Aggies Will Not Make Corps Trip To T. C. U. Game

Independent Group to Visit on Frogland Campus Oct 17.

ROARK ISSUES INVITATION Kangaroo Band, Girls' Pep Squad to Attend Austin College Clash Tomorrow.

The Aggies are not coming. The annual cadet corps trip which has almost become a tradition at T. C. U. will not be made this year, says Alf Roark, president of the student body of T. C. U., who, in the company of George Young, vice-president of the local A. & M. ex-Students Club, made the trip to College Station Tuesday to issue an invitation to the Aggies. "We have had previous indications that the A. & M. student body were contemplating a change in their annual corps trips," says Alf Roark. "My purpose in going to Aggieland was to perpetuate the invitation from our student body to the student body of A. & M. regardless of whether or not it was accepted. We wish to continue that feeling of hospitality year in and year out."

Aggies Want Trip. "Corps sentiment was strong for the trip to Fort Worth," Roark said, "and there will be several hundred to make the trip to Frogland anyway. All students except freshmen are being excused from classes on the date of the T. C. U.-A. & M. game."

"When we arrived at College Station, they were holding up a pep rally awaiting our arrival. Thinking I was to issue my invitation in chapel the next day, I did not wear a coat and consequently was forced to speak before the cadets without it. Hugh Buck lost his coat two years ago when, as student body president, he was issuing an invitation to the Aggies. This coincidence led several Aggies to wonder whether T. C. U. student body presidents can afford them."

Fine Spirit Is Shown. "We were very hospitably received and wish to commend the student body and officials of A. & M. on their fine spirit of good will."

Several reasons are given why the Aggies have chosen to go to Centenary rather than to T. C. U. The local A. & M. ex-Students Club is not able to offer as much this year as has been its custom. Shreveport has promised the cadets two meals, two dances, passes to the Louisiana State Fair, with entrance to all side shows and passes to all theaters in the city. The A. & M. faculty is pressing the Centenary trip because of a desire to advertise in the Louisiana territory.

Austin College will be well represented Saturday at the game with T. C. U. The Girls' Pep Squad and the Kangaroo Band will be at the Fort Worth game. Plans are also being made to run a special for the student body.

U. S. Army Band Will Give Concert Oct. 22

The United States Army Band which was organized into a permanent unit the spring of 1922 in West Virginia by General Pershing will give a concert the evening of Oct. 22 at Central High School Auditorium.

Capt. Steiner, conductor of the band, is an authority on Latin-American music and has had 29 years experience in band work. Prof. Claude Sammis will conduct one number of the band.

Rally Tonight

Tonight—Big Gym—7 p. m.—Pep Rally. Roland Balch, head yell leader, says so. Austin College game tomorrow. Heap much fun watching Kangaroos jump. Kangaroos this week. Aggies next week. Tulsa won. No hard feelings. But never again. Hot yelling, good spirit, good game, hard fight. Conference championship. No yelling, no spirit, no score, no fight, no conference championship. T. C. U.—Horned Frogs, 1931 Conference Champs? Tonight—Big Gym—7 p. m.—Pep Rally!

Upper Classmen Avoid Jinxes in Chapel Seating

There is a dog's seat in chapel. And would you believe it? The president of the senior class has the seat in the junior-senior chapel and Miss Helen Clark is seated in this seat of seats during freshman-sophomore chapel. Gibson Randle, senior president, first noted the dog's seat when his registration card was handed him. The seat is K-9 (canine).

After asking one student whether he minded sitting in seat number 13, he promptly replied that it was unlucky to sit in any seat in chapel. Murry Livingston said that he didn't mind number 13 since it is near the center of the auditorium and is easy to get out of when chapel is over.

The best seat in chapel is never used. It is A-1. Not many students like to sit in B-2, since they say they would "B-2" near the end. Although only one student sits in one seat in chapel, you can always "C-3."

Usually students on the first three or four rows down stairs hate to sit so close to the platform since it is too hard to study during speeches. For those who always have an appetite, there is one seat which is very fitting. It is I-10 (biscuits). And along with this you can have T-2.

Dr. Hammond to Lead Fellowship

Columbus Day Program to Be Given by History Students.

Dr. W. J. Hammond of the history department of T. C. U. will have charge of the Columbus Day program at the University Religious Fellowship next Sunday evening at 7 o'clock in front of the Main Building.

Dr. W. C. Smith of the sociology department will speak on "The Religion of Primitive Man," and Dr. Hammond will talk on "The Religion of the Spaniards."

The collegiate quartet, composed of Misses Dorothy East, Marian Miller, Christine Ackers and Margot Shaw, will sing an Indian song, accompanied on the piano by Miss Mozelle Bryant.

Local Boy Scouts will take part in the program for the evening.

Last Sunday evening the "T" Association had charge of the Fellowship, with Hal Wright, president, presiding.

Please write your name and mailing address plainly on your entry.

Frog Golf Team Is Practicing

T. C. U.'s divot diggers are again busy. For the past few weeks the golfing populace of T. C. U. has been busy practicing on wood and iron shots.

Last week the following men qualified for the special one dollar membership card at the Worth Hills golf course: A. D. Weatherly, captain, Jim Bailey, Lawrence "Shorty" Floyd, Travis White, Ray McCulloch and Jack Thompson. Because of the fact that only five men are allowed memberships and because of a tie in their qualifying score, Thompson and McCulloch will play a match Tuesday for number five position, stated Captain Weatherly. He also said that the entire team would play in the Boaz tournament next week.

Prominent "Y" Man Talks at Open Forum

Harry Bone Speaks on "What College Students Are Thinking?"

Harry Bone, state secretary of the Student "Y" organization, addressed the T. C. U. open forum luncheon group Thursday on the topic, "What College Students Are Thinking." Noel Roberts introduced the speaker to the discussion group which meets in the alcove of the cafeteria every Thursday at 1 p. m.

An open discussion of ideas suggested by the speaker and participated in by the student and faculty members of the group followed the address. Roberts announced that membership cards were in the hands of Billie Dickey, secretary.

Bone also spoke to an audience of town and dormitory boys Thursday evening in the parlors of Clark Hall. His speech on "The Sex Life of a College Student" prompted a lively discussion following the speech.

Three Frosh Dye and Co-Eds Voice Their Approval

A great change has come about in three of our dear little "froshes." Jim Denison, P. K. Pen and Don Smith were greatly disappointed in the way in which all the girls have failed to appreciate them since they came here to school. They all got together last Tuesday evening to decide what should be done.

The campus co-eds don't appreciate a handsome chap when they see one, they agreed. A change had to be affected.

Jim, Don and P. K. dyed their hair red. Now Jim wanted to attract more attention to one of the fairer sex so he went in for red hair several shades stronger. Don and P. K. will not let Jim get ahead of them so just watch closely and see if their hair does not throw off a gloss sending out redder rays than ever.

Here is a little hint to all of you other boys who do not think that you are getting over socially quite as big as you did last year. Go in for "red" hair yourselves. The girls will love it. Watch them take notice.

Brite Students To Fill Pulpits

Ministers Will Preach In City and Out-of-Town Churches.

Prof. F. E. Billington, chairman of the practical work committee of Brite College, last week assigned the ministerial students to the pulpits which they are to fill this year. Some will have new churches, while others will take new placements.

The students who will preach out of the city and their respective churches are: Perry Gresham, Italy and Milford; Wilford P. Harmon, Terrell; Oliver Harrison, Dickery; Wallace Jones, Carrollton, Palo Pinto and Gordon; Arthur King, Roff, Okla.; Ben Parker, Breckenridge; Pat Sullivan, Walnut Springs; Glen Clark, Grand Prairie; Kenneth Martin, Arcadia Park; Clyde Yarborough, Lucas and Allen; Al Nelson, McKinney; Houston Crump, Archer City, and John Clark, Brazos.

Those preaching at churches in Fort Worth are: L. O. Leet, Arlington Heights; Travis White, Sylvania Heights; Gordon Reed, Community Church in South Fort Worth, and Harvey Scott, Church of Christ in Polytechnic.

Freshmen, Have Pictures Made!

Attention, freshmen! Would you enjoy taking your Horned Frog back to the old home town next summer and showing it to the folks only to have them find that a likeness of your physiognomy is not among those in the book. What horror! What shame! What mortification!

Imagine having to take your book over to Susie's, knowing all the while that your picture will be the first thing that she will seek when she opens its beautiful covers. Then think of having to sit and see Susie as she discovers that you have no picture in The Horned Frog. What will she do, what will she say? Why take unnecessary chances?

Dash down to Bryant's Studio at 705½ Main Street, sometime within the next week and have your picture made for your year-book. Save time and trouble. Do it now.

All freshmen have but one more week in which to have their pictures made. The book will not be a success without your picture in it. Have it made within the time that is allotted the members of your class.

Mrs. Cahoon Is Judge In State Radio Meet

"Spirit of Notre Dame" Is Band Matinee Feature

Miss Rowena Doss Is Elected Honorary Sweetheart.

OFFICERS ARE SELECTED

Bacus Is President, Caldwell Vice-president, Sandifer Secretary.

Street cars will leave the campus tonight at 7:30 o'clock for the RKO-Hollywood Theater where the Horned Frogs Band is sponsoring "The Spirit of Notre Dame," a full length feature film dedicated to Knute Rockne.

Girls in the dormitory will be allowed to go, according to Dean Sadie Beckham. "Skyline," starring Thomas Meighan, is the first picture on the bill. It will begin shortly after 8 o'clock and the football picture will begin at 10 o'clock.

Sweetheart Is Named

Miss Rowena Doss, a senior, was elected Sweetheart of the Band last Saturday out of a field of 15 girls. The primary election held Friday narrowed the field to four girls, Misses Doss, Kathryn Elkins, Doris Higgins and Mozelle Bryant.

The band decided to have the sweetheart play at concerts and to sit with the band at the football games. She will not appear in drills and parades.

Miss Doss is an accomplished pianist and is assistant in the piano department of the University. She is the first blond the band has ever had for sweetheart. Her home is in Weatherford.

Officers Are Announced

Officers of the band were elected Friday. They are: Roy Bacus, president; Charles Caldwell, vice-president, and Cody Sandifer, secretary. Laurence Coulter is publicity director for the band.

Definite announcement has been made by the band that concerts will be given over radio station KTAT every Friday night from 9 to 9:30 o'clock beginning next week.

Lambert, sports editor of The Skiff, was awarded $25 for doing the best work last year in the class of Advertising Principles, taught by Joseph B. Cowan, instructor in journalism.

Haling, radio and feature editor of The Skiff and student assistant in the department of journalism, was awarded $15 for writing the best news story in The Skiff last year. Haling's story concerned the adventures of Dr. W. J. Hammond in Mexico and was written under the direction of Prof. Ridings in the class in Feature Writing.

This is the first year to award the Wimberly-Hubbard prizes which are donated by the Wimberly-Hubbard Advertising Agency of Fort Worth. Students in the department of journalism of junior standing who return to school the following year are eligible for the prizes.

Extra Hour

Hereafter the T. C. U. library will remain open until 10 o'clock each evening on week nights, according to A. R. Curry, librarian.

The change in policy which was inaugurated last Tuesday was made to accommodate those night school students who would not otherwise have access to the library. The library will continue to close at 3 p. m. on Saturdays but students may study until 10 o'clock on all week nights throughout the remainder of the semester. The library does not open on Sundays.

CUTTING CLASSES COSTS.

Nearly every student in the University is enrolled for the fundamental purpose of getting an education. Not many people are ever forced to go to college, and few go without some definite aim.

If every student were enrolled for the fundamental purpose of getting an education, there would be no need to say anything of cutting classes. To those who want to learn and who realize the need to go to class every day, nothing need be said.

Every hour is valuable. During a semester, each three-hour course meets three times each week with a total of about 54 class meetings. If each class is cut nine times, the limit, a student will have missed one-sixth of his college education.

In college, you are your own master. If you are here to learn, you may become educated. If you are here to waste four years of your life, you may prove a detriment to others. It costs about 43 cents every time you cut a class, but the knowledge that you lose by cutting is much more valuable.

CONGRATULATIONS! UNIVERSITY OFFICIALS.

Congratulations, University officials, on the installation of a night school in the University.

Night schools are more and more becoming recognized by working people who are not able to attend the regular session as a means by which they can study and advance farther in their particular line of work.

The installation of night classes at T. C. U. is another step forward, and indicates that the officials are in keeping with the time. Once again we congratulate the officials on seeing a need in the University and providing for it.

The announcement that the library would remain open until 10 o'clock each evening through the week was another step forward by the University officials. The student body should show their appreciation by utilizing that extra hour.

TWO DRUM MAJORS?

It is a known fact, that the last drill given by the Horned Frog Band at the last football game was extremely sluggish. The band did not seem to know what to do. Who got the blame for the sluggishness? The two drum majors.

The idea of two drum majors was not given a fair chance. Neither of the two knew that both of them were to go on the field at the same time at the last football game since outfits were not available until shortly before the game.

The University of Michigan, the University of Illinois, and closer to our territory—the University of Tulsa, have two drum majors. The idea is being taken up all over the United States and Texas Christian is the first in the Southwest Conference to start the idea.

The Skiff is in favor of giving both candidates a chance to prove that the band is in advance of other bands in the conference by having two men lead the band before casting the idea aside.

WELCOME BACK, CY.

Tomorrow Texas Christian's most noted son is due to return to Fort Worth. Cy Leland, known on the gridiron of the Southwest as the "Flying Frog," will return to his old stomping grounds to visit his family and wide circle of friends.

Since his departure to foreign fields last February, the former Frog star has made good. While flying the colors of the Olympic Club of San Francisco, he made an excellent showing in dual meets and the national A. A. U. meet held in Lincoln, Neb. last July.

While in T. C. U., Leland received more publicity than any athlete that has been in the Southwest in a decade. On the championship football eleven of '29, he was the most feared and respected grid warrior in the Southwest.

Because of the fact that he accepted his victories in this spirit, because he refused to stoop to self-conceit, and because he was a man that everyone who knew him admired, we are glad to say:

Welcome home, Cy. Could you stay with us?

A financial expert says a few persons understand the inner workings of the Stock Exchange. Inner workings! Few persons ever get past the margins.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

COULTER'S COLUMN

Somebody asked me why I never attempted to write a serious column. I at once thanked him for the compliment because it left the impression that my column has been funny or maybe the more correct word would be "silly."

The first thing in writing a serious column is to get a serious idea. I got behind in my work Tuesday and had to set the alarm for six o'clock Wednesday morning. I was aroused at five o'clock by the dog next door, and then turned over and went back to sleep.

The first paragraph has ended and I haven't said anything yet as you've no doubt noticed. Well, after smiling hello through the matter in my eyes, I came on up to the office of The Skiff and tried to get an idea. At this stage of the column, I am still trying to get an idea.

I started once to write about the stadium, but I can't get an inspiration from it.

Well, here's the idea at last. Do you ever worry? Nine people out of every ten worry about something or other. Many of the girls on the campus are worrying about some boy and many of the boys are worrying about some girl.

The most foolish thing in the world is to worry over whether you are going to pass a course or not. If you are really interested in getting an education, you will not have to worry.

If you are in love, you nearly always-worry about what the loved one is doing. Why worry over this? You can't do anything about it and if you could you would probably not do it.

Make your actions speak instead of your thoughts or words. Many people go crazy every year because they worry over some problem from morning to night and then dream about it. If we are in a depression, and nearly all the people think we are, don't worry about it.

As I sit here in The Skiff office, I can see an old mule out in the field back of the workshop. Wonder if he worries? Why should he? God takes care of the flowers on the hill and so far He seems to have forgotten nothing to make us comfortable if we use our assets in the right way.

Why worry? Things are accomplished by thinking, not worrying. You don't confront a problem by worrying about it. You confront it by thinking, and when it is through and you haven't accomplished anything just say you've done the best you could.

IF I HAD TIME

If I had time, I'd settle down
And write a book or two.
I'd win a name of great renown
And make a fortune too.

If I had time, I'd study law
And someday I could be
The governor of Arkansas
Or maybe Tennessee.

If I had time, I could become
An artist or a teacher,
Or I could be an editor
Or doctor or great preacher.

If I had time, I'd write for you
Some poetry sublime
To show you just what I could do—
Instead, I write this rhyme.

TODAY AND TOMORROW

Today went away wearing mauve and cool gray.

Today went away, but Hope stayed,
For Hope and Today had quarreled.
Hope sang a song that a little boy heard;

Hope sang a song with only one word,
For Hope knew the heart of the little boy.

Today turned her head and hurried by,
And listened not to the little boy's cry,
Or Hope's new sorrow.

Today stooped down when her course was run
To kiss the face of the setting sun;
Then Hope reached out for the little boy's hand,
And both looked back for Tomorrow.

Open Forum

Editor, The Skiff: Since there has been some discussion concerning the two drum majors, I feel that a few ideas should be corrected.

First, the implication has been made that the band adopted this new thing without any investigation or forethought. As a matter of fact many schools of the East and North are using two drum majors because of the effectiveness of the spectacle. Their marching bands are not so very much larger than ours.

As to what our band and its two leaders did on the field at the L. S. U. game, we realize that there was a lack of coordination and that the result was rather sluggish. This may be explained by the fact that the band had drilled little more than one hour during the week in preparation for the game.

That is only part of it. The drum majors could not practice their stuff together because their hats and batons could not be obtained until a few minutes before the game. Students, you can see that the band has not been given a fair trial. And that is all that is asked. Give the two drum majors a chance to show that they can work together.

THEATERS

Rachel Crothers' "Let Us Be Gay" opened the Little Theater's tenth season Monday night and Elbert Gruver made his inaugural production a fine piece of entertainment. The Little Theater will be Fort Worth's only legitimate theater during the coming season and if such fine plays as this week's attraction are continued the theater will have to be built larger.

The acting honors in this production go to Thomas C. Smith as Townley Town, Pauline Stripling French as Mrs. Brown and Helen Emery as Mrs. Boucicaut. Little Theater goers will remember Smith in "The Play's the Thing" and other productions last season. His performance was without a flaw.

Mrs. French plays the leading role taken by Norma Shearer in the screen version of the play to such an extent that one forgets the talented Norma. And men as well as the girls will be interested in the clothes she wears—and how she can wear them.

Other members of the cast played their parts to get the most out of them. Jane Anderson cleverly played the part of a modern girl. Others in the cast are: Mr. and Mrs. James Calvert, Elmer Y. Waller, Robert Richards, Herbert Hunt, Eve Mayo Novak and Leonard Finger. Waller was the only person in the cast who didn't seem to measure up to the part assigned him.

The play is entertaining and contains several comments on life which gives it a touch of cleverness. The production ends with a matinee tomorrow afternoon and a night performance tomorrow night.

Gruver has invited all students interested in dramatic work to tryout for parts in Little Theater productions. A special price of 50 cents is offered T. C. U. students for Little Theater tickets.—L. C.

The great Greta Garbo comes to the Worth tomorrow in "Susan Lenox (Her Fall and Rise)." The show will stay four days and then Bebe Daniels and the new screen idol, Warren William, will move in with "Honor of the Family."

Garbo's pictures always have a good story and her acting always is above par. And for the girls—Clark Gable is the man in the picture. Next week's Skiff will contain a feature story on the Clark Gable of T. C. U. Better go down to the Worth and figure out who is the idol of T. C. U. We'll bet it is Jay Williams. And that old favorite, Jean Hersholt, is in the cast. He is one of the greatest character actors of all time.

"Oh mama, look at the funny mans" will be the cry at the Palace starting Sunday for four days. Ed-

Seeing as how no one knows who I am, I have a right to say what I please—so if you happen to have something that you don't want printed maybe a box of candy or some flowers might do the trick.

Margot Shaw has a new boy friend. Or shall we say new boy friend? Rowena Doss is all smiles these days—and why shouldn't she be? We won't see her parading, but we will hear her fine piano playing. And won't that extra hour in the library give Jarvis girls a better chance to go somewhere if they are lucky? Now, Mrs. Beckham, we were just kidding. You know that all your girls would not think of such a thing as leaving the library.

die Cantor, the man who says that if we are not in a depression it is the smallest boom he has ever seen, will move in with "Palmy Days." In casting the film, 5,000 pretty girls applied for chorus girls jobs. Now, do you know what makes Eddie's eyes so big? And 37 of the girls are blonds—not all blue eyed. Which proves that all blonde decide sooner or later.

Miss Gladys Dowling Receives Appointment

Miss Gladys Dowling, a graduate of Texas Christian University, has recently been appointed home demonstration agent for Hidalgo County. She will make her headquarters in Edinburg.

Miss Dowling worked for a number of years as a secretary in the headquarters office at College Station, serving first as secretary to the State Home Demonstration Agent and then as secretary to the director.

1000 Letters Is Daily Average of University Mail

A thousand letters a day! That's the average amount of correspondence with which Miss Sylvia Smith, the T. C. U. postmistress has to contend. Quite probably no other student in the University receives nearly so much mail, but Miss Smith has become so accustomed to it that she does not even bother to read the letters.

With six thousand letters to sort and deliver every week, the T. C. U. postoffice is one of the busiest departments of the University.

Twice a day, Julius Truelson, the official "mail dragger," brings a bulging sack of correspondence to Miss Smith, who, assisted by Miss Louise Lester, sorts it out and prepares it for delivery. Many letters are deposited in the students private boxes, while the remainder are delivered to the dormitories. Deliveries are at 7 a. m. and at 4 p. m. Their position is a rather inconspicuous one, but think what an uproar would ensue if Miss Smith and Miss Lester should go on strike!

The fact that the same person does not seem to hold the position of postmistress two years in succession has given rise to much conjecture. However, considering the facilities for blackmail, after one year's service, the postmistress should have become financially independent. The competence with which this tremendous task is handled, however, gives the post-office staff a hearty indorsement.

T.C.U. Graduates Are Doing Welfare Work

Four Social Service Students Engaged, According to Dr. W. C. Smith.

Many of the T. C. U. graduates of last June have been engaged in social case work which has become a veritable employment agency according to Dr. W. C. Smith, head of the sociology department.

A number of jobs have been open, but just now it is very difficult to secure one. The requirement of a student who has taken a course in sociology is that he must be familiar with personal disorganization and re-organization which hamper a person in his adjustments to group life. It really amounts to a talent—that is, reasoning with unreasonable children and attempts to elevate the living conditions of a family of ten who live in three rooms.

Miss Vera Bell Stephenson, Glenn La Due, Miss Ruby Lusk, and Miss Gladys Wilkinson have been engaged in social work during the summer. Since the first of June, Miss Stephenson has been with the Social Service Bureau in Houston. She is a full fledged member of that organization. La Due is doing welfare work in Fort Worth, as is Miss Lusk, who is at the Lassiter Lodge. Miss Wilkinson has a regular position with the Red Cross in Dallas.

Dr. Ascher Finds That Mexicans Must Bathe Before 9 P. M. or Else

"I am not one hundred per cent American," Dr. Margaretha Ascher explained when she was asked to give her opinion on the conditions in Mexico after her return from a visit in that country. "The one hundred per cent American can go to China, Russia or the Fiji Islands and stay two months and come back and tell the whole truth about the country, so in that respect I am no true American. I went there to speak Spanish and to have a good time and not to come back and make speeches and write articles on true conditions in Mexico."

Dr. Ascher, who spent almost three months in Mexico, was enrolled at the summer school which was a branch of the National University of Mexico. Most of the courses were lectures and were extremely interesting, but she said conversing with the educated Mexicans was more enjoyable than the courses.

While in Mexico, Dr. Ascher visited the preparatory school for Mexican boys where she said that one of the best delivered lectures that she had ever heard was given by a Mexican professor on German literature.

Dr. Ascher stated that there were a large number of private schools in Mexico. In the private schools the girls wear dark blue serge uniforms with white sailor cuffs, collars and belts. The students get only a short vacation, since the summer vacation period lasts from Sept. 1 to Oct. 1.

According to Dr. Ascher the housing conditions are unusually good in Mexico City. She said that the newer apartment houses were quite modern but that in some sections of the city the water was turned off at 9 o'clock in the evenings.

One of the most interesting places that Dr. Ascher visited was Cholula, a small town which had so many churches that one could celebrate mass in a different one each day of the year. The churches were adorned with numerous cupolas, one church having more than 100. Some of the most beautiful churches contained barbarous pictures and statues which created a ghostly atmosphere in the interior.

Another picturesque place that Dr. Ascher visited was Xochimilco which was a lake of floating gardens covered with flowers. From this lake Mexico City gets its water supply.

Dr. Ascher said that she visited a number of quaint and peculiar places but that it was impossible to be homesick since there was always to be found the person who would talk about the depression.

SPORTORIALS

By STANDARD LAMBERT
The Horned Frogs have been beaten. They have been forced to drink the bitter dregs from the cup of defeat before the season had developed from its swaddling clothes. To make the pill more bitter to swallow, they have bowed to a team that they knew man-for-man was no match for them. They are wondering what reaction will come from the student body and fans. Will they forsake them, and leave them to fight their battles alone? Will they give their team the popular "thumbs down" that generally accompanies defeat? This writer is beginning his fourth year in T. C. U., and in the past this has not been the rule. In the past they have cheered us when we fell, but quite naturally some of the luster was absent from those cheers that were present when they brought home a victory.

This football season means something to us. Some of us are playing our last season, and naturally want our college careers to wind up in a blaze of glory. Defeat is most bitter to the senior. Defeats that we now suffer because we didn't give that second effort or for some other reason must be looked back on with regret for the rest of our lives. Here I authorize myself to take a simple message from the team to the student body. It is simply this: STICK WITH US THROUGH THE REST OF THE SEASON, AND WE SINCERELY PROMISE TO GIVE YOU AN ELEVEN THAT YOU WILL BE PROUD OF, ONE THAT IS WORTHY OF BEING CALLED "THE FIGHTING PURPLE DEVILS OF T. C. U." AND ONE THAT WILL DO EVERYTHING WITHIN ITS POWER TO LET ANOTHER SOUTHWEST CONFERENCE CHAMPIONSHIP FLAG WAVE FROM YOUR FLAGPOLE AFTER WE DEFEAT THE S. M. U. MUSTANGS IN THE STADIUM NOV. 28.

Much of a team's success lies in a coach's power to make his men fight for him. Line Coach Bear Wolf is not only one of the smartest and trickiest line coaches in the conference, but possesses this unique gift of a personality that will make his line fight for him when all other stimuli fail. One of the linemen's first thoughts while dressing in the hotel in Tulsa after the game was, "What will Bear think?" Coach Wolf was in New Orleans scouting the Aggies. If this writer is not off his nut, when the conference season opens against the Aggies next Saturday, there will be seven men in that forward wall fighting for victory and for their coach.

Mental souvenirs from Tulsa: University of Tulsa 13, the GREAT Texas Christian Horned Frogs a goose egg—that cold berth and rocking Frisco train going up—Lon Evans looking in a sewer pipe for the source of a cry for help and finding a negro ventriloquist and a score of pedestrians on the sidewalk laughing at him—Walter "Brute" Moring, getting "hitchhiker's thumb" highwaying it to Tulsa, and sleeping in a haystack Friday night at some little Oklahoma town—an Indian on every corner—some good looking squaws—how I felt when being interviewed by the sports editor of The Collegian, the Tulsa U. newspaper—that big white ambulance and two stretcher bearers in the end-zone—Spearman's sensational return of several punts and the kick-off at the opening of the second half—Red Oliver's great defensive game—the great Spearman—to-Volok passing combination—several fists between my eyes—Dietzel's pre-lunch appetizer Saturday morning—that two-bit feeling after my fifth defeat in three years of varsity competition—the verbal jabs from the Tulsa fans as we were leaving the field—dreading to face Bear Wolf Monday morning—waking up to the fact that we were going to have to hustle to win a single conference game—tired as heck that night.

Foster Howell Shows Duet Whistling Ability

If Professor Shaw of New York University still thinks whistlers are morons, what would he think of Foster Howell, who can whistle a duet? This singular (or is it plural?) accomplishment might be described as emulating two birds with one pecker, since Howell, in whistling tunes, simultaneously carries both alto and soprano parts.

Smarting Frogs Will Meet A. C. Here Tomorrow

Kangaroo 11 Reported to Be Weaker Than Last Year.

RESERVES WILL START

Lillis, Flewhardy Are Dangerous Backs—Mullenix, Tackle, Tips Beam at 310.

By STANDARD LAMBERT
Still smarting from the 13-to-0 defeat handed them last week at the hands of Tulsa University's Golden Hurricane, the Texas Christian Horned Frogs take the field against the Austin College Kangaroos tomorrow afternoon determined to show a vast improvement. Because of the fact that the Kangaroos are reported to be comparatively weak, Coach Schmidt is planning on starting many of his reserves, but the regulars will be on the sidelines in case of an emergency. It is also probable that the Horned Frog mentor will send the first stringers into the fray for at least a quarter's play rehearsal prior to the tilt with Matty Bell's Texas Aggies next Saturday.

Although the Kangaroos are not doped to be exceptionally strong this year, they have, within the personnel of their roster, a few men who will bear watching. In Flewhardy and Lillis, Coach Gregg has two excellent backs. Lillis will be remembered by Horned Frog fans as the gentleman who intercepted one of Tiner's flotsome "suicide" passes on the 10-yard stripe last year and outstripped the entire Frog eleven for his team's lone tally.

He runs the hundred in 9:9 seconds, and was second in scoring in the Texas Conference last year.

Fans will also have a chance to see Mullenix, giant 310-pound Kangaroo left tackle, who is probably the largest man in a football uniform in this section of the country. He outweighs the "puny" Torrence from L. S. U. by some 46 pounds.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

By BEN BOSWELL

Walter S. Knox, head of the physical training department of the University, has announced the dates of the various intramural activities for this fall. There are many boys who are in training now for the coming events in tennis and cross-country, football already being under way. The first two games of the first round of football were played Monday. In the first game, the seniors were beaten 21 to 18 by the sophs in a hard fought contest. The end of the next game found the juniors in a 13-to-6 victory over the frosh.

Play will be resumed Monday with the seniors meeting the juniors and the sophs taking on the frosh. The third and last pair of games of the first round will be settled on Monday, Oct. 19. The second round will begin Oct. 26.

The managers of the various teams are freshmen, Mark Hart; sophomores, Joe Brown; juniors, David Stitt; seniors, Earl Bullington, and the student manager is Malcolm Shackelford.

The two-mile cross-country meet will be held Tuesday. There will be five medals given to the winners of this race. Those entered are: seniors, Laurence Coulter and Weldon Lacy; sophs, John McCaughey, E. M. Fridge, Robert Chappel, Richard Newkirk, Sproesser Wynn; frosh, Harry Burns, Frank Sheldon, James Love, Bennie Sargent, George Darr, Roy Boswell, Guy Blevins and Bill Barnes.

Tennis play will begin Monday, with twenty names already on the list and many more expected to enroll. There will be three medals given in this department. Entrants so far are: seniors, Ellsworth Chappel, Oliver Harrison and Bob Preston; juniors, Orville Paty, William Spurlock, Marion Hicks, David Stitt, Howard Walsh, Milton Mehl; sophomores, R. L. Trimble and Atys Gardner; freshmen, Harry Burns, Leonard Wallace, D. L. Hartman, Jack DeForest, Fred Poffenbach, Mark Hart, Judy Truelson, Frank Lozo and Dick Smith.

Robert "Red" Moore, coach at Mincola High School, was a visitor on the campus last Friday.

Will Get Chance Tomorrow

These three sophomores will likely see much service tomorrow when the Horned Frogs meet the Austin College Kangaroos. Wallace Myers and Jack Langdon, ends, will relieve Salked and Pruitt, and Bud Taylor will see service at right guard. All three have shown up good in previous games and should get an opportunity to show their wares in the coming conference tilts.

E. C. Cameron to Speak At Church Services

In the absence of Dr. L. D. Anderson, pastor, Prof. E. C. Cameron of the Brite College of the Bible will conduct the Sunday services at the First Christian Church of this city. "All We Like Sheep—" will be the subject of his morning message, and "What Is Man?" is the topic for his evening address.

Horseback Riding Group Is Started Tuesday

Five girls went horseback riding Tuesday afternoon to make their hours for W. A. A., according to Miss Marjorie McKean, manager. The girls who went are Misses Virginia Bradford, Poly Durie, McKean, Hallie Maude Haggard and Borden Burghhead.

Snap Courses of Greek and Latin May Be Substituted for Math

Discovered in the current issue of the T. C. U. catalog: One member of the faculty holds five degrees. Of the 79 men and women on the faculty, the others hold from one to four degrees each. Only 27 of the 79 are women. There are 20 faculty committees that do everything from handing out free advice to helping poor deserving students find jobs. Twenty-one graduating classes have given a total of $10,550.80 in class gifts to their alma mater over a period of 24 years. The first endowment to the college was $25,000 from L. C. Brite, for whom Brite College was named.

T. C. U. once had an academy of medical college and a law school. Mathematics is no longer required for a bachelor's degree. Less than 10 percent of the students substitute snap courses as Greek, Latin, philosophy, chemistry or physics. In the June and August classes of 1930 a total of 203 degrees were conferred by the University. When this year's freshmen sophomores there should be no infinitives heard on the campus during the 1931-32 session 45 percent of freshman English are scheduled. The biology department offers courses with such important names as cytology, ontogeny, and organic synthesis.

Horned Frogs Received First Blankets in 1915; Girls Done

Before 1915 the Frog football machine went blanketless. When eleven T. C. U. stalwarts would take the field and prepare for battle they did not have any warm blankets to protect them from northers. But on Nov. 26, 1915, the girls of the University presented the team with 18 new blankets just before the Baylor game. It might be interesting to note that the score of that game was Baylor, 51, T. C. U., 0.

The blankets were purple and white with a large T. C. U. monogram in the center. No small number of the co-eds worked at the task of sewing these monograms on before the presentation. The new coverings cost $65, and the girls again saved day by raising the money through sale of candy and at a series of events. According to The Skiff "the game was fought on a cold day and the blankets were indeed welcome to the fighting boys of T. C. U." It was decided to hand the blankets down from one varsity team to another, but there is no record of exact date when new blankets were received. At any rate, the warmth of the 1931 team can unfold the selves in their snappy warm blankets and be glad that they were not playing football for T. C. U. before especially on cold days.
