Combined Chorus Is Being Realized In T. C. U. Program

Dean Hall Invites All Students to Join Choral Clubs.

INSTRUCTION GIVEN FREE

50 Men, 75 Women, and Faculty Group Are Included in Minimum Beginning.

A combined chorus of University men, women and faculty members is included in the program which was begun last year when the University Chorus of more than 100 members was organized under the direction of Mrs. Helen Fouts Cahoon, head of the department of voice. The plan is being developed this year and the administration of the University is helping in the work, according to Dean Colby D. Hall.

A chorus of at least 50 men and another of at least 75 women will be trained, and a faculty men's group will also be trained under the direction of David Bruce Scouler, who was added to the voice faculty this year.

The ultimate goal of this program, said Dean Hall, is to have a combined chorus which can put on an eventful program of operas and cantatas in such a manner as to attract statewide interest.

Dr. H. D. Guelick, head of the School of Fine Arts, has been planning chorus for several years and with the addition of Mrs. Cahoon and Mr. Scouler to the faculty, instruction will be given the individual groups.

Dean Hall and the administration urge that all students who are interested in music should join the chorus. In a large chorus, Dean Hall explains, many untrained voices can be used that could not be used in small groups.

Many students who cannot read music are asked to join the class in Music 124, which meets on Tuesday and Thursday at 11 o'clock in Room 305. This course is taught by Mrs. L. L. Lettich and no extra charge is made for this one semester hour course, according to Dean Hall.

Pageants will also be included in the operas and cantatas and in the programs to be given by the choruses. Mrs. Helen Walker Murphy of the physical education department is an expert in pageantry and has charge of these features.

With these well trained faculty members to organize this program of operas and cantata presentation, Dean Hall has requested that as many students who are interested make arrangements with Mrs. Cahoon to practice with a group. This training is offered to the students by the University without charge, and the administration is assisting the School of Fine Arts in realizing a dream which has been an aim several years and which has made some definite steps in development and growth during the last year.

Committee Helps Working Students

Employment Is Found for 60 in Spite of Light Demand.

The student employment committee, composed of Prof. J. W. Ballard, Butler S. Smiser, and L. C. Wright, has worked all summer in an effort to find employment for students who are working their way through school. There is a light demand this year but already the committee has found places for 60 students, more than were placed altogether last year, according to Prof. Ballard.

During the summer 40 boys were put on paper routes. A student window cleaning company has been organized which contracts for the cleaning of windows of downtown stores and also includes janitor work. There are now only three members of the company but it is hoped that the membership can be built up to about 25.

There are always a few places for student representatives of downtown stores. The demand for house to house canvassing is always heavy, but few students will undertake this kind of work. The amount of employment will probably be increased as business picks up in cooler weather.

The committee discourages any student trying to work all his way through school. No working student should carry more than three or four subjects.

Library Has Twelve New Desks

Twelve new desks have been placed in the basement of the library for the use of graduate students, according to the librarian, Mr. Arthur R. Curry. These desks will be assigned to the various graduate students, each student being given a key to the desk assigned to him.

Leads Fellowship

Prof. Karl E. Ashburn of the department of economics, who will be "Head Mentor" Sunday evening when the "T" Association presents the regular services of the University Religious Fellowship.

Year Book Staff Named by Brown

"The Spirit of Youth" Theme for 1930-31 Horned Frog.

The staff for the 1931 Horned Frog, T.C.U.'s official year-book, has been announced by Sterling Brown, editor. The staff was selected by a committee composed of the editor and Harmon Hodges, business manager of the annual.

Jim Gaddy Norris will be Mr. Hodges' assistant, while Johnny Lebus, selected by the junior class as candidate for editor next year, will assist Mr. Brown.

The theme of this year's book will be "The Spirit of Youth." Last year's theme was "The Industries of Fort Worth."

The editor and business manager of the Horned Frog are elected every spring by the junior class.

The additional staff for 1931 will be: Lillian Eylers, class editor; Miss Marjorie Lee Robison, senior editor; Laurence Coulter and Roy Bacaus, art editors; Jay Williams, S. B. Howard, and Miss Thelma Lawrence, sports editors; Miss Evalyne Connelley and Lee Otis Dallas, humor editors; Miss Helen Jenkins, calendar editor; Miss Jacques Lansdale, society editor; Miss Opal Gooden, stage and music editor; Miss Leta Ray, poetry editor; Gordon Yoight, photographer of athletics; Billie Dickey, snapshot photographer; and Miss Dorothy Lee and Newell Black, general assistants.

W. A. A. Advocates Sensible Footwear

Skit Is Presented in Chapel Representing Principles of W. A. A.

"It is as important to know the style of one's foot as it is the style of one's clothes," said Mrs. Helen Walker Murphy in chapel Monday morning in a talk on the proper shoes for girls. The program was sponsored by the Women's Athletic Association.

"The W. A. A. does not advocate a common sense shoe, but a sensible shoe," continued Mrs. Murphy, "and in order for the girls to know what a sensible shoe is, the members of the W. A. A. will try all girls who have on French heels with a miniature pasteborder shoe, which represents a sensible type of footwear for girls."

After Mrs. Murphy's talk she read the official W.A.A. poem, "An If for Girls." As she read the poem, girls representing the principles of the W. A. A. walked across the stage. The various phases represented and those who represented them are as follows: Miss Mary Elizabeth Turentine, the well-dressed girl; Miss Louise Lester, the over-dressed girl; Miss Frances Griggs, the girl who "can dance without making dancing her chief delight;" Miss Elizabeth Ruff, the girl who carries sports to the extreme; Miss Philo Mae Murphy, the girl who can indulge in sports without becoming too masculine; Miss Lucy Mae Merritt, the girl who "can saw and hammer and be useful;" Miss Thelma Lawrence, the girl who is too "bookish;" and Miss Evelyn Norman, the girl who can "make bread as well as candy."

Girls in Tennis Organize

All girls who are interested in making W. A. A. hours in tennis have been requested by the manager of tennis, Miss Inez Reynolds, to meet at the Woman's Gymnasium next Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock. A tennis club will be organized and officers will be elected.

"T" Association Will Conduct Religious Fellowship Sunday

If the freshman who called at Brito College a few days after classes had begun at the University and inquired for an entrance blank into the "Schmidt Bible School" will call upon the Religious Fellowship, he will probably receive a trophy as a most valuable worker. Until he reads this he will perhaps steer clear of that group for fear of mob law—and ordinarily he would be safe in doing so. But the worm turned, as some worms do, and the goat has become a hero.

For had it not been for this certain pun, the "T" Association of the University would not have been drafted into service by the Fellowship. Francis Schmidt and Dana X. Bible did conduct their school during the summer, but they had no idea that it would ever get T. C. U. athletes into church work. Anything but that! But the unknown freshman threw a wrench in the gears, and Schmidt to save himself some embarrassment and to call somebody's hand on the deal, suggested that the athletes pitch in and prove that they were not totally inefficient in activities other than athletics.

Which is to say that next Sunday evening the "T" men will be in charge of the regular services of the Fellowship on the University campus. Mr. Karl E. Ashburn of the department of economics will be head mentor for the evening and has arranged discussions and talks on the subject, "Sportsmanship in Life."

The principal speaker for the program will be Rev. W. R. Vivrette, pastor of the First Christian Church of Denton, and a former student of the University. He will be followed by Cy Leland, Standard Lambert, Lester Brumbelow and Leo Butler, all of whom are "T" men.

Mr. Ashburn is a former University student, having served as head yell leader for two seasons and was manager of baseball in 1926. The Rev. Vivrette is a brilliant speaker and one of the most promising ministers of the Christian Churches of Texas.

Leland, a letterman in football and track, will speak on "Sportsmanship's Code of Honor." If he attempts to carry his talk around the ends and strengthen his offense with a passing attack, Head Mentor Ashburn will jerk him after a ten-minute loss. If he stays with a straight open attack then he will be jerked anyway.

Leo Butler, a football letterman, will take the field and talk on "Athletics Among the Greeks and Romans." Butler, being a product of Holland, ought to be well acquainted with such an ancient subject.

At the Life of English Universities will be the topic presented by Standard Lambert, a letterman at guard on the 1929 championship team. Lester Brumbelow, 1929 grid captain and a basketball letterman, will talk on "The Will to Win."

Embodied in the evening's program will be a number of subsidiary activities that have been arranged by the head mentor and Dean L. L. Lettich, a member of the Religious Fellowship, who has been employed as assistant coach.

Curtis McHorse, present head yell leader, will lead the group in singing "Onward Christian Soldiers" and "The Fight is On," though no pep rallies will be held prior to the opening kickoff—if the program is conducive of any kicking-off.

Dan Bakelid will read the scripture for the evening, while Prof. E. W. McDiarmid, chairman of the athletic council of the University, will offer the benediction.

L. R. Wright, athletic director, will be relegated to the position of trainer for the evening; Francis Schmidt will have charge of the water truck; and Leo Meyer, Bear Wolf, Milford Barr and Howard Grubbs will substitute for the principal speakers in case the latter are incapacitated by injuries on the field. (Injuries encountered at the hands of innocent spectators will be treated as self-inflicted with no extra cost.)

In order to inculcate into the program the true spirit of athletics, Head Mentor Ashburn has arranged for Fleecers Noble Atkins and Howland Baker to have charge of all ticket scalping, which is athletic vermin for collection.

Simon Jewelry Co. Is Donating Loving Cups

Most Valuable Player in Each Contest Is Awarded Silver Award for Supremacy.

This year there is a new incentive for each Froggie on the squad to play his best in each game. After each game the squad votes and determines the most valuable player in the contest. This player will be given a loving cup by the Simon Jewelry Company of Fort Worth. The cup is pure silver and is mounted on an ebony base.

This gift should prove to be beneficial, because the player will feel that there is something coming to him that he can keep as a souvenir. The cup can only be won once by any one player. This fact should inspire the sophomores to do their best, because they will know that the cup will not be given the letter men merely because they are so.

There have been three cups awarded so far. B. W. Spearman, sophomore, was given the cup for his flashy playing in the Denton game. In the Commerce game, Foster Howell, another sophomore, was awarded the coveted gift. The third cup was also won by a sophomore. Jack Shackleford was awarded the cup for his playing when he was presented the cup at the Majestic Theater last Monday night.

All clubs and societies of T. C. U. which have not completed their organization are asked to do so immediately, according to Miss Eula Lee Carter, chairman of the faculty members on student societies.

The clubs should do this at once, because their programs for the year are due in Dean Sadie Beckman's office not later than October 15. Miss Carter also wishes a membership list from each club and society.

U. students and supporters from Fort Worth as pleasant as possible." President Waits expressed his regrets that he could not be present at the game Oct. 18, but gave his assurance that the A. & M. students would show the T. C. U. students a pleasant time when they make their visit to A. & M. on special trains.

The wedding was held in front of the honeysuckle arbor of the campus. The altar was covered in white and decorated with ferns and flowers.

Proceeding the entrance of the wedding party, Miss Mota Mae Shaw sang "At Dawning," accompanied on the piano by Miss Lura Fay Miller. Miss Miller also played the wedding march.

The bridesmaids and groomsmen came down opposite aisles, met and crossed at the altar to opposite sides, forming a line.

Miss Elna Winton was maid of honor, and entered with Miss Marion Miller impersonating best man.

Goode Hall Men Hold Open House

Leftwich Presides as Faculty Men Attend First Meeting.

The first house meeting of the current school year was held in the Goode Hall parlor Tuesday evening with Dean L. L. Lettich presiding. The general theme of the speeches carried out through both the program and pre-arranged exhibitions tended to illustrate the progress that has been made in the life of the college man of today and the one of ten years ago.

Before the program began, the Goode men elected a man from each floor to represent them on a social committee. Sterling Brown was named chairman, and Ray McCulloch and Blanford Spearman were elected as his assistants.

After brief speeches delivered by Dean Colby D. Hall, Dr. Edwin A. Elliott, Prof. E. W. McDiarmid, Mr. E. R. Tucker, President Waits and Coach Schmidt, the upperclassmen presented the president with a box of cigars.

TO PARADE OR NOT TO PARADE

Why not give the new band sweetheart a rest? In years past it has been the policy of our band to let its "sweetheart" take her place with the drum major at the front of the column and lead the way on our football fields; on all parades wherever the group is sent; on downtown "hikes" during various occasions; and any and all marches that the band itself is privileged to take.

In short, she has kept step—many times with supreme effort—with the 50-odd hale and hearty male members of one of T. C. U.'s most esteemed organizations. Unless the sweethearts of past years have been endowed with superhuman stamina and superior courage, we are certain that there have been many tiresome and trying moments in their reign at the sweetheart post. Perhaps the band has been just a little too exacting in its outlining of sweetheart duties. Surely the sweethearts themselves did not outline a program that called for appearance at the head of the band on all occasions.

Why not relieve the sweetheart of the business of being in the lead on all parades and marches upon football fields before games and during between-halves programs, both at home and on foreign fields? Why not let this male organization march alone? Long parades and the necessary short steps of most girls are not an agreeable combination. It is too tiresome for the girl.

We believe most heartily in the selection of a sweetheart every year. It is a tradition of the University, a credit to the band, and an honor for the girl. But her duties can be overdone, and they have been in past years.

We suggest that she take her "throne" with the band during chapel concerts, entertainments and the like, and at our football games remain with the group when it has taken its place in the stands. Leave the marching and parading for the boys. T. C. U. is perhaps the only member in the conference that sponsors a band with a sweetheart. It is at least the only one that asks its sweetheart to correlate her duties with those of band members.

Give the little girl a big hand, but she would enjoy and relish a discharge from tiring parading much more.

THE FREE PRESS

For some time now the newspapers have enjoyed what is known as the right of free press. When newspapers were in their embryonic stage they were a long step from their present position. They dared not "speak their mind" for fear of stepping on someone's toes. Conditions nowadays are quite different. Anything that is the truth is suitable material for a newspaper. Big metropolitan dailies, in addition to their "free rein" editorial columns, have stimulated considerable interest in open forum columns.

The open forum is important in that it is a medium by which the general public may let its mind be known. If there is any place where an open forum column should be valuable, it is certainly on a college campus. Just as the policies of the daily newspaper are restricted by the owners, a college newspaper must follow in the general direction which the administration of the University points. But decent, signed articles submitted to the open forum column certainly have no other restrictions.

There are hundreds of students in T. C. U. that probably have many things on their minds that they would like to unload. Here is the opportunity to do it. All articles must be signed, but if you wish, you may give another name for publication. If there is any condition in T. C. U. that you do not approve of, or if there is one that you do approve of, let it be known. Silence may be golden, but just try to pay a bill with that kind of gold; it isn't practical.

ATHLETES AND RELIGIOUS WORK

Those of you who think that T. C. U.'s "T" Association is purely an athletic organization, unable to take an active part in any other extra-curricula activities, will no doubt be surprised when that organization takes charge of the University Religious Fellowship on the campus next Sunday evening.

The "T" Association, under the chairmanship of Professor K. E. Ashburn, will conduct the Fellowship services in the third program of the year. It should be an event interesting to most of the student body and faculty of the University. It should prove to most of us that our athletes can and will carry on in other than competitive sports.

The Religious Fellowship deserves commendation for the two excellent and educational services it has sponsored the past two weeks. The services have seen an influx of young people that has been surprising. Apparently it was a good move on the part of church leaders who formed the Fellowship to replace regular Sunday evening church services. The drafting of the "T" Association into its programs will no doubt serve to create an even greater and wider interest throughout the University.

CONGRATULATIONS, Y. W. C. A.

In recent years the Y. W. C. A. has employed a plan which furnishes a welcome to the town freshman girls as well as the dormitory freshman girls who come to T. C. U.

During the summer correspondence is carried on and personal contact is made with the girls who are to enter the University for the first time. When school is opened the "little sisters" find "big sisters" waiting to take charge of them and to introduce them to the new surroundings into which they have come. Social activities are planned, and much work is given to the entertaining of the new students.

The Y. W. C. A. has been like the prophet—without honor in its own country. It has been a silent worker, and no particular credit has been given.

The Y. W. C. A. is due praise, and is to be congratulated for its excellent work in carrying out the "big sister-little sister" movement. The work already done this year gives promise of greater things to come from the Y. W. C. A. at T. C. U.

PEN AND INKLINGS

By Siddie Joe Johnson.

(The author was served his steak while he lay helpless in a hospital.)
I will admit I love to eat;
I do adore my bill-of-fare;
I've eaten every kind of meat,
But take away that beefsteak rare!

I've eaten prunes, much to my grief;
The slimy squash, the grimy date—
But take away that bloody beef
That smorts and charges off my plate.

The oozy, crimson, breathing steak
That groaned upon my plate today
Was caught just as it made a break
To leave my dish and bound away.

I bore it down with stick of lead;
I cut its throat and, as it bled,
I knew the thing would soon be dead;
And thereupon I went to bed.

So all that night, while in a daze,
I walked among the grass and thorns
And led the beefsteak out to graze

That came to gore me with its horns.
So should I leave the earth today
I'll give to you my final wish:
Please take that bloody beef away
That paws and snorts upon my dish.
—BEN BOSWELL.

SILHOUETTE.

A slender girl,
Bronze silhouette
Against the flaming sky,
About her feet
White-frothed waves lap,
Deep green, the undertow
Urges her slow feet on.
And the slender girl
Is you—or I,
And the saffron sky
Is youth.
The cold green waves
Are the things that are,
The froth—what they seem to be.
The saffron fades
Into pale rose-glow,
Deep violet, lavender gray,
And merges into soft half tones,
The gray of her eyes, the sea.

The frosh purple caps are cute.
They show progress over the verdant caps we had to wear. These frosh are to be congratulated on being willing to buy the purple caps first and wait for the sophs to get the green caps later. We hope the green caps will not come too soon.

Ye Editor Williams was overheard saying that the faculty has new specialties to offer, to-wit: Prof. Falls is ready to lift fallen voices; Mrs. Cahoon will lift fallen tenors; Mr. Knox will lift fallen arches; Dean Leftwich will lift fallen probationers, but President Waits specializes on fallen Dodgers.

The Jarvis Hall specialists have scratched Professor Sammis' name off of the romantic roster this autumn season. Mr. Cowan was voted the leading candidate. Pete Wright was blackballed for failure to pay his twenty-five cents annual dues. (He is said to have offered to pay one dollar for five years.) Karl E. Ashburn, William Rogers and David Scouler are being considered as the "runners up." Their stock jumped six points immediately after the freshman prom.

Gibson Randle, amiable president of the junior class, is taking daily setting up exercises in chapel with his monole. He hopes to pinch hit for the Prince of Wales at the Arlington Downs races in November.

We wonder if Prof. McDiarmid has told his classes about the generous Scotchman yet. No, according to the official Goode Hall notebook, we find that story due on Oct. 10 at 10:45 a. m.

A football captain's diet is what you make it, according to Noble Atkins, the duo-captain. Three days before the Austin College game, it cost L. E. Pender a fresh egg to see the 200-pound Frog athlete eat it, shell and all before a group of Frog fans at the University Drug Store.

The football captain placed the whole egg in his mouth and crunched it to bits and swallowed it as the fans looked on spellbound.

What next, Sir Captain, what next? "Stumpy" Butler said that he preferred cafeteria eggs to keep his physique in trim during the season.

Dear Editor:
At the game Saturday between Austin College and T. C. U. there were a number of students who, instead of cheering and yelling for the team on the field, made a practice of yelling to the pep leaders to give yells or to the band to furnish music. Whether these students were freshmen or upperclassmen is unknown to the writer, but it seems that they must be freshmen. An upperclassman would know by now that the yell leaders know when to yell and the band director knows when to play.

These students who have so much excess "steam" could work it off by giving their support to the eleven men on the field who need it more than the pep leaders and the band. Yell for the men on the field, and let the yell leaders decide when to give uniform yells.

Dear Editor:
I have been reading your paper for the past few years and I like it to the extent that I have renewed my subscription for this year and will, without doubt, have it renewed for several years to come.

I read the entire paper almost word for word, even to the advertisements. Your society staff covers the social activities of both town and dormitory students very well. The editorial staff has written some good editorials that I believe would help some of your students a great deal if they would heed the advice given them. The sports staff, which you were head of last year, gives a good account of the games played and to be played.

In fact I believe that your paper carries as much news a weekly college paper can with the exception of its open column. Very few times have I noticed that you had a letter printed in your open column. This probably isn't your fault, but the fault of the students. If they realized that the open column is their column, a Skiff. If T. C. U. students would place to have their pet thoughts printed, I believe that you would have several letters a week to print.

I go so far as to say that not one-third of the student body reads the letters others have written to The Skiff. If T. C. U. students would only realize the power that the open column carries, I venture to say the editorial and open columns of your paper would be the nucleus for more social privileges, more student control around the T. C. U. campus and other freedom that would be for the betterment of the University.

Both Pocket and Desk Pen Now in One
Only Parker Duofold SAVES PRICE OF A SECOND PEN
Offers This Combination PEN GUARANTEED FOR LIFE

As a Pocket Pen

Getting the Parker Duofold is now like getting two Pens at the price of one. Attaching a tapered end converts it into a Desk Set Pen. Removing the taper restores it to a pocket Pen.

Either way, you save the price of a second pen. You have only one Pen to fill instead of two. And whether you write at your desk or on the go, you always have your favorite point.

You have a non-breakable Permalite barrel that holds 17.4% more ink than average, size for size—that is jewel-like in lustre, color, and beauty. And most of all—the famous Duofold Bonus point that writes with Geo. S. Parker's 47th improvement—Pressureless Touch.

Even at higher prices, other makers have been unable to match this classic. Now that it takes the place of a special pen for the pocket and another for the desk, its sales are soaring beyond all previous heights.

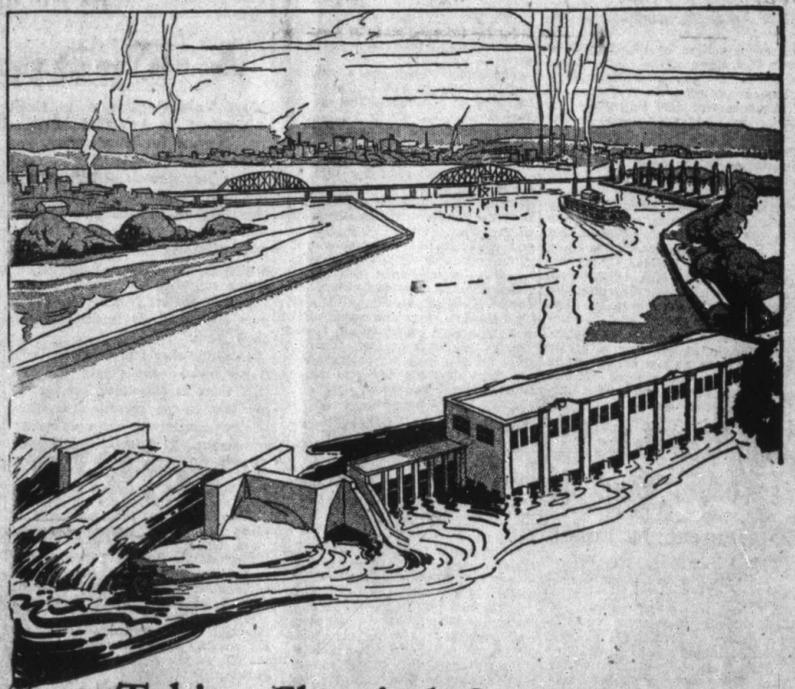

Go and ask the nearest dealer to show how the Duofold is changed back and forth from a Pocket to a Desk Set Pen. If you own a Parker, take it with you. If not, go anyway and see this revolutionary invention.

Taking Electrical Convenience From Ol' Man River

THE total capacity of waterwheel generators built by General Electric in the last ten years is more than enough to supply light and power for twenty cities of one million population.

Installed in power houses along the waterways, these machines transform the strength of mighty rivers into useful electric energy for homes, for industry, and for transportation.

The vision and skill of college-trained men are largely responsible for the continuing leadership of General Electric in its service of furnishing machines and devices that provide the swift, sure convenience and the economy of electricity—on land and sea and in the air.

Dean Beckham Keeps Diary While On Caribbean Cruise During Summer

"One is struck with the extremes of wealth and poverty, not only evident in the people themselves but also in the buildings," says Dean Sadie T. Beckham in writing of Havana, Cuba, in the diary she kept during her Caribbean cruise. "At every turn one is besieged by little urchins with forlorn countenances and holding up one finger indicating a plea for one cent."

Dean Beckham embarked on the Parisina from New Orleans Sunday night, June 22. Her first impression of Cuba was disappointing in that there were few trees and Havana looked as any other city; but her drive into the country eliminated all disappointment. The people lived in thatched houses with dirt floors. The banana palms, coconut palms and royal palms with fruit hanging high, poinciana trees with crimson blossoms and fern like leaves made a beautiful as well as interesting picture. The Cuban children ran about in the nude and mothers clasped nude babes in their arms.

The streets of Havana are narrow. As street cars run along, one can touch the passers by and fat people are forced to flatten themselves against the wall. Drivers of cabs and autos are expert in turning corners and squeezing by impossible looking places. One draws a deep breath as the car dashes recklessly, it seems, down the narrow street turning corners unexpectedly and rapidly, and dodging other cars, street vendors and passers by. All the time one's eyes are darting here and there to find the cause for the voices keen and high pitched that call from street to street to you—it is fascinating.

A Spanish club, Antro Asturiano, was interesting with a membership of 60,000 and any man being eligible who can afford $2 per month dues. "The building is magnificent. A marble staircase leading to the main floor and with left and right turns is said to be the most beautiful in the world. The marble used in the structure came from the Isle of Pinas, Italy and Tennessee." A night school library and hospital are maintained by the club. The building was well filled the night we were there. The ball room where the members may bring friends to dance has a marble floor and beautiful paintings and chandeliers.

The morning of June 26 found Dean Beckham on the Caribbean Sea, which was more restful than the gulf. Since her room overlooked the bow of the boat she received full benefit of the rise and fall of the boat. "All night I swung now up and now down, with the lightness of a slender branch of a tree with little creaking of the boat. One marvels if one stops to think of the strength of the ship, for the strain is great."

Dean Beckham's diary records her visit in Christobal, Panama City and the Canal Zone as entertaining and interesting. "The stores are enticing with their oriental goods, but somewhat bewildering until one becomes accustomed to the ways of the shop owners." After a drive through Christobal she went to the Gatun Locks and saw a big ship come through from the Pacific Ocean. "It is a marvelous piece of work—one's respect for man's genius and the good old United States mounts high as the story is told of the accomplishment in this narrow neck of land."

After leaving Christobal which was fascinating, Dean Beckham is again on the Caribbean Sea. After the passengers went aboard at Christobal the ship officers searched behind the ropes and into the boats for stowaways. The next morning there was excitement among the passengers for a stowaway had been found in one of the passenger's rooms, a woman's room.

The custom is to put the stowaway to work and imprison them at the next port, then send them back to the port from which he embarked. This stowaway refused to work and threatened suicide if sent back to Christobal. The captain was relieved when the Guatemalan government allowed the young man to land for $10 because he was responsible for him in case of any accident.

Dean Beckham again visited Cuba and landed in New Orleans on July 7.

Jarvis Hall Girl Wins Loving Cup For Scholarship

Loving cups are not uncommon in the trophy case in the gymnasium of T.C.U., but it is not a common thing to have a loving cup adorning the rooms of the dormitories. However, Jarvis Hall can boast of a loving cup in one of its rooms this year. The loving cup, which belongs to Miss Joy Sams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Sams of Benjamin, was won last year for having the highest general average for the last year in high school.

Each year the loving cup is presented to the student having the highest general average by the Sorosis Club, a study club in Benjamin. The cup bears the names of the students who have had it before it became the property of Miss Sams for one year, and also bears her name.

Miss Sams' family seem to have a liking for T.C.U. as three sisters have attended T.C.U. previous to her. Miss Sams' grandfather and grandmother, Colonel and Mrs. P. C. Sams, were early settlers of Texas. Colonel Sams was a personal friend of Randolph Clark, one of the founders of T.C.U., and he moved to Thorp Springs in order that his children might attend Add-Ran College.

In high school, Miss Sams was secretary-treasurer of the senior class of 1930, was interested in tennis and basketball, and was a member of the Dracho Club, a dramatic and choral club in the Benjamin High School. During her senior year, Miss Sams made a straight "A" card. She was sweetheart of the Lion's Club of Benjamin.

By JACK BELZNER

Tomorrow when Coach Schmidt sends his Purple and White charges against Simmons the Frogs will encounter a much stronger team than the Cowboys have boasted in several years. The Abilene team will have 13 lettermen back and practically the same team that T. C. U. has defeated the past two years will be on the field. Last week Simmons defeated John Tarleton 32 to 0 and used the second and third string players over half of the route.

The following is a reprint from the Simmons Brand—"Simmons fans are almost overlooking the tilt with the Plowboys in their desire to trample the Frogs. For the first time in years Cowboy supporters are looking on this game with optimism. They have already voiced their opinion about a special train to Breckenridge and they don't intend to have their day spoiled with a "moral victory." And by the way, did you know that already over 500 reservations have been sold on the special. Probably that many or more will make the journey by motor.

It is claimed by the Simmons backers that anybody who finishes on the heavy end of the score against the Cowboys this year will have to have more than one Leland. It seems impossible for Coach Schmidt to get another Leland but he will send Oliver, Spearman, Dennis and a host of other backfield men into the game that will make the Cowboys think the whole team is composed of Lelands in mid-season form.

Jack Sisco, Denton coach, told Jinx Tucker of the Waco Tribune-Herald, that Baylor was hardly in the class with T. C. U. He said the Frogs ran over his team at will, where Baylor could not go at all. Sisco also ventured the opinion that T. C. U. is much stronger than last year.

Jake Williams, Frog captain '28 and Phil Hander, last year's star, played with the Chicago Cardinals, a professional football team, against the Minneapolis Red Jackets last Sunday. The score was 7 to 7. This is Williams second year in professional football.

Many Christian followers were not satisfied with the 33-to-7 beating handed Austin College last week. They claim that the Frogs have been lucky in all of their games played this season. It is a fact that Austin stopped most of the Horned Frogs running plays and T. C. U.'s pass defense was not down to perfection. What else can be expected when a flood-of-substitutes is constantly replacing the team on the field. Wait until Coach Schmidt sends his charges against the stronger teams and you will see a smooth working machine which will remind you of last year's team.

Tomorrow the entire state of Texas will be anxiously waiting for reports from out of the state. Even the bitterest rivals will hope A. & M., Baylor and S. M. U. the best of luck against Nebraska, Purdue and Notre Dame. Baylor will have more trouble with Purdue than any of the other Texas teams will have. Even though the Boiler-maker eleven is weaker than last year the inconsistent Baylor team will be lucky if they hold them to a close score.

Matty Bell's Texas Aggies will have trouble stopping the Nebraska Cornhuskers of Dana X. Bible, ex-head coach at A. & M. The game should be close, however, and it would not be a surprise to see A. & M. on the long end of the score.

Knute Rockne isn't taking the Ponies lightly. Rockne is coaching one of the greatest teams in the country. He always has a good team. Even with as good a ball club as the Travelers have they are primed for S. M. U. As is Rockne's custom, he will start his second team against S. M. U. but as he says this is to give his first team an idea of the opposition, to wear down the competition with the second team and to get the first string nerved up to go into the battle. He can afford to do this because his second team is not much inferior to his first.

Some of Meyer's charges who have shown up good so far are: Kitchens, Stephens, Jordan, Walker, Casper and Clynch, all in the backfield. Langdon, Graves, Allison, Lane and Peyton are the leading candidates for the wing positions. Thomas, Wallace and Bradford are the chief center aspirants. Mark Boswell, Kinney, Heil and Perkins are the leading linemen at present.

Simmons fans will have one regret Sunday morning when they roll out of bed whether they win, lose or draw in their game with the Purple Frogs. They wanted the game played under the arc lights at Abilene. T. C. U. has become very popular in Abilene and Les Cranfill predicted that 15,000 would have seen the game at Abilene. Salkeld and Phelps, former Abilene High stars, have helped to popularize T. C. U. in that section of the state.

It seems good to see the entire Frog squad out for practice. "Bull" Roberson is still practicing regular and it seems that his trick knee will not keep him out of the conference games. The two-year letterman will be a great help to Coach Schmidt's team this year. Hal Wright is the only one missing practice sessions, but he will be out all year. He would have been a valuable man this year. Cy Leland's heel will not force him to miss any games but the Frog speed merchant will be handicapped to some extent. By taking care of themselves the whole squad will be in the best of shape when we meet Arkansas next Saturday unless an injury turns up between now and then.

Frogs Invade Breckenridge to Battle Simmons

Advance Guard Leaves Today — Game Is Tomorrow.

COWBOYS ARE POWERFUL 5000 Fans Expected to Witness West Texas Grid Classic on Buckaroo Field.

By JAY WILLIAMS.

The advance guard of T.C.U.'s Fighting Frog football squad, comprised of Coaches Francis Schmidt and Raymond Wolf and 25 members of the Purple squad, prepared to leave Fort Worth this morning for Breckenridge, where tomorrow the Frogs engage the powerful Simmons University Cowboy eleven in their third annual football classic of West Texas. Grid fever was running high as the team made ready for its annual Breckenridge invasion. The climax will come tomorrow afternoon when approximately 5000 fans, many of whom will be University students and Fort Worth fans, will jam Buckaroo Field to witness what is perhaps the crowning tilt each year in that section. Grid enthusiasts and celebrities from throughout this section of the state are expected to be on hand when the curtain goes up at 2:30 o'clock.

Members of the Christian team who did not leave with the advance guard this morning, together with the assistant managers and the Horned Frog Band, will leave early tomorrow morning for Breckenridge. The tilt is expected to be one of the severest tests of the season for the Frog champions of 1929, who looked unimpressive last Saturday against the Austin College Kangaroos, and who were lucky to win over the Sherman aggregation by a 33-to-7 count. Coach Les Cranfill has built one of the greatest teams in Simmons' history this season, presenting 13 lettermen, led by Capt. Bill Sanders, one of the most brilliant backs and punting aces in the Southwest.

It is practically the same team that T.C.U. has battled Breckenridge for the past two seasons. Advance reports indicate that the Cowboys have been pointing to the Frogs all season, and they are optimistic as to upsetting the dope by defeating the Christians tomorrow. Coach Schmidt, who scouted the Cowboy eleven last week when it ran over the John Tarleton bunch, asserts that Simmons has one of the hardest charging teams in Texas.

With a backfield that features Sanders, a triple threat back and a brilliant leader; Clark and Weiman, seasoned halfbacks with plenty of drive; and Marshall, a 190-pound, three-year fullback, the Frog forward wall will be in for a tough afternoon. The Cowboy line is big, fast and smart, as its feat of holding John Tarleton to a single first down will indicate. There will be no "shock troops" to start for the Purple team tomorrow. Coach Schmidt will throw his strongest combination against the Simmons team, and it is likely that the Frogs will be hard pushed throughout the afternoon. The team is in good shape for the tilt, and Cy Leland, who ruined the day for the Cowboys last season with a spectacular dash of 70 yards for a touchdown, will be at the quarter post most of the afternoon.

Probable starting line-ups for the game follow:

T. C. U.
Ends: Salkeld and Martin.
Tackles: Boswell and Howell.
Guards: Lambert and Butler.
Center: Capt. Atkins.
Quarter: Leland.
Halves: Hinton and Oliver.
Full: Griffith.

Simmons.
Ends: Jennings and Smith.
Tackles: Ribble and Fitzgerald.
Guards: Hamilton and Daniels.
Center: Gollighty.

Halves: Clark and Weiman.

Cowboy Leader

Capt. Bill Sanders, Cowboy leader, who will lead his Simmons eleven against the Frogs tomorrow afternoon in Breckenridge. Sanders, playing his fourth year, is one of the outstanding backs in the Texas Conference. He is a triple threat back of brilliant ability, and for the past three years has been one of the greatest punters the Southwest has ever seen.

Kangaroos Lose To Frogs, 33 to 0

Christians Unimpressive in Final Tilt on Clark Field.

The T.C.U. Horned Frogs handed the Austin College Kangaroos a decisive 33-to-7 licking in the last game to be played on Clark Field, last Saturday afternoon.

The game was a loosely played affair. Many spectacular plays were carried out by both sides. Lillis, the Austin College quarter, intercepted a pass from Tiner in the last quarter and ran almost the entire length of the field for the sole Austin touchdown.

The old Waco High passing combination, Tiner to Pruitt, showed that they would be of some value to T.C.U. before the season is over. Three passes were completed by this combination for considerable yardage.

Capt. Atkins intercepted a Kangaroo pass on the 35-yard line and was running with the ball when hit by a Hopper linesman. The impact jarred the ball from Atkins' hands and was caught by Dennis who ran the remaining 22 yards for a touchdown. Ben Boswell, the big North Side linesman, kicked off for the Frogs in the last quarter. The boot went to the 10-yard line and Lillis, Kangaroo safety, fumbled the ball and finally kicked it over the Frog goal line, where Sumner fell on the ball and T.C.U. received credit for a touchdown. These, along with several other freak plays made a somewhat exciting game out of what would have been a sluggish football game. The Christians' running plays were almost completely stopped by the Sherman boys and neither team showed much of a pass defense.

T.C.U. simply outclassed the baffled Kangaroos. Had the Frogs been up against a conference team their blunders would have been disastrous.
