9 Make All 'A's' In Fall Semester; 169 on Honor Roll

Freshman, Miss Rowland, Has Perfect Set of Grades.

'B' Average Required

78 Seniors, 34 Juniors, 30 Sophomores and 27 Freshmen Are Named.

Nine students made perfect scholastic records (all "A" grades) during the fall semester, according to the honor roll announced from the office of Registrar S. W. Hutton today.

The names of 169 students appear on the honor roll, including 78 seniors, 34 juniors, 30 sophomores and 27 freshmen.

In order to be eligible for the honor roll the student must be carrying at least nine hours work, must make a grade average of "B" and must have no grade lower than "C."

The nine who made all "A" grades are: Archer Anderson, Mrs. Irma Bell, Miss Irene Cassidy, Miss Elizabeth Cuthrell, Albert Luper, John Morphis, Miss Mary Agnes Rowland, Gaines Sparks and Granville Walker. All of the nine are seniors except Luper and (Continued on Page 6)

Glee Club to Make Short Concert Trip

Will Give Program in Wichita Falls, Mineral Wells and Henrietta.

The Men's Glee Club will make a short concert trip to Mineral Wells, Wichita Falls, and Henrietta, March 22 to 24, according to Patrick Henry, Jr., business manager of the club.

This trip is in addition to the annual concert tour to be made April 8 to 20, inclusive. This trip will extend into Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri, Arkansas, and Northeast Texas.

Ex-Student Play Will Be Tonight

Proceeds of Production Will Go to Student Loan Fund.

Can one, by pretense, become what one wishes to be? By pretending that things are better, will they be?

"The Charming Pretender," alumni play by Robert George, which will be presented tonight at 8 o'clock in the University Auditorium, is based on the thesis that one can change conditions by pretending that they are changed.

The play, under the direction of William Gonder, is the third alumni play. Two Shakespearean plays have preceded it. It is being sponsored by the Women's Branch of the T. C. U. Alumni Association.

Waller Moody, T. C. U. student, has the leading male role, and Miss Marguerite Bennett, graduate, will play the title role. Other members of the cast are Frank Ogilvie, Miss Anna Marie Bennett, Omar Dews, Jack Suthpin, Mrs. R. L. Loughridge and Sidney Lightfoot.

Admission charges are 25 cents for students and 35 cents for others. Proceeds from the production will go to the student loan fund.

Asks Chapel Cut Complaints

Prof. C. R. Sherer has requested that all complaints that students have to make concerning unexcused chapel cuts for last semester be made by next Wednesday.

Students, Professors Will Aid Conference

400 Boys Are Expected Here From North, Central Parts of State.

A number of T. C. U. students and faculty members will assist in the program of the Older Boys' Conference, which will be held in Fort Worth and on the campus this weekend, according to Paul Wassenich, Y. M. C. A. instructor.

Dr. W. J. Hammond, Prof. Walter Knox, Nat Wells, Johnny LeBus, Melvin Diggs, Hubert Stem, Joe Findley, Otto Nielsen, Lynn Brown, Lee Glasgow, Ben Boswell, Joe Carpenter, Wassenich, Joe Clark, Patrick Henry, Jr., Charles Braselton, Owen Lipscomb and Lemore Hill will assist in the program.

The Rev. Perry Gresham will be the speaker at the Sunday morning assembly which will be held on the campus.

Approximately four hundred boys from North and Central Texas are expected to attend the conference, which is being sponsored by the state executive committee of the Y. M. C. A.

The general theme of the meeting is "The older boys' part in the new era."

2 New Trustees Chosen by Board

Knowles and Frizzell Selected at Meeting Last Week.

The Rev. Harry Knowles, pastor of the First Christian Church of Houston, and Bonner Frizzell, Palestine school superintendent and graduate of T. C. U., were appointed members of the T. C. U. Board of Trustees at a meeting of the group last week.

The Rev. Mr. Knowles, who is one of the most prominent pastors in Houston, is the father of Johnnie Knowles, sophomore at the University.

Frizzell was a member of the football team while at T. C. U. He also served as editor of The Skiff and Horned Frog, and was president of his class for four years. While at Palestine, he has served in an official capacity on the Rotary Club, Meadowbrook Club, Chamber of Commerce and the Board of Charities.

Charles Mohle, pastor of the South End Christian Church of Houston was appointed a member of the Brite College Board of Trustees to replace A. C. Parker of Dallas, who died recently.

Hearing of the president's message and re-election of the faculty and approval of the budget for 1935 were other important features of the meeting.

Charles H. Morris of Dallas was appointed full-time field representative by the Board.

The Trustees present were: R. H. Foster, the Rev. L. D. Anderson, W. S. Cooke, Van Zandt, Jarvis, E. E. Bewley and C. A. Wheeler, Fort Worth.

The Rev. L. N. D. Wells, Dan D. Rogers and D. G. McFadin, Dallas; the Rev. H. C. Garrison and D. C. Reed, Austin; M. E. Daniel, Breckenridge; T. E. Tomlinson, Hillsboro; Lewis J. Ackers, Abilene; H. W. Stark, Gainesville, and L. C. Brite, Marfa.

Rev. Gresham to Talk To Y.W.C.A. Monday

'Religion in Personal Living' Is Topic—Meeting to Begin at 7:30 o'Clock.

The Rev. Perry Gresham will speak to the Y. W. C. A. on "Religion in Personal Living" Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the group's new reading room in the northeast corner of the basement of the Administration Building.

This is the first of a series of lectures that will be given to the girls' group by the Rev. Mr. Gresham, according to Miss Ruth Cowan, program chairman.

"Members are urged to pay their pledges to Misses Marian Meaders and Miss Rebecca Graves as soon as possible in order that the program for the spring semester may be carried out," said Miss Louise Glass, president.

Charles Morris To Be University Field Secretary

Is Drake Graduate and Former Colorado Minister.

To Begin at Once

Raising Funds and Securing New Students Are Included in Duties.

Charles H. Morris of Dallas, a graduate of Drake University, was appointed field secretary for T. C. U. at the annual meeting of the Board of Trustees last week.

This is the first time in three years the University has maintained a full-time man in the field, according to President E. M. Waits. Dr. Henry G. Bowden was the last man to fill the position.

Morris, one of the leading preachers in Colorado for ten years and recently engaged in the oil business in Dallas, will begin his work immediately, President Waits said.

"The duties of the field secretary are two-fold. He will raise money and secure students for the University. It will be his duty to contact the various Christian churches of Texas and to see that the matter of education is included in their budgets," said President Waits.

Morris will also visit high schools and prospective students in the various cities of Texas. He will be in charge of all gifts and special annuities to T. C. U.

The new field secretary was introduced at the banquet of the Mid-Winter Ministers' Conference at the University Christian Church Tuesday night.

Alf Roark to Talk On Radio Program

'Education and Behavior' to Be Topic of Prof. Smith's Speech Sunday.

Alf Roark as the guest speaker on the Youth's Forum program, Prof. R. A. Smith as speaker on the regular Sunday afternoon program sponsored by the University and Miss Rosemary Collier as director of the one-act play presented last night by the Dramatic Club have the outstanding places on the radio programs sponsored by T. C. U. groups this week.

Roark, who is a 1932 graduate of T. C. U. and a former student body president, will speak at 8:45 o'clock tonight over station KFJZ on "The College Graduate's Entry." Roark was recently elected to the Texas Legislature.

Prof. Smith will talk on "Education and Behavior" at 4:45 o'clock Sunday afternoon over station KFJZ. President E. M. Waits will introduce the speaker. A violin ensemble composed of Miss Beverly Vaughan, Bill Rodier, Albert Luper and Prof. Claude Sammis will play "Western World," overture by Ed Chenette; "The Dawn of Love," by Theodore Bendix; "Amaryllis," by Henry Ghys; "Alita," by F. H. Losey; "Scarff Dance," by Cecile Chaminade; and "Gavotte," by Franz Josef Gosse.

Miss Lucile Snyder will be the accompanist. Dean Colby D. Hall will start a series of ten lessons on the Life of Christ beginning Sunday, Feb. 25, on the regular T. C. U. program hour.

Misses Ruth Conner and Virginia Morris and John Durrett and William Gilleland had parts in the one-act play directed by Miss Collier.

Freshman Banquet Will Be March 18

The annual freshman banquet will be held March 18 at the Texas Hotel, according to Miss Mary Corzine, chairman of the class social committee.

Others appointed on the social committee by Vernon Brown, class president, are Byron Saam and Randolph Wright, and Misses Helen Adams and Nancy Lee McConnell.

According to Brown, other committees, such as transportation, entertainment and decoration, will be appointed within the next few days.

To Speak March 8

Ernst Uiberall, Austrian scholar and student of the University of Vienna, will speak in the University Auditorium Thursday, March 8, on the subject of "The Problem of Austria."

Austrian Scholar To Speak March 8

International Relations Club Sponsors Uiberall's Talk.

Ernest Uiberall, Austrian scholar and student of the University of Vienna, will speak in the University Auditorium Thursday, March 8, on the subject of "The Problem of Austria," according to Nat. Wells, president of the International Relations Club Unit 1.

The two campus International Relations Clubs are sponsoring the speaker's appearance.

Uiberall will appear at T. W. C. at 10 o'clock on the morning of March 8. His appearance in Fort Worth is under the auspices of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace. The local cosmopolitan clubs are two of 461 throughout the United States which are affiliated with the Carnegie peace endowment.

Scouler to Sing Sunday Afternoon

David Scouler will be presented as the artist on the T. C. U. Woman's Club's monthly Sunday afternoon musicale to be held at 4 p. m. Sunday in the University Auditorium.

Scouler's program, with one exception, will consist of modern compositions. Included on the program will be one number, "Evolution," which was dedicated to Scouler by its composer, Russell Danburg.

Other numbers on the program are as follows: "Caleno Cuture Me," an old English number; "When I am Laid in Earth," a recitative and air from "Dido and Aeneas," by Henry Purcell; "Revery," by Arensky; "Soft-footed Snow," by Lie; "Light," by Finting; "Die Helle Soone Leuchtet," by Gericke; "Tanzlied," by Trunk; "Dune Prison," by Hahn; "Chevauchee Cosaque," by Fourdrand; "Prelude" from "The Cycle of Life," by Landon Ronald; "My Lady Walks in Loveliness," by Ernest Charles, and "Cargoes," by Tom Dobson.

Miss Adeline Boyd will be Scouler's accompanist. Miss Lorraine Sherley is program chairman. She is being assisted by Mrs. Helen Fouts Cahoon, Mrs. W. C. Morro, and Mrs. E. W. McDiarmid.

Play Cast Announced

'So's Your Old Antique' to Be Third Club Presentation.

The cast for "So's Your Old Antique," one of the three plays to be presented by the Dramatic Club in the University Auditorium Feb. 28, has been selected. The play will be directed by Miss Betty Spreen.

The cast includes Miss Maureen Corder, Sally; Leo Lipschitz, William; Miss Nina Whittington, Mrs. Pettis; John Durrett, Mr. Malster; and Billy Gilliland, Dick Barlow.

The casts for the other two plays, "A Minuet" and "Mansions," were announced last week.

Faculty Library Committee Offers Discussion Topics

'Principles Are Ideals, Not Rules,' Chairman Says.

Asks Co-operation

Group Hopes to Make Reading Room Place for Study, Not Conversation.

In an effort to begin discussions out of which rules may be formed which will make the Mary Couts Burnett Library a place for study instead of a social meeting-place, the faculty library committee this week issued a list

The Committee's Suggestions

Study Habits in the Library

The library committee of the faculty offers the following principles as a basis for discussion in student groups and in classes, between instructors and students. The suggestions are not complete, but are offered in the hope that they will be suggestive of others. They are not fixed rules but ideals, and are the material out of which rules may later be constructed by the library committee, or, better still, out of which the students may construct rules for their own guidance.

1. The library is a place for study and reading, not a social center.

2. Since quiet is essential to concentration of mind, study in the main reading room of the library should be individual; co-operative study, involving conversation, should be done elsewhere.

3. Conversation on any topic foreign to study should be barred from the main reading room of the library entirely; on study topics it should be reduced to a minimum.

4. Since these principles are self-evident, a failure on the part of any student to regulate his conduct by them cannot be regarded as other than an unwillingness to be cooperative.

Library Committee: W. M. Winton, J. L. Whitman, W. J. Hammond, S. P. Ziegler, Rebecca Smith, Mrs. Motherhead, W. C. Morro, Chmna.

of principles for discussion regarding library conduct. Members of the committee which drew up the list of principles are: Dr. W. C. Morro, chairman; Prof. W. M. Winton, Dr. J. L. Whitman, Dr. W. J. Hammond, Prof. S. P. Ziegler, Dr. Rebecca Smith and Mrs. J. E. Motherhead.

In the principles the committee suggests that the library is a place for study and reading, not a social center; that study in the main reading room of the library should be individual, not co-operative; that co-operative study should be done elsewhere; that conversation on topics foreign to study should be barred from the main reading room, and that conversation on study topics should be reduced to a minimum.

"These principles should not be mistaken for rules already passed," Dr. Morro said. "They are offered as a basis of discussion in student groups and in classes, between instructors and students. The committee is offering them for discussion as ideals, out of which rules may later be constructed, or better still, ideals out of which the students may construct rules for their own guidance."

"The committee believes that the principles suggested are self-evident," the chairman continued, "as anyone can see that library conduct, as it is now, is unsatisfactory. The committee is anxious to know students' views on the matter."

To Address Conference

'New Occasions in Ancient Good' Is Rev. Gresham's Theme.

Plans are being made to have the concluding service of the Y. M. C. A. Older Boys' Conference in the University Christian Church at 11 o'clock Sunday morning.

The Rev. Perry Gresham will deliver the address. His subject will be "New Occasions in Ancient Good." The communion service of the church will be held Sunday evening.

"Think on These Things" will be the subject of the Rev. Mr. Gresham's sermon. The men's chorus will sing.

Ziegler Speaks at Exhibit

Prof. S. P. Ziegler spoke Sunday afternoon at an art exhibit held at the Carnegie Library. He spoke on the works of Arthur B. Davies and Albert T. Rider, two early American idealists or "poet painters," whose works were on exhibit.

Waits Speeds Action For Federal Relief

F. E. R. A. Will Provide Work for 58 Boys and Girls on T. C. U. Campus.

President E. M. Waits spent yesterday in Austin speeding action on T. C. U.'s application for aid from the Federal Emergency Relief Administration which is aiding students who can not attend college without financial help.

T. C. U.'s quota for the aid is 58 students, 30 boys and 28 girls. More than thirty had already enrolled yesterday, pending action from Austin. The aid consists of jobs in the University paid for by the Federal government. The jobs will include clerical work, paper grading, library assistance and campus work. The students will work 12½ hours a week at 30 cents an hour for a maximum of $15 a month, or $60 a semester.

The government rules that only those students may receive aid who could not otherwise attend college; therefore it does not apply to those who have already made financial arrangements for the spring semester, according to President Waits.

Colleges to Talk On Modern Trends

Dean Hall Heads Group to Meet Here April 27 and 28.

Significant movements in the educational world will be discussed at the annual meeting of the Association of Texas Colleges, to be held at the Texas Hotel in Fort Worth April 27 and 28, according to Dean Colby D. Hall, president of the association.

Dr. John Dale Russell of the University of Chicago, executive secretary of the committee on revision of standards, will be the principal guest speaker. His subject will be "The Revision of College Standards by the North Central Association."

Others on the program will include Registrar D. A. Sherley of the West Texas State Teachers' College, Canyon; Dean Alfred H. Nolle, Southwest Texas State Teachers' College, Alpine; Dean O. A. Ullrich, Southwestern University, Georgetown; Dr. D. A. Penick, University of Texas, Austin, and H. F. Alves, State Department of Education, Austin.

Besides Dean Hall, the officers of the association are: Registrar E. J. Howell, A.&M., vice-president; Dean W. S. Allen, Baylor, secretary-treasurer; Dean T. H. Hart, Daniel Baker and Dean L. F. Connell, A.&L, members of the executive committee.

Delegates Attending Dallas Meeting Today

'Y's' Are Represented in Model World's Student Christian Federation.

Miss Loraine O'Gorman, Miss Ruth Campbell, Gene Cox and Carsky Makarwich, delegates of the campus Y.W.C.A. and Y.M.C.A. are in Dallas today attending the Model World's Student Christian Federation, which is being held on the Southern Methodist University campus.

All major foreign countries are scheduled to be represented in the meeting by some North Texas college, and Russia will be represented by the T. C. U. group.

Three of the T. C. U. delegates will make five-minute talks, presenting the topic from the Russian point of view. Miss O'Gorman will discuss "Christianism and Communism;" Cox will speak on "Christianism and Nationalism" and Makarwich will talk on "Christianism and Race Relations."

Prof. C. R. Sherer, sponsor of the Y. M. C. A., and Fred Miller, president of the men's group, will also attend the meeting. Miller will give the response to the welcome address at a banquet Friday night.

Chinese Statesman Will Speak

T. Z. Koo, noted Chinese statesman and lecturer, will speak on "A Challenge to Christian World Citizenship" at the First Methodist Church Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Complimentary tickets for students may be obtained from Prof. C. R. Sherer, the book store or the registrar's office.

'Frogs' Fun Farce' To Be Presented Next Wednesday

Show Will Climax Day's Activities for 'T' Association.

Not Rules

In announcing this week a list of principles regarding library conduct, the faculty Library Committee is not laying down a set of rules. The committee is offering the principles as a basis for discussion in student groups and in classes between students and faculty members.

The principles are ideals, and, according to Dr. W. C. Morro, chairman of the committee, are the material out of which rules may later be constructed, or out of which students may form rules for their own guidance. The principles are being offered by the committee in the hope that they will be suggestive of other principles.

What's Ahead for Youth?

Under the present administration there have been marked strides made toward recovery. On that point all are agreed. Now, on the face of the advances made, the people as a whole have become more optimistic over the future. When we speak of the future we are inclined to think of youth, for the future is tied up in the youth of today.

Is the student of today facing a rosy future or a period of continued struggle and hardship? That, no one knows, but many discourse on it with great finality. If we judge by the recent chapel speech of De Loss Walker, we are better off right now than we were several years ago, and the more we spend the more we will have. That talk interested all, but just how many it convinced is another question.

The other side of the issue was presented recently by Mayor LaGuardia of New York in an address to a high school graduating class. He said: "This generation owes you an apology for the mess they have made of things. My father and mother used to say that my life would be much easier than theirs. But now your life will be much more difficult than mine."

The first part of the statement is not important to us; we are not interested in apologies at this point. The faculty of apologetic statements is too evident. The striking part of the talk is the pessimistic tone of the final sentence. Mayor LaGuardia is flinging this challenge to young people at their most impressionable age, just when they are beginning to plan definitely their future. There is more food for thought in the mayor's talk than in the artificial phrases of the professional optimists.

It is to be hoped, though, that the youth of today will not pin its faith on the phrases of others, but will do its own thinking.

Why Come to College?

What did you come to the university for? To get an education? Then why not get all of it?

Two hundred and seventy students in T. C. U. are not getting all of their education. To them an education means only assembling facts and writing term papers, going to classes and listening to lectures, and reading pages and pages of library references.

To them a club meeting is not a part of education. To them taking part in intramural sports cannot be classified as a part of education.

These 270 students are losing one of the important parts of their college education. The contact outside of the classroom, in clubs and other extracurricular activities, is as important a factor in college education as are the facts in text books.

Through clubs and campus organizations, contacts are formed that are impossible in classrooms. Five years from now will it matter whether you remember that Washington crossed the Delaware on page 145 (if that's the page) of Mussey's History of the United States or whether you remember all the details of Mendel's laws?

The factor that probably will matter is that you made friendships in college that are the basis of your friendships in the outside world. Because you were able to make friends in college, you were able to do so when four years has ended.

Wake Up!

Students, old and new, flunked miserably on a recent all-campus examination given by a student in the department of journalism. As a rule, the upperclassman made more errors on the "pop quiz" than did the freshman.

Of course there are no demands from the University to the effect that the student know the simple facts that were contained in the exam. But average intelligence demands of the student that he or she know the name of the library or the name of the street in front of the campus. It wouldn't ever hurt the standing of the student to know how many schools hold membership in the Southwest Conference. There are many obvious and simple facts closely related to the university that the average student should be ashamed not to know.

Find out who the heads of the departments are. If you don't know already, ask some freshman or the janitor. There are dozens of questions like these that might be asked. It would even be fitting for a few of the students of the university to know that Roy O'Brien is president of the student body.

Summer School.

The T. C. U. Summer School for 1934 will last 12 weeks instead of only nine, as it has for the past five years, Dean Colby D. Hall has announced. The change to the 12-week term—two semesters of six weeks each—is a commendable move.

More students will be enabled to graduate in August this year, since students can now earn a maximum of 12 hours in summer school. In the nine-week terms students could earn a maximum of only nine hours. Also more students will probably remain at the University for the summer session instead of going elsewhere, so practically all other schools in the Southwest offer 12-week terms.

According to Dean Hall, practically every department in the University will be represented in the summer school. Any course will be guaranteed if as many as five students enroll for it.

Some students think a semester hour is 60 minutes spent listening to the radio.

The difference between a student and a scholar is several hours study.

It's an ill wind that blows up from the chemistry lab.

What did you say the name of the T. C. U. stadium is?

Amusement ABOUT TOWN

At Blackstone

Paul Specht, whose orchestra opened a several-weeks' engagement at the Blackstone Venetian Room Wednesday night, calls his music "rhythmic symphonic syncope."

Dance bands have their dramatic moments. Ask Paul Specht (pronounced speck) about his job as official music maker at the inaugural ball. It seems that Specht was paid some several hundred dollars in advance and given the inaugural job; however, some of the politicians decided that Specht was a republican and "ineligible." Specht told them that "I will play that job if I have to play out on the sidewalks." And he did—but in the ball room. Specht was charged with being a republican because he also played for Hoover's ball.

Specht, who is playing at the Blackstone, says his music is rhythmic symphonic syncope. "I will give them the classics of Bach and Brahms," he said, "and make them like it."

Hendrik Willem Van Loon is the author of "An Elephant up a Tree." This is the story of Sir John, a young elephant, who is elected to visit the United States to see whether elephants should become like human beings.

"A Modern Tragedy," by Phyllis Bentley, is getting favorable comments from leading literary critics. Looks as though it is going to be a best seller.

The Palace is bringing Jackie Cooper in today. The picture is "Lone Cowboy." If Cooper is the cattle chaser then the title should be young cowboy.

The Majestic's offering is "Strawberry Roan" with Ken Maynard. Sunday the same theater brings the "howery" with Wallace Beery back to town. That is a fine picture and those who missed its first run should see it. George Raft is also in the cast and a group of other stars.

In the way of home talent the "Charming Pretender" with Waller Moody in the lead and William Gonder directing will be presented tonight in the University Auditorium. Gonder's former productions, some of which he also played roles in, have always been successful and therefore the odds are that those who see the "Charming Pretender" will spend an enjoyable evening.

Incidentally, there's a collegiate dance at the Blackstone tonight—and tomorrow night if you want to see the most thrilling production ever staged and a production which has not been rehearsed one single time, just go to Dallas and see the Horned Frogs tangle with the Mustangs. "Dallas delight" is for the Mustangs to upset the Frogs, so that means it'll be a tough game.

RAMBLING in Skiff Files
By GRACE MALONEY

One Year Ago (Feb. 17, 1933): John Knowles, freshman class president, was missing when the annual banquet started.

Plans for the annual B. B. A. banquet were announced. Howard Walsh was toastmaster.

The Men's Glee Club announced that 27 members would make the trip in the spring, which was to cover 1300 miles.

The Y. M. C. A. installed officers, with Lynn Brown as president.

Five Years Ago (Feb. 20, 1929): The announcement was made that the T. C. U.-S. M. U. football game would be played on the Saturday following Thanksgiving instead of on Thursday, as had been customary.

President E. M. Waits' name appeared in the list of candidates for the May Pageant Queen.

"John Keats," a sonnet by Amos Melton, was published in the Rectangle, Sigma Tau Delta publication.

A strong basketball team for the 1929 season was predicted by Coach Dutch Meyer.

Fifteen Years Ago (Feb. 17, 1919): The Skiff on Feb. 17, 1919, was edited by the sophomore class and carried a picture of "Dutch" Meyer, a popular student.

The Horned Frog basketballers defeated the S. M. U. Mustangs by the score of 36 to 32. "Dutch" Meyer was the star of the game.

from OTHER CAMPUSES

Because the cleaning and pressing establishments in Fayetteville refused to lower their prices, the fraternities on the campus of the University of Arkansas rebelled and put a boycott on the businesses. All fraternity men agreed to wear corduroy trousers and leather jackets to the student dances until the firms "came down."

Journalists at Texas Tech may now witness their stories as they go through each department of the printing office. The Torsador, student publication at Tech, has been able to install a fully-equipped printing plant, operated part-time by students.

Students in an English class at Oklahoma A. & M. are fined 1 cent every time they misspell a word. The fund derived is used to pay for the annual banquet of the class.

the abc of pipe tobacco

The best tobacco for pipes comes from Kentucky.. and it's called "White Burley"

WE use White Burley in making Granger Rough Cut. It comes from the Blue Grass region of Kentucky—ripe, mild leaf tobacco that just about tops them all for fragrance and flavor.

From the right place on the stalk we select the kind that's best for pipes. Then we make it into Granger by Wellman's Method and cut it up into big shaggy flakes.

White Burley tobacco—made the way old man Wellman taught us how to make it—that's Granger.

"Cut rough to smoke cool" is the way pipe smokers describe Granger—try it

We Don't Believe a Word Of It, But Do We Love It!

By LOUISE CAUKER

Apologies to whoever originated the phrase, but here are some "things we can do without."

Conflicting advice to acquire the Mae Westian silhouette or the slim, clinging one; all the controversy as to whether the waistline shall be up or down or at the waistline; fashion advice to choke yourself on a high neck in front or catch a cold with no neck in back; commands that frocks be 10 inches from the floor or 12 inches or have a train for everybody to walk on; notices such as "the latest fashion suggests you stick a feather in your hat and a flower muff on your hand"; declarations that to be distinctive you must wear no jewelry at all and to be distinctive you must wear loads of costume jewelry.

Again you're told by "them as ought ter know" that never should you copy the movie stars, and then you turn the page and read epistles of other experts who say, "Study the stars and find your personality, your charm." (And they don't mean astrology either.)

We ask you, what is a well-meaning co-ed to do? It's enough to disgust the most eager, believing, trusting soul, and cause her to put on a gunny sack, sprinkle her hair with ashes (ashes of roses, mind you), vow to be an old maid forever and never to listen to another fashion or charm expert. Why doesn't somebody try that—somebody who wants publicity and a husband, or do they come together?

This isn't propaganda against style magazines or subtle suggestions to boycott the beauty shops. It's just the despairing lament of the world's women when they stop to think—which they never do. Really, though, co-eds owe it to the alma mater to be swanky and get their pictures in the rotogravures to advertise the college to bring in more charming young ladies to bring in more athletes to be a drawing card for more co-eds to

Lee Bassinger Named B. B. A. Toastmaster

Lee Bassinger has been elected toastmaster of the annual banquet to be given by the business administration department at 7 p. m. Feb. 28 in the Venetian Ballroom of the Blackstone Hotel.

J. Frank Norris, Jr., was elected assistant toastmaster, or chairman of the "dirt" committee. Other members of the committee are Ed Wilson, Mark Hart and Slim Kinzy.

The price of the ticket, $1, includes several hours of dancing afterwards. Paul Specht and his orchestra will play.

The identity of "Miss B. B. A." will be disclosed the night of the affair. She will be guest of honor, and is now being elected by members of the department.

All students in the University are invited. Prof. John W. Ballard announced. No tickets will be sold after noon Tuesday, Feb. 27, Prof. Ballard emphasized.

The Largest user OF FINE TURKISH TOBACCOS

...one reason why Luckies taste better, smoother

In Turkey too, only the finest tobaccos are selected for Lucky Strike—the mildest leaves, the most delicate, the most aromatic. Lucky Strike is the world's largest user of fine Turkish tobaccos. Then these tender, delicate Turkish leaves are blended with choice tobaccos from our own Southland—to make your Lucky Strike a cigarette that is fully packed—so round, so firm—free from loose ends. That's why Luckies taste better, smoother. "It's toasted"—for throat protection—for finer taste.

From the Diamond Horse-Shoe of the Metropolitan Opera House Saturday at 1:45 P. M., Eastern Standard Time, over the Red and Blue Networks of NBC, LUCKY STRIKE will broadcast the Metropolitan Opera Company of New York in the complete Opera, "Faust."

Eleven Papers Serve Students In S. W. Schools

Daily Texan Circulation is 4500, Centenary Paper Only 750.

Skiff All-American

Oklahoma University Daily Also Serves Town of Norman— Is A. P. Member.

Four dailies, one semi-weekly and six weeklies comprise the student newspapers of the most widely-known colleges and universities of the Southwest. Circulations of the publications range from 750 to 4500.

The papers and the schools they represent are: The Daily Texan, University of Texas; The Oklahoma Daily, University of Oklahoma; the Daily O'Collegian, Oklahoma A.&M.; the Daily Lariat, Baylor University; the Semi-Weekly Campus, Southern Methodist University; The Battalion, Texas A.&M.; The Skiff, Texas Christian University; The Thresher, Rice Institute; the Tulane Hulloaloo, Tulane University; The Torador, Texas Technological College, and the Conglomerate, Centenary College.

The Daily Texan, published six days a week at the University of Texas, boasts the largest circulation of the group, 4500. The eight-column daily, which is published by Texas Student Publications, Inc., an organization which puts out all undergraduate publications at the university, averages four to eight pages per issue.

Hornaday is Texas Editor. Joe Hornaday, editor of the Texas this year, served as reporter, sports editor, copy reader, issue editor and associate editor before being elected to his present position. Burt Dyke is business manager. Editorially, the paper is against the issuing of passes to campus politicians for all University offices, against supervision of publications, and for student employment through the C. W. A.

The Oklahoma Daily, published at the University of Oklahoma, is not strictly a student newspaper as are the papers of the other schools, as the Daily serves the town of Norman, home of the university, as well as the student body. In fact, the paper's slo-

Biological Society to Meet Here March 3

The North Texas Biological Society will hold its annual meeting in the biology laboratory of T. C. U. March 3.

Papers on research work for the past year will be read. The program is in charge of Prof. Mayne Longmeyer, secretary of the organization. W. M. Winton, professor of biology, and Gayle Scott, professor of geology, are past presidents of the society.

gan states. "More than a student newspaper."

The paper averages four pages a day and is a seven-column publication. It is a member of the Associated Press and carries national, state and city, as well as campus, news. John Fortson is editor and Dudley Tiehner, business manager.

O'Collegian Has Own Plant. The Daily O'Collegian is published at Oklahoma A.&M. and is circulated both on the campus and in the town of Stillwater, home of the college. However, the paper has more of a campus nature than does the Oklahoma Daily. The paper is student controlled and is published by the O'Collegian Publishing Company, which owns its own newspaper plant.

The total circulation of the paper is 3500. In its editorial columns it is carrying on a fight for freedom of the press from student political cliques and for reform in the constitution of the student body. John Oliver, former reporter and rewrite editor, is editor. Harry Long is business manager.

The newspaper at Baylor University is called the Daily Lariat, although it is published only on four days a week—Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. The circulation of the paper, a four-column tabloid, is 1300. The general editorial platform is for the upbuilding of a "greater Baylor."

Elton L. Miller is at present editor of the paper. Miller served for two years as sports editor before becoming editor of the Lariat. Ed Cooch is business manager of the paper.

Southern Methodist University has a semi-weekly paper, the Semi-Weekly Campus. The paper, which has a circulation of 2000, is published by S. M. U. Students' Publishing Company.

S. M. U. Paper Is Cosmopolitan. The Campus has a broad scope in its editorial policy, seeking to explain national and international affairs as

Alumni Have Achieved Outstanding Positions

Van Zandt Jarvis Is City Mayor, Cockrell Is President of College.

T. C. U. alumni have never been governors, senators or presidents. None of them has achieved such notoriety as would send his name blazing across the newspaper headlines. But some of them have achieved places for themselves and are recognized as outstanding men.

The most outstanding T. C. U. alumnus in Fort Worth is probably Mayor Van Zandt Jarvis, who besides being mayor of the city, is president of the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, and also president of the T. C. U. Board of Trustees. In Texas, Milton E. Daniel of Breckenridge and Dan Rogers of Dallas are outstanding in banking. The Rev. L. D. Anderson, pastor of the First Christian Church in Fort Worth, is one of the outstanding Christian preachers in Texas.

Of the younger alumni, Dr. Newton B. Gaines and Dr. Leslie Chambers are known throughout the country for their scientific discoveries.

In the educational field, Dr. E. R. Cockrell stands out. Dr. Cockrell, formerly mayor of Fort Worth, is now president of William Woods College in Missouri.

No one can say who, as an alumnus from T. C. U., has done the most distinguished work, but Dr. Guy Inman, executive secretary of the Co-operation of Churches in Latin America, and Dr. Elsworth Faris, of the sociology department of the University of Chicago and former missionary in Belgian Congo, have probably achieved more nationwide acclaim.

Dr. Inman is one of the outstanding authorities in the world of Latin America. Dr. Faris is considered one of the leading anthropologists in America.

A Horned Frog Is Not a Frog, It Is a "Lacerte Tapayaxin!"

"Rah, rah, lacerte tapayaxin" would be what we would hear at our athletic tilts if we called the team by the technical name for the little animal used by T. C. U. as an emblem.

If we yelled "fight em tapaya," the name by which some scientists call this reptile, people might get the impression that our players were afraid. Tapaya comes from the Spanish verb meaning "to hide."

That's what the horned frog does when the first signs of cold weather approach, according to a thesis written by Willis G. Hewatt on the "Natural History of the Texas Horned Lizard." Usually in October the lizard buries himself beneath the surface of the earth. "Underneath the cross-ties of railroad tracks is a popular habitat with our emblem as the first Texas northern approaches. Here he abides until signs of spring.

Because of the great abundance of these animals in the vicinity of T.C.U., they were chosen as the symbol for this institution. In reality these reptiles are horned lizards rather than horned frogs or toads. They are called incorrectly because of their characteristic wide, flat, toad-like bodies.

Although the horned frog is an unofficial state symbol for Texas and is referred to in terms almost affectionate by citizens of the state, it is also found in other states. Varieties of the species have been found as far north as southern Kansas, south to Central Mexico, east to the Gulf of Mexico and as far west as the Rocky Mountains.

The members of our football team may be Horned Frogs, but Coach Schmidt would have a hard time teaching the players the method of defense used by a sure enough horned frog, which is that of squirting blood from its eye when enraged.

This is not a common habit and was thought at first to be a myth originating from the dragon-like appearance of the little lizard. When greatly excited the creature throws its head back, makes a rasping sound, its neck becomes rigid, its eyes bulge

Lockart Will Be 76 Years "Young" Next Wednesday

Dr. Clinton Lockhart, professor of Old Testament and Semitics in T. C. U. and a world authority on the Bible and Greek, will celebrate his 76th birthday Wednesday.

Dr. Lockhart probably holds the T. C. U. record for interesting careers. He has been preaching and teaching for 56 years. He estimates that he has preached approximately 4500 sermons and has held not less than 18,000 class recitations. He has delivered sermons in ten states and has visited a total of 15 foreign countries. They are: Canada, Italy, Greece, Egypt, Abyssinia, Arabia, Palestine, Syria, Asia Minor, Turkey, Austria, Servia, Germany, France and England.

Dr. Lockhart has studied 11 languages, including English, Greek, Latin, Arabic, Aramaic, Hebrew, Syriac, German, French, Italian and Spanish. In mentioning English, Dr. Lockhart said that he had studied it "very little."

"The study of most of the above mentioned languages was necessary, I thought for the pursuance of the study of Bible," Dr. Lockhart said, "while the visiting of the foreign countries was primarily for the investigation of the Bible lands."

Dr. Lockhart received his Ph.D. from Yale University in 1894. He came to T. C. U. in 1906, serving as its president from then until 1911.

Miss Gooden Speaks On "Social Relations"

Miss Opal Gooden, T. C. U. graduate in the class of 1931, spoke to the Y. M. C. A. in Clark Hall parlor Tuesday night on "Social Relations in the Co-Education Schools."

Albert Luper, accompanied by Miss Fay Jordan, played a violin solo. Miss Lucille Snyder and Evelyn Franklin sang a duet. They were accompanied by Miss Natalie Collins.

Johannie LeBus, vice-president of Y. M. C. A., was in charge of the program.

Haling With Broadcasting Co.

Elbert Halting, A.B. '22 with a major in journalism, is now writing continuity and publicity for the Southwest Broadcasting Company, with headquarters in Fort Worth. Halting was student assistant in journalism in 1931-32 and radio and feature editor of The Skiff the same year.

Asks for Social Calendars

Committees in charge of social activities for clubs and classes should turn in their social calendars for the spring semester at once, Dean Sadie T. Beckham has announced.

"Abraham Lincoln" Is Topic of Chapel Talk

"Abraham Lincoln" was the subject of an address by Stewart Hellman, T. C. U. graduate, who spoke in chapel Wednesday. Prof. J. W. Ballard acted as chairman. The program was in charge of the business administration department.

Judy Truelson read the scripture. Fred Cassidy pronounced the invocation, and John Kitchen gave the benediction.

Ed Lally and his orchestra played several popular songs as the second part of the program.

What do College Leaders HAVE IN COMMON?

AN OUTSTANDING characteristic of the men who lead in the classroom, on the campus, and in the social life of school is their vitality. They have the abundant energy that comes with good health.

Your health and well-being can be slowed down by common constipation. Yet this prevalent ailment can be corrected usually by eating a delicious cereal.

Two tablespoonfuls daily of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN will help promote regular habits. ALL-BRAN furnishes "bulk," vitamin B and iron. In the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

The most popular ready-to-eat cereals served in the dining-rooms of American colleges, eating-clubs and fraternities are made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. They include Kellogg's Corn Flakes, PEP, Rice Krispies, Wheat Krahmbles, and Kellogg's WHOLE WHEAT Biscuits. No Kaffee Hag Coffee—real coffee—97% caffeine free.

Keep on the sunny side of life.

ARE YOU A DESK DRUMMER?

JANGLED NERVES

How are YOUR nerves? TRY THIS TEST

With arms hanging straight at your sides—standing in erect position—rise on your toes as high as possible. See how long you can maintain this position without teetering or losing your balance. Average time is one minute.

Irving Jaffee (Camel smoker), former Olympic shooting champion, can maintain the position 10 minutes.

Jangled nerves make you throw away vital energy

Jangled nerves are like a leak in your reserve of energy. And if you could count the units of energy a normally high-strung person wastes each day—the result would astonish you.

So if you find yourself drumming on your desk or table—or indulging in any other nervous habits—start protecting your nerves.

Frog Basketeers Meet Mustangs Tomorrow Night

Dallas Tilt Is Obstacle in Way of Locals' Championship.

Seven Games Won

Allison and Kinzy Continue to Be Leading T. C. U. Scorers.

The Horned Frog basketeers set to work Wednesday afternoon to prepare their offense and defense for the S. M. U. Mustangs whom they will face in Dallas tomorrow night. Coach Francis Schmidt well remembers the stiff battle the Mustangs handed the Frogs here some weeks ago.

The Mustangs have won but two conference games thus far, but have given a good account of themselves in the five other contests. Saturday

Student Admission 25 Cents

T. C. U. students will be admitted to the Frog-Mustang basketball game in Dallas tomorrow night for 25 cents if they have their student activity ticket books with them, according to an announcement from the office of L. C. Wright. Students must show the ticket books to get in for this price, the announcement said.

night the Pony five showed much improvement in downing the Baylor Bears on the Mustang court. Coach St. Clair has been working his charges all week on a special defense which he hopes will stop the Frog scoring wonder, Richard Allison. But he has not spent all his time coaching the defense, for no little attention has been given to the Red and Blue's offense.

Zachary Scores 16 Points.

Smoky Zachary, scoring bee for the Pony five, finally found himself against the Bears and fattened his scoring total for the season by 16 points. For two years this former Nocona youth has been a thorn in the side of the Frog basketeers, and the Purple five will pay much attention to him tomorrow night.

Big Darrell Lester is expected again to control the tip over Wilhite. In the first meeting of the two jumpers, Lester had little trouble giving the tip-off to his team mates. If he is successful in repeating that feat tomorrow night, many points are likely to be scored from the fine tip plays which Coach Schmidt has given his charges.

Lester has outjumped most of the centers of the conference this season. The ones who have occasionally beaten him to the tip have had trouble in doing so. He has divided honors with the leading jumpers of the league, Joe Merka of A. & M. and Floyd Kelly of Rice.

Allison and Kinzy Are Scorers
Big Speedy Allison and Slim Kinzy are scheduled to carry the scoring brunt of the Purple five. Allison has been consistent in his scoring all season and Kinzy has added his part in running the Frog score high enough to spell victory.

Capt. Wallace Myers and Flash Walker can also be counted on for their points. These two cagers were the difference between victory and defeat on the Frog road trip. Cy Perkins and Judy Truelson have been showing steady improvement in the last two games and may be called on for much relief work in the Mustang contest.

Have Three More Games
If the Frogs can jump the Pony hurdle, they should be headed for a championship. They have three more games to play after the Mustang encounter, with Rice, Baylor and Texas. The Frogs have defeated these three ball clubs in previous meetings, and if they can repeat the feats of the past then the diamond-studded basketballs will be their reward.

To date the Schmidtmans have scored seven victories and have lost but one conference tilt. The Frogs have won but one cage championship in the history of the school. That was in 1931. Tuesday night the Baylor Bears invade Frogland for a return engagement with the Purple five. The Christians have not lost a home game since Baylor beat them here in 1931.

Dr. Hammond Will Speak On "Future of Prohibition"

Dr. W. J. Hammond will speak over KTAT Sunday afternoon on the subject of "The Future of Prohibition." Sunday evening Dr. Hammond will speak at the fellowship dinner of the Memorial Christian Church of Dallas. He will also speak at the regular church service that night. The Rev. Travis White, former student here, is pastor of the Memorial Christian Church.

Burr-Head's SPORT GOSSIP

By CHARLIE CASPER

ROGGIES, welcome home! The student body is proud of the success of the Frog cagers. The students have shown that they have been and that they will remain to be behind the basketball team. The road has been rugged and the going has been tough, but the team has come over the rough spots in a fine fashion.

The road from here on out is going to be just as rough however, as the one that has already been traveled, and here's hoping that the team will take the bumps on this end of the pathway in the same manner that it took the rough spots on the first end.

There are four stiff hurdles in the road yet to be traveled, and they appear to be getting higher each week. The hurdles are the S. M. U. Mustangs, the Baylor Bears, the Rice Owls and the Texas Longhorns. At one time or another during the season, the Frogs have taken their measures and have left them on the short end of the score; so they are likely to be double tough in the return battles.

On the road trip with the Frog basketball team: Red Stanton and his bridge playing . . . Red talks a good bridge game . . . He took the place of Red Oliver by giving the elevator girls a break with his "screechy" voice . . . Judy Truelson lost all his clothes and had to borrow a shirt from Coach Schmidt to have a date with a nurse. He came in with lipstick all over the shirt; so the coach got a shirt cleaned for nothing . . . Speedy Allison was the popular boy of the journey, as a letter from Jarvis Hall was waiting for him upon his arrival. . . And the letter said Speedy was a gentleman! . . . Youse guys and goils should ask Darrell Lester and Cy Perkins to tell you what they saw on their last stop.

Lester kept on looking for the Rice boys downtown. My, My, Dora, they live farther out than we do . . . Bob Chappell found himself a boy friend in Houston who offered to take him to a show . . . Flash Walker told the boys to pass the ball to him and he would win the ball game . . . This happened when the Christians were seven points behind. They thought Walker was joking, but when they started feeding him the ball the Frog score started mounting . . . Slim Kinzy had his pep squad out for the Rice game. The pep delegation consisted of some twenty-five nurses and their young 'uns . . . Wally Myers escorted Mrs. Beulah Boggers around. He told me he got a letter from a red-headed girl here in T. C. U.

Track season is here again, and Possum Clark says he is going to take us to Laredo on Washington's Birthday. We have several outstanding men out this season, and don't be surprised if Capt. Jinx Powell, Jimmie Simpson, Sid Lightfoot, Louie Trainer (a former freshman sprinter who didn't come back last year), and several others set some new marks. Poss also has plans to attend the Butler Relays this year.

For your radio entertainment, radio station KTAT will present Slim Kinzy and yours truly at 5:15 today for 15-minute broadcast.

The University Christian cagers, winners of the first-half race of the Major Sunday School League, defeated the Poly Baptist quintet last Thursday night, 20 to 13. Joe Carpenter was high point man, with eight points.

The church team has won two and lost one in the second play-off and is now in second place. Jack Graves, star center for the Senior A intramural basketball team, and Jay Smith, freshman, have recently joined the Christian team.

Varsity Baseball Will Begin After Cage Games End

25 Players Expected to Answer Call, Says Meyer.

Frogs 1933 Champs

S. M. U. Will Not Enter Team in Conference Race This Season.

By PAUL DONOVAN
Coach Dutch Meyer has announced that varsity baseball practice will begin immediately after the close of the basketball season.

The opening call will be answered by more than twenty-five candidates, according to Coach Meyer. This spring the Frogs will defend their championship won last year, the first ever won by a T. C. U. nine. From that championship team there will be ten lettermen returning this year. They are Wallace Myers and Fred Miller, catchers; Hersel Kinzy, Dan Harston and Jimmy Jacks, pitchers; Capt. Elbert Walker, Warren Logan and Frank Lozo, infielders, and Jack Graves and Paul Donovan, outfielders.

Two Squadmen Return
Boaz Hoskins, pitcher, and Bill Hudson, outfielder, are the squadmen returning from last year's team. The remaining candidates will be sophomores reporting for the first time.

According to Coach Meyer, there will be only four teams entered in the conference race this spring. S. M. U. is the school which has withdrawn. However, the Frogs will probably play more conference games this year than last because the tentative schedule calls for four games with each school. Texas, Baylor and A. & M. are the other schools which will place teams on the field.

Plans are now being made for a four-game series to be played with Oklahoma University as a part of the Frogs' practice schedule. Two games will be played here and two on the Sooners' diamond. Other practice games are being arranged for the Purple Nine.

Squad Will Be Large
The 1934 squad will be the largest to greet Coach Meyer in several years. There will be experienced players for each position, and with the added strength of several promising sophomores, prospects are bright for a successful season for the Purple.

The pitching staff this year is expected to be bolstered by Darrell Lester, big right hander, who twirled well for the freshman nine last spring. He is the only new pitcher expected to report for practice.

There will be several additions to the catching staff. Jimmy Stanton, Dutch Kline, Elmer Seybold and Aubrey Linnie, all experienced receivers, will be on hand for the opening practice. It will be the largest number of catchers Coach Meyer has ever had on his squad.

In the infield the newcomers are Bobby Stow, Howard Pulliam, Taldon Manton, Jimmy Lawrence, Harold Fullenwider and Tracy Kellow. Two outfielders, J. H. Hudson and R. J. Duckworth, complete the present list of sophomore candidates for the nine. The number may be increased after practice begins.

Dates for the opening practice games will be announced soon, and the conference schedule is to be released in the near future.

Can He Do It?

Can big Darrell Lester, sophomore center on the Horned Frog basketball team, control the tip-off in the Frogs' remaining games as well as he is doing in this picture? If he can, then a championship for the Christians is well-nigh assured. The Jacksboro lad is probably the most important cog in the Frog machine and to date has got his share of the tip-offs.

Frogs Climb Up Victory Ladder

Plaster 40-32 Defeat on Farmers—Beat Owls 29 to 27.

The Horned Frog basketball five climbed another step higher on the championship ladder Saturday and Tuesday nights by downing the Texas Aggies and the Rice Owls. They left the Farmers in College Station on the short end of a 40-to-32 score Saturday night, and departed from Houston Tuesday night on the long end of a 29-to-27 tally. Richard Allison was high scorer in the Aggie tilt, with 18 markers, and tied Flash Walker for scoring honors against Rice, with 10 points.

Showing a brand of basketball offense and defense that only champions could display, the Frogs rambled through the Aggie defense Saturday night. When the Farmers were on the offense the Christians formed such an airtight defense that the Red and White cagers had to rely on their long field goals to score.

Allison Stopped—for a While
Walker and Capt. Wallace Myers jumped into the limelight in the first half of the Aggie tilt when Allison found that he was bottled up, as far as scoring was concerned. In the second period, Allison went on a scoring spree, making 14 points in as many minutes to bring his night's total to 18 tallies. For the second consecutive time Slim Kinzy was forced from the game because of excessive fouling.

The Purple quintet found the going a bit tougher in Houston, and managed to find their scoring combination only in the last few minutes of play. With five minutes to go, and Allison out of the game because of fouls, the Frogs realized the fact that they were seven points behind. Walker, Kinzy and Cy Perkins went to work. When Rice started stalling with the ball, they dove into the Owl defense and brought the ball down the court and scored field goals in the last few minutes of play to win the ball game.

Perkins Is Hero
The hero of the Rice game was Cy Perkins, for during the time that he was in the game he hustled the ball down the court in such fine fashion that the Owls couldn't get their hands on it long enough to start their stalling maneuvers. Perkins grabbed the ball from one of the Rice players, just as the timekeeper was getting ready to pull the trigger on the gun, and shot a one-handed field goal from beyond the foul line, that spelled victory for the Christian five.

Frog Tracksters Report for Duty

Team Will Participate in Meet at Laredo Next Thursday.

The Horned Frog track squad began practice last week under the direction of Coach Mack Clark and Capt. Jinx Powell. Approximately twenty men reported for varsity practice the first day. Freshman aspirants have also been working with the varsity.

Track stock dropped to a low level recently when Rex Clark, Frog sprint star, left school, but took a sudden jump one week later when Louie Trainer, former star freshman sprinter, re-entered school. Trainer made an excellent showing as a freshman in 1932, but failed to return to school the following term. His entrance this semester brought smiles of joy to the face of the Frog cinder mentor.

Several stars from last season returned for the initial practice and have been working hard trying to get in condition for their first meet in Laredo next week. Coach Clark announced today that he would enter ten men in the Washington Day Track and Field Meet which will be held in Laredo next Thursday. Many of the outstanding cinder stars of the Southwest will be entered in this meet.

Coach Clark will rely on his veterans for the initial practice and James Simpson is his returning middle distance letterman. After basketball season is over, Robert Chappell and Tony Vargas will begin working on the longer distance races. Trainer, Herman Pittman and George Kline will form the foundation of the Frog sprinting power. Charlie Casper will be back in the hurdles. George Magoffin will defend his pole vaulting honors. Paul Hill, Lynn Brown and Bud Taylor are the returning weight stars.

New men expected to report are Sid Lightfoot, Sankin Sano, Dave Hickey, Charles Oswalt and several others.

Plans Are Made For Scouting Fraternity

Executive of Fort Worth Area Leads Discussion And Gives Ideas.

Plans for organizing a Scouting fraternity in the University were discussed Wednesday night at a meeting held in Clark Hall. A. J. Fulkerson, Scout executive of the Fort Worth Area Council, led the discussion and suggested the organization as a climax to the local observance of the 24th anniversary of Scouting in America.

"No pink-tea parties, but real get-togethers in over-night hikes every month," Fulkerson suggested. A. L. Crouch reported that a survey disclosed that there are 70 past and present Scouts in the University. Among this group there are 18 Eagle Scouts, one of whom is now a Scoutmaster. Four are assistant Scoutmasters.

A steering committee was appointed to consist of two members from each class. It includes: Seniors, Joe Clark and Jack Langdon; juniors, Leonard Wallace and Ben Sargent; sophomores, Karl Parker and A. L. Crouch; and freshmen, Mitchell McGraw and Vernon Brown. A meeting has been called for 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in Clark Hall parlor. All who are interested in such an organization are urged to see either Crouch, Dalton Stallard or Karl Parker.

Senior "A" Cagers Cinch Championship

Defeat Juniors 45 to 35—Sophomores Sure of Crown in "B" League.

The senior team cinched the cage championship of the intramural "A" League Wednesday night by taking a hard-fought battle from the Juniors, 45 to 35. The Senior's plays usually worked perfectly against the Juniors. Joe Carpenter was high scorer with 14 points, although his teammate, "Spec" Logan, ran him a close race by scoring 12 points. Tracy Kellow, playing for the Juniors, also made 12 points.

The Soph "A's" went into second place Wednesday night by trouncing the Frosh 44 to 28. Duckworth, Sophomore, and Phillips, Freshman, tied for scoring honors with 12 each. The loss cinched the cellar position for the Frosh.

In the "B" League, the Sophs overwhelmed their closest rivals, the Outlaws, by the lop-sided score of 62 to 22, to cinch the championship. Willis Cannon rang up 13 field goals and sank three of his five gift shots for the amazing total of 29 points. Ronald Wheeler sank 11 field goals to score 22 points.

The Frosh "B" cagers won their first game Wednesday afternoon by hustling out a 30-to-17 victory over the Seniors. Otis Grant, Frosh forward, carried off scoring honors with 12 points. The victory put the Frosh into a tie for the basement berth with the Seniors.

Final games in the two leagues will be played next week. Tuesday night the Seniors will meet the Juniors, and the Frosh will meet the Sophs in the "A" League. "B" League games will be played Wednesday afternoon, the Frosh meeting the Sophs and the Seniors playing the Outlaws.

Church College Is World Leader, Says Pres. Waits

T. C. U.'s Contributions Is Subject of Radio Address.

Talk One of Series

In Past Few Years Students Have Come to University From 20 States.

"The church college is truly the custodian of the ideal elements of our civilization," President E. M. Waits said in a radio address on "The Contribution of T. C. U. to the State and Nation," given over station KTAT recently.

The address was one of a series being sponsored by the University on "Christian Education."

"I believe in the Christian college," the president said, "because through it I have become acquainted with the great mean of all ages, because it has stabilized my purpose, because it has made me see more in life than money and fame, because it has given me an amazing world of music, art, literature, a world of the imagination for retreat in time of need, and because it has proved to me the existence of an eternal world above the temporal world."

T. C. U. Has Nearly 3000 Grads

President Waits pointed out that approximately one-fourth of the liberal arts students in the United States attend tax-supported institutions and another one-fourth attend the large endowed colleges such as Harvard and Columbia, while the other one-half are enrolled in the smaller independent colleges, which number more than six hundred.

"These latter institutions," he said, "are founded and are sustained chiefly by Christian philanthropy. When a student selects one of these colleges, he is not shutting himself into a side eddy of American liberal arts education, but is launching out into the main stream."

President Waits said that in the past few years students have come to T. C. U. from 20 states and a half-dozen foreign countries. Today there are nearly three thousand graduates and approximately twenty-five thousand ex-students, many of whom are in places of distinction in the social, professional, political and commercial life of the world.

According to the president, Christian institutions of learning form character and keep it from having to be reformed later. "Prevention," he said, "is better than reclamation."

Sums Up College's Contributions

Using the church college, and not T. C. U. in particular, as an example, President Waits summed up the contributions of the school to the state and nation in a personification, saying, "Hear the church college as she speaks to us today:

"I am the church college.

"I am the oldest institution of higher learning in America. Before there had been state universities or other institutions of college rank, I had been founded. For three hundred years I have served my country well. Three centuries of achievement vindicate my right to be.

"I stand for life's highest ideals. I search for truth, believing God's universe is fireproof, and that I may light the torch of Truth everywhere. I lay emphasis upon genuine scholarship. My graduates are among the nation's greatest scholars.

"I believe in God. In the student's expanding circle of adjustment I open wide the portal to the unseen world of spirit. My sons and daughters are men and women of vision and spiritual power.

"I train for service. Through me, culture dominates the work of the world. I give leadership to the nation. From me have come presidents, governors, legislators, judges, educators, editors, in greater proportion than from any other source. Upon me the church depends for its preachers, its teachers, its missionaries—all its leaders. Without me the work of the church cannot go on.

"I deserve your support. I receive from each student less than half the cost of what I give. From me the poor are not turned away. I still look to you, the members of the church, to make this possible. I am sore pressed today. I cannot continue the splendid record of the past unless I have help.

"I am the church college. I need your prayers and your gifts."

Timothy Group To Fill Pulpits

Will Preach at Different Church in City Each Sunday.

Members of the Timothy Club will fill the pulpit of a different church in the city every Sunday night this semester, according to George Cheryrhomes, president.

This series of experimental preaching programs will open at the Boulevard Christian Church Sunday. Joe Findley will preach on "Spiritual Famine" and Will Wetzel will have "Climbing Life's Peak" for his subject.

The following Sunday the club will have charge of the services at Riverside Christian Church and at Arlington Heights Christian Church the next week.

Prof. F. E. Billington discussed "Building Sermons" and the Rev. A. D. Rogers of Troy spoke briefly at the meeting held Monday night in Brite Clubroom.

A social will be held next Tuesday night. Mrs. Karl Parker will be in charge of the program.

English Department Plans Story Contest

Freshman Composition Classes to Get Prizes for Best Manuscripts.

Prizes are being offered by the department to members of English 11a and 11b classes who submit the best stories during the spring semester, according to Dr. Rebecca W. Smith.

Current books will be given to those winning first and second prizes for works of fiction of 2000 to 5000 words, and non-fiction prose of 1000 to 3500 words.

Rules of the contest are: (1) The work must be original. (2) All manuscripts must be handed in to the English office on or before May 1. (3) Manuscripts must be prepared in the manner required by the instructor from whom the student is taking English 11a or 11b. (4) Judges will be competent persons outside of the department. Decisions will be made by May 15.

Mrs. Campbell Is Class Mother

Mrs. X. R. Campbell has been chosen class mother of the junior class, succeeding Mrs. W. C. Morro who has resigned, according to Lon Beavers, class president.

The Skiff Rates "All-American" The Skiff, published weekly at Texas Christian University, has been rated "All-American" by the National Scholastic Press Association critical service for the past three years. The seven-column paper has a circulation of 1500.

Through its editorials this year The Skiff has striven to get the Student Body Association to join the National Student Federation of America, to find a suitable spot in which to place a trophy case donated to the school by the class of 1933 and to have student activities fees collected by the University business office.

Joe Sargent, editor, has had experience as reporter, makeup editor and assistant editor on the paper. Edwin Van Orden was business manager of the paper during the fall semester. Atys Gardner is present business manager.

Student Opinion Guides Thresher The Rice Thresher, seven-column weekly, has a circulation of 1304. According to the editor, Peter Maniscalco, student opinion determines the paper's stand on any question. Maniscalco served as a reporter and as sports editor before being promoted to editor of the paper. Edwin T. McClanahan is business manager.

The Tulane Hullabaloo, weekly published at Tulane University, has a circulation of 2700. The paper has seven columns. In its editorial platform the Hullabaloo stands for promotion of student activities, liberalism in undergraduate thought, and furtherance of University enterprises. The paper runs from four to eight pages per issue.

Harry de Buys is editor of the publication this year. He served as assistant sports editor and sports editor before becoming editor of the paper. Linden B. Arthur is business manager.

Hudson's Monicker Inserted in Story By His Connivance

Bill "Knuckle-Head" Hudson last week connived to get his name undeservedly into print in The Skiff, according to Ben Boswell, author of an article in which Hudson's name appeared, who this week emphatically denounced the Newark lad.

In last week's paper, a story by Boswell on an all-campus quiz credited Hudson, along with Otto Nielsen, with making a perfect record on the questionnaire.

"The truth of the matter is," Boswell said, "that Nielsen was the only one who answered all the questions. Hudson, as he admitted this week to me and to Joe Sargent, editor of The Skiff, had previous knowledge of the questions on the test before he appeared before me and rattled off the answers.

"I flunked him on the quiz for cheating," said Boswell, "and did not include his name in the story I wrote. However, the rascal swore to a copy reader that he made a perfect record on the test, and the copy reader, taking him at his word, inserted his name in the story."

BOUNDARIES

From a canvas taut of Texas plains The hills and trees were shorn; Then stretched to meet the borders far And pinned with cactus thorn.

This level vast with its yellow grass And scuttling lizards for design— Oh, this is the earth cloth that I know. This toneless tract is mine.

And yet at night when the wind goes by, Sweeping the inland clean, I think of a river, winding low, Where trees, moss-bearded, lean.

They Satisfy

... people know it!

Same thing with a good cigarette or a good wood-fire. All you need is a light. And all you want is a cigarette that keeps tasting right whether you smoke one or a dozen.

That's what people like about Chesterfields. You can count on them. They're milder—and they taste better.

In two words, they satisfy. That says it.
