Brushes Hear Talk By Prof. S. P. Ziegler

'Height of Living Is Reflected in Art,' Says T. C. U. Department Head.

"The height of living is reflected in art," said S. P. Ziegler in a talk on "Art and Life" at a meeting of the Brushes Club Tuesday evening in the art department.

Prof. Ziegler stated that during good times people lived in luxury and at a great speed and that the abstractness in their lives was reflected in the art. "The desire to take up something new caused extreme modernism," he further explained.

"The depression has brought people back to a staidier frame of mind and this has been reflected in art and a characteristic of art today is that it reflects all phases of everyday life," he said.

The club had a business meeting after Prof. Ziegler's talk. Following the business meeting Harriet Reed and Elizabeth Hudson served the members with hot chocolate and cookies. Those present were Misses Marjorie Vautrin, Maurine McDowell, Clemence Clark, Mary Jarvis, Helen Woods, Harriet Reed, Juanita Montgomery, Elizabeth Hudson, Mrs. Jessie Smith and Messrs. Exams to Begin Jan. 22; to Last Through Jan. 29

Extra Day Added to Avoid Three Tests On One Day.

Hutton Comments

Explains Working of New Schedule—Students Advised to Know Time, Place.

The official examination schedule has been increased one day and will be observed beginning at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning, Jan. 22, through Tuesday, Jan. 29, Registrar S. W. Hutton has announced.

Two examinations are to be given daily at 8 a. m. and 1 p. m. Each examination will last two hours and thirty minutes, he said.

"This plan has been worked out in keeping with the suggestions from both the faculty and members of the student body urging that we avoid over-crowding during the examination period and to avoid the possibility of any student having to take more than two examinations in any one day," Hutton said. "Students who work rapidly may be able to complete the examination in less than two hours and thirty minutes, others who work more slowly are given the privilege of taking extra time beyond the two hour and a half period."

Hutton suggested that students observe the examination schedule for knowledge of the time and place of the exams.

Those carrying night classes will be given examinations at the regular meeting of the class during exam week.

A Needed Reform

By extending final examinations over a seven-day period this semester, the administration has effected the abolition of one of the major horrors connected with examinations—that of taking three tests in one day.

Under the system prevalent at the University last year, it was possible for a student's schedule to be so arranged that it was necessary for him to take three examinations in rapid succession, with hardly a breathing spell between. As a hypothesis suppose that under the old system, a student had examinations at 8, 10:30 and 1 o'clock. By the time he had struggled through the five hours of mental strain connected with the first two examinations, his mental energy would be pretty well depleted when he confronted the third that day.

Under the prevailing system, only two examinations are scheduled for each day. And more than that, there is a two-and-one-half-hour "breather" between the first and second tests. By inaugurating the new system, the administration, truly, came to the aid of a suffering student body, but the new system presents a difficulty. Since no two tests come in succession, a temptation is offered to faculty members to design their examinations so that they cannot be completed in the allotted two and a half hours.

There is really no necessity for extending the exams, however. If a professor cannot ascertain, at least to a fair degree of accuracy, in two and a half hours what a student knows about a given course, he probably couldn't find out in a week.

It is better for a student to exhaust his information in a two-and-a-half-hour examination than to exhaust himself and to write superficially on a four-hour test.

With the new examination schedule in effect, students should be able to do incalculably better on the finals this semester.

A Word to the Wise

T. C. U. dances are rapidly becoming public dances. Uninvited guests are "crashing" our Student Council dances. The problem of "Crashers" becomes more serious each week-end. Such a problem was never meant to exist.

When the administration endorsed the new social policy asked for by Student Council members last year, they indorsed a policy that permitted dances to be held on our own campus for our student body and guests, which were to be limited.

The price was set for council dances so that all T. C. U. students could afford to come and enjoy an evening of entertainment with their friends and classmates. No idea of profit was sought, only a minimum charge to cover expenses.

Each T. C. U. student was made responsible for his guest, whether the guest be his date, or his friend. And he was to be responsible for one and only one. This request has also been ignored.

Many students sign the guest book at the door for numerous "outsiders" of whom they know nothing except that they have 40 cents and want to come in. Although most of these outsiders do behave properly while at the dance, their presence has a tendency to nullify the unity and democracy which a college dance should possess.

Most of the outsiders are high school students, who have the same privilege at their own schools of holding dances. Why can't they attend a dance with their own set?

Our liberalized social policy is too valuable to be abused. We need such a policy. Why not keep it by making T. C. U. dances, dances for T. C. U.?

Students' Estimate of Armed Conflict

An epitome of students' attitude toward war, as found in college newspapers from all over the United States, shows that collegians are primarily interested in peace and that they will go to great lengths to attain this end. Practically all the papers reviewed are in favor of immediate disarmament.

The Yale Review is among the most outspoken papers on the war situation. "Records of history show that no nation has ever encased itself in the wall of armaments and remained at peace," says the Review. While it is open in its crusade for peace and disarmament, the Review is also open in its condemnation of students who subscribe to the theory that war can be stopped by propaganda.

"Admittedly the expression of students' opinion favoring the United States joining the League and the international control of armaments is of far more worth than any number of pledges never to bear arms," the Review continues.

The Brown Daily Herald sees a solution to the war problem in an immediate adherence of the United States to the covenant of the League of Nations and the nationalization of armaments. The Herald also proposes severance of commercial relations with belligerent nations as a method of averting armed conflict. The Herald is opposed to preparedness and gives a lucid reason for its stand, saying: "War need no longer be considered a necessary thing. When nations are not armed, they are slow to attack. Friendly relations with other governments are the only possible means of insuring the safety of our land."

"There has been altogether too much agitation for ill-advised disarmament and peace moves on the part of professors and students here and elsewhere," thinks the Rutgers Targum, and concludes by saying, "For our government to do any less than maintain our national defense somewhat near a relative equality with other states would be not only foolhardy but the basest betrayal of the confidence reposed in it by the 120,000,000 people whose attentions are entirely occupied by their own peaceful pursuits."

Sharing the views of the Targum is the Red and Black of the University of Georgia, which takes the stand that "In view of the size of the armed forces of other nations of the world, a policy of peaceful preparedness is the sanest course for the United States to follow."

The Emory Wheel is opposed to campaigns for peace waged by such expedients as pamphlets, speeches, cartoons and condemnation. The paper sees a solution of the problem in the cultivation of international friendships.

ODE OF THE LONESOME LOVER

I sit in my lonely room each night
And dream, my dear, of you;
The lights are low and the fire
Shines bright
But cheer has bid me adieu.

Alas! for those lonely nights, my dear,
Alas! for those dreary days
That I've spent since you've gone
Gone away, my dear,
Away from my longing gaze.

Oh, why did you wander so far from me
When you know that I loved you so?
Oh, why did you tell me you cared
For me
And then pack your things and go?

Love is oh, such a cruel thing,
It carries you to heights unknown,
Then down to the valley of deep despair
And leaves you, sad and alone.

I've tried my best to forget you, dear,
But I'm sure I can never do that,
Cause you have meant more to me,
My dear,
Far more than my pet cat.

But I'll drown my sorrow in drink,
My dear,
I'll drink all the wine I can get,
And whiskey and gin and also beer,
I'm gonna make whoopee! you bet.

And this is one lesson I've learned,
My love,
Though the lesson was very dear,
Never trust a man my love,
For he'll cause you many a tear!
—Mary Beth Holmes.

Country's Best Bands None Too Good for 'Y's'

By KATHRYN EDWARDS

Wayne King with his dreamy waltzes, Guy Lombardo with his unique wood-wind orchestrations, Fred Waring and his snappy collegiate tunes, the Old Maestro and all his "Yowsah" lads and the "Hi-de-ho" King, Cab Calloway, are all booked to play for the Y. M. Y. W. dance tomorrow night. Not just one of them, but all of them, mind you!

The "Y's," always striving to give their members the best of everything... whether it be socially or otherwise, decided to make it an evening suited to everyone's taste by bringing some half dozen of the best dance bands in the country down to the little gym where the dance will take place. Sure, all these orchestras can be taken care of in such a small place, 'cause you see we're going to hear them "by proxy," that is, by electrical transcription. Large amplifiers, arranged by the physics department, will make Lombardo's "Hands Across the Table," and the Maestro's "Continental" and the rest of them seem right there on the floor.

When we inquired of Melvin Diggs what kind of decorations he had worked out with his committee, we heard all sorts of exciting things. Why, who knows, you might even see those "silver lined" clouds you've heard about for so long. And you may even wait to improvised moonlight as Wayne King plays "The Waltz You Saved for Me." The color scheme will, of course, feature the blue and white of the Y. W. and the red and white of the Y. M. What really will be the central theme of the decoration is, as we go to press, a deep dark mystery... even to some of the decorating committees.

The first 10 dances, beginning at 9 o'clock, will be program dances. Any "Y" member who hasn't already secured his or her programs should look around for Hubert Stem, Paul Donovan or Elizabeth Hudson. They all have them and are anxious for all of you to get one. The boys are filling out the girls programs and are having lots of fun doing it. Only "Y" members and their dates are invited, although Y. W. members may ask an outside date. Stag bids have been issued to about 15 of the campus dons who will make their appearance around 10:15 o'clock. And by then, it'll be "Strike up the band... and on with the dance."

Florence Fallis will take care of the punch-drinkers at the refreshment table and Prexy Harness will be on hand unofficially.

So, it looks as though the "Y's" are going to wind up the fall semester in full style. We say "wind up" for that's what this dance will really do... You know that official Dead Week takes hold of us beginning next Tuesday! Pleasant thought... yeah, we think so, too!

Cupid Takes Toll Among Students

Congratulations and good wishes are in order for several members of our student body. Dan Cupid has arched his bow and hit his "mark" in several cases during the holidays.

Those who have already said their "I Do's" are Miss Mildred Reese, who was married to Champ Smith, sophomore at Texas A. & M. College, in Weatherford Dec. 1. Miss Pauline Reynolds and Charles Stephens were married in Ardmore, Okla., Dec. 27. The young couple are freshmen in the University and will finish the school year. Stephens is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Stephens, the latter being president of the state Alumni and Ex-students' Association of T. C. U.

Clayton Potter, graduate ministerial student, was married Christmas Eve to Miss Margaret Crawford in Denton. The ceremony was read by the Rev. Charles Estes in the First Christian Church of Denton. Mrs. Potter is a senior in North Texas State Teachers' College and president of the Student Christian Association there.

Two ex-students also took their vows during the holidays. Miss Mary Louise Wadley, '32 graduate, was wed to Don Nugent, A. B. '31, in San Antonio.

The list of engagements includes: Miss Martha Jane Butts and Otto Neilsen; Miss Oswright Clower and Bill Snehbold; and Miss Elizabeth Huster and Sam Barlow.

Frank Meador Elopes With Anne Gould

Frank Meador, who attended T. C. U. in 1928-29, eloped during the Christmas holidays with Miss Anne Gould, great-granddaughter of Jay Gould, railroad financier. Meador and Miss Gould were married in Harrison, N. Y. They will make their home in San Saba, where the groom owns a ranch.

Meador, who is an actor, spent a season at Provincetown, Mass., and last year was an understudy in Sidney Howard's play, "Yellow Jacket."

Girls Sing Carols At Jarvis Party

The singing of Christmas carols around a white tree decorated with blue lights and stars was the chief entertainment at the annual Christmas party in Jarvis Hall Sunday evening, before the Christmas holidays.

A violin quartet composed of Misses Dorothy Lynn Taylor, Betty Threlkeld, Lucile Snyder and Ruth Duncan played carols throughout the evening. They were accompanied by Miss Johnnie Mae Donoho. Misses Duncan, Snyder and Taylor played a trio arrangement of "Ave Maria." Miss Nina Whittington read two Christmas poems and Miss Lorraine Sherley read from the Bible the story of the birth of Jesus.

Misses Elizabeth Shelburne and Grace Maloney presided at the refreshment table which was laid with a lace cloth and centered with a bowl of red roses.

Misses Sherley, Major Entertain Classes

Miss Lorraine Sherley entertained her sophomore English class in the parlors of Jarvis Hall recently with moving pictures and a discussion of the life and works of William Shakespeare.

Prof. Keith Mixson and William Rodier provided the musical accompaniment for "Hark, Hark, the Lark," "Who Is Sylvia?" and a group of Shakespearean songs which were sung by the students.

After a discussion of the pictures, coffee was served. The same pictures were shown and interpreted by Miss Mabel Major to members of her sophomore class as well as students in Elizabethan drama. A model Elizabethan theater designed by Miss Major and Dr. Rebecca W. Smith, was also displayed.

Sigma Tau Deltas Elect Officers

Everett Gillis was elected vice-president of Sigma Tau Delta and Miss Mary Kate Keller, secretary, at a regular meeting of the organization Wednesday night at the home of Miss Dorothy Henderson on Pershing Avenue.

Gillis fills the vacancy left by Mrs. Moy Nelson who is graduating this semester and Miss Keller that of Miss Frances Hutchings, also a mid-year graduate.

The program consisted of a talk by Mrs. Edwin Phillips, head of the industrial department of the Chamber of Commerce, on "How to Be a Business Woman." The talk was followed by a social hour during which refreshments were served.

Sophomores Have Dance in Big Gym

Red and blue crepe paper and brilliant "thirty-sevens" decorated the Big Gym Saturday night when the Sophomore class gave its dance in collaboration with the student council.

Miss Gloria Petta, T. C. U. band mascot, gave a tap dance. Miss Mary Jane Hurley and Billie Tom Stewart danced a tango and soft shoe dance, accompanied by Miss Christine Bartula and the Varsitians, who played for the dance.

Many colored balloons were dropped from a bag during the dance.

Poetry Club to Be On Radio Friday

A song composed by Everett Gillis will be sung during a program to be given by the Poetry Club next Friday over KFJZ. After the song several poems, written by members of the club, will be read.

At their meeting last Tuesday night, at Mrs. Frances Parker's home, members discussed their anthology which they hope to publish in May. Poems were read, both original and favorites, written by well known poets. Refreshments were served.

'Y' Members, Dates To Attend Dance

The Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. will honor members and their dates with a private dance beginning at 9 o'clock tomorrow evening in the little gym.

"Only members and their dates are invited," Hubert Stem, president of the Y. M. C. A., said today. "We have sent bids to 15 stags on the campus who will join us after the first 10 dances, which will be program dances."

The boys are asked to fill out the girls' programs. They may secure these programs from Stem, Paul Donovan and Miss Elizabeth Hudson.

Purple Cagers To Meet Owls Monday Evening

Rice One of Outstanding Contenders in Title Race.

Game Is At 8 P. M.

Coach Meyer Is Pleased With Showing of Horned Frogs in Steer Tilt.

The Horned Frog cagers will meet the Rice Owls Monday night at 8 p. m. in the T. C. U. fieldhouse in the second conference game of the year for the Meyermen.

Following the 24-to-21 defeat at the hands of the Longhorns last Monday, Coach Dutch Meyer led his charges through a week of intensive training in preparation for the contest with the Owls. The Houston quint has been established as one of the favorites to cop the championship this season. In pre-conference games the tall and experienced Owls have bowled over practically all opposition by large scores.

Team Works on Weaknesses. The Purple mentor expressed satisfaction with the play of the Frogs against Texas, but he noted several weaknesses in the attack which he hopes to correct before the Owl fray Monday. Breaking faster on the offense, following up shots more consistently, more accurate passing—these have been the most important items on the Frogs' practice schedule this week.

The same lineup that took the floor against the Longhorns will get the starting call Monday night. This combination includes Walter Roach and Willie Walls at the two forward positions, Darrell Lester at center and Capt. Judy Truelson and Sam Baugh at guards.

Truelson Is Only Senior. Of the five starters Capt. Truelson is the only senior. Lester is a junior, while the other three are sophomores. The reserve squad, too, is made up largely of first-year varsity men. Byrum Saam, Vernon Brown and L. D. Meyer, the only three substitutes used against Texas, are all sophomores.

The Rice contest will be the first of three conference games to be played next week by the Meyermen. The strong Arkansas quint will invade the Purple gym for games Friday and Saturday to round out the week's play.

Class Cagers Divided Into 'A' and 'B' Leagues

Students Are to Participate in But One Section—To Have Playoff.

The intramural basketball tournament has been divided into two leagues, which will be designated as "A" and "B" leagues. Prof. Thomas Prouse announced this week. Each class will have one team entered in each league.

The "A" league will consist of the first teams of the classes. The "B" league will consist of the second teams or "outlaws."

Players are allowed to compete in but one league. At the end of the season a championship game will be held between the two divisions.

Entries for the handball singles and doubles tournaments are now being received. Entry blanks are posted on the bulletin boards in the main building and the Little Gym. No entries in the contests will be received after Monday.

Prouse has asked that all persons interested in a swimming meet leave their names with him or Bruce Scraftford in the Gymnasium. January 22 has been set as the deadline for competition to be finished in the tennis singles and doubles and the golf tournaments. All entries in the horseshoe singles tournament are asked to play their matches as soon as possible in order that the doubles tournament may be started.

To Entertain in Chapel

T. C. U. Band Will Play For Students Wednesday.

The T. C. U. band under the direction of Prof. Claude Sammis will entertain in chapel next Wednesday. There will be no speaker.

Dr. E. W. McDiarmid gave a short informal talk on "Persistent Sportsmanship" in chapel last Wednesday. Dr. McDiarmid declared that interest in sports is just as important in its way as interest in more spiritual things.

Two selections by the Men's Glee Club completed the program.

Donovan's DOPE

By PAUL DONOVAN
Happy New Year! A little late now! but sincerely expressed just the same. But this is supposed to be a sports column. So the happiness that I am wishing for T. C. U. is that happiness that comes from achievements in athletics. And didn't we almost get off to a perfect start Monday night? We have had our share of the joy of winning championships in the past few years, and we have seen the University become recognized all over the country as a producer of fine teams and outstanding individual performers. And now we begin 1935 with the expectation of seeing this spirit and record advanced.

Looking back briefly over 1934 we see a trail of ups and downs, disappointments and triumphs. A basketball championship provided a glorious start to what looked like a banner year for the Purple and White in sports. The baseball outlook was rosy, with only one man lost from the nine which won the title the year before. The football situation was promising too, because of the many sophomores coming along to fill the few vacancies on the team. There were hopes for the other sports too, especially golf.

However, we all know what happened? Slim Kinzy, the mainstay of the nine, was handicapped all season by an injured pitching arm, and the Frogs were unable to win without him at his best.

Then came football, the outcome of which is still fresh in our memories. The thrilling victories over Rice and Santa Clara compensated in a measure for the loss of the championship. All in all, it was an exciting season for the Frogs eleven, playing for the first year under Coach Dutch Meyer. The track, tennis and golf teams were the victims of competition too strong to overcome.

The change in the coaching staff was of course the big news of the sporting year for T. C. U. It was with regret that we bade Coach Schmidt farewell, but his immediate success at Ohio State made us both proud and happy. We here shared in that success with him and will continue to do so. Dutch Meyer then stepped into Schmidt's shoes, a wise selection in the eyes of most Frog followers. He was the logical man for the position, because of his record, because of his familiarity with the situation here and because of his popularity with players and fans alike. His first year's football team erased all doubts as to the wisdom of his selection.

But that's all history now, and history interests only a few. Now we begin a new year with a clean slate. The question is, what will be written on that slate? The answer is, we'll tell you at this time next year. Maybe in a few years these expert dopsters will stop counting T. C. U. out of any race before the race even starts. Nearly everybody went to the gym Monday resigned to the fact that the Frogs were in for a severe beating at the hands of the Longhorns, and look what happened. The same thing has been done many times before, much to the embarrassment of the 'expert pickers' who have failed to take into consideration that spirit or something that enables the Frogs to defeat seemingly stronger opponents.

With a little more experience and practice, the Frog cagers will give any team in the conference a tough fight. Right now the offense is not clicking as well as it might. Against the Steers Monday the boys had difficulty making their plays work, and consequently could not work the ball into shooting position.

Longhorn Cagers Nose Out Frogs In Speedy Game

Purple Loses 24 to 21 in First Conference Tilt.

Lester High Scorer

Free Throw in Final Minute of Play Cinches Game For Steers.

After leading the highly favored Longhorn cagers throughout most of the first half, the Frog quintet found itself on the short end of a 24-to-21 final score in the conference opener Monday night in the Purple gym. Although the game was featured by the defensive work of both teams, the closing minutes saw a determined rally by the Frogs just short of overcoming the lead piled up by the Orange and White in the second half. A successful free throw by Clifton, Steer guard, in the last minute put the invaders far enough ahead to avert a possible tie. The Frogs were trailing by only two points up to that time.

Texas Leads at Half

For the first 14 minutes of the contest the Longhorns were unable to penetrate the Purple defense, and found themselves trailing by 8 to 1 at that stage of the game. Darrell Lester, Willie Walls and Sam Baugh were responsible for the T. C. U. scores. Then the Texas scoring stars, Gray and Frances, began to find the basket, and before the gun for the half, they had overtaken the Frogs and were leading by 11 to 8.

This lead was increased when the second half opened, due to the shooting of Francis and Taylor. Gray, ace scorer of the conference, was completely silenced during the second half. He was able to garner only six points all evening. He was guarded by Judy Truelson and Byrum Saam.

Frogs Stage Late Rally

Making good numerous free throws and dropping in an occasional field goal, the Meyermen pulled up close to the Steers near the end of the game. Lester, who was high point man of the game with nine, himself made five free throws, and Walls added two more. With barely a minute to play

Consistent Player

Darrell Lester has been hitting the basket consistently in cage encounters to date. The big junior shows the same adeptness on the court that he displayed on the grid-iron.

the score stood 28 to 21. However, at this point Saam fouled Clifton and the latter's free throw made the lead safe. The Steers held the ball until the final gun sounded.

For the Frogs Lester and Walls furnished the offensive power, while Baugh, Truelson and Saam stood out on the defense. Only three players, Lester, Walls and Baugh, broke into the scoring column for the Purple. Lester made nine, Walls eight and Baugh the remaining four.

Purple Splits Even in Early Games

In pre-conference games, the Meyermen had a .500 average, winning three and losing three. On a holiday tour through East Texas the Purple dropped three contests, two to the Hunt Oilers and one to the Humble Oilers. Flash Walker, Frog star of the past three years, is a member of the latter outfit this season. The three victories were garnered at the expense of Trinity University and North Texas Teachers College, two from the former and one from the latter.

Junior Quintet Defeats Seniors

Final Score is 29 to 15 in First Cage Tilt of Season.

In a game replete with spills and tumbles the Junior "A" team defeated the Senior "A" quintet 29 to 15 Wednesday night in the first intramural basketball series of the season. Previously the Sophomores had poured it on the Freshmen to the tune of 32 to 15.

Members of both the Junior and Senior teams seemed to play as much of the game off their feet as they did on them. Despite the roughness of the game, Jimmy Lawrence, Junior "tuff," was the only player to be ousted on personal fouls. George "Dutch" Kline was injured in the melee.

Dan Harston and Bill Hudson, officials of the game, were in danger of being mobbed several times during the contest.

Johnny Kitchen, Paul Donovan, Joe Coleman and Frank Lozo helped put up a good fight for the seniors. Tracey Kellow, Wilson Groesclose, and Jimmie Jacks were outstanding for the juniors.

Although the Soph-Frosh game was not as hard fought as the junior-senior tilt, it was a closer contest than the score indicates. The freshmen put up a good fight and kept the sophomores on their toes throughout the game.

Charlie Mosshart, Travis Bowen and Dan Gould played outstanding games for the Frosh. Ray Wester and Drew Ellis were the two most responsible for the Soph victory.

Prof. Thomas Prouse was greatly pleased with the interest shown in the cage contests. He announced that if there is enough demand for it a third league will be formed. Teams in the "B" league met in contests last night, but the games were played too late to be included in this write-up.

Line-ups for the "A" league games were as follows:
Juniors—Lawrence, Kellow, Vic Montgomery, Groesclose and Kline. Substitutes; Jacks, "Tiny" Godwin and Douglas Clements.
Seniors—Kitchen, Joe Brown, Donovan, Coleman and Leonard Wallace.

Wonder If Slim Knew Hap Morse Was Listening In

An amusing incident in which Slim Kinzy, ex-Frog athlete, played a major role was cited by Hap Morse, Southwest Conference official, writing in Uncle Jake's Sport News this week.

Morse writes: The question of whether or not opposing players would be allowed to talk to a man while he was in the act of shooting a free throw was brought up in the recent meeting of conference officials and coaches. Said talking was banned but the discussion brought to our mind an incident of that nature that occurred a couple of years ago.

T. C. U. was playing Baylor this night and we were refereeing the game. Slim Kinzy was playing a forward position and B. Alford was doing the same thing for Baylor. Kinzy, a big six-footer, was also the star pitcher for the Frogs in baseball and little five-foot-four Alford was the shortstop of the Bears.

During this particular basketball game, every time Alford would step up to shoot a free throw Kinzy would let it out as follows, "Heck, you try to make people believe you are a ball player. Why you little runt you couldn't hit a curve with a paddle; as a hitter you are a pretty good basketball p'ayer, etc."

Alford didn't say a word until Kinzy stepped up to the full line for a shot, then we heard him say, "Why you big string bean you talking about me hitting a curve ball, man you haven't got a curve. Say if all pitchers were as easy to hit as you I'd go to the big league tomorrow. Huh! Curve ball; I hope you don't call that round house you throw a curve ball."

Substitutes, Jack Langdon, Lozo and Mark Hart.

Sophomores—Wester, Glenn Roberts, Buck Roberson, Ellis, and Wilbur Harrison. Substitutes, Waller Moody, Bob Jordan, Otis Grant and Carl Maxwell.

1935 Grid Card Repeats '34 List

Wolf Gets 10 Games in 5 States—Two Dates Open.

T. C. U.'s major football opponents in 1935 will be exactly the same as in 1934. All of the conference elevens and the four major non-conference teams played last year appear on the list of games for 1935 announced by Athletic Manager Raymond B. Wolf.

The Frogs will again play in New Orleans, Shreveport, and Tulsa. The trips for conference games will be to Fayetteville, Waco and Austin. A. & M., Rice and S. M. U. will be met in Fort Worth. The climax of the season will come in the last game, when the Christians will travel to San Francisco to play a return game with the Santa Clara Broncos.

Two dates are open as yet, according to Wolf. Sept. 21 and Sept. 28 will be filled with tilts with some non-conference team, probably with two Texas schools.
