Students and Faculty Members Give Opinions on Disarmament

In preparation for the various addresses Kirby Page will deliver before audiences of students and faculty members of Texas Christian University today, The Skiff has attempted to gain a cross-section of campus opinion on the question of disarmament and world peace by interviewing representative students and faculty members.

The general questions asked were: Should we maintain the R. O. T. C. units in our colleges and high schools? Are you in favor of disarmament? Do you believe in national defenses?

Dr. Edwin A. Elliott was requested to submit a general statement of the relationship of war and economics.

War or Peace?

"We can do without the R. O. T. C. units in our high schools. There are other forms of physical education that would meet the demands of the students as well.

"The whole thing turns on this point. Do we want war or do we want peace? If we want peace, let us cultivate all agencies favoring peace.

"We must not only deal in terms of disarmament. That is handling effects. We must deal with factors causing economic war. War roots back into economic causes.

"We cannot disarm because we are unwilling to stop our economic warfare.

"To end war, we must take the profit out of war. The following steps would tend to bring this about: Revision of tariffs, allocation of production and markets, conscription of capital as well as man-power in time of war, and state control and ownership of munitions, arms, etc."

"A general diffusion of wealth is impossible until war, and preparation for war, is eliminated."

Others Give Opinions.

Dr. W. J. Hammond—"Disarmament is the outstanding problem of the day. A correct approach to it is abolishing the R. O. T. C., the Reserve, and the Citizens' Military Training Camps."

Dr. Raymond Welty—"For reasons of economy, the R. O. T. C. ought to be eliminated from high schools. It should be elective in colleges. I also favor rapid disarmament."

Prof. J. A. Gathings—"I am in favor of cutting down armaments. I am opposed to R. O. T. C. units, certainly in high schools."

Gibson Randle, captain of an R. O. T. C. unit at Central High in 1928—"I oppose armaments and war. I favor R. O. T. C. units because I believe that they do not sponsor a program of armaments and war The World Peace Will Be Topic Discussed by Lecturer.

THREE TALKS PLANNED

Noted Author's All-Day Visit to Be Sponsored by Student "Y" Association.

Kirby Page, editor of The World Tomorrow and internationally known author and lecturer on social, religious and economic questions, is spending the day at Texas Christian University as the guest of the student "Y" Association.

Speaking on the general topic of World Peace, he will make three platform appearances during the day before different student assemblies.

His first appearance was at 10 o'clock this morning when he addressed the junior-senior chapel assembly. Noel Roberts, retiring president of the student "Y," introduced the speaker.

To Hold Discussion.

A special closed-session discussion group of student "Y" members and selected guests will begin at 1:15 o'clock this afternoon in the alcove of the cafeteria.

Page will address a general meeting of students, faculty members and citizens of Fort Worth tonight at 8 o'clock in the University Auditorium.

The meeting will be held in open forum style, and after the address, questions may be asked of the speaker from the audience. No admission will be charged.

Is Native Texan.

Page was born in Tyler County, Texas, and was for three years secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in Houston. He has lived in six other states, has crossed the ocean 18 times and has visited 35 countries in the world. He is a graduate of Drake University and was intercollegiate tennis champion of Iowa and a varsity basketball player while in college. He took graduate work at the University of Chicago and Columbia University.

Prof. Pickerill Talks At Ministerial Chapel

Prof. H. L. Pickerill made a talk on the subject, "The Triumph of Love," before the meeting of the Brite College at the Bible group Wednesday at the chapel hour.

Miss Elizabeth Male gave a reading of a poem, "Teach Us, O Lord, True Brotherhood." Travis White presided for the meeting.

Dramatic Club Will Give Three-Act Play

Miss Mary Broadus, assisted by Miss Corinne Lewis and Charles E. J. Hanna, will direct a three-act play in order to raise money for new scenery for the stage in the auditorium, it was decided at the last meeting of the Dramatic Club.

The club is anxious to have the scenery for the Dramatic Tourment which will be held here in April.

Sophomore Beauty Selections

Above are the four sophomore beauties who appeared along with the representatives from the other three classes in the beauty revue in the University Auditorium last Friday night. Pictures of the junior candidates will appear next week.

Frog 'T' Alumni Will Organize

Club to Make Plans to Aid Present T.C.U. Athletes.

The ex-lettermen of T. C. U. residing in Fort Worth met in the University Auditorium Monday night and went through the initial steps of organization. Howard "Shorty" Vaughn was elected president, and the other officers elected were: John Anderson, first vice-president; Johnny "Three-Point" Washmon, second vice-president, and Raymond "Bear" Wolf, secretary-treasurer.

Committee Chosen.

A committee composed of Frank A. Ogilvie, chairman, and Bernard Williams and Frank Cantelmi, was chosen to draw up a constitution and bring suggested names for the organization.

Those present planned to meet at T. C. U. the first and third Monday evenings of every month at 6:30 o'clock in the cafeteria, have dinner and make plans to aid the present athletes in school. Their first official meeting will be held Monday night. This organization will meet apart from the present "T" Association in school, but both associations will work together for a common purpose.

Members Enrolled.

Twenty-six were enrolled at the first meeting, but several more have announced their intentions to become members and will be formally taken in at the first meeting. Those present Monday were: W. C. Ready, Ellsworth Chappell, Cantelmi, Dr. R. G. Baker, Anderson, Ogilvie, Dr. William M. Crawford, Dr. Charles I. Alexander, Williams, Amos Melton, Roland Roach, Fain Reynolds, Washmon, Walter S. Knox, Oren "Slim" Steadman, E. L. Lowe, John H. Evans, Dr. Abe Greines, M. S. Nicholson, Horace Wallin, Clyde Roberson, John Hirstine, Hal Wright and Coaches Schmidt, Wolf and Meyer.

Bus to Replace T.C.U. Street Car

New Service Will Cut 10 Minutes From Schedule.

T. C. U. students who ride the trolley cars from town may soon be able to sleep from 8 to 10 minutes longer and get to school as early as before.

In approximately three weeks the trolley cars will be replaced by busses, according to an announcement from officials of the Northern Texas Traction Company Tuesday. The busses, six of them, will be put in operation immediately upon arrival from the factory. They will each have a seating capacity of 28 passengers.

This announcement accompanied the decision of the officials of the Traction Company to abolish permanently the street car rails on Summit Avenue when construction is begun on the new $100,000 viaduct. Workers will begin razing the present overpass next week.

The route of the new busses has not been definitely decided as yet but they will probably follow as closely as possible the present street car route. During construction of the new viaduct they will cross the railroad tracks on Ballinger Street.

It is estimated that the new bus service will cut 10 minutes from the present schedule between T. C. U. and the business district.

Research Worker Says Deans Are Lax After Reading Add-Ran Rules

Maybe the deans aren't so strict on us after all. While glancing through an old Add-Ran College catalog, a reporter found the following rules under the caption, "Conduct of Students." "It will be expected of all students that:

"They be diligent in their study, punctual in their attendance to worship, recitations, examinations and all other college activities, and that they should render valid and satisfactory reasons to proper officers for any delinquency."

"They treat all persons and especially the students and teachers of the college with becoming respect."

"They attend no exhibition of immoral tendency; no race course; theater; circus; billiard saloon; bar room or tripping house."

"They neither introduce on the premises of the college nor use elsewhere any kind of intoxicating beverages and, that they abstain from the use of tobacco in the buildings of the college."

"They abstain from profanity, the desecration of the Lord's day, all kinds of gaming for reward or prize of any kind, and from card playing even for amusement; and also whatever else is inconsistent with the good order, good taste and good morals."

"They attend public worship every Lord's day."

of the session, without special permission from the faculty.

"They shun any disorderly combinations and associations of students or citizens; and that they cooperate with the faculty in every honorable way to promote the reputation of the college."

"They neither keep in their possession nor use any fire arms, a dirk, a bowie knife, nor any kind of deadly weapon."

"They do not change their place of boarding without the permission of the faculty."

"They do not trespass upon the premises of any persons, and they in no way deface or injure the property of the college."

Of course times have changed, but how do those regulations look when compared to the dual role made popular by Prof. E. W. McDiarmid, who has often said in his classes, "I have but two rules with which classes should be governed. They are: one, do not burn the buildings; two, do not shoot the professors."

Students Express Opinions of Proposal to Have 50-50 Dating

What do you think about the 50-50 date proposition? Do you think that you would like to share the expenses of a date with the boy friend? Do you think that in case of a 50-50 plan the girl should have the privilege of asking the boy for a date?

The answers of the co-eds when asked the above questions ranged from absolute yeas to final nays. One co-ed said that such a proposition would enable her to sit elsewhere than the balcony when she went to the show and that she would not be ashamed to eat all she wanted to, as long as she was paying for it.

Most of the boys seem to think that they would have everything to gain and nothing to lose by such a proposition. But do you suppose that they would be willing to put themselves in the girls' places and entertain the gang with a sample of their Sunday dinner cooking, or have the bunch over to dance or to play bridge? Ideas Expressed.

Joseph B. Cowan, instructor in journalism, at first declined to express his opinion on the matter, but after a little questioning said that "it would be all right for the girl to pay half the expenses if she asked the boy for the date."

Sterling Brown says, "It is the best news that I have heard since the depression has set in. It is a sane standard to adopt, but traditions and customs will go a long way in hampering such a move."

"What do you think of the idea, Irene?" Well, she was a little reluctant to express herself, but after a little persuasion Miss McCommas said, "Such a proposition is a practical plan, and for a while the novelty of the thing should make a big hit; however, I would not like to drop custom and traditions overnight and do this all the time."

Functions Included.

"I am not much of a lady's man," says Standard Lambert, "so such a plan wouldn't affect me much. I had much rather have a parlor date and play bridge."

Mary Lloyd Garnett says that "it would be all right sometimes, especially at school functions and activities, since the T. C. U. boys don't have very much money to spend on dates. The girls should be willing to share the expenses in this case, and also should have the privilege of asking the boys for a date."

Otha Tiner, diminutive Horned Frog quarterback, says, "The boys around here are dependent on someone else and never know where the next nickel is coming from, and as the girls usually get pretty good allowances they ought to be willing to share the expenses to get to go somewhere."

"The idea is OK," says Louise Lester. "The girls would get to go more places and could have more fun, but I don't think that she should ask the boy for a date."

Interstate Meets Arranged. Tentative interstate engagements have been scheduled with the University of Florida for the middle of March, with the University of New Mexico for the latter part of February, and with Phillips University for the latter part of March, according to Paul Martin, student director of debate. The Phillips debate is a return engagement with Phillips first meeting T. C. U. in Fort Worth and T. C. U. going to Enid, Okla., the first week in April. Both the University of Florida and the University of New Mexico will debate in Fort Worth. Arrangements are being made to have both as radio debates.

$25 Offered to Orator. The Gough Oratorical Contest is scheduled for Friday, March 4, in the T. C. U. Auditorium. A first prize of $25 and a gold medal is offered the winner of this contest. Anyone is eligible to enter, provided he announces his intentions to Prof. Lew D. Falls of the public speaking contest two weeks before the contest.

The winner of the Gough Oratorical Contest will represent T. C. U. in the Texas State Oratorical Contest which will be held in Abilene this year April 15 under the auspices of Simmons University. This contest has been won by a T. C. U. contestant for the last two years.

National Meet in March. The last week in March has been set for the meeting of the national convention of Pi Kappa Delta, national debate and oratory fraternity representing more than 200 universities in the United States. The national oratorical contest will be held during this week. All schools entering debate teams will engage in five rounds of inter-collegiate debate in the preliminaries.

Pre-season debate engagements have been arranged with Austin College and North Texas State Teachers' College. T. C. U. will go to N. T. S. T. C. while Austin College will be met at T. C. U. Feb. 8 and at Sherman Feb. 12.

Miss Smith Writes for "Modern Philology"

Miss Rebecca Smith of the English department is the author of an article, "The Source of Pandemonium," which appears in the November number of "Modern Philology."

Math Is No Longer Required at T. C. U.

Mathematics is no longer required to receive an A. B. degree in Texas Christian University, it was announced this week by the administration. The requirement was taken off last week at the faculty meeting after very little discussion.

Last year, privilege was given the student to supplant mathematics with other required subjects, but as the rule now stands no student who is not taking work in special degrees is required to take mathematics or an alternate.

Students who are now taking Math 12a must take 12b also before credit will be allowed for the course. The first year mathematic course will not be based on three-hour credit from now on, but will require a full year's work and will carry six-hour credit.

Do You Day Dream?

There are very few of us who never heard of the fellow who had a leak in his roof. He said that when it was raining he couldn't get out and fix the leak, and when it was not raining there was no use to fix it.

How many times have you sat down and looked over the situation and decided that there wasn't anything you could do about it? How many times have you seen trouble ahead but as long as the sun was shining you decided to just enjoy yourself?

About this time every year, there are a great many students who know that there is no use to try to pass a course. They decide to wait until the second semester and then bear down and study and pass with a high grade.

Put something into your college life besides just what comes and goes. Don't sit in the rain because you have failed to do anything on a bright and sunny day except day dream.

Congratulations, Fans!

Between the halves of the T. C. U.-Rice game Saturday at least half of the male population of the stands filed out of the gym with unlighted cigars, cigarettes and pipes in their mouths.

Indeed, that is encouraging. At last the fans have realized that smoking is really detrimental to the work of the team. Each and every one of them is making his contribution to the team's fight to retain its title as Southwest Conference Basketball Champions.

As small as it may seem, it was a noble gesture on the part of the fans, and The Skiff congratulates you on your co-operation.

Something Should Be Done

Throughout the Southwest the Texas Christian student body carries the enviable reputation of being good sports. With the approach of what promises to be a heated Southwest conference basketball race, we find that reputation seriously jeopardized by the "booming" of officials, yelling while opponents are attempting free shots and general offensive conduct during the progress of the game.

Some of the students and even some professors seem to have adopted the attitude that it is smart and make themselves foolishly conspicuous by such conduct.

It is against every rule in the sportsman's code of ethics to do anything while an opponent is attempting to make a free shot. It is unfair and gives the entire University a black eye in the opinion of the public at large.

To "boo" an official is a vulgar display of ignorance. The officials are trained in basketball and most of them have played more games than the average "razzer" ever saw.

To make the conditions worse, some of the downtown folk have caught the spirit of the thing from the students and have joined the students in the bad practice. The students must set the example for the Fort Worth people and it must be a good one.

Your Student Council Acts

Last week, official approval of the plan for having two student representatives on the Discipline Committee was announced. This approval came only after many weeks of work by Alf Roark and the other members of the Student Council.

This is not the only act that the council has performed this year. During the Homecoming program, the council aided very materially in preparing the day's program.

And now your Student Council brings you another step forward in inaugurating a real class day program. This plan is to have a senior day with an all-day affair. The dedication of the 1932 Horned Frog is planned to be the spotlight of the day's program with a picnic in the afternoon together with the burning of books and other class day activities.

The four classes of the University will take part in the day's program with details to be worked out in the very near future. This editorial is by way of introducing the plan to you in lieu of a class rush day.

Again The Skiff wishes to congratulate the members of the student council on its wonderful work this year. May it continue.

COULTER'S COLUMN

DEAR COULTER: What age do you think should be the correct age for love? I have been in love several times but have always found that I soon grow tired of my lover.

DEAR IDE LIKETOKNO: "Please tell me all that you know." Say do you want that maybe I should have to leave this column blank this week?

YOU probably had your first love way back when you were in kindergarten or grade school. Of course you must have had your little Mary and liked to walk home from school with her so that you could carry her books.

RY THE time you get out of college you have become pretty well settled in your ideas as to what type girl you would like to have. You probably like the personality type like Elizabeth Morrison, Eloise Barksdale, Lillian Eylers, Rowena Doss, Snappy Miller and Doris Higgins; or you like the type with pretty eyes that seem to say come here like Irene McCommas, Natalie Collins and Dorothy Scott; or you like the small girl like Mozelle Bryant, Lollie Botta and Kathryn Elkins.

THE only age in which to fall in love is when you have finished your education—some say that your education just starts when you fall in love—when you have established yourself in some line of work that has a good future, when you know what kind of a girl you want, when you feel that you don't care whether you ever get anymore sleep or not—and lastly, whether you don't care if you have a lot of future worrying to do.

Of course it is nice sometimes to fall in love while you are in college—it gives you an excuse if you happen to fail a course. And if you see that you never will get out of college any other way, you can choose matrimony.

YOU may say that you don't want to have a steady—or at least you say you don't want to be in love—but nine times out of ten a boy or girl either would like to have someone that they can depend on when they want to have a good time.

The way to do is to keep your feelings to yourself. If you think that you are in love with someone, don't tell them and don't let them find it out if you can help it. That way, you will make your affairs last longer and you won't feel bad when you quit.

Don't be too independent, and yet don't let the other know that you are crazy about him or her. The minute you let the other know that you are crazy—even if it is just love—he or she will soon know that you can be done just any old way, if they don't care for you too.

YELLOW LEAVES
Old men and falling leaves
On the courthouse lawn.
Yellow leaves and faces—
I wonder
If their mothers ever thought
They would look like that
When they were born.

THE GIRL OF YESTERYEAR
We sang of the girl of yesteryear,
The belle of bygone days,
And wished our darling daughter dear
Had grandma's modest ways.

But no more shall I shed a tear
Or sing a song like that;
I've heard that the girl of yesteryear

Wore an Empress Eugenie hat.
—Chas. E. J. Hanna.

SORROW DUST
Sorrow, like a rain of dust,
Sifts down on bare and bitter days,
And bites the edge of beauty
In our blind and stumbling ways.

Settles like a parasite
With its hidden sucking roots,
And eats its host unmindful
Of the fair return for fruits.

Today is beauty blinding
To a man whose thoughts are wise,
But I see none of beauty;
Dust is in my staring eyes.

Four Marx Brothers Will Start Work On Latest Flicker, "Horsefeathers"

Oh boy! boy! boy! boy!—the Four Marx Brothers will start galloping through another film before long and it'll be patterned after "Monkey Business"—if you can find a pattern in that you deserve a free ticket to the midnight ramble.

And here are the shows for the coming week: "Taxi" will spend three days at the Worth starting Sunday. James Cagney and Loretta Young hold the close-ups in this film and provide a fast moving comedy for the fans.

Cagney and Miss Young are two of the stars who came to the front in 1931.

And on the stage, the Worth will feature "Sketches." It's another Fanchon and Marco Idea and stars Allen and Canfield, Franklyn D'Amore, Limberlegs Edwards, Mildred Perlee, Duke Art and Frank Hopkinson.

Wonder if the Worth will bring us some moonkissed beauties anyways soon—or have they? That's a poor pun.

"Emma" will do a comeback at the Palace starting Sunday. Marie Dressler plays her best role in this tear-getter. The film was shown at the Worth last week, but the Worth's policy has been never to hold over a picture. Greta Garbo holds the distinction of being the only holdover.

"Emma" is the story of a woman who spends her life as a housemaid taking care of a family and raising the children, whose mother is dead. She marries her employer. After he has made his will, he dies and leaves all his money to be taken care of by his wife. How the children turn against the former housemaid and the ending of the story is real drama. Don't miss it if you let it get by last week.

A. A. Milne's "The Dover Road" takes the stage at the Little Theatre.

Campus Wolves

What pest do you hate more than any? The Skiff is giving you a chance to run down the wolves, the girls who powder their noses at every opportunity and pests in general. Just drop your favorite pest in the box in front of chapel and you don't have to sign your name to these, because The Skiff will run them in this box and no names will be mentioned. Give us your pests!

Here's this week's best pest—he is the fellow who has nothing whatsoever to do in the library. He calls on you when you are in the very midst of an important thought—if you ever have one. If you so much as say hello to him, he plops down in the seat beside you and starts a conversation such as: "Who was the lady I saw you with last night?"

After about 10 or 15 minutes—if you are lucky or have halitosis—he leaves and starts the same old line with the girl across on the next table. Every once in a while he will pull a wisecrack and both he and the girl will laugh. He usually laughs whether the girl does or not.

And so on around the library. If he can't find a good looking girl without an escort, he finds one with an escort and bothers both with his interesting and clever conversation. Now what's yours?

THE library is being worked over this time this week for getting up term papers, loving and not-what. And could you believe it, girls? Harold Green was seen sitting by a female the other night—Dorothy Ezzell, how you rate!

Helen Clark was seen on the library steps with Noel Roberts the other night. Some boy walked up and Helen told him she'd be through in a little while? Through what? Murry Livingston and John McGaughey came hurrying into the library Tuesday night and announced that they would like to have a wrestling match. One of them got one-what? Don't ask us.

Alf Roark, this column would not be complete without telling a little about you. We'd like to know how Doyle Goodwin gets your goat so much by cutting in on Margaret Reeder? You have that old what-ever-it-is that makes the girls love you, so why worry about Doyle? Better worry about what Margaret has to say about it.

Violet Mikeska and Virginia Bradford were seen in the library the other night. And if we told what we know about them, they probably would be mad at us for life.

Doesn't a certain girl on the campus have pretty pajamas?

MARJORIE SCOTT and Johnny Vaught seem to be having a great time together—especially with Ad Dietzel along. The other night Lil and Buster, Scottie and Vaughnie were eating hamburgers on West Seventh Street. What about training?

Prof. Ashburn wishes to announce that all girls interested in a good course on Texas should see him next week—he didn't say where. Cy and Jane are expected to take the course and other campus couples are considering taking the course at night to have that extra date a week. It's a good course and if A. D. Weatherly is able to pass it, anybody else should.

Professor Gaines was aired over KFJZ last Monday... Rudy Vallee auditioned for the Yale Glee Club three times before they'd let him in... This is probably the only college newspaper radio column in the South supplied with daily Columbia and N. B. C. publicity... Bing Crosby is having throat trouble... Did you hear his voice break the other p. m.?... The T. C. U. Glee Club is still receiving plaudits on its recent KTAT program.

Gandhi would make a poor radio publicity agent. He's just a one sheet man... Last Sunday night a local preacher, while broadcasting his sermon, received some undue publicity. We plainly heard through the loud speaker a voice from the congregation, "You're cra-z-y!" Then the preacher's reply, "Sir, you are drunk." Then the comeback, "Thas all right, I may be drunk tonight, but tomorrow I'll be sober, and you'll still be cra-z-y."

Misses Margot Shaw, Helen Clark and Dorothy East, competitors of the Boswell Sisters... The Horned Frog Band has made more appearances before the mike than any other University organization... Van Orden, handsome Skiff business manager, starred in the Scotland Yard features from KFJZ... "All of Me," will be sung by Bing Crosby tonight, KRLD, 6:15 o'clock... Every educated person should hear KMOX at 7:30 o'clock tonight... Toscha Seidel, violinist, plays over KMOX at 8 p. m.

Bio-Geo Club Will Have Lake Party

Plans were made for a party to be given by the Bio-Geo Club in February at Lake Worth, at the regular club meeting Tuesday night in the basement of Clark Hall.

Howard Carrell reported on the "Continental Drift" and Monroe Jackson, president, read a paper on "Little Known Metals—Their Occurrence and Usage."

Music Department In Recital Feb. 16

The next public recital by students of the music department will be given Tuesday evening, Feb. 16, in the University Auditorium, according to Dr. H. D. Guelick, head of the department.

No recital will be given in January because of conflict with the mid-term examinations.

Sammis and Scouler In Joint Recital

Prof. Claude Sammis, violinist, and David Scouler, tenor, appearing in a joint recital Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the University Auditorium, will give the second of the monthly twilight hour recitals sponsored by the T. C. U. Woman's Club.

Prof. Sammis will open the program with "Concerto in A Minor," by Vivaldi. Miss Adeline Boyd, pianist, and a string quartet composed of Albert Luper, first violin; Miss Doris Nell Twitty, second violin; Miss Hortenz Baker, viola, and Prof. S. P. Ziegler, violin cello, will accompany Prof. Sammis.

Scouler has selected a group of songs that are unfamiliar to T. C. U. audiences. Numbers from the four Teutonic composers Schubert, Brahms, Trunk and Strauss will be sung on this program.

W. A. A. Girls Are To Receive Awards

Six members of the Woman's Athletic Association are working for W. A. A. pins, four for "T" sweaters and four for blankets.

Girls who are expecting to receive pins are Misses Ruth Dutton, La Verne Brunson, Josephine Newberry, Evelyn Stobaugh, Gemma Nunley and Virginia Bradford.

Members who are working for sweaters are Misses Mae Housel, Marian Smith, Mary Cecilia Gaudin and Lucy Mae Merritt.

Misses Philo Mae Murphree, Harriet Griffin, Marian Miller and Loree Guhl are expecting to receive the blanket awards given to members of senior standing.

Bicentennial Music Secured for Pageant

Compositions of J. P. Sousa to Be Given—Many T. C. U. Voices in Chorus.

Music written by John Philip Sousa and other notable composers at the suggestion of Congress for the Washington Bicentennial, will be used in the T. C. U. Pageant to be presented May 7, under the direction of Mrs. Helen Murphy.

This music has been secured by the local Bicentennial committee of which President E. M. Waits is chairman.

A T. C. U. chorus of 100 voices will be a part of the civic chorus, composed of various musical organizations throughout the city, which will take a prominent part in the production. This civic chorus will be under the direction of Sam S. Losh.

All students interested in choral work are urged to report to Mrs. Helen Fouts Cahoon or David Scouler of the music department.

The chorus meets at 4:30 p. m. Tuesdays and Thursdays and at noon Saturdays.

'Buffalo Echoes' Fellowship Topic

Musgrove and Graham to Speak—O'Brien Will Preside.

"Buffalo Echoes" will be presented by the Christian Endeavor Society of the University Christian Church at the Religious Fellowship service Sunday evening at 7 o'clock in the University Auditorium.

Dan Packard will play a piano prelude, after which Otto Nielsen will lead the congregation in the singing of the hymn, "We've a Story to Tell the Nations." Dean Harrison will then lead the prayer.

Following the taking of the evening offering, George Graham will make a talk on the subject, "The Voice of Youth." Miss Helen Clark and Miss Jessie Hawkins will sing the selection "Hold Thou My Hand, Dear Lord," by Briggs. Another talk on the program will be made by Gordon Musgrove on "A Challenge to Youth." Benediction will be pronounced by Arle Brooks. Roy O'Brien, president of the Christian Endeavor Society, will preside at the service.

Graham and Musgrove were delegates from the local Student Volunteer Movement to the international convention held in Buffalo, N. Y., during the Christmas holidays.

The Brite College of the Bible Association will present a grand resume of the fall semester's Fellowship services next Sunday evening. Otto Nielsen, president of the organization, will preside.

Language Group To Convene Here

T. C. U. was chosen as the place of the 1934 convention of Alpha Zeta Pi, national romance language fraternity, at the convention held Jan. 1 and 2 in St. Louis, according to Miss Adelle Clark, who was re-elected national secretary. Miss Dorothy Conkling was the student representative.

Fourteen official delegates were present at the last convention. With the acceptance of a petition from the A. & M. College at Stillwater, Okla., there are now ten chapters in the organization. They are the Universities of Denver, Missouri, Washington, Colorado and Wyoming, Colorado State Teachers' College, Arizona State Teachers' College, Southern Methodist University, and T. C. U.

The purpose of the fraternity is to recognize scholarship, to promote advanced study in modern languages and to create greater interest in the study of Romance languages, literature and art.

Rabbits' Feet to Bring Good Luck To Horned Frogs

If the Horned Frogs do not repeat as Southwestern Conference basketball champions, it is not the fault of A. W. Cato, 1005 Montreal, Dallas. A special delivery package addressed to "Too Tall" Dietzel, and the T. C. U. Horned Frogs," containing 18 rabbits' feet, was received by the lanky Frog center early Tuesday.

The omens of good fortune were heavily wrapped in meat market paper. Thinking that some trick was being played on him, Dietzel passed it over to Standard Lambert, who went through the long process of opening it. Both were agreeably surprised at the contents.

He gave one to every member of the squad and kept the surplus, figuring that he would need all of those who break his scoring record that he came so close to in the Rice affair. He also figures that it will take an extra one or two to witch a few gift shots.

Dietzel, as well as the entire squad, was well pleased with the good luck emblems, and every basketeer will have one in every game from now on. Although most of the Frogs looked at the incident with optimism, Johnny Vaught had to look at it from a pessimistic standpoint. While all the others were telling how much luck it was going to bring them, Vaught put a cloud over their sunshine with, "I know that the darn things are supposed to bring good luck, but the rabbit had four of them and look where he is today."

Iron Men Will Replace Present 'Softies' of Band

Ten bandmen, led by Prof. Claude Sammis, have set out in earnest to disprove the old idea that musicians are effeminate and physically weak by entering Clark Rhodes' weight lifting and barbell exercise class.

According to Rhodes the number of the class will be limited because of the lack of equipment. If sufficient interest is shown and enough applications are made, another class might be organized. Sophomores may supplement this course for physical training. Thirteen men have signed up for the course. They are Prof. Sammis, Sproesser Wynn, Reeder Shuggart, Bryant Collins, Sam Cotton, Billy Allen, Gibson Randle, Murry Livingson, Lawrence Floyd, Perry Sandifer, Wooten Wooten, Charles Hanna and William Spurlock.

More About 50-50 Dates

"No siree, I don't think the girl should ask the boy for a date," says pretty little Elizabeth Morrison. "But I think that at school affairs the girls should be willing to pay their share. On ordinary dates I don't think she should. I wouldn't, for I just wouldn't feel right in doing so."

Hugh Sloan says, "I would stay at home before I would ask a girl to pay half the expenses of a date. Besides, it would make me feel a little uncomfortable, and if I do not have the money to have a date, and can't get a parlor date, I just won't go anywhere."

"It is a pretty good idea, due to the present economic depression," says "Snappy" Miller. "I think it is all right for the girl to help out in such a case, and think that there would be more dates among the students if such a policy were adopted here. But I don't think that the girl should ask the boy for a date."

"Why, I wouldn't think of letting a boy know that I cared anything about going with him, let alone asking him for a date," says Helen Clark. "I am very much against such a plan, for if the girls have to go 50-50 on dates then they wouldn't be able to buy all the pretty things that go to make them so cute and attractive. Since the boys expect us to look our best when they take us places, I don't see where they get the idea that we should go 50-50 with them."

Mary Louise Gilliam says, "I am very much against such a plan for it will cost the girl too much if she expects to go anywhere. But I do think that if the girl likes a boy who hasn't the money to take her places, she ought to be willing to help pay the way in order to get to go places more often."

"Such a plan would make the girls more independent, and eliminate some of the 'he-man' stuff," says Harriett Griffin. "It is a good idea. It is not fair for the boys to have to pay all the entertainment. The girl then would be able to eat as much as she wanted to and she wouldn't have to sit in the balcony when she goes to the show."

Library Acquires Book

Facsimile of Ancient Bible Is Purchased by University.

The Mary Coats Burnett Library is now in possession of a volume of photographic facsimiles of part of the Codex Alexandrinus, a Bible manuscript thought to have been written during the first half of the fifth century for the library of the Patriarch of Alexandria, which is now owned by the British Museum.

The manuscript first came into notice when it was offered as a gift from the Patriarch of Constantinople to King James I of England in the year 1625. In its original entirety the Codex consisted of the Old Testament, the New Testament, Epistles of Clement of Rome and the Psalms of Solomon. The volume acquired Tuesday by the University library, however, contains only facsimiles of the New Testament manuscript, 25 pages of which were either lost or destroyed during the pillaging of the Alexandrian libraries by the Turks.

Star Math Students Try for Model Class

Twenty-six freshman algebra students are eligible to take the examination this afternoon from 1 to 4 o'clock in Room 110 for admittance to the model freshman trigonometry class, according to Prof. C. R. Scherer.

More About Disarmament

Jo Brice Withmuth—Major at Central High, 1925—"I think war is a futile means of attempting to settle disputes. Total disarmaments should be our goal. I think the United States, due to its isolated position, is best fitted to take the lead in promoting disarmament."

"I believe the R. O. T. C. will and should be ultimately abolished. I think the R. O. T. C. offers good possibilities, but due to the fact that there are a good many commandants and Professors of Military Science and Tactics who have the militaristic attitude, the R. O. T. C., as it is now organized, continues to promote and foster a war psychology which is undesirable."

E. R. Tucker, registrar—"I am in favor of elective military training in high schools and secondary institutions. I believe that the R. O. T. C. teaches obedience, neatness, discipline, etc., and trains the body. I do not feel that it cultivates the militaristic spirit."

"I am in sympathy with any practical movements to limit armaments, but I believe such action should be taken simultaneously by all the major powers."

Girl Likes Uniforms. Miss Mozelle Bryant—"I do not believe in disarmament. I think we should maintain arms for protection."

Miss Marjorie Scott—"I like the uniforms and rather like the R. O. T. C."

Miss Maybeth Ellis—"I am for disarmament to a police force basis. I am for removing the R. O. T. C., and believe we should organize internationally for peace."

John Ruff—"A minimum of defense armament is necessary. I believe in disarmament, but am undecided as to the advisability of maintaining the R. O. T. C. units."

Miss Doss for Arms. Miss Rowena Doss—"I do not believe in the R. O. T. C. being retained in the schools. I do believe in national defense and in the maintenance of armies and navies."

Miss Mabel Major—"I believe in co-operative international disarmament. I advocate taking the R. O. T. C. units out of our schools."

Carl Rolater—"I do not believe in disarmament. We should maintain armaments as a constant precaution."

Boaz Hoskins—"We should maintain armaments in proportion as our size and importance as a nation demands. We should keep our armies and navies in proportion to other nations."

Fletcher Johnson—"I am in favor of abolishing the R. O. T. C. and of gradual disarmament."

Dr. Gayle Scott—"I believe in disarmament to a police-force basis."

Lennox Robinson Next on Series

Lennox Robinson, Irish dramatist, will appear in the T. C. U. Auditorium at 8 o'clock Tuesday night, Feb. 2, giving his "Story of the Abbey Theater."

Robinson, who is considered the most important of the younger Irish dramatists, has written extensively on the drama, being for some time a critic on the staff of a leading London newspaper.

His interest in the drama of other countries led him to be one of the founders of the Dublin Drama League which produces in that city the plays of the outstanding European and American dramatists. The center of Robinson's interest is in Ireland but his circumference is the world.

Robinson had his first play staged on Oct. 8, 1902, at the Abbey Theater, Dublin, where the Little Theater Movement originated. He has had more plays produced than any of the other Irish dramatists. Fifteen of his plays have been staged at the Abbey Theater, three of which met also with considerable success in London and New York.

This lecturer is an actor of distinction, appearing in the productions of the Dublin Drama League. He has been manager of the Abbey Theater for many years and is now producer and director of the Theater.

Besides his plays, Robinson has written a short novel, a number of short stories and poetry.

Amateur Astronomer Is Guest of Parabola

Oscar Monnig, amateur astronomer of Fort Worth, will be guest speaker at a meeting of the Parabola Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock in Room 110.

He will discuss the planets, giving special attention to the recently discovered Pluto. After the lecture, Monnig will point out the planets of interest through his telescope.

Monnig and Blakeney Sanders operate an observatory, Estrellas, in Fort Worth from which the monthly astronomical publication, "Texas Observers Bulletin," is issued.

The public is invited to attend the meeting.

Change Is Announced In Calendar for 1932

Due to a change which has been made in the calendar for next year, three holidays will be given at Thanksgiving instead of the one previously announced, according to E. R. Tucker, registrar. This change will also affect the Christmas holidays. School will adjourn Wednesday, Dec. 21, instead of Saturday, Dec. 17, and will resume on Tuesday, Jan. 3, instead of Monday, Jan. 2.

The change was made because of the fact that the Texas State Teachers' Association will meet in Fort Worth during the Thanksgiving holidays next year.

THE WOMAN'S FAIR STORE

SPORTORIALS

By STANDARD LAMBERT.

THAT 47 to 22 Saturday night and 52 to 22 Wednesday didn't look so bad to me. In fact, I, as well as the rest of the student body, was beginning to get a bit worried after the Baylor game, but all of us feel better now. We might win a title yet. I still believe that Baylor has some rough sailing between here and the rugged coast of championship-land.

I WAS up in the stands Saturday night keeping a little private score of my own, and I was pulling everything I had for "Ole Dietz" to set a new scoring record. I was laboring under the impression that the record was 23 points, and when he dropped that last shot through, I breathed a sigh of relief and yelped in joy. After the game I went over to break the news to him, but he nonchalantly reminded me that he made 26 points down at Texas last year.

All of which proves that I'm "not quite" ready for a position on the New York Times as soon as I get that sheepskin in June.

I STILL contend that the Frogs are miserably weak in the free-throw department. In the two conference games thus far, they have made 13 points by the gift route in 33 attempts. If Ted Husing will permit me to use the expression that made him famous, I'll say, "That is putrid!" Good teams, that is, champions, generally average from .666 to .750 while our average thus far has been .384.

Player	Attempts	Goals	Percentage
Allison	1	1	1.000
Vaught	2	1	.500
Walker	4	2	.500
Sumner	7	3	.429
Bannon	5	2	.400
Dietzel	14	5	.357
Green	1	0	.000

THERE'S a point that Dietzel is overlooking in his value to the team. Because of his scoring ability, it's a cinch that he's going to be fouled more than any other man on the team; because he can't shoot the free shots, they'd rather foul him than to let him get a bead on the basket. However, if he would improve himself to the point where he made a high percentage of his free shots, the coaches in the conference would give their guards instructions to play him fair, and pray that he'll miss the field baskets.

IF he doesn't improve before long, he's going to find himself between the devil and the deep blue sea about the time the Frogs go up into those cold Ozarks to meet Arkansas. Last year the Razorbacks played handball with Dietzel's long lanky body, knocking it from one end-wall of the court to the other. And they got away with it, because, if he could have shot the gift throws under ordinary circumstances, he was too groggy even to see the basket after a few such knocks.

To make it a bit plainer, we might say that if he had been able to make all his free shots against the Owls, he would have broken a new scoring record. I've got plenty of confidence in that big Dutchman. He can do anything on a basketball court that he wants to—if he wants to badly enough.

WE would suggest that Dietzel work in this department and try to set a new record in free shots for one season. He will get more chances than any other man in the conference so why not take advantage of them, and be of real value to his team.

Frogs Trample Steers in Game At Austin 52-22

Schmidt Is Pleased in Showing Team Is Making.

BRANNON GETS 12 POINTS

Champions Will Play Texas Tech in Fieldhouse Here Tomorrow Night.

By STANDARD LAMBERT
GREGORY GYM, AUSTIN, Jan. 20.—Before a howling mob of 6000 spectators, the champion Texas Christian Horned Frogs renewed their challenge to all contenders for their throne by defeating the highly improved University of Texas Longhorns 52 to 22 tonight. Coach Schmidt used every man on the squad and turned in a favorable report for every contestant.

27 to 14 at Half.
With the score 27 to 14 at the beginning of the second stanza, the Longhorns looped two consecutive baskets, but after the champions called a time out, the Steers did not make another tally until the Schmidtmens had run their total up to 51 points. Rundell was sent into the Longhorn lineup a few minutes before the tilt was over, and after the Frog reserves got mixed up on their defensive assignments, he looped two baskets before the guards could gain their bearings. The final gun prevented the error from costing the Frogs a further narrowing of their margin of victory.

Schmidt Pleased.
Coach Schmidt was highly pleased with the improvement shown in passing and free throws. The Frogs made 16 out of their 19 attempts to go down on the record for tallies. The Frog defense also made its best appearance of the season. Barring errors in the opening and closing minutes of the second period, the Texas score could have been kept in the teens. Green and Vaught were especially effective in that they held Capt. "Bull" Ekins scoreless. Brannon's guarding of Tullis and Dietzel's holding Bill Kubicht to eight points were also outstanding defensive factors.

Dietzel Is Checked.
The outstanding features of the Texas outfit was Tullis' holding Dietzel to 15 points and Kubricht and Rundell checking Sumner to three field goals.

As usual Dietzel was high point man of the evening, but the outstanding scoring factor was Buster Brannon's 12 points that tied Sumner for second honors. This is an unusually high score for a guard. The Frogs remain idle from conference competition until Feb. 6 when the Steers come to Fort Worth for a return game. In the meantime they will meet the Texas Tech Matadors and West Texas Teachers of Canyon. The Matadors will be the Frogs' guests tomorrow night, and the next Saturday night the Canyon team will be here.

440-Yd. Relay on Track Schedule

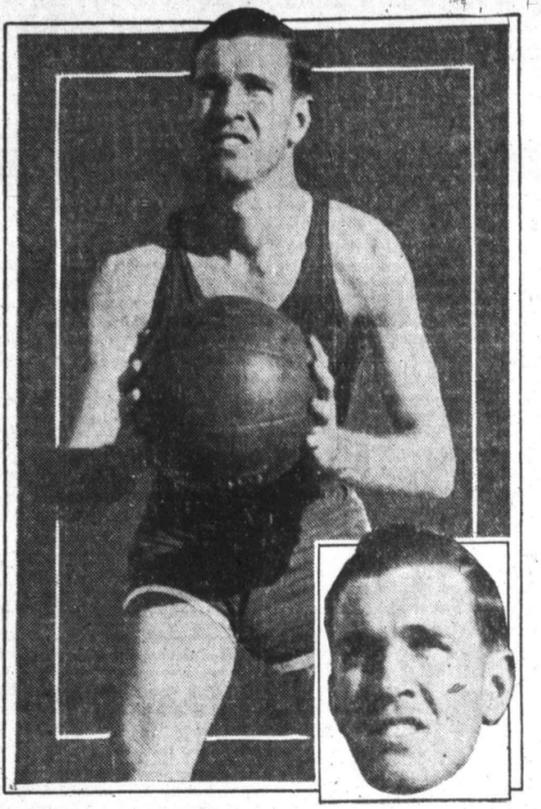

In order to make room for the new 440-yard sprint relay, a slight variation in the order of events for all-conference track and field meets was made at a recent meeting of the track coaches of the seven Southwest conference schools. The new program also calls for 10-minute intervals between all events except 15-minute intermissions after the one- and two-mile runs. As the schedule stands now, one hour and 40 minutes will be required in running off a meet.

In all meets between conference rivals, dual, triangular or in the final conference meet, the events will be run in the following order: 440-yard dash; 100-yard dash; 1-mile run; 220-yard dash; 120-yard high hurdles; 880-yard run; 440-yard sprint relay; 2-mile run, and the 1-mile relay.

Canyon Girls to Play Basketball Here Jan. 30

The W. A. A. girls of T. C. U. will play a basketball game Jan. 30, here with the W. A. A. of Canyon College. The University organization is planning on entertaining about 15 girls from Canyon.

Frogs' Sensational Leader

Ad Dietzel, who set the conference afire with his brilliant goal-looping last year, is out to break new records in 1932. A field goal and a free throw in the Rice game last week would have broken the record for a single game. He was unanimously chosen on the all-conference team last year, and was named on The New York Sun's all-American quintet.

Sandifer Boys, Not Marx Brothers, Are Featured in Horned Frog Band

What the Marx brothers are to the cinema and the Smith brothers are to the cough drop world, the three Sandifer brothers—Perry, Milner and Cody—are to the Horned Frog Band.

All of the brothers are recognized as masters with his respective instrument. Perry slides the trombone, Milner plays the trumpet and Cody is enrolled as a tympani player. Perry is enjoying his fifth year in a Horned Frog band uniform, while Milner is playing his third year, and Cody, who is but a sophomore, is playing his second year.

Thus far the two older boys have made the most favorable impression in the musical world. Milner is a former band director from Sanderson, Tex., and is working on his Bachelor of Music degree. Perry took his Bachelor of Arts degree from T. C. U. last June and is now working on his Master's degree. He has been connected with one of the downtown orchestras most of the time that he has been in school. Both Milner and Perry are members of the American Federation of Musicians, a musicians' union.

The two older boys are married, Perry having made the marital step in September. Cody has already exhibited the leadership qualities exhibited by his forerunners, having been elected secretary-treasurer of the band at the close of his sophomore year. According to their director, Prof. Claude Sammis, all of the boys are exceptionally talented, and have a bright future before them.

Tryouts for Show to Be Held First Monday in New Semester at 8 P. M.

Organization of a negro minstrel, composed of sophomore men and sponsored by the class, was formulated at a meeting Monday after chapel. The minstrel plans to give its first concert in February. Prof. J. W. Ballard, sponsor of the class, took charge of the meeting and checked the first roll call. A committee of Jack Langdon, Fred Miller and Professor Ballard made a list of the prospective singers.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

By CHARLIE CASPER.

With the mighty John McDiarmid playing the role of the hero by scoring 28 points, the seniors trounced the weak freshman quintet by the unbelievable score of 60 to 10 to increase their lead in the B league basketball race. Mark Hart was the star for the freshmen scoring 7 of their 10 points. Prexy Roark, Otis Stell, Grassy Hinton and Abe Martin were senior stars.

The sophomores untied themselves from third place by defeating the strong junior five 27 to 17. The game was nip and tuck all the way with the juniors holding the lead until late in the fourth quarter. Collins, George and Alexander were the spark plugs for the winners while Oliver, Townsend, Pruitt, and McCutchen sparked in defeat. Oliver scored his first point in basketball.

The seniors now lead the B league with three wins and no losses, the sophs are second with two wins and one loss, the juniors are third with one win and two losses and the frosh fourth with three losses. The seniors also have a monopoly on scoring honors as McDiarmid leads the scorers with 47 points. Roark is second with 36, Abe Martin rated third with 18 and Otis Stell is fourth with 17.

In the A league the seniors nosed out the juniors to retain their lead while the sophs were smashing the frosh to tie for second and third place with the juniors. Wright, Snow and Weatherly led the attack of the seniors while Carter, Stitt and Brewster, stood out for the losers. In the frosh-soph game Graves, Carpenter and Brown held off the rush of the freshmen until the members of their team arrived. Incidentally, this game was played in the Frog Fieldhouse and most of the members of the sophomore team was in the small gym waiting for the girls' game to finish. The frosh led at the half 12 to 7 but in the third quarter the second year men started tallying points and didn't stop until they were in the lead 26 to 17 at the end of the game.

The seniors of the A league led with two games won and no losses, the sophs and juniors are tied for second and third place with one victory and one loss, and the frosh are located in the cellar with two losses. So far the seniors have failed to produce any one individual high scorer. Graves of the sophs leads the scorers race with 20 points; Brewster is second with 19; Tom Carter, third with 18, and David Stitt is fourth with 16.

Still confident that he will be the 1932 handball singles champion, John (what-a-?) McDiarmid continued to make his boast true by trimming Wassenich 21 to 18 and 21 to 16. At the same time Bryant and Walsh served notice that they were going to be in the running when Walsh defeated Paty 21 to 18 and 21 to 16 and Bryant defeated Ernest Brown 21 to 2 and 21 to 11.

In the doubles matches Bryant and Hicks defeated Hall and Hults, Walsh and Stitt defeated Watson and "Diamond-in-the" Ruff, and McDiarmid and Yarbrough defeated Paty and Steele.

Frogs Win First Game From Own

Dietzel, Sumner Score Heavily—Brannon Outstanding.

With Adolph Dietzel at the helm of his scoring stride, the Texas Christian Horned Frogs won their first conference game at home Saturday night when they took the Owls Rice Institute in for a 47-to-22 cleaning. The team showed a remarkable improvement over its initial conference appearance against Baylor as at the same time hurled out a challenge to the other members of the conference to "come on."

Buster Brannon gave an exhibition of some of the neatest guarding on the local court in many months. Coach Schmidt assigned him the difficult task of guarding Jake Heasler, a sensational little forward who in the conference in individual effort in 1930 and Brannon's efforts were successful to the extent that the midget sharpshooter rung up only one field goal in each half. Because of his superior height and the fact that his mates were following him the ball high under the basket, Dietzel amassed 24 points which is but two less than the conference record that he holds jointly with Weir Schoonover, a pupil of Schmidt at Arkansas. In spite of his sore hand, Captain Sumner played his usual brand of ball. In addition to an excellent all-around performance, he managed to ring the bell for 16 points.

Night Class in Texas Problems Is Offered

The course in Texas Industrial Problems, Economics 142, will be extended through the second semester it was announced yesterday by Prof. Karl E. Ashburn. The course meets Monday nights and is concerned with problems relating to Texas and the South.

Professor Ashburn said that the course carries full three-hour credit in regular University work. Those interested should see either Dr. E. W. A. Elliott in the Main Building or Professor Ashburn in the library next week.
