Miss Hall Wins Scholarship to French University

Granted Honor by International Education Institute.

LAST JUNE GRADUATE

Winner Is Working on Master's Degree and Employed as Alumni Secretary.

Miss Bita May Hall has been awarded a Franco-American scholarship for study at the University of Toulouse by the Institute of International Education in New York. The school term at Toulouse is from Nov. 15 to July 15; however Miss Hall intends to spend a month or two in France before entering the university. Miss Hall was graduated from Central High School with magna cum laude and received her A. B. degree from T. C. U. last June with summa laude. She is now taking courses at the University towards her Master's Degree and is employed as Alumni Secretary here.

During her four years at T. C. U. Miss Hall has been active in the organizations of the school. She was a member of the Scholarship Society the third year and was elected president of this organization her senior year. Miss Hall was also a member of Alpha Zeta Pi her third and fourth years at the University. When she was a freshman Miss Hall belonged to the Girl's Pep Squad. Miss Hall has also been a member of the chorus of Glee Club.

According to Dean Hall the Institute was organized in 1919 for the purpose of developing international understanding, good will and education. It secures scholarships and fellowships for American students to study in European countries and for foreign students to study in American universities.

The recipients of these awards, according to the Institute announcement, are chosen with a view to "the promotion of the organization to promote mutual understanding between the nations. Only those students are nominated who have a creditable scholastic record but also those who would seem through their personalities and purpose to be representative of the best culture of their own countries."

Poetry Readers Leave for Meet

Texas Christian University's representatives to the National Poetry Reading Contest at Northwestern University in Evanston, Ill., left early Tuesday morning for that place. The representatives are Clyde Yarborough, William Gonder, and Miss Allan Anderson. They were accompanied to Evanston by Prof. Lew D. Fallis.

An Apology

To Capt. Dick Houser of the 1932 Horned Frog Track Team, The Skiff wishes to offer its most sincere apologies for the article directed at you written by the sports editor in the last edition of The Skiff. This is not an apology from the sports editor, but is an apology from the staff of The Skiff.

The sports editor might have felt justified in making such criticisms of your motives in not running but such statements are foreign to the policy of The Skiff and to the spirit of Texas Christian University.

We are making no excuses for the article. The editor should have stopped such material as soon as it was read, even though it was not seen until printed on a page proof. Last week's Skiff was entirely managed by an issue editor, but this was no excuse for the editor allowing the story to go through. We are not begging to be excused. We are offering our apologies for a thing that could have been prevented.

Capt. Houser, The Skiff believes that you are one of the most conscientious workers on the squad; it realizes that pulled muscles and charley-horses are easily developed in extremely cold weather such as was the condition in the Fat Stock Show meet. Such leg injuries could have kept you from conference competition for weeks and perhaps all season.

Coach Poss Clark left the decision up to you and you did what you thought best. He wishes to announce that he feels that you were perfectly right in doing as you did under the circumstances.

It is true that the writer might have been trying to spur you on to greater heights, but it seems that the article went just a little too far. Again The Skiff wishes to offer its apologies and to cheer you on to lead your team to a Southwest Conference Championship this year. May success be yours.

Sincerely,
LAURENCE COULTER,
Editor-in-Chief.

Easter Holidays To Begin Friday

Students Will Return to Classes Tuesday March 29.

The University will close for the Easter Holidays tomorrow and will re-open at 8 a. m. Tuesday, March 29. Students are at liberty to leave the campus as soon as their class work has been completed. Double cuts will be charged for absences from classes today and tomorrow and Tuesday and Wednesday of next week.

The library will close at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Books may be checked out over the holidays, according to library officials.

The policy of the University for observing holidays is to concentrate the holidays occurring during the spring into the Easter vacation, allowing students to visit their homes. One day patriotic holidays are observed by appropriate chapel programs.

Loan Fund Radio Program Tonight

The women's branch of the T. C. U. Alumni and Ex-Students' Association will sponsor a radio program over station KFJZ from 8:30 to 9 o'clock tonight in the interest of the Association's student loan fund.

Prof. Edwin A. Elliott, Dean Sadie Beckham, Dean L. L. Leftwich, Rube Berry and Raymond Wolfe will speak on the program. Music will be furnished by the T. C. U. Men's Glee Club under the direction of David Scouler and by Mrs. W. E. Alexander, who will play two piano selections.

Director and Pianist of Glee Club

DAVID SCOULAR

MISS ROWENA DOSS

Director David Scouler will realize another of his ambitions in two year's choral and glee club work in the University when he leaves with the Men's Glee Club Sunday, April 3, to conduct its first concert tour of an all men singing group since 1926.

Miss Rowena Doss, accompanist and piano soloist for the Men's Glee Club, will be the solo member of the feminine sex to travel with the 32 gleemen on the concert trip. Miss Doss is also sweetheart of the Horned Frog Band.

Practical Jokes Are Latest Craze for Goode Hall Inmates

Practical jokes are becoming the latest craze of the Goode Hall inmates. The good part of it that the latest ones have worked perfectly and have cost nobody anything but a little embarrassment. However, the one pulled after lunch Sunday afternoon is the best on the campus in several years.

Hubert Dennis came into the Goode Hall parlor with a .38 caliber six-shooter and started firing into the ceiling. According to previous plans, Foster Howell ran out the front door with Dennis behind him firing three shots in rapid succession. At the first shot Howell stumbled, the second one brought him to his knees and the third one felled him.

To make the farce more realistic, a group of lookers-on ran out and carried Howell back in the dormitory. The shots attracted attention of everybody passing and several of them started running for the dormitory. However, they were met at the door by Jack Shackelford who told them, "I'm sorry, but we're not having any visitors today."

At the time of the incident Dean Leftwich and his Goode Hall monitors, Hal Wright Parson Brown, Dan Salkeld and Alf Roark, were having lunch at the dean's home. A passer-by who had heard Shackelford refuse admittance to the outsiders rang the dean and told him that although he thought it was a practical joke, there was some shooting going on in Goode and advised that he investigate it. The dean nor any of the monitors thought much about it and started to resume their meal when the ambulance whizzed by the dean's home with the siren wide open.

Quite naturally they took stock in the report and rushed up to the dormitory only to find that it was a frame-up. Billie Dickey is also given credit for pulling a good one. He ordered a megaphone for his radio that will permit some hidden person to cut off the music and say anything that he wishes through the loud speaker. His roommate, Parson Brown, gathered a group of men into the room to listen to the program when all of a sudden the music stopped and the following words came from the loud speaker: "Ladies and gentlemen we are sorry to interrupt the musical program, but we have just received a news flash from Hopewell, N. J., which states that the Lindbergh baby had been found 20 miles from its home. Although the body was mutilated, the Lindberghs recognized it. No arrests have been made yet, but police stated that they had some very definite clews and probably the criminal would be apprehended by morning."

Just about the time all the boys were feeling pretty bad, Dickey came out of the closet, much to the embarrassment of all. Doc Sumner liked the idea so well that he wanted to pull it. A new group was gathered and Sumner started talking. By instructions from Brown the whole group moved into Johnnie Vaughn's room and in about five minutes, Sumner came in with a sheepish grin on his face after realizing that he had talked to himself for five minutes.

"Dr. Hyde" of T. C. U. Is Unmasked By "Walter Winchell" of Skiff

Dark eyes, raven locks, baby-face, these are the first impressions one gets when greeting him for the first time. About 5 feet 10 inches in height, weighing approximately 140 pounds, this star athlete of Texas Christian University is 19 years young.

From that tanned face and smiling mouth there radiates an impression of innocence. Be not deceived fair inmates of Jarvis. He is the best impersonator of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde on the campus. At a church gathering he would be trusted with the collection. At a dance, and he makes 'em all, this young man is the talk of the stag lines. Casino Park, Lake Worth, is the main scene for his summer sports. That was last summer.

We look with expectation to see what new exploits he will engage in this summer. Since last year "Mr. Hyde" has gone in a big way for the hand of one of the University's fairest maidens. This lass, a freshman by the way, is just two classes below the class of our "hero." She has the same babyish sweetness at T. C. U. that made her a drawing card at dear old Central High.

Her love life would not be interesting to Vina Delmar readers. However, let us say that a staff member of a campus publication is still her

Weatherly Wins!

A. D. Weatherly led by such a majority of votes that there will never be any question as to who will wear the title of "Texas Christian's Ugliest Man" from now until Weatherly graduates.

If he will but make his indications known, Weatherly will be awarded the title along with four passes to the Palace Theater. Manager Harry Gould will make out the passes for any show that the winner would like to see. Please notify the editor of The Skiff and passes will be forthcoming immediately.

This is a crazy story, but the contest was also crazy. Weatherly's "friends" staged a regular campaign and the vice-president of the senior class won with votes to spare. More than 200 votes were cast in the contest.

Bud Taylor wins second honors and will receive two passes to the Palace to any show that he would like to see. Please call at The Skiff office for dates wanted - week dates no girls furnished.

Weatherly's picture will be carried in several newspapers over the State and will be given a prominent place in the 1932 Horned Frog. Thanks, and watch for our next contest. It'll be crazy, too. "Ug" Weatherly is the newest nickname on the campus.

T. C. U. Is Winner In Triangle Meet

Martin and Hicks, Mehl and Sayers Defeat A. & M., S. M. U.

Paul Martin and Marion Hicks won a unanimous decision in a debate with Jim Tom Barton and George Clifton Edwards of Southern Methodist University Friday night. The T. C. U. team had the negative side of the question, "Resolved that Congress should enact legislation to provide for the centralized control of industry."

At the same time, Milt Mehl and Reagan Sayers won a 2-to-1 victory from Texas A. & M. at College Station where they took the affirmative of the same question. This is the second consecutive year that Texas Christian has won both of their contests in the S. M. U.-A. & M.-T. C. U. triangle. Fred Isely and E. D. Fyke won from A. & M. last year, while Martin and Hicks won from S. M. U. in Dallas.

An audience decision which did not count in the official decision was held after the S. M. U. contest this year. The home team won a majority of the votes. Judges for the contest were Ernest Sanders, Edward E. Hubman and A. N. MacCauley. Dr. Edwin Elliott served as chairman.

Honors Granted To Six Graduates

Fellowships and scholarships for next year in the graduate school have been announced by Dr. John Lord, dean of the graduate school.

Those who have obtained scholarships are Henry Beale, government; Earl Bullington, government; Hal Wright, economics, and Laurence Coulter, economics. The fellowships were awarded to Leroy Clardy in chemistry and Lloyd Douglas in English.

The catalog for the graduate school next year has gone to press, according to Dr. Lord.

Pangburn Ad Writing Contest to Terminate

Pangburn Candy Company's ad writing contest will end tomorrow. All entrants must hand in their material to John Hirstine, business manager of the Horned Frog, before noon. The winners of the contest will be decided by the company and will be awarded the prizes in chapel.

The winning copy will be used in Pangburn's advertisement in the 1932 Horned Frog. A three pound box of candy is offered as the first prize. There is also an additional prize of one two pound box of candy for the next best ad. The contest is open to all students of T. C. U.

"Katherine and Petruccio" to Be Staged April 6

Alumni Association to Sponsor Dramatic Production.

MISS LEWIS IS DIRECTOR

Proceeds Go to University Loan Fund—Students and Exes Make Up Cast.

The women's branch of the T. C. U. Alumni and Ex-students' Association will present a play, "Katherine and Petruccio," a revised version of William Shakespeare's "Taming of the Shrew," in the T. C. U. Auditorium April 6 at 8 p. m. Proceeds from ticket sales will go to the Association's student loan fund.

Miss Corinne Lewis will direct the play, under the supervision of Prof. Lew D. Fallis of the University speech arts department. Rube Berry and Raymond Wolfe have charge of ticket sales for the entertainment, with Mrs. J. Lester Ward, Miss Marguerite Wendeborn, Mrs. B. W. Boswell and Miss Pearl Meggs working as sales captains under them. Mrs. Boswell is chairman of the program committee, and Mrs. R. D. Logan heads the house committee which has charge of properties.

The cast is made up of T. C. U. students and members of the Alumni Association. The members are Misses Philo Mae Murphree and Anna Marie Bennett, Mrs. S. H. Jenkins, Dean L. L. Leftwich, and William Gonder, Ernest Vaughn, Dean Harrison, Clarence Crotty, Roy O'Brien, Charles Schenck, Frank Young, Joe Brown and Charles E. J. Hanna.

On the same program specialty numbers will be given before the play by Billy Tom Stewart and Mary Jane Hurley from the Madge Withers Studio of Speech Art, and the Neely Four, a violin quartet from Mrs. J. C. Neely's Studio, will play. Members of the quartet are J. Olcott Sanders, Jr., Henry Alexander, Harry Knight and J. C. Neely, Jr.

According to Prof. Edwin A. Elliott, president of the Alumni Association, the student loan fund, for which the entertainment is being given, is maintained by the Association, from which students in T. C. U. may borrow to pay school expenses and repay at a reasonable rate of interest after their graduation. Three students are now being financed in T. C. U. by the fund, which was started at the beginning of the present school year, and which the Association hopes to make a permanent institution.

Frosh Students Hold Inter-Class Debate

An affirmative team composed of Newton Bell, Miss Nina Whittington and Miss Betty Baker won the decision in an inter-class English debate held Monday on the question, "Resolved, that capital punishment should be abolished in the United States."

The negative side was upheld by Ralph Brown, Miss Margaret Trigg and David Lloyd Hartman of Miss Mabel Major's English class. The winning team was from Miss Lide Spragin's class.

Marion Hicks acted as chairman. Both a judges and an audience decision were given. The judges were Miss Rebecca Smith and Milton Mehl.

Lambert Is Editor

Standard Lambert, regular sports editor, is issue editor of this week's Skiff. It is a regular part of a spring semester course to have each senior edit at least one issue of the paper.

Lambert received his first experience in newspaper work with the Temple Daily Telegram before he came to T. C. U. Since entrance into school here, he has been employed by the Star-Telegram and writes athletic news service stories for 130 Texas newspapers.

The next edition of The Skiff will be the Friday following the return from the holidays, April 8. Miss Harriet Griffin will be issue editor.

The Finished Product

We expect too much of our higher educational institutions today. Perhaps the economic requirements of a college institution lead dad and mother to expect too great things of their son Jim and daughter Mary.

Today, however, there are several almost universal results of a college education on the boy and girl. If they go through four years in the right kind of college Jim and Mary will be more scholarly, more gentlemanly, than before they entered college gates.

Jim, with his sheepskin, will most assuredly have a wider variety of subjects at his finger-tips than any of the other boys of Centerville denied a college training. Jim, in nearly every case, can be picked from a group of non-college men by his little courtesies, his scholarly decisions, and open-mindedness.

Mary will certainly know more about world affairs than Martha who stayed in the kitchen and tended the nursery. Mary has equipment that will suit her for a profession. She is no clinging vine dependent on farmer Brown's boy to ask for her hand in marriage. We repeat, give Mary and Jim a four-year chance at college. Mother and dad will not regret it.

You cannot make your own jokes funny by laughing at them yourself.

How to Use the Sidewalks

The Skiff has devoted many lines to editorials on grass trespassing. As a result T. C. U. now has one of the best kept campuses in the state. It is now time for all good students to come to the aid of the proposed traffic regulations for sidewalk pedestrians.

You, and You, and even YOU, have attempted to make headway between classes on the sidewalk from Main to Brite. At such times this is probably the most congested walk in Fort Worth. This congestion is unnecessary. By using a little common sense and some politeness, there would be no complaint to make.

When walking toward Main, keep to the RIGHT of the walk. When walking toward Brite, keep to the RIGHT. ALWAYS keep to the right. When attempting to pass campus swains going in your direction, await your chance, then swing sharply around the unknown pair. DON'T draw abreast of them and slow down to hear their cooings. This only endangers you to oncoming traffic and snarls things up. This sidewalk is wide enough for proper usage. Why not use it properly?

Now that we have a new flag, we will have to try to get the road smoothed down again.

Wisecracks!

It is said that the greatest wisecracker is the one who knows when not to wisecrack. This has proven true many times in the Texas Christian auditorium as well as in the class rooms. Just how many times, students have "pulled" wisecracks in the chapel exercises that have reacted upon them is not known. Just how many times the wisecracker has thought before saying his bright words is practically nil.

There is nothing worse to make a chapel program fall flat than a group of announcers wisecracking through the bulletins. If we have to have chapel announcements let's either have good announcements with plenty of humor or let's have them serious without futile attempts to make the audience laugh.

Slams, wisecracks, puns and jokes are proper in many instances, but, if persons would learn to think twice before uttering some of the "bright" sayings, there would be less embarrassing moments for some of the faculty members and students. Remember that a good pun or a good wisecrack is all right in the right place, but a bad pun is not good any place.

"Widow Left $20,000." She must have been crazy for running away from that much.

Student Activities

The record of student activities last year showed that there were 450 students in the school who were not taking any part in student activities. It also showed that there were some 20 who had more than the recommended 20-point limit. Although the student-activities committee is interested in the ones who went over the limit, they are more interested in the ones who are not in anything.

Although they may seem unimportant to many of the students, the extra-curricular activities are really an important unit of the school life. Participation in these will create an interest that he wouldn't otherwise have. It makes him enjoy his school life more and appreciate his alma mater more after he receives his degree.

The "take all, give nothing" philosophy has never paid dividends. That's exactly what a student does when he goes to college, takes his degree and gives nothing in return. Participation makes better student, better alumni and better citizens.

We wonder if a full moon during mid-term exam week is going to handicap anyone.

COULTER'S COLUMN

WELL, the other day I went out to play a game of golf. Some people call it a round of golf, but I never play in circles—my ball either goes from one side of the fairway to the other or it doesn't go. The last is most common.

After waiting at the tee for the 10th hole—the last nine holes are the easiest, my foursome got started behind a bunch of women. I'll not call them ladies and women is a pretty good term after what we all called them after the first three holes. My, my, such language.

I've got a slice that I'm really proud of. I really don't believe that there is anyone anywhere that has such a pretty slice. This is the nearest I come to playing a round of golf. If I aim at the next hole, the ball always ends up about as far away from the hole as the tee is in the first place. So I turn my body around to about a forty-five degree angle and swing.

The only trouble with this method is that once in a while I hit the darn ball straight by accident and the thing always goes out of bounds. I don't mind doing this on No. 11 (this is one of the Worth Hills course) because I usually find two or three pretty good balls. If I didn't do this I couldn't play very long.

WELL, by the time that our four some got to the top of the hill at No. 11, we all decided to play No. 14 and No. 15 and then come back and play No. 12. Do you follow me? If you are you will have walked twelve miles within the next few paragraphs.

Taking my forty-five degree stance on the tomb (No. 14 tee), I yell: "Watch this boys and get a few pointers." Well, I connects up with this one and the thing goes over on No. 8 green (on the first nine). Par is four on the hole, so I lays the ball off the green nearest to No. 14 hole and swings away with my mashie-niblick.

WELL, if I didn't miss the darn thing completely. I swung again and boy howdy, it looked as if the thing was going to hole out from on top of the hill. I held my breath. Well, on my next shot from down in the creek bottom, I was laying four.

Four more shots and I had holed out. Not bad for me and I've only been playing three years now.

ON No. 15, I made a good drive (in my fashion) and holed out in six after missing a two-foot putt. I know that I could have made it if somebody hadn't made a wisecrack about my new yellow sweater about that time.

Back to No. 12 and then to short No. 13 and I had walked four more miles. Each hole isn't over 400 yards apart and No. 13 is real short. But exercise was what I was looking for. I played for my slice on No. 13 and hooked over onto the first nine again. I really got my money's worth on that game—played both nines for the price of one.

AND I'll just have to tell you about the time I drove the green that day. Yes, sir, dub that I am drove a green! We were on No. 17 tee and I takes out my mashie-niblick again (I have three clubs, by the way) and wallops the old pill and lands on No. 17 green about 15 feet from the hole. I might add that this hole is only 120 yards long.

When we reached No. 18, I was just about tired out. My arms were tired from swinging and hitting just long drives back and forth across the fareway and my feet were tired and my legs were tired. If I had been carrying a pedometer, I'm convinced that it would have showed at least fifteen miles.

THE last hole and I had a chance to win the honors (?) in my foursome. Well, I'll admit that the other fellows hadn't ever played before.

"Boys, watch me sink this putt," I said as I bent down over the pill in my own peculiar fashion. It looks like I've got a crick in my back. And believe it or not I sunk that three-foot putt and finished with a 45 on my card.

It's Jack's time to keep score next time.

MUSIC
Melody is like a spell—
An enchanting gossamer web—
That grows and tightens around
Human hearts.

To youth, music is jazz
Loud—brazen—syncopated—
Swaying bodies—life.

To lovers, music is a bird call
In the stillness of a summer day,
Or the hushed sweetness of a moonlit night.

To the sorrowful, music is a kind word—
The sound of a friendly voice.

To the aged, music is the sweet strains of an old humn.

But to all, music is that indescribable something
That carries us like the tide of an ocean bound stream
Far beyond reality.

NEW DAY.
New day dawned—I called it that.
It was not new.
Days were made so long ago,
I knew that this must be
Only another yesterday
Coming back to me.

MORNING CRY.
Dear Dark, hide me just a little longer,
I am so afraid;
Keep me until I have grown much stronger
Until I have made
Even one small plan to guide me today.

Dear Dark, lay your fingers across my eyes,
And give me your rest;
Keep from my sight the slowly 'wakening skies;
And from out the nest
Bring the first bird's cry to hold in my heart.

And here's real news—Casino Park will open up April 1—the Friday night after the holidays are over. Make a date now for the opening. Al Sky's 12-piece orchestra will open the pre-season week-end engagements at the pavilion.

The Casino will be open every Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights from April 1 to May 1. Al Sky and his orchestra are direct from the new Chermot Ballroom at Omaha. Husk O'Hare held down this job before Al gave the folks music.

Broken Lullaby was first released as The Man I Killed. It is a story of despair and it is said that not one smile is given in the whole film. The film has been rated by critics as one which will probably be one of the best 10 pictures of the year.

SPORTORIALS

By STANDARD LAMBERT

FROM all indications I started something with my last column. The campus seems to be divided between the "pros" and the "cons."

he was faced with the same possibilities and a lousy sports writer comes along and jumps all over his captain and one of his best point-gainers. Although he agreed with me that it might do him some good, I'm sure that he didn't know that I was going to be that critical. In fact, I didn't know it myself. I didn't realize it until I saw it in print.

If the truth were known, Coach Clark is just as conscientious about his men as Capt. Houser is about himself. His personality is probably one of the chief elements in his enjoying as much success as he has.

As was expected, the majority of those who knew nothing about the matter misinterpreted the writer's original purpose. Without receiving a single statement, I will explain my position fully with the hope that new light can be cast on the subject.

PREFACE all explanation with the statement that I have nothing personally against Capt. Houser. I did, I certainly would not have taken advantage of him in this manner.

MY original purpose was not to divide the campus in two camps. I did not want to start a controversy that would run through several editions of The Skiff. All that I want is for T. C. U. to win. Thus I say—power to Capt. Houser—may he win every race.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

By CHARLIE CASPER

With Paul Snow back as the defending "free throw champion," the free throwers will get together this week to recrown the champion or get a new one. Snow is heavily counted on to repeat as "all-intramural free throw champion." Last year he rang up 39 out of a possible 50 goals to win the championship and "railbirds" say that he is even better this year.

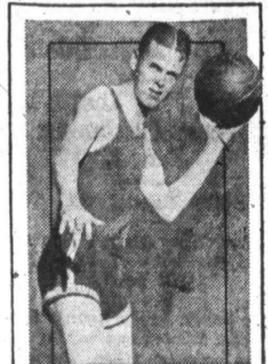

The intramural managers are meeting this week to arrange the baseball schedule, make the parings in the tennis doubles and select dates for the track and swimming meets. This schedule will be published soon after the holidays.

The tennis doubles tournament is becoming a larger drawing card than was expected. To date more than a dozen teams have entered and more entries are expected before Thursday, the last date to enter. Among the "dark horses" entered we find Grassy Hinton and Alf Roark, as representatives of the senior class, Wendell "Doc" Sumner and mate, Byron Brannon and Hal Wright and Oliver Harrison. Sumner has been working consistently since basketball season closed getting into shape for the coming tournament, while his partner has failed as yet to report for practice. Hinton and Roark too have been working and they are going to be hard to eliminate, although the brilliant showing of Wright and Harrison looks bad for all competition.

The track meet again is counted on to be a thriller as it was last year despite the fact that several of the stars will be missing. Despite the fact that several men will be missing Abner Weatherly will be back to defend his high hurdle and 440-yard dash title which he won last year.

SUPPOSE that Coach Clark has a legitimate claim to the "hard luck coach of the conference." Since he has started coaching, he has had miserable luck. Last year he had possibilities of the greatest team in the history of the school; but the mid-term exams claimed Red Oliver and Cy Leland left school. This year

1933 Cage Captain

Buster Brannon, Texas Christian's all-conference guard, was elected to captain the 1932 basketball aggregation at a meeting of the lettermen yesterday. Brannon succeeds his roommate and high school teammate, Doc Sumner. Both will play their last games under Horned Frog colors next year.

Horned Frogs Win On Diamond

Forest Hill Is Defeated 18 to 5—Lose to Sproles Nine.

The Horned Frogs opened their baseball season last Friday afternoon with a victory over the Forest Hill Independents and came back on Saturday to drop a 4-to-3 decision to the Sproles Transfer team.

The first game against the weak Forest Hill boys was a walkaway for the Frogs. After Roark was nipped for three runs in the first inning, the Frogs came back with a heavy barrage of triples and home runs to whip them 18 to 5. Coach Meyer used three pitchers in the first game. Woolwine, who knocked a home run, relieved Roark and Woolwine was relieved by Boaz "Boazy" Hoskins, who finished the game.

Paul Snow connected for a long triple to begin the scoring for the Frogs, and his wallop was followed shortly by a home run clout from the bat of Jack Graves.

In the Saturday game against the Sproles squad, Coach Meyer found his best pitcher. He is "Slim" Kinzy, lanky blond from Marshall.

Frogs to Meet Eagles on Track Today at 2 P. M.

Oliver and Houser to Stage Grudge Race in Dash Events.

DENTON TEAM IS STRONG

Coach Clark Enters 21 Men in Track and Field Events—Record May Fall.

Following their excellent showing in the Fat Stock Show-meet, Coach Mack Clark's Texas Christian Horned Frog thin clad will meet the North Texas Teachers at Denton here at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

The Clarkmen were runners-up in the university division Saturday, while the Eagles took second place in the college division. Although the Christians should take the meet, there will be much spirited competition.

The Christian sprint stars, Oliver and Capt. Houser, should win both first and second in that event. Competition between those two is so keen that it will add more color than the competition between the two schools. Charlie Casper, who won the university high hurdles with a 15.5 seconds clocking, is due to have a worthy opponent in Culpepper of the Eagles who made a similar clocking in the college division.

The Eagles seem to be superior in the middle and long distance races if the results of Saturday's meet has anything to do with it while the Christians are stronger in the sprints and field and weights.

Coach Clark has announced that he will enter the following men:

- 120-yard high hurdles—Casper and Phelps.
- 220-yard low hurdles—Casper and Oliver.
- 100-yard dash—Houser and Oliver.
- 880-yard run—Anderson, Powell and Langdon.
- 1-mile run—Chappell and Tiner.
- 2-mile run—Coulter and McCoy.
- Mile relay—Dallas, Phelps, Tiner and Anderson.
- Sprint relay—Houser, Oliver, Casper and Dallas or Phelps.
- Discus—Salkeld, Howell and Evans.
- Shot—Salkeld, Sumner and Howell.
- High jump—Spearman, Wallace, Oliver.
- Broad jump—Spearman and Casper.
- Pole vault—Preston, McCulloch and Wallace.
- Javelin—Kitchen and Wallace.

"Loud Talking" Proves Fatal To Cocky Horned Frog Athletes

Every time an athlete in T. C. U. "loud talks" about how fast he is, he has to either prove it or it costs him. Dan Salkeld and Paul Snow and A. D. Weatherly are the latest victims.

For several weeks Salkeld and Dietzel have been arguing about which was the faster. Dietzel even had enough confidence in his long legs and his agility to "pick 'em up and lay 'em down" that he volunteered to give Salkeld a five-yard handicap. The argument reached white heat in the Goode parlor a little after 10 o'clock Friday night, and since neither contestant could wait until daylight to settle it, the only thing to do was settle it immediately.

Accompanied by a band of about 50 men from the two dormitories, the two contestants went to the field in complete track regalia to settle the argument. With the probable exception of Charlie Casper, there was not a man in the crowd who thought Dietzel could overcome the handicap. Everything was set. Othol Martin, J. W. Townsend and Standard Lambert were appointed judges and Parson Brown acted as starter with real bullets in a .38 caliber pistol. A tape with two handkerchiefs tied across the center and a flashlight shining on it made the finish perfectly plain. At the crack of the gun both athletes were off.

They finished neck in neck but two of the judges, Townsend and Lambert, conceded the victory to Dietzel. Martin said that he wouldn't say for sure which contestant won. At any rate Dietzel was declared winner by the majority of the judges and the acclamation of the crowd. Since Dietzel has already made his letter in football, was one of the outstanding basketball players in the nation, is at present playing first base on Dutch Meyer's baseball nine, this accomplishment on the cinders stamps him as one of the best all-around athletes in the school.

Following Salkeld's defeat, A. D. Weatherly started "popping off" about his speed, so Salkeld challenged him for a race with a 10-yard handicap. Poetic justice came to Salkeld's rescue and he scored the Panhandle golf star out on the finish. A similar argument between Paul Snow and Blanford Spearman cost the former some embarrassment. However, as luck would have it, the debate reached its climax in the afternoon, and was settled in daylight. About the same number of men went with this pair to settle the argument and Spearman won.

In case of accident one of Coach Mack Clark's big problems would be solved. If Capt. Houser and Red Oliver should break a leg at the same time, the elimination series for the century dash will already have been completed.

SOCIETY

By ERNESTINE SCOTT.

This week goes from one extreme to another. The first few days have been filled with exams and gloom, while the latter part will be bubbling over with social affairs and gaiety. Tomorrow marks the beginning of the Easter Holidays for T. C. U. students. Many town students are planning to spend their vacation out of the city. With the exception of a small number who will remain on a deserted campus, the dormitory residents will go home for the holidays or on house parties to which they have been invited by room mates and friends.

"Trends of Thinking in Connection With the Disarmament Conference" was the subject of a lecture given by Miss Emma H. Gunther at a meeting of the International Relationship Club Thursday afternoon.

Miss Gunther, who is sponsored by the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, also spoke on the Japanese-Chinese question. Miss Gunther has been an exchange professor in universities in Nanking, Peking and Canton. She was also a representative from the United States to the Council meeting of the International Federation of University Women in Madrid, Spain.

An open forum was held after Miss Gunther's talk.

Jarvis Hall Notes

By RUTH MORGAN

A group of Jarvis Hall girls held an informal dinner last evening in the alcove of the University dining room. The Easter idea was conveyed throughout.

Those present were Misses Mary Rowan, Dorothy Scott, Margot Shaw, Marion Pace, Lucy Brown, Ruth Morgan, Lillian Shertzer, Eloise Washburn, Katherine Ashford, Beth Norsworthy and Lou Blumberg.

Dean Sadie T. Beckham and Miss Lida Spragins held open house in Jarvis Sunday evening from 8 to 10 o'clock. Dean Beckham poured tea and was assisted in serving by Misses Madge Hall, Dorothy Baker and Mary Seidel. Misses Spragins, Lollie Botts, and Christine Ackers received the guests. About fifty guests called during the evening.

House parties will not be as frequent this year among Jarvisites as they usually are. Everyone will spend most of their time at home. Misses Georgia Johnson and La Verne Brunson will be members of the house party given by Miss Evelyn Stobaugh at her home in Ballanger.

Misses Gertrude Bergin, Velma Smith, Lillian Muse and Annie Phares spent the week-end in Dallas. Mrs. J. F. Ashford of Wichita Falls spent the week-end at Jarvis Hall with her daughter, Miss Kathryn Ashford.

Miss Marian Howrey spent the week-end in Weatherford.

Exchanges

By FRANK CHOLLAR.

Students at Louisiana State Normal went on a strike last Wednesday in order to obtain an extra holiday during the Easter season. They got it.

Two young women invaded the dormitory rooms of several freshmen at Yale recently and threatened to scream for the campus police unless the boys "shelled out." The boys shelled.

A Poland china pig was adopted last week as the "patron saint" of the Hogg Debating Club at the University of Texas. Members of the club plan to keep their "saint" in secret hiding until the day of the club's spring banquet, when it will be exhibited on a tray prior to being placed in even more secret hiding.

Forty convicts in the Minnesota state penitentiary are enrolled in the Minnesota University extension. They pay their own tuition with their wages of 15 cents per day.

Date for Senior Barbecue Moved Up

Miss Kathryn Moore's barbecue in honor of the Senior class has been postponed until April 21, due to a conflict in dates with the Junior class play.

The barbecue will probably be held at a camp at Lake Worth. Miss Moore has requested that all seniors hold that date open. The party will leave T. C. U. about 5:30 in the afternoon.

Mrs. Chambers to Entertain Parabola

The Parabola will be entertained with a hard-times tacky party tomorrow night at the home of Mrs. Leslie Chambers on Princeton Street.

Misses Ina Bramblett, Dorothy Keller and Mrs. Chambers, an alumna member of the club, will be the hostesses for the evening.

ON THE AIR

By ELBERT HALING

Miss Rebecca Smith would like to hear Sidney Lanier play the flute over NBC... T. C. U.'s "Maid of Mystery" will not broadcast... Coulter should televise that yellow sweater... That Sam Cotton boy should be on a WBAP commercial some day... Phil Cook sits on a high stool while broadcasting... Two co-eds would have to stand on Dietze's head to broadcast... Contrary to rumors from the physics department, Walter Dammrosch will not sing on his Sunday concert... Vera Hedrick reports that the Mills boys blew the tubes in her radio set.

We suggest that George Jessel begin dating the jokes on that ever-fresh coffee blurb... WBAP engineers would like a new station... Kate Smith will get a hundred grand for work in that "Girl Crazy" flicker... The world's worst skeptic is the fellow who contends that radio is just an aviation publicity stunt to make the people air-minded... Sylvia Froos, diminutive blues singer, going on 18, has become one of radio's headliners... Colonel Stoopnagle's campaign slogan is "Keep Stoopnagle Out of the White House"... Ruth Etting began without an audition.

Bing Crosby has designed a special card which he uses to send fans who write for an autograph. Four bars of his theme song, "When the Blue of the Night," are written out exactly as they appear on the sheet music and under them he signs his name in red ink... T. C. U. is on tonight, KFJZ, 8:30 o'clock.

A certain young T. C. U. man, brunet, mild-mannered, the owner of a sweet baritone voice, is our pick of probably University radio stars... A certain science professor would never make an announcer; he is best known for his absent-mindedness in dealing with Skiff correspondents.

Plans Laid for Apprehension of Fiendish Killer

BEWARE! Students. There is a murderer in your midst.

Several students on the campus know his identity, but so great is their fear of him that the criminal has not yet been apprehended. Murder is a fearful thing, but this villain practices his gruesome crime at least once a day. Something should be done about it.

Be taken in the form of a public notice.

All T. C. U. students are requested to gather in the T. C. U. auditorium on the night of April 1 for the sole purpose of capturing the murderer of one Jake Monroe, unknown of the campus, but with all a worthy man.

Said gathering will 'gather' at 8 p. m.

The criminal will appear time and again on the stage, in the junior class play, "The Dead of Night."

Be sharp! Be careful! Come prepared!
