U.; Dr. Alexander Paul, Oriental secretary for the United Christian Missionary Society; Dr. Edwin A. Elliott; Rabbi Harry Merfeld; Dr. Rebecca Smith; Dr. W. C. Morro; the Rev. J. N. R. Score, pastor of First Methodist Church of Fort Worth; Dr. Dora Beth Cockrell; Mrs. Luther M. Hogsett, and Miss Gooden.

The first of the plays, "The Deathless World," by J. S. Thompkins, will be given Sunday evening, Feb. 24. It will be directed by Miss Nina Whitington. The cast will include Miss Dorothy Jones, Miss Gooden and S. A. Wall. The setting of the play is in a hypothetical 2300 A. D.

On Sunday evening, March 31, the second play will be given. The play is "The Lord's Prayer," by Francis Coppee. It will be directed by Elmer Seibold.

"The Two Thieves," a play by Esther Willard Bates, will be given Easter Sunday, Miss Madalyn Whitener will direct. The play has two characters. It is presented without lights.

A three-act play, "Applesauce," by Barry Connors, will be given early in April. It will be directed by Prof. Lew D. Fallis. The cast will include Misses Virginia Schell, Mary Corzine and Frances Ballenger, and Gene Cox, Seibold, Waller Moody and Wall.

Will and Morton See Grand Opera As Part of Cast

Where there's a will, there's a way!

This old saying was illustrated last week when Will Wetzel and Morton Kline decided they were going to see one of the operas in Dallas, despite the fact that they had no tickets.

Through the combined forces of clever management and sheer luck, they not only got to see the opera without paying, but were paid for their presence.

"When the stage manager began looking for two college boys who had been summoned to play the parts of 'supers' in the production, Will and I stepped forward," Kline said.

"He asked us who had sent us. We gave him the name of a prominent person we thought might impress him. 'O.K.,' he said, 'I'll show you what to do.'"

So the two got to see the opera from the wings and came away $1 richer than when they went in. They do not know what became of the two boys who were really summoned for the parts.

Frances Has Two Claims to Fame; Lucille's a Twin

Besides being a sophomore beauty candidate, Miss Frances Shear has another claim to fame. She is half of the only set of twins on the T. C. U. campus, dividing the latter honor with Miss Lucille Shear.

The sisters, who celebrated their nineteenth birthday last October, are active members of the 'sophomore class and are both popular on the campus. They look nothing alike—not even enough to be sisters—even though they are both striking brunettes. Frances' hair is black and curly, while Lucille's is black and rather straight. Frances is the taller and slenderer of the two.

Constantly ignoring the old "beautiful but dumb" adage, the twins have been on the honor roll every semester since they started to the University. Lucille is majoring in physical education, while Frances is trying her hand at business administration.

For the most part their interests converge. They are interested in all kinds of sports and are active members of the W. A. A. Besides being co-managers of the golf team, the twins are also interested in swimming and tennis. Frances is also a member of the International Relations Club, Unit I. The girls attended Waco High School for three years but were graduated from Central High School in 1933. They are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil C. Shear, 2541 Cockrell Street.

Sophomore Popularity Candidates

Two of the four sophomore beauties shown above will receive full-page photographs in the 1935 Horned Frog, but the identity of the two, who were chosen by student vote following the recent Popularity Revue, will not be revealed till the yearbook appears in the Spring.

Chase Baromeo Considers Self Great Fisherman From the South

"I'm a great fisherman," enthusiastically declared Chase Baromeo of the Chicago Civic Opera Company. "In fact I'd much rather fish than sing," he further informed an interviewer when requested to relate something about himself. Baromeo was presented by the Civic Music Association recently at Central High School.

With a jaunty nod and a peculiar humorous wrinkling at the corners of his eyes, he laughed "Yes, mam, I'm from the good old South and I much prefer it to the North."

Baromeo, debonairly smoking a cigarette, gladly autographed programs after the concert, then briskly answered questions.

"It was the war that made me take up music. I majored in engineering at the University of Michigan, but I just couldn't find anything to do after the war, so I studied music in New York. Afterwards I studied six years in Italy.

Between autographs and handshakes, Baromeo said that he chose the University of Michigan because he was living in Detroit. So he winked and said:

"I am not going to tell you how old I am, but I have been singing in opera 12 years."

The smiling mouth became serious as he vehemently declared:

"I know 75 operas. 'Faust' is my favorite." A mischievous glint appeared in his eyes as he laughed, "Mephistopheles, the devil, is my favorite role."

Baromeo said that he preferred Italian to German opera because he studied in Italy.

When asked about the present popularity of opera he said, "I think that the radio is doing much to educate the public in the appreciation of opera. American opera writers are coming along, but they need to acquire more knowledge of the stage."

As to what he was most interested in there could be no doubt, for he eagerly and with a proud excitement reached in his pocket and brought out four pictures of his six months' old baby girl, saying, "She's the most important thing in the world. I left her in Atlanta."

Part of 'Germany' Assigned T. C. U. At World Meet

10 From Campus "Y's" Will Attend Annual Affair.

Spring Plans Made

T. C. U. will be represented by 10 delegates from the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. at the World Christian Federation to be held at Rice Institute the latter part of February, Hubert Stem, president of the Y. M. C. A., said in outlining the Y. M. C. A.-Y. W. C. A. program for the spring semester.

The question to be discussed by the Federation will be "Christianity vs. Nationalism." Each school represented at the federation will take the viewpoint of a country. The delegates from T. C. U. will give Germany's viewpoint.

Another highlight of the program will be talks by Dr. Henry Nelson Wieman, professor of the philosophy of religion at the University of Chicago, who will be on the campus Feb. 10 and 11. Delegates from nearby schools will be invited to attend the lectures.

Harry Bone will be here in March to speak on "Sex and Personal Adjustment." His field is psychology. Efforts are being made, Stem said, to bring Dr. Harry Ward of the Union Theological Seminary in New York City, here to speak on "Christian Ethics." If it can be arranged, he will be here in May.

At the present a series of lectures, based on the theme of "Marriage, Its Happiness and Its Hazards," is being given at the city Y. M. C. A. at 8 o'clock each Monday night. Transportation is provided for those who sign at the registration booth in the main hall and meet at the arch at 7 p. m. A special price of 25 cents is provided for students if as many as 20 attend. Dr. Edwin A. Elliott will be the speaker at the next lecture.

Hutton Asks Students To Get Correct Data

Those Wishing to Transfer May Receive Official Information From Registrar.

"Students should come into the registrar's office and receive correct information on transferring credits to other schools before they make statements about such credits," Registrar S. W. Hutton said today.

Several rumors have been prevalent lately which have to do with transferring social science credit to the University of Texas.

The following letter was received last week from E. J. Matthews, Texas University Registrar:

"In no case have we refused to allow credit in some way or other on your social science 12, 'The Development of Civilization.' We have no course exactly like it, but we give elective credit."

Hutton urges the students not to start rumors of this nature because it is injurious to the University and its administration.

Club Membership Open

Membership in the Mellorist Club is now open to all T. C. U. students. Application for membership and payment of dues must be made not later than Feb. 10, Arlo Brooks, president, has announced.

Upon payment of the dues of 60 cents for the spring semester, members are entitled to attend the spring social affairs, to vote and to hold office.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Hardy, Miss Florence Fallis and Brooks are in charge of the new member applications.

Yearbook Editor, Glee Club Prexy Are Most Active

Miss Anna Byrd Harness and Weldon Allen, both seniors, have more activity points than any of the other 722 students in T. C. U., having 24 and 22 points respectively.

Miss Ruth Campbell leads the juniors with 20 points, while Charles Wilson heads the list of sophomores with 18, and the president of the Freshman class, Byron Buckridge, tops his class with 13.

A total of 303 students do not belong to any clubs, and 260 have only from one to five points.

Those having from 5 to 10 points number 121. Twenty-two have 10 to 15 points, and 10 have from 15 to 20.

2 Sets of Books Added to Library

Harcourt, Brace and Co. and Dallas Alumnae Donors.

The English department is responsible for two gifts of books to the Mary Counts Burnett library. One was given by Harcourt, Brace and Company, and the other by the Dallas T. C. U. Alumnae Club.

The former gift was given to the freshmen English teachers in the department for their co-operation with the company in filling out a text revision list. The books given include: Gertrude Stein, "The Making of America;" William Beebe, "Half-Mile Down;" Clive Bell, "Since Cezanne;" T. S. Eliot, "Poems 1900-1925," and the text edition of the "Autobiography of Lincoln Steffens." This entire list was given to the library.

The Dallas T. C. U. Alumnae Club presented the department with $25 to be used for books to show their appreciation for the series of talks that Dr. Rebecca Smith has been giving at their luncheon meetings. All the books included in this list are for the Southwest literature room which will be opened next semester and are as follows: "Children Sing in the Far West," "Starry Adventure," and "American Rhythm," all by Mary Austin; "The Sky Determines" by Ross Calvin; "Desert Wife" by Hilda Furman; "Indian Removal" by Grant Foreman; "Agerita Berry" by Siddle Jo Johnson; "The Law West of the Pecos" by Everett Lloyd; "Culture Conflict in Texas" by Samuel Harman Lowie; "Flowers of Our Lost Romance" by Charles F. Lummis; "Legends and Dances of Old Mexico" by Gladys C. Schwesinger; "Ozark Mountain Folk" by Vance Randolph; "Best Stories from the Southwest" edited by Hilton R. Greer; "A Little Clown Lost" by Barry Benfield; "The Big Road" by Ruth Cross; and "The Prisoner of Perote" by William Stapp.

Must Have Books. All T. C. U. students, including both boys and girls, must bring activity books to the dances. T. C. U. girls bringing outside dates must identify them.

The Student Council will launch an educational campaign to endeavor to get more T. C. U. students to attend the dances and bring T. C. U. dates.

The Student Council will call for the co-operation of the whole student body in preventing drinking and smoking at the functions.

The admission price will remain at 40 cents a couple.

Next School Dance To Be Feb. 2

Saturday, Feb. 2, has been set as the date of the next all-University dance, which will be held in the basketball gymnasium. Student President Jack Langdon said yesterday.

The Student Council's new regulations governing dances will be in effect for the affair, Langdon pointed out.

Summer Term Bulletin Available in Office

Preliminary announcements for the summer term have been printed and are available in the registrar's office, according to Dean Colby D. Hall.

The first term of six weeks begins June 4 and ends July 13, with the second six weeks starting July 15 and ending with commencement exercises Aug. 24.

"These bulletins are only the preliminary ones and are by no means complete," Dean Hall said. "The courses listed are subject to change and such changes will be made in the complete and final details of the bulletin which will appear in March."

3 Exes Have Roles In 'A Doll's House'

Miss La Verne Brunson, a 1934 graduate of the University, will have the lead in the Community Theater's next play, "A Doll's House," by Henrik Ibsen, which is to open Feb. 5.

Bill Gonder and Mrs. Stanley Cissna, the former Miss Anna Marie Bennett, also have roles in the play.

Fallis Announces Contest Deadline

Entry in Gough Oratory Meet Must Be Made by March 1.

March 1 has been set as the final date for entries in the Gough Oratorical Contest to be turned in, Prof. Lew D. Fallis announced this week. The contest will be held during the last week in March.

"A number of students have indicated that they intend to enter the contest, but they have not turned in the subjects on which they intend to speak. It is necessary that they make their decisions as soon as possible in order that they may start working on their addresses immediately," Prof. Fallis said.

This year Fallis expects to have the largest number ever entered in the contest.

Winners of the contest will receive the annual awards given by Dr. R. H. Gough, sponsor of the contest. They will also be given the opportunity of representing the University in the state and other oratorical contests to be held in the spring.

The University will probably send representatives to the Pi Kappa Delta district tournament to be held in Waxahachie during the first week in April. There is also a possibility that two or three representatives will be entered in a contest to be held at the Southwestern Teachers' College in Durant, Okla., later in the spring.

English Department To Give Radio Program

Miss Sherley to Talk "Mount Mickle and Chartres" Over KTAT Sunday.

The fourth of a series of programs by members of the T. C. U. English department will be heard at 4 o'clock on Sunday afternoon over KTAT. Miss Lorraine Sherley will speak on Henry Adams' "Mount Mickle and Chartres."

Last week Mrs. Artemisia Bryson gave a talk over this station on "The Family Enters Fiction."

George Cherryhomes will be the principal speaker on the Youth's Forum program at 8:45 tonight over KFJZ. His subject will be "The Present Day Liquor Problem." The Poetry Club had charge of this program last Friday night.

Machine Shop Now in Physics Lab Equipment

Department Seeks to Allow Students to Work Out Original Theories.

Stroboscopes, geological ocellographs, ancient ship barometers, Tesla coils and many other weird and mysterious machines loom up in the corners of the physics laboratories, but in one corner is a complete machine shop.

George F. Townsend, the fairy godfather of the T. C. U. physics department, has given many of his most prized and valuable possessions to this department of the school. Among other things in this shop, "loaned permanently" to the laboratory, is a fine precision lathe, a four-speed electric grinder, a drill press and numerous smaller tools and appliances.

According to Dr. Newton Gaines, the T. C. U. physics department has made rapid strides in the last year and plans are being made for even greater developments this year.

"The department is attempting to further the theories and ideas of students as much as possible," says Dr. Gaines. The addition from time to time of apparatus useful in the construction of new machinery will give the student a chance to apply his theories in a practical way and try them out on a real scale."

Expects 35 to Enroll

Hutton Says New Students Are Registering Every Day.

Spring semester registrations are being made every day and are expected to include around 35 new students, Registrar S. W. Hutton announced recently.

A check-up of the first part of the week showed the following students enrolled: B. F. Lehberg, transfer student from S. M. U., Misses Elizabeth Dewhurst and Marguerite Burdette, and Blackney Sanders and Mrs. Madeline Barlow Roundtree all of Ft. Worth and Howard Cobb, freshman from Vernon.

"It's somewhat early yet to have a definite number of registrations, but from the number of inquiries for information we have received this week, we are certain that a considerable number are planning to enter for the spring semester," Hutton said.

At Ease, Students!

A misinformed section of the T. C. U. student body is passing the rumor around that the Student Council has organized a "purity committee" or a "purity league" or something of the sort on the campus.

The purpose of said committee, if the word of certain students is any criterion, is to snoop around among the students and try to "catch up" with them. These students can even point out members of this mythical committee.

At ease, students! No such "league" or "committee" exists on the campus. The whole idea is foreign to the policy of the Student Council. The council has no desire to "catch up" with anyone. The committee that met this week was created solely for the purpose of studying the dancing situation on the campus.

Students need no longer live in constant fear of excommunication, because no "purity league" exists at the University.

Education Day

Last Sunday was "Education Day" in many of the Christian churches throughout Texas, New Mexico and Louisiana. Last Sunday, being the third Sunday in January, approximately 250 to 300 churches were to have asked their members for contributions for the Christian Education Fund which helps to keep the doors of T. C. U. open.

Each of the numerous churches is asked each year to make a worthy contribution to this fund. In 1923 the Christian churches in Texas gave T. C. U. more than $175,000 for educational funds. Last year the amount was barely $3000. In 1923 the number of churches who answered the call totaled 154. And last year that number had dropped to 29. These figures are indicative of the serious problem which is facing the administration today.

T. C. U. is a church school and depends upon church support for its existence. T. C. U. has no state legislature behind it as has the State University, no huge endowment fund such as has Duke University. It depends in the main on gifts, scholarships, etc. from its backers—the churches.

True that the Mary Coutts Burnett estate has given T. C. U. needed funds for many years now, but it is not true that this estate, especially during the present economic crisis, meets the expenses of the University. Some of the churches have misconstrued the value of the estate and have made it their alibi for not continuing to give to the University. This conception should be buried. T. C. U. gives to its students in the Brite College of the Bible scholarships which must be paid for by someone. Besides the Brite College scholarships to ministerial students, the University spends $36,000 in work credits for students each year. The University makes it possible for the poorer students to go to college by giving them work in the various departments on the campus.

The time has come when it is no longer possible for the administration to meet and bear all the load. The University is operating under deficits. Government aid last year, it is true, kept down some of the deficit. But as a whole the University is sorely in need of funds. Its earnest and sincere plea must be made to the churches.

The 29 churches who gave last year will perhaps give again this year. But the other 225 who have not given, and some which did not as much as ask their members for an offering last Sunday morning, must realize their responsibility and help bear the load by making any Sunday, "Education Day."

An Eye to the Future

If you haven't been taken completely under by the examinations and last-minute work, here's a word of encouragement for you.

"Encouragement," you say, with a distinguishable note of resignation in your voice. "Encouragement! Nothing short of a miracle would pull me through!"

Although this martyr voices the opinion of the average student in these times—"these times that try men's souls"—the situation is not quite as bad as it is pictured. As long as there is life there is hope, and more than that—a new semester will start Wednesday.

A new semester! That suggests new hope, but it also makes you think of the ordeal you are still passing through. First you think about the examinations you have had this week. Then you think about the final you're going to try to pass this afternoon—or maybe next week. You wonder how well you might have done on these tests if you'd kept up and studied as you went along. You anathematize those term themes (three of them, maybe) that you waited so long to prepare and the book reports you wish you had read as they were assigned.

Yes, for students who are still in control of their faculties now is an ideal time to reflect on all these things. A new term means a chance to redeem the actions of the semester just passed. While your head is still crammed with a conglomeration mass of history, English, French, physics and mathematics, promise yourself solemnly that you are going to keep up with your work next semester—and watch for developments.

Yes, T. C. U. students are getting a new deal, but some of them won't win the coming rubber, either, unless they change systems.

C. H. Boyd Plans Another Big Hop When Exams Over

Clarence Henry Boyd, who successfully promoted a "warm-up" dance on a recent frigid day, has announced that a still bigger and better such function will be held next Tuesday to celebrate the completion of exams. Details of the event may be obtained from Boyd.

Among those attending the first affair were, besides the promoter, B. M. Williams, Dan Harston (Jr.), the Sargent Brothers, Jack Guthrie, Jack Thompson, Jimmy Lore, George Darr and a group of co-eds. . . . Ted Underwood, "Rosie" Wright and Jimmy Richards were present, but a little late.

The person who first called examination week "dead week" ought to receive some kind of an award for the accuracy with which he described it. . . . Is there such a thing as a "snap course"? . . . Dr. Marshall finally got his much anticipated "northern". . . . Orchids to Billy Baker for the admirable way he looked into that "grave matter of state cemeteries". . . . Jones Bacus comes from a city. . . . Bricksbats to these people who flunk an exam before it's given, then turn up with straight "A's". . . . Wonder if Prof. McDiarmid ever gave Vic Montgomery that ethics term theme? . . . Would like to write the great American novel . . . for the present must pass that journalism exam. . . . Woe is me! . . . What does it matter so long as you're healthy?

Current inclement weather has brought out cowboy boots on T. C. U.'s he-men from the West. . . . Vic Montgomery, Jinks Powell, Corky Makarwich, Doug Clements, (from Mineola, East Texas), Joe Logan and Burton Love (better known as "Wimpy") have been seen sporting the high-heeled footgear. . . . Wimpy, by the way, displayed the highest degree of optimism ever seen in these parts

It looks like the old story of economic determinism at Vassar. One of the professors there was noted for years for his outspoken distaste for gum chewing by the girls in his classes. But now they say, he has fallen silent upon the subject and the most obvious mastication evokes nary a frown. The reason? The reason is this—the professor has just invested in 100 shares of American Chiclet!

It was during the popularity of Will Rogers' picture, "State Fair," last year that Professor Blank at the University of North Dakota in Grand Forks acquired the nickname which has remained. They call him (students do) "Blue Boy."

As the student baptizer explained it, "He's the prize bore."

The ranks of the legal profession, already greatly overcrowded aren't going to be swelled unduly by graduates from the Minnesota school, apparently. Out of 137 freshmen students this winter, 101 flunked their preliminary tests.

But the Dean merely remarked, "that is nothing unusual."

It looks like the old American business life scheme of starting at the bottom and working up has been reversed by professors at the Babson Institute, where potential executives are trained.

In this school, each student is provided with a shiny, glass-topped desk, a dictaphone, and stenographer. However, we understand, each stenographer's working hours are definitely devoted to working.

THE GREEN-EYED GHOST

I saw a ghost at my window,
 The Specter was green-eyed and blue,
 It rustled and rattled and whirled,
 And shivery thrills through and through.

Its height must have been in the fifties,
 Its width and its breadth thirty-two;
 And its hairy whiskers were bluish,
 With eyes that were greenish in hue.

Well maybe a tree at the window
 Could sweep down its branches of green,
 And make such a whispering rustle
 Against the black square of our screen.

But I'll always know that I saw it,
 For there in plain sight and plain view
 It winked one green eye, then the other.

And smiled in its whiskers of blue,

TOO MUCH STUDY? . . . GET A LIFT WITH A CAMEL!

LEAF-TOBACCO EXPERTS AGREE:
 "Camels are made from finer, more expensive tobaccos—Turkish and Domestic—than any other popular brand."

HOWARD M. SMITH, JR., '36—"MATH" STUDENT. When you realize that you are running out of energy, just remember this advice from one who knows—Howard Smith, who is taking a heavy mathematics course: "When I light a Camel," he says, "it refreshes me and promotes alertness. Most of the college fellows I know are Camel smokers. They like that 'lift' they get from Camels, and also agree with me that you can smoke Camels all you want and they never upset your nerves."

PRO SQUASH CHAMPION. John L. Summers says: "I have often fought my way through a tournament—come out weary and exhausted—then smoked a Camel. Soon my energy is brimming again! Naturally, I am partial to Camels."

Spring Semester Promises New Student Life on Campus

By KATHRYN EDWARDS

As your correspondent sat in front of the little black time-saving device pounding out this article, some of you were sitting in classrooms, and were busily transferring your knowledge of four and a half months to the sheets that constitute our friends, "the little blue book."

But let's not bring up the past, now that the old semester is about dead. Let's look forward to the new spring semester with great expectations.

The spring semester always seems like New Year's to some of us. New hope, new life and, oh yes, hundreds of resolutions go with the arrival of the spring term. When we emerge into the new semester we find new classes, new contacts, and new programs to build our next four-and-a-half months of school life around. Everyone takes on a more optimistic outlook about this time every year. And all of us dream new dreams and build new hopes some of which are bound to be realized before the year is over.

Besides a rejuvenation of the spirit among academic pursuits, there always comes a score of new extra-curricular activities. Just think of the many things that are definitely scheduled to take place in the near future. Of course, there won't be any gridiron classics nor "specials" to make, but there will be the rest of the basketball play and the crowning of the champs, the student council dances and the special holiday programs all in February. And in March, that blustery blowing beast, there's something for everyone's particular enjoyment... the stock show and all its brones, tanbark, chaps, and 10-gallon hatters, the annual Southwestern track meet on the campus, the spring races out at Arlington Downs, and numerous other diversions.

And girls, don't forget that spring is the time when a "young man's fancy turns to thought of..." (supply your own word)... it's usually called Love. So if you've nourished an "S. L." all winter and have just about given up all hope, hang on until spring and watch him change sentiments like a chameleon change color. The spring has always been "open season" on most of the stronger sex's hearts.

April showers and May flowers will find us on the tennis courts, the golf links or along the bridge paths, Picknicking, bicycling, and other outdoor activities will figure in our play programs this spring. And don't forget the Easter holidays beginning April 19 for three days. That means week-end visits, parties, new clothes, etc.

And when all the final banquets, dinners, dances, garden parties, teas, Horned Frog ceremony, and all the spectacular things that make up the month of May have passed, we seniors will feel a little sad as we don the black robe and cap and march across the campus for the last time as students.

But by that time we will again be looking forward to the life ahead of us as we are doing today. So let's usher in this new spring semester with a spirit of optimism and good will. It's really going to be lotsa fun.

His Experiences Range From War To Microscopes

Major John B. Hawley will be guest lecturer in "Public Utilities," a course to be offered by the business administration department during the spring semester. Major Hawley, who is an international authority in his field, will lecture on the part of the course dealing with water supply and sewage disposal. He has given his services to the University for a number of years.

During the World War Gen. John J. Pershing, when confronted with the task of securing an expert hydraulic engineer, asked the American Society of Civil Engineers to appoint one for him. Major Hawley received the appointment and served abroad. In 1919 there appeared in the Saturday Evening Post a story concerning some of his adventures.

Major Hawley has directed the construction of the water plants in a great number of the large cities of the Southwest. In 1925-26 he turned his work over to some assistants and enrolled for full-time work in T. C. U. During that time he completed the work for his master of science degree 30 years after he received his bachelor's degree. His thesis was on "Microscopic Plant Life," which happens to be his hobby. Since then his thesis has been published in bulletin form under the title, "Microscopic Plant Life in Texas."

Several years ago, with the assistance of some T. C. U. students, Major Hawley filmed a full 20-minute reel of motion pictures of microscopic plant life under water. This film has been reproduced and widely circulated. His machine for taking moving pictures under water is in the T. C. U. biology laboratory.

Lockhart Has Held Post For Over 25 Years

Dr. Clinton Lockhart has been teaching the Old Testament at T. C. U. for 29 years and has been here longer than any other member of the faculty. He was president of the university from 1906 to 1911. Dean Colby D. Hall has been at T. C. U. for 25 years.

In 1916 President E. M. Waits became the president of the University and has been here 19 years. Two years later Prof. E. W. McDiarmid joined the faculty and has been the head of the department of philosophy for 17 years.

Dr. Rebecca Smith, head of English department and Miss Mabel Major, associate professor of English, have been connected with the University for 16 years. Both Dr. John Lord, head of department of government, and Prof. F. W. Hogan, head of department of chemistry, have been here for 15 years.

Mrs. Helen Fouts Cahoon, head of department of voice, has been teaching here for 13 years. The 11-year teachers are: Miss Artemisia Bryson, department of English; Miss Eula Lee Carter, department of Spanish; Miss Bonne M. Enlow, home economics department; Dr. Newton Gaines, head of the physics department.

Prof. L. D. Fallis, head of the public speaking department, has taught at T. C. U. for 10 years, and Prof. F. G. Jones has taught in the education department for nine years.

The rest of the faculty have, for the most part, been here for at least five years with the exception of the very latest additions to the economics and business administration departments, Dr. Alpheus Marshall and Dr. A. L. Boeck, respectively. There were also two additions to the music department this year. Prof. Harold Dybwad, head of the woodwind and brass department, and Prof. Keith Mixson, who teaches piano and music theory. Prof. Thomas Prouse became the new physical education department head this year.

Musical Numbers Are Announced For "Daze of '29"

Indian Setting Is Disclosed in Song Titles.

Wheeler Arranges 2
Everett Gillis Is Author of Some of Lyrics—Correction in Name.

The musical numbers to be presented in the musical comedy, "The Daze of '29," to be given by the Music Club early in March, were announced this week by Don Gillis, composer. The titles of the pieces give evidence of the Indian setting of the play.

Ronald Wheeler is making the orchestrations for two of the numbers. Some of the lyrics were written by Everett Gillis.

The names of the songs are: "The Indian Death Dance," "The Dance of Dawn," "You're a Chiseler," "Prayer of an Indian Maiden," "The Cats of Rangoon," "Let's Get a Little Wigwag," "A Course in Campstry," "Under the Blue Eagle," and "I'm a Red-headed Indian Gal."

Gillis also announced that the title of the play is "The Daze of '29" rather than "The Daze of '49." Previous announcements have given the title incorrectly.

Social Chairmen Must Submit Spring Calendars

All social chairmen of the campus organizations must have social calendar dates approved by the social calendar committee before they issue invitations to a particular affair, Dean Sadie T. Beckham said today.

"No dates should be announced as definite until the official committee has approved of the calendars," she said.

Mrs. Beckham also asks that the new spring semester social calendars be submitted for committee approval on or before Feb. 1.

A 'Storm at Sea' Started It All; Now Poet Writes of Many Things

Nina, Nina, quite contrary — how does your poetry grow?

Well, Nina wrote a poem about a "Storm at Sea." She had never seen a storm at sea, but she made the waves lash and the winds roar anyway.

She didn't even want to write a poem, but her English teacher in the Yoakum High School said she had to. And just imagine! The superintendent thought the poem was so good that he read it before the Rotary Club.

That's how it all began, and poetry writing has now become a habit with Miss Nina Whittington, T. C. U. senior. She's the president of the Poetry Club and is in general the school's most active poet. She is also a member of the Fort Worth Poetry Society. She participated in the state contest at Waxahachie last year, read at the meeting of the Texas Poetry Society in Dallas, and won one of the prizes in the Bryson poetry contest at T. C. U. last year.

Just last month Miss Whittington read a group of her poems at the Eastern Star meeting here. Two of her poems have been published in the Eastern Star Journal.

Miss Whittington says her best inspirations come when she can scribble on the inside of book covers and on the backs of envelopes. She writes all sorts of verse, much of it about Texas. Some of it is serious, some joyful, some sad, some glad.

Would she write a poem to use in connection with this sketch? Of course! And here it is:

THEY NEVER KNEW
She died as she had lived,
In sharp and cruel ways;
She thruared metal laughter
Into stark days.

She mocked at living
With each swift breath;
With deep and inner crashing
She even mocked at Death.

Her thoughts and slim cool senses,
They never knew of these.
They never knew she walked at night
And whispered to the trees.

Porkers Trounce Frogs Twice and Take Loop Lead

Arkansas Quint Cops 41-20 and 43-24 Victories.

Rallies Turn Tide

Closing Spurt in Each Game Causes One-Sided Scores—T. C. U. Fouls Costly.

The high-riding Razorbacks from Arkansas maintained their undefeated basketball record by taking two games from the Horned Frogs Friday and Saturday. The victories gave them undisputed possession of the conference lead and left the Meyer men at the bottom of the heap.

Friday night the Razorbacks took a 41-to-20 victory from the Frogs by virtue of a sensational last-period rally. In the opening minutes of the fray the Purple quint soundly outplayed the invaders. For ten minutes the Hogs were unable to score a field goal while the Frogs were making six points. Soon after this the tall Razorbacks found the basket and claimed a 13-to-7 lead at the half.

The second half found the two teams battling on even terms for several minutes. Midway in the period the score stood 26 to 20 for Arkansas, with the Meyer men coming up fast. However, Darrell Lester and Judy Truelson went out of the game via the personal foul route and put a stop to the Purple attack. In the last four minutes of play the winners scored 13 points to turn a close game into a one-sided affair.

Capt. Taft Moody was the high scorer of the game with 14. Newby and Poole were his closest rivals with six each. Lester paced the Frogs by scoring five points. Walls followed with four.

The game was marked by the large number of fouls called against both teams. There were 34 committed in all, with 20 being charged to the Frogs. Lester and Truelson were the only Frogs who fouled out of the game, but for Arkansas, Howell and Fulton went out in the same manner.

Saturday night's game was almost a repetition of the night before. The final score was 42 to 24 in favor of Arkansas, but again the top-heavy score was the result of a closing rally by the invaders.

As the game opened the Meyer men jumped out in front, 5 to 0, but their lead soon dwindled before the sharp shooting of Moody and Newby. The Hogs tied the score at 8-all and then took the lead, increasing it to 19 to 12 at the rest period. Ike Poole, Arkansas center, fouled out of the game before the first half ended.

In the second half the Frogs spurted, pulling up to within one point of the enemy. Lester again was put out of the game with four fouls. Capt. Truelson and Sam Baugh were the leading scorers in the Purple's second-period rally. At this stage of the game, the invaders opened up with an attack that put a stop to the Frogs' rally. Led by Moody and Newby, the Arkansas five scored one goal after another, most of them long shots, to place them in front.

Newby was high point man of the game with eleven. For the Frogs Truelson led with six. The personal fouls in the second game totaled 38, with 23 of them going to the winners. Lester and Poole were the only players to leave the game via the foul route.

Donovan's DOPE

By PAUL DONOVAN.
Even the typewriter is about frozen up on me, so you can blame the condition of this column on the weather this week. At the rate I peck on it wouldn't get warm on an August day, much less in the dead of winter. With a little coaxing it may thaw out gradually.

In the rush of trying to get through with examinations, term themes, etc., the subject of sports seems unimportant, but they will soon be over and we'll be back trying for a victory in basketball. It's the prediction of many now that T. C. U. won't win a conference game this year, but just wait. I for one will be disappointed if we don't beat Baylor next Saturday.

In those two Arkansas games the Frogs showed that they could hold their own against a fine team. They even outplayed the Razorbacks during part of the games. With a little more training they will be able to hold a fast pace longer, and then they will be plenty tough to beat. In every game they have started fast and then slowed down as the game got older. That is caused by lack of experience in speedy company. This conference is much faster than most of the men on the team are accustomed to. It takes more than determination to keep up a steady pace through a whole game. It takes rigid training and faithful practice as well.

Speaking of Arkansas, this Taft Moody can play on my team any day. He may be a little too individual for some teams, but as long as he makes points what more does one want? In the first game he shot more than twice as many times as the whole T. C. U. team, about 60 or 70 shots in all. While he only made 14 points out of that many shots, he had hard luck on many of them and should have made more. He and Jack Gray of Texas would make a good combination for an all-conference five.

And now speaking of all-conference teams, it's doubtful if the Frogs will place a man on the mythical selection. It is the usual custom to select players from the leading teams, so none of the Frogs will receive first consideration. Darrell Lester still ranks high with all who have seen him play this year. In all four games here he has been outstanding, both on offense and defense. The same fighting and hustling spirit that made Lester all-American in football has made him a valuable man on the basketball court. If he continues to outplay opposing centers it will be hard to keep him off the all-star team, regardless of where the Frogs finish.

It is interesting to sit on the sidelines and listen to what the grandstand coaches have to say about how the team should be run. At all of the games there are a few who voice their opinions so loudly that one can't help but overhear them. They each know just exactly what the trouble is, and they can't understand why Dutch can't see it too. A few sample bits of coaching advice: "The Frogs don't shoot enough to make any points." "They don't get anybody near the basket on the offense, and they'll never get any place passing the ball around in the middle of the court." "They don't try to get the ball off the backboard," and so forth and so on.

"Goodbye, Chips," Say Studes Who Peruse to Enjoy

When a T. C. U. student puts those bogies "required reading" and "special assignments" behind him, and settles down in a comfortable chair to ENJOY a book, it's ten to one that book will be "Goodbye, Mr. Chips." This tale of an English schoolmaster, by James Hilton, is at present most in demand at the T. C. U. library.

In biography, the life story of Elizabeth Barrett Browning still has the most readers, while the youthful Paul Engle's volume of poems is gaining popularity among lovers of verse.

"The Manchester Guardian," English news magazine, was enjoying great popularity last week, though we suspect some other motive than interest inspired the zealous reading of its contents.

Revised Purple Lineup Includes Saam at Guard

Coach Meyer Indicates Cage Shift Likely in Waco Game.

Truelson at Forward

Added Speed and Scoring Power Are Objects of Change—Roach to Alternate.

By PAUL DONOVAN
Pointing to the next conference game on Feb. 2 with Baylor, Coach Dutch Meyer has been leading his cagers through intensive practice sessions this week.

The Frog mentor has indicated that he will shift the Purple lineup for the next contest. The change would place Capt. Judy Truelson at a forward position and Byrum Saam at guard. The move will be made in an attempt to give the Frogs added scoring power and speed up the attack.

This will be the first change Coach Meyer has made in his starting lineup since the season opened. The new combination will be: Capt. Truelson and Willie Walls, forwards; Darrell Lester, center; and Sam Baugh and Saam, guards. Walter Roach, replaced forward, will be used as alternate at one of the forward positions.

Saam has been used only as a reserve guard to date, but his play has warranted the shift that will include him in the starting lineup. He is an aggressive guard, a clever ball-handler and a capable scorer. He has worked well with Baugh in previous games.

Baugh has been nursing an injured leg, hurt in the Arkansas series, but he is expected to be in readiness for the Baylor game, which will be played in Waco.

Aubrey Linne led the attack of the Outlaws against the Sophomores Thursday night, making 35 of the points. This record put Linne in the scoring lead for the tournament. Ray Wester, Sophomore "A" team star, is leading the "A" league with 27 points.
