Junior-Senior Banquet to be June 1

Tuesday Night Senior Garden Party

Junior President Issues Final Plea To Classmates

Asks Financial Aid for Annual Junior-Senior Banquet.

Affair to Be June 1

Class Must Respond or Dinner May Be Last One on T. C. U. Campus.

Dear Juniors:

This is to inform you that the annual Junior-Senior Banquet and Dance will be at the Texas Hotel on June 1 at 7:30 o'clock.

This is the earnest and impassioned plea of your class president to support what may easily become the last of the Junior-Senior banquets. Should this banquet result in a financial loss to us as Juniors, we are in danger of losing one of our oldest traditions, that of honoring our friends who go out year by year to see what life holds for them. You will soon be a senior, and in turn honored. If you do not care to look back on what has been the highlight of the senior year when you have graduated, your support is not asked for this banquet.

To those of you who are still reading, I should like to say that, due to certain difficulties which have arisen this year, thus preventing us as juniors from raising money in the way it has been raised in the past, we have been forced to levy the cost of this banquet on the entire class. If we, as juniors accept this tax of $1 on each of us as a fair and equitable division of the burden of raising money for the banquet, we thereby establish a precedent which will be followed as a fair method of financing this banquet by the juniors in the future.

If you do not care to accept this plan or can not suggest a better one, I hardly think you will expect to enjoy a banquet next year when you have become the senior who is bidding T. C. U. goodbye.

The Junior-Senior Banquet is on trial, juniors, and it is up to us to say whether or not it will remain a tradition at T. C. U. We should certainly be foolish to expect one next year if we do not support one this year. I'm not only talking to those Juniors who are reading there near you, Mr. Junior—I'm talking to you!

There will be a Junior-Senior Banquet on June 1 and it will have the best program of about six numbers ever put on at such a banquet, and a lollapalooza of a dance. You may bring outside dates (not juniors or seniors) if you wish, but since the junior girls have been asked to go dutch, perhaps it would be financially expedient to take one of them. You will be expected to bring your dollar for a senior plate.

I implore you, juniors—Let's not make this the last Junior-Senior Banquet!

Your most humble and obedient servant,
Melvin Diggs.

Notice.

Tickets for the Junior-Senior banquet may be secured from Miss Ruth Campbell, Melvin Diggs, Dick Simpson or Miss Loraine O'Gorman in the Registrar's office. You are requested to get your tickets as soon as possible and the latest by Friday noon, May 31. Seniors are to get their tickets as they sign the attendance list in the Registrar's office.

All juniors will be expected to pay the $1 tax for a senior plate whether they expect to attend this year's banquet or not, according to Diggs.

Tickets, which will include banquet and dance, will be: Free for graduating seniors; $1 for August graduates; $1 for juniors and $1 tax for senior plates and $1 for freshman and sophomore boys who are taking junior or senior girls.

E. Gillis Wins Bryson Award With 'Futility'

Walley and Barney Get Second, Third Contest Prizes.

3 Judge Poetry

Prizes Have Been Given Since 1922 in Memory of Prof. Walter E. Bryson.

First prize in the 1935 Bryson Poetry Contest was awarded to Everett Gillis for his sonnet, "Futility," it was announced Wednesday. "The Bow of the Ship in the Storm," by Gail Walley, won second prize, and "Credo," by William Barney, was given third place. Honorable mention was given to "Land Lover," by Frances Parker, and "Drouth," by Genevieve Papineau.

Fair Book Store Gives Prize.

The Fair Book Store offered a choice of books for the first prize. Your Book Nook in the Hotel Texas offered "New Voices of the Southwest" for second prize, and the department of English staff members offered a choice of books for the third prize.

Judges in the contest were: Dr. C. C. Gumm, former member of the English department; Mrs. Maude Chandler Modlin, prominent Fort Worth clubwoman and poet, and Lexie Dean Robinson, well-known Texas poet.

Futility.

By E. Gillis.

A lad climbed up a tall, green hill to wheel
Aside the moon that stood, a golden door,
Upon the somber wall of night; a store
Of gold, he reasoned, would be there to steal.
He climbed the slope with gayety and zeal,
And in his eager hand a sack he bore
To carry back the precious stones and ore
He knew lay close behind the moon's bright seal.

But long before he reached the summit's edge,
The hill became a precipice; the way
Of travel changed into a tortured ledge;
The slashing thorns and rocks took bloody pay;
And on the top there met his anguished eye
A silver tinsel hung far in the sky.

17 Poems Submitted.

Poems submitted were: "House of Stones," "The Yellow Wind," and "Credo," by William Barney; "His Night to Howl," and "Dry-Gulched," by A. L. Crouch; "The Green-Eyed Ghost," "My Heart," "In Faith," and "Futility," by Everett Gillis; "Land Lover," by Frances Parker; "Dust" and "Drouth" by Genevieve Papineau; "Captain Larsen," and "The Bow of the Ship in the Storm," by Gail Walley and "Silent Song," "They Never Knew," and "Boundaries," by Nina Whittington.

A poem by Siddie Joe Johnson, winner of the contest in 1929, appears in "New Voices of the Southwest."

The award was established in 1921 by Prof. Walter E. Bryson, and since his death in 1922, Mrs. Artemisia Bryson, with the assistance of the English department, has continued to offer the prize in his memory.

Tune In Tomorrow And Hear Secrets Of Most Popular

"Have a free period tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock?" If so, you might either go up to KTAT on the mezzanine floor of the Texas Hotel or lend your ears to a radio for 15 minutes. You may find out a lot of things you have been wondering about.

Mrs. Anna Byrd Wallace, editor of the Horned Frog, Miss Johnnie Mae Donaho, most popular co-ed in T. C. U., and Darrell Lester, captain-elect of the '35 football squad, are going to broadcast their views on various subjects in answer to the questions which will be fired at them by Miss Carma Collier on her program "Lessons in Loveliness."

This is just a sample of what is going to be asked of Mrs. Wallace. "How did your husband propose to you?" "How do you like editing an annual?" "What trait did all the favorites have in common?"

Miss Donaho will be asked "For what reason were you chosen as the most popular girl in T. C. U.?" "What qualities do your prefer in boys?" "What type clothes do you prefer?"

Darrell Lester will be asked "Why do you like to play football?" "What qualities do you admire most in girls?" "Do you prefer blondes, brunettes, red-heads or all of them?"

All of these questions and many more on the same order will be asked. Guests will be welcome and seats will be provided in the broadcasting room for this purpose.

Observe Dead Week And Be Happy!—

Dead Week starts today and will continue until Wednesday morning, when the first of final examinations will be given all students except seniors. Seniors are nearly through with academic undertaking by now and only social obligations remained to be filled before Commencement on June 3.

Next week is not only Dead Week, but it is also Senior Week. For about 91 students in the University next week will be one long party. For the others, next week will be a study period. At least it should be a study period, for no social activities are allowed for the undergraduates during this week.

Dead Week to some people has meant nothing this year. The group which has practically ignored this official ruling is the town students, who do as they please all the year round. The decree was not made for a particular group of persons, but for the good of the entire student body. One and only one group has been affected by the ordinance, that being the dormitory students. Such a situation defeats the purpose from the start. Dormitory students, girls in particular, observe the ruling, whereas town students seldom realize there is a Dead Week. During the Dead Week before final fall semester xams, one of the most elaborate affairs were given in honor of a particular group of the students on the campus. Many of dormitory students were guests too. The town students knew nothing of Dead Week and did not recognize the importance.

Ask 75 per cent of the student enrollment the Dead Week dates and you'll receive a negative response from them Dead Week has meant practically nothing to them.

It is hardly necessary to enter into lengthy discussion upon the importance of such a week. A college student should realize the necessity of certain periods of serious studying. That should be one of his characteristics. To those students who have studied throughout the year at regular hours, Dead Week will mean an opportunity to catch up the "loose ends" of some of his courses and prepare to make a good showing at "testing" time. To the procrastinators and the "put-er-offers," the week will afford opportunity, perhaps not enough but several days, to learn what should have ben learned all along. Some of the student body will wish for a 14-day Dead Week instead of the official seven day.

Town students, let's observe this helpful ruling of the administration and enter into the spirit, determined to get in a week's constructive studying. Seniors have earned the right and the privilege to play. Our duty to ourselves is a right and a privilege which the University has bestowed upon us by setting aside next week as Dead Week.

Campus Groups Exemplify Student Leadership

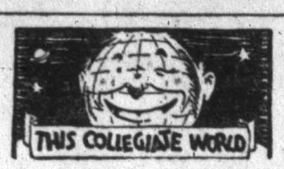
With the end of the school year at hand it is fitting that we do an about-face and do some retrospective thinking on our accomplishments this year. We all have perhaps observed the numerous activities of campus groups throughout the year, but the most of us have given the undertakings and movements of these progressive groups only a passing thought.

T. C. U. has made a showing for herself in many ways. She has developed and produced men and women fitted, in some way or another, for life's battle which is so intense today. Of the many opportunities the University has given us the privilege of leadership is perhaps the most significant. For years the administration has included in its curriculum courses designed to stimulate leadership. Not only does the curriculum stress indulgence into worth while things, but members of our faculty rouse many students to do creative projects in various fields of study. An active and progressive professor can do "wonders" in bringing to life ideas which have been dormant in the student's mind. An interested instructor seldom meets indifference in his students.

T. C. U. may well be proud of her students who have taken her banner and waved it high both at home and in adjoining localities. The kind of training offered at T. C. U. is exemplified each year by spirited youths desirous of contacting not only campus life but life as it will unfold itself when we leave the campus. All phases of university life may be found in the groups who go forward each year and show the world that college life is no longer the center of light-hearted wisecracking rah-rah minded students.

Groups which have received worthy attention and criticism this year from the public include not only those who wear the athletic honors, but those accomplished in the fine arts, the literary patterns and other academic undertakings. Our Horned Frog Band, official West Texas Chamber of Commerce musical organization, the Men's Glee Club, one of the outstanding choral groups of the stage, and our ever-popular Horned Frog athletic teams have developed the best specimens of leadership to be found any place.

The anthologies published by students of verse, and members of the freshmen invitation English class, the yearbook, and the numerous field trips taken each year by students in journalism interested in gaining "practical experience" in newspaper work . . . these products, many of them equal to efforts of more mature minds, make for the University and institution filled with not only tradition and cultured learning but with wide-awake progressive leadership.



The Cowboy Band of Hardin-Simmons University will play in Europe this summer. Chief Yowlache, Yakima Indian chieftan, is a featured singer with the organization.

Eight hundred and fifty students at the University of Oklahoma comprise the 1935 graduating class. These students represent 27 states and three foreign countries—France, Columbia, S. A., and Mexico.

The faculty at Tulane University played a baseball game with the varsity team last Friday. This is an annual affair.

A questionnaire at the University of Texas, sent to a representative number of women students, revealed that the average expenditure of women during 1934-1935 was $927.26 for dormitory students, $1340.86 for students living in sorority houses, and $1087.59 for boarding house students.

A gold watch will be given to the senior at Louisiana Tech who has rendered the most unselfish service to his fellow students and to Louisiana Tech during his college career. The donor of the gift is a Ruston, La., business man who gives the watch with the understanding that his name will not be divulged.

New library and chemistry buildings at the University of Arkansas will be completed in July. An elevator controlled by a button will convey books from the stack rooms to the library proper.

Approximately two thousand entries, an increase of 920 over last year's contestants, were made this year in intramural sports for women at the University of Texas.

Out of The Past

By DORIS PERRY

One Year Ago—

Announcement was made that David Scoular, director of the T. C. U. Men's and Women's Glee Clubs, had been granted a year's leave of absence from the University to study during the 1934-1934 session and the summer following at the Yale University School of Music, on a scholarship received from that school.

Judy Truelson was the lone letterman to receive four major letters. He lettered in football, basketball, track and tennis. Truelson was the second man to accomplish this feat durinig the past seven years.

The Men's and Women's Glee Club traveled more than 2400 miles during their concert season. The Men's Glee Club sang in six states.

Five Years Ago—

Cement work on T. C. U.'s new stadium was begun.

T. C. U. students had a farewell party at the Worth Theater. Billy Muth played T. C. U. numbers on the pipe organ and several vaudeville acts were given by T. C. U. students.

Dr. and Mrs. Josiah Combs left for a tour of Europe.

Ten Years Ago—

N. Oda, a native of Akita, Japan, arrived on the campus to study here.

From 10 girls selected at random on the campus, one cook was found.

Miss Sherley Honors Cousin at Tea

Miss Lorraine Sherley honored her cousin, Miss Elizabeth Sherley Foster, at a tea and luncheon in Jarvis Hall Wednesday. Misses Nancy Lee McConnell, Zetta Mitchell, Nancy Camp and Maupin Yates were also honored at the tea. The five honorees at the tea will attend the University of Texas next year

Miss Ruth Duncan arranged for the two orchestras, composed of T. C. U. students, which played during the afternoon. Several selections were rendered by the Men's Glee Club, under the direction of W. J. Marsh. Miss Mary Frances Bibbs played a few numbers on the harp.

About 100 guests called during the afternoon.

Horned Frog Staff Has Banquet

Members of the Horned Frog staff and their guests had a banquet at the Blackstone Hotel Monday evening. Impromptu stunts and jokes were presented between courses.

The guest list included: Mrs. Anna Byrd Wallace, Prof. and Mrs. C. R. Sherer, Misses Elizabeth Hudson, Kathryn Swiley, Helen Millikin, Helen Woods, Evelyn Lowe, Milli Fearis, Mary Ellen McDaniel, Vance, Grace Maloney, Maurine Rice, Mary Beth Holmes, Maurine Bush, Isabel Ackerman, Kathryn Edwards, and Ruth Connor and Jones Bacus, Ben Sargent, Atys Gardner, Olin Jones, Hays Bacus and Loy McCarroll.

PREJUDICE

I, Janus, door-god, ever-watchful eye,
The self-appointed guardian of the mind,
Am here to fend it from the thing that's strange;
Alert am I each salient thought to bind.
The one who enters at this door must wait
And either knock me down and slay me there,
Or he must soothe my pet desires and beg
That he may go into my sacred lair.
My lord who lives within and lolls in sleep,
Does not so much as dream tis I who rule,
And turn his would-be guests away, and bid
His foulest enemies come in—the fool!
I feast myself upon unwholesome lore
And never sleep at all—I keep life's door!

THE THE WOMAN'S STORE FAIR

'Dead Week' Rightly Named As Busy Year Nears Close

BY ROSEMARY COLLYER.

Dead week? Right! So far as the eye can see on the social calendar, parties have been given in every available minute. This fellow classmates, is the result. If you are not dead now from loss of sleep, then you will be after the exams have come and gone. (It always pays to be optimistic.)

Having been told from a very reliable source that no one reads my humble efforts, this will proceed to be just one of those columns. It is purely unintentional on my part that I am doing this, but my superior, Kathryn Edwards, said that she didn't have anything to say. After this sad tale of woe, yours truly is still the goat.

Well, it looks as if about 91 "frogs" are going to be turned loose next Monday week upon the cold, cruel world—with them will go Miss Edwards. Did I hear someone say "God save The Skiff?" I guess it's true (if you don't mind a little copying) that Skiff editors may come and go but this column goes on forever.

While the graduates are taking exams, we poor underclassmen had better be getting at least on speaking terms with our books which we have been carrying around with us all year. Did it ever occur to you that that is the reason the bookstore always buys the books back? They just simply look as good as new.

If the prospect of studying, cramming, becomes too much for you, then try speculating as to where you'd like to go this summer. Personally, I always like to leave immediately, go a long way off, and stay a long time. Then I'm not at home when the fatal blue or whatever color they are, cards come. The reason for the lengthy stay is to allow the parent time to cool off before I make my appearance.

Since this is my last opportunity to torture the campus this year, I shall endeavor to take my leave as gracefully as possible. See you all next year!

Five Delegates Attend English Convention

A delegation of five from the T. C. U. chapter of Sigma Tau Delta attended the regional convention at Southwestern University, Georgetown, last Saturday. Prof. J. Frank Dobie was the guest speaker at the convention, which was attended by delegates from seven chapters in Texas and Oklahoma.

The convention opened with a business meeting, at which Mrs. Jane Schroeder, president, presented a report from the chapter. A sponsor's committee was formed, of which Dr. Rebecca Smith is a member.

Miss Nina Whittington read the poems entered by T. C. U. in the poetry contest. The award, a loving cup presented by the T. C. U. chapter last year, was won by Central State Teachers' College, Edmond, Okla.

Delegates were entertained with a tea in the Poe Room of the university, where a valuable collection has been gathered.

A formal banquet followed, at which Dr. Smith responded to a toast to the guests given by Dr. Claud Howard of Southwestern. An address by Dr. Dobie on "Folk-Lore as Background for Creative Writing" completed the program.

The next convention will be held at Mary-Hardin Baylor, Belton.

Colleges represented were: Baylor University, Waco; Mary-Hardin Baylor, Belton; East Texas State Teachers' College, Commerce; Central State Teachers' College, Edmond, Okla.; Westmoorland College, San Antonio; Southwestern University, Georgetown; and Texas Christian University.

Attending from T. C. U. were: Dr. Smith, Mrs. Schroeder, Miss Whittington, Miss Mary Louise Nash, and Everett Gillis.

Miss Maloney Heads Los Hidalgos

The new officers of Los Hidalgos elected at the last meeting of the club are: President, Miss Grace Maloney; vice-president, Joe Burkett; secretary, Miss Marjorie Sewalt; treasurer, Miss Ann Cauker; publicity chairman, A. L. Crouch; social chairman, Miss Helen Adams; program chairman, Miss Mary Frances Umbenhour.

Crotty Recital to Be 8:45 P. M. Sunday

Clarence Crotty, public speaking major, will be presented in his senior recital of "Days Without End," by Eugene O'Neil, in the recreation room of the University Christian Church at 8:45 p. m. Sunday evening. Members of the Meliorist Club and their guests will hear Crotty in his recital. Miss Helen Miellmier will offer a piano solo.

Miss Edythe Black spent the week end as the guest of Miss Alberta Peach.

Ampersand Elects New Officers

Miss Mary Frances Umbenhour, newly elected president of Ampersand, presided at a business meeting last Friday afternoon when other officers of the organization were elected.

The new officers are: Vice-president, Miss Loraine O'Gorman; secretary, Miss Ruth Campbell; treasurer, Miss Dorothy Jones; publicity chairman, Miss Grace Maloney, and project chairman, Miss Ann Cauker.

Mrs. Gayle Scott was chosen sponsor of the group for 1935-36. Each year the sponsor is chosen from members of the advisory board, which is composed of Miss Lide Spraggins, Miss Eula Lee Carter, Mrs. Sadie T. Beckham, Mrs. Colby D. Hall and Mrs. Scott.

The scrapbook of the club, which has been decorated with hand paintings, was turned over by Miss Eddie Jo Simmons to Miss Maloney, who will keep it during the coming year.

"Ampersand plans to undertake several projects that will be beneficial to the University next year," Miss Umbenhour said.

At the close of the next school year, Ampersand will be elegible to petition for membership in Mortar Board, national senior girls' honor society.

Mavericks Elect Miss Luyster

Miss Dorothy Luyster was elected president of the Mavericks, formerly the Outcast Club, at a slumber party given last week-end at the home of the sponsor, Mrs. Artemesia Bryson.

The new name, "Mavericks," was adopted at the meeting and was suggested by Miss Virginia Bryson, one of the founders of the Outcast Club.

Other officers named were: Secretary-treasurer, Miss Zella Tatum and social chairman, Miss Margaret Grant.

Games, a midnight feast and breakfast at Inspiration Point Sunday morning were enjoyed by Misses Luyster, Grant, Kathryn Edwards, Ona Ruth Potter, Marian Meaders, Lula Delle Willoughby, Bernice Johnson, Mary Frances Umbenhour, Fay Jordan and Ruth Annis Ridings.

Student Council Honors New Members

Members of the present Student Council honored the councilmen-elect with a breakfast Wednesday morning at the home of Miss Loraine O'Gorman, 2526 Green Street.

Prof. C. R. Sherer, faculty advisor of the council, was presented with a traveling case by the councilmen.

The incoming council members who attended the breakfast included Miss Ruth Campbell, newly-elected secretary-treasurer; Raymond Michero, editor of The Skiff for next year; and Dick Simpson. Others who attended were Miss O'Gorman, Mrs. Anna Byrd Wallace, Jack Langdon, Hubert Stem, Lon Beavers, Clarence Crotty, Ben Sargent, Melvin Diggs, Gail Walley, Vernon Brown, Johnnie Knowles, Elliott Phares and Prof. and Mrs. Sherer.

"Dirt" to Feature Glee Club Feast

"Dirt," not dust, gathered by members of the Men's Glee Club on its recent tour of West Texas will hold the spotlight at the club's annual banquet at 6:15 o'clock tomorrow evening at the Elks' Club.

James Tribble, toastmaster for the affair, has accumulated information concerning the actions of members on the trip and is making preparations to reveal a number of the more personal affairs of the individuals. Several novel means have been devised to present the information, but these will not be revealed until they are presented at the banquet.

Tribble, Patrick Henry, Jr., Weldon Allen, Waller Moody and Raymond Michero are in charge of general arrangements for the banquet.

Miss Moxley Gives Bridge Party

Miss Jean Fallis won cut prize at a bridge party given by Miss Wynelle Moxley Saturday at the home of her sister, Mrs. Marion Shannon.

Each girl was given a corsage of pink rose buds and a salad course was served to Misses Sarah Jane Hurley, Virginia Schell, Helen Miellmier, Frances and Lucille Shear, Willie C. Austin, Elberta Peach, Lois Atkinson, Harriett Reed, Gay Goldthwaite, and Fallis.

Mrs. Cahoon Presents Pupils in Recital

Voice pupils of Mrs. Helen Fouts Cahoon were presented in a recital Wednesday evening at the University Christian Church. Excerpts from "A Flower Wreath," a cantata by W. I. Marsh, were presented on the program by girls' chorus.

Soloists who appeared in the recital were Misses Virginia Clark, Delia Collins, Louise Roper, Marion Porter and Doris Claybourn and G. L. Messenger and George Petit. Misses Mary Frances Hutton, Elizabeth Henry, Edna Webb and K. Dee Sloan were soloists in the chorus presentation.

Accompanists were Mrs. Bailey Evans, Prof. Keith Mixson and Miss Gretchen Kuehne. Members of the boys' chorus and the Men's Glee Club acted as ushers.

Miss Mary Honea had as her house guests last week-end at her home in Cleburne Misses Florence Fallis, Margaret Combest, Louise Glass, Georgia Vineyard, Irene Cassidy, Johnnie Ruth Cassidy and Evelyn Brambiett.

Bill Hudson visited in Newark last week-end.

"T" Party Probably Will Not Be Held

"The annual week-end party of the "T" Association will probably not be held this year because of the coming tests," said Mark Hart, secretary, Wednesday. This event in the social program was scheduled for Glen Rose last Saturday and Sunday, but was postponed because of the rain.

"The social committee is planning either a "smoker" or a picnic to take the place of the party if we can get a suitable date from the faculty social committee," Hart said.

Douglas Clements visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Q. E. Clements, at his home in Mineola last week end.

Mrs. Jarvis, 91, Gets 91 Roses

Mrs. Ida Van Zandt Jarvis received 91 red and talisman roses last Monday as a birthday gift from the University on her 91st birthday.

Miss Mary Jarvis, the recepient's granddaughter and June graduate, accompanied by Miss Lu Ellen Evans and Johnny Knowles and Hubert Stem, took the flowers to Mrs. Jarvis. Earlier in the day President E. M. Waits and Dean Sadie T. Beckham called on Mrs. Jarvis to wish her "birthday greetings."

Mrs. Jarvis lives with her daughter, Mrs. J. I. Burgess, on Weatherbee Street.

Sam Barlow spent Sunday at his home in Weatherford.

Waits Will Honor Faculty Tonight

President E. M. Waits will honor members of the faculty at a buffet supper to be given in the garden of his home, 2929 Princeton Street, at 7 o'clock this evening.

Assisting President Waits in arrangements is a committee composed of Miss Mabel Major, Miss Katherine Morro and Mr. Gayle Scott.

A short musical program will be presented by W. J. Marsh, who will give pianologues, and a trip directed by Prof. Harold Dybwad.

Miss Wynelle Moxley will attend the graduation exercises at Baylor University Monday.

Miss Irene Allen visited her sister in Dallas last week-end.

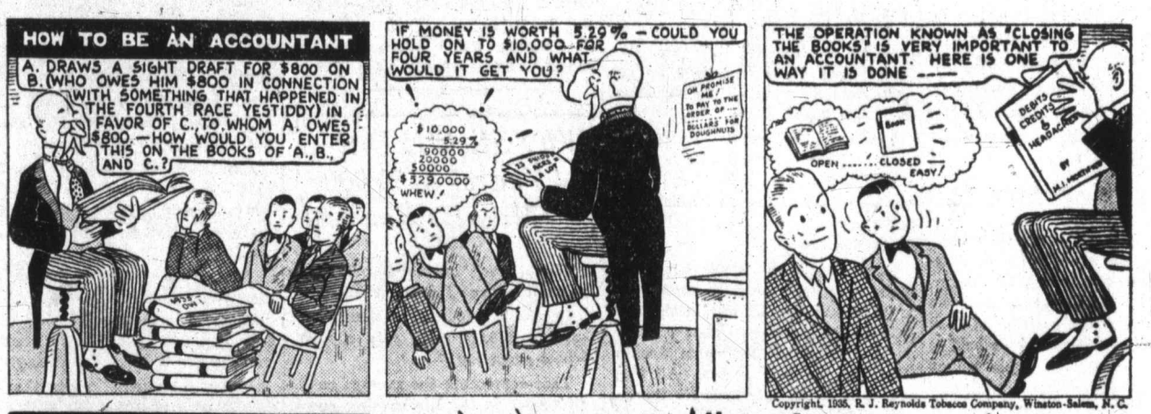
Open House Held In Jarvis Hall

Misses Theo Smart, Ruth Campbell, Sara King and Francys Ballenger constituted the receiving line at the open house held last night in Jarvis Hall.

The parlors were decorated with varied wild flowers. After the boys were shown through the dormitory rooms, dancing was enjoyed in the recreation room. Punch was served throughout the evening.

Hostesses for the evening were: Dean Sadie T. Beckham, Mrs. Cephus Shelburne and Miss Elizabeth Shelburne and Miss Lorraine Sherley.

Mrs. Moy Nelson visited Miss Mary Carter last week-end.



'34-'35 Season Develops Many Christian Stars

Baugh Outstanding

Frogs Fail to Annex Single Championship.

Principal Feature of Year Is Change Made in University Coaching Staff.

By PAUL DONOVAN

A review of the 1934-35 athletic season for Horned Frog teams is especially marked by the number of individual stars produced and the many close and htrilling games played. For the first time in many years the Frogs have failed to win a championship. Every year since then a Purple team has finished on top in some major sport.

The outstanding feature of the year was the change made in the University coaching staff. At the beginning of the football season Dutch Meyer took over the position of head coach, which position he aldso held in basketball. Bear Wolf remained as line coach in football and succeeded Meyer as varsity baseball coach. Howard Grubbs, a former Frog star, was appointed freshman coach to round out the new staff.

At the opening of fall football practice Coaches Meyer and Wolf were greeted by an enthusiastic squad of 40 candidates, including ten lettermen headed by Capt. Joe Coleman. The squad lessened slightly in number before the conference season opened, but it remained one of the largest Frog squads in history.

An impressive 33-to-7 victory over Daniel Baker in the opening game marked the Meyermen as a threat. However, numerous injuries cropped up to mar theri chances in the conference race. Sub-captain Dan Harston sustained a broken arm in scrimmage, Melvin Diggs, end, broke an ankle in the opening game and a number of others received minor injuries.

Arkansas took the first conference game from the Frogs to open a season of ups and downs. The Meyermen then defeated their ancient rivals, A. & M., on the Aggies' field. The Baylor Bears fell before the Frogs the next week.

In a game packed with 60 minutes of thrills Texas downed the Purple by the close score of 20 to 19 in the next conference game. Stung by the defeat the Frogs went to Houston and took the champion Rice Owls into camp 7 to 2. S. M. U. won from the Meyermen to end the season.

Out of the grid season emerged a group of players who were ranked among the best in the section. Heading the list of Purple stars was Darrell Lester, junior center, who was named on several all-American elevens. Sam Baugh's flashy and deadly passing made him a star before the season was very old. Walter Roach, Taldon Manton and Wilson Groseclose were others who stood out on the Purple team.

Turning to basketball, Coach Meyer was faced with the task of building a team around two lettermen, Lester and Judy Truelson. From the sophomores he picked Roach, Baugh and Willie Walls to round out the team. Those held in reserve were L. D. Meyer, Vernon Brown and Byrum Saam.

Although the Frog five put up a determined fight in every game played, they were able to win only two conference contests. Baylor and Texas were the only Purple victims during the year. The two lettermen, Truelson and Lester, led the Frogs in practically every game.

Prospects were bright for a successful baseball team as the Frogs opened diamond practice. With seven lettermen returning and several promising sophomores on hand the Wolfmen were favored to finish high in the race. The team was off to a good start with two victories over Baylor. The next two series with Texas and A. & M. were split. The Frogs then went into a slump and dropped the remaining five games on their schedule. Harston and Baugh led the Purple hitters during the season while Lester was the leading pitcher.

The remaining spring sports, track, tennis and golf found the Frog teams overpowered by strong competition. Jimmy Walkup, golf star, put up a strong fight for conference honors on the links before being nosed out on the final round.

This brought the curtain down on all conference sports for the year, a year in which the Frogs threatened seriously on several occasions, but were never able to finish on top.

Donovan's DOPE

By PAUL DONOVAN.

If this column were written in the style now being used in all these annuals, it would be something like this: Dear Reader, It's been wonderful and delightful being with you all this year and in that time I've come to admire and appreciate you because I think you're swell, and not only that but I think you're real swell.

That sort of talk or writing is out of place here though, That's one thing about it, it's out of place everywhere except in the annual. It would be nice to find some style of writing that would make the reader feel as good as that annual stuff does. We really don't know how good we are until we read what people say about us in our books.

The calm before the storm continues on the campus. The storm of course is the exam week that is coming up in a few days, at which time there probably won't be a calm person in the school.

Some of these athletes are going to have to bear down on these tests or they will be left out in the cold next football season. That possibility always makes the exam week a strain on the coaches too. All they can do is sit by and wait for the returns which decide the fate of their prospective stars.

Right now it doesn't look like there is much danger of any of the boys flunking out, but you can't tell. It's funny how some of those big and tough gridiron stars can be thrown for a loss by a little test paper.

Congratulations are in order for these captains that are being elected to lead the various Frog teams next year. The most recent announcements of such have been for the basketball and baseball teams. Jimmy Lawrence, the fiery catcher, will lead the nine and Willie Walls the cagers.

These two new captains along with Darrell Lester in football, give the Frogs a group of impressive leaders. This captain's job is more than just an honorary position given to one who has been outstanding. It is a job that carries with it a goodly share of responsibilities and duties. A spirited leader can have a great effect on the rest of the team as we have all seen. The boys have chosen well again this time.

Once more the Southwest Conference baseball has produced some major league prospects. It was A. & M. that took the spotlight this year by sending two boys up for trials in the big leagues. Bill Sodd, outfielder, has signed with Cleveland and Jake Mooty, ace pitcher, has joined the Cincinnati team. Both these boys are Fort Worth products, graduates of North Side High.

Two of the senior members of the Frog nine may enter the professional ranks at the close of school. The deal is still pending and no announcement can be made until more definite steps have been taken. If they do sign it will not be with a big league team, but it will be an opening to the big show if they make good.

Speaking of T. C. U. players, no word has yet been received from Slim Kinzy since he went to St. Paul.

All Purple fans are anxious to hear how the big pitcher is faring in the new environment. He is having a hard time getting started this year, but we are all hoping he will open up soon and work back up to the big leagues.

All the football boys are making plans for the summer months. They want a championship next year, so they are going to begin getting in shape this summer so they will be ready to go at the start of next fall. If they work as hard as they say they're going to there will be some pretty tough boys around here when practice starts. It's going to take some real playing to win a place on that team next year and they all know it.

Here's hoping you all pass the tests next week. Just think how nice it will be when they are all over and there won't be anything to worry about for three months. Good luck to you.

Olin Jones, Ed Warren, Drew Ellis and Fred Smith went to Dallas last week to hear Phil Harris.

Miss Marguerite Rice and Jimmy Wolff spent Sunday at Miss Rice's home in Midlothian.

Lawrence Elected Baseball Captain

Seven Lettermen Will Return to Horned Frog Nine.

Jimmy Lawrence, catcher, was elected captain of the 1936 Frog baseball team at a meeting of the lettermen this week. Lawrence, who has starred on the Purple nine for two years, will be one of seven lettermen returning next year.

From the 1935 nine four lettermen will be lost. They are Capt. Jimmy Jacks, Dan Harston, Frank Lozo anad Boaz Hoskins. The returning lettermen are Darrell Lester, L. D. Meyer, Taldon Manton, Sam Baugh, Willie Walls, Vic Montgomery and Lawrence.

Why Stick It Out 4 Years? $150,000 May Be Reward

Would you "buckle down" four years in college for $150,000?

Or would you take a chance on earning $78,000 with only a high school education?

That represents the average cash difference in the life earning power of college and high school trained men and women, according to a survey made by Life Insurance Week.

The man who is untrained, the report shows, starts to earn his living at the age of 14. His maximum income is reached at 30. He averages less than $1,200 a year, with life earnings amounting to about $45,000.

The high school graduate goes to work at 18. He passes the earning maximum of approximately $2,200 at 40. His life earnings amount to about $78,000, between the ages of 18 and 60.

On the other hand, the college graduate begins permanent earning at 22 and by the time he reaches 28 his income equals that of the high school graduate at 40.

Since his income is determined by mental ability it increases with practice. His total earnings between 22 and 60 average about $150,000.

A study of "Who's Who In America," concerning distinguished men and their educational backgrounds, shows that of 5,000,000 with no schooling, only 31 attained distinction.

Sophs Break Records, Win Interclass Meet

Second-Year Men Take First in All Seven Intramural Track Events.

Five intramural track records fell Tuesday afternoon as the Sophomores, winners of four previous team sports championships for the year, outclassed all comers to annex the championship title in the annual interclass track meet.

First places in all of the seven events of the meet were won by Sophomores. The Juniors emerged second in the meet, with the Freshmen coming out third.

All of the new records were set by Sophomores. Ray Wester and Olin Jones annexed two each, Wester setting a mark of 20 ft., 9 in., in the broad jump and 6 ft., 1 in., in the high jump. The previous record for the high jump was 5 ft., 8 in.

Jones set records of 6.2 seconds in the 60-yard dash and 10.1 in the 100-yard dash. Aubrey Linne set a mark of 42 ft. 4½ in. in the shot put.

Wester placed first in the low hurdles with a time of 13.7 seconds. The Sophomore team won the relay in 47 seconds. The Juniors were second and the Frosh third in the relay.

Jimmy Lawrence made the best record of the day for the Juniors, winning second place in the high jump, the 60-yard dash and the 100-yard dash. Lacey McClanahan, Frosh, was second in the broad jump.

Walls to Captain 1936 Cage Team

Most Consistent Man on Squad—7 Others to Return.

Willie Walls, sophomore forward, was chosen captain of the 1936 basketball team by his mates last week. Playing his first year of varsity basketball this past season, Walls stood out as one of the most consistent players on the squad. He will lead a group of eight returning letterman fron this year's team.

The others who will be back are Darrell Lester, Bob Stow, Walter Roach, Byrum Saam, Sam Baugh, L. D. Meyer and Vernon Brown. Judy Truelson was the only member of the squad who completed his eligibility this year.

T. C. U. Poets Read Works on Program

Members of the T. C. U. Poetry Society read selections of their poems at a program in honor of T. C. U. at the Texas Hotel Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Cox of the Book Nook has an exhibition of T. C. U. Poems for National Poetry Week.

Those who read were Miss Nina Whittington reading "Train Town," "Sand Blown" and "They Never Knew." A. L. Crouch reading "The Song of the Shrimp"; Everett Gillis, reading his poem which won first place in the Bryson Contest, "Futility," and "The Green-eyed Ghost." Miss Genevieve Papineau reading "Drouth;" Miss Marie Hamlett with "I Put My Dolls Away" and Bill Barney reading his poem which won third place in the Bryson Contest, "Credo."

"Tiny" Godwin Thinks Frogs Can't Lose in '35 Southwest Conference

"Say you want to know my opinion about football in the Southwest conference in 1935? I think we are going to win the conference championship," said Manuel Tiny Godwin.

"Fact is, I don't see how we can lose. I am going to play left tackle on the Frog eleven too."

The way Godwin said that sounded like it will be mighty hard for anyone who tries to take his position away from him next year.

Godwin was dubbed "Tiny" when he reported for football practice his first year in Hot Springs High School, by Cy King, his coach.

King played football under Coach Francis Schmidt in Arkansas University and Godwin decided he would like to play under Schmidt in Texas Christian so that is the chief reason for his coming to T. C. U.

Tiny played football and basketball and went out for track during his four years in Hot Springs high school and made the all-state football team in Arkansas in 1931.

He is 6 feet, 4 inches tall, weighs 235 pounds, has gray eyes, dark hair and has a fair complexion. See if you can make the connection between this description of a human powerhouse and the nickname "Tiny."

Godwin was born 12 miles west of Hot Springs and says that Arkansas is a good place to live but he likes Fort Worth better than any other place he was ever in. He likes to fish and hunt and wants to coach when he graduates.

No B. B. A. Picnic This Year
