

Grand March to Begin Prom Tuesday Evening, 8 o'Clock

BY LOUISE CAUKER

A grand march down a purple and white lined lane will begin the annual Freshman Prom Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock and launch freshman boys and co-eds off on their first year of collegiate social activities.

Co-eds and their escorts will form in front of Jarvis Hall for the march and proceed to the Mary Couts Burnett Library to the tune of "Marching Along Together," played by Vernon Fenley's orchestra. Officers of the freshman class, with the president first, will lead the procession. After the grand march, those present will form on the library steps for a mass picture to be used in the Horned Frog, according to Roy O'Brien, student body president. The ten proms will be held after the taking of the flashlight pictures.

Colored lights playing on the fountains in front of the library will add gaiety to the scene, as will the purple and white crepe paper decorations for the lettered booths. Punch will be served by Miss Lollie Bots and Miss Mary Jarvis. Miss Christine Ackers is in charge of the decorations, and Lynn Brown and Bud Taylor will supervise the lighting. O'Brien is in charge of the entire affair, being assisted by Nat Wells.

At a meeting of the T. C. U. girls Tuesday, Miss Louise Glass, president of the Y.W.C.A., called attention to the fact that T. C. U. and several other colleges have been asked to discontinue using the terms "Big Sister" and "Little Sister" because those phrases have been appropriated by a movement for the aid of underprivileged girls in several large cities. According to Miss Glass, letters were received at the university last year with the information that colleges using the terms are subject to a fine or even a lawsuit.

Accordingly, the phrases "Big Friend" and "Little Friend" were adopted by the girls at the Tuesday meeting, to be used exclusively from now on to apply to the T. C. U. movement, which is sponsored by the Y. W. C. A.

Miss Louise Watson is in charge of the Big Friend-Little Friend assignments for dormitory girls, while Miss Anna Byrd Harness has charge for the town girls. Miss Glass announced the following instructions in regard to the prom:

Big Friends are to sign up as many freshman boys as possible for the proms. In making proms, Big Friends sign their own names on the boys' cards. The night of the affair, boys find the Little Friend by going to the booth that carries the first letter of the Big Friend's last name. A bugle call will be the signal for a prom change.

Dan Cupid Unites Many Ex-Students

There may have been a depression last summer, but it couldn't stop Old Dan Cupid. Among the marriages of T. C. U. ex-students the past few months are:

Miss Mary Louise Gilliam and Joseph B. Cowan, now living in San Seba; Miss Winnie Powell and Laurence Coulter, living in Fort Worth; Miss Kay Prather and Blainard Spearman, living in Olney; Miss Will Marie Allen and Frank Hunter Denby, living in Jacksonville; Miss Nell Curtis and Loyd Douglas, living in Arlington; Miss Thelma Lavendar and Clay Stivers, living in Fort Worth; Miss Celia Swiley and Holley M. Lawrence, Jr., living in Longview.

Miss Lucille McCann and Hubert Dennis, living in Rockdale; Miss Voncell Hay and Dan Salkeld, living in Norman, Okla.; Miss Lucy Brown and Ralph Neely, living in Fort Worth; Miss Florence Johnson and Stanley Poer, living in Pecos; Miss Myrtle Nell Taliaferro and Don Weldon, living in Fort Worth; Miss Omers Madeley and Jere Van Zandt; Miss Ruth Ackers and David Creed, living in Fort Worth, and Miss Dorothy Jacobs and Doc Sumner.

B. C. B. Meeting Held At Hutton's Home

The first meeting of B. C. B. was held Tuesday evening at the home of S. W. Hutton, sponsor. Granville Walker, president, presided.

A program of work for the coming year, as prepared by the executive committee, was outlined and discussed. Members of the faculty, new and old members of the club and members of the executive committee were present. Regular meetings of the club were scheduled for the first and third Thursdays of each month. The opening social event of the season will be in the form of a banquet Sept. 28 at 8 p. m. in the university cafeteria, honoring the new members and the Brite College faculty.

President's Reception To Be Held Friday

The T. C. U. Woman's Club will have charge of arrangements for the President's Reception which will be held at 8 o'clock Friday evening, Sept. 29, in the Mary Couts Burnett Library.

The affair is given each year in honor of the freshmen. Members of the faculty and their wives will be in the receiving line, with the administrative officers of the University at the head. All friends of T. C. U. are invited, as well as parents of the students.

Sigma Tau Delta to Meet Wednesday

Mrs. Irma Bell, president, has announced that the first meeting of Sigma Tau Delta will be held Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock in the lounge in the Main Building.

Plans for the year's work will be formed, committees appointed and a new sponsor elected. Dr. M. D. Clubb, sponsor of the organization last year, is on leave of absence. Other officers are: vice-president, Miss Corinne Lewis; secretary, Miss Margaret Williams, and historian, Miss Martha Laura Rowland.

New Members Voted At Bryson Meeting

A new sponsor and new members were voted on at a meeting of the Bryson Club last night at the home of Lon Beavers on Mistletoe Boulevard. Miss Mary Jarvis, president, presided.

Other officers of the club are Beavers, vice-president, and Miss Mary Seidel, secretary-treasurer.

Fellowship Welcomes First-Year Students

Welcome talks by presidents of the religious organizations on the campus and the introduction of new students according to the sections of the country from which they come featured a University Religious Fellowship service held on the campus Sunday evening.

Hubert Stem spoke for B. C. B., Herman Pittman for the Christian Endeavor, Miss Louise Glass for the Y. W. C. A., and the Rev. Perry Gresham for the University Christian Church. Otto Nielsen pronounced the benediction.

Hammond Will Talk At Club Meeting

A review of the summer's international events by Dr. W. J. Hammond, sponsor, and a round-table discussion will feature the first meeting of the International Relations Club Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in Brite College clubroom. Nat Wells, president, will preside.

At the meeting the club's executive committee will recommend that one day each year be chosen for a special meeting which will climax the year's activities. The special meeting will be an opportunity for a reunion of present and alumni members, and will feature a prominent state speaker.

Tentative plans for the club's fall-semester activities include the presentation of two open forum programs in Alvarado, one in Decatur, one in Sterrett and one in Kaufman. An open forum program will also be presented at the Mt. Gilead Baptist Church for Negroes. Two programs will be broadcast over a local radio station.

The club in a body will make a 700-mile trip to Little Rock, Ark., and back for the annual convention of the International Relations Clubs of the Southwest during the spring semester.

Two Scholarships Given Wm. Smith and John Knowles Receive Voice Awards.

Voice scholarships have been awarded to William Smith of Mineral Wells and Johnny Knowles of Houston, according to announcement by the music department.

Smith, who sings bass, was awarded the boys' scholarship offered by Mrs. Helen Fouts Cahoon. Mrs. Cahoon will also award a voice scholarship to a girl. Several try-outs have been held but a decision as to the winner has not yet been made.

Knowles, who sings baritone, was awarded a scholarship by David Secular.

Bud Taylor Appointed S & Q Representative

A. E. "Bud" Taylor has been appointed campus representative of S & Q Clothiers, downtown men's clothing store, according to Mike Brin, manager of the store.

Taylor, who is prominent as an athlete and leader in student activities, states that both he and all other S & Q employees invite T. C. U. boys to make the store their headquarters whenever they are downtown. The store is located at 810 Main Street.

Y. W. C. A. Entertains Jarvis Hall Freshmen

Miss Beverly Vaughn of Pecos was awarded the prize for being the most gifted freshman co-ed when the Y. W. C. A. sponsored a "Discovery Night" program for Jarvis Hall freshmen Sunday evening in the Jarvis parlors. The prize was a T.C.U. jewel in the form of a tiny Horned Frog.

After the program, during which the freshmen displayed their talents, a pajama parade was led by Miss Lou Blumberg. Through the courtesy of Dean Sadie T. Beckham refreshments were served.

Miss Louise Glass, Y. W. C. A. president, was in charge of the affair. Directors assisting her were Misses Janelle Bush, Rebecca Graves, Grace Maloney and Irene Van Keuren.

Night Classes Monday Demand Will Control Number of Courses Offered.

The first meeting of all night or afternoon classes is scheduled for Monday evening, Sept. 25, at 7 o'clock, according to an announcement from the registrar's office.

The classes will require one meeting a week, the time of which will be determined at the Monday evening meeting. Language classes, however, require two meetings of one-and-a-half hours each.

Courses in Bible, education, English, French, government, history, public speaking, Spanish and music will be offered if there is enough demand—usually an enrollment of eight students is sufficient. Students who are interested should see Dean Colby D. Hall for further information.

Enrollment Nears 600 Mark

While students are still enrolling, a report from the registrar's office shows that 563 students had enrolled in T. C. U. Thursday morning. Approximately 200 of these are freshmen. These figures are slightly less than the enrollment figures for last year.

First-Year Men Respond to Call

Frosh Football Squad Includes Men With All-State Honors.

About 27 freshmen football candidates greeted Freshman Coach Leo "Dutch" Meyer Wednesday afternoon in response to a call for all 1933 first-year grid prospects. Among the 40-odd are some of the outstanding high school grid performers of the past football season, many of whom won all-state, all-district, all-city and all-county honors.

From the strong Masonic Home team of last year comes four of the outstanding stars of their championship crew. These include the much-talked-of Scott McCall, who was rated by many state sport scribes as the most polished high school backfield performer ever turned out by a Texas high school. Along with McCall are Donkey Roberts, lanky backfield man who staved off defeat for his team with his long punting and amazing defensive play, Harold McClure, star reserve backfield ace, and Tom Adams, heralded Mason lineman who received all-State honors, and captained the Mason Eleven last season.

Standard Lambert, former grid star for the Frogs back in 1929-30 and 31, sends the Christians a prospective all-American backfield ace in Cotton Harrison, former Temple high school star who was named all-State fullback last season. Harrison was the backbone of the Temple crew last year and pulled them high in the high school race during the past season.

Probably the best all-around athlete of the incoming crop is Bill Walls from Little Rock, Ark. Walls tips the scales at 193 pounds and is a star performer in every branch of athletics. Besides being a star grid, basketball, baseball and track man, Walls has won many honors as an amateur boxer and swimmer.

Sam Baugh, an all-State man from Sweetwater, is another noted high school athlete who will don a freshman uniform. He is also an all-round athlete. Kayo Savage and Blackie Blackburn, the former being a member of the Abilene championship club in 1931, have past records which will cause them to be watched with interest in future athletics here. Both were star representatives of their respective high schools.

Coach Meyer's little nephew, L. D. Meyer, of the highly-touted Waco Tiger delegation is also a member of the squad this year. The younger Meyer has to follow in the footsteps of an uncle who has made history here at T. C. U.

Vernon Brown, brother of Lynn, is expected to become an important cog in the frosh ball club this season. Brown hails from the Harlandale high school in San Antonio, where he made a remarkable record as a high school athlete. He is a star basketball player as well as a star on the cinder pathway.

The Polliwogs' first game will be played here Oct. 7 with Texas Military College.

Student's Article Published

Harry Peers, sophomore in T. C. U., is the author of an article, "Phonetically Similar Words," which appeared in the September issue of "Word Study," publication of G & C Merriam Company of Springfield, Mass. Peers prepared the paper while in the freshman English class of Mrs. Artemisia Bryson.

Form Southwest College Publishers' Association

The above representatives of Southwestern college publications formed a new organization of college publication business managers at a meeting in Dallas Sept. 8 and 9. They are: seated, left to right, Raymond Bivert, Oklahoma A. & M.; J. E. Block, Texas A. & M.; Miss Fredricka Wilbur, S. M. U.; Jerry E. Drake, S. M. U.; Edwin W. Van Orden, T. C. U. Standing, left to right, Calvert G. de Coligny, Tulane; Ed Gooch, Baylor; E. T. McClanahan, Rice; Joe Sargent, T. C. U.; T. L. Letton, University of New Mexico, and the editor of the Rotunda, S. M. U. yearbook.

Organization to Aid Publications

College Papers Plan Drive for National Advertising.

An organization of business managers of Southwestern college publications—the Southwest College Publishers' Association—was organized when representatives of publications of eight colleges and universities of this section met in Dallas Sept. 8 and 9.

Edwin W. Van Orden, business manager of The Skiff and Joe Sargent, editor, represented T. C. U. at the convention and helped to form the association. Prof. J. Willard Ridings, head of the University journalism department, also attended some of the sessions.

The organization has as its purpose the protection of college publications in the national advertising field and the securing of more national advertising for Southwestern college publications.

The convention was called by Jerry E. Drake, business manager of the publications of S. M. U. The eight schools represented at the convention are charter members of the association. Besides T. C. U., colleges and universities represented were: S. M. U., Tulane, Baylor, Rice, University of New Mexico, Texas A. & M. and Oklahoma A. & M.

Officers elected to head the organization were Calvert G. de Coligny, Tulane, president; Drake, S. M. U., vice-president, and Raymond Bivert, Oklahoma A. & M., secretary-treasurer.

Van Orden was chairman of the resolutions committee and a member of the organization committee at the convention. Sargent was temporary secretary.

Former Student Here Attends West Point

Charles Dannelly Passes Exams and Enters Military Academy.

Charles Dannelly, former T.C.U. student, who left in July for the United States Military Academy at West Point, N. Y., has passed all examinations and has been attending classes for the past two weeks, according to letters received by friends.

Dannelly says that the system of teaching in the Academy is much different from the system used in the Southwest. "We have been in classes two weeks and have covered 100 pages in Algebra, 75 pages of solid geometry, and proportionate amounts of other subjects. We are asked only the hard questions and get no credit for answering the easy ones. Every subject is covered three times and the grades are posted at the end of the week. One always knows whether or not he is passing."

Dannelly spent the summer in camp and studying various military maneuvers which are practiced on the field. There are several Texas students enrolled in the Academy, according to Dannelly.

Miss Alice Ledgerwood, former T. C. U. co-ed, is studying at the University of Texas.

Miss Mary Louise Hall, T. C. U. freshman of last year, is entering University of Michigan this fall.

T. C. U. World's Fair Visitors Like Ben Bernie, Hall of Science

Ben Bernie's Blue Ribbon Casino and the Hall of Science would win a popularity contest if the voters were T. C. U. student. who visited A Century of Progress in Chicago this summer. After seeing the Old Maestro in person our collegiate representatives at the fair agreed that "he knows his stuff," and the line of comment after an exit from the science building was "who ever would have thought it?"

Speaking of the fair, Bryant Collins says, "It's the biggest thing you ever saw; it's bigger than the Olympics. And Chicago is a great place if you except the dirt." Polly Criner claims she "thought more of Chicago than of the fair," although Ripley's Oditorium and the Lama Temple were intriguing.

Lee Bassinger and Lee Glasgow rode to the big city in the caboose of a freight train, patronized the Blue Ribbon Casino, and saw Amos and Andy and Sally Rand at a theater. The two Lee's claim, however, that there's too much noise in Chicago to please them. Helen Ruth Umbenhour says everything was "grand, and especially the science building."

Boaz Hoskins can't remember very much about a Century of Progress because he went to dances all the time, and Ben Bernie's Blue Ribbon Casino was about the best thing he ever came across. Lollie Botts entertains a different opinion of Ben Bernie. She was disappointed in him because he was not as enthusiastic as she had expected. The foreign exhibits interested Lollie, and she rather liked Chicago, she said.

The Planatarium interested Roy O'Brien because it was so unusual. His impression of Chicago is summed up in three words—vast, hot and dirty. Doris Nell Twitty liked the travelling and transport building, while Marguerite Rice was enthralled by the Hall of Magic and the Wings of the Century Building. Ruth Ratliff's big thrill came when she walked down Michigan Boulevard. Ruth was especially interested in the biology exhibit in the Hall of Science, but her one impression after seeing the fair was of sore feet and aching eyes.

According to Ben Boswell, it was all just a big carnival, though he named the Hall of Science as outstanding. "Cha" Casper says he especially enjoyed the big track meet and 3.2 beer. Ann Stuckert was impressed with the Hall of Magic and the Belgian Village.

Christine Ackers says, "Chicago is a terrible place; it's too big. But the fair was marvellous." Clarence Crotty laughingly admits that he was all the time being bawled out by traffic cops for doing the wrong thing at the wrong time. He talks of having seen Ethel Barrymore, and of some day living in Chicago.

Mary Elizabeth Gregory declares her feet will never be the same since they carried her all over Chicago and the fair and to a good many dances. Mary Elizabeth, by the way, would "hate to live there." Leonard Wallace isn't sure whether he saw Sally Rand's famous fan dance or not, because the night he went to the night club at which she was appearing she was also billed as a Chicago theater. Leonard evidently dotes on stars, for he "almost interviewed Trene Rich."

Mary Elva Dillingham doesn't like Chicago because everybody is in too big a hurry there. Mary Elva, like several others, spent most of her time at the Blue Ribbon Casino. Among others who visited A Century of Progress are Florence Ackers, Heard Floore, Joe Bacon, Florene Turner, Peggy Durringer, Margaret McIntosh, Lon Beavers, Jack Panter, Vic Montgomery, Wilbyrd Irving, Warren Logan, David Hickey, Mary Jarvis, Ruth Cowan and Nancy Camp. Among the faculty members who made the trip are Miss Mabel Major and David Scoular.

A DEBUT as a columnist—not as a Winchell nor a Will Rogers but just gabbing about things as I see 'em and hear 'em. Writing this column is the realization of a dream I've had since the day I entered the institution back in 1930.

To Joe Sargent I want to express my appreciation for the honor bestowed upon me. Joe, I hope I never make you sorry for giving me this job. And then to the fellows behind me I want to thank for placing me where I am today. Mr. Ridings, you are my big boss and what you say goes. I am open for criticisms from you at all times and want you to help me make the column go. Then to my first journalism professor—Joe Cowan—I wish that you were back with us but I am sure that you are having the time of your life out in deah ole San Saba with the newly-acquired companion. Then again there are Standard Lambert and Ben Boswell for me to thank for helping me become a sports writer. That is talking for granted that I am a sports writer by this time. I can well remember the first copy I handed in to Lambert and just how marked up it was when he returned it. Right then and there I knew that I had a job ahead of me, trying to become a sports editor. But thanks to ole Standard and Ben, 'cause they did have to work double time with my copy and many times it had to be done all over again. Ole Ben's back with us this year and I am sure that I can make him help me any time I need the assistance, eh wot, Ben? Paul Donovan was my superior last spring and I did enjoy working under him. Look out, wrong-hander for I am going to work you double time in return for some of last year's tricks.

Now that I have tried me best to thank everybody for the many good things they have done for me, reckon as how I had better get down to work and say something that will come under the heading of sports. It is going to be a tough assignment to try to please every sports reader but I'll try. I promise not to hurt anybody's feeling. I may use the pronoun "I" more than necessary but that all goes with the title. Bear with me, folks and maybe it won't be so very bad after all.

Well, now that the ole vacation season is over and everybody is getting football minded, let's take a look into the Frogs' prospects for another grid championship this fall. Some say that we'll be the door mat of the conference but just wait 'till the conference opens and then see who was right and who was wrong. It is a fact that the ball club this year is green and without returned experienced all-conference men, but it isn't true that the Purple and White won't have a strong ball club again this year.

It will be a hard task for Coaches Schmidt and Wolf to replace men like Oliver, Boswell, Evans, Vaught, Spearman and Pruitt but all they are asking is a little time to develop some of the talent they are working with now. Those men can make mountains out of molehills and they can make a winning ball club out of what the fans think is just another football team. The main thing now is not to sit back and give up because all the all-Americans are gone. Stay behind those Frogs this year like you have in the past and they won't turn you down. Let's develop a motto like this one, "On to Another Championship This Year." They say that the same team can't win two straight championships in the Southwest Conference, but just sit back and think of what the people of Texas said before the past election.

Ad Dietzel won't be back with us this year. Those are sad words but they are true. Big Diets was counted on heavy to stage a comeback this season and set the conference on fire in football, basketball and baseball but fate robbed him, as well as the school, of these chances. Some have the idea that Dietzel didn't come back because of the trouble he experienced here two years ago. That's not true. Ole Dietz wanted to come back worse (Continued on page 6)

Frogs Journey To Brownwood For Night Tilt

Christians Win 33-to-0 From Austin College in First Game.

34 Will Make Trip

Purple Mentors Faced With Task of Building New Team This Year.

Coaches Francis Schmidt and Raymond "Bear" Wolf will take their 1933 Horned Frog grid team to Brownwood this morning where they will encounter the Daniel Baker Hill Billies in the Frogs' second tilt of the season tonight at 8 o'clock. This will be the first game of the season for the Hill Billies.

Last Friday night the Purple opened the 1933 grid season with a decisive 33-0 victory over the Austin College eleven. With only four days of practice, and most of that in the rain and mud, behind them, the Frogs journeyed to Sherman and displayed a brand of football that was somewhat of a surprise to both the mentors and players as well. The Kangaroos were far from being the easy-going ball club that they have been in the past, and it was late in the first period before the Frogs were able to pass the Maroon and Gold goal line.

Christians Take to Air.
Dan Harston and Wallace Myers proved to be too much of a perfect passing combination for the Sherman team and during the second quarter the Frogs looked more like an aerial circus than the powerhouse eleven which won the conference crown last year. With Harston flipping passes from all sides of the field and Myers, Captain Jack Graves, Langdon, Diggs and Jimmy Jacks catching the left-hander's tosses with ease, the Frogs soon rolled up a large score, which was never threatened throughout the contest.

In the line Tiny Godwin, Wilson Groseclose, Tracy Kellow, Bud Taylor, Lynn Brown, Paul Hill, Lee Bassinger, Speedy Allison and Cy Perkins served notice that the Frogs are going to have another strong forward wall. Jimmy Lawrence, Joe Coleman, Harston, George Kline, Howard Pulliam, John Kitchen, Jewell Wallace, Rex Clark, Flash Waker and Taldon Manton showed great promise in the backfield. Darrell Lester, Heard Floore and James Simpson performed well at the center position. The center hole is the greatest problem around the worrying post of the Frog directors this year. Last year Woodson Ames served as an understudy to J. W. Townsend and was counted on to step into the ironman's shoes this fall. Ames is studying to become a Baptist minister and thought it best to continue his work in Baylor University. Floore is a veteran at the center hole and is coming through nicely but in case the former Central High flash has to retire in favor of an injury, someone has to take his place. Lester and Simpson are improving right along and look capable of replacing Floore when the occasion demands.

Frogs Expect Hard Tilt.
Little is known of the Daniel Baker crew except that they have most of the 1932 team back, with strong additions coming up from the frosh squad. Last year the Frogs trampled over the Hill Billies in the Frog Stadium with a more seasoned and experienced squad of men but the story may be different this year. The Christian mentors are expecting a hard tilt from the Brownwood delegation and will take no chances with any hidden ball play stuff.

Jimmy Jacks, stellar second-year Frog wingman may not be able to make the trip with the Purple and White this morning because of a bad ear infection, received a few days before football training opened. Jacks has been working out regularly with the ball club but under painful conditions. He played a smash-up game against Austin College Friday night but after he returned home he was removed to his home in Poly. Latest reports from Jimmy are that he is improving rapidly but his doctors think it best for him to rest a day or so longer.

The Frogs held two practices per day up until Monday of this week. Now they are taking the field only once a day. Rain tried its best to keep the Frogs from drilling twice a day at the beginning, but they ignored the showers and took in at a

Former Frogs Coaching Now

PRUITT BRANNON SPEARMAN

VAUGHT PHELPS SALKELO DENNIS

These former Horned Frog athletes, who were graduated with physical education majors last year all have coaching positions this season: "Pap" Pruitt is in Mangum, Okla.; Buster Brannon, Dublin; B. W. Spearman, Olney; Johnny Vaught, assistant coach, North Side, Fort Worth; Lucy Phelps, Mangum, Okla.; Dan Salkelo, Norman, Okla., and Hubert Dennis, Rockdale.

fast rate of speed to learn those early season fundamentals. The Frog mentors are faced with the task of building a new ball club this year.

Those champions of 1932 are gone and it's up to Coaches Schmidt and Wolf to replace them with the oncoming soph and juniors. None of the men is experienced this year and practically every position on the team is open to the best man. Last year the undergrads had to sit around and wait for the seniors to get out, but this year the story is different and the hustling man will be in the Frog lineup regardless of whether he is a soph, a junior or a senior. The Christians will enter conference competition this year as the underdogs, because of the fact that graduation demolished the 1932 championship team, but as game after game is played the scribes are likely to sit up and take notice and forget the fact that champions don't repeat in the Southwest Conference.

Football Annual Lists Graves as Grid Headliner

Jack Graves, captain of the 1933 Horned Frog football team, is listed in the 1933 Football Annual as a possible candidate for all-American honors this year. Graves is an end.

The annual's list was compiled by Parke H. Davis, who says the men named are "the football headliners for the new season—the cream of the 1933 crop."

"Every man," he says, "has proved his ability in the fire of actual major competition. The vote of experts from coast to coast has nominated them for the high ranks of stardom."

Five other Southwest Conference players are on the list, which contains the names of 142 players from the nation. The other conference players listed are: Ray Fuqua, S. M. U., end; Fay Lagow, Rice, guard; Tom Murphy, Arkansas, quarter; Bohn Hilliard, Texas, half, and Fred Spencer, A. & M., full.

Former Frogs Have Coaching Positions

All Physical Education Majors, Graduates of 1933, Have Jobs.

Every member of the class of 1933 who graduated with a major in physical education has a coaching position this year, according to Walter S. Knox, head of the physical education department.

Eight men graduated with physical education majors.

Johnny Vaught, captain of last year's Frog football team, is assistant coach at North Side High School in Fort Worth. Vaught was rated all-American guard his senior year and all-conference for three consecutive years during his career in T. C. U.

B. W. Spearman, co-captain of last year's team, is now coaching at Olney High School. Spearman, a halfback was also a broad jumper on the track team for two years.

Buster Brannon, known for both his basketball and football ability, is coach at Dublin High School this year. Brannon was captain of last year's Frog basketball team, and he was rated all-conference guard for three consecutive years. He played quarterback on the football team and lettered two years.

Madison "Pap" Pruitt, all-conference end on the Horned Frog football team for three years, is coaching this year at Mangum, Okla. Lucy Phelps, Frog football and track letterman has a position at the same school.

Hubert Dennis, quarterback on the football team and all-conference catcher on the baseball team, has a position as coach at Rockdale High School. Dennis led the conference in hitting during his last year on the Frog baseball team.

Dan Salkelo, all-conference end on the Purple grid team and track letterman, now has a coaching position in Norman, Okla.

Paul Snow, diminutive backfield man on the Frog football team and baseball shortstop, is coaching at Winooski, his home town. Snow was captain of the 1932 baseball team.

Marion Hicks, last year's student body president, has been awarded the Loev scholarship in law at Columbia University and will study there this winter.

Ed Fritz, who was enrolled in T. C. U. last year, has entered the University of Southern California.

Red Oliver on Coast

Is Member of Olympic Club in San Francisco.

Richard "Red" Oliver, carrot-topped former Horned Frog grid and track star, is now a member of the Olympic Club in San Francisco, an amateur athletic club which is composed of former college stars who desire to continue their athletic careers as amateurs.

During the summer months Red entered some of the outstanding track and field meets held on the West Coast and emerged with a victory in the majority of them. He lost one close decision to a colored runner in the 75-yard dash recently, which was run in record time. In one meet the red head won four first places and one second. He will play football with the Olympians this fall. The University of Southern California, Stanford and many of the other large West Coast schools are listed on the Olympic Club schedule.

Elliott to Speak in Decatur

Dr. Edwin A. Elliott will speak on "Protestant Youth in a Changing Age" before the young people's meeting at the First Christian Church in Decatur Sunday evening. Eugene Cox, student in Brite College, is pastor of the Decatur church.

Boswell Takes Part In Football Classic

Former Frog Tackle Displays Wares in World's Fair Grid Game.

Ben Boswell, former all-conference Frog football tackle and sports editor of The Skiff, was the lone Texas representative in the East-West football classic played in conjunction with A Century of Progress in Chicago recently.

Boswell played a tackle position for the Eastern ball club, and his team emerged on the long end of a 13-7 score. Boswell was in the game for about eighteen minutes and gave the Western backs more than their share of trouble. Ray Morrison, S. M. U. grid mentor who witnessed the contest, reports that big Ben was the outstanding linesman on the field.

Boswell attended the Missouri School of Journalism in Columbia, Mo., this summer with Prof. J. Willard Ridings. The former Frog had planned to play pro football this fall but at the last minute changed his plans and will return to T. C. U. and get his degree in June. He will serve as a staff member on The Skiff.

Woodson Ames, T. C. U. student last year, has enrolled in Baylor University.

Yearbook Theme And Dedication Will Be Secret

Book to Be 'Dark Horse', With New Features Being Used.

Pages Increased

Students May Assist by Being Photographed This Month, Says Editor.

The motto of the 1934 Horned Frog will be 100 per cent representation; but the theme and general order of the book will remain a secret until the book is issued in May, 1934, according to Roy Bacus, editor, who has completed the layout and several sections of the book which will represent the University's sixty-first year.

Several ideas never before used in Southwest annuals will be inaugurated in the book and the theme will be one new to the Horned Frog, Bacus said. Also the book will be dedicated to one person instead of a group.

Urge Freshmen to Co-operate.

"The best way in which the students may assist the staff at this time," Bacus stated, "is to urge freshmen to go to Reid's studio this afternoon and be photographed. The success of the book depends upon the number of individual pictures in it, and in order to be 100 per cent representative all the students must have their pictures made."

According to R. L. Trimble, business manager, every effort is being made to increase the size of the book. It is believed that it will number approximately 275 pages.

The incomplete staff which will include students studying journalism and English is as follows: Miss Lolie Botts, assistant editor in charge of social affairs; Miss Evelyn Clary, assistant social secretary; Miss Juanita Freeman, secretary of women's sports; Joe Sargent, secretary of major athletics; Miss Millie Faeris, secretary of clubs; Don Gillis, secretary of music; Ben Sargent, secretary of intramural athletics; Miss Anna Byrd Harness, statistician; Miss Mary Sei-

Frog Star Wins Fifth

Casper, Ace Hurdler, Places in World's Fair Meet.

Charlie Casper, ace timber topper of the Horned Frog track team, journeyed to the National Intercollegiate Track and Field Meet, held in conjunction with A Century of Progress in Chicago in June, and returned with a fifth place medal as his reward in the high hurdle event, which was won by Gus Mier of Stanford University in the amazing time of 14.2 seconds.

Casper failed to qualify in the low hurdles after leading the field for more than four-fifths of the way. Fans along the way talked the Frog star into slowing down and saving himself for the finals the following night and as Casper slowed down two men passed him and he was unable to regain the lost ground before the contestants reached the tape.

Fate seemed destined to rob Casper of a higher place in the high sticks when he fell as he floated over the first hurdle. Unaccustomed to night running and the glare of the flashlights used in taking pictures, Casper was blinded as he went over the first hurdle and went down to his knee and was again unable to regain lost ground. In the prelims Casper defeated Willis Ward in the high hurdles. Ward was a member of the 1932 American Olympic team.

Four Vacancies on Staff.

Other students desiring to participate in the production of the yearbook should call at the Horned Frog office Monday morning between 8 and 10 o'clock. At the present there are openings for two photographers and two members of the junior class.

The book will be printed by the Stafford Lowden Co., engraved by Stafford Engravers, and the covers will be made by Smith-Molloy Co. Reid's Photo Studio, 711 Throckmorton will make the pictures. Upperclassmen who desire to have their picture made now may do so with the permission of the members of the staff.

Activity cards are available at the studio, and students having pictures made should check the cards as accurately as possible so that the book will be more complete.

than anybody but... well, his reasons are his own.

The old boy showed lots of intestinal fortitude last year when he came back to school in the face of all that confronted him. Many said that he wouldn't come back—but he did and passed all his work. He was eligible again to rate the headlines in the leading newspapers. He is going to work in Hutchinson, Kan., for the Reno Creamery and play basketball with them in the spring. We'll miss you, Adolph, and wish that you were back with us, not only as an athlete but as a student and a friend. May success be yours in all your undertakings and remember that the students of T. C. U. are behind you and will be looking forward to your returning for the second semester. Don't disappoint us.

Well, it looks as though Dutch Meyer is going to have another strong and flashy grid team this year. Many of the outstanding high school players of last season are here this year as freshmen and are ready to do the molekines and display their wares.

If you could have been out to La Grave field Sunday to watch old Dutch try to ride one of those rubber jacks, I am afraid that right then and there you would have been wondering who was going to coach the frosh this year. That Dutchman did have some close calls in the big donkey baseball game and I don't mean maybe. He was playing shortstop on little Wimpy and more than once I had to look twice to see which one was Dutch. Bear Wolf was in the game, too, but failed to shine as brightly as his stablemate. Wolf could hit the ball okay but when he had to mount the "mule's ancestor," he proved to be a poor base-runner. The whole affair was a scream and Laurel and Hardy couldn't have put on a bigger show.

Oh! by the way Joe Coleman wants to remind everyone that he is going to unchain Hong Kong in Brownwood Friday night. Now if you don't know who Hong Kong is ask Joe or Rex Clark, they'll tell you double quick.

Cross Country Begins Monday

Coach Clark Expects Large Squad—Chappell Returns.

Coach Mack "Possum" Clark will issue equipment to all varsity cross-country men Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. All varsity men who plan to try out for the Frog cross-country team this year are requested to be at the stadium at that time, according to Coach Clark.

Robert Chappell, veteran Frog cross-country star, is the lone returning letterman. Chappell is the only athlete ever to receive a varsity letter in this sport in the history of the school. Little or no interest has been taken in the sport in previous years but during the last three seasons Coach Clark has been greeted with a large squad and this year he expects an even larger one.

Several cinder path stars are expected to report Monday. Tony Vargas, middle-distance runner on the cinders, Paul Orneals, star member of Coach Red Oliver's freshman team last season, Bill Anderson, middle-distance cinder star and a member of the 1932 cross-country team, and Jinx Powell are some of the outstanding men expected to report for the initial workout.

The Frogs will meet several other Southwest Conference schools in dual meets throughout the season and then will enter the conference meet, which will be held about the last Saturday in November.

Coach Clark has also announced that all freshman track men who care to begin conditioning themselves for their spring track activities are invited to come out Monday afternoon.

Ad Dietzel Not to Return to School

Former Frog Basketball Star to Play in Hutchinson, Kan., in Spring.

Big Ad Dietzel, towering all-American Frog basketball pivot man in 1931-32, will not return to T. C. U. this fall, as was expected last spring when Dietzel was declared eligible to compete in intercollegiate sports after a year's absence from the hardwood floors and gridiron.

At the present time the former Frog is visiting with his parents in San Antonio but will journey to Hutchinson, Kan., in October, where he will be employed by the Reno Creamery establishment. "Too-Tall" will play basketball with the Creamers this spring in the Missouri Valley League. He was a member of this quintet last year, flying to and from games and at the same time keeping up with his courses in T. C. U.

The tall Dutchman's absence will be keenly felt on the grid as well as on the basketball team. He was a letterman at an end position in 1931. He was a star first baseman for Dutch Meyer on the Frog baseball nine and was counted on to help the

Freshman Caps Are Sold to Seventy-five

More than seventy-five freshman caps have been sold to date, according to Melvin Diggs, president of the sophomore class.

Diggs urges that all freshmen who have not bought caps see him as more can be ordered if the demand is great enough.

The cap is the same design as it was last year, having a green crown and purple bill with white numerals and buttons.

Christians on to another championship this year. Scribes pointed to Dietzel as the greatest basketball center ever developed in the Southwest Conference. He holds the conference record for the most points scored in one game and in one season. Both records were established while Dietzel was a sophomore. He broke the all-season record again during his junior year.

Dr. Elliott's Article Printed in Magazine

"America's New Economic Frontier," an NRA article by Dr. Edwin A. Elliott, was published in the Aug. 23 copy of Commerce and Finance, a business weekly published in New York.

In the article, taken from an address made by Dr. Elliott before the Fort Worth Junior Chamber of Commerce, it is stated that Roosevelt has discovered a new frontier, the "Frontier of Control," and that he introduces it to the people in the form of the National Industrial Recovery Act. Dr. Elliott terms the NRA the "most vital, the most forward-looking, and the most constructive piece of legislation written on the statute books in our nation's history."

"This legislation is not socialism," declares Dr. Elliott. "Instead, it is a proposal making for a planned and liberalized Capitalism."

3 ALWAYS LUCKIES PLEASE

Why do we say "Always Luckies Please"? Well, one reason is that every Lucky is made of choice, ripe tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop. Another reason—Luckies are always round, firm, fully packed—with no loose ends to sputter and spark.

Careful examination and inspection by over 60 precision instruments, and 17 alert scientists guarantee unfailing uniformity. That's why Luckies draw so easily, burn so evenly—always mild and smooth. And that's why—"Always Luckies Please!"
