Count Luckner Will Speak on War Adventures

To Be in Central High School Auditorium Thursday.

IS THIRD T. C. U. LECTURER

Daring Sea Captain Started Sea Career as Cabin Boy and Deck Swabber.

Count Felix Von Luckner, bold buccaneer who left the opportunities and advantages of the nobility to answer the call of the sea, will speak in the auditorium of Central High School at 8:15 p. m., Thursday, Dec. 5, as the third number on the 1929-30 lecture series of T. C. U.

His colorful and romantic experiences during the World War will furnish the "Sea Devil's" lecture material. Count Luckner's start as a kitchen boy and deck-swabber culminated in his sinking 500,000 tons of ships, and taking hundreds of prisoners without killing a man.

The daring adventures of the German naval officer are related in Lowell Thomas' "Count Luckner the Sea Devil," published in 1927. The author, who was on the lecture course program last year, has also written of Count Luckner's exploits in "The Devil's Po'ole," a continued story which ends in the December issue of World's Work.

Prof. C. R. Sherer, chairman of the program committee, said the lecture would be held in the Central High auditorium because the seating capacity is greater than that of the T. C. U. auditorium. The unusual interest shown in Count Luckner's appearance in Fort Worth indicates a large attendance at the lecture, Prof. Sherer said.

The count will be accompanied to Fort Worth by his wife, for whom a reception is being planned by the faculty women.

Luckner Tickets Are on Sale

Tickets for the lecture of Count Felix von Luckner are on sale at the Fair book store, according to Prof. C. R. Sherer, chairman of the lecture committee. The price is $1 each.

Dr. Hughes Addresses Club on Manuscripts

The monthly meeting of Chi Alpha Chapter of Sigma Tau Delta was held Monday evening, Dec. 2, at the home of Miss Helen Morro, 2710 Greene. An address by Dr. Herbert L. Hughes on "Where and How to Sell Manuscripts" was the main feature of the evening. Miss Siddle Joe Johnson told of her experience in selling manuscripts.

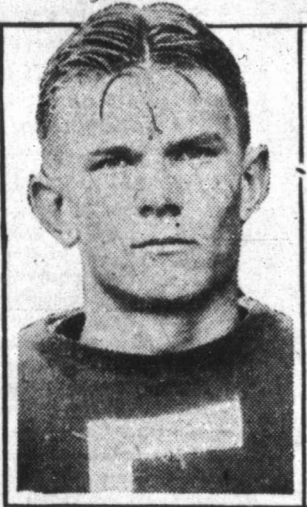

Refreshments were served to the following: Misses Marian Smith, Gwendolyn Montgomery, Lena Agnes Johnson, Siddle Joe Johnson, Edna Mae Deck, Marjorie Robinson, Helen Morro, and Dr. Hughes and Clarence Marshall.

Nine Are in Dramatic Club Three-Act Play

The Dramatic Club held tryouts for their three-act play at the meeting Wednesday in room 304, according to Miss Katherine Moore. Miss Harriet Copeland and Norman Welsh received the leads. The other characters are Gibson Randle, Miss Mary Strong, Jimmie Rooney, Lawrence Coulter, Miss Elizabeth McKisick, Miss Jacqueline Lansdale and Miss Frances Morgan.

CALENDAR. Wednesday, Dec. 4. The Music Club will meet at 1:30 o'clock in room 304. Thursday, Dec. 5. The Bryson Club will meet at the home of Miss Louise Burgess, 2390 Weatherbee Street, at 8 o'clock. The Bio-Geo Club will meet in the biology laboratory at 8 o'clock. The Y. W. C. A. Christmas bazaar will be held in the Brite College club room from 12 until 8 o'clock. Friday, Dec. 6. The Y. W. C. A. bazaar will be open in the Brite College club room from 12 until 8 o'clock. Monday, Dec. 9. The Timothy Club will meet in the Brite College Chapel at 6:45 o'clock.

Valuable Player

LELAND - HALFBACK

Leland Is Most Valuable Player

Houston Post-Dispatch To Present Frog With Cup

Cy Leland, the world's fastest half-back, has been voted the outstanding and most valuable football player in the Southwest Conference for the 1929 season and will be awarded a loving cup by the Houston Post-Dispatch.

The award will be presented the Frog star in Houston Saturday night at a dinner sponsored by the "R" Association, organization of the Rice Institute letter men. Five hundred football fans are expected to be present when the T. C. U. ace receives the coveted prize.

Coch Francis A. Schmidt and Athletic Director Pete Wright will also represent T. C. U. at the dinner.

The six scribes who picked the seven most valuable men are as follows:

- Jere Hays, Dallas Times-Herald-Hampton, Schoonover, Sanders, Leland, Long, Mason and Grubbs.
- Jim Tucker, Waco News-Tribune-Oland, Koch, Mason, Wilson, Schoonover, Brumblow, Shelley.
- Flem Hall, Fort Worth Star-Telegram-Grubbs, Leland, Mason, Brumblow, Wilson, Mills, Atkins.
- "Punk" Stacey, The Austin-American-Shelley, Leland, Hammons, Rose, Grubbs, Sanders, Beatty.
- Johnny Ery, Fayetteville, Ark.-Schoonover, Leland, Wilson, Miller, Brown, Mills, Sanders.
- Lloyd Gregory, Houston Post-Dispatch-Leland, Schoonover, Grubbs, Brumblow, Hammons, Richter, Bush, Jones.

Marriage and Divorce To Be Sermon Subjects

"The Invitation" will be the subject of the Rev. A. Preston Gray at the University Christian Church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

The evening subject for the next two Sundays at 7:30 o'clock will pertain to marriage and divorce. His first subject will be "Love, Courtship and Marriage" and on Dec. 15 the subject will be "The Divorce Evil, Its Cause and Cure." Music of a popular nature will be on the evening programs and the sermons are designed to be of particular interest to the students, according to the Reverend Gray.

Press Club Edits Baby Skiff

The smallest Skiff ever issued at T. C. U. was distributed Wednesday morning in chapel at the Thanksgiving program. The miniature paper was edited by Dana Press Club, as its part on the program. The contributors to the paper were Clarence Marshall, Miss Lillian Lundberg, Miss Leora Bennett, Dick Long, Miss Elizabeth Newsom, Prof. J. W. Ridings, Miss Madelon Flynt, Raymond Copeland and Miss Margaret Thorne.

No German or French Clubs

The German and French clubs will not be re-organized, according to Dr. J. H. Combs, head of the modern language department. There are not enough students majoring in either language for the clubs to be a success. Both clubs were organized last year for conversational and grammatical purposes.

Y. W. C. A. to Give Bazar at Brite College Dec. 5-6

Tea, Sandwiches, Candy to Be Given Away Says Invitation.

MISS NEWSOM IN CHARGE

Variety of Things in Japanese and Oriental Design to Be on Sale.

Thursday and Friday, Dec. 5 and 6, the Y. W. C. A. will give a Japanese bazar in the Brite College club room. Miss Elizabeth Newsom is in charge of the bazar. The door will be open from 12 o'clock noon until 8 p. m.

"There will be a lovely selection of gifts," said Miss Newsom. "They are really nice things and are not a cheap selection. Tea, sandwiches, and candy will be given away.

Among the Japanese things for sale there will be lacquer trays, red candy boxes, salad sets, card boxes, puzzle boxes, handkerchief boxes, coaster sets, vanity sets, coin purses in bright silk, pin cushions, memo books on stands, watch charms, paper knives, silk lamp shades, pickle forks, bridge boxes, perfume, candlesticks, vases, pin trays, necklaces, bracelets, brooches, cuff links, stationery in American, wooden and Japanese styles, small dogs and cats, bamboo vases, wood clogs, book ends, pillow tops, Swiss handkerchiefs and many novelties.

The public is invited to this bazar. Mrs. Charles Sherer, Miss Lyde Spragins, and Miss Adelle Clark are finance chairmen. Miss Margaret Johnson and publicity chairman, Miss Maxine Russell.

The "Y" cabinet includes: President, Miss Sarah Beth Boggess; first vice president, Miss Helen Jenkins; second vice president, Miss Elizabeth Newsom; secretary, Miss Jean Knight; treasurer, Miss Margaret Johnson; and publicity chairman, Miss Maxine Russell.

Four interest groups have been formed by the Y. W. C. A. according to Miss Sarah Beth Boggess, president.

In filling out membership cards each girl who became a member of the "Y" listed names of four things in which she was especially interested. From this list of interests, interest groups were formed from the four most popular.

Modern poetry, recreation, social service work and a study of the development of personality are the four different interest groups. Mrs. H. M. Hogsett talked to the girls who are (CONTINUED ON PAGE 3)

Styx Club Girls Were Named for Different Sticks

The Styx Club which was organized by a group of girls in T. C. U. in 1915 consisted of thirteen members. The members of this club were known as certain kinds of sticks. A picture of the club is mounted and hanging in Jarvis Hall over the mail table. The picture of each girl is pointed to by a sketch of the stick she represents.

Miss Alice Long, long stick, of Gainesville was enrolled in T. C. U. in 1913-17. Miss Lena Beckham, broom stick, of Amarillo is now Mrs. Arnold Art and is living in Amarillo. Miss Margaret Gibson, drum stick, of Waxahachie who is now living in Dallas, received her A.B. degree from T. C. U. in 1915. Miss Lera Brown, crooked stick, of Garland received her A.B. degree in 1915 from T. C. U. Miss Mary Grace Muse, candy stick, of Sherman is now a member of the faculty at the University of Texas.

Miss Abolene Tyson, walking stick, of Santa Anna received her A.B. degree from T. C. U. in 1915. Miss Pansy Agnes Bozeman, candle stick, of Bartlett was enrolled in T. C. U. in 1912-15 and received her A.B. degree in 1915. Miss Minnie Mae Proctor, fiddle stick, of Dallas was enrolled in T. C. U. in 1912-16. Miss Lola McFarland, chop stick, of Ladonia is now Mrs. Joe Hill, Dallas.

Miss Helen Hartgrove, hickory stick, of Paint Rock is Mrs. Ben Victor Sims. Miss Mora Moore, big stick, is Mrs. J. B. Rhea and is living in Wichita Falls. Miss Vista Woods, wood stick, of Ladonia was enrolled in T. C. U. in 1915. Miss Holly Clendenen, the baton stick, of Fort Worth is Mrs. C. C. Jones, Wichita Falls.

Mrs. Induk Kim Compliments T. C. U. Students and Attitudes

"T. C. U. is one of the most cultural colleges that I have seen, and this is my 15th college to visit in the United States," said Mrs. Induk Kim, traveling secretary of the Y. W. C. A. Mrs. Kim's home is in Korea, where her husband and two little daughters reside.

"I believe that the most striking thing about this university is the fact that all of the buildings are of the same type of architecture. In most colleges there will be a Spanish building next to an English one," she said.

"The religious attitude here is so fine. The students do not seem to be indifferent nor do they seem quite modern, instead they appear to have learned to have understanding and tolerance. I have found no antagonistic feeling here at all," Mrs. Kim added.

Mrs. Kim in complimenting the students here said that her definition of an educated person was one who knew how to meet people and that certainly the students here knew that. She said that the friendly spirit of T. C. U. was apparent to a total stranger on the campus.

After her return home she is planning to do international Christian work. Mrs. Kim says that the methods and technique of her work in the United States will be a great help to her in Korea. The Koreans feel very kindly toward the people over here and at present there are some 300 Korean students in colleges here.

"Korea, being the gateway in the farther East, has many propagandists for both good and evil such as agents of Soviet Russia, Nationalists of China and Japanese officers, but the vital force is Christianity," she said. "The Y. M. C. A. has launched two projects, adult education and introduction of new agricultural methods. The Y. W. C. A. is also furthering adult education. This is the most wonderful thing that my people have ever known."

Campus Slang Is Not Sanctioned By Dictionaries

Slang—that popular but unauthorized language—is used everywhere, even in the best regulated universities. If you don't believe it, think of the many words not in the dictionary that the T. C. U. faculty and student body employ daily in their conversation.

Which as it may seem, the word "quig," which is the prof's hobby and the students' Waterloo, is not sanctioned by Webster, Funk and Wagnall or Rand and McNally. No wonder students "cribb" and "flunk out."

Other slang words in constant use at T. C. U. which require no explanations are "root," "rooters," football "fan," "missing link," "prexy," "write-up" and "snapp."

"Y," popularly speaking, means the Y. M. C. A. or Y. W. C. A. The Horned Frogs are "off-color" when they fall to gain first down. A student who hurriedly writes his English theme "slings ink." An old-fashioned, eccentric professor is known to College Humor readers as a "wearer of long underwear."

One T. C. U. professor continually uses "hokas" when he means "hokum" or "bunk." The faculty recently "kicked in" or "dug in" when it contributed to the Community Chest. Every one knows what a "crab" is. One prof's pet slang expression is "rigamarole."

Coming back from Austin last month the T. C. U. celebrators coined a new word of salutation—"hay fever." The terms, "necking" and "spooning," applied to excessive "petting," are losing favor with students here. Cy Leland might easily be named "Change" because the latter is loose money that goes fast.

Former T. C. U. Student Receives Appointment

James R. Curtis, a student in T. C. U. from 1923 to 1927, has recently been appointed first lieutenant by Governor Henry H. Horton in the Tennessee National Guard. Lieut. Curtis is an instructor in the Castle Heights Military Academy of Lebanon, Tenn. Lieut. Curtis attended S. M. U. last year where he received his M. A. degree. He was the holder of the Arnold Fellowship in government there. Government was his major in T. C. U. also.

Wallace and Burns Tie for First Place in Exams

Twenty-five freshmen out of the 249 who took the required entrance intelligence test at T. C. U. on Sept. 13, 1929, made exceptional grades, making 100 points or more above the average score of the group. The median for the group was 249.5, while the highest possible score to be made on the test is 480 points.

Emmette Wallace of Waco and John M. Burns of Fort Worth tied for high honors, scoring 403 points each. Miss Doris Sellers of Hico, whose score was 396, made the highest grade for a girl. Fifteen of the students who made exceptional grades on the freshman test are boys, while 10 are girls. Eleven of the above live in Fort Worth.

Those freshmen making 349 points or above on the intelligence test include Misses Dorothy Lorene Ezzell, 369; Mary Coleman, 337; Helen Pannill, 352; Emiliou Robbins, 351; and William M. Brown, 395; John Burns, 403; Gordon Grimes, 370; Edgar Hart, 360; Edgar E. Moore, 355; Will Albert Shaw, 363; and Robert Turbeville, 349; all of Fort Worth; and Misses Mary Grace Cheatham, 371 (Palestine); Dorothy Darby, 382 (Big Lake); Maxine Edwards, 367 (Oakwood); Maurine Faulker, 370 (McKinney); Kitty Bell Ney, 363 (Eagle Lake); Doris Sellers, 396 (Hico); and Ralph Carpenter, 360 (Belton); William P. George, 370 (Albany); Harry N. Kruse, 387 (Houston); Jasper J. Moser, 389 (Jackson Heights, N. Y.); Vernon Slocomb, 365 (Cameron); W. Hal Thompson, 354 (Houston); Emmette Wallace, 403, (Waco); and Jack Young, 361, (Albany).

T. C. U. Band Members To Get New Uniforms

According to Prof. Sammis, director of the T. C. U. Band, purchase of new uniforms for the band members has been approved by the administration and the uniforms will be here in about six weeks.

The band is working on the concerts that will be given at the Fat Stock Show in the spring.

T. C. U. Ties S. M. U. Contenders 7-7, to Make Dream of Seven Years Standing Come True Here

University Exes Have Unofficial Homecoming Day

Campus Is Crowded as Former Students Come Back

FOOTBALL STARS RETURN

Clash With Mustangs Bring Graduates to Their Alma Mater.

Saturday was official homecoming day for T. C. U. ex-students. They started arriving Wednesday and by Saturday they overflowed the buildings and the campus.

Among the former football letterman to return were Jimmie Grant, Fred McConnell, Hezzie Carson, Roy Mack, Ivor Reid, Jim Eddleman, Oran Steadman, Bernard Williams, and Harry Taylor.

Gene Taylor, who is coaching at Spur was here with his wife, the former Nell Brown.

Howell Hopkins, a player last year, attended the game with his fiancée, Pauline Richardson. Their engagement was recently announced in Dallas. The wedding is to be about Christmas.

Billie Ashburn's twin sister, Katharine, who teaches in the Fort Worth high schools, was at the game.

Lee B. Willie, a player on the 1916 football team was here. During that season he missed only two quarters of the whole schedule.

Lawrence C. Blanton, who was president of the freshman class last year, was here with his wife, a Dallas girl. He is working in Dallas.

Morven Woolwing, who is teaching in Mineral Wells, was here with Dorothy Lynn Hay of Sherman and Verma Mangrum of Whitewright, also former students.

William Palmer, a letterman in 1927, was here. He is with the Perkins Wholesale Dry Goods Company of Dallas.

William Summer, better known as Monk spent Thanksgiving on the campus. He is now married and works in Hubbard.

Forrest White, a student in Texas University this year, spent Thanksgiving with his parents in Fort Worth and was at the game.

J. Warren Day, a lawyer in Fort Worth and a member of the Big Ten Club of T. C. U., saw the game.

Cliff Hazard and Frances McAttee, who work in Dallas, were on the campus Saturday morning.

Mrs. Gerald Mann, who was Anna Mary Mays and one of the school favorites in 1925, visited on the campus before the game.

Calista Morrison, LaVerne Sims, Florine Martin and Thelma Hampton attended the game. Nana Kilpatrick of San Angelo was here also.

Robbie Lee Polk and Lucille Callam, who are teaching school this year, drove down together for the game.

Arthur Graham of Galveston was here. He is teaching school this year. Hollis Jenkins spent the weekend on the campus.

Mrs. W. B. Shelton, who will be remembered as Ruth Evans, attended the game with her husband and mother. Mr. Shelton is in Texas University working on his M. A. degree while she is finishing the work on her A. B. Lon Evans of the freshman football squad is Mrs. Shelton's brother.

GREEN S TOE KICKS GOAL

Brilliant Comeback in Fourth Quarter Saves Crown From Mustangs.

By Jay Williams. A color of strange and heretofore unseen hue graces the walls of Southwest Football Hall of Success. It is the Royal Purple symbolic of Texas Christian University's Fighting Frogs, who Saturday crashed through to their initial championship of the Southwest Conference by staging a brilliant, fourth-quarter comeback which netted a touchdown and a 7-to-7 tie with Ray Morrison's Southern Methodist Mustangs. The tie was enough. It left the Frogs in first place in the conference standing, one-half game in the lead of the team they fought to a deadlock Saturday.

The dream of seven years standing has at last been realized. Patience and determination—has been rewarded. A new king has been crowned, as Francis Schmidt, serving his first year as leader of the Frogs, has brought T. C. U. and Fort Worth the title the Frogs have sought since becoming a member of the conference in 1923. It is a noteworthy achievement of Schmidt and the Fighting Frogs, who fought the same steady, cool, not-to-be-denied fight that has characterized their whole season's play, to turn what seemed to be a 7-to-0 Mustang victory, into the glorious tie that meant a championship.

Close to 25,000 people, the largest crowd that ever witnessed an athletic event in Fort Worth, filled every available space in the stands and bleachers, overflowed around the playing field, and defied the bitter cold wind that swept lengthwise the field, to watch the titanic struggle between the desperate teams.

The Fighting Frogs earned the tie and the championship by displaying a better team than the Methodists. There are a few who will deny such, but the average speak for themselves. The Frogs held a wide margin in the matter of first downs, 16 to 6. The Frogs gained more yardage from scrimmage, more on running plays, and were shadowed in forward passing department because a single S. M. U. pass gained 55 yards and their touchdown, and because most of the completed Pony passes were short basket heaves into the line of scrimmage. (CONTINUED ON PAGE 3)

No Post Season Game

T. C. U.'s Southwest champion Fighting Frogs have put their uniforms away to await another year. There will be no post-season game, was the final announcement of the athletic council Monday.

The 7-to-7 tie with S. M. U. practically eliminated whatever chance the Frogs had of being selected for the Rose Bowl tournament, and the athletic council would consider no other post-season possibility. However, it is doubtful that the Frogs would have been selected if they had defeated the Mustangs, Purdue, Pittsburg, and Notre Dame are outstanding candidates for the selection.

Gym Thief Gets $7 From Purse

Burglars broke into the athletic office in the gym last Sunday night and stole $7 from a lady's purse, turned into the office after the game-Saturday. Had the burglary occurred Saturday night, the thief or thieves might have gotten $7,000 left in the safe overnight. However, Athletic Director L. C. Wright removed this amount Sunday morning.

Carlson, Hammond Contribute

Dr. Avery L. Carlson and Prof. William J. Hammond of T. C. U. were contributors to the November issue of Texas Monthly, published in Dallas, "The Origin of Banking in Texas," was the title of the article of Dr. Carlson, assistant professor in the business administration department.

Prof. Hammond wrote "Crossing the Border," telling of his trip into Mexico last summer with Prof. Riley Aiken, also of T. C. U.

Hosts to Mathematics Students

Prof. and Mrs. C. R. Sherer, head of the mathematics department, will entertain the department with a dinner tonight at 6:30, at their home 2018 Sixth Avenue.

CHAMPIONS.

This year has been a record smashing one for the Frogs. They have defeated the Texas Longhorns for the first time and have earned their first Southwest Conference championship. The Horned Frog coach, Francis A. Schmidt, has made a record for himself. He has won the admiration and esteem of Texas and the Southwest. He has coached the Frogs to a place of victory which has brought them national recognition. He has won the gratitude and love of Texas Christian University and the good will of all Fort Worth.

They said that he is not a football coach, that his sport is basketball. With the record that this non-football coach has made on the gridiron what is T. C. U. to expect of the "Miracle Man" on the basketball court?

He is a football coach but he also had some excellent material with which to build a championship team. The statement made at the Kiwanis luncheon Monday by Schmidt bears out the conclusion. "Never in all my coaching career have I had a bunch of boys who worked so hard and earnestly, who thought and played football like these boys. They were out early every day, practiced diligently, and trained faithfully."

The team captained by Lester Brumbelow and generated by Howard Grubbs deserves all the praise and victory which has come to it, the greatest football team that T. C. U. has ever known.

Our hats are off to Coach Schmidt, Coach Raymond Wolf, Captain Brumbelow, the seniors who are leaving and the Fighting Frogs who will carry on for T. C. U. next year. "The Fighting Frogs may they always be."

BY CLARENCE MARSHALL

An Imaginary Interview With Mr. Campbell.

"Sir, to what do you attribute your success?" I asked Mr. Campbell, after having been ushered into his hotel room. "I represent T. C. U.'s one and only, The Skiff."

"I owe my success to beans," answered the great man without hesitation. "Beans made me what I am today."

"How do you find time to cook so many beans when you have so much other work to do?"

"Well, I think beans, dream beans and sometimes eat them myself," the great man smiled. "It has always been my highest ambition to make America a bean-eating country. I like soup too, but man can not live on soup alone. It takes beans."

"Do you think a college education of advantage to one wishing to break into the bean industry?" I said, remembering my quest and my duty to thousands of collegiates who might be bean-minded.

"Most assuredly," answered Mr. Campbell. "College graduates bake 50 per cent better beans than non-graduates. I use Ph. D.'s as mathematicians in my pork-slicing department. A man in the bean industry today without a degree is handicapped."

"Do you get much fan mail, Mr. Campbell?"

"Oodles and gobs of it," he said. "People write in testifying the goodness of my beans. Flappers ask for autographed pictures of myself. Housewives want recipes. Men write in asking me to name my bean after their sweethearts, as 'Mary Bean,' 'Mitaldi Bean,' and 'Violet Bean.' My fan mail is an inspiration to me; as long as I receive letters I will know I succeeded in putting beans into the mouths of millions who would go beanless but for me."

"When I took my leave, Mr. Campbell shook my hand and gave me a sample can to take home with me."

Revolutionary China.

Giving a panorama of China during a momentous period in her history, "The Golden Wind" tells the story of an exiled Japanese youth who takes part in the Chinese revolution. Takawo Muto, banished from his own land because of his father's activities in politics, first joins the Chinese revolutionary army and later serves with bandits in Northern Manchuria.

Although there are other characters in the book, the reader is mainly concerned with Muto, who finds himself in a strange land, afraid, because of his political enemies, to make himself known and assume his rightful position. He works with the common soldiers. Muto meets three ladies—all women—who remind him of the world he came from. After living in China several months, Takawo finally escapes to South America.

"The Golden Wind" is an interesting story but not very well told.

Frank Agar, Earning Own Way Since 7, Now Instructor in Voice

By A. J.

Frank C. Agar, one of the voice teachers in T. C. U. was born in Brooklyn, N. Y. His mother was French and his father was English. Both died when he was 7 years old and he was left without home, care, or attention.

It was at this early age that Mr. Agar turned to the streets for a living. He first sold newspapers and was also a boot black. His bed was any place that looked as if it might afford a night's rest—comfort and ease were not the requisites for his beds.

While a child, he used to climb to the piano and make original melodies and even then showed unusual musical ability. At the age of 18 he went to the Conservatory at Warren, Penn. Here he told him that he had the worst voice that had ever entered the school. After two years of hard labor and effort he was told that he was wasting his money and that he would never sing.

Such a statement merely urged Mr. Agar on, for he was determined to sing. With this determination in his heart, he bought records of Caruso, Williams and others and sang with these records during the summer.

When Mr. Agar re-entered the conservatory in the fall, he sang for John Mooney, who was greatly surprised by the added quality and marked improvement in his voice. Agar continued to improve and was soon made one of the assistant teachers. His rise was very rapid and is today considered the greatest baritone of the Southwest. His reputation as a baritone has become widespread through

College Life

Cafeteria Grocery Bill Amounts To Approximately $90,000 Yearly

If all the beans T. C. U. students eat in a week were planted, they would grow a bean stalk as high as the one Jack the Giant Killer climbed—or anyway, they would if the beans came up.

Which is to say that 50 pounds of beans are consumed each week at T. C. U. by some 425 boarding students.

But beans are only a small part of what the students consume; when you take a summary of the food that is used, the figures run the average cost of about $90,000 per year, quite a little grocery bill, according to Mrs. Georgia Harris, in charge of the cafeteria.

Someone might ask if T. C. U. students are sweet? And the answer should be, they certainly are, for they use 100 pounds of sugar each day! And they might ask if students have brass, and the answer would be that they eat seven pounds of salt per day, and that isn't so "few!" And what about 25 pounds of lard!

The item of butter might shock some of these young ladies who are out for hiking, for T. C. U. students use 40 pounds every day, but again, it aids the P. T. classes.

Another item that goes along with butter is eggs. And the students are very light on eggs, yes, very light, only 60 dozen being used per day.

Then right along with eggs comes milk. And the Frog boarders rather like it, at least they use 130 gallons per day. And five gallons of single cream is used along with the milk.

But speaking of drinking, milk isn't all the students drink, no, they use 14 gallons of coffee along with the milk.

Bread and potatoes go to make up quite a large part of the food used. For instance, 200 loaves of bread are used, and 150 pounds of potatoes every day.

If the average housewife had to do the shopping that Mrs. Harris does, her Piggly-Wiggly basket would have to be pretty large.

Now if she should stop at the market to buy meat, it would take quite a large hamper, for her list would call for 300 pounds! And just for one day!

But Mrs. Harris has the advantage there; she is one housewife who can sit at home and do her buying and have real service. Of course she uses the phone to order a few extra dozen loaves of bread or some little something, but for the most part, she sits at her desk in the cafeteria and listens to salesmen who call on her to sell supplies.

"Oh, goodness, no, I never go out to buy, I just sit right here and the salesmen call on me," Mrs. Harris explains.

There is a system of economy used at T. C. U., but it isn't the old "hash" style. Mrs. Harris explained that the best economy is found in making plans for regular buying, and in planning ahead each meal. Also in the excellent work of her chef. Her idea is that the better the food that is served, the smaller the waste. There is very little waste in her kitchen.

In the T. C. U. kitchen, one finds things arranged on a mass production idea. The few "tiny" kitchen pots and pans that hang around are sure to let a visitor know that a big meal is being prepared. A 10 gallon kettle for soup, a 30-pound mixing bowl for cornbread, both waiting to go on a stove 20 feet long, make your mouth water as you watch the cats being prepared.

But what a kitchen without a cat? The T. C. U. kitchen is no exception, but the cat's name is just plain "Kitty," even though he is a regular member of the cooking staff. Kitty lays around under the edge of the big stove and watches for dropping food, but is usually so full that he is content to just lie still.

Delicious and Refreshing

PAUSE AND REFRESH YOURSELF

IT'S REALLY A SHAME TO INTERRUPT THE PROFESSOR'S CHASE OF THE DIURNAL LEPIDOPTERA AND TURN THE BULL ON HIM BUT YOU HAVE TO BLAME THE ARTIST FOR THAT.

Obviously, few of us have the chance—or tenacity—to make ourselves out of ourselves. But even in the normal course of human events, there's nothing so welcome as a refreshing pause. Happily there's a soda fountain or refreshment stand—with plenty of ice-cold Coca-Cola ready—around the corner from anywhere. With its delicious taste and cool after-sense of refreshment, it makes a little minute long enough for a big rest.

SOCIETY

Champions of the Southwest Conference! T. C. U. and its many boosters are rejoicing over the first title and first undefeated season in the history of the school.

All the sports writers of the country are lauding the Frogs to the skies, so all society can do is to tell of all the entertainments that are being given to prove and express this pride and joy.

Nothing is too good for the Frogs now; so many banquets are being given in their honor and for the first time in months, the boys are eating to their hearts' delight.

The senior class will entertain with a banquet next week in honor of the football men who played their last game Saturday and all athletes who are in their last year of sport.

Mrs. Fain Reynolds Is Given Shower

Honoring Mrs. Fain Reynolds, formerly Miss Mildred Austin, graduate of T. C. U., Miss Amelia Edwards, 3216 Odessa Street, entertained with a bride-miscellaneous shower Monday evening.

In bridge high score was won by Miss Geraldine Sharp and the cut prize by Miss Leora Bennett. Low score went to Miss Mary Benton Hornbuckle. The prize were presented to the honoree.

The color scheme of pink was carried out in the prizes and the refreshments, which were served to the following: Misses Sharp, Hornbuckle, Bennett, Virginia Brock, Madelon Flynn, Bernice Austin, Anna Lewis, Elizabeth Newsum, Louise Montgomery, Vera Turbeville, Betty Southwell, Mrs. F. Reynolds and the hostess.

Miss Turbeville Is Bridge Hostess

Honoring Miss Mary Shaffer, Oak Park, Ill., and Miss Louise Hunter of C. I. A., who came home for the holidays, Miss Vera Turbeville entertained Wednesday evening with a bridge party at her home, 1600 Westmoreland Place.

In bridge Miss Gussie Lee Jones won high score. The cut prize went to Miss Amelia Edwards and low score to Miss Hunter. The guest prize was presented to Miss Shaffer, who is visiting her cousin, Miss Betty Southwell, 1612 Enderly Place.

Those present were: Misses Shaffer, Hunter, Jones, Edwards, Emma Nell Handley, Southwell, Haynie Bell, Virginia Jameson, Leora Bennett, Dorothea Huntsman, Helen Jenkins, and the hostess.

W. A. A. to Entertain Frog Squad Dec. 10

The W. A. A. girls will entertain the football squad at Lake Worth next Tuesday evening. All who wish to go must be at the gym by 6:30 o'clock that evening, according to Mrs. Allene Allen, president. Trucks will be arranged to take those who are going.

Always before the pep squad has entertained the boys but since this has disbanded the W. A. A. has decided that they would entertain for them. It will be an informal affair. All girls are to wear sport clothes.

Miss Henry Gives A. O. S. Party

Miss Nona Henry was hostess at a party given at her home, 516 College Avenue, last Wednesday evening for All Other States Club. Miss Lenora Williams, faculty advisor of the club, was present and announced that another party would be given members of the club in the near future.

Refreshments were served to the following members: Misses Nona Henry, V. B. Henry, Ruth Ward, Louise Richards, Lenora Williams, Claude Goodreau, Bill Purdy, Robert McDaniels, Martel Bowen and Meredith Rawlings.

Los Hidalgos Will Banquet Tonight

The next meeting of the Los Hidalgos will be a banquet at La Fonda at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday. The banquet will be Wednesday instead of Thursday because of the lecture that night.

A program of stunts and songs is being arranged by the social committee. Miss Frances Hill is chairman of the committee, and is assisted by Misses Phyllis Ellis, Janet Largent, Virginia Baty, and Henry Beal. Approximately 45 members have made reservations for the banquet.

Faculty Will Give Luncheon for Count

Count Felix von Luckner and his wife will be given a luncheon at the University Club Thursday at 1 o'clock by the T. C. U. faculty. This entertainment will take place of the reception which was to have been held, Prof. C. R. Sherer said.

Miss Billie Eads Marries Mr. Rudd

Miss Billie Eads, former T. C. U. student, became the bride of Jack Rudd at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Eads of Bangs. Mr. and Mrs. Rudd went to San Antonio for their honeymoon, and plan to make their home in Ballinger.

SNOOPY SUE

Snoopy almost froze at the game Saturday but every one else did too so she did not feel at all exclusive.

Dorothy Barnhart was there in a raccoon coat that almost covered her up, and made Snoopy feel warmer just to look at her.

Bill Purdy and Martel Bowen had two big thick blankets. They sat on one and covered with another and looked at other people with newspapers wrapped around their feet and seemed to wonder why on earth they seemed cold.

Snoopy watched Arthur Graham. He walked up and down almost every row of seats greeted old friends and rejoiced that he did not have to act like a school teacher.

Snoopy watched Ed Prichard and Beulah Griffin. She looked precious. Ed was in good spirits.

Many of the old students came into the student section during the half to see old friends. Snoopy wondered how they felt.

Among them were Lowell Parrish who dated Mildred Colvin and Jennie Louise Copeland with Rainey Elliott. Pauline Renwick, who was secretary to Professor Ridings was there.

Snoopy saw little Lena Dougherty at the game with some big broad shouldered boy whom she heard is from A. & M.

Texas Sport Writers Praise T. C. U. Team

Pennant Attributed to Frogs' Consistent Play Says George White.

Here are the opinions of a few Texas sport writers on T. C. U.'s team. George White in the Dallas Morning News—T. C. U. won the conference championship by consistent playing. To win the championship they had to beat the teams that were rated much better than them at the first of the season.

Kern Tips in the Houston Chronicle—If everyone had predicted two months ago that Texas Christian University would be the Southwest Conference champions, he would have been ostracized, criticized and otherwise. He would have been sent to bed, his marble would have been taken from him and no supper given him by the staunch backers of Baylor and Texas. But as the season progressed it was proven that a great team has been under-rated and Coach Schmidt and his athletes proved themselves to be as great as most any team in the country.

Jinx Tucker in the Waco Tribune-Herald—After Mason's long run which made the stands go wild, the T. C. U. team demonstrated to us that it is worthy of being crowned champion. After the Mustangs appeared to have the game on ice the Frog team had the courage, power and the brilliance to come back with a stirring fourth quarter rally to tie the score. And that last quarter was crowded with thrills. It was one tense moment after another. It was Howard Grubbs who carried his team on to a tie that meant victory for the Purple and White.

Fighting Frogs Are Conference Champs

Ever wonder what becomes of folks after they graduate? Those who have helped to make the life of the campus for some few years.

Among the students who graduated from T. C. U. in the spring of 1929, at the present time almost half are engaged in teaching. Perhaps among those best known on the campus are: Sidney Latham, who is now principal of a ward school in Longview; Helen Boren, assistant in piano at T. C. U.; Adeline Boyd, teaching music in Fort Worth; Hazel Carter, in the dramatic department of T. C. U.; Cecelia Byrne, teaching in Stripling High School, Fort Worth; Franklin Fitts, in the government department of T. C. U.; Louise Shepherd, teaching in Jacksboro High School, and Randolph of 20 and 15 yards and was calling straight line plays, not daring to risk passes, as the game ended with the ball on S. M. U.'s 25-yard line.

The game was a very marvelous exhibition of heady, at times sensational football. Every game between the Frogs and Mustangs will always be that. Partisans of both teams cried for a score as the game developed with none having been made. Every eye in the stands was on Leland each time he took the ball, expecting every time to see the flying Frog get loose. Bpt Leland was not to get loose. Morrison had seen to that. He should be lauded for the manner in which he did it.

Only one punt was where Leland could get it safely, and he returned it brilliantly 25 yards. He was smeared on running plays before he got started, with Louis Long diagnosing the play each time and meeting it most efficiently. The flying Frog distinguished himself on the defense, however, and he played an "all-Southwest" game despite the fact that he was "marked."

Grubbs Outstanding for T. C. U. Howard Grubbs, calling his last brilliant game, was the outstanding man on the field. His generalship was perfect; he made the Frog touchdown; he passed nobly; he was the best ground gainer of the day; and he played an excellent defensive game. Green and Griffith plowed the line for consistent yardage that helped save the day. Green's name will go into the Frog hall of fame for the coolness and precision he exhibited in kicking the tie-winning, championship-winning try for point.

Clyde Roberson proved that he is one of the conference's best wingmen. Noble Atkins was that same, line-backing ace who hasn't an equal in the conference, and Brumblow played the best game of any lineman. Frog captain led the Purple in its fight for titular honors. The entire line should be lauded for the manner in which it smeared Mustang running plays. Hinton didn't get to show his sensationalism on the defense for he was injured early in the game. He went out, however.

Mason Sensational in Run. Mason was outstanding for S. M. U. on offense and defense. His spinning from the grasp of four Frogs when he got loose for the touchdown was a gem of a play. It was the only time he threatened though. Kattman's punting was a feature, and Hopper played a nice defensive game. In the Mustang line, bare-headed Louie Long was an ace. He was a Nemesis to the Frog running attack throughout the game. Hammon played a bruising game at tackle and was as mean and full of fight as he was reported to be. Choc Sanders and Powell were stalwarts, though both were roundly outplayed by Brumblow and Atkins.

Both Play Heady Football. Until Mason caught his touchdown pass late in the third, the game had not developed anything of a sensational nature. Many had given up and were looking for a scoreless tie. The final twenty minutes kept the 25,000 thrilled and excited, as it was anybody's game until the final gun was fired.

The Frogs were on their way for another score when the game ended. Grubbs reeled off two beautiful runs

Occupation of T. C. U. Exes Vary From Teaching to Soda Jerking

Some of the graduates have wandered afar, aware of the fact that, for one's success to be appreciated, he must stray far from home. John Garnett is studying in Vanderbilt, and Lloyd Gipson, ex-postmaster, is now attending school in Washington, D. C., and doing work for the government. Quinn Buck is studying art in Philadelphia; William Balch, studying music in Chicago, and Fred Eriaman, is a student in Brown University, Providence, R. I.

Even today there are a number of faces seen on the campus who are among the outstanding 1929 spring graduates. Among those taking post-graduate work are Tadashi Tomimago, Japan; Betty Southwell and Weir McDiarmid, both of Fort Worth.

Among the Fort Worth graduates who are engaged in work in the city are: Claude Manning, employed at J. C. Penny & Co.; Bush Jones, who works at The Star-Telegram, and Miss Phyllis Pope, who is working at Stripling's.

Miss Lamar Griffing is chairman of the group interested in modern poetry.

The Y. W. C. A. has sponsored the big and little sister movement on the campus for several years. This year for the first time the town girls who entered school as freshmen have big sisters. It is the duty of the big sister to see that her little sister does not get homesick during the year, to fill her prom program and to be a real big sister to her.

The "Y" sponsored the freshman prom with Miss Helen Jenkins in charge. This organization also gave the big and little sister picnic for the freshmen at the beginning of this school year.

The Y. W. C. A. old girl-new girl wedding was held in October. Miss Elizabeth Alexander was the bride and Miss Jean Knight impersonated the groom. This was the first time the town girls had had a part in the wedding. It united the town and dormitory girls as well as the old and new girls.

In October the "Y" drive for membership was held. It lasted two weeks. About 50 new members were added to the organization during that time.

A general Y. W. C. A. meeting is held every two weeks. All the interest groups meet at this time. This meeting is held in the Brite College

SPORT WAVES

BY JAY WILLIAMS

It's all over—except the mere or less elaborate luncheons and entertainments that will be in vogue the next two weeks in honor of Francis Schmidt, Ray Wolf, and the Fighting Frogs, who Saturday brought to T. C. U. and Fort Worth the first Southwest Conference crown in T. C. U.'s history.

A few months ago, when it was announced that a certain Francis Schmidt had been secured to fill the vacancy left by Matty Bell, a few shook their heads. He's a basketball coach, they thought, and what we want is a man who can give us something on the gridiron we can be proud of. Yes, there were some doubters. There were some doubters when the Frogs took on the Aggies in the first conference tilt of the year. There were some doubters even after the Frogs whipped the Longhorns down in Austin. Today, the doubters, along with the thousands that have had faith all along, are acclaiming Schmidt as the "miracle man" that he is.

For a strange coach to take over a strange squad of material, and in the space of a single season mould out of that material one of the greatest teams in the country, is a noteworthy achievement. It was a masterful stroke—by a real master. T. C. U. ought to be—and is—doubly proud of a man who has done so much for the school in his first season. Don't forget old "Bear" Wolf either. The former brilliant Frog guard built a line that never met its match in any of the 10 games on the Purple schedule. It was two champion coaches who built that championship team.

T. C. U. students did not take the game Saturday in the way that seemed fitting for the occasion. After the game was over no one saw the wild emotion and enthusiasm that usually accompanies such an accomplishment as winning a football championship. No one seemed to realize that a seven-year dream had come true. Of course, the joy was there, but something was lacking. That something was the fact that T. C. U. had been held to a tie—when every one wanted a victory. Which goes to show that S. M. U. is the most hated rival in the conference.

Nevertheless, "victory" was sweet. T. C. U. had the better club. The Frogs ripped the Red line to shreds in three of the four quarters, though they were stopped once on the goal line. The famed passing attack of the Morrison cohorts was smothered all afternoon, except when Mason caught a pass and spun through four Frog tacklers to score the Mustang touchdown. It was a wonderful piece of work by Mason—made possible because of poor tackling when Grubbs, Leland, Woolwine, and Atkins seemingly had him pinned on the sideline. Howard Grubbs took things into his own hand after that and took the Frogs to a successful plunge for a touchdown. Personally I don't believe that Mason would have scored his touchdown if Hinton had been in the game. Not that Woolwine was the cause of it. Far from it. Woolwine made the best attempt of the four to bring him down, for Mason was lucky enough to spin from his grasp, but Hinton has no superior in guarding against passes and runs in his territory. It was just a break. Any one of the four could have brought him down in nine out of ten attempts without any help.

Many were disappointed because Leland failed to get loose. Probably the majority of the spectators judged that he was a big "flop." He was anything but that. The Mustangs kicked to him one time—and he showed two Ponies; that his stiff-arm is all it was touted to be when he "let 'em have it" before he was thrown out of bounds after a 25-yard gain. He caught two or three beautiful passes, one of which put the Frogs in scoring position. It was on the defense that he starred, however, for he tackled all over the field, knocked down passes, and completely saved the day by intercepting a pass that had it been completed, would have meant victory for the Mustangs.

It was very pleasing to know that sports writers recognized his ability by voting him the most valuable player in the conference. To play the game that he played Saturday, being a marked man on every play, is a credit to his ability as an all-Southwest halfback.

A number of celebrities witnessed Saturday's battle, among them being Coach Phelan of the Big Ten championship Purdue Boilermakers; Tris Speaker, renowned baseball king; Clyde Littlefield; Uncle Billy Disch, and Matty Bell.

Mark down the most dramatic moment of the thrilling 7-to-7 deadlock as the moment: Harlos Green dropped back to try for the point after touchdown. The kick meant defeat or victory—it meant the championship or a miserable failure. Add to Green's list of achievements during the past season the calm manner in which he shot the ball between the posts for

Class Football Starts Friday On Clark Field

Freshman-Junior and Soph-Senior Games This Week.

KNOX PICKS OFFICIALS

Sumner, Hinton, Griffith and Atkins Are All Confident of Good Seasons.

The T. C. U. intramural football schedule will get under way Friday afternoon with the freshmen and juniors furnishing the opposition in this initial contest. On the following day the sophomores and seniors will play a game and a defeat will almost eliminate a team from the running since only three games will be played by each team.

The coaches and managers of each team seem to be confident that their team will be the strongest aggregation on the field.

"The juniors will be our one big game this year but I do not believe that they have a team that will compare with our team," is Bill George's sole statement when asked who he thought would be the best team in the race and who the sophomores thought would play them the best game.

James Dacus, junior manager, said that the sophomores would be the team to beat in order to win the championship.

Robert George and Noble Atkins, senior coaches, are not planning to have only one hard game during the season but expect to find equal opposition in every game their team participates in and are now busy getting their team in shape for the contest with the sophomores on Saturday.

Doc Sumner, head freshman coach, is of the opinion that his team will be the dark horse of the season and expects his high school stars, who failed to turn out for freshman football, to come out on the long end of the score in the games with the upper-classmen.

Walter S. Knox, head of T. C. U. intramural athletics, says that if the games are well attended by the student body and if each class will support its club that nobody will be disappointed in the games as many former high school stars will be playing and that some high class football should be exhibited.

Practice sessions were started Monday and equipment was issued all of the players at the gym. Each team will practice every afternoon they do not have a game scheduled. Good games are expected by all who have watched the teams work out as they are being coached by the stars of the freshman and varsity squads.

Officials were picked Monday morning by Walter S. Knox for this week's games. These men were picked from his Physical Education 130 class and each man is minoring in physical education.

When the juniors meet the sophomores in the initial contest on Friday Noble Atkins will referee. Robert George will umpire and Phil Handler will be head linesman.

Officials of the freshman-sophomore game on the following day will be Robert Moore, referee, Ralph Walker, umpire and Aaron Hays, head linesman. Officials for the remaining games on the schedule will be picked on the Monday preceding the games on Friday and Saturday.

Conference Scoring

Cy Leland, the most valuable man in the conference, finished second in scoring honors in the Southwest Conference for the 1929 season and Harlos Green finished fifth in high scoring, kicking 15 out of 20 goals after touchdowns. Jake Wilson, Baylor University quarterback, was first with 85 points.

	Td.	Pat.	Pts.
Wilson, Baylor	14	1	85
Leland, T. C. U.	13	0	78
Miller, Arkansas	12	0	72
McElreath, Baylor	10	0	60
Green, T. C. U.	8	15	63

the point that meant—everything.

The most amusing incident of the afternoon was a young cadet's flippant answer to an S. M. U. wisecracker. The youth was selling Purple pennants outside the main gate and yelled his wares to three men who walked by. One of the men slowed up a bit and said: "Say, bud, haven't you got any Mustang pennants?" The youth burst into laughter, but suddenly hushed, as the boy immediately retaliated with: "Naw, fella, but I've got plenty of big handkerchiefs for you S. M. U. boobs to cry in!"

Skiff Selects Mythical Team

Williams Names 5 T. C. U. Men for Eleven of All-Southwest.

(By Jay Williams)

No team could not be a championship team if it did not possess individuals who were champions in their line of play. The number of individuals who were champions might vary according to the team. Hence my selection of five members of Texas Christian University's Southwest championship unit for The Skiff's All-Southwest team of 1929.

Four of these five will probably be unanimous choices for their positions, though the fifth may be questioned and assailed by the majority of pickers. That fifth choice is Harlos Green, sophomore fullback on the first team. He may not receive mention from a single writer.

Brilliant backs have been plentiful in the conference this season. Unfortunately, most of them are quarterbacks and halfbacks, and with the exception of Green and Griffith, both T. C. U. fullbacks have been shoved into the background. Four men have to be selected from an array of backs that include Grubbs, Leland, Wilson, Mills, Shelley, Perkins, Mason, Green, Griffith and Beuler.

No team would be complete this season without Grubbs and Leland of T. C. U. They can't be left off. That leaves two positions—one halfback and the fullback job. I pick Wilson for the halfback position because I believe he is a better all-round player than any of the others. He led the loop in scoring, is one of the country's best punters, is an excellent passer and ball carrier, and a good defensive man.

There can't be much room for criticism there. Most pickers will place Mason or Shelley at fullback. Neither is a fullback, and I believe the team incomplete without a fullback at the fullback post. Hence my selection of Green—a player who has been of incomplete value to the Frogs since Griffith was injured. Griffith, had he not been injured, would undoubtedly have been all-conference fullback. Green has taken Griffith's place and has done everything in a manner that would do credit to Griffith. He has carried the brunt of a devastating line smashing attack all season, is an excellent blocker, a line-backer the equal of any T. C. U. has ever had. He scored eight touchdowns and led the conference in goals after touchdowns with 15 out of 20 attempts. His perfect kick against the Mustangs last Saturday won for the Frogs their first Southwest Conference championship.

So that is the backfield—Grubbs, quarter, the best field general and passer in the conference, and a brilliant ball carrier; Leland, the most dangerous man in the Southwest as a ball totter, who would play safety; Wilson, the alternate passer, Leland's running mate, and the outstanding punter in the conference; and Green, a fullback who can do everything a good fullback should do, besides being a wonderful placement-kicking artist.

The line I have named will not differ much from the majority of selections. At ends, Schoonover of Arkansas, and Rose of Texas, are the pick of the lot. The former is an all-American, while the giant Rose can do everything an end should do.

Hammion of S. M. U., and Brown of Texas, are the tackles—the best of a scare crop. Hammion is a bruising, rough-and-tumble fellow who likes the going rough, and he is the outstanding tackle in the conference. Capt. Gordy Brown failed to live up to his last year's standard, but nevertheless has played sensationally most of the time. He shades "Red" Moore of T. C. U. only a little.

Brumblow of T. C. U., and Sanders of S. M. U. are the guards. Both captained their teams and both are two of the greatest guards the Southwest has ever seen. Both will probably be unanimous selections for they can't be improved upon. Koch of Baylor is a great guard but has been injured. Beuty of Texas, Richter of A. & M., and Handler of T. C. U. come next.

Schmidt Turns To Basketball

Fourteen Men Including Four With Letters Report Monday.

Monday was just another day for Coach Francis Schmidt and the champion Frog football team. At least, it was not a day of rest and celebration over T. C. U.'s initial Southwest Conference football crown. Schmidt, as pleased and elated as any Frog player or student over the title wrested from Ray Morrison's Mustangs, Monday began preparations for the basketball training season. He lost no time in declaring "no rest" for T. C. U. athletes by calling for all varsity cage candidates to report for the opening of the practice season at 3:30 o'clock Monday afternoon.

Fourteen men, four of them last year's letter men, answered first call and met with the "miracle man" in the big gym, where a light workout and a lecture on the fundamentals of guarding, pivoting, and stance was held. Intense practice will get under way this week.

The letter men who reported Monday were Capt. Roy Eury, center, who last year was Frog high point man; Ellsworth Chappell, forward; Horace Wallin, guard, and Al Flynn, forward. Lester Brumblow and Noble

Seniors to Give Sport Banquet for Athletes

The senior class will give a sports banquet sometime this month in honor of all senior athletes, according to an announcement made by Miss Vera Turbeville, social chairman, at a class meeting held last Monday at the chapel hour. The exact date and price of tickets for the banquet which will be held at the Woman's Club will be announced in chapel Friday. Miss Turbeville also reported that the class cleared $50 on the show held in the auditorium recently.

Interpreter Will Be Out Soon

The final number of the Interpreter for this year will be out next week, according to Prof. E. W. McDiarmid. This will be a double issue, Nos. 5 and 6, consisting of 16 pages.

Atkins, guards, are the other two Frog letter men. They will report this week.

The others were: Clyde Roberson, forward, and Duane Smith, forward, from last year's squad; Harlos Green, guard, J. C. Boyd, guard, Aubrey Elkins, center, Al Parker, Ray McCullough, forwards, all from last year's freshman squad; and John McDiarmid, Hugh and Maynard Beck, forwards, each of whom served on intramural teams last season.
