange	Staff
6260 Graduate Research in Organic Chemistry	078	Arrange	Staff
6280 Graduate Research in Biochemistry	078	Arrange	Staff
7980 Thesis	078	Arrange	Staff
*7990 Thesis	078	Arrange	Staff
*9980 Dissertation	078	Arrange	Staff
*9990 Dissertation	078	Arrange	Staff

COMPUTER SCIENCE (COSC)

1203 Computer Literacy (Macintosh)	001	9:00-12:00 M-F	Cornier, J.
------------------------------------	-----	----------------	-------------

CRIMINAL JUSTICE (CRJU)

3923 Organized Crime	(W) 001	9:00-12:00 M-F	Kinkade, P.
----------------------	---------	----------------	-------------

DESIGN, MERCHANDISING, AND TEXTILES (DEMT)

4093 New York Study Program	001	Arrange	Caldwell, L.
-----------------------------	-----	---------	--------------

ECONOMICS (ECON)

*5443 International Economic Studies	001	8:00-11:00 M-F	Harvey, J.
--------------------------------------	-----	----------------	------------

ENGLISH (ENGL)

2403 British Masterpieces	(L) 001	9:00-12:00 M-F	Frye, B.
3513 American Poetry	(W) 001	9:00-12:00 M-F	Easterbrook, N.

GEOLOGY (GEOL)

1113 Understanding the Earth (PS-L) Lab	001	9:00-12:00 M-F	Breyer, J.
	101	Arrange	Breyer, J.

FRENCH (FREN)

*5033 Teaching of Modern Foreign Languages	001	9:00-12:00 M-F	Rueda-Garcia, A.
--	-----	----------------	------------------

HISTORY (HIST)

1613 United States History: A Survey Since 1877	(HS-U) 001	9:00-12:00 M-F	Coerver, D.
3323 A Broken World: Europe, 1919-1945	(HS) 040	12:00-3:00 M-F	Tucker, S.

JAPANESE (JAPN)

*4970 Japanese Culture and Civilization Directed Study, TCU Travel Study Program	077	Arrange	Keitges, Y.
ADVANCED APPLICATION ESSENTIAL (May 12 - June 1, 1997)

PHYSICS (PHYS)

2023 Introductory Astronomy	(PS) 001	9:00-12:00 M-F	Graham, W.R.M.
Students desiring Astronomy without laboratory credit may register for 2023 lectures only
2083 Introductory Astronomy Lab	(PS-L) 001	9:00-12:00 M-F	Graham, W.R.M.
	115	Arrange M-F	Graham, W.R.M.

POLITICAL SCIENCE (POSC)

2203 Introduction to Political Theory	(CI) 001	9:00-12:00 M-F	Dodson, M.
3103 Topics in American Politics: The Individual and Society	(SS) 001	9:00-12:00 M-F	Lockhart, C.

PSYCHOLOGY (PSYC)

*3333 Sexual Behavior	001	1:00-3:45 M-F	Ludvigson, W.
*3353 Social Psychology	001	9:00-11:45 M-F	Cole, S.
*3443 Psychology of Personality	001	1:00-3:45 M-F	Lord, C.
*4970 Independent Studies	077	Arrange	Staff
*7980 Thesis	077	Arrange	Staff
*7990 Thesis	077	Arrange	Staff
*9100 Advanced Studies in Quantitative Methods	077	Arrange	Staff
*9200 Advanced Studies in Learning and Motivation	077	Arrange	Staff
*9300 Advanced Studies in Personality and Cognition	077	Arrange	Staff
*9400 Advanced Studies in Physiological Psychology	077	Arrange	Staff
*9500 Advanced Studies in Social Psychology	077	Arrange	Staff
*9980 Dissertation	077	Arrange	Staff
*9990 Dissertation	077	Arrange	Staff

RELIGION STUDIES (RELI)

3113 Jesus and the Gospels	(W)(RS) 001	9:00-12:00 M-F	Schmidt, D.
3433 Christianity and Contemporary Social Issues	(CI) 001	9:00-12:00 M-F	McIntyre, P.

SOCIAL WORK (SOWO)

2833 Introduction to Social Work	(SS) 001	9:00-12:00 M-F	Jenkins, D.
*3553 Social Work With Adolescents	001	9:00-12:00 M-F	Dietz, T.
*3863 Issues in Social Welfare Policy	(CI) 001	9:00-12:00 M-F	Moore, L.

SOCIOLOGY (SOCI)

3303 Marriage & Family	(SS) 001	9:00-12:00 M-F	Giles-Sims, J.
3443 Media Images of Drug and Alcohol Abuse	(W) 001	9:00-12:00 M-F	Katovich, M.

SPANISH (SPAN)

*5033 Teaching of Modern Foreign Language	001	5:00-8:00 M-F	Rueda-Garcia, A.
---	-----	---------------	------------------

BRITE DIVINITY SCHOOL (BR)

DEPARTMENT OF THEOLOGY AND ETHICS (CHET)

8970 Special Problems in Christian Ethics: Ethics in the Parish (3 semester hours)	001	9:00-12:00 T-F	Miles, R.
--	-----	----------------	-----------

DEPARTMENT OF MINISTRY (HOML)

*7753 Advanced Preaching Workshop: Exegesis of the Congregation	001	1:00-4:00 T-F	Jeter, J.
---	-----	---------------	-----------

DEPARTMENT OF PASTORAL THEOLOGY AND PASTORAL COUNSELING (PTPC)

8330 Clinical Pastoral Education	077	Arrange M-F	Lester, A.
(3 hrs. D.Min., 6 hrs. M.Div.) (This course lasts the entire Summer May-August) PASS/NO CREDIT

Number	Course	Section Number	Hours	Day	Instructor
*% 8950	Advanced Supervised Pastoral Counseling	077	1:00-5:00	M	Gorsuch, N.
(3 semester hours - This course lasts the entire Summer, May-August)

M J NEELEY SCHOOL OF BUSINESS (BU)

FINANCE (FINA)

*3213 Investments	(W) 001	9:00-12:00	M-F	Staff
-------------------	---------	------------	-----	-------

MARKETING (MARK)

*4223 Services Marketing	001	9:00-12:00	M-F	Lamb, C.
--------------------------	-----	------------	-----	----------

SCHOOL OF EDUCATION

GENERAL EDUCATION (EDUC)

*3013 Foundations of Education	001	9:00-12:00	M-F	Vanderhoof, W.
*3153 The Adolescent Learner	015	9:00-12:00	M-F	Reynolds, S.

ELEMENTARY EDUCATION (EDEL)

*4133 Mathematics in Elementary School	001	9:00-12:00	M-F	Martin, K.
--	-----	------------	-----	------------

EXCEPTIONAL STUDENTS (EDSP)

3603 Study of Exceptional Students	001	9:00-12:00	M-F	Patterson, H.
------------------------------------	-----	------------	-----	---------------

COLLEGE OF FINE ARTS AND COMMUNICATION (FA)

ART AND ART HISTORY (ART)

2183 Screenprinting	001	9:00-12:00	M-F	Conn, D.
		1:00-5:00
2603 Art History on Site	(FA) 080	Arrange		Gear, G.
TCU Travel Study Program: Rome, Florence, Nice, and Paris. (May 13 - June 2, 1997) ADVANCED APPLICATION ESSENTIAL
3720 Landscape Photography	001	9:00-12:00	M-F	Smith, L.
		1:00-5:00

COMMUNICATION SCIENCES AND DISORDERS (COSD)

6323 Evaluation and Diagnosis	001	9:00-12:00	M-F	Aker, J.
-------------------------------	-----	------------	-----	----------

JOURNALISM (JOUR)

1103 Communications and Society	001	1:00-4:00	M-F	Babbili, A.
3853 History/Development of Mass Media	001	9:00-12:00	M-F	Thomason, T.

RADIO-TV-FILM (RTVF)

1053 Film Survey	(FA) 001	1:00-4:00	M-F	Clark, G.
*2213 Television Studio Production I	001	9:00-1:00	M-F	Allen, R.

SPEECH COMMUNICATION (SPCO)

3183 Organization Communication	001	9:00-12:00	M-F	Powers, W.
3243 Communication in Lasting Relationships	001	1:00-4:00	M-F	Behnke, R.

THEATRE (THEA)

1053 Survey of Theatre Arts	(FA) 001	8:00-11:00	M-F	Lehman, L.
-----------------------------	----------	------------	-----	------------

HARRIS COLLEGE OF NURSING (NU)

NURSING (NURS)

1121 Healthy Lifestyles	(PE-H) 001	1:00-2:00	M-F	Staff
1121 Healthy Lifestyles	(PE-H) 002	2:00-3:00	M-F	Staff
*3503 Issues in Women's Health	(SS) 001	12:00-2:40	M-F	Staff
4602 Principles and Theories of Leadership and Management	001	9:00-11:30	M-R	Staff

EIGHT-WEEK EVENING TERM (I) May 13-July 3, 1997

Number	Course	Section Number	Hours	Day	Instructor
--------	--------	----------------	-------	-----	------------

ADDRAN COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES (AS)

COMPUTER SCIENCE (COSC)

*5123 Object-Oriented Design and Programming	080	6:30-9:10	TR	Nute, T.
--	-----	-----------	----	----------

DESIGN, MERCHANDISING, AND TEXTILES (DEMT)

*4483 Interior Merchandising Practicum	080	Arrange		Van Ackeren, G.
*4493 Interior Design Internship	080	Arrange		Van Ackeren, G.

ECONOMICS (ECON)

The following MBA course is offered May 12-June 24, 1997:
*5473 Seminar in Financial Economics	080	6:30-9:50	TR	Becker, C.

POLITICAL SCIENCE (POSC)

1133 American and Texas Government	(SS) 080	6:30-9:10	MW	Riddlesperger, J.
------------------------------------	----------	-----------	----	-------------------

PSYCHOLOGY (PSYC)

*4950 Contemporary Topics: Behavior Disorders of Childhood	080	6:30-9:10	TR	Cross, D.
(3-credit course)

SOCIOLOGY (SOCI)

*3383 Research Methods in Sociology	080	6:30-9:10	MW	Kinkade, P.
-------------------------------------	-----	-----------	----	-------------

SOFTWARE ENGINEERING (SOEN)

*5123 Object-Oriented Design and Programming	080	6:30-9:10	TR	Nute, T.
*7131 Individual Study and Technical Communication	080	Arrange		Cornier, J.

M J NEELEY SCHOOL OF BUSINESS (BU)

DECISION SCIENCE

The following MBA course is offered May 12-June 24, 1997:
*7413 Security Analysis	080	6:30-9:50	MW	Pfaffenberger, R.

MARKETING (MARK)

The following MBA course is offered May 12-June 24, 1997:
7703 Buyer Behavior	080	6:30-9:50	TR	Thompson, J.

SCHOOL OF EDUCATION (ED)

GENERAL EDUCATION (EDUC)

*5253 Microcomputers in Education	080	4:30-7:10	TR	Anderson, S.
6313 Educational Assessment	080	4:30-7:10	TR	Meadows, N.

EDUCATIONAL ADMINISTRATION (EDAD)

6113 Administrators & Teachers	080	4:30-7:10	TR	Thomas, C.
--------------------------------	-----	-----------	----	------------

SECONDARY EDUCATION (EDSE)

*5970 Special Problems in Secondary Education: Math/Science Instruction the Secondary School	080	4:30-7:10	MW	Kelly, J.
--	-----	-----------	----	-----------

EXCEPTIONAL STUDENTS (EDSP)

5663 Managing and Motivating Students	080	4:30-7:10	MW	Searcy, S.
---------------------------------------	-----	-----------	----	------------

Number	Course	UCR Code	Section Number	Hours	Day	Instructor
FINE ARTS AND COMMUNICATION (FA)
JOURNALISM
3403	Public Relations Principles		080	6:30-9:10	MW	Thomas, M.
RADIO TV FILM
3810	FM Operations (By Permission Only)		077	Arrange		Haskett, A.

Number	Course	UCR Code	Section Number	Hours	Day	Instructor
*4303	Critical Inquiry into Health Care Delivery	(CI)(W)	080	9:00-12:00	TR	Staff

Number	Course	UCR Code	Section Number	Hours	Day	Instructor
GRADUATE STUDIES AND RESEARCH (GR)
MASTER OF LIBERAL ARTS (MALA)
6113	North American Indian Thought * Perspectives on Society Course		080	6:00-8:40	TR	Wertz, S.

FIRST FIVE-WEEK TERM (II)
June 3-July 3, 1997

Number	Course	UCR Code	Section Number	Hours	Day	Instructor
ADDRAN COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES (AS)

Number	Course	UCR Code	Section Number	Hours	Day	Instructor
ASTRONOMY (PHYS)
2013	Introductory Astronomy	(PS)	015	9:40-11:10	M-F	Marcum, P.
Students desiring Astronomy without laboratory credit may register for 2013 which meets with 2073 lectures only
2073	Introductory Astronomy Lab	(PS-L)	015	9:40-11:10	M-F	Marcum, P.
			115	8:15-9:30	TR	Marcum, P.
				and 11:15-12:30

Number	Course	UCR Code	Section Number	Hours	Day	Instructor
BIOLOGY (BIOL)
1213	Biological Concepts and The Human Experience	(PS)	015	9:40-11:10	M-F	Drenner, R.
2233	Microbiology Lab	(PS-L)	005	8:00-9:30	M-R	Paquet, A.
			105	1:00-3:50	MTW	Paquet, A.
*3233	Economic Botany		015	9:40-11:10	M-F	Kroh, G.
3303	Bacteriology Lab		005	8:00-9:30	M-R	Paquet, A.
			105	1:00-3:50	MTW	Paquet, A.
*4300	Teaching of Biology		078	Arrange		Staff
*4310	Teaching of Biology		078	Arrange		Staff
*7980	Thesis		078	Arrange		Staff
*7990	Thesis		078	Arrange		Staff

Number	Course	UCR Code	Section Number	Hours	Day	Instructor
CHEMISTRY (CHEM)
1113	Freshman Chemistry	(PS)	005	8:00-9:30	M-F	Albright, J.
4003/4013	Senior Honors Research Project	(W)	678	Arrange		Staff
4200	Undergraduate Research		078	Arrange		Staff
5230	Special Problems in Chemistry		078	Arrange		Staff
6240	Graduate Research in Inorganic Chemistry		078	Arrange		Staff
6260	Graduate Research in Organic Chemistry		078	Arrange		Staff
6280	Graduate Research in Biochemistry		078	Arrange		Staff
7980	Thesis		078	Arrange		Staff
*7990	Thesis		078	Arrange		Staff
*9980	Dissertation		078	Arrange		Staff
*9990	Dissertation		078	Arrange		Staff

Number	Course	UCR Code	Section Number	Hours	Day	Instructor
COMPUTER SCIENCE (COSC)
*1403	Introduction to Computer Science		015	9:40-11:10	M-F	Rinewalt, D.

Number	Course	UCR Code	Section Number	Hours	Day	Instructor
CRIMINAL JUSTICE (CRJU)
2423	Critical Issues in Criminal Justice	(CI)	045	1:00-4:45	MW	Thompson, C.
3533	Counseling Skills and Crisis Intervention In the Criminal Justice System (SOWO)		045	1:00-4:45	MW	Jenkins, D.
3913	Psychology of Crime	(W)	045	1:00-1:45	TR	Thompson, C.
4503	White Collar Crime	(W)	015	9:40-11:10	M-F	Illarza, A.

Number	Course	UCR Code	Section Number	Hours	Day	Instructor
DESIGN, MERCHANDISING, AND TEXTILES (DEMT)
*3233	Clothing in Society	(W)	015	9:40-11:10	M-F	Starr, P.
*3253	Promotion: Principles		035	11:20-12:50	M-F	Caldwell, L.

Number	Course	UCR Code	Section Number	Hours	Day	Instructor
ECONOMICS (ECON)
2103	Principles of Macroeconomics	(SS)	015	9:40-11:10	M-F	McNertney, E.
*3233	Macroeconomics		005	8:00-9:30	M-F	McNertney, E.

Number	Course	UCR Code	Section Number	Hours	Day	Instructor
ENGLISH (ENGL)
1803	Freshman Composition	(WW)	015	9:40-11:10	M-F	Staff
2503	American Masterpieces	(L)	015	9:40-11:10	M-F	Staff
2733	Science Fiction	(L)	035	11:20-12:50	M-F	Easterbrook, N.
*2803	Sophomore Composition	(WW)	005	8:00-9:30	M-F	Staff
*2803	Sophomore Composition	(WW)	035	11:20-12:50	M-F	Staff

Number	Course	UCR Code	Section Number	Hours	Day	Instructor
FRENCH (FREN)
1153	First Semester College French	(FL)	015	9:40-11:10	M-F	Knecht, J.
3173	French Culture & Civilization		077	Arrange		Fairchild, S.
Study abroad program: Angers and the Anjou region. (June 26-July 26, 1997) ADVANCED APPLICATION ESSENTIAL

Number	Course	UCR Code	Section Number	Hours	Day	Instructor
GEOLOGY
*1123	Historical Geology Lab	(PS-L)	005	8:00-9:50	M-F	Busbey, A.
				1:00-3:50	MW

Number	Course	UCR Code	Section Number	Hours	Day	Instructor
HISTORY (HIST)
1603	United States History: A Survey to 1877	(HS-U)	045	1:00-4:45	TR	Smith, G.
1613	United States History: A Survey since 1877	(HS-U)	015	9:40-11:10	M-F	Coerver, D.
4603	Colonial America from The Age of Discovery to 1763	(HS)	015	9:40-11:10	M-F	Smith, G.

Number	Course	UCR Code	Section Number	Hours	Day	Instructor
MATHEMATICS (MATH)
1023	Fundamentals of Algebra		005	8:00-9:30	M-F	Dou, A.-L.
*1033	Topics in Mathematics	(M)	035	11:20-12:50	M-F	Fan, P.
*1043	Elementary Statistics	(M)	005	8:00-9:30	M-F	Addis, D.
*1053	Precalculus Algebra		015	9:40-11:10	M-F	Dou, A.-L.
2053	Fundamentals of Modern Mathematics		035	11:20-12:50	M-F	Doran, R.

Number	Course	UCR Code	Section Number	Hours	Day	Instructor
NUTRITION AND DIETETICS (NTDT)
1201	Nutrition Concepts	(PE-H)	035	11:20-12:50	MW	Gorman, M.
3123	Nutrition Throughout the Life Cycle		015	9:40-11:10	M-F	Gorman, M.

Number	Course	UCR Code	Section Number	Hours	Day	Instructor
PHILOSOPHY (PHIL)
1003	Philosophy One: The Meaning of Life	(CI)	015	9:40-11:10	M-F	Schwartz, D.
2103	Critical Reasoning	(CI)	015	9:40-11:10	M-F	Wertz, S.

Number	Course	UCR Code	Section Number	Hours	Day	Instructor
PHYSICS (PHYS)
*1153	General Physics I	(PS)	015	9:40-11:10	M-F	Ingram, D.
*1151	General Physics I Lab	(PS-L)	045	12:00-2:00	TR	Ingram, D.
2013	Introductory Astronomy	(PS)	015	9:40-11:10	M-F	Marcum, P.
Students desiring Astronomy without laboratory credit may register for 2013 which meets with 2073 lectures only
2073	Introductory Astronomy Lab	(PS-L)	015	9:40-11:10	M-F	Marcum, P.
			115	8:15-9:30	TR	Marcum, P.
				or 11:15-12:30 and 8:00-10:15
6970	Research in Astronomy		060	Arrange		Marcum, P.
6970	Research Problem in Statistical Mechanics		069	Arrange		Miller, B.
6970	Research in Chemical Physics		074	Arrange		Zerda, W.
6970	Research in Statistical Physics		075	Arrange		Miller, B.
6970	Research in Molecular & Solid State Physics		076	Arrange		W Graham, WRM.
6970	Research in Electron Collisions		078	Arrange		M Quarles, C.
6970	Research Problems		079	Arrange		Staff
6970	Research in Theoretical Molecular Physics		073	Arrange		Rittby, M.

Number	Course	UCR Code	Section Number	Hours	Day	Instructor
POLITICAL SCIENCE (POSC)
1133	American and Texas Government	(SS)	015	9:40-11:10	M-F	Briscoe, M.
3103	The Congress	(SS)	015	9:40-11:10	M-F	Green, J.
3403	Topics in Public Law: Real Justice, Due Process of Law in Film	(CI)	045	1:00-4:45	TR	Jackson, D.

Number	Course	UCR Code	Section Number	Hours	Day	Instructor
PSYCHOLOGY (PSYC)
1213	General Psychology	(PS)	015	9:40-11:10	M-F	Robinson, M.

Number	Course	UCR Code	Section Number	Hours	Day	Instructor
*3133	Parapsychology: Science or Pseudoscience?		035	11:20-12:50	M-F	Remley, N.
*4970	Independent Studies		078	Arrange		Staff
*7980	Thesis		078	Arrange		Staff
*7990	Thesis		078	Arrange		Staff
*8100	Special Topics in Quantitative Methods: Meta-Analysis		035	11:20-12:50	M-F	Bond, C.
*9100	Advanced Studies in Quantitative Methods		078	Arrange		Staff
*9200	Advanced Studies in Learning and Motivation		078	Arrange		Staff
*9300	Advanced Studies in Personality		078	Arrange		Staff
*9400	Advanced Studies in Physiological Psychology		078	Arrange		Staff
*9500	Advanced Studies in Social Psychology		078	Arrange		Staff
*9980	Dissertation		078	Arrange		Staff
*9990	Dissertation		078	Arrange		Staff

Number	Course	UCR Code	Section Number	Hours	Day	Instructor
RELIGION STUDIES (RELI)
3413	Contemporary Catholicism		015	9:40-11:10	M-F	Lahutsky, N.
3343	The History and Development of "The Black Church"		045	1:00-4:45	TR	Wiggins, D.
*3733	Mysticism	(RS)	035	11:20-12:50	M-F	Fort, A.

Number	Course	UCR Code	Section Number	Hours	Day	Instructor
SOCIAL WORK (SOWO)
3533	Counseling Skills & Crisis Intervention in the Criminal Justice System (CRJU)		045	1:00-4:45	MW	Jenkins, D.
*3843	Human Behavior and the Social Environment I		045	1:00-4:45	TR	Dietz, T.

Number	Course	UCR Code	Section Number	Hours	Day	Instructor
SOCIOLOGY (SOCI)
2223	Social Problems	(CI)	015	9:40-11:10	M-F	Gautier, M.
*3343	American Minority Group	(SS)	015	9:40-11:10	M-F	Wong, M.
3423	Media, Self and Society	(W)	015	9:40-11:10	M-F	Katovich, M.

Number	Course	UCR Code	Section Number	Hours	Day	Instructor
SPANISH AND LATIN AMERICAN STUDIES (SPAN)
1153	First Semester College Spanish	(FL)	015	9:40-11:10	M-F	Daniel, L.
1153	First Semester College Spanish	(FL)	016	9:40-11:10	M-F	Flores, A.
*3173	Mexican Culture & Civilization Travel Study in Puebla, Mexico. (May 30-July 2) ADVANCED APPLICATION ESSENTIAL		078	Arrange		Bedford, D.

Number	Course	UCR Code	Section Number	Hours	Day	Instructor
BRITE DIVINITY SCHOOL (BR)
FIRST MODULE - JUNE 3-JUNE 18, 1997
DEPARTMENT OF HISTORY (NETE)
*7123	Exegesis in the Epistles: The Corinthian Correspondence		005	8:00-10:00	T-F	Baird, W.
				10:30-11:45

Number	Course	UCR Code	Section Number	Hours	Day	Instructor
DEPARTMENT OF MINISTRY (HOML)
*8970	Special Problems in Preaching: Collaborative Preaching and the Leadership of the Congregation (3 semester hours; meets June 2-June 13)		005	8:00-10:00	M-F	McClure, J.
				10:30-11:45

Number	Course	UCR Code	Section Number	Hours	Day	Instructor
SECOND MODULE - JUNE 20-JULY 3, 1997
DEPARTMENT OF MINISTRY (HOML)
*8970	Special Problems in Preaching: Preaching the Social Teachings of the Bible: Hungary as a Case Study		005	8:00-10:00	M-F	Pásztor, J.
				10:30-11:45

Number	Course	UCR Code	Section Number	Hours	Day	Instructor
M J NEELEY SCHOOL OF BUSINESS (BU)
ACCOUNTING (ACCT)
*2153	Principles of Financial Accounting		005	8:00-9:30	M-F	Nichols, D.
*2153	Principles of Financial Accounting		015	9:40-11:10	M-F	Nichols, D.
*4970/7970	Summer-in-Germany		078	Arrange

Course	Section	Days	Time	Instructor
6300 Practicum in Speech Pathology	005	8:00 & Arrange	F	Watson, J.
6390 Communication Disorders in Head and	045	1:00-4:45	MW	Ryan, W.
JOURNALISM (JOUR)
*1113 Media Writing and Editing I	045	1:00-4:45	MW	Thomas, M.
3453 Information Graphics (No prerequisites for Information Graphics Summer Session)	045	1:00-4:45	TR	Grotta, G.
*4513 Media Analysis and Research	015	9:40-11:10	M-F	Grotta, G.
4543 International & Intercultural Communications TCU-in-London Program	078			Babbili, A. Lauer, L.
*4603 Global Advertising & Public Relations TCU-in-London Program (June 1-30, 1997) ADVANCED APPLICATION ESSENTIAL	078			Newsom, D. Raskopf, J.
MEDIA STUDIES (MEST)
6970 Geopolitics of World Communication TCU-in-London Program (June 1-30, 1997) ADVANCED APPLICATION ESSENTIAL	078	Arrange		Babbili, A./Lauer, L.
MUSIC (MUSI)
1033 Survey of Jazz and Popular Music	(FA) 015	9:40-11:10	M-F	Wilson, C.
MUSIC (MUSP)
2430 Clarinet	701	Arrange		Whitman, G.
4430/6430	701	Arrange		Whitman, G.
2440/ Saxophone	701	Arrange		Whitman, G.
4440/6440
2210/ Piano	754	Arrange		Owings, J.
4210/6210
RADIO-TV-FILM (RTVF)
*4900 American Dreams and the Mass Media	045	1:00-4:45	MW	Cooper, R.
*3810 FM Station Operations (By Permission Only)	795	Arrange	M-F	Haskett, A.
*3643 British Cinema and European Culture: TCU-in-London Program (June 1-30, 1997) ADVANCED APPLICATION ESSENTIAL	078	Arrange		Whillock, D.
SPEECH COMMUNICATION (SPCO)
1123 Basic Speech Communication	(OC) 015	9:40-11:10	M-F	Allman, J.
3133 Group Discussion	(CI) 045	1:00-4:45	TR	Jurma, W.
THEATRE (THEA)
1203 Survey of Musical Theatre	(FA) 015	9:40-11:20	M-F	Breese, S.
4143 Modern Trends in Theatre: TCU-in-London Program (June 1-30, 1997) ADVANCED APPLICATION ESSENTIAL	706	Arrange		Newlin, F.

HARRIS COLLEGE OF NURSING (NU)

Course	Section	Days	Time	Instructor
*4133 Gerontological Nursing	005	9:00-10:30	MWF	Staff
4604 Practicum: Leadership and Management	100	6:30-3:00	M-R	Staff
		9:00-11:30	F

GRADUATE STUDIES AND RESEARCH

Course	Section	Days	Time	Instructor
7923 Islam and Politics in the Middle East	080	5:30-9:15	MW	Dorraj, M.
7763 Geopolitics and World Communications in London. (June 1 - 30, 1997) ADVANCE APPLICATION ESSENTIAL # "Perspectives on Society" Course	078	Arrange		Babbili, A. Lauer, L.

SECOND FIVE-WEEK TERM (III)
JULY 8-AUGUST 8, 1997

Number	Course	UCS Code	Section Number	Days	Time	Instructor
ADDRAN COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES
ASTRONOMY (PHYS)
2023	Introductory Astronomy	(PS)	020	10:05-12:00	M-R	Ingram, D.
Students desiring Astronomy without laboratory credit may register for 2023 which meets with 2083 lectures only
2083	Introductory Astronomy Lab	(PS-L)	020	10:05-12:00	M-R	Ingram, D.
		(PS-L)	120	8:30-10:00	TR	Ingram, D.
BIOLOGY (BIOL)
*7980	Thesis	079		Arrange		Staff
*7990	Thesis	079		Arrange		Staff
CHEMISTRY (CHEM)
4003/4013	Senior Honors Research Project	(W)	678	Arrange		Staff
4200	Undergraduate Research	078		Arrange		Staff
5230	Special Problems in Chemistry	078		Arrange		Staff
6240	Graduate Research in Inorganic Chemistry	078		Arrange		Staff
6260	Graduate Research in Organic Chemistry	078		Arrange		Staff
6280	Graduate Research in Biochemistry	078		Arrange		Staff
7980	Thesis	078		Arrange		Staff
*7990	Thesis	078		Arrange		Staff
*9980	Dissertation	078		Arrange		Staff
*9990	Dissertation	078		Arrange		Staff
COMPUTER SCIENCE (COSC)
1203	Computer Literacy (Windows)	020	10:05-12:00	M-R		Comer, J.
DESIGN, MERCHANDISING, AND TEXTILES (DEMT)
3473	History of Interiors & Architecture TCU-in-Scotland Program (July 5-26, 1997) ADVANCED APPLICATION ESSENTIAL	(W)	079	Arrange		Kucko, J.
ECONOMICS (ECON)
2113	Principles of Microeconomics	(SS)	020	10:05-12:00	M-R	Butler, M.
*3223	Microeconomics	003	8:00-9:55	M-R		Butler, M.
ENGLISH (ENGL)
1803	Freshman Composition	(WW)	020	10:05-12:00	M-R	Shepard, A.
2703	Introduction to Fiction	(L)	020	10:05-12:00	M-R	Powell, S.
*2803	Sophomore Composition	(WW)	003	8:00-9:55	M-R	Staff
*2803	Sophomore Composition	(WW)	020	10:05-12:00	M-R	Staff
FRENCH (FREN)
*1163	Second Semester College French	(FL)	020	10:05-12:00	M-R	Knecht, J.
GEOLOGY (GEOL)
3233	Rock Cycle	(PS-L)(W)	079	Arrange		Donovan/Breyer
3203	Genesis and Geology TCU-in-Scotland Program (July 5-26) ADVANCED APPLICATION ESSENTIAL	(CI)(W)	079	Arrange		Donovan/Breyer
HISTORY (HIST)
1603	United States History: A Survey to 1877	(HS-U)	040	12:10-2:05	M-R	Stevens, K.
1613	United States History: A Survey since 1877	(HS-U)	003	8:00-9:55	M-R	Brown, C.
3333	Europe in the Cold War: 1945-1991	(HS)	040	12:10-2:05	M-R	Tucker, S.
4823	New South, 1877-Present	020	10:05-12:00	M-R		Brown, C.
MATHEMATICS (MATH)
*1033	Topics in Mathematics	(M)	003	8:00-9:55	M-R	Hatcher, R.
*1043	Elementary Statistics	(M)	020	10:05-12:00	M-R	Gilbert, G.
*1283	Introductory Applied Calculus (M)	020	10:05-12:00	M-R		Combrink, R.
NUTRITION AND DIETETICS (NTDT)
1201	Nutrition Concepts	(PE-H)	040	12:10-1:40	MW	Gorman, M.
1403	Nutrition	(PS)	020	10:05-12:00	M-R	Gorman, M.
PHYSICS (PHYS)
*1163	General Physics II	(PS)	020	10:05-12:00	M-R	Zerda, T. W.
*1161	General Physics II Lab	(PS-L)	080	1:00-4:45	MW	Zerda, T. W.
2023	Introductory Astronomy Students desiring Astronomy without laboratory credit may register for 2023 which meets with 2083 lectures only	(PS)	020	10:05-12:00	M-R	Ingram, D.
2083	Introductory Astronomy Lab	(PS-L)	020	10:05-12:00	M-R	Ingram, D.
		120	8:30-10:00	TR		Ingram, D.
			1:30-3:00

Course	Section	Days	Time	Instructor
6970	Research in Statistical Physics	067	Arrange	Miller, B.
6970	Research in Astronomy	068	Arrange	Marcum, P.
6970	Research in Molecular and Solid State Physics	070	Arrange W	Graham, W.R.M.
6970	Research in Quantum Electronics	071	Arrange W	Lysiak, R.J.
6970	Research in Electron Collisions	072	Arrange	Quarles, C.
6970	Research in Chemical Physics	074	Arrange	Zerda, T.W.
6970	Research in Theoretical Molecular Physics	075	Arrange	Ritby, M.
POLITICAL SCIENCE (POSC)
3303	Russian Foreign Policy	(SS) 020	10:05-12:00	M-F	Carter, R.
3503	Topics in Comparative Politics: Political Life After the Fall of Communism: A Comparative Assessment TCU-in-Budapest (July 7-25) ADVANCED APPLICATION ESSENTIAL	079	Arrange		Dorraj, M.
PSYCHOLOGY (PSYC)
*3503	Behavioral Research	020	10:05-12:00	M-R	Papini, M.
4513	Scotland: Search for Genius: TCU-in-Scotland Program (July 5-26) ADVANCED APPLICATION ESSENTIAL	(W) 079			Cross, D.
*4950	Contemporary Topics: Psychology in Cinema	060	2:15-6:00	MW	Barth, T.
*4970	Independent Studies	079	Arrange		Staff
*7980	Thesis	079	Arrange		Staff
*7990	Thesis	079	Arrange		Staff
*9100	Advanced Studies in Quantitative Methods	079	Arrange		Staff
*9200	Advanced Studies in Learning and Motivation	079	Arrange		Staff
*9300	Advanced Studies in Personality and Cognition	079	Arrange		Staff
*9400	Advanced Studies in Physiological Psychology	079	Arrange		Staff
*9500	Advanced Studies in Social Psychology	079	Arrange		Staff
*9980	Dissertation	079	Arrange		Staff
*9990	Dissertation	079	Arrange		Staff
RELIGION STUDIES (RELI)
1013	Understanding Religion: The World's Religions	(RS) 040	12:10-2:05	M-R	Sodiq, Y.
3643	God in Modern Thought	(W)(CI) 020	10:05-12:00	M-R	Grant, D.
SPANISH (SPAN)
*1163	Second Semester College Spanish	(FL) 020	10:05-12:00	M-R	Watson, P.
*1163	Second Semester College Spanish	(FL) 021	10:05-12:00	M-R	Staff

BRITE DIVINITY SCHOOL BR

Course	Section	Days	Time	Instructor
THIRD MODULE - JULY 8-23, 1997
DEPARTMENT OF MINISTRY (PRTH)
*7333	Conflict and Reconciliation	080	6:00-8:00pm	T-F	Feille, B.
			8:30-9:45pm
DEPARTMENT OF PASTORAL THEOLOGY AND PASTORAL COUNSELING (PTPC)
7313	Religion and Personality	003	8:00-10:00	T-F	Ivy, S.
			10:30-11:45

M J NEELEY SCHOOL OF BUSINESS (BU)

Course	Section	Days	Time	Instructor
ACCOUNTING (ACCT)
*2163	Principles of Managerial Accounting	003	8:00-9:55	M-R	Hensely, S.
*2163	Principles of Managerial Accounting	020	10:05-12:00	M-R	Haw, I.
DECISION SCIENCE (DESC)
*3153	Introductory Operations Research	020	10:05-12:00	M-R	Ramasesh
MANAGEMENT (MANA)
4970	Business in Budapest TCU-Travel Study Program (July 7-25, 1997)	078	Arrange		Mackay, J.
MARKETING (MARK)
*3153	Marketing Management	003	8:00-9:55	M-R	Finn, D.
*3153	Marketing Management	020	10:05-12:00	M-R	Finn, D.
*4213	International Marketing	003	8:00-9:55	M-R	Moncrief, W.

SCHOOL OF EDUCATION

Course	Section	Days	Time	Instructor
CHILD STUDIES (EDEC)
*5123	Educational Programs for Young Children	040	12:10-2:05	M-R	Staff
LANGUAGE STUDIES (EDRE)
*4113	Literacy Education in the Elementary School	003	8:00-9:55	M-R	Block, C.
*4213	Promoting Literacy in the Content Subjects	020	10:05-12:00	M-R	Miller, E.
*5043	Seminar in Children's Literature	003	8:00-9:55	M-R	Clegg, L.
6053	Seminar in Literacy Education	020	10:05-12:00	M-R	Block, C.
6153	Seminar in Promoting Literacy in the Subject Areas	055	2:00-4:00	M-R	Miller, E.
EDUCATIONAL ADMINISTRATION (EDAD)
6103	Administrators, Schools & Districts	080	4:30-7:00	MWR	Sacken, M.
6123	Administrators, Parents & Children	080	7:30-10:00	MTR	Sacken, M.
HEALTH EDUCATION (HEED)
2613	Measurement and Evaluation (PHED)	040	12:10-2:05	M-R	Solomon, G.
PHYSICAL EDUCATION (PHED)
2613	Measurement and Evaluation (HEED)	040	12:10-2:05	M-R	Solomon, G.
*3623	Biomechanics	003	8:00-9:55	M-R	Southard, D.
3713	Psychology of Sport	020	10:05-12:00	M-R	Solomon, G.
*4760	Practicum in Physical Education	078	Arrange		Southard, D.
*4780	Special Problems in Physical Education	078	Arrange		Southard, D.
*4903	Senior Internship	078	Arrange		Southard, D.
PHYSICAL EDUCATION ACTIVITY CLASSES (PEAC)
1721	Beginning Racquetball	(PE-A) 040	10:05-12:00	M-R	Staff
PHYSICAL EDUCATION GRADUATE CLASSES (PHED)
*6423	Advanced Motor Behavior	020	10:05-12:00	M-R	Southard, D.
7903	Treatise	079	Arrange		Solomon, G.
*7970	Special Problems	079	Arrange		Solomon, G.
*7980	Thesis	079	Arrange		Southard, D.
*7990	Thesis	079	Arrange		Southard, D.

COLLEGE OF FINE ARTS AND COMMUNICATION (FA)

Course	Section	Days	Time	Instructor
ART AND ART HISTORY (ART)
2503	Impressionism & Modern Art	(FA) 040	12:10-2:05	M-R	Thistlethwaite, M.
*3500	Impressionism & Modern Art	040	12:10-2:05	M-R	Thistlethwaite, M.
*4410	Communication Graphics Internship	079	Arrange		Glaser, L.
BALLET &amp; MODERN DANCE
BALT 4120	Special Problems in Ballet	079	Arrange		Staff
MODA 4220	Special Problems in Modern Dance	079	Arrange		Staff
JOURNALISM (JOUR)
*2103	Media Writing and Editing II	079	2:15-6:00	MW	Staff
*3313	Advertising Principles	003	8:00-9:55	M-R	Raskopf, J.
*3413	Copy, Layout and Production	040	12:10-2:05	M-R	Raskopf, J.
MUSIC (MUSI)
1053	Survey of Music	(FA) 015	9:40-11:10	M-F	Fansler, T.
RADIO-TV-FILM (RTVF)
*3810	FM Station Operations (By Permission Only)	078	Arrange		Haskett, A.
SPEECH COMMUNICATION (SPCO)
1123	Basic Speech Communication	(OC) 020	10:05-12:00	M-R	Young, M.
2193	Listening	040	12:10-2:05	M-R	King, P.

HARRIS COLLEGE OF NURSING (NU)

Course	Section	Days	Time	Instructor
NURSING (NURS)
3330	Special Problems	078	Arrange		Staff
4543	Critical Aspects of Pediatric Nursing (Clinic arrange.)	100	10:00-1:00	W	Staff

% denotes permission required by instructor * denotes that course has a prerequisite. Please see catalogue for details.

Number	Course	UCR Code	Days	Time	Instructor
GRADUATE STUDIES AND RESEARCH (GR)
MASTER OF LIBERAL ARTS (MALA)
#7233	The Rise of American Business	080	5:30-9:15	MW	Coerver, D.

GRADUATE STUDIES AND RESEARCH (GR)

MASTER OF LIBERAL ARTS (MALA)
#7233 The Rise of American Business

080 5:30-9:15 MW Coerver, D.

Summer International Study Programs

The TCU Summer International Study Program offers participants an exceptional opportunity to study abroad. Through educational programs which cannot be duplicated on campus, students will experience new cultures, visit sites which form part of our global heritage, and learn from lectures and discussions with University faculty members and guest speakers.

All summer courses are developed and led by TCU faculty and carry full university credit. In many cases, they fulfill distribution or major field requirements, giving you a significant leg up in your progress toward a TCU degree. If you are eligible, you may be able to receive TCU financial assistance to make your participation in these unique programs a reality.

Japanese Culture and Civilization

May 12 - June 1
Nagaoka, Tokyo, Kyoto
Professor Yumi Keitges (Japanese)

Art History on Site

Rome, Florence, Nice, Paris & London
May 13 - June 2
Professor Gail Gear (art history)

TCU-in-London

May 31 - June 30
Residential Program at Regent's College
--International and Intercultural Communication
Professors Anatha Babbili and Larry Lauer (journalism)
--Global Advertising and Public Relations
Professors Doug Newsom and Jack Raskopf (journalism)
--British Film and European Culture
Professor David Whillock (radio-tv-film)
--Theatre in London
Professor Forrest Newlin (theatre)

Business in Germany

June 1-29
Residential Program in Cologne
Professors from the M.J. Neeley School of Business

Mexican Culture and Civilization

May 30 - July 3
Residential Program at Universidad de las Américas-Puebla
Professors from the Department of Spanish and Latin American Studies
Professor David Bedford (Spanish and Latin American Studies)

Educational Studies in England and Scotland

June 6-29
Residential Program in London & Edinburgh
Professor Luther Clegg and Dean Douglas Simpson

Art of the South Pacific

June 23 - July 12
Hawaii, Australia, New Zealand, Fiji
Professor Gail Gear (art history)

French Language and Civilization

June 26 - July 26
Residential Program at Université de l'Ouest
Professor Sharon Fairchild (French)

Honors Colloquium in Edinburgh

June 30 - July 23
Professors Gregg Franzwa (philosophy),
John Breyer (geology), Jane Kucko (design and fashion), and Kathryne MacDorman (history and honors)

Comparative Issues in Health Care

July 5-20
Residential Program at Regent's College
Professor Rhonda Keen-Payne (nursing)

TCU-in-Scotland

July 5-26
Residential Program at the University of Edinburgh, Scotland
Professors Nowell Dnonvan and John Breyer (geology),
David Cross (psychology) and Jane Kucko
(design and fashion)

Leadership Seminar in London

July 7-25
Residential Program at Regent's College
Professors Chuck Williams (management), David Cross (psychology), Cornell Thomas (education), and
Dr. Barbara Herman (English, student life)

TCU-in-Budapest

July 7-25
Hungary and Central Europe: A Region at the Crossroads
Professors Ron Watson (art), Tamás Ungár (music), Thad Duhigg (studio art), Manocher Dorraj (political science),
Jane McKay (business)

♦
For further information contact: Ms. Mary Alice Oatman at 1-800-TCU-7134 or (817)921-7130
FAX (817)921-7134 or write to the Office of Summer Programs, TCU Box 297026, Fort Worth, TX 76129

Bill vs. Bob: You Make the Call

Lack of focus hurts 'witty' Republican

Here's the day we've been waiting for, folks: Election Day 1996.

This year's election season has been made especially fun with the ever-witty Republican nominee, Bob Dole and that crazy, zany guy we call Mr. President, Bill Clinton.

I think I'm going to miss Bob Dole. His grumpy disposition, plaintive, repetitive speaking style and knack for hypocritical kind of grows on ya.

The great senator from Kansas spent the major part of his campaign unfocused. It was a theme-of-the-week type affair. It was sad, but quite interesting from an academic standpoint, to watch a politician search and struggle for a "popular" message on which to hang his campaign hat.

I lost count of the superfluous, half-thought topics Dole talked about. One week it was "liberal" judges Clinton had appointed, and when that didn't work (since he voted to confirm 95 percent of them), the next week it was that evil Hollywood.

We heard Bob Dole proclaim tobacco might not be addictive, for even milk could be addictive. Perhaps someone should tell Bob Dole that scientists have never concluded that calcium and vitamin D are addictive. Nicotine is entirely another story.

Then there was the tax cut question. "It shouldn't be cut," and "balance the budget" were the watchwords Bob Dole lived by for over 20 years. Give him a presidential nomination and suddenly we have pie-in-the-sky visions of 15 percent tax cuts without tripling the deficit. Makes you wonder if Dole has been inhaling lately.

But hey, he finally found a message: Clinton's unethical character. You know, Mr. Bill flip-flops, he takes illegal campaign contributions and he and some of his staff are under investigation. Maybe Dole should take a look in the mirror.

One look at Dole's record shows a number of flip-flops. Until 1994, affirmative action wasn't so bad, but now we should abolish it completely. Until 1995, tax cuts came after balancing the budget... not any more. Milk is addictive, no it isn't; smoking isn't so bad, yes it is. See what I mean?

Moreover, the former vice chairman of Bob Dole's finance committee was fined $1 million and placed under a six-month house arrest for funneling illegal contributions into Dole's campaign. Well, shoot fire. Bob Dole says he didn't know about it.

Similar situation in the Clinton camp, except the man in question over there, John Huang, hasn't even been convicted. Of course when this happens to Clinton, he's unethical. He shouldn't hire such scum. But if it happens to Bob Dole it was the butler's fault.

Funny thing with these Republicans: When their guys are in trouble, people who complain are unfair, mean-spirited liberals out to destroy them. But when the other guys are in trouble, they are valiant saviors of democracy.

When the Reagan administration was under investigation, it was those nasty old Democrats being mean. They should show more respect for a president. Now that the shoe's on the other foot, forget respect, there is blood to be had.

Interestingly, despite the viciousness of Bob Dole's attacks, Bill Clinton has taken the high road and met Bob Dole's harsh near-libelous attacks with grace and civility. I wonder who has character?

It's not that Clinton shines like gold. He doesn't. However, he has spoken about real issues, and he has laid out numerous concrete proposals. Bob Dole has done little to explain what he would do as president.

Dole has not made one solid case why he would be a better president. He gives us his word. If all he has is his "word," then he's got another thing coming. He's demonstrated his word has as much weight as a feather in space.

Even Bill Clinton has that.

COMMENTARY

KEVIN ARCENEAUX

Dole is a man to trust, Clinton an idea-less liar

The presidential race will finally come to an end today, as millions of Americans head for the polls and vote for their candidates of choice.

It has been well documented that many conservative Republicans would have liked a candidate other than Bob Dole to represent their party. Consequently, a number of traditional Republicans have chosen to either stay at home or cross over and vote for President Clinton.

"He's done a pretty good job as president," they say.

Is that so? They seem to have forgotten how Clinton renege on his promise to cut taxes for the middle class. And what about his proposal to turn the American health care system over to the government? Never mind that ours is the best system the world has to offer.

And then there are the ethical lapses. "There's a new scandal every week," in the Clinton White House, as Dole has so aptly put it. Clinton has tarnished the image of the presidency so much that even many of his fellow Democrats no longer trust him.

One of Clinton's closest ideological confidants, the Rev. Jesse Jackson, said of the president:

"There's nothing he won't do. He's immune to shame. Move past all the nice posturing and get really down there in him, you'll find absolutely nothing... nothing but an appetite."

This comes as no surprise to those who have followed Clinton throughout his public life. From Arkansas to Washington, Clinton has made a career of satisfying his personal desires, without regard to honesty.

Dole, on the other hand, is a man who exudes trust, as demonstrated by one of his campaign slogans, "My word is my bond."

If Dole is elected to the Oval Office today, one thing is guaranteed: He will do what he says. It is a devastatingly sad commentary that the American people can no longer depend on their leader to follow through on what he says.

Unfortunately, with Clinton, all we have is a slick politician without the least bit of knowledge of right and wrong.

But, when Dole has attempted to keep Clinton accountable to the American people for his for his ethical lapses, cries of negative campaigning have been shouted at him.

We have a big problem when the people are more concerned with maintaining civility during the presidential campaign than they are with learning the truth about a man some consider the most corrupt leader in this nation's history.

Beyond Clinton's inability to be forthcoming about the actions of his administration, his ideas simply do not work. While his speeches are widely applauded for his delivery, they completely lack substance.

Simply put, Clinton has no ideas, so he has lied about what the Republicans planned to do with Medicare and Social Security in the balanced budgets he vetoed.

Clinton has contrasted his "vision" with Dole's by saying the Republican wants to build a bridge to the past, while Clinton will build a bridge to the future.

The problem is there is a security guard at that bridge and only those who do what the Democrats say will be permitted to cross.

Dole's economic plan will help every American, whether he or she is a millionaire or a minimum wage earner. There is no bigger insult to the hard working men and women in this country than Clinton's "targeted tax cuts."

Clinton so arrogantly calls the Dole plan a "risky scheme," while claiming his tax package is paid in full. How it is risky to give the people more autonomy in the way they spend their money is beyond me. Besides, tax cuts don't cause deficits, spending does.

It will be difficult to reduce tax rates by 15 percent and still balance the budget, but if the fiscal responsibility displayed by the Republican Congress continues, it will happen.

All Americans — young and old — must rediscover the meaning of sacrifice. The current generation is the first this century not to have been plagued by any horrible wars or economic disasters. If the budget is to be balanced and taxes cut, we will all have to learn to do with a little less from the government.

That doesn't sound too difficult, does it?

Brian Wilson is a senior news-editorial major from Vienna, W. Va.

COMMENTARY

BRIAN WILSON

Don't overlook the man of the people

Today, the election between Bill Clinton and Bob Dole will be decided. However, the races for the Senate and House of Representatives shouldn't be overlooked. Specifically, the race between Republican Sen. Phil Gramm and Democratic challenger Victor Morales should be interesting.

Up until today, all of the polls have Victor Morales in the hole, but voters shouldn't give up on the high school government teacher. He has overcome the odds in the past.

Victor Morales represents a fairly tale in American politics. Those who followed his campaign closely understand the overwhelming odds he has had to overcome to get to this point. Morales' success restores our faith in the system. Now we really can believe that anyone can get elected as a United States senator.

On the other hand, Phil Gramm represents everything we despise in our politicians. He switched parties on the coattails of Ronald Reagan. He said he couldn't consciously belong to the Democratic party anymore, but the timing suggests that he was just trying to further his political career.

His showboating tactics don't end there. Back in 1990, when Ann Richards won the governorship in Texas, then President George Bush was asked if he could see any positives in the outcome. According to NBC News, Bush privately said, "At least we won't have to hear Phil Gramm taking credit for everything that happens in Texas."

Phil Gramm began campaigning for the Republican presidential nomination in 1996 back in 1990. In fact, since 1994, Gramm had one of the worst attendance records in the Senate. Where was he at for the important votes? He was hitting the campaign trail. Ah, Phil Gramm, fighting for Texans.

Interestingly enough, most Republicans don't even like Phil Gramm. His showboating tactics probably have a lot to do with that, but it is probably his hypocrisy that really rubs his fellow Republicans the wrong way.

One of Gramm's favorite sayings is that people need to start "pulling the wagon" instead of "riding in the wagon" of government spending. Ironically, when we look at Gramm's life, we find that he's been doing more riding than pulling.

He was born in a military hospital. He went to a military school until he got out of high school. He then got his college degree and doctorate with the help of a government grant (where he conveniently stayed in school instead of going to Vietnam). He became an economics professor at Texas A&M University (a publicly supported college) and then became an elected official. Come to think of it, has Phil Gramm ever pulled the wagon?

Phil Gramm also enjoys cozying up to the religious right, but a quick look back at his past uncovers some pretty interesting things. First of all, he's been divorced, but that shouldn't anger Republican leadership because most of them have been as well (Bob Dole and Newt Gingrich each divorced their first wives).

However, back in 1974, Gramm invested in a soft-core porn film. Unfortunately for him, the film was never released so he was never able to reap the benefits of such a worthwhile investment. However, it is interesting to keep this fact in mind when you see Bob Dole and others lambast Hollywood for their sleazy films. Maybe this is why Republicans don't like Phil Gramm.

One thing's for sure, it can't be his winning charm. In his book "Rush Limbaugh is a Big Fat Idiot," Al Franken writes that an elderly widow once approached Gramm and asked him to not cut Medicare and Social Security because people like her couldn't remain independent if he did. Gramm replied by saying, "Maybe you should consider finding another husband."

COMMENTARY

SCOTT BARZILLA

Wow, I'll bet she was impressed.

All in all, Gramm has been unresponsive to the needs of some of his constituents. In fact, unresponsive may not even be a strong enough word. Perhaps his life "on the wagon" has made him insensitive to those of us who actually spend our time "pulling the wagon."

Victor Morales is a working man. He can certainly understand the plight of most of us more than Phil Gramm. Someone who understands our plight can certainly do more to represent us. I think it's time that Phil Gramm started doing some pulling.

Scott Barzilla is a senior political science major from Houston.

Control of Congress should go to the conservatives

The real race to watch today, the one that could have the most effect on voters' lives, is not the battle over who will occupy the White House. The importance of that election is nothing compared to the critical battle to control Congress.

When Republicans won the House and Senate outright in 1994, they did so on a conservative platform. They promised to reform Congress, to balance the budget, to cut taxes, to reform welfare, to address out-of-control entitlement programs, to reduce the burden of government on businesses and individuals, to devolve power to the states and to begin dismantling the clearly failed welfare state.

Did they deliver on these promises? Absolutely. The first conservative Congress in almost half a century produced above and beyond the call of duty, despite the ever-present threat of President Clinton's veto pen.

Some may argue that the conservative agenda was victorious in 1994 because liberal Democrats didn't think Republicans would ever defeat them. But the liberal camp has certainly readjusted its tactics in this election cycle and has pulled out all the stops to defeat conservative congressional candidates.

The 1994 campaign was based on promises, embodied neatly in the Contract with America. Now, in 1996, there's a record of achievement to consider. Americans need only examine that record to realize that to turn away from the successes of the 104th Congress would be a huge mistake.

The most obvious area of success is in budgetary matters. The Republican-led Congress passed the first balanced federal budget in almost 30 years. And though that budget did not survive Clinton's veto, the federal deficit is still at its lowest point in almost 14 years.

Clinton likes to claim credit for this achievement, but, like so many of his claims, the president is taking credit where he does not deserve it. Clinton fought against balanced budget measures by strong-arming Senate Democrats into voting against a balanced budget amendment to the Constitution.

What can be said for the Congress's record on reducing the size of government? Been there, done that. The 104th Congress eliminated more than 270 programs, agencies, offices and projects according to the Heritage Foundation, a Washington think tank.

Despite these achievements, some voters, even some conservatives, still need convince-ing that the conservative Congress was not a hate-filled, child-eating death machine. They need a reason to vote Republican.

How's this: House Speaker Dick Gephardt? Here's another: Senate Majority Leader Tom Daschle. Here's my favorite: Charles Rangel, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee.

David Broder wrote in The Washington Post in September: "(T)he men who likely would head key House committees have agendas in mind that could spell a resumption of activist government in Washington. They not only reject the tax-cutting, program-trimming priorities of this Republican Congress but, in many instances, have legislative ambitions reaching well beyond the modest plans outlined by President Clinton and their Democratic congressional leaders."

Perhaps the best argument for a conservative Congress was made by Rangel, a liberal Democrat from Harlem. Rangel said, "I'm sick and tired of politicians just beating up on the IRS... We have the best and fairest tax-collection system in the world."

Is this the view most Americans have of the monstrous bureaucracy that claims as much as 40 percent of their income and that can seize their private property with little recourse? Of course not. Is this the view of a man most Americans want directing tax policy in the House? Certainly not.

WILL YOU DROP OUT OF THE RACE AND ENDORSE ME?

The key thing to remember is that the 104th Congress is representative of a transition. The United States is moving away from 40 years of free-spending activist government. Reining in this trends will be a bumpy road. A conservative Congress can't undo in two years what a liberal one built over 40 years. So the choice is clear. Return conservatives to Congress, regardless of who wins the White House.

IS THAT A YES?!

Unless, of course, you share Charles Rangel's view of the IRS.

Skiff assistant editor and opinion editor Ryan J. Rusak is a junior news-editorial major from Benbrook.

Dole's not wearing down, but his tires are

HOUSTON (AP) — On the final full day of his long campaign for the White House Bob Dole's chartered airplane finally had a flat. Well, not a flat exactly.

After landing Monday afternoon at Houston's Hobby Airport, mechanics discovered that the tread on one of two tires under the left wing was badly worn and in need of replacing.

So Dole, a Secret Service entourage and various aides transferred from his usual airplane — the "Citizen's Ship" — to the secondary jet that normally carries most of the traveling press corps.

The Dole campaign spun the incident to its own advantage:

Dole called it a good omen, saying the "press had a better plane all the time and I didn't know it."

Gore implores citizens to vote

CLEVELAND (AP) — A fired-up Al Gore implored voters Monday to go to the polls to help the Democrats win back control of Congress as well as re-elect President Clinton.

"It's a clear choice and you can make a difference," the vice president shouted in a voice hoarse from campaigning.

Gore's plea went beyond the White House to the Democrats running for state and federal offices.

"I want you to go out in large numbers and support these candidates," he said.

Experts say polls have been consistent

WASHINGTON (AP) — Finally, on Tuesday, the only poll that counts. The election will cap a political season that saw polls appear tied to a bungee cord.

But it really wasn't so, say pollsters. Look deep enough at the numbers, and there has been consistency, barely a blip, in President Clinton's lead over Republican Bob Dole and in Ross Perot's lagging campaign.

All polls have some degree of error attached. If a poll has an error margin of 4 points, a 52 percent showing can be 48 percent and 56 percent, potentially the difference between disaster and triumph.

But there is a lot of skepticism about polls, for good reason. The period of Oct. 17 through Oct. 19 illustrates: A John Zogby poll reported Clinton's lead over Dole had dropped to 8 points, ABC was saying it was 14 points.

Overall, however, Jacobs said polls have shown "remarkable stability." With the exception of one poll, surveys taken Friday and Saturday indicated Clinton leads 12-16 points over Dole — typical of the past few months.

Three hopefuls hit home stretch

Clinton returns home for last campaign stop

By Ron Fournier
ASSOCIATED PRESS

MANCHESTER, N.H. — Chasing a final political triumph in a sentimental dash home to Arkansas, President Clinton urged Americans on Monday to return him to the White House, declaring, "There's a lot of life left in this old dog."

On the last day of his last national campaign, Clinton worked to bolster his own support and help Democrats in key congressional races. "Your vote is going to decide whether we return Congress to a majority of people who have prepared to shut the government down," he said.

First lady Hillary Rodham Clinton and Vice President Al Gore and his wife, Tipper, later joined Clinton in Cleveland for a raucous rally reminiscent of their joint appearances in 1992.

Bouncing up the stage steps, holding hands with their partners, the baby boomers who unseated World War II veteran George Bush in 1992 took aim at war hero Bob Dole.

In an emotional plea for high voter turnout, Clinton asked more than 10,000 Democrats, "Will you seize the day to keep your country moving in the right direction?" It was the same refrain at every stop.

"See you tomorrow!" he shouted outside Manchester's Merrimack Restaurant, a political landmark and favorite Clinton haunt. Mrs. Clinton got into the act at the University of Kentucky in Lexington, offering three words for people who criticize government: "Did you vote?"

The president was sprinting from New Hampshire, the state with the deepest roots from his 1992 campaign, to four other states and finally his native Arkansas, where tens of thousands of people were set to fill Little Rock's streets for an election-night celebration.

Bleary-eyed but buoyant, Clinton campaigned like a man who knew the election was sewed up. The only doubts: Whether he could claim a majority of the popular vote and help Democratic candidates seize control of Congress. In a rat-a-tat delivery, a raspy-voiced Gore fired up the Cleveland crowd like a Southern preacher. "The great state of Ohio will put the Clinton-Gore team over the top!" he shouted.

Clinton was at a loss to follow the performance.

"I don't know what the vice president ate for breakfast this morning but if he had two more bites of it, he'd have blown the roof clear off this place," the president quipped.

Clinton, whose criticism of Republicans has grown more pointed in the runup to Election Day, methodically accused the GOP of undermining schools, law enforcement, the environment, health care and family values.

The president personally crafted his 21-hour closing-day schedule: New Hampshire, Ohio, Kentucky, Iowa, South Dakota and Arkansas.

In a memorable moment from 1992, he pledged to a Dover, N.H., crowd that he would stay in the race "until the last dog dies." He borrowed the line Monday:

"There's a lot of life left in this old dog and I want you to seize the day for our children and our future," he said outside a restaurant in Manchester.

Perot tells Texans character should count

By Katie Fairbank
ASSOCIATED PRESS

SAN ANTONIO — Ross Perot gave both his first and last campaign speech in the Lone Star State on Monday, telling fellow Texans that character should count when they select a president.

"Do you want them selling your White House for political contributions?" Perot asked as he thrashed President Clinton.

Perot, who has spent most of his campaign trying to reach the voters through their televisions, in recent days has been speaking to groups to attack the president for alleged ethical lapses and fund-raising tactics by the Democratic Party. The Reform Party candidate also has criticized Republican Bob Dole for accepting money from foreign-born contributors with U.S. interests — a family of Florida sugar growers.

Perot asked his audience at St. Mary's University to consider ethics while casting their ballot.

"Would you allow a person with pending criminal charges to babysit your children? It's a joke," he told about 500 people gathered outside the library at the largest and oldest Catholic university in Texas.

Clinton's administration is under investigation by the Whitewater prosecutor and has been under fire for accepting questionable foreign donations. No federal charges have been levied against the president.

The Dallas billionaire, who qualified for federal funding to run for president this year, ended his campaign with a quartet of 30-minute network programs Monday evening at a cost of about $2 million.

The three half-hour infomercials aired on CBS, NBC and ABC. The ABC infomercial was scheduled back-to-back with a repeat of a 30-minute Perot biography for a full hour of air time.

Playing the role of the nation's conscience, Perot said he believes the Clinton administration will face future problems because of all the investigations and the voter shouldn't become entangled.

Statewide candidates make final election push

By Michael Holmes
ASSOCIATED PRESS

AUSTIN — Texas Senate and House candidates made last-minute appeals for election Monday as Republican Bob Dole and third-party hopeful Ross Perot made their final pitches as the campaign clock ran down.

U.S. Sen. Phil Gramm barnstormed. Starting with an 8:15 a.m. stop with a congressional candidate in Lufkin, he traveled to get-out-the-vote rallies at Tyler, Texarkana, Denison and Waco before an early evening "welcome home" appearance at College Station.

The Republican, whose presidential hopes were dashed early in the year, asked for a third Senate term by reiterating his campaign themes of smaller government and lower taxes.

"Republicans believe that you can make better decisions than the government can," he told supporters.

Gramm's Democratic rival, Victor Morales, hit the road for one final campaign trip in the white pickup truck that became his symbol. Morales drove from his Mesquite headquarters to Austin.

"I think he wanted to end up pretty much like he started, which is just getting out in the pickup truck and stopping and doing some one-on-one retail politics with people," said Steve Hall, the candidate's press secretary.

Morales said the key to his victory would be a big turnout among Hispanic voters. "If (the Hispanic community) comes through with a million, I think, a little bit over a million, then it's over for Phil," Morales said.

Time was running out for some — but not all — congressional candidates.

More than half of the 30 races will be concluded Tuesday. But federal judges ordered special elections in 13 Dallas and Houston-area districts, and many of those drew more than two candidates. If no one gets more than 50 percent of the vote, runoff elections will be held in December.

Democrats were hoping to expand their 18-12 margin in the U.S. House

Dole loses voice but keeps hope as campaign nears end

By Sandra Sobleraj
ASSOCIATED PRESS

ALAMOGORDO, N.M. — Racing the clock across four time zones, Bob Dole exhorted voters in a failing voice Monday to turn out an "arrogant" White House crowd in favor of a candidate they can trust.

Closing out his third — and most likely last — run for the White House, the Republican told a crowd of hundreds, "I need your votes. There's still time."

Dole, his voice cracking after 70 hours of virtually nonstop campaigning, said that re-electing President Clinton would amount to ceding the White House for four more years to an administration with no regard for the law.

"I've seen a lot of presidents come and go, but I must say I've never seen a more arrogant group than... occupies the White House right now. They don't believe that the rules apply to them. They believe they can do anything and get away with anything," said Dole.

"If you want a full-time president who won't be going to hearings or trials or anything else, Bob Dole is your choice," he added. "My voice may change, but I still keep my word."

George and Barbara Bush, and their son George W. Bush, the Texas governor, hooked up with Dole in Houston, before leaving him to finish out Monday's six-state sprint with stops in Louisiana, Tennessee and Iowa.

"I'm proud to be with the Bushes, who brought integrity to the White House — and we miss it. We miss it," Dole said at a rally outside Goodson's Cafe.

Winding down his zigzagged blitz, Dole was to end up where it all began for his adopted role model, Harry Truman.

Dole, who hoped to replicate Truman's dramatic come-from-behind win in 1948, planned to lead his entourage on a pre-dawn pilgrimage Tuesday to Independence, Mo., where the 33rd president launched his political career. From there, Dole was dropping

"It's a dead heat. It's tied across America."

Bob Dole, Republican presidential nominee into Russell, Kan., to vote in his own hometown.

The GOP presidential nomination eluded Dole twice before — in 1980 and 1988. And he was the No. 2 on Gerald Ford's losing 1976 ticket.

As Dole worked until the end to pull off a win this time, he showed a spirited front, pulsing his fist to the 1970's tune "Taking Care of Business" and playfully flipping campaign hats into his crowds.

Although most national polls gave Clinton a double-digit lead, Dole clung to a lone poll that put him well within striking distance.

"It's a dead heat. It's tied across America," Dole said in rallying a sunrise crowd outside Phoenix's "5 & Diner" 24-hour eatery.

His remarks to 1,000 supporters packing the diner parking lot were kept to just two minutes as the fatigued candidate battled a failing voice and runny nose.

That left the weight of the program to a new round of surrogates, including MTV personality Kennedy and golf legend Chi Chi Rodriguez, who called for a constitutional amendment to bar "draft-dodgers" from the Oval Office. In New Mexico, the microphone was passed around to six different people before Dole's own labored speech.

Senior aide Sheila Burke, who also is a nurse, told reporters that Dole was not suffering from a cold, only throat strain, which he was treating with an herbal tea.

Campaign spokesman Nelson Warfield tried to put the lightest timbre on Dole's raspy vocals. "It's a good sign," he said. "If anything, we are stealing a page out of Bill Clinton's (playbook). Remember, he went hoarse at the end of '92. He won."

WHO, ME?
Yes, You!

Not a member of EECU? Call us to find out how you may be eligible to join. Then you can start enjoying all the benefits of —

- Lower loan rates
- Higher savings dividends
- Lower service fees
- Along with checking, ATM, electronic transaction services, Visa and MasterCard — and much, much more!

Call or come by today.

- Educational Employees Credit Union
- FORT WORTH
1617 West 7th Street
Fort Worth, TX 76102
882-0000
  - ARLINGTON
2212 Southgate
Arlington, TX 76013
882-0700
  - BURLESON
750 N.E. Ashbury Blvd.
Burleson, TX 76028
882-0650
  - HULEN
6049-A S. Hulen
Fort Worth, TX 76132
882-0850
  - HURST
1060 Campus Drive
Hurst, TX 76054
882-0600
  - WEATHERFORD
108 E. Park Avenue
Weatherford, TX 76086
594-3891

SET IN MOTION

Home/Down Delivery
5-9 p.m.
$15 min. order

Jons
G • R • I • L • L • E
923-1909

CD WAREHOUSE
Buy—Sell—Trade—

10% off any import with college ID
at this location only 2817 W. Berry St.
924-8706

We specialize in low cost health care and life insurance programs for students and their families.

CALL FOR FREE QUOTE
244-3949

NATIONAL FARM & RANCH HEALTHCARE NETWORK

TRAFFIC TICKETS DEFENDED

Jim Lollar
attorney at law

921-4433
Near TCU!
Berry and Lubbock
2716 Berry St. Fort Worth, TX 76109

General Practice. Licensed by the Texas Supreme Court Principle office 6200 Airport Freeway attorney available by appointment Mon-Fri at all office locations

Not Certified by the Texas Board of Legal Specialization in Criminal Law

UNIVERSITY TRAVEL
921-0227
3426 S. University
@ Bluebonnet Circle
Your #1 Choice for Travel

Summer in Germany
Business in Budapest

Information
Session
Nov. 6
3 p.m.
DRH 140

Come learn how you can earn 6 hours of business credit in Europe this summer.

TCU STUDENTS AND FACULTY

$2 OFF
Any $5.00 Order
Dry Cleaning Order
WITH THIS COUPON
ONE PER VISIT

$5 OFF
Any $10.00 Order
Dry Cleaning Order
WITH THIS COUPON
ONE PER VISIT

CIRCLE CLEANERS
3450 BLUEBONNET CIRCLE
923-4161
Charge Accounts • One Day Service • Expert Alterations
In by 9 a.m. Out by 5 p.m.

Tech fullback out due to academics

LUBBOCK (AP) — Texas Tech fullback Sammy Morris won't play again this season because of academic problems, the school announced Monday, nine days after he scored the winning touchdown against Texas A&M.

Morris, a redshirt freshman from San Antonio Jay, had pleasantly surprised Tech with his rapid development this fall in a position considered a question mark coming into the season.

"I am disappointed that Sammy no longer is on our football team," coach Spike Dykes said in a statement. "I wish him well. I hope he gets a chance to join us next fall."

The Lubbock Avalanche-Journal had reported last week that Morris possibly had failed to properly attend the school's "XL" study-aid program. Lubbock attorney Floyd Holder had threatened to sue in Morris' behalf, but Morris indicated Monday he would accept his dismissal from the team.

"I regret not being able to finish the season with my teammates," said Morris, who had rushed for 226 yards on just 29 carries and caught 13 passes for 221 yards. "I'm planning to work toward getting back on track, getting my academics in order and getting my college degree."

Carruth, Ward earn Big 12 honors

DALLAS (AP) — University of Colorado wide receiver Rae Carruth and University of Kansas line-backer Ronnie Ward were the Big 12 Conference players of the week.

Carruth produced the highest receiving total in Big 12 single-game history with a school record-tying 222 yards on seven receptions with a pair of touchdowns in the Buffaloes' 41-13 win at the University of Missouri. The senior averaged better than 31 yards per catch and had a long gainer of 69 yards from quarterback Koy Detmer.

Ward, also a senior, registered 16 tackles, had one quarterback sack and blocked a field goal that was decisive in the Jayhawks' 34-31 victory at Iowa State University.

Rangers get OF Hosey from Boston

ARLINGTON (AP) — Texas received outfielder Dwayne Hoseny from Boston on Monday to complete the Mike Stanton trade.

Hoseny, 29, began last year with Boston but was sent down April 22. He returned for two short stints, winding up with a .218 average in 28 major-league games last year. At Class AAA Pawtucket, he batted .297 with 14 home runs in 93 games.

He was the unnamed player in the deal that sent pitchers Mark Brandenburg and Kerry Lacy to the Red Sox on July 31.

Rebels lose dice roll at finish

Frogs fend off late rally

By Meredith Webb
SKIFF STAFF

Say what you like about the TCU football team, but one thing's for certain: They can make a boring game exciting in a real hurry.

In front of an Amon Carter Stadium crowd of 27,047 Saturday, the Horned Frogs fell behind on the first play from scrimmage, came back and took a 21-point lead, then watched the University of Nevada-Las Vegas storm back before holding on for a 42-34 Western Athletic Conference victory.

The win brings TCU's record to 3-5 for the season, 2-3 in the WAC. UNLV remained winless at 0-10, 0-6.

"It ain't pretty, but it sure beats the alternative," TCU head coach Pat Sullivan said. "I was worried about UNLV coming in here. I knew they had a good offensive football team."

TCU got a look at exactly how good the Rebels' offense was right off the bat. After TCU placekicker Michael Reeder's kickoff went for a touchback, UNLV freshman quarterback Jon Denton hit wide receiver Todd Floyd in full stride for an 80-yard touchdown 11 seconds into the game.

The key word here is wide receiver, as in open.

"The safety did not get over," Sullivan said. "We blew an assignment. We are supposed to have a deep pass safety."

The completion was the Rebels' longest since 1988.

"He (Denton) made some phenomenal plays and hung in there the whole game even after some bad luck," UNLV head coach Jeff Horton said.

Sullivan blamed errors for UNLV's 14-13 halftime lead.

"Obviously, the first half we did not play very well," Sullivan said.

In the second half of the game the Frogs came out of their funk and took a 27-14 third quarter lead on redshirt freshman running back John Williams' 14-yard scoring run. After UNLV defensive back Carlos Hilliard returned a fumble 35 yards for a score and cut the TCU lead to 27-21, the Frogs struck back with big plays on consecutive drives in the fourth period. Williams had a 69-yard touchdown run and junior flanker Jason Tucker caught a 37-yard scoring pass from redshirt freshman quarterback Jeff Dover.

"We got a big run from John and a big pass catch from Jason," Sullivan said. "For the most part, the offensive line did a nice job."

Then things got interesting. As fans headed for the exits with less than four minutes to go, a fumble by TCU sophomore running back Basil Mitchell was scooped up and returned 65 yards to the TCU 10-yard line by cornerback Jermaine Webster.

"We don't execute, and then we gave them two big plays when we had them knocked out," Sullivan said. "We fumbled and they carried it back, and that's what got them back in the game."

Sullivan was especially angry at his team's inability to run out the clock and put the game away.

"I certainly didn't anticipate fumbling the ball again," Sullivan said. "We had something like four and a half minutes to go (when the drive started), and all we had to do was make one or two first downs. They had not been stopping us all day, but you never know when that next turnover is coming. Lord knows we've got to quit doing that."

Dover, who split time at quarterback with junior Fred Taylor, said the team has to correct its mistakes against the difficult competition left on the Frogs' schedule.

"Down the road, we are going to play some better teams and turnovers

TCU sophomore tailback Basil Mitchell drags a Nevada-Las Vegas defender for some of his 151 rushing yards Saturday during the Frogs' 42-34 win over the Rebels. Mitchell and redshirt freshman tailback John Williams each rushed for over 100 yards, the first time TCU has had two 100-yard rushers in the same game since 1987.

are going to kill us," Dover said.

As UNLV mounted its comeback, Sullivan went with Dover over Taylor.

"That's my decision, and Jeff's got more experience with our offense," Sullivan said. "We're going to play both of them, and how much is depending on how well they do."

Dover got the bulk of the duties, going 15-20 for 151 yards and one touchdown. Taylor was 4-4 for 37 yards.

The TCU running game enjoyed one of its best games of the season, with two backs over 100 yards. Mitchell ended with 151 yards, and John Williams finished with 111 yards and two touchdowns.

"The offensive line was doing a great job for us," Mitchell said. "I was picking the holes and keeping my feet today. A lot of times we were stumbling."

The Frogs' next game will be against a new WAC foe, the University of Tulsa, on Saturday at 1:30 p.m. at Tulsa, Okla.

Like rest of TCU's season, win over UNLV wasn't easy

By Gregor Esch
SKIFF STAFF

The best thing that could be said before Saturday's matchup between TCU and the University of Nevada-Las Vegas was that someone had to win.

To say both teams had been struggling to find the win column would be like saying having a root canal is not a pleasant experience.

The Frogs avoided tremendous embarrassment by hanging on to defeat the winless Rebels 42-34 in a game that turned out to be about as easy and painless as pulling teeth. The Frogs (3-5, 2-3 in the Western Athletic Conference) and the Rebels (0-10, 0-6) certainly won't be competing for the WAC championship this season, but at least the game sustained the WAC's football reputation of score, score and score some more.

Good defensive plays from either team were about as rare as UNLV victories this season. Fans shouldn't have expected anything less than a game dominated by offense, considering the Rebels were last in the nation in total defense and the Frogs have been notorious for surrendering game-breaking plays. There is an old football adage that says defense wins championships. This could explain why the two teams find themselves nowhere near the top of their respective divisions.

Even though a lot of offense was expected, it was curious that TCU was favored by 20 points prior to kickoff, since the Frogs didn't even average 20 per game through their first seven games. So what made anyone think that TCU would have it that easy?

It became apparent after the first Rebel play from scrimmage that TCU would have to exceed their usual scoring output if they were going to end a two-game losing streak. The Frogs immediately kept up their end of the defensive bargain, allowing an 80-yard bomb for a touchdown that took a total of 11 seconds. The one perceived strength of the UNLV team was their ability

Please see ANALYSIS, Page 9

WAC Football Standings
MOUNTAIN			OVERALL			WAC
	W	L	T	W	L	T	W	L	T
BRIGHAM YOUNG	9	1	0	5	0	0
UTAH	7	2	0	5	1	0
RICE	5	3	0	4	1	0
TCU	3	5	0	2	3	0
NEW MEXICO	5	4	0	2	4	0
SOUTHERN METHODIST	3	6	0	2	4	0
TULSA	3	5	0	1	4	0
TEXAS-EL PASO	2	6	0	0	5	0
PACIFIC			OVERALL			WAC
	W	L	T	W	L	T	W	L	T
WYOMING	9	0	0	6	0	0
COLORADO STATE	6	4	0	5	1	0
SAN DIEGO STATE	5	2	0	3	1	0
AIR FORCE	5	3	0	4	2	0
FRESNO STATE	4	4	0	3	2	0
HAWAII	2	7	0	1	5	0
SAN JOSE STATE	1	8	0	1	5	0
NEVADA-LAS VEGAS	0	10	0	0	6	0

AMERICAN
CREW
Quality Grooming Products For Men

CREW
Hey Man, Get A Haircut!

6104 & 6120 Camp Bowie Blvd.
(two locations on Camp Bowie)
(817) 731-7000
Mon-Sat 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

John Kay Salon
We Use and Recommend the Best in Men's Haircare.

30% off with student ID at any hair service, anytime selected technician

BE A HERO
Be A Teacher

Teachers have the power to wake up young minds - to make a difference. Reach for that power. Be a teacher. Be a hero.

To find out how to become a teacher, call 1-800-45-TEACH Recruiting New Teachers, Inc.

Country Bend Apartments

FEATURES:

- Spacious 1, 2 & 3 bedroom apartments
- Swimming Pool
- Tennis Court

Call for current specials
731-9191

CD WAREHOUSE
Buy - Sell - Trade

$1 off any used CD with college ID at this location only

6080 S. Hulen
292-9109

TRAFFIC TICKETS
defended but only in Fort Worth, Arlington, and elsewhere in Tarrant County.

No promises as to results. Any fine and any court costs are not included in fee for legal representation.

JAMES R. MALLORY
Attorney at Law
3024 Sandage Ave.
Fort Worth, TX 76109-1793
(817) 924-3236

Not certified by the Texas Board of Legal Specialization

TCU Students
OPEN 24 HOURS FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

McDonald's has 3 great offers:

- 10% Discount on any purchase*
- Free Super Sizing with Value Meal*
- $2 for 2 Quarter Pounders with cheese

*Show your TCU student ID. Only one discount per purchase

McDonald's
2209 W. Berry

Just a fraction of our time watching movies could help bring many happy endings.

It's so easy to help your community, when you think about it. Millions of people have helped make five percent of their incomes and five hours of volunteer time per week the standard of giving in America. Get involved with the causes you care about and give five.

Give Five. What you get back is immeasurable.

Frogs optimistic about new season

Skilled veterans and transfer recruits make up roster, have coach optimistic

By Paul Corliss
SKIFF STAFF

With four returning starters and three highly-touted newcomers, the TCU men's basketball team looks to improve on last year's 15-15 mark as the Horned Frogs move into the Western Athletic Conference for the 1996-97 season.

Head coach Billy Tubbs said his third team at TCU has set its sights on an NCAA Tournament bid, a real challenge but an achievable goal according to the coach.

The challenge comes in the form of a schedule that includes home games against national powers Purdue University, Texas Tech University, the University of Nevada-Las Vegas, the University of Utah and New Mexico University. The Frogs also participate in the Big Island Invitational at Hilo, Hawaii, where the field includes the University of Illinois and the University of Louisville.

Four of this season's contests will be televised nationally, including TCU's Jan. 6 match against UNLV that opens WAC play in the late-night portion of ESPN's "Big Monday."

Competition in the WAC should be much stiffer for the Frogs than it was in the Southwest Conference. Many prognosticators have put Utah and New Mexico among the nation's top 10 teams, and Fresno State University is ranked in numerous Top 25s.

Tubbs said he believes the Frogs are capable of winning any of the games on their schedule, especially those at Daniel-Meyer Coliseum, where TCU has posted a 22-5 record in Tubbs' first two seasons.

"We're supposed to win at home," Tubbs said. "I like our arena because its not acoustically sound, which makes it loud and imposing for the opposition."

Tubbs said he expects certain players to emerge as stars who can excite the crowd and lead TCU to some big wins.

Four starters return from a year ago, including center Damion Walker, forward James Penny and guards Jeff Jacobs and Anthony Burks.

Walker put up the most impressive numbers of the returnees last season. The sophomore from Dallas started 27 games last season and was second in freshman scoring to Shareef Abdur Raheem of the University of California, who was the second overall pick in the National Basketball Association draft. Though undersized for a center at 6'7", Walker was named SWC newcomer of the year and was named to several national all-freshman teams.

Penny, an outstanding leaper who led TCU with 63 blocked shots last season, will join Walker in the frontcourt. Penny averaged 11.1 points per game last season and led the Frogs in three-point shooting, hitting 33 of 91 attempts (36.3 percent).

A talented trio of junior transfers bolster the Horned Frog backcourt, which returns both its starters, Jacobs and Burks, who averaged a combined 20.3 points and 9.1 assists per game.

Prince Fowler, a Parade all-America selection at Las Vegas Western High School, redshirted last year after transferring from the University of Oklahoma. As head coach at OU, Tubbs recruited Fowler, and Fowler started at point guard as a freshman for the Sooners in their 1994-95 campaign.

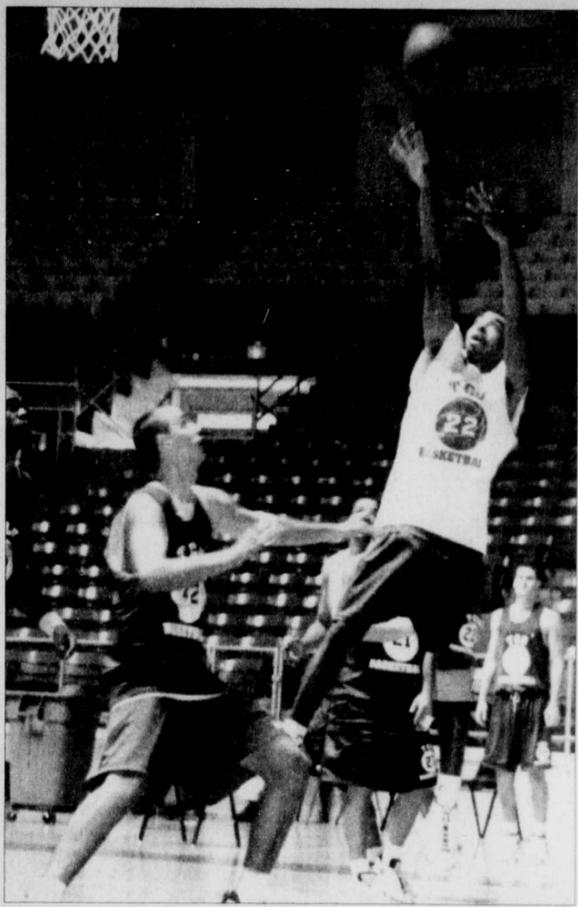

Junior-college transfers Malcolm Johnson and Mike Jones add athleticism and scoring ability to the TCU lineup, says Tubbs. Johnson averaged 24.0 points and 7.1 rebounds per game for Seminole Junior College in Oklahoma. Jones averaged 22.2 points and 8.1 rebounds at Northeastern Oklahoma A&M.

"Our new players bring a winning attitude to TCU," Tubbs said. "They add quickness, shooting ability and jumping ability that should improve our defense, perimeter rebounding and three-point shooting immensely."

Senior Saipele Tualii, junior Dennis Davis, sophomore Luke Allan and freshmen Patrick Batteaux, Scott Barrett and Drew Peterson round out the Horned Frog roster.

Tubbs said TCU's biggest weakness is the lack of a big body to keep Walker from having to play center full-time.

"It'll be difficult to match up against teams like Utah and BYU who have front-line players at 6'8", 6'9" and 6'10", he said. "We'll try to compensate for our lack of height with our up-tempo play style."

Ernie Moran SKIFF STAFF

TCU junior forward James Penny goes up for a jumper against red-shirt freshman forward Patrick Batteaux during men's basketball practice Monday. Penny, one of four returning starters from last year's 15-15 squad, led the team in blocks (63) and 3-point percentage (36.3) and averaged 11.1 points per game.

Jacobs agreed with Tubbs. He said the Frogs will really try to push the ball upcourt and take advantage of their speed.

"We're a really deep team, which enables us to run without everyone getting tired," he said. "Everyone on this team is capable of playing 20 minutes a game."

TCU opens its exhibition season Wednesday night against the Conoco Oilers. The Frogs begin regular season play Nov. 23 against McNeese State University.

"I've seen things happen in practice this season that haven't ever happened at TCU," Tubbs said. "There's no reason we shouldn't execute these big-time dunks, three-pointers and spectacular play in games."

NBA player Robertson gets jail time

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Former NBA All-Star Alvin Robertson was ordered Monday to serve six months in jail for a burglary conviction.

Robertson was convicted in October of burglarizing the apartment of ex-girlfriend Sharon Raeford. Jurors decided he should be placed on 10 years' probation and fined $10,000.

On Monday, during a court appearance to set terms of probation, state District Judge Raymond Angelini ordered the 34-year-old player to serve six months in the Bexar County Jail.

The judge also ordered Robertson to do 500 hours of community service and to pay $27,000 in restitution.

Eddie Garcia, Robertson's attorney, filed notice that he would appeal the ruling, which could get Robertson released on bond. Robertson has said he hoped to be back with an NBA team this season. Robertson played five seasons with the Spurs and played last season with the Toronto Raptors.

Mason pleads guilty to disorderly conduct

NEW YORK (AP) —

Former New York Knicks forward Anthony Mason was fined $250 and sentenced to 120 hours of community service after pleading guilty Monday to disorderly conduct in connection with a scuffle with police.

Mason was arrested July 24 in Times Square after a scuffle with about 10 police officers during a dispute over a parking ticket.

The 6-foot-7, 250-pound Mason, now with the Charlotte Hornets, was charged with three counts of second-degree assault, a felony punishable by up to seven years in prison, and misdemeanor charges of menacing, disorderly conduct and resisting arrest.

He later apologized to police.

Manhattan Criminal Court Judge Dora Irizarry imposed the sentence after prosecutors recommended dismissal of all but a disorderly conduct charge that Mason's lawyer, Frank Rothman, said is a violation, not a crime.

"Basically, he pleaded guilty to yelling (at the cops)," Rothman said. The lawyer said it has not been decided what Mason would do for community service.

Mason had no comment on the case.

Dexter Manley paroled from Texas prison

HUNTSVILLE (AP) —

Dexter Manley walked out of prison Monday and hopped into a black Mercedes, freed on parole after serving nearly 15 months of a four-year term for cocaine possession.

"I'm OK," the former Washington Redskins star said after heading down a stairway outside the Walls Unit of the Texas Department of Criminal Justice and hugging his girlfriend. "It's been a soul searching. The only thing I can say is don't judge me by what I say, judge me by my actions."

Manley won parole for good behavior. He had pleaded guilty to two counts of cocaine possession after repeated suspensions from football and arrests for illegal drug use. His last arrest, in 1995 in his native Houston, got him tossed behind bars.

Among conditions of his parole is substance abuse treatment, frequent contact with his parole officer, urinalysis to detect drug use, a ban on alcohol and attendance at support group meetings. Violation of the terms would send him back to prison.

Manley has said he'd like to become a lobbyist for anti-drug causes.

Manley anchored a Redskins defensive line that won two Super Bowl titles in the 1980s. During an 11-year career cut short by illegal drug use, he had 97 sacks, fourth on the all-time NFL list. He was nominated recently for a spot in the NFL Hall of Fame.

Weekend losses drop VolleyFrogs to 4-23

Home defeats to New Mexico, Texas-El Paso leave team 1-10 in conference play

By Meredith Webb
SKIFF STAFF

With a two-game homestand last weekend, the TCU volleyball team hoped to start this week with numbers added to the victory column. That did not happen.

The VolleyFrogs lost to the University of New Mexico Friday and the University of Texas-El Paso Saturday in a pair of Western Athletic Conference matches in the Rickel Building. The defeats dropped the team's record to 4-23 overall, 1-10 in the WAC.

"We played harder and more aggressive," head coach Sandy Trout said. "We are improving."

In Friday's match, the VolleyFrogs faced the Lobos and their No. 2-ranked defense in the nation. In front of 263 spectators, New Mexico prevailed, 15-8, 15-5, 15-1.

"We try to force errors in other people's defense," Trout said. "Against New Mexico that is tough. We forced sideouts and did everything we could."

Not only did the VolleyFrogs suffer a loss, but right before the game, freshman Kate Zora quit the team. Trout said Zora cited personal reasons for leaving.

"I was concerned with her timing, but if anything it boosted the team," Trout said. "I was trying to help her work through an issue and she decided to leave. We feel bad for Kate, but we are on to (Brigham Young University) the VolleyFrogs' next match."

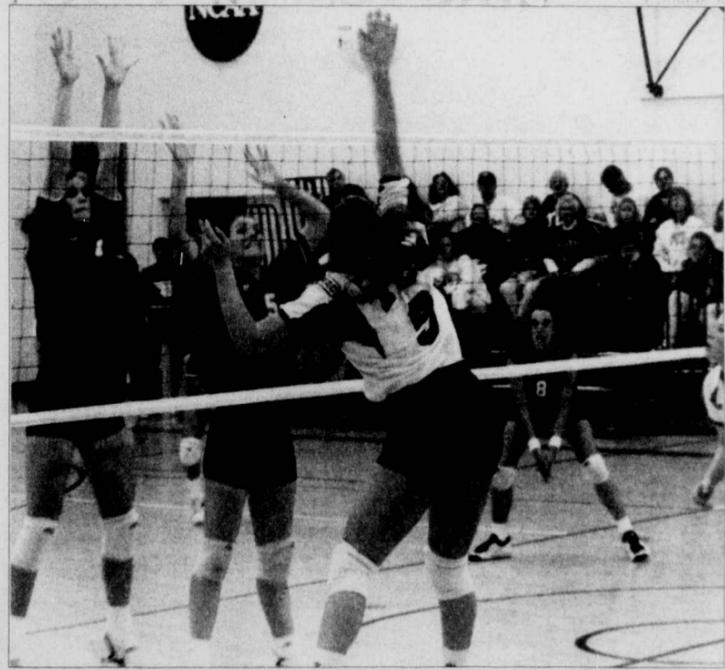

Thus on Saturday, the VolleyFrogs walked onto the court one player short, in front of 375 fans, and still hungry for a win. They hoped that win would come against the 17-6 University of Texas-El Paso.

After dropping the first game, 15-8, the VolleyFrogs were one point away from tying the match.

"We were upset that we did not win the second game," Trout said. "We had a serve when it was 14-13 for the game and we could not put it away."

UTEP went on to win that game, 17-15, and closed out the match with a 15-11 win in the third game.

The VolleyFrogs will prepare to face BYU in Provo, Utah, Friday. They then travel to Salt Lake City on Saturday, where they will take the court against the University of Utah.

Patricia Crooker SKIFF STAFF

TCU freshman Saylor Goforth (9) goes up for a kill during the Lady Frogs' loss Friday to the University of New Mexico in the Rickel Building. The Lady Frogs dropped to 4-21, 1-10 in the Western Athletic Conference.

ANALYSIS

From Page 8

to move the ball through the air, so the play begged the question: How could a TCU defensive back allow a receiver to catch a pass in Fort Worth when the receiver is still in Las Vegas?

The offense found itself playing the customary catch-up role, but until the first snap the public didn't know which quarterback would engineer this week's comeback train. Head coach Pat Sullivan said that both Jeff Dover and Fred Taylor would receive playing time this week, but how much would depend on their ability to execute the offense at the given time.

Dover was selected to be the first conductor. In fact, Dover saw action in all but two series. Dover justified Sullivan's confidence by having a solid all-around game (15-20, 151 yards, 1 rushing TD, 1 passing TD). More importantly, he made no costly mistakes, so why did Sullivan even bother with a rotation?

When Taylor did get his chances, he was pulled after one series each time. The situation was made more uncomfortable because Taylor was made to look like a scapegoat for tailback Basil Mitchell's fumbles, but Taylor was clearly not at fault.

Dover was helped by a ground attack that couldn't be stopped. The Frogs' rushing attack, which had steadily improved in recent weeks, reached its pinnacle against the Rebels by gaining 318 yards.

Despite a solid performance from Dover and 127 rushing yards in the first half, TCU found itself trailing lowly UNLV 14-13 at halftime, and infamy was just one half away.

It could have been worse for the Frogs because the Rebels had a 49-yard touchdown called back after quarterback Jon Denton was called for an illegal forward pass.

The fortuitous call seemed to wake up the Frogs. The Frogs scored a touchdown to open the second half and finally took the lead for the first time. TCU continued its dominance on the ground throughout the third period. The tailback duo of redshirt freshman John Williams (111 yards, 2 TDs) and sophomore Basil Mitchell (151 yards) became TCU's first 100-yard rushers of the season and the first pair of Frogs to do it in a single game since 1987.

The offense played up to the capability of the Rebel defense, totaling a season-high 506 yards of offense.

TCU had a comfortable 42-21 lead with five minutes left to play, and the announced crowd of 27,047 began heading for the exits. The predicted 20-point margin actually looked attainable. But since when could a TCU player or fan take anything for granted, even against UNLV?

The few thousand spectators that remained knew that the Frogs had to play 60 minutes instead of 55. After a UNLV touchdown, TCU looked to run out the clock by running through the tackles, but UNLV recovered a TCU fumble and advanced to the Frog 10-yard line.

The TCU defense held for the first three plays, but blew a coverage on fourth and 10, allowing the Rebels to cut the lead to eight points. A victory would have been secured, but these are the Frogs and nothing is easy.

The Rebels got the ball back after Michael Reeder failed a 35-yard field goal attempt with less than a minute remaining. After Denton completed a 43-yard pass, the game ended with UNLV at the TCU 9-yard line.

It was a win, but in typical TCU fashion, nothing was easy.

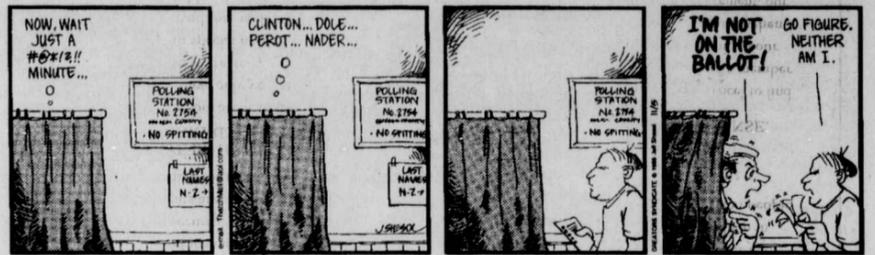

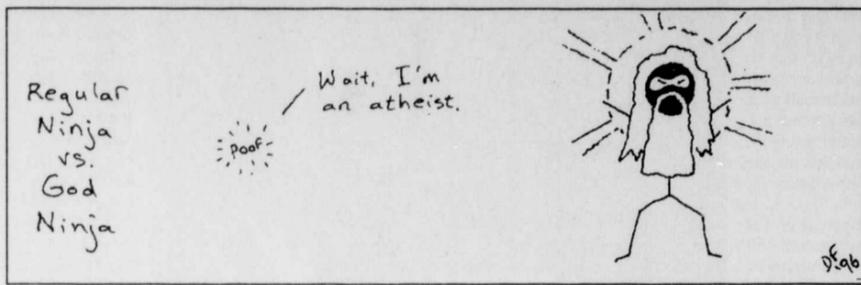

Patricia Crooker SKIFF STAFF

TCU junior flanker Jason Tucker, after beating the Rebel secondary for a catch, runs for the winning touchdown during the Frogs' 42-34 victory over Nevada-Las Vegas. Tucker caught seven passes for 114 yards to lead all players on both teams.

Ninja Verses

by Don Frederic THATCH

by Jeff Shesol

RUBES™

By Leigh Rubin

"I can't believe it ... here we are, living in eternal paradise, and all you can do is complain that the mattress is too soft!"

Purple Poll

Q. WHO ARE YOU VOTING FOR?

A.

DOLE	CLINTON	PEROT
49	27	5
OTHER	NOT VOTING
4	15

Data collected from an informal poll conducted in TCU's Main Cafeteria. This poll is not a scientific sampling and should not be regarded as representative of campus public opinion.

Cool Site of the Day

WWW.NANDO.NET/TOY\_S/CYRANO.HTML

THE CYRANO SERVER

Want to tell your love how you feel but fear your composition skills are stuck in second grade? Let Cyrano write a letter for you. Just choose what type of letter you want and fill in the blanks.

Answers to Last Issue's Puzzle

SUGARED GUARDED
CREMONA ASTORIA
AGEONLY MATTERS
RERUN SMUG WET
NIP ITEMS
TATTERED SOUNDS
ADA OLDS ALEUT
BILLY ALA BURKE
LOUIE NERF VIET
ASSETT MARRIEDS
SINCE VAN
DAN AONE CHAPS
IFYOURE ACHEESE
ERECTED THEROSE
TOTTERS SILENTS

Newsday Crossword

RIPE QUIP by Dean Niles
Edited by Stanley Newman

ACROSS

1 Like some cereals
8 Like Fort Knox
15 Italian town
16 Oregon city
17 START OF A QUIP
18 PART 2 OF QUIP
19 Summer staple
20 Complacent
22 Soaking
23 Piffer
25 Gossip-column tidbits
28 The worse for wear
32 Bodies of water
36 Sooner city
37 GM car
39 Alaskan tongue
40 Kid's father
43 In the style of 44 Peerage expert
45 Nephew of Donald 46 Squishy orb
48 Check for accuracy
49 They're going for you
51 Some couples
54 After then
56 Can Cook (PBS show)
57 Mr. Marino
60 Top of the heap
62 Cowboy's attire
66 PART 3 OF QUIP

DOWN

1 Simba's uncle
2 Hankering
3 Will of The Waltons
4 Sum total
5 Nancy's hubby
6 Photog. instruction
7 Shift for some
8 A to Z, e.g.
9 Customary ways
10 ABA member
11 Baloney
12 Limned

69 END OF QUIP
71 Put up
72 Midler movie
73 Reels about
74 Griffith films

13 Word on Irish coins
14 Dare, old-style
21 Go-betweens
24 Jordan, e.g.
26 Jordan, once
27 Enterprise navigator
28 Indian drum
29 Southwestern farewell
30 Anklebone
31 Zest
33 Chutzpah
34 ...it out (came to blows)
35 Marks to retain
38 Eleanor's mother-in-law
41 "Here Love" (Crosby tune)
42 Abominable one

47 One way to cook
50 Grabby type
52 Author Carson
53 Belong by nature
55 Some students
57 Food plan
58 Continental prefix
59 Dacha denial
61 Gobbles up
63 Geological time
64 "Hey, you!"
65 Calls a bet
67 Columbus Day mo.
68 Colorado Indian
70 X

CREATORS SYNDICATE ©1996 STANLEY NEWMAN

HAROLD'S ANNIVERSARY SALE

It's time to celebrate another great year! And to show our appreciation, we've reduced prices 20, 30, 40, and even 50% off on big groups of your favorite fall & winter clothing, shoes and accessories. So hurry in today to find bargains like these...

Ladies'

Short & Long Print Skirts
up to half off Values to $118!

Select Ladies' Fall Blouses
up to 40% off Values to $98!

Special Group of Seasonal Dresses
up to 40% off Originally to $168!

Print & Solid Fall/Winter Pants
up to half off Originally to $135!

Ladies' Seasonal Italian Footwear
up to 40% off Values to $138!

Ladies' Genuine Italian Handbags
up to 40% off Originally to $188!

Ladies' Seasonal Cotton Sweaters
up to half off Values to $168!

Men's

Select OSCC Varsity Rugbys
just $39.90 Values to $65.00!

Select OSCC Sportshirts
$39.90 Orig. $49.50 to $59.50!

Select Fleece Cricket V-Necks
only $49.90 Values to $69.50!

Seasonal Chunky Pique Knits
now $39.90 Values to $59.50!

All OSCC Twill Trousers
now $39.90 Orig. to $49.50!

OSCC 5-Pocket Blue Jeans
now $39.90 Orig. to $49.50!

Entire Selection of Socks/Boxers
20% off Originally $5 to $22.50!

Special Group of Silk Ties
half off Values up to $69.50!

Bespoke Pinpoint Oxfords
$39.90 ea. or 3/$109.90!

Special Group of Men's Shoes
up to 40% off Values to $125!

Camel Hair Sportcoats
now $50 off Values up to $395!

Select Fall Cotton Sweaters
$49.90-$69.90 Values to $90!

Select Ottoman Ribbed Rugbys
now $39.90 Values to $59.50!

HAROLD'S

University Park Village, Fort Worth

PRINCIPLES of SOUND RETIREMENT INVESTING

EVERYONE WILL GIVE YOU THEIR TWO CENTS WORTH, BUT WILL THAT BE ENOUGH TO RETIRE ON?

Today there seems to be an investment expert or financial advisor almost everywhere you turn. But just how qualified are all these experts?

Peace of mind about your future comes from solid planning. From investments and services designed and managed with your needs and retirement security specifically in mind. The kind of investments and services TIAA-CREF has been providing for more than 75 years.

WE'LL HELP YOU BUILD A REWARDING RETIREMENT.

Our counselors are trained retirement professionals who have only you and your future in mind. So you're treated as the unique person you are, with special needs and concerns about retirement. And that makes for an understanding, comfortable relationship.

With TIAA-CREF you have plenty of choice and flexibility in building your retirement nest egg - from TIAA's guaranteed traditional annuity to the investment opportunities of CREF's seven variable annuity accounts. And we're nonprofit, so our expense charges are among the lowest in the insurance and mutual fund industries. That means more of your money is where it should be - working for you.

TIAA-CREF is now the largest private pension system in the world, based on assets under management - managing more than $150 billion in assets for more than one and a half million people throughout the nation.

TIAA-CREF: THE CHOICE THAT MAKES SENSE.

It's tough to wade through all the "advice" to find a reliable pension plan provider. But as a member of the education and research community, your best choice is simple: TIAA-CREF. Because when it comes to helping you prepare for retirement, our annuities will add up to more than spare change.

For more information about how TIAA-CREF can help you prepare for the future, call our Enrollment Hotline at 1 800 842-2888.

Ensuring the future for those who shape it.™

*Standard & Poor's Insurance Rating Analysis, 1995; Lippe Analytical Services, Inc., Lippe-Directors' Analytical Data, 1995 (Quarterly). CREF certificates are Actuarially by TIAA-CREF Individual and Institutional Services.