The Skiff has been notified that the National Scholastic Press Association he awarded it first class honor rating in the annual ranking of university newspapers. This is the highest rating given except for the All-American rating given to a few newspapers each year.

The rating is made on a point basis, with points being given in these discontinuous and the meeting, according to Mr. Estes.

each year.

The rating is made on a point basis, with points being given in these divisions; news values and sources; news writing and editing; editorials and entertaining matter; headlines, typography and make-up. The Skiff scored 845 out of a possible 1,000 points.

This is the first year that The Skiff has been a member of the association, which has a total membership in excess of 2,000 high school, college and university publications in every state in the union, in Alaska, Hawaii and British Honduras. There were 644 papers entered in the critical service this year, with 68 papers in the college or university division. All scholastic newspapers, yearbooks and magazines are eligible for membership. Fred L. Kildow, instructor in the journalism department of the University of Minnesota, is director of the association.

The issues of The Skiff which were entered in the critical service were Nos. 10, 11, 12 and 13. The association required four consecutive issues before Dec. 20, 1929.

The Skiff will receive a certificate of award, which will be framed and placed in the newspaper office.

WE'RE SERIOUS ABOUT IT

The Skiff is conducting a prohibition poll of T. C. U. students. This poll is being taken because there was a distinct feeling among staff members that students would be interested in knowing how the school as a whole stands on this question, which is attracting nation-wide interest in the Literary Digest poll.

The returns so far have not been overwhelmingly great, due perhaps to the fact that the first ballot was printed at the beginning of the Easter holidays when students had other things than prohibition polls to think about. The ballot is reprinted today and will be reprinted again next Wednesday. The poll will close May 10 at 6 p. m. Some students have taken the attitude that this poll is a joke and that they must treat it so. These students are those who sign the names of the deans and other faculty members to votes which have written across them, "I want my liquor and plenty of it," or "I must have my beer and wine." The Skiff is serious about the poll and the ballots are being carefully checked to see that no student votes twice. If students will take the poll seriously and vote as they think upon the matter the result will be worth publishing; but if they are not interested and try to be funny the result will not be worth the effort. There is another group of students who say, "I am really for repeal but I felt as if I had to vote for enforcement." The result will not be accurate if this is done. This is a secret ballot, with all votes kept under lock and being counted only by the editor of the paper. Students may feel free to vote as they think for they will not be criticized for voting that way. Under no circumstances would The Skiff violate the confidence of students who vote.

AMERICAN EDUCATION AS SEEN BY OXFORD

forty-eight state universities and hundreds of private colleges. In other words, our colleges over here are comparable to Fords. Everybody can afford one.

John Dugdale, the author of the article in "Current History" which flays the American college system, says there are three leading motives for going to college in America. A large number go for the purpose of business education. This group regards college as a means to an end. English students, says Mr. Dugdale, do not.

The second group goes to learn something, actuated by the desire to be "in the swim." And, he continues, there are a few who go to college because they are genuinely interested in learning for its own sake. In the attempt for mass education, America has sacrificed the individual. "She is setting out to make every man an individual, but cannot succeed, for the majority are no and do not want to be individuals if it means they must think for

Mr. Dugdale appears to be narrow-minded. Apparently, he has not made a thorough study of our American colleges. makes his critical assertions without much foundation.

The graduate of Oxford intimates that our students have no inclination or ability to think for themselves. On the contrary, it seems to us that the idea that so many thousands of young persons are going to college today shows that they have thought for themselves quite a bit and have an unusual amount of ambi-

THE LIFE AND STRANGE AND SURPRISING ADVENTURES OF DANIEL DEFOE, by Paul Dottin; McCaulay Company. New York.

Everyone has read Robinson Crusoe, but few people have read the amazing story of its author, Daniel De Foe. His life, which is made up of the most thrilling adventures, is the basis for Crusoe's spectacular achievements. De Foe put into his novels his own ambitions and conceptions

Daniel De Foe was born in the hamlet of Elton, in the county of Northampton, England. His parents were of Protestant faith, and this Puritan influence was a strong factor in shaping the life of young Daniel. His early fears of the wrath of the devil are told in a most amusing manner. This seemed to be a strong incentive to him to become a minister, but his interest in business soon conquered his fears, and he became apprenticed to Charles Lodwick. In 1683 De Foe opened up a new place of business at Cornhill, and hence became known as the "Hosier of Cornhill."

T. C. U. has many varieties of flowers on the campus. Each year some of them are transplanted to other parts of the campus and new ones are added.

Two years ago the old rose bushes were transplanted from their beds on the campus to a garden on the hill behind Jarvis Hall. This year both larkspur and sweet peas have been added to this garden.

Two hundred red and pink radiant roses were added to the old beds when the roses were taken to the roses garden. These beds are in front of Jarvis, Goode and Clark Halls.

There are several kinds of vines in front of the main building and the different dormitories. Ivy and the trumpet vine climb on the walls, and the beds have salt cedar and mock orange bushes. There is a magnelia tree in front of the Administration Building that blooms late in the spring.

Classes in the fall semester at T. C. U. this year will begin Sept. 16 for freshmen, and Sept. 17 for upper-classmen, according to the new catalog issued last week, with announcements of courses and faculty for 1920-31. The calendar in the new catalog states that freshmen must enroll for the new session before Sept. 12, and that upperclassman enrollment must be completed by Sept. 16.

rollment must be completed by Sept. 16.

The calendar shows that three holidays, instead of one, will be given at Thanksgiving, from Nov. 27 to 29, inclusive. School will close for the Christmas Holidays at 2 p. m. on Dec. 20, and classes will not resume until Jan. 2. Easter Vacation will include April 3, 4, 5 and 6.

Eighty-four names appear on the announced faculty for the 1930-31 session. Howard S. Hilley, new associate professor of the Old Testament; Emmette S. The left-handed alants of Johiny Railton, coupled with two home runs and eight Frog errors, toppled Dutch Meyer's Frogs from the conference top in the first of a two-game series Monday afternoon on Frog field, as Billy Disch's Texass Longhorns rode to a 10-to-4 triumph.

Capt. Buster Walker, on the mound for the Christians, was charged with his first loss of the year, as he gave up eleven hits, two of them home run drives by Sullivam and Pinkey Higgins. Walker pltched great hall after the second inning, however, and deserved a better fate. Eight errors by his mates accounted for at least six of the Longhorm runs.

Railton, the southpaw who is already slated for the big leagues, let the Frogs down with only six hits, two of them by Grassy Hinton, who hit a triple and a single to drive in three runs. The Frogs were getting to Railton in the later innings, however, and a downpour of rain in the ninth ended the game with three Frogs on the bases and only one out. Sullivan, rookie Longhorn outfielder, hit the longest home run seen here in years, when his drive completely cleared the center portion of the stadium.

Win Mustang Series.

The Frog nine made a clean sweep of a four-game series with the S. M. U. Mustangs last Tuesday and Wednesday by winning the final two games on Frog field by scores of 12 to 6 and 9 to 8.

The two victories climaxed two weeks of play in which the Frogs continued their bid for a conference baseball tilt with three conference victories in four starts. Against the Baylor Bears in Waco April 16, the Christians suffered their only 1930 defeat, when a Bear rally in the ninth inning netted two runs that allowed Baylor to win 5 to 4, thereby sweeping the Frogs from their perfect standing. The Frogs defeated the Bears in the first tilt at Waco, 15 to 2:
