T. C. U. Band Plays At Palestine Fair

Drum Major Allen Makes Debut at Carnival — 25 Bandmen Entertained.

Twenty-five members of the Horned Frog Band went to Palestine Monday to play at the county fair. The trip was made in a chartered bus furnished by the fair.

The band presented programs at the fair grounds, the Senior high school, the junior high school, and then paraded downtown. A motorcycle patrolman escorted them throughout the day.

This was Drum Major Weldon Allen's first appearance leading the band.

Members had passes to the theaters and the carnival attractions and received both luncheon and dinner free. They left here at 6:30 Monday morning and returned late the same day.

The Rev. J. C. Welch, father of Gay Welch, T. C. U. student, invited the band to participate in the festivities and was in charge of the arrangements.

Introducing Esky Bubbles.

Jerry Koubek, Fort Worth artist, and his composite collegian, Esky Bubbles, are shown here after a session of posing for the Greater 1936 Horned Frog. Bubbles, who was created by Artist Koubek, will introduce the yearbook. He weighs one pound and a half and is made of the best clay. In the annual he will represent what the average college student should be like.

Esky Bubbles, the Collegian, Is "Duke's Mixture" Student of TCU

The Greater 1936 Horned Frog, whose staff is yelling secrecy, will be introduced when it gets into book form by nothing more than an insignificant bit of clay. This chunk of clay will represent a composite model of what the yearbook staff thinks the sum total of campus collegians would look like if it were possible to fuse them into one mud character 12 inches high.

The fellow's name is Esky Bubbles and he was created exclusively for the Horned Frog by Jerry Koubek, Fort Worth artist, who had nothing to go by but the editor's idea of what the "Duke's Mixture" Student would look like.

He weighs a pound and a half when he is completely made up. He will be seen on the subdivision pages of the book. Esky was photographed on a miniature stage setting supposedly resembling the average collegian's dormitory stall. Esky's furniture came from the 5-and-10 store.

He posed, with the nonchalance of a Gable, eight seconds for 20 pictures, under regular movie lights. In most of the scenes he is pictured as being fairly happy, but not so in the one posed for the post-football game picture.

For the women's athletics division Esky withdrew in favor of a wooden doll and a juvenile star. The wooden lady has 40 curves and the babe-in-the-carriage is doing the piccolino.

In the picture you see little Esky as he will appear on the opening page of the book.

New Personnel Program Ready

Freshmen, Sophomores to Be Given Personal Attention.

"The personnel program of the University has been presented to the executive committee, has been approved, and is now in full swing," reports Otto Nielson, dean of men.

"The administration and faculty wish to make the contribution of giving each freshman and sophomore personal consideration," Nielson said. "All members of the two classes will be divided into ten equal groups, each group being supervised by one of the faculty members."

"The purpose of this program is two-fold; first, to aid the students with registration, and, second, to give them personal advice and help them with their personal problems. It is not a discipline committee but merely a designation of professors to which the students may go for help in solving their personal problems."

"The students have been informed as to who their university friends are, and may consult them at any time. This attention will be given the students until they select their major."

Faculty members appointed are: Profs. F. E. Billington, C. R. and Mrs. Sherer, Gayle Scott, Eula Lee Carter, Hazel Tucker, Lida Spragins, B. A. Crouch, W. J. Hammond, Claude Sammis and Nielson.

The executive committee is composed of Registrar S. W. Hutton, chairman, Neilson and Miss Spragins.

Mrs. Shelburne Doing Well.

Mrs. Cephus Shelburne, who underwent an operation at Cook Memorial Hospital yesterday morning, is reported doing nicely.

First Lady's Smile Is Seen By Skiff Editor at Interview

By Raymond Michero.

The president of the United States is not the only member of the Roosevelt family who possesses a radiant smile. His wife, the "First Lady of the Land", possesses one which would rival anyone's.

Laughing freely during an interview with representatives of the press after her public appearance at the First Methodist Church last Thursday night, Mrs. Roosevelt displayed a spirit which to me has always seemed characteristic of the Roosevelts.

"Fortunate enough to be admitted to the press conference, I was especially impressed by the spirit of cheerfulness which she lent to the occasion.

I was also struck by the directness and care with which she answered queries put to her by reporters. She did not evade any questions, but answered all directly and in such a manner that her statements could not be misconstrued.

On only one occasion did she answer indirectly. That was in answer to the question, "Is America going to be able to keep out of war?" As the question was asked, a hush fell over the small group gathered for the interview. Everyone was wondering how she would be able to answer this all-important question and pull out of a ticklish situation.

Mrs. Roosevelt shook her head and smiled. Every person present heaved a sigh of relief when she answered, "I think that all that could be said on that subject has already been said by the president." A round of applause almost broke out, but it was stopped when someone asked another question.

"Is it true that you selected your fall wardrobe in five minutes?"

"Oh now, what woman could select her wardrobe in five minutes?" she laughingly answered. "No woman knows how much time she spends in shopping."

Asked if she dressed to please the taste of the president, Mrs. Roosevelt, again flashing that brilliant smile, answered, "Doesn't one usually dress to please those with whom one comes in contact?"

Faithful Fullie Finds Dead Body, Says "Ooh Daddy"

Thrills, eats and 13 gallons of gasoline were the reward of Joe Raeder, Tom Pickett, Ben Sargent and Harold Fullenwider for finding the dead body of an unidentified man at 2 a. m. Saturday night on the pavement near Van Buren, Ark.

Returning from the Frog-Hog tilt in Fayetteville, the boys were sound asleep, with the exception of faithful Fullie, and he wasn't far from it when he noticed a dark spot on the pavement ahead. His eyes popped out and at the same time he had a thought.

He swerved the car to the side of the road and stopped. By this time he had given forth a series of loud "ooh daddies" and all the boys were awake. They got out of the car and returned to see what it was Fullie had missed.

When they saw what it was their eyes flew to attention and they were sleepy no more. What they saw was the body of a dead man lying in the road.

Now Fullie's car was well loaded and they didn't have room for the man, not to say anything about trying to sleep in his presence. Obtaining the help of a passerby, Montgomery Yancy, Fort Smith, Ark., resident, they placed the body of the man in the back seat of Yancy's car and continued to the next little town.

There they aroused the proprietor of a filling station who yelled over at the constable's house for him to come on over and do his do. The constable came along and brought a doctor with him who pronounced the man dead, and the boys continued to Van Buren with the body. Here the group was questioned, in the undertaking parlor, and, after convincing the sheriff that they were only Frog supporters returning to Fort Worth, they were released.

Mr. Yancy fed the boys while they were in Van Buren, and that of course, added to excitement of the event.

"What! a free meal! I could find bodies every night for a meal!" Pickett was heard to mutter.

Yancy also arranged for the boys to get a couple of tires and some gas at his filling station in Paris, so the trip was merrily resumed.

This is the first of a program of activities which the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. have announced for the latter part of October and the first of November.

Centenary, Texas To Be in Run-Off For Student Trip

Largest Vote Goes to Austin, But Is Not Majority.

Election Wednesday

Diggs Says Probably Enough Will Make Both Trips to Get Rates.

A run-off between Shreveport and Austin for the official student body trip will be held at the chapel hour Wednesday, Melvin Diggs, student body president, has announced.

In the first vote this week, Austin received the largest number of votes, but it did not receive a majority of the votes cast. The number of votes for Austin was 211. Shreveport received 176 votes. Fifty-seven students voted to go to New Orleans.

Diggs Makes Statement
Following is a written statement to The Skiff made by Diggs:

"In all fairness to the student body as a whole, it will be necessary to have a run-off between the Austin trip and the Shreveport trip, as the 211 votes for Austin over 176 for Shreveport do not constitute a majority of the votes cast.

"Since the 57 who voted for the New Orleans trip may prefer to go to Shreveport, their votes, plus the 170, would constitute a majority for the Shreveport trip over the 211 for Austin.

Many to Make Both Trips
"It seems that some of our students did not understand that in all probability at least 75 would go to Austin regardless of the selection for the student body trip; or to Shreveport if Austin is selected, thus enabling us to take advantage of the rates quoted.

"Let me reiterate that should we select Shreveport, in all probability 75 or more will go to Austin anyway, thus enabling us to get the $3.15 rate; and should we select Austin, in all probability 75 or more will go to Shreveport, enabling us to get the $3.40 rate.

Business Men to Austin
"In the past the business men of Fort Worth have run a special train to Austin, so it is possible that even less than 75 may go to Austin and still take advantage of the $3.15 rate.

"We shall certainly have had ample discussion on the subject by chapel time Wednesday, Oct. 16, so the run-off will be held then."

"She Has Such a Charming And Lovable Personality"

Your character is what you really are. Your reputation is what people think you are. Your personality is your means of expressing your character and making your reputation.

What kind of a personality do you have? You have heard people speak of a person as having a charming and loveable personality — can they say as much for you? Your personality is the entire development of your life. It embraces every phase of your character — your intellect, temperament, skill, morals and every attitude that has been built up in the course of your life.

A person with a lovable personality enjoys life. Why shouldn't you? Be friendly. Smile and speak when you meet your fellow students. Don't let the fact that you don't know a person's name and haven't met him formally interfere with your happiness.

Some people will tell you that you can't change your personality. That you are just naturally of a sour disposition and there is nothing you can do about it. This philosophy is that of the pessimist. You can have the kind of personality that you want and no one can make it for you. You have to live your personality. It is life itself and life is what you make it.

Smile. Be friendly. Make life happy for others. A charming personality will be the result. Your character will be made and your reputation will take care of itself.

Decide Now to Make Student Body Trip

The official student body trip this year will be either to Shreveport or to Austin. Results of the vote taken Wednesday require that a run-off between these two cities be taken.

Shreveport and Austin are probably two of the most logical cities to which the trip could be made. The game with the University of Texas is a conference game and probably one of the most important of the season. The game with Centenary will also be an important and a hard one, as the Centenary Gentlemen have been a thorn in the side of Southwest Conference teams for a number of years.

The student body has two equally qualified places to which to make its trip. There is very little difference in the price of the two trips, the fare for the Austin trip being $3.15 and the Shreveport trip $3.40. Both cities have much to offer in the line of entertainment.

Students should decide now to make the trip regardless of which place is decided upon. An official holiday will be granted by the University, so there will be no danger of getting cuts.

Everyone should take advantage of the holiday and help make the official trip representative.

Don't Believe All That You Hear

Texas Christian University students will soon have the opportunity of hearing a full lecture series which includes a number of distinguished speakers.

The series already includes men who are authorities in the fields of astronomy, petroleum geology, far Eastern questions and an eminent author. From these men you are going to learn new and perhaps startling facts about each field. Don't let the speeches startle you so much that you immediately change your beliefs about certain questions.

Too many students believe whatever is told them without ever thinking for themselves about the subject. Too often only one side is considered. Many believe anything that they hear if the person making the statement is an older person who is supposed to know. The student often forgets that there are others who have studied the field or question just as intensively and believe differently from the first person.

The speakers are going to present interesting and worthwhile ideas to you. Certainly you should consider the fact that the speaker is a recognized man in his field, but you should weigh the facts presented. Don't believe everything you hear.

Broken Glass Presents Real Danger

The old adage, "Those who play with fire are sure to get burned," is just as true when it is made to read, "Those who play with broken glass are sure to get cut."

At the last two football games which have been played in the T. C. U. Stadium this year the number of broken soda water bottles has been surprisingly large. There is no need for breaking the bottles. It is very simple to place the empty bottles at the back of the row of seats. Then they will not roll down and crash on the concrete steps.

Many of the bottles are broken accidentally, but many others merely for the fun of hearing them crack. The broken bottles not only cause unnecessary expense for the bottling companies, but also offer the real danger of someone receiving a dangerous cut.

ALONG SHOW ROW

By Raymond Michero.

Show Row this week offers a stage play which has been packing 'em in on Broadway for nearly a year. It is "Three Men on a Horse," one of the season's most successful productions, which will be presented at matinee and evening performances tomorrow at the Majestic.

The Majestic will return to the cinema Sunday, bringing back "Shanghai," with Loretta Young, Charles Boyer and Warner Oland. "College Scandal," campus mystery story with Robert Taylor and Arline Judge will start Tuesday. Charles Ruggles and Mary Boland in "People Will Talk" will be Thursday and Friday's offering.

The Hollywood today brings in a story of San Francisco in the days of the gold rush. It is "Barbary Coast," with Miriam Hopkins, Edward G. Robinson and Joel McCrea. Ted Lewis, famed band leader and exponent of jazz, will open a three-day engagement starting Tuesday in "Here Comes the Band."

The Palace Saturday will offer a first run story about a couple of gold diggers, Joan Blondell and Glenda Farrell, in "We're in the Money." The same theater will go western Wednesday with Hoot Gibson and Harry Carey in "Powder Smoke Range."

The Worth goes nautical for a week starting tomorrow with "Shipmates Forever," musical with Dick Powell and Ruby Keeler. A brilliant array of comparatively new screen personalities at the Worth's midnight show tomorrow night in "Broadway Melody of 1936." Led by radio's number one comedian, Jack Benny, the cast includes Eleanor Powell, Robert Taylor, Frances Langford and many others.

Keyhole Columnist Will "Get You If You Don't Watch Out!"

Hello students — the column isn't so hot this week because the weather turned cool and caught the columnist napping. Then too, he was almost torn apart the other day by a blonde and brunette who were mentioned in the line-up previously.

By the time you read this you will have voted on the student body trip and will be making preparations to go. Don't miss this trip! It will be one of the things that you will tell your grandchildren about in 1986. Don't tell me there aren't going to be any grandchildren!

LOOKING AROUND AND SEEING THINGS — Such as — CLAY DILLON grabbing his hat at church Sunday when Lu Ellen started to sit down on it. A BLONDE FISH doing a dance to the tune of SUGAR BLUES behind the telephone booth at Stagg's Joint. HALF OF THE JARVIS HALL GIRLS and AS MANY OF THE CAMPUS MEN attending church at the Rose Garden on Sunday night. Two students dragging a bench across the campus in search of a secluded spot.

BEN BUSSEY having a big time at the PREXY'S RECEPTION after much persuasion on the part of PREXY DIGGS. GEORGE CHERYHOMES getting his mouth washed out with lux toilet soap after SAYING DAM. JIMMY WINTON walking around the campus leaning on a TEN-OUNCE. CANE. MRS. BECKHAM counting HER SHEEP as they come in at night. CHARLES MOSSHART getting a rush at the VICE VERSA dance in Jarvis Hall Friday night. G. L. MESSENGER crying for food after eating for thirty minutes. TILLIE MANTON making love to a little brunette in the main hall of the Ad Building. GEORGE CUTHRELL AND FISH TOLAR taking a walk with HELEN ADAMS AND FRANCYS BALLENGER.

IT IS RUMORED — That BARBARA ANN ARNOLD kicks something awful in her sleep. GEORGE GRAHAM is falling fast for MARJORIE BENDER, and she doesn't know it. ED LOE has the bees on a certain little girl in Jarvis—don't ask Ed "Who?", because he will say, "Which one?" GWEN MCSWEENEY has a bet (cash) with a certain girl friend that she won't buy any cigarettes until Nov. 27. Paul Ridings is trying to find out what advertising is by taking the course offered on Tuesday nights by the Fort Worth Advertising Institute. Byron Bockridge is also taking the course.

Nancy Lee McConnell doesn't believe in the power of pillows... Vernon Brown laid his head in her lap at the Bryson Club party one night last week... and... someone ask Nancy why she didn't get a couple of pillows near by for him to put his head on... Nancy said, "He would move his head if I did that."

Lois Atkinson told Ben Bussey that she could do the Picolino... but said it wasn't a dance. Carl Maxwell and Dot Luyster take hamburgers with them when they go out to dinner on an invitation... just to make sure they get something to eat.

Skiff Files Show Hair-Clippings, Limerick Contest

You may be interested in the affairs of the campus today but do you know what happened last year at the same time, or, say, several years ago?

Last year at this time the Student Body Trip was set for Houston. There was also a great deal of excitement over the new dance rules regulating the inauguration of dances on the campus.

In 1933 the alumni named their new publication "The T. C. U. Echo." Then there was the scandal about the Freshmen hair-clipping. Everyone heaved a sigh when that was over. Two years before that, in 1931, the head librarian, A. R. Curry announced that the library would, in the future, be open until 10 p. m.

At this same time the campus was engrossed in the Skiff-King Candy Limerick contest.

Six years ago the Dramatic Club accepted the invitation to join the Vagabound Players.

Students at Williams Now Sleep Mornings

For the first time in over a century, Williams College students are not being routed out of bed by 4:30 a. m. chapel bells.

As a result of a 24-year war between undergraduates and the administration, the board of trustees finally abolished compulsory daily attendance at religious service.

Miss Major Reads Poems to Poetry Club

'Centennial' Anthology of T. C. U. Poetry May Be Published in April.

Verse technique and metrical forms were discussed by the Poetry Club Wednesday night. The characteristics of free verse were pointed out by Miss Mabel Major, sponsor of the club. She read poems from Amy Lowell to illustrate cadence and poetical language as distinguishing features of free verse. Each member read his favorite poem, which was then discussed by the group.

Plans were made for the possible publication of a "Centennial" anthology of T. C. U. poetry, containing poems dating from 1896. The book probably will be published in April and will contain 100 of the best poems written by T. C. U. students.

Two new members attended the meeting. They are Misses Helen Fellows and Hannah Littleton. Others present were Misses Gay Welch, Genevieve Papineau and Major, and Everett Gillis, A. L. Crouch, Dan Morgan, Cesario Delgado and George Cheryhomas.

Thoughts In Verse

BEAUTY.
 Full down the musty corridor of Time
 Have walked the feet of Beauty.
 Here and there
 Her foot prints gleam beneath the gathered slime
 Of years. A lambent flame remains there where
 She breathed. Though few these tokens of herself,
 Men garner them into their marts and sell,
 In ignorance, thinking Beauty's jewels pelf
 To make their stupid world just thrice a hell.

Yet have some woeed that Gentle One,
 and found:
 Her treasures loosed into their trembling hands,
 The virtues of her modest heart unbound,
 The quiet soul of one who understands
 The secret sough of wind within a tree,
 The stately calm of sunrise on the sea.

Dundee Clothes Mean Much to You

When it comes to buying a suit, topcoat or overcoat, your first considerations are STYLE, QUALITY and COST. That's why you should form the habit of buying your clothes at Dundee. Dundee clothes assure you appropriate styling with fashions created on Fifth Avenue and London. Every thread and fabric is laboratory tested for long, hard wear before it goes into a Dundee garment. All production takes place in our own modern factories, guaranteeing standard quality at all times. Finally, you should wear Dundee clothes because the prices are always low—thanks to a direct selling policy from manufacturer to consumer. When you are buying from Dundee you are buying from a manufacturer. That means you get top value! Try a Dundee suit, topcoat and overcoat this season.

Girls Warned About Aggie 'Line' As Invasion Time Draws Near

I have an idea, strange as it may seem. From now on if my editor can be persuaded, this column should be called "Rosy's Ramblings." It has its advantages. The copy reader would not have to slave over the headline and I could just ramble to my heart's content and not feel the least bit guilty.

It's about time! At last there is going to be a dance sponsored by the Student Council and it is to be this Saturday night, too. Speaking of dances, that new orchestra, The Dictators, deserves a whole tubful of orchids. They have rhythm.

The event which is regarded by many as one of the most thrilling of the entire football season is almost here. Next week-end, to be exact. You'll understand when I say that the event of which I speak is the Aggie invasion.

The home town boys of the campus had better get dates for the game and dance as soon as possible or they will find themselves in the middle of the stag line glowering at the back of a uniformed figure dancing with a best girl.

The Aggies descend upon the campus 2500 strong, with that grand 150-piece band announcing their approach. Here is a bit of advice, which, of course, no one will heed—beware of that Aggie line! And I don't mean football.

The vote for the student body trip seems to be a draw between Austin and Shreveport. Everyone will get another chance Wednesday in chapel. I'll bet if we decide to go to Shreveport that the Washington-Youree Hotel management will serve our meals to us on paper plates and the utensils will probably be chop sticks. In case you haven't heard, the students who made the last trip to see the Gentlemen play, walked off with practically all of the "silver."

Well, you can't say that I didn't warn you. To ramble, or not to ramble? That is the question. The answer is fairly obvious.

Green, Blue, Pink Colors Favored By Jarvis Girls

The girls of Jarvis Hall are partial to green. Green is used in more of the rooms than any other color. Blue ranks second, with pink or rose closely following. Most of the rooms have a definite color scheme.

Boys pictures are the most conspicuous item in the rooms. Most of the girls have only one or two boys' pictures, but one girl has seven. This same girl has a nice collection of college pennants from Texas schools and several New Mexico schools.

As the rooms of Jarvis were painted this summer and the girls are no longer allowed to put nails in the walls and paste stickers and newspaper clippings on them, the rooms are nicer looking this year than last. The room that is littered with stickers, signs and clippings is no longer to be found.

Whatnot shelves of all sizes are to be found. Miss Lu Ellen Evans has a large one which contains 14 horses. Miss Virginia Boone's shelf contains elephants and one black cat, which she says is for good-luck.

Several articles from Old Mexico are to be found. Miss Clemence Clark has a fur dresser scarf and several girls have the Mexican pictures which are made from feathers. Miss Ellen Sue Yeager can boast of the only cuckoo clock in Jarvis Hall. It was given to her as a going away gift.

Practically every room has a radio and a few rooms have two radios. The average room in Jarvis has a rug, several lamps, pictures and attractive curtains carrying out a definite color scheme which may range from red to brown.

Horned Frog Staff To Meet Wednesday

All Assignments Are Due at That Time, Says Year-book Editor.

There will be a called meeting of the Horned Frog staff at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday night in the Horned Frog office. All assignments are due at that time.

The staff of the Greater 1936 Horned Frog is working hard on the publication and everything is rapidly taking form for a great book, reports Jones Bacus, editor.

"We have the book well under way," Bacus said and it will be a real treat for the students when it is issued in May, if they will co-operate and have their pictures made at once. By getting the pictures to the engraver early the staff receives a discount to be used on other sections of the book and the book is therefore made bigger and better at the same cost," Bacus said.

All students are requested to have their pictures made as soon as possible at Orgain's Studio, upstairs over Martha Washington Candy Shop at the corner of Sixth and Main Streets.

Cigarettes give a lot of pleasure to a lot of people.

More cigarettes are smoked today because more people know about them—they are better advertised.

But the main reason for the increase is that they are made better—made of better tobaccos; then again the tobaccos are blended—a blend of Domestic and Turkish tobaccos.

SHORTY'S SPORTS PLANTS

By CARL MAXWELL

Well, the Frogs have taken the first step in the mad scramble for the top football honors. A. & M. is the next one, and from indications shown in their game with Pop Warner's Temple Owls, it's going to be a big one.

The Arkansas game was a thriller, even for us who stayed at home and listened to the radio. Those Porkers went farther than expected in throwing the ball around. They threw 30 passes and completed 12 of them—one of them for their touchdown. T. C. U. passed 10 and completed 4.

The Hogs had an epidemic of ball tackling that cost the Frogs many fumbles. It started early in the first quarter when T. C. U. got a lucky break, only to have the ball snatched from Manton's arms 30 yards from goal. The next play was an Arkansas pass that was completed on the seven-yard line. But the Frogs held on downs.

Sam Baugh has done the unusual again. He played 60 minutes last Saturday without carrying the ball from scrimmage. He did some effective ball lugging though. L. D. Meyer tossed him a lateral and he ran for about 25 yards, placing the pig skin on Arkansas' four-yard line. Jimmy Lawrence went over for a touchdown a couple of plays later.

Someone really aroused Jimmy Lawrence's ire before the game. He got a letter with a pansy in it which read: "Lawrence is a flower," or words to that effect. And he literally tore the Hogs up. He gained more yards than any other back, and several Arkansas men said he was the toughest guy they had ever played against. "Squarehead" carried the ball 11 times for an average of six yards and made one touchdown. That letter sounds like either Dutch's or Bear's work.

The Frogs play Tulsa University at Tulsa tomorrow. Not many T. C. U. fans saw this game last year, but in the opinion of all who saw it, it was the most thrilling of all—even the Rice game. Both teams scored two touchdowns last year, but the Frogs kicked both their extra points while Tulsa missed theirs, and T. C. U. came out winner 14 to 12.

"Skeeter" Berry, Tulsa's rabbit, has graduated, and with him goes a good part of their scoring threat. They have lost both of their starts this season—the first a startling upset to a small Teachers' College, and the second to S. M. U. last Saturday. However, the Mustangs had a hard time subduing them, and they're pointing for the Frogs; so the game will be anything but easy.

Southwest Conference football went up another 10 points over the nation last Friday night. The Cities Service radio program really gave us a plug. Grantland Rice, their sports commentator said, "The Southwest is the toughest football sector from coast to coast." He said that Rice, T. C. U., Texas, and A. & M. were right at the top of the heap of strong teams.

Willie Walls turned the tables on his home state boys Saturday. He caught the touchdown pass that beat Arkansas. It was a 39-yard pass from the hand of Sam Baugh that was the margin of victory over the Hogs. To Walls' credit, he says that the pass found its way into Walls' arms would be a falsehood. Walls had to find the pass. Willie reached out, shoved two Porker defenders out of the way, and finally came down with the ball between the goal posts.

Incidentally, Willie seems to have a liking for goal posts. When he was a freshman, he went after another Baugh pass in the Tarleton game at Stephenville and ran right smack into the iron post at full speed. Everybody thought he had killed himself.

This fellow Berry at Tulsa was proclaimed by all the Frogs to be the best ball carrier they had played against last season—and not ex-

Frogs to Play Tulsa University For Fifth Time

Starting Line-up Will Probably Be Same as Last Week.

27 Men to Oklahoma

Game Tomorrow Will Break Tie Between Christians, Golden Hurricane.

T. C. U.'s traveling squad of 27 men left last night for Tulsa, where they will play the fifth grid battle between the two schools. Each team has won two games, and tomorrow's effort will put one of them ahead in the series.

Tulsa U. appears weaker this season than in earlier years, but this weakness may turn out to be just a late start. They have dropped two games. A small Oklahoma Teachers' college, Edmond, upset them with a startling 9-to-0 defeat in their first game of the season. Last Saturday they were taken by S. M. U. 14 to 0, although Tulsa was a greatly improved team over the first appearance.

Last year the Frogs handed them their only home field lacing of the season. The memory of this defeat and their two setbacks this year should put them in a pretty mood tomorrow afternoon.

Frogs Have New Plays. The Frogs have been drilling all week on a defense for Tulsa's famed spread formation and polishing their own plays. Several new plays have been added to the Christians' Collection, and these are expected to be called into action.

The same starting line-up that entered the Arkansas game will probably be used against the Oklahomans. This is a combination of Roach and Walls at ends; Groseclose and Linne, tackles; Kellow and Harrison, guards; Lester, center; Baugh, quarterback; Kline and Lawrence, halfbacks; and Manton, fullback.

More of the Frog reserves are due to see action tomorrow than participated in the Arkansas game. Coach Meyer wants to win every game, but naturally will not bear down as hard tomorrow as he would in a conference game.

Tulsa Holds S. M. U. S. M. U. was unable to gain consistently against the veteran Tulsa line last Saturday. One of their scores came from a long pass, and a punt return by Wilson put the Mustangs ahead.

Members of the Frog traveling squad are: Ends, Roach, Walls, Meyer, Diggs, Needham; tackles, Godwin, Groseclose, Linne; Walker and Holt; guards, Kellow, Harrison, Meyne, Peavy and Rogers; centers, Lester and Tittle; quarterbacks, Baugh and Montgomery; halfbacks, Kline, Clark, McCall, Lawrence, McClure and Blackmon; and fullbacks, Manton and Roberts.

W. A. A. Girls to Ride at 2 P. M.

All girls wishing to go horseback riding for W. A. A. have been asked by Miss Virginia Clark, manager of the sport, to meet at the north door of Jarvis Hall at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The girls will go from there to Acme Stables, where they will ride. Miss Clark asked all girls who could to bring their cars to Jarvis Hall.

Morton Klein was interviewed on the feature program, "Vox Pop," over radio station KTAT Friday night.

cepting Rice's Bill Wallace. Every time he got the ball he just wouldn't be downed. He'd run back, through, around and under the Frogs until he ended up 30 yards up the field or was thrown for a loss of 30 yards.

Solon Holt gave a vivid description of Berry's tactics the other day. Holt was telling how he and Drew Ellis framed up on the 15-pounder. He said, "Ellis and I decided to wedge him in between us and tear him limb from limb. The next play he came straight at us until he was about a yard away. He dove, jumped up, ran down my back, and when Ellis and I untangled ourselves he was about 50 yards down the field."

Berry gained honorable mention on a lot of all-American teams.

13 Attend Game, 13 Points Made, Frogs Win Tilt

The Horned Frog eleven started a policy last Saturday that should be carried throughout the season—that of making a point for every Fort Worth person at the game.

The 13 supporters from Fort Worth drew 13 points in the final score of the Frog-Hog tilt, Saturday.

Those attending the game were: Fred Smith, "Bo" Irwin, Paul Ridings, Harold Fulenwider, Tom Pickett, Joe Reeder, Ben Sargent, Prof. and Mrs. J. Willard Ridings, Prof. and Mrs. J. L. Whitman, Mrs. Leo Meyer and Mrs. H. S. Vaughn.

15 Doubles Teams In Tennis Tourney

Horseshoe, Handball, Golf Entries Taken for Fall Contests.

Fifteen teams have entered the intramural tennis doubles tournament which started this week. The first round must be played off by tomorrow, according to Thomas Prouse. Those entered in the tournament can find their opponents and the schedule of play on the bulletin boards posted in the main hall and in the gym.

Entries are still being taken for horseshoe singles and doubles and for handball doubles.

Because of the popular demand, Mr. Prouse has announced that there will be a fall golf tournament. Seventeen have already entered the tournament. Others who wish to do so should sign their names on the bulletin board in the main hall or on the one in the Gym on or before Oct. 16. Play will start Oct. 17.

The teams in the tennis doubles are Carl Maxwell and Gene House; Doan Proctor and Charles Mosshart; Walter Bradley and C. H. Sinclair; Jim Young and Glen Roberts; Bennett Rogers and Clyde Scott; Ed Phillips and Kenneth Hay; Waller Moody and Buck Roberson; Red King and Bill Whitehouse; A. J. Cooles and Sonny Osier; Charles Oswald and Horace McDowell; Roger McLeland and Olin Jones; Russel Hector and Kurtley Russel; Travis Griffin and Clifton Morgan; James Ewell and James Winn; Hugh McDaniel and Rip Mitchell and Dick Oliver and Bruce Scafford.

Stocking Holes Versus Shiny Nose Is Debated

Fraternities at Western Reserve University held a debate recently on the question: "Resolved that the shiny nose is preferable to a hole in the heel of the stocking."

This was more or less countered by a University of Washington professor who had a boy bring a shaving mug and razor to class upon becoming exasperated at coeds powdering their noses during his lecture.

50 Girls Are Wanted For Girls' Glee Club

"Wanted—50 girls for the Girls' Glee Club," says Mrs. Helen Fouts Cahoon, sponsor.

"The girls receive college credit for singing in the glee club and it doesn't cost a cent," Mrs. Cahoon said.

Those reporting for the first practice were: Misses Betty Ruth Curtis, Ruby Faye Jones, Ruth Duncan, Mabel Jo Archer, Jo Ann Montgomery, Gloria Verseyoyle, Flo Floore, Carolyn Webster, Sybil McGuire, Martha Fallis, Margaret Sander, Merle Elkins, Doris Roberts, Mary Alice Mummert, Sue Yeager and Virginia Clark.

Frogs Victorious Over Razorbacks

Defeat Hogs 13 to 7 To Lead Southwest Conference.

An erratic Horned Frog eleven took undisputed possession of first place in the Southwest Conference by defeating a surprisingly strong Arkansas team 13 to 7 on the Razorback field last Saturday afternoon.

Outpunting and outplunging the Arkansas eleven 179 yards to 103 yards, the Frogs were clearly the superior eleven. But the small-band of Frog supporters who followed the team into the Ozarks shook their heads dubiously at the Frogs' poor pass defense which enabled the Razorbacks to have an aerial advantage of 154 yards to 71. The lone Hog tally came as a result of a pass.

Groseclose Blocks Punt

A blocked punt by Groseclose within the first five minutes of the game paved the way for the first Frog score. The punt was recovered by L. D. Meyer, who lateralled to Sam Baugh, who carried the ball for a 41-yard gain to the Arkansas four-yard line. Jimmy Lawrence, in 2 plays, went across for the touchdown. Taldon Manton's attempt to convert failed.

Six plays later, when an Arkansas punt touched Jimmy Lawrence as he was blocking, Van Sickle recovered for Arkansas on Texas Christian's 23-yard line. After T. C. U. had been penalized five yards for offside and Robbins had failed to gain, a pass from Robbins to Benton was good for a touchdown. Arkansas took the lead when Brown's try for point was good.

A 93-yard march from their own 7-yard line, ended with a 24-yard pass from Sam Baugh to Willie Walls, netted T. C. U. their second touchdown early in the second half. Manton's try for point was good.

Frogs Play Ground Ball

T. C. U. penetrated deep into Arkansas territory several times in the second half, as the Hog forward wall visibly weakened under the Frogs' slashing power attack. So effective was T. C. U.'s ground game that the Fort Worth boys ran only two plays outside of end and attempted only nine forward passes, four of which were complete.

Six Frog warriors went the entire route. They were Manton, Baugh, Capt. Darrell Lester, "Cotton" Harrison, Groseclose and Walter Roach.

Although the Meyer men controlled the game most of the time, they were their own worst enemies. Fumbles were especially costly. By winning Saturday, however, the Frogs announced themselves as a team to be considered in the race for the crown.

Miss Lenox Is Candidate

Miss Christine Lenox, junior, is a candidate in the Shrine Charity Circus contest. Miss Lenox was selected by the Shrine Patrol to participate in a ticket sale to the circus, which will be given for the benefit of orphans and under-privileged children in Fort Worth, Oct. 28 to Nov. 2. Each uniform body in the Shrine is sponsoring a candidate, and the girl who sells the most tickets will win a new Chevrolet when the contest closes Oct. 26.

Jones Bacus, Joe Tills, and Paul Ridings are enrolled in the Fort Worth Ad Club's advertising school which meets every Tuesday night. Miss Anell Gardner visited friends in Denton this week-end.

Intramural Tag Football Games Create Lively Interest Among Students.

In two hard fought games marked by close scores and thrills, the Freshmen defeated the Seniors, 24 to 18 and the Juniors scored on the last play of the game to beat their old rivals of last year, the Sophomores, 19 to 13 in the intramural tag football games Wednesday.

With 10 seconds to go, the last down coming up and 40 yards to go, the Juniors trailed the Sophomores 13 to 12. Byrum Saam threw a long pass to Ray Wester who caught the ball and fell over the goal for the winning touchdown. Although the Sophs protested that the ball was down before crossing the goal line, the official declared the play a touchdown.

The Juniors made the first two touchdowns with passes thrown by Saam to Wester and Buck Roberson. The Soph touchdowns were made by Frank Floyd on passes.

In the Freshman-Senior game the Frosh showed an altogether different kind of football from that played last week when they were defeated by the Sophomores by a large score. Led by their captain, Sonny Osier, who figured in all four of their touchdowns and was easily the star of the afternoon, the Frosh looked as if they had intended to make a serious bid for the championship. Osier ran 20, 30 and 40 yards for the first three touchdowns. He passed to Ewell for the last one. Roger McLeland, Murphy and Ewell also played good games.

The Seniors made their first touchdown on a pass, Paty to McDowell. McDowell ran 50 yards for the second and Paty passed to Ben Bussey after intercepting a pass for the third touchdown.

Tom Pickett, Paty and McDowell were outstanding for the Seniors.
