Granville Will Appear Next On Lecture Series

Characterizations From Drama Will Be Presented.

LIGHTING EFFECTS USED

Impersonations From "Faust" "Merry Wives of Windsor" and "The Revivals."

Playing the part of many famous stage characters from those of the Greeks to those of the present day, V. L. Granville, noted English actor, will come to Texas Christian University next Wednesday, Nov. 12, on the University lecture series.

"Dramatic Interludes" is the name he has given to his program. These interludes embrace the whole range of dramatic literature and present the great dramatic characters, each perfect in costume, make-up and interpretation. Each scene portrayed forms a complete picture and is prefaced by a brief description of the play, during which the make-up is completed in view of the audience.

Granville offers a complete entertainment of one to two hours duration, beautifully costumed, with his own special lighting and with himself alone as cast.

He has given his "Dramatic Interludes" in all parts of the world, and for the past three seasons has presented his recital to various clubs, organizations, colleges, and universities in America.

His previous career as an actor is noteworthy and includes the playing of leading roles with Sir Herbert Tree, Sir Johnston Forbes-Robertson, Lewis Waller, Sir Charles Wyndham and Wilson Barrett.

Granville introduces his recital with a short introductory lecture on the value of the drama to life and then proceeds to give his first group of impersonations. This group includes characters from the Greeks to Shakespeare. Some of the outstanding characters in this group are Memphias, from "The Trojan Women" by Euripides; Faust, from "The Tragic History of Dr. Faustus" by Marlowe; Falstaff, from "The Merry Wives of Windsor" by Shakespeare; and the Duke of Gloucester, afterwards "Richard III" by Shakespeare. In the second group, from Moliere to the present day, Mephistopheles, from "Faust"; by Goethe; Mrs. Malaprop, from "The Rivals" by Sheridan; Francois Villon, the great French poet; Fevda, from "The Living Corpse" by Tolstoy; and Svengali, from "Trilby" by George du Maurier are the outstanding characters Granville portrays.

Granville makes all his changes on the stage in view of the audience. His properties include a large chair, a small chair, and two tables, one of which is used to hold his hats and wigs, and the other for his make-up materials.

Special lighting effects are also used in the characterizations.

The following students were initiated: Misses Dorothy Conklin, Mary Frierson, Nancy Gateley, Clotilda Houle, Marian Howery, Rita Langston, Marie Roberts, Frances Schieber, and Marian Smith, and Noel Snow. The Eta chapter of Alpha Zeta Pi of S. M. U. has invited the Delta chapter to attend their initiation services and a banquet on Tuesday, Nov. 11, at 5 o'clock at the El Fenix Cafe.

The Delta chapter will take charge of the initiation services.

Prof. Ziegler to Speak Will Address Texas Fine Arts Meeting Here Saturday.

Prof. S. P. Ziegler, head of the art department, will speak at a meeting of the Fort Worth Public School Art Society at the administration building of the city schools this afternoon on "Art in Education."

Tomorrow Prof. Ziegler will speak at a banquet given by the Texas Fine Arts Association, which is holding a regional meeting here Saturday. His subject will be "Art in the University."

Last Wednesday night Prof. Ziegler, who is president of the Fort Worth Painters Club, attended a meeting of the club where the subject centered around wild game. An unusual part of the meeting was that a wild quack dinner was served before the program was given.

To Lecture Nov. 12

V. L. Granville will present his "Dramatic Interludes" in the University auditorium Wednesday evening, Nov. 12. Mr. Granville is a renowned impersonator and is appearing under the auspices of the University Lectures Committee.

Churches Sponsor Training School

T. C. U. Faculty Members to Teach Special Courses.

Ten Fort Worth Christian Churches are sponsoring the third annual Community Standard Leadership Training School which began Tuesday. The school is being conducted at the First Christian Church and courses are offered for parents, elders, missionary workers, young people, Bible students, as well as church workers.

There are two evening class periods, 7:15-8:05 o'clock and 8:30-9:20 o'clock; and one morning period, 9:30-10:20 o'clock. There is no charge except for textbooks.

Several courses are being taught by members of the T. C. U. faculty. They are as follows: "The New Testament," Prof. W. C. Morro; "A Study of Adolescence," Prof. E. W. McDiarmid; "Dramatization and Pageantry," Mrs. Wesley Ammerman, Jr.; "World Missions," Dean Colby D. Hall.

About fifteen members of the University Christian Church are expected to enroll in the school. Those already enrolled are: Dean Harrison, Miss Elizabeth Henry, George Graham, Roy O'Brien, Miss M. L. Zimmerman, Miss Louise Scott, Miss Ethel Shockley, and Mrs. J. M. Freeman. The school will be held on each Tuesday from Nov. 4 to Dec. 9 and from Jan. 6 to Feb. 10.

Miss Johnson's Play Presented Over WBAP

Miss Siddle Jo Johnson's play, "The Man Alone," was presented over radio station WBAP last Wednesday evening. The play was sponsored by the Daughters of the Texas Revolution, in honor of the birthday of Stephen F. Austin.

"The Man Alone" won honorable mention last spring in the Texas Historical play writing contest sponsored by the Daughters of the Texas Revolution.

T. C. U. Has Five Presidents; Not By Ripley, But It Is True

T. C. U. has five presidents. This is not a statement made by Ripley but can be proved just as readily as those made by him. Four members of the T. C. U. faculty are ex-presidents of colleges and are now under the leadership of President E. M. Waits.

The list of ex-presidents is as follows: Dr. Clinton Lockhart, professor of Old Testament and Semitics; E. W. McDiarmid, professor of philosophy; R. A. Smith, professor of education and director of school education; and F. G. Jones, professor of secondary education.

Dr. Lockhart, when questioned as to his affiliations with other colleges, furnished dates and locations as readily as a train dispatcher giving orders to a train crew. From 1892 to 1893, Dr. Lockhart acted as president of Columbia Christian College, of Columbia, Ky. From 1895-1900 he was at the head of Christian College, Canton, Mo., and then took the chair of president here at T.C.U. in the summer of 1906. This affiliation as president here ended in 1911, and he has remained since as a professor.

Professor McDiarmid said that he was still trying to forget his activities as college president but that if

Frogs to Meet Rice Tomorrow For Ninth Time

Christians in Houston for Third Conference Tilt.

AERIAL BATTLE IS LIKELY

Athletic Record Reveals Teams Tied With 3 Victories, 3 Losses, 2 Ties.

By JACK BELZNER
The Texas Christian Horned Frogs and the Rice Owls will meet for the ninth time tomorrow afternoon on Rice Field at Houston. Both teams are in good physical condition and neither team is scheduled to win by over one touchdown. Coach Schmidt has been drilling the Frogs in the aerial department most all week and will rely on passes should the strong Rice sophomore line stop the Christian running attack.

The two teams met the first time on the gridiron in 1914 and have met seven times since that date. At the present time the two teams have each won three games, lost three and tied two. Since entering the Southwest Conference in 1923, the Frogs have won three of the four games played. All of the Christian victories have been via the shutout route.

Even when members of the T. I. A. A., the Frogs did not show up poorly against the members of the stronger conference, although the Owls twice whitewashed them. Twice the teams battled to ties, one a scoreless game in 1914, and the other a 7-to-0 affair in 1905. Rice was victorious in two games during this period by 38-0-3 and 26-0-0 scores, in 1914 and 1917, respectively.

After 1917 the two schools did not renew gridiron relations until 1923, when the Christians were admitted to the Southwest Conference. That year Blair Cherry picked up a Rice fumble and raced 60 yards for the only score of the game and Texas Christian won, 6 to 0. The following year the Owls turned on the Frogs and upset them 7 to 3. Washmore's 35-yard field goal apparently had the game sewed up when Rice pushed over a touchdown in the closing minutes of play.

In 1925 the T. C. U. players journeyed to Houston and defeated the Owls 7 to 0. A pass, Grubbs to Leland, defeated the Houstonians in the final quarter. Leland raced 14 yards for the touchdown.

Last year the champion Frogs' powerful line-plunging backfield rolled up four touchdowns on the lowly Owls in a mud battle on Clark Field and won the game 24 to 0. Harlos Green pushed over three of the markers, and Kenneth "Football" Moore scored another. Had not the ball been slick and muddy the Frogs could have cut loose with their vaulted speed and air tricks and probably have scored several times more.

At one time during the game Capt. Brumblow recovered a Rice fumble on the Bird three-yard line and in four attempts the best the Frogs could do was to place it on the Owl six-inch stripe. Coach Schmidt's second and third string players were in the game during the closing minutes and apparently were marching down the field to another touchdown as the game ended.

Curry Has Poem in Outlook

Prof. Arthur R. Curry's poem, "The World's Need," was published in the August issue of the Texas Outlook.

Four Days Given For Thanksgiving

End of Nov. 26 Classes Marks Start of Holidays.

Students will receive four days for Thanksgiving this year. The holidays start at the close of the day's classes on Wednesday, Nov. 26. Classes will be resumed on Monday, Dec. 1.

Last year only one holiday was given for Thanksgiving. Double cuts will be given the same as usual on the last meeting of the class before the holidays and the first meeting after.

The football game between Texas Christian and S.M.U. will be played on Saturday, Nov. 29, in Dallas. United last year this annual game was played on Thanksgiving Day, thus giving the students opportunity to visit their homes after seeing the game on Thursday.

Conditions now make it impossible for visiting homes and seeing the game also. Date of the game was changed so that fans would be able to see both the Texas-Aggie game and the Texas Christian-S.M.U. game.

Hall Speaks at Brit College

Dean Hall spoke at the meeting of Brit Chapel Wednesday morning on the Washington convention of Disciples of Christ.

AN INVITATION

All students and faculty members who do not make the trip to Houston tonight, are invited to be the guests of the Student Body Association and The Skiff tomorrow afternoon in Chapel. A Western Union play-by-play report of the Texas Christian-Rice game will be broadcast in the auditorium from The Skiff office.

Jack Belzner, sports editor of The Skiff, will be in the press box at Houston to dictate a report of the entire tilt to Western Union operators, who will relay the report by wire and telephone to The Skiff office. A. H. Montford, last year's announcer for the Texas Christian-Centenary game, will broadcast the report to the chapel assembly.

Local radio stations will not broadcast the game, but students and faculty will not be deprived of the opportunity of a play-by-play report of the conference leaders' third Southwest game of the season. No admission will be charged, and every student, faculty member, and fan is urged to attend. The game will begin at 2:30 o'clock.

Dr. Tobias Speaks On Racial Subject

Facts and Not Emotions Should Be Basis of Eliminating Prejudice, He Says.

"The nearest approach to a solution of the racial problem is in considering it from a factual rather than an emotional viewpoint," said Dr. Tobias, senior national secretary of the negro branch of the Y. M. C. A., in speaking on the "Basis of Racial Adjustment" in chapel Wednesday morning.

"Easy assumptions of inferiority have hindered the solution of the problem so far," explained Dr. Tobias, "and working toward doing away with the double standard of personality of the American people will be the first step in solving the racial problem in the opinion of the negro branch of the Y. M. C. A."

"Fletcher Brockman, graduate of Vanderbilt University, made the following statement regarding the racial problem: 'We are not nearing the solution when we have thought the problem out logically or heatedly discussed it, but when the races concerned join hands in a common task.'"

"The problem is two-fold, and adjustment without must go on simultaneously with the solution. 'It is exceedingly important,' said Dr. Tobias, "that in thinking of the colored race in the South, that we look upon them not as a problem but as an artistic asset to southern life."

All southern literature and song is descriptive of the negro. Many of the southern songs are written in the negro dialect. "Dixie," the song of the South, is written in negro dialect and is descriptive of the negro.

Dr. Tobias was introduced by President Waits.

Science Seminar Will Do Research

Dr. Chambers Presides at First Meeting of Members

The Science Seminar is a new organization in T. C. U. composed of members of the science faculties. It was organized under the direction of Dr. L. A. Chambers, assistant professor in biology, and its purpose is for the encouragement of research in the University, particularly among faculty members.

The departments represented in the seminar are: Psychology, mathematics, biology, geology, chemistry, and physics. Membership is limited to the faculty and graduate students, but the meetings are open to anyone interested in the work. The meetings are held the last Monday in each month, at which time some member outside speaker presents an original research. A critical discussion of the work is then held.

At the first meeting, Monday, Oct. 27, Dr. Gayle Scott, professor of geology, was elected president and Dr. Chambers, vice-president. Dr. J. A. Glaze presented his paper on the experiments he made with ants last summer.

The T. C. U. seminar is similar to those of other schools and exchanges lectureships with them.

Dr. Clyde Pharr's Only Interest Is in His Archaeological Works

"I am not interested in any other line of work except archaeology and could not be satisfied in other professions," was the remark made by Dr. Clyde Pharr of Vanderbilt University when asked if he was interested in other work. His hobby is reading history, especially along lines that pertain to archaeology.

Dr. Pharr believes that the American southwest will be a center of archaeological experiments in the coming 25 years. He also states that it would be better for this section if such experiments were put off for many years. His reason is that at present too many unscientific explorations are carried on and that valuable ruins are destroyed as the result of carelessness.

Princeton and Johns Hopkins Universities are now the leading American schools in this line of study, but according to Dr. Pharr, this science is rapidly becoming more popular in the United States. Southern schools are coming to realize the importance of the subject, and Vanderbilt and the University of Georgia are now

Special Train to Carry Frog Fans To Houston Tilt

Round Trip Rates of 5.70 Offered by Katy, Santa Fe.

BAND WILL MAKE TRIP

A special rate of $5.70 for a round trip to Houston will be put into effect by the Santa Fe and the Katy Railroads today for the Frog fans and T. C. U. students who wish to make the trip to the Bayou City to witness the Frog-Owl tilt tomorrow. The Katy will operate a special train and the Santa Fe will add additional coaches to its regular train to accommodate the passengers wishing to go on that line.

The regular Santa Fe train leaves the Santa Fe station at 10:10 o'clock tonight, and will arrive in Houston at 7:40 o'clock in the morning. On the return trip the train will leave Houston at 11 p. m. and arrive in Fort Worth at 8 o'clock Sunday morning. The Horned Frog Band will go down on this train, and the football team will also return on it.

There will also be a special weekend rate available for those who wish to stay longer than the allocated time of the cheaper rate. The rate is $10.00 for the round trip with railroad reservation extra. These tickets are good for a stay over until Monday. A special rate of $12.00 for a round trip ticket, leaving Fort Worth any time this week and staying until Nov. 11, is also available.

According to Prof. Claude Sammis, director, the entire horned frog band will accompany the football squad to Houston. Coach Schmidt and 29 members of the horned frog squad left at 11 o'clock last night for the Owl stronghold. They will work out in Houston this afternoon.

Miss Harrison Takes Little Theater Part

Freshman Student Has Role in "Miss Lulu Betts" Which Opens Monday Night.

A T. C. U. student, long prominently associated with school dramatics in Fort Worth, has an important role in "Miss Lulu Bett," second Little Theater production of the season which opened Monday night for a 10-day run.

She is Miss Margaret Harrison, freshman and assistant director of the Junior Little Theater, which is a successor to last season's Vagabond Players.

"Miss Lulu Bett," a comedy of drab, American family life, was written by Zona Gale after her book of the same name and was awarded the $1000 Pulitzer Prize of 1921. The play was opened originally in New York during the 1920 season.

Following one failure, after which the third act was rewritten to conform to more conventional ideals of the theater—that of the happy ending—"Miss Lulu Bett" became popular along Broadway and was considered one of the outstanding successes of the decade.

Miss Harrison has the part of Diana Deacon, boy-struck daughter in an unusually colorless household. Other in the cast are, Miss Mary Hartman, Morris L. Swartzberg, Mrs. Jennie C. Phelps, Mrs. Josephine Hudlow, S. M. Callaway, Alfred Mitchell, Charles H. Taber, and Brooxie Nell Roberson.

Tryouts to Be Monday Debate Teams to Go to Kansas for Pre-Season Debate.

Tryouts for a pre-season debate tournament to be held at Southwestern College in Winfield, Kan., will be held by the Pi Kappa Delta in the public speaking room Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Two teams of two members each will be selected to represent T.C.U.

Among those who have announced their intentions of competing are Marion Hicks, Fred Isely, Jerome Blount, Paul Martin, Frank Hughes, and E. D. Fyke. The Winfield tournament will be held Dec. 4-6.

LEST WE FORGET—

It was something like being kicked in the face after already being down. Maybe it would not have been so bad if circumstances had not been what they were. Anyhow, it is something that will not be forgotten until all of us who were here at the time are gone from the University. It is something to remember one week from tomorrow, when the Texas Longhorns, their great student body, and the thousands of ex-students, alumni, and Frog fans invade Frogland for 1930's Homecoming.

One week less than two years ago it all happened. It was Saturday at midnight. Six hours before, the Fighting Frogs and students of the University had walked from Clark Field with hearts made heavy from a 6-to-0 defeat at the hands of the Longhorns. The defeat had made students bitter—and perhaps made the "freshman guards" unwary.

To say the least, these guards left unattended the titanic pile of boxes and barrels which for weeks had been prepared for a bonfire on the campus south of the library. At midnight, with no one to bear witness to the damnable deed, the gigantic heap was in flames—presumably set fire by some Texas University student or students—and inside an hour was only a mass of smoking embers.

The bonfire had been prepared for the Texas game—but not in that fashion. A driving rain on Friday night before the Saturday game made it necessary for the celebration to be postponed. It was voted that the bonfire be saved for the following week, when the Frogs were to meet the Mustangs in Dallas in the final game of the season. That bonfire was never held—except in an impromptu manner, witnessed by a handful of students brought to the scene after some over-zealous Texas fan, devoid of the first principles of sportsmanship and good manners, had sneaked up and set his arsonous match to the heap.

Another box and barrel heap is wending its way skyward today. It isn't finished nor should it be until the wee hours of next Saturday morning. Students in school now who remember the incident of two years ago will not have to be urged to do their bits. Let's get to work and make this the biggest, hottest, fiercest celebration that has ever been staged in Frogland.

As "Remember the Alamo" echoed through the ranks of our forefathers, and was the battle cry of victory, let "Remember the '28 Bonfire" be Frogland's cry of triumph when we meet the Texas Longhorns next Saturday afternoon.

Let's burn our own bonfire this year!

THE LET-DOWN

Every year the student body at T. C. U. goes through three distinct periods of apparent "calm" as far as studying is concerned. The first of these is upon us. Mid-semester exams are over and the majority of students, consciously or unconsciously, let down in their studies. This condition is only natural, but it should be guarded against. We might compare it with a certain well-known football team of this section. This team had an early season game of great importance and was "primed" before the schedule had been opened two weeks. After playing a great game in this contest, the team met and was tied by an opponent that was considered only mediocre. The entire squad had let down noticeably. Students prepare diligently for exams, and when they are over the students seem to think that they deserve a rest or holiday.

When one crisis has been passed is no time to become lax. The student, like the football team, should begin to prepare for the next crisis. Now is the best time to get in some good "licks" for the second half of this semester. If the first half was completed with flying colors, the student should start right in to keep up the good work. If the first half's work was unsatisfactory, now is the best time to bring about a redemption.

THAT 9 O'CLOCK CURFEW

Much comment has arisen among the student body since the first editorial concerning the closing of the library at 9 o'clock, but no action on the part of authorities seems to have been taken. The suggestion that the library be kept open until 10 o'clock seems reasonable enough. Students have a certain amount of work to accomplish, and only a little time in which to do it.

It takes time to sign up for the books desired before studying can begin. With the closing of the library at such an early hour the student has just gotten into the subject at hand when it is time to leave. When the next opportunity for study presents itself, the important thought of the previous reading has been dimmed by too many outside influences. If one more hour would be allotted the student, much more could be accomplished.

The authorities might raise the question of too much noise in the library at night. This is an amazing factor, but if the student felt that he or she had the extra hour for study, he would try harder to get the most benefit from that hour, and talking and "cutting up" would be abolished.

As examinations approach there is a natural demand for an "hour of mercy," and since we have just passed through that stage the students realize more than ever before the necessity for more time in the library.

Students are human and can accomplish just so much, despite the fact that some professors think otherwise, so why not grant this 10 o'clock reprieve, and watch the grades rise to a much higher plane?

THE WORLD'S NEED

By Arthur R. Curry
This tired world needs a Sabbath: one full day
Of rest and meditation beneath the trees,
And out amid the flowers where the breeze
Blows free, would take much weariness away.
We grown-ups need to see the children play
Upon the lawn: we need to join with these
In that glad, careless revelry that frees
The mind from gloom, and keeps us young and gay.

THE LEGEND OF THE VIOLET

A Red man's legend many moons ago,
By the Iroquois is told,
How the Violets came to grow,
And their constant love unfold.
A hardy brave young Buck 'tis said,
Wandered to and fro,
His deeds were many, always kind,
Where ever he might go.

If such a rest-day came in every week,
And men would join the children in the game
Of life, we might have ample time to speak
To friends in passing, calling each by name
That day we would forget the things we seek
And find a joy in everything that came.

SILVER WEATHER

I shall come back to the silver weather,
When Fall is a smoke in the year's last sky,
When all of the day is a far remembering,
And night is an arch for the geese to fly.

I shall come back to the crispier dawns,
To color flung through the lifting haze,
The long hill caught with an ancient burning,
And smac set by the quiet ways.

I shall come back to the north wind's singing
And brown fields still for the moon to find,
To splendor and silence and all of autumn
Cool as cider against the mind.

All of the year is a path I follow,
Straight and glad as a homing bird,
Hastening on the silver weather,
And Autumn's beckoning, frosty word.

COULTER'S COLUMN

A freshman was encountered the other day who wanted to know how long the library stayed open at night so that he could write a letter to the Open Forum about having it stay open another hour.

Jimmy Dacus: "Say Bill, what's a classic?"
Bill Rogers: "A classic is a book that will cultivate your mind in half an hour, if you can stay awake that long."

Some students outgrow being a freshman. Others still gripe about having to take mid-semester exams.

I give the students what they want—
My steak is always tender.
I cook the meat just to a turn,
No matter what the gender.

Potatoes are my greatest dish
I serve them once a week.
They're never greasy when they're fried
And when they're mashed they're sleek.

The pies I bake are always fruity—
They're hardly any crust.
My string beans are never gritty,
They're just as fine as dust.

I serve the best in everything
The food I serve is fine.
And to top off all of this
You don't have to stand in line.

A setup is usually the team that provides the upsets.

Misses Louise Burgess, Marjorie Dale Grammer, Inez Bentz have been among the assistant hostesses at the Jockey Club this week.

Twelfth Anniversary of Peace Will Be Celebrated Tuesday

For the twelfth time since the eventful day when the order "cease fire" was echoed along the front from the Vosges to the sea, announcing to the world that the last shot had been fired in the Great War, America Tuesday will celebrate the anniversary of the coming of peace. When the call to arms came in 1917 T. C. U. sent 300 of her students into service. A large number of these saw active service in France.

The class of 1923 erected a monument to commemorate the memory of three students who died in active service in France. They are J. Ambrose Cooper, Milus Little and Herndon Hardwick.

Cooper, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Cooper of Hale Center, was in Company B of the 3rd Machine Gun Battalion and his leadership between Berry L. Sec and Soissons, France in July, 1918, was distinguished for heroic conduct and the prompt utilization of every advantage. He was a lieutenant.

Little, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milus Little, of Laredo, was in the 343rd Machine Gun Battalion. He died in service near Montigny, France. Hardwick, A. E. F., of Dallas was the first Silver Star for T. C. U.

Others from T. C. U. who died in service were: Milton Bower, A. E. F.; R. F. Higgins, Lt., A. E. F.; Burton Carpenter, Lt., Giles W. Day, Lt., A. E. F.; Chris A. Elliott, A. E. F.; Berthold E. Goebel; Fred J. Horn, Lt., A. E. F.; Will S. Horn, Capt., A. E. F.; M. M. Knight, A. E. F.; J. C. Maley; John A. Nelson, A. E. F.; Joe Oliver, A. E. F., and Oscar Johnson.

This monument to these soldiers sponsored by the seniors of 1923 and contributed to by many ex-students and friends of T. C. U. is the Memorial Arch which stands at the main entrance to the campus and spans the broad walk leading up to the Administration Building. It was one of the first notable memorials in the state honoring the World War veterans.

The architecture of the arch conforms to the style of the buildings and is of brick structure, with two inside-vibrant columns and with two large seats on the front. The total height is 21 feet, with a 16-foot clearance, which, with the width 27 feet, gives the arch such proportions as to match the structure of the buildings in the background.

On the front center of the arch is a spread eagle, and below this the United States' coat of arms, bearing three stars in honor of the three who were killed in action. Memorial plaques on either side of the front are dedicated to these three: Cooper, Little and Hardwick.

The names of the members of the class of 1923. Major Leonard Whittington, commander of the Bothwell Kane Post of the American Legion; Van Zandt Jarvis and President E. M. Waits approved the plans of the arch, which was dedicated on June 5, 1923, as a part of T. C. U.'s Golden Jubilee celebration. Julian Heyer, Fort Worth, gave the principal address at the dedication.

The erection of the Memorial Arch was appropriately sponsored by the class of '23, for its president, now Dr. Edwin A. Elliott of the T. C. U. faculty, is a World War veteran. He enlisted in 1917 in the 89th Infantry, 4th Division as a private. He went to France in 1918 and was there sixteen months, six months of which he spent in the line, participating in five major engagements and several battles. The major engagements were, Second Battle of Marne, two offensives; the St. Mihiel, and two offensives of the Meuse-Argonne.

He served in the St. Mihiel and Meuse-Argonne as battalion scout sergeant for the 39th Infantry 4th Division. After participating in the 23-day drive of Meuse-Argonne he received a commission and was recommended for the D. S. C. After the Armistice was signed, he was detailed for duty at Brent, France, remaining there until Aug. 14, 1919, and was later discharged at San Antonio.

He now holds a captain's commission in the 144th Infantry of the Texas National Guards and served as its chaplain when in camp. He was cited for bravery in the battle north of Montillois, France, in the Argonne section, on Oct. 12, 1918 and was recommended for the D. S. C. Due to some misplacement the medal was delayed until 1921, when it was presented to him in the T. C. U. chapel.

There are at least four other World War veterans on the T. C. U. faculty. They are: Dr. Gayle Scott, Lieutenant, who saw 18 months of foreign service in the 2nd Field Artillery of the 26th Division and was decorated by the king of Belgium for bravery; Dr. Jack Hammond, who served in the 12th Field Artillery; Prof. John W. Ballard, and Coach Francis Schmidt.

Prof. Ballard, Sergeant Major of the 153rd Field Artillery Brigade, was in France from May 1918, to July 1919, and saw active service from June to November of that time. After the war he taught in the A. E. F. University at Beaune, Cote D'or, France. He taught business organization and had 1200 students in one class.

Coach Schmidt was in France seven months as captain in the 347th Infantry of the 87th Division. He was division bayonet instructor for the 87th Division. After the war he was captain of Company B 50th Infantry.

"What-Not" Stand Contains Variety Of Odd Trinkets

Frogs, elephants, dogs, cats, rabbits, deer, and what have you! This is not a zoo but a collection made through gifts of the different girls in Jarvis to Dean Sadie Beckham.

This is the third year of the collection and there are at least fifty different articles of interest already in it. The famous family groups are present in the animal kingdom, together with small statues of hindus, monks, children, and soforth. The stand on which these trinkets are located, in the office of Jarvis Hall, was brought from the old school at Waco, and is matched by a divan and small high-backed chair. Throughout the year girls who return from trips home, and those who come back after a summer vacation, all contribute to this collection, which adds greatly to the interest and looks of the office in Jarvis.

SPORT WAVES

By JACK BELZNER
The Texas Christian Horned Frogs will meet the Rice Owls in Houston tomorrow in the ninth game between the two schools. To date the teams have each won three, lost three and tied two games. All of T. C. U.'s victories have been shutouts and once the two teams battled to a scoreless tie.

The entire Horned Frog squad will be in shape for the game, with the exception of Red Dickey, who still has a limp from an ankle injury. Two of the Owl stars will return to the Bird lineup. Two others will still be on the hospital list tomorrow afternoon. Otis Harris, Owl center, is still using a cane due to a leg injury received in the Longhorn game but Lou Hise of the Houstonians' best bat at tackle, has a bad arm and shoulder and will not make his appearance in the lineup. Lee May and Red Dickey are the returning members to the lineup. Both have been on the hospital list since the conference game. His figures rely on the fact that he predicts the Steers to beat the Frogs in their game here next week.

Marville Gill, sports editor of the San Antonio News, warns the Frogs to be on the lookout for the Texas Steers in a banner headline across the entire sport page he prints. "New Texas Team Threat to T. C. U." In a full column devoted to the warning he says that if T. C. U. cannot win the conference race. His figures rely on the fact that he predicts the Steers to beat the Frogs in their game here next week.

The Frog barriers will meet the S. M. U. cross-country team tomorrow afternoon at Dallas before the S. M. U.-A. & M. game. The Frog team is not so strong this year and has not been reporting for practice very long. E. M. Fridge, William Freeman and William Dodd are the best freshman prospects of the year and should make valuable varsity material for next year's squad. Massey, Dacus, Isley, George and Gonder will represent the school against the Ponies tomorrow.

The conference schedule will be filled to the brim this week with three games to be played. The Frog-Owl tilt will be a footlight because it will give the fans a chance to see what the Frogs will do against a strong team. It is generally claimed that the Christians caught the Porkers on an off-day and with a large hospital roster. Although the Frogs made 14 first downs and the Aggies failed to make a single first down, fans still contend that the Frogs were lucky to down the Farmers 3 to 0.

The Texas-Baylor contest at Waco will prove to be a great help to the dopesters whether the game is a close, or a run-away score, with either team on the heavy end of the scoring. Although the Bears held the Mustangs to a 14-14 tie they were considered lucky, and Texas was considered lucky in downing the Mustangs last week 25-10. This game should prove to be an equalizer. The Baylor officials are building temporary bleachers in the end zone at Carroll Field in order that a crowd of 15,000 can witness the affair.

The A. & M.-S. M. U. game at Dallas will be of little interest to anyone except those connected directly with the schools. The Farmers are already out of the conference race and the Mustangs have little chance in the flag race. But either team will bear watching because they are known for upsetting a team that should run over them without trouble.

If comparative scores were counted, Coach Schmidt's Frogs would be so highly rated that it would be useless for them to play the remaining games on their schedule. The Christians beat Arkansas 40 to 0, the Porkers downed the Owls 7 to 6, Rice defeated Texas 6 to 0, Texas upset S. M. U. 25 to 6 and the Mustangs were tied 14 to 14 by the Baylor Bears. That would leave the Frogs with practically a clear schedule for the rest of the season and takes care of every conference member but the Aggies. It is just another story when the Farmers are brought up because our 3-to-6 triumph over Matty's charges lowers the Frog rating considerably.

A certain sport's writer for one of the Houston papers comes out with a letter supposedly from a T. C. U. student. Said student was supposed to have said some rather slurring remarks about the Rice Owls. Too much should not be taken from this kind of "stuff," as it will be remembered that the same writer came out with a similar letter supposed to have been from a Texas University student just before Rice and Texas played. This kind of propaganda tends to stir up hard feelings among the players and students of the two schools and agitate an already tense feeling among the fans. It should be taken with a grain of salt, for some writers have to have something to fill up their columns or they won't be able to hold their jobs.

Texas Christian Downs Abilene Eleven 62 to 0

First Game Wildcats Failed to Score on Opponents.

SPEARMAN OUTSTANDING Frogs' Passing Attack Improves Greatly Over Early Season Games.

The Texas Christian Horned Frogs ran roughshod over the Abilene Christian Wildcats last Saturday and ran up a 62-to-0 score. Coach Schmidt used every man available in the game. Cy Leland, Frog Piler, was in the game but a short while and scored two touchdowns, one on 81-yard sprint from scrimmage. Spearman, former John Tarleton star, was outstanding both defensively and offensively. On one occasion he ran 81 yards through the entire Abilene team after receiving the ball from the kickoff.

Summer, all-American basketball center from Athens, scored twice in the final quarter and converted three times for extra points. The Frogs rolled up 34 points in the first quarter and scored in each period thereafter. It was the first game in which the Wildcats have failed to score this year, and only four first downs are accredited to their play.

Only two plays did the Cats perfectly execute for good gains, Black, the West Texas quarter, got away for a 32-yard run and Pippen passed to Wortham for a 22-yard gain. The Schmidtmen showed great running power and an effective passing game as they steadily piled up a large score. The blocking was somewhat weak in parts of the game but as a rule, the Frogs showed true championship form. Their tackling was good and most of the time they stopped the Cats on or behind the line of scrimmage. During the entire first quarter the West Texans failed to gain an inch and were thrown for two losses, both times for two yards.

The starting line-up:
A. C. C.—Wortham (c), I; Adams, I; Hunter, I; Gray, C; Owens, rg; Powell, rt; Manly, re; Black qb; Scruggs, lb; Pippen, rb; Bryan, fb; T. C. U.—McCulloch, I; Evans, I; Butler, I; Atkins (c), c; Vaught, rg; Shackelford, rt; Martin, re; Leland, pb; Woolwine, I; Spearman, rb; Green, ft.

COACH SCHMIDT

Frog coach and a trio of veterans on whom much of the burden will lie tomorrow in Houston. Vance Woolwine, triple threat artist, will replace the ailing Hinton at half and will do the punting and passing for the Christian eleven. Cy Leland will be at quarter. Captain Atkins will lead the Purple forwards against the staunch Owl line which out-fought the Texas Longhorns two weeks ago.

Bateman, Former Frog Manager, Tells of 1910 Christian Team

How T. C. U.'s cordial relationship with A. & M. was started, has recently been uncovered in a letter to The Skiff. And probably one reason why the Frogs have always been so determined in their games against the Texas Longhorns and Baylor was also uncovered.

J. F. Bateman, manager of the 1910 Frogs, writes: "During the season I submitted to the Texas manager a 'give or take' proposition for a game on a certain Saturday that fall. The consideration was 50 per cent better than I paid either A. & M. or Baylor for the games played in Fort Worth. He said he would take my offer and play in Fort Worth, asking me to send him the contracts. They were promptly sent. For the following Tuesday negotiations were on for A. & M. to play Baylor in Waco on the way back from Arkansas."

Cross-Country Race Won by Freshmen

Fridge, Freeman, Massie, Gonder and Dacus Are Medal Winners.

The second heat of the intramural cross-country race was held last Thursday, and according to Walter S. Knox, head of intramural athletics, the following men were the medal winners. Fridge, first; Freeman, second; Massie, third; Gonder, fourth; and Dacus, fifth.

Fridge, former North Side High track star, came in first in both heats. His time for the first heat was 12 minutes and 16 seconds, and his time for the second heat was 11 minutes and 12 seconds. The cross-country race was run over a two mile course and conducted to create competition among the classes and to develop men for the varsity cross-country team.

Ashley Is Winner of Insurance Scholarship

T. C. U. Senior to Carry on Research Among Seniors, Faculty Members.

David W. Ashley, T. C. U. senior, has been given a $500 scholarship by the Northwestern National Life Insurance Company, of Minneapolis, Minn. He is to carry on a research study of Frog seniors and faculty members in regard to insurance.

It is the first scholarship of its kind ever offered, and Ashley is the pioneer in the field. Should he carry on the experiment with success he will be given a permanent position with the company and under its direction will be prepared for a Certified Underwriters Degree, which corresponds to the Certified Public Accountant degree in the business world.

H. G. Hewitt, head of the company's operations in Texas, with headquarters in Houston, offered the scholarship to a T. C. U. student because he likes the spirit of the Horned Frog student body better than any other in the state. He has traveled and lectured in the B. B. A. departments of each major school in the state. Through the efforts of John W. Ballard, T. C. U. was elected to be the first school to have the scholarship.

"Should the experiment be successful here, it will be tried in seven other major universities in the state and in a few years develop into a national affair," according to Ashley. "It will be made a perpetual affair in T. C. U. The thesis will contain such information as: what the average college student thinks of insurance, what is his average knowledge of the subject, how much he carries, the average age of men and women who are college seniors and other information of interest both to the insurance company and to the college student. The material will also contain the identical information about college professors.

Last summer the company sent Ashley to Estes Park, Colo. to a meeting of the insurance directors of the company in order that he might be given a real insight into the business.

Girls' Tag Football Team Is Organized

Those girls signed up for the sport are: Misses Isabel Wofford, Phena Newberry, Marian Miller, Loree Guhl, Marjory Brown, Dorothy Darby, Dorothy Reinke, Kathryn Lipscomb, Dorothy Eury, Thelma Lawrence, Virginia Bryson, Philo Mae Maduphie, Allene Allen, Frances Hutchings, Evelyn Norman, Trula Clendenen, Marie Hollas, Evelyn Stabaugh, Katie Ruth Anderson, Jean Harrell, Louise Lester, Dorothy Keller, Dorothy Conking, Clotilda Houle, Harriet Griffin, Gemma Nunley, Maurine Darnell, Doris Dulaney, and Helen Dees.

Johnny Vaught Wins Week's Simon Award

Johnny Vaught, sophomore guard, was awarded the Simon cup this week after being voted the most valuable Frog player in last Saturday's tilt with the Abilene Christian College eleven.

Wearing the same old number "44" that graced the back of Capt. Lester Brumbeul last season, the former Poly ace was in top form against the Wildcats eleven and was easily the outstanding defensive man on the field. The 180-pound sophomore, exceptionally fast for a heavy linesman, is expected to carry on the great work of last year's championship captain and wearer of the famous "44."

Jordan, Clynych, Kitchen Lead Polliwogs to Victory.

It was left to the flying cleats of Bob Jordan, former Central High backfield, to score the last touchdown on historic Clark Field. Jordan carried the ball over from the four-yard stripe yesterday afternoon to lead Dutch Meyer's Polliwog eleven to a thrilling 7-to-0 victory over the Junior Aggies of Arlington.

The victory was the second of the year for the freshman team, which exhibited surprising strength in downing the heavy Aggie eleven. Although scoring only once, the Meyermen tossed away other scoring opportunities by lacking a goal-line finish on three occasions. Playing most of the tilt in Aggie territory, the Polliwogs were thrice held for downs inside the Aggie five-yard line.

Fullback Kitchen, a big fellow who can carry the ball with ability, stood out with Jordan and Kinyr, tackles, with some neat ball-carrying and a world of power in his passing arm. Kitchen's rifle shots to Peyton, Jordan and Ringgenberg gained many a yard for the freshman gridsters. Ben Clynych, Polliwog quarter, shared honors with Kitchen and Jordan with some beautiful punting which kept the Aggies backed into their own territory most of the fray.

The Aggies failed to produce much of a threat until the final quarter. On a fake punt, standing on his own goal-line, the Aggie punter almost got loose for a touchdown but was finally thrown by Kitchen in mid-field.

The starting lineup for the Polliwogs follows: Langdon and Graves, ends; Wilkerson and Kinyr, tackles; Bassinger and Taylor, guards; Thomas, center; Walker, quarter; Jordan and Ringgenberg, halves; Kitchen, fullback.
