Trustees Have Regular Meeting Thursday, Feb. 12

Expiring Terms of Five Members May Be Renewed.

GOVERNOR MIGHT ATTEND

Improvements of School Will Be
Main Topic for Discussion.

Setting of the 1931-32 budget and electing of the faculty will occupy most of the time of the Board of Trustees which meets next Thursday at the University. The meeting is called the annual meeting, although the board convenes again in June and in September.

According to President E. M. Waits, the five members whose terms expire this year will in all probability be re-elected, since they have occupied positions on the board for so long a time.

The members whose terms expire are: M. E. Daniel of Breckenridge, Dan D. Rogers of Dallas, Andrew Sherley of Anna, W. S. Cooke of Fort Worth, and H. C. Garrison of Austin.

No definite word has been received stating whether Governor Ross S. Sterling will attend the meeting. He is one of the trustees. Last year the most important work of the board was the sanctioning of a new football stadium. Additional improvements of the school will be discussed during the meeting.

Officers of the board are: Van Zandt Jarvis of Fort Worth, chairman; H. W. Stark of Gainesville, vice-president, and Butler S. Smiser, of Fort Worth, secretary-treasurer.

Miss Mary Lloyd Garnett who was injured in an automobile accident last week, has been unable to take several of her examinations. She will be able to attend school though and has enrolled for the new term.

Valentine's Day Named for Saint Guilty of Writing No Love Songs

Custom has decreed that on Saint Valentine's Day, which is Feb. 14 in the Roman and Anglican calendar, people exchange missives either comic or sentimental.

There is no custom without a reason. The reason for Valentine's Day can not be found in the life of a saint who is made to indorse the custom with his name. St. Valentine, wrote no love songs. No one accuses him of having "made eyes" at a Roman maiden. He was a bishop or Pope of Rome who stood steadfast to the faith during the Claudian persecutions, and for that faith was cast into prison, where he cured the keeper's daughter of blindness. It is the pleasure of Cupid, who is blind, to bring upon his victims a state of blindness but not to cure it.

There was nothing comic nor sentimental in the fate of St. Valentine when the miracle was known. He was beaten with clubs and beheaded. What was left of him was preserved in the church of St. Praxedis at Rome where a gate, Porta Valentine, was Honor Class Organized Section in Mathematics 12b Composed of 19 Students.

The mathematics department of T. C. U. has organized an honor class in mathematics 12b. A group of the thirty highest grade students were selected to take an examination and of this group nineteen were eligible for the honor class.

The following students were chosen: Misses Evelyn Green, Mary Blanton, Marian Rankin, Lillian Childress, Helen Puckett, Annie Adolphson, Corinne Lewis, Elna Winston, Mildred Kelly, Will Marie Allen, Martha Arnold, Virginia Oliver, and Kathrine Rose, and John Morris, Bob Stewart, Marvin Laboritz, O. B. Jackson, Sproesser Wynn, and Billy Allen.

Byrd Expedition Show Presented by Seniors

"With Byrd at the South Pole" was shown in the University auditorium Monday evening under the auspices of the senior class.

Mrs. Genie Griffin DeWolfe, who is showing the picture over Texas, explained the picture as it was shown. The picture was the official 8-reel Paramount production.

Library Class Sorts Magazines

Periodicals Found in Alcove, Basement, Magazine Room.

For two days the fall class of library science under the instruction of Arthur R. Curry worked to rearrange the magazines in the library. In the magazine room at the present time there are only the bound volumes of the magazines.

The more recent periodicals for the general reader are in the northwest alcove. The late periodicals which are less frequently used are arranged alphabetically in the magazine racks at the foot of the stairs in the basement.

The unbound issues of the magazines and all bound volumes of technical and popular periodicals are in the stacks in the basement. The magazine room is in better order as the result of the steps taken by the students in arranging the magazines to set the library in better order and to receive the credit for the course in library science.

'Amos 'n Andy' Are Favorites With Students

"Amos and Andy" and Rudy Vallee ran a close race for the first place among the radio favorites of the students of T. C. U. "Amos and Andy" winning the place by a small margin.

Practically all of the students choosing Rudy Vallee were girls, the number favoring "Amos and Andy" was about equally divided between the boys and girls.

The Lucky Strike Dance Orchestra, the Cliquot Club Eskimos, Husk O'Hare and his orchestra, are all big favorites among the students. A preference for dance orchestras over all other programs, except "Amos 'n Andy," was noted by two-thirds of the group questioned.

A number of students acclaimed "The Seven Aces," who used to be regular performers over WBAP, as favorites.

The Atwater Kent program and the Palmolive hour are the favorite programs chosen by students of the School of Fine Arts.

The Friday night True Story Magazine drama was chosen by a few girls, and several boys said that radios are only good for football and baseball games.

Texas Section Of Math Group Convenes Here

Seventeen Schools Are Represented by Delegates.

BANQUET GIVEN VISITORS Speakers From Many Colleges Discuss Pedagogical Problems.

Texas Christian University was host to the Texas Section of Mathematical Association of America Saturday. There were 17 institutions represented according to Prof. Charles R. Sherer, professor of mathematics at T. C. U. Mississippi was the only outside state represented.

The morning session was held in the Brits club room and dealt with the technical problem of mathematics. Technical Subjects Discussed.

Prof. R. S. Underwood of Texas Technological College discussed "The Universal Quadratic Forms in Five Variables." Other subjects discussed were "Isothermic Harmonic Functions," by Prof. E. F. Bechenback of Rice Institute; "A General Vandermonde Determinant," by Dr. E. L. Stafford of Texas Technological College; "Note on the Double Points of Certain Plane Curves," by Dr. L. M. Blumenthal of Rice Institute; "A Proof of a Theorem of Popovici," by Prof. H. E. Bray of Rice Institute; and "An Elementary Treatment of the Definite Integral," by Prof. H. J. Ettinger of the University of Texas.

Another session was held in the Brits College auditorium in the afternoon and this session dealt with applied mathematics in sciences. The discussion was led by Dean William J. Miller of the Texas Technological School of Engineering. Dean Miller also read a paper on "The Place of Mathematics in Engineering Education."

Prof. Sherer Is Speaker.

Prof. Sherer spoke on the "Modern Methods of Teaching Freshman Mathematics." Prof. Sherer explained that the slower sections meet five times a week instead of three, in order to assist the slower students to raise their standard.

H. F. Alves of the State Department of Education discussed the "Problems in Connection With the Teaching of High School Algebra." Mr. Alves said the high schools were trying to prepare the students for college mathematics.

In general the morning sessions dealt with research papers and the afternoon sessions dealt with pedagogical problems, teaching, and mathematical curriculum in the high school.

Professor Bray was elected chairman of the Texas section at the afternoon committee report prepared by a committee headed by Professor Ettinger. Professor Sherer was elected vice chairman. Prof. Nat Edmondson of Texas Technological College was elected secretary-treasurer for a period of five years.

Banquet Is Given.

Dean Colby Hall gave the address of welcome and introduced the principal speaker, President Edgar O. Lovett of Rice Institute. President Lovett spoke on the "Tendencies in Education and Application to Mathematics." Other numbers on the program were cowboy songs by Prof. Newton Gaines, and French Horn and saxophone solos by Sproesser Wynn who was accompanied by Miss Mozelle Bryant at the piano.

Scholars Will Preside Society Is Sponsoring Program of Fellowship Meeting.

The Scholarship Society is sponsoring the program to be given for the University Religious Fellowship Sunday night under the direction of Miss Bita May Hall, president.

A playlet, "T. C. U. College of the Air," will be presented. Those taking part are: Misses Clotilda Houle and Marian Smith and Bill Rogers and Howard Carrell. Miss Vera Bell Stephenson will have charge of the devotional.

Mountain Photographer

CAPTAIN JOHN NOEL AND THE OFFICIAL
MT. EVEREST MOTION PICTURES

THE tragic story of the 1924 Mt. Everest Expedition when Mallory and Irvine disappeared into the clouds when within 800 feet of the summit—never to return—will be told here soon by Captain John Noel, the official photographer of the Mt. Everest Expedition. In conjunction with his talk, some 6000 feet of remarkably fine motion pictures will be shown. These films are the official pictorial record of the tragic attempt to climb the world's highest mountain. The Cincinnati Enquirer said of the Everest production: "His story and pictures attain the dignity of an epic." This criticism followed Captain Noel's appearance in Cincinnati last Spring. In his films he has caught the spirit of mystic Tibet, one of the strangest countries in all the world.

Fellowship Led By Student Body

Sacred Music Program
Is Given by Band
of T. C. U.

Last Sunday's Fellowship program was sponsored by the student body. The theme of the program was Religion in Campus Life, Yesterday, Today, and Tomorrow. James Dacus, vice president of the student body, presided, assisted by S. W. Hutton, who led congregational singing, and Noel Roberts who read quotations from scripture. Jay Williams was in charge of the offering.

Johannie Lebus spoke on the Religion of Yesterday. He said that in the American colonies were established by religious sects and for religious purposes. We should not be bitter against nor criticize them for what they did in regard to religion, but should profit by their mistakes.

In speaking of Religion of Today, Miss Vera Bell Stephenson said, "Youth of today is pioneering in a spiritual field and daring to face criticism and condemnation to stand up for their own convictions. They are facing world brotherhood more squarely and honestly than they ever did before."

Lewis Copeland gave his views on Religion of Tomorrow. "To me, religion is primarily a practical affair," he stated. He also expressed the opinion that Religion of the future must become intensely intelligent and usable. He said that the religious leader of the future must take on a scientific spirit and an intense regard of the truth.

Following the speakers, Dean L. L. Leftwich led an open discussion. The meeting closed with the benediction by the Rev. A. Preston Gray.

The T. C. U. band, under the direction of Prof. Claude Sammis, presented a sacred concert for the University Religious Fellowship Sunday evening, Jan. 25. Special features were: Two hymns composed by Mr. Sammis, two trumpet solos by Ernest Croft, band mascot, and a violin solo by Albert Luper. Mr. Luper has studied in South America, and Portugal and is now a pupil of Mr. Sammis.

Dr. Waits Speaks in Sherman

President E. M. Waits spoke at the Central Christian Church at Sherman Monday morning. While in that city he was the guest of Judge Jesse F. Holt.

Plans for Opera Begun

Will Be Civic Affair Sponsored
By T. C. U. Chorus Group.

New members are invited to join the University Chorus and to take part in the spring opera which will be given in May, according to Mrs. Helen Fouts Cahoon. Rehearsals are held on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 12 o'clock. Anyone who cannot attend at this time may attend the special rehearsal on Mondays at 4 o'clock.

Plans are on foot for the opera to be given in the new stadium and to have it directed by Charles Wakefield Cadman, one of America's foremost composers. This year the opera will be a civic affair sponsored by the chorus of T. C. U.

University of Texas Plans for Round-up

Great preparation is being made for the second annual Texas Round-Up at the University of Texas.

The dates of the Round-Up have been set for April 17, 18, 19. At this time the campus of the University will be the locale for a genuine "round-up."

Horned Frog Cage Teams Have Participated in Games 23 Years

Texas Christian's first men's basketball team was organized in 1908 at Waco in the latter part of November. A first and second team represented the Purple in the Waco city league. Baylor had two teams, the Y. M. C. A. had three teams, and Waco High School had one team in the league.

"T. C. U. labored under many difficulties as compared with her opponents," says the Horned Frog of 1909. "Baylor always has a good team in basketball, and so has the Waco High School. The Y. M. C. A. makes this a regular sport in its daily routine. For T. C. U. this is the first year she has had a team. Everything was new and the players were green.

Langley Developed Two Teams.

"The old spirit of win out was aroused, and under the coaching of Langley (football coach) two teams were soon developed. No great players were made known, however, for each one had his difficulties to overcome, and no one ever acquired any skill of note in passing the ball or

Commission of Major Given to Noel—Still Clings to Rank of Captain.

The tragic attempt to conquer Mt. Everest, the highest mountain in the world, will be illustrated by Capt. John Noel in his lecture in the University auditorium Thursday night. The visualization is full of dramatic high spots culminating in the disappearance of Mallory and Irvine at a point 800 feet above the clouds.

Is Official Photographer.

Noel, who is a travel illustrator and photographer, has been the official photographer for the last two Mt. Everest expeditions and has played an important part in directing heads of the organization. He is acclaimed to be the greatest living mountain photographer, and his movies a work of art. It has been said that "To hear Noel talk about the dangers of the expedition and the daring of his companions would lead one to think that the captain wasn't there as a participant in all that took place."

A part of Noel's description of the Mt. Everest climate is this: "The feat is even more remarkable when one considers the terrific storms and alternating heat and cold under which the mountain climbers were forced to work in the rarefied atmosphere at the very top of the world. Oxygen tanks were repaired at 2000 feet. The violet rays of the sun burned unmercifully and yet in the shadow of a rock one's foot became frost-bitten within a few minutes."

Noel Is British Major.

Noel is the grandson of the earl of Gainsborough, himself a great traveler, writer and poet. He is a life member of the American Museum of Natural History of New York, fellow and honorist of the Royal Geographical Society of London and honorist of the Royal Photographic Society of London. A commission as major in the British Army was given to Noel, but he still clings to the rank of captain.

Dr. Campbell to Speak Here April 16 on Poe

THE STRUGGLE'S OVER.

"We have met the examinations and—" Each student must complete the statement for himself. The first half of the school year is completed. Each student may look back on his blunders and faults and determine which will be the best road for him to follow during the remainder of the year.

Those who made good grades will have no trouble, provided that they continue to keep up the good work. The others will have to change their tactics or be dropped by the way. Let your grades for last semester determine how hard you shall work. The results of the first struggle should give you an idea on which to base your efforts in the future.

Regardless of how the first semester ended, it is useless to resolve to start studying for the next examinations now. A better remedy would be to start putting in more time on daily work. The knowledge acquired in the regular preparation of daily work would need only a little brushing up for the quizzes.

EXTINCT DINOSAURS.

We have all heard of the extinct dinosaur, but little did we realize that they are as numerous here as they are at most schools. How many organizations do we have at T. C. U. whose only activities are one or perhaps two meetings a year, and whose only publicity is a page in the annual at the end of the year? Many of them rarely have this last feature.

It might be well to mention at this time the successful vote of the proposed amendment to the student body constitution just before exam week. The amendment was adopted by a large majority, but few who voted for it realize that they only enlarged the dinosaur from a tadpole to a monster. As far as is known the old student council has not had a meeting since school opened this year. The new council, composed of thirteen members, should certainly be able to take over the inactivities of the former one, which had only six members.

The Skiff does not blame the council entirely, as the administration of the University usually handles all student affairs itself. However, it is hoped that the extinct dinosaurs at T. C. U. will follow in the footsteps of the prehistoric brothers and finally become extinct.

NO SMOKING.

The "No Smoking" signs were read and understood at the last two cage games in the big gym. The students and town spectators co-operated in the effort to eliminate the smoke. There was a little smoking. When the smokers were reminded of the large black letters—"No Smoking"—on the walls, they readily heeded the request.

Smoking will gradually be eliminated if the students do their part by keeping the building free from cigaret fumes. A few town fans failed to see the new signs until attention was called to them. They co-operated along with the students in not smoking.

No smoking during the basket ball games is not merely a regulation requested by T. C. U., but an important factor in aiding the players to put forth their best efforts. As an aid to the team and as a prevention of fire, students and town fans heeded the plea of the new signs and refrained from smoking.

A BIG WAY.

Fort Worth came through. There is no doubt about that. The support afforded Will Rogers' Red Cross benefit program at the Worth demonstrated conclusively that Fort Worth people are doing things in a bigger and better way every year. When 2300 people contribute a total of $18,350 for drought relief there is only one phrase describes it adequately. It was put over in a big way. The total receipts in Fort Worth were more than twice the amount realized from the performance in any of the other ten Texas cities in which it was presented. The second largest sum was $9120 taken in at Wichita Falls.

These facts are some that Fort Worth might well be proud of. It shows what we have been talking about for years—that nowhere in the Southwest is true charitableness found in such a degree as in Fort Worth.

All Fort Worth is to be congratulated.

PENNY SCALES.

Are the halls of the administration building and the entrance of the library going to be transformed into a penny arcade? For no obvious reason penny scales have been placed in the building on the campus. There is apparently no pride in the appearance of the halls. The walls often resemble a billboard.

There were a sufficient number of scales on the campus without marring the appearance of the halls of the two most prominent buildings on the campus. Students will watch their weight without having to meet with scales after each class. Why can't the halls of T. C. U. be kept neat and clean and free from commercialization?

WHY NOT AN EXTRA HOUR?

During the last two weeks the work increased for the students because of term themes and examinations. Students were making an earnest effort to use their time to the best advantage. It was necessary that the library be used more than usual because of the extra work being done. The increase in the work had no influence on the length of time the library remained open.

The reasons why the library should remain open until 10 o'clock seem obvious. It is difficult to understand why the administration does not offer an explanation or let the library be for the use of the students until 10 o'clock. They show a sincere desire to use the library the extra hour for the special purpose of gaining more knowledge. It seems the administration would gladly co-operate with the students in an effort to produce more studying.

T. C. U. is endeavoring to raise our standard of grading. How can she expect her students to measure up to the best of their ability when they are deprived of a valuable hour of studying in the library each night?

COULTER'S COLUMN

Dear Coulter:
 I have been reading your column the last two weeks and think your love advice is rather passe. However, I wish to ask a question about my love affair and if you give me the right kind of advice I may change my opinion of you. The reason I am asking you is that the condition of my affair is such that nothing can make it any worse, so if your advice proves wrong nothing will be lost.

My boy friend seems to think I go with him just because I have no one else to ask me for dates. As a result he treats me as if he were doing me a favor. When he takes me to a dance, if someone cuts in he leaves me to take care of myself until it is time to leave.

If he takes me to a show, he doesn't care whether I have a good seat or not. Won't you please tell me what I am to do? I like the boy very much and don't want to lose him, but I am getting tired of being made to feel like he's doing me a favor. Sincerely, A. M. H.

My dear girl (every girl is dear—especially around Christmas), I have an idea that you are not the only one who thinks this column rather boogey-boogey (new slang expression.) I must compliment you on being the first to write a letter telling me just what you think of it (oh, that other people were as truthful.)

I also want to congratulate you on writing my first letter on my advice to the love-lorn. If more people would write letters, they would be able to read less and less of the stuff I write (the letters would fill up the column.) Perhaps you did not know that letters were in order—they are. Be sure that you have some very serious question that it makes no difference about how it comes out, for as it has been said before this is merely a lot of space filler.

Now for the letter in question. Your case is one that hundreds of girls have to withstand. One way to overcome the fact that he thinks he is doing you a favor is to pay him no attention at the dance. Once he leaves you to the stage, don't seem to care whether he ever comes back or not. Sometimes there are some real nice fellows who go without girls to a dance. Play up to one of them. Be certain that you can dance well before you try this. Most guys go to a dance by themselves just because they are afraid that they will be stuck with the girl friend. They go by themselves so that they may pick who they will to dance with.

Be certain that you don't go to the boy friend. Let him come to you. He will sooner or later. In your case it seems to be later. Don't cry if he leaves you. Go on and have a good time and when he sees that you are enjoying yourself he'll come back soon enough. Maybe you are the cause of him leaving you. Maybe you have the wrong idea about him doing you a favor. If you don't have any calls from other boys there must be something wrong. But don't worry, sooner than you expect you will be visited by some male who will think you are the queen of the campus. There is a boy for every girl—sometimes too many, and when they meet there won't be any worry left.

You stated that your seat at the theater was not what it should be. The more I think of it the more I believe you expect too much. How do you know that your seat is worse than his? You can't possibly tell, because you have not sat in it. (That is logical to say the least.)

Open Forum

Editor, T. C. U. Skiff,
 This semester closes with a controversy in the columns of your paper over the appearance of the stage during the junior-senior chapel periods. May I offer this suggestion, which I believe will be satisfactory to both parties. When the program consists of speakers only, have the curtain drawn and only the apron of the stage used, as is done when a special lecturer speaks at night.

Dean Venting Speaks At Faculty Meeting

Dean Albert Venting of the Southwestern Baptist Theological Baptist Seminary was the principal speaker at the February faculty meeting held Tuesday evening in Jarvis Hall parlor. Dean Venting spoke on the subject of his recent travels in Europe. Mrs. Raymond Smith and Mrs. Artemisia Bryson were in charge of the refreshments. They were assisted in serving by Misses Lorraine Sherry and Patay McCord.

To the sound of a voice that lures;
 As yet but a thin crescent moon,
 Dawn-shy at the call of the night,
 Reluctant, half-fearing the still
 Strange spell of its own clear light.
 The shadow shall grow, take form,
 Fed from my warm heart's fires;
 The full moon shall luminous hang,
 Intense with midnight's desires;
 When the answer shall swell to a cry,
 Will the smile in my own eyes die?

Mrs. Scott Appointed

Mrs. Fred Scott has been appointed to take over the work in the home economic department. Miss Bonne Enlow left this week for New York where she will finish work on her master's degree at Columbia University.

Miss Naida Northum, a junior, has been called to her home in Nashville, Ark., because of the death of her father.

Arc Welding

Diminishes the Din of Steel Construction to a Whisper

IN Boston—Dallas—Los Angeles—and in other cities, lofty buildings are going up so quietly that the passerby all but stops and strains an ear for the old familiar clangor.

Silently, swiftly, rigidly, economically, arc welding knits steel with joints as strong as the metal itself.

Arc welding is being used more and more in the fabrication of buildings and machinery, the construction of pipe lines and tanks, and as a repair tool of universal utility.

Development of General Electric arc welding has largely been the work of college-trained men. Others of the college men at General Electric are largely responsible for the high reputation won by hundreds of G-E products used in industry and in the home during the last thirty-seven years.

SOCIETY

BY VIRGINIA LOU SAUNDERS

Welcome new students! Both new students and students who have been away from T. C. U. during the fall semester have been enrolling in the University the last week. With the beginning of the new semester when students feel that they have a new lease on life, they also have an opportunity to renew old acquaintance and make new friends.

Many Withdrawals From Jarvis Hall

Jarvis Hall has lost a number of its residents. A number of girls have withdrawn from school for the spring semester, and several have moved out in town.

Those having withdrawn from the university are: Misses Ruth Bagley, Eastland; Ferris Bramblett, Mineral Wells; Ruth Ann Bragg, Amarillo; Dorothy Darby, Eagle Lake; Mosell Elliott, Grand Saline; Laura Bell Hill, Ennis; Ruth Houser, Houston; Wanda Jo Kenton, Gonzales; Kathleen Kidd, Menard; Mary Jean Knight, Eddy; Aubrey Swain, Wimbomboro, and Lurine Rice, Plano.

Misses: Mae Housel, Dade Ross, Lois Dean, and Louise Sarver are living with their parents or relatives in the city. Miss Wilmeda Clutter has moved to Sterling House.

Miss Fallis to Enter T. C. U. Next Fall

Miss Florence Fallis, daughter of Prof. Lew D. Fallis, was salutatorian of the class that was graduated from Central High School at mid term. She received a scholarship from Texas Christian University and is planning to enter next fall.

Six More Weeks Of Winter, Says Marmota Monax

When the little Groundhog, Woodchuck, Marmota Monax—call it what you will—poked his inquisitive nose out of its hole the morning of Feb. 2, he found only cloudy skies and rain drops to greet him. According to the time-worn version, Mr. Groundhog must see his shadow before the sun reaches its zenith. Most of us moderns, however, believe that if the sun shines anytime during the day that winter will prevail for another six weeks.

The sun did shine. From 2:40 o'clock until 2:50 o'clock the sun shone brightly allowing this mischievous little animal to see its likeness upon its doorstep.

At any rate, the Marmota Monax emerged. It is an old Mexican custom, cherished in the countryside and respected by the sophisticates of the pavements who never saw a Marmota Monax in their lives, and never want to.

Whether it did or didn't, the fact remains that its excursion has no scientific significance. The weather bureau reports that it made no groundhog readings. So girls please do not throw up your hands in despair for spring is at hand and you will be able to don your new pastel tinted frocks before long.

however, T. C. U. came back strong, six field goals being made in rapid succession and Knight getting two goals from fouls. Bush and Wade made two goals each and the other three players one each.

Nothing is said about the "Y" team in the second half so it is presumed that the Purple won the game. Waco High Defeats Second Team.

On the same night the second team dropped its game to Waco High School. The scores are not given either in the headline or text of the story, and the loss is mentioned only in the headline.

The yearbook sports editor of 1909 was elated over the fact that only two men would be lost to the next year's team, and that the Frogs showed an excellent chance of coping the flag in the year's race. Green and Knight were the men lost through graduation.

SPORT WAVES

Examinations have passed and so far no institution in the Southwest Conference has been hit as hard in an athletic way as Texas Christian. "Red" Oliver, Warren Connelley, Bob Jordan, Gus Moreland and Dave Boswell were ruled ineligible for athletic competition because of poor grades.

Oliver's loss is the most severe blow that has been received by a Horned Frog track squad in recent years. Oliver, coupled with Leland, Nugent and Houser, would have composed one of the fastest 440-yard relay teams in the nation. He may be lost to the grid team next fall. It will be remembered that Oliver was the man who ran back to opening kickoff against S. M. U. for a touchdown.

Connelley is the other varsity man who is lost due to poor grades. He is Dietzel's understudy for the center post on the varsity cage squad and was a pretty fair forward. "Dutch" Meyer had counted on the lanky Fort Worth boy, for taking a regular turn on the mound for the Christian baseball team this spring.

Bob Jordan and Dave Boswell, both freshmen, will be ineligible to compete against conference foes next year. Boswell is a former North Side player and was an outstanding man on the freshman grid squad. Jordan was an all-around athlete. Both men rated high in the opinion of "Dutch" Meyer as football prospects.

Gus Moreland, sensational golfer, enrolled as a freshman in the University, is another eliminated due to the recent examinations. He recently finished higher than any other Fort Worth golfer in the Texas open tournament at San Antonio. Upon his shoulders, the Frog hopes were placed for another conference championship in golf. Jimmy Wilson was the loop honor in 1927 and it was the first Southwest championship ever to be won by T. C. U.

Texas Christian To Meet Baylor Tomorrow Night

Schmidt to Lead Frog Cagers to Waco for Tilt.

PURPLE HOPES FADING

Christians Fighting to Regain Lost Ground—Team Works on Foul Shots.

When Coach Francis Schmidt and his band of Horned Frog cagers invade the lair of the Baylor Bears tomorrow night, they will be fighting with their backs to the wall endeavoring to regain their early January form and make good their pre-season challenge for the basketball crown of the Southwest. By virtue of their loss to Arkansas and Southern Methodist, the Schmidtmans are faced with the possibility of having to win the remaining games on their schedule in order to finish the season at the head of the percentage column.

Much of the week's practice has been devoted to monotonous labor from the foul line. Weakness in making the gratis shots has cost the Frogs 400 points in the conference percentage column. Coach Schmidt will also fashion new scoring plays, endeavor to smooth the passing by elimination of the wild and reckless throws, and build a defensive to stop the two Bruin scoring aces—Captain Alford, forward, and Strickland, stellar center.

The outcome of the game depends largely on the success of the Christian guards in stopping the Wolfmen's offensive, centered around the midget captain and the towering center. If the Frogs can have the success in this department that the Aggies enjoyed Tuesday night, when the Baylorites were held to four field goals and an equal number of foul shots, they should win by a comfortable margin.

Ad Dietzel and Doc Sumner, the hub of the Frog offensive, will meet spirited competition in goal roping, when they lock horns with Strickland and Alford of the Bears. The quartet is in the thick of the fight for individual scoring honors. At present the Christian center and Reynolds of S. M. U. are tied with 72 points. Sumner, Alford, and Strickland are trailing closely.

In previous games the Frogs have been the better of the argument both from a percentage and scoring standpoint. Both quintets have encountered five opponents. The Frogs have a one-point loss to the Razorbacks and a three-point defeat at the hands of Southern Methodist to mar a 49-38 victory over Rice, a 40-19 triumph over Texas and a 35-26 victory over Arkansas in the initial encounter.

The highlights of the Bears' season have been their dope-upsetting 45-43 defeat of the Longhorns, and the spirited comeback in the second Rice game when they won 53-40, after dropping the first game 23-37. They succumbed to the daring Mustang offensive and lost 50-36, and the height of gloom spread over the Baylor campus following the Tuesday night tilt when their offense was held to 12 points while the Aggie scorers clicked and amassed 31 tallies.

Although Coach Schmidt may see fit to make a change or two in the starting line-up, more than likely Sumner and Roberson will start at forwards, with Captain Atkins and Green at the guard posts, and Dietzel at the tip-off position.

Frogs Win One Of Last Three Southwest Tilts

Porker Contests Rough and Fast—Split Twin Bill.

PURPLE LOSES TO PONIES

Sumner Is Outstanding Schmidt Performer—Dietzel Stopped in Both Tilts.

Coach Schmidt's Horned Frog cagers have thrice met Southwest Conference foes and twice have met defeat during play of the past two weeks. The Purple met the Arkansas Razorbacks on the T. C. U. floor on Jan. 23 and 24, and won the first contest 35 to 26, only to drop the second game by a 30-to-29 score. The Schmidtmans journeyed to Dallas on last Monday night and were denied victory at the hands of the Mustangs by a three-point margin. The final score was 36 to 33.

Frogs and Porkers Split Game. Both of the Arkansas games were fast and rough, several of the Porker players being removed from the game because of fouls. Ad Dietzel was the shining light of the Frog offense in the opening game. He collected 20 points during the melee. The Bassettmen lead the Frogs at the half by a 18-to-12 margin. Murphy and Pickmen led the Porkers at tack.

In the second clash with the Crimson Porkers, the Christians led the way until the final minutes of the game. At the half the Frogs had a eight minutes to play, the Frogs still held a lead. John Jelks, a substitute forward, spelled the Frog's downfall when he dropped eight points through the meshes after he entered the game with only six minutes to play.

The Frogs made only 7 points on foul shots and had an opportunity to make 23 tallies via this route. Ponies Nose Out Schmidtmans. Monday night's game with the Southern Methodist quintet in Dallas was practically a repetition of the final game with the Razorbacks. Again Sumner was the outstanding Christian, making 13 points.
