Seniors to Meet Monday

Plans for Gift, Will Discuss Show. Elect Chairman, Pla.

The senior class will discuss plans for the selection of a gift, elect a chairman of the gift committee, complete plans for the senior show to be given Nov. 14 and announce the amount of money received from the sale of lecture tickets at a meeting of the class Monday, Nov. 11, it was announced yesterday by Stewart Hellman, president.

Hellman urges that every senior be at this meeting in the amphitheater next Monday without fail as the decisions in the class plans depend upon the vote of the entire class. "I would like," said Hellman, "for every senior to be thinking about what he would like as a gift of the class to the University and whom he would like as chairman of the gift committee."

Students Look To Texas Game

Frogs Meet Owls in Second Conference Tilt Saturday.

Following the Horned Frogs' 25-to-0 victory over the Denton Texans last Saturday, the football eyes of T. C. U. have turned to bear on the remaining four games on the Purple schedule. At present they are bearing more heavily on the tilt with the University of Texas Longhorns, which is slated for Nov. 16 in Memorial Stadium, Austin.

Before that date, however, the Frogs will encounter the Owls of Rice Institute. Jack Meagher brings his Rice eleven to Fort Worth next Saturday, where it will meet the Frogs in the second conference game of the season for both teams. The Owls have won only two out of five games this season, hence T. C. U. is generally conceded to win handily. Even so, Schmidt refuses to take the game lightly for last year the Christians journeyed to Austin to meet the "weak" Owl eleven and were hard pressed to come away with a 7-to-0 victory. The Owls will be in there fighting, and two straight losses will have them primed for the game mentally at least.

Preparations for the trip to Austin Nov. 16 have been under way for a week. School authorities have announced a holiday and practically the entire student body of the University will make the trip. Unlike Coach Schmidt and the Frog team, students are looking two weeks ahead to the Texas game. They are taking the Rice game lightly because Rice is considered "out" as far as the conference race is concerned and because the trip to Austin to play the great Longhorn team in a game that will bear on the championship is far more appealing.

Special trains will carry students and fans to Austin over the Missouri Pacific. They will leave Fort Worth about 7 o'clock in the morning of the day of the game and will arrive in Austin around 1:30 p. m. All but one of the trains will return that night. One will return Sunday night with those who wish to stay over for the activities planned for T. C. U. students.

Round trip tickets for those returning the night of the game will be $4; for those remaining in Austin until Sunday night, $5.40. Pullman accommodations will be $3 extra. Lunch cars, buffet cars and diners will be added features of the special.

Including the approximate number of fans who will go to Austin by auto, early estimates place the number of T. C. U. students and fans who will view the game at 2,500.

Essay Contest Opens

Journalistic Students Eligible—Mrs. Townsend, Sponsor.

All students of journalism of the state are eligible to take part in an essay contest sponsored by Mrs. Eli Moore Townsend, who is chairman of the committee of journalism in the State Federation of Women's Clubs.

A prize will be given to the person who writes the best essay concerning General Miranda Bonaparte Lamar. Lamar Day is Jan. 26 and it is in honor of this general that Mrs. Townsend has sponsored this contest.

The minimum length of the essay will be 1,500 words and maximum 3,500. All of the rules for a well-typed essay apply to this contest and all material must be in by Jan. 26 according to Mrs. Townsend. Prizes will be announced on April 21. The winner of the contest will be given a book, "The Story of the World's Literature," by John Macy.

To Speak at Women's Meeting. Miss Rebecca Smith of the English department will speak at the Texas dinner at the annual convention of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, to be held Nov. 12 at Mineral Wells. Miss Smith has not announced her subject.

C. U. Boosters' Club Organized

Plans to Help School Activities—Aid Boys' Find Work.

"Any T. C. U. or Fort Worth booster is welcome to join this club even if he is unfortunate enough to have gone to some other university," said E. C. Lowden, elected president of the new T. C. U. Boosters' Club at the organization meeting Monday. The meeting was in the form of a luncheon held at the University Club.

To support Lowden, "Rags" Matthews was elected vice president; Bill Bob Watt, secretary, and H. "Shorty" Vaughn, treasurer.

It was agreed that the club should meet once a week during October, November and December, or the football season, and once a month the remainder of the year.

In a short talk to some 35 members present, Coach Francis A. Schmidt suggested that a "part of the work that the club might do would be to help find jobs downtown for boys that they might attend T. C. U."

"T. C. U.," he said, "has lost several good football men by not being able to give them a job whereby they might work their way through."

The club will foster the advancement of various activities of T. C. U. Its work, however, will not be confined to athletics alone.

Members present at the organization were Francis A. Schmidt, "Pop" Boone, "Pete" Wright, "Rags" Matthews, E. C. Lowden, Flem Hall, Ned Record, Roy Smith, Fain Reynolds, J. G. Anderson, R. C. Bahn, Harvey Wright, C. L. Richart, Fred Scott, Frank Cantelini, Reub E. Berry, Dr. I. S. Barrett, G. D. Haver, Rinehart Roy, H. "Shorty" Vaughn, Billie Bob Watt, W. E. Kembell, A. H. Montague, J. Warren Day, J. H. Bailey, R. Reynolds, Dr. Jack Ball, Dr. R. F. Calkins, Dr. Abe Greines, C. G. Fassler, Charles W. Holcomb, T. G. McCombs, Dan H. Coke, Raymond Wolf, "Dutch" Myers.

Hallowe'en Observed

Cafeteria Decorated and Music Furnished by Frogettes.

A Hallowe'en color scheme was carried out in the decorations in the T. C. U. cafeteria on Hallowe'en night. The Frogettes, an organization of freshman girls in Jarvis Hall, had charge of the decorations, with the assistance of Mrs. Sadio Beckham and Dean and Mrs. L. L. Leftwich.

The only light in the cafeteria was given by large yellow candles which centered each table. The window shades were lowered and covered with Hallowe'en pumpkins and witches. The color scheme of orange and black was carried out throughout the room, even in the salad and ice course which was served.

Miss Rowena Doss furnished music during the evening with a number of popular piano pieces, and Miss Jeanne Horsley played the part of the ghost, wrapped in a sheet. She wandered about the tables, passing around fortune telling favors which were carried in small pumpkin lanterns.

To Advertise "Sweetie"

Journalism Class to Conduct Ad Campaign for Film.

The journalism 135 class in advertising will have charge of the campaign for the college picture "Sweetie" which is coming to the Fort Nov. 9. The campaign will be under the direction of Joseph B. Cowan, instructor, and Marshall Moore, manager of the Worth.

The class, together with Mr. Cowan, Mr. and Mrs. Butler S. Smiser and Prof. and Mrs. John W. Ballard attended a preview of the film Tuesday night. Thursday Mr. Moore and the head of his art staff, Mr. Mabry, talked to the class about what forms of advertising would be used. The advertising will be put on jointly with Pangburn's Candy Company, with whom a tie-up was made by the producers of the picture and the National Confectioners Association.

To Sing at Church Service.

Mrs. Helen Fouts Cahoon will sing at the evening service at the University Church, next Sunday, according to Rev. A. Preston Gray, pastor.

RICE IS COMING

A large number of the Rice students and citizens of Houston will be our visitors this week-end. We are indeed glad to have them with us on our campus. The special train from Houston will arrive after noon and leave soon after the game, as there is little that we can do, other than show them the true welcome that exists in our hearts for them.

A sports writer said some time ago, that Rice always has at least one good game in her system. They almost beat us last year and they will certainly be after us this year. There are no cinches in the Southwest Conference.

Don't forget, help add Rice to our already good list of real friends, by showing them the old T. C. U. spirit.

HUGH BUCK, Student Body President.

Student Hobbies Range From Hill Climbing to Tap-Dancing

Hobbies are like the measles; everybody has them, and T. C. U. students prove no exception. Among the boys who listed sports as their hobbies are John McDiarmid, Roy Eury, David Elast, Wayne is McDiarmid's sport and baseball is Elias'. Eury likes to play any kind of game, from football to dominoes. Girls who like sports are Misses Thelma Lawrence and Ruth Williams.

When asked about their hobbies, boys answered without hesitation, but many girls refused to give an answer. The study of poetry is the hobby of Misses Siddle Jo Johnson and Sarah Beth Boggers. Miss Leora Bennett likes to collect toy animals and "elfants," while Miss Maxine Russell enjoys working out color schemes. Misses Vera Turbeville, Jeanette McLean and Marjorie Lee Robison list art as their favorite pastimes. Miss Turbeville and Miss McLean like to paint, while Miss Robison prefers pen sketching.

Alumni Members Arrange Events

Exes of Central High Follow Traditions of Alma Mater.

The alumni of Fort Worth Central High School were recently organized to carry out the traditions and work of their high school days.

This organization is the only one of its kind in the city. The president says that their plans have not been the assistance of Mrs. Sadio Beckham and Dean and Mrs. L. L. Leftwich.

The first homecoming of Central High graduates will be celebrated Thanksgiving when Central High meets North Side High in their annual football game. Definite plans have not been made for the entertainment of the visiting alumni. Doyle Goodwin is the chairman of the committee on arrangements.

The founders and present officers are: Lonnie Smith, president; Weldon Orm, vice-president; Red Saus, secretary; Doyle Goodwin, treasurer; James Earl Smiley, social chairman.

Among the T. C. U. students active in this organization are: Misses Vera Turbeville, Leora Bennett, Betty Southwell, Dorothy Bibb, Jane Jarvis, Pat Jarvis, Mildred Colvin, Mary Adams, Gwendolyn Montgomery, Mary Jane Ridgeway, Mary Lee Poindexter, Geraldine Truby, Lillie Mae Dinkins, Pauline Barnes, and Elva Keoppe; Stewart Hellman, Bill Rogers, Clarence Thomas, Jo Brice Wilmett, Lewis Langston, Buddy King, Tyler Dean, Horace Wallin, Bill Steele, and John Davis.

T. C. U. Mothers' Club To Meet Friday, Nov. 8

The T. C. U. Mothers' Club will meet at the home of the president, Mrs. A. W. Hoyer, 2538 Green, Friday, Nov. 8, at 2:30 p. m. Musical numbers will be given by Miss Dorothy Chancey, violin; Miss Elizabeth Strayhorn and Miss Elizabeth Hutchinson, voice.

Mrs. Helen Walker Murphy of the physical education department will speak on "The Required Two Year Physical Education Course." All parents are urged to attend the meeting.

A. O. S. Students Are Attracted by Cowboys and Team

"I wanted to come to Texas where there were real cowboys, but I'm so disappointed," said Miss Frances Carmichael of Little Rock, Ark., who is a member of the All Other States Club, at the meeting when each student was giving his reason for coming to T. C. U.

"I came to T. C. U. to try to make the football team because I had heard so much about the fighting Frogs," said Buster Brannon, of Pine Bluff, Ark.

Miss Lamar Griffing of Jacksonville, Fla., said that she wanted to be different and decided to come to T. C. U. because none of her friends had ever been to school in Texas, and also because her former pastor had spoken so highly of T. C. U.

Do You Want a Lollypop?

The Skiff is going to have a joke column or humor column if a name can be found. A contest will be held.

To the student submitting the best name for said column will be given the very first copy of the first football play-by-play extra ever put out at T. C. U. (which will be worth hundreds of dollars in a few hundred more years, so look out for your grandchildren) and one lollypop (choose your own flavor) and one used postage stamp (perhaps even a special delivery). Besides all of this the name of the winner will be carried on the front page of The Skiff.

Contest closes at noon, Saturday, Nov. 16. Leave all entries at The Skiff office.

Flag Presented At Pep Meeting

Talks by Bowden, Tomlinson, Feature of Student Rally.

"If you want to win the conference championship, you will have to yell better than you did the first half of the A. & M. game," said Henry Bowden, ex-vice-president of T. C. U., who spoke at the pep meeting Friday night at the big gymnasium.

A new T. C. U. flag has been made and was presented to the students by Hugh Buck, student body president. This flag will be dedicated Monday after chapel. The flag is a large banner bearing the words "On to Conference Championship."

Another feature of the pep meeting was a talk by Homer Tomlinson, an ex-student of T. C. U. He told students not to have their eyes on games three weeks ahead but to keep their eyes on the games as they come.

The T. C. U. band added pep and enthusiasm to the meeting by playing the school songs. Tyler Dean, yell leader, said that he was pleased with the enthusiasm that was shown and that he felt encouraged.

Glories of Paris Told by Holmes

Uses Color Slides and Motion Pictures in First Lecture.

"It was Oliver Wendell Holmes who said that when good Americans die they go to Paris," said Burton Holmes, travel lecturer, who spoke on the "Glories and Frivolities of Paris," Wednesday night at 8:15 o'clock in the auditorium.

Combining excellent motion pictures with natural color slides and an excellent command of the English language as well as of the French, Holmes took his audience on a two-day trip through nearly every section of Paris. Beginning with views of the column of Napoleon and the Ritz Hotel he took his audience down the street leading to the Opera and finally into the Opera itself.

"The impression that Victor Hugo gives in his 'Phantom of the Opera,' said the lecturer 'of there being a river beneath the opera house is quite true for I saw the black waters of this stream after descending to the lower levels of the building.'"

"My favorite means of travel used to be by bus but this is no longer so. The old buses were horse drawn and open to the over-changing and fascinating view, but today the buses have glass-enclosed sides that remain closed in summer as well as winter. The great number of English speaking people in Paris create a demand for three American and one English newspaper, all of which are printed in Paris."

Being taken down the Rue de la Paix where fashions are created, particularly noticeable were the many modern American style department stores that are replacing the old style of architecture. Holmes had some excellent views of the cathedral of Notre Dame; the night views of this immense structure were especially appealing. A trip down the Seine river was viewed with wonder by the audience and the numerous bridges of queer design were interesting.

Scenes of the stock exchange with all its bustling activity reminded one of the New York stock exchange. This activity was taken at fast motion and the crowd bustled about at many times the original speed. Along the river front, stalls of books two miles in length were seen.

"Some people come to Paris to see the sights, others to secure a dinner." (Continued on Page 4)

To Conduct Faculty Meeting

The modern language department will have charge of the monthly meeting of the faculty for March, according to Dr. J. H. Combs, head of the department. Arrangements for the program have not been made, but the program will probably be given by Alpha Zeta Pi and Los Hidalgos.

Reduced Rates In Voice Course

Mrs. Cahoon Is Giving Lessons to Groups of Four.

A new plan has been worked out to enable students to take voice training under Mrs. Helen Fouts Cahoon at a practically one-fourth the regular rates, according to an announcement last week by Dean Hall. The reduced rates are made possible by students taking lessons in groups of four.

Mrs. Cahoon has been conducting a class of this type since the beginning of the current semester. Fundamental instruction and technique can be taught in groups as well as in private, according to Mrs. Cahoon.

Students may enroll for these group voice lessons for the remainder of the session. The tuition rates of the group plan will be $36 per semester for each student. Beginning Nov. 11, the tuition will be $20 for the remaining ten weeks in the fall semester.

T.C.U. Has Stereopticon

Song Slides Shown in Chapel for First Time Wednesday.

Song slides were shown in last Wednesday's chapel program for the first time. A big screen and a Victor Lens Company stereopticon machine recently purchased by T.C.U. were used.

Brant Conway of the physics department said that this was the first time this experiment has been successful in chapel programs in southern universities. A special long distance lens was attached to the machine for these slides and curtains are to be hung on the balcony windows to facilitate the showing of the slides.

DO YOU GO?

Class officers have registered some complaint concerning the poor attendance at class meetings. They always announce the time and place of their meetings and urge students to come, but their efforts appear to be in vain.

It seems that only a third of the class attends the meetings—the rest ask someone who was there, what happened and what plans were made, and usually say, "Why did they do that?" or "I don't like that idea." They also criticize the class for lack of enthusiasm and lack of success in its social enterprises.

If the student who offers these adverse criticisms would go to the meetings, he could make suggestions and raise objections there. We can not expect the class president to make headway without a certain amount of co-operation. In order to have classes accomplish something, it is necessary that every student lend his support by attending the meeting and taking part in class activities.

THE BOOK OF BOOKS.

Best sellers may come and go, but the Book of Books stays on forever. Over 11,000,000 copies of the Bible were sold last year in more than 130 languages, according to the London Daily Express. This statement explodes any theories that may have been harbored concerning the waning of interest in the Bible in the past decade, and especially in the past few years.

A document such as The Book will never be on the wane. Not only is it the keynote to religion and the basis from which all of our Christian principles have sprung, but it is one great story containing all the situations and plots that have been used in modern and ancient books, and at the same time having the simplicity and beauty which characterizes literary masterpieces.

No book will ever equal, much less surpass, the Bible. It has a certain appeal that can not be overlooked. The King of England reads a chapter a day; and our own President Hoover says: "There is no other book so varied as the Bible, nor one so full of concentrated wisdom. Whether it be of business, law, or morals, he who seeks guidance in any of these things may look inside its covers and find illumination."

ON THE CARNEGIE REPORT.

Widespread interest has been aroused in the Carnegie Foundation report on the subsidization of college athletics. Newspapers all over the land have made varied comments on the situation. Paragraphs from a few of the editorials on the subject follow:

"Great portions of the report deal with the growth of the professional coaching system, and the investigators are firmly in favor—as is Dr. Angell of Yale—of restoring leadership in the course of play to the captain of his team. Now players are but chessmen, says the bulletin, and the coaches are higher paid than the professors. From this comes much of the loss of quality which participation in athletics is presumed to bestow."—New York Times.

"The temptation to overstep the line also is easy to understand. Athletic prestige has come to mean a great deal to colleges. In some cases it affects materially their attendance and their monetary income. Possession of football prowess is today the open sesame to unlimited publicity for any college—and that is a thing worth real dollars and cents, and many of them."—Houston Chronicle.

"In almost every university in the Nation athletics are over-stressed and commercialism is rampant. The college is becoming a stadium with some classrooms attached. What should be a minor activity has become a major activity. The tail is wagging the dog."—The Semi-Weekly Campus, S. M. U.

"College football apparently is only a little short of professional football. Big stadiums and the payment thereof have thrust football into big business and have all but taken it out of the collegiate realm."—Michigan State News.

"No doubt the report will furnish the anti-athletic bloc of academically minded people with much ammunition for their future attacks on what they term, 'commercialized athletics.' The reaction to this report by the schools of the Southwest Conference which were charged with paying athletes has been one of disdain, and rightfully so, we believe."—The Daily Texan.

"At present although no constructive work has been done as a result of the investigation, the colleges and universities affected by the study are at least observing conditions. Whether the report brings good or no result, it has set public opinion in motion."—Daily Lariat, Baylor U.

Headlines and Bylines

BY CLARENCE MARSHALL

(Headlines and Bylines is your column. Help make it succeed by sending in your short stories, poems, essays and other material to the journalism office.)

NOTHING EVER HAPPENED.

Halloween! Tim, the cop, walked his beat in the suburbs. Nothing happened on his beat. Nothing ever happened, not even on Halloween night. An hour ago, children played in the street, but now, a little past midnight, everything was quiet. The big-folks had gone to parties, or to parade the downtown streets in proper Halloween style. Once in a while cars passed him, filled with boys and girls and joyous laughter.

Tim proceeded down the street, making sure of each fastened shop-door as he went by. He came to Joe's Coffee House. Now for something hot to drink.

Joe wasn't in his shop—a new face was behind the counter. "Where's Joe?" asked Tim.

"Joe is out Halloweening," said the new man. "He left me to keep shop. Want some coffee?"

Tim did, and as the new man served it, he spilled a little on Tim's blue coat.

"I'm sorry," said the new man. "I'm new on this job."

"S'all right," said Tim.

Tim drank his coffee, discussed the weather and politics, helped himself to a nickel cigar from a can and went out in the street, closing the door behind him.

The new man watched Tim leave, then he put on his hat and coat, opened the cash register and emptied it. He was disappointed. Less than $10. He kicked the man lying bound and gagged underneath the counter.

"Listen, Joe," he said in a confidential tone, "I hate to leave you this way, but that dizzy cop'll be back in an hour or so. He'll turn you loose. Say, he sure had me thinking fast for a minute. Lucky I saw him in time to take off my hat and coat. Next time have more money in your drawer or I'll have to take it out in trade."

Down the street, Tim walked his beat. Funny, Joe's going Halloweening—Joe who cared little for parties. How he wished he could have got off to go Halloweening a bit himself, but he couldn't.

And nothing ever happened on his beat!

Music may charm the savage beast, but if we had to meet a lion, we'd rather have a gun with us than a saxophone.

Girls who love football stars generally accept no substitutes.

FAMOUS

I have not made a hole in one Or lengthened woman's skirts; I have not tried to figure out The reason grape-fruit squirts.

I have not held four aces yet While in a poker game, And yet the headlines of the news Have lauded me to fame.

I have not flown to foreign lands Across the ocean deep, Or put on gloves and tried to spank Jack Sharkey fast to sleep.

Girls do not come to me and ask, Oh, sir, what shall I do? And yet, my friends, reportermen Haunt me for interview.

I have not murdered any man; Divorced no movie star, I have not joined the Socialists, I know not what they are.

I am no present nominee Or millionaire. But hark—I drove me down a crowded street And found a place to park.

Student English To Be Checked

Teachers Requested to Grade Grammar of All Papers.

Several measures recently passed by the T. C. U. Cabinet are in force to check up on student English, according to a letter sent to members of the faculty by the committee on student English. Among these measures are the request that all teachers grade down students for poor English, as well as for other reasons and papers notably poor in English be turned in to the department of English.

According to the letter, the cabinet action was passed in an effort to correct poor and careless English before the senior year.

"The success in correcting the English of students depends upon the entire faculty," said Dr. H. L. Hughes, chairman of the committee on student English. "All other departments should help the English department in this work."

"At the end of the junior year, the committee plans to have teachers send in the names of juniors deficient in English. If there are enough deficient students, a special class will be offered for them."

Members of the committee on student English are Miss Rebecca Smith, Josiah H. Combs, J. Willard Ridings, E. W. McDiarmid, H. L. Hughes, chairman.

Students Get Press Manuals.

Fifty United Press Manuals were given to the T. C. U. journalism department and were distributed to students enrolled in journalism classes. The books were given by the United Press News Service.

"Eyes" for blind flying!

Three new G-E contributions to the conquest of the air

LINDBERGH, flying blind much of the way, hit Ireland "on the nose" as he winged toward Paris. Now, as an aid to air navigation comes the magneto compass, a product of General Electric research, which gives pilots a navigating instrument of extraordinary accuracy.

Meanwhile, two other General Electric contributions to aviation have been developed—the electric gasoline gauge and the radio echo altimeter. The ordinary altimeter shows only height above sea level. The radio echo altimeter warns the pilot of his actual distance above ground or water by flashing green, yellow, and red lights on the instrument board.

Every year hundreds of college-trained men and women enter the employment of General Electric. Research, similar to that which developed "eyes" for blind flying, is one of the many fields of endeavor in which they play an important part.

SNOOPY SUE

Last week Snoopy snooped around the library. This week she tried the drug store. Of course Vic Robertson was there. His golf sweater is a knockout, but his attempts at contract bridge are not, so the rumor goes.

And Archie Poston, in his plus tens was treating Artie Ray Brooks and Virginia Baty to their favorite brand of coke.

Margaret Thorne was looking for some Dukes between classes.

Buck East was out snooping Snoopy. He said he had heard there was some good dirt concerning some Jarvisites going the rounds and he hadn't heard it yet.

And he didn't even have any idea concerning it; it is quite possible that he doesn't know it.

Bill Schults and Glen LaDue are wows when it comes to writing telegrams to football heroes, as Bill's roommate will testify. Up until now no one had suspected any of them of having poetical souls but the fact remains they sent the Frogs' red headed quarterback—no names mentioned—a telegram that started, "I love you, I love you, I love you," and ended heaven knows how, and signed the roommate's name to it!

Although Snoopy didn't go to El Paso with the band boys, she has heard a few things since their return that makes her want to issue a private Skiff to spread the news.

It was cold enough at the game Saturday, for everyone to come out in heavy coats. Some of them might have been termed "fur coats" if Snoopy can say that and still have respect for animals.

Betty Mathis was there in a new grey coat. Lewis Holland was there and entertained her throughout the game. Snoopy heard that Marvylene Bowe is crazy about Lewis but at the game he spent all his time talking to Betty even if Marvylene did sit on the other side of him.

Five upperclass boys continued the noise between yells by eating pop corn and yelling for the bear who went over the mountain.

Jack and Anna Bell were there sitting in the reserved seat section. Pauline Rogers and Carnie Russell were at the game too and left before it was over.

Snoopy especially noticed Jacque Lansdale. She stood up every time everyone else in the student section was seated and yelled for the vendor to bring her an apple.

Harvey Gates came in with the loudest colored sweater Snoopy ever saw, and Dub Daria celebrated by having on a scarlet colored one.

Frogs Preparing For Rice "Jinx"

Win Easily Over Denton Teachers by 25-to-0 Score.

Coach Francis Schmidt's Fighting Frogs, victors Saturday over a stubborn Denton Eagle team by a score of 25 to 0, are preparing this week for the final lap of the Southwest Conference race. The tilt with the Eagles marked the last non-conference game of the season. It also marked the sixth victory in six games for the wearers of the Purple, only one of which was a conference game. Tied with the Baylor Bears for the conference leadership, and remaining as the only team in the conference (and one of very few in the entire nation) unbeaten and untied, the Frogs are polishing and perfecting their offense for the final thrust. Saturday they will encounter the Owls of Rice Institute on Clark Field. A victory over the Rice eleven will carry the Christians to the quarter turn of this last lap. The final three-quarters will necessitate fight and endurance at a killing pace, with Texas, Baylor, and the Mustangs of S. M. U. to be successfully outpaced to the barrier if the conference flag is to wave over T. C. U. for the first time in history.

The Owls, with a record of two victories in five attempts, have not been an impressive contender from the start. On straight football alone the Frogs ought to win by three or four touchdowns, but they may run into trouble. Schmidt, realizing that the Owls will play their hardest football against him, is preparing for this game as much as he prepared for the Aggies. A defeat of the hands of the Owl eleven would be disastrous as well as humiliating. When the Christians take the field Saturday, they will remember that a lowly Owl eleven almost wrecked them in Houston last year, the Frogs being lucky to get away with a 7-to-0 victory.

Superior weight, skill, and speed were concentrated into a straight football attack by the Frogs last Saturday as they marched to victory over the Denton Teachers by a score of 25 to 0.

A crowd of only approximately 2,500 people saw the Frogs regularly display a smooth, hard-driving running game and a deceptive aerial attack to score two touchdowns in the opening minutes. Reserves went in at the quarter and after scoring a touchdown early in the second period were outplayed by the stubborn Eagle team until they were replaced by the first-stringers late in the final quarter. The regulars slashed to the fourth touchdown a few moments before the game ended.

Cy Leland added to his season's point making by scoring three of the touchdowns in the few minutes that he was allowed to play. The Frogs' other speed merchant, "Football" Moore, scored the other marker when he carried the ball 70 yards over the line in three plays. On two running plays he plunged for 20 and 15 yards, and on the third took a pass which was good for 55 yards and a touchdown.

Grubbs' rifle passes to Leland, Roberson, and McCullough featured the first quarter attack. Five straight heaves went completed before one away. Ten of 19 were completed during the game for 229 yards.

The Frog reserves were hardly a match for the Eagles though they played nearly three quarters without being scored upon. The ball was in T. C. U.'s territory most of the third and fourth quarters, but the reserves held when the Teachers threatened seriously. The regulars rushed into the fray in the final minutes, took possession of the ball on their own 16-yard line, carried to the Eagles 14-yard line and lost the ball on downs. After a punt drove them back to their own 37-yard line the Frogs marched back on passes and plunges with Leland going over from the 2-yard stripe.

Grubbs, Leland, Moore, Roberson,

"Don't be like that"

WHAT'S the use of getting the good suit pressed for a date if the rain is going to make it look like a wet sack before you arrive? None whatever. But if you put on your Fish Brand Slicker your clothes look precisely as well when you get there as when you start.

A real Fish Brand Slicker is good-looking too. It has set the campus style for years. And it will stand any amount of wear and rough usage. Look for the Fish Brand label. A. J. Tower Company, Boston, Massachusetts.

SPORT WAVES

BY JAY WILLIAMS

A very few close followers of football expected the Longhorn-Mustang game in Dallas Saturday to result in a tie—a scoreless tie at least. The Steers were slight favorites to win, but few fans, whether Texas or S. M. U., believed that Texas would ever go through without being scored upon. It was a spectacular game as Ownby Stadium has ever witnessed, including the Aggie-Mustang tilt of last year.

It couldn't have ended better as far as T. C. U.'s chances are concerned, and it was even better than we had hoped for. Neither Texas nor the Ponies can lose a game and still win the conference title, such as Texas did last season. T. C. U. is now tied for the leadership with the Baylor Bears, with the former having the most impressive record of any conference member. The Frogs are one of the fourteen teams in the nation that have never been defeated nor tied. Of the fourteen, the Frogs and Ohio are tied for defensive honors, both teams having only 7 points chalked against them. Texas University is the only team in the nation having no points against them.

From now on out the Southwest Conference will rock from stem to stern with the thrills and tense moments of such important games as the Texas-Baylor fray, the Aggie-Mustang game, both carded for next week-end; and the Texas-T. C. U., Baylor-T. C. U., Texas-Texas Aggie, Mustang-Frog games.

We have just heard of three "Smith Brothers" who for once will get a big hand instead of the usual good laugh. Up at Missouri University three Smith brothers have served as regular varsity football center for the Tigers for the past eight years. The first two served three years apiece, and this season marks the third and final year for the third member. We were not able to learn if there was another Smith to fall into the position next season.

Vic Emanuel, sports editor for the Galveston Daily News, continues to write daily: "Look out for the Horned Frogs." And our good friend Jinx Tucker came through last week with this: "T. C. U., at present, looks like the best team in the conference."

There is a long, hard road to travel yet, if the "Fightin' Frogs are to live up to the "nice" things people are saying about them. That road begins Saturday, when the Frogs greet the Rice Owls on Clark Field in the first of four remaining conference games. If you are inclined to take the Owls too lightly you may be treated to a surprise. For some reason or other Rice football teams reach the peak of and McCullough featured the Frog attack, while the entire line completely stopped the Eagle offense. Lambert and Snow looked good for the reserves.

For the Eagles, Cowley, Browning, and Crabtree were outstanding. The Cowley was all that he was cracked up to be, making several long gains on the offense. He was also the outstanding man on the defense on the field. He completely routed all wide running plays.

Teachers Beat T. C. U. In Cross Country Meet

The North Texas Teachers' swamped the T. C. U. cross-country team last Saturday in their race held previous to the T. C. U.-N.T.S.T.C. football game. Simpson, Teachers, was first with a time of 20 minutes and 33 seconds. Bryson, Polser and Herrin, all of N. T. S. T. C., were second, third and fourth, respectively. Isley and Brown of T. C. U. came in fifth and sixth to make the scores for T. C. U.

their strength when they step out against T. C. U. The Frogs ought to win easily—but they ought to have beaten the Owls badly last year, when this: "T. C. U., at present, looks like the best team in the conference."

Alan Gould, nationally known grid authority and sports editor for the Associated Press, comments as follows on the Southwest Conference race: "Texas Christian holds at least a temporary edge in the race for Southwest Conference honors."

PAUSE AND REFRESH YOURSELF

IT WON'T BE LONG NOW, AND THE PAUSE THAT'S COMING MAY NOT BE SO REFRESHING AS SOME OTHERS WE KNOW OF.

The moral is to avoid situations where it is impossible to pause and refresh yourself—because whenever you can't is when you most wish you could. Fortunately, in normal affairs there's always a soda fountain or refreshment stand around the corner from anywhere with plenty of ice-cold Coca-Cola ready. And every day in the year 8 million people stop a minute, refresh themselves with this pure drink of natural flavors and are off again with the zest of a fresh start.
