College Group Names Dean As Vice-President

Southern Association Honors Hall at Nashville.

Report Is Approved Standards of T. C. U. Are Not Affected by Reduction in Faculty.

Dean Colby D. Hall was elected vice-president of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools which met in Nashville, Tenn., last week. Dr. F. C. McVey, president of the University of Kentucky, was elected president of the association. T. C. U.'s three-year report was approved by the association. Every third year each college in the association presents a full detailed report. "This means that T. C. U.'s rating in the Southern Association of Colleges has not been altered by the changes that were made by the University administration last year," Dean Hall pointed out. "If T. C. U. had been the only college to make these changes our standing might have been affected but since the condition is common to all colleges, the Scholastic Standards were not lowered." Dr. S. H. Whitley, president of the East Texas State Teachers' College, was elected a member of the executive committee of the association. R. L. Paschal, principal of Fort Worth Central High School, also attended the meeting. In 1928 the Southern Association of Colleges met in Fort Worth.

The Christian mentor is well known for his superiority in the basketball world and is a member of the national rules committee. While coaching at Arkansas University, he coached his teams to four consecutive cage championships. Since coming to T. C. U. he has won one crown and has finished in second place in the other seasons.

A telegram urging the return of Norman Davis and Miss Woolley to the Geneva conference was sent by 141 persons to President Roosevelt yesterday. The action was the result of a meeting in Brite chapel Wednesday night when Paul Harris, Jr., director of the Youth Movement for World Peace, was the speaker. The telegram was addressed to President Franklin Delano Roosevelt, White House, Washington, D. C., and read: "One hundred and forty-one voters and next election voters meeting at Texas Christian University assure you of our support in every move for reduction of armaments through international agreements through world conference and urge you to return Norman Davis and Miss Woolley with full powers. Signed, Fred Miller, chairman of the committee of movement for world peace." Harris appeared on the campus under the sponsorship of the Y. M. C. A. and the Y.W.C.A. Sports, Oratory, Privileges Rank High in '33 News

Stories Focus Eyes of Texas on University Campus.

Senior Day Featured

News? The discontinuance of debating, the winning of the first conference championship by the Horned Frog baseball team, and the ardent appeal of the students for more privileges last February have been the high spots of the calendar year, according to a survey of The Skiff columns for 1933. The above news stories not only attracted the attention of the students but also focused the eyes of Texas on the campus. The debating story which was mildly received on the campus was played up among the Texas newspapers because it may mark the end of an era which has witnessed debating as an important extra-curricula activity. Baseball Story of Interest The baseball story was important because it was the first time a Horned Frog baseball team had captured the championship. The appeal of the student council was more of a local story but received more space than any other subject this year. It was of interest, also, to the Fort Worth newspapers. Other stories which were given unusual space in The Skiff were: The student elections last spring, last year's Horned Frog Popularity Revue which was held in January, the issuing of the yearbook and Senior day, the various trips made by the band and glee club and the building of the University Church.

Youth Can Help Stop War, Harris Tells Students

If the young people of America are really interested in the stopping of war, I have a plan and T. C. U. students may play an active part" said Paul Harris, who spoke at chapel Wednesday in the interest of the prevention of war, particularly as it applies to the younger generation. "There are 532 men who run this country," Harris continued, as he shook hands with Mrs. Beckham, Mrs. Shellburne, and asked Freddie Miller the telegraph office number. "They are our representatives, senators, and our president. If we, as voters, bring pressure to bear upon our leaders we can prevent bloody conflicts such as we have had in the past." And he shook hands with Mrs. Tucker, Rep. Sherer, Dr. Hammond and asked if he could catch a night train out of Austin for St. Louis and what was the schedule of the airways out of Austin. Then he gave the Skiff reporter a glance which indicated that he was realizing for the first time that he was being interviewed, and added that he had visited Texas before, liked the willingness of the people, hadn't seen his family but seven times in a year, spoke at Houston Tuesday night and will speak somewhere else today, and often speaks as many as 35 times a week. "And," he added, as he took a deep breath and mopped the perspiration from his brow, "I'm due out at T. W. C. this very minute—and I'm going to C. I. A. Good-bye!"

Merry Christmas to You

Monday the Christmas tree in the math office was almost the only sign of Christmas on the campus; now every face has the Christmas look, lights twinkle on the trees in rooms of Jarvis, and everyone is waiting for the holiday of holidays.

Clubs and organizations have had their Christmas parties—some of them were serious, some were funny—but each was a contribution to the gaiety of the Christmas season.

Next week the spotlight of Christmas will be directed on the vesper service Sunday at the University Christian Church, where the theme will be "Christmas All Over the World," to the Dramatic Club Christmas play Monday night, "The Little Town of Bethlehem," and to the "Christmas Oratorio," which will be presented Tuesday night.

This year everyone is just as gay and laughing as in former years. But there is a deeper note to the laughter, for underneath is a feeling of responsibility. There is a little of the thought, "Should I give to my friends, should I be gay when so many have nothing?"

Because of this feeling we drop our dimes in the kettle on the street corner; we give 50 cents to the special offering on Sunday morning; we are more unselfish. Christmas has ceased to be only for us and our friends. We wonder, probably for the first time, about the stranger who trudges outside, looking through the open windows at the twinkling lights of our tree and our holy wreaths.

In Answer to Rumors

The football season has officially closed, but the sport refuses to be crowded off the pages of newspapers throughout the country and especially in the Southwest.

In this section, this year as never before, the coaching situation has undergone sweeping changes. Already the head coaches in three universities—Texas, A. & M. and Rice—either have been discharged or have resigned. Naturally, the remaining conference schools have been involved by rumor in like changes.

T. C. U., in particular, has provided the rumor makers with apparently choice material for their occupation. This is not difficult to account for; it is a part of the price of success. Undoubtedly the Christian coaching staff has received tempting offers from larger but less successful institutions. But the recent house-cleaning in many schools has revealed some new angles of the coaching profession and the attitudes of some colleges that leaves much to be desired.

It is no secret that in some institutions the alumni, the trustees or a board of politics makes the head coach's position a most delicate one. On each of these counts T. C. U. has been found "not guilty." The situation here is truly less complex and more friendly than in the majority of universities. For one thing, there is not so much emphasis placed on the number of games won or lost. That is, it has never been implied that the coach must produce a winning team or else—

Another favorable feature that has been exhibited at T. C. U. has been the spirit of congeniality and co-operation between the school authorities and the coaches, coupled with the loyalty of friends of the school.

In view of these factors it is evident that there is much that the dispensers of rumors fail to take into account. There is more to it than just a cold, money-making proposition.

This merely points out, for the benefit of the many idle talkers, what the University coaches are conscious of and would take deeply into consideration before deciding on a change of scenery. All the features mentioned are ties that bind stronger than purse strings ever could.

Another Forward Step

Another forward step has been taken by students of Texas Christian University. The campus International Relations Club is now sponsoring a regular weekly radio broadcast, the "Open Forum of the Air." The program, which is broadcast over station KFM, is given from 8:45 to 9 p. m. every Friday.

The programs that have been given thus far have been excellent ones, and more good programs are promised for the future. The first broadcast, Dec. 1, concerned "The Nationalistic Revolutionary Attitude of Students." Last Friday night's program was on "The College Student's Attitude Toward Religion." Tonight's broadcast will be on "The College Student and Politics," and next Friday night's will be on "The College Student and Economics."

The Skiff congratulates the International Relations Club for its forward step in showing the public that college students are interested in vital questions of the day.

Prelude to a Lament

University student bodies have a little pride, at least. And when student body social functions are no more numerous than they are at T. C. U., there is a special desire on the part of students to make an event a success. All of which is by way of prelude to a lamentation on the behavior of part of the audience at the Popularity Revue last week.

The revue is a full dress occasion for participants. Efforts are made on the part of the Horned Frog to present an impressive and formal affair, with meaning and tradition behind it. Fun has its place on a college campus, even at a revue. Laughs are all right, always welcome. But rowdiness is to be lamented—and doubly so when it is found among upperclassmen in college. Bourgeoisness and crude humor are ever out of place, and certainly the actions of a certain group of students last Friday night were the acme of bourgeoisness.

Best for Everybody

In awarding no championship in football this year, Southwest Conference officials did what was best for all concerned in the Arkansas University intelligibility mixup.

Although Arkansas finished at the top in the conference standing, it deserved to be punished because an ineligible man took part in three of its conference games. Furthermore of the games—with T. C. U., Baylor and Rice—would have been too drastic, as the substitute played only a few minutes in each game and had no vital part in the Razorbacks' victories over T. C. U. and Baylor.

Arkansas has been punished in the only way that could have been at all satisfactory to all the schools concerned.

Amusement ABOUT TOWN

By ROY BACUS

Have you seen "Sitting Pretty?" Then how fast can you say "I want to meander through the meadow with Miranda?" That number is just one of several real tunes which were introduced in that picture, playing at the Palace. Again Ginger Rogers comes to the front and does her little ditty—and oh, how attractive she is when they shove that camera up in her face and she sings! Miss Rogers leaves the Palace today but comes to the Hollywood tomorrow in "Chance at Heaven," with Joel McCrea and Marion Nixon. Other shows coming in tomorrow are "The Right to Romance" (Worth) with Ann Harding, Robert Young and Sari Maritza; "Man's Castle" (Palace) with Spencer Tracy, Loreeta Young and Glenda Farrell. "Green Pastures," a stage play, opens today at the Majestic. Monday introduces "Morning Glory" at the Majestic.

And Wednesday: "My Lips Betray" (Worth) with John Boles; "The Mad Game" with Spencer Tracy, Claire Trevor and Ralph Morgan at the Hollywood. "The Mad Game" is an attempt to present a new angle on the kidnapping racket.

And for "miscellaneous." Rollin Pease, who will sing in the Christmas oratorio, is as tough looking as Charles Bickford—and just as big. He measures 6 feet 4 inches, "like a tree." For real performance, Pease will be the week's best offering.

This columnist apologizes for a recent false report. The press sheets got mixed up, and "Dancing Lady" didn't dance.

Don't forget the Dramatic Club's Christmas play Monday night and the Christmas Oratorio Tuesday night. In the latter John Brigham, Mrs. Cahoon, Mrs. Hubbard and Rollin Pease will offer splendid singing as a quartet and also individually.

Merry Christmas—and all that sort of stuff.

RAMBLING in Skiff Files

By ELNA EVANS

One Year Ago This Week:
 Popularity candidates for the Horned Frog were announced. Seniors were: Misses Margaret Reeder, Marion Miller, Floy Edmondson and Eloise Barksdale; juniors, Misses La Verne Brunson, Lollie Botts, Mary Seidel and Margot Shaw; sophomores, Misses Anna Byrd Harness, Natalie Collins, Doris Higgins and Mary Rowan; freshmen, Misses Sarah Orth, Mary Louise Hall, Louise Watson and Myrtle Nell Tallaferro.

Work began on the new University Christian Church.

Five Years Ago:
 The Horned Frog basketball team beat North Texas Teachers after that team had defeated Baylor and S. M. U.

Lester Brumbelow was elected captain of the 1929 football team.

Eleven intercollegiate debates were booked for T. C. U.

The honor system was abolished. The pep squad gave the football team a banquet. It ended in a scramble for souvenirs.

Fifteen Years Ago:
 Plans were being made for a nine-hole golf course in the open space northwest of Jarvis.

Baylorites, failing to find their defeated mascot in the grave where T. C. U. students had supposedly buried him, bought another bear and passed it off on the Baylor campus as "the" Baylor bear. T. C. U. students had hidden the bear rather than bury it.

After the disbanding of the Student's Army Training Corps, men and women of T. C. U. continued to eat in separate dining halls.

WEST WINDOW
 (In Jarvis' Hall)

Now am I truly glad to see
 This bannered sky of red and gold,
 These billowed trees in frothy mist;
 How I delight in hills grown old,
 Stoopling low in autumn gray,
 And listening as the years unfold.

Now am I free, and joyously,
 Clipping one day of time's increase,
 To lay my ordered thoughts aside,
 The quietude of reigning peace,
 And grandeur that before me lies,
 Has set for me this strange release.

How could I bear it, not to have
 My little room, a high swung nest
 To cradle my shadowed evenings,
 And out of weariness bring rest;
 This watch tower seeking beauty;
 This open window looking west.

REVELATIONS

While riding with GEORGE NORRIS, WILBYRD IRVIN notified him that the price for cleaning and pressing trousers had gone up to 40 cents.

A certain prof should allow his students to chew Beech-Nut without assessing the usual penalty.

Balcony hecklers at the Popularity Revue had RONALD WHEELER and OTHO TINER so worried that they walked on the wrong side of their girls.

Sweepin's—
 "BLIMP" is BEN BOSWELL'S new nickname . . . Several boys have been claiming the affections of FLORIENE TURNER lately . . . It seems that someone put the "skates" under HOMER PEEPLES . . . SPEEDY ALLISON joined the ranks of steer riders Sunday afternoon (he stayed on nearly one jump) . . . Did BILL HUDSON get the telephone number of the blond dancer at the revue? . . . And why did someone yell "Safety pin" at CHARLIE CASPER Friday night? . . . We recommend that HERMAN PITTMAN go to the stadium to practice on his cornet . . . TINY GODWIN, REX CLARK, whose towels did you use to start the Goode Hall flood? . . . We wonder why SLIM KINZY didn't take an active part in the beauty revue. . . For a treat, girls, get FRESHMAN MCGILL to sing that popular campus song, "She's Killing Me" . . . MARY MARJORIE LEWIS has been seen talking in the library several afternoons lately . . . JOE CLARK and JANELLE BUSH seem to be getting along quite nicely at the present . . . ELMER SEYBOLD spends most of his time window shopping in the residential section since he has not been able to locate the nudist colony . . . Why did JACK GRAVES' mug turn maroon when he was offered a quail's neck at noon Monday?

IZZIE ACKERMAN appointed herself chief Pretzel-Passer at the Texas Hanger Saturday night, passing a bowl of pretzels around during intermissions.

We wonder if GRAVES & KINZY enjoyed the midnight show (if that's what it was) that they attended Wednesday night.

We wonder what JIMMY LAWRENCE and VIC MONTGOMERY were bleeding about last Saturday when R. J. DUCKWORTH went to see them.

THE WORTH FAIR

1934 Is Here, So a Little Reminiscing Is Appropriate

By LOUISE CAUKER.

There's not any snow, we'll grant you that, but Christmas is here just the same. Santa Clauses in all the department stores, shelf after shelf and row after row of toy fire wagons and dolls and games, Christmas trees for sale on every other corner, grocery store specials on cranberries and turkeys—but above all, holidays just four school days in the offing.

Pretty soon it'll be 1934. A new year, with new resolutions, old memories, and plenty of possibilities. A person can't help reminiscing along about this time of the year. Perhaps a little reminiscing isn't out of place, since this is the last edition of the Skiff in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and thirty-three. Here we go back into the files to the society leads of the 1933 Skiff:

Wedding in First Article.

The first January Skiff carried as the society lead a story of the Tipton-Ashburn wedding. Good ole Prof. Ashburn, now at S. M. U. Next came the Los Hidalgo unusual "Fifty Years Hence" party, followed the next week by a review of the spring social calendar. Then the ill-fated story of a freshman class dinner dance at the Texas Hotel. After that appeared articles on spring fashions, the B. B. A. Banquet, candidates for the Most Presentable Co-ed contest, and a feature on dancing embellished with Bible quotations.

The next week came the announcement that Miss Natalie Collins was the Most Presentable Co-ed. Miss Collins was followed by a facetious paragraph or so on card-playing, and then an April Fool story announcing a dance in the Big Gym for the following Saturday night. Other topics were: Miss Mary Elva Dillingham, T. C. U. representative at the A. & M. Cotton Ball; Miss LaVerne Brunson and Marion Hicks, delegates to the University of Texas Round-Up; the Spanish Fiesta pageant; May breakfast in Jarvis Hall, with Miss Janelle Bush as queen; Alpha Zeta Pi Founder's Day picnic; "sourastic" remarks about the junior class picnic; Senior Day and the banquet that night; and last for that semester, a feature about the annuals and pens everybody was poking at everybody else.

Were 13 Stories This Semester.

This semester readers of this column have read about: the Freshman Prom; the President's Reception; college students' originality as evidenced by the variety of social activities; fashions as they were at the time of the several official Homecoming celebrations; homecoming social activities; twenty-five students telling what motivates their lives, based on a survey in a psychology class. Shreveport sidelights; how choosing a certain place in the library gives a slant on your character; what ten of our popular co-eds wear; Roy Bacus' interpretation of what the "well-dressed" collegian wears; what your friends did during Thanksgiving holidays; what the popularity candidates would wear in the revue; and—well, here we are back at Christmas again!

Dana Press Club Has Christmas Dinner

Seventeen members and guests of the Dana Press Club gathered at the Windomere Tea Room Monday evening for the annual Christmas dinner. A purple centerpiece, bowls of purple and white seasonal flowers, and white candles tied with purple decorated the "T" shaped table. Miss Alice Jackson, owner of the tea room, told the romantic legends that have grown up about the quaint place.

After the dinner Prof. J. Willard Ridings, sponsor, impersonated Santa Claus and distributed the pile of "funny gifts." As usual, each guest followed the press club tradition of opening his gift with the whole group watching and making fun.

Present were: Misses Leora Bennett, Hilma Henson, Merry Montrief, Elina Evans, Kathryn Edwards, Verma Berrong, Helen Woolery, Marion Honea, Grace Maloney, Dorothy George and Louise Cauker; Mrs. Edith Alderman Guedry and Prof. and Mrs. Ridings, Joe and Ben Sargent and Roy Bacus.

Science Club Will Hold Party

Gifts representative of peculiar characteristics of members will be distributed at the Christmas party of the Natural Science Society, to be held at the home of Prof. and Mrs. W. M. Winton, 2549 Rogers Street, at 7:30 o'clock Saturday night, according to Miss Katherine Jackson. Two names will be drawn by each member.

Approximately twenty-three members are expected to attend. Members of the faculty of the science department will also be present.

Co-eds, Collegians Visit Out of Town

Over the week-end:

Miss Margaret Clements visited in Crowley. Miss Louise Briscoe was the guest of Miss Mary Helen Sims at her home in Hillsboro. Miss Emma Louise Flake visited her parents in Cleburne. Misses Marion Pace, Dorothy Scott and Katherine Ashford, former students, visited Miss Mary Rowan.

Miss Maupin Yates visited her home in Waco. Linnon Blackmon was the guest of L. D. Meyer at his home in Waco. Miss Elta Rose Franklin visited on the campus, and Miss Evelyn Franklin visited her home in Wichita Falls. Frank Aguirre visited Brent Heimiller of Dallas.

Horned Frog Holds Popularity Revue

"Boiled shirts" and evening gowns were the order of the evening last Friday when the Horned Frog held its annual Popularity Revue. Prof. Claude Sammis acted as master of ceremonies, and intermission entertainment was offered by Miss Mary Frances Roberson and Master Billy Agerton. Roy Bacus directed the affair.

Spotlights played on the 16 co-eds as they paraded to the stage which was decorated with palms, ferns and a moonlight background.

Vernon Fenley's orchestra furnished music for the occasion.

Jarvis Girls Will Entertain Boys

Christmas parties on the campus will continue next week with an open house Sunday night at 9 o'clock in Jarvis Hall when Jarvis girls will entertain for boys of Clark and Goode Halls.

A general sing-song has been planned. Refreshments will be served.

Monday evening the annual Christmas dinner for all dormitory students will be held at 6 o'clock in the University Cafeteria, preceding the Christmas play, "The Little Town of Bethlehem."

Special music is being planned.

W. A. A. Members Hold Candy Pull

Twenty-two members and guests attended a W. A. A. candy pull at the home of Miss Olive Wofford last Tuesday night.

The feature of the party was the pinning of a tail on a huge donkey. Miss Sarah Jane Hurley won first prize for pinning the tail closest to the donkey and Miss Mildred Lauman won the "booby" prize for missing the donkey by the greatest margin.

Guests were: Misses Hurley, Lauman, Lucille Shear, Genevieve Papi-neau, Elizabeth Huster, Eda Mae Tedford, Juanita Freeman, Florence Fallis, Elaine Meaders, Dorothy Luyster, Helen Umbenhour, Mary Umbenhour, Jewell Leftwich, Margaret McIntosh, Ann Mattox, Margaret Combest, Virginia Schell, Blossom Fredrick and Gay Goldthwaite.

Microscopic Life to Be Shown to Group

A moving picture of microscopic life will be the chief feature of the program at the meeting of the Scholarship Society in the physics laboratory Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.

The pictures were prepared in the biology department several years ago by Major John Hawley. Only a few such films have ever been made, according to Lee Henderson, president of the society.

The film will be presented by Prof. W. G. Hewatt.

Outcasts to Have Tea Sunday

Miss Frances Caldwell, 2801 Park Hill Drive, will be hostess to members of the Outcasts Club at the organization's Christmas tea from 3:30 to 5 p. m. Sunday. Members and alumni of the organization are invited to attend, according to Miss Dorothy Luyster, secretary.

Y. W. C. A. Meeting Is Called Off

The regular meeting of the Y. W. C. A. Monday evening will not be held, according to the president, Miss Louise Glass. The meeting in Brite chapel Wednesday evening, with Paul Harris as guest speaker, took the place of the regular meeting.

Party Is Held By Brushes

A Christmas party was given last Tuesday night at the home of Miss Cecil Yoder, 2005 Alston Street, for the members of the Brushes. Miss Yoder is secretary and treasurer of the club.

Christmas presents were exchanged between the guests, who were: Misses Lila Mae Strain, Mary Jo Merkt, Isabel Ackerman, Caroline Lewis, Elizabeth Hudson, Helen Woolery, Yoder, and Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Ziegler. Refreshments were served.

B. B. A. Department To Give Party

A Christmas party for students of the business administration department will be held Monday night at 8 o'clock at the home of Prof. and Mrs. J. W. Ballard, 2801 Princeton Street. Gifts characteristic of other members and not to exceed the cost of 10 cents, will be exchanged.

Judy Truelson has charge of arrangements.

Music Club to Meet Monday Afternoon

Clay Dillon and Charles Oswald will discuss the oboe and bassoon, respectively, at a meeting of the Music Club Monday afternoon in Room 304 of the Administration Building.

A party at Lake Worth, originally scheduled for last Friday, has been postponed until later in the year, Don Gillis, president, has announced.

Houston Club to Play Santa Claus

Miss Elizabeth Sayles has been named chairman of the Houston Club committee which will select a poor family for whom the club will play Santa Claus. Providing Christmas for a poor family is an annual custom of the club. The committee will consult with Salvation Army officials about their plan.

Frogs Will Open '34 Cage Season Tomorrow Night

Schmidtmen Will Meet Denton Eagles in Practice Tilt.

To Play Texas Jan. 6

Walker or Lester, Myers, Allison, Truelson and Kinzy May Start.

By CHARLIE CASPER

Coach Francis Schmidt's Horned Frog basketball charges will open their 1934 season here tomorrow night at 7:45 o'clock with the Denton Eagles. The battle will be the first of several exhibition games to be played by the Schmidtmen before they play their first conference game with Texas in Austin Jan. 6.

The Eagles are exceptionally strong this year and are all set to avenge a defeat handed them by the Christians here last season.

The Purple squad rounded out its final practice session yesterday and Coach Schmidt announced that his cohorts are ready. Hersel Kinzy, star Purple pivot man, is still limping around in practice but is expected to be "right" tomorrow night. In the early practices thus far the tall East Texan has looked exceptionally good, and Coach Schmidt is looking forward to great things from him. Slim has a natural eye for the basket and was the spark plug of the Frog offense last season. He has yet to meet his superior in the center of the oval.

Kinzy to Receive Severe Test
Kinzy will receive a severe test tomorrow night when he meets "Big" Dittich, star Eagle tip-off man who is leading the Denton offense in scoring. A battle royal for tip-off honors is in store for cage fans.

The big surprise of the year is to be uncovered in tomorrow night's battle in the person of Richard "Speedy" Allison. Last year Allison was forced to watch the majority of the games from the sidelines, due to the fact that Doc Sumner was playing his position. This year "the Demon" has been hitting the basket from all sides of the court and should be high in the scoring race before the season ends.

With Allison and Flash Walker teamed together, the Frogs will present an excellent passing and scoring combination. With Allison in the hole and Kinzy and Walker handling the ball from the sides, Allison should score many points.

Wallace Myers Looks Good
Too much can't be said about the Christian captain, Wallace Myers. Myers was outstanding last season and Coach Schmidt says that the Jacksboro lad is even better this year. His blood-curdling yells have been successful in preventing many of the opposition's baskets. Judy Truelson is working in at the other guard post along with Cy Perkins, squadman from last year, who has shown plenty of promise in the early practices.

Darrell Lester has been slow getting started but is coming along nicely, as are Dan Harston, Willis Cannon, Jimmy Stanton, George Kline, Robert Chappell, who will share the forward posts with Allison and Walker, and Bobby Stow.

The Frog line-up is likely to be: Walker or Lester and Allison, forwards; Kinzy, center, and Capt. Myers and Truelson, guards.

Intramural Quintets Divided Into Leagues

Arrangement Made to Accommodate More Players, Says W. S. Knox.

This year's intramural basketball tournament will be divided into two leagues, according to W. S. Knox. One league will play each Tuesday night at 7:30 and 8:30 o'clock. The other league will play each Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 and 2:30 o'clock.

The playing will start immediately after the holidays. All boys who wish to play basketball are asked to sign at Knox's office. The reason of two leagues is to make room for every boy who wants to play, according to Knox.

Frosh Basketeers Defeat Chico High

Coach Dutch Meyer's Polliwog basketball team opened its season with a 45-to-31 victory over Chico High School in the Frog gym last night.

Walter Roach and Ray Wester, forwards; Will Walls, center, and Sam Baugh and Byrum Saam, guards, started for the Frosh. L. D. Meyer, Cotton Harrison, Vernon Brown, Drew Ellis, Glen "Donkey" Roberts and Corky Makarwicz all saw action before the game was over.

Frog Cage Team Not Lacking in Height

TRUELSON

This year's Horned Frog basketball team will not be lacking in height. Judy Truelson, guard, is 6 feet 6 inches tall, and Slim Kinzy, center, and Richard Allison, forward, tower to 6 feet 5 inches. Truelson, a junior, has shown much improvement this season. Kinzy, a senior, has lettered twice in basketball, and Allison, a senior, has lettered once. All will see action against the Denton Eagles tomorrow night in the Frog gym.

Burr-Head's SPORT GOSSIP

By CHARLIE CASPER

This time next week we will all be home with mom, pop and all the brothers, sisters and kinsfolk. Gee, but won't it be grand? Just think of all the things you will have to tell the kids in the neighborhood about college and what it has done for you. To one and all of you allow ole Burr-Head to take this small space to wish you the merriest Christmas that you have ever had. The depression is still on and may keep ole Santa from coming down the chimney of several of you but just stop and look back and think of being in school and thank him for the part which he took in that. Merry Christmas to all of you once again and may the coming New Year be the best of your life.

Tomorrow night the Frogs play their first basketball game of the season with the Denton Teachers. The sport scribes don't think the Christians will be so hot this year but you just stop and put this little memo down in your notebook: "Any basketball team that is coached by one Francis Schmidt is in for a good season regardless of whom it plays." I believe that the Purple mentor is the best cage teacher in the country and he proved that by putting out four consecutive conference winners while at Arkansas.

He doesn't have any Summers, Dietzels, Brannons, Vaughns or Atkins this year but he does have some men out there by the names of Allison, Kinzy, Walker, Chappell, Perkins, Truelson, Capt. Myers and several others who have their hearts set on making people forget these bygone stars. Come out tomorrow night and support those Frogs and help them on to a conference championship. We are pulling for you and those battling Frogs, Coach Schmidt.

Imagine it... T. C. U. football star and S. M. U. grid star form partnership in business. Sad, funny and what not, but true. Austin Griffith, one of the hardest-driving fullbacks ever to grace a Southwest gridiron, and Speedy Mason, former Mustang star, have formed an insurance agency here in Fort Worth and are said to be doing fine.

The Lions Club held its annual Frog Day banquet for the football team the other day and it was truly swell. Coach Schmidt got a new suit (said he needed it too), Bear got a new stetson, Dutch and Possum got a new pair of shoes and Smitty and Tiner were awarded prizes. This was Smitty's first Lions Club feed, and were we glad to see him there. We want to see Smitty at all of them from now on. Too, may I express my thanks and appreciation to those members of the ball club who were responsible for my receiving that beautiful bath robe.

See where my pin-headed friend down at Baylor belittles my all-conference selection which appeared here last week. Okay, Mr. Florey... thanks for your "bouquet." Even if you didn't like it... it was only one man short of being like the one the coaches announced.

Intramural Handball Will Begin in January

Intramural handball will start the first week after the holidays, according to W. S. Knox. Both singles and doubles will be played. All those interested may sign a list in the gym.

Casper Speaks to Hi-Y Club
Charlie Casper addressed a meeting of the Central High School Hi-Y Club last week at the Y. M. C. A. building. He discussed the Southwest Athletic Conference this year, and also his own Hi-Y experiences.

Francis Barnes, ex-student of T. C. U., was a visitor on the campus this week.

A woman seldom has too many hose

—And Claussners will please her as no other kind will. We're suggesting two numbers that are very popular—

No. 452—A two-thread high twist ultra sheer chiffon hose that is crystal clear... the cobwebby kind that young moderns like.

No. 400—A three-thread high twist sheer chiffon hose that will be practical for ordinary wear... they intensify the natural beauty of every ankle.

IT TAKES HEALTHY NERVES FOR JAFFEE TO BE THE WORLD'S CHAMPION SKATER

IRVING JAFFEE

(At Right)—Again Jaffee makes a thrilling finish as he speeds to victory! Winner of 1,000 medals and trophies, including three Olympic Skating Championships, Jaffee has brought the highest skating honors to the U.S.A. Asked recently if he was a steady smoker, Jaffee said, "Yes—but that goes for Camels only. I have to keep my wind, you know, and healthy nerves."

A MATCHLESS BLEND

IT IS MORE FUN TO KNOW
Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand.

Steady Smokers turn to Camels

You've often seen his name and picture in the papers—Jaffee, the city-bred boy from the U. S. A. who beat the best that Europe had to offer, and became the skating champion of the world! Speaking of speed skating and cigarettes, Jaffee says: "It takes healthy nerves and plenty of wind to be an Olympic skating champion. I find that Camels, because of their costlier tobaccos, are mild and likable in taste. And, what is even more important to a champion athlete, they never upset the nerves." Change to Camels and note the difference in your nerves... in the pleasure you get from smoking! Camels are milder... have a better taste. They never upset your nerves. Begin today!
