Letters and Military Souvenirs Bring Memories of Aggie Trip

Each year after the A. & M. game there has been, for some reason or other, quite a large increase in the number of letters received in Jarvis Hall. Last year, after the Aggies had toured Fort Worth, the Jarvis Hall mail included at least fifty letters from A. & M. each day.

When T. C. U. visited the cadet camp this year the postmistress sighed from the expected increase in mail. Before the trip to Aggieland an average of about ten letters from A. & M. came to Jarvis each day. These were usually for the same girls. Misses Dorothy Jacobs and Kathleen Shear

Pavley is one of the most widely known male dancers in the world today and appears with only one of the many Pavley-Oukrainsky companies.

The program will include a number of novelties by the ballet of ning girls, all beautifully costumed. All dances and sketches to be presented have been created, directed and staged by Pavley and Oukrainsky and are designed to show the height of the dancers' art wedded to the most beeutifull music.

One of the most original of the Pavley dances is that known as the "Fire Dance," with music by De Falla which was inspired by a Mexican legend, "The Origin of a Fire-Spitting Mountain." Andreas Pavley's interpretation of the legend is said to be a striking exhibition of the choreographic art.

Tickets for the ballet may be obtained from Miss Annabel Hall.

or 8 o'clock before students can get to the library and settle down to real work. It is sometimes later before the majority can concentrate, because of the confusion and necessary noise that is made by so many coming into the library at about that period.

Too, it can be surmised without a great deal of investigation that more studying can be done between 9 and 10 p. m. than any other hour of the evening. Perhaps this is because there is less confusion and because those that care to stay late the ones who need to do work that can only be done in the library.

To say the least, closing at 9 o'clock is breaking into the study habits of many. It gives but one hour or so of time in which to prepare assignments. Obviously enough, one hour of library work is insufficient to prepare the standard course of five subjects, when at least two or three of them requirrather prolonged reference work. Not every subject needs to be prepared each night, since classes meet only every other day, but there are many times when these lessons must be prepared in advance.

Some town students are staying away at night simply because it is impossible to get back out to school in time to begin and accomplish anything before the doors are closed at 9 o'clock. They are faced with an almost immediate return trip once they do reach the library.

The administration should react to the comment and criticism of University students. The library is for student use, and students should be privileged to use it in the most beneficial manner. No explanation has been given as to why last year's rule of closing at 10 o'clock—which was far from being too late. The sum was revised. With but little effort on the part of the librarians, and with apparent benefit to those who have library work to do at night, it seems that the "extra hour" could be given back to us.

"I have taken up this concert work to give to the people the true picture of one of the most interesting countries of the world—Spain. Only through its folk music can the picture of a country, and its true nature, be realized." Senorita Luisa Espinal, standing in the center of the chapel stage, thus gave her ideas of her concert work. Her personality stands out in every movement of eye, voice and gesture.

Pausing at this stage of the conversation, she turned and with the most expressive mannerism possible, so natural to one of her type, said to the stage director. "There, oh, that is a lovely effect!" With a snap of her fingers and a few dance steps she demonstrated the way in which concerns it is interesting to me."

Her personality is so great that it brings to the observer the inner nature of those interesting people of the world, the Spanish. She gives directions in such a manner that it seems a pleasure to oblige her. Her voice is musical, has the full tones of the typical Spaniard, and her hair makes a perfect frame for her intelligent and enthusiastic face. With the close of the interview Senorita Espinal said, "I am not only bringing Spanish folk songs but songs originating in the Southwest part of your country. I bring these to the people so that they might have a clear insight into the folk songs of this section of the country."

She had a beautiful mouth, large brown eyes, and had obeyed fashion's latest command by wearing no rouge. In other words, she was what Paris decrees as smart and chic, I began musing about her. Undoubtedly she was some wealthy young woman whose chauffeur had probably eloped with the kitchen maid the night before—or with her wealthy next door neighbor's beautiful daughter. Thus she was obliged to ride on this detestable train. I could associate her with exclusive dinner parties, wearing a dress of silver cloth and long green, earrings, bringing out the brown in those mysterious looking eyes.

PORT WAVES

By JACK BELZNER.

The Frogs will play their last prac game temorrow in preparation the final swing into conference etition. It is a good thing for the Frogs that they have two non conference games on consecutive weeks at this stage of the season. It gives Coaches Schmidt and Wolf a chance to iron out any defects that are present in the Christian football machine. We can all thank Pete Wright and Coach Schmidt for having these games on our schedule this year instead of intersectional contests. If all games were as strenuous as our conference tilts it is probable that some of the inexperienced men could not stand the pressure.

It is a good thing for the South-west to play intersectional games, for it proves its relative strength with teams in different parts of the country, but with a team partly com-posed of sophomores, it is better to be able to pay attention only to the games that count in the percentage column.

The Abilene Christian College Wildcats are not feared by the Frog mentors. Nevertheless, they are not overlooking this game and preparing for future conference tilts. The policy doesn't pay. The Rice sophomore team proved that fact against Texas last week when it upset the dope and defeated the Longhorns 6 to 0 in the final minutes of play. The Texas players, despite the fact that coaches and scouts had warned them, were tuning themselves for their annual "grudge" battle with S. M. U. tomorrow afternoon.

Last week's games turned out to be the greatest bunch of upsets that has happened in a long time and probably since the beginning of the conference. Baylor was handed a 7-to-2 defeat by Centenary the week after the Bears had upset S. M. U. in Waco. Centenary has always proved to be a thorn to the Southwest teams. With unpleasant regularity it has sent conference teams back home with losses. S. M. U. played true to form in its encounter with Indiana and handed the Hoosiers a 27-to-0 defeat in the new Fair Park stadium. The Ponies played straight football and relied upon their passing attack for their punch. "Speedy" Mason did not appear in the Mustang lineup last week but will be able to play against Texas tomorrow.

Arkansas sent A. & M. down to her fourth straight defeat to the tune of 13 to 0. Matty Bell's team was not necessarily out-played in the game but needed that extra punch which has only been shown once this year. Arkansas is back in the conference race after the Christians defeated them 40 to 0 in the opening game. By beating Baylor at Fayetteville on Nov. 15, the Razorbacks would finish the season with a percentage of .750. If dope continues to be spilled, they might win the championship.

The Aggies should give up hopes for this year's race if they haven't already done so. However, they will be fighting to win every game on their schedule and will give the competition plenty of trouble whether they win or not. A tie would put Rice or Texas definitely out of the running. S. M. U. and Baylor could be eliminated by a loss since they already have a tie to their credit. From all indications, the Frogs now have a better chance to win the flag than any other team, but upsets are so common in this section that few have counted on another championship for this year.

The last few days have been given over to the perfection of passing combinations on the Christian team. Some improvement has been shown but no passer has proved that he is in the class with Howard Grubbs, last year's field general. Just to show that he was still in form, Grubbs gave the boys a show last Wednesday. With "Buck" Barr holding a ball at twenty yards distance, Howard passed and four out of five times he knocked the hall from the former tackle's hands.

Last Saturday while the Tech-T. C. U. game was being played, Ned C. Record, sports editor of the Record-Telegram, died, in a Fort Worth hospital as the result of pneumonia which set in after an operation. Mr. Record was well liked at T. C. U. When among students he seemed like one of us, and he always wore a smile that won him friends among the T. C. U. athletes and students.

PEP MEETING TONIGHT

Pep meeting tonight in the big gym 7:15. Everybody out and let's get mean and win that championship again this year. It was done last year, and it can be done again this year. Here is one new yell and one old one, so let's learn them perfectly and pour it on in a big way.

Undefeated Frog Eleven to Meet A. C. C. Tomorrow

Final Non-Conference Game for Conference Leaders.

WILDCATS ARE CRIPPLED

Coach Schmidt to Give Soph Chance—Starting Back-field Uncertain.

By JAY WILLIAMS. Despite the "hard luck" tales ema nating from the camp of the Abilene Christian. College Wildcats the past week, Coach Francis Schmidt will hold his lash over the mighty Frogs tomorrow when they meet the West Texas eleven in the new Texas Christian stadium. The Christian mentor will probably give his sophomores their second straight opportunity to do most of the battling against the crippled Wildcats, but no chances will be taken in letting the speedy Abi-lene backs run wild.

The game tomorrow will be the final round of coasting for the South-west Conference's only undefeated eleven, and is the fifth and final non-conference game of this season. Intermingled in the stories coming Intermingled in the stories coming from Abilene of the crippled condition of the Wildcats, are bits of warnings as to the speed of the Wildcat backfield. The Abilene eleven has lost three games already this year, but it is interesting to note that it has scored in each of the three games lost. Two touchdowns were scored against the strong Oklahoma City University team, which the Christians lost 40 to 14.

Injuries have robbed the Wildcats lost 40 to 14.

Injuries have robbed the Wildcats of a great part of their potential strength. This week saw three regulars fall under a barrage of wounds that have further stamped the Abilene eleven as "hard luck champions of the world." Lennon Hill, end, broke his nose; Dean Alexander, back, went out with a survained arbitle end.

broke his nose; Dean Alexander, back, went out with a sprained ankle; and Herman Scruggs, Wildcat fullback, received a scalp wound that may keep him out tomorrow. The eleven lost one of its principal cogs a few weeks ago when "Goober" Keyes, third-year quarterback, was injured.

Coach "Bugs" Morris has far from given up, however, and his team will be bested in every way but determination when it takes the field tomorrow afternoon. The mentor has pulled one of his wingmen back into the backfield to boister a passing attack. It will be up to the Frogs to break up an aerial game while they are concentrating on stopping that speedy trating on stopping that speedy Wildcat backfield. The Schmidt de-fense put a damper on Arkansar' "Cowbey" Kyle a few weeks ago, and it should function against Abilene to-the should function against Abilene tomorrow.

The Frog mentor will probably use his entire squad against the West Texans, with the exception, possibly, of Rob El Cox, tackle, who was injured while scrimmaging the freshman eleven Wednesday. Grassy Hinton is ready for service again, as is Ben Boswell. The starting backfield is uncertain, though Snow, Dennis and Oliver will see much service.
Woolwine, Leland and Hinton will alternate at the quarter berth. Green, Griffith and Sumner-will all take turn at the fullback post.

In the line, it is expected that Salkeld and Martin, ends; Evans and Shackleford, tackles; Butler and Vaught, guards; and Capt. Noble Atkins, center, will be the starting choice. Other linesmen will get their chance during the fray, however.

The two elevens have met only once before in history. In 1925 the Wildcats threw a scare into the Purple machine by leading the way, 9 to 0, until late in the third quarter. Harv cats threw a scare into the Purple machine by leading the way, 9 to 0, until late in the third quarter. Harry Taylor took a pass from Herman Clark in the final minute of the quarter and dashed 70 yards for a touchdown and the Frogs' first score. In the final period the Frogs turned loose for two more counters to win the thriller 21 to 9.

S. M. U. Drops Double Matches to T. C. U.

McDiarmid, Wolfenden, Roberts, Walsh, Defeat S. M. U. in Second Tilt.

The T. C. U. netters showed marked superiority in doubles play last week against the Southern Methodist University team in Dallas, defeating the Mustang netters four matches to two. The Ponies split even in the four singles matches, but dropped both doubles contests.

Results were as follows. McDiarmid T. C. U., defeated Boothman, S. M. U., 6-2, 6-2; Roberts, T. C. U., won from Newton, S. M. U., 6-4, 6-4; Boyer, S. M. U., defeated Walsh, T. C. U., downed Boothman and Boyer, S. M. U., 7-5, 3-6, 8-6; Walsh and Wolfenden, T. C. U., defeated Newton and Wasson, S. M. U., 5-7, 7-5, 7-5. This is the second time T. C. U. netters have defeated the S. M. U. netters in practice tilts this season. T. C. U., won the week before in Fort Worth 4-3.

Lettermen At Ends

These are the four lettermen at the Frog wing positions, a quartet of brilliant ends who help make Texas Christian's flanks the strongest in the conference. Clyde Roberson, Duke, Okla.; Howard Baxter, Dallas; and Othol Martin, Jacksboro, are playing their final year for the Purple. Baxter lettered his sophomore year. Ray McCulloch, Bryan, former North Texas Aggie ace, is a junior.

HINTON, BOSWELL ARE OUT

All Other Members of Purple Squad Are Given Chance to Demonstrate. By JACK BELZNER. Coach Francis A. Schmidt used every squad man with the exception of "Grassy" Hinton and Boswell in last Saturday's encounter with Texas Tech games.

Lon Eyans, giant tackle from Polytechnic, was the most consistent player of the day for the Frogs. He made numerous tackles and the Tech backs were unable to penetrate his side of the line. Doose, 165-pound fullback for the Matadors, performed the most consistent game for Pete Cawthon. His tackling was good and the Frogs did not complete a pass in his territory during the game.

The services of Hinton and Boswell, who were kept on the sidelines because of injuries, were missed by the Frog team. The Cleburne triplethreat man and Boswell, both first string men, would have strengthened the weakness shown by the Christian team.

With added emphasis being placed with added emphasis being placed on the rather numerous weaknesses that appeared last week in the John Tarleton game, Coach Dutch Meyer is driving his Polliwog gridsters hard in preparation for next Thursday's game here with the North Texas Aggies.

The Aggie tilt will be the second of the year for the freshman squad, which showed a rounded attack last week in defeating the stubborn Tarleton Plowboys on Clark Field, 12 to 0. It will be remembered that the Aggies last season offered surprising strength when they invaded Clark Field to battle the 1929 Polliwog eleven, with the latter breaking through in the third quarter to score the only touchdown of the game to win 7 to 0.
