E. Mothershead has issued a plea for voluntary contributions to keep the call desk supplied with ink.

Coach Schmidt At Ohio State For Conference

Is Considering Offer to Become Mentor for Buckeyes.

Opinion Is, 'He'll Go'

Talk Has It That Line Coach Bear Wolf Is Likely to Be Taken Along.

Coach Francis A. Schmidt left the campus Tuesday and arrived in Columbus, Ohio, Wednesday night, where he conferred with officials of Ohio State University yesterday regarding the position of head football coach, at that institution.

Coach Schmidt was met Wednesday night at the train by L. W. St. John, Ohio State's director of athletics, and Prof. Thomas French, chairman of the athletic board.

According to friends of the coach, the Frog mentor, who has given T. C. U. the best five-year football and basketball record in the Southwest Conference, will accept the Ohio State position if conditions there are favorable.

"Coaching is a profession," said Schmidt, "and a man always wants to go just as high in his chosen profession as he can. I have always wanted a shot at the big time, and we will all agree that Ohio State is in the major competition."

Ohio State is a member of the Big Ten football conference and plays regularly such teams as Michigan, Iowa and Illinois. In the next two years it has a schedule which also includes Notre Dame, Army, and other prominent football elevens.

According to some persons about the campus, in the event that Coach Schmidt is chosen for the Ohio State position he is likely to take Line Coach Bear Wolf with him. Wolf's 1932 line was recognized as having been one of the greatest in the country.

Can We Take It?

Sport followers of the Southwest were startled by the news that Coach Francis Schmidt may leave T. C. U. to accept the position of head coach at Ohio State University.

As yet, no decision has been reached; it will be made soon. With matters as they are, there is little need to discuss the situation.

So, Coach Schmidt, whatever your decision may be, we wish you many more years of success and happiness.

Library and Front Hall, or a Social Center?

The Skiff heartily indorses the suggestions set forth recently by the faculty library committee for student behavior in the main reading room.

The attitude and the suggestions of the committee breathe the very spirit of co-operation; they are due a like response on the part of the student body.

The library has been a social gathering place; few will deny that. Such a place is needed. Adherence to the library suggestions will naturally diminish social contacts between men and women there.

One student has suggested the furnishing of a reading, game and music room for men and women. Perhaps a little pondering over that suggestion will bring happy results.

Southwest Cage Champions!

For the second time in its athletic history, T. C. U.'s basketball quintet is wearing the Southwest Conference championship crown.

The Frogs and their coach are to be congratulated for the winning of the crown. The championship road was rough and full of stumbling blocks.

Too much praise can't be heaped on the shoulders of Coach Francis A. Schmidt for the wonderful work he displayed throughout the season.

Rated as just another ball club when the season started, the Frogs have come through like veterans. At the beginning of the current season there were no stars listed on the Frog roster.

When the season started critics pronounced the Arkansas Razorbacks and the Texas Longhorns as possible winners of the crown.

One More Sermon

Ability in office — That's what we people want in all the men and women they elect to fill all offices.

Each class or club officer on the campus would do well to sit down for one minute in the rush of getting educated and figure out for himself a few theories about which club he holds office or offices in.

There are some good office-holders and some bad office-holders on the campus. Does any student ever stop to think which he has in his club, which he is?

There's Something Lacking

A very small percentage of the men and women in the world today are college trained. Which means that when present students are graduated they will mix and mingle with a group that is in the upper bracket as far as education and culture are concerned.

There is need on this campus of an organization which tells us that Brahms was a musician, that music is an art, and that there is a correct form for declining formal invitations.

We can't know it all, but the student will soon find upon his leaving the University, that educated people have a conversant knowledge of many subjects on which many of us are almost ignorant.

RAMBLING in Skiff Files

By GRACE MALONEY

One Year Ago (March 3, 1933):

The plans for the laying of the cornerstone of the University Christian Church on Sunday, March 5, were announced.

The names of 135 candidates for June degrees were announced. Clayton Hamilton, dramatic critic and friend of Walter Hampden, spoke in the University Auditorium on 'Caponsacchi.'

Miss Mabel Major wrecked her automobile. Miss Doris Higgins was 'Miss B. B. A.'

The Horned Frogs lost to A. & M., 34 to 29, at College Station, thus losing their chance for a tie for the basketball championship.

Five Years Ago (March 6, 1929): Coach Francis A. Schmidt started spring football training.

The annual Class Rush Day activities were set for Monday, March 9, by Dean L. L. Leftwich, chairman of the committee in charge of the arrangements.

Miss Siddle Joe Johnson had two of her poems accepted by the Poetry Magazine. Mrs. Helen Brightwell, proprietress of Helen's Beauty Shop, told a Skiff reporter that one of the boys in T. C. U. was a regular customer at her shop.

T. C. U. defeated the S. M. U. cage team in the last game of the season. The junior-senior banquet was held in the Peacock Dining Room of the Westbrook Hotel.

Thirty candidates reported for baseball practice. A bill proposed by Dr. E. R. Cockrell, father of the law school of Texas Christian University, passed the legislature and was sent to the governor for his signature.

M. E. Daniel returned to T. C. U. for a short visit.

IMMORTALITY

Immortal? I believe . . . and yet, perhaps I'm not quite sure until your daughter comes into the room. She looks at me with eyes So strangely yours, and laughs at me with lips So sensitive, so like your own—your lips! Her daughter will have eyes and lips the same, And maybe your slow laughter, your quiet depth.

NEW BOOKS

By VERNA BERRONG

Since the well-known depression has been with us there has been an abundance of books on economics. Every one seems to have something to say on the subject. A few of the latest books dealing with economic subjects are: 'The Economics of the Recovery Program,' by seven Harvard economists; 'A Living From the Land,' by William B. Duryee, secretary of agriculture of New Jersey, and 'Artist Among the Bankers,' by Will Dyson.

Katherine Mayo, author of 'Mother India,' recently made a study of the pension and bonus systems of the United States. Her book revealing the abuses of these is 'Soldiers Next!'

Some of the new biographies are: 'Keats' Craftsmanship,' by M. R. Ridley; 'Sarah Bernhardt,' by Maurice Baring; 'William the Conqueror,' by Hilaire Belloc; 'Queen Elizabeth,' by J. E. Neale; 'Mary of Scotland,' by Maxwell Anderson; 'The Letters of Lord Byron,' selected by R. G. Howarth with an introduction by Andre Maurois, and 'The Epic of Captain Scott,' by Martin Lindsay.

For those students in the University who are taking the Southwest Literature course, Nola Henderson's new book should be particularly interesting. 'This Much is Mine' is the story of a feminine Tom Sawyer of Oklahoma told, so the advertisements say, in Southwest idiom. Most of the people of the Southwest hardly realize that their language is much different from that of any other part of the United States; so here is a chance to see ourselves as other see us.

'Pirates of Venus,' by Edgar Rice Burroughs is another story of the supernatural to add to the list of the Tarzan books and the stories about Mars.

More books on the depression! It seems an inexhaustible subject and who will deny that plenty more could be written on it? 'An Altar in the Fields,' by Ludwig Lewisohn is a novel dealing with the depression. 'The United States in World Affairs in 1933,' edited by Walter Lippman and 'My Life and Hard Times,' by James Thurber are economic and biographical stories of the said depression.

More mystery! Did the tiger kill the lady or had she been murdered before she was cast in the cage? For the answer read Carolyn Wells' 'In the Tiger's Cage.'

Another 'Washington Merry-go-round,' only more revealing. 'The Puppet-Show on the Potomac,' by Rufus Darr II is, says the New York Times, 'mirthfully irreverent stories of the politically great . . . goes further than any others in frankness.'

And if you're really interested in revelations, read 'Who Rules America? A Century of Invisible Government,' by John McConaughy.

Warwick Deeping's newest book is 'Valour.'

Interesting titles, at random: 'The Spider in the Cup,' by Joseph Shearing; 'Come In At the Door,' by William March; 'Kapoot,' by Carveth Wells and 'The Postman Always Rings Twice,' by James M. Cain.

During the season the Schmidtmen scored 148 field goals and 116 free throws for a total of 412 points. Their opponents scored a total of 346 points. Richard "Speedy" Allison, who apparently has a cinch on second place in the conference individual scoring race, rang up a total of 136 points for the season.

Jack Gray, Texas forward, has cinched first place in the scoring race and has another game to go. Frogs Beat Longhorns 29 to 25. Last Friday night the Frogs started on the last lap of their race for the conference crown with a 29-to-25 victory over the Texas Longhorns in Austin. For more than thirty minutes of the game the Frogs trailed the Steers. Then Flash Walker and Darrell Lester brought the Christians to the front with their excellent ball-handling and goal-shooting.

Once in the lead, the Frogs never allowed the Steers to get close. The victory cinched a tie for first place in the conference race for the Schmidtmen.

Saturday night in Dallas the S. M. U. Mustangs turned from their usual role of Waterloo for the Frogs and became benefactors. The Ponies defeated Rice, the only team which had a chance to tie the Schmidtmen for the crown, 36 to 30, to hand the T. C. U. team the undisputed championship.

Christians Defeat Owls 42 to 25. Monday night in the T. C. U. gym the Frogs showed their right to the championship by trouncing the Owls 42 to 25. The champions showed their caliber and stopped practically every offensive attack the Feathered Tribe offered. Lester, Slim Kinzy and Walker stepped into the limelight and proved their ability by hitting the basket from all sides of the court.

Allison and Capt. Wallace Myers also gave a good account of themselves. Allison and Kinzy tied for high-scoring honors with 10 markers each.

The Frogs had planned to enter the Southern A. A. U. cage tournament in New Orleans at the close of the season, but the tournament conflicted with conference games and Coach Schmidt was forced to withdraw his charges from the play.

Six senior members of the Horned Frog team—Capt. Myers, Kinzy, Walker, Allison, Robert Chappell and Cy Perkins—brought their college cage careers to an end in the Rice game.

Sophomore Five Are Champions

Sinking of Free Shots Spells Victory for Winning Team.

A determined Soph "B" team out-fought and out-hustled the Senior "A" cagers Wednesday afternoon to upset the dope and win the 1934 intramural basketball championship. The score of the game was 47 to 42.

Led by Aubrey Linne, husky 215-pound center, the Sophs took the lead at the first and held it for three-fourths of the first period. The Seniors, confident of victory before the game, suddenly realized that they were behind for the first time this year, started playing man-for-man defense and soon forced into the lead. They started feeding the ball to Joe Carpenter near the basket, who sank several brilliant and difficult shots to put the Seniors on the long end of a 23-to-24 count as the half ended.

Linne, who got the majority of tip-offs from Jack Graves, captain and high-scorer for the Seniors all year, again got hot in the second half and soon proved to be the deciding factor in the Soph victory. The Seniors, who saw the championship slipping through their fingers, began fighting so aggressively that Johnny Kitchen, Graves, Carpenter, and Lynn Brown had four personal fouls marked up against them. Since there was only one substitute, Charlie Casper, the Seniors were allowed to remain in the game, but an extra free shot was allowed the Sophs each time one of these men fouled. The Sophs made 13 out of 24 free shots good, while the Seniors bettered them by sinking 12 of their 17 free shots.

Linne was high scorer of the game with 21 points. Graves, with Picking an all-Southwest Conference basketball team this season is like looking for a dozen needles in a haystack. The loop was overcrowded with cage stars. The above men are picked because, in my opinion, they displayed all-conference qualities throughout the season and thoroughly deserve the honor.

Denton Wins District Tourney

The Denton High School Broncs won the Interscholastic League District 10 basketball tournament, which was held in the T. C. U. basketball gym last Friday and Saturday. They defeated the Arlington High Colts 36 to 16 before a crowd of more than four hundred fans.

more than one reason. Both boys have staged a neck-and-neck battle throughout the season for first place in the scoring race. It is true that both have been stopped dead cold in several games, but, at that, they have always come through when needed. It was hard to leave off such men as Moody of Arkansas, Harry Journey of Rice, Taylor Wilkins of A. & M., James of Baylor and a host of other deserving boys.

Center Selection Difficult. The most difficult selection of the five came at the center position. It was between Lester and Merka all the way. Both men have been outstanding for their teams this season and have more than once proved to be the difference between victory and defeat. Lester was one of the most improved pivot men of the conference.

Merka has been the spark plug of the Aggie quintet all season and is a senior, and for that reason draws the call over Lester. Lester's value to the Frogs ran high in words and figures. Unless misfortune befalls the Jackboro cager, all-American honors will be his for the two remaining years. Too, it was hard to leave off such men as Jean Francis

Scholarship Body To Enlarge Into National Group

Regional Organization Planned—Name to Be Alpha Chi.

To Meet Annually

Benedict, Texas, Is President—Dr. Lord Vice-President of New Council.

The Scholarship Society of the South will be enlarged into a national organization similar to Phi Beta Kappa and Phi Kappa Phi, according to Dr. John Lord, past president of the society and now vice-president of the newly-organized national council. The name of the national organization will be Alpha Chi, Dr. Lord stated.

According to Dr. Lord, the institutions which made up the Scholarship Society of the South will constitute region one of the national organization. The rest of the United States will be divided up into similar regional districts, he said.

At the meeting of the council in Denton last week, to which Granville Walker was delegate, it was voted to hold next year's regional council meeting at Ouachita College, Arkadelphia, Ark.

Dr. Lord stated that the different regions will hold annual meetings but that a national gathering would be held only when occasion demanded.

The officers of the new organization are: Dr. H. Y. Benedict, Texas University, president; Dr. Lord, vice-president, and Alfred Nolle, Southwest Teachers' College, secretary-treasurer. Other members of the council are: S. H. Whitley, East Texas State Teachers' College, Claude Howard, Southwestern University, and Sister Clement of the College of the Incarnate Word.

Dr. Lord's speech on "World Peace" before the recent meeting and also that of Dr. Rebecca Smith, "From Flaccus to David," will be published in the yearly proceedings of the organization.

of Texas, Newby of Arkansas and others.

The Walker-Myers guard combination couldn't be separated when all-conference picking time came around. These two boys have worked together like veterans all year. Walker, easily the outstanding ball player of the conference this year, was new at the guard position but came through as though he were a veteran. His ball handling, which has never been excelled in this conference, and the tight guarding of Myers were outstanding all year for the Christians.

Myers was a "pain in the neck" to what ever man he was assigned to guard. Such men as Parks of Baylor, Kinzy of T. C. U., Truelson of T. C. U., Fagan of Texas, Carter of S. M. U., Howell of Arkansas, and Eaton of Rice received no little consideration. Bennie Clark of Baylor was shifted to a guard position on the second team because of the work he displayed as a guard all season. Actually, he was a center.

Kinzy All-Around Player.
I chose to pick Slim Kinzy in the role of an all-conference utility man because Slim played every position on the Frog quintet sometime or another during the season. In every department he was a star. There was no leaving the Marshall cager off the first team, so he was shifted to the role of utility man.

Seniority counted but little in this selection. The work displayed throughout the season by each individual served as the foundation for each selection. It was because the men deserved the honor that they were honored with the all-conference selections of The Skiff.
