Special English Class Organized By Department

19 Freshmen Chosen to Make Up Group From Possible 50.

15 FROM FORT WORTH Examination Helps Determine Members—Adds Spice of Competition.

An "invitation class" in English 11a, composed of 19 students under the direction of Miss Mabel Major, has been organized at the University this year.

During the summer letters were sent to 50 high school graduates who had applied for admission to T. C. U. This group of 50 students had made the highest grades in English in high school and showed inclinations toward special writing courses in their college work.

From this group of 50 students 19 were selected on the basis of a competitive examination. A few of the students who were eligible did not matriculate early enough or could not take the course on account of schedule conflicts.

Fifteen of the 19 selected students were graduates of high schools in Fort Worth. The remaining four were graduates of out-of-town schools.

The students composing the class are: Miss Laneeta Lawrence and Charles Braselton, North Side High School; Misses Lydia Burgess, Mary Ward, Frieda Taliaferro, Mary Elizabeth Gregory, Millie Fearis and Mary Ellen Davis and Hugh Wallace, Central High School; Miss Helen Jim Thomas, Everett Gillis and Charles Oswalt, Polytechnic High School; John Eddlemand, Stripling High School; Davis Hickey, Masonic Home; Miss Jourdene Armstrong, Cisco High School; Miss Grace Maloney, Henderson High School; Miss Catherine Brown, I. O. O. F. High School, Centerville, and Thad Barrington, Ennis High School.

Club Hears Review of Grandbery Case

Cagle, Hammond and Wright Speak to International Relations Group.

The case of Prof. John C. Grandbery discussed by Gene Cagle, president, was the main topic of interest at a meeting of the International Relations Club last Tuesday evening in Brite College clubroom.

The dismissal of Prof. Grandbery from the history department of Texas Tech, Lubbock, because of his allegedly too-liberal ideas has received national attention among universities and educators. According to Cagle, the American Association of University Professors is carrying on an investigation of the case now and various efforts are being made to reinstate Prof. Grandbery.

Dr. W. J. Hammond, sponsor of the club, outlined plans for the holding of open forum discussions by the club members in several neighboring towns. Tentative arrangements are being made for trips to Red Oak, Sterrett, and Mansfield.

Dr. Hammond also gave a discussion of important international events of the past summer. Hal Wright made a short talk on the Southwestern Convention of International Relations Clubs which was held in Oklahoma last year.

The T. C. U. club was organized last year through the efforts of Prof. James A. Gathings of the government department and Dr. Hammond of the history department. Membership is limited to 25. There are now 22 active members. Those who have turned in applications for membership will be considered at the next meeting.

The club will meet regularly the first and third Wednesdays of every month.

Visitors at the meeting Tuesday were Dr. and Mrs. Charles R. Sherer, Dr. Edwin A. Elliott, Miss Ada Assmann, Miss Annie Ruth Cowan and Dr. Raymond L. Welty.

New officers are: President, Gene Cagle; vice-president, Paul Martin; secretary-treasurer, Miss Hannah Ann House.

McDiarmid Adds Tennis Laurels In Play During Summer Months

John McDiarmid, former Frog tennis star and present instructor in government at T. C. U., spent a successful summer on famous tennis courts of the United States. During the past season he played some of the prominent stars of the Nation.

McDiarmid was a competitor in the five outstanding tennis tournaments of the Nation, the Seabright Invitation Tournament, played at Seabright, N. J.; the Southampton Invitation at Southampton, N. Y.; the Eastern Championships at Rye, N. Y.; the Newport Invitation at Newport, N. J., and the National Doubles Championships at Boston, Mass. He won the doubles championship title, paired with Lefty Bryan of Chattanooga, Tenn., at the Seabright Invitation. In this tournament he and Bryan defeated the sensational fourth-ranking team of Sidney B. Woods and Gregory Mangin in the early rounds of play and handed Eddie Jacobs and Samuel Gilpin a sound trimming in the final round to win the title.

At the National Doubles Championship play in Boston, McDiarmid and Bryan achieved national fame by giving Vines and Gledhill, tournament champions, a terrific battle in the opening rounds. The pair was defeated 6-4, 3-6, 6-4 and 8-6 in one of the fastest matches of the season. They were the only American team to win a set from the champs during the tournament.

McDiarmid also competed in the National Clay Court Tournament, which was held in Memphis, Tenn. At this tournament T. C. U.'s racket-wielding professor was defeated in the quarter-final rounds by Berkeley Bell, former University of Texas ace netter, in five hard-fought sets.

At the Mid-Dixie Tournament in Spartanburg, N. C., McDiarmid won the singles title by defeating Bryan, his doubles partner. Later he paired with Ted Burwell, of Charlotte, N. C., to win the Mid-Atlantic doubles title. At the Western Championships he carved a notch in the tennis hall of fame before going down before the hard-driving J. Gilbert Hall of Orange, N. J.

The outstanding feature of McDiarmid's tournament success was his well-earned victory over Junior Cohen of Kansas City, Mo., in the early rounds at Southampton. Cohen is ranked number fourteen on the U. S. L. T. A. ranking list.

After his successful invasion of the Eastern clay and grass courts, McDiarmid returned to Texas to win the Sabine District Tournament singles title at Beaumont. He later paired with Wilbur Hess, Rice Institute star, to win the doubles title.

When the U. S. L. T. A. meets in December, Bryan and McDiarmid will probably be among the first ten ranked doubles teams in the United States. Several times they have defeated the sixth ranking team and they may be placed in the sixth position.

McDiarmid plans to continue with his tennis throughout the winter months and will resume play next spring in the South Texas Tournament in Houston.

Four Assistants Added to Staff

Four new members have been added to the library staff this year, according to Mrs. J. E. Mothershead, assistant librarian.

Robert Preston, graduate of 1932, is working on his B. D. and is in the library only at night. Billy Allen is in charge of the government documents this year. Ruth Cowan and Natalie Goren are also new assistants.

Old members of the staff who have returned are Mary Carter, Evelyn Franklin, Leta Luyster and Mrs. Moy Nelson.

The rules for taking books from the library have not been changed. Reserve books may be checked out at 3 p. m. If the library has more than one copy. Otherwise the books stay in the library until closing time.

Mrs. Mothershead also stated that there has been no change made in the hours this year. On all days except Saturday the library is open from 7:45 until 10 p. m. On Saturdays the library closes at 3 p. m. The 15 minutes between 7:45 and 8 a. m. is set aside for the purpose of returning reserve books that have been checked out the day before.

Y.W.C.A. Camp to Be Held Oct. 1-2

Plans for the Y. W. C. A. camp to be held this year at the organization's camp on Lake Worth, Oct. 1-2, were made at a meeting of the cabinet held Saturday in the parlors of Jarvis Hall.

Those present were Misses Rebecca Graves, president, Faye Woodall, Anna Byrd Harness, Leta Luyster and Elizabeth Henry.

All members and prospective members who wish to go on the camp are requested to sign up by Thursday. Arrangements are being made to leave in the school bus Saturday following the T. C. U.-Teachers game, and to return Sunday morning.

The food committee includes Misses Woodall, Hannah Ann House, Elna Winton and Marguerite Tandy. The program committee is composed of Misses Luyster, Harness, Ruth Gowen, Henry and Louise Glass.

Evans Rests, Howell Marries and Fights as Frogs Keep in Training

All corners of Texas were haunting places this summer for T. C. U. athletes, some working and some enjoying life in various ways.

On the T. C. U. campus during vacation time, five or six Frog athletes could have been found doing their daily chores around the stadium, the main building and other places on the campus where work was to be done. Buster Brannon, Wesley Green, Lee Bassinger, John Kitchen, Judy Truelson and B. W. Spearman were kept busy beautifying the campus and its surroundings during the warmer months.

Spearman took time off to compete in the Olympic try-outs in Chicago and Houston and to try his hands at fishing, to break the monotony of the work. Brannon made several trips to the Texas-Louisiana line, for a brief visit, and Kitchen forced his way into the interior of Oklahoma, to serve as a "short vacation."

Wendell Summer took several courses in summer school and was assistant warehouse manager, succeeding the late "Flannel-Foot" Samson. Ben Boswell, Frog tackle and sports editor of The Skiff, worked his way on a boat from Galveston to New York and back. While on the trip, Ben evolved the name for his column, "Ben's Barque."

Lynn Brown was in the "up and down" business during the vacation days, working as an elevator boy at

Carson Visits Campus

Ex-Frog on Way to San Antonio From Kansas City.

Harold "Hobo" Carson, former star Horned Frog athlete, was a visitor on the campus Tuesday. Carson was on his way to San Antonio from Kansas City, Mo., where he has been playing baseball the past summer.

Carson was one of the few T. C. U. baseball men to reach a Class A League in professional baseball. He was an outstanding pitcher last year with the San Antonio Indians of the Texas League and this past season he made a creditable showing with the Kansas City Blues of the American Association.

Carson plans to spend the winter months hunting and will report to the Blues again in February.

the courthouse in San Antonio. Madison Pruitt, J. W. Townsend and Captain Johnnie Vaught were engaged in the ice business, following in the footsteps of the great Red Grange, former University of Illinois grizzer who made the ice carrying business famous for football players.

Otha Tiner was engaged in the dairy business in Bosqueville and was seen on the road from Waco to Mathis several times. Love Perkins spent his time between Fort Worth and Olney, while Lon Evans was keeping up with his reputation as a "true disciple of rest," with the exception of the time he spent fixing flat tires between Fort Worth and Cleburne.

Jack Shackelford and Jimmie Jacks were busy operating filling stations, while Dick Allison and Dan Harston enjoyed a vacation in Dallas. Jack Langdon served as a life guard for a Boy Scout camp and returned to school with a smart sun tan. Hubert Dennis, Heard Floore, Jack Graves, Elbert Walker, Joe Coleman, Lucy Phelps, Rex Clark and Woodson Armes were among the unemployed and spent most of the time on the banks of the creeks and rivers.

Dan Salkeld went to summer school at A. C. C. in Abilene. Jewell Wallace was in the "clerkical" business for a large oil firm. He was clearing the brush out of the "right-away" for a pipeline. Foster Howell got married and spent the rest of the summer fighting. Wallace Meyers worked for the highway department of Jack County laying concrete. Ellis Taylor spent his vacation in Cleburne and other points.

Red Oliver and Charlie Casper had their country at heart and joined the cavalry unit of the Texas National Guard, both solving combat problems while encamped at Mineral Wells. Coach Schmidt's "brainless wonders" entered all the athletic events that the army could offer and returned to Fort Worth with several cups.

"Hail, Hail, Th' Gang's All Here!" Sing Freshmen

"Hail, hail, th' gang's all here!"

"What in the—" That's what freshmen dormitory girls shouted last Monday morning in the University cafeteria while they paraded around the tables and performed other antics at the behest of unrelenting and unmerciful upperclassmen of Jarvis Hall.

If indignation was somewhat prevalent on the campus that day, put it down to the sweet sounds of girlish voices (don't hit!) and the strange apparitions gambling from table to table. But don't blame the freshmen. 'Cause anybody knows a girl wouldn't go to breakfast in a college cafeteria minus make-up unless she just had to.

Furthermore, the idea of a dress on backwards is hard on the imagination, but the reality is a lot harder on the eyes. And there was more than one reality.

To add to the charming picture being presented, put mis-mated shoes on the feet of the miserable image in your mind and cock a paper hat on its head.

Now laugh—if you dare. Just remember: He (or she) who laughs last, laughs longest and loudest.

P. S.—Here's three cheers for this year's freshman class—good sports if T. C. U. ever saw one.

Music Club Will Elect

Members of the T. C. U. Music Club will elect officers and discuss plans for the present session at a meeting to be held Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock in Room 301. All students interested in joining the club are urged to attend this meeting, according to Clark Rhodes, present president.

Athletic Oblivion?

Beginning in about 1925, the public spirited friends of Texas Christian University started asking the officials in charge this question—why not schedule an inter-sectional game in order that the Horned Frogs might demonstrate their ability as a football machine to some other than the people of Fort Worth and the Southwest Conference region?

The correct answer to such a question was obvious. The officials of Texas Christian were right in giving the reply that they did. It would have been folly to make any other reply. Their reply was, "Wait until Texas Christian wins a conference championship; wait until she wins the respect of the other conference schools." This was the correct answer on the part of the men in charge of the athletic relations of the institution.

But the end of the 1929 season saw the Horned Frogs crowned champions of the Southwest Conference, having finished the season undefeated. Not only did the grid department have a championship, but it had a most promising group of frosh athletes.

Then the public-minded friends of Texas Christian began to ask the question again, "Why not?" There was a conference crown and a freshman football squad that could whip the varsity any day in the week. The officials kept saying, "Wait." "Wait until this freshman team proves its ability."

The 1930 season saw these big soph barely nosed out for the championship. Still no major inter-sectional games were carded. Finally, after vehement protests by students and her public friends, Texas Christian carded a game against the Louisiana State University Tigers for the 1931 season.

The Frogs won this tilt 3 to 0. Then they got down to the business of the Southwest Conference games. They whipped the Aggies and the Razorbacks the second week later. Then the injury jinx settled on the Frog-grid team. The big soph line was torn to pieces, but enough strength was left to beat Rice and Baylor and to tie S. M. U. Texas beat the Frogs in Austin. The Purple and White finished high in the running.

Now the last year for that team of promising frosh has rolled around. They have just held a powerful Louisiana State team to a 3-to-3 tie. The game and the ability of the two teams was praised the nation over.

Their next big game will be against the Daniel Baker Hill Billies. It appears that Texas Christian is destined for ATHLETIC OBLIVION.

Freshman Prom for Freshman

Now that the freshman prom is over, once more it seems fitting that those who sponsored the movement of getting more freshmen to participate in the most important social function of T. C. U. should be congratulated. It has been the custom for upperclassman girls not to prom but to help all the new girls, "little sisters," arrange their program. On the other hand, the upperclassman boys have attended the prom on the same basis as the freshmen. Thus, unless the freshman boys are exceptionally prompt, they have difficulty in filling out their prom card.

This year, however, Dean Beckham, Dean Leftwich and the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. organizations endeavored to make the prom a real freshman occasion. Freshman boys were urged to fill out prom cards. The upperclassman boys co-operated by assisting their new associates in getting acquainted before filling out their own cards. It is hoped that in a few years the prom will be an all freshman affair. Upperclassmen should help the first-year men meet members of the other classes, of course, but the main purpose of the prom is to have freshmen know freshmen.

It Is Agreed

Writing term papers is a mess anyway. Professors always assign them at the beginning of the school term so that students will have plenty of time to write them. Professors, so it would seem, have not after all these years discovered that term papers should be assigned the week that they are due. Of course, subjects should be tabulated when the class meets during the first week, but the professors should try his best not to let his students know what the subjects are for.

A good camouflage would be to ask the students what subjects they are least interested in—when this is done the professor should reach into his bag of tricks and invisibly make note of such facts. At the beginning of exam week, the class should be called together and all heads bowed. The professor should have a look of grave concern on his face and then suddenly announce that term papers are due day after tomorrow. After the class has joyously taken the good news, the professor should again quiet the disorder and jubilation and announce the subjects on which the students are to write.

After the assignments have been made in accord with what the student least likes, the class should be dismissed and the library doors opened wide. Care should be taken in making these assignments so that at least three students have to use the same books, so that the electric company can make more profits during the wee morning hours.

Two days later, when all the exams are in full blast, the class should meet again and an announcement made to the fact that the papers must have outlines. Ten minutes later, the outlines will have been finished and a look of content will dominate the members of the class—all except two students. These two students were absent when the term papers were assigned two days before—but they tell the professor that they will have them tomorrow for sure—and the professor knows that the students have been working on their term papers for at least two months—on the subject that is least interesting to them. Term papers are a mess anyway.

Creating a demand is the first law of salesmanship. The sophomore class is selling freshman caps this year.

Our new friend, Tracy Kellow, is from Lufkin. He made good at the old home town in football, baseball and basket ball.

On these clear, starry nights, you should think of Joe Logan, president of the astronomical club, the Penta, at Central last year. And, girls, he is an expert on falling stars.

Class poets come in for their share of high school glory. George Cherry-homes was the Jacksboro class poet.

From "the city of the hour," Dallas, comes the attractive Louise Watson. Last year she was a member of the National Honor Society and the Chemistry Club.

Could It Be Verse?

FRUIT PEDDLER.

He winds his way, half-stumbling, Along the crooked street; His peon-face all bended down, Bowed in the prostrate heat.

His bare feet burning against the stones, His lips uncomplainingly mute, He tugs at a rope that pulls behind him A donkey and baskets of fruit.

The vendor and little dumb beast plod the streets, Stoopied low in the sun's hot rays, Perhaps a "turista," in search of charm, Will stop them, "centavos" to pay.

Then a few cents richer the two will start, Again walking slowly to other parts Of the quaint old Mexican city.

Do not stop to pity them, Thinking, perhaps, their labor-bent Lives are parched dry at the roots.

In ignorance, they are made happy By "centavos" and baskets of fruit. —Nina Whittington.

TO A BARBED WIRE FENCE.

You snaggle-toothed barbed wire fence,

With nigger-toes and weeds at your feet and maybe a running vine. You dress-snagging, finger-slashing barbed-wire fence,

Spreading yourself over Texas plains to make a crooked net. You mile-stretching, never-ending barbed wire fence

With your lop-sided, ground-sunken posts that shrink to escape you, but are ever held.

On one side of you is a smooth highway that leads to a great city. On the other side is a cotton field—rough with clods of dry earth from the last plowing.

An overalled, sun-reddened man leans on your element-etched post. He looks to the city.

But you only draw yourself in closer, tighten yourself about him, stifle and suppress him.

You life-enclosing barbed wire fence. —Nina Whittington.

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so

500 Guests Attend Freshman Prom

Approximately 500 guests attended the annual freshman prom held Monday evening on the lawn of the Mary Couts Burnett Library.

At the opening of the prom the group assembled in front of the band stand to pose for a flashlight photograph to be used in the Horned Frog, University yearbook. Immediately following the picture the grand march was formed and moved directly to the library lawn, where music was furnished by Milner Sandifer's orchestra.

The system for filling prom cards that proved so effective last year was used. The big sisters signed their own names to the cards and were stationed at posts bearing the initial letter of their last name. The boys went to the big sisters to be introduced to their prom dates.

The arrangements of the affair were sponsored by the Student Body Association, under the direction of Marion Hicks. The big sister idea was sponsored by the University Y. W. C. A., under the supervision of Miss Rebecca Graves.

192 Take English Placement Test

'Students Have Average Intelligence,' Says Miss Smith.

Results of the English placement test and the general intelligence test for freshmen indicate that members of the class of '36 have average intelligence.

Of the 192 who took the general test, the highest grade was 427 out of a possible 480. The lowest grade was 65. A girl made the 427 and a boy the 65. The average grade was 237.

This test has been given each year since 1926. A federation of Minnesota colleges published the test. Prior to 1926, freshmen were given the Army Alpha test.

One hundred twenty-six made better than 70 on the English test. Nineteen of this number compose the invitation section. In addition to the test this section was required to write a theme of 300 words. The highest grade was 90, made by a student in the invitation section. Of those trying to make the highest section, 18 failed to do so.

In the five-hour class, there are 66. Those in this group failed to make as much as 70.

"My impression of this year's freshmen is that they are a little above the average in English," said Miss Rebecca Smith, head of the department.

The general freshman math test will be given some time next week, according to Professor Sherer's announcement.

OTHER CAMPUSOLOGY

By MAUDALLEN YOUNG.

Where men are men—Coeds of the University of Melbourne, Australia, have added football to their intercollegiate program.

Religious knowledge has been abolished as a compulsory subject at Oxford.

Summer Christian Conferences sponsored by the Student Christian Movement attempted to discover the disciplines necessary and the resources available for creative living. They reflected the year in which they were held, seriously facing the world crises of the day—economic, social, racial and international. Several of our students here at T. C. U. attended some of these conferences this summer which were held at Hollister, Camp Talcott, Kings Mountain, Estes Park, Lake Geneva, Seaback, Northfield, Blue Ridge, Pine Bluff, Waveland, Camp Whelan, Asilomar Maqua and Silver Bay.

After women pledges were announced last week at the University of Oklahoma the freshman coeds and their dates crowded into college shops and campus drug stores. The women were happy. They ordered sandwiches, sundaes, milk-shakes and malts. The men looked at their dates, kept their right hands in their pockets—and ordered cokes.

Sooner or later the women will learn that Soonerland's tradition is "coke" or "a cup of coffee."

Agitation for 50-50 clubs has resulted in their establishment at many schools. Such clubs have been organized at Oregon State College, University of Washington, University of Idaho and the University of Southern California, besides at many others.

But instead of a 50-50 basis a group of coeds at the University of Southern California suggested that man's presence is not worth while unless accompanied by the gallantry of a 100 per cent payment of material expenses.

Here is what the coeds think at the University of Washington. They feel that they would "rather stay at home and listen to the radio than ride with a date on the street car." The University of Washington Daily wants the coeds to "heed the modern trend." At Idaho coeds are worried as to who should tip his hat, open the door or walk on the outside of the sidewalk. The paper there asks, "Why shouldn't women do a little sacrificing in this time of depression as well as at other times?"

Brushes Will Initiate

The Brushes will hold their first meeting of the season Monday, Oct. 3, at 7:30 p. m. in the art studios. At the meeting new members will be installed. Miss Carolyn Lewis, president of the organization, has announced.

Misses Vinita Green and Lamoyne Laurence, 1932 graduates of T. C. U., are now studying for their Master's degrees at the University of Texas.

Proxy Governor Impeached When His Office Is Raided

"Kings for the moment" was the feeling which crept into the hearts of some of the Frog football players while in Baton Rouge last Saturday. For a moment they were the executive, judicial and legislative powers of the State of Louisiana but all was spoiled when Foster Howell pressed a flock of buttons and in came about two dozen men and women with pencils and pads to take dictation.

While strolling around the beautiful capitol building, several of the Frogmen decided to look into the interior and see just how a state is operated and who is the operator. After climbing four flights of stairs—being too excited to find the elevator—the men ran into the governor's office, meeting room or cabinet—it was all dutch to them, so either would do as a name.

Finding no one in the meeting room the men decided to have their own governor and senators and sit down to a meeting. Foster Howell was elected to be the governor and Wallace Meyers, Dan Salkeld, Jack Graves, Red Oliver and several other members of the Frog delegation were to be the senators and cabinet members. Howell was delivering his inauguration speech, telling how he was going to run things and just how much he needed the cooperation and help of the senators and cabinet members. Each time he wanted to place emphasis on a certain part of the speech, which wasn't part of the course that Miss Moore taught him, he would slam his fist down on the table. After this had been repeated several times, the doors burst open from all sides and in came two dozen secretaries with pencils and pads to take dictation. Immediately the members of the Horned Frog football team "from way o'vah in Texas," called the meeting to a close and retreated to the hotel, still wondering where all those people came from at such an unexpected moment.

Howell, by accident, had punched the buttons which call in every dictation taker in the capitol. What a retreat for a governor and his senators and cabinet.

Parabola Sells Candy

Parabola is sponsoring the sale of candy in the front hall of Main Building during the beginning weeks of school as a foundation for a student loan fund to be founded by the organization.

The details of the fund have not as yet been worked out, according to Reeder Shugart, president of the club. The sale will continue in the hands of the Parabola until the bookstore is ready to take it over.

Prof. C. R. Sherer, sponsor of the organization, states that the club hopes to start the fund through the sale of candy at about $50. Sums will be added from time to time.

Frogs Held to 3-to-3 Score by Louisiana Team

Boswell and Torrence Supply Tallies of Close Game.

OLIVER, BRANNON SHINE

Heavy Dew Makes Ball Hard to Handle and Both Teams Fumble Often.

By CHARLIE CASPER.
Coach Schmidt's Horned Frogs and Coach Biff Jones's L. S. U. Tigers battled to a 3-to-3 deadlock in Baton Rouge last Saturday night in the Nation's first major football classic of the season. A crowd of 10,000 fans watched the two teams zigzag from one end of the field to the other.

Lawrence Perry, noted Consolidated Press sports writer, described the game as the most thrilling affair he has witnessed since the Army defeated Notre Dame. Perry was full of praise for the Frogs, choosing Oliver and Brannon as stars of the battle.

Frogs Score First.
The Frogs took the lead early in the second period when Ben Boswell, star Frog tackle and hero of the 3-to-0 defeat handed the Tigers here last fall, dropped back from his tackle position and kicked a field goal from the Tiger's 18-yard line. Jack Torrence, giant 265-pound Tiger tackle, tied the score in the late minutes of the third quarter when he duplicated Boswell's stunt and kicked a field goal from the Frog 15-yard line.

Fumbling of punts led to both scores. Fleming of L. S. U. recovered a ball which was touched by Spearman, and Capt. Vaught recovered a fumble on the Tiger's three-yard marker.

Red Oliver was the shining light for the Schmidtmens. On the opening kick-off Oliver took the ball on his own 5-yard line and raced to the Tiger 15-yard line before being downed. Oliver will well be remembered for a similar stunt pulled in 1930 against S. M. U. when he took the opening kick-off and raced 85 yards to score the first marker of the game.

Many Long Punts.
Brannon and Torrence staged a great punting duel with the giant Tiger tackle holding the edge over the Frog southpaw. Torrence averaged over 50 yards on his punts.

The heavy falling dew made the ball slippery in the middle of the second quarter and both teams made many bad fumbles which proved costly.

Canoeing Offered W. A. A. Members

Instruction in canoeing will be offered to W. A. A. members this year for the first time, according to Miss Kay Prather, W. A. A. swimming manager.

The class will go to Lake Worth once a week, and transportation will be provided each time. Canoeing, canoe bobbing and canoe tilting will be taught.

W. A. A. swimming classes will be held every Tuesday and Thursday afternoons from two to four o'clock. Miss Prather, the instructor, will teach life saving and competitive swimming. Girls who go out for swimming will receive letters for making 30 hours.

A water pageant will be presented in the gymnasium at the end of this semester, said Miss Prather. Dancing classes will co-operate with the swimming classes to produce the pageant.

Former Student Is Studying in St. Louis

Miss Clotilda Anne Houle, 1932 T. C. U. graduate, is now studying in St. Louis, Mo., at Washington University.

Miss Houle was awarded a scholarship in romance languages from Washington University last spring. She received scholarships three of the four years she attended T. C. U.

Weight Lifting Classes Begin

Weight lifting classes will meet in the auxiliary gym on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 9 a. m., 2 p. m. and 5 p. m. All boys who wish to take this elective course will be given P. T. credit. Classes will begin this week, according to Clark Rhodes, instructor.

Bryant Collins, who has returned to T. C. U. for his junior year, attended the Olympic Games in California this summer.

BEN'S BARQUE

By BEN BOSWELL.
Having all but won their thrilling tilt with the Louisiana State Tigers, the Frogs are ready to take on the Daniel Baker Hill Billies tomorrow in the new stadium. This will be the second intersectional game of the year for the powerful Frogs, and should the Schmidtmens lose to the Billies, their spirits would be somewhat dampened for the conference opener the following Saturday with the Arkansas Razorbacks.

OLIVER

The brilliant playing of Red Oliver in the Tiger game last Saturday was a big surprise. I had imagined that the big red head had thrown in the towel, so far as wanting to play good football was concerned. Now it appears that he will be an all-conference man, an honor that he should have held for two years.

To begin with, he grabbed the opening kick-off and raced 90 yards before being cut off by the Tiger safety man. He ripped through the middle of the line on more than one occasion for long gains, but the miracle was the work that he did on defense. He played as a good halfback should play. That is about the second time that I have seen him in a humor to WANT to play football.

The papers in Baton Rouge bemoaned the fact that the Southwest Conference was so underrated. We agree with them, but we also agree that they were trying to get the Frogs in a bad way. That is what the Tulsa papers said last fall, and if I remember correctly, the Oklahoma boys won.

The work of Buster Brannon in the Louisiana game was praised by Lawrence Perry, one of the foremost sports writers in America. Why did Brannon look good? The answer is this: Coach Schmidt left him in long enough to run his plays in a series. A quarterback cannot be a real credit to a team if he is allowed to play only three or four downs at a time. Buster is a natural quarter anyway. He reminds his mates, in many ways of Howard Grubbs. Bus is cool and deliberate; he can gain when the others fail; and he gains because he follows his interference.

He will not play in tomorrow's game because of a badly sprained ankle. However, he will be ready for the conference games and his work at the helm position will determine to a great extent the success that the Horned Frogs have in winning.

What is wrong with the Ponies? My answer is nothing. It is true that the great ones were held to a scoreless tie by the Denton Teachers on the same day that the Frogs tied one of the strongest teams in the country. But don't let those Ponies fool you. They always begin the season unimpressingly but the month of November usually finds them playing somebody for the crown. It must hurt, though, to have the results go down in the permanent record books of the athletic department.

Coach Bear Wolf of the Frog line had rather see a fighting line than a Ringling Brothers circus. You should have seen him grin like a freshman when his boys fought the Tigers away from the goal line. It was first down for the Bengals on the two-yard line. Fourth down found them 15 yards from the mark.

I remember seeing the Aggies set back under the same conditions when Bear was playing for the Frogs. The ball was on the Purple's one-inch line, first down and goal to go. The Aggies ran four plays and lost about three yards on every one of them.

A prediction—Jimmie Jackson, soph, will be a great end before his collegiate career ends. He is the best pass-receiver on the squad now. I predicted when Jimmie was a frosh that he would never make a varsity letter. He is growing like a mushroom, and the coming of the 1933 season should see him weighing about 185 pounds. Power to you, Jimmie.

The heaviest man on the Daniel Baker team will weigh about 185 pounds. That will be a relief for the Frogs. Supposedly, the Toads outweighted the Tigers about 15 pounds per man. Now so have grandma tell one.

Frogs Meet Hill Billies Saturday

Daniel Baker to Start Small, Fast Team Tomorrow.

Texas Christian will meet the Hill Billies of Daniel Baker tomorrow afternoon at 3 p. m. in the Frog stadium in the second minor non-conference tilt of the season.

It is unlikely that the game will reveal any good points of the Christian outfit. The locals will go into the game enjoying a 20- or 25-pound per-man weight advantage, as the heaviest man on the Billie outfit does not weigh more than 185 pounds.

The Billies are likely to do one thing. They may prove to the Frogs that the latter's pass defense is weak. Weaver and Smith on the Daniel Baker backfield are both good passers, with Weaver, a portsider, doing most of it.

The Daniel Baker line will be led by its captain, Wise, 185-pound tackle, who is the main power of the Billy forward wall. He is fast and aggressive.

Neither of the coaches has announced a starting line-up, and it is likely that all of the players on both squads will see service before the afternoon is over.

Buster Brannon and Pap Pruitt, both out with sprained ankles, will not see any service; also, Lon Evans may not see much service because of a wrenched knee.

Dietzel Will Be Eligible in Year

Colorful Frog Is Continuing Studies in University.

Ad Dietzel, Horned Frog all-American basketball center in 1931 and holder of the Southwest basketball scoring record, has enrolled in T. C. U. for the 1932-33 school session. Dietzel dropped out of school last spring when his secret marriage was revealed.

Dietzel is the only Frog athlete ever to make an all-American team and the only basketball player to ever break two scoring records in as many years. He is a letterman in football and baseball along with two letters in basketball.

After leaving T. C. U. Dietzel entered the San Antonio Chiropractic College and became a star member of the college baseball nine. While with the Chiro he toured most of Texas and Old Mexico playing against some of the outstanding baseball teams in each state.

He was captain of the Chiropractor nine and led the Major City League of San Antonio with a .450 batting average. The team was the winner of a city play-off series and in this series "Too-Tall" hit 18 safe hits out of 28 times at bat.

Dietzel will have to complete two full terms here before he will be eligible for competition. If he passes all his courses he will be eligible for all athletics in 1933-34.

All T. C. U. extends a hearty welcome to Dietzel and will be waiting for his appearance on Frog fields next year.

Willis Cannon, who was a member of the tennis team and also a prominent member of the football squad at North Texas Agricultural College last year, is now attending T. C. U.

and goal to go. The Aggies ran four plays and lost about three yards on every one of them.

A prediction—Jimmie Jackson, soph, will be a great end before his collegiate career ends. He is the best pass-receiver on the squad now. I predicted when Jimmie was a frosh that he would never make a varsity letter. He is growing like a mushroom, and the coming of the 1933 season should see him weighing about 185 pounds. Power to you, Jimmie.

The heaviest man on the Daniel Baker team will weigh about 185 pounds. That will be a relief for the Frogs. Supposedly, the Toads outweighted the Tigers about 15 pounds per man. Now so have grandma tell one.

Second-Year Wingman

LANGDON

Here is one reason why the Frogs are not weak at the end positions. He is Jack Langdon, junior, who started in the Tiger game and showed up well. He hails from Cleburne.

Seven Scientists Use Biology Lab For Dining Room

Eating in the midst of silent skeletons, dusty fossils, foul formaldehyde, pickled grasshoppers and dead fish! That prospect wouldn't appeal to the "ordinary" person.

But, of course, with scientists—

The Luncheon Club, a new organization on the T. C. U. campus, uses a room in the biology lab as its club room. Its members probably wouldn't even flinch, if, by mistake, the water were boiled in a vessel the comparative anatomy class had used as a "waste basket." Or maybe they wouldn't mind slicing the bread with a knife that—oh well.

Six members of advanced science classes and Dr. C. I. Alexander of the science department have effected the organization for a two-fold purpose. After a year's membership in the Luncheon Club, the boys should be distinct assets in the kitchen of any good cafe. And then, incidentally, their pocket books should not be too flat!

While Dr. Alexander was attending Princeton University, he belonged to a similar club. The boys take turn about selecting menus. Thus the lunch seldom averages over a dime for each member per day. The club meets daily at 12 o'clock in the biology lab. The boy who selects the menu for the day also prepares the meal.

Thus far the menus have followed the rule that might be expected. The can opener plays an important role in the "cooking" of the meal. The first menu—Monday—consisted of peanut butter and jelly sandwiches, potato chips, lettuce and pickles. Later in the season the boys plan to have chili feasts. Utensils and plates were loaned to the club by Dr. W. M. Winton from his camp equipment.

Members of the club besides Dr. Alexander are Jack Sigmon, Dave Elias, J. R. Crump, J. Y. Smith, Ben Woodbury and Clyde Alexander.

Oh, yes, Dave Elias, in the role of "clean-up" man in the lab, has to wash the dishes!

Men's Glee Club Begins Practices

All Men Requested to Report for Try-Out Before Oct. 4.

Try-outs for the Men's Glee Club have been going on for the past week and members will hold their first meeting of the year on Tuesday night in the auditorium at 7:30 o'clock.

David Scouler, the director of the glee club, has requested all men who are interested in singing with the club to try out before Oct. 4. Many new men are expected to try out within the next four days. Mr. Scouler is trying to make the club a body of 40 men rather than 30 men as it was last year.

The Men's Glee Club was a prominent club in the state as well as on the campus the past year. The organization made a long tour of East Texas and Louisiana last year. The club made all the expenses including transportation. A similar trip is being planned again this year. Pat Henry, business manager of the club, is already getting in touch with the various towns that will be on the club's itinerary.

Mr. Scouler is planning to run the Girls' Glee Club on the same basis as the men's. Regular practice for the girls will begin in the near future. All girls are requested to be present at the first regular meeting. Officers of both clubs will be elected at the next meetings according to Mr. Scouler.

Intramural Heads Selected by Knox

A meeting of all intramural managers will be held next week, at which time the year's schedule will be announced, according to Walter Knox, instructor of physical education.

The managers chosen for the respective classes are: Student manager, Joe Brown; senior, Howard Walsh; junior, Bryant Collins; sophomore, Miller Kelsey, and freshmen, John C. Knowles.

The fall sports will be tag-football and tennis singles. All managers are expected to have their teams ready to start play.

Changes Made in Staff

L. C. Wright Is Appointed New Business Manager.

L. A. Dunnegan and Miss Lillian McDonald are the only members of last year's T. C. U. business office staff who have returned this year, following reorganization of the office during the summer.

Reorganization took place after the resignation of Butler S. Smiser, business manager, and Mrs. Irene Smiser, cashier, and the appointment of L. C. Wright as business manager.

Dunnegan has been promoted to cashier of the University, and Miss McDonald is secretary to the new business manager. Miss Ruth Williamson and Mrs. Lucy Boggess are new members of the staff.

Hollister Delegates to Conduct Fellowship

Talks by the delegates to the Y. M. C. A. encampment at Hollister this summer will feature the University Religious Fellowship service in the T. C. U. Auditorium Sunday evening at 7 o'clock.

Prof. W. C. Smith, sponsor of the trip, will preside.

After a musical number by a male quartet, the program will continue as follows: "Why Should Students Discuss Family Relationships?", Fred Miller; "What Is Wrong With Education?", Ruth Cowan; "Do We Need a New Economic Order?", Bud Taylor; "What of Race Discrimination? Is It Christian?"; Lynn Brown; "Religious Perplexities of Students. Why Worry?"; Paul Martin, and "What of the World's Danger Spots?"; Marion Hicks.

Nomadic Disciple And Hog Caller Direct Services

Sunday comes but once a week. This week however, it came twice to the inhabitants of Goode Hall.

One Rev. Sinclair, a wandering minister of the Gospel who hails from no certain place, dropped in from out of nowhere Wednesday afternoon and proceeded to administer one of his sermons to a group sitting around the radio in the parlor listening to the world's series ball game.

Before Sinclair would deliver his sermon he had to have some singing. In order that the visitor might be well pleased

MYERS

Wallace Myers, the Jack County choir leader and champion hog caller was elected to lead the group in a selection of songs. Assisted by Lon Evans, Myers led the group in singing "Shall We Gather at the River?" "The Little Church in the Wildwood" and several other songs. The collection plate was passed but the proceeds were nothing but bits of paper.

Among the men gathered close to the speaker in order to miss none of the sermon were: Red Oliver, Jack Graves, Richard Allison, Ben Baxter, Harry Bates, Joe Sargent, Charles "Christopher" Hanna, Roy O'Brien, Doc Sumner, Buster Brannon, Ad Dietzel, Joe Coleman, Johnnie Vaught, Billie Dickey, Otto Neilson, Alf Roark, Hubert Dennis, Ben Boswell, Jack Langdon, Lynn Brown, Charles Casper, Jinx Powell, Lee Bassinger, Bud Taylor, Jewell Wallace, Lee Glasgow, Love Perkins, Jack Roe and many others who failed to be close enough to the speaker to be seen. To close the service the congregation rose and a benediction was pronounced.

B. C. B. Chapel Opened

Ministerial Students Hear Dean Hall at First Opening.

Dean Colby D. Hall, delivered the opening address of the year to the ministerial students at their initial chapel held Wednesday morning in the Brite College auditorium.

In the course of his speech Dean Hall issued a challenge to all the students of Brite College of the Bible to live up to the expectations of all their predecessors, and benefactors of Brite College, of all the prophets and of Jesus Christ himself.

Prof. H. L. Pickering presided at the meeting. Prof. S. W. Hutton led the singing.

"You like that old pipe, don't you!"

"YES, I LIKE to smoke Granger. I have tried all kinds of tobacco; but, frankly, I have never found any other that is as good as Granger."

"I think I know something about tobacco, and I should say that Granger is the one tobacco that is made just right for pipes."
