Book Buyer Will Be at Bookstore Monday

Students will have an opportunity to sell all their college books Monday when a buyer from Missouri Book Stores will be on the campus, according to Miss Laura Shelton.

Miss Shelton will pay half price for any books which can be used at T. C. U. The price paid by the buyer from the Missouri Book Stores will be lower than that paid by Miss Shelton but she will buy only selected books while the students may sell any books to the Missouri Book Store representative.

Of June Class Doris White Is Youngest at 18!

Miss Doris Jane White, a member of the T. C. U. graduating class this year, will receive an A. B. degree at the age most students have reached when they graduate from high school.

Miss White is 18 years old. How did she do it? Well, instead of entering kindergarten or the first grade when she began her schooling, this Fort Worth student began in the third grade—and showed that she knew enough to stay there.

Then, when she reached high school, she went through in three and a half instead of four years. She graduated from Central High School in Fort Worth at the age of 14.

Miss White majored in English at the University. She has been on the honor roll her sophomore, junior and senior years. She was a member of the Parabola for three years, the Y. W. C. A. two years, W. A. A. two years, and Sigma Tau Delta one year.

Dancing Included In '34-'35 Program

New University Social Policy Worked Out at Meeting.

A social program for the University for next year, in which dancing is included, was worked out at a joint meeting of the administrative committee, the social calendar committee and the Student Council yesterday afternoon.

According to an announcement from the groups which worked out the policy, the annual President's reception, the opening event on the calendar, will be held as usual. Plans for the Freshman Prom will be worked out by representatives of the Student Council, the Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A. and the social calendar committee and will be announced next year.

One formal all-University dance will be held under the direction of the Student Council in the fall semester. Every University organization may have the privilege if desired of holding one social affair a semester, the program to be approved by the sponsor of the organization and the social calendar committee.

Informal dances, to be sponsored by the Student Council and the social calendar committee, may be conducted once a month. A similar program of one formal and several informal dances may be carried out in the spring semester.

Jack Langdon, president-elect of the student body, speaking for the groups which worked out the program, added that no commercialization of a dance will be permitted by an organization or an individual. All dances are to be self-supporting with a non-profit policy.

The Student Council will attempt to work out plans with Prof. Claude Sammis whereby student musicians will form an orchestra to furnish music for dances held on the campus. Langdon pointed out that organizations should, if possible, make adequate plans during the summer for their first social event.

The groups which worked out the plans agreed that the Student Council shall have the soft drink concession at every dance on the campus, the proceeds from which will be used for defraying expenses of student dances.

Class Popularity Selections and Mystery Girl of Annual

Yearbook Editor For Next Year Is Fast Worker

Ed Bryan, newly elected editor of the 1935 yearbook, is a fast worker. Bryan has already in his possession letters from Norma Shearer and Sylvia Sidney, certifying that they will assist in selecting a few beauties for the 1935 book and will assist in the selection of T. C. U.'s most perfect co-ed in 1935.

Bryan has announced that the theme of the book although a secret, will be something "typically T. C. U.," and will feature the latest style of annual art work.

"According to present plans," Bryan said, "we will photograph everything that happens on the T. C. U. campus, day or night, and if it happens so quick that we can't set up our cameras we will have an eye witness describe it and we will draw a picture. As far as possible we will adopt the policy of the 1934 Horned Frog staff of plenty of pictures and plenty of copy."

"We will also add a new section to our book," Bryan said, "which will be complimenting all student officers."

Bryan stated that quite a few pictures of events of this year which will be recorded, such as baseball, track, etc., have already been obtained.

Mystery Girl No Longer Mystery; Neither Is Annual's Popularity

By GRACE MALONEY

The mystery girl is no longer a mystery, but the interest in the 1934 Horned Frog is still being evidenced by the number of students that may be seen carrying their annuals around to be autographed.

The fine arts theme, the dedication to Prof. Claude Sammis, the color plates depicting one of the fine arts, which were used between the sections of the book, are features of the Horned Frog which met with the instant approval of the student body.

The novel arrangement of the pictures in the class sections gives a pleasing effect. The humor section of the yearbook has provoked many pleasing comments.

The popularity section, presenting Misses Mary Jarvis, Mary Seidel, Anna Byrd Harness, Natalie Collins, Mazelle Duckworth, Louise Watson, Helen Moody and Mary Corzine as the most popular co-eds in the University, was planned to give grace and beauty to the book.

The featuring of the six most active seniors is something new in the Horned Frog. Miss Louise Cauker, Miss Lollie Botts, Miss Mary Jarvis, Bryant Collins, Roy Bacus and Lynn Brown received this honor.

There is one section of the yearbook which might easily be passed over without being noticed, but which will doubtless prove of great value to the student in the future. That section is the student directory, which gives the name, classification and address of each student in the University. The student directory was omitted from last year's book, and if a student's picture was not in the book there was no way of placing him.

But the snapshot section with its pictures of the first days of school, the opening of football season, the yell leaders, the game with the Aggies, Homecoming activities, the trip of Centenary, initiations, society and numerous other campus events, is, to judge from the number of students seen looking at this section, one of the most popular in the book. The fact that snapshots of so many students were used accounts for this.

Congratulations are being extended to Roy Bacus and R. L. Trimble, editor and business manager of a successful yearbook, by the students.

Students' Plans Include Travel, Work and Study

Many Arranging for Visit to Chicago, World Fair.

Forsyth to Stanford

Summer School Will Enable Students to "Catch Up" on Needed Hours.

The world will be given a "Horned Frog" flavor this summer when T. C. U. students scatter from Canada to Mexico and from California to the Eastern Hemisphere, pursuing education, amusement and work.

Most students put in the condition—"If plans work out."

Summer school is about the most popular thing mentioned by students, with Chicago, its World Fair and up-town amusements, running a close second.

Miss Winona Brock plans to go abroad.

Jack Langdon will be waterfront director at Worth Ranch, Palo Pinto. Mary Louise Witherspoon will get her degree in August.

Thad Barrington will attend summer school at Trinity University.

Thelma Pumphrey will study and teach at the Loeh-Institute of Music.

Patsy Miller will visit Banff Springs, Canada, Winnipeg, and Chicago on her summer's tour.

Ann Stuckert is planning to tour the Grand Canyon, Yellowstone Park and other points. She will also visit in Abilene and Galveston.

Mary Ellen Davis will be the guest of Doris Zwiefel at the Zwiefel-ranch near Glen Rose.

Ruth Ratliff will be in school here. Willie Austin will visit the World's Fair.

Jones Bacus predicts that he will paint the showers in Jarvis Hall. Alden Bradford will be in summer school.

Dr. Ascher will teach. Lynn Brown says he will be just another member of the great army of the unemployed.

Dr. Gaines will tinker and strum his "sweet" guitar. Wilbyrd Irvin will continue study here.

Miss Laura Shelton is planning another trip to the World's Fair.

Johnnie Greer, janitor, is going to Colorado in July to aid Pete Wright, Bear Wolf and a few others in catching fish.

Marian Meaders will go to summer school.

Margaret Combest will help in the bookstore during rush hours and visit friends.

Tom Armstrong will work for the Magnolia Oil Company.

Jinks Powell will punch cows and go to summer school.

Wallace Myers will be in Iran.

Sonia Gilula will loaf and visit Chicago.

Bill Morro will work in the chemistry lab.

Dr. Whitman and family will go to Oregon and spend his time doing things he doesn't have to do.

Willis Hewatt will go to Stanford University to complete work on his doctor's degree.

John Forsyth will do biology research at Stanford.

Judy Truelson will either work for the Goodyear Company, sell Fords or go to summer school.

Dr. Combs will either go to Mexico City or to Pennsylvania, Kentucky and other points East. However, his secret ambition is to go to Houston, catch a French freighter, with a grisly old captain, and sally forth to France and back.

Roy Bacus will sweat over psychology and Bible.

Bill Flood will work in the Terrell Laboratories.

Louie Trainer will herd sheep.

Cy Perkins and Joe Coleman are going to strive to keep awake in summer school classes.

Horace McDowell will work on the campus.

Lee Glasgow will go to Randolph Field for flying instruction, July 2.

Bud Taylor is going to sell Fords.

Hays Bacus is going back to Arkansas to brag about Texas.

Frank Valencia is going to Mexico.

Dinner-Dance, Texas Game, Cage Flag, New Coaches, Journalism Day Features of 1933-34

T. C. U.'s first dinner-dance, 30-to-0 victory over the Texas University footballers, winning of the Southwest Conference cage championship with a record of 10 victories and two losses, general shake-up in the coaching staff and the observation of the first annual Journalism Day were the high points of the news for the 1933-34 school year, an examination of the Skiff files reveals.

One of the stories most publicized in the down-town papers was the American Legion-International Relations Club controversy. The club members were challenged by the ex-service men for alleged "unpatriotic action."

The shake-up in the T. C. U. coaching staff in March, which occurred after Coach Francis Schmidt resigned to accept the head coaching position at Ohio State University, was played up both in The Skiff and in the downtown papers. The change resulted in Coach Dutch Meyer's being made head varsity football and basketball coach. Bear Wolf was made athletic director, varsity line coach and varsity baseball mentor.

The story of the dinner-dance in the Cafeteria last week was important because it was the first affair of its kind ever to be held in the name of the school. On this particular story the Skiff "scoped" the down-town papers, announcing the event for the first time in the issue of May 18.

The Skiff also published the student body election returns before they appeared in the down-town papers.

The observance of the first annual Journalism Day May 16, and the appearance of the initial issue of the "Yellow Peril," scandal sheet, created quite a lot of interest on the campus.

The announcement of the once-a-week chapel plan, which appeared in the first issue of The Skiff this year was widely read.

A resume of the main happenings of the school year shows that much space in the Skiff this year was devoted to: Homecoming activities, Horned Frog Popularity Reveu, students protesting Arthur Brisbane's war stand, Dr. Edwin A. Elliott's leave of absence and subsequent position with the N. R. A., and Dr. Raymond Welty's later acceptance of a similar position, adoption of a new student body constitution, annual spring pageant in the Frog stadium and the Men's Glee Club tour.

The stories concerning student's conduct in the library created quite a lot of discussion on the campus.

Other happenings played up in the Skiff this year were: "Freshman Prom," "Debating Discontinued," "Miss Christine Ackers Made Band Sweetheart," "Freshmen Win Freshman Soph Play Contest for First Time in Six Years," "Students Make Official Student Body Trip to Shreveport, La.," "Dramatic Club Presents 'Little Town of Bethlehem,'" "First Annual Poetry Reading Festival Held in T. C. U.," "Students Obtain Aid From F. E. R. A."

JOE'S JOTTINGS
BY JOE SARGENT

STUDENTS are busy these days exchanging yearbook autographs—and that's a sure sign that the school year is drawing to a close. In this, the last issue of The Skiff for 1933-34—and the last issue of the paper ever to be edited by Joe Sargent—the editor, though not cut out for a columnist, feels moved to try his hand at the game.

There is a host of people that the editor wants to thank for their co-operation and assistance in making The Skiff what it was (if it was anything) this year. This year's student body as a whole has been loyal through "thick and thin" and deserves the highest type of praise.

Prof. J. Willard Ridings has ever been ready with advice and assistance when either was needed. The editor takes this opportunity publicly to thank Prof. Ridings for everything he has done toward putting out the paper this year. Atys Gardner has been a conscientious and hard-working business manager and has co-operated with the editor at every turn. The same can be said of Edwin Van Orden, business manager of the first semester. To these two lads goes the credit for The Skiff's being able to issue many six-page and some eight-page editions this year.

The staff this year has been loyal and hard-working. To The Skiff's unofficial "editorial board"—composed, besides the editor, of Paul Donovan, Louise Cauker, Roy Bacus, Ben Boswell, Elna Evans and Charlie Casper—thanks for your help and co-operation.

To the news staff—Ben Sargent, Miss Evans, Bacus, Miss Cauker, Kathryn Edwards, Casper, Verna Berrong, Grace Maloney, Raymond Michero and Joe Tills—again, thanks. You've all worked hard, and you've all turned out some mighty good copy. The editor appreciates all you've done.

And now the time comes to turn over the reins (or should I say oars?) of The Skiff to the incoming editor. But I know I'm placing those reins (or oars) in capable hands. To my brother, Ben, I say: I've worked with you in the print shop for eight years. I've worked with you on a high school paper. I've worked with you on The Skiff, and I know you have the intelligence and the ability and the experience to carry on as editor of The Skiff.

You'll find persons that will turn on you at the slightest adverse comment or criticism no matter how much you've patting them on the back and given publicity to their enterprises. You'll get some praise and encouragement as you pilot The Skiff through the year, but you'll get plenty of criticism. You have a job on your hands—but I only hope you enjoy it as much as I've enjoyed the same job.

Would you listen to one man's fantastic tale of what the movies in 1960 will be like? Well, here goes. In 1960 it is my prediction that there will be two things in deadly competition—one will be the movies we have today developed to the nth degree. The other, television.

There will be comic pictures and plays taken from real life in 1934. Mae West and Norma Shearer will be shown on the television rays and people will laugh at old fashions, old habits and old jokes.

Bread Line Rank To Be Swelled By Graduation

One week of hilarious entertainment for the seniors is about to end. This time next week the Salvation Army bread line will wonder where the deluge came from... there's more junk in the physics department than there is in that stack down there behind the warehouse... that monkey in the Horned Frog is certainly in for a lot of abuse. It's been accused of being almost every person on the campus... Dean Hall was asked by George Norris to autograph that picture of himself in the back of the humor section. The dean decided that it would be better if he autographed a more dignified picture... most of the students can't make up their minds what to do this summer... A 1934 Graduate Talks in 1954

A 1934 graduate is talking to his son, prior to his departure for Texas Christian University. It is 1954.

"You seldom take my advice but I am going to offer just a little more at this time. It was reluctant to listen to my father, so I can't justly blame you for your attitude."

"But I took my father's advice on a few matters. He told me that I would not have to join the 'gang' in their nightly excursions in order to be a good sport. He told me that I would not have to be a drunkard in order to be taken in as a member of the 'gang.' He told me that it would be good for me to listen to good music, to read good books and to cultivate the friendship of clean and honest people. He also added that a place on the honor roll would do me no lasting injury."

"I especially remember one thing that he told me. He told me that the friendship of one or two or a dozen clean and upright boys was worth that of a million of the profane and the wicked."

"He told me to refrain from unwholesome activities in which the 'gang' took pride. He explained that the end of my four college years would find me in a place of respect in the minds of the boys in whose debaucheries I would not take part. They may never tell you but they will inwardly and secretly admire you," he said.

"He also told me to refrain from telling inglorious lies about the financial condition of my parents. I have known many who would have his or her classmates think that Dad was a millionaire. Then those that he or she told the tale to happened to visit the home town and found that he or she only a poor dentist or a man that owns a small interest in a few straggling oil wells. Such falsehoods as these will come back and slap you in the face with lasting injury."

"Last but not least, I hope that you will have an inward and sincere belief in God and an appreciation of Nature. You need not tell your belief in God. It is just as good to nurse this beautiful belief secretly."

"I profited a lot from the advice given me by my father and I feel that this same advice will be of great benefit to you. I hope you remember it."

This Is the Last Week

This is the last week of school for most of the seniors. Reams and reams of paper have been used in writing of this event. Most of such writing is repetition. And what is said here will probably fall into the same classification.

There is no need here to say anything about the glorious but steep and difficult hills that are ahead for the graduates. The commencement speakers will have a word to say about this.

To take up space by telling of the joys of the last vibrant and fruitful four years would be sheer folly. The four years just passed have been almost everything but fruitful and vibrant to many graduates.

But let's talk seriously. Some have thought that college life was difficult. But the future will show these that college life was wonderful. This will especially prove itself when the graduates begin making a living for a wife or for a husband—not counting a couple of rollicking offspring.

So this is the last week. Those who have not had enough education can come back and work on higher degrees. The others can go out into the world and check up on the commencement speakers.

A Memorable Occasion

The senior dance Saturday night, which marked the beginning of a new social life in the University, is no longer news, but it is still so fresh in the memories of all who attended that a few added comments are fitting.

First of all, The Skiff wishes to congratulate all who had a part in conducting the affair. This includes the Administration, the Student Council and the leaders of the senior class. They all played a part in giving the students an evening of unusual entertainment, with the added hope that it is only the first of many such entertainments.

It was a gratifying sight to see the spirit of happiness which prevailed at the dance. There were a few disagreeable features, such as the heat and the unwaxed floor, but they were incidental to the students, and were far outweighed by the pleasing features. It was a crowd of students eager to show its appreciation to those responsible for having the dance.

So, "on with the dance." Mark the first one down as a success and look forward to the future when there will be more. For your co-operation and support of the affair, an orchid to you, President Waits, Dean Hall, Mrs. Beckham, Roy O'Brien, Bryant Collins and all who helped in any way.

The Twilight Assemblies

Plans are well under way for the annual summer series of twilight assemblies to be held in the open air on the campus. The plan was inaugurated in 1933 when five such programs were given. Due to the length of the summer term of this year, the number of programs to be given has been raised to nine.

Dr. Gaines, chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements, has announced that there will be musical programs, lectures and other types of worthwhile programs. These programs will be free to students and all others who may wish to attend. The assemblies will be on designated Fridays and will begin promptly at 7:30 p. m.

Every student and friend of T. C. U. is invited to attend these assemblies. The programs will be of the highest type and a real credit to the University.

Congratulations, Mr. Scoular

By winning a scholarship to study at the Yale University School of Music, David Scoular has not only won an honor for himself but an honor for Texas Christian University.

Since coming to T. C. U. in 1930 as a member of the faculty, Scoular has been energetically active in music affairs of the University as well as of the city. He has raised both the Men's and Women's Glee Clubs to prominent positions. He has always lent his ability when possible and this fine spirit has won him a host of friends in the University and in the city of Fort Worth.

T. C. U. congratulates Mr. Scoular for his loyal work. Goodbye, Mr. Scoular, until 1935!

NEWS! Science reveals important new Facts for Smokers!

YOUR ENERGY VARIES DURING THE DAY

Camel Smokers can verify these facts!

A famous New York research laboratory announces a basic discovery that throws new light on our past knowledge of cigarettes. It embodies an "energizing effect"... a quick restoration of the flow of natural body energy... an experience well known to Camel smokers. When you smoke a Camel you feel an almost immediate relief from fatigue. You have released and made available the latent energy in your body. You've helped your body to help itself. During the day your energy curve hits certain low points. Camels raise your flow of energy... quickly, conveniently, and without jangling your nerves.

There's a "Lift" in CAMELS that drives away Fatigue and Irritability

Feel "all in"? Then light a Camel. It's cool and fragrant and delightful... but far more important than that, it brings your flow of energy up from the depths!

You feel fatigue vanish. Irritability seems to slip away. And you go back to work—or play—with the energy that is naturally yours.

This experience is no news to Camel smokers. But the explanation is news—and good news—to everyone.

The "lift" you get from smoking Camels is simply a release of the natural latent energy in your body. You have helped your body to help itself... easily, naturally.

Remember this explanation when your energy curve is "down"... times when you're irritable and your brain just doesn't seem to work and you feel too tired to move.

Camel fans smoke frequently—and they can—as often as they like. Camel's costlier tobaccos never get on the nerves.

Keep your flow of energy at a higher level with Camels.

TOO TIRED FOR FUN... and then she smoked a Camel!

CAMEL'S Costlier Tobaccos never get on your Nerves

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Turkish and Domestic—than any other popular brand.

KNOW THIS FEELING? The feeling of being too "all in" to respond to the gaiety of the crowd? No taste for the pleasure and fun of the sort of social evening that you would ordinarily look forward to? That's one of the many times to light a Camel, enjoying its rich flavor while your flow of natural, healthful energy is restored. You'll like Camels—a matchless blend of costlier tobaccos!

Campus Ramble Chats About Dance, Garden Party, Casino

By LOUISE CAUKER

Yessir, you know what's coming in this column today as well as I do. I had considered omitting it; but, fearful of disappointing somebody, here it is: This is the last time I'll ever write a Skiff society lead. This is the end of the Campus Ramble; but who was it said "endings are but other beginnings?"

You see it each year of the four or five or six you're out here, but it never fails to excite interest and wonder and amusement. Pens and yearbooks and humans (even ye dignified seniors) in peculiar positions. You step over 'em in the hall, you walk around 'em on the campus, you step on 'em on the stairs. More compliments are passed around at this time than during student elections.

Billy Allen must have it in for about sixteen students around here. When he gave a dinner dance at Dean Hall's house Tuesday night the floors were so slippery there were almost sixteen broken necks. The punch was delicious—Bryant Collins thought so, too. David Scouler is losing his girlish figure; he made the mistake of sitting in a little rocking chair and after that everywhere that Dave went the chair was sure to go. Prexy Waits, Jr., likes to dance. Jimmy Tribble is a loose screw in somebody's bolt. . . Mrs. Hall is utterly gracious (bad English but it carries the meaning).

Prof. Ballard drank more punch than anybody else at President Waits' garden party Wednesday evening. Albert Jones, Otto Nielsen, Roy Bacus and Fred Cassidy ran him a close second. . . Weren't those prim little bouquets for the girls reminiscently old-fashioned? . . . Janelle Bush and Joe George found the fish pond very attractive.

Out at the Casino Wednesday evening enjoying Husk O'Hare's music was Owen Lipscomb, twirling and racing all over the dance floor. "Lipstick" gets a great kick out of the fine art of moving over a shining floor. Bud Taylor, Lollie Botts and Lynn Brown were around looking a little bored—or tired. "Mister" Boaz Hoskins was giving the young ladies a treat. Charlie Casper and Frances "Mae West" La Rue were enjoying (evidently) a lot of dances.

It's almost over, and "30" is signed to the end of a lot of college careers, though a lot of others will go on three or four years as they enter the law or medicine professions. Good luck to 'em all. I'll bet they never forget their last college year—when the first official dance was held and when such a grand spirit of co-operation existed between students and administration. And wasn't that a "swell" annual ole Bacus put out!

BURR-HEAD'S SPORT GOSSIP

By CHARLIE CASPER

To you who know not of the sign language of the journalist, "30" means the end or fins. That's just what this column is. It's "30" for ole Burr-Head and his sports gossip.

Seniors, the time has come when our four years close and we must depart from our beloved Frogland. As I sit here and peck away at Ole Betsy, I think long and loud of the few days which I have left to reside here in 101 Goode Hall.

As I sit here and as I think and ponder, a poem runs through my mind, which with a wee bit of paraphrasing will convey to you what I am thinking of. The Poem, "O Captain! My Captain!", written by that poet of all poets, Walt Whitman, in my language, reads something like this:

O Classmate! My Classmate! our fearful four years is done; The ship has weather'd every rack, the prize we sought is won; The goal is near, the bells of life I hear;

For a future that lies ahead, far but near.

Naturally I am not possessed with the poetic qualities of a Walt Whitman, but the butchering I did to his most beautiful piece of poetry points out that which I have in mind. These four years which we have suffered through here are done. The imaginary ship which we have steered has carried us over the tide and that prize which we sought is won. The goal, the night when seniors walk up and receive their sheepskins, is near, and what the future holds for us lies just ahead. There has been much pain and suffering through these four years, but the association with our fellow students and teachers has made that suffering a pleasant one. College has not been all play and no work nor has it been all work and no play. Our sufferings have been mild and enjoyable.

From this campus I, as well as others, will carry many memories which will live until our bodies are returned to the soil from whence they came and our soul returned to the Maker.

I owe only too much to one Francis Schmidt, who is responsible for my being at T. C. U. Gone from here is he, but behind he left a name that students will never forget. He had his faults but they were overcome by his ability to solve those problems which only he could master. He worked hard, maybe too hard, at his profession but now he's at the top. A greater guy than Schmidt never lived. We regret his departure but send with him our hopes and wishes for even greater success at his new home than he had here.

Then there's Bear Wolf and Poss Clark, to whom, too, we must bid au revoir. The spirit and life of every Frog football team member rested on the shoulders of Wolf. Without him I don't know what we would have done. He helped me get over a thousand stumbling blocks and I'm grateful to him for such. He has been a character builder for Frog athletes.

To Poss Clark, I wish more good fortune than has been his in the past. Never gifted with a real trackman, Poss has developed, from raw material, some of the nation's greatest cinder performers. He helped me set many records, some with the lash of his tongue and others through words of encouragement and cheer. I do hope that the guys who send in the athletes will send Possum a few track men.

Then there's Dutch Meyer, a guy I really never knew. Misfortune prevented my playing football under him. I have admired the Little Dutchman ever since the first day I ever saw him and believe in him to the greatest extent. You guys who think he won't win the ball games in conference competition go and bet your dough against him . . . if you want to lose it. He and Bear will form a combination which will set this league on fire in a year or so. Good luck, Dutch, Bear, Poss, and welcome back Howard Grubbs. . . . Cpts. Coleman and Harston, these guys are placing the burden on your shoulder and we expect you two men to carry it with them.

Looking back . . . Capt. Jack Graves, a great leader and ball player. The same goes for Capt. Wallace Myers, Capt. Flash Walker and Capt. Jinx Powell. All brilliant leaders in their respective sports. T. C. U.'s greatest all-time athlete . . . Wallace Myers . . . Enjoyed classes under Prof. Ridings, Miss Carter, (unbeatable), Dr. Lord, Profs. Crouch and Jones, Lorraine Sherley, Joe Cowan and several others. They were regular guys.

Can't help remembering that dazzling night with the Discipline Committee for hair cutting. Thanks to Dr. Edwin Elliott, Dr. Gayle Scott, Mrs. Beckman, Miss Spragins, Prof. Ridings, Otto Neilsen and Roy O'Brien. I still think some of these "monickers" did some "chiseling" on guys they have to live with. I'll never forget how Pop Boone, Fiem Hall and Amos Melton of the downtown papers stuck with us. They didn't do it from a news angle. They loved those kids in that room and were interested from a human standpoint.

We need more supporters like Dan Rogers. A guy was never more true to the school he loved. He lives in Dallas but would move that city over here in a minute if he thought it would help the Frogs. I have a remembrance from that guy in the form of a watch which is the highest token of an award that I have ever received or hope to.

To the guys I have worked with on The Skiff, I wish happy landings in some big newspaper office. There are guys like Joe Sargent, Paul Donovan, Roy Bacus, Ben Boswell and Elna Evans and Lou Cauker that will set the printed pulp world on fire in time to come.

There are a thousand people I would like to say nice things about. . . . Pete Wright, Miss Bonner, Dean Hall, Mr. Hutton, Prexy Waits, Mrs. Harris, and many others, but space has signaled the red light as the stopping point.

It's bon voyage but not good-bye. Maybe we'll all get to come back and be together next year and watch the Frogs wallop Texas during Homecoming. Let's make a date and meet here then. Okay?

Farewell, T. C. U. and Frogland. She's my "alma mammy" and to her I pledge help, if such is possible. To the greatest school in the land I wave adieu. May the richest of fortunes be on its way.

"Hey, gotta job for a college student what ain't got no job and wants to go to work? I'm a pretty good worker, ask Mr. Dees, and I'll work good for my board."

"Son, I'm sorry but we ain't got no jobs and I don't know where there is one. Why don't you try professional football? You can get by on that until the depression lifts."

"I know, mister, but I'll be bald headed by that time and I can't play football all my life. Yeah, I know; you told me, though, to come up and see you when I got through playing football."

"Well, son, I'll tell ya', there's some kids coming in next year that we've got to worry about. You're through now and we ain't got any room fer ya'."

Just a conversation what I overheard the other day. Sounds almost true doesn't it?

Evelyn Melton will serve as junior counselor in Camp Mystic near Kerrville this summer.

Sophomore Copping Three Letters In Athletics--That's Something!

Darrell Lester, big sophomore athlete—center on the Frog football team, center on the basketball team and pitcher on the baseball squad—accomplished the unusual feat this year of earning varsity letters in every sport in which he participated. It was the first time since T. C. U. entered the Southwest Conference in 1923 that the accomplishment has been attained here by a sophomore.

In football the big Jacksboro lad began training as an end, but he was shifted to the center position because of the small size of the candidates for that position. After working out at center only three days, he started at that position in the Frogs' first game of the season.

In T. C. U.'s first conference game, which was with Arkansas, Lester played 58½ minutes. He averaged 57 minutes a game in all of the Frogs' conference games of the season. He intercepted a pass in every game the Christians played and two in one game.

At the end of the season he was placed on the all-conference teams of most pickers.

He went out for basketball and became the regular center on the team which won the Southwest Conference championship, playing practically all of every game. He was the only member of the regular starting team who was not a senior. Lester outjumped every opposing center except two, and he divided honors about equally with them.

The Jacksboro athlete considers baseball his "main sport." Although he got off to a bad start on the Frog team because of work that conflicted with practice, he finished the season in fine style. He pitched one shut-out game, and his team got 26 runs in the games he pitched to nine for the opponents. He had a .333 batting average.
