'35 Horned Frog Will Be Issued Tuesday, May 21

Blue and Silver Color Scheme Being Used in Annual.

Proof Being Read

Engraver Says Beauty Section Most Elaborate Ever Used in T. C. U. Yearbook.

The 1935 Horned Frog will be issued to members of the student body on Tuesday, May 21, reports Mrs. Anna Byrd Wallace, editor.

Complete copy for the book was taken to the printer April 4 and the final proof is now being read, Mrs. Wallace said.

"This is the first time I have ever received the complete copy for the Horned Frog this early," said R. E. Copper, printer, when the copy was handed to him early this month.

The engraver said the beauty section of this year's publication was the most elaborate he had ever made up for the yearbook of T. C. U.

The book is different in many respects from any other ever published.

The cover is in two colors and made of a different grain of leather from previous editions.

A color scheme of silver and blue is carried throughout the book. The book is divided into three distinct sections and covers every phase of university life. The circular design is being used.

The advertising division is also different and has many added features, Jones Bacus said.

"Members of clubs that have not paid for their page in the book will not be given a copy until the final payments have been made," Bacus said. He requests that officers of the clubs make the payments as soon as possible.

The date of dedication will be announced in a later issue of The Skiff. Mrs. Wallace said.

3 Poetry Prizes to Be Given

Three prizes will be offered in the annual Bryson Poetry Contest this year, Mrs. Artemisia Bryson has announced.

Students wishing to enter poems in the contest are requested to have them in by May 15.

Students' Taste Turns to Torrid Musical Pieces

"The Sugar Blues" is T. C. U.'s favorite tune if the number of times the piece is played on music machines across the street from the campus is any criterion. Another rather obscure piece, "Tear It Down," probably ranks next in popularity.

The former number was played 13 times in rapid succession one day last week, while pharmacy and cafe employees begged to be spared.

Some of the more popular tunes, such as "Down by the River," featuring the crooning Bing Crosby; "Love-ly to Look At," "I Won't Dance," and Duke Ellington's "Solitude" are seldom played. A survey proves that the students' taste has a penchant toward the novelty and "torrid" tunes.

Two general meetings will be held this year. The first will be at 7:15 o'clock Tuesday evening. The topic for discussion will be "The Economic Aspects of the Dust Storms." Dr. Gayle Scott will be the speaker.

All students interested in commerce or economics are invited to join, according to the sponsors. Questionnaires are being circulated for information to be used by the committees.

Conceit Is God's Gift To Little Men

"Conceit," as one contemporary writer has so aptly put it, "is God's gift to little men."

And who can doubt the soundness of this man's reasoning. Haven't you noticed that it is the people of minor importance who usually assume a bravado air. Their conceit, as psychologists explain the situation, is a defense. The people of this type are usually timid, retiring souls, who, because they are ashamed of their lack of aggressiveness, assume this "holier than thou attitude."

What graduate, fresh from college with a crisp piece of paper that cost him $10 hasn't encountered the hard-to-meet executive? Traditionally, it is the lesser lights in the business world with whom it is hardest to gain an interview. These executives realize that they are of minor importance and try to make up for the deficiency. It is an axiom of the business world that the more powerful and important executives are the easier to see, easier to talk with and infinitely more courteous than men filling menial positions.

A group of co-eds in a middle Western university, when asked to enumerate the requisites of the ideal husband, listed conceit as one of the classic seven deadly sins. They made it clear that they would tolerate anything but conceit in a man. Had a group of men been queried on the subject, the result would not have been appreciably different. Conceited persons can't be endured.

Conceited men are, at best, harmless creatures. The irritate one at first, but it doesn't take long to learn how to ignore them completely. In other and less kindly words they become nonentities as far as people around them are concerned.

These conceited men usually have so much self-respect they relieve others from the obligation of respecting them.

Sophomores, Your Time Is Coming

Can you name as many as four of the Dionne quintuplets? Do you know who invented the fly swatter? The coffee pot? The elevator? Are you acquainted with Barbara Hutton? No? Then try this one. How far is it to Mars and then how many miles is it from Mars to Jupiter?

If you are a sophomore and don't know the answers to these questions you had better be on your guard, because some of the above questions or at least some just as difficult are sure to be thrust at you on the Nationwide Sophomore Examinations, which all second-year students will be required to take Monday and Tuesday.

The Spanish inquisition? Say, it shrinks in comparison. You'll probably come to pages and pages on the test on which you can't answer a single question. You may even think you are taking a British civil service examination.

But don't become alarmed, sophomores. The designers of the test realized at the time they made it out that no one in the world is capable of answering all the questions. It is a maximum examination, and you will be given the opportunity of finding out the fields in which you are weakest. Almost every subject known to man is touched upon.

You'll get to see how you rate in intelligence with other sophomores over the United States. The tests have passed the experimental stage. Their worth has been unquestionable established.

Oh, yes, you'll get out of classes for two whole days, too.

Sunshiny Days Find Us All Picnicking

Who doesn't like to get into his old clothes, pack a lot of tasty sandwiches, salads, and other goodies into the basket and the thermos jug, get into the car and find a nice green carpet of Mother earth and spread a picnic? Those who can not register a thrill over picnicking should be termed, "queer," "odd," and maybe "poor sports."

A check of the social calendar these lovely spring days reveals the popularity of these outdoor explorations, for many times picnics do turn into exploration parties with some unique "pioneering" taking place. There's nothing more satisfying to college students than the opportunity to "find" some of the things which they have read and have studied about in the classrooms. Surely the student in natural science experiences the same emotions as the research scientist who comes into a wealth of material concerned with his particular field. Picnics are synonymous with nature. Without a shady tree, a trickling stream, moss-covered rocks and the other beauties of the hillsides, the spread would be commonplace and just another meal.

Picnics are perhaps one of the oldest forms of entertainment. Who among us hasn't heard our grandmothers tell of the Sunday School picnic days when grandfather hired the best "hoss and buggy" in the community to take his lady fair to the countryside? Those were the good old days when a picnic was a picnic. Groups of persons used to form "picnic societies" which met all year round both in and out of doors. Soon the indoor meetings were abolished and the affair became one of pleasure partying in the woods.

Today the picnic has deviated from the earlier occasion very little, in fact the entire outing is built around the spread and the masticating gestures. The difference today is that we moderns know how to skip, romp and play and enjoy the things about us in a more liberal way than did our grand sires.

So just as picnicking was one of the favorite pastimes in olden days, so it is with us today. We may carry along some things which might seem unnecessary and out of keeping with a picnic to the "old folks" such as blankets, portables, and even "canned love" but we still advocate April and May as the days and evenings for some of the "better" picnics.

College Editors Hail Departure Of 'Rah-Rah' Days

Serious Student Now Replacing Old Campus Play-Boy.

Opinions Quoted

'Depression Killed Joe College,' 'Serious Though Increasing,' Are Typical.

The "Rah-rah boy" who went to college to enjoy life and obtain some social luster, strain his vocal chords in the cheer-gangs, and offer to die any time for dear old Alma Mater is disappearing from the campus. A student interested in world affairs, government, and social and political economy, is taking the campus play-boy's place.

This is the encouraging announcement of Dr. Walter A. Jessup in his first report as president of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching. It is concurred in by a number of university and college editors who were queried by The Literary Digest.

Add this evidence to the indications brought out by the Literary Digest peace poll (that the students of today are more serious-minded than their predecessors of the 'twenties), and the weight of testimony is overwhelmingly in support of Dr. Jessup's report.

That report, said the New York Times, "furnishes profitable reading for the presidents, trustees, teachers, and graduates of the more than 800 colleges and universities in the United States. So valuable are its ten pages in general review of the work of the year . . . that they should be given wider circulation."

Sounds a Warning. While he was putting in a good word for the student of today, Dr. Jessup sounded a warning that a struggle for survival among American colleges was imminent. He pointed out that the United States had 800 institutions of higher education while in all England, Scotland, Wales, and Ireland, there were fewer than 25.

Already, he said, there were some American institutions which were so far from fulfilling their function that they might as well abandon the struggle. There would be others, he predicted, which would lose ground, and some which would disappear.

The issue of the struggle, asserted Dr. Jessup, will not depend on money. "Survival will be conditioned by intelligent leadership, high morale, and the courage to be sincere with the students by selecting and educating them only in the field of institutional competency and in that field doing a genuine and significant job."

"In the long run, colleges will be evaluated by their success in maintaining themselves as seats of learning for students and staff."

Of special interest to parents whose sons are in college or preparing to matriculate is Dr. Jessup's description of the campus-boy of today. He "is no longer the blasé, sophisticated student of the 'twenties; he is a hard-working, serious-minded person who demands more of the college library, the laboratory and the instructor than did his brother of a decade ago."

Views of Student Editors. Student editors from widely scattered campuses agree. In reply to The Literary Digest's question, D. B. Hardeman, editor of The Daily Texan, student publication of the University of Texas, said the "rah-rah days are gone."

Hardeman, who is also president of the Intercollegiate Daily Editors' Association, wrote: "Greater use of libraries, better conduct of students, demand of newspaper readers for more serious articles, increased interest of students in politics, less emphasis on fraternity membership, less emphasis on athletics, greater independence of thought, less reverence for existing institutions, show the college man is thinking more and playing less."

"The passing of the 'rah-rah' era is a blessing of hard times," replied Albert Kosek, editor of The Minnesota Daily, University of Minnesota. "Students now want dollar for dollar values in education."

"The student has been taken down from his pedestal and is no longer expected to be a musician. If universities can adhere to true liberalism and remain out of the clutches of politicians, they may yet save us from ourselves."

"The depression killed Joe College," wired Chandler Harris, editor of The California Daily Bruin, of the University of California at Los Angeles. "Economic necessity has forced thought into the life of college students. Foolish hazing and tradition, exorbitantly expensive fraternities, excessive drinking and gambling are disappearing. Serious thought on economics and political problems is increasing."

Equally emphatic was the reply from Jonathan B. Bingham, chairman of The Yale Daily News, who said that the most conclusive evidence of the change in student type "is that 'rah-rah' is now a term of derision. Yale's serious-mindedness is shown by tripling registration in government economics courses, a demand for small classes, and individual instruction."

Sports Will Have Fling At Tonight's Council Dance

By KATHRYN EDWARDS

The theme of tonight's Student Council dance embraces the wide field of sports, for tennis, golf, hiking and other of the invigorating activities and pastimes will be exemplified in the sports attire to be worn. What with all the new styles being fashioned along a sports line, the floor tonight should be filled with scores of knitted suits, seersuckers, taffetas, plaids and numerous sporty prints.

The male in his sartorial splendor will grace the stag line in keeping with the trends shown in Esquire. That is, we hope that some of them will. When we asked Fred Steen what was to be different about this particular dance, he said, "Nothing, except the girls don't have to wear evening dresses..." Fred opined that he hoped the boys would use good taste and come wearing a tie. Whether you leave wearing it is another matter which Mr. Steen didn't go into. So it's knickers, sweaters, shirred back, inverted pleats and 19-inch "bottoms" for you lads tonight. Those in charge have announced that the word sports is not to be taken literally, for those who appear in bathing suits, track suits or last year's moleskins will be refused entrance, although the 40 cents is in nickels and dimes. "Physical education is also taboo, girls, not that anyone cares, says the feminine element in a loud chorus.

The editor is now walking the floor in the usual panther-like motion and all sports terminology has ceased to flow through the ivory-like portals of your correspondent's alleged brain. "Copy, copy, copy," he yells and we must be off (how true, how true) and away. Fo'give me, fo'give me this time.

Frog Baseballers In 2-Game Series With Longhorns

First Fracas Played Yesterday in Austin.

Second Tilt Today

Christians Must Take One of Contests to Remain in Conference Race.

By PAUL DONOVAN

With the conference baseball race at the halfway mark and the Frogs trailing the Texas Longhorns by one game, the Purple nine left Thursday for Austin to engage the Steers in a two-game series. The first game was played yesterday afternoon and the two teams will tangle again this afternoon.

It will be necessary for the Wolfmen to take at least one of the games from the Orange and White if they expect to remain in the running. If they can gain a decision in both contests they will be on the inside track going into the stretch. After the Texas series the Frogs will have two more games each with A. & M. and Baylor. If the Purple drops both games to the Steers they will be practically out of the race.

Coach Bear Wolf has his entire mound staff available for the series opener today. He indicated before leaving for Austin that Darrell Lester would get the call this afternoon. The big righthander holds a decision over the Longhorns already this season, downing them 4 to 3 in Port Worth. His effective showing against them in that game makes him the logical choice to oppose them today.

Capt. Jimmy Jacks, first baseman and pitcher, is expected to twirl the second contest. The Purple leader lost a 10-to-9 decision to the Longhorns in his last start. He has not worked on the mound since so will be ready for action tomorrow. Boaz Hoskins, veteran right hander, may also get a chance to work against the Steers. Hoskins has improved steadily since recovering from a leg injury which kept him on the sidelines for several weeks. He trimmed the Aggies Monday by a 9-to-8 score.

The Purple infield will be the same as was used against Texas here. Coach Wolf switched Taldon Manton and Sam Bugh for the Aggie series, but sent them back to their regular positions before the close of the first game. Bugh will remain at third and Manton at short. Capt. Jacks, first base, and L. D. Meyer, second, will round out the inner defense.

In the outfield Coach Wolf will use the same trio which started against the Aggies this week. Dan Harston will continue to patrol left, with Vic Montgomery in center and Frank Lozo in right. When Capt. Jacks is on the mound Lozo will shift to first and Willie Walls replacing him in right field.

changes are widely acclaimed here. The Yale Daily News resents exclusion of Yale in the list, and declares that there is great progress in students' awareness and thinking."

The resentment expressed by Mr. Bingham is evidently in reference to the statement by Dr. Jessup that the emergence of the serious-minded student "has been notably true at Chicago, Harvard, Minnesota, and Princeton."

A Marked Trend.

The statement is borne out as it concerns the great university at Chicago. "Chicago is distinctly less 'rah-rah' since the depression and new plan," wired Howard P. Hudson, editor of The Daily Maroon. "There is a marked trend toward academic political and international discussions by students, rather than the campus politics of old days."

Less positive, but encouraging, is the message from the University of Virginia. The "rah-rah" era ended here years ago," replied Murat Williams, editor of College Topics. "It still prevails farther South, and in some Virginia colleges. 'Rah-rahism' has been turned into superficial sophistication, which may be worse. However, the new era shows a strong minority interest in public affairs."

Donovan's DOPE

By PAUL DONOVAN.

Now that the Easter bunny has come and gone there's nothing to do but settle down and study for those final exams that will be here before we know it. Now, that's a fine thing to be in a sports column. But still we have to prepare for them just like a team would for a crucial game. And speaking of crucial games, look what the Frog nine is up against this weekend in Austin! Two games with the Texas Longhorns that possibly mean the championship of the conference.

In Bear Wolf's first season as head baseball coach he has run into one of the toughest assignments of his career. He has a team that is of championship calibre, but the competition is strong enough to put gray hairs on any man's head, even Bear's or Dan Harston's. If he can keep his nine at top form the rest of the season he will win a championship in his first year.

This final series with Texas is just a toss-up and Bear knows it. The two teams are so evenly matched that breaks will play a large part in deciding the outcome. In the games played here, both were decided by a one-run margin, so there is little to choose between the two.

The Frogs appear to have the edge in pitching with Darrell Lester, Jimmy Jacks and Boaz Hoskins. All three are experienced twirlers who have won in this conference, and all three are in good shape now. Lester beat the Steers here, and Jacks ran into a streak of bad luck and poor support that cost him valuable runs. Both are capable of beating the Orange this weekend.

In the past few years Frog nine has been unusually successful when playing in Austin on the Texas diamond. In three years they have lost only one game, and have won a number of thrillers that almost disrupted the Steer coaching staff, namely Uncle Billy Ditch.

Roy Largent, Chicago White Sox scout, was on hand for the T. C. U. A. & M. games Monday. He has his eye on several of the Frog players at present but has not talked contract with any of them. It was Largent who signed Slim Kinzy last spring and sent him to Chicago for a trial.

It is doubtful if Coach Wolf will make any further changes in the Frog infield this year. When he switched Taldon Manton and Sam Bugh for the Aggie series, it was hoped that the defense would be strengthened materially. However, the results were so unsatisfactory that the two were back in their old positions before the end of the first game. Of course the few innings the experiment was tried were not a fair trial, but when an error may easily lose a ball game, it is not worth the chance. As it is we still have the best infield in the conference.

The hitting of the Frogs has been a little disappointing thus far to the fans. There have been a number of lousy blows that have produced runs, but they have not come consistently enough to suit those who have looked forward to a deluge of extra-base hits by the Frogs. That is expecting too much against conference pitching, but some of the Purple sluggers are hitting below form now. The average for the entire team for the first six games is .267, which is fairly high for a team record. Just a slight improvement over this should be enough to win a championship.

All we can do now is sit back and anxiously await the return from the games with Texas.

Christians Drop To Second Place

Baseballers Split Series With Longhorns and A. & M.

By splitting two-game series with both the Texas Longhorns and the A. & M. Aggies the Horned Frogs dropped to second place in the conference standings, one game behind the leading Texas nine. Both series were played on the Purple diamond.

Both games with the Steers, played April 12 and 13, were decided by a one-run margin, the first going to Texas 10 to 9 and the second to the Frogs 4 to 3 in ten innings. Capt. Jimmy Jacks pitched the first contest for the Wolfmen with Darrell Lester going the route in the final.

Lawrence Gets 2 Hits.

In the series opener the Steers jumped into an early lead by counting seven runs in the second inning. Four hits coupled with four walks accounted for the seven scores. From that stage of the game on the Frogs held the upper hand and climbed up to within one run of the Longhorns in the eighth inning.

Sam Bugh and Jimmy Lawrence were the leading hitters for the Purple, Lawrence collecting three and Bugh two. One of Bugh's hits, a double, came with the bases loaded to account for three of the runs. Bugh also starred on the defense, making several brilliant plays.

Lester Is Effective Twirler.

The second game was close all the way, and it was marked by the effective twirling of Lester and the timely hitting of Lawrence. It was a single by Lawrence in the tenth that won the game after the Purple had tied it up in the eighth by pushing across two runs.

After being rained out last weekend the Frogs and Aggies were forced to play a double-header Monday afternoon on the Purple field. As in the Texas series the Wolfmen led the first game and won the second. The opener went to the Aggies by the decisive score of 9 to 1, while the nightcap resulted in a 9-to-8 victory for the Frogs.

Mooty Pitched Air-Tight Ball.

Lester opposed Jack Mooty in the first contest. Numerous misplays on the part of the Purple added to the Farmers' score which mounted steadily after the first inning. Seven runs were scored by the Aggies in the first three innings on three hits. This lead was never threatened, and behind the four-hit pitching

High Point Man

Rolling up 10 points in the track meet against Baylor University last Tuesday afternoon, Paul Hill, T. C. U.'s man mountain carried off the Frog high-point honors. He won first place in the shot put.

Track Team to Meet Baylor and S. M. U.

Will Compete With Mustangs in Annual Fray at Dallas Saturday.

The T. C. U. track team will go to Waco Tuesday for a triangular meet with Baylor and S. M. U. Saturday is the date for the annual dual meet with the Mustangs. This year the meet is to be held at Dallas.

Baylor's track team defeated T. C. U. 78 to 28 last Tuesday afternoon. Paul Hill was high point man for T. C. U. He won first place in the discus and shot-put. George Magoffin won the pole vault, and Tony Vargas and John Durrett tied for first place in the two-mile run.

of Mooty the Aggies coasted to victory.

Boaz Hoskins worked the closing game for the Wolfmen and pitched effectively all the way. He too was the victim of costly errors in the first inning when the visitors scored four runs on one hit.

Hoskins Opposes Aggies.

After this his support tightened and he held the Farmers in check while his mates gradually cut the Aggie lead and finally took command in the last of the fourth. However the Cadets tied it up in the seventh and last inning. In the Frogs' half of the seventh Harston walked, went to third on Manton's single and scored the winning run when Capt. Jacks laid down a perfect bunt.

Capt. Jacks, Lozo, and Harston led the Frog attack in both the Aggie contests. This trio accounted for seven of the ten hits made by the Purple during the afternoon.

J. Walkup Joins Exclusive 'Dodos' At Dallas Match

Jimmy Walkup became a member of the exclusive Dodo Club Wednesday afternoon at the Lakewood golf course in Dallas. In the match with the S. M. U. golf team Walkup made a hole-in-one on No. 16. The hole is par three and is 110 yards long.

In spite of this shot, the S. M. U. golfers won the matches 5 to 1.

4 Wolfmen Hit Above .300 Mark

At the halfway post of the conference baseball race four members of the Horned Frog nine are hitting above .300 in conference games. Capt. Jimmy Jacks leads the Purple hitters with a mark of .375. He is closely followed by Frank Lozo, Dan Harston and Sam Bugh. Jacks and Lozo have each collected nine hits to lead in that department. Harston and L. D. Meyer have scored the most runs, eight each.

I was working way late at the office one night and ran out of cigarettes. When Jim the watchman came through I tackled him for a smoke.

"Sure," says Jim, and he handed over a pack of Chesterfields. "Go ahead, Mr. Kent, take three or four."

Jim said he'd smoked a lot of cigarettes in his time, but he'd put Chesterfield up in front of any of 'em when it came to taste.

That was the first Chesterfield I ever smoked. And I'm right there with him, too, when he says it's a ding good cigarette.
