Harry Bone Will Head Discussion At "Y" Fellowship Sunday Night

Harry Bone, state secretary of the Student "Y" will conduct an open forum on "Student Initiative in College" at the University Religious Fellowship program to be sponsored by the campus "Y" Associations Sunday evening at 7 o'clock in the University auditorium.

Following a short opening talk by Bone, a general discussion will be held on the subject "Do American College Students Have Sufficient Initiative to Secure an Education?"

Such questions as these will be taken up by the group: "Are Required Courses Detrimental to Student Initiative?" "Is Compulsory Chapel Developmental in Student Initiative?" "Do Modern Intercollegiate Athletics Promote Student Initiative?" "Are College Students Willing to Pay the Price in Responsibility for Exercises?"

Rice Will Send Special to Game

The Rice Owls are planning to bring a special train to Fort Worth Nov. 7 for the Horned Frog-Owl football game. The regular Southern Pacific from Houston arrives in Fort Worth at 7:50 a. m. The special, however, will probably be arranged to arrive at 1 p. m. at the Santa Fe Station.

Journalists Take Many Periodicals

Newspapers from all over the United States are received in the journalism department at T. C. U., both for use in classwork and to enable students to keep up with current events. Among the metropolitan newspapers received are: The New York Times, Dallas Morning News, Houston Chronicle, Houston Post-Dispatch, Kansas City Star, Washington Post, Des Moines Register, Atlanta Constitution, Omaha World-Herald, The Morning Oregonian, Christian Science Monitor, New Orleans Times-Picayune, Boston Evening Transcript, Denver Post, The Baltimore Sun, New York World-Telegram, St. Louis Post Dispatch, New York Evening Graphic, New York Daily News, San Francisco Examiner, and La Prensa, the only New York Spanish daily newspaper published.

on the campus

Knick-knacks and objects d'art observed on sundry occasions—WAYNE STOKES walking around with some little red-haired girl tagging around after him—A group of W-Hey-Hey girls trying to find some gullible lad to cluster about (probably CORINNE KOGER, VIOLET MIKESKA and EVALYN STUBAUGH)—BEN BAXTER fresh from new exploits in Birdville and vicinity—WESLEY DAVIS a n d PROF. McDIARMID entering into a profound discussion of the improbability of marriage and happiness while JAMES WATKINS slips out of the room and ZILPHA HASKINS casts coy glances at one of the speakers (you imagine which one). Skating party notes for use in diaries—MARGOT SHAW "falling for"—BOAZ HOSKINS—Other popular ladies "on the floor" DOROTHY KELLY, MARY FRANCES ROBERTS, FRANCES JOHNSON, and MISS LORRAINE SHERLEY—KAY PRATHER and "supporting cast." JOHN HIRSTINE issues statement for the press—"Have your pictures made"—PHILO MAE MURPHREE seen riding with MARION HICKS, CHARLEY WILLIAMS, FRANK LOZEY, "BOOGER" MA-GOFFIN and PAUL MARTIN.

ing Initiative?" "Are European Students More Responsible in Securing Their Own Education?" and "What Initiative and Responsibility do T. C. U. Students Lack?"

After the devotion led by Patrick Henry, Jack Ruff will give a vocal solo. Paul Martin will have charge of the offering. The service will be closed with the benediction by Nat Wells.

Dramatic Club Holds Initiation

Organization Receives 24 New Members Tuesday Night.

New members of the Dramatic Club were formally initiated Tuesday night in a candle-light service held in the public speaking room in the Administration Building. Mock initiations on Monday and Tuesday preceded the formal reception. The program included talks by Miss Katherine Moore, club sponsor, and Clyde Yarborough, president; a history of the club given by Miss Mary Lillian Anderson, and readings by Miss Mary Brodeaus and Miss Madalyn Whitener.

The following new members were initiated: Misses Francis Griggs, Mary Elva Dillingham, Camille Moore, Mary Nell Poe, Mary Davis, Whitener and Kathryn Ashburn, and Patrick Henry, Bill Anderson, Clarence Crotty, J. W. Sprinkle, Frank Young and X. R. Campbell all of Fort Worth; Misses Jessie Hawkins and Lou Bloomburg of Dallas; Doris Sellars of Hico, Ethelene Craddock of Seymour, Mary Jean Knight of Eddy, Lucy Mae Merritt of DeLeon, Maurine Parnell of Wichita Falls, Janet Largent of McKinney, Rebecca Graves of McKinney and Mae Housel of San Benito, and Jack Roe of Ranger.

'Boy or Man?' Coaches Testing Sally at Tackle

Dan Salkeld, giant Horned Frog end, reported to practice a few minutes late Tuesday afternoon, and Coach Schmidt, who was already on the practice field yelled, "Hey Dan, hurry up and dress, I've got a big surprise for you." Salkeld jumped into his togs and hurried down to see what his coach had in store for him.

He reported, "Aye, aye, sir." A grin spread over Schmidt's face. He put his arm around the big end's shoulders and said, "Sally from now on you're a big bruising tackle. See Bear down there in the corner of the field working the linemen? Well, you go down there and see what he can do with you."

It came as a great shock to the big end, but he trotted to where Bear was, and ran into the line scrimmage with his hand raised as a substitute coming into a game. "Mr. Wolf," he grinned, "a substitution. Salkeld coming in at right tackle." The other linemen were as surprised as Salkeld. Ben Boswell was the first to speak. He walked over from his position at left tackle and shook hands with Salkeld, congratulating him on the promotion.

"Well Sally," Standard Lambert said, "we'll find out in a few days whether you're a man or a boy."

Salkeld went through the scrimmage and made an excellent showing at his new post. After he had pushed aside his eating tools on the training table, one of the boys asked him how he liked his new post.

"Fine," he came back, "the only objection I have is that I'm hemmed in too close. I like to be out there in the open where I can run if I get scared."

Man Can't Enter Heaven or Hell, So Story Tells

On Hallow'e'en when the neighborhood gang upsets all of the flower pots on the front porches and scares the little man who lives on the corner and when fortune telling and merry making is the vogue, few persons realize that Hallow'e'en used to be celebrated in a serious and solemn manner. Centuries before Christ a quiet and expectant group of Celts gathered together under the oaks of Brittany to await the end of summer and the interpretations of the signs of the priests. Upon these signs rested the destiny of their homes and also marked the end of summer and the decline in power and glory of their god, the sun. Great fires were built on the altars of the priests and the people having previously destroyed theirs, carried embers from the priests' fires to their own hearths.

The cats, witches, and jack o'-lanterns that are used for decorations on Hallow'e'en may be traced to the Druids since the cat was their sacred animal and the color black being symbolical of evil omens and mysterious rites. The witches to them were personifications of evil and were supposed to harm the people during the winter months. The jack o'-lantern legend, which sounds like a combination of Diogenes and the wandering Jew, was said to have originated with the inhospitality of a stingy man who was barred from entering heaven and also hell because he played so many jokes on the devil. As punishment for this he was condemned until the judgment day to walk the earth with a lantern to light his way.

Frog Harriers To Meet Eagles

"Pos" Clark, track and cross-country coach, has announced the first cross-country meet of the season which will be held here with Denton Normal tomorrow.

Robert Chappell is the class of the long-winded aggregation, and he can be depended upon to hold up with the best that the other conference members are able to offer. He will be supported by Ernest Brown, Mel Summers, Orville Paty and Laurence Coulter.

The first conference meet of the current season will be held against the Rice Owls Nov. 7 in Fort Worth.

LAST LIMERICK!

On Hallowe'en, the night was so black
That Mose was afraid to even look back.
The spooks were not weary
And Mose was so scary

Last lines must rhyme with first two. Put all entries, addressed to SKIFF-KING CANDY LIMERICK CONTEST, in The Skiff Box in front of chapel by Wednesday Noon. Winners will be announced next week.

Last Lines to Last Limerick Are Due To Reach Century Mark This Week

"When they heard he was a college debater" was the last line Miss Dorothy Conkling entered to win one of the three boxes of King Candy in last week's limerick contest. Other prizes of one-pound boxes of the New Rhythm Chocolates, new package being introduced by King's, will go to Jimmie Walkup and Miss Mary Jean Knight. Tickets were mailed last night to be redeemable at the University Pharmacy.

Walkup's last line was "Now he's training the Frogs in the amphitheater." Miss Knight's line was "But broke and hungry, he stumbled home later." Honorable mention was given to O. B. Jackson, Charles Boatner, and Misses Evelyn Green, Mabelle Bryant, Marion Pace, Mary F. Barnett, Dorothy Coffman, Frances

Is College Spirit All Hokum? Campus Representatives Say No

"College spirit and loyalty is so much hokum," stated Dean Charles M. McConn of Lehigh University last Saturday. What is the general attitude in Texas Christian?

"College loyalty and spirit play a large part in the life of a college man," stated President E. M. Waits. "It produces that invincible something that has been brought up through the years in the life of an institution. It is the university of the heart." He further said that it was an atmosphere gained through the years and tradition back of a university.

E. R. Tucker, registrar, said that the statement had a great deal of truth in it. "If scholastic attainment is placed first in the college life, then a certain amount of loyalty and spirit is a fine thing. A certain amount of college loyalty and spirit is admirable, but it should not be over-emphasized. It should be directed."

Debate Question Is Decided Upon

'Is Capitalism a Failure?' Topic Taken for Discussion.

"Is Capitalism a Failure?" has been announced as the Pi Kappa Delta question for debate for the ensuing season, according to Prof. Lew D. Fallis, debate coach. "The question has not yet been stated as it will be debated but we have received definite notice that this will be the issue."

Although the intercollegiate debate season does not begin until February, Prof. Fallis has announced his intention of taking two men to the pre-season invitation meet in Winfield, Kan. in December to find out the positions other schools are taking on this question. The Kansas meet will last two days and will offer five intercollegiate engagements besides semi-finals and finals. Loving cups will be presented to the winning teams.

"The budget has been arranged to take eight men to Tulsa to the bi-annual national convention of the Pi Kappa Delta in April," says Prof. Fallis. A meeting of all who intend to enter the tryout contests will be called soon by Marion Hicks, vice-president of the Pi Kappa chapter.

Patients of Infirmary To Be Released Soon

Two students have been confined to the infirmary in Clark Hall during the last week. John William Waits, sophomore of Cynthia, Ky., was released Wednesday after spending five days in the infirmary with a wrenched back.

Frank Valencia is recovering from an appendicitis operation. He expects to be released next week. Louis Flanagan of Palestine has withdrawn from the University due to an appendicitis operation.

Sophomores Fail To Take Prexy From River Crest

Patrick Henry Is Given 'Ride' on Eve of Annual Banquet.

PRANK IS TRIED YEARLY

Ambulance Utilized to Spirit Freshman President Into Clubhouse.

Stealing a march on the sophomore class, the freshman class president, Patrick Henry, was spirited into the River Crest Country Clubhouse last night at the annual freshman banquet. The president was taken into the banquet hall without the usual guard and while the entire group of sophomore boys who intended kidnapping the prexy stood looking on without the slightest notions as to what was happening.

Henry Leaves Wednesday. Henry left the campus under full protection Wednesday afternoon. He was taken to Arlington and kept overnight and was absent from the campus all day yesterday. Just before the banquet was started, a blast of sirens was heard coming down West Seventh Street. A white ambulance drew up to the kitchen door of the clubhouse. The sophomores were guarding the grounds and all rushed to the scene of the excitement.

Another ambulance drove up behind the group. This was an invalid coach. Excitement was in the air. Tragedy stalked. Indeed, there was tragedy for the sophomore class. It was defeated. A stretcher bearing the freshman president was taken out of one of the ambulances. The body was entirely covered and the stretcher was carried in the kitchen door. It appeared to be a corpse.

Sophs Hurl Bomb. A few minutes later, the sophomores were astonished to see Patrick Henry, II, firmly seated at the head of the banquet table. There were 87 smiling freshman boys and girls greeting him. Then all was quiet again. The smiles turned to disgust. The sophomores had hurled an unmerciful "stink bomb" into the hall.

Windows were opened. Again the hall rang with laughter. The sophomores left with that feeling of defeat in their minds. They had reached for the freshman president but a freshman had outwitted them. It was none other than Morton Gause Ware. He had utilized his father's ambulances in a big way.

Journalism Dept. In New Quarters

The Journalism department of T. C. U. has moved to its new headquarters in the basement of the gymnasium. The four rooms which the department has taken over include a laboratory, office, storeroom and classroom. The office was located last year in Room 205 in the Administration Building. There are two telephones for use in the department, one in Prof. J. Willard Ridings' private office, and one which is used in connection with the newsroom.

The 52 students in the department are given the tasks of writing and editing copy for The Skiff and gathering news for the T. C. U. News Service, which is directed by Prof. Ridings.

In the laboratory are received a score of metropolitan newspapers from all over the United States, many Texas newspapers, nearly every college paper in the Southwest and many technical journals. There is also a permanent collection of foreign papers from every civilized country in the world.

This is the fifth year that journalism courses have been offered at T. C. U. The first courses were offered in 1927 by Prof. Ridings, head of the department.

Elmo Milling Now Has Position in New York

Elmo Milling, a last year's graduate of the B. A. department of T. C. U., is now connected with the W. T. Grant Company, 1441 Broadway, New York City.

'Merrily We Roll Along' Juniors' Rink Theme Song

"Merrily, we roll along, roll along, roll along." (Not exactly a skating song, but it must suffice until Rudy Vallee can get around to introducing one). Hey-dey night at the roller rink, the college young-bloods whirling and circling in graceful, ungraceful, and disgraceful arcs, bursts of calliope music supplanted by groaning planks as sinew meets resin, gallant lads and gracious ladies. Shades of Carrie Nation, I thought "them days was gone forever." Undoubtedly, great days in town, comparable only to circus day.

Is the coaster rink coming back? One would be led to believe so if he or she watched the 200 students who attended the skating party given by the junior class at the Columbia Rink Monday night. Of course the setting was somewhat different. The hoop-skirts weren't there, but skirts are coming down by seasons. If the skirts are barometers of the times, we may find the old roller rink back among us presently. As for the boys, the corduroys were very much in evidence; back again after 20 years of collegiate disapproval. O whither are we drifting?

GAME OVER RADIO

Stand by for station announcements. Radio Station KFJZ of Fort Worth will broadcast a play-by-play account of the Horned Frog-Razorback tilt in Fayetteville, Ark., tomorrow afternoon, according to Hal Wright, vice-president of the student body. Officials of the Student Body Association had planned to give the broadcast in the University auditorium had KFJZ not decided to offer the broadcast. The broadcast will begin with the musical note of 2 o'clock.

For Professors Only

"How do you like that professor?" is the basis of many conversations every day among students. The answer that is received will have an effect upon other students who are planning to take certain courses which may be electives.

Perhaps the greatest factor in a student's choice of a professor is the amount of work that he assigns. This does not necessarily mean that those professors who assign a minimum of work are the most popular with the students.

If the lessons are presented in a cut and dried order with the subject being dished out to the students, the professor will not make a very favorable impression. There is nothing more enlightening than an occasional discussion on current problems in relation to the various subjects.

If a professor is genuinely interested in a course from the students' standpoint, he will be well liked by the students. No one likes another person who asks how you are and then walks away without listening.

Professors, if you would be popular among the students, take into consideration the time that outside assignments require, the value of the outside work in relation to the class work, and above all consider that the student is taking other courses than your own.

Parasites

You don't have to take a course in botany to know that there are several kinds of parasites. First, we have such animals as fleas and plant lice. The former parasite takes a nip here and there on "Fido" just to let him know that fleas have a good appetite.

But now, we take up the third and most difficult to eradicate of parasites, the human parasite. Borrowers who never pay back what they borrow are to be placed in this class. We all know only too well the student who comes to the class without book, pencil, or paper.

How may we rid the University of these parasites? Most certainly flit will be inadequate for the job. The best way to do this is to refuse to give them aid. Whenever we render service to these people we are encouraging them.

Quiet Please

The greatest amount of studying in the T. C. U. library seems to be done when the fewest number of students are present. In a survey made recently the best studying conditions were found to be from 8:45 to 9:45 o'clock at night.

The fact that students have an extra hour in which to study is no reason why they should not use the periods from 7 to 9 o'clock as efficiently as they do from 9 until 10 o'clock.

Only Two to Go

Students of Texas Christian University, you are to be congratulated on the fine spirit of co-operation you have given in keeping paths from appearing on the campus. There has been a wonderful change in the appearance of our campus through the absence of these ugly paths cut into the grass.

Students, The Skiff is not asking you to stop taking these short-cuts. You are being asked to walk to either side of the paths so that they will disappear. Don't walk in the same trail every time, and you will be able to take the short-cut and at the same time you will not make a path.

You have seen the change in front of the Administration Building and in front of the Library. Remember last year? There was a deep cut on the campus leading from the south door of the Administration Building to the street.

The Skiff again asks you not to walk in the trails and again congratulates and thanks you for your co-operation this year

COULTER'S COLUMN

Sometimes when I start on a column, I just sit down to the typewriter and use my old peck and hunt system, and amble off a column right away. I call it the peck and hunt system because I usually peck and then hunt an eraser.

Seeing as how I am the only one on the staff who knows Ann Gora, I am going to give you a few tips as to what she does and where she goes. It's up to her to keep from being caught because as soon as she is known she loses her job.

She passes through the hall in front of chapel on Monday, Wednesday and Friday at ten minutes to 9 o'clock. She sits in the southeast corner of the library nearly every day around 8 o'clock and you can see her in the cafeteria three times a day.

That's too general you may say. Well, here's some specific information: She asked Mary Louise Spinks for a book on economics Wednesday afternoon in the library. She was seen talking to Lollie Botts directly after chapel Monday morning in front of chapel. She spoke to Howard Walsh between Clark and Goode Halls Tuesday morning about 11 o'clock.

The best news item of last week happened Saturday. There was a blind man standing on the corner waiting for some one to take him across the street in Los Angeles when a young woman asked if she might go across with him. He replied in the affirmative and they crossed the street.

"I certainly do thank you," replied the man. "I want to thank you," the young lady said. She happened to be blind too.

The same thing happened in London on the same day with two men as the figures, but the event turned out in an accident. One of the blind men was hit by an automobile.

Maybeth Ellis says that the only way Parson Brown will ever get out of school will be to marry. From the way he flits here and yon, it looks as if he will be here for quite a spell yet.

Dear Coulter: Should a girl give up her job when she marries? J. D. W. Dear J. D. W.: It sounds like a boy asking this question, so the answer is: Keep your job. If a boy has nerve enough to ask a girl to marry him in this day and time, the girl should be willing to keep up the family.

Several have asked why I never write any advice to the love-lorn any more. I found out that when I practice what I write I never succeed. The girls all think I am just using my own column as a line. But as soon as I discover a new technique I'll give you an earful--no names will be mentioned. Girls, please note.

It is strange though that man will spend four years in college and then act so silly when he gets in love.

Mozelle Bryant didn't think I was a very close observer until I said something about the new dress she had on a few minutes after I had seen her in the hall with one of the now wait--other pretty ones she had. Gee, Mozelle, I know some boys that even notice when a girl has on a new slip. That door into main in front of chapel should be fixed. The light is bad.

I didn't want to mention this, but I thought that I had better put something in about it. There's a surprise in this week's Skiff. We have editorials in it.

Robert Chappel says that he runs two or three miles every day. Dog-gone these bill collectors anyway.

If all the assignments that are given without reason were laid end to end, it would be a good thing to strike a match to them.

On second thought, this column might be devoted to love advice next week. It is getting to be a problem to get a date and harder to keep them because of hard times--or maybe it's the way I ask for them.

TREES

The sycamores are slim young girls Swaying lightly on their feet. The lofty oak with outspread arms Is like a young athlete.

The maple tree is womanly In all her glorious beauty; The pecan tree, a husbandman With vital sense of duty.

The willow is a weeping maid Whose lover late has left her: Her sighing drooping branches show How deeply he bereft her.

The elm tree is a patriarch Tall, calm, and strong and stately. The ash tree is a lady tree And holds herself sedately.

The poplar is a playful boy Who frolics in the breeze.

But I like best the gracefulness Of the bride-like white birch trees. —Mrs. Artemisia Bryson.

NEIGHBORS

Poetry lay down in emerald clover By the side of a rippling stream, And sought with its hands to cover The whole of things as they seem.

Then it boasted to its friend the stream: "My name is Poetry and souls I feed." The answer came assured, serene: "I am Truth and poetry's seed." —Thelma Breithaupt.

THE RIVER

The quiet river is a wet mirror That holds the trees and sky, And when we look into its face we see A silent dream float by. —Marie Hamlett.

Editor, The Skiff:

The morning previous to the recent A. & M. game, much comment was caused by exhibitions of reckless driving in front of the Administration Building. Collegiate flivvers decorated with the colors of both schools gave excellent demonstrations of what the driver should not do.

This is carelessness that might lead to disaster. We picture the frivolity of youth in contrast with the hospital, with a broken-hearted mother or to a child maimed for life.

"Friends and Lovers" comes to the RKO showhouse on Wednesday. You'll find out how to be a friend in company—and a lover without company.

Tibbett is starred in "The Cuban Love Song." It is a Southwest premier and will come to the Palace Sunday. Tibbett takes the lead as a society man of New York who craves excitement. He gets it by joining the Marines.

Every school in this city has warning signs to motorists placed on the streets surrounding the campus. Most of these schools have policemen to direct the traffic during the noon hour rush. Here at T. C. U. we are supposed to be "grown up" and able to cross the streets without aid.

He goes back to Cuba and the girl is dead, so he packs again and goes back to New York to claim the love of the original loved one. The situations prove very amusing and Ernest Torrence provides some genuine laughs.

From the way some of the freshman girls stare out across the chapel balcony to the boys on the opposite side, it is a good thing that they are not sitting side by side. They would probably get a crick in their necks--from looking sideways at each other.

Oh Marion! Marion Tyson! Hello, Marion! Oh, I beg your pardon, I thought you knew me. Mary Frances Roberts came to school last Saturday morning complaining that she had a crick in her neck. She claimed that she went to the show and got too warm. When she came out the weather had changed and the coolness caused the crick.

SOCIETY

By ERNESTINE SCOTT

Spooks, ghosts, and shades of famous dead men will be present at the basketball gymnasium at 7:30 o'clock tonight when the Woman's Athletic Association entertains with a masked Halloween party.

There will be a house of horrors, the revealing of secrets and the foretelling of events in a setting of autumn foliage, cornstalks and pumpkins, overshadowed by a blue moon. Witches will serve apple cider from cauldrons and ghosts will distribute doughnuts in jack o'lanterns. Pumpkin seed throwing contests, ghost stories, and games in which the losers have to unmask will be the entertainment for the members and their guests.

W. A. A. members who will attend the party are: Misses Poly Durie, Virginia Bradford, Corinna Koger, Irene Guhl, Mary Cecelia Gaudin, Harriet Griffin, Evelyn Stobaugh, Edith Mae Murphree, Josephine Newberry, Marian Smith, Juanita Freeman, Lucy Mae Merritt, Katie Ruth Anderson, Helen Clark, Edith Black, Mary Elizabeth Campbell, Katherine Ashford, Gemma Nunley, Ella Stratton, Lillian Shertzer, Ethel Morris, Marjorie Vautrin, Flora Mae Eddins, Katherine Prather, Marjorie McKean, Julia Tankersley, Dorothy Kelly, Josephine Von Sprechen, Janey Hudgens, Christine Ackers and Natalie Collins and Mrs. Helen Walker Murphy.

Parabola to Have Social Meeting

The Parabola will meet the second Thursday in November for a social, according to Jennings Jones, president.

Miss Helen Puckett was appointed chairman of the publicity committee of the club.

Members present at the last meeting were Prof. and Mrs. C. R. Sherer, W. Ramsey, Misses Elizabeth Shelburne, Adolfsen, Ina Bramlett, Mildred Kelly, Maurine Justin, Elna Winson, Anita Wilson, Gertrude Van Landt and Dorothy Keller, and Jones, Irene Van Zandt, Ollie Walker, William Fellows and Howard Fitch. Visitors were: Misses Helen Fellows, Mary Carter and Charlotte Smith, and Sam Gurney and Lee Phenix.

Outcasts Meet At Camp Jarvis

Miss Leta Luyster was chosen president of the Outcasts last week-end at Jarvis Camp. Miss Harriet Griffin is vice-president and Miss Siddle Joe Johnson is secretary-treasurer.

Those who attended the camp were: Misses Catherine Morro, Virginia Bryson, Dorothy Luyster, Amelia Gibson, Mary Alice Wilke, Lola Beasley, Louise Cozens, Doris Nell Twitty, Vera Wightman, Gertrude Wideman, Lois Gray, Luyster, Griffin, and Johnson.

Mrs. Artemisia Bryson, sponsor, chaperoned the group.

Bio-Geo Club Names Three Committees

Program, entertainment, and personnel committees of the Bio-Geo Club announced this week by Monroe Jackson, president, are:

Program committee: Miss Mary Margaret House, Howard Carrell, J. R. Crump, Paul Stroud and Dr. C. I. Alexander.

Entertainment committee: Miss House, Miss Lucille Moreman, Dave Elias, Bill Flood and Mrs. W. M. Winton.

Personnel committee consists of Misses House, Maxine Edwards, Catherine Jackson and Elizabeth Harris, and Carrell.

The regular meetings of the club will be the second Tuesday night of each month.

Miss Krist Given Farewell Shower

Miss Mary Etta Krist, who left T. C. U. last week to make her home in Lincoln, Neb., was entertained with a farewell shower by Miss Martha Duguey last Thursday evening.

Prizes were won by Misses Bea and Dorothy Smith. The guest list included Misses Betty Lou Lillard, Ruby Nell Poe, Alice Ledgerwood, Gladys Simpson, Josephine Patterson, Iris Hays, Billie Potts, Mary Brace and Lorriene Ramsay.

The Brushes Plan Christmas Work

Plans for making and selling Christmas cards were discussed at the last meeting of The Brushes, campus art organization, in the art studio. Members present were: Misses Marie Hamlett, Elna Jane Flicke, Frances Beeson, Cecilia Brown, Cathryn Rail, Sarah Smith and Mrs. Lucille Richbart. The club meets the second and fourth Thursdays of each month.

More About Spirit

Beckham said. "Without a deeply imbedded spirit, the college life is dead."

Miss Lellie Botts thinks that college spirit and loyalty underlie the whole of college life. "No one really realizes what it means to have an Alma Mater until he starts back after the first year. It is an inspiration in the life of every college student to have a true spirit in the classroom as well as on the athletic field."

"College loyalty and spirit is fundamental in the building of character," according to Sterling Brown. "Spirit and loyalty gets closer to the student and has a lasting influence and helps to guide his life in later years. These two things add as much to the college life as the curricular work, only in a different way."

From the standpoint of the college athlete, Ben Boswell gave his opinion: "College wouldn't be college without loyalty and spirit. An athletic team without spirit is never successful. The difference in professional and amateur athletics may be found in this lack of spirit." He said that it is the spirit back of the yells during a game that is felt more than the yells themselves.

"It is practically true that a team rarely ever hears the yells given by the student body, but the minute these yells are discontinued they are missed by every member of the team."

Jimmy Beal said, "A college without spirit is only a group of buildings. Only the material would exist in a rather hum-drum manner in college life without spirit and loyalty."

Girl Wins Poetry Gift

Poem by Miss Johnson Shares First Place in State.

Miss Siddle Joe Johnson's poem, "But Not With Your Eyes," tied for first place with Mrs. Goldie Caper Smith's "Legacy" in the annual lyric poem contest sponsored by the Poetry Society of Texas.

Miss Johnson also won third prize in the annual Old South contest with her poem, "Impermanence."

Miss Johnson won first place in the Texas Poetry Contest in 1927 and in 1929 won third place in the lyric contest.

Graduate in Honduras

Culver Gidden With American Consular Service.

Culver Gidden, a former T. C. U. student, is now in the American Consular Service in the British Honduras, according to word received recently by Prof. John W. Ballard.

In his letter to Prof. Ballard, Gidden tells something of the hurricane disaster in Belize in September, which he witnessed.

Gidden was manager of football here in 1929, the year in which he received his A. B. degree from the University.

Prof. Elliott Speaks To Dallas Civic Body

"Present Day Trends in Economics" is the general subject of a series of lectures being given by Dr. Edwin A. Elliott before the Dallas Civic Federation.

Miss Marie Weldert is attending Baylor University in Waco.

Campus Religious Agencies Unite To Make Fellowships Successful

All the religious agencies on the Texas Christian campus united to organize the University Religious Fellowship in September, 1930, as an experiment in faculty-student community co-operation to face the religious needs of the campus.

The agencies work together under the leadership of an executive committee composed of nine faculty members, eleven students, and one representative from the Women's Council.

Committeemen Are Named. Those on the committee this year are:

University Christian Church: Prof. R. A. Smith, representative from the Church Board; Prof. S. W. Hutton, director of religious education; Mrs. F. E. Billington, Women's Council; Gordon Musgrove, Young People's Department, and Miss Elizabeth Henry, Missionary Circle.

Faculty representatives are President E. M. Waits and Dean Colby D. Hall and two other members of the faculty to be chosen by the T. C. U. Cabinet.

Various class representatives are: Patrick Henry, freshmen; Roy O'Brien, sophomores; Miss Mae Housel, juniors; Robert Preston, seniors, and Jimmie Dacus, the Graduate School.

Other religious organizations: Otto Nielsen, Brite College of the Bible; Noel Roberts, Y. M. C. A.; Lamoyne Laurence, Y. W. C. A., and George Graham, student volunteer.

Other representatives are Dean L. L. Lettwich, Dr. Edwin A. Elliott and Mrs. Helen Fouts Cahoon.

Prof. S. W. Hutton is chairman of the Fellowship committee.

Fellowship Furnishes Programs.

The chief work of the Fellowship has been to furnish Sunday evening programs throughout the year. All organizations on the campus, social, athletic, literary, and religious, are invited to present their interpretations of religion. According to Prof. Hutton, the response to these invitations with wholesome programs of pageantry, drama, music, lecture, forum, etc., outran all expectations last year. Prof. Hutton also said that the year's experiment proved so successful that many other colleges are making inquiries about the movement.

The Fellowship sent two delegates to the National Student Convention in Detroit last December and sent seventeen delegates to the North Texas Student Conference in Dallas. It also contributed to the Fort Worth Community Chest and the Juliet Fowler Home of Dallas.

To Be Enlarged in Future.

The University Religious Fellowship will be enlarged in the future. It will become the Student-Faculty Religious Movement in Texas Christian University.

The tentative schedule of the programs for the first semester of this year has been announced and is as follows: Nov. 8, Armistice Day Program given by the economics department.

Spanish Department on Program.

Nov. 18, Old Spanish Missions, presented by the Spanish department; Nov. 22, Thanksgiving Pageant by the Girls' physical training department; Nov. 29, program of negro spirituals brought by the sociology department; Dec. 6, World Fellowship program sponsored by the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A.; Dec. 13, Christmas play by the Dramatic Club; Dec. 20, program given by the children of the University Christian Church Sunday School; Jan. 10, New Year's program given by the B. B. A. department; Jan. 17, Inter-church night sponsored by the Young People's department of the Church school; Jan. 24, not announced; Jan. 31, Grande Resume by the Brite College of the Bible Club.

ON THE AIR

With ELBERT HALING

Bing Crosby whose baritone voice may be heard daily, except Sunday, from KRLD or WACO at 8 p. m. is creating a sensation in radio circles. He acquired the nickname from his fondness for "Indian and Cowboy" wherein he could and did shout "Bing-bing" from morning to night, redskins by the hundreds biting the Tacoma dust.—Still nervous when approaching the microphone, but one song is enough to put him at ease.—Five feet, nine inches tall, weighs 165, has blue eyes, brown hair, and is tanned.—His speaking voice is very husky.—Rehearses an hour and fifteen minutes for every fifteen minute broadcast.

Ben Bernie was playing a round of gold before coming to the Columbia studio for his Tuesday evening 8 o'clock program. He was teeing off at the third hole when an excited individual rushed up.

"Pardon me, sir," said the excited one, "Do you mind if I play through? I've just heard that my wife has been taken seriously ill."

Last Saturday, KRLD was broadcasting the Harvard-State game by telegraph wire. The announcer was using phonograph records of a crowd cheering to serve as a background for his announcements of the plays. Evidently the record hadn't been tried before, as a voice from the record shouted, "Give us a home run." Needless to say, the record was quickly cut off.

Horned Frog Staff To Have Style Show

Prize May Be Given to Class With Most Pictures in Year Book.

The Horned Frog style show will be held the first week in December, according to Miss Lillian Eylers, editor-in-chief.

Freshmen and sophomores may still have their pictures made for the Horned Frog at Bryant's Studio, 705 1/2 Main Street. Miss Eylers has requested that these pictures be made as soon as possible. Juniors will start having their pictures made Monday.

Miss Eylers said that there was a possibility of the class having the largest number of pictures made receiving a prize. Further announcement concerning the prize will be made next week.

Souvenirs Bring Back Happy Thoughts of "Darling" Aggies

Souvenirs bring back happy thoughts of good times, especially those left by our friends, the Aggies. The souvenir may be one of those cute little brass pins, a pennant, or—oh yes, their name the most important of all.

This year, however, there are fewer traces left by the Aggies. Is it that our campus co-eds are losing "IT"? Surely not, for we pride our co-eds on being able to entertain the boys when they come up—at least, the boys all make us think they do.

A. & M. College is a popular college with our co-eds because more letters are received from A. & M. than any other college, especially is this true after a visit here.

One of our sophomore co-eds since the A. & M. visitors returned to College Station has received a letter signed "Your (prospective) friend." This girl can not remember him, only that he was "darling."

Some of the Aggies have a little way of beginning their letters with French or Spanish. We do not know whether or not that is their way of making love or a way of really expressing how they felt. Our co-eds have not decided which it is.

One co-ed on the campus received a letter of apology for the condition the Aggie boy friend was in when he left Fort Worth. He was jealous he said, because a T. C. U. sheik had beat his time.

SPORTORIALS

By STANDARD LAMBERT

While these lines are being run through the press, the writer and a squad of some 28 men will be aboard a Frisco train enroute to Fayetteville, Ark. with one avowed purpose in mind—to thwart Arkansas' plans for a successful and happy homecoming.

Although it is true that the Razorbacks are rated as the "weak sister" of the conference, they are rather hard to get along with when the exes and old grads are in the stands looking at them. The last time that the Christians made the long trek into the heart of the Ozarks to meet the Arkansans, it was Homecoming Day. There was a guard on the Horned Frog eleven known as Bear Wolf, and the Razorbacks had a coach named Francis Schmidt. The two clerics battled until late in the third quarter and after each team had crossed the other's goal line and kicked the extra point, it seemed that the game was destined to end in a 7-to-7 deadlock. Bear was called back to place kick from his 40-yard line. He sent the pigskin squarely between the uprights to give his team a well-earned 10-to-7 victory.

The coach across the field moaned and cursed his fate. The battered guard, as well as his purple teammates were jubilant over the victory. Today Coach Francis A. Schmidt and Raymond "Bear" Wolf invade Arkansas at the helm of the 1931 edition of the Texas Christian Horned Frogs. Today both are centering their efforts to defeat the Razorbacks on Homecoming Day.

In spite of Coach Schmidt's warning against overconfidence, I can't help but believe that we have the better ball club, and that we'll bring back a big hunk of Razorback ham for Mrs. Harris to cook for Sunday morning breakfast to go with those eggs.

With the Razorback's not rated as dangerous, now is the time to begin thinking of the future. Next Saturday the toughest team in the Southwest will invade Frogland determined to be the first Rice eleven that has beaten the Horned Frogs since they entered the conference. Those babies are tough, and there are plenty of them—about 60 to be exact. If we can send them back to Houston with the small end of the score, we won't have a whole lot more trouble winning the conference title. What I mean, if we can win from the Owls, we're conference title bound.

We can't do it alone though. It's going to take twice as much yelling, and ten times as much school spirit as was exhibited when the Aggies were here. Let's get to talking it now. Tell every football man you meet that you want him to beat the Owls. It would make a whale of a lot of difference in the team play if 250 students would tell every member of the team that you wanted him to win. We can fight harder when we know we have somebody behind us. This is a suggestion of my own. Try it and see how it works.

Mental souvenirs from Abilene: The pleasure the whole team got out of fighting for "Sally, Jack and Lucy" before their home-towners. Fitzgerald, Cowboy tackle playing the entire game in short pants without hip pad or thigh guards. The whole squad bathing in the Simmons gym after playing in that muck and slime. How sore it made the entire team. Never saw so many blondes in my life. Dietzel's beautiful back pass to Spearman and Spearman's determined run for the lone score in the last 75 seconds of the game. Hiding Regan Sayers under a bridge table in the passenger coach until after the conductor passed through. How sore Coach Schmidt was when he found practically his entire team suffering from lime burns after the game due to the carelessness of the Simmons authorities. Eating a heavy meal at midnight. Trying to see a high punt... no more night football for me. The sore, tired and burned Frogs that crawled in their berths that night.

Frogs Play Hogs At Fayetteville On Way to Title

Shifts Made in Lineup to Fill Places of Injured Men.

28 PLAYERS MAKE TRIP

Game Starts at 2 o'Clock to Enable Team to Catch Homebound Train.

By STANDARD LAMBERT

In order to have the needed strength at right tackle, Coach Francis Schmidt has shifted Dan Salkeld, 205-pound left end, to fill the post left vacant by the injured Foster Howell. Now it seems that Lon Evans, who was shifted from left guard to fill the position, and Salkeld, will be dividing time at the post until Howell is able to return to the lineup. It is not yet certain that Evans will be able to start against Arkansas, but should he start, the condition of his shoulder indicates that he may have to retire at any time.

Game Called at 2 P. M.
The Schmidtmen, 28 strong, boarded a Frisco train Thursday night for Fayetteville. Because of the unusual train schedule out of the Razorbacks' stronghold the game is called for 2 o'clock to enable the Frogs to catch the 5 p. m. train back to Fort Worth.

Those who are making the trip are: Snow, Bassinger, Kinzy, Shackelford, Dietzel, Lambert, Hinton, Boswell, Pruitt, Salkeld, Dennis, Evans, Graves, Townsend, Brannon, Green, Woolwine, Oliver, Spearman, Sumner, Taylor, Meyers, Vaughnt, Kitchen, Thomas, Perkins, Langdon and L. Brown.

Lineup Is Indefinite.

The starting lineup is still indefinite. Much depends on whether Evans will be able to start at right tackle. If he starts, Salkeld will probably be held in reserve. If Salkeld starts at left tackle, Wallace Myers, sophomore end from Jacksboro, will be playing left end. Because of serious lime burns in the Abilene tilt last Friday night, there is a possibility of Madison Pruitt's seeing but little service. In that case, Jack Langdon, another brilliant sophomore wingman, will receive the starting bid. It is fairly certain that Pruitt will start and then retire in favor of Langdon later in the contest.

Art Magazine Is Organized at Tex.

Announcement has been made of the establishment at the University of Texas of a new manuscript magazine, "Color," by Bob William Willson and Mike Wicks, editors of the magazine.

This magazine hopes to encourage creative writing—especially of fiction and poetry—by giving careful criticism to all manuscripts received. The critics are experts in their fields—Donald Joseph, J. Frank Dobie, Carl Sandburg, and the editors of the Saturday Evening Post, Country Gentleman, Ladies' Home Journal.

Anyone who is interested may send manuscripts to 1900 Nueces St., Austin, Texas. Manuscripts have been limited to approximately 2,500 words, but longer ones will be read.

Dennis Awarded Cup For Outstanding Work

Hubert Dennis, halfback, was chosen the most valuable Frog player in the T. C. U.-Simmons football game played last Friday night in Abilene. Dennis will receive a Simon loving cup for his brilliant offensive and defensive play throughout the game. Time and time again he tore through the Cowboy line for neat gains and at the same time played a bang-up game on defense.

In the absence of "Pop" Boone, Fort Worth Press sports editor who has been picking the players in the past, Standard Lambert, Skiff sports editor, was called on to name the outstanding player of the game.

Fifteen Girls Report To Archery Practice

Fifteen girls have signed up for the W. A. A. archery group, according to Miss Mary Cecilia Gaudin, manager. They are: Misses Lou Blumberg, Bordue Bierhead, Frances Griggs, Ella Stratman, La Juana Shull, Philo Mae Murphree, Marian Miller, Mildred Malette, Catherine Ball, Eula Tankersley, Dorothy Kelly, Martha Dugey, Ruby Nell Poe, Katie Ruth Anderson, Betty Givens.

Tackle Now

DAN SALKELD

Coach Schmidt has shifted this 205-pound end to tackle to take the place of Foster Howell. Howell will be out for some time because of the injury to his knee. Salkeld has set to work in earnest on the new position and will show his tackle ability tomorrow in the Frog-Hog game.

Five Frog Golfers In Boaz Tourney

Five T. C. U. golfers qualified for the Z. Boaz tournament this week. Capt. A. D. Weatherly and Ray McCulloch of the Frog team and Max Clark, A. J. Baskin, and Jimmie Walkup were the qualifiers. McCulloch, Clark, Baskin and Walkup are in the first flight. Weatherly is in the second flight. Match play in the tournament started Monday and will continue through next Sunday.

Horned Frog Band Holds Initiation

18 New Members Are Formally Admitted to Organization of Musicians.

Initiation for 18 new band members was held Wednesday evening in the gymnasium. Tests had already been passed in musicianship qualifying them for membership in the band.

After the initiation the new members were treated and then led to the steps of Jarvis Hall where they serenaded with such songs as "Let Me Call You Sweetheart," "The Sweetheart of the Band," "Girl of My Dreams," "Sweet Adeline" and "Good Night Ladies."

Those initiated were: Frank White, Lewis Floyd, Jack Panter, J. H. Rigby, R. H. Pittman, Randal Blackman, Fritz Vasquez, Frank Young, Sam Cotton, George Magoffin, Francis Barnes, Weldon Allen, E. T. Fleming, Donald Gillis, J. E. King, J. Mings, Winston Lorimer and Carleton Floyd.

Late Rally Wins For Schmidtmen

Frogs Splash to Lone Score in Abilene Friday Night.

By BEN BOSWELL

PARRAMORE FIELD, ABILENE, Texas, Oct. 23.—With but 70 seconds left to play and with both elevens displaying a big zero for a score, the Texas Christian Horned Frogs executed a combined forward and lateral pass to win a hard-earned 6-to-0 victory over the Simmons Cowboys here tonight. Woolwine's accurate passing and artful receiving on the part of Frog ends and backs netted a 50-yard drive down the field that resulted in the winning touchdown.

For the second successive year, the Frogs and Cowboys splashed and waded through a rugged gridiron duel on a rainsoaked field, and it looked as if the Cowboys' feat of 1930 when they held the Schmidtmen to a scoreless tie would be repeated, but the Woolwine to Dietzel to Spearman passing combination proved too much for the weakening Punched.

The Toads were within striking distance on many occasions, but were able to cross the enemy line only once. They were on the one-yard line once but a fumble sent their hopes floating away in the slime of Parramore Field.

Johnny Vaughnt, on the second play of the game received a blow in the mouth which knocked one of his teeth out and injured another. Madison Pruitt received severe burns from the unslacked lime used to mark the field.

Frosh Look Good In Initial Tilt

Scholastic Difficulties Keep Several on Sidelines.

The prospects for the 1931 freshman football team were brightened last week with a one point victory over a fighting Weatherford Junior College eleven. The Polliwogs are unusually light this year but Coaches Meyer and Martin reports that they have a scrapping bunch of youngsters. They have two more games scheduled with the outstanding junior college teams of the state.

To date several have been kept on the sidelines because of scholastic troubles. No serious injuries have occurred as yet, but several of the men have received minor injuries, which have kept them from practice for a few days.

The line is light and fast and has been looking good on the defense against the varsity.

Several backs have shown up good on offense. Coleman and Kline have been looking good at quarter and full respectively. Other men who have been showing up in the backfield are: Harston, Taylor, Green, Creed, Clark, Laneri and Trainer, while Jacks, Truelson and Martin have been looking good as ends.

Blackmon, Sanderson, Crum and Couser have been fighting for the tackle position. At the guard positions Murray, Kelsay and Chipps have been looking good. A three way fight is being staged for the center position between Floore, Washon and Armes with all three men showing up fine both on offense and defense.

Sports Classes Hold Tournament

A volley ball tournament held Thursday evening marked the close of the volley ball season in the three sports classes of the woman's physical education department. The three classes were divided into four teams being represented by the colors, green, purple, orange, and blue. The "purple" team defeated the "orange" team in the final games played.

Members of the winning team were: Miss Loree Guhl, coach, and Misses Ernestine Autrey, Virginia Bradford, Edna Dees, Georgia Fritz, Mamie Weck Mears, Gemma Nunley, Evelyn Stobaugh, Josephine Newberry and Doris Nell Twitty.

Students who are majoring in the physical education department were officials and coaches in the tournament.

Louisiana Leads Summer Session

Students From 6 States and One Republic Listed In Enrollment.

Students from one republic and six different states, not including Texas, attended summer school at T. C. U. this past summer.

The four students from Louisiana, the leading state, were: Miss Lillian Eyles of Shreveport, Charles Hanna of New Orleans, Travis Alden White of Shreveport and Miss Ethel Wolverton.

Misses Helen Kay Jones of Marietta and Virginia Rawlins of Ardmore are from Oklahoma.

Kentucky had only one representative. That student was Miss Emily Owen Garnett of Glasgow. Kansas was represented by Lloyd W. Biggs of Ft. Riley.

Miss Myrtle Davis of Vicksburg, Mississippi, now a student in T. C. U., was enrolled for the summer session.

Arturo Macias Campirano of Aquas Calientes, was the only student from out of the United States enrolled here for summer school.

Miss Lois Deen is attending Texas Tech in Lubbock.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

By BEN BOSWELL

The juniors have stamped themselves as the probable winners of the intramural football crown by drubbing the frosh aggregation 44 to 0. Meanwhile, the seniors were handing the sophs a 20-to-6 thrashing. The far, the juniors have not lost a game and the fact that there are only five more left, marks this team as almost certain winners.

The reason for the advance of the juniors in the flag chase may be summed up in the playing of Orville Walsh, Marion Hicks and Orville Paty. These three lads have been outstanding in every game played.

The tennis singles have not developed enough to pick favorites, although it appears that Judy Truelson from Dallas, will be near the top when the play ceases.

Dean Hall Announces Subjects of Sermons

Dean Colby D. Hall will be the pastor of the University Christian Church for November. The general theme of the month is "Thinking Through Christianity for Our Twentieth Century."

Dean Hall has announced the following subjects for his messages: "What Shall I Do With Jesus This Twentieth Century," Nov. 1; "How May I Become a Christian This Age of Science," No. 8; "What the Church Must Do to Be Saved," Nov. 16, and "Room! Room! Make Room for Religion in Your Life," Nov. 22.

The Rev. E. B. Salkeld, Abilene, will preach at the service on Nov. 22.

Miss Male, Yarbrough To Have Leads in Play

Miss Elizabeth Male and Clyde Yarbrough have the leading roles in a play, "The Blackbird," which will be presented by the Brite College of the Bible next month.

Other members of the cast are Miss Mary Lillian Anderson, Miss Elizabeth Henry, Albert Jones, Miss Anniel Phares, Arthur King and Miss Eloise Washburn.

Exact date of the play will be announced later.
