Junior-Senior Banquet Thursday

Your School—Your Paper—And Your News

AS WE SEE A THINGS

THE president of the student body has been asking for petitions to be turned in for students who intend to be candidates for student body offices...

ANOTHER thing of importance is the coming junior-senior banquet; so far there has not been so much interest manifest as it seems there should be...

LAST week, we were honored by having two conventions on our campus at the same time. Like the proverbial Scotchman who was caught in a soup storm with a fork...

THE Sigma Tau Delta meeting honored T.C.U. by selecting Miss Pauline Barnes as one of their leading chairmen. Work on the English fraternity is moving in a slow, but sure route...

GOOD shows are things that people can get some benefit from in some form or another; it may be pleasure, morale, or just past time, but whatever the benefit is, it is usually appreciated...

IN thinking about all of the work that seems to be going on at this time, one would be wont to feel that graduation time is coming on, and sure enough, it won't be long...

THE time to select those efficient student body officers will soon be here, and if you forget to nominate them, you'll only have yourself to blame if you don't get to vote for the person you thought would make the best officer.

Academic Training Valuable for Novelist, Says Thornton Wilder

"Today students can not get too much academic training in the classics in preparation for novel writing," according to Thornton Wilder, novelist, schoolmaster and lecturer, who spoke here Saturday night on his famous novel, "The Bridge of San Luis Rey."

"The novels of the last fifteen years have been photographic and the best preparation for writing such novels was seeing life as a sailor or newspaper reporter. Today a thorough background of the classics is desirable. The novel of today," he said, "is more of an inward treatment of life."

Wilder also mentioned the fact that some of the greatest writers have been self taught.

"The first sign of a writer is that he writes."

Wilder said that he considered the experience a young writer receives in newspaper work splendid training and experience for later creative writing.

In regard to the influences on his style of writing, Wilder said, "My style is French by form, as seen in memoirs and non-fiction; German in sentiment, for example the influence of the music of Bach and Beethoven; and American in eagerness or energy."

At the reception Saturday evening, Wilder was asked to autograph everything from first editions of "The Bridge of San Luis Rey" to English theme papers, outlines of his novel.

One request was for an autograph with his definition of literature in his novel. The definition is "Literature is the orchestration of the platitudes."

Fred Erisman, president of the senior class, got more for his money than any one else. He presented an outline of the novel for an autograph on the plea that a freshman desired it.

Erisman was treated to a criticism of the outline, which was really his own. It must have been Wilder, the patient schoolmaster, who in amused manner criticized the outline. He also autographed a drawing of himself, done by one of Mrs. A. B. Bryson's pupils.

Cast for Frosh Play Is Chosen

Those who will have roles are Misses Harriet Copeland, Mary Louie Spinks and Mary Strong; Messrs. Bryce Ryan, James Wilmet and Laurence Coulter.

"The play is a nineteenth century production," according to Prof. Lew D. Fallis, "and is one of the beginning plays of the new realistic movement in England in reaction to Ibsen and others." "The Caste" is a three-act comedy written by T. W. Robertson.

Unanimous Debate Decision Over A. & M.

Fred Erisman acted as chairman for the debate and Carroll McConnell, Cato Sells and N. L. Clark were the official judges.

This debate was a part of the T. C. U., A. & M. and S. M. U. triangle.

Robert Qualls To Give Recital Monday Evening

Will Read "Macbeth" at 8 p. m. in T. C. U. Auditorium.

MEN'S QUARTET TO AID

Proceeds Will Be Used to Aid Blind Student to Attend Curry School.

Robert Qualls, blind graduate student at T. C. U., will give a Shakespearean recital, reading "Macbeth," at 8 o'clock next Monday night in the T. C. U. auditorium. The recital has been worked up by Qualls with the aid of Prof. Lew D. Fallis, head of the public speaking department.

Qualls has recently won a scholarship for next year from the Curry School of Expression, Boston, and his purpose of giving the recital is to raise funds to make it possible for him to attend the school.

Qualls, although handicapped, has worked his way through college by tuning pianos. "I have been making all of my expenses since I graduated from the school for the Blind in Muskogee, Okla.," he said.

Relating the story of the accident causing his blindness, Qualls said that he hurt one eye while playing with a hay fork at his home in Muskogee, when he was about 9 years old. About two years later he lost the sight of the other eye.

He has been an honor student, despite his blindness since the age of 12. He took his A. B. degree from T. C. U. in June last year and is now doing graduate work in the department of English.

Entering the university five years ago, Qualls has made an excellent record in his studies as well as actively participating in student affairs. Last year he was vice-president of the senior class and was a member of several organizations, including the Bryson Club, the Dramatic Club, Choral Club and the T. C. U. chapter of the Texas Scholarship Society.

Qualls intends to enter the teaching phase of public speaking or to become a public reader.

He will be assisted in his recital next Monday night by the Horned Frog Quartet. Members of the Quartet are: Thompson Shannon, Dick Long, Ralph Sanders and Alton Thompson.

Admission for the recital is 50 cents.

T. C. U. DAY.

A HORNFED Frog Day for Texas Christian University! Why not have one day in the year set aside when T. C. U. students all over the world may come together in whatever State or clime they may be and talk over old times, and for one day remember together those happy days in their Alma Mater.

APRIL 21 is the annual A. & M. Day everywhere. Whether as many as two former A. & M. students are in the same town or locality, their duty is to find one another and meet together, a day reminiscence and discussion of the good old days at Aggie land following as the result.

THE T. C. U. Ex-Students Association took a definite step in this direction when they started the campaign to organize T. C. U. clubs over the State and when they set aside the Thursday, before Thanksgiving as the date for an annual ex-students' dinner all over Texas. By having a definite set date for an annual T. C. U. Day, T. C. U. students everywhere could know that on this day, T. C. U. students everywhere else were congregating together for the same purpose of carrying on the spirit of Frogland.

IN LARGER places where there would be many former students, the meetings would take the form of luncheons or dinner parties. Whether two, or 200 were congregated, the purpose would be the same—promotion of fellowship among graduates and ex-students, and renewed interest in our Alma Mater. Let's have a Hornfed Frog Day for T. C. U.!

COLLEGIATE, COLLEGIATE.

THE raucous jazz notes of "Collegiate, Collegiate, yes we are collegiate" have penetrated the awful and silent depths of the dean's office. It is not a welcome tune, and something ought to be done about it. So at the next convention of deans in April the words will be revised to read, "Yes, but are we collegiate?"

Something may eventually be done about it. In the meantime, a questionnaire. Dean Henry Grattan Doyle of George Washington University has sent one to 400 deans. He asks, among many questions:

Is neatness in appearance, as evidenced by clean shaving, well-shined shoes, starched linen, appropriate neckties of neat appearance and well-pressed suits of clothing, typical of your student body?

In the main, does the psychological attitude of your student body approve of slouchy and careless habits of dress and conduct or neat habits of dress and courteous manners?

It does not require a very keen mind to predict what the answer to that will be. Already the reassuring replies are coming back. From Wesleyan:

"The present generation of students here, as I look upon them, are well-dressed, well-behaved, a very different type from what we had 25 years ago."

"Speaking in general of the morals of the community, I feel pretty sure that they are on a higher plane than they have ever been."

We have a pretty strong conviction that Dean Doyle will be able to report at the convention that on the word of 399 deans this generation is the best yet. (The one exception will be Harvard, which has already refused to answer the questions.)

But aren't the deans waking up to the collegiate menace two or three years late? Collegiatism is dying out in the colleges, though it will linger on in remote colleges, in front of drug stores, and on vaudeville platforms for a long while. There is something of romantic excess in the collegiate costume that is out of key with these prosaic times. Bell-bottom trousers, un-anchored socks and such-like are as much relics of the past as is the fashion of carrying the American Mercury. (They read The New Yorker now.)

The fearful dean should read any "What Young Men Are Wearing" column in the magazines that cater to college youth. There college men are being told that a neat conservative appearance is a "valuable asset" and that "anyone in the business world who hopes to make good is lost without it." The garter manufacturers depict in full-page ads the terrible tragedies that befall those who have no "Sox Appeal" and the Arrow collar people are out gunning for the informal roll-collared shirt of the out-of-style "drug store cowboy." Even the coon-skin coat is passing.

Other times, other manners. The collegiate mode is passing out. The reason it is going is the reason why all fashions change. The hoil polloi, drug clerks and farm hands, have caught up with it. The next job for college men is to create a new fashion. Otherwise the four years would be wasted, and there would be no way to distinguish between those who have had the privilege of a college education and those who have not.—The New Student.

Housemother Writes Unusual Notes to Her Careless Girls

Floors refuse to mop themselves. Clothes refuse to hang themselves. Books refuse to stack themselves. Doors refuse to dust themselves. So you little girls get busy.

(Signed.)

The above is just the message a housemother wrote to two of her girls who had neglected their room. T. C. U. housemothers really are clever in what they say to their girls. Some of them even have a certain kind and color of paper. They are responsible for writing the slips which at times are merely reminders and at other times warnings.

Some girls always have a clean room—others never have. There are those in between who get yellow slips only once in a while. Some girls take the "cleaning up" habit and for a week or so they just can't keep their room tidy enough. Then the next week or so the floors are covered with lint, the dressers are ready to travel, and the beds are left unmade.

One little girl fell into the habit of leaving the cleaning of the room to an accommodating room mate. Finally she took a notion to help out so for one whole day she scrubbed like a char-woman on that abused floor. For the next few days she worked equally as hard trying to keep things in place.

One morning she rushed off without making her bed. On returning home she found a clever little message written on that popular colored slip of paper which read: "After the storms there's a lull."

Open Forum

Dear Editor: I am writing in behalf of the library staff of T. C. U. I am not on the staff but I am in sympathy with them. Sometime ago I noticed that "everyone in general was making an office boy out of our librarian. Perhaps they don't realize it, but a person's one telephone call a day is just one of the one hundred who call daily wanting to know if a certain book is in the library, or if so and so is here.

Not that Mr. Curry doesn't like to accommodate people, but he isn't paid to be an office boy and librarian combined. A librarian is a busy man anyhow.

I merely want this to enlighten the students, we are all guilty, (I have a guilty conscience too). From now on let's get that exercise over to the library and seeing for ourselves.

Thank You, A Student.

Jarvis Hall Is Home of Animals Dolls and Girls

Jarvis Hall at Texas Christian University could well be turned into a menagerie of a first class leading place for Santa Claus, with the twenty-two different types of both wild and domesticated toy animals represented there.

The total number of animals, including "Mama Bear," "Papa Bear," and "Baby Bear," is 137, as well as 15 clown dolls, 7 baby dolls and 38 flapper dolls, which belong to Jarvis Hall girls.

Some of these pets have most characteristic names, "Adalpus," a snake; "Socrates," "Christopher," and "Columbus," three small dogs; "Os-kar," the elephant; "Lags," a cat; and "Pinkie," the clown dog.

Most of the dolls have an interesting history. Some of them are worn with age, some lack a leg, some an arm, and even the head is cracked on a few, but the most dilapidated dolls seem to be the dearest to their owner, because, in most cases, they were favorite dolls which were displayed with years and years ago. This is especially true among the baby dolls. "I've had my doll for twelve years," said Miss La Velle Stubblefield of San Antonio. "It seems like a part of the family now."

Miss Stubblefield also had a set of twins, whom she calls "Kate" and "Duplicate." Another interesting set of twins belong to Miss Vera Bell Stephenson of Houston. They are known as "Pete" and "Repeat."

Dogs and elephants lead the list of animals represented in Jarvis Hall. There are 35 of the former and 29 of the latter. The other animals are 10 birds, 15 cats, 3 owls, 10 horned frogs, 3 chickens, 10 monkeys, 7 pigs, 1 turkey, 3 parrots, 6 camels, 1 duck, 1 turtle, 1 bear, 1 butterfly, 2 snakes, 2 fish, 1 rabbit, 3 deer, 2 cows, 1 giraffe and 1 mule.

Defines Christian Life

Mohle, at Brite Chapel, Says It Is "Unsatisfied" One.

"The Christian life is the unsatisfied life, unsatisfied because the Christian goal is perfection," said Charles B. Mohle at Brite Chapel last Wednesday in an address, "Pressing on to Perfection."

"Jesus held before us the ideal of being perfect as is the Heavenly Father. We can never reach that high state of perfection, but we can border on it. But before we can reach out for this goal we must realize how far we are from it. Negatively, this goal is the removal of every defect in our lives, every petty thing. Positively, it is the attainment of what God meant us to attain. And as we advance toward this goal, God increasingly reveals himself to us."

Frog Flashes

By Wade Hawkins

WACO—Cy Leland continues to improve in the 100-yard dash. He ran the race here today in 9.5 seconds. Three stop-watches clocked him in the world's record time. There was a slight breeze blowing across the track, but not to the back of the runners.

With continued improvement, the Frog dash star will attract national recognition. Leland's weak point is in the start. With a little improvement in that department—the young Lubbock product will be more than sensational.

From the looks of the Southwest Conference baseball standing, the Bears have a good chance to beat the Texas Longhorns. By taking a pair of games from the Dish men here Wednesday and Thursday, the Baptists forged ahead of the Texas crew.

Coach Harve Light will take his squad of thinly clad to Denton next Saturday for a duel meet with the North Texas State Teachers' Eagles. Owing to the fact that the Frogs are strong in only two or three departments, it is expected that the teachers will take the measure of the Christians. However, Leland, Isley, Hilburn, Norman and Simpson will account for themselves.

Buster Walker is credited with winning the three games that the Frogs have chalked up in the victory column. He beat Baylor, Rice and A. & M. If T. C. U. had another pitcher like Walker, we would have a chance to hold our own in the Southwest Conference.

Schools are very much alike in the student body, school spirit and traditions. However, there is not a school in the state that has the tradition behind it that Baylor has. Nineteen twenty-nine in the 84th year of the school's existence.

A school is built largely on tradition. Some say that tradition is not valuable to a school, and that it should be discarded in order that progress may be made. If T. C. U. had more tradition it would get along better.

At the present the Alma Mater song is even laughed at in chapel, and sometimes the students have to be asked to stand when it is being played. No plea on the part of influential students or faculty members will cause the students to wake up and "take notice." It is an individual proposition, and each student must take it upon himself and herself to help make the school song one of the best songs and one of the best thought of songs in the realm of music.

T. C. U.'s track stock is taking considerable rise when the freshmen are considered. Salkeld, Oliver, Smith, Burns, Moore, Houser and McCullough are showing up exceptionally well.

Walker Pitches Frogs To Third Victory

Aggie Game Featured by Hitting of Wallin After Prolonged Slump.

T. C. U.'s Varsity baseball team split a two-game series with the Texas Aggies at College Station Friday and Saturday before journeying to Houston for two games Monday and Tuesday with Rice.

Buster Walker turned the Farmers back in the initial contest by a score of 5-2. Horace Wallin broke loose for the first time this season and collected three hits, one being for four bases.

The second encounter was a 9-8 decision in favor of the khaki clads, who gathered six runs in the eighth frame to pull the game out of the fire after the Frogs had made seven runs off the services of Wendt and Rechenberg. Each club gathered ten safeties.

Cox started for the Frogs, but was relieved by Chappell after the Aggies got to him for three hits and three runs in the first. Chappell immediately retired the side and then the Frogs came back in their half to gather four runs.

Chappell weakened in the eighth frame and yielded four runs. Buster Walker took the mound, but before he could get two men out the Aggies had scored two more runs that won the game.

The Frogs' next encounter will be on the home diamond against A. & M. next Monday and Tuesday.

At the end of Saturday's contests the conference standing was as follows:

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Baylor	5	1	.833
Texas	7	3	.700
Texas A. & M.	4	2	.667
Rice	3	5	.375
T. C. U.	3	7	.300
S. M. U.	2	6	.250

T. C. U.'s freshman track team made a creditable showing against the Central High team of this city Friday in a dual meet on the local track. The first-year men nosed out the visitors by a score of 36-2-3 to 35-1-3.

Brown of Central and Salkeld and Oliver of T. C. U. each won two first places to tie for high-point honors. Brown won the mile run and the half-mile, while Salkeld took the discus and 440-yard run and Oliver won the 190-yard dash and the 220-yard dash.

The summary:

Intramural Track Develops Freshmen

Several Stars Will Come Up to Varsity for Conference Competition in 1930.

The intramural track season was completed Monday, and, as only freshmen participated, it was a field day for the first year men. The main thing that intramural track has accomplished this year is the development of an excellent freshman track team.

There are seven or eight men on this squad who will materially strengthen the Varsity next year. Salkeld in the weights and quarter-mile, Oliver and Houser in the dashes, Burns in the half-mile, Smith in the pole vault, the Parker brothers in the high jump, and Massey in the distance races, will all greatly help T. C. U. to put a strong track team in the conference race in 1930.

The Brite College of the Bible chapel program for next Wednesday will be in charge of D. R. Lindley, graduate student in B. C. B., it was announced by Dr. W. C. Morro Wednesday.

The Frogs' next match will be with the Texas Longhorns at Austin on April 27.

Rice Net Men Shut Out Frog Players

In Reversal of Form, T. C. U. Is Defeated in All Matches in Play at Houston.

Showing a complete reversal of form, which heretofore had allowed them to easily conquer most of their opponents, the Frog varsity tennis team Saturday fell before the dash and drive of the Rice racketeers by a 6 to 0 score. The matches were played in Houston.

Hess, Rice, defeated John McDiarmid, T. C. U., 6-3, 3-6, 6-1; and Appell, Rice captain, defeated Weir McDiarmid, 6-0, 6-0. Appell and Hess then won from the McDiarmid brothers, 6-0, 6-1.

Schward, Rice, defeated Ewell, 6-4, 6-3, and Black, Rice, won from Fox, 6-2, 8-6, to end the singles matches. In the doubles, Schward and Black took a hard-fought set, 3-6, 6-2, and 11-9.

Leland Runs Century In Record Time of 9.5

Frogs, However, Are Outclassed 86 to 31 in Track Meet With Baylor U.

By Wade Hawkins
WACO—The Baylor University Bears took a fast track meet from the T. C. U. Horned Frogs here Saturday. The outstanding event of the contest was the phenomenal time of 9.5 seconds in which Cy Leland ran the 100-yard dash. This time was recorded by three stop-watches, and it equals the world's record. The score was 86 to 31 in favor of Baylor.

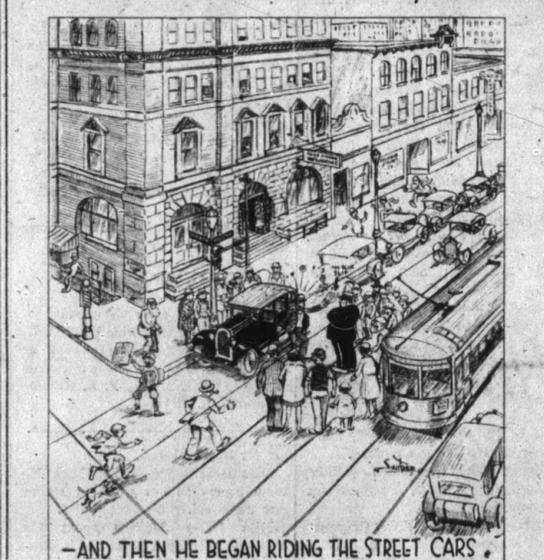

The T. C. U. men took five first places and two second places. Leland won both the 100 and 220-yard dashes. Ralph Isley won the mile run, while Tom Simpson came out first in the two-mile run, and Charles Hilburn won the pole vault.

Harve Light's next meet will be with the North Texas State Teachers' College at Denton Saturday. Coach Light will take his entire squad of men to the meet.

Owing to the fact that the Frogs are weak, except in Leland, Hilburn, Norman, Isley and Simpson, and that the Teachers have a well-balanced team, the latter are expected to take the meet.
