SCHMIDT'S SELECTION PLEASES

AS WE SEE THINGS

By RAYMOND H. COPELAND. DURING the football season we get to hear our band pretty regular, but after football and basketball seasons have passed, we don't get to hear the boys play as often as we would like.

I KNOW why they satisfy. Last Sunday I went down to the band shack to hear the fellows practice. The first thing I noticed was that every fellow was conscientious in his practice.

WHEN I went down to listen in, I wasn't figuring on staying long, but somehow, I stayed longer than I had intended.

His movements are directed to go into the tune, and they fairly fly all over the band, like radio waves flying from a broadcasting station.

AS THE time approaches for the band appearance at the Stock Show, the fellows became more interested in their work, and the band becomes a real band.

DOWN there the other day they were practicing on a piece called "Watch the Baton." It was a pretty stiff number, but after several tries, Professor Sammis finally found the correct and most effective interpretation.

I GUESS some of the fellows will think that this is a bit of ballroom for the band, and if they want to think so, it is. The band is a pretty good salesman, though, and any time folks doubt that they can be sold, they just better step out to watch the fellows practice.

You are quite welcome, fellows.

Pageant Princess To Be Selected By Student Body

9 Candidates in Race for Honor in Annual Fete.

MAY 11 IS DATE SET

Grecian Theme to Be Used in This Year's Production. With Special Costumes.

The princess for the 1929 pageant of the physical education department will be chosen by the student body this week. Representatives from the gymnasium classes chosen last week will be voted upon by the freshman and sophomores today, and the juniors and seniors Friday.

The girl receiving the highest number of votes will be princess, and the six receiving the next highest number will be maids to the princess. Miss Pauline Richardson of Dallas was princess of last year's Indian pageant.

The date of this year's fete is set for May 11 on the Saturday before Mothers' Day, and will be given in honor of the visiting Mothers who will be in T. C. U. for the annual Mothers' Day program.

Sternberg Prize to Former T. C. U. Man

Francis E. Council, '21, Biology Student, Is Honored at Washington.

Dr. Francis E. Council, who received his Bachelor of Science degree from Texas Christian University with the class of 1921, has just been awarded the Sternberg Medal in the United States Army Post-Graduate Medical School at Washington, according to word received by W. M. Minton, professor of biology and geology at T. C. U.

This medal is given for the best student in the laboratory sciences and preventive medicine in each special session. Dr. Council is a lieutenant in the regular army medical corps, and so far as known, this is the first time the Sternberg prize has ever been given to a lieutenant, though it is open to officers of all ranks.

Upon his graduation from Vanderbilt, Dr. Council was commissioned in the army medical corps and spent two years at the Fitzsimmons General Hospital in Denver, Colo. During the past year he has been an attendant with several hundred other regular and reserve medical officers in the Army Medical Post-Graduate Medical School, where he is being trained as a specialist in proto-zoology.

Ollie Mae Cook and Ione Way Delegates

Will Represent T. C. U. at Meeting of Scholarship Societies of the South.

Misses Ollie Mae Cook and Ione Way have been selected as delegates from the Texas Christian University Scholarship Society to the annual convention of the Scholarship Societies of the South, of which T. C. U. is a member chapter, according to an announcement by Miss Mary Magee, president.

The convention meets in Denton with North Texas State Teachers' College on Feb. 22 and 23. Feb. 22, 1922 is the date of the founding of the Texas Scholarship Society, which has since been enlarged to include colleges and universities of the southern states.

Dr. John Lord, chairman of the honor committee of T. C. U., and faculty sponsor of the University Scholarship Society will attend the convention as faculty representative.

"Are We Ready for the Truth?" Asks Leftwich

Discusses Student Body Problems in Junior-Senior Chapel Talk.

"Mr. Dees told me the reason why we lost that Texas football game when he showed me the thirty bottles, representing bad booze and bad spirit, that were left behind the stands after the game," said Dean L. L. Leftwich, in his talk, "Are We Ready for the Truth?" in Junior Senior chapel, Friday.

"The camouflaging and cheating that go on here in exams must be faced. When are you upperclassmen going to put up your little red wagons and grow up?" When I was a child, I thought and acted as a child, but when I became a junior and a senior, I put away childish things.

Dean Leftwich then read the letter from Captain Miles Standish, which was published in last week's Skiff and was a protest against a correction of the captain's holding the hand of a young lady in a car. The dean commented upon the incorrect English in the letter and expressed the opinion that "Captain Miles Standish does not deserve to be in the army of the Pilgrim Fathers.

"Morale is always at low ebb just after final exams and before the next term has begun in earnest. The fact that T. C. U. is still without a coach for next year also accounts for a break in morale.

"Smoking has returned in all its glory. So has spring fever and a yearning toward a job at Monogomery-Ward's. Also sleeping and chewing gum in classes," he continued. "Some of the young women students, so clever and above reproach, are doing what they consider the daring thing, never dreaming that the faculty knows all about it. The popular attitude is that there is nothing to be done. 'It was much worse when I was a Freshman,' and besides why doesn't the president or the dean do something about it?"

"The president has neither the time nor the technique. His hands are tied as long as the students maintain their high-school standards and refuse to co-operate and care.

"I believe in self-government. If you're willing the road's open, and remember that you will be helping us, yourselves, but most of all, the school."

Dean Leftwich was introduced by Stewart Hellman, president of the junior class, which sponsored the program.

Chapel was opened by singing "Onward, Christian Soldiers," which was directed by Annabel Hall. President E. M. Waits then led the student body Annabel Hall sang a song, "Pale and Thompson Shannon played one Hands," after Dean Leftwich's speech number on the piano.

After chapel there was a meeting of the student body, conducted by the president, Weir McDiarmid, in which it was decided that some token or gift should be presented to Coaches Matty Bell and Edwin Kubale before they leave T. C. U.

New Coach Wins Praise From Both Faculty, Students

Record at Arkansas Imposing One, With 3 Championships.

FUTURE LOOKS BRIGHT

Matty Says School Is Getting One of Best Men in Conference.

By WADE HAWKINS.

The acquisition of Francis Schmidt as head coach of football and basketball, brings to T. C. U. a man with an enviable record behind him, as well as a bright future before him.

The signing of the Arkansas mentor came as a surprise to some, but it was known "on the inside" that Schmidt was being seriously considered. In fact, Schmidt and McMillian are the only two men that have been really seriously considered.

Schmidt is a man of versatile character, the possessor of a winning personality and a person with the ability to coach. His coaching record behind him proves the last mentioned quality. Since he went to Arkansas in 1922 he has won three out of five championships in basketball, and it looks as though he is going to win another in 1929. In football he has always had a team that was feared by the teams that played Arkansas.

The following is how some of the students feel about it: Bob Alexander: "Schmidt's coming meets my approval thoroughly. I think he is a good coach and I am glad to see him come to T. C. U. Wish I could come back next year and play under him."

Horace Baccus: "I think that he is the best coach in the Southwest Conference."

Bud Norman: "I think he is a good coach."

Ed Sain: "I think he is o. k."

"Football" Moore: "I am very well pleased and am looking forward to being on the football squad under Schmidt this fall."

Harlos Green: "I am glad that Schmidt is coming."

Phyllis Pope: "I think that our new coach is as good as any conference coach."

Warren Day: "I am very highly satisfied with Schmidt."

Pauline Barnes: "I feel sure that all Pep Squad girls are highly pleased and will be glad to stay behind the new coach's teams as they have stayed behind the teams of the past."

Howard Griggs: "It suits me all right, and I can't see why he won't make us a good coach."

Capt. Lester Brumblow: "I am for him, and I think T. C. U. is mighty lucky in pulling him away from Arkansas."

Lloyd Gipson: "I believe that he is the best coach in the Southwest Conference."

Will Name New Board Member

Trustees to Meet In Annual Session Thursday.

A new board member, to fill the vacancy made by the recent death of chosen when the Board of Trustees Breckenridge S. Walker, will be of Texas Christian University holds its annual meeting at the University, Thursday, according to President E. M. Waits, of T. C. U.

"We are expecting a coming together of the entire board for this annual meeting," said President Waits. "The University budget will be planned and teachers for the coming school year selected."

Van Zandt Jarvis is president of the board, H. W. Stark of Gainesville is vice-president; Butler S. Smiser, business manager of T. C. U., secretary-treasurer, and R. M. Roland, attorney.

Vess Taylor To Direct

Will Lead Recently-Organized Jarvis Hall Girls' Orchestra.

Vess Taylor was recently elected director of the Jarvis Hall Orchestra which was organized a short time ago. Miss Edna Ladd, Vernon, is president; Marjorie Scott, Ennis, business manager, and Frances Veale, Breckenridge, advertising manager.

Other members of the orchestra are Hester Level, Marjorie Miller, Nina Booth, Helen Powell, Ruth Baber and Marvoline Bowe. The purpose of Jarvis Orchestra is to assist in entertainments in Jarvis Hall.

Favors Lindsey's Plan

New Student Gives View on Companionate Marriage.

"I consider companionate marriage one of the greatest things in life," says Sylvia Richman, Denver, Colo., who entered school here at the end of the fall semester.

Miss Richman worked with Judge Ben Lindsey for four months, during which time he expressed his three outstanding points concerning companionate marriage. "Young people should know life before marriage," said Judge Lindsey, according to Miss Richman. She also expressed the other two points of Judge Lindsey which were that young couples, whether legally or companionately married, should not bring children into the home until they are sure of creating happiness. Third, if they find that they cannot create a happy home, the matter should be decided for them by one who has studied such problems, and by one who is acquainted with life.

Chapel Seats To Be the Same

EVERY student who was in school for the fall semester is assigned to the same seat for the spring semester, according to Edward D. Hamner, who has charge of chapel seating arrangements. Absences are now being counted against those who are not attending and announcements have been made to this effect and notice is on the bulletin board, according to Hamner. Also all permanent excuses for the fall semester have expired and must be renewed for the spring semester or seats will be assigned, he said.

Personnel Work Given In Course

Preparation for Leadership Offered in New Class.

All of the house mothers in the various dormitories at T. C. U., and eight students, including several of the dormitory monitors, are enrolled in a new course just inaugurated at T. C. U. called "Personnel Psychology," which is taught by L. L. Leftwich, T. C. U.'s dean of men.

"The course is an attempt to study the principles involved in personnel work in higher education," says Dean Leftwich, "and is chiefly to train juniors and seniors for definite conferencing and advisory work of great value to those desiring to go into administrative work in high schools or hold official positions in the industrial world."

"The course this year is naturally somewhat of an experiment, but if it proves to be a success we will offer it in the spring of each year. However, it must be limited to a small seminar group."

Dean Leftwich said that the course might be the beginning of a personnel department offering as much as a minor of specialization for students of high leadership ability and superior academic standing. Credit on an A. B. degree is given for the course which is an attempt to work out a technique of social control as applied to handling people. Although it is a practical course, it is thoroughly scientific, according to Dean Leftwich. Those who are taking the course in addition to those matrons of the University who are only visiting the class, are: Misses Sara Beth Boggess, Lillian Preston and Lamar Griffin; Wade Hawkins, Elmer Davis, Clyde McDonnell, Edwin Compton and Sterling Brown.

To Attend Optometry School Fred Pray, Beaumont, will leave T. C. U. after this semester to attend an optometry school in Philadelphia.

Is it a fact that the student body of T. C. U. is so childish that it cannot be trusted to use those things which would benefit it, or is it a fact that the students are still too young to handle them. If not, what is the reason why T. C. U. cannot be as other schools are in their student body organizations?

It isn't the fault of the administration. Just because students became so childish that they could no longer be responsible for their acts, and it was necessary to destroy the honor system, doesn't mean that this present students generation has to carry the faults of former generations. Does this student generation feel satisfied to inherit the faults of past generations, and carry those same faults forward?

In the name of self-respect, in the name of honor, in the name of the school, or in the name of past generations of student organizations, this present student group should feel it their duty to show the old students that they are not content to stand by and not try to improve the organization of the students.

The Senior class of T. C. U. should consider itself shamed if it doesn't leave a better organized student body system behind than it has contented itself within the past. When the class of '29 came to T. C. U. it found the honor system just going out. Since the removal of that system, no well organized system has come to take its place. The Senior class has done much for itself and for the honor of the school; but it hasn't done anything until it lends itself to the reorganizing of the present student body organization.

As for the Sophomore and the Freshman group not so much should be expected. They are young on the campus, and have time enough to develop into a well organized student body if they have a well organized system to follow when they become of age.

We can say that such and such condition exists and that nothing can be done about it, and let it go at that, but we can't follow that kind of philosophy and build an organized student body that will show records that we will be proud of.

SOME students will laugh, grin, and act indifferent, or not care at all; others will talk a little, and do nothing, but most of them will not even think about it. If there are ten students in T. C. U. who think enough to even write what they do think about the situation, they have never been heard from. If they should write, they'd be afraid to sign their names to what they wrote.

THE OPEN FORUM

The expressions of opinion published in this department are those of individuals. They do not speak the opinion or editorial policy of The Skiff. The Open Forum is conducted to provide a free outlet for student opinion on any subject of general interest. The Skiff does not necessarily believe in any argument that is advanced here, but it does believe in the individual's right to advance that argument.

Matter intended for publication must be signed by the writer's name. This is not necessarily to be printed, but is required as an evidence of good faith. When printed, the communication may be signed by a nom de plume. Communications of a libelous or scurrilous nature will not be published. The editor can not guarantee publication of more than a in the individual's right to advance that argument.

Editor of the Skiff:

Following your editorial of last issue relative to a student organization for the advancement of mutual understanding of both faculty and students, may I suggest that since the Faculty and Administrative officers of the university are heartily in accord with the proposed student representation as would be found in an organization as a "Student Senate," the task that lies immediately before us is the creation within the students a sentiment and accord for such a student group as would make your proposed system a success.

The task before us is not a class problem or project, but a goal for co-operative effort on the part of every individual within the University.

This is not an opportune time for the suggestion of any "successful system" of student representation. However, I should think that an student "Council" should have behind it that "consent of the governed" which would make its rulings upon any case of such importance that it could not be easily disregarded by either the student, or committee, concerned.

The success or failure of your proposal rests within the Student Body may I pledge the earnest support of the class of 1929 to the serious consideration of any suggested plan which will lead to the advancement of Texas Christian University.

Very sincerely,
FRED ERISMAN,
President Class of 1929.

Editor Skiff:

There appeared in The Skiff recently an editorial which criticized rather severely student organization in T. C. U. There are a few points on which I would like to take issue with the writer of this article.

In speaking of the officers of the Student Body there was this statement: "Their work is simple, first they get elected, then justly hold the honors, and when their terms are over they help elect new officers." I doubt if one could point to any one of the past ten presidents of the Student Body and say with truth that they merely "held the honors." Let us consider for example a few of the problems facing last year's Student Body President: Freshman organization week, Freshman prom, pep meetings, teaching yells to the new students, the song contest, election of Student Prince, intramural athletics, rush day, etc. Just listing these does not seem formidable at all, but when one realizes the immense amount of detail connected with each of these, all the little arrangements and trifles,—well it turns out to be much more complicated. Now if a student president carried out all these as he should, he would have quite a job on his hands. This list was made, however, without any information from last year's officers; perhaps if they could answer they would know of numerous other things which they faced last year.

This is far from the worst part of it, though. The average student does not imagine the numerous small things which have to be taken up and settled by the Student Body President, committee meetings, organization work, faculty conferences, conferences with Fort Worth business men, etc. If a definite list could be made it would be startling in its revelation. Add to this the normal work of the senior year, time spent in working to get through college (which most presidents have done) an interest in other activities (the Student Body President is supposed to be a leader in student life) and you have enough to entertain anyone.

One might judge from the above that the president of the Student Body is the most over-worked person in school. This is far from the truth

Twelve Goldfish Serve as Pets Of Jarvis Girls

Goldfish seem to be the favorite pets for the Jarvis Hall girls at T. C. U. There are twelve gold fish, all shapes, sizes, and shades to be found in Jarvis.

Some of the girls named their pets after their favorite characters in old English poetry, such as Beowulf, Grendel and Widsith. Others choose names of great philosophers, as Socrates and Plato. Two of the girls even named their gold fish for two of their boy friends.

"Their Christian names are Bill and Scott," said one of the girls on second floor in Jarvis. "We use these names on Sunday, but since the exams we named them after our two favorite courses, English and French. We call them Bust and Flunk."

Bryson Contest Judge Named

Mrs. J. W. Ritchey of Cincinnati, Ohio, will serve as one of the judges of the Walter E. Bryson Poetry Contest, according to Mrs. W. E. Bryson. Mrs. Ritchey, who is a sister of Prof. E. W. McDiarmid of T. C. U., is herself a poet, some of her work appearing in the Oxford Book of American Verse. Mrs. Ritchey is a member of the McDowell Artist Colony of New Hampshire and is at present secretary of the organization.

Edwin Stuart Reads Paper

"Food Preservation" was the subject of an original paper read by Edwin Stuart at the meeting of the Biology Society Jan. 24. Stuart is a junior in T. C. U., majoring in biology. Last year he was a member of the band and orchestra and again belongs to the band.

he is usually the one in school who has the most time to spare. Nevertheless if he carries out his assignment, he will have done a pretty good piece of work. After all he is merely the head of the Student Body, merely its spokesman. He is always willing to hear advice and suggestions, and constructive advice such as the editorial spoken of is always appreciated.

WEIR McDIARMID.

Editor of the Skiff:

Complying with what the writer thought to be an editorial request for comment on the present status of our Student Body organization and suggestions for revision, he gladly submits the following opinion:

First of all, with all due apologies to the Skiff, the situation must be unbearable to some, and there must have been some talk concerning a change, for the problem to warrant a leading editorial such as appeared in last week's issue. And if such is the case then a thorough investigation is needed. Generally speaking, the majority of the present Student Body have never had any experience with Student Self Government in college. A plan that failed miserably in T. C. U. Before any definite action is taken to form a Student Council, as the editorial suggests, let the Student Body be educated thoroughly to the proposed change which does not fulfill their expectations. Make the reason of its establishment so well known that it will carry the complete confidence of the Student Body in any of its undertakings.

As we all know, the reigns of government in T. C. U. are handled by the Administration. Any movement to establish Student Self Government in any form will only meet with a frown of disapproval from the Administration. It is the writer's suggestion that the Administration be duly informed that the present movement is not of that nature.

As to the exact nature of such a Student Council, the writer would suggest a representative council, with all members elected to the council by the various classes for one year. Strict attention should be paid to the quality of such membership. One of T. C. U.'s greatest faults is in the selection of popular students, rather than worthy and efficient students, for responsible positions.

The duties of this council will be entirely advisory. Some would consider this a fatal weakness of the proposed plan. Contrarily, the writer

IN VERSE AND STORY

From My Window

From my window surprising loveliness reigns.
Near it I dream in the white misty moonlight
While over me plays the soft ribbon of pale air;
I can scent the sweet smell of the roots
As they stir toward the light in the watery dew-silvered grass,
I can see the first spring fruits on crimson trees
In wild untamed glory.
And I can hear the delicate languor of mid-year run into a whisper,
As the dreamy-blue of approaching autumn brings
The fellowiness of reflective thought.

Black, long-legged creature
Hanging on your exquisite thread.
Where are you going?
Spinning chasms of life unknown to man?
In the sunshine
You are like a toy monkey
Climbing up a silver wire.
Pausing—to rest your eight legs?
Or are you measuring some distance
To which you will spin a lacy web?
You are a Silas Marner
Stretching your arms before the loom.
Weaving long silken stockings
For your naked babies.

To Do Extra Practice

Band to Play Sundays in Preparation for Stock Show.

The Horned Frog Band will practice five hours a week in preparation for the concerts to be given in front of the Coliseum during the Fat Stock Show, March 9 to 16. One hour practices will be held on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday at 12 o'clock, and a two-hour practice will be held on Sunday, starting at 1:30.

The band has a large assortment of new music, and under the direction of both Prof. Claude Sammis and Walter Hurst its repertoire is being increased rapidly.

P. T. Credit for Band

To Drill 3 Hours Each Week Under Sammis, Wilmeth.

Band members who have physical training credits to work off are permitted to sign up for band P. T. and the credits will be given the same as in the physical training department. Those signing for this class will meet three hours a week other than the regular two hours for practice, and the time will be spent drilling and doing other things that will aid the band in merit and appearance. This class will be under the direction of Professor Sammis and Drum Major Wilmeth. However, until after the Fat Stock Show all of the time will be spent practicing and learning new pieces.

believes that suggestions handed down by such a council acting as a thermometer for the entire Student Body would carry a great deal of weight. After the suggestion has been sanctioned by the Administration, as it must be in any case, then I suggest it be placed in the hands of the Student Body Officers, such as we now have, for completion in a Student Body Meeting.

Such a council would afford a common meeting place for the two separate groups in T. C. U. who seldom have an official joint-meeting. Another evil which might be eliminated through such a council is the T. C. U. "Bugaboo," which allows our entire Student Body to be led, like sheep to the slaughter, at the whim of some mediocre person.

I heartily endorse such a movement and make these few suggestions in the hope of a better and greater T. C. U.

Very truly yours,
STEWART W. HELLMAN.

Term Themes Feature Unusual English Work

37 in Library Display, Some Use Original Drawings for Elaboration.

A feature of the term theme display, sponsored by Mrs. A. B. Bryson and Miss Rebecca Smith, in the T. C. U. library last Thursday and Friday afternoon was a miniature medley pageant wagon used for the mystery and miracle plays. Several miniature characters were made from dolls to represent an angel, a friar, a bishop and a nun.

Thirty-seven term themes were on display, some of these illustrated by original drawings. Among the illustrated papers were: "Dragons," by Maxine Bouldin; "The Canterbury Tales," and "Sin vs. Virtue," by Julia Myer; "Representative Costumes of the Middle Ages in England," by Mota Mae Shaw; "The Evolution of the English Stage," by Robert Gray; "Chaucer as a Portrayer of Character," by Josephine Hughes and "Colonial Furniture," by Virginia Morphis. Chief among the illustrations were drawings of characters from Chaucer's Canterbury Tales.

Among the other themes were "You Can't Beat the Devil," by Charles E. J. Hanna; "The Use of Indian Myths and Legends as Story Telling Material for Juniors," by Margaret Carpenter; "Sajous, a Survey," by Velma Farmer; "Twilight," by Frances Fry; "Frances Deacon—The Man," by Mrs. Henry J. Gould; "Milton as Samson Agonistes," by Loyd Douglas and "The Seven Deadly Sins," by Tadashi Tomingao.

IS IT NOT SO? "Much Ado About Nothing"—a discussion with a teacher concerning a zero on a final.

What would the Administration Building Hall amount without the following decorations: Elizabeth Ruff, Emily Jackson, Sue Summerour?

Betty Southwell, hostess at party: "Won't you have some more ice cream?"
Lester Brumblow: "Just a monthful, please."
Betty S.: "Fill Les' dish, please."

Christmas came and Santa brought Elizabeth Moore, Fort Worth, a diamond ring—New Year's came and she made a resolution to go with but two boys, and two only.

Dr. Howe: "I told you yesterday I'd give you one day to hand in that theme."
Emma Nell Handley: "Yeah, but I thought I could pick any day."

PET PHRASES YOU'VE HEARD

Sid Latham—"Who wouldn't?" also—"or what not?"
Sue Montgomery—"How much did it set you back?"
Helen of Troy—"So this is Paris!"
Jimmy Wilmeth—"The paper says rain!"
Nero—"Keep the home fire burning."
Annette Leatherman—"I don't know where I'm going, but I'm on my way."
Carson Wells—"Oh, fair to mid-ling."
Solomon—"I love the ladies."

Five other girls are now having cut-throat competition for "Robbie"—and these statistics were compiled prior to last Saturday.

Mr. Whitman: "Which travels fastest—heat or cold?"
Kitty Knight: "Heat."
Mr. Whitman: "What makes you think so?"
K. K.: "Because you can catch cold."

We'd hate to meet the old clock on the stairs if it ever took a notion to run down.

Five Colleges Represented at Institute Here

Christian World Education Group Meets at T. C. U.

MISS SIMONS PRESIDES

Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. Join in Discussion of International Student Questions.

Five Texas colleges were represented at the Christian World Education Institute held at Texas Christian University Saturday and Sunday. Miss Gladys Simons, president of the Y. W. C. A. at T. C. U., presided over the institute.

Miss Anne Wiggin from New York, national Y. W. C. A. student secretary, and Claude Nelson from Dallas, Southwest regional secretary of the Y. M. C. A., were in charge of the institute.

The initial meeting was held Saturday at 4 p. m. It was opened with a devotional by Dean L. L. Leftwich of T. C. U.

An address on the World Student Christian Federation and the International Student Service by Miss Wiggin was the feature of the opening meeting.

Prior to this address statements were made by the organizations represented as to their understandings of these two organizations, where they got their ideas and why they are interested in them. Miss Jessie Ruth Drake spoke for T. W. C., Charles Brooks for North Texas State Teachers' College, and Louis Copeland for T. C. U.

The delegates had dinner in the University cafeteria, after which the T. C. U. groups entertained them with an "International Party" at the Brite College club room. This party was directed by Miss Frances Cullom of Rice Institute. Miss Cullom is a member of the Southwest Student Council of the Y. W. C. A.

Recreational games were played and folk songs representing other nations were sung.

Talks were given by three returned missionaries who are now on the T. W. C. faculty. Tadashi Tomimaga, T. C. U., described a Japanese wedding and sang a Japanese song.

The Sunday program opened at 9 a. m. with a worship service conducted by Miss Alice Alsop of T. W. C.

The chief address Sunday was given by Claude Nelson on "Christian World Education and the Y. M. C. A." Miss Wiggin addressed the conference on "Christian World Education and the Y. W. C. A." The conference was closed with an open forum Sunday afternoon. It was led by Miss Jessie Ruth Drake, junior at Texas Woman's College.

Delegates to the conference were: Miss Frances Cullom of Rice Institute, Charles Brooks of North Texas State Teachers' College, Misses Grace McKinzie, Julia McMahan, Lily Mae McJilton and Vera Thompson of Weatherford Junior College.

Misses Thelma Colvin, Jessie Ruth Drake, Leona McIntosh, Elenor Paddock, Bessie Stradley, Doris White, Carrie Maurine Alee, Allene Garrett Young, Sue Mann, Alice Alsop, Blanche Gard and Margaret Robb, all of T. W. C.

Misses Gladys Simons, Sarah Beth Bogges, Katherine Knight, Elberta Sturm, Valerie McLamar, Ione Way, Olive Chambers, Lamar Griffing, Dorritt Moses, Lola Burton and Lyde Spragin, and Louis Copeland, Tadashi Tomimaga, Noel Roberts and Kenneth Martin, all of T. C. U.

May Still Have Pictures Made

The students who have enrolled for the spring semester and want their pictures to go in the annual must have them taken before the fifteenth of this month. Any old student who failed to have his picture made in the fall and wishes to do so now may have them made during this time. The pictures are being made at Reid's Studio at 600 1/2 Houston.

Morrison to Talk on Marriage

"Psychological Aspects of Marriage" will be the subject of a lecture which Prof. Paul G. Morrison, assistant professor of psychology at T. C. U., will give in Dallas Wednesday at the city Y. M. C. A. as one number of a lecture course being presented by different college professors and prominent business men before this group.

Here's More About NEW COACH

Fred McConnell: "I believe that he is the best coach in the conference." Tadashi Tomimaga: "I hear that Schmidt is an offensive coach, and that is what we need. It will put more fight into the boys."

Virgil Roberts: "I believe that T. C. U. got the best end of the deal." Leo Buckley: "It looks mighty pert to me."

Lloyd Armstrong: "I don't know anything about him, but from what the boys say about it I think that he will make T. C. U. a good man."

The following is how some of the faculty members feel about it:

Edwin Kubale: "I don't think that you all could have gotten any better man anywhere to take Matty's place. And I believe that T. C. U. will have some wonderful teams under Schmidt."

Pete Wright: "I think we did mighty well in getting Mr. Schmidt, and I can't see any reason why we won't go on in the fine way that we have heretofore."

Rebecca Smith: "I am delighted. I don't see how he can keep from making a great success here."

Edwin A. Elliott: "Looks like we have a good coach."

Dr. John Lord: "The new coach suits me fine."

Matty Bell: "After 'Bo' (Bo' McMillan) decided not to take the place I then hoped that Schmidt would decide to come here, because I knew that he wanted to get down here somewhere. Not that he was having trouble, but that Arkansas is so far away, games are hard to get, attendance is small, and a place down here in Texas somewhere would be better, he thought. I have always regarded Mr. Schmidt as one of the best coaches in the conference, and he is one of the finest men that I know in the coaching game. The relations that I have had with him while at T. C. U. have always been of the best. And I think that he is the best man that you could have gotten for the place."

Butler Smiser: "I am of the opinion that Texas Christian University is extremely fortunate in securing Mr. Schmidt. From the standpoint of the football fan, Schmidt will be satisfactory in victory or defeat because of the fact that he develops the type of teams that the public likes to see. I have been watching the University of Arkansas and the teams coached by Mr. Schmidt for a number of years and I never failed to see them put up a game that was not worth the price of any ticket."

Miss Carter: "I believe we are lucky, and I am glad he is coming. My only hope is that he can wrap the student body around him and cause them to be 100 per cent for him, and I believe he can."

Professor Ridings: "I was in Austin Friday night when the announcement was made and met Schmidt. I think he is a fine man personally, and likeable in every way."

Registrar E. R. Tucker: "I think we made a wise selection. The fact that he has been working with Arkansas, a Southwest Conference member, is decidedly in his favor, as well as ours."

Dean L. L. Leftwich: "All reports are encouraging. I am expecting just the man for our campus. And I believe that he will do a fine piece of work for us."

Dr. Carney to Lecture

Dr. Frank Carney will speak of "Vertebrate Paleontology as Applied to Pre-Historic Man" at the regular monthly meeting of the Fort Worth section of the Society of Economic Paleontology and Mineralogy, to be held Thursday in the biology laboratory at T. C. U. at 7:30 p. m. The public is invited to attend.

University Church To Care For Youth

Rev. Gray Discusses "Relations of New Project to T. C. U. Students."

"As to the program for the future, from the standpoint of the student, we hope first of all, to provide a building and equipment to take care of the religious needs of our progressive youth," says the Rev. A. Preston Gray, in regard to the program of the University Christian Church in its relationship to students.

"We are providing now for the religious life and training of our young people, having in our director, Prof. H. L. Pickering, head of the department of religious education in the university, and in the other trained workers and teachers, expert leadership. There is no discrimination, however, between the ministerial students of the university and other students. Both are welcome in membership and service."

According to Mr. Gray, some people have been misled, probably through the name of the church, to believe that the church is exclusively a church for students. "The university Christian Church is no more exclusive for students in the university than a church having in its name the name of a street is a church exclusively for the people on that street," points out Mr. Gray. "Many families in the community at large belong to the church and the church exists for the purpose of serving both the students and the community."

Mr. Gray says of the church and its relationship to the university, "The church is indebted almost wholly to the leaders in the university for its organization, existence and progress up to the present time. In addition to that, as a new minister of the congregation, I am deeply appreciative of the high personnel and prestige that we enjoy because of our close proximity to T. C. U."

In speaking of his impressions of the faculty and student body of the university as a city, Mr. Gray, who came to Fort Worth last fall, said that he had never seen a finer group of students or a more progressive faculty. Of Fort Worth as a city he said that he was delighted with the citizenship here and the many evidences of progress.

Our Wide Open Policy
and What it Means
To You ~ And All of U.S.

Our Policy of Co-operation

THE splendid progress of the Missouri Pacific Lines in the last five years has been achieved very largely as a result of: First, the aggressive loyalty and tireless effort on the part of our army of employees; Second, the co-operation and support of the public generally and the shipping and traveling public especially; and Third, (made possible because of the former two things) the investment of many millions of dollars of new capital.

The new capital was obtained because of the increasing volume of traffic which justified it. And the increasing traffic is directly traceable to the work of our employees, adequate service and the confidence of the public. Both of these are, in large measure, a result of the "Wide Open Policy" that has been zealously maintained.

There can be nothing secret about the management or operation of railroads because of the regulation and supervision to which they are subjected by numerous governmental and official bodies such as the Interstate Commerce Commission, State Railroad Commissions and similar institutions. But we have not been content to merely say "the information is there and is available if the public wants it."

Ceaseless effort has been made to inform both our thousands of employees and the public. Every phase of the railroad business has been analyzed and broadcast. Our own forces are constantly enabling our property for general, specific and miscellaneous information that will of right interest our own family members or our patrons and friends. Such information is carefully collected, intelligently analyzed and prepared in easily understandable form, and distributed voluntarily in every possible way.

As a result of this policy our own employees are as well informed as any in the world and the public generally knows more about the Missouri Pacific Lines than is known of most such similar institutions. Confidence, co-operation and support have resulted—and those three reactions on the part of our patrons and our own family members have made possible the development of the Missouri Pacific Lines into one of the outstanding railroads of the world.

The Missouri Pacific has welcomed and encouraged the public to come to some of us with any and all questions relating to transportation. If the individual Missouri Pacific man or woman approached doesn't know the answer to your question he will get in touch with or put you in touch with someone in our organization that does know it.

We are most happy in the knowledge of the achievements already accomplished and it is a real pleasure to bestow the credit for the advancement where that credit belongs. We have by no means reached the limit of our development. We expect to continue leading the Parade of Progress.

I solicit your co-operation and support.

Frog Flashes

WADE HAWKINS

YES SIR, it finally "broke." No not the ice, the news about our new coach. We can hardly believe that the Frogs are to have the coach of Arkansas University with them next year in football and basketball, yet so be it.

THE thought of the colorful Razor-back teams brings joy to the hearts of those interested in the Purple and White. The record behind Schmidt gives him a good start with the coming of a new era in his successful coaching career.

SCHMIDT is a man that will fit in well with the T. C. U. teams. He was head coach at Arkansas and coached the same sports that Matty Bell has been coaching here. Too, he has had little or no assistance with his men. With an assistant or two here, he has every advantage possible of being a success.

THE motive that prompted the change was not as a result of any differences experienced with the institution. According to Coach Schmidt the change was made because that the opportunities were better at the Christian school than in the Arkansas school. His teams were seriously handicapped by being located in an out of the way place, four hundred miles from the nearest conference member, and with no strong schools close by with whom games could be scheduled.

IN THE main Schmidt felt that by coming to T. C. U. he would still be in the Southwest conference, of which he is already familiar, that he would be in the center of competition, and his chances for having better teams, better schedules, etc., would be better.

I WENT down to Waco with the boys to see them romp on the Baylor Bears. Albert Flynn played a better game than any of the Frogs. His long shots from the side of the court were features. Flynn likes to play and should become a main cog in the Frog machine. His physique gives him the advantage of the short men.

EURY was high point man with 13 tallies of his credit, while Flynn's total was one less, 12. "Babe" McDonnell came close behind with 11 points.

THE defensive tactics of the Frogs were far superior to anything that they have shown before this season. Only one time during the entire contest did the Bears have the score advantage. That was early in the first period, they led by one point, 6-5. But this lead was short lived, for Flynn came through with a pretty shot to put the Bellmen in the lead, and they were never over- come. And for fifteen minutes in the last half the Bears did not score a field goal. In fact they scored only two in the last twenty minutes of play.

THE loss to Texas by Arkansas Saturday night will probably be blamed on the fact of Coach Schmidt's announced change from Arkansas to T. C. U. The Arkansas Mentor wanted to keep the matter a secret until after the basketball season, but the sport editors in Dallas

Intramural Cage Schedule Is To Be Opened Friday

2 Games in Independent League Start Season.

17 TEAMS IN 3 GROUPS

100 Games to Be Played Over 5-Week Period—Rules Are Modified.

The intramural basketball season will jump into full stride Friday night, with two games in the Independent League. Due to the many entries this year Graham Estes has divided the contestants into three leagues. This division will make the schedules more satisfactory, and will enable more boys to participate.

The Independent League, which is made up of boys of all classes, is composed of six teams: B. C. B.'s, Caugars, Monastery Five, Hornets, and Question Marks. Each team plays every other team, making a total of thirty games in this league. These games are scheduled over a period of five weeks.

The "A" Class League is composed of four class teams and a faculty team. Each team plays eight games over a five-week period.

As there was an overflow of class entries it was necessary to form another class league, which is known as "B" Class League. There are six teams in this league: Faculty, Seniors, Juniors, Sophomores, Freshman B, and Freshman C. Each team plays five games.

The following special rules have been adopted: Four personal fouls do not force a player from the game, but each foul gives the opposition one point plus the additional points made on free throws. There is a penalty of five points for each borrowed player, and all points that he makes above the average number of points made by the regular players on his team, do not count in the final score. These rules apply in all three leagues.

Band To Give Concert
Will Play at North Side High Friday Morning.

The Horned Frog Band, under the direction of Prof. Claude Sammis, will give its first concert of this term at the North Side High School at 10 o'clock Monday morning. A concert will also be given at T. W. C. on Friday, March 1.

The band is working hard, and these concerts will be samples of the ones that will be given twice daily during the Fat Stock Show, March 9 to 16. The band also plans to give a number of concerts on the campus before that time.

got to guessing and the rumor got out, so Schmidt finally verified it.

NATURALLY the psychological effect on the team would have something to do with their playing. However, there is no getting around the fact that Texas University has a strong basketball team, but not in the class with Arkansas.

EDWIN KUBALE will leave T. C. U. for good on March 1. For a while it was thought that he would return to T. C. U. after spring training was over at the Kentucky institution, but it was finally decided that Ku would stay after going there to take charge of the spring training.

Girl Cagers Defeat Birdville Team 17-16

Kate Phillips Stars for T. C. U., Scoring All But Three of Frogettes' Points.

The Girls' Horned Frog Sextet defeated the Birdville Independents 17-16 in a closely contested basket ball game at the T. C. U. gymnasium last Thursday night. Up until the second half the Birdville girls had everything going their way with a score of 11 to 4 at the half.

Kate Phillips, manager of the team, starred for the Horned Frogettes, making 14 of T. C. U.'s points. Miss Angle starred for the visitors with 12 of their 16 points. Berniece Schmidt is captain of the T. C. U. varsity and Miss Upchurch captained the Birdville team.

Birdville Independents: Forwards—Angle, Anderson; guards, Cornish, Thweatt; centers Upchurch, Reeves.

Frogs Win From Baylor 38 to 21

Rice Owls Come Here for Game Next Tuesday.

By WADE HAWKINS.

WACO, Texas.—The Fighting Frogs took a fast breaking game of basketball from the Baylor Bears last Saturday night by the score of 38-21. Albert Flynn was the outstanding man on the floor for the Frogs. He made 12 points. His accurate shots at the basket from the side of the court were a feature. Brumbelow and Wallin played a bang-up game on the defense, as did McDonnell and Eury. The latter was high-point man, with 13 tallies. McDonnell's total was 11.

Barksdale, Bear captain and center, was the outstanding man for the Baylor quintet.

On Tuesday night of next week the Frogs will play the Rice Owls on the home court. The first encounter of the two teams was won by the Frogs in the last 30 seconds of play. The Owls are coming to T. C. U. seeking revenge for that heart-breaking defeat.

Ankle Is Broken
Miss Grace Dowling Is Injured When Sled Overturns.

Miss Grace Dowling broke her ankle last Friday afternoon when a sled on which she and several girl companions were riding overturned.

The sled was being towed by an automobile, and in attempting to make the corner near Reed Cottage, it overturned, and one of the girls fell on Miss Dowling's ankle, which later an X-Ray examination showed to have been broken.

Pollywog Cagers Win Three Tilts

Defeat Central Methodists, Diamond Hill and Poly High.

Dutch Meyer's Pollywog cagers added three tilts to their string of victories during the past week by downing Central Methodist 37 to 21; Diamond Hill Hi 37 to 17, and Poly High 30 to 18, in games played in the T. C. U. gymnasium.

The Methodists were defeated on Monday night, with the other games being played Wednesday afternoon and Wednesday night. In the afternoon game with Diamond Hill, the Pollywogs flashed a neat passing game and a tight defense to put the skids under the winners of the Class B high school race, but they missed a large number of easy shots at the basket after working the ball down under the goal. Wright, Woolwine, and McCullough sunk most of the points for the freshmen, and the defensive play of Green and Pollard, guards, prevented the high school boys from ever threatening the Pollywog lead. For the Hilltoppers, Connelley, one of the best goal-tossers in Fort Worth high schools, and Smith and Sprague, guards, were outstanding.

In the Poly game, the Pollywogs lacked the passing and floor work they had flashed against Diamond Hill, but on the other hand their goal shooting was close to the sensational type, and they early took a commanding lead which they held throughout the game.

Wright and McCullough were again the mainstays in the offense of the winners, with Green, Pollard, and Elkins grabbing off defense laurels for the evening. Wren, center, was the outstanding performer for the losers, both on the offense and defense.

Meyer's team was weakened during the past week's play by the loss of Lawrence Blanton, crack athletic from Oak Cliff High, who dropped out of school after the completion of the fall term, but it is expected to be considerably strengthened by the addition of Parker, a Dallas product, and Dan Salkeld, 200-pound giant from Abilene, both of whom entered T. C. U. just recently. Salkeld captained the Abilene High Eagles to the football championship of Texas last year, and his entrance into T. C. U. has gladdened the hearts of Frog followers and supporters.

Two more games have been carded by the Pollywogs for the coming week, both with the strong Terrell Prep cagers of Dallas. The first game will be played here next Friday night in the T. C. U. gym, and a return game will be played in Dallas the following Tuesday night. These two tilts promise to be torrid affairs, for the freshmen will be out for revenge for the humiliation received the past fall at the hands of the Dallas aggregation, when the Prep boys plastered the only defeat of the football season on the Pollywogs in an all too impressive manner.

Dean Hall Speaks on Vision

"A vision like an emotion has a way of coming and going," said Dean Colby D. Hall at Brite chapel last Wednesday, in an address on "The Significance of Vision." The dean pointed out that most people have a vision of service to our fellowman but that they often lose sight of this vision. He urged students to try to keep this vision with them all of the time, even when they are in the valleys as they "can not hope to stay on Mount Transfiguration Always."

This is the student's pen par excellence. The Parker Duofold's polished iridium-tipped point glides gently over paper. Ink flow starts immediately and continues evenly at any speed with merely the feather-light weight of the pen itself to bring it into action.

Finger-pressure is relieved. No effort. No strain. No interruptions, no intrusions by the pen. The track is cleared for THINKING, so you do better work.

Action so responsive that pen can be made 28% lighter than rubber (though non-breakable) and still require no weight from your hand.

To please you even more, we offer in the Duofold five flashing colors and a new Modern Black and Pearl—the latest mode—from which to select.

Then we add a guarantee forever against all defects, to make these better features everlasting.

Don't take a lesser pen. See the Duofold at your nearest pen counter today.

See "Geo. S. Parker—DUOFOLD" imprinted on the barrel to be sure you have the genuine.
