The Skiff Rated All-American in National Contest

Paper Receives Honor for Third Consecutive Year.

Editor Is Praised

News Coverage, Editorials and Typographical Make-up Complimented.

For the third consecutive year The Skiff has been rated as all-American by the National Scholastic Press Association, according to word received from the association this week by Miss Ernestine Scott, editor.

All-American is the highest of five ratings by which college newspapers are classified. The association, which has headquarters at Minneapolis, Minn., classified 741 papers of which number only a small percentage were rated all-American.

All issues of the paper for this year up to Feb. 1 were studied in making the classifications. The Skiff scored 855 out of a possible 1000 points. Last year the paper scored 825 out of a possible 1000 points.

The Skiff first received all-American rating in 1931, when Jay Williams was editor. Last year, under the editorship of Laurence Coulter, the paper again received the honor. In 1930, when Miss Pauline Barnes was editor, the paper was classed in the second division of rating, that of first class.

The association complimented Miss Scott on the paper's news coverage, editorials and typographical make-up. A plaque denoting the paper's rating will be sent to The Skiff by the association in the near future.

Dr. Brabham Lauds

PROF. KARL E. ASHBURN.

The Skiff received a letter yesterday from President Tom W. Brabham of Texas Woman's College commenting on the appointment of Prof. Karl E. Ashburn as director of public relations of T. W. C. The letter read as follows: "We are very happy to announce that Prof. Karl E. Ashburn is to be associated with Texas Woman's College during our next school year. Prof. Ashburn will be directly under the president of the institution as head of the Department of Public Relations. I have felt the need of such a person during the last two years, and Prof. Ashburn, because of his many qualifications, was selected from among the hundreds of applicants for the place. I predict a bright future for him in this field."

Welty Makes Speech Talks on Dictators at Open Forum—Is Last Meeting.

Prof. Raymond Welty spoke to the Fort Worth Open Forum at the Woman's Club Tuesday evening on "The Rise of Dictatorships."

Prof. Welty said that the United States as well as Italy and Germany was under a dictatorship. The only difference is that Congress may at any time remove the dictatorship from President Roosevelt.

"I see no reason to be alarmed that America will become a dictatorship like Germany and Italy as long as we have freedom of speech and of the press. With these two in action, no dictator can last long," explained Welty.

This was the closing meeting of the forum until next fall. Other faculty members who have spoken at the forum are Dr. Edwin A. Elliott and Dr. W. J. Hammond.

Observer Finds Exams Bring Out Individual Traits of Students

There is no time when individualities are so completely expressed as just before and during examination. We are accustomed to think of the T. C. U. student as a type, a pretty good sort it is true, but differing a little from his fellows. Examinations, however, bring out a variety of types, each reacting to the experience in a quite different way.

First, and fewest, is the "Always Prepared" Type. Its representatives belong to the Scholarship Society, write themes two weeks ahead of time and do library work long before the zero hour. They make an average of A and talk of graduating summa cum laude.

They are so few in number that envious contemporaries do not put poison in their breakfast food, although they are tempting to do so when they hear the chirp, "Oh, I wrote my theme during the holidays" or "Why I read that book when it was first assigned."

Last-Momenters Large Group In contrast there is the frantic "At-the-Last-Moment" type. This group is much larger than the afore-

Bacus Chosen as Yearbook Editor

Roy Bacus was chosen editor of the 1933-34 Horned Frog University yearbook, by acclamation at a junior class meeting last Friday morning. Bacus was assistant editor to L. O. Dallas this year. He was art editor for the book for two years.

R. L. Trimble was likewise selected by acclamation of his classmates to fill the position of business manager. He served as assistant business manager this year.

Miss Bailey to Judge

School Students to Meet for Honors May 11, 12 and 13.

Miss Katherine Bailey, associate professor of piano in the University, has been selected as a member of the board of judges for an All-Southwestern Piano Tournament to be held May 11, 12 and 13, according to an announcement received from Irl Allison, tournament director.

The tournament will be held in Dallas, Oklahoma City, Shreveport, Albuquerque, Tyler, Waco, Beaumont, Plainview, El Paso, San Antonio and Abilene. The list of the board of judges includes prominent pianists and teachers of the Southwest.

All grade school, high school and college piano students of the Southwest are eligible to have their playing rated and rewarded according to merit by the board of judges at their contest city. The tournament is held annually on the last three days of National Music Week.

Dr. Whitman and Student Chemists Will Go to Waco

Dr. J. L. Whitman, head of the University chemistry department, and several students of the department will leave tomorrow for Waco, where they will attend the annual spring meeting of the Central Texas Section of the American Chemical Society.

Dr. Whitman is president of the organization. With the T. C. U. delegation will be Dr. Edward Bartow, head of the chemistry department of the University of Iowa. Dr. Bartow will be the principal speaker at the meeting. He is to talk on the "Applications of Chemistry to Industry."

English Teachers in Austin

Dr. Rebecca Smith, Miss Lide Spragins and Miss Mabel Major left yesterday for Austin, where they will attend a conference of Texas English teachers. Wednesday Mrs. Artemisia Bryson and Miss Major attended a meeting of the State Folklore Society which met in Waco. Dr. Newton Gaines was elected vice-president for the coming year.

Dr. Ben-D. Wood Is Banquet Speaker

Columbia Professor Will Speak at Final Faculty Meeting.

Dr. Ben D. Wood of Columbia University, director of the Co-operative Test Service, will be the principal speaker at the last faculty meeting of the year, the annual banquet, Monday evening, according to Dean Colby D. Hall.

The banquet will be held in the University dining room and will begin at 6:45 o'clock. Dr. Wood will lecture in the University Auditorium at 8 o'clock. His lecture, which will be illustrated with slides, will be on the subject of nationwide tests.

The Co-operative Test Service, which is financed by the Carnegie Foundation, has charge of the nationwide sophomore tests which were taken by T. C. U. second-year students last week.

Dean Hall has invited Supt. W. M. Green of the Fort Worth Public Schools and members of the faculties of Texas Woman's College and the Baptist Seminary to attend the lecture.

Members of the University faculty have been requested by the dean to turn in their reservations for the banquet to Dr. M. D. Clubb as soon as possible. The lecture in the auditorium will be open to all who wish to attend.

Rev. G. A. Wall Will Speak Here

The Rev. G. A. Wall, pastor of the Mexican Presbyterian Church of Fort Worth, will be the speaker at the University Religious Fellowship service in the University Auditorium at 7 o'clock Sunday evening.

The Rev. Wall will talk on "Some Adjustments That Mexicans Living in the United States Have to Make." Wall is a T. C. U. graduate, having obtained his B. A. degree here. He received his B. R. C. from the Presbyterian Theological Seminary in Austin, and is now working on his doctor's degree at the Fort Worth Baptist Seminary.

Wall served in the World War. He is intimately associated with the Mexicans in Fort Worth and is able to give real light on their situation here.

Paul Donovan, president of Los Hidalgos, which is sponsoring the program, will preside at the meeting.

Palmer Will Be Here

Speaker, Author to Make Three Addresses on Campus.

Albert W. Palmer, president of the Chicago Theological Seminary, will be on the campus Wednesday to make several addresses.

Palmer will speak to the freshman-sophomore chapel Wednesday on "Religious Problems of the Present Day." At 11 a. m. he will talk to Dr. E. A. Elliott's Labor Problems Class on "Labor Conditions in Hawaii." That afternoon at 1:30 o'clock he will address a combined Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. forum in the amphitheater.

According to Dr. W. C. Smith, Palmer has announced his desire to confer with students interested in theological training. For several years Palmer was minister of the Central Union in Honolulu, Hawaii. While there he took active part in the live issues and questions of the day.

Palmer is the author of one book, "The Human Side of Hawaii," and is writing another, "The Oriental in America," which will be the mission study book for 1934. He will discuss plans for this book with Dr. Smith.

Miss Kelley in Radio Recital

Miss Mary Carolyn Kelley, pianist and student in the School of Fine Arts, will play a group of selections on a radio program of the Fort Worth Woman's Club over station KPJZ Wednesday at 11:30 a. m.

Six Candidates Now in Races as Campaigning Waxes Hotter; Three Officers to Be Chosen by Voting

Miller's Withdrawal Gives Pickett Position as Head Yell Leader—Miss Jarvis to Be Secretary-Treasurer.

With six candidates now in races for student body offices, campaigning waxed hotter this week as the election days, Wednesday, May 3, and Friday, May 5, draw near.

The withdrawal of Fred Miller from the race for head yell leader this week gave the office to Tom Pickett, unopposed. Miss Mary Jarvis was unopposed for the office of secretary-treasurer of the student body.

Two candidates are now running for each of the three remaining offices. Candidates are: For president, Bud Taylor of Austin and Roy O'Brien of Denver, Colo.; for vice-president, Bryant Collins of Mathis and Lynn Brown of San Antonio; for editor of The Skiff, Joe Sargent and Miss Louise Cauker, both of Fort Worth.

Roy Bacus Made Band Drum Major Former President of Organization Third to Hold Honor.

Roy Bacus won over Weldon Allen in a competitive exhibition last Friday for drum major of the Horned Frog Band for next year.

Three votes were cast in the selection, the judges being Prof. Claude Sammis, the band as a body and Arnold Bouton, formerly of Sousa's Band.

Bacus, who is a junior in the University from Newport, Ark., served as president of the band last year, and is the only one ever to hold that honor while a sophomore.

There have been only two drum majors before in the history of the organization. Jo Brice Wilmetth filled that capacity for seven years, and Sproesser Wynn has held the honor for the past two years.

The drum major has charge of the band all the time the group is in military formation. He also drills the band and takes care of all the entertaining features put on between halves at the football games.

Dr. Bartow to Visit On Campus Tomorrow

Noted Iowa Chemist Will Be Guest of Dr. Whitman for Two Days.

Dr. Edward Bartow, head of the chemistry department of the University of Iowa, will be a visitor on the campus tomorrow, according to Dr. J. L. Whitman.

Dr. Bartow will make an informal talk in the amphitheater at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning. The meeting will be open to all faculty members and students.

Tonight at 8 o'clock the visiting professor will speak in the auditorium of the Medical Arts Building. His appearance there is being sponsored by the Fort Worth Technical Club. Dr. Whitman announced. The talk will be on "Observations in the Orient" and will be illustrated by lantern slides. The lecture will be open to the public.

While on the campus tomorrow, Dr. Bartow will be the guest of Dr. Whitman, who was formerly associated with him at the University of Iowa.

Sophomores Take Nationwide Tests

One hundred and forty students took the nationwide sophomore test given to second-year students of the University Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of last week, according to Dean Colby D. Hall.

Scoring of the test papers will be done by faculty members and advanced students of the department of education, Dean Hall said this week, and reports will be made by May if possible.

Sophomores will be divided into two groups, general candidates for degrees and honors candidates for degrees, according to the score they make on the tests.

Last year the tests cost the University 90 cents per student, but the scoring was done by outsiders and had to be paid for. This year the tests will cost less.

Let's All Vote

The students of this University will have an opportunity next Wednesday and Friday to decide upon the five elective student body offices for the 1933-34 session. Fortunately, T. C. U. has never placed upon student elections the undue emphasis that is prevalent in larger institutions. It is only during the past few years that there has been any active campaigning, and the fact that this has been kept free from emulation of petty political methods is something of which T. C. U. is justly proud.

Eight students have been nominated for the five offices—two students each in three of the races, and two unopposed. The offices to be filled are president, vice-president and secretary-treasurer of the student body, head yell leader and editor of The Skiff. The students who are installed in these five offices will do much to shape the policies and activities of the students of T. C. U. next year. In addition, they will be considered by the public as representing the type and character of T. C. U. students. It will be up to them to establish and maintain satisfactory contacts with the Administration and the public in general.

The student body officers will have no easy job next year. They are following in the steps of a group that has broken new ground in an attempt to effect certain desirable changes regarding student-administration relations. It will be obligatory upon the new officers to forward or discard, as the case may be, the policies of the incumbents.

Freshmen and sophomores will vote Wednesday during chapel. The junior-senior group will mark their ballots in the Friday chapel. The Skiff, of course, remains absolutely non-partisan in the coming election. There is little to choose between the candidates; they are all well-qualified for the positions. We beg to be dictatorial in only one respect. Every student should make a special effort to be in chapel for the election. Let's all vote.

Support Spring Sports

T. C. U. students have shown a decided lack of interest in spring athletics this year. Attendance at track meets and baseball games has been far below the figures of previous years. Certainly this can not be attributed to the depression, for athletic books are good at all contests. It is surely an economical and convenient way to give the 'girl friend' a break, although it must be admitted that it is becoming increasingly difficult for a couple to run the gauntlet of wise-cracks that are so prevalent at any gathering of students.

Whatever the reason, the fact remains that the Horned Frog baseball and track teams are not receiving the support that they deserve from the student body. Perhaps the students are too busy studying during these beautiful spring afternoons, but after careful analysis we find that such is not the case.

There is a baseball game this afternoon with the S. M. U. Mustangs and a track meet tomorrow versus the Simmons thinly-clad. 'Nough said.

University Church

Sunday, May 6, has been set as the opening date of a series of services to be held in the new University Christian Church. These will be in the form of a meeting to be conducted by the Rev. Harry Knowles, one of the leading Christian ministers in Texas. The Rev. Knowles is pastor of the First Christian Church in Houston.

The University Church is the culmination of countless hours and untold energy on the part of T. C. U. officials, many of the students, townspeople and others. It is an edifice of which we can well be proud. It fills a long felt need of our university life, a need that at no time has been more acute than in these fast-moving times. Many skilled workmen have contributed to the erection of the church-building—those who occupy its pews will contribute to the making of the church.

Student organizations should begin planning now to attend one or all of these services in a body. Officers of the various organizations are urged to formulate definite plans for this group attendance.

In the Spring—

"In the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of . . ." What? That oft-repeated axiom has become more than a mere proverb; by frequent usage it has been established as one of our great American wise-cracks. In spite of the fact that its utilization is of necessity seasonal, it is employed enough during that season to more than make up for any slight it receives during the remainder of the year.

Just what trend does a young man's fancy follow in the spring? We are told that spring is ushered in officially on March 21. Of course if it happens to be cold and dreary that day, there is no one to blame but the climatologists, or the weather man. In the spring the young college man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of . . .

"Boy, this is the home stretch. Not long till June. I've got to buckle down in that English course—that's one credit I can't do without. I'm behind in that biology notebook too. Well, that means I have a heavy date with the lab' this afternoon. Oh, hello Jack. Peach of a day isn't it? Tennis? Sure Mike! Just had my racket restrung and am anxious to break it in with a victory. Meet you on the courts at 2 o'clock. No, it won't interfere. I don't have anything else to do." Or perhaps he's this type . . .

"Well, here we are in the last go-round. Final exams will soon be the order of the day. No cramming for me this year. I'm going to start today and review leisurely and thoroughly. Gee, that sun feels good. Think I'll go out and sit on the steps for awhile. Ho hum, guess I must have spring fever." And thus he spends the afternoon "reviewing."

Let's see now; where were we? Oh yes. In the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of . . . thoughts of . . . who said that right you are, thoughts of Eros, of Cupid, of amiable, amorous, affection . . . thoughts of love.

Be Considerate

When one goes to the library to secure material out of the bound volumes and finds a number of the reference works missing, one becomes disgusted with the thoughtlessness of some student.

On taking a bound volume out of the library, one should stop and consider that he is not taking out just the one article which he wishes to use, but articles for a whole year or a number of years, according to the system used in binding the work. With volumes gone out of the reading room, the library can not be as complete and useful as it should be for university work. Valuable material for someone else is lost.

When one takes such a volume out, his intentions of returning it may be good, but as the book is not checked out in his name he will be careless in returning it, and it may even become lost.

Thus, to have a complete library, let's quit walking out with the bound volumes and do our research work in the reading room. Consider your fellow student.

OPEN FORUM

Editor's Note—Below is an excerpt from a letter that the Secretary of the Sociology Section of the Southwestern Social Science Association has been instructed to send copies of to the Board of Trustees and to the Administration of T. C. U., to the American Association of University Professors, to the officers of the American Sociological Society and to the Southern Association of Universities and Colleges.

WHEREAS, we, the Sociology Section of the Southwestern Social Science Association meeting April 14 and 15, 1933, at Dallas, Texas, are greatly concerned for the maintenance and improvement of the present high standards of teaching and research in Sociology in the Southwest; and

WHEREAS, it appears that Sociology has suffered more than other social sciences as a result of the enforced policy of retrenchment at Texas Christian University.

We desire respectfully, and without solicitation from Dr. W. C. Smith, to express our regrets as fellow sociologists that it should have seemed desirable to you to dispense with the professional services of Dr. Smith at this time. We are, of course, aware of the great financial stress under which many of our educational institutions of college and university grade are laboring at the present time, and we desire to express our sympathy for Texas Christian University in such financial struggles as it may be compelled to undergo.

We regret, however, that it should have seemed necessary to those responsible for the future welfare and good name of Texas Christian University to sacrifice at this time from its teaching staff any men who are especially well trained for the performance of their professional duties or to take such administrative action as would result practically in the elimination of any recognized and well established branch of the social sciences.

FURTHERMORE, several of the sociologists in the southwest area are planning to advise the registrars of their respective institutions not to accept credits in sociology from T. C. U. after this year.

IT IS SO LITTLE

In the last Skiff appeared a letter in this column written by a student saying that up until a recent Sunday morning his faith had been growing but a certain part of the program which was not in keeping with his ideal of the service had caused his religion to wane.

Some might say, "If he had no more faith than that, his religion ought to die." That would be a cruel and unjust statement. As Jesus said, we are not to be concerned with those who are strong in the faith but those who are weak. We all have our ideas how things should be run and when such things as sacred as church services are not carried on in harmony with our thinking, we tend to discredit everything connected with the affair.

That person's religion, like that of many other college students, has not matured and might be said to be hanging in the balances. While he is going through that stage of his religious life, one little thing wrong might completely wreck his faith, and one little thing in the right direction might win him forever and nothing could shake his faith then.

Small disturbances in the services are not to be considered lightly and should be watched by those in charge, for the University Church membership is made up of a great many young people who are going through that wavering stage and often their faith is only hanging by a string.—M.

Mary Pickford and Leslie Howard in "Secrets" at Hollywood Tomorrow

Mary Pickford's latest picture, "Secrets," will appear at the Hollywood Theater for four days starting tomorrow. "Secrets" is one of the most beautiful pictures ever to come out of Hollywood, and the star looks younger and more amazingly pretty than ever. Her performance is excellent, as is the work of all others in the cast, especially that of Leslie Howard, who takes the role of the romantic lover.

Student Election Wednesday, Friday

Arships given for the highest type of scholastic work during the first two years of college. He has achieved this remarkable record in spite of having worked his way through school.

"The fact that O'Brien has a fine speaking ability is well known. He has experience. He has leadership. He has ability. He has scholarship. He has liberal ideas. He has appearance. He has aggressiveness. In short, he has everything that a student body president needs, and more."

Lynn Brown for Vice-President. Lynn Brown's managers say, "The supporters of Lynn Brown respectfully submit his name to the student body for consideration as a candidate for student body vice-president. He has the many qualifications which are necessary in being able to render the greatest service to the student body by being an able substitute, counselor and advisor to the president."

"Brown is president of the student Y. M. C. A. and is a member of the International Relations Club, the Spanish Club, the League for Industrial Democracy and the 'T' Association, which is evidence of his many student contacts and of his knowledge of student problems."

Bryant Collins is Candidate. "Bryant Collins," say the supporters of that candidate, "is a candidate for the office of vice-president of the student body because he possesses those characteristics necessary for that office of honor. He has worked hard in the organizations of which he has been a member, proving himself a dependable student."

"At present he is representing the student body and will be unable to return to the campus before Tuesday. This absence is necessary during the election because of his pledged allegiance to the Men's Glee Club before the dates of the campaign were set."

"At his high school graduating exercises, Collins had the privilege of speaking to a mass group of citizens as the class valedictorian. The scholastic activity of Collins is now rated in T. C. U. as 'superior work,' as he has a 'B-plus' average. "Collins is co-operative, open-minded, loyal, liberal, intelligent, non-partisan and sincere."

Joe Sargent Seeks Editorship. "Joe Sargent," his supporters say, "bases his qualifications for the office of Skiff editor on his capability and experience in journalism and printing and his contact with University life."

"Sargent has run a printing shop for seven years and has a thorough knowledge of the mechanics of publishing a paper. His journalistic career has covered five years. In his time he has served as editor and publisher of a national boys' magazine and editor of a highly-successful high school paper."

"While in high school he won first place in a state-wide Interscholastic League news-writing contest and was adjudged third best all-around high school journalist in Texas."

"At T. C. U. he has served as reporter, sports writer, typographical and make-up editor and assistant editor on The Skiff staff and has written for the T. C. U. news service and Fort Worth daily papers. At present he conducts a column in the Fort Worth Sporting Brevities."

"For two years Sargent has been a member of the Student Council and has come into direct contact with student-administration-faculty problems."

Miss Cauer's Editor Platform. Miss Louise Cauer's supporters say, "Miss Louise Cauer is a journalism major and an honor student. She is at present society editor of

At the Worth Theater. Cab Calloway will be featured at the Worth Theater starting tomorrow for four big days. Calloway began his career as a musician and entertainer in Chicago and won his reputation as one of the outstanding stars of the colored race during his engagement at the Cotton Club in New York's Harlem.

During Calloway's appearance the featured picture will be "The Big Cage." This picture is packed with thrills and is very symbolic of its title.

Club Histories

At last it has been found—the first club formed in Texas Christian University. That is, unless the editor of the T. C. U. annual of 1917 made a mistake, for nesting in an obscure corner of the section headed "College Year" we find the club with its members.

It is known as the Culinary Club and its members knew of the art of cooking. That is, they knew it if the name of the club meant anything. And there they are all lined up in their club regalia consisting of a white apron and a regulation cook cap.

It seems a pity that none of them revealed having a bit of gangrene on their shins "for blank-manager, that made he(m) with the best."

There is no way to tell just how long the club had been in existence for all other records were lost in the fire of 1918. Yes, there was a fire in 1918. You must remember that membership in this club was restricted to cooks or possibly a few culinary artists and what is a cook without a fire?

But though the records of the club are destroyed, a bit of information still remains. The payroll of the University reveals the fact that during the year 1916-17 certain sums of money were paid to certain persons in return for services performed upon specified hen fruit, and although the hen fruit was slightly mixed as a result, the records are clear. During that year six persons were commissioned to look into, and smell into the conditions of said unborn chickens and when practical to change them from an unedible to an unpalatable concoction.

The persons names in the record were Annie Thornton, James Montgomery, Jack Brown and wife and Joe Allen and wife. Since the photograph shows but five colored folk, it is suggested that possibly one of the culinary artists had been suspended, possibly for putting 897 rather than the regulation 893 beans on the plate of a favorite. Which of the culinary artists was omitted is impossible to say.

One of the alumni who attended T. C. U. about this time recalls the organization and suggests membership was restricted to persons of African descent who had served as presidents of freshman classes. However, there are no records substantiating this.

The Skiff and conducts a T. C. U. column each week in the Sunday Star-Telegram. "She was assistant to the Skiff business manager for one year and has sold over 100 inches of advertising for the campus paper. She is an active figure in campus social life, belonging to five clubs and holding offices in two of them. Several signed articles by Miss Cauer have appeared in The Skiff this year which show that she works for and says what she believes is right."

"Her platform contains four major points: Support of the Student Council, a progressive social policy, complete and unbiased coverage of campus news and independent student opinions."

Mr. Dirt was in the HOLLYWOOD THEATER Saturday night and who should he see but CONSTANCE WYATT—all dressed up in a new matched spring ensemble that really made her look sweet.

MAXINE EDWARDS gets our vote for being one of the best sports we have ever known.

Although we have panned OWEN LIPSCOMB all year we still think he is a swell guy.

LA VERNE BRUNSON really did get the rush that she deserved at the dance Saturday night.

We really like GENE CAGLE'S choice in CHRISTINE ACKERS.

If only we could get DOROTHY CLARK to give US that winning smile once in a while. (Who said I wasn't a poet?)

ETHEL CRADDOCK really has a host of friends, judging from the number of letters she gets.

And this column would not be complete without mentioning FLORIENE TURNER'S friendliness with everyone—she deserves much credit.

EVELYN FRANKLIN was seen with DEAN HARRISON at the show

the other night—they do make a nice looking couple.

FRANCIS JOHNSTON always seems to be quite popular with all of the students—well she's our choice for one of the best looking girls on the campus.

EVELYN has a convenient name for the boys during the spring—they can say EVELYN, GOLIIGHTLY with our affections.

We think that PAT O'BANION is really attractive—and a certain candidate for The Skiff editor agrees with us heartily.

GEORGIE FRITZ is a perpetual surprise even to those who know her best.

And MARY ELLEN DAVIS possesses the most delicate intuitions of any girl that I know.

MARGOT SHAW is a girl of many fascinations.

PAUL MARTIN is a model of propriety.

Somehow WIRTH MCCOY, to us, is irresistibly funny.

We really do think that LOLLIE BOTTS has a very sunny temperament.

DORIS ZWEIFEL, according to those who know her, is incapable of hurting anyone's feelings.

LAURENCE COULTER really does have a character of sterling excellence.

If only we could have that indefinable charm that FLOY EDMONDSON possesses.

WINNIE POWELL has many charming qualities, and a very pretty manner.

HELEN FELLOWS has a winning smile and a winsome expression.

KATHERINE SWILEY has a certain suavity of manner that I am envious of.

And what more could one say of IRENE MCCOMMAS than she is a very dainty little Miss?

NATALIE COLLINS always has impressed me as being frankly and innocently happy.

FRED MILLER has a character worth knowing.

Isn't ANNA KATHERINE DONALDSON cute?

Yes, this is supposed to be a dirt column, but somehow we have to get our true feelings off our chest. Next week we will have dirt and—more dirt!!!

Miss Kelly, Dietzel to Have Lead Roles in Spring Fiesta

By LOUISE CAUKER.

Miss Dorothy Kelly, petite senior co-ed well-known on the campus for her grace and dancing ability, and Adolph Dietzel, towering giant of the sports world, will have the leading love-interest parts in the Fiesta, annual spring pageant to be presented in the T. C. U. stadium Saturday evening, May 13.

President E. M. Waits, as owner of the hacienda where the Fiesta takes place, will dominate the background together with the Senorita who was voted on several weeks ago by the students. The identity of the Senorita will remain a secret until the night of the pageant, but she is one of the following: Misses Monda Marie Hoseny, Anna Byrd Harness, Katherine Davis, Theo Smart, Mary Louise Hall, Frieda Taliaferro or Mary McCord.

"Fiesta" to Be Theme Song.

be furnished by the T. C. U. Band be furnished by the T. C. U. Band under the direction of Prof. Claude Sammis. The theme song will be the popular Spanish number "Fiesta," which will be used several times for dances and songs. The well-known selections of "La Golondrina," "La Paloma," and "Rosita" will be used for solo dances. Solo dancers will be Misses Kelly, Mary Elva Dillingham and Florence Fallis. Dances in the pageant will vary from solos, mass tangos and square dances to gypsy numbers.

The story of the Fiesta takes place during a national Mexican holiday, the scene being an hacienda in Mexico near the Texas border. President Waits, as the owner, and the unknown Senorita as his daughter will watch the peons as they gather for the festival celebration of the holiday.

Hacienda Will Be Scene.

The fiesta will take place in the patio of the hacienda, with vendors of flowers and fruits adding color to the gay assembly. The coming of a group of American cowboys across the border to watch the celebration heightens the vivacity of the dancers. One of the cowboys, Dietzel, falls in love with one of the dancing señoritas, Miss Kelly, and plots with his comrades to carry her off.

The second episode opens with the coming of a group of gypsies to take part in the dances. Mrs. Annabel Hall Bailey, as the bird woman, will sing a number of bird songs in this episode, and special guitar numbers will be offered. The Jarabe, national dance of Mexico, will be portrayed by a group of Mexican children.

The happy and colorful concluding scene of the pageant is the return of the cowboys to the hacienda with the captured señorita, now married to her cowboy admirer, and a long-cloaked padre or priest in their midst.

Campus Maintenance Takes Varied Tools

Dees Lists Other Equipment of Hitching Racks.

The task of keeping the campus and buildings in a "state of health and decency" is a job requiring not only the constant services of a large group of workers, but also demanding a great amount of equipment. L. L. Dees, supervisor of the campus, to prove this point lists the properties of his department.

Among the power equipment there are: One bus, one truck, one Ford sedan, one concrete mixer, four power mowers, one electric mower sharpener, one electric band saw, one combination saw and one emery sander.

Those articles requiring human locomotion are: Three lawn mowers, three wheel barrows, two tennis court rollers, and one line marker.

Tools, about which Dees stated that he cared neither to borrow nor to lend, consist of a dozen each of shovels, picks, hoes, and a half dozen each of rakes, maddocks, post hole diggers and clean outs, and garden forks. The campus also requires 1,200 feet of 3/4-inch hose and 400 feet of 1 1/2-inch hose.

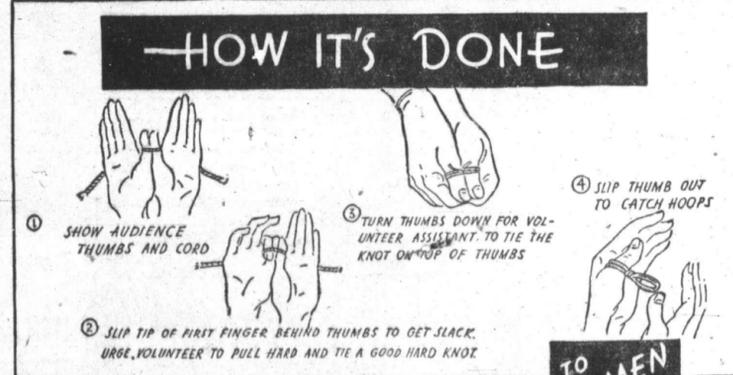

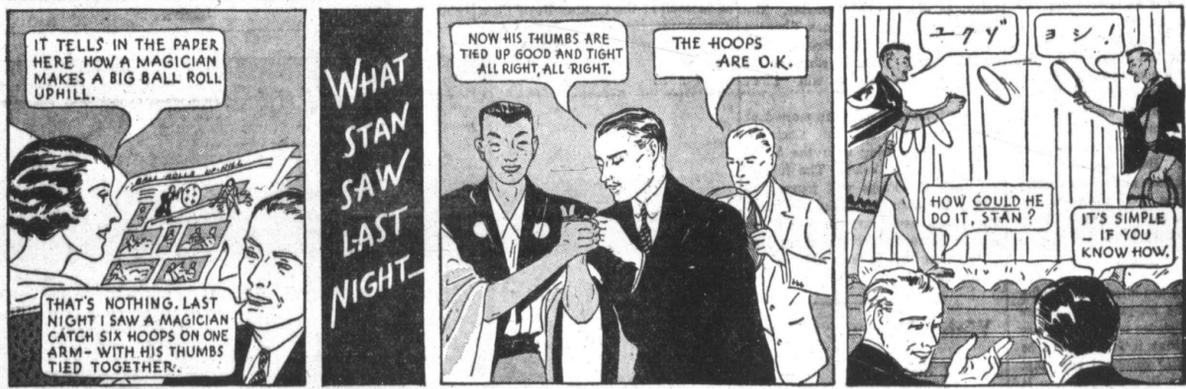

Among obsolete equipment might be listed the two hitching racks that now exist on the campus and which date back to the days when students rode horses to school. One of these is located immediately south of the Main Building next to the hedge and the other back of the training table. A third one, for those who would like to know, was removed from in front of Main at the time the drive was taken out in 1924.

This equipment requires the services of several trained men and a crew of students through the summer as well as the regular term, and is one of the big factors in making the campus such an attractive site.

Misses Christipe Ackers and Theo Smart spent Friday visiting in Dallas.

IT'S FUN TO BE FOOLED

THIS WEEK IN THE MAGIC THEATRE: The sensational Japanese Thumb Tie!

NO TRICKS IN CAMELS—JUST COSTLIER TOBACCOS

DONOVAN'S DOPE

By PAUL DONOVAN

By this time next week the Frogs will know pretty well where they stand in the conference baseball race and whether or not they have a chance to come out on top. The Meyer men will play three crucial games, all of them away from home, and the outcome of these contests should definitely decide the fate of the Froggies.

The Purple nine has shown some improvement since the opening game against Texas but there is room for a great deal more both offensively and defensively. The new infield combination with Logan at short and Taylor at third has strengthened the line-up materially and they should improve with more experience.

Tuesday the Frogs will get another crack at the Longhorns in what has the possibilities of being the feature fray of the season. If the Meyer men can defeat the Mustangs today and the Bears Monday in Waco there will be much at stake in the Texas game.

Ellis Taylor is at present leading the Purple crew at the plate. He is hitting at a .556 clip and is high in the conference ranking. His three solid blows against the Aggies boosted his average and helped the Frogs win. Jimmy Jacks, Wallace Myers and Flash Walker are also hitting the ball well.

I hope no one has started talking about all-conference teams at this stage of the race, but in case they have they should be told about the sweet game Walker played at second base against the Cadets. He accepted nine chances without a bobble, many of them on hard-hit balls and his throws were true on every attempt. McDowell of Texas looked like a cinch for the second base berth when he played here but Flash's playing of late promises to make it an interesting battle between the two.

Now that Jimmy Jacks' arm is in shape again the Frogs will not suffer on the coming road trip for want of pitching strength. It may not be necessary to use the south-paw on the mound but it is a comfort to know that he is ready for service. He is playing fine ball on first base and he may prove more valuable there than in the box if Slim and Harston continue pitching as they have.

Track fans are already beginning to talk of the 100-yard dash in the coming conference meet. They are all agreed that it is going to be the most hotly contested race that has been run in many years. It should rival in intensity the famous duels between Cy Leland and Claude Bracey a few years ago.

There will be Holloway of Rice, Meyer of Texas, Goddard of Baylor and Rex Clark of T. C. U. all in one race! Every one of these boys has run the century in less than ten seconds. It looks like it will take record breaking time to win the race. Given a good day and a fast track there is no telling what those runners will do to the record which is 9.7.

Another newcomer is causing much favorable comment for his feats on the track. He is Dick Simpson, middle-distance man. He stepped out in great style to cop the half-mile run against S. M. U. and Baylor. Later he ran a sensational lap in the mile relay which the Frogs won. His team was trailing by ten or fifteen feet when he received the baton but when he finished he had a lead of about the same distance.

And so, what once looked like a most unsuccessful year on the track for the Purple entry is rapidly becoming a season of cheerful surprises. If Robert Chappell's leg injury heals soon the Clarkmen will present a speedy, point-making crew of runners in the conference meet. On the track they will hold their own, but in the field events they will be hard pressed for points.

Spearman may be suited out for the meet too. If he is it should mean at least five more points to the Frog total. All in all the Frogs now have an outfit of sufficient strength to place men in practically every event. They are not to be counted out of the running by any means.

Frogs, Cowboys In Dual Meeting Here Tomorrow

Phelps, Chappell Report for Practice After Absence of Week.

Entire Squad Ready

Ponies Nose Out T. C. U. in Three-Cornered Entanglement.

Coach Mack Clark's tracksters will tangle with the Simmons University Cowboys in a dual track meet on Clark Field tomorrow afternoon beginning at 2:30 o'clock. Simmons defeated the strong Daniel Baker crew by a close margin last week, while the Frogs were placing second to S. M. U. in a triangular meeting between the Frogs, Mustangs and the Baylor Bears.

The entire Frog squad will once again be at its full strength when the Cowboys and the Frogs meet here tomorrow. Lucy Phelps, star take-off sprinter, and Robert Chappell, star middle-distance racer, have reported for practice after a week's absence. Both were suffering from pulled muscles. Phelps pulled a muscle in his leg at Denton while running the 100-yard dash, while Chappell received his injury in a practice run last week.

The Clarkmen lost a close decision to the Mustangs last week when Charlie Casper, ace timber topper, failed to place in the high hurdle event, suffering his initial defeat in Southwest Conference competition. Casper knocked down five hurdles, and the ruling reads that a competitor is allowed to knock down only two of the sticks. Too, with Chappell and Phelps on the injured list the Frogs were exceptionally weak in the middle distances and sprints. Rex Clark, promising sophomore sprinter, lost a close race to Dave Goddard of Baylor in the century but came back strong to administer a defeat to the Bear flier in the furlong. The Purple sprint relay team showed improvements by winning the shorter relay, as did the mile quarter. The brilliant running of James Simpson brought victory to the Frogs' four in this event. Simpson also ran a great half-mile race to win that event.

After tomorrow only one more dual meeting remains on the Christian schedule, that being with the S. M. U. Mustangs in Dallas. The following week the Frogs will journey to Austin to enter the conference meet. The Frogs are heavy favorites to win the Mustang contest and are expected to finish high in the final meeting in Austin.

Members of C. A. Morgan's Sunday School class presented an all-men's water pageant in the little gym Thursday night and will donate the proceeds to the building fund of the new church building. Jack Langdon was directing manager of the affair.

Water Pageant Given

Sunday School Class Has All-Men's Exhibition.

The show started off with a Southwest Conference bathing revue parade with Dan Salkeld representing "Miss Baylor," Johnny Crews as "Miss Arkansas," Otha Tiner as "Miss A. & M.," Slim Kinzy as "Miss Mrs. Boggers," Elbert Walker as "Miss Rice," Bryant Collins as "Miss Texas," Jack Shackelford as "Miss Steak," Reeder Shugart as "Miss Represented," Tom Pickett as "Miss S. M. U.," and Lynn Brown as "Miss T. C. U."

A mystic act was staged by Shackelford and Slim Kinzy. Johnny Knowles and Noel Roberts presented a clown diving act. Different swimming strokes were demonstrated by Willis Cannon, Knowles and Roberts. Joe Findley was acting life guard for the occasion and demonstrated his life-saving tactics by pulling Knowles and Roberts from the pool when they failed to come up for the fourth time.

Inability to Live Up to Motto Causes Club Demise

The Negro Culinary Club, long gone and almost forgotten, was organized in 1917, an exclusive group of chefs in the T. C. U. cafeteria. Purpose—bigger and better food! Whether or not the club had a president, vice-president, secretary and what have you, is not known but there was no need for the officers. Each one knew who cooked the daily biscuits and washed the dishes. The group dissolved. At least, there isn't a Culinary Club any more.

Juniors and Fresh Win Baseball Tilts

Sumner and Brannon Loom as Favorites in Tennis Intramurals.

The junior and freshman intramural baseball teams upset the dope bucket Saturday and set back the would-be intramural champions in two of the outstanding diamond tilts of the seasons. Pre-season dope gave the seniors a large margin over other teams of the circuit, but Saturday the members of the first year crew set them back 12 to 8.

Marion Hicks and Howard Walsh, star players for the senior nine, were out of the line-up Saturday, and the frosh victory may be attributed to this. In the other upset of the day, the juniors won from the senior delegation, which gave the third-year men the first-half championship. The score of this game was 4 to 3.

Each team in the league will play each other one game during the next four weeks. At the end of the season the winner of the first half and the winner of the second half will play a two-game series to determine the intramural baseball championship. The tennis doubles play is now under way, with Doc Sumner and Buster Brannon looming as favorites to win the crown. The Athenians won the doubles crown last year. Several other teams have entered the race.

Frosh Tennis Team to Play This Afternoon

The freshman tennis team will meet the Randolph Junior College netmen on the Purple courts at 2:30 this afternoon.

Lavender is recognized as one of the outstanding golfers in the state and his loss to the Purple ace was an upset. It established Walkup as one of the favorites to cop the conference tournament, which will be staged over the Glen Garden course in Fort Worth May 18, 19 and 20.

The next match on the Frog's schedule is with the Texas Longhorns May 17 in Fort Worth.

In doubles play, Walsh is paired with Hicks and Truelson with Hart.

The next conference match on the Purple schedule is with the Texas Steers May 17 on the T. C. U. courts. The conference tournament begins the next day on the same courts and continues for three days.

Unemployed Men Are To Work on Campus

They donate their services to anyone who will call for them, furnish their dinner and furnish transportation back to the Community Chest.

TURKISH TOBACCO
comes to this country in bales. The leaves are small and tightly packed. Each bale contains about 40,000 leaves.

DOMESTIC TOBACCO
is stored in huge wooden hogheads. Each hoghead contains about 1000 pounds of tobacco.

A flavor that neither possesses alone

Early in the 17th century, tobacco seed from America was taken to Turkey. Different soil, different climate, different temperatures night and day, and different farming methods produced an entirely new tobacco—small in size, but very rich and aromatic.

Greece; Samsoun and Smyrna in Turkey. And it is principally from these places that our buyers get the Turkish for Chesterfield.

These Turkish tobaccos are blended, in just the right amount, with Domestic tobaccos. It is this blending and cross-blending of just the right amount of Turkish and Domestic tobaccos which gives Chesterfield a flavor that neither possesses alone.
