Hy, Sy and Mac, Band Novelties, Play Over Radio

Again a section of the T. C. U. Horned Frog Band makes good in the radio world. Hy, Sy and Mac, the Harmony Hamonists from Saginaw, will play their second program of a series over radio station KFJZ this afternoon from 3 to 3:30 o'clock.

Hy and Sy play the trombone while Mac, the fancy five fingered artist, irritates the ivories of the piano. Hy and Sy say their original ambition was to be coloratura cantato singers but because of an epidemic of acute adenoids and irked tonsils, they were forced to turn to the trombone as a means of expression for their artistic instincts.

According to them, their natural vocation is that of farming, but as they could not resist the lure of the city, they came to Fort Worth to become radio artists.

Friday, Hy, Sy and Mac will inaugurate a radio school of music, teaching trombone and other stringed instruments as their specialty. Those wishing to take advantage of this opportunity are urged to buy their trombones next Friday when the first lesson will be given. After the course in music, the Hamonists plan to give a series of illustrated lectures on natural history.

Hy, Sy and Mac do not wish to reveal their identity but any request made to either Perry Sandifer, Don Gillis or Frank McMorde will be sure to reach them.

Joint Program Sunday at 4 P. M.

Choral and Men's Glee Clubs Will Sing at Palm Vesper.

The Choral Club and the Men's Glee Club will present a Palm Sunday Vesper service Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Auditorium. This program will serve as the twilight hour musicale for March and as the Fellowship program for Sunday evening.

The chorus will open the service with the three pictures, the choruses of the sons of Shem, Ham and Japhet, from Rubenstein's "Tower of Babel."

This number will be followed by a mezzo-soprano solo sung by Mrs. Annabel Hall Bailey. Mrs. Helen Fouts Cahoon will appear in the next selection as soloist, with the Choral Club singing the Jerusalem chorus from the motet "Gallia" by Gounod.

The Men's Glee Club will sing one number, "Landsighting," by Greig. The next group of songs will be three old English choruses, "Summer is i-cumen in," "In These Delightful Pleasant Groves" and "I have Twelve Oxen," by Forneste, Purcell and Pulford, respectively. The chorus will sing as the final number "Listen to the Lamb," by Dett.

Miss Adeline Boyd and Rowena Doss will be the accompanists.

This program will be sponsored jointly by the T. C. U. Woman's Club and the University Religious Fellowship.

International Speaker Is Guest on Campus

Paul Porter, student secretary for the League for International Democracy, delivered a series of addresses before different group meetings of students and faculty members Wednesday. He was the guest of the Y. M. C. A.

Porter spoke to the freshman-sophomore chapel group on "The World on Edge." He conducted the student "Y" open forum meeting at 1 o'clock, speaking on the subject, "Why I Am a Socialist." A group of Jarvis Hall girls heard Porter speak at 3 p. m. At 8 o'clock, Porter spoke in a Goode Hall meeting on "Social Democracy."

"Miss Sophistication"—T. C. U.'s Maid of Mystery

Who is she? Almost everyone from the most lowly freshman to the student body president knows her—knows her well. The janitor in the administration building, the president in his comfortable office, all know her and—speak to her.

Green-eyed, not with envy, half-blond, about 5 feet 2 inches in height, creamy complexion with tiny moles sprinkled here and there, uses little make-up, this mystery girl is easy to look upon. Born in 1910, she should be about 22 years of age.

When she smiles, and she often does, there is a look of sorrow on her face. We feel she sorrows for the insignificant race of men and women swirling at her feet, beckoning this way and that, but powerless to move her. Indulgent suitors and distant ones alike, receive the lifted eyebrow, the disdainful look. She contests the beliefs of professors and students alike. No creed, no person, is exempt from her withering scorn, her particular brand of sophistication.

This popular campus Miss is not as successful in her tactics today as in her freshman days. Seen with fewer campus swains she might lead one to think there was a certain love hidden in the closet. This apparently stoical co-ed is a misleading character. For all her scornful glances and cynical looks she has had affairs with at least two well known campus leaders. One of these gentlemen is tall, athletic, a disciple of a popular professor. Just as cynical and worldly-wise as his fair companion, this couple was seen at many of the social calendar's most elite functions. Others tell us the two were seen other places—not as high class.

Fond mothers with young hopefuls gather their sons about them when this pretty T. C. U. Miss appears on the scene. One prodigy, a popular junior class member, failed to escape the siren's call. He is one of those rosy-cheeked play boys, at home in cabaret, or a model in the house of worship. The two are seen together often now that spring "has sprung." They don't walk around holding hands as other couples do. You would think they were strangers. Both respectable, both handsome, a fair couple.

"Miss Sophistication," she might be called, is a well known member of the senior class. She lives, she breathes, she may be at your elbow smiling cynically even as you read this Skiff. Who is she?

Dr. Poling to Campaign

Dean Hall to Preside at Prohibition Session Tomorrow.

Dr. Daniel A. Poling and his group of Allied Campaigners will arrive in Fort Worth tomorrow to conduct daily sessions Saturday and Sunday at the Central High School Auditorium in the interest of enforcing prohibition.

Dean Colby D. Hall, vice-chairman of the local committee on arrangements, will preside at the session tomorrow afternoon when Col. Raymond Robbins and Robert C. Ropp will speak. Dr. Poling will speak to a men's banquet Saturday at noon and will address the general meeting Sunday night at 8 o'clock.

There will be two sessions each day, beginning at 3 p. m. and at 8 p. m. Robert Ropp will speak on the youth aspects of prohibition at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Another of the Poling group members, Miss Norma C. Brown, will speak at a woman's luncheon given in her honor at the Woman's Club Saturday at 12 o'clock. All faculty women and wives of the professors are invited to attend.

Ugly Man Ballot

Here is the ballot for the finals in the ugly man contest. You'll be surprised, but here's the results of last week's primary. Just check your candidate and put the ballot in the box in the main hall.

Manager Harry Gould of the Palace Theater has kindly consented to give the winner of the title, "Texas Christian's Ugliest Man," four tickets to the Palace. They will be good to see the films during the Easter holidays or for the pictures the week after the holidays.

Disorderly Conduct will be the film next week after the contest closes. The runner-up will receive a pair of duets to take his girl to the Palace—if he can get a girl.

Check your candidate and The Skiff will announce the winner Wednesday. Ballots must be in by Tuesday at 9 o'clock.

Play Tournament Will Be in April

Favorable replies have been received from Baylor University and Trinity University in which they both stated definitely that they would have plays to present at the Central Texas One-Act Play Tournament which is to be held here about the middle of April.

Trinity has not yet decided on a play to be presented, but "Suppressed Desires" has been announced as the Baylor play.

The Dramatic club, which is to be the host at the tournament, expects to hear from the rest of the schools which have been invited in the near future.

Racket Wielders Start Practice

With only one letterman to build his team around, Coach McDiarmid set to work Monday afternoon to form his 1932 tennis squad. Capt. Howard Walsh, number 4 man of the 1932 squad, is the only returning letterman. He will play the number 1 position.

Clyde Alexander, number 1 player on last year's frosh team; Billie Dickey, ertswhile Houston ace; Marion Hicks and Charley Williams, Fort Worth racketeers, will play a round robin tournament within the next two weeks to determine their ranking.

The Frogs have their first official meet in April with S. M. U. in Dallas. To date this is the only meet scheduled but Coach McDiarmid reports that the team will have several meets with prominent colleges before the conference meet, which is to be held in Houston May 13 and 14.

Haling Is Editor

This issue of The Skiff is the first of a series to be edited by seniors in the department of journalism. As a part of the regular outlined work for journalism seniors, this work is under the supervision of Prof. J. Willard Ridings.

Elbert Haling, this week's issue editor, did his first journalism work on the staff of The Semi-Weekly Campus, a publication of Southern Methodist University. He served as radio and theatrical editor on this paper.

Coming to T. C. U. in '29, Haling became feature and radio editor of The Skiff. In the meantime he has found time to do some work for The Dallas News, and several scientific publications. Hobby: Amateur radio.

Standard Lambert will act as issue editor for next Wednesday. This number will be issued two days early because the Easter holidays begin on Friday.

Time Limit Extended

Thursday Is Last Day for Refund on Lecture Tickets.

The time limit on the money refund of the Public Lectures Course tickets has been extended to Thursday, according to Dr. Newton Gaines, chairman of the Lectures Committee.

On presentation of tickets at the cashier's window of the T. C. U. business office, the ticket-holder will receive a 50 cent refund, since only four of the six scheduled lecturers have appeared here.

Dr. Gaines declared that lack of the necessary financial support by students and the public was the reason for discontinuing the lectures. He further stated that although there probably will be no lecture series offered next year, if sufficiently demanded by students and the public another course will be presented at T. C. U. in the future.

Cast Is Selected for Junior Class Mystery

The cast for the junior class play, "The Dead of Night," a three-act mystery, has been selected and has been going through rehearsals for the last week. The play is being directed by Clayton McCutcheon. It will be given during the first week in April.

The cast includes Misses Eloise Washburn, Doris Sellars and Lucy Mae Merritt, and Glen McKenzie, J. R. Crump, Milt Mehl, Wayne Stokes and McCutcheon.

Oratorio Music to Be Given at Brite Chapel

A program of oratorio music will be presented by Mrs. Helen Fouts Cahoon, David Scoular and Mrs. Annabel Hall Bailey at the Brite College of the Bible chapel next Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock.

That Lindbergh Babe

Maybe by the time this appears, Charles Augustus will be returned to his mother's arms. Just as likely, however, dire reports of the babe's death may be filling the air and causing world-wide sorrow.

Perhaps you too listen vainly until far into the night for hopeful radio reports... Like us, you turn out the lights, shrug your shoulders in despair and feel an unpleasant sensation... At the pit of your stomach... When the hours go by... With no words of promise... No suggestion of relief... You picture to yourself the vacant cradle in the Lindbergh home... A brave young father... A delicate mother trying to glean hope from the yawning maw of a cruel underworld.

University students well remember reports of how "We" underwent the terrors of night as they beat a watery path across the Atlantic. None have forgotten details of that landing at Le Bourget, the young man's account of his flight, "When I descended to escape the fog," he said, "and saw the black Atlantic waves, I wanted to turn back, but when I looked back, it was just as desolate, so I kept on going."

That young couple's present situation is akin to that of "We." They are unable to turn back. Instead they must look forward... Down an aisle of heart-breaking hours lined with false hopes. The Skiff wonders if such is the reward of material treasures. It seems to us that Lindy's righteous reaction to untold success should have given him a season pass through life.

Texas Christian Saves America

Associated Press dispatches from Washington Wednesday night state that the United States was being slowly wiped off the globe by the combined forces of the north, south, east and west winds. The last two states to enter the union, Arizona and New Mexico, had already been blown off and the United States Weather Bureau expressed the opinion that if the present gales from the north continued that the entire nation would be wiped off the map in 23 days. The head of the Bureau based his opinion by figuring that the states would fade away at the rate of two per day.

All efforts by the United States Secret Service and the Department of State to get in touch with them had failed. Every available modern invention failed to get in communication with the lost members. Even the radio could not get a response. One operator in the U. S. Naval Observatory picked up a faint S O S, but it was not distant enough to be located.

After all efforts had failed, Congress was at a loss what to do. They had just about decided to make put the best they could with 46 states, when the business office of Texas Christian University came to the rescue—it purchased a new flag.

At the time that the new national banner was purchased, the old one that had been flying from the campus pole had been whipped off on one end and was gradually eating into the field. Two stars, representing the last two states to enter the union, had been beaten out; and judging from the number of stripes remaining there was some doubt as to whether there was 13 or 11 state in the original union. However, to avoid further embarrassment, the T. C. U. business office purchased a new national emblem with all 48 states duly represented. Now the nation is just as strong geographically as it ever was.

Speed

How many times have you speeded down the main streets of your city just because you were late? Not many of us have always been on time to every appointment and when we jump in our automobiles it is pretty hard not to step on the gas when we are reasonably sure that the motorcycle officer is over by the school grounds.

How many times have you speeded down the main streets of your city just for a thrill? This experience is more common to the youth of the day than it is to the older persons who drive. In a recent investigation it was found that the greatest majority of accidents were found among those drivers under 20 years of age. Slow down.

It is interesting to note some of the human characteristics in regard to modern day speed or hustle—as it may be termed. You have all heard the person who has just arrived from a point ten miles away in nine minutes and fifty-three seconds. "Boy, I cut down five minutes on that drive," he will probably say.

Now the interesting thing about this is that the person will waste twenty-five minutes telling of that five minutes that he saved. If he has accomplished some new feat in record time, he will waste twice as much time telling about it.

If you are always late, and some people make a habit of this, turn your clock ahead ten minutes and then forget about ever touching the clock. The trouble with most of us is that we turn the clock ahead, yet we allow for that extra ten minutes every time we do something.

The person who is late is wasting the other person's time. If you have nothing to do except meet a certain person at a certain time, you should be able to save your time and his by arriving at the appointed hour. Get the habit of starting earlier.

The habit of starting earlier will help to solve the first problem of driving fast because you are late, but the other problem cannot be solved until that innate tendency of man to surpass his self or his fellow man is overcome. If the majority of the accidents happen when the youth is behind the wheel, it would seem that youth is always late, or that his innate tendency is stronger than his common sense. Don't be late and you won't have to speed.

Police say that the kidnaping of Lone Eagle, Jr., was done by amateurs. Gosh, what if they turn professional?

COULTER'S COLUMN

THIS column, as usual, will be nothing but nonsense put on paper. So prepare yourself! This will be a discussion of ways to make a million dollars—purely nonsense!

Here's one way that has been proven successful—until they caught him: Write a letter to as many people as you can find addresses for. Here's the letter:

Dear Mrs. Dinkleburg: If you will send a letter to me by return mail, I will send you my method of making a million dollars. This method has been proven several times and is guaranteed to work.

There is simply no work to the idea and returns will drop into your lap with the approach of each mail man. All you need is a typewriter and a little time. You invest two cents and your return is one dollar.

Please inclose $1 when answering letter to cover mailing charges.

Sincerely yours, GAUL STONES.

WHEN the $1 is received another letter is sent out such as this: Dear Mrs. Dinkleburg: Do the same thing that I am doing.

Sincerely yours, GAUL STONES.

ANOTHER method of making money is in furnishing theater advertising man with words. Most of them will gladly pay five to ten dollars for a new word suggesting their new pictures. Here's an example of some of the words that they can use:

Stupendous, colossal, majestic, panoramic, mellifluous, syncopating, triumphant, achievement, masterpiece, vibrant, humanity itself, heavenly, thrilling, gripping, sensational, terrifying, mysterious, inspiring, sparkling, zippy, double-barrelled, for the first time, sizzling, ha-cha-cha and any number of others. If I had sold those words in this paragraph, I would probably have made five hundred dollars. Oh yeah!

OF COURSE there are many simple ways of making money, but one of the best ways is to write term papers for fellow students. This is one of the main ways that some students use to pay their way through college. Upperclassmen have so much time on their hands that writing term papers for freshmen is a good way to pass away a couple of hours. Charges of from five to twenty-five dollars are made for these theses. Charge according to how dumb the freshman looks.

It is estimated that one could make a million dollars from doing the above in about 413 years and five months... Sundays included.

THE art of selling magazines is also another way of making a fortune. The only trouble with this is that after forty years you look too old for a college student. Many college professors are now taking up the vogue in Texas Christian since the salary cuts. It is predicted that within four years, all the professors will have turned to this method of providing for their families and all the college students will have to find other work.

Another good occupation that is coming to the foreground is that of selling bicycles to college students. This is growing very popular among the religious education students. Only one disadvantage is met with in this vocation—installments are hard to collect.

THAT brings us to another trade of the modern day—especially in America where everybody spends his salary before he gets it. This trade is hooking up with some printing firm and selling installment blanks to large and small companies.

This field is not open just now, but as soon as some one shouts prosperity and it looks as if a few people are going to get jobs within the next year, you will find the field wide open.

THIS could go on forever, but here's one last method of making a million: If you have any artistic ability at all, you can make a great deal of money each year by painting class numerals for freshman classes all over the country.

By this method you can put $1 a week in a bank and it will grow into a million dollars in approximately 500 years with interest for your great-great-great, but why go on?

LILACS

Fragrance of lilacs faint in the air. Sweet as the breath of the spring-time fair.

Fleeting, elusive, meant to allure, Soothing, entrancing, lovely and pure, Vaguely reminding of dreams that have fled,

Waking the soul to hopes long thought dead.

Only the scent of lilacs in bloom! Yet, how it lightens and brightens the gloom!

Wiping away from the eyes all their tears, Filling the mind with the riches of years,

Treasures of secrets kept all alone, Echoing joys of a love you have known.

Perfume of lilacs, sweetness of dreams,

Floats on the waves of memories streams.

Lingering, pausing, drifting away— Returning again, yet powerless to stay;

Quickening the pulse and haunting the heart,

Ghosts of the things that never depart.

Wilfred P. Harman.

A MEASURE OF GREATNESS. Great men with great minds sit daily at large desks in large offices and puzzle over problems.

They quibble over what nation shall build more ships to destroy more men to win more beans and potatoes.

They argue over what shall be done to remedy the situation in far Eastern countries. As they argue, men ignorantly and ruthlessly kill other men.

They speak sympathetically for men who huddle the streets searching for work, and they murmur something of whether or not a dose or a plan of governmental construction would help.

We call them diplomats, economists, politicians, solvers of world problems.

There are no conferences, no decisions, no deliberations—only hot water and iodine.

The Wiser Sex, The Greeks Had a Word for Them Are New Flickers

The Worth brings you another stage idea, Hot Java, and Claudette Colbert in The Wiser Sex over the week-end. Why an actress was picked to play the leading part of a picture called The Wiser Sex is one of the questions of the day. The Palace brings in The Greeks Had a Word for Them tomorrow and Disorderly Conduct next Wednesday.

Hot Java (or scuppa scoffee) is the latest Fanchon and Marco Idea. The show starts at the Worth Sunday. The Caligary Brothers, Armas Chirof, Noree, Vincent Yerro and the Samuels Brothers head the bill. They are followed and accompanied by the Sunkist Beauties. There's six acts to this show.

The picture, The Wiser Sex, has Miss Colbert in the lead and Lilyan Tashman is the blond in the film. Claudette is one of the most attractive actresses on the screen to our notion. In this film she is seen as both a blond and as a brunette.

Lilyan is named as the best dressed woman on the screen and in this film, it is said that Claudette gives her a fit—not meaning she is a dressmaker. (Gosh, such poor puns as The Skiff is printing now-a-days).

Ina Claire and David Manners star in The Greeks Had a Word for Them. This comedy is about three chorus girls on the loose and that's not tight. Joan Blondell, Ina Claire, and Madge Evans play the parts of chorines in pursuit of millionaires. This story could be taken from life on the Texas Christian campus, but it isn't.

The mid-week film will star Spencer Tracy and Sally Eilers. Here are some things you might be interested in: Sally breeds Aberdeen Scotties and gives the pups away as presents; Spencer has never worn a hot except in pictures (must be a college man); El Brendel's ambition is to own a monkey, and Sally owns her own airplane.

This film is called Disorderly Conduct and is rated as a good picture for entertainment.

SPORTORIALS

By STANDARD LAMBERT

As much as the old adage "One turn deserves another" is still true, Elton Miller dedicated Tuesday SPORT NOTES to me, an altogether fitting and proper thing I should follow suit. In the column he nominated me for conference publicity director, which was an excellent choice—the sensible that he has made to Today's SPORTORIALS are affectionately dedicated to that rabid perfectionist of school spirit known as Waco and the home town of Buster Doc as Elton "Hack" Miller. We might charge that he was intoxicated with school spirit; we might charge that he was consistently erratic to charge him with insincerity would be a felony. Although he was in most cases, he sincerely loved what Jinx Tucker told him stuck with his story through and thin.

When in the course of athletic events there comes a time when the captain of a team thinks more of his reputation than he does of victory for his team, something should be done.

Last Saturday T. C. U. lost the track and field meets south of the Mason-Dixon line by three one-half points because the Horned Frog captain chose to take an all-out preference to running the risk of being beaten to the tape by two. To have been beaten by two would have pricked the pride of a record-holder in the Southwest to quick.

Due to the extreme cold Coach Clark told the entire team that they must have to run unless they wanted to. Since the captain had a pretty good idea that Glass and Oliver were just a shade faster than himself, he chose to sit up in the stands with some co-eds warmly wrapped in boots and heavy overcoat. Let the men who elected him to strip to the skin and match wits in the face of the coldest weather that has hit Fort Worth this winter rather than risk being humiliated by third place in the event in which he held the record.

This is the writer's fourth year in T. C. U. and his seventh year of athletic competition and is the first that he ever saw so selfish a man pulled so openly. Athletics are supposed to teach sacrifice and a genuine yearning to excel, but in this particular instance it has missed the aim.

As a matter of comparison we should note that a sophomore who has broken any records or been declared a "star." Robert Chappell ran a grueling mile race. When he finished, he was exhausted, to the extent that he could hardly walk. He was carried to the shack in the southwest corner of the field and given a vigorous rubdown. A week later Coach Clark walked in and announced that as the points stood now T. C. U. could win the mile by taking second in the mile race, the last event on the schedule.

Coach Clark asked Chappell whether or not he could run the last lap of a race. Although his energy was used up, he answered, "Poss, I'll do the best I can." He wanted to win. He was willing to sacrifice complete exhaustion in order to attain victory. Although the T.C.U. sprinter came in last, the sophomore ran his best—put out every ounce of energy that he had. It didn't look very nice to be coming on the last lap 20 or 30 yards behind. It didn't do him any good, but he was willing to gamble. That's the difference between sacrifice and selfishness.

At the end of last track season, the track team elected one of the greatest sprinters in the nation to captain them in 1932. There is no doubt about his ability, but his courage is dubious. With such a spirit he will not get to first base, but a general of his attitude he will probably rank with the leading sprinters in the country. It is a shame for a man with as much natural ability as he has to "chump off" in such a manner.

Baseball Team Set for Opener

Snow, Hinton, Only Two Lettermen From Last Year.

BY BEN BOSWELL

Followers of the baseball teams of Texas Christian will see seven new faces in the starting line-up of this year's team. The team was almost intact for three years, but last year saw the graduation and expiration of eligibility of most of the group that came so near to winning the conference flag in 1930.

The two returning lettermen, Paul Snow, shortstop, and "Grassy" Hinton, outfielder have been appointed co-captain by Coach Meyer. Snow was one of the best men at his position last year, and Coach Meyer should have little worry about that position being taken care of. "Grassy" was the best fly-chaser on the diamond last year for the Frogs, but his hitting was not up to par. He is expected to have a big year at the bat.

For pitchers, Coach Meyer will depend chiefly on "Slim" Kinzy, towering soph from Marshall. Kinzy will be supported by Alf Roark, Vance Woolwine, Paul Donovan and Charles Schroeder.

Candidates for the backstop position are headed by Hubert Dennis. Jack Graves will probably get the second call, Freddie Miller is a soph candidate for that position.

Ad Dietzel and Cy Perkins will have a merry time in their fight for first-string first-sacker. Both have much ability at that position.

Flash Walker and Wallace Myers look as if they will be the regular

Howell to Quit Ring for Awhile

Foster Howell has announced definitely that he is through with boxing until the summer at least. The giant tackle took the advice of the T. C. U. business manager and dropped leather-slugging while in school.

At present Howell has no definite plans for the summer, but will probably box in order to get in shape for his last year of football. If he continues to improve and shows some promise he will probably make his professional debut after he receives his degree.

With the daily boxing workouts off his schedule, Howell will center his efforts on track where he is a star weight man and study so as to be sure of his eligibility next fall.

Weatherly Calls for Golf Team Candidates

All men wishing to try out for a position on the golf team, please notify Capt. A. D. Weatherly as soon as possible.

An intra-squad play-off for qualifications for the team will be held from April 1 to 15.

starters and second and third respectively, however Ray McCulloch is looking on an inflated berth with lustful eyes.

Johnnie Vaught and Joe Brown are the other two outfield candidates, and there are others who have not reported.

The Meyermen will make their initial appearance here this afternoon at 4 o'clock when they meet the strong Forest Hill Independents. The Meyermen will meet the Fort Worth Cats at LaGrave sometime next week. Coach Meyer said that it would probably be played Tuesday.

Frog Track Men Second in Meet

Casper High-Point Man for Purple With 12 Points.

By taking three first, four second, three third and two fourth places which were good for 36 points, the Texas Christian Horned Frogs placed second in the Southwest Exposition and Fat Stock Show meet here Saturday. Oklahoma A. & M. was first with 40 points. Texas was third and Southwestern Teachers College of Oklahoma was fourth.

The T. C. U. freshmen, entered in the prep school division, won their meet with 54 points. They were presented a trophy symbolic of their victory. Two first, ten second, four third and one fourth places turned the trick for Coach Clark's first year pupils.

Charlie Casper, sensational sophomore hurdler, was high point Horned Frog with 12 points earned by first places in both the high and low hurdles and third in the broad jump. Howell won the Christians other first place with 39 feet, 1 inch heave of the shot.

The Christian summary is as follows:

- 120-yard high hurdles — Casper, first; Phelps, third.
- 100-yard dash—Oliver, second.
- Discus throw—Salkeld, second.
- Broad jump — Spearman, second; Casper, third.
- One-mile run—Chappell, fourth.
- 220-yard low hurdles — Casper, first.
- Shot put—Howell, first; Salkeld, second.
- Pole vault—Preston, third.

ON OTHER CAMPUSES

Henry Bruce, comptroller of the University of Southern California, is bringing suit in the name of the university against Mrs. C. D. Swain of Los Angeles, charging that she persistently hangs wet underwear out to dry on her clothesline when guests are attending social functions at the U. S. C. gymnasium, which is directly across a street from Mrs. Swain's clothesline.

A Chicago man has confessed to a judge that he stole 118 bathtubs in order to keep his son in Harvard.

The University of Washington Daily recently said that:

"Today at Columbia University a course in modern failures of marriage is a compulsory study for all undergraduates. The name of the course is 'contemporary civilization.'"

"It attaches the present standing of marriage and boldly suggests that the distinction between legitimate and illegitimate parenthood be abolished."

Talking pictures in the Spanish language are being shown at C. I. A. to better acquaint students with that subject.

what makes a college leader?

PERSONALITY, of course. An engaging attitude toward others. Boundless energy for class and campus activities.

Good health is the basis. So few have it. Constipation frequently causes headaches, loss of appetite and energy, sleeplessness.

Yet it can be overcome so easily — by eating a delicious cereal, Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Two tablespoonfuls daily will promote regular habits.

Try it with milk or cream. Ask that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN be served at your fraternity house or campus restaurant.

The most popular ready-to-eat cereals served in the dining-rooms of American colleges, eating clubs and fraternities are made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. They include Kellogg's Corn Flakes, PEP Bran Flakes, Rice Krispies, Wheat Krumbles and Kellogg's WHOLE WHEAT Biscuit. Also Kaffee Hag Coffee—real coffee that lets you sleep.

"Choosey" People like the way they TASTE..

IT'S just what you'd expect. People who enjoy the good things of life... are constantly looking for something better to eat and drink... and smoke.

In cigarettes this better taste can come only from finer ingredients. Chesterfields are more satisfying to the cultivated palate. For one thing, there's never any attempt to skimp on Turkish leaf.

These richly flavored Turkish tobaccos are added with a generous hand.

In fact Chesterfield's new way of mingling tobacco flavors and aromas is really the equivalent of an entirely new kind of tobacco... one that combines the best qualities of Turkish and fine Domestic leaf.

Perhaps you've noticed too, that the paper in Chesterfields is whiter... purer. It burns without taste or odor.

Smoke Chesterfields whenever you like... They're mild and pure. They'll never tire you as an over-sweetened cigarette might easily do. Light up and see for yourself. They satisfy!

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

By CHARLIE CASPER

As the seniors of the B League expand their chests to show their medals, symbolic of the Intramural Championship, which was presented the writer will go through the much hated process of selecting the mythical all-intramural five. After talking to each of the players in the leagues and listening to his story of just how good he was, I have selected five youngsters who played a "bang-up" type of basketball from start to finish.

First team—
Alf Roark, senior B.....Forward
B. W. Spearman, senior A.....Center
John McDiarmid, senior B.....Center
Harris Brewster, junior A.....Guard
Abe Martin, senior B.....Guard

Second team—
David Stitt, junior A.....Forward
Hal Wright, senior A.....Forward
Jack Graves, sophomore A.....Center
Malcom Shackelford, senior A.....Guard
Bryant Collins, sophomore B.....Guard

In selecting the most valuable men Alf Roark leads the list. He was high scorer with a grand total of 108, which gives him a total of better than 23 points per game. This was better than the average of the Southwest's leading scorer, "Deb" Deitzel. John McDiarmid and Abe Martin ran a close race for second place.

Paul Snow will defend his title of "all-intramural free throw champion" Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 in the small gym. He set a new record last year in this event by tossing 39 out of 50 balls through the hoop. Mr. Knox requests that all men interested in this tournament report to him by Saturday.

Indoor baseball, tennis, golf and track are the Spring sports for the intramural aspirants to shoot at. Baseball starts the first week in April, golf about the second week and the track meet will be held about the 15th of April. Tennis entrants must be in before the Easter holidays in order that parings can be made during the holidays and play can begin when the students return. The baseball schedule will be published the next week.

School System Revised

Oregon Board Places All State Colleges Under One Head.

The Oregon Board of Education revolutionized methods of university administration last week by ordering the University of Oregon, Oregon State College and the three state normal schools to be placed under one president with their program unified.

The plan provides for six schools each on the state university campus and state college campus, each school being under the supervision of a dean, with a chancellor in the state capital acting as president of all institutions in the state.

This is the first time such a scheme has been tried in the United States although it has been discussed by educators for several years. The change is expected to provide economy, greater efficiency and better educational advantages for students in proportion to expenditure of funds. It is expected that the change will save $2,181,000 for a biennial period. The new program is to go into effect with the opening of the next fall term.

adopted by students at S. M. Skating dates are proving popular and a club has been organized in which the membership requirement is a bruised knee.
