Final Exams for Fall Semester
To Be Jan. 25-30

Spring Session Begins
Feb. 1—Students to Enroll Jan. 26.

CHAPEL PROGRAMS MADE

Spring Pageant Will Be Given
May 7—Commencement
Exercises May 30.

Final examinations for the fall semester, Jan. 25-30, are the next items of interest on the University calendar. Enrollment of new students for the spring semester will begin on Jan. 26 and last until the beginning of the new term on Feb. 1.

Holidays, March 25-28.

With the exception of the Easter holidays, March 25-28, the chapel programs to be presented by the various University organizations will be the features of the calendar for the coming semester. The first of these will be presented by the Dana Press Club on Lincoln's birthday, Friday, Feb. 12. A program on Washington's birthday will be presented by the Bryson Club Monday, Feb. 22. The Texas Independence Day program, sponsored by the Dramatic Club, will be presented Wednesday, March 2. The San Jacinto day program will be presented by the Music Club Wednesday April 20, and the Mother's Day program will be presented by Los Hijos Monday, May 9.

Mid-semester examinations will have been completed by the Easter vacation and the spring final examinations will be held between May 28 and June 3.

Trustees to Meet.

The Board of Trustees will meet twice during the semester. At the first of these meetings to be held Thursday, Feb. 11, the faculty for next year will be appointed; the budget will be made and arrangements for the summer session will be completed. The second meeting of the board will be held Monday, May 30 to approve degrees.

A pageant will be presented May 7 under the direction of Mrs. Helen Murphy of the physical education department.

Master's theses must be presented in their preliminary form by April 1 and in their final form by Monday, May 2.

The commencement season will be inaugurated by the Class Day exercises Saturday, May 28. The baccalaureate sermon will be given Sunday, May 29. Commencement exercises will begin at 7:30 p. m. Monday, May 30.

Freshmen In Revue Tonight

CHRISTINE ACKERS DORIS HIGGINS DOROTHY SCOTT NATALIE COLLINS

These freshmen beauties with four representatives from each of the other three classes will be presented in the Horned Frog Beauty Revue tonight at 8:15 o'clock in the University Auditorium. Pictures of the other beauty candidates will be published in future issues of The Skiff.

'Spirit of Youth' Program Theme Fellowship to Sponsor Inter-Church Night Presentation.

"The Spirit of Youth" will be the theme of the Inter-Church Night program to be presented under the auspices of the Young People's Department of the University Christian Church at the University Religious Fellowship service Sunday evening at 7 o'clock in the T. C. U. auditorium. The service will be opened with hymns of youth led by Miss Rita Mae Hall. Dan Packard will be the accompanist. A prayer by Bob Preston will follow. Short talks on young people's work in different faiths will be given as follows: Presbyterian, Miss Elizabeth Male; Baptist, Miss Helen Massey; Jewish, Milton Mehl; Episcopal, John R. Tucker, Jr.; and Methodist, Reeder Shugart.

As a special musical number on the program, Albert Luper will give a violin solo. The offering will be taken under the direction of Dean L. L. Leftwich, after which Cecil A. Morgan will make a talk on "The Work of Youth in Co-operation."

Patrick Henry, Jr., will pronounce the benediction. Gordon Musgrove will preside at the service.

Glee Club's First Concert Is Feb. 7

The T. C. U. Men's Glee Club will begin its concert season with an appearance in Weatherford at 7 o'clock Sunday evening, Feb. 7, according to David Scoular, director.

The program will be sponsored by the First Methodist Church of that city and will be given in the church. Albert Luper, student violinist, will be the instrumental soloist for the club.

Patrick Henry, Jr., business manager of the club, says that letters have been exchanged with Christian churches as far east as Tyler and that the club may be able to make a concert trip southeast including Cleburne, Hillsboro, Corsicana, Athens and Tyler.

Former Student Gets Appointment at Olney

Miss Tillie Smith, who received her A.B. degree from T.C.U. in 1928 and her M.A. degree in 1929 has been elected reading teacher of North Ward in Olney.

Miss Smith has been living in Olney for the past few months where her brother, the Rev. Bedford Smith, is pastor of the Olney Christian Church.

Last year, Miss Smith taught in Randolph College, Cisco. She also has training in public speaking and dramatics.

Mr. Rabbit Fails To Best Redhead In Brilliant Race

Holidays bring time for hunters to shoot at game; Red Oliver, Ben Boswell, Dave Boswell and Don Evans penetrated the wilds of the Boswell Farm during the vacation in search of big game.

Besides a sparrow, a hawk, a field rat and a field lark, the biggest game slaughtered was a big, mule-eared jack rabbit.

Red was sporting a 12-gauge automatic shotgun, and the beast raised up, took a look at Red and was away. Red shot at Mr. Rabbit no less than five times, the capacity of the gun, but Mr. Rabbit just ducked his ears and speeded away.

Red borrowed a double-barrelled gun from Ben and followed the away again, and Mr. Rabbit was caught napping, and Red blazed away again, and Mr. Rabbit was off. The big 10-second red-head dropped his weapon and gave chase, and after a few hundred yards caught the rabbit, only after the rabbit had run through a fence and broke its leg.

So you see all big game hunters are not in Africa.

Mock Trial Will Be Given Feb. 2

Six Face Jury for Disturbing Religious Gathering.

An open trial for the benefit of those interested and the accused will be sponsored by the B. B. A. department in the University Auditorium from 11 to 12 o'clock on Tuesday, Feb. 2.

The following men will be placed on trial for maliciously disturbing a religious meeting held in the auditorium Sunday, Jan. 10, and conduct unbecoming to a gentleman: Otha Tiner, Bob Preston, Dan Salkeld, Jack Langdon, Paul Snow, Alfred Gault and Jinx Powell.

Those charged will be defended by Fred Hammond, Billie Dickey and Richard Ragland. The prosecuting attorneys will be Herschel Gipson, Aubrey Green and Thomas Hanks.

The jury will be composed of Millard Watson, foreman, Will Shaw, Harold Weldon, Dale Smith, Leroy Gregory, Frank Ward, Noel Roberts and Misses Blanche Hall, Eloise Barksdale, Evelyn Cahill, Florence Farmer and Lennie Roberson.

Examination Schedule

No examinations are to be given out of schedule time. Questions will be made out as for a two-hour examination. All papers must be taken up at the end of 2 hours and 30 minutes. (Cabinet ruling.)

Any classes not scheduled may have its examinations given at any time the teacher wishes to arrange within the examination days.

Horned Frog Staff to Present Candidates in Formal Dress in T. C. U. Auditorium at 8:15 o'Clock

Dr. Elliott Will Be Master of Ceremonies—Sproesser Wynn and His 11-Piece Orchestra to Furnish Music.

The sixteen candidates for beauty pages in the 1932 Horned Frog will appear in the T. C. U. auditorium tonight at 8:15 o'clock in the annual Beauty Revue, sponsored by the University year-book staff, according to Sterling Brown, director of the affair. The candidates will be escorted to the stage where they will be presented in the revue. Dr. Edwin A. Elliott will be master of ceremonies and will announce the contestants.

Happy Days Are Here Again; It's Leap Year, Girls

While it may not be as significant, as it once was, nevertheless, it is news, that this year is another Leap Year. As to the origin of the myth leaving it to the fairer sex every fourth year, tradition traces this custom down to St. Patrick, whose alibi for starting it was the charming St. Bridget. During this entire year there will be 53 week-ends and 366 days in which women may propose to men without transgressing on the edicts of Dan Cupid. The most effective procedure always has been a question for discussion, even with men. There are advocates of the "one-two-three-say-yes" system and equally as many supporters of the "approach-forcing" style. Both have known successes and failures.

If it really is love, it should make little difference who proposes the question.

But the students of T. C. U. are not burdening their minds with such worries. With an extra day and an extra week-end they are pondering over how they should spend this added time. A holiday has been debated upon. In this depression-time since most of the students feel that they could little afford a visit home for the day, they would enjoy an all-day picnic maybe.

Band Will Give Denton Concert

The T. C. U. Horned Frog Band will make its first concert trip to Denton where a program will be presented at the College of Industrial Arts on Friday evening, Feb. 5, according to Prof. Claude Sammis, director.

Frank Young of the clarinet section of the band is completing arrangements for appearances in his home town, Iowa Park, and in Wichita Falls.

Farrington Makes Address at Meeting

19 Physical Education Majors Present at Session Held in Gym.

F. S. Farrington of the Fort Worth recreational department made an address on the subject, "A Director of Physical Education in the Public High School Systems of Texas," before a meeting of 19 physical education majors in the auxiliary gym Tuesday night.

Short talks were made by Coaches Francis A. Schmidt and Bear Wolf. Walter S. Knox, who directed the meeting, brought the session to a close by presenting the requirements which go to make an ideal director of physical education.

Between the speeches the T. C. U. tumbling trio, composed of Reeder Shugart, Roland Balch and Bob Preston, and directed by Ed Mace, entertained the group with acrobatic stunts.

The 16 candidates and their escorts are:

Seniors: Miss Mary Louise Gilliam and Joseph Cowan, Miss Jane Jarvis and Cy Leland, Miss Janet Largent and Jack Shackelford and Miss Marian Smith and John McDiarmid.

Juniors: Miss Eloise Barksdale and Love Perkins, Miss Mozelle Bryant and A. D. Weatherly, Miss Irene McCommas and Jinx Powell and Margaret Reeder and Alf Roark.

Sophomores: Miss Lollie Botts and Billie Dickey, Miss Juanita Freeman and Jack Langdon, Miss Camille Moore and Gibson Randle and Miss Margot Shaw and B. W. Spearman.

Freshman: Miss Christine Ackers and S. L. Phelps, Miss Natalie Collins and Otha Tiner, Miss Doris Higgins and Howard Walsh and Miss Dorothy Scott and Owen Barrett.

Music for the affair will be furnished by Sproesser Wynn and his 11-piece orchestra.

Admission to the revue will be 25 cents.

Model Math Class To Be Organized

Candidates for the model 12b math class, freshman trigonometry, introduced by Prof. C. R. Sherer last year as an experiment of the department of mathematics, will take their examination of admittance next Friday afternoon from 1 to 4 o'clock in Room 110.

Members of this selected class must have had a good high school record and exceptional class work during 12a freshman algebra, must have been recommended by the instructor as especially interested in the work and must have passed a rigid examination, according to Prof. Sherer.

Alf Roark Elected To Rotary Club

Alf Roark, president of the student body, has been elected a member of the Fort Worth Rotary Club. The Rotary Club meets each Friday at a luncheon and every type of business man and educator is represented. Roark is the student representative of the club.

Roark is the fifth T.C.U. student to be elected student representative. A. T. Barrett, Hugh Buck, Weir McDiarmid and Gibson Randle were the other students to be members of the club.

Horned Frog Beauty Revue

Tonight will mark the second Horned Frog Beauty Revue—rather it will mark the first Beauty Revue, since the show last year was a style show. The staff of the Horned Frog deserves to be congratulated on its hard work in preparing this review so that the students may pick the beauties for the annual in a much better manner than ever before.

Sterling Brown may be commended on giving us the first of these revues and again this year he is directing the work of the staff so that the show will be a complete success.

It is the duty of every Texas Christian student to attend the Beauty Revue tonight in the University Auditorium. A small charge is being made, which will draw unfavorable remarks from many sources. The Revue this year is being staged to help defray the expenses of the Horned Frog. Last year, the charge was smaller and was needed only to pay for incidentals for staging the show.

An orchestra under the direction of Sproesser Wynn is giving its services for the evening and Dr. Edwin A. Elliott will serve as master of ceremonies. It is up to the students to put the Beauty Revue over and make it a permanent event in Texas Christian.

The annual supports your activities. It is up to you to support the activities of the annual.

"No Smoking"

Tomorrow night, the Horned Frog basketball team will make its first appearance at Texas Christian in a 1932 conference game. The players have been training hard for the past month or so. They know that when they are on the hardwoods that they will need every ounce of strength, every breath of pure air, to be able to keep going at a varsity man's pace.

"No Smoking" signs are visible all over the Frog Fieldhouse and yet some thoughtless persons never seem to believe in signs. If you are a smoker, try to refrain during the course of the basketball game and show the players a little courtesy. You will also be showing those about you a courtesy.

Some of the girls and women who attend the games do not smoke and when the air becomes heavy laden and hazy they too become hazy. All that is asked is that you drop your cigar or cigarette outside the Fieldhouse door and if you want to smoke during the half just step outside the door and enjoy yourself and let others enjoy themselves.

But the greatest good from not smoking in the Fieldhouse will be in the results of the games. With clean and pure air, the players can make the game go faster. The game will be better to watch from a spectator's standpoint. Let's all believe in signs, just for once.

Secretaries or Co-eds?

The organization of the 50-50 clubs has received little opposition at most of the colleges and universities but at the University of Southern California the situation is somewhat different. When 55 students at the University banded together and announced that all their dates must pay half of the expenses, the females of the school immediately voiced their opposition.

Now more than likely the co-eds on the campus still believe in chivalry and Sir Walter Raleigh and his cloak, so they decided to teach the daring, conceited young men a lesson. Furthermore, since it is somewhat more enjoyable to go to a show when one knows that someone else is paying for it, the co-eds declared a boycott against the 50-50 club.

But the lesson was not quite so effective as the co-eds had planned. For as soon as their stand was known the men politely suggested that there were plenty of pretty secretaries in the town who were just as good dancers and who would be willing to accept their proposition. So it is a matter of secretaries or co-eds, unless the latter are willing to relinquish their ideals of galantry and chivalry.

Down With the Roaches

Sometime during the summer months roaches seized Goode Hall, and now they are permanent residents in the upperclassmen's living quarters. Besides being unsanitary they are a daily nuisance. The eat the binding from books, the mucilage from the stamps and envelopes and make themselves a general nuisance. Outside of the eral damage that they do they are constantly crawling around the wash basins, and often keep the Goode men from sleeping by crawling around in the beds.

School has been in progress for nearly three months and nothing has been done about it. The monitors distributed a few harmless powders around in the various rooms, but the supposed poison acts as a drawing card and food for the pests.

Now is the time to knock the parasites. Unless some united efforts are made they will increase every year and will multiply to such great numbers that something will have to be done about them. If it has to be done sometime, why wait until two or three generations of college students have been worried out of their wits? Now is the time. Down with the roaches in Goode.

College Editorials

Practically all college newspapers over the country have among their pages an editorial section. In some, this section is a good space-filler. In others, it is a definite provoker of thought. In some schools, the students as a whole do not know what purpose the editorial column serves because they never read it.

What place—not space—do you think Skiff editorials fill? Are they written about timely topics? Are they worth reading? What editorial subjects that have been written upon this year can you name besides those concerning "No Paths?"

If you have some ideas concerning editorial topics, ask Prof. Ridings to take them up in his Editorial Class, or else write your suggestions in the Open Forum. The editorial column can be made to wield a mighty influence if it will be given a chance.

Read the editorial column in each issue and you will learn and desire to learn more about collegiate thought.

COULTER'S COLUMN

EVER been up in an autogiro? Well, the day before the Christmas holidays, I (if you'll pardon the first person) was the guest of the Beech Nut Chewing Gum Company and got my first glance at the top of the University.

The Beech Nut pilot, a fellow by the name of Faulkner, asked me where I'd like to go so I pointed toward the hill. Idling along at about 80 miles p. m. we soon arrived over the roof of the Administration Building—but the first part of the trip was most interesting so here goes—

I ARRIVED at the airport at 12:45 p. m. and jumped in the front cockpit. A parachute was strapped to my seat and I was strapped to the parachute—if you see my reasoning. In due time the pilot ran out into the sea of mud and soon the giant wings overhead were twirling. Faster and faster they went and in a couple of minutes we started down the runway and within 50 feet we were up in the air. I'm telling you that I never left the ground so quickly in all my life, except when my feet slipped out from under me at a dance once.

The first thing I saw was the stock yards and several head of cattle in the pens. Immediately I thought of all the girls in Jarvis. I'm sure that they would have liked to have been along.

Over the lake road, across West 7th Street and on out to school we hurried. I kinda got stuck up when I saw all the students looking up at the plane—and why shouldn't I—I was way above them.

THE pilot decided to stop all of a sudden and the speedometer registered—3, which seemed to me as if we must have been going backwards. All at once we started dropping and I thought surely that we were going to try to land on top of Goode Hall. The pilot evidently changed his mind, for in the next minute we were again up around 1000 feet. [We were going straight up. I was really up in the air.]

I waved at the fellows standing around the band hall and cursed my forgetfulness for not bringing along two or three copies of the magazine edition of The Skiff to throw down. After a few minutes of circling and turning around on pin heads, I felt that those below might get something that I hadn't even thought of before.

If the ground hadn't been so wet, the pilot might have landed on the library steps so I could have said hello to Eloise Barksdale and Love Perkins. I tried to signal him to drop down and hang around the window of The Skiff office so I could look in the window because I knew that Edwin Van Orden and Louise Cauker were there. Once I looked down and was I surprised? Say, I thought the plane had laid an egg, but on dropping down about 500 feet I found that it was nothing more than Prof. Sammie's head. Worry, worry, worry.

When we were over Jarvis Hall, about 500 feet up, I seemed to catch a faint odor of an obnoxious nature, which subject shouldn't be sniffed at. Thought that I saw Lil Eylers and Buster Brannon, but on looking closer I found that I was looking at the grammar school across from Texas Christian.

FINALLY, the pilot got tired of parking up there and headed back toward the airport. I looked down on Trinity Park and located the favorite parking place of two campus couples and wondered how they ever kept from getting stuck since the mud was so thick. We passed a graveyard on the way back and I kinda hung on a little harder. Those darn tombstones looked too pointed.

After circling the airport a couple of times and hanging in mid air for about five minutes, the pilot suddenly started dropping—with the plane under him of course—and I'll be dog-goned, if I didn't begin to think that we were going to hit so hard that I'd get mud all over me. And let me tell you something, when we did land we didn't run over six feet before the pilot turned the thing in toward the hangars. I started to put my hand out as a signal to the car in back of me, but he turned too fast.

I GOT in the car and started back out to school, which act took me 25 minutes—and I wasn't driving a model T. And no, little Johnny, that wasn't a big fan on top of the plane to help the pilot keep cool under all conditions.

Wonder if the Beech Nut Gum Company wouldn't like to have a Texas Christian representative for advertising by personal contact?

PEN SLIPS

By THELMA BREITHAUPT.

BEGGARS WE TWO.
I beg for life, as you beg bread;
Beggars, we two,
With spirits dead.

You care not whom you chance to meet,
But ask, and get,
While I retreat.

Your only need is just today,
Tomorrow, then,
Be what it may!

With fragile threads, both old and new,
I weave my dreams,
And pity you.

We sit and wait, the two of us,
I for a dream;
You for a crust.

You get your bread and eat your fill,
Then go your way,
But I sit still.

Your quest is done and you forget,
While I must wait,
A beggar yet.

And emptiness is mine to keep;
Feigners, we both,
But I must weep.

—Marie Hamlett.

GRAY RAIN AT DAWN.

Slow through the night the drizzle of rain,
Pressing each leaf to soft, smooth earth;
Still through the night the sighing strain
Of winds that breathe of bastard birth.

Hushed in the night the song of a bird
Hovering alone 'neath dark wet leaves;
Deep in the night a voice is heard
High through the tops of trembling trees.

Calm through the night on the wings of thought,
Deep in the magic of days that are gone,
Young love stifles by the thing that it sought—
And gray rain falls at the coming of dawn.

—Thelma Breithaupt.

GIVE YOUTH ITS DUE.

Inhuman age that shuts the mind to youth
And dims the brilliant eyes that search for truth—
O God, forbid this monstrous shape to live!
This blinded soul that youth can not forgive.

For age, O God, is meant to be a guide
To budding hearts; 'tis not a voice to chide
New dreams of life, magnificently fair.
Broken hearts of spring die in autumn air.

O glorious youth! The pillar of age!
March on, and tread upon the stupid rage
Of frozen hearts that tear your joys away,
For justice reigns when comes the Final Day.

—Ben Boswell.

"X Marks the Spot" and "The Rainbow Trail" Take Screens This Week-End

If we were to start this column with "X Marks the Spot," you would immediately start looking for the X, so instead we will tell you a few things of the new shows that move in over the week-end. The above mentioned title is the film to be shown at the Palace starting tomorrow. Zane Grey's "The Rainbow Trail" opens at the Worth Sunday along with a brand new Fanchon and Marco Idea on the stage.

Sixteen sun-kissed beauties arrive in town from New Orleans to head the new Worth stage show Sunday. The theme is Rhapsody in Rhythm and, if the chorus is anything like the first one that opened the new stage ideas, the front row will have more than just the school kids who stay to see three and four shows.

George O'Brien takes to the horses again in "The Rainbow Trail." There is a new movie horse in this field. Mike is the horse's name and if you'll pardon us—this all seems rather horsey. The picture is rated first class entertainment and has Roscoe Ates, the stuttering gawhoop—gawhoop—gawhoop—a—a—a—oh what's the yu—cahu—gu—gu—ga—mat—ter, in it.

"X Marks the Spot" is a newspaper story with Lew Cody as the driving hard riding—that should have come in the above paragraph—managing editor. The smart-wisecracking reporter is portrayed by Wallace Ford. Fred Kohler and Sally Blane are also in the cast. And we'll bet that Kohler is the gangster in the film and that Sally furnishes the love interest. There is an exciting story built around the reporter and the gangster. Cody is not in his usual love role or more lately his villainous character, but is cast as a managing editor who stops at nothing to get the news. Just like The Skiff.

Personal nomination for the best talkartoon of the 1932 season: "The Ugly Duckling" shown at the Worth in connection with Greta Garbo.

Students Are Ordained

T. W. Carpenter, Wesley Davis Made Ministers in Waco.

Two ministerial students of the University, T. W. Carpenter and Wesley Davis, were ordained as Christian ministers by the Rev. J. Kinney O'Heeron at the Central Christian Church of Waco on Sunday, Jan. 3. Carpenter, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Carpenter of Waco, is only 19 years old and will receive his A. B. degree from T. C. U. in June. Davis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam W. Davis also of Waco. He is 21 years old and will receive his Bachelor of Arts degree from the University in 1933. After this he will work on his B. D. degree.

ANN GORA should have just gobs of material this week but as exams are nearly here and term themes are in order she had quite a job of getting enough material for this week's dirt.

Going back before the holidays, I might mention the fact that Clark Rhodes was seen driving down Magnolia Avenue one night with two people in the seat beside him. One of the persons was none other than James Watkins—and who was the young lady? Well, I'll break down and tell you that Rowena Doss was certainly playing her part as band sweetheart.

Natalie Collins needs to have someone coach her in what's what on the campus.

And who is that couple that is eternally on the steps of the library on pretty nights? Looked like it might be Elizabeth Morrison and Love Perkins, but surely it wasn't Perk. If it were Perk, the girl must have been Eloise Barksdale, known to you as Barksy.

Ruth Cowan and Roland Balch reports that a certain young man on the campus was seen driving through the park with Margaret Reeder—and they say that it wasn't Alf Roark. Anyway, it's better to ride through the park than to sit on a park bench.

And that's not John Hirstine's tux that he'll be wearing tonight. He got the shirt from one place, the tie from another, the socks from another, and the shoes from another. Yes, he'll have on something that belongs to him.

It is reported that "Windy" Jay Williams will be in town again before long. Girls, you haven't a chance. Floy, of the House of Edmundson is reported to be the one and only. But what about all those other girls that Jay is writing letters to?

Alice McAnnally says that boys of this school are not chivalrous at all. Yes, we've noticed that too, Alice.

And who could that be in the corner of the library other than Jinx Powell and—need we mention this at all? Turn around there. Irene and study.

Prettiest smile on the campus—Mary Louise Gilliam.

Five marriages of interest to University students that took place during the Christmas holidays were Miss Betty Glenn and Michael Alden Fera, Miss Helen Fritz and Le Roy Stanley, Jr., Miss Margaret Monnig and Homer McCart, Miss Florine Martin and C. W. Wulfjen, Jr., and Miss Elsie Juanita Thompson and Taylor, Jr.

Mrs. Fera, who graduated from T.C.U. in 1928, has been living in Washington, D. C., where she was married on New Year's Day in Bethesda, Washington.

Mrs. Stanley, who attended T.C.U. in 1927, was married on Christmas Day at Saint Andrews Episcopal Church in Fort Worth. Mr. Stanley will make their home in Wichita Falls.

Mrs. McCart, who was graduated from T.C.U. in 1931 with a B.S. degree in music, was married Jan. 2 at her home, 2029 Huntington Drive, Fort Worth.

Mrs. Wulfjen, who attended T.C.U. in 1926, 1927, and 1928, is from Kennerly where she was married last fall and where she will make her home.

Mrs. Taylor, a former student of T.C.U. is well known in musical circles, having played first violin in the Fort Worth Symphony Orchestra. She and Mrs. Taylor will make their home in Fort Worth.

CALENDARS ARE DUE

Social calendar application blanks must be filled out for the spring semester by Feb. 1, according to Dean Sadie Beckham, chairman of the social calendar committee.

These blanks may be obtained from the dean of women's office now.

Sigma Tau Delta Initiates Two Girls

Initiation service for two new members was held by Sigma Tau Delta Monday night in Brite College clubroom. The students initiated were Misses Leta Luyster and Mary Boaddus. Miss Siddle Joe Johnson, president, presided at the service.

The program consisted of a talk on "The Essay," by Mrs. Artemesia Bryson of the English department. A group discussion on the modern essay was held after Mrs. Bryson's talk.

Mrs. Cahoon Attends Music Convention

Mrs. Helen Fouts Cahoon, head of the voice department, is now in Chicago, Ill., where she is attending the national convention of the Civic Music Associations. She was sent as a delegate from the Fort Worth Branch of the Association.

While in Chicago Mrs. Cahoon plans to visit her daughter, Miss Adele Cahoon, and her friends there. She also plans to select some musical numbers for use in the various musical organizations in T. C. U.

Alumni Association Formed by B. C. B.

About 20 alumni and ex-students of the Brite College of the Bible met in the alcove of the University dining room Thursday evening, Jan. 7, for the purpose of organizing an alumni association.

A temporary organization was formed with the following officers elected to serve until June: President, the Rev. E. R. McWilliams of Fort Worth; vice-president, the Rev. J. C. Welch of Palestine, and secretary, the Rev. H. M. Redford of Arlington. Another meeting of the group is planned to be held during the Mid-Winter Church Life Convention which will be at the Magnolia Avenue Christian Church Jan. 25 and 26.

Ashburn to Address Dana Press Club

Prof. Karl E. Ashburn will speak to the Dana Press Club Wednesday evening, Jan. 20, at 8 o'clock, when the group meets at 2701 Waits Avenue with Joseph B. Cowan as host.

Prof. Ashburn was a reporter on the San Angelo Standard-Times during the summer of 1928 and he will discuss also the experiences of his brother, Sam Ashburn, who is agricultural editor of the San Angelo newspapers.

Prof. Ashburn will tell the students some of the changes the college graduates are subjected to by the hands of the older staff members of the Standard-Times.

T. C. U. Ensemble to Appear at Worth

A T.C.U. ensemble, with singers selected by Mrs. Helen Fouts Cahoon from the Choral Club and the Men's Glee Club will sing at the Worth Theater on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday of next week.

The ensemble will be under the supervision of Hymen Maurice, director of the Worth Theater orchestra, and will sing "The Song of the Bayou." They will sing four times a day, once after each movie presentation. According to Mrs. Cahoon the ensemble will sing once a month or as they are needed. Mrs. Cahoon also plans to use this group as the nucleus of the choir for the new University Christian Church next year.

Several Library Volumes Missing

Students Are Urged to Return All Books Not in Use.

A wholesale disappearance of books since Dec. 1 was discovered by a recent inventory of volumes in the University library, Arthur Curry, librarian, stated Tuesday. An effort to locate the missing volumes is being made by the library staff and Curry has requested, as a measure of minimizing the work of finding the lost books, that students immediately return all volumes not in present use.

The following is a list of the missing books: "The Stars," by H. Shapley; "Ears to Hear," by D. G. Mason; "Geography and Our Need of It," by J. R. Smita; "Chats on Feature Writing," by H. F. Harrington; "Preparation of Manuscripts," by F. H. Vizetelly; "Boston Transcript," by J. E. Chamberlin; "Literary Influence in Colonial Newspapers," by E. Cook; "History of The New York Times," by E. H. Davis; "Some Newspapers and Newspapermen," by O. G. Villard; "The Gang," by Thrasher; "Elementary Psychology," by Gates; "Reading in General Psychology," by Robinson and Robinson; "Perpetual Peace," by Kant; "Student's Life of Jesus," by Gilbert; "Life of Christ," by Hill; "Our Lord's Earthly Life," by Smith; "Social Teachings of Jesus," by Peabody; "Social Process," by Cooley; "Principles of Economics," by Bly; "History of Economic Doctrine," by Side and Rist; "Introduction to Economic History," by Gras; "History of Economic Thought," by Haney; "Government of the United States," by Munro; "Principles of Business Law," by Dillavon and Howard; "Psychology of the Junior High School Pupil," by Rechestein and McGregor; "Accountant's Handbook," by Saliers; "Old English Ballads," by Gummere; "Short History of Civilization," by Thorndike; "Story of Mankind," by Van Loon; "Historical Sourcebook," by Webster; "Ancient Times," by Braested; "Nathan der Weise," by Ascher Lessing; "A Roman Home," by Swing; "First and Second Bi-ennial Reports of the Texas Library and Historical Commission," and volume XIX of the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Los Hidalgos Sees Mexican Pictures

Beautiful Mexican country scenes were shown at the meeting of Los Hidalgos last Wednesday evening in the Brite College clubroom.

The scenes were shown in the form of colored slides. Slides were also shown of the chief products and occupations of Mexico.

Jimmy Beal, president, and Janet Largent, program chairman, had charge of the program which followed.

Convention Report Features Meeting

Featuring a report on the national convention by Misses Adelle Clark and Dorothy Conkling, Alpha Zeta Pi met last Wednesday evening in the Brite College clubroom.

Miss Clotilde Anne Houle was in charge of the entertainment. Talks given by Dr. Marguerite Ascher and by John Hammond revealed experiences of the two speakers while in Mexico, also giving the characteristics of the Mexican people.

Bio-Geo Club Plans For Social Affair

Plans were made for a social affair to be given in February by the Bio-Geo Club at a meeting of the organization Tuesday night in the basement of Clark Hall.

Ten current events concerning subjects of science were read. Howard Carrell gave a report on the new expedition to the North Pole, and Monroe Jackson, president, read a paper.

Sammis, Scouler To Give Recital

Prof. Claude Sammis, professor of violin, and David Scouler of the voice department will give a joint recital for the January twilight music hour at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon, Jan. 24. Miss Adeline Boyd, instructor of piano, will accompany them.

Prof. Sammis will play a group of seven numbers which will include selections from Schubert, Massenet, Kreisler and Vivaldi. Scouler has carefully selected a group of nine classics unfamiliar to T. C. U. audiences.

Child Diet to Be Exhibited by Class

The students of the nutrition and dietetics class of the home economics department will prepare an adequate diet for children to be exhibited next week.

The diet will be that required by children from 1 year of age to high school age, and will be on exhibit to the public from 9 to 3 on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday mornings. As the same food will be exhibited all week, it will be advantageous to come the first day. Especially are the mothers of young children invited.

The exhibit is to be arranged by Miss Bonne M. Enlow, instructor, assisted by Misses Vernola Mae Henry and Katherine Lipscomb, students.

News Briefs

Prof. Elliott Writes About Unemployment

Prof. Edwin A. Elliott of the economics department is the author of an article appearing in the December number of "Optimist International." The title of the article is "Unemployment, The Cause of and Suggested Cure."

Daughter Is Born to Mr. and Mrs. Palmer

Mr. and Mrs. William Palmer of Sulphur Springs announce the birth of a daughter, Patricia Nell, Dec. 30.

Mr. Palmer, who received her B.A. degree from T.C.U. in 1930, was Miss Maxine Russell before her marriage. Palmer is also a former student of T.C.U.

Patricia Nell is the first child born to a graduate of T.C.U. who majored in Journalism.

Walter Knox Honored By Intramural Heads

Walter S. Knox, physical education director in T.C.U., was recently elected president of the Intramural Directors' Association of the Southwest Conference. These men held their convention along with the coaches and officials of the Conference at Dallas Dec. 12.

This organization was organized in Dallas in 1927. Each conference school was represented and each representative demonstrated the style of physical education used at each school.

Mark Boswell Joins Marine Aviation Corps

Mark Boswell, sophomore, has withdrawn from school and has taken up the study of aviation in the United States Marine Corps.

Boswell withdrew last Friday and left for New Orleans, from where he was immediately sent to Paris Island, one of the small islands off the coast of South Carolina. After a period of training there, he will go to the air base at Pensacola, Fla., where he will complete the course.

Kirby Page, noted pacifist, will be speaker at the junior-senior chapel next Friday, it was announced this morning by Noel Roberts. Page will be honor guest at a luncheon and will be the chief speaker at a mass meeting in the University chapel Friday night.

Burglars Leave When Cameron Gets His Bat

Lyle Cameron, sophomore in the University, frustrated an attempted robbery of his home at 2246 Washington Avenue Monday night. While sleeping in a room that opened on to the back porch, Lyle was awakened when two men attempted to enter the house from the back door.

Arming himself with the kid brother's baseball bat, he began beating on the floor while his mother phoned for the police. The prowlers were frightened from the home and were not to be found in the neighborhood when the police arrived.

Graduation Rings to Be Ordered by Juniors

Junior class members may place orders now for their senior rings with Billie Dickey, Paul Martin or Milton Mehl, according to Dickey, president of the class.

Orders should be placed before the end of the semester in order to receive the rings early in the next term. A $5 deposit is required with each order.

Two Professors Discover New Sterilization Process by Sound

Two Texas Christian University professors, Dr. L. A. Chambers and Dr. Newton Gaines, appeared before the American Association for the Advancement of Science at New Orleans last week and told a story of marvelous powers discovered in the energy of super-sound waves.

They told how sound could be made to sterilize milk, fruit juices and serums; kill frogs, water fleas, tadpoles and rats. Their collaboration brought about the new application of sound.

When the professors returned to T. C. U. Tuesday, they found their mail was stuffed with congratulations and encouragements prompted by nation-wide reports of their talks before the science association. One of the largest manufacturers of pasteurization equipment said in a telegram that their discovery of the sterilizing powers of sound waves would revolutionize the milk industry.

At about the same time Dr. Chambers was in Princeton and he also was spending many hours in the laboratory tinkering with the idea of sterilizing milk with crystal sound sets, a different process from that of Dr. Gaines.

Waves Destroy Bacteria. The sound waves resemble musical notes, and the vibration literally tears the tiny bacteria to pieces. The two scientists made more than 5000 slides of milk bacteria and conducted tests to show that the sound waves kill from 99 to 99.98 per cent of milk bacteria.

The fact that the vibrations will tear the cell apart causes Dr. Gaines and Dr. Chambers to hope that the energy will be found applicable to the cells of cancer. Dr. Chambers thinks that it will also prove to be valuable in the field of serums. He thinks that quick cool sterilization will replace the present long, laborious and delicate heat processes through which serums must pass.

Vibrates at High Ratio. The sound wave apparatus which so interested the scientific association consists of a nickel tube, vibrating in a magnet field, 8900 times a second; it gives off a musical note two octaves above the range of a piano. The sound waves are concentrated in an inverted funnel, pushed into it at the same time milk or other liquids to be sterilized move into the concentration point. In the little funnel with sound waves tearing at everything within range, the germs of the milk meet their death.

The small apparatus which they have constructed will sterilize 47 quarts of milk an hour. The professors have only to learn now whether the principle can be carried out successfully on a commercial scale.

Ill Health Hasn't Kept Ligon From Working for an Education

While here his school expenses were paid and he was given an allowance of $135 a month by the government under the provisions of the vocational education for ex-soldiers act.

Another breakdown in health caused him to have to leave for a hospital in Mexico. After he left the hospital he went to Central State Teachers' College in Oklahoma. After completing two terms he had to quit and go to San Francisco for medical treatment. Later he took a three months' trip to Manila. Upon his return to Texas he worked as a reporter on the Wichita Falls Times and the Abilene Reporter.

In the summer and fall of 1930 he attended Texas Technological College, but again had to quit and go to a hospital.

Next summer Ligon hopes to graduate from T. C. U. He is majoring in education.

Duke University School of Medicine Durham, N. C.

Applications for admission to the first and third year medical classes entering October 1, 1932 should be sent as soon as possible, and will be considered in the order of receipt. The entrance qualifications are intelligence, character, two years of college work and the requirements for Grade A medical schools. Catalogues and application forms may be obtained from the Dean.

SPORTORIALS

By STANDARD LAMBERT

IT'S pretty hard to have to take a licking as we did down at Baylor last week, but it just couldn't be helped under the circumstances. It's what is known in sports as "one of them things." It reminded me very much of the Tulsa football game. On both occasions, deep down in our hearts we knew that we had the best team, but just "chumped off."

AS I see it, there was not a single good derived from the game with the exception of showing us that even champions can be beaten. In the first place the whole team was sluggish; the passing was rotten, and the foul shooting was foul. Our two high point stars of last year failed to twinkle when compared with what at least three others in the conference did. Our candidate for All-American center excelled on the tip-off, but played far below his standard in the other departments.

SUMNER can be depended on to play a good game anytime he steps on the court. He's not only a steady plugger, but he's a money player, finding himself at his best when the going is the toughest. A flashy player is a good thing, and a steady plugger is better, but a steady, plugging, flashy player is best of all. That's the type of player Sumner is. I suspect that he had fewer "off nights" than any star in the loop last year. This combination of consistency and stardom is a rare one and Sumner is a rare basketeer.

I DON'T know a whole lot about this Rice basketball team. I was talking to Bubbie Koch, brother of Botchey of Baylor fame, during the holidays, and he told me that the Owls didn't even have a prayer. Since he's one of the Feathered Tribe's stars and also from my home town, I didn't think that he would deliberately lie to me, but judging from the 40-to-29 drubbing that they dosed out to the strong Aggie team, Bubbie must take his place with Major Hoopel.

I DO know that they have a couple of crackshot forwards. The upperclassmen in school don't have to have anything told them about how Jake Hess can lose that hoop, and Dixon is just about as good. In the Aggie game, Hess made 16 points and nosed Dixon out for high point honors in a single tally.

IN spite of the fact that Doc won't be at his best because of that old hand injury, and old long lanky Kinzy won't see much service on the account of a similar injury, I'm picking the Frogs tonight. That another one of those stories that I'm going to stick to.

TO date there has been no little bit of conduct at the games that, to say the least, is unbecoming to a student body that has the reputation for sportsmanship that we have. Booing the officials, hooting while opponents are making free shots and wisecracking about the opposing players in a base violation of the first principles of sportsmanship. Opposing players should be treated as we expect our team to be treated when it plays on a foreign court. If a halt is not called before it grows any stronger, the fun may boomerang and cost us an important game on a foreign court.

SMOKING is also undesirable in the gym. The smallest contribution each student and fan can make toward the team's success is the refraining from smoking at the games. It stifles the players, and should not be tolerated.

Christians Slight Favorites Tomorrow Night

Horned Frog-Owl Game Slated to Start at 8 P. M.

Champions Will Show Critics They Have Real Team.

RICE COMING TO WIN

Feathered Flock on Upgrade After Surprising Victory Over Texas A. & M.

By STANDARD LAMBERT.

The 1932 edition of Coach Francis A. Schmidt's Texas Christian Horned Frogs will make its Fort Worth debut in conference competition against the Rice Owls in the Fieldhouse Saturday night at 8 o'clock. Although the team will be greatly weakened by Sumner's injured hand that he hurt again Monday when he slipped down the slippery Goode Hall steps, the Frogs are slight favorites to win the tilt. Hersel "Slim" Kinzy, an excellent reserve at either guard or forward, has been nursing a bruised hand received in Denton two weeks ago, but will probably be able to see some relief service.

Owl Stock Rises.

Pre-season dope put the Owls in the cellar, but after their decisive 40-to-30 victory over Coach John Reid's strong Texas Aggies in Aggieland last Saturday, their stock has risen considerably. They are due to give the pupils of Francis Schmidt a hard, stiff fight.

The Owl roster includes two of the best sharpshooters in the Southwest. Jake Hess, former Central High star, who burned the conference up with his brilliance in 1930, is a star of first water; and Vergil Dixon, another crack forward, hit the basket from all angles in the Aggie melee.

Better Play Expected.

The Frogs are due to show marked improvement in their passing, defensive play and accuracy from the foul-line tonight. In the Baylor tilt, they were extremely weak in all three departments. They lost possession of the ball many times through careless passing or wild shots from mid-court; their defensive weakness is not fully told in the score because the Bruin forward missed several crisp shots, and their average from the foul line was .474.

Although Coach Schmidt is not certain who his starters will be, a good guess would be Ad Dietzel at center; Capt. Doc Sumner and Flash Walker at forwards, and Buster Brannon and Harlos Green at guard. In the Rice-A. & M. game, Coach "Pug" Daugherty started Howard Thompson at center, Jake Hess and Virgil Dixon at forwards, and placed Bubbie Koch and Lawrence McCullough in the guard positions. That wouldn't be a bad combination to start against the Frogs tonight.

Frosh Begin Hard Work

Poliwogs Are in Cellar of Major City Cage League.

After being defeated by the Blackstone Shop's strong quintet by a score of 41 to 17, the freshman five will settle down to a week's hard work in preparation for their game with the strong Chico Independent team here tonight at 7:30 o'clock. The game will be played in the Frog Fieldhouse. On Wednesday night, the Wogs will face the Hillsboro Junior College team here beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

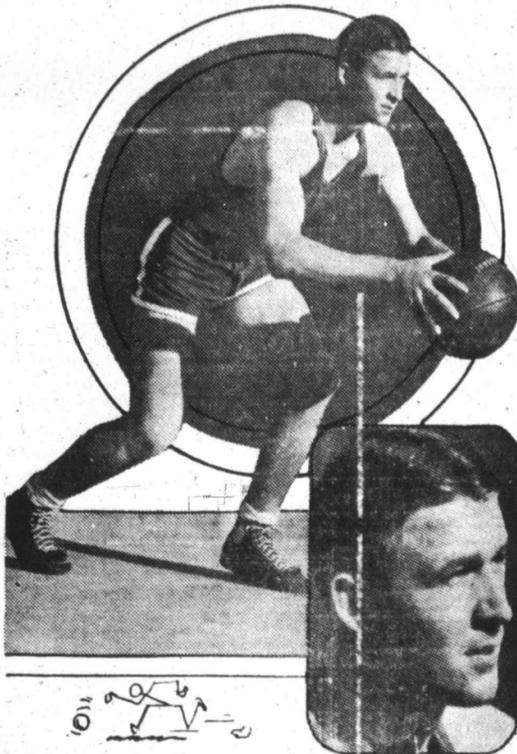

To date the Poliwog five have shown little strength, losing five out of six games played. They are in the cellar position in the Major City League race, with five straight losses in the last five games played in league competition. Coach Meyer is whipping the team into shape, after losing two weeks during the holidays.

International Relations Club to Be Organized

Definite steps toward organizing the International Relations Club will be taken immediately following the fall semester examinations, according to Prof. James R. Gathings of the department of government.

A committee of Miss Mary Louise Witherspoon, Marion Hicks, Kenneth Lacy, and Prof. Gathings will make arrangements for the first meeting. The committee was appointed at the last meeting of the social science fraternity, Pi Gamma Mu, which is sponsoring the organization of the club.

Frogs' Sensational Leader

Capt. Wendell "Doc" Sumner, all-conference forward of the 1931 champions, will make his 1932 Fort Worth debut against the Rice Owls tomorrow night. Sumner received the all-conference berth last year by a unanimous selection of the Southwest sports writers and coaches, and also received honorable mention on College Humor's all-American team. Sumner is also recognized as the most polished player in the loop, and cashed his offensive efforts in for 130 points in the 12 conference games last year. To date in the 11 games played he has been responsible for 116 tallies.

Two Brothers Have Printing Shop Installed in Vacated Garage

Five years ago two brothers bought a small hand printing machine and set up a printing shop in the storeroom of their garage, intending to do printing for friends and acquaintances in order to obtain a little spending money. They began to get more work than could be taken care of with the small printing machine and the need for a much larger machine and some type was seen. The boys scouted around and found a newspaper at Tolar that had gone broke, obtained some type at a nominal cost, and after further speculation obtained a larger printing machine that would take care of their increasing business. The machine was about 50 years old when they bought it, but is still in good working order and is large enough to take care of their business.

Bennie and Joe Sargent, freshman and sophomore students respectively in the University, decided five years ago that they would like to become printers and set up a small printing shop in their garage. During their high school days at Central High School they were both editors of the high school paper, and at one time edited a national boys' magazine under the title of the "Boys' Journal." This journal had about 500 circulation scattered over all parts of the United States and parts of Canada. This lasted only for about six months though, for the depression hit them and their circulation fell off.

"The Mistletoe Print Shop," located at 1616 Mistletoe Boulevard, is the name the boys have given to their shop. They do printing for many firms in town—and print the titles for the Browne Film Co., of Fort Worth, that takes pictures of local football games and local scenes and run at the local theatres. They also do the printing for Ray McCulloch and Dave Boswell, dance promoters.

Both boys intend to major in journalism at T. C. U. Joe is now a member of The Skiff staff, and Bennie intends to take up the work in his sophomore year.

There were three other boys in partnership with Joe and Bennie at various times, but one by one they were bought out, and now the shop is owned by the two brothers.

Dean Beckham's Mother Celebrates 91st Year

Mrs. A. A. Tevis, mother of Dean Sadie Beckham, celebrated her ninety-first birthday last Sunday.

About twenty children coming from Wichita Falls, Dallas and Sherman were in Fort Worth to celebrate the occasion in the home of Mrs. Tevis, 2916 Princeton Street.

Bears Win From Frogs 32 to 24

Championship Machine Fails to Exhibit Old Form.

WACO, Jan. 9.—The 1931 champion Texas Christian Horned Frogs got off to a poor start in their fight to retain the basketball title of the Southwest when they dropped the first conference tilt of the season 24 to 32 to their strongest rivals, the Baylor Bears, here tonight. The entire team played a sluggish brand of ball, and showed their 1931 form only in brief flashes. Capt. Sumner and Raymond Alford tied for high point honors with 12 points each.

In addition to their sluggishness, the Frogs put up a poor defense and only the inaccuracy of the Bears on crisp shots kept the margin of victory down to eight points. The Frogs' offense crumbled when they constantly lost possession of the ball by bad passes and reckless shooting from mid court, however, had their percentage of free shots measured up to the "10 out of 14" scored by the Bruins they could have won the tilt. Weakness in this department was another main factor in the loss.

Horned Frog Cagers Make Holiday Tour

Purple Team Drops Game to Wichita Henries for Only Loss on Trip.

Leaving Fort Worth Dec. 23, the Horned Frog cagers reached Ada, Okla., that night, where they won from the Ada Teachers 31 to 20, in the first game during the holiday jaunt.

From there they went to Wichita, Kan. where the Wichita Henry's defeated the Frogs 31 to 27. The Wichita team boasts eight all-Americans on its cage squads, and twice have won the National A. A. U. championship.

The next moye was to Winfield, Kan., where they won from the Southwestern University lads 35 to 21.

The team arrived in Fort Worth from their trip on Dec. 27. Those making the trip were: Vaughn, Dietzel, Sumner, Brannon, Meyers, Kinzey, Green, Allison, Walker, Chappell and Coach Schmidt.

On the Saturday night, Jan. 2, the Frogs went to Denton where they whipped the Eagles 34 to 19.

Clubb Reads Paper At Association Meet

Dr. M. D. Clubb of the English department read a paper entitled "The Alleged Predominance of Explosive Consonants in Old English Verse" before the Old English section of the Modern Language Association of America, which will meet at the University of Wisconsin, Dec. 28, 29 and 30.

The Modern Language Association is the largest and most influential society of scholars interested in the study of modern languages and literature in America.

Papers written by the most prominent scholars in the country are read before the society. It is an honor which is awarded only to about 20 persons each year.

Dr. Clubb has taught old English at the University of Texas and also at Leland Stanford University.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

By CHARLIE CASPER. By defeating the juniors 57 to 74 seniors took possession of the leadership of the B League basketball chase. Last week the seniors eked out a victory over the sophomores for first place honors with the juniors.

The sophs jumped into a tie for second place honors with the juniors by winning a well earned victory from the frosh to the tune of 30 to 10, while the juniors were being soundly trounced by the strong senior quintet.

The freshmen are occupying cellar position due to lack of material and experience. This general happens to each first year team in intramural competition.

In the A League the juniors and the seniors are tied for first place with one victory and no losses each. The deadlock will probably be broken when these two teams meet for the first time this season. The four-year men are given a decided edge over their undergraduate rivals. The first- and second-year men are to for the cellar position with one loss and no victories. These two clubs vie for the first time this year with the sophs reigning as favorites.

Abe Martin, "Prexy" Roark, Joe McDiarmid of the seniors and Ben Collins of the sophs are the leading scorers of the B League, while the A League Jack Graves, of the sophs, David Stitt, of the juniors, Wright, Vance Woolwine and P. Snow, of the seniors are the leading scorers.

With John McDiarmid as the present season favorite the handball single are going through the second round. McDiarmid is staging a comeback, the handball courts after being away for three years because of his term. He is slowly rounding into form and expects to finish in first place position.

One of the greatest upsets of the present tournament came Tuesday when Otto Nielsen handed Grant Hinton a surprise defeat. Hinton was counted as one of the dark horses at the beginning, but now his chances has faded and Nielsen will be the sparking horse for all players to prepare for.

The remainder of the first round handball will get under way Monday. Several games have been played and Mr. Knox urges that they play with matches to play, get them played as soon as possible. Frank Wynn and Hinton appear to be the favored combination for one to pick at the present time. They have defeated some of T. C. U.'s greatest stand. Bear Wolf and Walter Knox. They appear now to be the ruling dynasty of the double tournament but upsets happen at odd times according to Hinton.
