VOL. 27. FORT WORTH, TEXAS, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 1929. NO. 21.

AS WE SEE THINGS

By RAYMOND H. COPELAND.

FOR the past three weeks we have had considerable discussion about the formation of a student body council. This discussion has revealed several things which can be improved in our student body organization.

ONE of the first needs is the re-hashing of the old student body constitution. By all means the old constitution should be re-written with new amendments. These are as necessary as the writing out of the old honor clause section.

THE president of the student body, Weir McDiarmid, has suggested a plan which will make very favorable student council, but until his plan has been legalized by the student body voting to amend the old student constitution, McDiarmid's council is nothing more than a "Kitchen Cabinet."

PERSONALLY, it seems that he has an excellent plan, but obviously his plan must be made a part of the regular student body constitution before it can render a lasting service to coming student bodies. For this reason, it seems that we should amend, and re-hash the old student body constitution.

THE first thing that should be done is the destroying of the old honor system article in the constitution. The system no longer exists but still the article remains in the constitution Once that is done, we have the constitution where we can place amendments which will bring it up to date Then we can establish new amendments that will give the new council system a legal standing.

THERE are some three amendments which would help the students The first of these should establish a personal cabinet for the president of the student body. This cabinet should serve as a representative student body council. Its members, chosen, from the student body, should be selected by the president of the student body at his will, and dismissed at his will thus making him responsible for any action taken.

ANOTHER amendment which should be made, is one to bring the interest of the faculty into the selection of student body officers. By making it possible for the faculty to vote and making a faculty vote of real value. That is, let the total number of faculty votes amount to one-third the total number of students votes Thus giving the student body a two-thirds vote, and the faculty a one-third vote.

STILL another amendment, and a most important one, is one that will eliminate this thing of popularity student body officers. We cannot altogether eliminate popularity, but we can reduce it to a minimum.

HOW?

IN this way. We have studied government, ethics, psychology, economics, and history, and have learned of the various mistakes that people have made in the past. Why can't we profit by their mistakes; even put into actual work some of the theories we study about, and better conditions. We can if we will. The question is, do we will?

POLITICS and popularity go hand in hand. They furnish the same problems; that of obtaining the most efficient men to fill offices of public trust. What have the various governments of the world done to eliminate this old error? They have gone into the civil service systems. That is, the selecting of officers of public trust on the merit basis.

WE can do the same thing. We can amend our constitution, and have us a student body act just as well as the federal government had its Pendleton Act of 1883. By doing this, we can't entirely eliminate this popularity business, but we can reduce it to a smaller minimum. What would be the nature of such an amendment?

State Opinions Favor T. C. U.'s Coach Selection

Schmidt Receives High Praise From Texas Sports Scribes.

GRIDIRON ABILITY LAUDED

Is Cited as One of Best Mentors in Southwest by Dallas Dispatch.

The concensus of editorial comment over the state in regard to the decision of Francis A. Schmidt to take over the athletic reins at T. C U. seems to be that the pulple institution has been extremely fortunate in signing the veteran coach. Sports writers over the loop are high in their praises of the former Arkansas mentor, and there are fears expressed that the Frog teams will be harder to defeat next year.

"Schmidt is one of the best coaches in the Southwest, and at the helm of athletics at Cowtown, the Frogs will really be a menace," remarks the Dallas Dispatch.

Much comment was forthcoming when Frog officials announced, after the loss of Bell, that they would secure a coach of "wide fame." With the acceptance of Schmidt, however, all writers have been quick to laud the new mentor. "Schmidt is just as efficient as Bell. He has shown more progress than any mentor in the Southwest during the last several years. He is coming along fast, and his basketball record speaks for itself. The T. C. U. authorities will certainly have to be highly commended," is the opinion of the News-Tribune at Waco.

"Schmidt's ability as a coach is not to be impeached. He has developed men outstanding in the Southwest and has not failed to place at least one player on an all-Southwestern Conference team in years," Says the Houston Chronicle. "Arkansas' loss is distinctly T. C. U.'s gain," is the comment of the Austin American.

"He will carry the Frogs to new heights in the Southwestern Conference, in both football and basketball, particularly in the latter sport," remarks the Waxahachie Light, which city rejoices in the decision of Schmidt, as he is "practically a home boy."

"Schmidt is one of the most successful young coaches in the country and he will make a good coach at T. C. U.," says the Corsicana Daily Sun. "The Frog moguls are fortunate in securing the Porker mentor, and we believe that with the facilities and material at hand, such as will be furnished at T. C. U., he'll put out some great teams," is the opinion of the Cleburne Review.

Coach Schmidt, while a successful grid mentor, is also expected to produce good basketball teams at the Purple school. He has done much to place Arkansas at the had of the list in conference basketball since he has handled their cage teams. It is expected that he will bolster up a department in which the Frogs have been rather weak. "Basketball teams from Arkansas are not to be feared so much since Schmidt has gone," is the comment of the Austin Statesman. It is hoped that this fear will be shifted to Frog cage teams in the future.

Mother and Her Daughter Enroll In Same Class

Mother and daughter in the same class! Such is the case of Mrs. Beulah Bush Boggess, assistant matron in Jarvis Hall, and Miss Sara Beth Boggess, junior in T. C. U., who are both enrolled in a seminar course at the University called "Personal Psychology," taught by L. L. Leftwich, dean of men.

"I am going to let Sarah Beth do all the talking for me," says Mrs. Boggess, but Sara Beth answers: "In this class I am just plain Miss Boggess and not Mrs. Boggess' daughter!"

Mrs. Boggess was in Y. M. C. A. work in Houston before coming to T. C. U. and Miss Boggess is specializing in sociology and religious education, with plans of going into the field of religious educational work.

13 Sign Out for "Weir's Hut" On Gibson Register

If a stranger should look over the register at Gibson Hall he would find that it reveals some queer things.

On Feb. 21, the following signed out for "Weir's Hut": Bet Self, Mota Maye Shaw, Doris Shaw, Elizabeth McKissick, Virginia Brook, Charles Hanover, Wayne Shirley, Ralph Sanders and Thompson Shannon.

A few weeks back "narling little Bet Self" was signed out " to show with sweetheart"—awfully suspicious.

Elizabeth McKissick recently signed out "long gone for Longview."

Thelma Reed went to "Kansas City" if the books are correct; Elizabeth Huchingson goes to "WBAP" every other day; Mota Maye Shaw went to a "wedding" (whose wedding?); Doris Shaw has been signed out for the "Odeon," (looks like Ralph Sander's writing) and Bet Self went "home again" and Weir went to see her.

Other destinations which seem to "rate" are: Show, town, church, driving, Texas, picnics, Woman's Club, Dallas. Some of the girls must be trying to reduce, anyhow one certain girl goes "hiking" quite frequently.

Guelick Is Again Music Week Head

Is Made City Chairman for 3d Consecutive Year—T. C. U. to Aid in Program.

Dr. H. D. Guelick, head of the music department of T. C. U., has been elected chairman of the Fort Worth Music Week Committee for the annual celebration to be held May 5 to 12, in celebration of National Music Week. This is the third consecutive year that Dr. Guelick has held this position.

E. Clyde Whitlock is secretary of the local committee, which met recently for election of officers and reorganization, and for the making of tentative plans for the celebration of Music Week.

College Night will be observed again this year, according to Dr. Guelick, in which musicians from T. C. U. will take part. A Grecian pageant, presented by students in the department of physical education at T. C. U., and directed by Mrs. Helen Murphy, head of the department, will mark the close of Music Week, when the presentation is given in Clark Stadium at T. C. U. on the evening of Saturday, May 11.

The annual spring concerts of the Harmony and Euterpean Clubs; a festival chorus, made up of the combined choirs of the city; daily noonday recitals, and the final open house program of the Music Study Club will be some of the other events of the week, according to Dr. Guelick.

Is Making Investigation

Hazel Wales Sends Out Marital Stauts Questionnaire.

An investigation concerning the marital status of the alumni of T. C. U. is being made by Miss Hazel F. Wales, acting alumni secretary, which, she thinks, is the first investigation of its kind to be made in the South.

Similar investigations have been made in eastern colleges and the results have shown that a large number of the graduates never marry, or those who do have small families, according to Miss Wales. This survey will seek to compile information from the list of T. C. U. alumni.

Some of the question which the investigation will answer for each alumnus include the year of graduation degrees, occupation, whether single married, divorced or widowed; occupation of wife, salary of both when married, age at marriage, year whether the person married a college student; T. C. U. student or not how many children born in the family, number now living and the age of each.

Baylor Challenges T. C. U.

TRUETT ROACH, captain of the chess team at Baylor University, issues a challenge to chess players in T. C. U.

If any of the T. C. U. men are interested they should write Roach in care of Brooks Hall at Waco, Texas.

Being Out of Town Is Best Chapel Excuse, Report Shows

Being out of town seems to be the surest way of getting excused for a chapel absence at T. C. U., according to a survey of excuses turned in during the fall semester for absences from the university chapel, as made in the registrar's office recently.

One hundred per cent of the excuses received in the office giving out of town trips, including football and band trips, as resasons for chapel absenses, were granted.

Of 1,149 petitions submitted by students as excuses for chapel absenses, 1,044, or 90.9 per cent, were granted. Illness, visits to doctor or injuries, were given as excuses more often than in other case, and 98.7 per cent of these were accepted. All excuses for deaths in the family or of relatives were granted.

Being on a chapel program was another good excuse, since 95.2 per cent of these were granted. Of those giving work at the chapel hours as a reason for chapel non-attendance, 92.7 per cent were excused and 96.3 per cent of those having no classes on chapel day before the afternoon were excused.

Some of the excuses which were not sufficient as reason for chapel absence were: Work (not at chapel hours), gym work, laboratory work, study, taking tests or examination practice for program, athletic work in order to get home earlier, to go home for some books, in court for traffic violations, business conference, or not in T. C. U. for a degree.

No date given on excuse application, date on excuse card incorrect, or no reason given on excuse card were other reasons for withholding acceptance of an excuse.

Some of the other excuses turned in, some of which were granted and some of which were not, included the following: Illness in family, work on schoopaper or annual, teaching and observation work, needed at home, military call, hall monitor, organizing girls' quartet, in class at Baptist Seminary, Woman's Athletic Association conference meeting, household work, caring for baby, visiting with out of town relatives or friends, business in town, to go after a telegram, Jewish holiday, brother's wedding, religious conference, auto accidents, car trouble, not absent, late to school, seat broken, and office work.

"Y" Presidents To Go to Dallas

L. Copeland in Charge of Program for Conference.

The president of the Young Men's Christian Association, Sterling Brown, the president of the Young Women's Christian Association, Miss Gladys Simons, and several other students from Texas Christian University will attend the conference of the Student Volunteer Movement in the Northwest, which will be held at Southern Methodist University on March 1, 2 and 3. Lewis Copeland, a T. C. U. sophomore, is president of the conference and in charge of the program.

Other T. C. U. students who plan to attend the three-day session in Dallas are: Miss Sarah Beth Boggess, Fort Worth; Lloyd Douglas, Dallas; Kenneth Martin, San Antonio; Travis White, Shreveport; Eulalio G. Luna, Aguascalientes, Mexico; Tadashi Tominaga, Tokio, Japan; Brown is from Lubbock and Miss Simons lives in Fort Worth.

The purpose of the conference is to bring together students of the colleges in Northwest Texas for a discussion on student problems. The program will center around discussion of international problems and their connection with missionary and political work. The conference, according to Lewis Copeland, is not only for religious education and ministerial students but also for any other stuwents who are interested in the work and would like to attend the conference sessions.

T. C. U. sent ten delegates to the International Student Volunteer Convention held in Detroit in 1927.

Speakers on the S. M. U. conference program include: William R. Holder, an African missionary, who will speak on "Racial Problems," and Dr. A. W. Wasson, a former Korean missionary but who is at present a member of the faculty of the theological school at S. M. U. Jessie R. Wilson, the national general secretary of the movement, and Claude Nelson, the national Y. M. C. A. secretary, will also speak.

Juniors May Order Rings Now

The samples for the junior class rings have arrived and orders are being taken. Bill Rogers, chairman of the ring committee, requests all juniors to place their order as soon as possible.

Sophs to Give Play in April

The sophomore class will give a play some time in April. According to Mrs. Sadie Beckham, this class is going to do something entirely new for T. C. U., in that only sophomores will take part in the play. This will be a policy of the future. Each class giving an entertainment must depend entirely upon its own members for material in the entertainment.

T. C. U. to Debate Southwestern U.

Contest Scheduled for Friday Evening in Auditorium.

The second debate to be held at T. C. U. this year will be Friday evening, when Rhodes Earle and Stewart Hellman debate Southwestern University of Georgetown. This contest will be held in the auditorium.

The question to be debated is, "Resolved, That a substitute for trial by jury should be adopted." The T. C. U. team will uphold the affirmative of the question.

On the same evening Hugh Buck and Lloyd Armstrong will debate Trinity University in Waxahachie. They will uphold the negative of the same question.

These two debates are a part of the Trinity University, Southwestern University and T. C. U. triangle.

Professor Morrison Lectures in Dallas

Defines Principle of Success in Marriage Before City Y. M. C. A. Group.

"In persons of high culture, success in marriage depends upon the principle of keeping one's distance," is the opinion of Paul G. Morrison, assistant professor of psychology at T. C. U., as expressed in a recent lecture on "Psychological Aspects of Marriage" before the Dallas Y. M. C. A.

The lecture was one of a series being presented by different college professors and prominent business men before this group.

"There is a vast difference between 'getting married' and 'making a marriage,'" he said. "The latter involves effort, consideration, sympathy and tolerance. The wedding ceremony is not a magical act. Life goes on much the same thereafter, except that actions are super-added to habits already in force.

"The psychological aspects are what distinguish marriage from animal mating," he continued. "They are intricate, complex and delicately balanced. The source of the majority of marital problems is psychic: Disparity of intelligence, disparity of culture, lack of effort. The purpose of marriage is to furnish a favorable environment for the development of emotional maturity.

"Some elements of permanence and obligation is necessry to develop the best in each person," Professor Morrison added, "although endurance is not necessarily a virtue of marriage."

English Desks Have Name Cards

Each desk in the English office is now graced with neat placards, bearing the name of the owner of the desk. The art department is responsible for these name plates and they are of much assistance in locating the proper "prof."

Crashing Gate At Fat Stock Show Won't Be So Easy

"One-Eyed Connelly" will be out of luck if he tries to crash the gates at the Fat Stock Show this year. Look who's going to keep the gates: Othol Martin, Duke Andrews, Red Moore, Fain Reynolds, Chester Ueckert and Aaron Hays.

Yes and everybody will pay for a program if you don't believe it, read on. Les Brumbelow, Clifton Bruce, Howell Hopkins, Leo Butler, Ed Jordan, Carson Wells, Ray McCullough, Howard Baxter and Doyle Goodwin will sell programs.

You've seen them play on a football team—how do you think they'll score as a police team? Noble Atkins, Standard Lambert, Elmo Milling, Austin Griffith, and Buck Barr are going to be real police between March 9 and 17.

Real he-men are going to keep the rodeo gate. They include Harlos Green, John Hirstine, Joe Mulholland and Hayes Barker.

These T. C. U. boys, most of them athletes, have been employed through Prof. J. W. Ballard to work during the Fat Stock Show.

New French Club Is Organized for T.C.U.

Miss Grace Jennings Elected President "Cercle Francais" Probable Name.

Miss Grace Jennings was elected president of the newly organized French Club, at a meeting held Monday morning. The new club will probably be called Cercle Francais, according to Dr. Josiah H. Combs, head of the modern language department, who, with other members of the French faculty, will sponsor the club.

Miss Hazel Potter was elected secretary at the Monday meeting, and Miss Virginia Greer and Mrs. Anise Pickard were appointed to serve on a program committee.

The purpose of the club is to interest students in the practical use of French. The club will use French conversation, sing French songs and play French games. All students taking French are eligible for membership.

The time for meeting has been temporarily set for Mondays at 10 o'clock.

Students who attended the meeting are: Mrs. Anise N. Pickard, Maurine Rankin, Dorothy Stow, Marjorie Sherrill, Mary Magee, Grace Jennings and Virginia Greer.

In Little Theater Play

3 T. C. U. Students Appear in Coward's "Hay Fever."

Frances Fry, Robert Gray and Fred Erisman made successful theatrical appearances before the Little Theater audiences this week in Noel Coward's play, "Hay Fever."

This was Frances' and Bob's first appearances, but Fred had played before in workshop plays. Fred, as usual, was good. Frances as a bewildered flapper was most naive and charming. But Bob Gray was a "knock-out" as the impetous lover.

Oklahoma Indian, Son of Pawnee Chief, At T. C. U.

Among our students there is a psalm-singing, football-playing, full-blood Pawnee Indian. Bert Peters, son of a chief, is studying evangelical singing over at the Baptist Seminary and also attending T. C. U. He has completed three years on his A.B..

Peters attended Ottawa University and Ouachita College and has played two years' college football. When asked what position he played, he answered, "Tackle and full-back, but mostly sat on the bench."

His Indian name when translated into English means, "Little Sun." Pawnee, Oklahoma, is his home town.

We May Eat With Music!

Dean Leftwich and Mrs. Sadie Beckham are making an effort to provide music for the evening meal in the cafeteria each day.

"The Rise of the Mammals" to Be Lecture Subject

Ivan Alexander to Give Third Number of T. C. U. Series

HAS THESIS PUBLISHED

Friday Speaker Has Studied Under Authorities on Vertebrate Zoology.

"The Rise of the Mammals" will be the subject of a lecture to be given at Texas Christian University at 8 p. m. Friday by Dr. Ivan Alexander, professor of geology at T. C. U. This is the third of a series of seven lectures arranged for by Prof. Newton Gaines, chairman of the lecture committee. The next lecture will be March 27 at 4 p. m. when Dr. T. V. Smith, formerly of T. C. U., will lecture on "The Role of Philosophy in Human Life."

Dr. Alexander's lecture will be in two parts—the first half to convince the audience as to the authenticity of the last half.

In the last half he will show the evolution of some of the more important animals, describing the primitive ancestoral representatives and showing how they have reached their present state of development.

He will tell how fossil mammals which are preserved in rock are found, and how the paleantologists go about determining the relationship of the animal and constructing the appearance after the bones and teeth have been discovered. He will explain such things as why the ancestoral rhinocereous did not have horns, and the reason for the queer distribution of animals on the earth.

Dr. Alexander took his B. S. degree at T. C. U. in 1924, his M. S. in 1926 and his Ph. D. at Princeton in 1928.

He has studied under some of the best authorities on vertebrate zoology and is capable of giving an interesting and instructive lecture, according to Prof. W. M. Winton, professor of biology and geology at T. C. U.

Because of the importance of the subject to the oil industry, Dr. Alexander's thesis "The Study of Ostracods in the Texas Cretaceous" is now being printed by the State Bureau of Economic Geology.

T. C. U. Wins 2, Loses 1 In Debating Tour

Simmons and Tech Are Defeated by Hugh Buck and Lloyd Armstrong.

The T. C. U. debating team, composed of Hugh Buck and Lloyd Armstrong, won two of the three debates held on a trip to West Texas last week.

The team debated Simmons University in Abilene Feb. 15, on the question "Resolved, That a substitute for trial by jury should be adopted." T. C. U. upheld the negative side of the question and a two-to-one decision was rendered in their favor.

On Feb. 18 West Texas State Teachers' College at Canyon warmed in debating T. C. U. upholding the affirmative side of the question, "Resolved, That the parliamentary form of government is superior to the presidential form."

SILENT LIBRARIES.

LIBRARIES are not places in which to take your "daily dozen" by marching up and down between the tables for no reason at all. They are not the place where one should sit gazing out the window day-dreaming. Libraries are places for real study and concentration, but study and concentration are usually disturbed by unthinking students, who either have no studying to do, or if they do have studying to do, continue their disturbance and save their studying for another time.

LIBRARIES are not the places to meet one's friends and to exchange gossip. Yet often do we see and hear friends discussing the weather, the dates they had the night before, the new hat just purchased, the odd combination of colors in the teacher's clothes, and other similar topics.

LIBRARIES should be places of almost perfect quiet, for the benefit of those who wish to study. The students who are continually disturbing the quietude of the libraries should be excluded from them.

FROM ARKANSAS.

NO PUBLIC school in Arkansas can legally possess a copy of Webster's Dictionary!

The anti-evolution law of Arkansas does not permit the use of a book that defines evolution scientifically.

FOR the same reason other reference books are to be closed to the youth of Arkansas. This absurditiy should be a warning to other states who now have anti-evolution bills pending before their legislatures.

ABOUT THE COUNCIL

Editor Skiff:

I think there is no need more manifest in our school life than that need of student representation in settling the problems that arise in connection with our associations on the campus. Since the students are affected directely while the administration is affected only indirectly, it seems to be only logical and just that the students should be able to help the administration decide as to the advisability of inaugurating certain policies and of passing certain rules.

I am in no wise criticising the administration for the lack of student representation, for the students were given their chance with the honor system and failed to put it to the best interests of all concerned. It would be ridiculous, however, if anyone should criticize the failure of the students to support the honor system. There is a natural psychological objection on the part of human beings to do that thing, regardless of how needful and helpful it might be, that we call "tale telling."

The need for student representation is becoming more manifest as the problems grow in number and intensity. Many of the larger colleges and universities have adopted a system whereby student representation on administrative councils is allowed and encouraged. We feel assured that the university officials are desirous of coping with the wishes of the students so long as they are in keeping with the best interests of the university. Many times the officials are at a loss to know just what the students want. We are not for student government in its true sense, but are simply for that representation which will meet the insistent demands of the students, and at the same time, fulfill the need of the administration in finding out just what students want.

It is needless to say that the student life is very inadequately represented on our campus. There is no understanding between the faculty and students; and those of us asking for a Student Council feel that through this medium, we as students, will become more reconciled to, and more appreciative of, the plans and desires of the administration.

It is not our purpose to propose any particular plan just at this time. Rather it is our desire to see if the student body as a whole wants representation. The need is manifest. Do we want it?—Lloyd Armstrong.

IN ANSWER TO DEAN LEFTWICH

A group of sophomores were sitting in chapel on Friday, and were greatly stunned at the picture of "Sophomoreites" painted by Dean Leftwich. However, we felt it only wise to take it with the grain of salt it deserved.

An idea that occurred to most of us and that had been breezed around is the lack of tact in calling attention to the grammar of a certain letter printed in last week's Skiff, and the ignoring of the principle of the letter. We believe that students of good principle and good morals can adjust such principles to themselves, and that any other sort of students have no place in T. C. U.

But the main thing we wish to bring out in Dean Leftwich's very sarcastic address, is the fact that while it is regrettable that mistakes in grammar are made, it is also most regrettable that our Dean of men makes the mistakes in history that he does. May we say, that to our certain knowledge, it was Captain Myles Standish rather than Captain John Smith, as Dean Leftwich said, who was John Alden's rival for the hand of Priscilla.

A small matter, a mistake in history, but nevertheless, it is proving interesting to the student body and the faculty.—"A Modern Priscilla."

Here's More About AS WE SEE

IN the first place students would vote for as many candidates as were in the race, marking them as to their first, second, or third choice, down to the last candidate. This assures the selection of a number of candidates from which to choose the best, and eliminates "cliques."

The next move is the application of our merit system of selection. We take groups of students who receive the highest number of popular votes, and subject this group to student civil service examination. The examination questions to be furnished by the president and the student council which is retiring from office; the council and president furnishing two-thirds of the questions, and the faculty one-third of the questions.

THE constitutional amendement should specify a very high grade, so that the most efficient candidate of the group should be selected. The examination need not be on a basis of scholarship; it might even be best that scholarship be permitted to count least of all, with ability, leadership, high ideals, high morals, true school sentiment, and other factors being some of the outstanding points to grade on.

This is something evolutionary, certainly not revolutionary, and something worth considering. Talk it over with your friends.

2 Fraternities Give Patriotic Program

Washington's Birthday Is Commemorated With Chapel Presentation.

A program in honor of George Washington's birthday was presented at junior-senior chapel, Friday, sponsored by Alpha Zeta Pi and Pi Gamma Mu.

The program was opened by a prayer by President E. M. Waits.

The first part of the program was presetned by students in modern dress and consisted of two piano numbers by Mildred Austin, and two saxophone numbers by Wills Cox, accompanied by Helen Boren. Those appearing on the stage were: Mildred Austin, Wills Cox, Helen Boren, Margaret Rankin, Phyllis Pope and Dick Long.

The second part of the program carried out a colonial spirit in the numbers and the dress of the students who appeared. The following were on the stage: Grace Bucher, Mota Mae Shaw, Edith Armstrong, Anna Harriet Hyer, Ruth Hays, Virginia Greer, Bessie Jean Everett, Ernestine Carmichael, Perry Sandifer, and Milner Sandifer.

The following numbers were presented:

Grace Bucher—"Earl King," by Schubert-Liszt, a piano solo.

Mota Mae Shaw—"Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms" and "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes," accompanied by Grace Bucher.

Edith Armstrong—"Amaryllis" by Ghys, and "Minuet in G" by Beethoven, violin solos accompanied on the piano by Anna Harriet Hyer.

Perry Sandifer and Milner Sandifer—"The Star Spangled Banner."

Boyhood Dreams Of "Prexy," Dean, Prof. Art Told

There were no policemen or street sweepers to be imitated in the little town where Dean Hall grew up, so, as a small boy, he wanted to be a preacher. At the early age of 6 he aspired to that worthy calling, and, throughout all the natural changes of ambition which every boy experiences, that idea of being a minister was in his mind. When he was old enough to go to college, he began training for his chosen profession, and in time, he became the pastor of a church.

When asked if he had ever thought of being the dean of a large institution like T. C. U., he replied, "No, that thought never entered my mind; but I did want to be a teacher in a college." This ambition was realized when he substituted on the staff of T. C. U. as a teacher of Latin and Greek.

President Waits started off his youthful ambitions with the desire to be a doctor, changing them several times, until, after rejecting the careers of teacher and statesman, he also decided in favor of the ministry. "However," said President Waits, "I never quite relinquished the desire to be a great orator and sway many people through the power of speech. I had no idea of ever being president of a college."

Professor Smith of the education department, when asked what he remembered wanting to do first, promptly replied, "I wanted to ride bareback. But I soon learned how to do that, so I turned my attention to architecture. I suppose I wanted to do most of the things that all boys do, but after I was old enough to really be ambitious, I wanted to be a teacher."

Library Staff Has Varied Tasks

Several different kinds of work is done by the library staff, according to a report compiled by Arthur R. Curry, librarian. Among these are the ordering of books, checking and keeping account of the invoices, cataloging the books, preparing books for circulation, checking in magazines and newspapers, preparing magazines for the bindery, keeping records of students' fines for overdue and lost books and assisting students with reference books and general use of the library.

Operator—Two, two, two, two?

Mrs. Beckham—Yes, hurry up; I'll play train with you afterwards.

IS IT NOT SO? "Comedy in Errors"—a freshman translating French or Spanish.

Forrest White says he believes everything he says. Not casting any reflections on anyone, but we're glad someone believes him.

Mota Maye Shaw sang the prohibition song, "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes," in chapel last Friday.

The following conversation took place during the physical examination of a freshman:

Dr.—Calf?
Frosh—Fourteen inches.
Dr.—Thigh?
Frosh—Twenty-four inches.
Dr.—Chest?
Frosh—Thirty-two.
Dr.—Neck?
Frosh—Yes.

How in the world does Perry Sandifer keep from becoming lop-sided? Every time you see him he's carrying that horn in the same arm.

Someone suggested paving the golf course to provide parking space for the congested traffic in that vicinity between 10 and 11 p. m. Perhaps stop signals will be needed in the near future.

Prof.—Do you understand the question?

Leo Butler—Yes, but I'll be hanged if I understand the answer.

Why does a certain Jarvis girl persist in annoying girl friend's date? It sounds foolish but it is meant in all seriousness.

Last week's sleet brought forth on the T. C. U. campus the fourth raccoon coat.

Miss McCullough Goes Home

Vinita McCullough, a freshman, returned to her home in Ardmore, Okla., at the end of the term. She plans to return to T. C. U. for the summer term. Miss McCullough will be remembered as the leading character in the recent production of the Dramatic Club, "The Brat."

"Education Creating Place for Religion"

Henry C. Munro Gives Series of Three Lectures in Brite College Chapel.

"Educating is creating a place for religion never before given to it; it is making demands on religion to carry on and to complete that which it can just begin in the upbuilding of a child's character," said Harry C. Munro at Brite Chapel last week, in one of his series of three addresses to Brite students.

"Since man's attitude toward the unknown and mysterious has always been one of religion; religion is necessary in any preparation for the unknown tomorrow of this rapidly changing world. Since authority is now resented from without, it must come from within. And the source of control from within is a religious experience."

In another talk Mr. Munroe observed: "Good is as catching as evil; only there is more evil to be caught. But it is up to the church to do away with this condition by building up and strengthening the Gospel through demonstration rather than through proclamation."

Rooms in Jarvis Hall Decorated With Pennants

Pennants which represent fifty-four universities and colleges, high schools, cities and states, are to be found in Jarvis Hall. There are 186 pennants in all, T. C. U. being in the lead with a total of forty, and the University of Texas and Texas A. & M. coming second with ten each. One foreign country, England, is represented by a pennant belonging to Miss Frances Hill of Ennis. Miss Louise Dickinson and Anna Ruth Mitchell have nineteen pennants in their room, and Peggy Kipping and Maxine Russell come second with seventeen pennants.

The pennants represent: Army, Navy, Montreal, Notre Dame, Trinity, Shreveport, Carlsbad Cavern, John Hopkins, Drekel, Texas Tech., Howard Payne, Christian College, Sigma University, N. T. S. T. T. S. T. C., and T. C. U. There are eighteen high schools represented and sixteen cities and states.

Art Department Shows Increase

"There has not been the usual decrease this semester in the enrollment of the art classes. The enrollment of the drawing and painting classes have held up better than the others," says S. P. Zeigler, head of the art department. The new pupils who have enrolled are: Earl Heath from A. & M. College; Wilmeda Clutter, Bonham; Mary Cecilia Gaudin, Fort Worth, and Jerry Harwell. Mr. Zeigler says that he expects something unusual from Jerry Harwell, for he is quite a colorist and belongs among the moderns.

Rock Outcrop Examined

Last Saturday Prof. W. M. Winton, head of the biology and geology departments, and Major John B. Hawley, research associate in biology and geology, went to examine the rock outcrop which underlies the dam of the proposed Eagle Mountain Lake, to be constructed twenty miles north of Fort Worth. This lake is to be about twenty times the size of Lake Worth, with a maxaimum depth of about seventy feet. A sister lake, Lake Bridgeport, of about the same size, is also to be constructed. They are to furnish water to Fort Worth.

"Smoking Booth" Among Signs in Girls' Collection

Signs—signs—signs—the walls of the girls' rooms in Jarvis Hall are covered with signs. One corner will represent the latest movies, another toothpaste, and another razor blades. On several closet doors in large red letters are signs reading "Smoking Booths," "Out of Order," and "Fellowship Awaits You."

Since the arrival of Florine Stanley, a certain picture in Room 227 has become draped in crepe, and under it hangs a sign reading, "Temporarily Out of Order," and above the picture is a smaller sign which says "Keep Smiling."

A large poster which reads "Necking Inspector," hangs in the room of Inez Reynolds, she says the A. & M. trip is responsible for it, but gives no explanation for the policeman shouting "Stop" or for the "Search for Love."

Other signs which appear in the rooms are, "For Colored," "Rolls Ruff," "Sophomore Banquet," "Soft Shoulders," "Your Last Chance," "Do It the Safe Way," "Fire Prevention," "Living Hymns, but not the right Kind," "The Modern Way," "One Dark Night," "Under the Moon," "Don't Peep," and "Canned Dates."

Frog Flashes

By WADE HAWKINS.

AUSTIN.—Even though Austin is only two hundred miles or so from Fort Worth, the University of Texas baseball team has been working out for about a month.

Old Man Weather is holding out on the T. C. U. baseballers. Practice was scheduled to have begun Feb. 11. A "pepper" game or two, and a little work on the part of the pitchers is all that has been done.

A regular nine-inning game was played by the Longhorn squad Friday, Coach Billy Disch divides his squad in half and they compete against each other for practice. The Longhorn mentor likes this plan better than playing outside teams, for more of his boys are given a chance to show what they can do, and, too, the coach is more able to stop his own game and drop bits of advice, than he would be to stop a match game.

The poor showing made by the Frogs at the game here with the Longhorns was largely due to the long ride on the train the same day of the game. The team left Fort Worth Saturday morning and arrived in Austin about four hours before time to play. Naturally the boys were not at their best physically.

Bob Cantrell, sports editor of the Daily Texan, has the following to say about the new Frog coach; "Schmidt will make T. C. U. a great coach, and the stock of the Horned Frogs in conference competition should take a great jump. I join with T. C. U. in greeting Schmidt, and wishing him all the success possible."

The Texas University basket ball gymnasium burned last year soon after the season was over. The games this year are being played at the Deaf and Dumb Institute. The building seats only 500 persons, therefore all the students cannot see the games. About 4,500 students are enrolled in the university, and a system has been worked out so that each student can see only one game. Tickets are not sold to outsiders.

Arkansas depends upon her tall boys to win basket ball games, while Texas depends upon the speed of Brock, Camp and Cheatham. However, "Big Un" Rose is tall. He plays center and his height is a great asset to the Longhorn crew.

The Razorbacks have won their fourth basket ball championship in as many years. Let us hope that Schmidt brings some of his championship tactics to Frogland.

Although the announcement has not been made officially, it looks as though Raymond "Bear" Wolf will be the choice to fill the shoes of Kubale. It is understood that Schmidt is in favor of the former Frog lineman, but as yet there has been no definite word from the athletic council.

"Ku" left Saturday to take up his new duties at the Kentucky school. All Frogland wishes him well at his "first love," for it was at Centre that he won his spurs as a player, and now he is returning as coach.

"Spick" Clark is to be Kubale's assistant, but he will not go to Danville until some time next week.

It is hoped that Arkansas will get a man in the near future to fill Schmidt's place, in order that the new Frog coach may be able to be on the campus for spring training.

Farewell Party Held

"Matty" and "Ku" Are Given Remembrances by Student Body.

An official farewell was given to Coaches Kubale and Bell in the chapel auditorium Thursday night.

Talks were made by Prof. Edwin A. Elliott, Louise Montgomery and Elizabeth Ruff. Sidney Latham, head yell leader, presided, and awarded remembrances to the departing men on behalf of the student body. Music was furnished by Paige Harrell's Orchestra.

Annual Pictures Made

All freshman football players who received their freshman numerals this fall reported to the gym Wednesday afternoon and had their pictures made for the 1929 Horned Frog.

1926 Baseball Team Is Rated Best by Meyer

Frog-Steer Contest of That Year Called Greatest Game.

GREAT PLAYERS NAMED

Dutch Regards Wolf and Carson as Best Men He Has Coached as T. C. U. Mentor.

"The most spectacular baseball game that I ever saw was played in Austin in 1926 between T. C. U. and Texas University." these words came from none other than "Dutch" Meyer, who for three years has guided the destinies of Purple baseball teams, and who was once a pitcher of no mean ability.

"Dutch" likes to talk basketball—no matter where he is or what he is doing—and on this occasion he was down in the big gym, watching his freshman basketball men go through the fine points of his baseball experiences as coach of Frog teams.

"We beat the Longhorns 6 to 5 that day, but in doing so, we went through a breath-taking two hours that left us all as weak as we were happy," Dutch went on to say of the Texas game. "Perhaps one thing that made the game so thrilling was the fact that we were tied with the Longhorns for the conference lead, and our victory put us in the lead, where we remained until the last game of the schedule."

"'Hobo' Carson pitched for us and turned in the best game of his career. He got off to a bad start, but after the third inning he pitched a masterful game and couldn't be touched after we took the lead. His wonderful pitching and two home-runs, one by Ray Wolf with two on, and the other by Harry Taylor with one on, brought us our first victory over a Longhorn nine and climaxed the best game I've ever witnessed."

Incidentally, the Frogs failed to win the championship that year, though they led the field until the last game—which was also played with the Longhorns, and on the Frog's own diamond. The stage was all set for a wonderful victory and their first championship, but Dame Fortune wasn't with them that day, and the Longhorns scored a 11 to 0 victory to nose out the Purple by half a game.

Upon being asked who was the best ball-player he has ever coached, Dutch lost no time in naming "Bear" Wolf, who played first base for three years, and who is now connected with the school as a member of the coaching staff.

"Wolf was and is a great ball-player, and although he was handicapped at times by a bad knee, he was for three years the mainstay of our team. Without a doubt he's the best player that I've coached since becoming varsity baseball coach here.

"Next to him I guess I'd name 'Hobo' Carson a pretty close second. Carson is a wonderful pitcher and should make a name for himself in the baseball world, for he has every thing a good ball player needs, plus world's of ability. Of course, there are some other good men that are worthy of praise, but Wolf and Carson stand out distinctly from the others."

Dutch also stated that the 1926 team was the best team that T. C. U. has had since he became coach. The team was composed of the following:

First base, Wolf; second base, Levy; third base, Clark; short-stop, Williams and Cantelmi; outfielders, Steadman, H. Taylor, G. Taylor, Grant; catchers, Washmon and Moore; pitchers, Hezzie Carson, Harold Carson, George, Brewster, and Wood.

To Give Science Talk

Dr. T. W. Jensen of A. & M. Will Lecture Here March 8.

Dr. T. W. Jesen of A. & M. will lecture at T. C. U. Friday evening March 8, at 8 o'clock, on "The Bearing of Physical Chemistry on Biology."

This lecture, which is a purely scientific lecture, is one of the numbers of the intercollegiate seminar, an organization of Texas colleges which arranges exchange lectures.

Anyone enrolled in the science department, and others interested in science, are invited.

Coach Change Does Not Affect Girls' P. T.

Program for Spring Includes Motor Ability Tests and Rhythmic Work.

While there has been confusion and turmoil in the boys' sports departments this spring, because of T. C. U.'s losing two coaches at the same time, the machinery of the girls' side of the gym has continued to run smoothly. Mrs. Helen Walker Murphy has announced the program for the girls' physical education department for the remainder of the year.

With the beginning of the new term swimming tests were started. Every girl in the gym classes is required to take a swimming test, and those who do not make a creditable showing will specialize in swimming for their spring work. Students are to be classified by these tests as beginners, intermediates and advanced swimmers, Mrs. Murphy said. A class in life-saving will be organized soon.

In addition to the swimming test each girl will be required to take a motor ability test, and any one who fails in this test will be recommended for three years of physical education work. The motor ability test to be used is that of Dr. David Brace of Texas University.

Class work will be divided into rhythmic work to be demonstrated in the pageant, sports, and lecture work. Rhythmic work will be given on Monday and Tuesday of each week, swimming on Wednesday and Thursday and sports on Friday and Saturday.

Every girl taking physical education for credit will be required to take part in the pageant which will be given on May 11 in the T. C. U. stadium. The sports program outlined for the spring will be parallel to that of the Woman's Athletic Association of the University and will include: Track, tennis, golf, archery, swimming, and baseball.

Mrs. Murphy will lecture to the classes once each month on health education and related physical education subjects. Every freshman in the department will be required to read "Diet and Health," by Lulu Hunt Peters and to keep a health record. She wil have to hand in a report of the progress she is making in following instructions received in the book and through the lectures.

Another phase of the physical education program is the newly organized class in Girl Scouts. Members of this class will learn practical camping methods and will take several outing and camping trips in addition to the annual camp of the W. A. A. which will be held at Lake Worth on April 18.

Kubale Leaves for New Work at Centre

Herman Clark to Leave Next Week to Become Assistant Coach There.

Former Line Coach Edwin Kubale left T. C. U. and Fort Worth Thursday to take up his new duties at his Alma Mater, Centre College, Danville, Ky.

The former T. C. U. line coach will be head mentor at the home of the Praying Colonels. Herman Clark, former T. C. U. star quarterback and unanimous all-conference choice for three years, will assist Kubale.

Clark will not leave until some time next week. Kubale will coach the line, while Clark will have charge of the backfield.

Frogs In Last Home Contest

Game With Baylor Tonight Is Last Cage Tilt Here.

The Fighting Frogs will play their last home game of the season tonight with the Baylor Bears. The Frogs took the measure of the Bears in a previous meeting of the two teams at Waco, and the Frogs are favored to repeat.

On Saturday night the Purple squad will journey to the Mustang stable to encounter Coach St. Clair's prancing steeds. It will be the Frog's last game of the season, therefore it promises to be a torrid contest.

The Bell basketeers feel before the onslaught of Brock, Camp and Cheatham, and the goal shooting of "Big Un" Rose proved too much for the sluggish Frogs.

The first half of the contest was a slow affair, but the last half proved to be more exciting. At one time the Frogs were within five points of the lead held by the Austin crew, but the sharpshooting of Holly Brock was the undoing of the Bellmen.

Conference Grid Record—33 Won, 17 Lost, 5 Tied

The football teams of Texas Christian University have been under the direction of Head Coach Madison Bell since the fall of 1923, when Bell came to T. C. U. from the Haskell Indian Institute, Lawrence, Kan.

The Frogs were admitted to the Southwest Conference about the time Bell came to the Christian institution. Bell's team finished in third place, winning four and loosing five games. Blair Cherry was captain of the team, he is football coach at North Side High School at the present time. Herman Clark was voted the most valuable man. It was his first year on the team.

In 1924 Lindsey Jacks was captain. Four games were won and five were lost.

The 1925 team was the most successful of Coach Bell's. Seven games were won, one was lost, and one was tied. Herman Clark, John Washmon and Horace Brewster were all-conference selections. The champion Texas Aggies were defeated 3-0 by the Frogs. Washmon's kicking was outstanding.

Six games were won during the 1926 season, one was lost and two were tied. John Washmon was captain and an all-conference selection. Matthews and Brewster were all-conference also.

In the 1927 season four games were won, two were tied and three were lost. "Rags" Matthews was the outstanding player of the season. He further distinguished himself by playing in the annual East-West game in San Francisco.

The Frogs had their best team during the past season. Eight games were won but the Texas Longhorns and the Baylor Bears spoiled a perfect record.

During the six years that Coach Bell coached the T. C. U. teams his teams won 33 games, tied 5 and lost 17.

Teel Gets 19 Points In Class A Contest

Holds Week's Scoring Honors in Intramural Basketball. Game.

In the intramural basket ball play last Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights, victories were chalked up by the Sophomore A and Senior A on Wednesday, Senior B and Freshman B on Thursday, Brite College and Rough Riders on Friday, and Senior A and Faculty on Monday.

High-point man for the four nights was Glen Teel of the Sophomore A team. In the game which his team played against the Junior A on Wednesday night, Teel featured the game with his dribbling and goal shooting, and hung up a total of 19 points in his team's victory of 44 to 10.

Second high-point man for the week was Graham Estes, who scored 17 points in the Faculty-Junior A game Monday, resulting in a 32-to-31 victory for the Faculty.
