ELOISE BARKSDALE

Miss Barksdale was crowned "Miss B. B. A." last night by Miss Nell Muse, former "Miss B. B. A." at Anna Shelton Hall, the Woman's Club. She was crowned the queen before a crowd of about 150. Miss Barksdale is a sophomore candidate for the beauty section of the annual, was T. C. U.'s queen at the Intercollegiate Circus in Dallas last year, and was a candidate for band sweetheart this year.

Jim Gaddy Norris acted as toastmaster and was assisted by J. Porter Evans. The banquet began with toasts to T. C. U., the B. B. A. department, and Miss B. B. A. Mr. (Continued on Page 2)

Polliwogs Featured In Benefit Tonight

Terrill Prep to Play Freshmen and Proceeds Go to Radio for Clark Hall.

"Dutch" Meyer's Polliwogs will stage a benefit game tonight at 7:30 o'clock with the Terrill Prep aggregation of Dallas. The charges for the game will be 25 cents, with all proceeds going to help buy a radio for Clark Hall.

The Polliwogs have not lost a game to any school team, while the Prep team has lost only one, that to the Wogs in Dallas recently.

Against the Prep aggregation, Walker, fresh forward, amassed a total of 16 points in a closely fought game to give his team a victory. Benny Tompkins, all-American selection from the Athens High Hornets last year, is playing for the Prep team.

Double Victory Won in Debates

Hicks, Martin, Isley and Fykes Are Victors In Triangle.

The Texas Christian debaters opened their season last Friday night by winning both ends of a triangular debate with Southwestern and Trinity Universities. Marion Hicks and Paul Martin on the negative won decisions of all three judges at Trinity in Waxahachie, while Fred Isley and E. D. Fyke on the affirmative won a 2-to-1 decision from Southwestern at home. Both debates were on the question, "Resolved, that the nations should adopt a policy of free trade," which is the Phi Kappa Delta question for the 1931 season and will run the whole year.

This is the first time T. C. U. has won both of their triangle engagements since 1926, when Fred Erisman, Lloyd Armstrong, Henry Sheppard and Lester Boone were debating for the Frogs. In that year nine debates were scheduled for the season and T. C. U. won all of them. The triangle with Trinity and Southwestern is twenty-seven years old. It was started in 1903-04 with the third Friday in February established as an annual date for the contests. Three debates are to be held each year in which each school participating will have one negative and one affirmative team. The twenty-five year contract ran out in 1929 but was renewed for another twenty-five year term.

In the triangle meet last year, the T. C. U. team of John Scott and Homer Peoples won from Trinity in Fort Worth, while Martin and Hicks lost to Southwestern at Georgetown. Joseph B. Cowan served as chairman in the debate held in Fort Worth this year. The judges were George Oliver Taylor, Cato Sells and John Reagan.

"Under Six Flags" to Be Presented by Club

The Bryson club will present a program, "Under Six Flags," for the Religious Fellowship Sunday night. Those who will take part in the pageant are: Misses Jane Jarvis, Marie Roberts, Mary Adams, Marian Smith, Frances Anderson, Frances Veale, Virginia Bryson, and Elmer Staude, Harmon Hodges, Sterling Brown, Bill Joekel, Elbert Lavender, A. D. Weatherly, and Jimmie Miller.

"So Small" and "Too Tall"

The "long and the short" of T. C. U. is shown in the accompanying picture in the personages of the well known "Too Tall" Adolph Dietzel and Miss Gertrude Wiedeman.

Dietzel has won much renown in his basketball exploits, but Miss Wiedeman is practically a newcomer in the "hall of fame" of the University. She is "about four feet tall" as she expresses it, but in reality this is a slight exaggeration since there is considerable amount of space between the top of her head and the four-foot mark.

Miss Wiedeman is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Wiedeman of Hufsmith, Tex. She is living with her uncle and aunt, Dr. and Mrs. B. A. Wiedeman, 3316 West Berry Street.

Miss Wiedeman is 17 years old and is a freshman in T. C. U. She entered grammar school when 7 years old, skipped an entire grade, and finished high school in three years.

Etchings of Macbeth Gallery Exhibited

Pictures Range in Price From $12-$200—One Woman Represented.

Etchings by contemporary American artists from the Macbeth Art Gallery in New York are being exhibited in the art studio in the main building. The exhibition is to continue through February.

The pictures range in price from $12 to $200. The highest priced etching in this group is "The River Sanctuary," by Earnest Haskell, who died recently.

In this exhibition there are a few lithographs and aquatints. A lithograph differs from an ordinary etching in that it is done on stone with a wax; and an aquatint differs in that a powder is used in the place of an acid, giving the picture a slight resemblance to a water coloring.

Some of the best artists whose pictures are in this exhibition are Joseph Pennell, Arthur B. Davis, Gifford Beal, Child Hassam, Earnest Roth, Alfred Hutty, and Marjorie Ryerson. Child Hassam has five paintings represented in this group which is more than any other one artist has. Marjorie Ryerson is the only woman in the group.

Baylor to Have Debate Tournament April 3

A debate tournament will be held in Baylor University at Waco April 3 and 4 with representatives from all colleges and universities of Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana, and the Province of Lower Mississippi.

The debate team will hold contests with the University of Missouri, Florida, Loyola, Southwestern Centenary College, and St. Edwards during the spring term.

March 6 Is Date Of Dramatic Play

"Her Husband's Wife" Will Not Conflict With Carnival.

The date for the Dramatic Club play, "Her Husband's Wife," has been changed to March 6, it was announced yesterday by Miss Katherine Moore, director of the play. The reason for the change was the conflict with the "T" Association carnival date.

The play is a three-act comedy by A. E. Thomas. The plot concerns a young woman who imagines that she is ill all of the time. She finally decides that she is going to die and chooses another woman to take her place in the household of her husband. The woman that the hypochondriac chooses for her husband's wife is so attractive that it brings about a change in her thoughts.

The comedy situations arise when the man's wife tries to get rid of the attractive young woman after asking her to take the place.

The lead in the play will be taken by Miss Lamar Griffing who will take the part of Irene Randolph, the hypochondriac. Others in the cast are Bob Gray, James Dacus, William Anderson, Miss Sheila Grace Whitener and Miss Opal Gooden.

Two rehearsals are being held daily by Miss Moore. Dress rehearsals will begin next Wednesday and final dress rehearsals will be given Thursday, the night before the play.

Texas Declared Independent 95 Years Ago at Meeting on Brazos

Ninety-five years ago, on March 2, 1836, a band of 58 men met at the frontier town of Washington on the Brazos River and declared Texas independent of Mexico.

The Declaration of Independence was made by these 58 delegates of the people of Texas in a general convention which later framed the constitution for the Republic of Texas.

The declaration was reported and read before the group by George C. Childress of Milam. It was received by the house, committed to a committee of the whole, reported without amendment, and unanimously adopted in less than one hour from its first and only reading. It underwent no discipline and no attempt was made to amend it. The only speech made upon it was a declamatory address in the committee of the whole by General Sam Houston.

There is a tradition that Childress wrote, phrased and penned the Declaration of Independence himself. This is somewhat founded on a family tradition according to Mrs. Cone Johnson of Tyler, whose father, Colonel Elijah Sterling Clark Robertson, was a cousin of Childress.

The convention town, Washington, was nothing more than a mere village, having only about a hundred inhabitants. There was no printing press nor library, except for books brought in by the delegates. The conditions under which the members were compelled to work would have discouraged men who were not vitally interested in life and accustomed to the hardships of the frontier.

The house used as a meeting place was a wooden structure without doors or windows. Cotton cloth in place of glass was used to keep out the cold wind. On the day that independence was declared a northerly wind was blowing and the temperature was thirty-three degrees above zero. A long, rough table and chairs furnished the bare room. But the lack of accommodations was one of the least of the difficulties faced by the assembly. The greatest fear was that of the Mexican advances and an uneasiness for the safety of the Texas forces.

VAN ORDEN NEW MANAGER

Edwin Van Orden, a freshman in the University, this week took over the duties of business manager of The Skiff, replacing Samuel Frankrich, who has served in that capacity since September, 1929.

Frankrich will spend the remainder of the spring writing his thesis for his Master of Arts degree, which he is to receive in June. Van Orden is a graduate of Marshall High School but resides in Fort Worth.

DEAN SADIE BECKHAM.

Dean Sadie Beckham, who has been absent from Jarvis Hall since the Christmas holidays, has returned to the dormitory to resume her duties as dean of women.

The position which Mrs. Beckham fills carries with it privileges a vast number of responsibilities, both in and out of Jarvis Hall. She has the responsibility of directing and advising the girls of the dormitories, as well as the town girls. She is mother to the freshman girls when they first come to the dormitory and counselor to the upperclassman girls.

The love and respect for Mrs. Beckham that has come from the girls she has been in contact with in her thirteen years as supervisor of women in T. C. U. is a fitting tribute to her ability and judgment as dean of women. In being ready and willing to advise the girls who seek her council, she has built up for herself the admiration of all the girls who have been in contact with her during her years of service.

WAITING FOR THE SHOW.

The "T" Association carnival to be given to raise funds which are to be used for the entertainment of high school athletes (who will be guests of that organization during the Stock Show) will be looked forward to with much interest.

Old students remember the success of the 1930 show by this association, and, with promise of better entertainment, all eyes and ears are waiting further announcements concerning this show.

T. C. U. is known for her friendliness, co-operation, and fairness in all things, and the sooner this is impressed upon the minds of the high school athletes, the greater will be the benefits the University will receive.

Show your willingness to help the "T" Association bring bigger and better athletes to T. C. U.

Go to the "T" Carnival on March 5.

ATHLETIC RETRENCHMENT.

On the heels of Oklahoma's curtailment of athletics in O. U. and other schools of that state comes the announcement by Senator Grady Woodruff of our own legislature that he intends to bring about restriction of athletics in state supported schools of Texas. The senator intends to bring this about by means of the introduction of a resolution which will be a warning to the schools to restrict intercollegiate athletics.

Then, according to Senator Woodruff, if the schools fail to observe the warning, bills will probably be introduced in the legislature. The senator bases his convictions on the fact that in his opinion intercollegiate athletics cause many students to miss classes on both Fridays and Saturdays; and each day a student misses school it costs the state more than $4.

The senator's convictions would certainly not hold true in this institution, and the chances are fairly good that the same is true at the state supported schools. Even if the senator were correct, the resulting financial loss from curtailment of intercollegiate athletics would work a serious hardship on the entire physical training department and consequently on the state. Intercollegiate athletics are necessary and beneficial. This has been proved time and again.

And anyway, if the bill is introduced in the legislature, it is certain there are enough football fans in that body to defeat the measure.

INDIANA'S FIELDHOUSE ETIQUETTE.

Texas Christian is not the only university that has had to cope with the problem of curbing smoking during basketball games. Although the situation here has been handled skillfully and efficiently, much to the commendation of both students and townsmen who have heeded the "no smoking" rule, other universities are having more trouble.

Officials at the University of Indiana have been trying to solve the problem since the Big Ten season opened weeks ago. Numerous editorials have appeared in The Indiana Student, their daily paper, in an attempt to appeal to offenders. Apparently they are finding students and townsmen lacking in the spirit of co-operation so evident in our own University fieldhouse.

At Indiana the situation has reached the point whereby about 45 members of the I-Men's Association have pledged themselves to co-operate with officials in enforcing the "no smoking" rule during basketball games. These athletes will police the bleachers with the privilege of "bouncing" any spectator who refuses to observe the rule.

Methods such as that are usually embarrassing. We are fortunate in having a student body which requires no such driving in order to secure observance of rules. Tomorrow night the Baylor Bears will find that Texas Christian's fieldhouse etiquette is above par.

WHY GIRLS GO TO COLLEGE.

In the Dallas Times-Herald an estimate was given of the number of girls who married that attended Southern Methodist University. Girls do not go to college to get married any more than boys. If the girls go to college to catch a man, the boys evidently go to get caught.

One of the criticisms offered for girls going to college is that it lessens the desire for girls to marry because of their ability to be independent. The modern girl is ever pictured as trying to dodge responsibility, but to marry is to have responsibility. There are many girls who attend college in order to make themselves independent and to fit themselves to do something worthwhile after they leave college.

If in the course of a girl's college life she falls in love and marries, she has not necessarily entered the gates of her alma mater with the one purpose of "bagging the game." People are not any different in this twentieth century than they always have been. At the age of college students the question of marriage is predominant whether the person is in college or out. It is the age at which most people marry.

Broken Star To Chelito
 I was making a bright crown
 Of stars for your hair;
 I was placing one by one
 Carefully there.

Then a star slipped from my hand—
 And now, seeing your pain,
 And that I can never play
 With stars again.

Regret.
 This smile
 That twists my lips
 At your smile,
 And sends
 This breath
 That cuts my heart
 And films my eyes;
 This sob
 That begs for death,
 Begs to forget,
 Yet never dies;
 This end
 That never ends—
 This is regret.

 Words—words—
 Give of these to me;
 These are my own;
 These are mine utterly.

Dear—dear—
 You will be gone
 Some night at ten o'clock—
 Some day at dawn.

West Texas at My Window Still.
 (From a window in Clark Hall)
 No line may mark, or man decide
 Where cactus plants or rattlers coil,
 And mesquite trees of western pride
 Lay claim o'er Texas soil.

But I know each day at eventide,
 As sunset glow lines each low hill
 With shadow covers deep and wide,
 West Texas is at my window still.

And as my mind brings to distant hills
 Lowing herds milling down to rest,
 A cowboy with a song rides the sunset sky—
 The spirit of the West!

Open Forum

Editor, The Skiff,
 The question of scenery for plays at T. C. U. is a serious problem and one that cannot be allowed to lag any longer. All the scenery that we possess here includes the stage drapes and pieces of two interior sets. The spring calendar has listed several dramatic productions as well as the numerous plays and skits given by the Religious Fellowship. But a play without the proper setting loses half its charm.

At a meeting of the Dramatic Club February 19th it was voted that the club would cooperate financially with other organizations and the University to secure the materials for building several stage sets. The club is also prepared to make technical suggestions and give other helps through its special committee composed of Bob Gray, Anna Beth Baker, and Miss Katherine Moore.

But this problem is not just for the Dramatic Club. It is a disgrace to an institution of this size that the facilities are so poor. The University should be vitally interested and cooperate by providing at least the labor for building the sets. The various classes and the Religious Fellowship should also share the expense.

Good plays are given at T. C. U. but we ought not to have to borrow our scenery from downtown theatres. Let's see more scenery.
 Opal Gooden,
 President Dramatic Club.

Students' Matinee at 'June Moon' Saturday
 Laurence Coulter Has Part of Village Lyric Writer Who Goes to City.

"June Moon," a full length comedy by Ring Lardner and George S. Kaufman, will be given tomorrow afternoon at a students' matinee at the Little Theater. The play began a ten days' run last Monday and will close next Wednesday.

Laurence Coulter takes the lead in the part of a small town lyric writer who goes to the big city to make good. The play was a Broadway hit last season and was acclaimed by critics as one of the ten best plays of the year.

Misses Clyde and Winnie Roberson, graduates of the University, also take major parts in the production. Donald A. Loyd and Reginald C. Martin are two former students who appear in the play.

Gough Contest To Be March 4 In Auditorium
 Oratorical Meet Will Be Sponsored by Pi Kappa Delta.

$25 WILL BE AWARDED

Fyke, Hughes, Sprinkle, Martin and Isley Will Speak on "The Constitution."

Already in its sixteenth year of active service to students of T. C. U. the annual Gough Oratorical Contest will be held in the University auditorium Wednesday, March 4, at 8 p.m. The contest is conducted each year under the auspices of the Pi Kappa Delta fraternity of T.C.U. in association with Dr. R. H. Gough of Fort Worth, who offers an award of $25 in gold and a $25 medal to the winner of first place. A second prize is being given this year by the public speaking department.

Judges Selected for Contest
 Three judges are selected for each contest year by Dr. Gough. He has announced the judges for this year's contest as being Roy Tomlinson, Walter A. Nelson and Cecil Morgan, all of Fort Worth. All contestants are required to appear in evening attire. Speeches must be between 10 and 12 minutes in length and must be original. They may be upon any subject. However, if the winner of first place has not spoken upon "The Constitution," he will be ineligible to represent the school in the State Oratorical Contest. The best speaker whose oration is upon the constitution will be selected to represent the school.

During the past three years Stewart Hellman won first place in the Gough contest, but since the Gough awards can only go to the same person for two successive years, last year's prizes went to Hugh Buck, who took second place. This did not exclude Hellman from representing T.C.U. in the state contest in which he won first place last year at Baylor University. He placed seventh in the national contest in Wichita, Kan.

Freshmen to Seek Recognition
 As Hellman and Buck both were graduated last year, the contest this year will be an open "free for all." Sterling Brown will be the only veteran contestant aspiring on this year's program. A number of newcomers will be seeking recognition this year. Among those who intend to enter are E. D. Fyke, Frank Hughes, J. W. Sprinkle, Paul Martin, Fred Isley, Sterling Brown, L. D. Herbert, Clyde Yarbrough.

Before 1911, Dr. Gough gave a loving cup as a trophy to the literary society whose contestant in an annual contest won first place. This was finally won by the Shirley Society. Since that time individual prizes have been given. Dr. Gough has also declared that a $10 prize will be offered this year to the winner of the girls' oratorical contest.

money in order to support a wife? How many boys attend college who otherwise would not go if it were not to make themselves worthy of the girls they love? The majority of the boys go for this reason. Why should the girls get all the blame?

Girls who enter college have a desire to learn and make better citizens. Girls do not have to attend college to find husbands. One of the easiest things a girl can do is get married.

If a girl does attend college to catch a husband, she is entering one of the most worthy occupations, that of being a homemaker. If there are some that are studying college courses to get married, they are to be commended for entering the most important and sacred institution in the world. It is distressing that the modern girl does not seem to be attending college to get married but to make herself independent in order not to marry for several years.

Polliwogs Win From Showmen

Allison Leads With 11 Points in 34-to-24 Victory.

Coach Dutch Meyer's Polliwogs went a notch nearer a tie for the major city league championship Tuesday night by defeating the Tivoli Theater quint 34 to 24. The Wogs can tie the T. P. Coal & Oil aggregation for the title by defeating Springtown in a game that was postponed during the Christmas holidays. The Oilers defeated Springtown 59 to 29 in the second game of the evening.

The Wogs gained a one point lead over the Theater quint when Perkins sank a charity shot, but the lead did not last long. Millican made a field goal for the Showmen. And Crane sank another, then Lane came back and made one after cashing in on two charity shots to put his team in the lead 8 to 1. Allison replaced Kinzy for the Wogs, and things began to happen. Allison and Walker brought the Showmen's lead down to a one-point margin, and after Hunter sank a free throw the Wogs overtook the Showmen and led them seven points at the half.

In the second half the game was fought on even terms but in the third quarter the Showmen rallied and brought the Polliwog lead down to three points. Allison went out of the game via the foul route, and was replaced by Kinzy. The tall boy sank two field goals in the early part of the fourth quarter that virtually cinched the contest for the Wogs.

Allison, Wog substitute center, was high point man of the contest with 11 points to his credit.

N.T.S.T.C. Team To Debate Here

John Davis and Frank Hughes will take the affirmative in a debate with North Texas State Teachers' College of Denton on the question, Resolved, that the nations should adopt a policy of free trade. The discussion will take place in the T. C. U. auditorium tonight at 8 o'clock. Hughes was one of the members to make the trip to the regional meet in Kansas in December. Davis will be appearing in his first inter-collegiate debate.

Last year, the T. C. U. team of John Scott and Homer Peoples drove to Denton where it won by a 2-to-1 decision. Intercollegiate debate relations have long been established between the two schools. Both are members of Pi Kappa Delta, national debate, oratorical and extempore speaking fraternity. In the national meet of the fraternity, held in Wichita, Kan., the Denton Normal team went into the semi-final rounds, while the Christians were eliminated in the preliminaries.

Aggies Are Downed by 30-26 Score During Uphill Battle.

SUMNER IS OUTSTANDING "Too Tall" Makes 31 and "Doc" Loops 30 Points During Two-Game Series.

Sumner, Dietzel and Company remained in the thick of the Southwest Conference basketball race this week by downing the Texas Aggies 30 to 26 Tuesday night at College Station and the Rice Owls by a 49-to-29 score at Houston on Wednesday night.

Dietzel, the lanky San Antonio Dutchman, made 31 points against "Doc" Sumner's 30 on the South Texas trip. Sumner came within two points of the conference record in scoring at Houston when he rang up 24 tallies. The record is held jointly by Wear Schoonover, former Arkansas player, and Ad Dietzel, TCU's candidate for all-conference center.

DIETZEL

It was the Aggies failure to convert free shots that spelled their downfall in the College Station game. Each team scored 11 field goals and each had 10 chances to make foul shots. The Reidmen were able to sink only four while the charges of Coach Schmidt dropped eight through the meshes. Capt. Shiro Hoke, Aggie pivot man, was high point man with 17 points, nosing out Dietzel by one point. The half ended in favor of Texas Christian with the score 13 to 12. Although the count was twice tied during the second half, the Aggies never gained the lead.

The Bayou City game gave the Purple a scare throughout the first period and especially in the first 10 minutes of play. The Blue Owls enjoyed a 20-to-9 lead at the 10-minute period and a 21-to-20 advantage at the close of the first half.

"All Stars" Will Play

Jacksboro Team to Compete in Basketball Game.

A change in the headliner for the "T" Association Carnival to be given at the big gym Thursday night will give the patrons a basketball game between the Jacksboro "all-stars" and the championship senior team of the intramural league. Mike Brumbelow will captain the Jacksboro quint and will bring a squad of veterans to play the seniors. Brumbelow boasts of a former Denton star, Huland Martin, brother of Othol Martin, and a number of Jacksboro High School stars in his lineup.

Although complete arrangements have not been made, Cy Leland, president of the association, has been assured of several good boxing bouts by downtown talent and some musical features from radio station KFJZ.

Frog Cagers Get First Radiogram While at A. & M.

During their recent road trip the Frog basketekers received many telegrams from admirers throughout the Southwest. But last Tuesday, while at College Station, awaiting their game with the Aggies, the Frogs received their first radiogram.

Elbert Haling, university student and owner of radio station W5HY, contracted the A. & M. radio station Tuesday evening and sent the Frogs the following message: "All of the gang back home are watching you tonight and wishing you good luck." William Evans, operator of W5AQY, the A. & M. radio station, told Haling to wait 30 minutes while he "looked up the T. C. U. gang."

Exactly half an hour later, Haling answered the call of the Aggie station and received the following reply to his message: "The team and coach send thanks for the message. We will be in there fighting."

Christians Meet Waco Bears Here Tomorrow Night

Alford, Strickland and Mates Primed for Frog Game.

PURPLE IN GREAT FORM T.C.U. Has Won 10 of 14 Games From Bruin Crew in Con- ference Frogs.

Tomorrow night the Texas Christian cagers will meet the Baylor quintet on the Frog field house floor at 8 o'clock in the fifteenth game since the Frogs were admitted to the conference in 1924. The two teams met several times before 1924 but the available records give accounts of only three. The Purple has scored 438 points and won 10 games in the conference contests while the Golden Bears were winning four and scoring 312 points.

Both teams are in splendid shape and Coach Wolf will bring his Golden Bears to Fort Worth in an effort to keep the highly-touted Purple warriors from annexing a conference championship. Alford and Strickland, the Baylor hot-shots, with the aid of Witcher and others managed to down the Mustangs this week and will set for the Frogs. Schmidt announces that all of his men are in tip-top form for the affair.

The first game this year was played on the Baylor court and the Frogs won 38 to 22. Last year the two teams split the series, the Frogs taking the first by a 33-to-22 score and the Baylor squad won the second 34 to 20.

In 1929 both games were annexed by the Frogs with impressive scores which were 38 to 21 and 53 to 24. Baylor won the first game in 1928 by a 28-to-27 margin and dropped the second 44 to 17. The second game of the 1927 series was cancelled, the Frogs winning the first 31 to 24.

Both of the 1926 games were copied by the Baylor squad. The scores were 24 to 27 and 21 to 14. The Frogs won both 1925 games, the final outcomes being 29 to 28 and 32 to 17. Again in 1924, the Frogs put the power to the Baylor quint and won both games by 33-to-19 and 29-to-21 counts.

Before entering the conference, the two teams tangled on several occasions but the available records give accounts of only three.

A game was called off in 1919 because of rain at Waco. The Purple annexed the 1918 game 36 to 30 and dropped a game in 1916 by a 41-to-27 score. In 1915 the only game played was won by the Christians, the final score being 27 to 14.

James O'Brien spent the week-end at his home in Olney.

Dave Boswell is now in Los Angeles, Cal., visiting with his cousin.

SPORT WAVES

By JACK BELZNER

Grover "Ox" Emerson, captain-elect of the Longhorn football team has been ruled ineligible for competition next year by the S. W. Conference and has recently had the Texas officials' permission to plead his case before the league moguls at their next meeting. The conference record, the Waco papers and the Austin papers all show that Emerson entered the 1928 Texas-Baylor game as a sub. It seems that this would be enough to prove that he is ineligible although he has statements from some of the participants to the reverse.

Emerson is a great football man and would be a colorful star in next year's conference race. But why should he be reinstated when such stars as Howard Grubbs and Phil Handler were forced to withdraw from competition because they had played less than seven minutes in their first year of eligibility? And the time played by the Frog stars was not in a conference game. We would all be glad to see the Texas powerhouse back in action but he doesn't deserve any favor.

"Bud" Eury, last year's cage captain, shined for the T. & P. Oilers in their major city game against the Springtown team. He made 23 points and assisted his teammates in scoring several more. The big fellow turned in a great game in the guarding department. His team is leading the league at present and has completed its schedule.

The Mustangs of S. M. U. entertain the Arkansas Porkers at Dallas tonight and tomorrow night. To date no team has been able to down the Crimson Porkers on successive nights and Schmidt can be assured that plenty of Frog supporters will be on hand tonight to stimulate the Hogs in their scoring.

At the same time, one must think of the poor attitude taken by some of the Arkansas players. Tom Murphy, the flashy Red and White forward, hit Kierky in the kidney with his fist in one of the Baylor-Arkansas games two weeks ago. Incidentally Earl Taylor was knocked out by the same man when the Steers played Arkansas. Those who recall the Frog-Hog games will recall that Dietzel, Sumner and Company took some hard falls that do not come by merely walking down the floor. They had some incentive, or maybe a help, to take swan dives, etc., on a hardwood floor. "Dutch" Meyer, who officiated at the games said, "They'd better take a good look at me, because I'm never coming back to this place." Newspaper accounts state that the crowds showed poor sportsmanship toward the visiting players and referees.
