Extra Holiday Granted Instead of Class Rush Day

T. C. U. to Debate New Orleans and St. Louis Schools

Loyola and Washington
Universities Will Meet Teams.

SEASON TO END APRIL 13
Discussions to Be Held Here
on Free Trade Question
April 10, 13.

Two outstanding engagements in the week following the Easter holidays will terminate the inter-collegiate debate season for T. C. U. Washington University of St. Louis, will meet the Texas Christian debaters Friday, April 10, while Loyola University of New Orleans is scheduled for an engagement Monday, April 13. T. C. U. will have the affirmative in both debates but the teams which will meet the visitors have not yet been selected. Both discussions will be held here in the University auditorium, and will be on the free trade question.

Debate to Be Held in Chapel
Arrangements are being made for holding the debate with Washington University. Since the debate is on Friday, it will be held at 10 a. m. before the junior-senior chapel group, and the winning team will be determined by an audience decision. The Washington University debaters are making a one-week tour of several southern states, including in their itinerary engagements with Oklahoma Baptist University, University of Oklahoma, and Southern Methodist University.

The Washington team is composed of Myron Schwartz and Edwin Grossman. Schwartz is a junior who has participated in inter-collegiate debates for three years. Grossman is a senior, has been a member of the varsity debate squad for two years, and is editor of Student Life, the undergraduate newspaper of the school. Both are members of Sigma Alpha Mu social fraternity.

Loyola University Tours Texas
Loyola University has not yet signified who will be the members who compose their team. However, their team is making a tour through Texas and Louisiana, and will meet Baylor and S. M. U. before coming to Fort Worth. The debate will be given at 8 p. m. in the University auditorium. Judges and officials have not yet been chosen.

State Museum to Be Constructed in Austin

A $300,000 State Museum which is to be located on or near the University of Texas campus is now being planned.

The museum will be open to the people of Texas, and especially to the school children.

At present a bill is being introduced in the Senate, proposing that the museum shall be ready by September, 1932.

PRE-JUNIOR TESTS.

Pre-junior tests will be held the last week in April, according to an announcement from Dean Hall's office late yesterday afternoon. The exact dates will include April 27 to May 2.

All juniors and sophomores who are not familiar with subjects required on the pre-junior tests should see Dean Hall or E. R. Tucker, registrar, within the next two weeks. Arrangements for the giving of the exams has not been completed, but rooms and the time for each subject will be announced later.

Those who have never inquired about the examinations taken last fall should do so immediately since this is the last chance to take the tests this school year.

Group to Give Drama

Religious Fellowship to Have Evangelistic Service.

An evangelistic service sponsored by the University-Christian Church will take place at the regular time of the University Religious Fellowship service Sunday night. The Rev. A. Preston Gray will be the speaker. His subject will be "The Name, Jesus."

S. W. Hutton will sing a solo, "The Voice Triumphant." The anthem, "The Radiant Morn Hath Passed Away," will also be featured on the program.

The Dramatic Club will give a religious drama in one act entitled "And He Came Unto His Father" for the Fellowship program Sunday, April 12.

Debating Teams Are Announced

Isely, Fyke, Martin and Hicks Are T. C. U.
Representatives.

Frederick Isely, E. D. Fyke, Paul Martin and Marion Hicks have been selected as the members of the two teams which will represent the T. C. U. chapter at the regional Pi Kappa Delta meet to be held at Baylor University April 3 and 4, according to an announcement by Prof. Lew D. Fallis. Martin will also participate in the oratorical contest, while Hicks and Isely are preparing to enter in extempore speaking.

The meet will begin at 10 a. m. Friday in chapel when the first round of debates will take place, and will continue until the finals in oratory, extempore, and debate Saturday at 4 p. m.

A banquet given by the Waco civic clubs has been scheduled for Friday evening, at which occasion ex-governor Pat Neff will be the principal speaker. The awarding of trophies and prizes will take place at 5:30 p. m. Saturday. Other social entertainment has been planned by the executives of the meet at Waco, including a tour of the city and visit to Lake Waco on Saturday afternoon.

Business Law Class Receives Cream Treat

Prof. J. W. Ballard's class in Business Law was favored Tuesday by the Dairyland Products Co., with samples of a new ice cream confection. Nut Rolls, a cylinder of ice cream covered with chocolate and nuts, were distributed to the class. Dairyland wanted T. C. U. students to try out the new dainty and chose the B. Law class on which to make the tasty experiment. J. J. Shackelford, father of Malcolm Shackelford who is a member of the class, is inventor of the Nut Roll.

Bunnies, Chickens, Eggs and Lilies Are Symbols of Mythical Easter

Easter bunnies, Easter chickens, Easter eggs and Easter lilies—all are symbols which have been used in the celebration of Easter for years and years.

Among the legends that are told, particularly to the little folks, is the one about the eggs being the gift of the bunnies. In this age of realists, even the little live bunnies are getting to be as popular as the eggs at Easter-time.

The practice of the use of eggs with the Easter season started in Germany in the eighteenth century. The eggs are symbolic of creation or re-creation of springs, and the little Easter chickens which are hatched are symbols of awakening.

The real celebration of Easter is the anniversary of our Lord's resurrection, when he arose from the dead as predicted after His

Play Cast Is Selected

Final Parts in One-act Contest
Comedy Are Chosen.

The final cast for "Mr. Sampson," a one-act English comedy by Charles Lee, which will be presented by the Dramatic Club in the state intercollegiate tournament at Baylor University in Waco April 11, has been selected.

Clyde Yarbrough will play the part of Mr. Sampson, Miss Opal Gooden will be seen as Catherine Stevens and Caroline Stevens will be portrayed by Miss Mary Strong. Miss Katherine Moore will direct the play. Last year at Trinity University, T. C. U. won first place in the tournament with "The Sponge."

"Going My Way" And How—Says Sport Columnist

Jack Belzner, genial sport expert for The Skiff, has a mania for hitch-hiking. Not long ago he went to Houston with just enough funds to send a postal card back to his T. C. U. friends saying that he "had arrived." But last Sunday, Jack took to the air in a big way and herein lies the tale.

"I was just walking down Main Street with my hands in my pockets—and that's about all too," he added. "when a man asked me if I was going his way. I didn't know which way he was going, but I didn't have a class until Monday, so I hopped in."

Arriving at the airport (the man's destination), Jack took to examining the airplanes. He was interrupted in his examination of one of them by a man in a flying helmet, who said something to the effect of, "Going my way?"

They went, and ten minutes later, the aviator and his guest were flying in wide circles toward Wichita Falls, Decatur and several other towns were flown over merely for sight seeing purposes. The air was bumpy and our hero leaned over the side, saw the rapidly disappearing suburbs of Fort Worth, and wondered if he would ever hitch-hike again by the automobile route. They flew into a cloud bank and emerged slightly wet just over Wichita Falls.

About two hours after leaving Fort Worth and T. C. U. the plane set itself down on home soil again and Jack climbed out.

When the Monday 8 o'clock bell rang Jack was still flying mentally. "No more collegiate Fords for me," he declared.

Class Gives Program

Sunday School Members Visit
Eastern Star Home.

A program of musical numbers was presented by the Co-ed Class of the University Christian Church at the Eastern Star Home in Arlington Sunday afternoon. Mrs. E. R. Tucker is the teacher of the class.

The program consisted of the following numbers: Piano solo, Dan Packard; quartet, B. S. Howard, Gordon Musgrove and Misses Eva Keeling and Cornelia Kilpatrick; violin solo, Miss Louise Briscoe, accompanied by Miss Kathleen Wiseley; vocal duet, Misses Eva Keeling and Cornelia Kilpatrick; piano solo, Miss Launa Fretwell; and reading, Mrs. E. R. Tucker.

Bruce Storey of Dallas visited Miss Velma Smith Sunday.

Schmidt to New York

Coach to Go to National Board of Rules Meeting.

Coach Francis A. Schmidt, representative from the sixth district of colleges in the United States, will leave Tuesday for New York where he will attend the annual meeting of the National Board of Rules Committee, to be held in that city, beginning April 9 and lasting through April 11.

The annual conference of representatives of chartered boards will meet Thursday, April 9, and the annual conference of the rules revision committee will meet Friday, April 10. On Saturday the annual conference meet of the joint basketball committee will be held.

The meetings will be held in the University of Pennsylvania Club, 35 East 50th Street, New York City.

Dr. Elliott Will Present Lecture

Subject to Be 'On Road to Plenty—How Far
Are We?'

"On the Road to Plenty—How Far Are We?" will be discussed by Dr. Edwin A. Elliott, associate professor of economics, in his lecture in the University auditorium April 10. Dr. Elliott is the faculty representative on the public lectures series for 1930-31, and his lecture marks the closing lecture on the series.

A comprehensive study of the present economic situation as regards the distribution of wealth among the economic classes of America will be presented. Some of the channels of control through which an improvement in the economic status of the people may be brought about, and a presentation of some of the fundamental economic institutions which have contributed to a maldistribution of wealth among the people will be shown, according to Dr. Elliott.

Hendrix Debaters Fail To Fill Engagement

Due to some discrepancy in schedule arrangements, the debate team from Hendrix Henderson College did not arrive for a debate Saturday evening as had been decided upon by correspondence earlier in the season. The public speaking department wished to apologize for this regrettable mistake, and also to thank the judges who had proffered their assistance. No report has been received from S. M. U. stating whether or not the Hendrix debaters arrived there for a scheduled engagement last Wednesday night.

"Jesus in Tomb" to Be Subject

The Rev. A. Preston Gray's subject for the morning service of the University Christian Church will be "Was the Body of Jesus Stolen From the Tomb?"

Tuesday Will Be Added to Easter Vacation Period

Official Announcement
Comes After Chapel
Election.

PASSES BY 3-TO-1 COUNT
Freshman-Sophomore Activities
Are Called Off by Popular Vote.

By LAURENCE COULTER.
After spirited speeches on both sides, the student body voted for an extra holiday, Tuesday, April 7, in the student body meeting in the University auditorium yesterday. In an official statement from the faculty, President E. M. Waits said that the holiday had been granted.

The election yesterday was a revote on the issue that was put before the student body in Monday's meeting by A. T. Barrett, student body president, as to whether an extra holiday would be petitioned for the Easter Holidays or whether a class rush day would be held in April.

Council Decides on Revote
The revote was granted by the student council Tuesday in a special meeting after a petition was presented by a committee from the freshmen and sophomores who stated that a maldistribution was left in the minds of the voters in the election Monday. The impression was that a holiday would be given Tuesday and that the class rush day would be held at the same time.

"The student council is sorry that such an event took place and we feel that the only fair thing to do is to have a revote on the question," stated Barrett in yesterday's meeting.

Cheers and Hisses Are Given
Speakers in Monday's meeting were applauded and hissed by the members of the body. The final vote showed a 3-to-1 vote for the holiday this year, but, according to Barrett, the question of having a rush day each year will be decided by the students who are in the University that particular year.

Duane Smith Wins City Handball Championship

Duane Smith, graduate student in T. C. U. and a former basketball forward, won the city championship of Fort Worth in the handball singles last week.

Smith is eligible for the national tournament, but he declined the invitation because of his school work.

Staudt Receives Scholarship

Elmer Staudt has received a graduate scholarship in the economics department for 1931-32. Elmer Davis who has a two-year fellowship will continue his work in the department. Both men will assist in the teaching of the first courses in economics.

Campus Must Be Scene of All Practical Jokes, Says Committee

"Kidnaping of the freshman president by the four sophomores before the freshman banquet, March 25, has been interpreted by the student government committee as a practical joke on the sophomores," stated Dean L. L. Leftwich in an official statement from the committee yesterday.

"It seems rather far-fetched that the four sophomores should be so easily inveigled in an incident that was plotted by the freshmen as an advertisement to get the class members out to the banquet, but the committee does not consider the affair as class rushing.

Through complaints received from residents of Fort Worth we are forced to issue the statement that all other class affairs must be held in a dignified and orderly manner. Practical jokes that take place on the campus may be overlooked, but these same events may be misinterpreted by people outside of the University," he further stated.

The action was taken by the committee after the complaints were made over the capture of the freshman president, Fred Miller, and bringing him to the Woman's Club, where the banquet was held, and turning him over to the class. A chase resulted in which the sophomores were overtaken by the police. The police in turn turned the upperclassmen over to the freshmen, who returned to the banquet and bound the sophomores on the stage until the banquet ended.

TOOLS BUT NO WORKMEN.

Less than five minutes after the Texas Aggie Glee Club had finished its heartily received program in the University auditorium last Thursday night, no less than three members of our faculty accosted the writer as to why with all our marvelous facilities we cannot sponsor a great singing group in our own University.

It took a marvelous entertaining group such as the Aggie Glee Club to awaken us to the stark realities that somewhere along the line we have lagged behind. That reality came to each of us during the program, but it will take far more than just an awakening to cold, bare facts to give us a group the equal of Aggie's Glee Club.

Our University, with its fine school of music, its host of good voices, its worthy trainers, should be horribly ashamed of its shortcomings. We lack none of the essentials that go into the moulding together of a fine singing group. We have all the clay, all the tools—yet no one has pushed the work toward creating a finished product.

Many are asking the question of "Why?" You who know the answer can gain our every good grace by acting. Let's gather our rosebuds into a worthy bouquet.

We often wonder what last year's men graduates miss most of all when spring rolls around. We'd lay our last dime that it is catching bugs for and with the sweet young things in freshman biology.

SIGN FOR BOOKS.

The library is furnished with magazines and books to be used by all students of the University and not by a privileged few. There have been occasions when students have left the library with reserved books or magazines without signing for them. When this is done there is no way for the bookkeeper to know who has the book or when it will likely be returned. To take a book from the library without signing for it is unfair and unthoughtful.

Students are not the only ones guilty of removing books without signing for them. Often faculty members take a book or magazine out of the library and leave word with one of the assistant librarians where the book is. In this way the book is far from the reach of students who have paid a library fee and from those who have assigned work. Because of this the students should be given the preference over faculty members in checking out books.

The toughest job we ever had: Attempting to convince the freshman and sophomore classes that a class rush day would be far more interesting than an extra Easter holiday.

CAPONE AMATEURISM.

Perhaps it will be just another happening to be blamed on the business depression, which, like "instincts," seems to have so many foreign and unknown things shoved into its category. Or maybe it's the long arm of vice reaching from its headquarters in Chicago.

At any rate, when members of Fort Worth's police department start exacting "tolls" from their victims, regardless of whether it is done in simply amateur style or the real old Chicago way, it is time to call a halt. Just recently, it is known to us, a motorcycle cop ran down a Berry Street speedster, an operator of a filling station, and let him off after a promise that the cop's family car would get a change of oil—"free." An old Chicago custom in the embryo!

Tales of other such doings by the preservers of law and order reach our ears frequently. Perhaps the mention of them is only to be trite and petty, but Fort Worth isn't going in for them this season. It is only a minor form of vice and corruption, we admit. We are fearful, however, that the young sprouts may grow into the more mature and alarming forms.

It won't be long until Jarvis Hall co-eds will be wondering if their boy friends' cars can really make it from Lake Worth Casino to Jarvis Hall in fifteen minutes. It usually depends largely on whether the last dance piece was a sizzling fox-trot or a dreamy waltz. The waltzers always lose.

IS THE SKIFF NOSEY?

Recently it was learned that a young lady on the campus had received a dog which she immediately named "Skiff," because as she states, "It is black and white and always nosing into other people's business."

Those of the staff feel that the charge is untrue, for after a year of hard work in an attempt to make it stand for what a school paper should stand, the charge of "always nosing into other people's business" brings a feeling of disappointment to those workers who have tried to give the students what they wanted.

Possibly the statement was only made in jest, but to outsiders who chance to pick up the paper, such a statement would give the impression that The Skiff was one of those dreaded scandal sheets so prominent at one time in newspaper circles, but so thoroughly condemned at the present time.

After all, The Skiff has introduced these "nosey" articles at the insistence of the majority of the student body, since the staff felt it would tend to cheapen the paper, and would result in hard feelings between the staff and the student body.

The Skiff accepts it as a jest, but has taken this opportunity of clearing itself of "nosing."

As yet women are still the only ones who can change their minds and get away with it. Two members of Dutch Meyer's varsity baseball team paid dearly for encroaching on the "woman's privilege" when they attempted to change their minds about sliding into bases.

COULTER'S COLUMN

Easter Holidays start tomorrow and the last red mark on a co-ed's calendar will be passed. There are no other holidays scheduled on the school calendar, but if this pretty weather keeps making us have spring fever we'll probably take a day off and go fishing. The annual run of fish stories will soon start trickling in, so prepare to see a lot of arms in slings.

Definition of a talkie: A form of enjoyment in which the action of the play is interrupted at intervals by a lot of bum singing.

Personal suggestions for a class gift for the class of '31: A telephone booth for the front hall. Window shades for the back of Jarvis Hall.

Back Stage In the News

By Madelon Flynt

Repetition of a falsehood makes some people believe it is the truth.

"Rain, warm, then colder" is latest news headline. Looks as if the weatherman would hit it this week.

Scientists have invented a "breath smeller" for home and police use. Possibly another way to encourage enforcement of the prohibition law.

A 9-year-old San Juan boy, appointed to welcome Hoover, forgot his speech and handed it written out to the President. Politicians might save the public and themselves by presenting their speeches in the same manner.

We have a man without a country with us today. He is Mahomet Faik, who must spend the rest of his life at sea, since no country will claim him.

The famous "Mr. E." Lanham of the T. C. U. barber shop has gone to East Texas. Students and exes alike will miss him—especially the checker enthusiasts.

Have you ever noticed the pleased expressions of Josie and the rest of the "colorful help" of T. C. U. when they get their pay checks on Saturday?

A time and motion comparison on four methods of dishwashing was the subject of a master's thesis in Chicago University.—What intelligence this must have taken.

Easter holidays at last (which means more work in the future.) HOME is the big thought in the minds of the students. Well, goodbye.

Play to Be Presented At Faculty Meeting

A play, "Mr. Sampson," will be presented by the Dramatic Club at the meeting of the faculty club in Jarvis parlors Tuesday evening. The cast of the play includes Miss Opal Gooden, Miss Mary Strong and Clyde Yarbrough.

Prof. Lew D. Fallis, who is in charge of the program, will direct the play.

Miss Johnson's Career Started At Age of Eight

Miss Siddle Joe Johnson, a junior in T. C. U. from Corpus Christi, has had some fifty of her poems published in various magazines and newspapers in the United States. She has also won many poetry contests and well has been placed in short story and play contests.

She wrote her first poem at the age of eight years. It was a Christmas poem. Since then she has written several hundred poems. Some of the outstanding publications that have used her poems are Good Housekeeping Magazine, Poetry, Commonweal, Holland's Magazine, Sunset Magazine and The New York Herald-Tribune.

Miss Johnson has won one annual and several monthly prizes offered by The Texas Poetry Society and has for the last four years been represented in the year-book of that organization.

She won the Bryson poetry prize in T. C. U. her freshman year. She has not entered the contest since.

In 1927 she won second place in a state-wide short story contest conducted by the Matheson Club of Dallas. The Fort Worth Star-Telegram used one of her short stories last spring.

Miss Johnson's first play receivable mention in a contest sponsored by the Daughters of the Republic of Texas last year.

She is now writing book reviews for the Texas Outlook and is literary editor of The Skiff.

Miss Johnson is a member of the Scholarship Society, Chi Alpha Chapter of Sigma Tau Delta, Bryson Club, Los Hildagos and the Outcast Club. She is secretary-treasurer of Sigma Tau Delta and has recently resigned as secretary of the Bryson Club. She was president of the Outcast Club last year.

Miss Johnson is student assistant in Jarvis Hall and has the scholarship from the Dallas T. C. U. Ex-Students' Club this year.

AT THE THEATERS

WORTH

William Haines will be on the screen today and tomorrow at the WORTH in THE TAILOR MADE MAN. This discredits the fact that he is a self-made man as has heretofore been thought.

George Fitzmaurice, who directed STRANGERS MAY KISS, Norma Shearer's picture that opens Saturday, gave up a career of art to direct films. I guess that he could get a better close-up of the actresses than he could his art models. FIFTY MILLION FRENCHMEN moves in next Wednesday. I wonder whether they are right or wrong.

RKO MAJESTIC Irving Edwards, the headliner comedian who will wiscrack his way across the footlights at the RKO MAJESTIC beginning tomorrow for four days, has a brother by the name of Elmer Grosso who wrote his act. In another act, "The 20th Century Review," Edwards comes on the stage again. Some of the cast in this review include some of Earl Carroll's "Vanities." There should be some figure studies.

PALACE GUN SMOKE will come to the PALACE Sunday with Richard Arlen. Eugene Pallette is also in the cast. The story concerns a wild and woolly ranch in the West. Peace is wanted by some of the inhabitants, so immediately a war is started—to get peace. Well, that's the general idea of the show. Mary Brian is the pretty ranch owner.

TIVOLI Greta Garbo in INSPIRATION comes to the TIVOLI next Sunday for three days. A contest should be held on the campus as to the merits of Garbo and Marlene Dietrich, the German actress who appeared in Fort Worth last week.

Miss Roberts' Father Succumbs on Monday

W. M. Roberts, father of Miss Marie Roberts, a senior in the University, died in a local hospital Monday morning at 1:30 o'clock.

Mr. Roberts contracted pneumonia after an operation which was performed Saturday morning.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Hemphill Heights Methodist Church.

Over the Air

BY ELBERT HALING

Prof. E. W. McDiarmid is somewhat of a veteran speaker as his talk given Tuesday over the College of the Air makes the number of his radio appearances almost reach the dozen mark.

Let's not forget: the T. C. U. WBAP College of the Air goes on the air every Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. It is interesting to note that the S. M. U.-KRLD Air College goes on the air lanes at the same hour daily excepting Saturday and Sunday. Listeners should be able to gain a liberal "addiction" from the information broadcast by these two institutions.

KFJZ also uses T. C. U. talent. Miss Mary Page Martin and Miss Hortenz Baker, violinists, and Miss Lillie Mae Dinkins, pianist, will appear on the weekly T. C. U. program over KFJZ Friday night at 8:15 o'clock. Miss Martin will be accompanied by Frank Mc-Mordie, and Miss Baker by Miss Mozelle Bryant.

Prof. Woodall Hogan will speak on next Tuesday's Air College. His subject will be "Science and Scientists." Listen to WBAP at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday and tell these speakers that you heard them. Note that Dr. John Lord will speak on April 14 on the subject, "Our International Outlook." Dr. W. C. Smith will appear on April 21.

Books

HILLTOP, by Evelyn Miller Pierce; Alfred H. King, New York City. (Fair Book Shop, $2.)

A woman can bring a man to her social level but a man can never bring a woman to his social level because the women of his set will never accept.

This idea runs through the book, "Hilltop," by Evelyn Miller Pierce. Miss Pierce is a native Texan and in her new book she portrays the social life of Texas and historical background of Texas.

Historical facts before the Civil War are recalled. Although the characters in the book are fictitious, the history given is true. The little town of "Polk" which grew to be a city is without a doubt Dallas. The book indicates that the writer was an eye witness to the early conditions in Texas which are related in the book.

Amy is a girl of "fine quality" who has been born into a family not having a large amount of money and living on the South Side. She has to struggle throughout the story to prove herself worthy of an acceptance into the social circles of the "North Siders." The stress placed upon the heat of a Texas summer makes one feel as if he would like to sip a glass of cold lemonade while reading "Hilltop."

The book is a clear and true picture of the people in the little towns of Texas who try to prevent the rise of those who do not have a prominent position in the village. The story is accurate in the historical facts, the portrayal of social conditions, and the accounts of the hot Texas summers and beautiful Texas nights.

THE PINKERTONS, Richard Wilmer Rowan; Little, Brown and Company, Boston. (Fair Book Shop, $3.)

When Allan Pinkerton came to America in 1842, a political outcast from England, his fondest dreams were not vast enough to include the heights to which he reached.

Richard Wilmer Rowan tells us of the heights in the life of this great detective and his sons in his recent book called "The Pinkertons," with the sub-title, "A Detective Dynasty."

Rowan writes with an interesting style, but the book gets monotonous at times. It is one detective case after another, told in the same manner.

M. L. R.

GRAND HOTEL, by Vicki Baum; Doubleday, Doran & Company, New York City.

"The revolving door turns and turns—and swings . . . and swings . . . and swings . . ." Through the revolving door of "Grand Hotel," a story is told of the many things that happen within the course of two days to those who stop at the large hotel in post-war Germany.

The oddities of character are thrown together through one door, but the author individualizes each character. The lives they live are unconventional at times, but they are all the effect of circumstances and are therefore the revelation of impulses and longings. It is a story of suppressed desires. Throughout the author is consistent in her characterizations, and shows the work of an artist in depicting them.

The individualization of characters depicted by Baum in the contacts made in the Grand Hotel include the timid clerk, Kringelein, who wanted to really live; the ballet dancer, Grunsinskaya, who found a new life in her love; and the all too charming Baron Gaigern whom one cannot help liking despite his mode of living. To add contrast to the picture, Dr. Ottersschlag, the cynic who drifted, and Herr Preysing, the scheming and selfish capitalist, make their contacts in "Grand Hotel."

Into the Grand Hotel they came, and "not one as he goes out through the revolving door is the same as when he came in."

Easter lilies, Easter rabbits, Easter bonnets fill the thoughts of the co-eds of the University. Along with the deeper and more beautiful meaning of Easter comes the thought of going home or visiting friends. Many house parties and entertainments have been planned for the Easter holidays. Palm Sunday Vesper Musicales Is Given Choral Department Follows Custom in Presentation of Service.

Continuing a custom established several years ago, the choral department of the University presented a Palm Sunday vesper musicale Sunday afternoon in the school auditorium.

Mrs. Lora Costan Bridges, soprano soloist in Cliff Temple Baptist Church of Dallas, and Travis Johnson, tenor, director of music for the Central Congregational Church in Dallas and winner of the state Atwater Kent contest last fall, were the visiting soloists.

The T. C. U. Chorus, under the direction of David Bruce Scouler, and a string trio composed of Prof. Claude Sammis, violinist, Prof. S. P. Ziegler, cellist, and Miss Adeline Boyd, pianist, took part on the program. The Rev. A. Preston Gray, pastor of the University Christian Church, delivered a brief sermonette.

SPORT WAVES

By JACK BELZNER.

If the hustling bunch of first-year and new men on the Horned Frog baseball team keep setting the pace that they have already started, it will be a tough assignment for the veterans to keep their jobs. There will be just enough old timers on the club to keep up the team harmony and to act as a steadying force.

There will be three new men on the regular lineup when the season opens who will cover infield positions. Johnny Hirstine, who has shown good fielding and excellent batting from the initial sack. He has been out for the team three years and so far has failed to letter. This year he is assured of lettering and would be an asset to any club in the conference. Carrell will be the guardian of the keystone bag provided that his injuries do not keep him out of the game. Vance Woolwine is being tutored to fill the utility role and will be ready to step in and take either the shortstop or second base duties.

At short, Paul Snow, fighting Winstonsboro red head, will take care of the balls that come to that position. "One Minute" Snow, the name he earned on the Frog gridiron, will probably earn the name of "played every inning" in this season's baseball play.

At the third base position, two men are battling for a regular berth. Howard Baxter, a squadman of the past two years, and Johnny Clark, a newcomer, are fighting on even terms. At times, it seems that one man has the edge on the other, but the other will retaliate in the next practice. At present it is a toss-up as to which man will win a regular job as guardian of the third sack.

The outfield is more or less settled. "Grassy" Hinton will patrol the left garden and Capt. Hal Wright will take care of the fly balls that angle toward center field. Both men are excellent fly hawks and Wright can cover as much ground as any man in the conference. Hinton's hitting was a feature of last year's second-place club. Wright showed a weakness at the plate last year but in the practice sessions thus far this season, he has been hitting the ball with regularity.

Otis Stell, another newcomer, may hold down the right garden. Stell made quite a reputation for himself in high school circles of Fort Worth and in the city leagues. He is fast and has a good eye for the ball both in field and at bat.

The receiving department will be taken care of by Jay Williams and Hubert Dennis. Williams was the first man to letter on last year's squad and will be the mainstay of this season's club, provided that injuries do not handicap the hustling Marshall boy. Dennis is giving Williams plenty of competition for the position. His hitting has been a feature of the practice sessions so far this season.

The mound staff has been slowly rounding into shape under the leadership of Ellsworth Chappell, the only letterman to return for pitching duties. Noble Atkins at present is giving the lanky Chappell a close race for first call for hurling duties. Both men have shown a lot of speed and a host of curves this season and should hit mid-season form within the next two weeks.

Should Chappell or Atkins falter, Coach Meyer can call on J. W. Townsend, Alf Roark and Bill George. All three of these men are out for their first time and George and Townsend are sophomores. Roark seems to have as much on the ball as any hurler on the squad and is causing Meyer to be optimistic. The other two men are fast rounding into shape and are due to give the first-string pitchers a lot of competition before the season is far under way.

Endowment Is Given To Norwich University

Giving impetus to the $1,500,000 campaign for Norwich University at Northfield, Vt., Mrs. Nellie J. Baker Smith, Charlestown, N. H., who died last week, left the university between $250,000 and $300,000. The Norwich Campaign for $1,500,000 has been launched to allow expansion of the student body from 325 to 500 cadets through means of new buildings and adequate endowment funds.

Frogs Open Race With Ponies in Dallas April 7

Christians Handicapped by Bad Weather in Early Workout.

MEYERMEN UNSEASONED
General Outlook Is Brighter Now Than at Beginning of Season.

HORNED FROG BASEBALL SCHEDULE
April 7—S. M. U. at Dallas.
April 10—Aggies at College Station.
April 11—Rice at Houston.
April 16—Baylor at Fort Worth.
April 18—Rice at Fort Worth.
April 24—Texas at Austin.
April 25—Baylor at Waco.
May 1—Texas at Fort Worth.
May 2—Aggies at Fort Worth.
May 11—S. M. U. at Fort Worth.

The Horned Frogs open their conference race in baseball against the Southern Methodist Mustangs in Dallas April 7. Cold weather and rains have handicapped the Frogs in their workouts, and Coach Meyer will present an unseasoned aggregation against the Ponies.

Stell or Gillum to Be Lead-Off
Meyer states that the general outlook for the Frogs is much better now than at the outset of the season. The probable batting order of the Frogs will be either Otis Stell or Harry Gillum lead-off man; both are fast and have been hitting the apple with consistency in practice. They are battling it out for the right field position. Capt. Hal Wright will bat in second place, and patrol center field on the defense. Wright's base-running and defense work have been a sensation in the conference for the past two seasons.

J. W. Hinton will bat third in line. Last year Hinton was one of the best hitters on the Frog roster. Dietzel and Hirstine will be battling for the first base position, with "Too Tall" having the advantage over his shorter mate. Dietzel's height enables him to go "up after" the high ones, and he can reach farther than Hirstine.

Carrell May Be Able to Play
Howard Carrell, star second-baseman will bat in fifth place, providing his leg injury will permit his playing. Carrell has been one of the most consistent ball players in the conference for the past two seasons with his all-around play. Either Jay Williams or Hubert Dennis will be on the receiving end, and will bat next in line. Both men have shown up well in intra-squad games and have been hitting the ball with regular consistency.

Paul Snow will get the call at shortstop. With his speed and fine throwing arm Snow should show up well at this position. Meyer states that Snow is the most improved man on the squad. Howard Baxter or Johnny Clark will get the call at third base.

The hurling department is the weakest in years according to Meyer. Chappell, Atkins, Townsend, Roark and George constitute the Frog hurling staff, and are ranked in the order named.

Girls Play Baseball

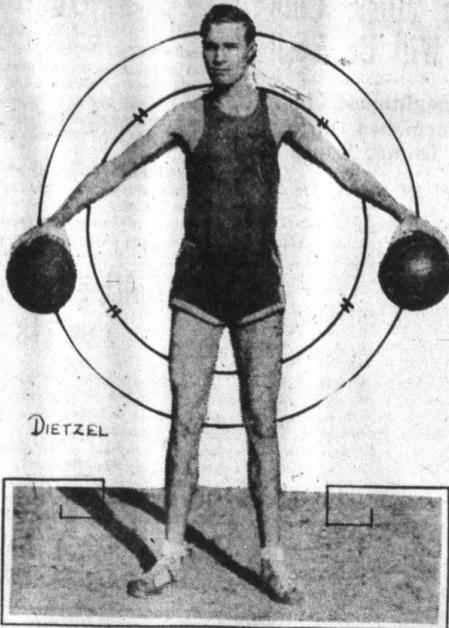

17 Out for Practice, According to Miss Eury, Manager.

Seventeen girls are reporting to baseball practice every afternoon at 1 o'clock, according to the manager, Miss Dorothy Eury. A game will be played with some team in Fort Worth each remaining week of the season. The game next week will be with Polytechnic High School. Girls reporting to practice are: Misses Loree Guhl, Marian Miller, Mary Blanton, Kay Prather, Dorothy Reinke, Mary Elizabeth Turrentine, Marjory Brown, Dorothy Eury, Dorothy Conkling, Anna Beth Baker, Ruth Tarpley, Mary Louise Spinks, Evelyn Stobaugh, Cornelia Kilpatrick, Gemma Nunley, Jean Harrell and Margie McKeen.

Frog All-American Center

Ad "Too Tall" Dietzel was named all-American center on Chick Murray's Associated Press quintet last week. Dietzel is almost tall enough to drop a basketball straight down into the hoop and can hold two basketballs outstretched, one in each hand, at the same time. Dietzel is the first Frog to ever be placed on the first team of an all-American basketball five.

Dietzel Chosen As All-American

Chick Murray Selects Frog Center for Cage Team.

Ad "Too Tall" Dietzel was picked by Chick Murray, representing the combined opinions of the Associated Press, United Press and the International News Service, as tip-off man on his mythical all-American cage team.

Murray said that he could not leave a man off his team who had broken the all-time scoring honors for an individual during the conference season, and who tied the record for points amassed in a single contest and played good defensive ball all season as Dietzel had done.

This is the first time that a Horned Frog cage athlete has been thus honored; and the fourth tutored by Coach Francis Schmidt to be named all-American. Wear Schoonover, Glen Rose and Tom Pickel, all of Arkansas, have received the honor of being selected on all-American teams.

Polliwogs Show Class in Action

Coach Wolf Has Find in Massingale of Jacksboro.

The Polliwog baseball candidates, under the tutelage of Coach Bear Wolf, are setting a fast pace in the afternoon workouts. Several of the first-year men show promise of developing into varsity timber with another year's seasoning.

"Hap" Massingale, mid-term entry from Jacksboro, rates as the classiest of the infielders. With a natural talent for the game and an excellent throwing arm, the Jacksboro product plays the shortfield position with the skill of a veteran. Myers, on the third sack, Perkins at first base and Joe Brown in the outfield are the most outstanding of the candidates who will fill some of the varsity men's shoes next spring.

The Polliwog baseball coach has a classy pitching corps in Kinzy, Schroeder, Johnson, Hunt, and Wartren. Jack Graves and Fred Miller will bear the brunt of the receiving duties. At present, the best infield combination looks as if it will be composed of Perkins, Walker, Massingale and Myers. In the outfield Coach Wolf has Brown, Wallace, Donovan and Taylor.

To date only two games have been booked, but the frosh will meet the junior college teams of Weatherford, Decatur and Hillsboro before the season closes. The athletic rivalry between the freshmen and N. T. A. C. that added so much color to the football and basketball seasons, will be renewed when the junior Aggies come to Fort Worth April 11. The return game will be played in Arlington April 14.

Frog Track Team Meets Owls Today

Coach Mack Clark's thinly clad will meet their first conference competition when the crack Rice Owls invade Clark Field at two o'clock this afternoon. Inasmuch as the Owls have one of the leading teams in the country, the Frogs are underdogs, but Houser, Capt. Nugent, Howell and Vaught are being counted on for points.

Frogs to Meet Ponies April 3

Take Every Tennis Tilt in Games With Lions at Commerce.

The Horned Frogs' first conference tennis game has been changed from April 4 to April 3. The Frogs will meet the Southern Methodist Mustangs in Dallas.

The Horned Frogs met and defeated the East Texas Teachers in their second match of the season in Commerce Monday. The Christians won every match. The sensational play of Capt. John McDiarmid was the feature of the match.

The results of the match are: McDiarmid defeated Estes 6-3, 6-0; Smith defeated Lafferty 4-6, 7-5, 6-2; Wolfenden defeated Travis 7-5, 3-6, 6-4; and Walsh defeated Bowers 6-1, 6-2.

In the doubles McDiarmid and Smith of the Christians defeated the team of Estes and Travis 6-1, 6-0. Williams and Walsh defeated Bowers and Lafferty 7-5, 3-6, 6-2.

Horned Frog Band Sponsors Program

Aggie War Song, "The Soldier's Chorus," Among Numbers Presented.

Starting the program with the Aggie war song, the A. & M. Glee Club together with the Horned Frog Band presented a musical program in the University auditorium last Thursday night. The Texas Christian war song followed the Aggie song, and numbers by the band and glee club filled out an evening's program.

Prof. Kay H. Beach directed the glee club and Prof. Claude Sammis, director of the band, acted as master of ceremonies. Prof. W. B. Dobson of A. & M. accompanied the glee club and played two piano solos.

Several numbers were given by the A. & M. quartet which is composed of E. B. Curtsinger, R. M. Williams, W. C. Bednar and J. M. Pennycook. Among the numbers offered by the glee club was "The Soldier's Chorus" from "Faust."

The club appeared in concert in Dallas Friday and went on to McKinney Saturday. Efforts are being made to make the tour in North Texas an annual affair.

After the concert, open house was held in Jarvis Hall for the A. & M. boys and the band with the Frogettes and Uppettes acting as hostesses.

322 Students in University Are Listed Working

Miss Carter, Chairman of Committee, Gives Activity Report.

POINT SYSTEM IS USED
Total of 719 Is Participating in at Least One Extra-Curricular Affair.

There are 322 working students in T. C. U. This report, concerning the activities of the 1169 students enrolled here, was given by Miss Eula Lee Carter, chairman of the committee on student societies. Miss Carter was assisted by E. R. Tucker, registrar.

According to statistics, 84 students work from 7 to 20 hours; 86 students work from 21 to 30 hours; 28 students work from 31 to 45 hours, and 14 students work over 45 hours a week. There are 110 students who do some work, but which have no specified amount of hours.

One Student Works 67 Hours
These working students make up 28 per cent of the enrollment of the school. One student was reported to be working 67 hours a week. As there are 168 hours in one week, this student works about one-third of his time. There are other students who work regularly at 6 hours a week.

A report was also given concerning the extra-curricular activities of the students. The point system, which specifies a certain number of points to be given to each student activity, limits the students to a maximum of 20 points in their extra-curricular work.

22 Are Over Maximum Points
It has been found that 22 students in the university participate in activities which count more than the maximum number of points. There are 80 students who have a count from 15 to 20 points.

Statistics show that 450 students do not take part in any activity. This is 38 per cent of the enrollment of the school. There are 617 students with points ranging from 2 to 15 points.

A total of 719 students, or 62 per cent of the 1169 enrolled are participating in some activity.

10 Points Counted for Working
The purpose of these reports was to make a comparison of the grades that various groups in the school are making. The committee on student societies is endeavoring to work out some variation in the point system for the benefit of those who work many hours a week and those who work a few hours a week. This is necessary since 10 points are counted in the point system for a student who works, and does not provide for both groups.

Leland Fails to Place

Former Frog Track Man Loses Out in Los Angeles Meet.

Cy Leland, former Horned Frog track and grid star, and at present a member of the Olympic Club of San Francisco, failed to place in either the 100-yard or the 220-yard dashes in a track and field meet between the University of Southern California and the Olympic Club held in Los Angeles Saturday.

Frank Wykoff, Trojan sprint ace and holder of the world's record in the century with a mark of 92.5 seconds, stepped off the 100-yard dash in 93.5 seconds with ease and returned a few minutes later to win the 220-yard sprint in 211.5 seconds.
