English Will Be First Pre-Junior Monday Morning

Language Examination to Be in Chapel
at 11 A. M.

"A," "B" STUDENTS EXEMPT

Bible to Be Held From 2 to 4 o'clock Wednesday in Amphitheater.

Examinations in English language, to be given Monday from 11 a. m. to 1 p. m., will head the list of pre-junior exams that will continue through next week, it was known yesterday following release of the schedule from the office of Dean Colby D. Hall. The schedule calls for examinations in 11 subjects.

Beginning at 2 p. m. Monday, examinations in biology, chemistry, physics and geology will be offered. These tests in natural sciences will continue until 6 o'clock.

Examinations in government and history are scheduled from 10 o'clock until 12 o'clock noon Tuesday. Students taking the government examinations will report to the amphitheater, while history tests will be given in chapel.

Foreign language tests will be given Tuesday afternoon from 2 o'clock to 4 o'clock in the amphitheater. English literature has been set for Wednesday from 11 o'clock to 1 p. m. in chapel.

Electives to Begin Wednesday. The first of examinations in elective subjects will begin at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, Bible having been scheduled at that hour and will last two hours. Psychology will be given Thursday in the amphitheater from 2 p. m. to 4 p. m. Philosophy will come at that same hour on Friday. The latter examinations will also be given in the amphitheater.

Examinations in mathematics will be given in Room 110 Friday from 11 o'clock to 1 p. m. The pre-junior schedule ends with tests in sociology and economics on Saturday from 1 to 3 o'clock in Room 212.

The requirement of the pre-junior tests is for the proving by the student that he has mastered the previous courses which are foundations in his college work before he can enroll in junior courses. When a student has passed as many as four out of six of the tests he may enroll as a conditioned junior, but the conditions must be removed within a year.

Sophomores Will Take Tests. Every junior who has any subjects not completed from last year and all sophomores should take the courses for which they are ready. A student is exempt in any subject if he has a final grade A or B in the subject to be taken. The spring mid-term grade will be accepted in subjects which are being taken now if the fall semester was also A or B. If grades are unknown, they may be found by going to the registrar's office.

The class of '31 is the only class which the tests does not effect, according to Dean Hall. "The aim of these pre-junior plans is to discover for the student his 'gaps' so he can be helped in filling them before it is too late," states Dean Hall. "The students are invited to join the faculty in a spirit of co-operation for their better education, and not in any spirit of jumping hurdles."

Special arrangements have been made for students who have taken B. B. A., Bible, music and English courses. A student may choose between Old Testament or New Testament in Bible tests. Each examination in Bible literature and the English language must be taken except by B. S. students. B. B. A. students who have chosen to omit foreign language will be examined in mathematics, including the field covered by mathematics 12 and 12B. Music students who omitted science will be tested in music instead.

Brushes Sponsors Candy Sale. The Brushes Club sponsored the selling of candy in the halls before chapel on Wednesday and Friday. The money obtained is to be used to help pay for the club's page in the annual.

Bulletin Board Announcement Written in Different Languages

"No Skiff Today" decorated the bulletin board April 10 after chapel in the front hall. But not for long did this lone sentence, proclamation, or what have you, stand alone. Samuel Frankrich started a new style in bulletin board announcements. Writing the announcement in Chinese (he wasn't so clever), he soon had a crowd gathered around the board. It might be added that the Chinese was mixed with a few strokes of the Japanese and on the whole neither was correct.

Dr. Josiah Combs next added his

Merfeld Speaks Sunday

Appears on Fellowship Service
Given by the Parabola.

"Prayer is the heart of religion," said Rabbi Harry A. Merfeld at the University Religious Fellowship service Sunday night. Rabbi Merfeld was presented in a forum on "Why Pray," by the Parabola, math club.

Prof. E. W. McDiarmid introduced the speaker by saying, "I will agree with everything he says." Merfeld is rabbi of Beth-El Temple, Fort Worth, and a civic leader. He said, "Prayer does not proceed by logic. It is institutional rather than intellectual, but at the same time always works along natural lines and under natural laws. Prayers should not be expected to work miracles. Prayers which seek to set aside natural laws are meaningless. Probably the most beautiful prayers are those that have never been answered."

H. J. Jones presided at the service and Marvin Labovitz played a violin solo, accompanied by Miss Jean Luker. Miss Maybeth Ellis led the audience in singing and Prof. Charles Sherer was in charge of the offering. Miss Gertrude Van Zandt is president of the Parabola.

Co-ed Sees Ball Games to Take Cracks at Crowd

One thing about our baseball games anyway, no matter what else can be said about them, you can at least get a big insight into human nature.

When you first walk in (without your ticket), the gate keeper has a rather "interesting" expression on his face, but he can't deny that he's never seen you before, especially when you have been seated three feet from him in the cafeteria every night for about eight months and wondered why he didn't wear a tie.

It really isn't the best of policies to stare at people, but if you are interested in human nature, and the first baseman and second baseman and third baseman are all playing catch with each other while the pitcher stands in the middle and looks as though he is playing one of those games of "try and get it," what are you going to do? You get right tired, after so long a time, of watching the cute little boys of the surrounding hill do their "stuff" out in front of the buzzard roost. The soda water salesmen even thought they were extraordinary at first, until they started swiping for "keeps."

I have always been under the impression that to women were attributed the maternal instincts—but it would really bring tears into the hardest eyes to witness those great brute athletes play gently with the little boys and assist them in the doing of their "stuff" for the admiring eyes of the baseball fans!

Of course this is all just so much Greek to those who have not been out on Saturday afternoons, but go sometimes and if you think Scotchmen are tight, just notice how our trackmen patronize the ice in the buckets of the soda water boys!

Beautiful Turkeys Contribute Feathers for Indian Headgear

If any of the students miss any old felt hats, felt pillows, or see any featherless turkeys running around, they might go in search of them at the girls' gymnasium where Mrs. Helen Walker Murphree's rest classes are making head dresses, warriors' shield, and coupe sticks for the Indian pageant May 9.

Two barrels of liceless turkey feathers and numerous hats, pillows and beaded bags have been used in making the seven head dresses which usually sell for $75 each, but which are being made for $1 apiece. Three girls and four boys will wear the head dresses, and as Dietzel passes the gymnasium the girls sigh and wonder how many feathers it will take to make his head dress, for Dietzel is to be one of the Indian warriors. Others who will be warriors are Roland Balch, Worth Andrews, and Charles Casper. The three solo dancers, who are Misses Dorothy Kelly, Mary Elizabeth Turrentine, and Philo Mae Murphree, will also wear head dresses.

The coupe sticks are long sticks with feathers on them that have been given to the Indians for the brave deeds that they have done. Girls who are enrolled in the rest classes are: Misses Jeanne Horsley, Anita Wilson, Jewell Roberson, Dorothy Lee, Hazel Johnson, Ernestine Scott, Ruby Chestnut, Maxine Edwards, Francis Watson, and Mrs. J. E. Arnold, Mrs. Ina Mae Carrell, and Mrs. Maud Ramsey.

A $1000 student loan fund has been decided on by the seniors as a parting gift to the school. The students voted on the class gift at a class meeting Monday morning.

The loan fund will be similar to the fund given by the class of 1930, but it will not be a part of the 1930 fund. The means of raising the money are being worked out by the gift committee. The class will vote today on whether the library deposit, with an additional small sum, will be used to raise the money for the fund.

Miss Mary Adams, secretary-treasurer of the class, was appointed to write the prophecy of the class at the meeting Monday.

ON OUR SIDE AT LAST.

The lecture delivered by Dr. Killis Campbell of the University of Texas in the auditorium Thursday night shows that at last America is producing some thinking men. Dr. Campbell is America's foremost scholar of Edgar Allen Poe, and it is with a great deal of relief that one finds someone who is able to defend one of America's great writers.

Along with other things, English literature became American literature in the early days of our country. Since then, some people have been of the opinion that Americans could not produce anything in the literary field that was worth considering. And those who were recognized, for the most part, were of the "pious" class.

Dr. Campbell presented exploded ideas on Poe. He pointed out the myths that have grown up around Poe—and then he showed where a lot of them were wrong. It is something to know that just lots of the bad stories about Poe were "fibs."

The decided interest in Poe that is exhibited by Dr. Campbell, the renewal of interest in Emily Dickinson, and other such similar stirrings in the literary world shows that at last America is waking up to the importance of some of her literary people. What a shame that people of such fame have to have stories told about them!

CONGRATULATIONS, PRESIDENT WAITS.

President E. M. Waits has been honored by being elected president of the National Board of Education of the Disciples of Christ.

With this recent election his prominence and position is again reflected upon the lives of the state, and his new award is only another means of the expression by the people of their high esteem for him.

T. C. U. is indeed proud of him, and congratulates him on this appointment. His ability to fill the position is readily recognized, and the sincerest hopes for a most successful year of leadership are extended by all who know and have learned to love him.

Success to you, Dr. Waits.

WORTHWHILE?

Still the self-appointed critics continue to say that the attending of college for four years is nil. Probably they are right—but probably they are wrong. Who cares?

Most of those critics are those who have been blessed with the luck to make a success of themselves without attending college. Others who join the ranks of the critics are those who did not have the ambition to start or to finish their college education.

Those of us who have chosen to go to college should not be criticized for doing so. That is unjust criticism. We are not going to college as a life's work. We are doing so in order that we will better our chances in the game of life after we finish. That is what we should be criticized about. Place the criticism on what a person sets out to do, not what you think he should do.

Perhaps a college degree does not mean as much at present as it has in the past. But it is something. As far as that is concerned, that 100 or 90 that most of us made in spelling in the first grade was something and is still something. It is an accomplishment. Perhaps not so much of an accomplishment but it at least places us in a better position to work on something that will reap us more profits. All of us can not be Ph. D.'s and those of us who can not have that honor should be able to wield a pick and shovel about as graceful with a sheepskin as we could without one.

HUNTING THE "GAPS."

Students preparing for pre-junior tests to be given next week should enter into the examinations with zest and appreciation. They should keep in mind that this system of tests has been instituted for their own personal welfare, and not as another hurdle and barrier to clear.

The ultimate aim of this new educational plan is to discover any gaps that a student may have in his fundamental training. In addition, this plan is adopted for purposes of helping students fill these gaps before graduation. The immediate aim of the pre-junior tests is to see that the student is properly equipped with tool courses necessary to the fulfillment of junior and senior scholastic requirements.

Most of us do have those "gaps" in our educational training after the first two years of college work. Unless these are caught and duly cared for, we are certain of later disappointments. Students should be more than willing to have their deficiencies discovered and attended to before it is too late.

The system of tests as has been adopted here is in line with the best educational methods of the day. The plans here are more like the widely announced plans at the University of Chicago than any other. The experience of other great institutions has been consulted in working out a system here in T. C. U.

Despite the fact that the system is a pioneer one, its results will ultimately work out to the students' benefit in the form of more freedom of study, more individual initiative, less dependence on hours, tests and credits, especially in the last two years of college work.

Don't treat these tests next week as an added burden. Rather, treat them as something vital in your educational training and experience. Remember that a coach checks up on the weaknesses of each player BEFORE the game.

Some of the old grads still persist in saying, "There were no evils about this campus in the good old days." The "good old days" must have been before 1492.

From the number of negroes that ride the Texas Christian street car one would be led to believe that T. C. U. is the moniker of "Texas Colored University."

COULTER'S COLUMN

Thoughts while thinking: Seniors making their reservations so fast for the junior-senior banquet . . . Jack Langdon being lucky enough to be Frances Anderson's escort . . . the pygmies in Trader Horn . . . Gee, how John McDiarmid has grown in the last two years . . . Elizabeth Wimberly smiling sweetly as she goes to French class . . . And Marjorie Miller doesn't seem to be studying so much lately . . . Is it a boy, Marjorie? . . . Dan Salkeld missing that pass last football season . . . the fireworks Tuesday night at the stadium . . . yes that was I (me sounds better) playing the snare drum . . . All the advertising The Skiff had last week . . . I framed my copy since it was so unusual . . . Does Parson Brown just act that way or is it love . . .

From the looks of some of the girls on the campus these spring evenings it looks as if there are going to be a lot of stenographers after school is out for them.

Correct this sentence: "My candidate for yell leader has no voice, his spirit is nil, and in general he is very bashful in front of a crowd," said one of the political speakers in chapel Wednesday.

In the spring there are two kinds of sap. The kind that rises in trees and the kind that writes poetry to love torn maidens, which is all the girls in T. C. U. and the boys in T. C. U.

Things we never see: People having to stand to hear the church service.

Roy Bacus: "Isn't she a loving girl?"

Sproesser Wynn: "Yeah, she's the kind that leaves her complexion on everybody's coat."

The best joke we have heard in a long time happens to be a true story: A woman, who was deaf and dumb (this is an exception), filed suit against her husband, who was also deaf and dumb, for divorce. When the judge asked her what the grounds were, she charged cruelly because every time she started fussing at her husband he always turned out the lights.

I wish that election time would hurry and get here. I'm nearly out of poster board.

Being collegiate: Making fun of a professor's jokes to your neighbor in class. The same student laughing at the same joke when he tells it to a friend.

Vera Turbeville was seen with an overnight bag the other morning. I know a good wisecrack, but I'm afraid that it might be used against me.

This really happened: A freshman girl was sitting in the cafeteria shortly after the vote had been taken on the class rush day question. This is what she said: "Gee, I wish that we would have class rush day so all the boys would come over to Jarvis Hall. I haven't been rushed since I came to the University." Name will be given on request if the party requesting does not intend to harm said person.

I love your smile, I love your kiss. I think you're great my little miss. Your lips are red, and your eyes are blue . . . All I think of is you, you, you.

Listen any evening around Jarvis Hall and you'll hear just what I did.

Dear Coulter: Have you ever kissed a girl? L. B. I'll not commit myself until I find who you really are.

"God's Balances" to be Subject

"Weighed in God's Balances" will be the subject of the Rev. A. Preston Gray Sunday morning at 11 o'clock at the University Christian Church.

Dr. E. A. Elliott Speaks in Brite

Dr. Edwin A. Elliott spoke to the Brite College of the Bible chapel group Wednesday morning. His subject was "The Modern Pulpit With Social Emphasis."

Miss Doris Sellers of Jarvis Hall spent the week-end at her home in Hico.

Over the Air

Fan mail continues to pour into the boxes of T. C. U. radio speakers. Some of it is genuine appreciation and a lesser part of it is in the form of disapproval, but all of it is appreciated, according to officials of the project. Dr. W. C. Smith spoke Tuesday on the subject, "Occupation and Personality," and Wednesday morning he found a letter on his desk from Prof. Avery L. Carlson. This letter stated that Dr. Smith's knowledge of farm life was neglected in some respects. "Just professional jealousy," laughingly said Dr. Smith.

These Monday and Tuesday afternoon broadcasts reach many places and officials of the Air College are anxious to receive letters from ex-students.

Dean Lacey Leftwich will be the next speaker to face the mike. This event will take place Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock and the subject, "Developing Personality in College Students," will go into the ether over WBAP.

Two hundred forty-five students were on the honor roll for the first semester.

Stewart Hellman, T. C. U. senior, was awarded first place in the State Oratorical Association meet at Baylor University, April 18.

A picture of "Bear" Wolf adorns the first page of the Skiff and a part of the caption reads, "Wolf was picked last year by many big league scouts as all-conference first baseman."

The painting, "Saint Mark's—Venice," was lent to the library by S. M. Gaines, the father of Prof. Newton Gaines.

The Horned Frog baseball nine returned from a road trip through Arkansas and Oklahoma with a total of six victories and no losses to its credit.

Prof. John Lord, head of the department of Spanish, spoke in chapel on the subject, "American Rule in the Philippines." Professor Lord spent several years in these islands as a missionary.

There were to be no mid-term exams this term, it was announced.

Group Attends League

Bill Rogers, Gibson Randle and C. C. Isbell have returned from Norman, Okla., where they attended the Miniature League of Nations Conference which was held Friday, Saturday and Sunday. The group represented Canada in the conference.

Fourteen schools were represented in the conference and about the same number of countries were represented in the league. Oklahoma had the largest delegation.

Four sessions were held Friday and Saturday. Various questions of international importance were discussed at the meetings. One of the most important discussions was "Should Russia Be Admitted in the League?" The Friday night discussion was broadcast over radio station WMAD.

The delegates were entertained in the fraternity houses. Luncheons and theater parties were given in honor of the guests.

"A" Students in Class

19 Mathematics Scholars Are Taught by Prof. Sherer.

A straight "A" class, composed of nineteen students, is now being taught by Prof. Charles Sherer, professor of mathematics. After the mid-term reports thirty students with the highest averages were given the privilege of taking an examination. The nineteen students were selected from this number.

The class, which is a trigonometry class, meets twice a week. Problems outside of the class are also discussed.

The following students are in the class: Misses Annie Adolphson, Will Marie Allen, Martha Arnold, Mary Blanton, Lillian Childress, Evelyn Green, Corinne Lewis, Mildred Kelly, Virginia Oliver, Helen Puckett, Marian Rankin, Katherine Rose, and Elna Winton, and Billy Allen, O. B. Jackson, John Morphis, Bob Stewart, Sproesser Wynn and Marvin Labovitz.

Miss Dora Macy, who was graduated from T. C. U. last June, is spending a few days on the campus with friends.

Miss Mary Jane Alexander spent the week-end in her home at Nocona.

Miss Marian Howery spent the week-end at her home in Dallas.

AT THE THEATERS

Gloria Swanson in INDISCREET comes to the WORTH tomorrow for four days. Ben Lyon and Arthur Lake are also in the film. The story is well adapted to the actress and with two actors such as Lyon and Lake the whole show should be good. Miss Swanson has a good voice for the talkies and also a good singing voice as was shown in her last picture. Ramon Novarro in DAY BREAK moves in Wednesday. A lesson in love can always be gained from his pictures and this fellow from Mexico certainly has the breaks on picking beauties.

TRADER HORN is one of the finest pictures of the year. From the time the first scene flashes across the screen until the final shot of the African jungle, the audience is given one thrill after another. The picture was filmed entirely in the jungles and is one of the most realistic features ever shown. It is one of the few shows that is worth seeing twice. Harry Carey, who takes the part of Horn, is the most outstanding character. Renaldo is hard to understand at times. If you haven't seen this picture, don't fail to go today or tomorrow; you'll get a thrill. Rencher, the gun bearer, will give you a scene you'll always remember when a lion charges him.—L. C.

Victor Herbert's KISS ME AGAIN will start Sunday. It's an all-color film.

STOLEN HEAVEN with Nancy Carroll comes to the TIVOLI Sunday for three days. This picture is her first dramatic response to letters received in her fan mail requesting her to keep in this field. Settings in the picture required 100,000 square feet of studio space in filming the picture.

Graveside Row Over Estate Brings Man Back to Life," is the latest headline. This will show relatives that they will have to be careful about fussing over property until they are sure the "rich kinfolks" are dead and buried.

Babe Ruth hit another home run. He has to hit homers because his excessive "muscle" would prevent him running for first base.

A statement made recently showed that grain prices had dropped, causing greater loss to the bootleggers than the farmers have had. Congress must do something to help these poor unfortunate bootleggers to get get back on their feet again.

Turks have begun shooting at the moon again, the result of an old superstition of the wolf eating the moon up during the time of an eclipse. Why not start this practice in say, Chicago, so the people might be spared from target practice?

Dr. Clubb Makes Study of Music Favorite Hobby

To some people the intensive study of music leads to a profession. In the case of Dr. Merrell D. Clubb, professor of English literature, it led to a hobby.

Dr. Clubb began the study of music when he was 10 years old and continued to study it until the fall of his senior year in college when his academic courses took his full time. During his college years, he studied from Thilo Becker.

"I keep up my music because I love it," Dr. Clubb said. "I do not believe in separating subjects from each other, and going only into one field." Dr. Clubb believes that much of his enjoyment of poetry is due to his knowledge of music. In the course in the art of poetry which Dr. Clubb teaches, he attempts to show the relation of poetry to music and the other arts.

Dr. Clubb enjoys playing the compositions of Chopin more than any other composer, but he likes to listen to Beethoven "like most other people," he said.

"I think that a person should be interested in all kinds of music," Clubb said. "However, I do not like jazz music. Only once in awhile does a jazz piece rise to the level of art. The main thing about my not playing jazz music is that I can't play it."

Young ladies of the campus, do not be deceived during the coming week over the onslaught of popularity which will be cast down upon you whether you like it or reject it. If the praise has no ulterior motive, just attribute it to the spring weather.

Polliwog Season Closes Today

The baseball season for Coach Bear Wolf's T. C. U. Polliwogs will close on Clark Field diamond this afternoon after they finish a double bill with the Decatur Baptists. The twin affair comes as the result of Monday's game being called at the close of the third inning on account of rain. The Wolfmen were leading 2-to-1 when the downpour forced Umpire Atkins to call it "no game."

Bill George spent the week-end at his home in Albany.

Forest Smith, a freshman, has recently withdrawn from school because of illness.

Miss Bennie Sue Ratliff of Jarvis Hall spent last week-end at Texas College for Women in Denton, visiting her sisters, Misses Frances and Dorothy Ratliff.

Bug Nets Used as Disguise by Campus Couples in Spring Hikes

"Yes, we hike frequently, but not for hours in W. A. A.," is the answer of every Jarvis Hall girl. Not a single dormitory girl is working for credit in this sport.

However, all students of "bugology", that is, freshman biology, may be seen hiking away after an elusive bug. There are also many long tramps in search of the right flow-ers.

It is a standing joke with the biology staff that many couples may be seen wandering away from the dormitory with a bug net over their shoulders who do not even take biology. We hope none of the girls in Jarvis are that deceitful!

Band Drinks by the Quart When Milk Is Served on Trade Trip

During the past week, the Horned Frog Band has attended the opening baseball game of the Fort Worth Cats, paraded for the "Straw Hat Day" inauguration, and made a trade trip to the East Texas Chamber of Commerce in Marlin.

Every band member in the parade was presented with a straw hat by the stores sponsoring the parade. One band member thought it might rain, so he decided to wear a last year's hat instead of bringing out the new one presented to him. Honors for the best Scotchman in the University are being claimed for this bandman.

On the trip to Marlin Wednesday the Boswell Dairies served free sweet milk, buttermilk and milk chocolate (this is not an advertisement). Weight was gained by the quart and the idea was praised highly by the Scotchman in particular. Bridge was played on the train during the trip (it has been rumored).

Prof. Claude Sammis, director, was worried on the way to Fort Worth. His picture was taken together with three fair young maidens (supposedly), and just as the camera clicked a hand was seen on his shoulder. Plans were laid by the "Prof" to be home when the paper arrived. Our idea is that his picture should be taken for country newspapers from now on.

Students Find That Governor of Oklahoma Knows T. C. U. History

"Oh yes, that's old Add-Ran College," said Governor Murray of Oklahoma, when he was told that his three visitors were from Texas Christian University. When the much-talked-of governor acknowledged that he had heard of T. C. U., the visitors, Blakeney Sanders, Hayes Barker and Jack Belzner, felt much relieved.

The three boys aren't what would be termed bashful, but it will be remembered that country boys don't visit a governor's mansion every day in the week. At any rate, there was nothing bashful about the envoys once they found that Murray had practiced law in Fort Worth 34 years ago.

"The governor isn't the best dressed man in Oklahoma," said Sanders. "When we were admitted into his room he was sitting in bed and had all of his clothes on. He wore a somewhat weather-beaten suit, high topped shoes, white socks, no suspenders, red suspenders and one of those knit ties that were the vogue during the war," added Hayes Barker in the description of the governor.

The visitors related that it was a hard matter to keep the first citizen of the Indian country in a talking mood at first. But since the visit lasted about an hour and a half, the visiting Frogs struck the solution before the visit was half over. By asking the former Fort Worth lawyer questions that made him appear as an authority on world affairs, he answered questions with specific details. "And even though we didn't didn't know what he was talking about, it was funny to watch him blow his mustache out of his mouth while he was talking," said Barker. "Oh, yes, and don't forget to tell the world that we had an invitation to stay for dinner," yelled Sanders as the reporter was leaving the boys' room. "We would have stayed if it hadn't have been for Barker, he simply beat Belzner to the draw. Jack had his mouth all puckered up to say, 'Yes,' and Hayes lost his bearings and gave a negative answer."

Dr. Killis-Campbell Gives Poe Lecture

English Professor From Texas University Is Noted Scholar of Poet.

"Poe Myths and Their Makers" was the subject of a lecture given by Dr. Killis Campbell in the University auditorium, Thursday evening, April 16.

Dr. Campbell, who is professor of English at the University of Texas, is a noted authority on Poe. He has edited several works on Poe including "Edgar Allen Poe's Poems" and "Poe's Short Stories."

In the lecture, "The Mind of Poe," Dr. Campbell refuted the well known statement of Sidney Lanier that "The trouble with Poe is that he did not know enough," pointing out that Poe accomplished more in his brief career than any other writer has been able to accomplish in a period of equal length.

Dr. Campbell is also the editor of the "Seven Sages of Rome," Albion Series, and is the author of "The Seven Sages to Rome With Special Reference to the Middle Ages English Versions." He has been a contributor to the Cambridge History of American Literature.

SPORT WAVES

By JACK BELZNER.

Equipment for spring football training was issued yesterday afternoon and, according to Coach Francis A. Schmidt, practice will begin next Monday. Drills will be held daily at 3 o'clock and will continue through May 23. About 25 or 30 men are expected to report for practice. Othol Martin, three-letter man at the wing position will be assistant to Coach Schmidt. He will fill the capacity of line coach. Next fall he will assist "Dutch" Meyer with the freshman linemen.

Today at Austin, the Horned Frog diamond artists will open their southern series with the University of Texas and tomorrow they will take on the Baylor Bears, present league leaders, at Waco. Meyer states that Atkins will probably get the hurling call against the champion Steers. Chappell is expected to start against the Bruins. Meyer says that either Jay Williams, veteran receiver, or Hubert Dennis, sophomore, will do the catching.

Hunter Hill, crack shortstop of last year's Texas Christian nine, made his appearance in the San Benito baseball team lineup last week. The San Benito club is a member of the Valley league and will open its league schedule next week. Hill is considered as one of the best rookie infielders in Texas by the San Benito owners.

This afternoon on the Horned Frog courts the Texas Christian netters will meet the highly touted University of Texas tennis team. To date, the Frogs have had little trouble in stopping all foes, but against the National Intercollegiate champions they will get a real test. McDiarmid and Smith are charted to give their opposition plenty to worry about and it would not be a surprise for them to give the Longhorns a beating.

Varsity Places Second at Meet

Houser, Dallas, Nugent, Snow and Salkeld Take First.

Taking two first places and an assortment of seconds, third and fourths gave Coach Mack Clark's Horned Frogs second place in the triangular track meet between T. C. U., Baylor, and A. & M. on the A. & M. cinders Monday. The Frogs gathered 30 1/2 points. The fast 440-yard relay team composed of Dallas, Snow, Nugent and Houser took first in their event and co-capt. Dan Salkeld heaved the discus 139 feet, 3 inches to score the Horned Frogs' other first place.

Houser, dash star, got off to a bad start on the loose cinders and dropped to third in the century, but came back in the furlong and ran a good race only to be beaten to the tape by Emmons of the Aggies. Gordon Copeland took second place in the half-mile run.

Ernest Brown annexed a third place in the 1 1/4-mile and in the 2-mile, while Howell took third in the discus and Tiner and Dallas tied for third and fourth in the 440-yard dash. Spearman's fourth in the broad jump and tie for fourth in the high jump, and Nugent's fourth place in the javelin throw ended the Clarkmen's scoring.

A. & M. won the meet with 109 1/2 points, and Baylor was third with 28 1/2 points.

Spring Training Will Start Monday

25 to 30 Freshman and Varsity Men Are Expected at 3 o'clock.

Equipment was issued yesterday for spring training and practice will start Monday, according to Coach Schmidt, who will have charge of the pre-season practice.

Freshman baseball and track will be over and all freshman are expected to be out, as well as all varsity men who are not on the baseball or track teams.

Practice will last 17 days only, from April 27 to May 23, and everybody is expected to be out every day, according to Schmidt. Workouts begin at 3 o'clock every day and everybody is expected to be on the field by that time, states the coach.

About 25 or 30 men are expected to report for practice.

Meyermen Leave For Games With Longhorns, Bears

Frogs to Meet Texas in Austin This Afternoon.

ATKINS PITCHING CHOICE Team to Play Baylor Saturday in Waco—16 Players on Trip With Meyer.

By JAY WILLIAMS. Hopelessly out of the title running but ever-dangerous to any team in the conference, Coach Dutch Meyer's Horned Frog baseball team embarked late yesterday on its final jaunt into South Texas to meet the Texas Longhorns in Austin this afternoon and the Baylor Bears in Waco tomorrow.

Sixteen players, including Student Manager Alf Roark, accompanied the doctory Christian mentor on the Frogs' final, road-trip. The team spent last night in Temple and moved into Austin at noon today for its first clash with Coach Billy Ditch's perennial champion Longhorn team.

Atkins Will Pitch. Noble Atkins, giant speed-ball artist, has been nominated for the task of stopping the hard socking Steers. Only twice in history has a Frog moundman succeeded in turning the trick in the Steers' own back-yard. "Hobo" Carson pitched the Purple to a 6-to-5 victory in Austin back in 1926, and last season Rob Ell Cox mastered the Longhorns, Ralton and all, in a brilliant 4-to-3 victory.

Ellsworth Chappell, slender curvball artist who pitched the Frogs to a victory over the Rice Owls here last Friday, will be Meyer's choice against the Baylor Bears in Waco tomorrow. If Atkins or Chappell falters, the Christian mentor plans to place J. W. Townsend on the firing line. Roark is ready if he is needed in either till.

16 Men Are Making Trip. Those who accompanied Coach Meyer on the trip are: Jay Williams, Hubert Dennis and James O'Brien, catchers; Noble Atkins, Ellsworth Chappell, J. W. Townsend and Vance Woolwine, pitchers; John Hirstine, Howard Carrell, Howard Baxter, Johnny Clark and Paul Snow, infielders; "Grassy" Hinton, Hal Wright and Otis Stell, outfielders, and Alf Roark, student manager and pitcher.

Frogs Win Game With Rice Owls

Are in Victory Column for First Time in Current Season.

Stell's single in the ninth scoring Hirstine was sufficient to break a 5-all tie and give Dutch Meyer's T. C. U. Horned Frogs a 6-5 victory over the Rice Owls, putting them in the victory column for the first time during the current season. Carrel, Frog second sacker, was the leading hitter for the day with a perfect day at the bat. Williams and Hirstine, who are now at the top of the batting percentage column, connected for two bingles off the delivery of "Smockey" Klaerner, Owl hurler.

The Owls initiated the game with two runs as the result of a circuit clout over the right field wall by Jones with Koch on first. The Meyer-men put one run across the plate in the second inning, tied the score in the fourth, and in the sixth frame took advantage of Capt. Lee's errors at the shortfield to run up a 5-to-2 margin. The Frog infield went wild in the seventh and let the Feathered Tribe knot the count 5-all. With a tied score in the ninth, Hirstine singled; Carrel sacrificed him to second with a perfectly laid bunt; and Stell's single to right field scored Hirstine and ended the game.

Polliwogs Win Inaugural Game

Wolfmen Have Won One, Lost Two Games of First Starts.

In the 1931 inaugural tilt against the North Texas Aggies, Kinsy was the master of the evening, allowing but one hit off his delivery and retiring 15 of the junior collegians by the strikeout route. While Kinsy kept the batters guessing, his mates were giving him excellent support in the field. Although Warner pitched a masterful game against the Decatur nine in the first game, ten errors behind him proved the Wolfmen's undoing, and they dropped the tilt 4-2. The fact that the freshmen hit the Decatur hurler hard was unable to overshadow the errors made in the field.

In the return game with the N. T. A. C. nine on the Aggies' diamond Tuesday afternoon, Kinsy and Dicky faced each other on the mound again, but seven errors committed behind Kinsy's hurling, coupled with a weakness at the plate, cost the freshman a second loss, 5-2.

Coach Wolf will take his nine to Decatur this afternoon for a return game with the Baptists.

Hiking Team Will Be Selected

Mrs. Helen Murphy will select the varsity hiking team this week-end at the W. A. A. camp at Camp Jarvis. All the girls expecting to make varsity should be present at the camp, according to Miss Anna Beth Baker, manager of hiking for W. A. A.

Opportunities for Hiking Are Afforded Town Girls by W. A. A.

Spring is here despite the wintzy blasts outside. All of us long to get out in the open fields and walk, enjoy the sunshine, and pluck tiny flowers.

All during the winter months town girls have been afforded the opportunity of hiking through the W. A. A. Several girls are members of this branch of the organization. They are Misses Louise Lester, Dorothy Keller and Anna Beth Baker.

The so-called bug and flower hikes are fast taking the place of these pleasure walks. T. C. U.'s hills are covered daily by students in the science departments, all searching for the erstwhile bug or flower that doesn't seem to have put in its appearance as yet.

Blondes Lose Hope as Aggies Show Preference for Brunettes

"A slender, brown-eyed brunette, who wears her dark tresses bobbed, possesses a brain that didn't stop growing when she was a little girl, dances like a nymph and carries a song on her lips as well as in her heart"—that, in part, describes the ideal girl of a Texas Aggie.

A questionnaire was distributed by The Battalion, student weekly publication of A. & M. College, and more than fifty per cent of the enrollment responded as to the color and characteristics of their ideal lass.

Out of 1200 votes cast, brunettes received nearly 900 votes, blondes in excess of 200 and the red-heads found 50 admirers.

The ideal Miss doesn't smoke; she doesn't drink; she doesn't swear. More than 1000 of the 1200 or more who voted were very positive about that. But as to the use of cosmetics, why certainly! What girl doesn't now-a-days? She is a smart dresser, but economical. She has a saving sense of humor, plays bridge and is a good mixer, but she also loves children and her home, goes to church and knows how to cook a good meal. She is a one-man girl who expects her husband to be a one-girl man. Her wealth is not a consideration but her family tree is. She is younger than her sweetheart and unacquainted with marriage, widowhood in her bed.

S.I.A.A. Won By Schmidt Pupils

Pickel, Parker Coach S. I. A. and Gents to Crowns.

Two former pupils of Coach Francis A. Schmidt have succeeded in piloting their teams to the S. I. A. A. championship in the past two years. This championship was won from teams from Louisiana, Tennessee and Kentucky, and is composed of about 20 teams.

In 1930, Elbert Pickel, former Arkansas all-conference man and high scorer in the Southwest conference, coached his Southwestern Louisiana Institute quint of Lafayette, La., to the championship.

This year the championship was won by Centenary, coached by Curtis Parker, former all-conference guard with Arkansas.

Both Parker and Pickel were members of the first basketball team at the University of Arkansas, and members of the first team to win the Southwest conference championship. Parker was captain of the team winning its first championship, and Pickel was high scorer in the conference the same year. Both were selected as all-conference men that year.
