Campus Skipper Recommends That Arch Seats Should Be Upholstered

"Hi, there, Skipper," is the greeting Stanley Smith, the night watchman, receives from several scores of students each night. He becomes familiar to freshmen long before any other figure on the campus does.

Smith's duty begins with calling out "bedtime" in the drug store at 6:30 p. m., and is over when the milkman begins his duty.

When asked his opinion on the school and school activities, he made the following comments and suggestions:

"I would suggest that the management furnish cushions for the students at the library as those steps are so hard that the students can't sit more than sixty minutes in the position and be comfortable. Those cushions should be made large enough that a couple could hide behind them without being recognized from the street. The seats at the arch should be upholstered. A concrete walk should be built from the library to the drug-store before the rainy weather begins, as traffic is very heavy between these places.

"I wonder what a certain student from Godley is majoring in, from the time he spends at the switchboard; he must be learning the telephone business.

"I would suggest that the serenaders get their boards in tune and the slivers out of their throats before attempting to entertain Jarvis; maybe the lights would not go out and the clocks stop.

"I am going to open a hamburger stand for the benefit of Paul Packard when he comes in late and hungry.

Twilight Music Hour Will Be Inaugurated

Mrs. Helen Fouts Cahoon, head of the voice department, and Mrs. Katherine Bailey of the piano department will inaugurate a twilight music hour for T. C. U. at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon, Nov. 22.

According to Mrs. Cahoon, one program of this type will be given each month on either the second or third Sunday. A distinguished artist will appear on each program. The purpose of these recitals will be to afford students the opportunity of hearing better music and entertainment.

In the balcony at the show the other night there were quite a few celebrities including LEE BASSINGER, DICK HOUSER, LOLLIE BOTTS, NOEL ROBERTS, ELIZABETH MORRISON and MARGOT SHAW.

And in the front hall in Main—CAMILLE MOORE, WAYNE NEWTON, ORVILLE PATY cross-country track man, ELIZABETH SCHELL, GEMMA NUNLEY, MILT DIEHL, CY LELAND and JANE JARVIS, happiest couple on the campus. Mrs. CLYDE YARBROUGH wishes to announce that the technique that CLYDE used the other night in the play was learned at home.

Last minute additions—AD DIETZEL, BUSTER BRANNON and JEWELL WALLACE.

T. C. U. to Give Program on Air

Dean Hall, Dr. Lord and Mrs. Cahoon Will Appear.

Dean Colby D. Hall and Dr. John Lord will be the speakers on the radio program to be broadcast over radio station WBAP Saturday evening from 7:30 to 8 o'clock. The subject of Dean Hall's talk will be "Accomplishments and Needs of T. C. U." Dr. Lord will speak on "The Aims of T. C. U."

Mrs. Helen Fouts Cahoon of the voice department will sing.

Immediately following the T. C. U. period of broadcasting from 8 to 8:30 o'clock, President Herbert Hoover will be the speaker over a nation-wide radio hook-up in a program sponsored by the Association of American Liberal Arts Colleges.

President E. M. Waits is chairman for the Southwest group of schools, composed of 28 institutions in Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas.

Students Invited To Austin Church

In a long distance telephone call to The Skiff, Rev. Virgil H. Fisher issued an invitation to all Fort Worth young people to attend the special Fort Worth services at the First Methodist Church of Austin. The program will be given Sunday morning at 9:30 o'clock in the auditorium of the church.

More than 89 students are enrolled in Texas University and will be at the special services, according to the Rev. Fisher. The services will be in the form of a radio program. An improvised reproduction of the WBAP studios of Fort Worth will be set up in the church auditorium. The Rev. Fisher was formerly pastor of the Polytechnic Methodist Church of this city and now heads the First Church of Austin.

Survey Shows That Students Are Profiting By Extra Library Hour

"That extra hour" has been one of the most popular topics for discussion on the campus in the past. But now that we have the extra hour, what do we do with it?

Recently a survey was made in the library over a period of three weeks, and, if figures do not lie, the study shows that it pays to keep the library open until 10 o'clock. The largest number in the library at any one time is usually from 7:30 until 8 o'clock. About 8:30 o'clock there is a general exodus. From 8:45 until 10 o'clock the best studying is done. Before 8:45 o'clock a general restlessness prevails, due to so many of the students leaving the library, checking out books and using the card index. From 8:45 o'clock until closing time the students are more settled.

At 9 o'clock each night there is an average of 51 persons in the library. The average number at 9:30 is 29 students, and at 10 o'clock there are usually 11 or 12 students still studying.

Monday night seems to be the most popular night, which is probably due to the lack of study over the weekend. There are also quite a few of the students who attend night classes at the library on Monday evenings.

Science Professors to Attend Conventions

Three members of the science department, Dr. Gayle Scott, Dr. L. A. Chambers and Dr. C. I. Alexander, will attend professional conventions in January.

Dr. Scott and Dr. Alexander will be the guests of the Geological Society of America which will meet in Tulsa.

Cowan Courting While Ashburn Waits for Car

If anyone had passed the office of Prof. Karl Ashburn on Wednesday night, he might have seen the professor working hard on a paper. He worked until 10 o'clock and then rested for awhile. He was waiting on a friend who had borrowed his car and was supposed to be back at exactly 10 o'clock.

If anyone had passed the office of Prof. Ashburn at 11 o'clock, he might have seen the professor writing letters—no one knows whether they were to lady friends or not. He was still waiting for this friend who had borrowed his automobile.

If anyone had passed the office of Prof. Ashburn at 12 o'clock, they would have seen a very tired professor reading. He was still waiting for the friend to come back from seeing HIS GIRL. She lives on Park Hill and incidentally she was one of the candidates for the beauty section last year—she also has a very pretty soprano voice.

At 12:15 o'clock, Prof. Ashburn decided that he might as well look for a place to sleep for awhile. He was still waiting for his friend to bring back his car. He knew that the friend would arrive in time because he was instructor in the journalism department and had to teach an 8 o'clock class.

If anyone had passed Prof. Ashburn's office at 12:30 o'clock, he would have seen Joseph B. Cowan with a sleepy look on his face, handing the professor his car keys. Prof. Ashburn is now trying to find out whether this beauty was singing or just playing the radio to keep Cowan at her home so long.

Incidentally, Prof. Ashburn has only two more payments on his car.

Two Special Trains With Frog Fans Will Leave Tomorrow at 7 A. M. From T.&P. Station

Students Will Arrive in Austin at 12:30 P. M. and Game Will Be Called at 2:00 o'Clock in Memorial Stadium.

Two special trains of T. C. U. students and Frog fans will embark tomorrow morning at 7:30 o'clock from the new T. & P. station en route to Austin for the Frog-Longhorn game, which starts at 2:00 p. m. in Memorial Stadium. The student body of the University has been thronging Pete Wright's office in the

Gaines Announces Dates of Public Lectures Series

ROBINSON IS TO APPEAR No Member of T. C. U. Faculty to Be Presented on This Year's Program.

In announcing the schedule of the lectures to be sponsored by the Public Lectures Committee, Prof. Newton Gaines, chairman of the committee, revealed Monday that Don Blanding will be the only entertainer to be presented during the fall semester.

Blanding, who will appear here Nov. 23, is an adventurer of the Richard Halliburton type. He began his wanderings at the age of fifteen and has worked at a multitude of occupations, having been at times a lumberjack, a rancher, a miner, a newspaper reporter, a commercial artist, a soldier, a cartoonist, a stage manager, an actor, a producer, a playwright, a poet and an author. The subject of his address will be his book, "Hula Moons."

Dramatist to Be Here Feb. 2.

On Feb. 2, Lennox Robinson, dramatist, will appear to give an address on "The Story of the Abbey Theater." The Abbey Theater in Dublin, Ireland, of which Robinson is the manager, has been called "the mother of the Little Theater Movement."

Captain Charles Knight, noted naturalist, will lecture on "Filming the Golden Eagle" on Feb. 11.

Feb. 17, Rupert Howard, juggler and magician, will perform many tricks to illustrate his talk on "Magic Through the Ages."

Britisher Will Lecture.

John Langdon-Davies, author and one time candidate for a seat in the British Parliament, will lecture on March 11 on "An English Innocent Abroad."

The next entertainer to be brought here by the committee will be Gay McLaren, actress, who will present the play, "Helena's Boys." Miss McLaren is noted for her remarkable memory and versatility at character portrayals. She presents her performances with no aid but simple stage settings. She will appear on April 13.

This year no member of the T. C. U. faculty will appear on the lecture series as has been customary in the past.

Men's Glee Club Selects Officers

Officers of the Men's Glee Club will meet soon to discuss plans for out-of-town concerts to be given by the organization, according to Otto Nielsen, president.

Election of officers was completed Tuesday when Patrick Henry was elected business manager. Nielsen was elected president, and Sam Cotton, secretary-treasurer, at a previous meeting. No vice-president was elected as most of those duties will be taken over by the business manager, who makes concert arrangements for the club in various cities.

Schedule of Events.
7:30 a. m.	Specials leave T. & P. station.
12:30 p. m.	Arrive in Austin.
2:00 p. m.	Game at Memorial Stadium.
7:00 p. m.	Special leaves Austin.
12:00 p. m.	Special arrives in Fort Worth.
1:20 a. m.	Regular train leaves Austin.
8:00 a. m.	Regular train arrives in Fort Worth.
(Special tickets are good on regular train.)

Prof. Sammis and a 50-piece Horned Frog Band will make the trip to the Texas campus to settle old scores in friendly musical rivalry with the Longhorn Band. The Fighting Frogs will be trying to avenge the 7-to-0 defeat that was received last year when Cy Leland, dazed by a hard tackle, was calling punt-formation plays on the Texas goal line.

First Train Chaperoned.

According to Alf Roark, students who wish to remain in Austin for the dance may return on the 1:20 a. m. train. Week-end layover tickets will cost $7.45. The authority of the University officials ends with the return of the special train, but dormitory girls may remain in Austin until the late train if their parents are with them or if adequate permission from their parents has been received by school authorities. The first train will be the only one officially chaperoned.

Students who take advantage of the $1 ticket must present their athletic books both at the T. C. U. Stadium when they purchase their tickets and at Memorial Stadium in Austin. Texas Christian officials will be at the entrances to the field in Austin to identify the athletic books.

Armistice Program Is Presented By Band

Mascot Makes Initial Appearance in Chapel—Medley of Songs Played.

A varied concert by the Horned Frog Band and an address on "Internationalism" by Dr. C. Q. Smith, manager of the Methodist Hospital, were features of the Armistice Day chapel program at T. C. U. Wednesday.

The band, under the direction of Prof. Claude Sammis, following the spirit of armistice played a medley of national anthems, dedicating "Over There" to Dr. Edwin A. Elliott, sponsor of the band.

Billy Tom Stewart, new band mascot, made his initial appearance with the band. One of his songs was the "Sweetheart of the Band," written by Don Gillis, a member of the band.

Support Our Advertisers

It is advertising that makes the newspaper possible. When advertising is successful to the advertiser, he will increase his space. Up to a certain level, the quality and size of the paper increases directly as does the amount of advertising.

Remember that what is true of the great dailies is also true of your own student publications. The Skiff has always endeavored to publish a paper that would be comparable to any university paper. It is not only a college paper in the generally accepted sense of the term, but it is a serious attempt at good journalism, through the untiring efforts of instructors and students.

How shall that support be given? By patronizing The Skiff advertisers. The firms which advertise in The Skiff are leaders in their respective lines. It is probable that at least once a day each of us purchases something which is advertised in this paper. We would be accomplishing a real good if at these times we would patronize those who advertise in our school paper.

The amount that is collected at the beginning of the fall semester from each student for charges covering student activities goes only a small way in defraying the costs of publishing The Skiff. The greater part of this expense must be met through advertising. It is through the advertisers that it is possible to have a school paper. Do your part to help—PATRONIZE THE SKIFF ADVERTISERS.

"What Happened—?"

"What happened at class meeting today?" is the question that many Texas Christian students ask after their class has met. Every year there are a certain number of students who never attend a class meeting. Freshmen, sophomores, juniors and seniors are all among that category. They never take an interest in what the class is doing and never take part in its affairs.

The time and place of the class meetings are always announced. Most of the time the meetings are held immediately after chapel while the students are all together. But still, some of the disinterested students get up and walk out.

When something comes up that requires a vote of the entire class, these students are not there. They are in the halls talking, or in some corner getting a last bit of study before class time. When the class votes on some important issue and only half the students are there, the other half will usually want to know why such a silly thing has been done. If they were at class meeting, they could voice their opinions. But no, they are not interested enough.

Every member of each class should get behind the president of the class, and, the next time that there is a class meeting, do not have to ask: "What happened at class meeting today?"

Student Council Offices

In most schools of any size the student officers have some sort of an office to use as their headquarters. When there are tickets to be distributed to the members of a class, there is a definite place to go for them. When there is to be a Student Council meeting or an executive committee meeting, a regular place is set aside. Those attending the meeting do not have to hunt for an empty class room; they have an office in which to hold such meetings.

Oftimes business men and representatives of commercial houses must confer with class officers about matters of importance. If the officers do not have an office they have to say, "All right, we will meet you in the hall and then go to some room." What must these visitors think of a school that does not provide its student leaders with an office or general meeting place?

These leaders in their work give the institution a prodigious amount of advertising. It seems that the least the school could do would be to allow these students some permanent headquarters. Probably the administration would only have to designate a place, and the students would do the rest. They would fix it up. They would take enough pride in it to see that it looked nice. They would show their appreciation by making the offices attractive.

The Community Chest

Every student in T. C. U. should make a contribution, no matter how small, to the Community Chest. The demands of such an organization can not be ignored or passed by as are so many things in our school life.

The Chest meets a real need in this city. It applies the Christian principle of brotherly love to one of the most salient present-day needs. This winter will be an unusually hard one and many will suffer from a lack of food, clothes and shelter. Our contributions in a measure will help eliminate a part of the suffering.

The Community Chest not only affords us a chance to help those less fortunate than we, but is one of the places where we are able to give rather than to receive.

The city must not let the Chest fail. Each student on the campus has a part in this work and must not let his part fall short.

Congratulations, Student "Y"

This year the Y. M. C. A. at Texas Christian has been carrying out a worthwhile program. Included in its work are things that will bring the men of our school a great deal of pleasure and benefit. Such things as providing the dormitories with current magazines, conducting discussion groups in the resident halls on topics of vital interest to the men, and sponsoring open forums have been notable projects.

Every Thursday at 1 o'clock the "Y" has an open forum in the alcove of the cafeteria on some question or subject of general interest. To these meetings the club has invited all men of the University. Some member of the faculty or some outsider presents the topic, under consideration in a short talk. Then follows the discussion by the group.

Noel Roberts, who heads our Student "Y," is to be congratulated upon the excellent way in which he has been carrying on the work of the organization.

COULTER'S COLUMN

THIS is the story of Ezias Ezekias. Now it so happened that in the year 1931 the world was in the depths of the depression. It was the subject of many after dinner speeches and prosperity was said to be just around the corner. Many have died with that statement.

Now it so happened that Ezias Ezekias was a good man by faith and listened to the speeches for some time. He was in the clothing business and he knew that people must buy clothes. He was mistaken because people started making over their last year's overcoats and they wore their last year's underwear. The weather was mild so it happened for the greater part of the fall so people wore their two toned shoes and their pin striped summer linens until, however, Ezias decided that something must be done.

He would advertise. He did. He got in debt. Not directly for the advertising but as a result. The advertising manager of the newspaper told Ezias that he would give him his money back if his advertisement did not bring people into the store. It did. The manager wrote the ad and stated that Ezias would give a new shirt to every man that entered the store next day, which all goes to prove that advertising brings results.

Ezias had a family to keep and food was growing scarce around the home larder. Emma, his wife, had ceased chewing the food for little Hoimy to save waste. She even started leaving out the beans when they had bean soup. All the children had decided not to go to school anymore so that they would save shoe leather. Ezemiah, who went to college, had to quit because he couldn't raise his grades above an F in freshman math.

It really was time that Ezias Ezekias was doing something. On Monday morning, he went down to the store and found that he had 1000 Empress Eugenie hats on hand. It so happened that all the feathers were appearing musty so he decided to put a purple and white feather in each hat. The next day he advertised that the latest style was wearing Empress Eugenie hats with school colors in the feathers. My, my, such business as he had never seen before yet maybe. Before noon his entire stock of Empress Eugenie hats were sitting on 1000 vain college girls. The hats did add something to their looks since one could notice the colors of his dear old Alma Mater.

His next venture was to insure the store for $20,000, including the goods, for burglary and fire. He insured for $10,000 in case of a storm as well. He also insured his eldest son, Ezekiam, for $15,000. The next day he advertised that he would have a great sale. Anything that anyone could get their hands on would be sold for $1. Suits, overcoats, pink B. V. D.'s, crocheted lounging robes, etc.

At five minutes until 9 o'clock the next morning, the glass front to the store was caved in by the crowd. At five minutes after 9 o'clock the entire store was a mass of people fighting for underwear, socks, (some were even flying), handkerchiefs, hats and well, you know what things ladies wear. At 9:30 o'clock the store looked as if a storm had hit. Ezias collected $10,000 of the insurance money.

The next night, Ezias told Ezekiam to go down to the store and bring home a pair of house shoes. When Ezekiam arrived at the store, smoke was coming out of the windows so he turned in the fire alarm. Ten minutes later, 50 firemen were carrying out merchandise by the handfulls. The next day, Ezias collected on burglary and fire insurance—$20,000 worth. Ezekiam, poor boy, had gotten in front of the mad herd of firemen as they carried out the goods and he died the next day.

Such calamities as were approaching on the house hold of Ezias Ezekias. Anyway he banked $15,000 insurance money on Ezekiam on Friday. Ezekiam had had enough insurance to bury himself. He had taken out insurance when he entered college, because he had heard that he might die of hunger while waiting in the registrar's line.

Then Ezias started reading the daily newspapers. He noticed where one firm in his city had banked nearly $50,000 in the last week. Prosperity was really here at last. Ezias noticed that the stock market had boomed five billions of dollars. This happened the day after President

George Bancroft, Helen Hayes to Head Stars in New Week-End Films

Fans will receive quite a dish of new films over this week-end with George Bancroft, Helen Hayes and other new stars stopping over in new flickers. The Worth will show a musical comedy by George White tomorrow night in the only midnight show of the week.

"The Sin of Madelon Claudet," starring Helen Hayes, the noted actress of New York, was adapted to the screen by Charles MacArthur, author of "Front Page" and "The Unholy Garden."

HELEN HAYES

The film is on the same type as "Madam X." Miss Hayes in the beginning as the young Madelon is cheery and care-free, but after she is released from 10 years in prison she is hollow-eyed, eager to breathe the free air and to gaze upon her boy. The narrative is tear drenching and the make-up is splendid. It is Miss Hayes first attempt on the screen and has been acclaimed as a good picture by critics in New York. Louis Stone, Jean Hersholt, Cliff Edwards, Marie Prevost, Neil Hamilton and Karen Morley head the supporting cast. The picture starts Sunday at the Palace.

The best sub-head that we have seen in a long time was printed in the New York Times last Sunday on a review of "Girls About Town." It read: "Attractive Wenches." "Are These Our Children?" is the title of the new picture which comes to the RKO Hollywood tomorrow. The cast includes a bevy of new stars including Eric Linden. The picture is being shown in the Southwest for the first time and is being shown so soon that no information has been sent out on the film. Fort Worth is getting the new films off the lot, so it seems. "Fanny Foley Herself" will move in Wednesday. It's proclaimed to be a scream for laughter.

The Worth brings George Bancroft in "Rich Man's Folly" tomorrow for four days. Bancroft acts the part of a big shipbuilder. The story is one of big enterprise, shipbuilding. Mon-

Hoover started organizing a large credit corporation. Ezias decided to invest in the stock market. He did. His profits ran up to $100,000 in a few days, so he sold his holdings. He was so overjoyed that he bought a Ford and provided work for about 50 men for about five minutes. In a moment of forgetfulness, he decided to give $500 to the Community Chest. But after looking the thing over, he decided that even had his gift been real small it was going for a good cause.

P.S.—This story has nothing to do with anything in particular.

Dean Hall was seen coming out of one of the neighborhood beauty parlors last week. I couldn't see whether his nails were manicured or not—or was it a social call to see if Mrs. Hall was there?

Maudallen Young says that she is going to attend every senior social event of the year. Someone call Dan Fillingim and verify that statement, please.

Archie H. Montford has adopted a small dog as his mascot. Monty says that the dog must be good because 50,000 fleas couldn't be wrong.

L. O. Dallas delayed a long wanted date this week. He went over to Jarvis and some say he even blushed.

Roland Balch better be careful. Ruth Cowan, I thought you had better know this: Roland is meeting Lucy Mae Merritt three times a week and is doing some heavy courting.

I'll be on the last special, so be careful that you don't say too many sweet things. I'm going on the last special cause there won't be any chaperons—and I haven't a date yet.

Albert Jones makes a good lover as was seen in the show the other night. Albert, you should have a real heavy following now in Jarvis.

Overheard in the cafeteria: "I've heard so much about Sarah Beth Boggess' knee that I feel like I must have been the doctor." And that was from one of our erstwhile instructors. Ah, even they hear of Sarah Beth.

My idea of the perfect egotist is the boy who was called conceited and replied that he had good reason to be. No one on the campus has said this. T. C. U. boys are the best sports in the world. How about coming over to Jarvis more often?

It is always safe to learn, even from our enemies—seldom safe to venture to instruct, even our friends. —Colton.

SOCIETY

By ERNESTINE SCOTT

With a holiday granted from classes by the administration and a great flurry among the girls in Jarvis Hall this week to get letters of permission from their parents, there is to be a general exodus from the T. C. U. campus this week-end. Almost the entire student body of 1100 and the University 50-piece band will leave Saturday morning on the special train to Austin to witness the game between the Horned Frogs and the Texas Longhorns. However, some are taking advantage of the holiday and are going home. Although the majority of students will ride the return special that leaves that night shortly after the game, a good number are planning to stay for the entertainment in Austin over the week-end.

W. A. A. Girls Will Dance for Teachers

Four W. A. A. girls will dance next Monday night at a banquet for the public school teachers of Fort Worth to be held at the Texas Hotel at 8 o'clock. The quartet will dance the Spanish "La Jota," the national dance of Spain. The girls, who were selected by Mrs. Helen Walker Murphy, head of the Girls' Physical Education Department, are Misses Philo Mae Murphree, Dorothy Kelly, Mary Louise Mobley and Evelyn Clary. Miss Kathryn Elkins, another W. A. A. girl, will be pianist.

Uncheon Is Given Freshman Officers

Mrs. W. C. Morro, freshman class officer, entertained the officers of the freshman class with a football luncheon at her home, 2710 Greene Avenue, immediately preceding the T. C. U. football game last Saturday. A football motif was carried out in decorations, and miniature footballs were given as favors. Those who attended were Mrs. J. Merlin Rockette, sponsor, Miss Janie Hudgens, Miss Frances Johnston, Patrick Henry, Judy Truelson, Benny Sargent and William Morro.

Parabola Members Attend Candy Pull

The group was divided into four sections and each section played a different game during the first part of the evening. Reeder Shugart was in charge of the entertainment.

Alpha Zeta Pi to Take New Member

Alpha Zeta Pi will hold its initiation meeting next Wednesday evening in Britie College clubroom at 7:30 o'clock. One new member, John Hays Hammond, will be taken into the club. Alpha Zeta Pi is a national honorary romantic language fraternity. Members of the organization who are now attending T. C. U. are Misses Clotilda Houle, Mary Frierson, Nancy Gately, Mary Louise Mobley, Marion Howrey, Marian Smith and Dorothy Conkling. Mrs. Consuelo Brockette is sponsor of the club.

Music Club Gives Outing at Lake

Twenty members of the Music Club, Miss Bonne Enlow of the home economics department and Prof. and Mrs. Claude Sammis attended the Music Club wienner roast held at the Tandy Camp at Lake Worth last Wednesday evening. Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Tandy, owners of the camp, were the hosts. The members present at the roast were: Mrs. Paul Rathbone, Misses Louise Lester, Rubye Williams, Martha Waide, Beatrice Holfield, Rowena Doss, Louise Briscoe, Florence Fallis, Marguerite Tandy, Natalie Collins and Maxine Coffin and Charles Caldwell, Alto Tatum, James Watkins, Cody Sandifer, Clark Rhodes, Murry Livingston, John McGaughey, Ralph Brown and Sam Cotton.

Bio-Geo Club Holds Initiation Service

Initiation for 24 new members of the Bio-Geo Club was held in the basement of Clark Hall Tuesday night. The following are new members of the club: Clyde Alexander, Miss Mary Bowden, Joe Brown, Kossie Buckner, Dave Elias, Miss Vernola Henry, Jack Landgon, Arturo Marcias, Frank Miller, Harry D. Nifong, J. B. Petta, J. B. Phipps, Jr., Miss Catherine Rose, Carl Saln, Jack Shackelford, Ches Shull, Doc Sumner, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas, Edwin Van Orden, James Wisely, Ben Woodbury, Vance Woolwine and Marvin Yeats.

B. C. B. Presents "Blackbird" Play

"The Blackbird," a three-act play written by Ed Mace, a ministerial student in T. C. U. was presented by the Britie College of the Bible Association Wednesday night in the University auditorium. The leading roles were taken by Miss Elizabeth Male and Clyde Yarbrough. Others in the cast were: Misses Annie Phares, Eloise Washburn, Lillian Anderson and Elizabeth Henry, and Gordon Musgrove, Albert Jones and Arthur King. The play which was strictly a student production was directed by Mace. Fred Miller visited with his parents in Ennis last Sunday.

Social Science Club Initiates Members

Seven members were initiated into Pi Gamma Mu, social science fraternity, at its initial meeting this year held in the Britie College clubroom Monday night. Those initiated were: Marion Hicks, Weldon Lacy, Arthur King, Jesse Lloyd, Miss Myrtle Davis, Milton Mehl and Mrs. Mary Barrett. Members of the organization decided to have two meetings a month, one on the first and third Tuesdays. The first monthly meetings are to be business sessions and questions of current interest will be discussed. Dr. W. C. Smith, Prof. Paul Baker, Dr. Edwin Elliott, Dr. Jack Hammond and Prof. H. L. Pickel are the acting Pi Gamma Mu faculty members in T. C. U. A committee of Miss Davis and Mrs. Barrett have charge of plans for a picnic to be held by the organization Tuesday night.

Los Hidalgos to Give Fellowship

Spanish Drama, Songs to Be Given in Worship Theme.

Los Hidalgos will present "The Trail of the Padres," a play written by Miss Eula Lee Carter, sponsor of the club, at the University Religious Fellowship service next Sunday evening at 7 o'clock in the T. C. U. auditorium. Characters in the play will be taken by members of Los Hidalgos. They are: Miss Dorothy Conkling, Melvin Beaver, Jimmy Beal, John Ruff, Paul Donovan, S. A. Wall and John Hammond. Miss Dorothy Dillard will read a poem, "The Alamo." A chorus, under the direction of Miss Janet Largent, will sing during the presentations. This chorus will be composed of Misses Louise Briscoe, Maureen Corder, Ethleen Craddock, Mary Annas Phinney, Betty Lilliard and Louise Cauker. A memorial service honoring T. C. U. deceased ex-students and benefactors of learning was sponsored last Sunday evening at the Fellowship by the economics department, under the direction of Dr. Edwin A. Elliott. During the first part of the program, which honored the deceased T. C. U. ex-students, the auditorium was in darkness. Dr. Gayle Scott gave an address on "T. C. U. Men in the World War," and Miss Bita Mae Hall followed with "In Memoriam to T. C. U. Exes." "In Memoriam to Harry Kruse" was given by Otto Nielsen, after which Dean L. L. Leftwich gave "In Memoriam to Brooks Woodlea and Russell Ball." Eugene V. Debs and Thomas A. Edison, benefactors of learning, were honored by Dr. Jack Hammond and Dr. Charles Sherer, respectively. President E. M. Waits closed the program with an eulogy, "Dr. Greene, Friend of T. C. U."

Freshmen Lead Contest

Prize to Be Given Class Having Most Pictures Made.

The freshman class is leading in the contest for the $10 award offered by the Horned Frog for the class having the greatest percentage of pictures taken. Although the exact percentages of the different classes have not been computed, the freshmen have a wide plurality. At the present date, the freshmen have had 110 pictures made, the sophomores 59, juniors 7, and the seniors 10. The prize was offered because of the unusual slowness with which the students responded to the pleas of the Horned Frog to have all pictures in at an early date. There are several days left to have pictures made at Bryant's Studio. The contest runs until Nov. 23. The winner will be announced as soon as possible after that date.

Howard Carrell Does Work on M. S. Thesis

Howard Carrell of Godley is the only student taking graduate work in the department of geology this year. He will receive the M. S. degree in geology in June. Carrell's program for the year includes three rather extensive field trips, which will be made with students in advanced classes of geology. The trips this year will be made throughout various sections of Texas. Carrell is working on a thesis entitled "Insoluble Residues in Texas Cretaceous," the material for which will be gathered from type localities in Tarrant and adjoining counties.

ON THE AIR

By ELBERT HALING

Dean Colby D. Hall, Prof. John Lord and President E. M. Waits, will speak over WBAP tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock. Mrs. Helen Fouts Cahoon will offer musical numbers. The Horned Frog band plays at 8:40 o'clock Friday nights over KTAT.

Morton Downey, tenor for the Camel Quarter Hour every night, from 6:45 to 7:00 o'clock over KRLD, rises at 9:30 a. m. daily. After setting up exercise, Downey eats a light breakfast and is off for his penthouse office where he spends an hour on business matters. Then he dashes for his vaudeville theater where he appears three times daily. Between shows he learns new songs, receives business callers, and is kept otherwise occupied. He must arrange to be at the studios at 6 o'clock for his Camel broadcast. At 8 o'clock he is rushing back to the theatre, only to return to the studios at 11 o'clock for the late broadcast to the West coast.

After the broadcast he goes to the Central Park Casino where he entertains until early morning. Then to bed for a few hours of much needed sleep. During these activities Downey finds it necessary to make three changes of evening dress clothes. He sings 32 songs daily. The life of a radio tenor is not all that it is cracked up to be, as you can see.

College Humor Accepts Story by John Hammond

John Hammond of Memphis, senior in the department of journalism, received a check this week from College Humor magazine for his contribution to the Collegiate World Department, a new section of sports features. The brief accepted by College Humor concerned Marion Hammon, all-American football star of S. M. U. last year, who injured his shoulder while putting on a jersey which was several sizes too small for him.

"Where ya goin', wolf?" "Aw,—just prowlin' around. Wanta go too?" "How 'bout a cigarette, p-i-l-l, pal?" "Aw, pshaw! The wolves got me." "How about a match too?" "Need a lung? Awfullest pack of wolves I ever saw."

"I hear ya talking. Well,—quit your grunting. I'll give you one sometime maybe." "It's not that. Im just a sick woman."

"What's the matter? Have the bees gotcha? I told ya that other guy would put the roller skates under ya."

"Uh huh, I was out with that little gal myself last night and she said she sure did love me."

"Yeh???" "Yeh. Shes really a dilly, isn't she?" "Aw you (---)."

Boswell's Broken Leg Is Unimproved

Ben Boswell, giant Frog tackle who received a broken leg in the T. C. U.-Arkansas game, has been reported unimproved. The leg was at first thought to be sprained but X-ray pictures revealed that the leg was broken close to the knee. The giant tackle has been confined to his bed for the past two weeks and it will be impossible for him to go to Austin to see his teammates play the Texas Longhorns.

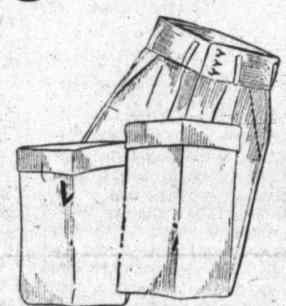

Divot Diggers to Use Glen Garden Course

The Glen Garden Country Club has been obtained by the T. C. U. golf team to use in the fall and spring matches. The River Crest course was formerly used, but it could not be obtained this year. Capt. A. D. Weatherly announced that a match with the Central High School squad is pending.

THE WOMAN'S FAIR

SPORTORIALS

By STANDARD LAMBERT

"You're good only when you are going your best." This axiom has been preached to the Horned Frogs every since Francis A. Schmidt took over the athletic helm here in 1929. It was the constant repeating of that phrase to men, who were old and experienced enough to realize the truth that was behind it, that won for Texas Christian its only gridiron championship. It was the forgetting of the warning that sent them down to a 35-to-14 ignominious defeat at the hands of the Baylor Bears last year, and was the direct cause of the embarrassing 13-to-0 drubbing suffered at Tulsa this year.

Although there have been no signs of our forgetting it this year, now that we have beaten the team that made Texas look like just so many boys, it is an opportune time for it to crop out. Optimism has been crowned king in the Frog camp, and over-confidence has been declared a traitor. Every Frog has appointed himself as a committee of one to combat any signs of "cockiness" that might crop out. When we take the field against the thrice-beaten Longhorns Saturday, every Frog will have confidence that we can win, but will be saying over and over in his mind, "I'm only good when I'm doing my best." With that spirit we will be the fourth team to lick the former champions but with the spirit that S. M. U. has made famous, we will again drink those bitter dregs of defeat.

It is true that we pulled over a real hump last Saturday. It is true that we have three conference rivals' scalp on our belt, but it is equally true that the roughest part of the road is in front of us. Now is no time for us to throw our chest out and attempt to rest on our past laurels. Now is no time to let down. This is the crucial moment. It is the moment that tests our metal. It is when the champions are divided from the second raters. It will decide whether we're really champions or fakes that haven't hit any real competition yet. If the student body will just keep faith and work as hard for a championship as we are, the Fates could not be so ironical as to deny us of it.

The old timers will remember that in 1928, we went to the Texas game undefeated, and the Longhorns set us back with a one-touchdown defeat. They will also remember that Baylor came up the next week and defeated us by one point. Those who followed the Frogs last year will also remember that we met Texas last year with a clean record, and both Texas and Baylor gave us a licking. We are at the same point now. We have a clean record with Texas, Baylor and S. M. U. coming up. What will we do about it?

One bleak December night in 1928 at the final football banquet of the year, a newly-elected captain by the name of Mike Brumelow asked for every Frog and Polliwog in the banquet hall who would pledge himself to give his all for a championship to arise to his feet. Every man arose. Less than a year later the fad of the Southwest was bowing to the Purple Frogs as overlords of Southwest's gridirons.

At the close of that year, the oath was not repeated. In the glamor of hand-shaking and patting each other on the back, this vital part was forgotten. Less than a year later the greatest chance for a team to win two consecutive football titles faded with the disastrous results of the Texas and Baylor games. Last December at the combined Horned Frog-Polliwog banquet, a modest fullback by the name of Harlos Green was honored with the captaincy. Green's first official act after his acceptance speech was another motion that all who would give everything for a football championship this year to arise. Every man in the room arose. Now is the time to make good those words. Now is time to test whether we're men or mere braggarts. Let's go for a championship.

27 Horned Frogs Off for Capital To Play Steers

Howell and Evans Are Ready—Oliver May Not Start.

By CHARLIE CASPER

Coach Francis A. Schmidt and a band of 27 Horned Frogs boarded a Katy train this morning for Austin to encounter the Texas Longhorns in their fourth conference battle of the season. The game will be played College Wednesday. The crippled Saturday afternoon. The remainder of the squad will follow Saturday morning on the special train with the students. With the exception of Ben Boswell the entire squad will be ready to "go get those Steers."

Howell at Right Tackle.

Foster Howell, who has been on the injured list since the A. & M. game, will be back in the starting lineup. He played about twelve minutes in the Rice game, but the coaches thought it best to keep him in reserve for the Texas game. Evans will also be ready to go Saturday. He has been among the injured since the Aggie game. He was all primed to go in the Rice game but he injured his shoulder during practice the day before. Oliver is about the only one in doubt at the present time. He was injured in the Rice game and has been taking things light all week. Dennis will start, but Oliver will be ready to go when called.

Texas Beaten Three Times.

The Longhorns have been beaten three times this year, but hit their stride last week when they downed Baylor by a 25-to-0 score. They boast of one of the strongest backfields in the conference this year. They have two all-conference men from last year in Koy and Stafford. Their backs are fast and powerful and will have to be watched closely. The line is about the same as it was last year. T. C. U. has beaten Texas only once, but that once was in none other than the great Memorial Stadium. If the Frogs can get by Texas they are well on their way to another conference championship.

Coach Schmidt will probably start the same men against Texas that he started against Rice. The probable starting lineup will be composed of Salkeld and Pruitt, ends; Howell and Perkins, tackles; Vaught and Lambert, guards; Townsend, center; Hinton, Dennis, Spearman, and Capt. Green in the backfield.

Contract Is Let for Senior Invitations

Class Selects Gift Committee and Other Groups for Year's Work.

The contract for senior invitations was awarded last week, according to Gibson Randle, senior class president. The invitation committee is composed of Miss Frances Griggs, Miss Philo Mae Murphree and T. W. Carpenter.

A gift committee has also been appointed. It includes Misses Elizabeth Ruff, Clotilda Houle, Mary Jean Knight, Marjorie Scott, Lillian Eylers and Lamoyne Lawrence, and Alf Roark, Vance Woolwine, Noel Roberts, Ray McCulloch and Harlos Green.

Other committees are: Chapel committee: Miss Jane Jarvis, Miss Rowena Doss, John Ruff and Travis White; social committee: Jimmie Beal, Miss Janette Largent, Miss Marion Smith and Fletcher Johnston.

Orders for class rings cannot be taken yet, according to Laurence Coulter, business manager, because of a delay in receiving samples.

Students to Use Pool During Assigned Hours

Students using the T. C. U. swimming pool have to abide by the regular hours which are as follows: The girls may use the pool from 2 to 4 p. m. on Tuesday and Thursdays. From 9 to 11 a. m. and from 12 to 3 p. m. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays the boys have use of the pool. On Tuesdays, Thursday and Saturdays from 9 to 10 a. m. and from 11 a. m. to 2 p. m. are also boys' hours. The faculty of the University uses the pool every day from 4 to 5 p. m. The rest of the time the pool is used by swimming classes and no one but members of the classes is allowed in the pool.

Frogs Win Third Conference Tilt Spearman's Speed and Green's Accuracy Doom Owls.

By JOHN HAMMOND

Blair Spearman's 63-yard run for a touchdown and Harlos Green's accurate place kick for point after touchdown, coupled with great defensive work of Pruitt, Graves, Townsend and Lambert, enabled the Horned Frogs to turn back the highly touted Rice Owls here Saturday 7 to 6 for the third consecutive conference win of the season for the Christians.

The Horned Frogs played the Owls off their feet during the first three quarters of the game, and it looked like a walkaway for the Christians. During the fourth quarter a fumble against the Frogs paved the way for by Spearman and a 15-yard penalty the Owls' lone touchdown. Once inside the Christians' 10-yard line, the Meaghermen took the ball over for a touchdown. A pass, Frye to Jamerson put the ball on the Frogs' 9-yard line, and after two plays netted only three yards, Thrasher skirted left end for six yards and a touchdown. Jamerson failed to come through with the extra point that would have tied the Christians.

The great defensive work of the Christian forward wall in breaking up the Owls' prized running plays kept the boys from South Texas from making any serious threats to score. Time and again Lambert, Vaught, Townsend, Pruitt and Graves broke through the Owl forward wall and threw the Rice backfield for losses.

In the first five minutes of the game the Frogs marched down the field to the Owls' eight-yard line and Spearman missed a chance to mark

Pruitt, Spearman Are Best in Rice Game Oliver Receives Second Simon Award in Arkansas Game for Scoring.

Madison Pruitt and B. W. Spearman were the winners of the two awards given for the outstanding players in the T. C. U.-Rice game. Pruitt was awarded the silver loving cup given by Simon's Jewelry Store and Spearman was awarded a three months pass to the Worth Theatre.

Red Oliver was the winner of the Simon award for the T. C. U.-Arkansas game. Red scored the lone touchdown of the game and was the spark of the Frog offense. This is the second cup Oliver has won this year, having also won the cup for his performance in the T. C. U.-Tulsa University game.

Roy Slentz, manager of the Worth Theatre, has announced that he will give a three months pass to the Frog who makes the first touchdown against Texas this week.

up a tally for the Frogs by dropping Hinton's pass on the five yard line that was squarely in his arms. Rice took the ball, and after losing six yards on three plays punted to Spearman who took it on the run and made his sensational 63-yard gallop for a touchdown.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

By CHARLIE CASPER

The 1931 intramural football season will come to a close Monday with the sophomores and the seniors tangle, to determine the second place winner. This game will have no effect on the standing of the juniors, who have already won the championship.

The sophomores sprang an upset last week by holding the champion juniors to a 12-to-12 tie in a thrilling game of breaks against the sophs. The sophs led the juniors throughout the game and were tied in the last few minutes of the game. Robert Chappell, Joe Carpenter and Pug Brown featured the running and passing attack of the sophs while Orville Paty was a constant threat for the juniors.

The frosh also sprang an upset by holding the strong senior team to a 13-to-7 score. Previously the seniors had handed the frosh a severe beating. The bad breaks rendered the frosh their defeat. The frosh scored early in the first quarter and held the lead until late in the fourth quarter, when Earl Bullington blocked a frosh punt and scored a touchdown on the play. Craig Marion scored the touchdown for the frosh and kicked the extra point. Marion was the spark of the frosh offense and defense throughout the game.

The second place medals will be awarded next week to the winner of the senior-sophomore game.

The following men have been picked as members of the mythical all-intramural team of 1931 by Director Walter S. Knox and this writer. First team: Ends, Walter Moring (sr.) and David Stitt (jr.); guards, Howard

Polliwogs Lose To Plowboys 0-13

STEPHENVILLE, Nov. 11.—For the first time in three years Coach Leo (Dutch) Meyer saw his freshman team go down in defeat at the hands of John Tarleton Agricultural in Memorial Stadium at 2:00 o'clock freshmen put on a good fight but went down in defeat 0 to 13.

Hamil, stag junior Aggie back, scored both the touchdowns for Tarleton in the second and third quarters. Kile kicked goal for the first point but a line play failed for the second try-for-point.

The game was played mostly in the air with both teams completing passes. The freshmen threatened to score in the first quarter but after that they failed to be much of a scoring threat. Taylor and Harston did some brilliant running for the freshmen while Hamil, Sims and Couser stood out for the Tarleton crew.

Walsh (jr.) and Marion Hicks (jr.), center, Milton Mehl (jr.), quarterback, Malcolm Shackelford (sr.), halfback, Robert Chappell (soph.), fullback, Orville Paty (jr.)

Several of these men have served both as linemen and as backs throughout the season. Orville Paty, Robert Chappell, Marion Hicks and Howard Walsh have been the outstanding men of the 1931 season according to Knox.
